

Kryptonian 98

Chapter 98 I still like your unruly look

Of course it is impossible for Morgana to go to see Luther. This guy is targeting her for no reason. If she goes, there is a high probability that she will be killed.

Luther expressed regret that Morgana had learned well. He still liked Morgana's unruly look before, so he would have a reason to kill Morgana.

Of course, Luther would kill Morgana even if there was no reason.

Now that Morgana is so cowardly, Luther has no choice but to let the past God of War act as a temporary communicator.

"I heard that you are going to take action against Holy Kesha?"

Luther asked.

"What did grandson Karl tell you?"

Morgana wanted to be violent, but in front of Luther, she endured it. The main reason was that Luther would not care about her being violent like the God of Death Karl and Holy Kesa, nor would he be like those who wanted to care about her. The person she yelled at couldn't do anything to her.

Luther really knows how to calculate, and he can kill her people.

"Yes, but he is too insincere. He is just a projection."

Luther said.

Morgana wanted to say that it was lucky that Carl, the god of death, did not come in his true form. I heard that Snow had been destroyed.

"Yes, yes."

Morgana said.

"You don't need to be so formal. Both I and you know who you are. Now I am very interested in your plan and plan to provide you with some help. What do you think?"

Luther said with a smile.

How to see it, how else to see it?

Morgana didn't know what Luther wanted to do for a moment. She was unable to communicate and couldn't communicate before, but now she suddenly can do it again.

If it is said that she suffered a loss, it doesn't look like it. It was Holy Kesha who took the initiative to give in. Everyone felt that it was Holy Kesha who suffered a loss. If she gives in like this, the prestige of the angelic civilization will probably be lost.

"What do you want?"

Morgana felt that it would be best to ask Luther clearly about his needs first, and then discuss it with Karl, the God of Death.

In this case, at least they can prevent Luther from turning his back on him again. Although, Morgana was helpless to find that even if they tried to avoid it, if Luther really wanted to turn his back on him, she would not be able to do anything about it. .

It's so frustrating!

This queen is the Demon Queen Morgana!

The most terrifying evil god in the known universe!

"It's very simple. I want you to target the power of the galaxy and destroy it, or use your devil's specialty to pollute it."

Luther said calmly.

"Galactic power?"

Morgana did not expect this request. After thinking about it, the power of the galaxy seemed to be nothing now, just a new god who had not yet grown up.

Of course she is reluctant to destroy the power of the galaxy. Seizing genetic resources is a need for all civilizations, so Morgana must turn the power of the galaxy into her own.

"Don't you have a nightmare subordinate who uses spiritual attacks to hypnotize and define his thinking..."

Luther continued.

Morgana had no intention of destroying the power of the galaxy, but after Luther said so, she was successfully led astray and thought this was a good idea.

Galaxy Force is still just a person who has just awakened the super soldier gene, and is the easiest to be brainwashed.

"By the way, I would like to remind you that the angelic civilization values the power of the galaxy very much, even more than their future new king. For them, the power of the galaxy is their future..."

Luther continued.

He was very curious about what the plot of a darkened Ge Xiaolun would be like, but it wouldn't matter if Ge Xiaolun turned dark. The angel might not give up on Ge Xiaolun, so he had to let Ge Xiaolun turn dark more completely.

"Angel's future?"

Morgana didn't expect that there was such a thing. If that was the case, then she would do it even more.

"So, what help can you provide? Your Majesty the God King."

Morgana continued.

"I will pay you according to your needs. I have given you a good super gene and reminded you of information you don't have. Don't you think you should be the one to pay me?"

Luther said this, it was obvious that he planned to prostitute Morgana for free.

Morgana has been prostituted for free from the God of Death Karl's things. When she heard Luther's words, she didn't need a supercomputer to translate them. She already knew what Luther was thinking.

"...What does the God King want?"

Morgana was very serious when she was serious, such as during the meeting of the gods, so she was silent for a moment, swallowed the foul language she was about to blurt out, and said to Luther.

"Forget it, I am in a good mood, so I will give this information to you for free. Of course, you have to act quickly. The angels will probably strengthen their surveillance and protection of the Galaxy Power because of me..."

Luther said with a smile.

"What's the use of angels strengthening protection and surveillance? Queen, I..."

Morgana wanted to say something, but she quickly stopped.

"Oh, I chopped off a peak beast body before. The peak beast body in the known universe is not very good. I was too lazy to restore it, so I gave it to the Demon Queen."

Of course Luther could guess what Morgana wanted to say. High-level guarding angels are very difficult, but now a holy right wing is on the side of the god of death, Karl, and a holy left wing is about to be transferred by Morgana. The remaining angels except Aside from Angel Leng being a bit tricky, who else can stop her from getting the power of the galaxy?

That is obviously my peak beast body, the Queen! ! !

Morgana wanted to say this, but now that Luther has returned the peak beast body, Morgana definitely wants it.

So she couldn't say anything.

Luther threw a pile of minced meat to her, which was indeed not easy to recover, but Morgana now had the support of the God of Death Carl, and she had plenty of money, so she didn't care. Instead, she thought it was not bad, getting a peak beast body as a general!

For Morgana, who had never seen much of the world, the peak beast body was a general. After all, it was the peak state that the beast civilization could evolve to during the physical war.

Without super genes, it could evolve to the level comparable to the third-generation warriors and the third-generation gods. It is conceivable how glorious the beast civilization was at the time, and Soton was created by the God of Death Carl based on the information left by the Pangu civilization.

Luther studied the peak beast body and felt that if the beast body continued to evolve, maybe the fourth-generation beast body would be able to ignore the dark silver weapon, and even the flame bombing would not be able to hurt the fourth-generation beast body.

But it didn't mean much to him. The starting point of the Kryptonians was too high, and they started directly with the strength of the fourth-generation beast body. Now, the supernova explosion was probably like a breeze to Luther.

Of course, the fourth-generation beast body is still very good. At the very least, it is much easier to mass produce than the fourth-generation divine body. It just doesn't have as many abilities and equipment as the fourth-generation divine body.