Kas pressed his tongue against her ass's entrance, and she forced herself to look away from Adron, and watch the beast behind her and his massive mouth get snug against her butt. The dinosaur squatted over Adron's legs, his giant cock hanging heavy across the blankets between Adron's knees, another drop of precum Mia couldn't help but stare at as she peeked to the side and looked down. Her eyes came back up to look down at his flat, eyeless shark head and his colossal horns, as his thick tongue pushed against her, and using its slightly pointed tip, spread her open.

Mia was no stranger to anal play, and used it sometimes when she experimented with her toys, but nothing could have prepared her for the unique sensation of the beast's thick tongue spreading her ass apart, soaking it in hot saliva, and sinking into her depths. Her jaw fell, mouth hung open, and she watched the titanic jaw where it hid from view what Kas's tongue did to her, how it rolled up and down in waves as it pushed against her, and how her ass cheeks, practically inside his colossal mouth, spread further to accept the increasingly thick tongue. Despite his jackass demeanor, Kas knew how to go slow, how to let her body adapt, adjust, stretch. And he knew how to make her squeal. He pushed his tongue toward her belly, toward her pussy and Adron's tongue, and squished everything until she thought she might burst. WwW.NoVELwOrM.CoM

The bulge on her belly grew, and she stared at it as it rolled like a wave pool, slowly reaching higher into her as Adron stretched her more, until the distension pushed past her belly button. WwW.NoVELwOrM.CoM

She came. She grabbed Adron's horns tight, stared down at him, and fell. But Adron's grip on her thighs kept her upright, and despite her body going limp, she remained on her feet, panting, mewling, as Adron pushed his tongue deeper. He knew to ease up on rubbing his lip along her clit, but his tongue did no such thing, and pushed up into her as rolling waves, despite her insides clenching down as hard as she could. Deeper, pressing against that deep place she knew to only touch if she was out-of-her-mind horny. Adron knew, and he pushed his tongue harder against her, stretching her inward, making her pant between orgasm pulses that shot down through her legs, and into her toes.

"Asshole," she whispered. "I... I need..."

Kas rumbled around her, and sank his tongue deeper into her, too. Soon it twisted and turned, no longer pushing in a straight line, but bending around to follow the path of her insides. But even as it did, he somehow kept pushing it toward her front, toward her stretched pussy and Adron's tongue, making everything Adron did apply harder pressure against her g-spot and everything else. Neither were done. They pushed their tongues deeper, ignoring Mia's desperate squeaks and trembling legs, content to stretch her more and more as she finally came down from her orgasm high.

"Too deep," she said, but no matter how hard she tried to make it sound serious, it came out as a weak little mewl. Too deep was an understatement. The bulge on her once flat stomach had pushed way past her belly button, and was only getting higher.

Zel giggled as she leaned against Adron's side, and ran the blunt side of a claw down Mia's sternum, onto the bulge just below it.

"You cum quickly, and easily, little soul."

"I... I..."

"Deeper, my demons. She is a tiny thing, after all. Stretch her well."

"But-ng!" Both of the huge beasts between her legs complied, and pushed their tongues further in. She really was going to burst. She clamped her hands tight to Adron's horns, and held on for dear life as more surges of bliss pulsed outward from deep inside her cunt, down into her thighs and toes, and up into her chest and head until she saw white spots. She couldn't even look down at the bulge on her belly anymore, no matter how much she wanted to watch the rolling waves of the two muscles filling her and dancing inside her pussy, and her guts. All she could do, was hold on, and cum.

"I think that is enough," Zel said. "Do take your time penetrating her. I would like to bask in this aura she clearly cannot control, and observe if the act has any... side effects."

Mia managed to lift her dangling head enough to look at Zel again, but both demon tongues pulled out of her and sent more jolts through her trembling insides. Kas backed off, but Adron put both of his giant hands on her waist, and began to lower down. WwW.NoVELwOrM.CoM

"W-Wait, I'm... I'm not..." She tried to push against the floor and blankets with her feet, but her legs refused to listen, still shaking, still quivering.

She looked down. Adron winked at her. Either he was telling her he'd be gentle, or he was telling her he was about to fuck her into a coma, like he'd planned to that other night before he'd been interrupted. Whatever it was, Mia couldn't do anything but watch, and her eyes slid down Adron's body to the huge cock underneath him. Zel had one hand around. The same cock Mia had rode, cum on, felt cum underneath her, and felt in her grip as it pumped cum into her mouth.

Zel aimed its fat glans up, and Adron slowly lowered Mia down until the dripping, swollen lips of her tiny pussy pressed against it. She bit her bottom lip. Mistake. Adron groaned, hungry, eyes locked onto Mia and the little lip bite that'd apparently triggered something in him. He pushed her down harder, and with Zel keeping the huge length of his shaft pointed up, he had free use of both of his hands to guide Mia's body. Her aching pussy spread wide, further than any of her toys would open her, and the fleshy, hot, soaked texture of his glans sent electric tingles through her as it massaged against her skin.
