Eventually Kas lifted her up off Adron. Mia watched, head hanging forward between her shoulders, as a sliver of her insides exposed as Adron's width pulled out. His cock finally fell free, and Adron smiled up at her, his hands on the blankets behind him as he leaned back. Cum flowed out of her pussy, down her thighs, and off her toes, still in the air. Kas held her firm to his body, her ass snug to his pelvis. His cock was still inside her, buried deep in her guts, while her legs hung in front of his, unable to reach the floor.

He fucked her ass while standing, one arm hugging across her chest, one hand holding her throat and completely circling it in finger and claw. Zel and Adron could only see her head and her legs and waist, the shark's arms were that big. And as the two demons watched the beast fuck her ass, Mia's eyes drifted closed, and another climax flowed up and down through her as Kas's thick cock pressed forward against the walls of pussy, squashing it, her womb, her g-spot, everything up against the front of her stomach.

"Quite the sexual little thing aren't you? Cumming from anal sex alone?" Chuckling, Zel got up, stepped up to Mia, and caressed her cheek with the back of a claw. "I know that look, Kas. You want to pin this little annoyance down and fuck her until she breaks, don't you? Well, perhaps later. But do continue, gently for now." ©Ww.N0vELw0rm.com

Kas grumbled, clicked once, and his grip on Mia's body tightened. Had she annoyed him that much before, pestering him, asking him questions?

Zel chuckled, and ran her claw further down Mia's body, down over Kas's arms, and down to Mia's exposed, empty slit. With a tender, playful touch, the tip of her finger - not claw thank god - nudged against Mia's tender, aching clit, and Mia whimpered as it sent a painful sharp electric jolt through her pelvis. Www.0vELw0RM.Com

It was enough to make the beast holding her and fucking her ass rumble again, and cum. More hot sensations, flowing, almost soothing in the strangest way possible, poured up into her insides, and she melted back against the goliath's steel chest and abs as he hugged her tight, and filled her with cum. The rumbling continued, and she closed her eyes as she sank into the purring sound of a Humvee engine. (w)ww.N0vELW0rM.(c)0mm

Eventually, Kas's orgasm came to an end. He eased his grip, and Mia sucked in a breath. She hadn't noticed how hard his grip had made it to breathe for some time, and a few spots danced along her vision before her lungs devoured air again.

With a pleasant giggle, Zel's two lower hands reached out, took Mia's, and lifted her up and away from Kas. The beast stepped back, and the giant girth filling her ass slipped free, only for a fountain of thick, white cum to gush out of her clenching insides. She stared down at it as it flowed down her thighs, shins and calves, and off her toes, and she shivered. It really was a perfectly white, thick fluid, creamier than any man's she'd ever seen; her only experience there was porn, and a bit of ghostly spying, but still.

"Your aura begins to soften," Zel said. "Satisfied?" One of her two free hands plucked at her nipple chain, and the other held up Mia's chin. "Adron is done, I think, but Kas would happily continue fucking you, if you'd like. I do not think I've ever seen him enjoy someone's ass so much."

Mia sucked in a deep breath. Energy came back to her, and the tingling orgasm aftershocks settled. She might even be able to stand up if Zel put her down. But, probably not.

"I... I think... I'm good..." A part of her wanted to be angry. She hadn't agreed to any of this, hadn't consented. Another part of her was happy Zel had decided this route instead of the literal torture she'd borderline threatened Mia with. Worse, a part of her was even a little thankful Zel had picked Adron and Kas for her first time. A glance down at the gorgeous vrat and his perfect abs drenched in cum was enough to send more tingles through her.

But the tingling died quickly. She was absolutely exhausted, and getting hungry.

"I trust you found the experience more enjoyable than what you probably thought I might inflict upon you? You did climax... what, a dozen times, little soul?"

Mia blushed harder than when Kas had first penetrated her, hard enough she felt her heartbeat in her cheeks.

"I... I uh..."

"You may rest for now, though I do suggest you keep in mind that I gave Adron and Kas both permission to indulge themselves of you." With that, Zel set Mia down on the blankets beside Adron.

Mia was wrong about standing. Her legs refused to stop shaking, and she had to grab the shoulder of the huge vrat sitting beside her.

"B-But... they..."

Kas clicked twice, stepped back, crouched in his classic ready-to-pounce-at-a-moment's-notice cat sitting position, and shook his head. Whatever he said, it made Adron laugh.

"Don't worry," Adron said, winking at her. "We'll treat you right." And with a lick of his fangs, he reached out to Hannah, who still lay on the blankets, half asleep and sweating, and gave her firm little butt a harsh slap. She groaned, and didn't move.

Mia eyed him suspiciously. Adron was a smart man, conniving, mischievous, playful, fun, and dangerous for a number of reasons. But at least she could understand him and his motivations. Kas was a quiet man who seemed closer to beast sometimes. He was an asshole, and a dismissive jerk. And he'd hugged Mia and choked her and squeezed her tight as he'd fucked her ass over and over and over and... Www.0vEL0ôRm.c0m

She touched her stomach, free hand still clutching Adron's shoulder for balance, and she looked to the eyeless creature. Again, Kas took a step back, and grumbled quietly as he looked away. He was so damn hard to read without any eyes.

Maybe Adron could tell her what the beast was thinking? Because, much as she mostly trusted Adron, Kas she wasn't so sure about, and Kas was the one who stayed with her at night.

The idea of Kas, coming up to her in the night, pinning her down, growling down at her, setting his massive cock on her body and taking measure to see if it'd fit, before slowly sinking his length into her and... The thought sent a buzz through her, and she squirmed. It only got worse when she imagined Kas inviting Adron to join him.
