Another stone on the pile of things burying him alive in. Fucking lovely.

Daoka clicked a few times, gesturing to the group.

"A couple days," Jes said. "Let's just hang out here for a couple days. We're all running on full stomachs, so let's just lie around and do nothing for a bit, okay?" There was a hint of desperation in her face, and she sighed as she kissed her lover's cheek.

"A couple days," Caera said, copying her sigh. "That's a couple days we lose to--"

"A couple days is worth the risk." Acelina patted the ground a couple times with her tail, and patted Dao's thighs a couple times, too. "Alright?"

David, Jes, and Caera all traded quick glances. That was oddly affectionate behavior from the spire mother. Then again, it wasn't the first time Acelina had been nice to Dao, like genuinely perfectly normal nice, not limited to sharing jewelry, either. Maybe she just liked Dao? Who wouldn't love Dao?

"Alright," Caera said. www.novELWoRm.cOM

"Alright!" the Las said, and they waved their swords in the air. "We protect! Scouting!"

"Uh, maybe wait on that," Caera said. "We're going stealth mode. The fewer demons that know we're here, the better."

"No talk to other imps and grems?" Laria asked.

"No," Jes said, "not yet. They might talk about us if angels find them."

The four little ladies all whined, but they dropped their swords, took off their armor, flopped on each other in a big dogpile, and whined some more.

No matter how horrible their circumstances, the Las were just too damn funny, and everyone chuckled. David walked over to them, sat with them, and tugged on their feet; a couple had hooves, a couple had raptor feet, and figuring out who was who was fun. They instantly erupted into giggles, and jumped him. Plan backfired, he lay on his back, and struggled to breathe against the weight of two impas and two gremlas on his chest.

Daoka chirped and gestured his way. Ww.novELWoRm.com

"Uh, how about no," Jes said.

"What'd she say?" he asked.

"She said she wants to watch, 'cause she's too injured to join in."

"Watch what? W--oh."

Rolling her eyes, Jes shook her head and rubbed her horns into Dao's.

"You have a hole in your stomach, Dao." www.NovELWoRm.coM

Dao clicked a couple times, smiling as she kissed her lover on the nose. Which, of course, earned some groans from Jes, but she relented, and snuggled into her side.

"I uh, think I'll pass on sex for now," David said. "At least until Dao is healed up more."

The Las resumed whining.

~~Day 43~~

~~Mia~~

"Yulia, I--oh!" Mia stopped dead in her tracks in the alcove entrance, spun around, and covered her eyes.

The sounds of flesh, lips, saliva, and a quiet chirp from a bat demon pulling a huge penis out of her mouth, almost made Mia turn around to watch. She did not.

"Mia!" Judging from the sound, Yulia got up from her hands and knees, and ran over to Mia. Without even hesitating, she hugged Mia from behind, and gently turned her to face the naked angel.

Galon, nude save for his sandals, sat on the ground with legs out in front of him, spread and casual. His massive wings were spread wide, and they gently held a tiger lady by one leg, and a gargoyle lady by the other. Both were lying beside him, facing out, and both were leaning in so they could kiss his abs, his penis, and each other.

Yulia had been on her knees between his legs, deepthroating him, until Mia interrupted. Now she was giggling, holding Mia in a hug, and making sure Mia couldn't turn and face away from the naked angel, or the two demons now kissing his soaked dick. Unlike a demon penis, his cock, as big as an incubus's, was hard enough to stand upright and straight. He really was just like a big, unusually well endowed, ridiculously handsome human man.

"Mia," he said, perfect smile unrelenting. "I heard you coming."

"And you didn't warn me?"

"Nah. I figured, after our conversation, it might serve as a demonstration."

"And you told Yulia?"

"Told me what?" the bat lady asked. "Galon didn't say anything."

"Oh." Of course he didn't say anything about his advice to Mia. Galon would respect privacy, and of course Yulia wouldn't need an excuse to jump up and hug Mia, not while the bat demon was hot, bothered, and eager to show off her apparent boy toy.

Boy toy was the right word, too. It was fucking unfair how hot the damn angel was, and he smiled up at Mia as he set his hands on both demons still with him, and ran his fingers through their dreadlocks. Both ladies purred, grabbed his cock, intertwined their fingers, and buried his ripe glans with their tongues. Demon tongues were long. More than a few times their tongues caressed each other's, extreme French kissing, and they both purred as they leaned in, kissed each other again, and then got back to work on the angel.

"Join us?" Yulia said, finally letting go and getting back on her knees between Galon's.

"I don't think that's a good idea," Galon said, and he snuck Mia a wink.

The gargoyle lifted her head. "Why not? Julisa says the unmarked can fit some large things inside her, pretty easily." Ww.novELWoRm.CoM

"H-Hey!" Mia glared and folded her arms across her chest, a convenient way to hide her nipples. They weren't hard yet, but she wasn't an idiot.

"And she cums easily," the tiger said, nodding, "for a human. Maybe not so human?"

"I--" She shut up. There was no point in arguing, especially when her sex drive and sensitivity had always been this high. The insane sexual stamina was new, but sensitivity? She'd always been like kindling in a fire.

"Because," Galon said, "Mia and I are working together. It'd make for a strange relationship."

"And we're not?" the tiger asked.

"Not quite the same thing." He smiled down at her and scratched her scalp underneath the thick demon hair strands, making the muscular, huge creature moan and quiver.
