

Chapter : 15. Her horrible life.

David's point of view :-

With every answer from my mate, I feel my heart aching in sadness. I always thought my life was hard because I was left alone. I was the only one in pain because even after all these years I never got my mate while others way younger than me were living a happy life with their mates. But little did I know that my mate was suffering way more than me somewhere out there. She was living a lonely life since childhood as a slave in her pack where no one cared about her. No one was there to at least give her comfort on a tiring day. No one was there to hold her when she got hurt or got sick. She was living her life in hell.

While keep questioning her, I found out that she has no relationships with another man. This baby she is carrying is just a mistake. I don't know what kind of mistake made her end up being pregnant, but it's not the time to ask because just this simple mention is enough for her to get a mental breakdown. Even though I just met her properly, I am already in love with her and her tears are affecting me more than anything. I can't see her cry anymore. No matter what happend to her in her past life, I am just glad that she doesn't love another man as I was fearing. Now she can be all mine.

I was happy to get a mate and so does Eos. Especially now that we know she is all ours, with no one else to claim, our happiness has crossed the limits. So, I just stopped asking more questions for now because we have an eternity to do that. But for now, she needs rest and proper treatment. That's why I let Grace ask the questions she wants to ask about her health while I listen to their discussion silently. But with the rst question of hers, my silence and patience were both broken. Eos made me growl out immediately as soon as he heard that she was checked by a male doctor. The thought of other males getting near my mate is enough to make me forget everything about myself and just kill every single male from earth, so that no one would be ever able to look at her.

But Grace put some sense in me soon and I realized that all I am doing now is scaring my little mate. She was so scared by my growl that she started shaking, crying and blabbering things like- they are going to kill me. This way I found out that she was not only banished from her pack for some reason, but they wanted her dead. I have no idea what anger they had on this poor little girl that they had to chase her all the way to here and leave her in a condition like this just so she can die?

Her painful life story was breaking my heart and even after forcing myself from not to cry, I couldn't stop myself. Tears were forming in the corner of my eye after hearing that they never allowed her to go to school and never gave her any training. They barely even gave her some food. Maybe all she was allowed to do there was work. She was always being locked up in her home and worked all day and night, which even separated her from the outside world, and now she has no idea about how the world works. She got no knowledge, no self-defense techniques, no wolf to protect. I should be forever in debt to the moon goddess that she helped her at least run away from her enemies and reach to me. Once she gets better, I will nd out what pack she belongs to and that entire pack is going to be in a lot of trouble once I know the name.

Mila also mentioned about taking some pills that raised Grace's suspicions. Except of that she is admitting that she never took any foreign object in her body for any reason. So these pills must be the only way how she consumed the wolfsbane. But how did she not know what she was taking?

"Pills? What kind of pills were you taking, Mila? And how many?"

"Umm.. Our pack doctor gave me some pills for my pain and wounds. I think it's kind of a painkiller. I have been taking them since I was 10, maybe. One every night. But it was just a simple painkiller."

Another hit of anger consumed me, and I want to destroy everything I can nd. Mila had to take pills for her pain and wounds since 10. That could only mean that she was beaten up every day by her pack members and there was no one to stand up for her. I have heard that there are some packs who treats their slaves really badly. But my pack is not like that as I don't support violence on innocence. But it seems like Mila is one of those unfortunate one who had to go though that since a really young age. How can they do this to her? How can they do this to anybody? Dosen't they have a soul or anything? And what kind of alpha and luna support their pack to torture a weak girl like her? I wonder how many girls like her is still locked up in her pack, still getting treated like this.

But while I was thinking about the dark side of her answers, Grace was searching for clues about how such an amount of wolfsbane entered her body. And theses pills are what caught her attention.

"Your doctors gave them to you? Are you sure?"

"Yes. He is the one who gives me a bottle every month that contains only a month's pills."

"And when you took them, how did you used to feel? There must be some effect that was not supposed to happen. There must be something weird you caught about it?" This time, she became completely silent and started thinking about it through. But soon there was a realization seemed on her face which conrmed Grace's doubt.

"There was something weird indeed. At rst, when I started taking them, I used to feel nauseous and even vomited a few times. My body always felt weak, and I kept shrugging it off by thinking it's due to my tiredness from all the workloads. Soon, I got used to it and the pills helped me a lot to give me relief from pain and gave me peaceful sleep. I never stopped taking them until a few months ago I decided to quit them. But when I tried to stop them, my head kept aching along with the rest of my body. And I couldn't sleep and squirmed like a sh in a hot pan every night. It was really hard for me to stop taking them after so long a time. Then, after I got pregnant, these pills started acting like the rst time. I was vomiting and getting dizzy and tired all the time. Our doctor always used to tell me that- 'Mila, you have to stop taking these pills. It's not good for you.' But I never listened to him because I was addicted to it by then. And after he discovered the news of my pregnancy, he snatched those pills for me and told me that it's bad for both me and my baby. It could kill us. I never thought that he was serious about those pills being poisonous."

"That explains a lot. It's now conrmed that those pills are the wolfsbane indeed. But wolfsbane is not any kind of painkiller. Yes, it can make you senseless after consuming because it was killing you from inside slowly without you realizing it. And that is why you thought it was a painkiller. But why would a doctor ever give someone wolfsbane? And where was he even getting it from? How come your pack alpha never smelled it or found out about it? This is all a very serious question." Hearing about her pack again, her face became sad. I know she is deeply hurt from inside about what her pack did to her. But now she is in good hands. We will give her everything she missed. We will give her the family she never got. And I will give her the love she always deserved.

"Grace. I think this is enough questioning for now. I'm sure she must be tired now. Let her rest."

"Yes. Of course, alpha. But rst let me tell her the treatment she needs tpo go through to heal faster." I gave her permission to go on. Mila needs to know what she is about to go through in this hospital.

"Mila. Now that you know that wolfsbane is harmful for werewolves and your blood is completely lled with it, you might have an idea about the consequences. You and your baby both are in big danger. First of all, you are completely banned from taking it again. I know it's going to be hard at rst, but you have to control your urges for the safety of your baby. I am going to try to destroy the poison from your blood by a little bit of antibiotics every day, because a large amount of it at one time can be really risky. For that, you will have to take two IVs every day for now. And when the level will decrease from your blood, it will come to one until you are completely cured. You will stay in the hospital for a few days, just in case you need and sudden medical attention. But after that, alpha David will arrange your stay in our pack. You will get me forever in side whenever you need me. So, don't hesitate to talk to me anytime you want. I'm sure you are going to have a good time in here because people in here are really nice. Especially this man." She put her head down and gave a slight nod.

"If you don't mind, can I go to sleep now? I'm really tired." She said softly in a very sad tone. Maybe she is depressed about the thought of betrayal from her entire pack.

"Of course. You can sleep. Grace is here for you and I will also be nearby. You don't have to worry about getting attacked during your sleep because I will not let anyone get near you without your permission. You can trust me." Just as I said that, she looked up at me with a lot of questions in her eyes. I know she is confused about why I am being so protective of her when I barely know her. Just wait for a little while. You will get your answers soon. The rst opportunity I get, I will declare my love for you, my little mate.

I wanted to give her a tight hug before leaving her here. I have to go back to the pack house for a while and take care of some works before I can nally come back and spend the rest of the time with her till tomorrow. But the condition she is in, I can't even go near her without scaring her. I somehow manged to reach close to her when she hurt her leg, but going further can make her feel insecure of me. And I will never want that. So, I watched her lay down while Grace helped her cover up. And after she closed her eyes, I took a long whiff of her fruity smell before getting out of the chamber.

"Alpha David. Wait." Before I can get out of the hospital, I heard Grace call me from behind, and I stopped.

"So, what now?" It was the only question she stopped me for?

"What do you mean?"

"I mean, what are you going to do about her? I know that she is your mate, but she is pregnant with someone else's baby. So, are you thinking about rejecting her or anything? Because if you are, then I would suggest that please don't do it anytime soon. She is too weak to bear the pain of rejection now. She doesn't know about you being her mate. So, I don't think she will create any problem for you. And if you like, I would be glad to keep her with me till she gets perfectly ne and gets ready to stand on her own feet. I will.."

"Grace! Will you give me a chance to give my answer? Stop blabbering at once. And no. I am not going to reject her. She is my mate, and I waited for a long time for this day. I know she is carrying someone else's baby. But she also said that it was a mistake. I already got a picture of what she was going through in her previous pack. And I also have an idea of how she ended up being pregnant. So, there's no way I am going to leave my mate in such a condition. She deserves a lot better in life and I will give her all of it. She is going to be your luna soon." Hearing my answer, there was a huge smile on Grace's face. It looks like she got fond of Mila in a really short time, just like me. And this is good. It means that she is perfectly qualied to be a loving and kind luna for my pack.

"That's good. I'm happy for both of you. Tell her about it as fast as you can because I am sure she must be craving for your love all her life."

I gave her a small nod before getting out of the hospital. But still inside my mind and heart, I can't get the picture out of what she was living in. An imaginary moment was ashing in my mind where they were mistreating my mate. They were torturing her to death. And this baby. I'm sure that someone among them must have forced himself on her and left her like this. This is the only explanation I can get out of it. And I think I also know why they wanted to kill her. When they found out about her being pregnant, they got scared to be revealed in front of their alpha and tried to kill her to hide the truth. Those fu*king monsters. Once I get my hands on them, I will not spare any of them. Even their alpha and luna have to face my wrath for allowing such a horric crime in their pack. I will see them all.
