

Draco continues:

"Now, Eduarda, it is necessary to train your gifts and strengthen your connection with the moon. The moon will be your guide and source of power to face Hercules. Erick, you will need to learn to control the three spirits that dwell within you, channeling their powers for the protection and strengthening of the group. Joshua, your wisdom and instincts will be essential to guide us and make wise decisions."

Eduarda looks at

Erick, Joshua and Lila, feeling grateful to have these allies by her side. She knows that this journey will be dangerous and challenging, but she also realizes that they have the chance to make a difference and protect those they love.

With renewed determination, Eduarda says, "I am ready to learn and become stronger. I want to face Hercules and protect those I love. I know it won't be easy, but together we can overcome any obstacle."

"Start by connecting with your she-wolf and going through the first transformation," Draco says seriously, and Joshua and Erick nod in agreement.

Draco smiles, satisfied with the group's response. He stands up and begins to prepare a plan of training and strategies to face the darkness that Hercules represents.

"Hey," Joshua

whispers to the group "is it just me or does he get scarier when he smiles"

Erick arches his eyebrows as Lila and Eduarda nod in agreement .

After leaving

Draco's hut the group heads towards the royal pavilion, and Eduarda can't help but feel a certain envy of Joshua and his love affair with Lila, while Erick makes sure to keep a safe distance between them.

Upon arriving at the royal pavilion, the group gathers in a private room to discuss their recent findings. Joshua is eager to share what he has discovered during his investigations into Camila, the villain who had been posing as Erick's companion for the past three months.

With a serious expression, Joshua begins to relate his findings. He reveals that during his investigation of Camila, he discovered a clear connection between her and Hercules. Joshua found evidence that Camila was involved in shady activities and that she was working on behalf of Hercules.

"During the three months I was investigating Camila, I discovered evidence of her connection to Hercules," says Joshua, looking at the group seriously. "I found records of their secret communications, coded messages that point to a sinister partnership between them. However, I couldn't get any clues about Hercules' true appearance."

Eduarda, Erick

listen intently, processing the revealing information. The fact that Camila has infiltrated the royal academy and her association with Hercules increases the urgency of their efforts to defeat the enemy and protect those they love.

"How can we trust anyone but ourselves after that?" questions Eduarda, with regret in her voice.

"We need to be cautious about who we allow into our circle of trust," says Erick and Eduarda senses a tone of irony in his voice.

Joshua looks at Eduarda, understanding her concerns. He holds her hand and says with determination:

"Now we know who our real enemy is. We must use this information to our advantage and redouble

our efforts to unmask Hercules and stop him once and for all."

Lila, with her
serious expression, states:

"We will need to be smarter and more strategic. We can't afford to make mistakes Camila has shown us that the enemy can hide under the mask of friendship."

Erick agrees with the group and proposes a plan to move forward. He suggests delving deeper into the investigation into the connection between Camila and Hercules, seeking additional information that might lead to the discovery of the enemy's true appearance.

"Let's track down any clues that might lead us to more information about Hercules," says Erick "We need to find those who have had some kind of interaction with him in the past, in search of testimonies or records that might help us uncover his true face."

Everyone agrees with Erick's proposed approach aware that it will be dangerous and challenging.
But they are determined to unmask Hercules, protect those they love and ensure a peaceful future.

It is decided that the next morning Erick and Joshua will pay Camila a little visit in the dungeon.

After all these events Joshua retires with Lila to her room, and before Eduarda can say anything Erick leaves too, leaving her alone with her own thoughts.

She feels her chest
tighten at the obvious distance between her and Erick.

Sighing she heads
to her room and lying on her bed, falls asleep and begins to dream.

In the dream she is in the same place as always, only now it's just her and the beautiful white wolf who is no longer trapped, but is still lying in the same place. Eduarda approaches her and says:

"Hello," the
she-wolf snorts and turns her face in another direction clearly ignoring Eduarda.

"I saw that you are no longer trapped must be nice, why don't you get up to stretch your legs, see

you have this whole forest to run through," Eduarda approaches and touches the

she-wolf who gets up angrily with her growling menacingly and Eduarda wakes up

screaming.

Rate the book using the stars!