

Last Days 113

Chapter 113 Conflict

Hearing the annoying voice, the three girls stopped their reunion and turned to look in the direction where the voice came from with cold gaze.

In this difficult times, it was truly not the time for these rich and entitled young master and young misses to make troubles.

They saw a young man was quarreling with the soldier in charge. It was just that the soldiers didn't really want to pay attention to this young man and said, "Everyone who come will be treated the same no matter who you used to be unless you can make contribution to the base."

"What do you mean contribution?" The young man frowned.

"Donating resources, research capability, strength capability, and so on," the soldier replied calmly.

After a week's time, the base was slowly established and there were naturally rules and regulations. One of them was the establishment of the contribution points.

As for money?

It was being transitioned to contribution points to a certain degree but there was a limit of how much they could obtain. After all, the military didn't really want to negate all the efforts the people had made before the world suddenly changed so much.

Though, Samuel himself didn't really care about those money.

It didn't have much use by now.

"The hell, how could I give you my resources? If I give you these resources, how can I possibly live...."

What followed was a long line of curses.

Ruby looked at this scene and felt incredible. She never knew that there were actually people who were so entitled like this and turned to look at Amelia and Sophia. "Do you know who he is?"

"Joshua Lawson," Sophia replied. "The Lawson Family had a villa here, so he can come and will stay with his uncle."

"Don't pay too much attention to him. With his personality, he'll only be in trouble in the future," Amelia replied with a snort.

There were three other families who stayed in the villa areas aside from the Jones Family, which is the Carson Family, Lawson Family, and Black Family. To be honest, she was glad that the Mile Family was not here or there would be endless troubles.

"Oh."

"Cousin!" Valeria's eyes lit up when she saw Amelia and pointed at her while talking to the soldier. "I want to stay with my cousin!"

The soldier really wanted to faint.

This group of people were definitely the hardest to serve with each and every single one of them being so entitled and annoying. If it was not because of the order given from the higher ups, they would never want to come into contact with these annoying young masters and young misses.

"No," Amelia replied before the soldiers replied. Facing this shameless cousin, Amelia had long wanted to kick her out.

"Why not? You're my cousin..."

"I'm your cousin and not your mother. I have no obligation to take care of you," Amelia said calmly and looked at Valeria with a sneer. "Moreover, with how shameless your father used to be and offended my brother, do you think he'll give you good face here?"

Valeria's face changed.

After the mist's incident, her father tried to take back some power from Samuel because he felt that this brat was not qualified to be the head of the Jones Family. They felt that the Jones Corporation should be under them and make a direct move after the chaos was over.

Unfortunately, they underestimated Samuel and ended up being hit hard instead.

They had to stay away in the past few months before the earthquake strike and destroyed the entire world.

Valeria's mother's expression changed. She yelled, "Look, is this how a base should be? Do you want to treat us unfairly just because you're capable? What kind of..."

Plak!

Before Valeria's mother could finish speaking, Sophia had stepped forward and slapped the other party. Her expression was cold as she said, "Know your place. You're nothing more than a refugee who come to this base. Whether the base willing to help you or not depends on them. You have no right to make demands."

"Sophia," Sophia's father called. He knew that his daughter has a good relationship with Amelia from the Jones Family, but it was not appropriate for them to make a move.

It was just that Sophia has never been the type to stay silent when she saw her friends being bullied. Moreover, she might be the eldest miss of the Carson Family, but she was also taught to do business.

The family's heir was her brother, but it didn't mean that she was not taught anything.

After all, the Carson Family is a big family and every single one of them represent the face of the Carson Family.

"You b!"

Peng!

This time, Amelia kicked the woman away and shook her head. "If you're so brave, why don't you go out and face those magic beasts on your own? No one asks you to come here."

"You..."

"Mother!" Valeria was shocked and only came to her senses when her mother was pushed away. She looked at Amelia with hatred. "How could you treat her like this? She's your aunt and an elder..."

"Don't use the word elder to restrain my action. Respect had to be earned, no matter how old you are." Amelia looked at the two of them and then glanced at the soldier. "Any troublemaker will be kicked out of the base. I'm sure my brother will agree with this notion."

"Yes, Miss Amelia."

The soldiers all agreed.

They knew that while Amelia looked soft, she was brought by her brother to fight against the magic beasts not long ago. At that time, they realized that this young miss was also a magic warrior like Samuel.

Even though Amelia was not as strong as Samuel, but her strength was still one to be reckoned with.

And with such a backing, who would dare to move her?

Unless they wanted to seek death.

"I'm not making trouble! You're the one who accuses me out of nowhere!"
