

Last Days 126

Chapter 126 Watching (2)

"Brother is as ruthless as always," Amelia muttered.

"He's a businessman," Sophia, whose family was the one at disadvantage, was calmer than Amelia. "Besides, in this special situation, it's clear that only those who are strong will be able to stay ahead while those who are weaker had to accept that they're weak. If they want to change their status quo, they just have to work harder."

Amelia looked at Sophia in surprise. "I don't expect you to say something like that. I thought you will be devastated first."

Riya also glanced at these two but part of her attention was still on the matter below. She was not too close with Sophia and the others aside from the fact that they were all staying on the same dormitory floor.

After all, Sophia didn't like staying in the dormitory.

She often went out to play and rarely came back. Whenever she did, there would be a quarrel with Ruby about their room's arrangement.

"I like to play around but I also understand that in business, anything could happen." Sophia rolled her eyes. "Besides, even if my family stood at the top back then, it doesn't mean that they would always stay on the top. If they want to keep their places, they had to keep working hard and be prepared for any situation."

This was how Sophia was raised in her family and Sophia understood that being in a big family was not that easy.

Would they always stay on the top?

No one could say for sure.

There were many businessmen who went bankrupt overnight because of a small mistake and the Carson Family was unwilling to follow their footsteps. For this reason, they would have to work hard when they were doing their job to prevent themselves making mistakes that could be avoided.

And for this kind of disaster, Sophia had long known that she would not be able to live the same as she used to be.

But it was fine.

Because she believed that sooner or later, she would be able to live comfortably in her own way.

"Don't worry," Riya said slowly. "I'm sure you'll do great."

Sophia's talent in meditation was really high, so she would be able to become a mage quickly. But considering that Sophia liked animals more, the beast master's path would be more suitable for her.

Unfortunately, Riya didn't have much knowledge about this path and Sophia would have to open up her own path.

The only thing that Riya could do was to help Sophia strengthen Melly and made sure the two of them could grow up. As for how their path would be in the end, that would be up to Sophia.

"Thank you, Riya. I feel more reassured with your words." Sophia grinned.

Riya nodded and then looked down again. There were people coming in.

"Those are people from the Lawson Family and the Black Family," Amelia introduced. "The Lawson Family had a lot of malls before and they should have a lot of resources. But it's not so easy to take these resources back with so many magic beasts out there."

Riya nodded.

While her move had already reduced the number of magic beasts in City A, it would not eliminate them completely. She was not so powerful that she could cover up the entire City A yet.

In this way, the people who were living in City A would have to work together with the others to eliminate as many magic beasts as possible through various methods. But all in all, it was hard for them to travel everywhere without meeting magic beasts.

"On the other hand, the Black Family had a lot of factory and they're all located outside City A. They also have warehouses but most of their important resources are the raw materials," Amelia continued.

Since Riya was not part of the rich society, she didn't have much knowledge about these people. On the other hand, Amelia and Sophia had paid a visit to various places and party, so they still recognized these people.

"Old Master Black, Mr. Lawson, have you come to an agreement?" Samuel asked at the few people who came.

"Hmph." Mr. Lawson was a middle aged man and also the leader of the Lawson Family. His father had long passed away, so he was the one in charge. "Don't think that you're the only one who could order the military, Samuel."

Samuel smiled faintly. "I see. It seems that you have come to an agreement with one of the military branches."

"The Lawson Family will not agree with your proposition."

"Even if you have connection with the military, it doesn't mean that you can overstep the laws, Mr. Lawson. I hope you do remember that if you do crimes, the lightest punishment is to stay in the prison outside," Samuel said slowly.

Not long ago, Joshua Lawson had just tried to shoot his sister. If the Lawson Family was determined to save Joshua, then they could really do that but then Samuel would have to kindly ask them out.

He didn't want anyone to use their personal power to influence the law during this period of time.

"Don't worry." Mr. Lawson narrowed his eyes and said, "We don't need troublemaker either."

Bang!

With that, the Lawson Family left. They didn't even stay for one minute because they felt that they were strong enough.

Seeing this scene, Amelia almost take out her sword and slashed Mr. Lawson. Her brother was indeed annoying, but she still didn't want to see others looking down on Samuel like this.

Of course, Sophia and Riya stopped Amelia.

"Damn you! Being so arrogant like that, I hope you can see clearly how strong those magic beasts and got beaten up," Amelia cursed.

Sophia patted Amelia's head to calm her friend down. "They'll definitely meet those magic beasts if they go outside. You don't have to curse others."

"Hmph!" Amelia was still annoyed.

Riya was looking at the Lawson Family and silently thought that if they wanted to go, they should go as soon as possible before the number of magic beasts increased again.
