

Last Days 139

Chapter 139 Switching Faces so Fast is the Jones Sibling's Special Trait, isn't it?

"...You know, you can just ask me to make another one." Riya looked at the two people who were dragged by Samuel after they fell down speechlessly.

How did one talisman cause so much trouble?

"Tsk, isn't it hard to make it?" Amelia asked back in annoyance.

"Not really?" Riya tilted her head slightly. She felt that it was really easy to make the cold talisman after reaching rank 4 in her magic rank. If it was when she was truly rank 1, she really have troubles making even rank 1 talisman.

But now...?

Riya didn't think it was difficult at all.

Amelia turned her head to look at Riya speechlessly.

Riya could only show an awkward smile and then took out a paper and used a brush and magic beasts' blood to make another cold talisman. In a few seconds, the talisman was done and Riya handed it over to Amelia.

"...Ah, I feel better now." Amelia relaxed when she held the cold talisman in her hand. "I know you love me the most, Riya."

Riya rolled her eyes at Amelia's words. If it was not because she knew that Amelia was also straight, Riya would definitely knock Amelia's head and remind the other party that she's straight and had no interest in women.

Sean looked at the cold talisman paper and felt a bit envious.

Samuel saw his younger brother and sister were making trouble and knocked on the table. "There'll be more cold talisman paper made. You will get some for your use."

"Thank you, Brother!"

"Yes!"

Mrs. Jones smiled when she saw her children being so lively. "Come and eat first. We'll eat the purified meat today."

"Yesss!"

Before learning about the purification magic spells, no one dared to eat the magic beasts' meat. They knew that if they dared to eat it, they might not be able to survive at all. But after learning the purification method, they felt that the meat was really delicious.

The purification method has been spread out in the website and many people could access it.

The Jones Family and Riya ate the food comfortably in the dining room. The temperature in the dining room after using Riya's talisman was very comfortable.

Everyone felt alive.

Even Samuel, who usually didn't care too much, felt a bit better with this temperature. His body was indeed very strong, but it didn't mean that he was invincible and couldn't sense the temperature.

"Alright, you two should rest." Samuel looked at his two younger siblings. "We're going out tomorrow."

"I'm also going?" Sean was stunned.

He had heard that Samuel managed to come into terms with Carson Family and would pick up their family's resources tomorrow. But he didn't expect that he would also be going out with his older brother.

Doesn't this mean that he would have to suffer under the scorching sun?

When Sean thought about this, his face paled.

His working place was not the most comfortable but it was good enough for him. But if he had to stand under the sun, especially midday, Sean felt that he would rather go to his own work.

"Yes." Samuel nodded.

"Brother, do you have to be so cruel to me? I want to stay behind and..."

"Joan will also come."

"I'm going!"

Amelia looked at her younger brother with disgust. When his girlfriend was mentioned, Sean immediately fell and agreed to Samuel's arrangement.

"Is it not dangerous?" Riya asked in confusion.

She knew that both Amelia and Sean could be categorized as magic warrior rank 1, but how about this Joan?

Riya had to admit that she had never met her.

"Don't worry, Joan is strong." Sean quickly said.

"Yeah, he has beaten up Sean a few times," Amelia added.

"You don't have to say that!" Sean pulled his older sister to prevent her from exposing more of his black history. He felt that this sister was also the most annoying sibling he could have.

Amelia stuck out her tongue.

"Ok." Riya laughed when she saw this scene.

"Arnold agreed to come too," Samuel added and looked at his sister.

"I'm going!" Amelia's eyes lit up when she heard this. The next second, she felt regretful for her impulsiveness because it would be very tiring and troublesome to go out.

"Tsk." This time, it was Sean's turn to give his sister's a disgusting gaze. He could see that his sister often looked down on him for being so indecisive when it involved Joan but it was clear that when it involved Arnold, his own sister was the same.

Riya heard this and nodded.

Arnold was Samuel's friend but she had never met him before. From what she knew from Amelia, Amelia had a crush on him.

Riya didn't know the other details, though.

After all, whenever Amelia mentioned him, it was mostly about how good he is. But she could see that Amelia had a thick layer of filter when she looked at Arnold, so she couldn't fully trust her words.

It would be better to judge him after seeing him by herself later.

"How about the other two?" Sean turned to look at Samuel.

"They're doing something else, so it's enough to have these two people," Samuel replied.

There were two more people?

Riya looked at Samuel and then nodded. They should have spread the magic warrior's practice to a few more people, which was why they could become stronger.

It seemed that since the world changed, they had already changed some arrangements.

One of them should have involved these practices.

Sooner or later, it would be spread, so they would rather let the few people they trusted and close with to learn it first.

'I don't have anyone to learn it, though.'

Thinking about the fact that rune master required more about talent than anything else, it would take a long time if Riya wanted to teach her path.

On the other hand, Samuel and Peter's methods were easier to spread out.

Oh, it didn't mean that it was impossible for her to teach the basic meditation to become a mage, though. But since Riya was not exactly a pure mage, she couldn't really teach many magic spells.
