

Last Days 194

Chapter 194 Explanation

Riya: "..."

She looked at Samuel, who was going and silently thought to herself whether she should wait for him or not. To be honest, Riya didn't really want to travel together with Samuel but at the same time, they have consumed a lot when they ran out from those magic beasts.

What if he was in danger because of this?

After a few seconds of thinking, Riya chose to wait and checked her world while waiting. She moved away most of the unranked magic beasts after taking their blood to be made into fertilizer.

As for the higher ranked magic beasts, Riya planned to use part of it to feed the white tiger and the rest could also be exchanged with the base.

Anyway, she didn't seem to be able to stay low key.

As much as Riya wanted to stay behind the scene, the current situation seemed to tell her that she couldn't do it.

'Well, it's not like everyone has to know about it.'

Riya rubbed her forehead and soon, Samuel returned with a new motorcycle.

Seeing this, Riya also patted the white tiger and it started to dash in the direction where City A Base was located.

"What do you want to ask?" Riya asked after they started going back. It was still a bit dark but it was not that bad for the two of them. At least, they could still travel with limited vision.

"Do you know why there are so many magic beasts in the end?" Samuel asked slowly. "Is it because they're attracted by the formation mechanism?"

He felt that Riya should have known something about those magic beasts' abnormal movement.

The only thing that he could think of was those formations.

What if one of these formations was to lure over these magic beasts?

Such formation did exist in that world but Samuel couldn't recognize them. He didn't have such vast knowledge of formation. Even if he knew that such formation existed, he couldn't tell whether this formation was that formation or something else.

Riya looked at Samuel and felt that he was actually quite smart. Even if he didn't know formation much, but he could guess this matter.

"Yes, one of them was the type of formation that could attract magic beasts," Riya replied. "In principle, it was..."

What followed next was half an hour long of explanation about how the formation worked.

The white tiger felt that its was listening to the sound of nature... one that he couldn't understand in the slightest bit. Thankfully, his role was to carry Riya to the base and not to learn formation under Riya.

Otherwise, the white tiger would rather be beaten up rather than staying in the same place.

Samuel's lips twitched slightly when he heard Riya's long explanation.

What he wanted was only a yes or no answer but he got an extremely long explanation answer instead.

However, this made him realize that Riya's knowledge base was also very solid.

Otherwise, she wouldn't be able to explain for so long like this and allowed him to understand more about this matter.

Even though Samuel still couldn't draw the runes, he could at least recognize it from the few features that Riya mentioned. All he had to do was to pay attention to it when he came across formations again.

"How many formations are there in total?" Samuel suddenly asked.

"How many?" Riya tilted her head. "I think thousands. Even I haven't learned everything, so I can't really say about it."

Samuel: "..."

He had officially decided that he would not bother to learn formation. If he had to learn thousands of them, Samuel knew that he would not be able to survive.

Riya saw Samuel's look and felt amused. "Magicians have better memorization ability because of our meditation. Do you think it's possible for us to learn so much if we're not meditating a lot."

Samuel looked at Riya with the look that said that magic warrior also meditated but not as long as those magicians.

He had to admit that his memory had gotten better because of the meditation.

But it was definitely far from these people!

Moreover, people who followed the path of rune master had to have both extremely good control over mana and also a strong memorization ability.

Those two talents were not that common.

"Do you want to teach your ability to others?" Samuel asked.

"Eh, probably not." Riya shook her head. "It'll take too much of my time and I don't even know if others have enough talent to become a rune master."

Samuel nodded thoughtfully.

At this stage, most people's focus was how to get stronger and not to spread their knowledge to others. Besides, the internet was only half repaired and there were many areas that could not have access.

It would be hard to truly spread the knowledge.

Besides, even if one wanted to become rune master, they would need to study for a long time. Not everyone had enough patience to learn everything when they had to prioritize their own survival.

Samuel sighed.

Riya didn't say anything more about the formation.

She didn't know the other formation in that room and it would take her a long time to study everything.

After all, her current rank was not high enough to completely explore such a large formation.

Her mana would be exhausted first before she could do it.

Besides, Riya was not in such a hurry to go back.

First thing first, she had to use the special magic core that she had just obtained.

This time, she should be able to reach rank 5, right?

Riya had some doubts but she wanted to try it first.

"Do you know life magic spells?"

"Yes?" Riya looked at Samuel strangely. Of course she knew magic spells.

"If you have time, I want you to help me check the few live magic spells in the Martial Arts or Magic Association and see if you can make runes to replicate their effects," Samuel said.
