

Last Days 196

Chapter 196 Camping Together

"Wait, the fluctuation seems a bit different," Samuel said.

He did pay attention to the meat but when he saw Riya chanting, he felt that the magic fluctuation was a bit different from the magic spell when he was using the purification magic.

"Try to roast this." Riya silently handed over the piece of meat to Samuel. She could do it but she didn't want to. Anyway, Samuel's cooking was good.

Samuel arched his eyebrows.

Why did he feel that he was being treated as a chef?

But he didn't complain and took the piece of meat to slowly roast it until it was brown and looked appetizing with his fire.

"It's done."

"Try to eat a piece of it."

Without any condiment?

Samuel felt that the meat would taste a bit bland in that situation, but he still did as Riya said. After the meat entered his mouth, he felt that the meat was still a bit bland but there was a faint taste of juiciness that didn't exist before.

This made Samuel nearly stopped his motorcycle.

"The taste is different and..." Samuel sensed the mana and energy that he gained from the meat just now. It was just one bite but... "It gives me much more mana than the usual meat."

Riya nodded with a faint hum.

Yes, that was right.

It was only after she saw that magic spells did she realize where she had seen those magic spells before. Those magic spells from the Magic Association before had been modified or it might have changed.

But this magic spells from Peter came directly from that world.

So Riya managed to recognize it.

"The magic spells that you learned is the children's version for the magic spell," Riya said slowly. "Their magic spell chant has been made easier and can be modified in accordance to the children's personality just to make them learn magic spells faster. Whoever learn that magic spells should have accidentally heard a child learning it and then copied it without knowing that it has been weakened because it was a child's version."

Samuel: "..."

He silently lid a candle for Peter.

No wonder that Peter always refused to say the chants for his magic spells no matter how simple it is. Besides, Peter was a full warrior and his mana was nearly non existent. If it was not because he needed to use mana to even eating, Peter would not bother learning this purification spell.

But Peter in that world was poor.

Just like Riya, he didn't have enough money to learn many magic spells. He had to learn by himself or it was more like, he had to secretly learn magic spells by himself.

Of course, the end result was really bad.

There were not many people who will let them learn the chant. Moreover, learning the chant without seeing the effect and sensing how the mana was used would make it harder for them to learn it.

For this reason, many magic scroll had detailed explanation about the flow of mana and so on written carefully.

Otherwise, those who read it might not be able to learn it even after a long time.

The easiest to imitate was these modified magic spells, which was weakened to a certain degree and then taught to children.

"So this magic spell is harder to learn?" Samuel also recalled that there were children magic spells in his family in that world. However, those children magic spells were only taught to those family members who were not too talented.

Samuel was not among them.

"In a way, yes," Riya replied. "I'll explain the mana movement later. Moreover, those with light element will be able to use this magic spell easier since it's based on light element. Of course, those without any light element can also use it."

Light element?

It was only then Samuel realized that the real purification spell was actually a spell from the light element. The magic spell was modified so that people without the light element would be able to use it.

But for those of light element, their result was definitely far better than others.

Samuel looked at the piece of meat in his hand and then looked at Riya. "You have light element."

It was a statement not a question.

Riya heard Samuel's words and arched her eyebrows. Was the change in the meat so obvious?

In the past, Riya did eat with Samuel's family, but she didn't pay too much attention to the meal. After all, she was already rank 4 and the improvement that she could get from those unranked magic beast meat was very pitiful.

But the meat that Riya handed to Samuel was a rank 1 magic beast's meat.

Moreover, it was purified by Riya herself with her magic, which contained light element that made the magic spell stronger.

Even if Samuel had eaten those rank 1 magic beast's meat before, he had to say that the mana contained in the meat in his hand was much more than those meat.

"Yeah, one of my magic elements is light element," Riya finally chose to admit it directly.

Anyway, it was not like Samuel would do anything to her even if he knew about this. From what Riya knew, Samuel didn't know any light element magic spells.

Samuel nodded when he heard Riya's words and stopped asking question.

He had gained enough from Riya today.

In this way, the two of them were finally silent and only the sound of white tiger galloping on the street and the motorcycle engine could be heard.

The sun slowly rise in the distance, welcoming the arrival of the new day.

And the two people made their way to City A Base, which had already cleaned up most of the magic beasts' corpse the night before. Only some of them were left outside because there was no time for them to work on it.

"What a pity. The meat will turn bad in this hot temperature."
