

Last Days 271

Chapter 271 Continuous Battle

Before long, Riya finished making the formation and nodded in satisfaction.

She took out the magic core and then sat on the side while Mo was still killing the magic beasts around the area.

"You continue killing and then piled the magic beasts' body here." Riya pointed to one side.

roar! <Yes, Master>

Swish!

After making sure the formation plate could last for a long time, Riya sat down and looked in the direction of City A Base.

This time, she left to cut off the number of magic beasts that came out from this place.

In this way, the number of magic beasts that attacked City A Base would be greatly reduced. This would make it easier for others to deal with these magic beasts and all.

'I'll come back later and ask Amelia how they performed.'

What Riya was curious about was how these people in City A Base would respond when there were danger. They have faced the mini magic beasts' tide in the past when Murin used that flute of beast.

But because Riya had been cleaning up City A before he used it, there were not many magic beasts that was attracted.

Now, the number of magic beasts had increased sharply.

'One of the reasons might be this one crack.'

Riya looked down at the hole behind her and had the faint feeling that this was not the location of the crack. As for where the crack actually is, Riya didn't know and had to wait until the formation killed most magic beasts before she would go down and check briefly.

For now...

It's better for her to recuperate her mana.

With that, Riya closed her eyes and focused to meditate and recover her mana as fast as possible.

...

City A Base, Samuel and the other's side

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Ignoring the magnificent view of these magicians from the Magic Association, the others were all fighting fiercely.

There was no need to say about Samuel who was busy eliminating these flying magic beasts that was close to him. If it was too far away from him, the snipers who were prepared had long targeted them.

Peter was busy helping the soldiers on the wall to deal with these magic beasts that climbed up and then punched or kicked them back to the pile. In this way, the soldiers' lives were not threatened and they could focus on using their guns to deal with these magic beasts.

On the other side that Peter didn't cover, there were also others who were fighting fiercely.

Slash!

Amelia panted as she looked at these magic beasts that continued to climb up again and again.

"How many magic beasts are there exactly?" Amelia asked, her tone contained some desperation.

"I don't know," Sean replied.

He was also panting badly, but the two of them stood side by side, killing these magic beasts that climbed up this part of the wall.

Behind them, Joan looked at the two people who were fighting fiercely and the other soldiers nearby. She took a deep breath and ready to recast her spells.

"O mighty force of timeless might, Weave thy threads of silver light, Shield us from all wrath and harm, Enclose us now, safe and warm."

The beautiful poetic magic spells was very different from the outrageous sight of these magicians from the Magic Association. It could be said that those who heard it would think that it was very cool and elegant.

And Joan herself had fire and light element, which was very suitable for this magic spells.

Slash! Slash!

With the magic spell from Joan, both Amelia and Sean could see faint shield in front of them, blocking the attack from these magic beasts.

The two of them was naturally not polite and immediately launched another attack, killing these magic beasts in one swift move.

"Nice one, Joan!" Amelia laughed happily.

"This is not the end yet," Joan reminded. "Don't lose your focus."

"I know." Amelia took a deep breath, trying to regulate her breathing. For a magic warrior, they have to regulate their breathing to make sure that they would not waste their energy for nothing.

This was something that could only be done in real life battle and not something that could be practiced easily. Thankfully, the intense training from Samuel and Riya made Amelia got used to the situation where she was under heavy pressure.

Bang!

"Ruben!"

Seeing the person who climbed up, Sean was stunned and then said, "What are you doing here? Your skills are not good enough."

Ruben was more suitable to become a mage, which was something that Samuel had said in front of them before. They had also seen that Ruben was basically the weakest.

Even the lazy Amelia could defeat Ruben with ease.

So if he were to come here, he might hold them back rather than helping them.

"I also want to help," Ruben said firmly. He was holding a gun in his hand. "I might not be able to help much in terms of magic, but I can still use guns to help you kill these magic beasts."

"You..." Sean frowned but then he thought about City A Base.

Even though City A Base had only been built for a short period of time, it has become a new home for many people who lived here. Because they could see hope when they stayed here and didn't have to be afraid of these magic beasts that went rampant outside.

So even though they might not be the most capable nor the most strongest, they also wanted to raise their weapons and help as much as they could.

Because they knew that if these people lost, their chance of living would be lower too.

If they could do something, why not?

"Don't hold us back," Sean said and then moved towards the next magic beast that came up.

Ruben only smiled and then pointed his gun to these magic beasts.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Chapter 272 Continuous Battle (2)

The sound of gunshots were mixed with the songs of these magicians from the Magic Association.

By now, everyone had gotten used to it.

They ignored it, though.

After all, who would want to care about these magicians from the Magic Association?

In this battle against these magic beasts, these magicians from the Magic Association were also helping them. While their methods were a bit... hard to describe, but they were still helping.

So everyone felt grateful to these magicians from the Magic Association.

Though, it would have been better if they could change the song to some war songs instead of square dance song...

woof woof

Sophia was with her family members on the other side of City A Base. Because of City A Base's expansion, the walls built has been modified and pushed forward again and again. Otherwise, it would not be able to fit everyone who wanted to enter City A Base.

The Carson Family also stepped forward to help.

Even though their help was not much, it was better than nothing.

The soldiers were also fighting alongside them, shooting these magic beasts that rushed over in their direction.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

"Melly, don't get too far!" Sophia called Melly so that the dog would not be too far away.

Looking at Melly's fur that was now stained with blood, Sophia sighed slightly. She had just finished taking Melly to a bath but now Melly was already dirty again. It seemed that after this battle was over, she had to make sure Melly's fur was scrubbed clean.

"Sophia, you stay behind," Sophia's brother, Stephen, quickly warned his sister.

He didn't want his sister to be brave and challenged these magic beasts on her own. Even though a beast master would receive feedback from their contracted beast, but they were generally weaker physically than those of the same ranks.

Moreover, Sophia only has one magic beast.

There was no way she could be extremely strong.

"I know, Brother," Sophia answered obediently. She also would not foolishly rush forward to these magic beasts.

With her pitiful strength, it would be better to let Melly be the one to take charge and kill these magic beasts.

As for her?

She would stay at the back and commanded Melly.

Bang! Bang! Bang! Click!

Stephen was holding a gun and shot these magic beasts until he ran out of bullet. As he changed the cartridge, he looked at the magic beast's number and felt that the number of magic beasts were not that many.

After all, this was the opposite side of the one where Samuel and the others were facing.

And the direction where the magic beasts came from was also far from here.

"Brother, do you not use any magic?" Sophia asked.

"I don't have that much mana and the magic spells I learn is not convenient to be used," Stephen replied helplessly.

Even if he wanted to use magic, it was not very convenient to use it now.

Before Stephen spoke again, he sensed something and pulled Sophia to the side.

Bang!

A bullet passed by their side.

Stephen turned his head and glared at the person who shot. "Tapa! If you can't shoot properly, you should not participate in the battle!"

Tapa?

Sophia heard this name and turned around, glaring at her cousin.

Tapa is the son of her second uncle and didn't get along with them that much. Right now, every member of the Carson Family lived under one roof and they had to try to get along with each other.

But if it was unnecessary, Sophia really didn't want to associate with this cousin of hers.

"I'm here to help," Tapa replied with a pout. He was shorter than Stephen and Sophia. Moreover, his slightly fat body was indeed not very convenient for him to move around, making his progress in training also slower.

"If you want to help, aim at the magic beasts and don't stand behind us!" Stephen said coldly.

He was not used to this pampered young master.

Tapa was the second child and could easily live off his brother's work. There was no need for him to work hard in the past.

After all, the Carson Family was big and there was no problem even if some of them didn't want to work for the rest of their lives. They could easily play around without the need to care about anything else.

"Tsk. Who are you to give me order?" Tapa replied without fear.

"Children! Don't fight here or you can go down and deal with the magic beasts on your own," Stephen's Father saw this scene and quickly reminded.

Seeing that the elder has spoken, Tapa snorted and walked to the side to raise his gun and aimed at these magic beasts once more.

Stephen looked at Tapa coldly before he focused on his own battle once more.

"Next time, let Melly stay near you," Stephen said.

In this way, Melly would be able to protect Sophia if there was some people without eyes who wanted to provoke them.

Sophia pursed her lips and nodded heavily. "Right now, it's more important to kill more magic beasts."

"Yes."

If it was not because of these magic beasts, Stephen really wanted to pull Melly to Sophia's side and let her protect his sister.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

There were many people who fought against these magic beasts.

But there were also people who couldn't do anything and stay hidden within City A Base. These people knew that they couldn't help so the best way they could do was to stay away from the battle and protect themselves.

If they became burden, it would make things more difficult instead.

Among them, Victoria was staying in her small apartment, looking outside through the window.

After coming to City A Base, Victoria has been training and working. Her family members came to make trouble once but they were kicked out by the apartment's guards. This allowed Victoria to breathe a sigh of relief.

The place where she stayed now was no longer the free apartment but the one that cost 1 contribution points per day.

Chapter 273 Determination

Even though Victoria felt pain when she thought that she had to pay every day because the work she could do was not much, but this place was safer than the free apartment area.

In the free apartment area, she had to face her noisy mother and Valeria who wanted to take advantage of her.

But in this place, there would be security guards protecting the place.

Even though they would not stop her family from visiting her, when they made noise and troubles, these security guards will come forward to kick them all out. In the current situation, having such a place with security was already extremely good.

Who knew how many people out there who couldn't even have a place to live?

So as long as she endured for a bit and then these annoying people made trouble, there would be others who stepped forward to clean them up.

This made Victoria felt satisfied.

Her father also came to see her some time ago.

"Victoria, open the door! You go and fight those magic beasts! As long as you can contribute during this time, you can get more contribution points!"

Hearing the noise at the door, Victoria turned her head and her eyes turned cold.

They have no weapon at all, how could they fight against those magic beasts?

Her father had come here to ask her to help them.

"I can't do it, Father," Victoria replied coldly and then turned her head to look at the window once more.

If she could, she would have long joined in.

But she has no strength.

She never had any military training or anything before this. The only way for her to be able to help was if she managed to become a mage or magic warrior. The two associations had already mentioned the methods to become magic warrior or to become mage in their website.

That was through meditation and produce result.

So far, Victoria had been trying to meditate and feel the mana faintly. But her progress was extremely slow.

It would take a long time to become a magic warrior.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

The door was knocked again.

"You unfilial daughter! Do you want to anger your parents to death? This is the chance for you to make meritorious deeds! Why are you staying inside and do nothing? You have to..."

Victoria's father had already started his long speech about what she should do, ignoring the strange looks of the neighbor nearby. After all, most of the people here were ordinary people and it would be difficult for them to fight against these magic beasts unless they were risking their lives.

Who would want to risk their lives unnecessarily?

When their own chance of winning was very low, it would be better for them to stay behind and not involve themselves in this mess.

But Victoria ignored him.

Because she didn't want to go out and fight to her death. She was not even a rank 1 magic warrior, how could she have any strength to defeat even one magic beast?

'Soon...'

Victoria gritted her teeth.

She will reach rank 1 as soon as possible and when she did, she will find a team and hunt the magic beasts. Only in this way would it be possible for her to become stronger as fast as possible.

...

The only place that would not be affected by what happened outside unless there was a large natural disaster that hit their place was the research institute.

Ruby was inside and continued to do her research without bothering about what happened outside. It was only when she took a break that the other assistant researcher talked to her about the beast tide.

"There's a beast tide?" Ruby asked with doubts.

They have just experienced a beast tide some time ago because of Murin and now another one has come?

Does these magic beasts loved to attack the base?

"Yes." The assistant researcher nodded her head and shrugged. "I don't know the exact details, but they said that the Black Family is the culprit this time."

Black Family...

Ruby felt her mind turned blank as she didn't know the power structure in City A Base. As a researcher who spent most of her time in the laboratory, Ruby had to say that she had no interest in politics or anything like that.

It would be better for her to focus on her own research.

"I see."

"Do you think that they will hand over the magic beasts' corpse to the research institute again?" The assistant researcher's eyes lit up.

She felt that the only good thing from the beast tide was the fact that there would be a lot of resources after it was done. These resources would either be divided to those who contributed or handed over to the research institute.

After all, there were so much magic beasts' corpses.

It was impossible for them to eat it all up.

The purification magic spells were needed to clean up the meat and not everyone could use it. The magic spell was indeed taught freely, but not everyone could have enough mana in the current time.

In this way, many people had to work overtime.

The rest of the meat that couldn't be processed in time would either be thrown to the special greenhouse or sent to them for their research.

"There should be more." Ruby nodded and then frowned. "But the previous corpse is still being analyzed and researched. There's no place for more."

The magic beasts' corpses that was sent to the research institute all belonged to various magic beasts' species.

They specifically selected all different species so that they could have complete directory. Of course, it would take a long time for them to truly complete these so called magic beasts dictionary.

"Then they would all be thrown to that greenhouse?" The assistant researcher's face turned a bit strange.

She had the feeling that the greenhouse might be too full for the plants they wanted to experiment on to grow.

Chapter 274 Business District Base's Situation

"Maybe?" Ruby was not entirely sure.

But it was indeed true that having too many magic beasts' corpses that they couldn't use was really not good.

After all, it was such a waste.

And Ruby herself didn't know if these magic beasts' corpses could be used for other things.

"I'm not sure either."

"Let's not worry about this and just focus on our work."

"Yes!"

...

Business District Base

While City A Base had to fight against the magic beasts' tide, the two other bases were still peaceful.

But it would not be for long.

As these magic beasts poured into City A's street, they would not only head towards City A Base direction but also the two other bases in this city.

But no one noticed it.

In a hospital, Ciera was lying while playing with her phone. Through her father's ability and connection, she managed to get treated and finished an operation not long ago. Even though she would have to do something after she had recovered, but Ciera tried her best not to think too much about it.

She just had to recuperate well in the hospital.

And...

Ciera turned her head to look at her younger brother, Cero, who was sitting on the side of the bed.
"Why are you the one who stay here?"

Asking her younger brother to take care of her was simply an impossible thing. This pampered brat only knew how to play around and didn't know how to take care others in the slightest bit.

But her parents actually asked him to wait for her.

It was outrageous.

"Do you think I want to be here?" Cero asked back, his tone was grumpy. He knew very well that if it was not because his parents asked him to stay here, he would have long stayed in their apartment to be lazy.

As for work?

What is that?

Cero said that he didn't want to work at all.

Ciera clicked her tongue and then asked, "Where is father and mother?"

"They're busy," Cero replied.

"Huh?"

"Father is working as usual while Mother... I think she met with her family members?" Cero replied with uncertainties.

Hearing this, Ciera arched her eyebrows and nodded. Their mother didn't come from City A but from other city. As for why she ended up settling in City A, it was naturally because of her marriage with Mr. Taylor.

But if there was any problem with Mr. Taylor's matter, then there would be people from her family helping out from behind.

Because of this, Mr. Taylor's business managed to skyrocketed and become one of the most prominent in City A. No one dared to offend the Taylor Family carelessly unless they wanted to suffer.

Of course, these things were useless now.

How many of these big families managed to retain their power after the earthquake appeared and then these magic beasts attacked?

Most of them were practically useless.

Bang!

Before Ciera could ask anything more, she heard loud noises from outside. She froze and then asked, "Is there anything that happened?"

"Magic beasts attacking?" Cero saw the mess outside and he was also stunned.

They were staying in Business District Base, which should have been safe. Even if there were magic beasts roaming outside, how did these magic beasts breached their base so quickly?

Little did they know that the manpower who could protect the base had been severely injured since the last beast tide. They had to fight hard and the only reason they could survive was because of the foreign aid coming to help them.

Now that they have none and these magic beasts coming at the larger number than before, there was no way they could possibly protect the base.

The only thing they could do was to kill as many magic beasts as possible before they started killing within the base.

"We have to get out of here." Cero quickly dashed out of the room without hesitation.

"Wait, Cero, you b*stard!"

Ciera saw her younger brother disappearing and cursed out loud. She also jumped out of the bed and ran out.

Upon coming out, she saw many people were also coming out in panic.

They knew very well that if they were to stay in the hospital and did nothing, they might become these magic beasts' food soon.

No one wanted to die.

So the best way for them to survive was through escaping from these magic beasts.

"Cero, you wait for me!" Ciera called from the back as she chased after her younger brother, but Cero didn't care at all.

Even though Cero used to be a bit chubby, the painful life in the past few weeks had made him lose a lot of weight. Not to mention, his own father forced him to work, which made Cero feel that his life was really miserable.

He didn't want to work.

He just wanted to enjoy life.

But it was impossible to achieve.

Thanks to that, his physical strength had become better and it didn't take long for Cero to reach the ground floor.

But his body froze when he saw the magic beast that came into the lobby.

Bang!

"Kyaaaa!"

"Ahh! Help me!"

Amidst the scream, Cero didn't hesitate and ran in the other direction. He looked at these people who blocked the way irritably and pushed them all when they were blocking his way.

He had to escape!

Cero ran out once more and then he was at loss.

Where should he go?

Brrm!

An off road car stopped not far from him and the door opened. He saw his mother was inside and beckoned for him to enter. "Quick! Enter the car and we're going out."

Cero's eyes lit up. "Yes mother!"

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Several other people started shooting these magic beasts and the loud sound naturally also attracted these magic beasts.

Cero didn't care about it and then asked, "Where are we going, Mother?"

"We're going out." Mrs. Taylor's eyes flashed. These magic beasts came at the right time. Just when she had just finished contacting her family, they arrived.

Chapter 275 Business District Base's Situation (2)

This would allow her to leave without the need to care about anything else.

Mrs. Taylor felt that her luck was really good.

"Let's go."

"Yes!"

Cero saw that his mother didn't seem to care about his father and sister, so he selectively didn't mention them. Since his mother didn't even ask about this, why should he care about them?

Anyway, it didn't matter whether they were here or not.

What Cero wanted was just for himself to live.

Others?

Who cares?

Bang!

Ciera struggled to keep with the flow of the people out of the hospital. She had just finished operation not long ago and the doctor strictly ordered her not to do any heavy exercise. Because that kind of activity might injure her.

But now, she had to escape from the hospital as fast as possible before these magic beasts surrounded her and gave her no way to escape.

It was just...

Ciera didn't know where to go.

roar!

Hearing the roaring from these magic beasts, many people broke down and cried. They were scared and they have no power to fight back against these magic beasts.

The only thing they could do was to cry.

Ciera also saw the magic beast swallowed the people in front of her, nearly making her collapse. Her body froze in fear, but her brain was telling her to move.

She has to move!

Swish!

Turning to the side, Ciera slowly made her way to the apartment area. She had to find her father or anyone who could help to take her out of this place.

Many people were quarreling around the car, trying to snatch one so that they could escape.

But Ciera couldn't participate in their struggle.

She could only stare blankly at this scene.

Her body felt weak and added with the fear towards these magic beasts that appeared out of nowhere, Ciera truly had no way to compete with them. She was terrified and hoped that this was all nothing but a dream.

"Kyaaa!"

"Help me!"

Screams of fear and terror filled the street followed by the sound of flesh tearing.

These magic beasts would have no mercy just because they all scream and yell. What these magic beasts wanted was nothing more than food.

Since the food is right in front of them, why can't they eat?

Bang! Bang! Bang!

"Die! Die, you b*stard!"

Some people take out their weapon and shoot against these magic beasts. But the loud sound from the gunshots simply attracted more magic beasts. What followed afterwards was nothing more than an even more brutal attack.

It was chaotic.

Ciera somehow managed to continue walking until she found her father, who was following the army.

"Dad!"

"Ciera, here." Mr. Taylor was relieved when he saw his daughter and quickly rushed towards her.

"Stop pushing!"

The people around them were dissatisfied with Mr. Taylor, but he didn't care and rushed towards his daughter.

"Watch out, behind you!" Mr. Taylor yelled.

Bang!

Something tripped her and Ciera felt pain on her side. The operation only added a kidney to her and the place should have been protected well. Because any injury in that location could potentially cause complication after the surgery.

But right now, Ciera couldn't think of anything.

She just felt immense pain.

"Move away." Mr. Taylor pushed the person in front of him, wanting to go to his daughter, but the next step, he tripped on his own legs.

Bang!

Mr. Taylor fell to the ground gloriously.

The person whom Mr. Taylor pushed snorted and cursed in a low voice, 'Deserve it.'

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Thankfully, the soldiers quickly moved to kill the magic beast that wanted to attack Ciera, allowing her to survive.

But Ciera was holding her side tightly and then saw blood there.

Her face paled.

She knew that if the operation were to fail, it meant that she would still need more medication and so on.

In that situation, how could it be possible for her to survive?

Even now, Ciera could already feel that her entire body hurt and her father had to work hard for her to be able to undergo the operation.

What about next?

Mr. Taylor didn't know what Ciera was thinking and pulled her into the group of refugee who followed the army. They all only carried small bag or didn't bring anything at all. Right now, the only thing they could think of was simply how they could possibly survive.

Because these magic beasts were still around.

"Follow us!" The captain of the army waved his hand.

He was determined to save as many people as possible.

As for the rest?

Sorry.

He was truly incapable to save everyone.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

That day, Business District Base turned chaotic with many magic beasts tearing the place apart.

Several groups of people who were lucky enough managed to get out before the entire place was completely razed. But the number of people who survived didn't even reach 10% of the entire Business District Base population.

It was truly tragic.

And these survivors all headed to different locations.

Some headed to City A Base.

Some headed out of City A.

Some others had their own plans.

The captain who lead the largest survivor group looked at the people behind him and said, "Let's go... to City A Base!"

"Yes!"

...

Riya's side

Riya clearly didn't know the chaotic situation of the outside world. She had finished recovering her mana and saw that the fluctuation of the formation beside her had diminished.

Most of the magic beasts had been killed by this formation.

roar? <Master, is it time to fight again?>

Riya smiled and patted Mo's head.

"Let's go inside and check the situation."

roar!

Removing the formation, Riya walked inside followed by Mo behind her.

Swish! Tep!

As Riya walked down, her eyes condensed. She realized that this was not the crack but instead a large tunnel made by these magic beast.

At this moment, Riya seemed to realize something and stood in front of the pile of the magic beasts' corpse.

"They're building a home."

Chapter 276 Nest of Magic Beasts

Riya took a deep breath.

In fact, she should have long expected that these magic beasts were trying to make the Green Planet as their own home. The Green Planet had only started to experience change, which allowed the mana concentration to increase in the air.

And then what?

The earthquake happened and the crack from that place appeared.

This allowed these magic beasts to come out from the dark and long cave to the outside world of the Green Planet.

And the Green Planet has much lesser mana compared to the cave below, but these magic beasts still choose to come here.

Why?

It was a question that Riya has been wondering about ever since she entered the cave. Because she could sense that the situation in the cave was much better than outside. At least, in terms of resources, it was richer.

But after the sudden attack of the magic beasts before... Riya realized that this place might be paradise for higher ranked magic beasts but it was hell for lower ranked magic beasts.

Because lower ranked magic beasts could not compete with the higher ranked magic beasts for resources. They could only try their best to fight, but the difference in power made it clear that they were simply not comparable.

But even then, Riya thought that these magic beasts were only exploring the Green Planet to look for food.

Now...

Riya realized that she was really too stupid.

Or perhaps, the answer was actually very clear from the very beginning, but she chose not to think in that direction.

"They're changing the Green Planet to suit their needs." Riya waved her hand, putting these magic beasts' corpses into her world and then looked at the few magic beasts that was still alive and patted Mo.

roar! <Leave it to me!>

Mo dashed forward and started to tear these magic beasts apart. He was happy that he could be useful to Riya and not only watching from the sidelines as Riya swiftly destroyed these magic beasts.

While Mo was busy, Riya inspected the tunnels and the grounds.

She was not an expert in these things, but she could see that these magic beasts were making tunnels for them to live.

The Green Planet has been changing.

And these magic beasts were also selecting and turning the areas into the environment that suited their growth the most. In a way, this would help to establish themselves in this world faster.

But the Green Planet... would be forced to transform to accept the increased mana and these magic beasts' violent transformation faster too.

Tep, tep, tep.

Walking to the edge, Riya looked at the long tunnels in front of her with her eyes narrowed. Not all magic beasts could dig tunnels and the one that was most troublesome was definitely those magic ants.

These ants knew how to build their lair deep underground, hiding themselves deeply under the ground.

They would store food and build various things underground.

When they were provoked, there would be millions of magic ants coming together to attack them.

Who could stand it?

Even if these magic ants were usually quite weak, but their number was numerous.

There were three magic beasts that were really hard to deal with simply because of their number and magic ants were only one of them.

"I can't do anything for now."

Riya looked at the tunnels with regret and silently set up a formation around it.

To be honest, a formation master was not exactly a good opponent for these magic ants. Because these ants could easily destroy the platform where the formation was made unless she was using a formation plate.

But a formation plate to kill these ants...

It was not that easy to make.

If they wanted to kill these magic ants faster, they should rely on the AoE magic from magicians or use bombs or some other explosion. But before that, they had to figure out a way to lure these magic ants out or they would never be able to kill them all.

'Another way to deal them is through using poison, but I'm not proficient in it either.'

Riya shook her head regretfully.

She only focused on these runes, which was not very effective when dealing with these magic ants.

It seemed that she could only report this matter to the nation and let them send someone else to deal with it. As for who they would send... Riya had no idea and didn't play to meddle.

But the sooner they deal with these magic ants, the better it would be.

Otherwise, there might come the time when the world was dominated by magic ants.

Swish!

After setting some basic killing formation, Riya left the entrance of the tunnel and looked at Mo.

Mo had almost finished the battle and Riya was also looking at the other tunnel entrance. She had no idea which of these tunnels were heading to the ant nest and which one was heading to the crack.

But it didn't matter.

She would just set killing formation on each of these formation entrance.

Bang!

roar! <l'm the strongest!>

When he saw that these magic beasts had been killed, Mo felt great satisfaction. He looked at Riya as if looking for praise.

Riya looked at Mo and shook her head in amusement.

She patted Mo's head and said, "Let's go back and return."

Roar! <Yes!>

The two of them climbed out of the crater and then Riya rode on Mo's back once more. She had to say that Mo is really a good mount, but...

'He's getting bigger.'

Riya looked at Mo thoughtfully.

This white tiger's size seemed to have increased since the last time she saw him. It seemed that with the improvement in the magic beasts' rank, their body size would also increase.

At this moment, Riya had just realized why those higher ranked beast masters always rented or bought bigger place.

It was not because they wanted to show off.

But small place wouldn't be able to hold their magic beasts...

Chapter 277 Almost

'There are also a lot of magic beasts' corpses. I should be able to negotiate with Samuel to trade them with the space storage scrolls...'

Considering the importance of these space storage scrolls, Riya was sure that Samuel would agree with her. After all, there were too many magic beasts' bodies and they wouldn't be able to use up all of them.

Thankfully, she has made several space storage scrolls.

'Let's make another one while on the way.'

Riya took out a paper and a small table before she started drawing again.

Mo, who was being used as floor, said that he should get used to this soon. Because he had the feeling that this wouldn't be the last...

...

City A Base's side

Bang! Bang! Bang!

More and more magic beasts were killed under the series of gunshots from the soldiers and others in City A Base.

They were all fighting fiercely as the number of magic beasts were far more than the previous magic beast's tide summoned by Murin. More and more people were exhausted and had to switch to cold weapon to hit these magic beasts.

Thankfully, many people, including the soldiers, had all been taught to use various weapons for close combat.

Adding with the appearance of warrior and magic warrior, these people's passion for learning had skyrocketed. This allowed them to defend City A Base better than before, allowing them all to protect the base well.

Seeing this situation, Mr. Jones was both happy and troubled.

Because he could see that the number of magic beasts were still a lot even after more than a few hours of fighting.

"What did they actually do to provoke these magic beasts?" Mr. Jones asked, his tone was full of resentment.

The general who had just switched with other to control the machine gun also came to Mr. Jones's side. His expression was not very good because they had to use up a lot of ammunition when fighting against these magic beasts this time.

When everyone was staying in City A Base, they felt that this was the best city because the number of magic beasts were not many.

It was far from comparable to other cities.

But now?

Hehehe, they could tell that there were actually many magic beasts but these magic beasts lied dormant before. After being provoked by Mr. Black, these magic beasts all came out like wolf smelling meat.

"I'll deal with him later," the general said gloomily.

There were already a lot of casualties in this battle and the general felt headache when he thought about it.

Because he knew very well that many of these soldiers had no other choice but to fight head on because of the lack of supplies.

And it was also impossible for them to distribute more bullets for them.

Because their own supplies were limited!

If they took out all of their supplies, they would never be able to fight against these magic beasts again in the future.

This was really distressing.

"Yes."

"You have to quickly make the factory," the general added.

The so called factory that the General meant was naturally the bullet factory. They have more than enough guns but there were not enough bullets for them to use.

This made them feel headache.

With the lack of supplies, it was impossible for them to gain any upper hands when they were fighting against these magic beasts. They all hoped that their battle would turn into victory but in this situation, the hope was really slim.

They have almost used up their ammunition in this war.

"I know. It has been set up." Mr. Jones nodded, his expression was also grim.

The factory progress was actually already very fast, but Mr. Jones knew very well that it was not fast enough for them. They still need to rely on bullets when dealing with these magic beasts.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

As more and more magic beasts were killed, Samuel looked at the distance and narrowed his eyes. "It's almost the end."

"Huh? Did you see the end?" Peter asked as he punched these magic beasts that came up again. He had no ability to fight against the flying magic beasts, so he just dealt with the magic beasts that climbed up the wall. It was Samuel who dealt with the magic beasts that was flying above them.

"Yes." Samuel nodded.

He could see that these magic beasts no longer gathered in their direction and more scattered.

Moreover, the last few magic beasts at the end seemed to be half scattered and half heading in this direction.

This meant that these magic beasts might not necessarily come here.

But then again...

Samuel also knew that many of these magic beasts actually came because they heard the loud noise from the gunshots. Considering that they were using machine guns... it was a bit hard to arrange for a silencer.

The loud sound naturally attract more magic beasts to come.

"That's great." Peter's eyes lit up when he heard that. "Can I jump down now?"

"Now?" Samuel repeated and then looked at the soldiers. Seeing their exhausted appearance and the fact that many of them could no longer use their guns, he nodded.

"Cease fire!"

With the sudden order from Samuel, these soldiers in this area stopped shooting.

Peter grinned and then said, "Thanks!"

Swish! Bang!

He jumped down and landed directly on top of the head of a magic beasts. Seeing there were many magic beasts around him, Peter took a deep breath and then said, "A thousands years of punches and kicks!"

Peng! Bang! Bang! Bang!

Everyone could only see the afterimages as Peter went rampart and killed these magic beasts around him.

Several of them were killed instantly and then Peter dashed forward even deeper, killing more and more magic beasts.

Only a few people could follow his movements.

The rest of them only saw afterimages or even just some flashing and then these magic beasts fell down like domino.

Thud! Thud! Splash! Splash!

Chapter 278 Competing?

"So cool."

The soldiers who were watching Peter made his move feel that their body heat up with passion.

As they thought, warrior is really cool!

The close combat where they could break through their limit and then punched and kicked their opponents...

It made many people's blood boil, especially the men who had long loved this.

And some women who liked it were also staring with bright eyes.

They wanted to learn and become like Peter!

Bang!

pant pant

After kicking another magic beast, Peter panted and looked at the remaining magic beasts a distance away from him and sighed.

"It's still too much for me to use this move."

He felt his body ached a bit.

Even though the aura could help him to recover faster, but he was essentially breaking through his own limit. After all, he had to keep moving at rapid speed just to finish the move.

In that world, he learned this move after reaching rank 5.

He already knew the move from the bottom of his heart, but his current body was not strong enough to support that move until the end.

Swish!

Peter lightly jumped back to the wall. He just wanted to tell Samuel to finish off the rest when he heard a new song from the side.

His expression froze.

Even Samuel's expression also froze.

"La la la la."

"O Darkness of the world, listen to the words of the elements and come forth to help us out. The dark regime magic!"

Swoosh!

The dark element enveloped the rest of the magic beasts from the other side of the wall that was not punched and kicked by Peter before.

Hearing this somewhat secondary dimension magic chant... it seemed a bit more normal than before?

After all, the previous chants all made them want to gouge their eyes and closed off their ears. It was so bad that they felt their eyes and hurt too much.

And then, these magicians started to chant together.

"We, the magicians are the most powerful! Behold you magic beasts, this is our power! Gathering of the elements and mana of the world, allow us to use your power and lend us your ability! For us are the most powerful, the coolest, the best of the best and no one can ever match us! Elemental strike!"

The others: "..."

Forget they say anything.

Just when they thought that these magicians from the Magic Association would become a bit more normal, they had to use such magic chants again.

It seemed that their expectation was for nothing.

"If they wanted to show off, they should have used a different method," Peter said with pained expression.

He felt that these magicians from the Magic Association really didn't know what was good for them. With these chants that looked like they were either begging, bragging, or even becoming narcissist and then their dance that was very provoking... it was hard to imagine that these magicians from the Magic Association would be able to gather more followers in the future.

"There are always some people with strange taste," Samuel said lightly and looked at these magic beasts that slowly filled up the gap that Peter had made before. Since there were many magic beasts' corpses littered the ground, these magic beasts basically stepped on these corpses when they came over.

Blood splattered and basically flooded some areas.

And these magic beasts gathered quickly.

Some of them could be seen that they were more powerful than the others as the pressure they exuded was higher than the others.

"You're not going to make a move?" Peter asked.

"Let them gather a bit more," Samuel answered lightly and then stood on the edge of the wall. He looked at these magic beasts that gathered together and then gathered his own mana and said, "Lightning sword slash!"

SWISH! SLASH!

A large and bright slash came up, traveled dozens of meters and cut down all the magic beasts in front of him. In just a moment, countless magic beasts were chopped down and the rest were completely charred due to the lightning, their corpse were unrecognizable. This also effectively destroyed many magic beasts' corpses below it.

The few magic beasts around it were struck on their place, unable to move due to the lightning's effect.

And this slash lasted for a long distance, killing many magic beasts and even reached a tall building in the distance.

rumble

The building's foundation was struck and then it fell down.

Samuel looked at these magic beasts that had fallen down and nodded lightly. He looked at the side and saw that the number of the magic beasts should be only a few hundreds left.

The soldiers should be able to clean them all up.

"It's done," Samuel said lightly.

"Damn it. In terms of pretending, you're really number one." Peter saw this and rolled his eyes.

But there was envy in his tone.

After all, Peter knew very well that this slash... does indeed look very cool.

Samuel shook his head and ignored Peter. He gave signal for the others to start their cleaning up.

"But this attack will cause most of these magic beasts to be unusable...." Samuel looked at the charred corpses and sighed.

Peter: "... at this point, you're actually thinking about that?"

Samuel didn't say anything else and looked at the distance. It seemed that their cleaning up would be easier too.

rumble

Riya looked at the building that was destroyed not far in front of her and guessed that it should be Samuel who made a move.

Aside from him, she didn't know anyone else who was powerful enough to destroy a building from such a distance in one move.

"He's getting stronger again," Riya muttered.

It seemed that she had to speed up her practice tonight. Just in time that she has obtained a lot of magic beasts' blood.

She should be able to make a few mana stones after this and using the mana stones for her mana gathering formation would make her practice even faster.

Chapter 279 End of the First Real Beast Tide

Only in this way would it be possible for her to advance to rank 5.

Besides, Riya had already reached the peak of rank 5.

She only needed a little push to truly reach rank 5, but this push was not that easy to be achieved.

If she wanted to be faster, she could go and take the special magic core from the one near City B. But this meant that she had to travel into the crack once again, which was not something Riya wanted to do.

Especially after she found out that these magic ants were making their nest underground.

What if there were more magic ants in the crack?

Riya shivered when she thought about it.

These magic ants were very troublesome to deal with and Riya had no intention to go and provoke them.

Bang!

Seeing that there were only some magic beasts in the other direction, Riya silently raised her hand and formation formed in front of her once again.

'Arrow tracking formation magic.'

Swish! Swish! Swish!

Countless arrows came out from the formation, heading straight to these magic beasts and stabbed them to their deaths.

Everything happened so quickly and none of these magic beasts managed to react.

The next moment, they had become cold corpse on the ground.

And Riya unceremoniously took the magic beasts' corpses that she killed by herself. Since they were relatively intact this time, she planned to drain their blood to make formation first before the rest of the part was used for other things.

Swish! Swish! Swish!

After a few arrow tracking formation magic, most of the magic beasts at the outer area had been cleaned up.

The rest were in the opposite side of City A Base, which was a bit too far. Riya guessed that the soldiers should have made a move first, so there was no time for her to go there. Or she might bump into them over there.

It was unnecessary.

"You stay inside first."

Riya patted Mo and let him enter his special space while she ran back to City A Base. Thankfully, her physique has been strengthened and was still getting stronger, giving her physical strength comparable to rank 1 magic warrior.

Otherwise, she might not be able to return to the base so quickly.

Casting the invincibility formation magic, Riya would be able to sneak up without anyone noticing.

Swish!

Riya stepped on top of these magic beasts' body and landed on the relatively empty wall. Afterwards, she went down once again and looked around to find a quiet place to undo her magic.

'Now, where's Samuel...'

"Do you not plan to clean up the battlefield yourself?" Peter asked as he pointed at the mess in front of them. "You should know that these magic beasts' blood also contained mana and it'll seep into the ground."

This was basic knowledge and Peter naturally knew about this. Though, he didn't usually pay that much attention to it.

After all, who could make sure that they could kill these magic beasts without shedding blood?

Unless they were far more stronger than the magic beasts or they have some unique methods to kill them, there was no way they could kill without shedding blood in the slightest bit.

"Can you stop it?" Samuel asked back calmly.

"Nope." Peter shook his head.

"So leave it be." Samuel shrugged and turned around, not wanting to stay here any longer.

In the face of the entire world's change, human's power was very limited. There was not much that Samuel could do but to continue doing what he had been doing all this time.

Peter shook his head and then walked down. He wanted to go and see the others from the Martial Arts Association first.

As for those magicians from the Magic Association?

Sorry, he felt that his eyes would be hurt whenever he looked in their direction because his memory would play the scene that he had seen not long ago.

It was truly... unbearable.

Mr. Jones had already started to clean up and collected these magic beasts' body parts. While they didn't know what they would use it for, they could choose to collect it first.

Moreover, they had to dig out the magic cores.

Many of these magic beasts had magic cores and these magic cores would be very useful for City A Base's development.

There was no way they would let it off.

"Senior Samuel."

Hearing the sudden call, Samuel saw Riya trotting in his direction. He didn't see Riya at all in the battle before and he could guess that Riya should be sneaking out again.

To be honest, it was not that surprising.

Considering Riya's real strength, it would be strange if she could stay obediently behind the defense line. After all, she could not help much if she stayed there unless she was willing to show her real ability.

Riya has been very low key.

How could she be willing to show her ability.

"Yes, Riya?" Samuel asked.

"I would like to propose a trade," Riya said quickly.

"Oh? What do you want?"

"I want these magic beasts' corpses. You can take out their magic cores, but I want their bodies, no matter whether it's intact or not," Riya quickly said.

Samuel arched his eyebrows.

He was just thinking that he had to find a way to dispose these magic beasts' corpses. After all, not all of them could be eaten.

Especially those that had been chopped off to unknown parts and then their corpses were smashed by the other magic beasts... It was a bit difficult to think about eating their meat.

Moreover, their purification magic alone could not cope up with it.

To be exact, there were not enough people who knew purification magic who could possibly help them process these magic beasts' meat quickly.

"How do you want to exchange it?" Samuel asked.

"1000 ton of magic beasts' corpses in exchange for one space storage scroll," Riya replied.

Samuel heard this and his eyes lit up. "Deal."

Chapter 280 Agreement

Riya: "... ok?"

At this moment, Riya felt suspicious. Was her requirement so low that Samuel agreed right away?

But from what she knew, it was not that easy to obtain 1 ton of magic beasts' corpse. After all, one magic beast would only weight around 100 kg to 1000 kg. Uh wait, in that case, she would exchange for around 2000 magic beasts' corpses in exchange for one space storage scroll.

After all, some magic beasts were heavier than the others and the number of magic beasts that attacked City A Base this time were in thousands. There were at least more than 10,000 magic beasts.

Exchanging some of them to Riya would be nothing much for Samuel.

"I'll put them all in the warehouse outside the base and you can collect it later," Samuel said unhurriedly and then added, "It doesn't matter if it's a mix of various ranks, right?"

They would not have the time to divide these magic beasts based on their ranks. Well, it was not like they couldn't do but, but it would take so much time and Samuel felt that if Riya didn't need them to do it, then there was no need to do it.

Anyway, most of them were only rank 1 to rank 2 magic beasts.

The rank 3 magic beasts' corpses would naturally be kept by Samuel and some of the relatively intact magic beasts' corpses would also be kept. They could be used as food supply for the people in City A Base.

"Yes." Riya nodded.

She had no plan to make things difficult for Samuel and agreed right away.

"Ok. I'll arrange it. You should be able to take them tomorrow."

"Tomorrow? Are you sure?"

There were thousands of magic beasts outside that had been killed. Could Samuel arrange for them to keep these thousands of magic beasts' corpse in the warehouse so quickly?

Even though the so called warehouse was most likely would just be a mesh of earth element magicians meshing their magic together to form a temporary storage place... but it couldn't be that fast, right?

"Don't worry, everyone will work quickly," Samuel replied. He added in his heart, 'Especially if they know that these magic beasts' corpses can be exchanged with space storage scroll.'

When Samuel showed off the space storage scroll that he received from Riya, even his own father has been staring in his direction. It was obvious that if Samuel was not his own son, Mr. Jones would really want to snatch that space storage scroll from him.

That space storage scroll would make things much more convenient for them.

"Ok." Riya nodded.

"Also, if you think it's not enough, I can be the intermediate to let you exchange with the officials too." Samuel added and then said, "I'll take my intermediate fee from them too."

Riya arched her eyebrows and finally nodded. "Ok. I need as many as you can get."

"Of course." Samuel smiled brightly.

The problem of these magic beasts' corpse littering the Green Planet had appeared in many locations.

After all, these magic beasts' meat could not be eaten directly and had to use purification magic spells first. Because of this, there were many of these magic beasts meat that they could only throw away.

Even if they felt pain, but they really couldn't eat or consume it.

As for using it for fertilizer... It was still under experimentation and the number of magic beasts' corpses that were used for fertilizer had long exceeded the number they required.

The only person who needed a lot of magic beast's corpse was Dina Alden.

But the officials would not send these magic beasts' corpses to Dina Aiden's footsteps, especially when they thought about her terrifying methods of cultivation.

They would rather throw these magic beasts away rather than handing it over to her.

The blood magic had made many people terrified when they thought about it.

But now that the one who needed it was a rune master, these officials would feel more relaxed. After all, a rune master's methods was still within the range that they could accept.

"I'm going now." Riya waved her hand and planned to go back and checked on Amelia and the others.

She wanted to see how Amelia's situation is after she finished the battle.

On the other hand, Samuel took out his phone and silently sent a message to some people. There were several bases nearby and if they all could send the magic beasts corpses to him, he could exchange the space storage scroll to them.

The price is set uhm... 2000 tons for one space storage scroll.

In just one move, Samuel directly increased the price two fold.

Naturally, the extra space storage scroll would enter his pocket...

Riya naturally didn't know about Samuel's action.

But even if she knew, she didn't care too much about it. After all, Riya knew very well that with her qualification, it was unlikely for her to be able to establish the same connection as Samuel.

She didn't have the contact information of these people and was too lazy to do it.

It would be better for her to focus on her own training and meditation rather than talking with these people and expand her connection.

Well, she was not a businessman.

Otherwise, it would be impossible for her to remain unknown.

Before long, Riya found Amelia and the others who were resting not far from the wall. Looking at their exhausted appearance, Riya guessed that they should have a fierce battle with these magic beasts.

She silently took out a cool talisman and placed it in front of Amelia.

"Ah~, it's really cool." Amelia felt comfortable immediately. She had completely forgotten about the fact that the temperature was killing her when she fought against these magic beasts.

Now that they were relaxed, Amelia just wanted to stay inside the refrigerator if it was possible.

"Are you injured?" Riya asked as she saw the bloodstains on Amelia's hands.
