

Last Days 821

Chapter 821: Restraint

"We'll release her after getting close to the Capital City," another magicians from the Magic Association replied.

He was the one who used the metal magic against Ciera because he didn't want Ciera to continue making trouble. His magic control was very good and he didn't need to worry about hurting Ciera accidentally with his ability.

As for being complained...

He didn't care that much.

The world was no longer the same as before and he was only using the Magic Association as a springboard. He wanted to catch up with those returnees who were famous and had strong power.

Some of these returnees have long spread out their real identity, allowing others to know who they were.

But some of them remained low key and seemed to have disappeared from the surface of the earth.

They would only appear occasionally.

Then again, ordinary people will not be able to have access on the returnee's information. So aside from knowing their profession and the fact that they were very powerful... most people didn't know anything else.

Oh right, they also knew about the large scale pattern that appeared in the sky.

It was announced that the pattern will appear when someone advanced to rank 7, no matter who it is.

Every continent chose to disclose this information.

No way.

If they didn't spread the information, it was estimated that people will panic because of the large pattern that appeared in the sky suddenly.

To make sure that the order didn't get disrupted or something like that, they had to disclose the information.

"Alright, if that's what you want." The other magicians from the Magic Association didn't seem to care.

Ciera: !!!

#$%^&c*!"

Countless curses were spit out of her mouth. If it was not for the existence of the water magic blocking her mouth, these magicians from the Magic Association would definitely be able to hear her screaming and cursing out loud on the street.

But they didn't care.

Knowing that Ciera is a demonic magician, it was already kind enough for them not to kill her directly.

None of them dared get close to Ciera.

They knew very well that if a demonic magician wanted to hurt them, they might end up losing their entire magic to them too.

It was not worth it.

Those who could become higher than rank 3 magician within a year's time were talented people. Only a small number of them reached this rank through their family's connection and resources.

The others were people who have suffered a lot in the changed world and will never do anything unnecessary.

"Let's hurry up."

These magicians from the Magic Association ignored Ciera and picked up their pace to go towards their destination. They didn't want to stay with Ciera any longer.

If it was possible, they wanted to push her away.

So right now, these magicians from the Magic Association only tried their best to complete their mission as fast as possible.

Once Ciera was off their hands, they didn't need to worry about anything else.

Ciera was still struggling, her eyes were chilling cold. If it was not because of these restraints, Ciera would have long fought back and if possible, kill these magicians from the Magic Association.

Her eyes were red in anger and rage.

After becoming a demonic magician, she has difficulties to control her emotions.

There were more than one path of a demonic magician, but each and every single one of them required sacrifices to a certain extent. They would also follow a path that was extreme and had to follow it to the very end.

Otherwise, their strength would falter.

Ciera naturally also followed this rule and strictly trained in terms of her state of mind to follow the path that she had chosen.

But it was still not very good.

"By the way, how about Mr. Taylor?"

Mr. Taylor was still in City A Base and he's Mrs. Mireya's husband.

"They said to leave him behind," one of the magicians from the Magic Association said calmly. He had read the content of their missions repeatedly and his expressions was a bit strange when he saw it.

Because he could see that Mrs. Mireya was extremely cruel.

She chose to abandon her own husband in City A Base and only took Ciera away.

"Oh."

The other magicians from the Magic Association only nodded.

This is already the last days and many kinds of cruelty could be seen very clearly. Before they entered the bases, there were many people who died just for the sake of a single bread.

Because it was related to their survival.

Many people wanted to live.

They had to protect their food and also to fight back those who wanted to take their food.

It was not that easy.

Swish!

As the group of magicians from the Magic Association left while carrying Ciera, a figure was following from the back.

A trace of ruthlessness flashed in his eyes but he kept his presence low as he continued to follow the group in the distance.

...

While Ciera left, Riya and Samuel were still in the research institute.

They were looking at the data in front of them and Riya frowned. "Based on the data, the Giant Rock Golem is still active, but it's still in the state of small rock."

Small rock...

Even though it was said to be small rock by Riya, the size of this Giant Rock Golem infant was actually as big as an adult man's head. It was not very convenient to bring around and the shape was uneven.

"It's very much alive... but I don't have much knowledge about magic beasts' development." Riya felt distressed.

It was also because of this that Riya basically let Mo be free in City A Base or let him roam around. Because she didn't have much experience raising magic beasts and Mo has always been very self sufficient.

If anything, Mo has been following Amelia or Sophia more than Riya in the past few months.

Chapter 822: Riya: "...” Awesome

As for the reason...

Riya strongly suspected that Mo got close to them because of their cooking skills. She didn't even understand how a wild white tiger could end up liking human's food after being fed by Sophia and Amelia for a period of time.

"I can try to inquire," Samuel said helplessly as he sent message with his phone.

"Will it be convenient?"

"The government had already reached an agreement with the Magic Associations. Even though some magicians from the Magic Association might not like this arrangement, but they have shared a lot of information. City A Base is still an official base under the officials, so my father can also get a lot of information," Samuel explained.

Riya nodded blankly.

It seemed that she spent too much time in the crack in the past year that she couldn't keep up with the bases' development.

Then again, this was still a good thing.

With the bases getting better and they were willing to share information between the association, government, military, and also the provinces' bases, they would be able to prepare better plan to deal with the magic beasts.

There wouldn't be any need for them to worry about lacking information.

"The Magic Association seems quite reasonable in this regards..." Riya thought about her clash with the magicians from the Magic Association some time ago and shook her head.

"Just some of them. They have factions inside."

"Ugh, no need to tell me more, I don't want to deal with them."

Samuel smiled helplessly, but he himself memorized the information given to him. Because he knew that there was a chance that he had to deal with the magicians from the Magic Association in the future.

After all, many forcers were still thinking about their well being and didn't care about other people.

The magicians from the Magic Association were among them.

These people only cared for themselves, especially those who were of high rank and lead the association. Only a few of them would still care about ordinary people when their rank was so high in the Magic Association.

"My father said that the Giant Rock Golem is a special magic beasts. Their nurturing period is the longest because it can reach up to 10 years depending on how many precious metals are used to be absorbed by the rocks. After that, the growth will be very quick as within a few months, they will become a Giant Rock Golem that we can fight before," Samuel said after reading the information.

His lips twitched slightly.

Giant Rock Golem has never been a popular choice for pet or tamed magic beasts in that world.

The reason is because Giant Rock Golem was very stupid and the only advantage they had was their thick defense. But facing a powerful magic warrior like Samuel whose strong point was on his attack, these Giant Rock Golems were really weak and didn't seem to be interesting.

"10 years?" Riya was stunned.

So long?

No wonder Dina dared to hand over one of them to Riya.

At this moment, Riya felt that she had lost so much when she agreed to Dina's proposition back then.

Riya looked at the Giant Rock Golem infant and after a moment, she just sighed.

Forget it.

It was her own fault for forgetting that every magic beasts have their own growth cycle. The Giant Rock Golems were indeed very strong and could reach rank 7 quickly, but she forgot that when they were still infants, they did look no different from ordinary rocks.

This was quite similar to camouflage.

And the Giant Rock Golems infants were still strong in defense and their rocks were not that easy to break. It was just that they took so long to give birth to consciousness and truly able to move.

At this moment, they look more like an 'egg.'

"If you feed the Giant Rock Golems infant with more precious metals, you can accelerate the growth." Samuel looked at the data in front of him and his lips twitched. "Based on the energy level, this Giant Rock Golems infant still needs 7 to 8 years before it could grow."

Riya: "..."

She felt that she was already poor enough because of her profession as a rune master and if she had to raise another Giant Rock Golems, Riya felt that her pocket would be cleaner than her face.

But waiting for the Giant Rock Golems infant to grow normally, Riya felt that she might no longer need this Giant Rock Golem in seven or eight years.

After all, this Giant Rock Golem will definitely eat a lot of her resources.

A rune master has never been rich.

Whenever they obtained some resources, they would use these resources to improve their strength almost right away.

"Forget it. Do you think there will be anyone who wants to buy Giant Rock Golem infant if I sell it?" Riya asked helplessly.

She didn't really want to keep this Giant Rock Golem infant anymore.

Even a more promising Mo was being left to roam around on his own and Riya barely took care of that white tiger.

Now that she had to feed an even more outrageous Giant Rock Golem...

Riya gave up.

She didn't have enough money.

"Then I'll let my father buy it," Samuel said without hesitation.

"Huh? Are you sure you want to let your own family buy it?" Riya was confused when she heard Samuel's words.

This Giant Rock Golem infant can definitely reach rank 7 in the future, but it didn't have any other advantage.

To reach ranks higher than rank 7, the Giant Rock Golems would need a lot of resources.

"Of course, not for the Jones Family but for City A Base." Samuel smiled brightly. "Don't you think City A Base lacks a beast guardian that could protect the entire city base? A Giant Rock Golem has strong defense, which is perfect to repel relatively lower ranked magic beasts."

Riya: "... " awesome.

Chapter 823: Trade

To be honest, Riya was utterly speechless.

She didn't expect that Samuel was thinking about taking advantage from City A Base through this Giant Rock Golems' infant.

But it was reasonable.

Because Riya somehow thought that Dina herself also planned to use the Giant Rock Golem as her bodyguard after it hatched and grew. After all, the strongest point from these Giant Rock Golems lies in their strong defense.

The defense was not perfect as someone like Samuel could still break it easily.

But in front of most people... it was still useful.

Even Riya would have difficulties breaking the Giant Rock Golems' defense if that Giant Rock Golems were of higher ranks or the same rank as her.

After all, her strong point was not in her attack.

"What does City A Base plan to give out for the Giant Rock Golems?" Riya asked in amusement. She didn't really expect much, though.

Even if they have already improved many things in order to cope up with the changes of the world, it still couldn't catch up with what these returnees could produce with just a wave of their hands.

"There are a lot of things that the research institute has been making in the recent years," Samuel said calmly. "You can pick any of them and I don't think they'll mind. Let me get the list for you."

Research institute?

Riya looked at the door thoughtfully and asked, "Do you also include things that Ruby made in the past few months?"

If she was not wrong, there should be a research conference some time ago if there was no second earthquake. After all, Riya remembered that Ruby has been anticipating this research conference for a long time.

And the fact that Sophia left before this research conference would definitely make Ruby sad.

Thinking about Sophia, Riya frowned.

After her return, Amelia had already told her that Sophia and Stephen left City A Base because of the Carson Family. This is their family's internal conflict, so it was not convenient for other people to meddle in it.

If it was not because Riya knew that Sophia left voluntarily, she really wanted to set up a formation around the Carson Family members and let them suffer.

"Hmm? Yes, but not the one that she will present in the research conference," Samuel replied. "It couldn't be mass produced and the base didn't really have any stock in our hands."

The research that Ruby did was remarkable and Samuel was also amazed.

He had to say that there were many talented people all over the world and having Ruby worked in one field was very good.

These people were able to showcase their abilities when they were given the opportunity to shine.

"What did she make?" Riya asked curiously.

Aside from the time when she gave a batch of dark element magic beasts' corpses to Ruby for her research, Riya had never interfered in Ruby's research. Besides, she didn't want to experience Ruby's style lecture again.

The massive amount of professional knowledge term made her dizzy and Riya didn't think that she would be able to survive should she listen to those things.

It's better for her not to ask.

"Mana container based on the dark element magic beasts," Samuel replied.

Riya's eyes lit up when she heard that. "It's very useful."

Many materials on the Green Planet was not suitable to use mana and both Samuel and Riya didn't know what else to replace them. After all, the things that existed in that world were different from the things here.

They couldn't really expect to produce something that was exactly the same.

If they were asked about the main composition of those materials, neither Samuel or Riya would be able to answer.

Because the two of them didn't really study those things.

So they had to rely on the researchers to analyze these things and come up with some things. At most, the two of them could only come up with some ideas that might be able to point the direction for them.

"Indeed." Samuel chuckled. "They're thinking about preparing some special energy guns that could last longer with the materials that she researched. Unfortunately, it seems that the raw materials are not that easy to find."

Dark element magic beasts...

Riya nodded thoughtfully. "There are not many magic beasts of dark element. After all, the composition of elements for these magic beasts still followed the percentage like humans...."

The most common was naturally the standard five elements.

Any other elements aside from that rarely appeared in both humans and magic beasts.

Samuel nodded. "The report stated that she could obtain her materials from you. It's said that she had a space storage scroll full of dark element magic beasts, given by Riya."

Riya: "..."

She forgot about that.

In order to help Ruby with her research, Riya did hunt a lot of dark element magic beasts. Since she herself didn't look favorably upon those magic beasts and had no specific uses for the magic beasts, she simply tossed them all to Ruby, allowing her to do whatever she wanted with them.

After that, she did try to ask Ruby about her experiment.

But...

She couldn't understand anything.

Just thinking about it made Riya helpless.

"I thought she had already used up those magic beasts' corpses that I gave to her... it's been such a long time," Riya muttered.

The research institute is an independent department and Riya was not considered an official of City A Base. Even though they could ask her for help when encountering trouble such as the magic beasts' tide, but most of the time, they would not bother with Riya in the slightest bit.

After all, even Samuel was not asked to work.

They have their own business that they had to do.

"She might be using them sparingly or do research on almost all parts available," Samuel said quietly.

He had seen the researchers worked and they have the principle of not wasting anything.

Chapter 824: Ciera's Death

Riya nodded helplessly.

"I guess I'll have to hunt some dark element magic beasts for her next time."

"Don't overdo it. Take a look at the list and pick what you want first. If you're curious about her research, the conference is tomorrow."

"Then I'll attend."

"Ok."

Riya selected some things from the list that Samuel gave to her and sighed deeply. She had to admit that the researchers were really creative and they made many things. Some of them looked quite interesting.

Anyway, even if they were not very useful for her, she found them quite novel and might be able to use it for something else.

Long distance away, Ciera's location.

The speed of these magicians from the Magic Association was by no means slow. They had no intention of staying behind and naturally picked up their pace in order to bring Ciera to the Capital City at the fastest speed possible.

Naturally, Ciera was still bundled by several magic spells.

They didn't release her until it was night time and it was time to eat dinner and rest.

"#$%^&*!" Ciera cursed them all when she was released, but none of them cared for her and simply let her be.

"You'll be punished!" Ciera yelled and then moved away from these magicians from the Magic Association. She had heard them saying that her mother didn't care for her and didn't even give any specific order for them to protect Ciera.

Their task was simply to bring Ciera to the Capital City where the Turin Family was located.

"Heh." One of the magicians from the Magic Association sneered. "Rest, young miss of the big family. If you don't have enough energy to go on your own, we don't mind carrying you like today again."

Using magic for almost an entire day did exhaust them mentally, but it was better than listening to Ciera cursing them all day long.

Moreover, Ciera's pretentious manner made them feel sick.

The extreme nature of the demonic magician was very strong on Ciera, making others feel uncomfortable when they come into contact with her.

"You..."

"Do you want to fight?" The magicians from the Magic Association raised his hand and ready to chant again.

Both magicians and demonic magicians needed to chant to use their magic.

And Ciera's chanting speed was nothing remarkable. She was too lazy to train and those lines were extremely embarrassing.

Even though some magicians from the Magic Association would be able to use magic without chanting through using their mana fluctuation something, only those who were talented and had working enough would be able to do it.

Someone who laze around like Ciera was not included among them.

She was too lazy to learn.

So if there was truly a battle between the magicians from the Magic Association and Ciera, she will definitely lose.

"No!" Ciera was angry and rushed out to pick a room on the side.

There were still ruins between the city bases that hadn't been cleared up yet. After all, this is a big project and not many people could spend the people and resources needed to clean up the areas.

It was already good enough if they didn't ignore those magic beasts.

The cleanup so far was only cleaning up the ruins around the bases and for areas further away, they only dealt with the magic beasts as appropriate.

"She's leaving."

"Will she be fine alone?" Another magicians from the Magic Association was worried when he saw Ciera was getting further away.

They had checked and clean up the areas, but some magic beasts were smart enough to set up an ambush or sneak in. Once these magic beasts reached rank 4, their intelligence and method soared.

Even though most of them were still relatively stupid compared to humans, but dealing with them were no longer so easy.

"She's already an adult." The other magicians from the Magic Association sneered.

Another magicians from the Magic Association shrugged. "If she needs help, she can yell or scream. With her skills as a demonic magician, most lower ranked magic beasts are not her opponent."

"The areas around City A Base are still relatively safe, so she should be fine."

"Really?"

The second magicians from the Magic Association who spoke looked at the first magician and rolled his eyes. "If you're so worried about her, you can go and accompany her. Just remember to be prepared for her making a fuss."

From the way Ciera has been cursing them, these magicians from the Magic Associations would not be surprised if she made a fuss and troubles once being approached. They didn't want to interact with Ciera more than necessary as needed in their mission.

It was too troublesome.

"Forget it." The first magicians from the Magic Association's lips twitched.

He didn't to provoke that little ancestor either.

If they were to approach Ciera and the latter started to make trouble, it was not worth it. They already had to be a nanny by escorting Ciera to the Capital City.

There was no need to babied her.

Clack!

Outside, Ciera kicked the stones on the road in anger.

She swore that when she met with her family members, she will file a complaint against these magicians from the Magic Association.

They didn't know any courtesy and were extremely rude.

If it was not because Ciera didn't dare to travel on her own, she would have long left these magicians from the Magic Association and go on a journey to the Capital City on her own.

Sadly, she didn't dare.

If she were to travel on her own, the powerful magic beasts might kill her.

"When I meet my mother, I will ask for more resources and method so that I can advance quickly." Ciera pursed her lips.

Training is too tiring.

It would be more convenient if there was some methods that could allow her to grow stronger without having to do anything.

As Ciera was daydreaming, she suddenly felt pain in her heart.

Stab!

cough

Having reached rank 3 as demonic magician, despite most of it was due to her dumping resources for herself, Ciera's body still reacted instinctively when she sensed pain and launched fierce counterattack.

Slash! Slash!

Magic wind blades formed around Ciera, cutting off in various directions, trying to hit whoever stabbed her just now.

cough cough

Ciera raised her head and what she saw was the bloodied figure of a middle aged man in front of her. She wanted to scream but the next moment, she felt pain on her neck and her hands quickly covered up her neck.

Blood spurted out.

The middle aged man had bloodshot eyes and his eyes were filled with hatred when he looked in Ciera's direction.

"Gah...h ... e...." Ciera tried to speak but the cut on her neck prevented her from speaking. It was obvious that this man had cut off her vocal cord, preventing her from having the chance to speak and asked for help.

After all, these magicians from the Magic Association were still a distance away.

Oh, they were a bit far away.

Because Ciera was in bad mood after being treated roughly by these magicians from the Magic Association, she walked further away from them. Her intention was so that they would not disturb her and made her day even worse.

But this was used by her enemy to kill her.

Damn it!

Ciera struggled to gather her mana, but she found that her mana was disorderly and couldn't be commanded. It was leaked out of her body, spilling out without any rules whatsoever and blend into the air.

Her eyes were filled with fear and horror.

Ever since she became demonic magician, this was the first time Ciera experienced the feeling of weakness.

It was unpleasant.

And not only did she feel weak, she also felt her strength was disappearing, as fast as she gained her strength.

Ciera's expression was not very good right now.

As blood gushed out, even if she was trying to kill her opponent in front of her, there was basically nothing that she could do.

"Who...?"

She struggled to come up with one word.

In this dark place, she couldn't recognize the other party, but he didn't seem to care at all. His eyes were filled with hatred as he watched Ciera slowly lost her breath.

cough

His body was filled with injuries from the counterattack that Ciera gave to him, but he didn't care at all. When he came here to kill Ciera, he was prepared to die along with her.

He hated this woman very much.

"You caused the death of my wife and son..." the man, Mr. Thompson whispered in a low voice.

They had no hatred whatsoever and his wife didn't even care that much about Ciera, the daughter of her first husband with another woman. Even though it was because of this woman that caused her family to fall apart, but Mrs. Thompson understood that the main fault lies in Ciera's mother.

So she would not vent her anger on Ciera.

But who would have thought that Ciera suddenly set her target to her son and even caused him to suffer so much.

In the end, Mrs. Thompson died in a scuffle with Ciera.

And there was nothing that Mr. Thompson could do but to watch as his wife died and then his son followed soon afterwards.

He hated Ciera.

Hated her so much for destroying his family.

Unfortunately, Ciera has the Turin Family and these magicians from the Magic Association protecting her.

Even if he wanted to kill her, he had to find the perfect chance.

Now, the chance has come.

He succeeded.

Seeing that Ciera had completely lost her breath, Mr. Thompson laughed out loud and then stabbed the knife once more. He was injured and he knew that he wouldn't live long, so he will just use this chance to vent his anger.

Stab by stab came raining down and when the magicians from the Magic Association finally arrived, the two people had long turned into corpses.

And there was even a magic beast gnawing on their bodies.

"Ahhh!"

It was chaos.

And these magicians from the Magic Association all knew that they would definitely be blamed by the Turin Family for not being able to protect Ciera.

Who told her to run around in the middle of the night.

So in the end, they could only report it as it is.

Of course, these magicians from the Magic Association definitely put on a lot of embellishment and put all the blames on Ciera.

Who made them hated her?

Anyway, all magicians from the Magic Association came to consensus that if there's anyone to blame, that would be Ciera.

They?

They didn't do anything.

Who made Ciera basically offended all the magicians from the Magic Association who were present on the scene?

They were prepared to blame her thoroughly.

...

City A Base, Riya's side

At this moment, Riya had no idea about Ciera's situation.

Even if she knew, she had no time to care about the other party. After all, Riya didn't like Ciera and didn't want to know anything about the other party.

The Turin Family?

Since they still relied on the magicians from the Magic Association, then Riya would ignore them.

Anyway, they were not in City A Base and had no power to touch her.

She was more interested in various gadgets and little things that the research institute had come up with. These things were not very useful for Riya who had various runes to help herself in daily life.

But for ordinary people who didn't have any magic, these were definitely useful things.

The most interesting one is definitely the fact that there were many rune masters in City A Base who could engrave on the magic cores directly.

Chapter 826: Doubting His Life

"I didn't expect you to have trained them to this extent." Riya was looking at the magic core in her hand with a complicated look.

When she first showed the method and even recorded the video on how to engrave runes to the magic core, she didn't expect that they would be able to replicate it within a year's time.

After all, it was impossible for ordinary rank 1 rune master to be able to do this.

"Aside from Ruben, there are only three people who could do it," Samuel said and sat down in the dining room.

This was already morning and after the two people rested, they felt much better. Anyway, there was no urgent matter and they should also relax as appropriate.

Upon reaching rank 7, even if there was some pressure to advance again, but it was not as tense as before. So Riya and Samuel has actually been living a much better life after they reached rank 7.

Of course, that was before the second earthquake.

Right now, Riya could take a break because all cracks were either sealed or had someone else guarding.

But it wouldn't be for long.

Based on her own estimation, the seal wouldn't last long, so they would have to pay a visit to the crack later.

Well, that was for later.

Riya didn't want to think about these things.

She was more interested in these small things that happened while she was away.

"Their work is pretty good." Riya chuckled and put the magic core aside. The one she held in her hand was the water magic core, so once she put it inside the container, it started to spill out more water until the entire magic core was submerged and then it stopped.

The size of these magic cores were also relatively small, just like pebbles.

So carving on the surface of the magic cores wouldn't be that easy. After all, they had to have perfect control on their own mana to be able to achieve the result they wanted.

"These magic cores have been commonly used in various devices," Amelia interjected from the side. She has been in City A Base for longer than Samuel and Riya. "Our bathroom has also been equipped with these magic cores for bathing."

"I don't know that." Riya was stunned.

"...I don't know either."

Sean, who had just entered the dining room for breakfast, was stunned when he heard these two people's words. His expression turned strange and he asked, "Did you not take a bath, Brother? But you don't smell."

"Pfft." Amelia nearly laughed out loud if it was not because of her brother's black face. After all, it was so funny to be accused of not bathing by Sean.

Mr. Jones and Mrs. Jones had speechless expression as they looked at their youngest son.

Can't he be more serious?

"Sean, do you want more training?" Samuel asked with a sneer.

It seemed that this brat really did need more lesson. The previous training plan has to be doubled!

Sean's face turned pale. "No! Brother, I didn't mean it! Even if you don't take a bath, you're definitely the most handsome..."

Bletak!

In the end, Samuel had to hit Sean's head in annoyance before this brat could say anything more outrageous.

"Pfft! Hahaha!" Riya was already laughing out loud due to the siblings' antic.

She didn't expect that these two people could still be so funny like this.

"Why are you also laughing? Didn't you hear him also accusing you for not taking a bath?" Amelia, who was still restraining her laugh, poked Riya's hand.

"It doesn't matter." Riya chuckled. "First of all, I have water element and I can conjure water by myself. Secondly, there's something called cleaning spell among the daily life's magic spell that could be used even by half baked magicians who hadn't reached rank 1 yet."

Magic has never been something that only used in battles and war.

It fully encompassed various aspects in life and Riya loved to use magic in various matters, one of them was naturally the cleaning magic spell. To be honest, Riya had already used this magic spell for such a long time.

When she first came back, this was her favorite magic spell.

Because with this magic spell, she didn't need to spend so much time taking a bath or cleaning various utensil after using it.

This was the most efficient magic spell that she ever learned.

"Cleaning magic spell?" Sean, who was rubbing his head after being beaten by his brother, looked confused. "How come I have never heard of it?"

"Sean, did you forget to check the magic spell's list? There's the common household magic spell that you can learn," Amelia said with unbearable look on her face. She felt that her younger brother was truly unreliable.

How come her older brother was very good at every sense but Sean looked like a child who hadn't grown up yet?

He was already in his twenties!

"Ah?" Sean quickly took out his phone while squatting on the ground to check.

Samuel shook his head at his younger brother's antics. "I have already reported the common household magic spell such as the cleaning spell, the sparks fire spell, and so on. For these common magic spells, you only need to have the qualification to be able to sense mana and use it."

Of course, the power will be lesser if there was not enough mana.

But this was actually good enough for most people who didn't need to use magic to attack others but only for daily chores.

Cleaning spell is the most efficient one.

Because it could easily clean up most dust and stains.

Of course, this would not work for anything that had seeped into one's body such as poison or something like that.

For something like this, they would need purification magic spell that belonged to the light element magicians.

"...How come I never know about this?" Sean looked like he was doubting his life.

Chapter 827: Teaching

Mr. Jones sighed when he saw his son's unreliable appearance. "Your brother had already said this a long time ago. You're the one who didn't pay attention to him at that time."

Sean showed an awkward smile when he heard his father's words and silently rubbed his cheek.

Who could blame him?

When his brother suddenly got obsessed in learning martial arts, many people were still thinking that Samuel was crazy. They even felt that he was kicked in his head by donkey to come up with something like this.

But as Samuel's strength improved and he could show magic and so on, Mr. Jones started to make a lot of planning for their family.

Because having such power in the modern world would be difficult.

There might be some people with unkind intention towards them.

After they found out that the world changed, they decided to cooperate with the government and still retained their own autonomy. After all, Mr. Jones didn't want to have all the initiative in his hand be taken away by others.

So they had to work hard to make sure that they could still have the leading when talking about cooperation and so on.

"Does all returnees could use these magic spells?" Amelia took out her phone and showed the list to Riya beside her.

Samuel looked at his sister unkindly.

If Riya wanted to take a look, he could also show her. There was no need for Amelia to be the one to step forward.

Amelia felt chills on her back and after seeing her brother's expression, Amelia was speechless.

Is her brother so jealous?

Didn't he already know that her relationship with Riya was extremely good?

"Hmm? Yes." Riya took a quick glance at the magic spell lists and nodded. She could use all of those magic spells and she believed that other returnees would be the same. "Magic is very prevalent in that world that ordinary people could also use magic. But they could only use these simple magic spells because for other things, they will use various tools developed with magic or just like us before, technology."

"I see." Amelia nodded with understanding and then she looked at Riya teasingly. "And you're still trying to hide that you've been to another world before."

Riya looked helpless. "Mel, you know that it's not convenient to say these things."

Otherwise, she would not have claimed that she obtained some kind of inheritance when she first showed her magic. Because she knew that her experience was a bit bizarre and it wouldn't be easy for others to believe her.

Even if she could show magic...

And it was only later on did Riya know that there were so many returnees from that world. She came to understand from the message when she reached rank 7 that these returnees were set up on purpose.

But there was still no answer as to who sent them.

It was just...

That message did contain some clues.

The problem is that they didn't really want to think about it too much because their guess was a bit incredible.

"Don't worry, I know that." Amelia chuckled and then leaned against Riya's shoulder as she browsed these magic spells' list. "But are these things really necessary to learn?"

She felt that these magic spells looked quite easy, but with the convenience that technology brought to them, she had never thought about using it. After all, she was more used with various things that was commonly used instead of these magic spells.

Riya blinked her eyes and then shook her head. "No, but I'm more used to use these household magic spells. Besides, they can also exercise your mana control."

When she first came to that world, Riya was naturally not used to these household magic spells. But after some time, she felt their convenience and simply used it for almost everything in her life.

In that way, her life has become inseparable from mana and magic.

Even until now, Riya still felt that using magic spells was extremely convenient.

Because of that, she continued to use these household magic spells. Even after coming back to this world, Riya still didn't change this habit and instead often forgot to use various things.

It took her a few weeks to get used to the things in her dormitory again back then.

And after the world changed...

There was truly no point in her using those household appliances and simply switched to use magic for almost everything. Even the simple cleaning will use magic spell for convenience.

"Can you exercise your mana control with these?" Sean got up and sat down on his chair. At the same time, he pulled his chair away slightly from his older brother. He didn't want to be beaten up by his older brother for the second time of the day.

"Yes. Even the simplest cleaning magic spell required you to control your mana and then use it against your target." Riya smiled in amusement.

"Teach us?" Amelia was suddenly interested.

"Ok."

So, their morning breakfast turned into a small teaching session about household magic spells by Riya to Amelia and Sean. Samuel was on the side, taking out his laptop to finish some works.

One had to say that even until now, these electronic appliances were still widely used in this world.

If one didn't know better, they would think that the world had never changed.

Mr. Jones and Mrs. Jones left early. The former went to work in his office and the latter went to have fun with the other middle aged women in the base. They have their own things to do and their children would not bother them.

"It'll be the time for the research conference by Ruby. Don't you want to see it?" Samuel reminded when he saw the three people were still busy. Seeing how Riya was happily explaining things to Amelia and Sean, he felt that it was quite entertaining and he didn't want to disturb it.

Unfortunately, they still have some other business.

Chapter 828: Sean vs Amelia

"Ah, you're right." Amelia looked at the time and stood up. "Let's go and see how good Ruby is~."

Ruby has been very confident in her research and told the two of them to come several times. So now that they have time, they will naturally come to her presentation and see her research's result.

"I'm not going." Sean shook his head repeatedly.

He didn't understand anything from these researchers and his education's level in the past was not very good either. Even though he was not that stupid, but for some subjects, he just couldn't do it.

So his result was relatively average.

Considering that he had the Jones Family backing him, Mr. Jones and Mrs. Jones didn't force him to study much and let him do what he wanted. Anyway, it's more important for him to be happy with what he was doing than to suffer doing what he didn't like and didn't have much talent of.

"You have to train. I have already informed the general about it," Samuel said unhurriedly.

Sean's expression cracked. "Brother, can I stop training?"

Yesterday, the general trained him until he almost fainted on the training ground. When he asked for the general to lessen the training and stop torturing him so much.

Unfortunately, the general said that it was his brother who ordered the training.

Thinking about his brother's fierce methods, Sean felt that he would never be able to get out without finishing the training.

"You're still too weak and training with the military will be good for you. The base has already agreed on cooperation with the military for a long time, so you don't have to worry about not being able to train well," Samuel said with a smile on his face.

The smile looked kind and coupled with Samuel's handsome face, it could definitely charm most girls.

Unfortunately, the one he faced is his younger brother.

And knowing his brother well, Sean's face showed infinite despair.

He wouldn't be able to escape from the training!

With his current strength, it would be very easy for Samuel to arrange someone to pick him up and then sent him to the training ground.

It was so miserable!

"Good luck, Sean. Your sister supports you." Amelia gave a thumbs up to her younger brother.

"Sister, if you can stop snickering, I can believe 10% more of your words." Sean looked at Amelia with resentment.

Don't think that he couldn't see that his sister's shoulder was shaking and that her mouth was upturned!

She was definitely holding back laughter!

Definitely!

Knowing his sister's urinary nature, Sean was filled with resentment and wanted to beat up his sister.

Unfortunately, Sean knew very well that he was definitely the person with the weakest strength in the entire family. Even if his father and mother might not be of higher ranks than him, but how dare he beat up his parents?

It's impossible.

He could only set his target on his two siblings.

It was just...

Neither of these two people were weak and after being trained for a long time, how could it be possible for them to lose against him, a half baked professional who only trained occasionally?

"Why only 10%?" Amelia complained.

"It's good that I can trust you more by 10%." Sean rolled his eyes. Who didn't know what kind of person Amelia is?

She definitely just wanted to see the fun when she heard about the training he had to suffer from.

It has always been like that.

But I feel that it's great my brother can become stronger." Amelia grinned. "Otherwise, I'll feel that you're too weak to be beaten up."

Sean's eyes widened.

Listen, is this really something a sister should say?

He really wanted to kick his sister out and challenge her for a battle!

But thinking about their last spar where he realized that his sister had grown even stronger than him, Sean became timid once again.

Damn.

Whoever want to be beaten up by Amelia can step forward.

His sister has gone further and further into the path of a violent magic warrior!

Her physical strength was really strong that among their small group, only Arnold could defeat her.

And how could Arnold bear to beat Amelia up?

That guy has been trying to pamper Amelia from left to right and declared his sovereignty everywhere. It was as if they wouldn't know he is Amelia's boyfriend.

They have been fed with dog food whenever they saw these two people.

For Sean, he really didn't want those blinding dog food.

Whoever want it can take it.

He definitely didn't want to.

Too sour!

Sean's brain turned quickly and he looked at his older brother. "Brother, it seems that Amelia also wants to train with me."

Hmph!

He couldn't defeat Amelia, but couldn't he pit her back?

Anyway, she wouldn't die.

At most, they would be too tired to even scold each other.

Amelia's eyes widened in disbelief. "Nonsense! Brother, don't listen to his words! I definitely didn't want to! I have my own training schedule."

What a joke.

If she had to train with Sean under Samuel's arrangement, how could she have time to spend with Arnold?

She would be dead tired.

Who didn't know that her brother is a person who's extremely cruel to himself and others?

Just look at his training regime...

It was definitely not something for human being.

Of course, he would not dare to say this in front of his brother in case he thought that she was scolding him.

She was definitely praising him!

It's not scolding.

Amelia saw Samuel looking in her direction and her scalp was numb. Her brother wouldn't be thinking of sending her to train with Sean, right?

"She can train with Arnold and her training result will definitely be better," Samuel said calmly.

For this slightly love brain younger sister, Samuel felt that it would be better to throw her to Arnold. At least, when she saw him, she would definitely have the motivation to keep going and train harder.

Chapter 829: Ruby

If Samuel arranged other training to Amelia, there was no doubt that she might end up laze around.

Anyway, training's result will be better when they were in good mood.

When Amelia was being forced to train, she would have rebellious mentality.

"That's great, Brother!" Amelia laughed out loud happily and then she quickly stood up. "I have a date... I mean an appointment to go with Arnold to see Ruby's research, so I'm going now."

After that, Amelia rushed out at the fastest speed possible from the mansion as if she was afraid that her brother will change his decision if she went any slower. She just wanted to stay with Arnold rather than with her devil like older brother!

Riya chuckled in amusement when she saw Amelia's face.

She had long known about Amelia's fear towards Samuel. Of course, there were also respect and love, but it was obvious that Amelia feared Samuel more than the other two feelings.

Then again, Amelia also knew that her brother doted on her.

So even if she made trouble, her brother will still tolerate her and gave her a lot of convenience.

Of course, she was still sensible to a certain degree.

Otherwise, Mr. Jones and Mrs. Jones would be the first one to step up and beat her up to be a decent young lady.

"Brother... you're really partial." Sean murmured with heartbroken expression. He felt that his brother was really too partial to his younger sister. If only his brother was willing to let him train with his girlfriend, it would have been much better.

Unfortunately, his girlfriend's ability was leaning towards support and healing. She herself also didn't like to fight, so she has been staying in the hospital for a long time. In this way, Sean usually trained by himself and then went to the hospital to pick her up.

"In that case, you can train twice the amount today." Samuel sneered.

"No! Brother! I'm sorry!"

In the midst of Sean's wailing, he was taken to the military's training ground by the soldiers whom Samuel had called in advance. No matter how much Sean didn't want to, he knew that he had no other choice but to follow his brother's arrangement to practice.

Riya looked at Sean who walked away dejectedly while she and Samuel also departed to the research institute with a smile on her face. "Those who didn't know will think that you're torturing your brother."

"Don't worry, old neighbors all knew that brat's nature," Samuel said lightly with a hint of amusement in his tone. Clearly, he understood his younger brother's personality very well.

Ever since he was young, he had already caused a lot of dramas.

Well, not only Sean.

Even Amelia was the same.

These two pair of siblings were really troublesome.

Samuel's lips twitched slightly when he remembered the troubles that these two people caused for him in the past.

They were definitely not some well behaved children and often made troubles...

Thankfully, the one who bear the brunt the most was his father and not him because he's only their older brother while their father is their elder.

"Your relationship with your brother is really good." Riya chuckled.

Unlike her and her step siblings. They basically hated each other so much that the other party wished for her death.

As for Riya herself, she just wished those people could stop bothering her.

While it was not impossible for her to make a move herself, but Riya didn't really want to stain her hand with blood of her own relatives. It was also because of this that aside from beating them up and let them suffer through her special runes, Riya didn't do anything else.

As long as they kept on living their own lives without bothering each other, Riya was too lazy to take revenge on her own.

Isn't it more fun to see they making enemies and then let their enemies deal with them?

That way, she didn't have to do anything to achieve the result that she wanted.

"They're also your siblings now," Samuel said lightly with a smile on his face.

Riya was stunned and then she blushed.

She understood what Samuel meant, but she couldn't really treat them as her real siblings. Then again, Riya didn't even know what real siblings usually do with each other. She never truly had a sibling whom she could care from the bottom of her heart.

The siblings she knew in the past were b*stards who only knew how to take advantage of her and so on.

With the education from their parents... they also hated Riya so much that they would not hesitate to make trouble for her.

So rather than siblings, they were more like enemies.

"It's too early," Riya muttered.

"It's not early." Samuel looked at Riya deeply.

Riya saw Samuel's gaze and felt panicked for a moment. She stood up and rushed to the door while saying, "It's time to watch Ruby's research presentation. I don't want to be late."

Seeing Riya running away, Samuel laughed heartily.

Her red cheek when she was embarrassed was really cute and Samuel felt that it was good. He stood up and also followed behind Riya.

The research conference or presentation or gathering... Whatever it was called, was held in the morning at 9 AM.

Most researchers were already old and while they have relatively regular schedule, many of them often stayed up late at night in order to complete their experiments and so on. Even after the world had changed, they could never change this habit of theirs.

So in order to take care of their sleeping time, the conference couldn't be hold early in the morning and had to be appropriately adjusted.

Amelia and Arnold were already there, waiting for Samuel and Riya.

"I thought that you won't come out so quickly." Arnold arched his eyebrows when he saw that these two people were not that far behind Amelia.

Chapter 830: Ruby's Research

"It's better to hurry up and not make any delay," Samuel replied lightly. He waved his hand and said, "Let's go in."

"Yes!"

The two girls were more curious than anything else.

Though, they would soon regret their decision to come here.

"...I can't understand anything." Amelia had a blank look on her face when she heard the researcher started to explain the matter.

All she could understand was the word cell, regeneration, mana, and magic.

As for others...

Sorry, she couldn't understand any of them.

Riya smiled bitterly in response.

She also couldn't understand anything that they said, which made her wonder if she had made a mistake or something like that. It seemed that they have wasted their years of studying.

It was really miserable.

"Don't worry, Mel, I don't understand either," Arnold said in consoling tone. He was not very good in biology and many of these researchers' knowledge had reached the point that it would not be possible for students to learn.

So while he listened to their words, he was in the state of half listening and half not.

"No wonder Sophia didn't seem to mind that she couldn't come," Amelia complained.

Riya: "..."

Indeed, if the research content was something like this, even she would have difficulties understanding it.

Sophia might be in similar department as Ruby, but the content they learned over the years were still very different. It was basically impossible for the lazy student Sophia, who often skipped classes in the past, to follow the entire research's theory by other professors here.

After all, these people were all professionals.

On the other hand, they were students... who hadn't even had the chance to graduate.

Not that it seemed necessary anymore, though.

For the 24 year old Riya, it was more important for her to study various runes and so on than finishing her study.

"Oh, that's Ruby! She's dressed up so casually." Amelia saw Ruby and was excited. If it was not because she didn't want to disturb the other party, she would have long come forward and greeted her enthusiastically.

After all, it was rare to see Ruby in this attire and the serious look on her face made Amelia thought about the days when they took exams in the past.

Ruby would look extremely serious.

While she and Sophia...

Well, there was no exaggeration to say that the two of them basically had dark circles under their eyes because they crammed various information overnight in order to pass the exams.

They were just like many other students who only went to university for the sake of the diploma.

But they didn't care too much how much they have studied.

cough

This was not a good behavior, so other people should not casually imitate them.

"She wore high heels," Riya commented when she saw Ruby's attire. It was indeed rare to see Ruby wore high heels like that when she was about to give presentation like this.

"Because high heels makes you look more powerful." Amelia raised her chin proudly. "You look taller than men and you can look down at them. It's interesting to see these guys look devastated because they're not as tall as us women~."

In terms of height, Amelia and Ruby were above average among women. Even though they were not as tall as most guys who were above 180 meters, they could still be above 170 as long as they wore the appropriate high heels.

Riya looked at her friend speechlessly. "I don't understand why you want to look taller than them."

"You don't understand. It's a kind of pleasure that you can look at them from above." Amelia shook her head and then patted Riya's shoulder. "Of course, for a short person like you, it's nothing more than a pipe dream, so you shouldn't expect too much."

Riya: "..."

If Amelia is not her friend, she would have long beaten up the other party for underestimating her height like that!

Even though Riya knew that she was considered short among women.... But there was no need to point it out so blatantly, alright?

"I can fly," Riya said stubbornly.

Anyway, if she couldn't be taller than them, she could still fly above them and looked at them from above.

Anyway, the principle is the same, right?

"Pfft...." Amelia saw Riya's stubborn look and clutched her stomach in amusement as she crouched on the side, her shoulder shaking so badly that it seemed unstoppable. It was obvious that Amelia felt Riya was so funny right now and couldn't help but laugh out loud.

Riya's face turned dark and she pinched Amelia's waist.

"Wait, don't! It's ticklish!"

"Stop laughing first!"

The two people were messing around while trying to keep their voice low... well, Riya had already set up a sound insulation so that the other people couldn't hear their voices. But their body language clearly told others that they were not listening properly.

Thankfully, they were sitting in the private room on the second floor. Even though it was impossible not to attract attention if they were a bit louder, the sound insulation was already pretty good even before Riya set up the formation.

"They're really lively." Arnold looked helpless when he saw the two girls were laughing and chatting with each other. They didn't look like they were here to listen to the research presentation but to play around with each other.

"Isn't it good?" Samuel chuckled and his eyes were gentle.

Seeing their laughter and lively look, isn't it the reason why they have been working hard to protect City A Base?

Because only when the city base is safe that the people could live happily.

Instead of looking like zombie because of devastation, being able to laugh so freely meant that they have been living well.

This is the purpose of the base.

Not only to protect these people's lives but also to protect their happiness, allowing them to live in contentment until the end of their lives.
