

Last Days 91

Chapter 91 Meal Together

To be honest, Riya was sure that this situation didn't only happen to her but also many other people. Because the mana consumption also depended on their efficiency on the spell itself.

The spell word they said was nothing more than a trigger.

In fact, if they were powerful enough, they could initiate the mana according to the movements and route made through the magic spell words without saying it. This was the one called instant skill.

But not everyone could do it.

Because without using any spell at all, they would have to control the mana themselves inside their body. This required both high control of mana and also great familiarity with the spell they wanted to use.

Every path had their own methods.

Riya would not say that her path is the best, but it was the most suitable one for her.

"Huh? I don't understand." Amelia was confused.

"Well, let's just say that I'm not suitable to use magic spell but it didn't mean that I don't know any spell," Riya replied.

To be honest, she could draw runes in an instant but she had to recite for 10 seconds to finish a magic spell. For the current Riya, she was already very proficient in runes and would rather use it rather than switching to the normal magic spell.

"Uh, ok?" Amelia nodded and didn't force it. "Do you want to go now? Wait, have lunch with me and leave afterwards. They still have to clean up those magic beasts outside too."

Neither Amelia or Riya were worried about those magic beasts.

Riya had seen Samuel's action and guessed that he was also at rank 3 or even at the peak of rank 3, almost reaching rank 4. For a swordsman to reach rank 4, his attack power would increase qualitatively.

These unranked magic beasts were clearly not Samuel's opponent.

So Riya was not very interested.

At most, Samuel would be tired if he had to face a large number of magic beasts. But this was why there were soldiers from the military helping him. The guns were still very effective for lower ranked magic beasts and those unranked ones.

As for Amelia...

She didn't understand but seeing that Samuel was really strong, she was also not worried. She believed in her brother.

Even if she was there, Amelia also knew that she would be nothing more than a burden.

So why should she stay there?

"Hmm." Riya looked outside. While her magic could allow her to travel undetected, but it was indeed troublesome to deal with so many magic beasts. "Alright, I'll stay for lunch and then leave."

When the commotion died down slightly, Riya will go out.

"Okay." Amelia smiled brightly.

"By the way, do you obtain anything from this association?" Riya suddenly asked and pointed to the website that Amelia showed to her.

"Ah, yeah, I did. There's a series of formulated training to get started. It's said that this training can help them to sense aura faster and the training is different from the one my brother showed to me. Oh, aura is a type of energy..."

Amelia explained about the moves and Riya listened to it. Looking at the two different set of training, she came to conclusion that the training Amelia used from her brother was the training coming from the big family's inheritance.

The effects were also very good.

But this kind of technique would not be spread outside and usually used by the internal members.

On the other hand, the set of technique that the martial arts association used was the common ones that Riya had seen in that world. That set of training was indeed to introduce the young people to martial arts but at the same time, it was very arduous and the rank was much lower than the one Amelia used.

Amelia thought about Peter.

Peter came from ordinary background in that world and for him to compete with so many geniuses, he had to overcome countless challenges. In the end, she heard that he went missing after challenging many people.

It was truly a thorny road.

But for the sake of resources, many people would not hesitate to kill others and bet with their own lives.

Because lives in that world is really difficult.

"Ok, let's go eating."

"Yes!"

Amelia brought Riya down and saw Mr. Jones and Mrs. Jones, Amelia's father and mother, there. She smiled and called out, "Uncle, Auntie."

"Ah, Riya is here." Mrs. Jones smiled kindly. Riya had already paid visit to Amelia's house in the past and met with her parents, so the two of them knew Riya. They have good impression of this girl.

"Father, Mother, Riya will have lunch here, is it fine?" Amelia asked.

"It's fine." Mrs. Jones had seen that Riya and Amelia came here while carrying a lot of resources. These things should be divided among the three girls who came here, so she planned to ask Amelia to divide them later.

As for this lunch, it was nothing much.

"Thank you, Auntie."

"Come and sit down. Amelia, how's the situation outside?"

"Ah, the situation is not good." Amelia then explained about the destruction of various buildings and also the incident where they met with some people in that convenience store. In Amelia's mind, it would be better for her to report first to her parents and let them know about this.

Riya listened to Amelia's story and was speechless.

Why did she feel... Amelia is bragging?

She clearly remembered that Amelia was trembling when she saw that magic beast and was at disadvantage in the beginning.

Sean, who joined in their lunch, also looked at his sister incredulously. "I don't believe you're that good, Mel."

"What do you mean? I'm clearly very good!"

"Because you didn't even dare to challenge Eldest Brother."

"That's because he's indeed very scary!"

"Ah, that's not true...."

The two siblings ended up quarreling and Riya was silent. To be honest, even she had no confidence of challenging Samuel.
