

Last Days 93

Chapter 93 Leaving (2)

Swish!

Jumping out of the wall, Riya landed on the tree and used her illusion magic to hide her presence. There were indeed invisible magic, but that magic use too much mana and for Riya, an illusion magic was enough.

These magic beasts couldn't sense her presence at all.

'Should I kill them?'

Riya thought for a moment and then raised her hand. Magic runes formed in the air and then...

'Arrow tracking formation magic.'

Swish! Swish! Swish!

*roar!* *roar*

These magic beasts were killed in one shot. Riya conveniently picked up their corpses into her world and then departed away. She looked at the large number of magic beasts' corpses on the way and also picked them all up.

Most of these magic beasts were trampled by their own kin when they were running away. The magic beasts had no sense of guilt or anything like that for killing other magic beasts and when they had a goal, who would care about other things?

So many of these magic beasts died due to infighting.

'Black Wolf, Green Tiger, Green Wolf...' Riya collected them while recalling their names back in that world. She was sure that with some people returning from that world, the name of these magic beasts would remain the same.

After all, they have memorized these things due to fighting for years in that world. Why should they tire their brain to think of a new name just to satisfy their vanity?

"The harvest is good~."

Riya silently hummed a song as she continued to walk towards the place where the crack existed. The nearest crack was the one in the middle of the road not far after they got out of the academy.

That would be the first crack she checked. The other two cracks could be checked later.

"Here we go."

Swish! Slash! Slash!

Several magic beasts fell down and Riya stopped. She took the magic beasts and started to use their blood to make killing formation once again. Once it was done, Riya made the formation to hide this place from sight and then entered her space.

She looked at her chickens and the others.

It seemed that she had neglected them...

Riya sweated and quickly rushed over to tend to them. Thankfully, there were more than enough food prepared, so these animals didn't die. But if she did this again in the future, it was unknown what would happen to them.

And after she was done, Riya planned to make some formation from the jade.

Preferably some counterattack type of formation. In this way, she would be able to protect herself better when she entered the crack.

Amelia's side

While Riya was dealing with these magic beasts, Amelia went back to her home.

Sean looked at his sister and arched his eyebrows. "Did she really leave?"

He had heard that Riya wanted to go, but he was not close her, so he didn't try to interfere.

"Yes," Amelia said.

"I see." Sean nodded and didn't ask anything else.

"Hey, did Eldest Brother teach any other interesting skills?"

Sean looked at Amelia speechlessly. "Do you really think that we can use the skills even if Eldest Brother teach us?"

They could barely use the pitiful amount of mana they have. What kind of skills can they actually use?

Amelia laughed dryly and looked away. She thought about Riya and really wanted to be able to do cool things.

Then again, this couldn't be rushed.

Thinking about that, Amelia took out the cold talisman that Riya handed to her. The temperature was still very hot but they were not paying too much attention to it before. After all, they were too nervous with the magic beasts' matter.

Now that Amelia has reunited with her family, she couldn't help thinking about this hot temperature and silently inputted mana into the talisman.

This was a one time use cold talisman.

Amelia had learned from her brother about the magic scrolls thing or the talisman as what Riya said. And this one time use would not be able to be used after the time limit was over.

It's a bit of a pity.

The cold temperature felt really nice.

Bang!

Amelia and Sean were startled and looked at the door. They saw Samuel walked back with a few people following him. Looking at their dirty clothes and then at Samuel whose clothes were only slightly creased, the difference was like heaven and earth.

It seemed that killing these magic beasts were nothing for Samuel but the same couldn't be said for these people who followed him.

Well, they just needed to take a bath.

Amelia looked away and silently played with the talisman in her hand. The cold temperature seemed to feel like an air conditioner was placed right in front of her.

"Clean up the corpses. Don't let them go to waste," Samuel gave orders and then looked at his two siblings. "Starting tomorrow, you two will follow me out."

"Eh? We have to go out?"

"Why?"

Both Amelia and Sean were stunned by Samuel's sudden order. They felt really unwilling to go out.

Amelia had already fought against those magic beasts and she didn't really want to fight more of them.

She had enough.

On the other hand, Sean had been staying here in the past few days, being completely protected by his older brother.

After all, his skills were not very good and Samuel also didn't want to bring his siblings out when they were not ready.

But this sudden earthquake and beast tide made Samuel realize that he had to bring his siblings into this world much sooner than he thought.

"You have to be able to fight on your own," Samuel answered calmly.

Sean and Amelia groaned.

"These magic beasts might get stronger in the future."

Hearing this, even Mr. and Mrs. Jones frowned. They looked at their children and felt that the situation would turn really bad.

"Do you know something about this, Sam?"
