Chapter 291 Reunion In Flesh (+18)

"Blergh..." Ackhart made some disgusting noises while emptying the content of his stomach at some random wall of the city.

Normally, an elder like him would likely hesitate before doing something like that in the open... But given the state this town was in right now, no one would care about it anymore.

The entire outpost looked like some kind of set from an apocalyptic movie.

Despite the architectural damage not being all that bad, the town was completely empty. And with not a single soul in sight, it was filled with an eerie atmosphere, making me feel as if we were sinning just by being here.

"I wonder what happened here," I whispered as I drew my eyes away from the retching elder.

"How many monsters did attack this city?" Hera asked, swiftly accustoming herself to call her own kind monsters.

"It doesn't look like anything happened after your attack," Mia replied, looking around the place with a confused expression on her face. "Maybe they all escaped once all the elders deserted this place?" she suggested, turning her eyes towards me.

"I don't feel any energy of my kind," Hera commented, looking at me as well.

'Damn, I don't really like this kind of pressure,' I thought to myself, hiding my inner thoughts from appearing on my face.

Right now, everyone relied on me to judge the situation and think about the next steps.

The problem was... I didn't really have any idea as to what to do!

Or rather, the only thing that I wanted to do right now was to grab Mia, pull her into one of those abandoned buildings and then take my time properly reuniting with her.

"This place seems to be safe," I muttered while looking down at my feet and pretending to be deep in my thoughts. "For now, that is," I added, shaking my head and casting a longing look toward Mia.

"Does that mean..." Mia whispered in response, her cheeks turning red as she noticed my intense stare, only to look away in shame.

"Hera, I'm leaving the lookout to you," I said, taking a step towards Mia. "In case any meteor were to close in on this place... Or not, in case anything happens that you or Ackhart can't deal with, just shout loudly," I ordered before grabbing Mia's hand.

From that point on, I didn't bother holding myself any longer.

Sure, saving Mia's friends was something that required haste... But now that they escaped this town, it didn't matter whether we slacked off a little or not.

Because this wasn't some kind of stupid movie or novel, but real life instead. And the chances that wasting a little time now would result in us being just a few moments late...

"Thanks for that," Mia whispered right into my ear, allowing me to guide her through the corridors of the building. "I couldn't really hold myself back for much longer," she added when I finally found the entrance to what looked like a bedroom and pulled her inside.

"I don't think I will be able to hold back myself," I stated, grabbing Mia's hand between my hands and closing in for a kiss.

"Do I look like I would mind it?" Mia replied with a smile, only for her lips to get busy comforting my own.

I pushed Mia down on the bed without even a hint of hesitation. And given how she wasn't wearing my robes, I didn't pay any mind to them either, tearing them off her body in a single, decisive grab.

And then I froze.

With Mia's beauty bared right in front of my eyes, I could only stand in my place and swallow down my saliva.

"Don't make me wait," Mia said with a smile, only to pull her legs apart and stretch her hands out towards me in an invitation.

That was all that I needed.

I tore off my robes in a single move only to put myself right between Mia's silky-smooth thighs. Given how I had had a boner ever since she first fell into my arms, I didn't need to prepare myself whatsoever.

"Here I come," I leaned over the girl and whispered right into her ear while using my hand to guide my hardon towards her pussy.

"You are so wet," I muttered the second our genitals came into contact, only to shut the hell up and busy my lips with kissing Mia's neck.

I finally managed to lock myself in the right position. And then, without even a second of hesitation, I pushed myself in.

This wasn't the first time that we fucked. Yet, after nearly three months of separation, I felt like I would cum right away.

'No, I need to hold myself back a little,' I thought, pursing my lips and clenching my butt while hiding my face in Mia's ample bosom.

"You don't need to hold back," Mia whispered to my ear, resting her hands on the back of my head as she pushed my face deeper into her breasts. At the same time, she locked her legs behind my hips, proving that she meant exactly what she said.

"I want you to feel good too," I protested, raising my face from her soft chest, only to feel a thrill of excitement travel down my spine the second I noticed her gentle and loving look.

"No," Mia whispered in a sweet voice, only to suddenly move one of her hands towards the bed and then use it to push herself up.

I didn't offer even the slightest resistance, giving up on the missionary position only to end up with her right on my lap again.

"Right now, I want to make sure I can still satisfy you," Mia said, looking down into my eyes. She then stopped talking as she leaned for the kiss.

The second our lips connected again, Mia locked her hands behind my back. And then, before I could even immerse myself in the kiss, she started rocking her hips up and down, quickly bringing me to the edge of fruition.

The world around me vanished. For this one moment, all that mattered was Mia's warmth coating my entire self. Her smell filled my nostrils. The sloppy sounds that we made whenever her crotch would slap down on my lap, greedily gobbling up all there was to my cock.

"I won't last," I squeezed those few words through my tightened lips, unable to resist Mia's eagerness.

"Come," she didn't bother forming any complex sentences, opting for short order instead. "Come," she repeated, lowering her lips down on mine and once again sending my sanity away with the taste of her saliva.

I never considered myself to have a problem with how long I could last. But faced with all those stimulants all at once, I could do nothing but admit defeat.

I grabbed Mia by her waist, forcing her down on my penis one last time. Her wet insides coiled around my dick, proving that she was just as excited as I was.

Mia's hands pressed on the back of my head, forcing my lips on her chest.

For but a moment, our bodies tightened all up.

A flash of pleasure shook my entire self as the result of my ecstasy flushed out of my body and shot up right into Mia's womb.

With my face buried deep into Mia's chest, she was all I could think of, all I could see, smell, feel, or taste.

In this one moment, when her insides tightly wrapped around my dick, I forgot about all the problems of the world around us.

"Aaah..." I released a small moan, not seeing any benefit in holding it back. And as my body relaxed, I fell to my back, allowing the bed below us to cushion my fall.

"Ah," I moaned once again when Mia fell right down on my chest, once again letting me experience her softness all over.

Yet, before I could get enough of this feeling, she slid down from me.

"Huh?" I moaned in protest, not willing to let her go yet.

But, to my satisfaction, rather than running away after just a single time, Mia quickly got on all fours before turning around and pointing her shapely ass right to my face.

"I want you to take me hard," she said, turning her head back as she looked. Her eyes were filled with lust.

She then pressed her chest down on the bed while pushing her hips as high as she could.

"Gulp," seeing how a small stream of my cum trickled down out of her tight hole only to flow down the back of her thigh, I could only swallow my saliva.

My body moved completely on its own, rising up from the bed and moving towards Mia's ass.

"Take me hard," Mia repeated, reaching out with her hand towards her crotch and spreading her own folds apart as if to make my job of penetrating her easier.

"I will be happy to oblige," I replied with a smile, putting the head of my penis right between her fingers before pushing myself inside with one rapid move.

I struck my hips against her ass, refusing to give her any break.

"Ah!" Mia shouted out as her entire body wiggled in response to my attack.

"You are mine and mine alone," I muttered, leaning over the arch of her back and closing my lips towards her ear, only to say my line and then nibble on her earlobe.

"I'm yours and yours alone!" Mia screamed out only to suddenly raise her hand and flail it around as if in search of something.

Right now, there was no need for her to explain her wishes. Fucking her wildly from behind, I somehow could exactly tell what was on her mind.

"Then let's forget about me and you," I said, reaching forth and grabbing her hand only to marvel at how delicate her fingers were. "From now on, there is only us!"
