Chapter 443 Void Looming Above The Bootleneck (Kinda R18?)

"Haaa...." Mia released a long sigh as if she wanted to empty her lungs out, all so that the next breath she took would be the biggest in her life.

Yet...

As soon as she closed her eyes to take in the air filled with the scent of my cum that decorated her face, her disposition changed.

All the lust within her vanished, swallowed by what looked like an endless black hole.

And then, Mia's cultivation exploded.

It didn't shatter. It didn't break either. The energies within her body now loosely connected to my own yang energy went out of control.

And being as excited as they were, the mana particles within Mia took the path of least resistance, splitting and splitting and splitting... until their energy returned back to a relatively stable level.

That process alone turned Mia's mana from a few drops within the empty ocean of her current potential... into a small stream.

But contrary to the moment Mia's energy retained its stability, her process of cultivation was nowhere near the end.

I blinked my eyes twice before my post-nut clarity hit me. And in the momentary sense of perfect lucidity, I moved behind Mia's back before falling down on my knees and grabbing her by her shoulders.

With a single pull, I brought Mia's back on top of my chest before wrapping my hands around her stomach.

"It's okay," I whispered into her ear.

She was fully focused on grasping control over the energies inside her. In other words, she couldn't respond to my words at all, nor did I actually wish for it.

In fact, it didn't really matter what I said as I pretty much doubted Mia had enough spare brainpower to understand my words.

No, it wasn't about words.

It was all about the tone in which I said them.

A soothing, caring tone. A voice that was supposed to make Mia relax and feel just how safe she was.

And so, while I continued to whisper sweet nothings into her ear, I hugged her closely from behind before starting to wiggle my entire body to the sides, as if in an attempt to lull Mia to her sleep.

Once Mia managed to calm herself down a little, the process started all over again.

The energy within Mia's core would get excited due to the influence of the little cum that she swallowed. And once it reached a breaking point, it would divide a few times before the mana would once again reach a relatively stable state.

"It's okay," I kept on whispering while shaking Mia's upper body left and right.

The process went on and on, repeating itself all over for a total of seven times before the little cum that Mia ended up swallowing exhausted all of its excess yang energy, reaching the point where it was energetically no different than the yin energy Mia produced herself.

"Haaa..." Mia opened up her eyes while releasing a long sigh.

Still holding her in my arms, I took a quick peek at the state of her cultivation. And despite her mana multiplying over and over again, what used to be a few drops now turned...

Into a small puddle that couldn't fill even a single percent of her total potential!

"That was..." Mia muttered only to turn silent as she struggled to find the right words to describe her experience. "Tiring?" she attempted to say something only to end up shaking her head. "No, that's not it. Mentally exhausting... I guess?"

Mia relaxed her body, allowing her weight to rest upon my chest. She then angled her head up and to the side so that she could look at my face.

"You did well," I smiled while caressing her stomach with my thumbs.

"But it's not over yet, isn't it?" Mia smiled as she pointed out the obvious truth that I didn't really have the heart to admit.

After all, she still had a long way to break through her current level. And to be even more direct, there was a lot more of my cum on her face than she ended up swallowing by accident!

Unable to force myself to admit the truth, I averted my eyes before pulling my arms even closer together, pulling Mia into an even deeper hug.

"Dear, it's okay," Mia laughed a little. She then brought her hand up and used it to caress my cheek. "That's what I signed up for, isn't it?" she grinned. "How could I be satisfied with myself if a bit of discomfort is all it takes to stop me?" she asked...

Only to pull out her tongue and lick a long strand of cum that was about to fall into her mouth due to all her speaking anyway.

Her eyes shut closed again... and the entire process started all over.

Bit by bit, Mia's puddle of mana turned into a proper stream. Then, it grew enough to fill her entire cultivation realm... although at an extremely shallow rate.

It took seven more repeats that consisted of Mia opening her eyes, taking a moment to rest before scooping some of my cum from her body, and then swallowing it before she finally managed to properly fill her cultivation up.

Mia opened up her eyes for the eighth time. This time, however, the look on her face was different.

She was still smiling... but it wasn't a smile aimed at encouraging me. No, it was the excited smile of someone who was about to challenge her limits.

"I'm ready," Mia announced in a slightly uncertain voice. "But judging how long it took for me to advance..."

Mia gulped her saliva down and looked down. Her hands then moved up only to rest on top of mine.

She didn't speak. Instead, she added some strength to her fingers before moving my own hands around as if trying to make me massage her stomach.

"I can't really explain this feeling. But it feels that if I dare to challenge my current bottleneck..." Mia bit her lips, hesitating hard whether or not to say what was on her mind.

I could see it. I knew her more than well enough to understand the expression she was making. And yet...

I knew exactly what I was supposed to do.

Even though I couldn't know exactly what Mia struggled to say, there was only one thing I needed to showcase right now.

"I believe in you," I whispered into her ear. "So just tell me what you need."

"I..." Mia still struggled to speak up, even after my words of encouragement. "I can't do it to you," she then added, lowering her eyes, unwilling to look at me while she spoke.

A bout of pain appeared in my heart.

"Mia..." I hid my head in the corner between her neck and her shoulder. I then kissed her naked skin, enjoying all of her warmth at once.

"I trust you," I said. I moved my head up, away from the comfort of Mia's flesh and up to the ceiling. "So whatever you need me to do, just say it."

Mia trembled a little.

"I..." She closed her eyes shut. A moment later, she opened up her eyes and looked straight ahead.

"I can see a strange void looming above my bottleneck," she said with an absent look in her eyes. "So, as soon as I break through," Mia's emotions returned to her face right as she leaned around within my arms and looked straight into my face.

"As soon as I break through, I need you to ram your dick into me as hard as you can. And you can't stop until you unleash it all inside."
