Chapter 194

Ryan didn't think too much about it and led the two of them into the elevator. He reminded them to be cautious of their words and actions at the summit so that they wouldn't embarrass Ellen Games.

Mia and Thomas nodded excitedly. They eagerly hoped to meet more influential figures and take some photos during the event to show off later.

Jack and Patrick headed to the venue of the IT summit together, which was located on the 88th floor of the Imperial Hotel.

When they took out their invitation cards at the entrance, the security guards were all taken aback, as it was very uncommon to see such young CEOs.

The magnificent banquet hall was packed with people. Not only were there major investors and CEOs from large companies, but there were also many assistants and media reporters.

Various drinks and food were available there, and the atmosphere was warm and lively.

Investors were looking for promising talents, while companies were actively searching for funding opportunities.

As a rising star, Drakengard Games, which had been in the limelight recently, naturally became a hot target for the investors. And as the person who brought Drakengard Games to the forefront, Patrick attracted the attention of many investors as soon as he walked into the banquet hall.

These technology tycoons, who could only be seen on financial news programs on television, came forward to talk to Patrick, hoping to collaborate with Drakengard Games.

Jack chose to wait at the side, as he wasn't interested in the company's operation and didn't want to be in the spotlight at these events.

After a while, Jack felt a little bored, so he walked over to the refreshment area to get a piece of cake to snack on.

Just as he was enjoying the cake, he suddenly saw Mia and Thomas nearby. Thomas was in the middle of a conversation with two young men, and Mia was standing opposite Jack, holding her chin elegantly as she listened to them talk.

Out of the corner of her eye, she noticed Jack devouring his food as if he was starving, and a trace of disgust flashed in her eyes.

Mia didn't expect to see Jack again here.

Seeing him eating like he was starving, she was even more certain that he was just one of the waiters here. She quickly moved away from Jack, as if any contact with him would give her goosebumps.

As Jack wandered around the hall, he felt the urge to smoke. So, he went to the balcony to smoke.

Downstairs, a film crew was holding a lively launch party.

Jack stuck his head out, trying to see which celebrities were there.

"Jack?"

A sweet, flirtatious voice drew his attention.

Jack turned toward the sound and saw a young woman standing in a corner downstairs. She had light makeup on, and there was a sweet smile on her face. She looked charming and captivating.

Who else could it be but Feena?

What a small world. He didn't expect to run into Feena again here.

"Feena? Why are you here?" Jack was a little surprised.

Feena's appearance confirmed his earlier suspicions. She had really moved from the music industry to the film industry.

Feena seemed very happy to see Jack. She smiled brightly and replied, "I've recently gotten a role in a fantasy TV series, and our crew is holding the launch party here today."

Jack congratulated her sincerely, "Really? Congratulations! You're one step closer to becoming a big star."
