Limits 21

Chapter 21

Jack was very dissatisfied with Bella's rude attitude and coldly said, "I am Jack. Say it quickly if you have something to say!"

He was in a hurry to go to the dormitory and set up his bed.

Bella gazed down from above and proclaimed, "Alright. You're my boyfriend from now on. You must accompany me to watch movies, shop, drink, and work out. Your time is mine from now on. Do you understand?"

The boy would probably be overjoyed to hear this if it were at any other moment.

But Jack knew that Bella was merely venting her frustration and was not being serious with him. His expression turned colder. "Go find someone else. I don't have time for you."

He left after saying that.

Bella grew even angrier and shouted at Jack's back, "How dare someone like you act this way? If I can handle Andres, do you think I can't handle you? Just you wait. I don't believe I can't deal with you."

Jack ignored Bella and headed to the dormitory.

He saw a fat guy engrossed in reading a book, while another person with green hair was playing a game called "Sky Battle".

Jack sat down, took a sip of water, and was about to greet his roommates when the green-haired guy suddenly yelled, "Take your damn suitcase away! Don't dirty my mattress!"

Jack quickly took it away. The green-haired guy sneered at him and asked, "Do you know how much this mattress costs? Look at you. You look like you wouldn't be able to afford it in your whole life!"

Jack was immediately displeased. "You can't insult people, no matter how expensive it is!"

"So what? I'll make you pay for it if it gets dirty!"

Jack smirked and said, "Go ahead. I'd like to see how you do that."

A fight was about to erupt when the door was suddenly kicked open. A tall, sweaty young man barged in.

The green-haired guy quickly smiled and asked, "Joshua, you're back?"

Joshua nodded, arrogantly scanning Jack with his eyes before grinning. "So, it's you-that poor guy!"

Jack took a cigarette from his pocket and said, "I don't know you two idiots. I'll hit you if you insult me again!"

While Jack generally followed the principle of kindness, it didn't mean he was timid.

Otherwise, don't blame him for being rude

If not for his imposing figure and the fierce look that flashed in his eyes, perhaps Joshua would have said something back, but he hesitated and didn't respond.

While Jack packed his things, the fat guy who had been reading attentively greeted him kindly.

His name was Samuel, and he was from the Appalachians. He didn't come from a wealthy family.

Jack vaguely sensed that Ronnie and Joshua were also ostracizing Samuel.

As Jack was talking to Samuel, Ronnie and Joshua were talking loudly. They occasionally whispered and pointed at Jack's back, mentioning Bella and Andres, clearly discussing what had happened downstairs earlier.