Limits 291

Chapter 291

"Never mind. Life is full of goodbyes. I'm more than content to receive so much love from the listeners over the past six months. I'm genuinely grateful."

Jack took a deep breath before continuing to say, "But I want to ask you for a favor before I leave. Can you help me to say goodbye to the listeners? If I do it myself, I'd feel like something is not perfect."

"Okay, I got it." Phoebe lowered her head and pondered for a moment before she looked up with a determined gaze.

She said, "What if... I said I want you to stay. Would you? If you have things to handle, you can take care of it first. I'll be waiting for you in the studio until you're done. Until you come back."

Hearing this, Jack's eyes instantly widened in surprise, as if it was hard to believe.

He looked at Phoebe and realized that she looked calm, as if she didn't realize how much of a misunderstanding her words could bring to someone who liked her.

Perhaps Phoebe only asked him to stay because she simply appreciated Jack's talent in broadcasting.

But her words warmed Jack's heart. Especially the phrase, "I'll be waiting for you in the studio", made Jack's heart palpitate uncontrollably. Finally, he nodded and said with a smile, "Okay, I promise you."

Jack didn't need another reason to stay. Phoebe's words were enough.

However, there was a hint of guilt in his heart because he had planned to quit his broadcast to spend more time with Bella. Now, it seemed like he would have to break this promise.

Seeing that Jack had promised to stay, Phoebe smiled brightly, "That's great! Go do your things. Just remember to come back after you're done."

As Jack left the radio station, his footsteps were noticeably lighter.

In two days, he and Patrick would be signing the contract with the powerful investor.

Jack had no idea about the identity of the investor, and Patrick had kept it a secret, only disclosing that his ability was incredible. Even Patrick only accidentally found out that this capital tycoon had a deep pocket, and his ability was unimaginably powerful.

If they could secure the connection, Drakengard Games would have continuous and endless popularity. No competitors would dare to scheme against them.

Jack also looked forward to the contract signing. He wanted to know what kind of business partner Patrick had brought in.

The signing ceremony would be happening in the afternoon, so Jack met up with Partrick at the company in the morning to head to the location together.

By the time they finished preparing, it was already over 4 p.m.

They drove the Bentley to the meeting location. According to the schedule, there would be a large banquet at the company banquet hall after the contract was signed.

Patrick was full of expectations and excitement, so he didn't notice Jack's odd expression.

When their Bentley arrived at the venue, Jack's gaze was attracted by the words on the building, "Mainland Division of Sandalwood Group."

At the sight of these words, Jack's expression suddenly darkened.

He never expected their business partner to be Sandalwood Group!

There was a surge of anger in him, and he even wanted to just leave for good.

But his rationality told him to not let his personal feelings affect the company's interest.

On the other hand, Patrick was overjoyed by the upcoming contract and funding. He didn't realize Jack's abnormal behaviour.

He tapped Jack's shoulder and urged him, "Let's go. The road to success is now open for us."