Chapter 69

Samuel and the others were stunned by Jack's skills.

Meanwhile, the girls of the shared dorm room were so shocked that they didn't know what to say.

Amelia's eyes glinted strangely.

On the other hand, Phoebe was very excited. Whenever Jack scored a goal, she would feel unbelievably happy.

At the same time, Flynn and his teammates were furious, so they requested a time-out before their main players entered the court again.

Alas, it was too late. Even though the main players entered the game, they were unable to stop Jack. He was so powerful that he was almost invincible.

When Flynn entered the court, he cursed at Jack, trying to distract the latter so that he could make use of the opportunity to make a comeback.

However, Jack remained unfazed and continued scoring goals accurately and quickly. He blocked the opponents sharply and did his dunks smoothly.

He became the center of attention in an instant. All his actions affected everyone's emotions. Even his opponents were so terrified that their legs turned weak in front of him.

As such, though the main players were around, they couldn't do a thing against Jack's attacks.

Meanwhile, Oliver sat by the court quietly and stared at Jack. The latter's performance amazed him greatly. He knew that Jack would become the rising star of his generation.

While Jack was playing in the game, Jordan was scolding his team's basketball players in the breakroom.

Suddenly, a student dashed into the room and announced that the School of Finance was about to win the competition.

Jordan could hardly believe his ears and chided the student for spouting nonsense. Yet, a second student walked into the room and said, "The School of Finance is winning."

Had someone altered their destiny?

Jordan wasn't in the mood to continue scolding the basketball players and hurriedly arrived at the basketball court.

He arrived just in time to witness Jack's splendid performance. His slam dunk was so powerful that the entire net shook.

After that, Jack did a phantom steal and evaded his opponent's defense swiftly, got past the main players, and did an amazing slam dunk once more.

There were ten seconds left!

The scores had changed to 88 points against 82 points.

Upon seeing that, Jordan could hardly believe his eyes.

In that last moment, Flynn tried to steal the ball but kept making mistakes.

Jack swiftly appeared like a ghost and snatched the ball away, preparing to score another point.

As Flynn was furious, he tried to choke Jack by the throat. It seemed that he didn't want the latter to score even if it meant strangling him.

Everyone was terrified by the sight.

Yet, Jack was very powerful. Not only was he unaffected by Flynn, but he also leaped into the air as Flynn clung to him.

Once again, he scored a dunk! Flynn's weight didn't affect Jack's speed at all.

When the ball entered the net, Flynn was thrown back by the impact and hit the rim hard.

Although Flynn was in a lot of pain, he was still able to accuse Jack. "Foul! That's a foul, referee!"

Yet, the students and the referee knew the truth.

"How shameless. You were the one who committed a foul first."

"Besides, you did it on purpose. If Jack hadn't been strong enough, he would've been dragged down by you."

"You're nothing compared to Jack."

The referee rolled his eyes at Flynn and ignored him.

When the match ended, the School of Finance emerged victorious.

After looking at the scores, Jordan couldn't believe his eyes.

His team lost by 22 points when the main players were playing in the game.
