Chapter 85

Sure enough, Jack felt a little conflicted.

If Bella had maintained her high-and-mighty attitude, he could have easily ignored her. But now, with her speaking in such a pleading tone and with so many eyes watching, Jack could only relent.

He didn't want to be labeled as someone who bullied women over such a trivial matter.

Jack followed Bella out of the auditorium and around the corner to a secluded spot.

Jack then asked in a calm tone, "If you have something to say, make it quick. I'm busy."

Bella's expression turned complicated. She bit her bottom lip tightly and said, "I heard you've been living quite a carefree life recently?"

Jack responded indifferently, "You've seen it yourself, haven't you? It's not bad; I'm excelling in both love and studies."

"You!" Bella was infuriated by his words, her voice trembling with a sob. "Jack, does this mean that if I don't reach out to you, you'll never bother to contact me again?"

Jack looked baffled. "Why would I contact you? To let you anger me? I'm not that free."

Bella was completely enraged by Jack's attitude. She bit her lip harder to hold back her tears and said, "Jack, you're such a jerk. Aren't you afraid I'll stop talking to you forever?"

Jack shrugged nonchalantly. "Do you think I'd care?"

Bella was so furious she nearly lashed out. Tears streamed down her face despite her attempts to hold them back.

Yes, this jerk ignored her completely but was acting all chummy with other women. She had lost weight over the past days, yet he didn't show the slightest concern or care for her.

Bella wiped her tears and tried to calm herself. "Fine, let me ask you this-what's your relationship with Amelia?"

Jack's tone suddenly turned proud as he said, "She's my girlfriend."

Bella's tears began flowing again when she heard that. "Jack, you're such a scumbag! We haven't even officially broken up, and you're already with someone else? How could you treat me like this?"

Jack feigned a look of realization. "Oh, sorry about that. Didn't get the chance to inform you. If you feel embarrassed, I'll make it up to you by sending you an invitation when I get married."

Bella then retorted, "Jack, don't get cocky! Do you think I can't live without you? I'll find another man right now-no, ten men! Just wait and see!"

Jack rolled his eyes, not wanting to argue further.

Seeing that Jack remained unmoved, Bella's gaze shifted cunningly. She sneered and said, "Jack, do you really think Amelia likes you? Let me tell you, there are tons of guys chasing her. She's just playing with you."

But Jack didn't bother to listen any longer. At that moment, the competition in the auditorium had already begun.

Inside the hall, the host's enthusiastic voice echoed, and the massive audience erupted into thunderous applause.
