Chapter 48: Opportunity Dice

Xin Lin incredulously asked the heavens, "To hell with your Life Book hints!"

"Can you be any more shameless, Heaven-defying Book? Level not sufficient, what's the freaking point in asking?"

Xin Lin took a deep breath, holding back her resentment, "This is just a false alarm to get people's hopes up."

Human-level it is then; she really wanted to see what kind of mischief the Human-level Future Book could cause.

On the Future Book, a burst of light twinkled; suddenly, a golden flash appeared, and a new image began to emerge on the blank page.

Last time, the image that appeared on the Future Book was that scrapped Sealing Spirit Talisman.

The image could turn into a physical object; Xin Lin stared at the image, silently hoping for a grand prize.

Any Bone Marrow Cleansing Pill, any Super Weapon, just one or two of them would do.

The image gradually became clearer, the first thing that caught her eye was a white square object with a few red dots.

On the Human-level Future Book, a dice appeared.

Xin Lin twitched the corner of her eye; she wasn't seeing things, right? A single dice counted as a reward now?

"Congratulations life master, you have gained one Opportunity Dice."

Another line of text appeared below the dice icon in the Life Book.

The next moment, Xin Lin's hand held a plump, round dice; at a glance, it looked just like any normal gambling dice, white base with six faces, each marked with numbers.

It seemed that this so-called Opportunity Dice was the reward from the Human-level Future Book.

Without much thought, Xin Lin threw the dice in her hand, it rolled around, eventually landing on the ground.

It spun for a brief moment and finally stopped, the number "six" facing up.

Xin Lin smirked; after all, her title as Female Soldier King wasn't for nothing.

Back when she first escaped the Dark Organization and needed a way to survive, she had learned a few tricks from a wandering old gambler in the streets - throwing dice was definitely her forte, throwing "666" was a piece of cake for her.

"Congratulations life master, you have received one Participation Prize from the Opportunity Dice."

Another line of text appeared on the Future Book.

Participation Prize?

Xin Lin couldn't help but feel unable to laugh, along with a very ominous premonition.

"Thank you for participating."

On the Future Book, a line of text quickly appeared and then swiftly vanished, along with the Opportunity Dice disappearing as well.

"!!!"

"Heaven-defying Book, can you be even more of a scam? 10 Heaven-defying Points only for a 'thank you for participating'!"

Xin Lin squeezed these words out through her gritted teeth.

No need to wait until she's Eighteen Years Old, Xin Lin felt like dying now.

Soon, the first hundred cycles in the Heaven-defying Book could turn into: Longteng Xin Lin, Fourteen Years Old, cause of death, died of anger.

"Life master can use another 10 Heaven-defying Points to exchange for another dice throw."

Facing the gritting life master, Xin Lin, the line of text appeared on the Future Book in no hurry and vanished just as leisurely.

"Can Heaven-defying Points directly exchange for elixirs?"

Xin Lin said irritably.

"Cannot."

"Can it exchange for Magical Treasure Secret Manuals?"

"Cannot +1."

"Can it exchange for gold and silver treasures then?"

"Cannot +2."

"What can it exchange for then?"

Xin Lin no longer had the strength to argue with this lousy book.

If it weren't for her hundreds of lifetimes of experience and exceptional disposition, she probably would have been angered to death by it already.

"Opportunity Dice."

"Let's go again then; I don't believe that I will get just a Participation Prize this time too."

Left with no choice, Xin Lin tried the Opportunity Dice once more.

In front of her, the Opportunity Dice appeared again.

This time, Xin Lin got smart; with a flick of her finger, the dice rolled, eventually stopping on the number "one."
