

Little Girl 77

Chapter 77: His Ghost Vein, Her Rebirth

What the hell!

Gui Hu's almost expressionless handsome face twitched violently.

Even Gui Hu had never seen such a bizarre situation before.

Xin Lin's Five Meridians were originally wasted veins, blocked and impervious to True Qi.

But after the Body and Marrow Cleansing, not only were her Five Meridians not unblocked, they disappeared from her body one after another!

First the Heart Meridian, then the Liver Meridian, one by one they disappeared, until at last, even the last Kidney Meridian vanished.

The Fu Xi's Energy within Xin Lin's body also became weaker and weaker, almost disappearing.

If he hadn't seen it with his own eyes, Gui Hu would have never believed it.

A bottle of Bone Marrow Cleansing Powder, not only did it fail to unblock her Five Meridians, it devoured all of her Five Meridians.

When Little Budian wakes up and sees this outcome, she'd probably be so angry she'd scream her head off.

"Just wait and see, one day, I will become someone who will make you take a second look."

Before taking the Bone Marrow Cleansing Powder, Little Budian had patted her flat chest and hollered at the Sealing Spirit Talisman.

That attitude was clearly meant for Gui Hu to hear.

Gui Hu glanced at Xin Lin who, due to extreme pain, had her face contorted, that decent-looking little face wrinkled up unsightly.

Logically speaking, seeing her so unlucky, he should be taking delight in her misery.

But for some reason, when he thought of the despondency that would appear on her little face after knowing all this, he felt somehow irritated.

"Sikong Ran... revenge... four years..."

Under extreme pain, Xin Lin unconsciously uttered a few words.

She... Gui Hu watched as the Five Meridians inside her completely disappeared, his brows tightly knit.

"I help you, not simply out of help, it's because you're my hen. You owe a small favor, and you must repay it a hundredfold."

Gui Hu's ghost claw reached out towards his own chest.

With a hissing sound, the ghost claw, chilling and flashing, stabbed into his chest.

On his pale skin, a cut swiftly opened, and the ghost claw reached several inches deep.

A flash of red light, blood dripped onto the ground, and a fierce wound appeared on the man's chest, his already pale face becoming even uglier.

In his hand, there appeared a golden meridian.

That meridian, even after leaving the body, pulsed powerfully, revealing strong Life Force.

Gui Hu's ghost claw reached out in front of Xin Lin, and with a flash of golden light, the Ghost Vein from Gui Hu drilled into Xin Lin's body as a stream of flowing gold.

Foreign object entering the body, Xin Lin trembled.

But as the Ghost Vein entered her body, her continuously feverish temperature began to drop.

Her violently convulsing body also started to relax gradually, and the pain in her face began to fade away.

"Remember, the matter of the Ghost Vein, Heaven knows, Earth knows, I know, you know."

Gui Hu, covering the wound, looked at Xin Lin with a profound gaze, these words seemingly spoken to her, but in reality they were not for her.

He definitely did not want to allow that Little Budian to gloat.

The Ghost Vein is Heaven-defying, but given his current condition, he could not utilize the Ghost Vein's power; it was better to let this little ghost get her wish and succeed in her Cultivation.

Inside Xin Lin's mind, the Heaven-defying Book trembled slightly as if sensing the serious warning in the man's words.

Originally appeared on the Past Book, obtaining the Unrivaled Ghost Vein, Heaven-defying Value...

That line of text quickly faded, leaving no trace on the Past Book.

Leaving behind only the Sealing Spirit Talisman fallen on the ground.

Outside the dilapidated temple, the torrential rain gradually lessened into a gentle drizzle.

On the moss-grown eaves, a rainbow appeared.
