

Chapter 14

After Cristina's positive answer to his proposal of marriage, Liam started the preparations of marriage. He couldn't waste any time because they both didn't know when her brothers will take actions towards her. He arranged a wedding gown for her and some make artists to get her ready until he registered for the marriage in church with the application of urgency.

On the other side of his mind was his baby sister, Vanessa. He wanted her to attend his marriage but he couldn't take the risk of bringing her out of his penthouse when the situations are critical. He decided that after marrying he will straightly take Cristina to his penthouse and will introduce her to Vanessa.

Not having any one close to him available at that moment he only informed about the marriage to Ivan and Martin, his uncles who were no less than family. He tried to keep the marriage as private as possible because he couldn't let her brother do anything smart between their marriage to stop it.

They reached the church and he was standing in the altar waiting for Christina while Martin patted his shoulder firmly consoling him. He wanted this special to be other way wise. Where is mama would be the one to choose Cristina's dress and arrange all the wedding according to herself. He wanted his parents presence at his special day while her sister would be playing and teasing him like age always does.

He sighed that his dream got broken but still he was satisfied because of the woman he was getting married to. Cristina is the only woman he can think off because she was always there where no one was with him. She was supporting him in his struggle when he was away from his parents.

Suddenly the door opened gaining evryone's attention present there in the hall and then he saw her. Clapsed in a beautiful white wedding gown while veil covering her face. She was looking so beautiful just like he always imagined her. She is a calm and composed woman perfect for his life, full of chaos.

She keeps him sane, oriented and other word we could give which relates to perfect. Her arm was linked with Ivan's hand who decided to walk her in the aisle as she has no one other than her brothers who will never in he dreams will walk her to Liam in the aisle. Cristina was also very nervous of their decisions.

She was not nervous but scared. Liam took the decision impulsively but she knew what her brothers could do to them once they get to know that she got married to their rival's son. The same man in whom's company they sent her for taking out secret and useful information. They will surely hang her alive. Her should shuddered thinking that but she pushed all her thoughts away and concentrated on her man standing in front of her in the altar waiting for her.

She smiled at him through the veil and he came forward extending his hand towards her. Ivan handed her hand to Liam and they felt a spark between them. A sudden happiness of becoming one, satisfaction of being with each other's at the end but little did they this was not the end they were thinking of.

"Take care of my new sister." Ivan said wiping his tear dramatically referring to Cristina. He took her as his sister now and the sudden new relation was already blooming.

Liam and Cristina both chuckled at his over acting and he took her in front of the priest, they both stood there facing the priest. The priest started chanting the mantras and then asked both of them to repeat the vows after him.

Liam and Cristina both chuckled at his over acting and he took her in front of the priest, they both stood there facing the priest. The priest started chanting the mantras and then asked both of them to repeat the vows after him.

"I, Liam ovich Gorbachev, take you, Cristina Maria Fernandez, to be my wife, to have and to hold from this day forward, for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health, to love and to cherish, till death us do part, according to God's holy law, in the presence of God I make this vow." Liam took his vows looking at Cristina and she blushed.

"I, Cristina Maria Fernandez, take you, Liam ovich Gorbachev, to be my husband, to have and to hold from this day forward, for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health, to love and to cherish, till death us do part, according to God's holy law, in the presence of God I make this vow." Cristina said looking back into Liam's grey eyes.

The vows they both took were from the deep of their hearts and they knew that they will never let each other down and respect the vows. After the vows the priest asked both to exchange their rings.

Liam extended his hand towards Cristina making Martin to give her a ring which she slide into Liam's ring finger then Martin gave a beautiful diamond ring to Liam which he softly slide into Cristina's ring finger and kissed the back of her palm lingering his lips there.

"I pronounce you lawfully as husband and wife. You may kiss the bride." The priest announced.

Liam took a step towards Cristina and lifted her veil revealing her beautiful face. His grey eyes softened because he can never get enough of her. He cupped her cheeks softly making Ivan to cheer both of them making Martin a little embarrassed and he just wanted to dig a hole to hid from everyone. His husband never leaves any chance to embarrass him.

Liam took her lips between his softly and sucked feverishly savouring the moment. She couldn't tell how muc happy and overwhelmed of emotions he was feeling and he just wanted to go out and shout loudly telling everyone that this woman belongs to him. She is his wife, his other half. After kissing her contently he took his face back and thanked father walking towards him and taking his blessings.

Finally he made this woman his. Ivan and Martin came towards, hugging him one by one they both congratulated both of them. But still there was a void in Liam's heart because of the absence of his mama, papa and baby sister. Without them his happiness is still not full. He knows that his relations with his father are not in good terms but still he can't forget that the name he has today is only given by him.

Liam took Cristina's hand in his making Ivan to smirk at them slyly maki Martin to roll his eyes at him knowing now he is about to comment something stupid. Before Ivan could open his mouth Martin palmed his mouth muffling his voice making Liam and Cristina startled but nonetheless they chuckled knowing if Martin has done something then it would be for everyone's good being.

"I think we should leave now. You both should also go home and rest.
" Martin suggested being the sensible elder unlike Ivan.

They both nodded at him and bid their goodbyes to their uncles and sat inside Liam's car driving away from the church. There was a smile playing on Liam's lips making Cristina confused.

"Why are you smiling like that?" She asked him making Liam's attention to turn at her.

"Because now you are mine." He said giddily making her roll her eyes at him.

"Like I was someone else's before." She said sarcastically but Liam nodded at her words making her frown.

"Yes you were your brothers' sister but now you are my wife. Mine only." He said took her left hand in his right while with the other he was driving.

He intertwined their fingers together kissing the back of her palm making Cristina to feel hot and shy at the same time. He is acting like he had won some trophy or something. She shake her head at his childish behaviour. He is not like some typical cold man but he is expressive and open up which she likes about him a lot. She don't have to force anything out of him but he himself tells her what's going on in his mind.

"I want you to meet my sister today." He told her making her to look at him.

"Doesn't she live with your parents?" Cristina asked him confusingly.

"No from few days mama and papa are out of the country and she is living with me." He informed her making her pout at him.

"Why didn't you tell me before?" She said slapping his arm making him confused.

"Why?" He asked him raising his brow at her looking all hot and handsome.

"I would have prepared myself before meeting her." She said and Liam chuckled at her words.

"She is not some interviewer that you have to prepare yourself from earlier. She is the sorted and innocent girl you will ever meet." Liam said dreamily thinking about his baby sister.

"I know about her being so naive because of you always talking about her only but sometimes it scares me that how will she face the outer world." Cristina said showing her worry towards his baby sister, Vanessa.

"You are talking like my mama now." Liam said sighing but from inside he knows that they are not wrong either.

"Yeah?" Cristina asked him.

"Hmm." he hummed lost in his thoughts about Vanessa.
