

LLPD Chapter 1061

Chapter 1061 How would you choose

"Did you say Norah Jones?" asked Jared, raising an eyebrow.

How did this go from the teacher to the teacher's granddaughter?

What the hell is she up to?

"So the old Mr. Jones' granddaughter is named Norah." Amber smiled lightly, "Quite a lovely name, you still haven't answered me, what is your impression of this Miss Norah, is."

"Nothing rings a bell." Jared thought for a moment, and only a childish, but blurred and almost unrecognizable face came to mind.

"Nothing rings a bell?" This answer, on the contrary, made Amber freeze for a moment.

I thought that since he respected the old Mr. Jones so much, he must have been impressed with the old Mr. Jones' family.

Unexpectedly, his answer actually surpassed her expectation.

Also, she could tell that he seemed to be telling the truth.

"How can you not be impressed? Isn't she your teacher's granddaughter? It's only logical that you should know each other well, or even be childhood friends, right?" Amber pursed her lips and looked at the man.

The man's eyebrows are wrinkled, then reached out and flicked her forehead, "I am learning something from the teacher, not from his granddaughter, so how familiar can I be with his granddaughter? You've been a pen pal since you were about ten years old, so we're childhood friends, aren't we?"

Amber covered her forehead that was sore from his flick, and the smile on her face, finally had a hint of temperature, "I thought, you and that Miss Jones were still close, a childhood friend."

Also, Jared never said who he was childhood friends with.

The notion that he was a childhood friend of the Jones family was also something she thought of herself when she learned that the person who was causing the trouble was the Jones family lady.

After all, Miss Jones is his teacher's granddaughter, and the two will get along more or less well.

No, it was all too much for her.

Since Jared didn't know that Miss Jones very well, nor was he the childhood friend she thought he was.

Then Jared knew that the person behind it was Miss Jones, would he not cover it up?

Thinking about it, Amber thought she should give Jared a chance to test the waters.

With that in mind, Amber looked at Jared, "So, you don't have any feelings for Miss Jones, do you?"

Jared laughed at her comment, "What kind of relationship could I have with her?"

Neither is very familiar.

At best, the relationship is uncle and nephew, only met a few times, said a few times.

Beyond that, there is nothing more.

"That's good." Amber nodded, "But you know, this Miss Jones likes you? I'm not talking about between uncle and nephew, but between a man and a woman."

At those words, Jared froze.

But Cole, who hadn't spoken, suddenly realized something and opened his mouth wide in shock, "Amber, you're not trying to say that the person who did this is this Norah, right? You just said that the person who did this thing, is Jared's suitor, you now do not say others, suddenly said this Norah like Jared, then obviously, you are telling us again, this thing, is this Norah did."

"Is that true?" Jared's face suddenly turned ugly.

Amber looked at him, and finally nodded slowly, "Yes, Cole guessed so, this thing, this Miss Jones did, originally I did not know at first, after I called directly to Squirrel Channel, bribed the Squirrel Channel editor-in-chief's secretary, and then that secretary from I called Squirrel Channel and bribed the secretary of Squirrel Channel's editor-in-chief, and then the secretary got it from their editor-in-chief."

She picks her phone up, taps on the recording Jimmy sent her, and plays it out for Jared and Cole to hear.

In the recording, Squirrel Channel's editor-in-chief made it clear that the whole thing was planned by that Norah.

Norah paid off the editor-in-chief of Squirrel Channel a week ago and had the editor-in-chief of Squirrel Channel place a reporter near her to keep an eye on her, just to capture her histrionics.

Even if you can't shoot, you can take pictures of her walking close to a man, and then a little retouching, you can still create rumors on the Internet.

No, this is how she and Cole were filmed entering the hotel.

And Norah also gave the Squirrel Channel editor-in-chief a piece of her mind, promising to keep him in the face of Jared's retaliation.

It's not until the editor-in-chief of Squirrel Channel has acted like a leopard and rushed to make rumors about Jared's current girlfriend online.

Listening to the entire recording, Jared was undoubtedly shaken to the core.

How could he have imagined that the one who was behind the trouble was actually the teacher's granddaughter?

He was not particularly familiar with Norah, but he knew that she was a lively and lovely girl.

But unexpectedly, this is the girl he thought was cute, but actually secretly had that kind of idea for him, and now he is also evil-minded to do this kind of underhanded behavior to trap his woman.

It seems that after seven years of absence, it became more than just a teacher.

The teacher's granddaughter, too, has become faceless.

For a while, Jared did not speak, his face was incomparably gloomy, and the breath around him was cold and terrible.

Amber knew that he was devastated.

She also understood him.

After all, it is the teacher's granddaughter.

And before that, Jared didn't think it was the teacher's granddaughter who did it.

Now after learning, the mood naturally some can not pass this hurdle.

After all, in Jared's heart, teachers are the ones to respect.

But the teacher's granddaughter, indeed, is such a person.

I believe that anyone else will be shocked to it.

So Amber was quiet, too, not bothering Jared and just letting him digest it on his own.

But Cole on the side is not so kind, know is Jared teacher's granddaughter behind the trouble, angry directly stood up, a grab Jared's collar, angry roar: "Well, no wonder that woman and Squirrel Channel dare so bold, so it is you behind the ah, also, that is your teacher's granddaughter, you can see your teacher is listening to you, right? I'm afraid they already knew that you'd ignore her behavior for the sake of your teacher."

Speaking of which, Cole thought of something and gave Amber a look, "I kind of understand why Amber said not to clarify for the time being, it was to test you, so Amber also thought you would not count that Miss Jones for the sake of your teacher."

Jared's pupils snapped shut and his expression froze as he looked at Amber, "You really think I'd cover for her?"

Amber's red lips moved for a few seconds before she slowly spoke, "What Cole said is true, I do wonder if you would do it, after all, the other party is your mentor's granddaughter, how would you choose, I really don't dare to make a decision, and I also know that you are caught between me and your mentor, it's not a good choice to make."

Jared listened to Amber's words, and it was impossible for his heart not to care.

It turns out that she actually didn't fully believe in him yet, and he would always be on her side.

This, no doubt, hurt him a little.

"I want to know what you would do if I chose my benefactor and was prepared to take a lighter approach to this matter?" Jared clenched his fists and stared at the woman.

The woman has not opened her mouth, aside Cole sneered, "How else can? Of course is to break up ah, you choose your teacher to handle this matter lightly, is in aggravation Amber, let Amber this time the scolding white suffer, and this kind of thing has the first time there is a second, you choose your teacher this time, later you will only choose your teacher, more aggravation Amber, then Amber still follow you to do what?"

Chapter 1062 Never Changed

Cole's words were his own, so Amber simply closed her mouth and acquiesced.

Jared's palms closed again, and the joints crackled from squeezing so tightly.

"I won't let you break up with me, and I won't even give you that chance." Jared stared at Amber, word for word, spitting out clear and firm words.

She was the one he loved for more than a decade, and the one he got and missed, and finally almost took his life to regain.

How could he allow her to break up with himself.

Don't even think about it.

Amber saw this meaning in Jared's eyes and her heart shook, finally her red lips moved and she spoke, "So, you are planning to choose me between me and your benefactor, are you?"

Jared held her in his arms in front of Cole, his big hand on the back of her head, his expression reverent, "Yes, I choose you."

Although the heart has a foreboding, but personally heard Jared said so, Amber heart still inevitably a burst of surprise.

She gently backed out of Jared's arms, then tilted her head and looked at the man in front of her, "Are you sure? You know, the other party is your benefactor, although this matter, not your benefactor did not do, but your benefactor's granddaughter did, but I think, your benefactor must want you to make a big deal out of it and save your granddaughter, if you don't want to, your benefactor will really be open and accept to give up in good faith?"

"But pull back." Cole rolled his eyes, "the old Mr. Jones I've seen twice before, is a brainless old man, especially in his family's younger generation, his favorite, is that Norah, the Jones family boys, only Norah a girl, so you can imagine, Norah in the Jones family how favored. The Jones family how favored, not only the Jones family others spoiled her, the old Mr. Jones is the granddaughter as the eye like pain, the people are spoiled are not aware of, but also thought it is the nature of the little girl, but also proud of it."

Speaking of this, Cole's face suddenly became full of contempt, "Amber, I don't know if you've heard of something, eight years ago, I went to a party, the old Mr. Jones family was also in, originally that party atmosphere is quite harmonious, all of them raised a glass, talking to each other, but the result is not long, a group of The old Mr. Jones family was there, and the party was quite harmonious, and everyone was drinking and chatting, but before long, a group of ladies suddenly got into a fight, and guess why?"

Amber shook her head, "I don't know, I haven't been to this party you speak of."

Eight years ago, Dad was still alive and still the chairman of Goldstone Co.

But by that time, Goldstone Co. was already in a downward spiral.

So many of the hosts of the party, will not send invitations to them the Reed Family.

Naturally, she could not attend the banquet, let alone know everything that happened at it.

So Amber looked over at Jared, her eyes clearly asking: Do you know what Cole said about this?

Jared shook his head slightly, "I don't know, I didn't attend this party either, there were so many parties, how would I have time to go to every one of them?"

The corners of Amber's mouth twitched.

Although it is known that he is not lying, after all, with his status, it is a normal thing to receive invitations to all parties.

Even if he does not go to participate, no one will say anything.

But to her ears, it was really enviable and jealous.

You know, many people are willing to go through all kinds of channels and spend all kinds of big money for a banquet invitation, just to attend the banquet and make friends with some people of high status.

But what about him.

What others want and can't get, he doesn't even have to ask for it, it's offered with both hands and it depends on whether he's in the mood to attend.

If you go to attend, the host of the party even welcomes you personally, and if you don't, no one says anything.

This is the difference between people and the gap between ah.

Amber didn't want to talk to Jared anymore, lest she be invisible to Versailles again later, so she hurriedly shifted her gaze and looked back at Cole, "Cole, go on, what is the reason?"

Cole responded, continued to just say, "The reason is, just because a girl, bought a dress that Norah did not buy, Norah was angry splashed wine, was splashed with wine daughter is also spoiled by the family, naturally, it is impossible not to temper, and then the two people fought, and finally with them other girls, also joined the fight The fight inside, the original good party, to make a mess, and finally the girls' families heard about it, have rushed over."

"And then what?" Amber was piqued, "How did it all work out in the end?"

Cole snickered, "In the end, it was the girl who had the drink thrown at her that apologized to Norah and ended up paying Norah a lot of things."

"What?" Amber felt as if she had heard a big joke, and her whole body was gasped, "This is outrageous, actually the victim apologized and compensated to the perpetrator, this ridiculous thing is the first time I heard of it."

Don't say Amber feel outrageous, as a little relationship with the perpetrators of Jared, find it very funny.

But combine that with the teacher's protective nature.

He for the handling of this matter, the heart to already have a few clear.

"You think it's funny too, don't you?" Cole swept a contemplative Jared a glance and skimmed, "What caused all this is Norah's grandfather, Jared's teacher, and the old man I just said who is brainless and protective, after he understood the cause and effect, instead of teaching his granddaughter a lesson, he put the fault all on another girl, and the meaning of the words is that that The girl should not wear that dress, as long as not to wear, there will be no such thing, in short, the fault is all others, not his granddaughter, the girl and the girl's family popular, but can not do anything, just because the Jones family behind there is a the Farrell Family."

Cole nudged towards Jared, "Well, it's the Farrell Family, Olkmore know, the old Mr. Jones is Jared's teacher, Jared has always respected the old Mr. Jones, so the girl's family worried about angering the Farrell Family behind the The Farrell Family behind the Jones family, can only fight off the teeth and blood swallowed, bear the bad breath, take the initiative to the Jones family apologize, so Amber you now know, the old Mr. Jones how protective it? And still no reason for the morbid bias to help, knowing that their own granddaughter's fault, but still deliberately as not see, so the Jones family, a look at the Jones family is not what good things."

The words were followed by a cold stare from Jared.

Cole stuck his neck up, "What are you looking at? I'm going to say it even if you don't like it, and am I wrong? Your mentor, that is such a person, but also a professor, I think it is not right and wrong, and the whole Olkmore who does not know the Jones family that bit of shit?"

Jared didn't say anything.

Amber looked at the man, "So what Cole said is true? Your benefactor, is he really that protective?"

Jared slanted Cole and finally nodded slowly, "The teacher is indeed too protective of her granddaughter, but I didn't know about this thing he said, nor had I heard about it."

"Just because you haven't heard about it doesn't mean it didn't happen." Cole looped his arms and said contemptuously, "And the reason you haven't heard, it's because the Jones family couldn't have taken the initiative to tell you, after all, to solve this matter, or used your prestige, if they took the initiative to tell you, wouldn't you know that they used your name to play the prestige outside? Finally others do not say to you, it is even simpler, is not afraid that you know, also with the Jones family, the same, no reason to deal with them? So of course these people tacitly concealed from you."

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1063 Trust me, okay?

Jared face gloomy as if to drip out of water, let people look, the heart can not help but follow the tightening.

This matter, if not Cole said, he really did not know.

He didn't suspect Cole was telling lies either; after all, he could investigate whenever he wanted to.

Cole is not afraid of his investigation, so it's only true.

Originally he thought that the teacher and Norah had changed in character only in the past few years.

But it turns out that they had changed eight years ago.

No, maybe it hasn't changed.

Perhaps they had always been like that, they just hadn't shown it in front of him.

So he never knew that the real face of them turned out to be so ugly.

"I'm sorry." Jared took Amber's hand, "I knew Sensei was always protective, but I didn't expect it to be this protective and to use my name for these things."

Amber drops her eyes and doesn't say anything.

Cole pointed to Jared, "Amber you see you see, he himself has admitted the old Mr. Jones brainless protection, so if Jared must pursue this matter, to find the old man Jones' granddaughter to settle accounts, the old Mr. Jones willing to be strange, must come up with their own teacher's identity, to force Jared not to pursue this matter. I reckon that Norah is because she knows her grandfather will do this for her, so she is not afraid of the earth."

"That being said, I believe Cole said that." Amber rubbed her cheek, "It is because this Miss Jones knows that her grandfather loves her and is willing to pull off anything for her that she dares to be so bold, including this time as well, I believe that eventually your teacher, will definitely step in and let you spare Miss Jones, you"

"I won't spare her." Jared replied immediately.

Amber was happy in her heart, but still a little worried, "What if your teacher has to ask you to spare her? You know, he is your teacher, someone you respect, he asked you to bypass his granddaughter as a teacher, and if you don't want to, aren't you worried that he will say outside that you don't respect your teacher?"

Jared looked at her, showing a confident smile, "No, the Jones family these two generations, out of all the people are waste, none of them can take, so the Jones family needs to depend on me, to be able to maintain the current status and decency, once the break with me, to the Jones family Once you break with me, the Jones family's ability to waste, it won't take long to make the Jones family disappear in the ranks of the gentry, the teacher is confused in the offspring, but not so confused that he can't see reality, so he will never threaten me like this."

"Really?" Amber's back straightened slightly.

"Really!" Jared wrapped his big, smooth hands around the back of her waist.

Her waist is very thin, not more than a full grip.

Jared's large hands were open just the width of her slender waist.

Cuddle up, not to mention how good it feels in the hand.

Jared's eyes darkened and his hands wrapped around her slender waist, and he couldn't help but knead her waist.

Amber glared at the man without good grace.

If Cole hadn't been here, she would have just taken the man's hand away.

But with Cole around, it's not good for her to do that.

The movement is too large and will be seen by Cole.

It will be a little awkward when he and Jared are hugging in front of him.

Cole did not know that the man and woman sitting across from him, actually took advantage of the blockage of the desk to cuddle under his nose, the whole moment is questioning Jared's words, "Even if he will not use this method to blackmail you, but in case you really deal with his granddaughter, he will expel you from the division to the outside world, then your reputation can be infamous, the outside world will have to speculate what you actually did. What, actually let your teacher expel you from the division, can you accept the outside world's speculation?"

Cole felt that someone like Jared, for sure, could not.

Amber also looked at Jared.

It's not that she wants to force him.

Rather, she really couldn't stand the fact that the person who had harmed her had lent her connections to get away with the punishment so easily.

After all, she doesn't even know Miss Jones, so why should she be bullied by Miss Jones just because she's with Jared?

What's more, she swore that whoever bullied her, she would hit back and would never repay her grievances with virtue.

So naturally, she wanted to know Jared's attitude, to know which side he would be on, and whether he would be evasive and lightly taken for some reason.

Anyway, whatever Jared chooses, she won't let it go so easily.

Jared stood beside her and focused on punishing that Miss Jones, who of course was most pleased.

But if Jared chose to side with his teacher and listen to his teacher and let Miss Jones go, or let Miss Jones go because he was afraid of being expelled from the division and being called ungrateful, she wasn't afraid.

She has two recordings in her hand, which is already enough to put that Miss Jones on the shelf and make that Miss Jones infamous.

So, she is not worried at all.

For now, though, she still wants to see what Jared's options are.

Jared naturally knew what Amber meant when she looked at him, he sighed lightly and stroked the top of her head, "Trust me some, okay?"

"You come up with the exact answer, and we'll believe you." Without waiting for Amber to answer, Cole across the table wiggled his legs and was the first to open his mouth.

Jared gave him a cool look, and the meaning in his eyes was clear: You talk too much!

Cole rolled his eyes, grunted and was very arrogant

I am so talkative, what can you do to me?

Cole lifted his chin slightly and looked provocatively at Jared.

Jared didn't bother to pay attention to him.

If not for the fact that this guy is the son of the Lyon Family couple and is a friend of Little Leaf.

He wasn't going to give this guy the chance to be arrogant in front of him.

Jared treated Cole as if he was airborne and quickly put Cole behind him and looked at Amber, "Why can't you accept outside speculation? So what if they speculate? Do they dare to stand in front of me and tell me? Not to mention, do I care what the outside world thinks of me?"

Amber shook her head, "Like she doesn't care."

"Of course I don't care." Jared smoothed her hair out again, "Are there any less various opinions about me from the outside world now? But I never bother, neither in the past nor in the future, so I don't care about being expelled, my status is here, whether I will be expelled or not, it won't matter to me, and furthermore, the teacher will not expel me from the division, expulsion from the division, that doesn't mean a break with me, then the Jones family will not be in rapid decline? "

In short, it's a closed loop.

Whatever the case may be, the Jones family will not break with him.

Unless, of course, the Jones family doesn't want to continue to be brilliant.

Cole heard Jared's words, his mouth moved, as if he wanted to question something, but could not say anything to question.

Because he understood the meaning of Jared's words.

It is the Jones family that will never, and dare not, really offend Jared.

"Now do you believe I won't compromise because of the teacher?" Jared looked at Amber, his thin lips slightly curled.

Amber ummed and ahed, "Not bad, but even if your teacher won't really break with you because you didn't promise to leave Miss Jones alone, but in his heart he will certainly blame you for your mentorship with him"

"It's okay." Jared played with her hand.

Her hands are long and slender, also soft and white, the skin is very smooth, Jared played lovingly, "I have not seen my teacher and I for many years, originally there is not much teacher-disciple love, plus the teacher in a place I do not know, using my name to do a lot of other things, has made me discontent, plus this time, if the teacher can be just and righteous, then I can also maintain the superficial teacher-disciple relationship with him, if not, then as a stranger."

Chapter 1064 Ben calls

His words were so absolute that Amber had nothing more to say, but her heart was happy.

Simply because Jared, either way, chose her.

Then naturally she didn't have to worry about what would happen next, and he wouldn't put the matter off just because the old Mr. Jones was his teacher.

It is not that she is hard-hearted and has to force Jared to break up with his teacher, and it is not that she has to hold on to this matter and has to make that Miss Jones pay the price.

Rather, she knew that if she let them off the hook once she went soft and was concerned about the fact that they were Jared's teacher and niece.

They will not be grateful to her for this, and will only find her even more weak and deceivable, and will only become more aggressive towards her in the future.

Just because they think that she will still spare them for the sake of their relationship with Jared.

So people, ah, some times, must not be soft-hearted, and do not care about what the relationship does not matter.

Otherwise, you will only leave yourself open to potential problems.

Furthermore, the person who is related to the Jones family is Jared, not her Amber.

There was a flash of light in Amber's eyes, which was fleeting.

Cole, who had been questioning Jared and singing against him, had nothing to say.

Jared has said that he is willing to give Amber this justice and can cut ties with the Jones family.

So what else can he say?

But he still admires Jared in his heart.

Jared, the man, is sensible enough and emotionally sober enough.

Not the kind of person who is indecisive and will be led by some inexplicable emotions.

In short, as long as Jared can always be so sensible and sober, then Amber, should not suffer any aggravation.

So Cole, although still not used to Jared, but also stopped talking about Jared what.

Jared didn't want to know what Cole's attitude towards himself, didn't even look at Cole, rubbed Amber's head and stood up, "Since we already know who did this, the rest, I'll fix it."

Amber's red lips twitched and she was about to say something when Jared's cell phone suddenly rang, interrupting her.

With no choice, Amber had to keep her mouth shut and gesture for him to answer the phone first.

Jared picked up on her meaning and took the phone out and looked at it, seeing that it was Ben calling and thinking what was important, he didn't hesitate to put the phone to his ear, "Hello."

"Mr. Farrell, I came back from Squirrel Channel, the person behind this matter, I also pried out from the mouth of that Mr. Brown." At the other end of the phone, Ben walked out of the door of Squirrel Channel and stood in front of the car, turning his head to look at Squirrel Channel behind him, his expression was very complicated and heavy.

Jared's eyes narrowed dangerously as he listened to Ben's words, "Go on."

Ben knew he was letting himself go on, and after taking a breath and slightly calming the complexities within, he slowly spoke, "That Mr. Brown said Said"

He talked for half a day, but he didn't get to the point.

Jared's eyebrows knitted together and some impatience was evident on his face, "Hang up if you don't talk."

"I said I said." Ben, fearing that Jared would hang up, hurriedly responded, stating that he would never hesitate to dwell on it again.

Sure enough, Jared put the phone is back to his ear, "Then talk."

Ben answered, at the same time also seems to have made up his mind what to pay attention to, closed his eyes, the next second, eyes in the open, the eyes no longer have any confusion and other looks, become very calm and clear, and then open, finally just did not finish the words, said.

"Mr. Farrell, Mr. Brown of Squirrel Channel said that this matter was approached by Miss Norah and asked him to do it, a week ago, Miss Norah had called Mr. Brown and asked Mr. Brown to arrange a reporter to follow Miss Reed in an attempt to take Miss Reed's scandalous photos, but a week down the road, Squirrel Channel's reporter did not take any photos to make people think more, so Squirrel Channel side is ready to fake photos, on Miss Reed, but before that, Miss Reed and Mr. Lyon in and out of the hotel, to always The reporter who had been following Miss Reed saw it, and then the online scandal emerged."

After a pause, Ben did not wait for any response on the phone, for a while could not guess what Jared meant, and then went on to speak, "According to Mr. Brown, Miss Norah did this because she likes Mr. Farrell, so she specially created Miss Reed's scandal to make you break up. "

"I know." Jared glanced at Amber, his voice icy as he returned.

Ben was confused and then exclaimed, "You know, Mr. Farrell, you know that Miss Norah did this, and you know what Miss Norah's reasons for doing it are?"

Jared hummed.

Ben took a breath.

This shouldn't be.

He's only just come out of the Squirrel Channel side, and by definition, he's the one who should know first.

How come Mr. Farrell knew about it before he did?

"Little Leaf told me." As if he knew what Ben was thinking, Jared spelled out how he knew.

Amber also guessed what he was talking about on this call from this statement and smiled faintly.

As for Cole, he already took out his phone and started playing games.

Anyway, Jared already knew about it and made it clear that he was on Amber's side no matter what.

Then why does he have to worry about it?

Leave it all to Jared to annoy.

"I can't believe Miss Reed told you that?" Ben let out another gasp, disbelief written all over his face.

What's going on?

How did Miss Reed know?

He only just learned about it, but Miss Reed knew about it long before he did?

When did Miss Reed become more powerful than Mr. Farrell?

Ben said he couldn't figure it out.

How could Jared not understand Ben's thoughts, his eyes fixed on Amber rather proudly, "We can think of going directly from the Squirrel Channel side, and Little Leaf can't?"

Amber was looked at by him more or less uncomfortable, awkward sweet awkward sweet.

The embarrassing thing is that she which is as good as he says and actually makes him proud like this.

And the sweet thing is that he is actually so proud of himself and feels that she makes him proud.

This man, but really

Amber shook her head and lost her smile.

On the other end of the phone, Ben was blocked from speaking by Jared's words.

Oh, don't think he can't hear, Mr. Farrell is taunting him stupid, actually can't even think of such a simple thing.

However, he really hadn't thought about it.

So, he's really stupid?

Ben had a moment of heartburn.

Jared didn't care what Ben was feeling at the moment, put his inner pride in Amber away and treasured it in the deepest part of his heart, then his face turned back to cold indifference, "How's that editor-in-chief?"

When Jared said this, Amber's ears twitched slightly and her body shifted toward Jared.

It was obvious that she wanted to hear it too.

From just now Jared's words 'we can all think, Little Leaf can't'.

She probably guessed that Ben had found out that Norah was behind it, and used much the same method as she did.

The difference is that she started with someone close to that editor-in-chief, threatened someone close to that editor-in-chief, and asked someone close to the editor-in-chief, to poke around for her.

Jared, on the other hand, probably went straight to the editor-in-chief for questioning.

Otherwise, Jared wouldn't have asked Ben what happened to the editor-in-chief.

And with what she knew about Jared, she guessed that the so-called cross-examination was coming straight to hard.

So now she also wants to know what happened to the editor-in-chief.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1065 - Demanding benefits in public

Jared noticed Amber's little gesture, a smile flashed in his eyes, then put the phone down from his ear and turned on the amplified sound.

When she heard Jared's voice on the phone get louder, Amber knew that her attempt to listen had been discovered by the man and her face was a little embarrassed.

She felt that she had just behaved as if she were a thief.

But it's good to be aware of the man's own little thoughts, so you don't have to listen secretly, and you don't have to worry about not hearing.

With that in mind, Amber sat the slightest bit of her body out sideways to sit upright again.

After all, men are open amplified for their own listening, then they do not have to work hard side to side to eavesdrop, how tired ah.

On the phone, Ben did not know what happened on Jared's side, after hearing Jared's question, he smiled back: "That Mr. Brown, really a wimp, originally when I went to him, I thought he would be more or less hard-headed sophistry, but when I just took out the wrench, the fat guy was immediately scared and scared, directly down on his knees! Mr. Farrell, it seems that your love of pulling people's teeth is well known in the circle."

Jared's face was expressionless.

Amber this surprised grew red lips, "What? Love to pull people's teeth?"

Cole on the side, but not much reaction, heard Amber's alarm, slightly turned down the game sound, and then looked up to explain: "Amber you still do not know ah, pulling people's teeth is one of the regular means of this guy to deal with some people in the circle."

He freed up a finger to point at Jared.

Jared swept him a faint glance, without retort.

It is clear that Cole was right.

Amber swallowed hard and looked at Jared, "What does Cole mean by that, exactly, can you explain it in detail?"

Jared raised his chin, "you know, I now this position, naturally many enemies, jealous of my eyes are also many people, want to pull me down, or want to pull the Farrell Group down people, but also abound, so these people, either in the Farrell Group planted traitors, or secretly plotted against me! The Farrell Group is a very important and important part of the Farrell Group.

"So that's it." Amber nodded in a daze, "You never told me any of this."

Jared clenched his fist against his lips and coughed lightly, "This kind of bloody means to say it, afraid to scare you, but also afraid you will think I am too cruel."

"How could it be." Amber smiled and shook his head, "in a high position, will face all kinds of dangers, if you do not use some ruthless means, is not able to protect themselves, but also can not protect the family and the company, so you will do so is not justified, you do not have to worry that I will think you are cruel, I am soft-hearted, but does not mean that I am soft-hearted for no reason, when to be ruthless, when to be soft-hearted, the I still can tell the difference."

Unconditional soft-heartedness and kindness, that is not the Holy Mother?

And holy mother, also tend to be more likely to attract enemies and harm those around them.

After reading Amber's words, Jared's eyes glowed at her and he hooked his lips into a smile, "I'm happy that you think so."

Amber pouted at him, "Well, hurry back to Ben's words."

On the other end of the phone, Ben listened to Amber's words and hurriedly waved his hand, "Miss Reed, it's okay, you take your time with Mr. Farrell, I can always wait, don't feel like holding me up."

In case Mr. Farrell didn't want to talk to him much in the first place, he wanted to hang up the phone and concentrate on talking to Miss Reed.

And Miss Reed had to let Mr. Farrell talk to him, then Mr. Farrell heart will certainly not see him ah.

Isn't he still being scolded then?

"How can I keep you waiting? I can finish sooner or get busy with something else." Amber replied to Jared's phone, then pulled Jared's arm, signaling Jared to hurry up and reply to Ben.

Jared thin lips pursed a little, obviously some reluctance, but also do not want to disobey her, had to look at the phone, "even if the person accounted for, can not be easily forgiven."

Hearing the coldness in Jared's tone, Ben laughed bitterly in his heart.

Come on, Mr. Farrell is really not happy with him.

Forget it, who let him be a subordinate.

The boss is not happy, but also have to put up with ah.

Otherwise he is embarrassed that so high annual salary, as well as that zero.2 percent of the share dividend.

"What does Mr. Farrell mean?" Ben inquired, pushing up his glasses.

Jared didn't answer right away, but glanced toward Amber.

Amber made an inviting gesture, "Just decide for yourself, no need to ask me, ask me, I don't know what to do for the best."

This, Jared does not doubt.

She is soft-hearted, although not unreasonably soft-hearted, and will feel that the bad guys should be punished.

However, she is not always able to get down and dirty.

So it's better if he comes.

Jared did not force Amber, lowered his eyes to look at the phone placed on the desk, the bottom of his eyes flashed endless cold awning, "Since that person can so easily accept benefits, fabricate trumped up news, visible similar things, he did not do less, collect all the evidence of his crimes, I believe there must be a lot, I want him to sit through the bottom of the jail! "

Dare to accept the benefits of others and disinformation about his woman, be prepared to pay this price.

And he did so to make an example of the chicken.

Wanted to tell others who wanted to deal with his woman that they better take all these little thoughts back.

Otherwise, he will not let go of any of them.

"Yes, I got it Mr. Farrell," Ben nodded.

Jared looked to Amber, "What do you think?"

Amber hmmm, "this is quite good, I myself have suffered from online violence, even false news, the harm that can be brought to the person concerned, throw these assholes who make false news into jail, but also in the purification of the network, but also in revenge for those who suffered from online violence because of him, more really eliminate the rest of the people who are about to be disinformation, so you do a good job. "

Amber gives the man a thumbs up.

The curve of Jared's thin lips grew thicker, "That's it?"

"What?" Amber froze slightly, clearly not understanding what the man meant.

The man reached out and took Amber's thumb in his hand and gently squeezed it, "Wouldn't that be too easy a compliment? Just a thumb."

Amber rolled her eyes, "So what do you want to do?"

Jared bent down and pointed to his cheek.

The meaning is clear enough.

He wanted kisses.

Amber's face reddened instantly.

Seeing that she didn't understand, Jared urged, "Come on, that's a more convincing compliment, so I can believe you're genuinely complimenting me, thumbs up is too perfunctory."

The corners of Amber's mouth twitched.

Perfunctory?

What's with that.

She doesn't think her thumbs up is perfunctory.

It is clear that this bad man wants to get an inch to ask for benefits.

After all, he didn't do this kind of thing too often.

But he used to do this basically when the two of them were alone together.

And now what.

I can't believe I dared to do this in front of everyone else.

And, don't because she doesn't know, he is deliberately, see Cole here, deliberately provoke Cole it.

Jared so obvious behavior, not to mention Amber a glance to see, Cole is also a glance to see, the heart sneered a smile.

Jared the bastard!

Chapter 1066 - Start of consolidation

Don't think you can do this and be angry with him, he He

Well, he did get angry!

Cole was somewhat disheveled, his back was bent, and his surroundings exuded a sour and astringent air of self-deprecation.

No way, these two people, one is the woman they love, one is their love rival.

Now they are together, but also in front of his face show up, he can be comfortable in his heart is strange, but can not go up to separate the two people.

After all, they were already lovers, and he, an outsider.

Thinking about it, Cole took a deep breath, then turned away from looking, to come out of sight.

Seeing this, a look of triumph flashed instantly in Jared's eyes.

That's right, he did it on purpose.

Deliberately provoke Cole and gas Cole's.

Who let this guy just said so much to block him?

It's not his character to have revenge.

Amber was unaware of the small minds of the men around her and was even more embarrassed to see Cole turn away because of them.

Because it means that he and Jared are flirting here, all watched by Cole's eyes.

And Cole has that kind of heart for himself, himself and another man flirting in front of him, which undoubtedly has a kind of poke in his heart with a knife.

So, it's better to stop quickly.

Amber slapped Jared's arm while also giving the man a pouting glare, "Okay, stop it."

As she spoke, she nudged her mouth toward Cole, who had his back to them playing the game and putting his voice out loud.

It means that Cole is here, don't do that.

Jared didn't care if they were seen showing their love, and was even eager to be seen.

This is what proves how good their relationship is.

He was especially delighted to prove it in front of Cole.

But Amber didn't want to, so he had to give up and quit teasing her and sat back down in his seat, "Okay, I won't make a scene."

On the other end of the phone, Ben couldn't see what was going on over here, though, and didn't know what Mr. Farrell had done with Miss Reed.

But hearing the sound from their side, I probably guessed something.

There must have been someone else in their place, and then Mr. Farrell tried to post with Miss Reed, but Miss Reed figured there was someone else there and turned Miss Reed down.

That should be correct.

As for who the extra person is, he probably has some answers in his heart.

There are two main characters in this matter, one is Miss Reed, and the other is Mr. Lyon.

I'm afraid, at Miss Reed's, it's Mr. Lyon.

Tsk, tsk, tsk, tsk, tsk, tsk.

Ben's heart gossiped, and then heard Jared's next command, "Also, after collecting evidence, find a better lawyer, I don't just want him to go to jail, I want him to lose all his money."

The word "good" was given a special emphasis by Jared.

Ben naturally understood his meaning, pushed the reflective glasses, "Okay Mr. Farrell, you do not worry, I will arrange thoughtful, but Mr. Brown's body, when the time comes, how to deal with?"

Jared looks to Amber.

Amber lowered her eyes and thought about it, then thought of something, her eyes brightened up, "Since you guys said that this person did not receive a lot of benefits from others in the past, deliberately fabricated false news and ruined a lot of people, then take these people, and distribute them according to the severity of the victim's victimization, as compensation for that editor-in-chief, which is what he should compensate for. "

On the phone, Ben heard Amber's words and didn't mince words in praise, "That's a good idea Miss Reed."

Jared grunted, "You still need to tell me?"

"....." The corners of Ben's mouth twitched and he was instantly speechless.

Come on, the horse's ass is on the horse's leg.

I really think Miss Reed is a good idea, and I admire Miss Reed from the bottom of my heart, so I subconsciously said so.

As a result, Mr. Farrell lost the opportunity to perform in front of Miss Reed because he didn't react and took the job of kissing Miss Reed's ass.

Hey

Ben sighed and had a headache!

Amber of course understood Ben's silence and covered her lips with a smile, "Okay Jared, you don't scare Ben."

Ben nodded his head repeatedly.

That's it.

The damage is now he really is, did not say a word to worry about whether to step on mines.

Jared saw Amber help Ben speak, thin lips pursed a little, lowered his eyes voice leisurely said, "Okay, I will not scare him."

Little Leaf speaks for Ben, and in front of Little Leaf, he doesn't take Ben seriously.

When he gets back to the Farrell Group, he'll clean up after Ben.

Ben didn't know that Jared had already given him a silent credit in his heart, and he was thanking Amber over and over again, "Thank you Miss Reed, thank you Miss Reed."

If it weren't for Miss Reed helping to speak up.

Mr. Farrell this careful man, may also be how to deal with him.

"You don't have to thank me, well, you guys hurry up and get back to business." Amber was thanked by Ben some time, are to the road embarrassed.

She felt she had done nothing more than move her mouth.

Ben really doesn't have to thank her so much.

She's guilty as charged.

"Okay Miss Reed," Ben responded to Amber, then gathered up all his emotions and returned to his businesslike seriousness with Jared, "Mr. Farrell, since Mr. Brown handled it this way, what about Squirrel Channel?"

Hearing this, Amber immediately looked at Jared, "By the way, Squirrel Channel how you deal with I do not care, but that Jimmy, is the person who helped me get this recording, I promised him that he would be placed in the Farrell Group, I "

"I got it." Jared nodded, then spoke into the phone, "Do you hear me?"

"I hear you, don't worry Miss Reed, this is something that I will arrange." Ben smiled back.

Amber was relieved to see that her request was granted, and then smiled a little embarrassed at Jared, "I'm sorry, at that time I was just bent on knowing who did this, so I gave this promise specifically, I hope it won't cause you any trouble."

Jared frowned, "It's just a small thing, how can it be a bother? And like I said, whatever you want to do, I won't disagree, so you don't have to think that what you're doing is going to cause me any trouble, instead, you'll think that and it'll be a nuisance to me."

Amber understood what he meant and squeezed her lips into a smile, "I'm sorry, I won't think of it that way in the future."

"That's right." Jared stroked her hair, and turned his face to stare, and said in an icy tone to the phone, "Except for that Jimmy, the rest of them, the innocent ones are arranged to other companies, and those who are involved in this matter, all of them are fired for me."

The implication is that Squirrel Channel, he acquired.

Ben immediately nodded, "Yes Mr. Farrell."

"Have you counted the rest of the media that followed the uproar and retweeted it and added fuel to the fire?" Jared asked again, narrowing his eyes.

Ben pushed his glasses, "have counted, a total of twelve media, these media is not too big, see things from the morning fermentation until now, we have not come forward to solve things later is true, think Mr. Farrell you really want to break up with Miss Reed, so they jumped out to want a piece of the pie, but there is also a part of the media Still waiting and watching, and did not come forward."

Jared hummed, "All these media that are up in arms, clean them up, whoever gave the order, give me support for their opponents, since they jumped out to die on their own, why not make them whole, as for the other media that are still watching, give me a warning."

"Yes." Ben said back.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1067 Counterattack in progress

"In addition to that, what about the water army?" Jared thought of those ranting and raving online, and the aura around him, was cold enough to freeze a person.

Ben felt across the phone, could not help but shiver, hurried to answer, "those accounts have also been counted, a total of 10 organizations, three of them, behind the company, the other three are private self-organized, there is the Gardner family and Connor Stockert to find the remaining two are cultivated by the Jones Group."

"Heh, Jones Group!" sneered Jared.

Ben said again: "There is the restoration of our network technology department to suppress the heat, but also Miss Jones to his family company under the order, his family company read in you and the old Mr. Jones on the master and apprentice relationship, so think you certainly will not do anything to them, it did not even think about it, directly to Miss Jones said to do. "

"She really does not have a little self-awareness, my relationship with the Jones family, and only with his grandfather's, not her, what kind of a thing does she think I will let her go?" Jared's face was expressionless, and his voice was even colder and scarier.

"Also, you just said that Trenton Gardner and Connor were involved?"

Jared asked in a cold voice.

Amber wrinkled her brow in surprise.

Cole, who had his back to the two, turned around and said out loud, "What? That Trenton Gardner guy actually got involved?"

Ben heard his voice and said to himself, "Sure enough.

Over there, it's really Mr. Lyon.

But Ben quickly retracted his thoughts, nodded his head in a serious tone to the three back, "Yes, these two people are also involved, Trenton has a grudge with Miss Reed, Connor has a grudge with our Mr. Farrell, now out of this thing, this thing and Miss Reed and Mr. Farrell have Involved, these two people certainly refused to let go of the opportunity, but did not dare to do anything openly, so they can only secretly find someone to make things even bigger."

For Connor, Cole does not know, and does not know what the feud with Jared.

But for Trenton, he was too clear to be clear.

Cole slapped the table and got up, handsome and handsome face, are about to twist, "that old thing, really smell the fishy dog ah, everywhere, on this kind of thing, are going to mix a foot."

Amber also did not expect that this time, inside the matter, there is actually Connor and Trenton's handwriting.

But quickly thought of their feud with himself and Jared, and was not surprised.

"Since these two are also screwing around, it's in your hands, you know what to do!" Jared crossed his fingers in front of his belly, his face grim.

Ben nodded, "Don't worry Mr. Farrell, I know."

Jared hmmm, "as for these accounts, so pandemonium, there is no need to stay, through to me to disband them, and the account of the people, in-depth investigation, if there is the same situation with the Squirrel Channel that person, all thrown into prison, some of the more aggressive online ordinary people, the lawyer letter will be sent to the lawyer letter Don't let any of them go."

"Understood." Ben nodded, then asked, "What about Miss Jones and the Jones family of companies?"

Jared had a dark glint in his eyes, "Contact Norah's father and tell him all about it, I think he'll know what to do, and as for the rest, I'll go to the Jones family myself and get justice."

"Yes." Ben answered, and then the call was hung up.

Jared put away his phone and looked at Amber, "You said earlier that the surveillance over at the hotel was sabotaged, right?"

"Hmm." Amber nodded.

Jared narrowed his eyes, "It does not matter, before I have let my department side to recover, it is estimated that soon there will be news, when the time, you now online clarification, the latter, all by me.

Amber just to say good, opposite Cole suddenly looked at Jared and spoke, "After the surveillance is restored, send it directly to me, by me to release, Amber just need to say to the public that there is no such thing."

"You?" Jared looked at Cole skeptically.

Cole blew his beard and glared in discontent, "What's wrong with me? What's that look in your eye? I'm doing this so Amber won't have to stand up and take the blame alone?"

"Cole, I told you, you don't have to step up to the plate, I'm all alone"

"I know." Cole looked at her, "You don't want one more person to face online violence, you want to protect me, but now there is no need, didn't Jared say that the surveillance is about to be restored? Since the monitoring is restored, then once the monitoring is out, it will prove our innocence, when the time comes, I come forward is not to accept the cyber violence, but to hit these cyber spammers hard in the face, there is no monitoring I come forward, only to be scolded, with monitoring will not be, so you do not have to worry."

Jared raised his eyebrows and looked at Cole with a hint of surprise, "I didn't expect you to have this awareness!"

Cole looked exasperated, "What do you mean? Are you saying I'm not in charge?"

Jared chortled, apparently meaning it.

Cole the temper instantly came up, a rolled up sleeves to go to grab Jared's collar.

Amber saw that the two were about to fight, and hurriedly held out her hands to stop it, "What for? You two."

The two men saw that she was upset, and the original saber-rattling temperament dissipated.

Jared sat back down next to Amber while taking her hand and gently playing with it, apparently coaxing her to not take what they had just done personally.

Cole did not say anything, but also smiled at her, laughing not to mention how flattering, obviously, playing the same idea as Jared is, hoping that she does not get angry.

See two men with a child like, careful and secretly coaxing her, afraid of her angry look, can not help but good and funny.

Anyway, every time these two men get together, they have to fly a chicken, so people are helpless and speechless.

"I'm really impressed with you guys." Amber cried, shaking her head in laughter.

Seeing her not angry, Jared and Cole two men heart at the same time relieved.

But Jared is more introverted and can't see the relief.

And Cole just didn't care about his image in front of his love interest and just took a long breath, "Amber, what do you think of the offer I just made?"

Amber red lips moved, "Indeed, with monitoring, you then come out to clarify, indeed, will not be scolded, but there is no need ah, I took out monitoring to clarify is still the same ah."

"Of course it's different." Jared followed at this point.

Amber and Cole looked at him together.

Jared faced two people's gaze, look light, "this matter from beginning to end, have not mentioned any point about who the man is, which makes the Internet would have been speculation, if the final clarification, are not the man to come forward, which is not good, only to make people think that you are not really with the man what, so in the protection of each other. "

Speaking of which, Jared looked at Cole, "Since this is the case, then why not let Cole come forward, he came forward to tell the outside world more clearly, you are innocent, so Cole dared to come forward, in addition to the outside world know that you are friends, if the outside world knows that the original other main character is Cole, will also begin to understand that the back of this matter is not simple, is someone against you."

"That's right." Cole hurriedly nodded, "Jared is right, Amber, because everyone knows that we are friends and we are close, only when I come forward, plus the surveillance, everyone will be more convinced that we are innocent, the other thing is, the media who released this scandal deliberately blocked my picture and created me as that kind of man, the netizens understand that the man in the picture After it's me, they will definitely understand that they've been tricked, and then the people behind all this will also be revolted by the netizens, which can only be a good thing for us."

Chapter 1068 Issuing Clarifications

This, it is called borrowing power.

The Jones family paid thousands of dollars to the media and a large number of accounts, and even had their own network company come down on them, just to push the story to the highest level of public opinion and convince all the internet users that Amber and he really did have that something.

But the netizens also know that he and Amber are friends, the two families are very close, it is unlikely to have that kind of relationship at all.

So as soon as he shows up, netizens will immediately feel like they've been played by capital.

The capital is to let them, the ordinary netizens, to charge and achieve the purpose, otherwise why must his face be blurred out and not let them recognize who he is?

After the netizens realize that they have been used and played by the capital, they will naturally become furious and double back.

When the time comes, the Jones family's company and the Jones family thousand, is expected to have suffered.

Cole and Jared's meaning was clearly expressed, and Amber would be a real fool if she didn't understand it again.

She nodded, without further hesitation, and agreed to speak to the two.

"Jared, then do what Cole says, and when the time comes you give him the surveillance." Amber looked to Jared and said.

Jared nodded slightly, "Good."

After promising, he gazed coolly at Cole, "Don't screw it up."

Cole snorted at him, "I'm afraid I'll have to disappoint you then, I'm definitely not going to screw up."

"Let's hope so." Jared withdrew his gaze and ignored him.

Just then, his cell phone rang once again.

But this time it wasn't a phone call, it was something sent over from the network technology department, the very surveillance they just mentioned.

Seeing the document in his phone, Jared's thin lips hooked slightly, "The surveillance has been restored and is now being sent over."

He handed Amber his phone and asked her to send it to Cole.

Amber smiled and took it, "That's great."

"More than that, the heat is down online now." Jared added.

That's what the web tech side just said.

Previously the network technology department side also twice drop the heat, but both by Norah greeted the Jones Group to restore.

Now that he found out that the Jones Group did it, he asked Ben to say hello to them.

So that side doesn't dare to make any more moves.

So now the network, so to speak, is really clean.

"Let's see." Cole heard Jared say that and immediately turned off his mobile game to check what was going on online.

When I went up there, as Jared said, the network, which had been a mess, was now finally clean.

Amber is not watching, and is transmitting surveillance to Cole at this moment.

She didn't need to see it, and she didn't want to see it.

Because she knew that Jared would not lie to her and say that the network was clean, it must naturally be clean.

Then it is not necessary to see it or not, naturally.

But at this time, Cole looked at the phone, suddenly angry laugh, "these netizens are really interesting, found that the online heat is no longer, then know that we shot pressure, and then in Amber your personal social media platform below to say what have the ability to do, have the ability to admit, do not press the heat ah, really angry at me!"

Only fear of the world, referring to these people.

But Amber and Jared didn't react too well to Cole's anger.

After Amber handed Jared's phone back to him, she looked at Cole and said lightly, "Back when Jared had the heat pressed, I guessed this would happen, after all, these people have been making trouble online for too long, and suddenly the platform for them to watch is gone, of course they won't be willing, and naturally they will be angry and go to besiege my personal social media platform, what's more, this is not the first time, several times before the online public opinion storm, is like this."

After saying that, she spread her hands, indicating that she had gotten used to it.

Cole looked at the phone screen, full of disgust, "These netizens really can't learn, before those few times, we sued how many people, and then this only after not long, dare to jump out again screaming nonsense, really can't beat the cockroaches."

Jared picked up Amber's glass of water, turned it slightly, and when he saw the lipstick mark left on the mouth of the glass, his eyes darkened, then his thin lips met the faint red lipstick mark and took a sip of water, "For these people, the fine and detention will not make them remember for long, and the next time there is a similar thing, they will still be the same, which is originally a kind of Vicious circle, can not be completely prohibited."

When he finished, he put down his glass.

Amber didn't have the good sense to glare at the man, the tips of her ears a little red.

This guy, he had water right in front of him and didn't drink it, he had to drink from her cup.

And it was specially printed with the lipstick marks she left behind.

This is not that he deliberately wants to kiss her indirectly.

Jared smiled at Amber with gentle eyes as if he didn't see her eyes, "Has the surveillance been sent yet?"

"Sent over." Amber replied while snatching the cup from the man's hand, then pushed the man's own toward the man, "Drink your own."

Man: "....."

Gotta, can't share a cup anymore.

Jared looked with some regret at the cup in Amber's hand.

This scene was caught by Cole Bo, who was receiving surveillance from across the street.

Cole gloated, "Serves you right."

Jared instantly sank his face, "Send your surveillance."

Cole grunted and stopped talking.

Amber also picked up her phone, "Then it's time for me to send it too."

"I'll come too." Jared followed suit and grabbed his own phone.

Although he is not inside the scandalous people, he is also in the matter.

After all, he is Little Leaf's man, the original mate.

Since we have to clarify this matter, as the original spouse of their own if not to come forward, relying on Little Leaf and Cole to clarify, to the outside world, still not convincing.

The original spouse does not come forward to clarify, to one of the parties to clarify, it is clear that the outside world will feel that the matter is true.

So, naturally, he had to show it.

In a flash, the three people in the office, all with their cell phones, began to edit the content of the clarification of the gossip on top of their respective social media platforms.

The first release is Amber, the content is very simple, just a few words: online gossip known, fake do not believe, did not find a man, did not cheat on @Jared Farrell, the male party in the gossip is @Cole Lyon, the reason for appearing together in the hotel, is to talk with Mr. Alfensen loan matters, online gossip is purely framed by others, @Jones Group, @Squirrel Channel media, for the two mastermind companies, I will take legal action to defend their interests and will not accept the settlement. I will take legal action against the two mastermind companies to protect my own interests and will never accept a settlement. In addition, I will also sue other media and abusive netizens for their rumors, and I will never let them go.

Amber's clarification message was posted and instantly hit Twitter Trend.

This was also Jared's arrangement.

Jared just sent a message to the web tech department telling them to schedule a Twitter Trend as soon as they see their clarification come out.

For the sake of, for all, the first time to see.

It was in this context that Mr. Alfensen saw Amber's message.

He himself was originally unaware of what was going on online because of Jared's transfer last night, which saved his ass under the seat, so he had a lot to do and no time to pay attention to what was going on online.

It was also his assistant who told him about the Internet. After all, Amber had mentioned him, and it was not good for him not to come forward and say something.

What's more, he just got the benefit of Mr. Farrell, so he couldn't pretend to ignore it, so he also immediately logged on to his account and retweeted Amber's content.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1069 Direct Prosecution

Mr. Alfensen: @Miss Reed is right, I was also at the hotel yesterday afternoon, so the so-called news on the Internet is simply nonsense, but please do not believe the netizens, now the apology to apologize, the mistake to admit the mistake, so as not to bring trouble to themselves.

Amber was surprised to see what Mr. Alfensen had retweeted and posted.

Jared and Cole looked up at her together.

"What's wrong?" Jared asked first.

Amber handed him the phone and looked at it, "Mr. Alfensen helped clarify it too."

Jared lifted his chin slightly, "He was supposed to come forward, after all the benefits he received from me."

Amber raised her eyebrows, "By the way, by the way I forgot to ask, you helped me get the parts back, so you should know about the owner of Wisemas breaking the contract without permission and giving the parts to Connor, with your character, you're afraid you won't let Mr. Longman off easily, right?"

Jared hooked his lips and didn't say anything.

"Sure enough." Amber looked at the man, "So how's that boss of yours?"

"A blatant breach of contract is no longer just a matter of giving compensation, but has broken business laws and I'm throwing people in." Jared returned lightly.

Yet Amber knows that it must not be that simple.

"Did you do something else before you threw it in?" Amber asked, narrowing her eyes at the man.

The man laughed a little and did not answer, but the meaning was clear enough.

Before throwing the man in, the man naturally took a hard time.

Amber nodded, "So how are the Wisemas doing now?"

"Now Wisemas, about to have a change of power, I believe that the next will be very strong fight, if you are interested in Wisemas, you can secretly acquire the shares of Wisemas when they are fighting the most, the lowest price of the shares at that time, Wisemas is not too big, but its own strength is still there, the acquisition of its shares, will not lose." Jared nodded his finger on the table and told Amber.

Amber pondered for a moment and her eyes lit up, "Good, it just so happens that I have some money in my hand now, so I'll give it a try then."

"I'll let you know when it's best to buy and I'll let you know then." Jared added when he saw that she agreed.

Amber hummed, "Good."

Cole opposite listening to the two people, also finally did not hold back to open up, "Wait, Amber you just said the parts were taken back by him?"

He pointed at Jared.

Amber smiled at him, "Yeah, I got the news that the parts were taken back by Jared shortly after I got back from my loan with Mr. Alfensen yesterday."

"So that's it." Cole nodded in a daze, then looked at Jared and said discontentedly, "Then why didn't you get it back sooner? Earlier, we wouldn't have had to go looking for Mr. Alfensen, much less have such pictures taken and make all this mess."

Jared frowned.

Amber put away the smile on her face and spoke to Cole unhappily, "Cole, it's not like that, you forget that I didn't tell Jared about the parts being intercepted from the beginning, he didn't know about it, even if he helped get the parts back later, I didn't tell him about it, but he noticed it by chance, so it can't be blamed on him in any way. He can't be blamed for anything."

Jared, after Amber finished, lightly raised his eyelids eyes contemptuously swept to Cole, the meaning in his eyes is very obvious.

Did you hear that?

Don't try to blame him for everything.

Cole is furious, but there is nothing he can do about it.

Indeed, if nothing was told to Jared, then what he just said was somewhat unbelievable.

Cole stopped talking and turned to the side with a huff.

Amber shook her head helplessly, lowered her head, and went back to looking at her phone.

The clarification message has been out for a few minutes now, and with Jared's people helping to top the heat, the comment section below your own is now buzzing with activity, and the number of comments has shot straight up into five figures.

In just a few minutes, the number of comments was actually so high, terrible some of the stars watching in the entertainment industry envious.

After all, this is a living, breathing comment, unlike them, at least half of them are robot comments.

Amber wondered how these celebrities felt as she slid her thumbs and was going through the comments in general.

Eighty percent of these comments, eighty percent of them, were apologetic.

Before they scolded how cool, this moment apologize how lame.

After all, when they scolded, the parties to the news did not come forward, they are naturally not afraid of anything.

Now the parties to the news have come forward and said outright that they want to sue all the major media, all the major accounts, all the major jumping jubilant netizens, so where do these netizens still dare to bounce around, which are not scolding people, they have apologized?

I'm afraid of being sued and getting into a lawsuit.

Do not see them jumping online, but in private, are ordinary can not be in ordinary ordinary people.

They are also afraid of the various effects of the lawsuit, such as being fired from the company, such as not being able to find a job, such as the strange eyes of others, and even the reproach and contempt of family and friends.

Perhaps, it will also be recorded in the file and affect future generations.

In short, thinking about these, these netizens are still not afraid? How can they still not dare to compromise?

And they do not doubt at all that Amber is joking, even if they are not convinced in their hearts, they have to believe in the fact that they ordinary people, can not fight the capital.

Since the capital dares to say prosecute them, it is definitely not just playing around, and they will definitely die.

Most importantly, Amber's appearance suddenly reminded them that it wasn't the first time she had sued Netflix.

Before it has been prosecuted several sets of netizens, some were detained, some fined, some lost their jobs suffered the ridicule of others

It's all pretty miserable anyway.

And how long has it been since they actually forgot about this sister's strong-arm tactics and the miserable end of those netizens?

The more they thought about it, the more scared they were, and they hurriedly deleted their comments and apologized, hoping that Amber would let them off the hook.

As for whether there is no use, these netizens also have no bottom in their hearts, a time each heart regret, hate to give themselves a few slaps.

Of course, there are the cursing netizens, but naturally there are also those who have been watching and have not made any comments, and those who have always believed that Amber has not done these things.

These types of netizens, now start to raise their eyebrows online.

"Hahaha, I knew it, I like couples will not become bed ending, before I said online, they are not out to speak, so do not be so anxious to stand in line, lest they hit their own face, the results of the content are not released, either not in line with the rules, or released, quickly disappeared, not just me, all of us Couple Fans are like this {commiserate}."

Seeing this comment, Amber instantly knew what was going on, then clicked reply: "{touch head} Thank you for your support and trust, I'm very happy and touched, as to why the content that speaks for me doesn't post, or disappears when sent, that's something to ask @Jones Group {smile} "

Amber's reply instantly set off another firestorm.

The commenter of this comment in particular was thrilled: "Ahhhhh I've been replied to, I've been replied to!

Amber saw this entry and could imagine the other party blushing with excitement and couldn't help but shake her head and laugh lightly.

Chapter 1070 Amber's Reply

At the same time, she felt even warmer in her heart.

It turns out that it is such a feeling to be liked by fans.

Pretty fresh and nice.

Amber red lips slightly hooked up, once again replied to this fans: "Thank you for your like, do not worry, I will never let you down.

Betraying Jared?

No way!

They will only break up peacefully after their feelings are gone.

And not in this way, to be sorry for each other.

The fans on the other end saw Amber's assurance and excitedly pressed their phones to their chests, a face that turned red from excitement and agitation.

Other netizens fans, seeing Amber's response to this fan, were envious for a while.

They also want to be replied to.

They are both Couple Fans of Amber and Jared, but initially fell in love with them not because of any talent they had.

After all, they are not stars either.

They part on them just because of their face as well as their identity, and a minute of experience.

After all, their identity, and the experience of divorce and reunion, so fans can subconsciously associate with the president of the novel among the sadistic plot.

President novels come to reality, which makes them how not to be excited, which is not like.

But it is only such like.

Until this time Amber personally appeared to reply to them Couple Fans, so that they suddenly found that the idol they liked was not the unapproachable, only imaginary heroine as in the novel.

She is a living, breathing person in their real world, and also a girl with a great personality.

This is not, Fans from the beginning only like Amber and Jared as a fictional hero and heroine to like, but now, has been as a real idol to like.

And rather than powder a fictional character image, they actually prefer to powder real people.

So that they can get close ah.

Just like that fan who just got a remake soon and got close to the idol of his heart?

Other fans, then, followed suit and began commenting heavily in the comments section, wanting a response as well.

This made Amber cry and laugh when she saw it.

But replying to all of them is impossible, or she will die of exhaustion.

But reply to some of the more puzzled fans comments or can.

For example.

"Surprise! Surprisingly came out to clarify, but the clarification is not a little late? Why not clarify at the beginning, and after clarifying just a few sentences, it seems that there is no substantial evidence to prove that the news is false ah."

Amber's fingers flew back: "The reason why there was no clarification at the beginning, it's because we were collecting evidence, oh, now that the evidence has been collected, naturally we have to come out and clarify, as to why I didn't release the evidence {smile}, it's because the evidence will be released by the other main character of the scandal, aren't you guys curious about the scandal that is obviously two people, why The photo only shows me, but not who the man is. Also, the copy released by Squirrel Channel doesn't mention who the man is?"

Once this reply came out, all the netizens explained a freeze.

Yeah, they were just surprised Amber 'cheated' at first, and then they started looking at the internet like crazy.

It seems like they really didn't realize that the scandal had mentioned who the man was, and even less so why the photo of the man in the photo was not visible.

Their attention from beginning to end is on the woman is Amber, the woman cheated on this.

And before that, they did not feel, in the least, that there was anything wrong with them being like that.

It wasn't until Amber brought it up now that they realized that there was a big problem.

It is clear that the scandal is the fault of two people, but they ignore the male side, the fault is all blamed on the female side, to say that there is no reason, they absolutely do not believe.

As for what causes

The eyes of the netizens surrendered to the news and those photos released by Squirrel Channel.

In the photo, the deliberately blurred face of the man, as well as the text, which only mentions the identity of the man, and the criticism of the woman.

These together, is not the first time people see, subconsciously ignore the man, only see the woman, and only believe that the woman cheating?

Shit, they were actually brainwashed invisibly!

These media, they are really great.

For a while, the netizens were outraged to the core.

"SHIT, it's horrible, I actually got brainwashed by a news item."

"Yes, an ordinary news, actually able to pull my mind away, if in the past, beaten to death I do not believe, still think that others are nonsense, but now I have to believe, I guess my mind was also affected by these media releases, just never noticed, fortunately now Miss Reed reminded, otherwise we It's a good thing Miss Reed reminded us of this, otherwise we wouldn't have realized it by now."

"That is, now that I think about it, a lot of places I have not figured out, I now have figured out, that is, why Squirrel Channel deliberately blurred the photo of the man, as well as the identity of the man not mentioned, it is because we netizens certainly know the man, and also know that the man and Miss Reed can not have anything, so Squirrel Channel deliberately blurred the photo of the man, in order to make us not recognize the identity of the man, believe that Miss Reed and the man have an affair, shit, really evil intention. So Squirrel Channel deliberately blurred the photo of the man, in order to let us not recognize the identity of the man, believe that Miss Reed and the man have a leg, shit, really evil intention."

"The analysis makes sense, now I probably guessed the identity of the man, it must be the president of Lyon Corporation."

"I think of this one, if it is really this one, then Miss Reed cheating, is indeed nonsense, as far as I know, the Reed Family and the Lyon Family is a family friend, Miss Reed and Mr. Lyon is a childhood friend who grew up together, if the two people want to have something. If the two people want to have something, there would have been, otherwise why 30 years have not been together? This is obviously too familiar with each other, no idea about each other well, anyway, I and my childhood friend's elder brother has no idea, really just take each other as a brother, he also take me as a sister."

"In that case, the man in this scandal must be Mr. Lyon, otherwise why did Squirrel Channel blur the photo and not let us know his identity? The photo of Mr. Lyon's face was blurred on purpose, which is really ugly."

As soon as this comment came out, Amber immediately clicked below.

Amber's nod of approval has once again set off the internet.

"OMG, I was liked, so we guessed right and the guy is really Mr. Lyon?"

"Yes." Amber replied again, "It's Cole, in a moment Cole will release the evidence in his own platform, please stay tuned."

"Will do will do." At the other end of the computer, the netizen nodded his head in excitement.

After other netizens saw Amber come forward and confirm who the man was and that she would have to release evidence later, half of them immediately ran away and went to Cole's personal platform to sit and wait for the evidence.

The people left behind still have many doubts to ask Amber.

For example, this netizen, at once asked the point, asked the point that everyone wants to know.

"Miss Reed, one thing I can't figure out is why Squirrel Channel is trying to spread rumors about you. It is well known that you are Mr. Farrell's man, and Mr. Farrell's position in Olkmore and in the country is known to everyone, and you are his man, no one should dare to offend him. Do you have a grudge against Squirrel Channel's executives?"
