

LLPD Chapter 1101

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1101 Jones Group Apology

Mr. Jones did not know what was in his daughter's mind, he only knew that what he said, his daughter listened to it and was relieved, "That's right, if there is anything, you have to discuss it with Daddy and Grandpa first, you have to know that Daddy and Grandpa are always on your side, and Daddy and Grandpa, more than anyone, want you and Jared to be together, understand? "

"I understand." Norah nodded, then bit her lip and asked, "But dad, so what do we do now? Jared is mad at our family and won't even answer our family's phone calls, that's not a good thing. I don't want Jared to hate me, in that case, won't I get his heart even more?"

Mr. Jones narrowed his eyes, "Jared angry with us, this is really not a good thing for us, but you can rest assured, there is your grandfather in it, this matter we are wrong, I believe that as long as we apologize, plus your grandfather to step in, Jared should forgive us, after all, the relationship between him and your grandfather, is not a joke. "

All in all, Mr. Jones doesn't think Jared would break off his mentorship with his father just for a woman.

In that case, wouldn't it be an ungrateful person?

Hearing her grandfather come forward, the uneasiness in Norah's heart was instantly eased.

She also thinks that even though that Amber is heavier in Jared's mind, Grandpa is not lighter.

Jared, for sure, won't really be angry with Grandpa for Amber's sake.

Now it's just because of a moment of anger.

I have to say, the two people are really worthy of father and daughter, want to think of the same to

"So when is Grandpa going to talk to Jared?" Norah asked again, gathering her thoughts.

Mr. Jones pressed the bridge of his nose, "your grandfather's health you know, look tough, but the truth is not very good inside, every afternoon to sleep a few hours, now your grandfather should not yet wake up, still do not know that you did this thing, when your grandfather woke up, I will immediately talk to him, let him go to Jared early, but Norah ah, you also hurry Change your visa, it is best to return to Olkmore before tomorrow morning, personally go to apologize to that Amber, maybe so, can completely calm Jared's anger."

"What? Apologize to Amber?" Norah's voice suddenly rose and became shrill, "Who am I to apologize to her? Dad, you know she and I are lovers, and you want me to apologize to my lover? I don't want to!"

Listen to his daughter's jerkiness, Mr. Jones heart can also understand, said with a sigh: "Norah, Dad knows how you feel, but there is no way, they know you did it, if only your grandfather came out, you do not come out, Jared will only feel that our apology is not sincere, even if the heart forgives us, but certainly still have a grudge against you. You want to get together with Jared will be more difficult, after saying an apology, it is not something that can not let go of face, the big deal, you take this apology firmly in mind, wait for the future you and Jared together, and then double from that Amber very hurt, to get back this shame, you say?"

Norah was instantly moved, her heart no longer resisted, her eyes clearly lit up, "I know dad, I listen to you, I apologize, the big deal is to endure a moment of peace and quiet, let that Amber look good later!"

"That's right." Mr. Jones smiled gratefully.

The dialogue between father and daughter, simply let people listen to the three views are broken.

The daughter's obvious third-party behavior, when the father not only did not stop, but also raised his hands in support, and even behind the idea.

It can be said that the Jones family, all of them are the same, not a good person.

When the call ended, Mr. Jones put the phone down and called his secretary into his office, "Did you get a hold of Jared?"

The secretary shook his head, "still can not contact Mr. Farrell, Ben's side of the phone, now also refused to listen to, Mr. Farrell's other assistants and secretaries, also still three or two sentences to dismiss us, refused to tell us Mr. Farrell's whereabouts."

"It seems that Jared is really serious this time and intends to make a face with us the Jones family." Mr. Jones sighed.

The secretary looked at him, "Mr. Jones, what if Mr. Farrell is really going to deal with our company because of what the lady made this time?"

The secretary was a little worried.

Mr. Jones but raised his hand to stop, "No, my father is still alive, even if Jared is not good to us, but for my father's sake, will not really do anything to us the Jones family, and even if they do, it will be after my father died."

It is because they are worried that after the death of their father, the Jones family did not break the connection with Jared, without the shelter of Jared, the Jones family is likely to gradually withdraw from the family of luxury.

That's why they want Norah to be with Jared.

Only then, even if the old man died, the Jones family would not have to worry that Jared would not be sheltering them the Jones family.

For this reason, he and his father have also been trying to figure out how to set up Norah and Jared.

This time, when his father returned home, he had already approached Jared, ready to persuade Jared to break up with that Amber.

Although it failed, at least there is a chance.

But I did not expect that Norah did not have the composure to directly conceal that he and his father struck first, resulting in anger with Jared.

Now let alone set up Norah and Jared, but also have to find a way to ease the relationship with Jared first.

Although he was bent on believing that Jared would not deal with them directly over this trivial matter, he would certainly alienate them from the Jones family.

By alienating them from the Jones family, they are telling the outside world that they, the Jones family, have lost the shelter of the Farrell Family.

When the time comes, those people with evil intentions will definitely want to deal with them the Jones family and bite off a piece of meat from them the Jones family.

Therefore, the matter of easing relations with Jared can not be delayed any longer.

Mr. Jones narrowed his eyes and looked at his secretary, "So, you go and inform the public relations department, use our Jones Group official account to issue an apology statement to Amber and Jared, saying that this matter is Norah's immature mind, so she made such a big mistake, we will educate Norah properly, and will not happen again. We will educate Norah and will not happen again, and ask their forgiveness, no matter what, now everyone knows that Norah did this, we can't do nothing, first apologize, not only to Amber and Jared, but also to the netizens, first to stabilize the stock market, as for Jared and Amber's side, may not be because of a network apology to put down this matter, at least first to the These netizens are sent off in the first place, can not let them continue to curse."

"Understood." The secretary nodded in response.

Mr. Jones waved his hand, "Go ahead."

"Yes."

After the secretary left, Mr. Jones did not stay in the office for long, grabbed his car keys and left the office, ready to go back to Jones Mansion to see if his old father had woken up.

If you wake up, tell your old father about this matter and discuss with him how to solve it before you do.

In any case, their relationship between the Jones family and Jared cannot be broken.

On the other hand, back to Kelsington Bay in the car.

After leaving the police station, the time was already after 5:00 pm.

So Amber and Jared had no intention of going back to the office and planned to go straight back to Kelsington Bay.

On the road, Jared was driving and Amber was sitting in the passenger seat swiping her phone.

Swiping, a message popped up on the social media platform telling her that someone mentioned her.

This made Amber curious.

Her account was set up so that a normal account could not mention her, otherwise her phone would probably ring non-stop.

So the only thing that can mention her is some special accounts, such as official accounts, such as the official accounts of some companies, etc.

It is not known, this time mention her, is which of these two accounts.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1102 - The Stupid Jones Group

With a question, Amber clicked inside the message bar and went into her personal social media platform from the message bar.

Once inside, Amber saw exactly who mention she was.

The official account mention of Jones Group.

Interesting!

Amber's red lips hooked slightly.

She would like to see, Jones Group side mention she is trying to do!

Amber finger tapped at the message and soon saw Jones Group mention her content.

After reading the mention content clearly, she did not hold back the sound of laughter, laughter inside, but also clearly reveals a trace of mockery.

Jared took advantage of the fact that the straight stretch of road was longer and there wasn't much traffic ahead, so he turned his head quickly to look at her, "What are you laughing at?"

Amber looked up, "You know what? the Jones family mentioned me."

"Mention you?" Jared frowned.

Amber held her phone up to show him, "Yeah, still using their official company account."

Jared's dynamic eyesight was so good that even if Amber just brought the phone to him and waved it around, he read the contents and his handsome face darkened, "That's their apology?"

Frankly, he was dissatisfied.

He did not see the slightest sincerity of apology within the content of this apology.

Amber took the phone back and looked at the content on it and smiled coldly, "Yeah, that's indeed their apology, what do you think?"

"Insincere." Jared pursed his lips and said coldly, with no intention of giving face to his teacher's family.

Amber, heart is very satisfied with this, smiled, "indeed insincere, generally speaking, if they sincerely realize the wrong, want to apologize, as early as the first time I exposed them, they should take the initiative to come out to apologize to me and you and Cole, however, they did not do anything, until now, Jones Group by the netizens However, they did not do anything, until now, Jones Group was besieged by the netizens, the stock market problems, only then remembered to apologize for this thing, but the funny thing is, their apology, neither personally come out to us, to apologize to us, nor held a conference to apologize, but choose to simply release a few sentences on the Internet, mention about us, even if it is an apology, this kind of apology, I still see the first time. "

But no, if a person has the intention to apologize, he should take the initiative to come to the door, send a gift of reparation, apologize personally and obtain the victim's forgiveness.

Either directly convene a conference, when the hundreds of millions of viewers part of the apology, at least this way, will also let the audience know that you can put down the face, apologize in public.

In that case, the audience will look up to them and think that they can learn from their mistakes and are a good business.

In this way, their Jones Group's ruined reputation will be brought back somehow. Isn't this also a means to save the company?

These two ways of apology, which is not more sincere than posting a few sentences later on the Internet? Which is better?

I believe that normal people, will feel that these two ways to apologize better, right?

And yet the Jones family doesn't use either of these methods, but only posts a few words online as an apology to them.

Isn't this a clear way of telling people that they are not sincere in their apology?

Heh, such an apology is better than no apology at all!

Amber's eyes flashed a trace of coldness, "And you know what? It says that Norah did what she did because she was immature. What kind of person is immature? The Jones family is still a child, not yet grown up, giant baby?"

Listening to Amber's sneering words, Jared's brow knitted deeply.

It's not that I think Amber's words are wrong, but I'm very upset about the Jones family's behavior.

As Amber said, he was also able to see what the Jones family was really thinking.

An immature mind tries to make things smaller by making them bigger.

This mouth, indeed, is hard to see.

"Ignore it and pretend you didn't see their apology." Jared said grimly as he drove.

Amber nodded her phone, "Don't worry, I thought the same thing, from the beginning, did not intend to pay attention, besides, there are many smart people in this world, not only we can see the hidden meaning inside this apology statement, the netizens can also see, here, this is not it?"

Amber brought her phone to Jared again and showed him, "A lot of them have seen it now and are mocking it under the comments section."

Jared swept up, "The Jones Group plays everyone for fools, so naturally you have to be prepared to be attacked."

"Says the man." Amber brought her phone back and the grin on her face didn't stop as she watched the new wave of netizens besiege the Jones Group.

As Jared said, the Jones Group's statement is a way of treating everyone as fools, thinking that everyone can't see the implicit meaning of their apology statement.

But in fact, they are a blindfold, they put the meaning on the clear, as long as not really stupid, who can see their ugly face without any semblance of guilt.

At first, Norah and Squirrel Channel, deliberately doctored the content of the photos and deliberately published confusing news text in order to make the netizens believe that she was indeed sorry Jared cheated on her, so the netizens would naturally all run to call her out.

Because the world, for men and women is inherently unfair.

The man cheated, many people will say, that is every man will make the mistake of tolerating the man, simply too big.

And the same mistake if it happens to a woman, then everyone will all condemn the woman, that the woman made a big mistake of God's justice, one righteous anger can not wait for the woman to die.

So that's why, after the scandal came out, there were so many people, who were not willing to wait for their side of the story, came out directly to her to make a big judgment bashing abuse, and determined that she had done just that.

This is in addition to society's malice towards women, and naturally, Norah and Squirrel Channel are leading and exploiting the internet.

After she directly exposes the sinister intentions of Norah and Squirrel Channel, the netizens will know that they are being used as puppets and will naturally be infuriated, and then they will besiege the Jones Group and Squirrel Channel.

The Jones Group probably caused the stock market turmoil because of the siege by the netizens, so it could not continue to play deaf and dumb and falsely issued an apology statement to calm the netizens' anger and salvage the stock market.

Only, she never expected that the Jones Group would be so stupid.

Want to apologize to calm the netizens to salvage the stock market, then in the apology statement, mention a sentence to the majority of netizens to apologize for the content of ah.

Yet no, only her and Jared are mentioned.

It is clear that the Jones Group simply does not take the netizens to heart, or even look down on them.

Think they are are ordinary people, so high above the Jones Group, pressed to mention not even mention the netizens.

The funny thing is that they want to salvage the stock market and yet they don't apologize to the netizens, thinking that by only issuing such a statement, mention her and Jared, they are apologizing to everyone.

What is this if not stupidity?

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1103 - Netizens who don't buy

Or do they think the netizens are stupid enough to see their Jones Group's apology to the netizens in this ridiculous apology statement?

Perhaps that's what the Jones Group was thinking.

Think that the network is a group of ordinary ordinary citizens, always mu strong, for the capital has also always pushed.

So as soon as the netizens saw that it was an apology, they felt that it was an apology to them as well.

Perhaps some of the netizens will think so, but unfortunately, ah, the vast majority of the netizens are normal people, they are indeed just ordinary ordinary citizens.

But they are not the kind of people who are so inferior and blind that when they see an apology from Capital Hair, they think it is an apology to them as well.

All she can say is that the Jones Group has overthought and underestimated the network a little too much.

The netizens are actually very easy to deal with, as long as the Jones Group comes to a sincere apology to the netizens, or in the statement just now, mention the netizens.

She believes that the vast majority of netizens will forgive, after all, no one is stupid enough to go against capital all the time.

But the Jones Group does not do so, even forgetting that it was their Jones Group's thousandaire who angered the netizens and caused the stock market problems in the first place, and it was their Jones Group who took advantage of the netizens in the first place.

After the netizens fought back, they not only didn't apologize, they didn't even mention the netizens, which is clearly telling the netizens that Jones Group didn't put them in their eyes.

So how can the netizens not be more angry?

How could they not attack the Jones Group again.

I believe the Jones Group is even more anxious now, right?

Amber smiled.

I wonder whose attention it was to issue this apology, the Jones Group's own PR department or the Jones family's?

If it is the PR department, such a PR department can be disbanded, the staff that brings trouble to the company, what do we need?

If it is the Jones family, then the Jones family is estimated to be finished.

There are no more than three generations of wealth, and in the case of the Jones family, it extends to no more than four generations at most.

With such a leader, the Jones family had nothing to attend.

Amber thought, shrugged her shoulders and smiled, launched the official Jones Group platform and returned to her own social media platform.

Below her latest update, the number of comments was tens of thousands more than when she left earlier.

Amber raised an eyebrow, then clicked on the comments section to look and saw that all of them were posted by netizens clearing their minds to tell her not to forgive the Jones Group.

This must be what the netizens came to her specifically to say after seeing the apology statement issued by Jones Group.

And some netizens are also worried that she did not see the hidden meaning in the apology statement issued by Jones Group, but also specially translated out mention her to let her know, afraid that she thinks Jones Group is sincere to apologize to her, she forgave Jones Group and Norah for this.

Seeing this, Amber's heart was quite touched and she couldn't help but laugh out loud.

Jared heard it and gave her another sideways glance, not opening his mouth, but the meaning was clear, asking her what she was laughing at again.

Amber didn't hide it from him and shook her phone and said, "It's these internet users, it's kinda cute."

"Where's the cuteness?" Jared frowned, "Scolding you when you forgot?"

"Scold me at this time can not dare to jump out to speak, are thinking of ways to cope with the lawsuit, so dare to speak, basically are the good people." Amber spit out her tongue and said.

After that, she chose one of the comments with the highest number of likes to reply to each other: "Thank you for mentioning it, rest assured, insincere apology is not qualified to be forgiven, not to mention an adult who made a mistake, but can be coped with by an immature mind, presuming to make a big deal out of it, and do not look at the victim's promise."

Amber's response was quickly screenshotted and posted by a user, and immediately made it to Twitter Trend.

After all, this response from Amber shows her attitude towards the Jones family!

No forgiveness.

In a flash, netizens were overjoyed and ran to the bottom of Jones Group's official comment section to mock Jones Group for not being silly.

All of a sudden, the Jones Group's stock market, once again, hit rock bottom.

The Jones Group PR department was really dumbfounded.

But the head of the public relations department, now sitting behind a computer with a coffee, looking at the data on the computer, not only did not have the slightest panic, but also extraordinarily calm, sipping coffee and said: "Earlier I said, this apology statement can not be issued, it is better to let Mr. Jones live, with the live way to Goldstone Co. Apologize, but you refused to listen, and now you see? The netizens are backlashing even harder."

Mr. Jones' secretary was standing behind the head of PR, also looking at the data on the computer.

Watching the stock market numbers go all the way down makes your head spin.

"What can I do, this is what Mr. Jones ordered himself, I am a secretary, what else can I do but to do what I am told?" The secretary scratched his scalp in annoyance.

To put it bluntly, Mr. Jones is a man who has never been able to make decisions, and is so mediocre that if it weren't for the Farrell Group's constant help, the Jones Group would have gone bankrupt. So do you think Mr. Jones' idea can be implemented?"

"Of course I know that can not, but Mr. Jones that person you also know, persuasion does not listen, stubborn and conceited great, even if his decision is wrong, but also can not listen to the advice of others, bent on his own instructions are right, is right, must go to carry out, or suffer must be the person who questioned his decision, so you say this situation I can persuade? " The secretary sighed and laughed bitterly.

The head of public relations tsked, "This the Jones family is really a bunch of people."

"What do you mean?" The secretary looked down at him.

The head of the public relations department spoke disdainfully, "Before Miss Jones called the technical department side to ask the technical department side to raise the heat, not to let Mr. Farrell to suppress the heat, at that time the old Liu of the technical department knew that it was Mr. Farrell to reduce the heat, then advised Miss Jones not to do so, after all, pissed off Mr. Farrell is no good. After all, there was nothing good about pissing off Mr. Farrell, but Miss Jones, like Mr. Jones, stubbornly refused to listen, thinking that her grandfather was Mr. Farrell's teacher and Mr. Farrell would not care about her behavior, so the technical department had no choice but to respond to the pressure, and afterwards, that is, two hours ago, Lao Liu has resigned from the Jones Group, I'm afraid Mr. Farrell counted up, later get out of more difficult."

The secretary sighed and didn't say anything.

The head of public relations put down his coffee cup, "It seems that it is time for me to think of a way out."

"You're quitting too?" The secretary was shocked.

Mr. Farrell is really angry, now the outside world is rumored, Mr. Farrell to break with Jones Group, so now those companies in the circle, are beginning to wait and see, once Mr. Farrell finally really said, to break with the Jones Group, those companies, will certainly unite, the Jones Group to eat into the belly, then we employees are a problem. Jones Group, those companies, will certainly unite, the Jones Group demolished eat into the belly, when we employees of these places have become a problem, so it is better to resign, at least before the incident resigned, will not be implicated, Josh ah, we are two years of good friends, I also advise you to think about their own way back."

The secretary was silent for a moment, "You're right, I'll think about it, but for now, I'm going to report to Mr. Jones about the online situation and we'll talk about it when we go out to dinner tonight."

"Okay, you go ahead." The head of public relations waved his hand.

The secretary picked up the folder, walked out and headed for the president's office on the top floor, and reported the developments on the internet, to Mr. Jones.

Mr. Jones was filled with disbelief after hearing this, "How could this happen?"

Chapter 1104 Arrogance and Pride

Those little citizens on the internet, they are actually still calling them out.

How is this possible!

Yet seeing the secretary's serious expression, Mr. Jones had to believe this fact.

Mr. Jones on the desk fist clenched, already wrinkled face more than a few old, eyes reveal the color of bewilderment, "How can this be?"

He couldn't figure it out a bit.

He has already apologized ah.

Why do those people on the Internet still scold?

Seeming to see exactly what Mr. Jones' disbelief was, the secretary lowered her head, a hint of sarcasm flashing in her eyes.

It has come to this point, Mr. Jones has not realized where he is wrong.

It looks like you really need to consider your best friend's advice and quit to find another job.

Otherwise, the Jones Group will sooner or later be brought down by such an incompetent leader.

Of course, the secretary thought so in his heart, but did not dare to show the slightest on the surface, and still asked with a worried face, "Mr. Jones, what should we do now?"

Mr. Jones fist clenched and clenched, did not speak.

Because, he didn't know what to do.

Before that he went back to the Jones Mansion and approached his father to discuss how to reconcile with Jared.

After the discussion, he immediately rushed back to appease the shareholders in the company.

After all, the stock market is in turmoil and he has to give his shareholders a piece of his mind.

Who knows, only one foot before he assured the shareholders that the stock market would soon be back.

As a result, the secretary now brings news that after the apology statement is released, the stock market has not only not recovered, but has fallen even more.

How could he accept such a fact?

This is not at all like what he thought.

He was thinking that once his apology was issued, that Amber and those unreasonable netizens should stop abusing him the Jones family Jones Group, as well as forgiving Norah for his behavior.

Amber, in particular, should be forgiven immediately.

Norah's grandfather, after all, was Jared's teacher.

Seeing this layer on the relationship, Amber should forgive.

Even if Jared is now angry with them the Jones family, but there is absolutely no way that he will really break with them the Jones family and will always make up with them the Jones family.

That Amber should also be aware of this, so should not have been counting Norah's faults.

They should have forgiven Norah as soon as they saw the Jones family's apology statement.

Yet the woman didn't do that at all, instead saying outright that she didn't forgive and that their apology was insincere and not sincere.

Yes, it is true that they do not sincerely apologize, nor are they willing to apologize to such a woman.

Because he the Jones family from beginning to end feel that this woman is not good enough for Jared, only Norah is the most suitable for Jared.

If they sincerely apologized, wouldn't that be telling people that they, the Jones family, liked this Amber and thought Amber was a good match for Jared?

So what will people say when Norah is with Jared?

Therefore, he absolutely cannot see that situation arise, and for this reason, he deliberately chose to apologize in this way.

It was insincere, but an apology was made.

Then this Amber, should be good enough to accept it, right?

After all, he the Jones family will sooner or later make up with Jared, and when the time comes, she's not afraid that he the Jones family will say something in front of Jared, so that Jared will gradually become disgusted with her?

The woman's brain is just stupid.

How else could you not have thought of this?

The conceited Mr. Jones thought of this, his face was full of contempt for Amber, did not consider that in Jared's heart, Amber's status, much heavier than their the Jones family, simply will not make up with their the Jones family, much less by their the Jones family a few provocative words The Jones family is not going to make up with them, let alone be displeased with Amber after a few words from the Jones family.

After all, to Mr. Jones, they, the Jones family, were more important than Amber's place in Jared's heart.

People who can't see reality and are absorbed in their own fantasies are probably the same as Mr. Jones.

As for those netizens, Mr. Jones is even more displeased.

For Mr. Jones, this group of netizens are just some ordinary citizens who can't think of the stage, to put it bluntly, they are just a group of unruly people, how can they be compared with people of their status.

So isn't it normal that they weren't mentioned in his apology statement?

A person of status would hang on to an ordinary person at all times?

So what's unacceptable to this small group of citizens?

Shouldn't they take his apology statement to Amber and Jared as well?

How dare they ask him to apologize to them again.

Don't even think about it!

Who do they think they are?

A group of ordinary citizens, how dare they boycott their Jones Group, who gave them the guts!

The more you think about Mr. Jones, the more angry you are, the more you breathe.

But soon, Mr. Jones calmed down again and grunted coldly.

It's just a group of ordinary citizens, so let's make a scene.

He wanted to see what they could do, and how they could really bring down the Jones Group?

Mr. Jones heart disdain anxious, looking at the secretary opposite said, "The group of unruly people on the Internet do not care, let them curse, notify the people below, make sure to stabilize the stock market to me."

Listening to Mr. Jones's order, the secretary's heart is a big white eyes.

As a boss, no brain even if, but also so mediocre incompetence, even the ability to keep.

It's also a real misfortune for the Jones family and their employees.

Although so thought, but the boss is the boss after all, the secretary converged under the heart of the idea did not say, just pushed the glasses, hesitantly returned: "Mr. Jones, although the following people can stabilize the stock market but this cure is not the root cause, as long as the network does not stop, even if the stock market stabilized many times, it will still continue to fall, down to the tipping point on the trouble. "

I believe that people with brains will realize that this approach is simply not feasible.

However, Mr. Jones is not one of these people, listen did not feel that his orders where wrong, but heard the secretary's questioning, heart very dissatisfied, "What can be the trouble? I still do not believe that these people can still put me the Jones family into bankruptcy? All right, let you do it, go do, where to so much talk?"

The tone of voice was impatient.

When the secretary saw that Mr. Jones did not realize the seriousness of the matter, he was very helpless in his heart.

It's just that, after tonight, I'd better find a way to resign.

Stay in such a company, stay with such a boss, if you do not get out of it as soon as possible, sooner or later to finish.

The secretary also gave up the idea of continuing to persuade Mr. Jones, after all, a person who is bent on death, where is it possible to persuade back?

Solely do not advise.

It's not his company that ends up bankrupt anyway.

Thinking, the secretary nodded, "Okay Mr. Jones, I'm on my way."

After saying that, the secretary turned around and went out.

No sooner had he left, than Mr. Jones received a phone call.

When he heard a shareholder on the phone ask him to go to the conference room immediately, Mr. Jones felt very big head.

It was just assured that the stock market would soon be back, and instead of being back, it fell once again.

These shareholders were upset about this and again wanted to call him over to explain why.

Mr. Jones put the landline microphone back, sighed in annoyance, and resigned himself to his fate as he exited the office and headed for the conference room.

Although he is the executive president of Jones Group, those shareholders have spread his power very much.

So when faced with the demands of these shareholders, even he could not disobey.

On the other hand, Amber and Jared finally made it back to Kelsington Bay.

But instead of rushing into the building and back to the apartment, the two held hands and walked toward the fancy market near Kelsington Bay.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1105 - Shopping together at the supermarket

There were no more vegetables in the apartment, so the two of them got out of the car and set off straight for the premium market to buy some vegetables back.

This is the first time Jared has gone grocery shopping by himself.

Although he usually cooks, but the dishes are prepared early in the morning and are bought early by Amber.

So when Jared cooked, he didn't encounter any embarrassing situations where there were no dishes.

So this is the first time he's ever been out grocery shopping with Amber, and it feels strange and new.

The two walked through the fancy market and Amber picked up a cart.

Just about to push along, a pair of large hands reached over and pulled the cart through.

Amber's hands froze in mid-air, then she turned her head to look at him, "What's wrong?"

"I'll push." Jared flicked his thin lips back, then lifted his chin slightly, gesturing for her to look forward.

Amber followed and saw no strange sight and was curious, "What are you showing me?"

Jared faintly sighed, "I am letting you see, those who came together to buy food, are men pushing carts, so of course this car must also be pushed by me, those women have, you certainly can not be less, not to mention, this kind of physical work, should also be done by men."

After saying that, Jared tapped the cart handle.

Amber was amused, "OK, since you have said so, then the car will be yours."

"Of course!" Jared obligingly responded.

Amber's eyes flashed a hint of cunning, "In fact, ah, even if you do not say, I am ready to give you the car, let you push it."

"Oh?" Jared raised an eyebrow.

Amber took his arm and shook it, "Look, the other couples or couples who came together were all men pushing carts, so if I don't let you push, won't that make others look down on you? Think you are a big man, not even push the car, let a woman to push, all shame, right?"

Jared laughed lightly, "Oh? Is that really true?"

"Sure." Amber was busy nodding her head.

Jared stretched out his index finger and tapped her forehead, "Women might look down on me if I don't push the cart, but the men, shouldn't they be envious of me?"

"They envy is their business, but you as a man, do you really bear to let me, a woman, to do this?"

Amber raised her head and looked at the man with a smirk.

There is a man dare to nod, let the man look good meaning.

When the man saw this, the smile in his eyes became more and more intense, "Of course I can't bear it, my woman, just enjoy a lifetime of happiness, well, let's go."

Jared grabbed the push bar of the cart with both hands and was about to push the cart into the supermarket.

Amber called out to him, "Wait."

"What's wrong?" Jared stopped.

Amber pointed to the pile of couples walking past the two of them, "You only see the men pushing the carts, don't you see the women in action?"

Jared raised an eyebrow and also went to observe the couple that had just walked past.

At first glance, it became clear.

Jared's thin lips curled up, then his right arm also curled up slightly and looked at Amber.

Amber smiled sweetly at him and took his arm.

"I didn't think you could actually understand up to me." Amber put both arms around the man's arm and walked into the supermarket with him.

Because of the tight hold, Jared could clearly feel the two. balls. Soft. Flesh in his own arms constantly rubbing.

Jared's eyes darkened and his throat knot couldn't help but slide up and down, his voice slightly hoarse, "Your husband isn't stupid, how could he not understand?"

"Who's my husband now, don't talk nonsense." Amber glared at him with a red face.

Jared hooked his lips, "Sooner or later, yes."

"Hmph, who knows." Amber pouted and muttered in a small voice, her cheeks red like ripe apples.

If it were not for the fact that this is a supermarket where people come and go, he would have pressed her against the wall, pinched her face, and bit it.

Seeming to see the meaning in Jared's hot eyes, Amber's face burned even more, then slapped the man and whispered a warning with wide eyes, "I told you, don't mess around."

Jared's voice was still husky, "No. Going home is messing with me."

The corners of Amber's mouth twitched.

This man is really

Forget it, don't bother with him.

Amber re-clasped the man's arm and thought to herself.

Entering the supermarket, Jared looked at the wide range of supermarket goods, could not help but raise an eyebrow.

Amber caught on and instantly understood what was going on and laughed, "First time in a place like this?"

Jared does not deny, "I never need to personally shop for myself, need to use things, someone will be delivered at a fixed time, I never need to actively worry about, so do not need to come to such places, but before the tour of the mall, it looks similar to the supermarket."

"It's somewhat similar, but there's a difference." Amber took a bag of bananas and put it in the cart.

This is a premium market, also called a premium supermarket.

So the things inside, basically are carefully selected from abroad imported products, buy a random bag can be picked, and do not have to carefully check whether they are good or bad.

This, no doubt, saves the customer a lot of time.

After all, this is a supermarket in a high-class condominium area like Kelsington Bay, and the people who live in Kelsington Bay, although not super rich, are basically multi-millionaire level owners.

So the supermarket side, naturally, serves, also, these rich people.

Seeing that Amber took a bag of bananas and stopped, Jared looked at the other fruits and asked, "Don't you want anything else?"

Amber shook her head, "No, usually also rarely eat fruit, buy some bananas for salad is enough."

"That's not okay." Jared frowned, reached out and lifted several kinds of fruits and put them into the cart, "I've been too busy for a while, and I didn't pay attention to your diet, now that I know, of course I have to urge you to eat more fruits."

With that, Jared saw something else, pushed the cart forward, and on another row of shelves, took a few very expensive fruits and put them in the cart.

Soon, the cart was more than half full of fruit.

Amber saw crying and laughing, "Buy so much, how can you finish eating? Put some back quickly."

She quickly walked over and reached out to take a few fruits out of the cart.

Jared grabbed her wrist and stopped her, "No, it's for you, what are you going to eat?"

After saying that, Jared flicked Amber's hand straight out of the cart and pushed the cart to the other cart of her body so she couldn't reach it.

Amber hold forehead, "there are a few kinds of fruit is good, it is enough for me to eat, you buy so many at once, I have to eat how long ah?"

"If you can't finish it, put it in the fridge and save it for later." Jared looked at her and said nothing to take out a few of the fruits from the cart, his attitude was stubborn.

He's all for her own good.

The fruits he chose are all very good for women.

So, how could he allow her to take it out.

Amber looked at the man with an insistent face, helpless and funny.

At this point, a click sounded behind the two men, the sound of a photo being taken.

The scandalous incident just happened during the day, so much so that Amber is now very sensitive to the sound of photo shoots.

After knowing that someone was filming himself and Jared, the smile on his face was immediately put away and his little face came down icy cold.

After all, she thought, it must be some reporter filming her and Jared again, ready to make another story.

With this in mind, Amber immediately turned around and was about to warn the reporter, but she froze when she saw that the so-called reporter was just a girl who looked very young, like a high school student.

This seems to be, not a journalist hey.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1106 - The Gentle Amber

The girl who took the picture saw that her surreptitious act was discovered by Amber and Jared, she immediately got nervous and hurriedly put her phone down and hid it behind her back, blushing a bit as she spoke, "That I"

She seemed to want to explain her behavior, but because she looked so nervous and scared, she stammered for half a day without uttering a complete sentence.

Amber followed the girl's gaze, just in time to see the image of the man staring at the girl with a gloomy, handsome face.

That look, not to mention ordinary people, is Ben saw, it is estimated that will feel the pressure multiplied.

It's no wonder the girl is scared like this, cold sweat is coming out.

"Why the sneak peek?" Jared spoke, his voice as cold as the aura emanating from his surroundings.

Amber witnessed the girl's body began to shake, the already pale face, now more snow-white, even with the lips are trembling, the voice is tinged with a few cries, "I I didn't mean to do it, I just Just"

Seemingly too scared, the girl's hands kept twisting the corners of her clothes, her eyes were red, and tears couldn't stop seeping out.

As if in the next second, it is going to cry out.

Seeing this, Amber is now completely sure that this girl is not a journalist, and is probably really just a high school student, or a college student who just started college.

After all, no journalist with such poor professional skills would stand next to the person in question and take a sneak peek with a cell phone in an open and honest manner.

Anyway, she hadn't seen it.

If there really is such a journalist, it is estimated that other journalists would have been kicked out from the journalistic world.

When she thought about it, Amber couldn't help but feel a little funny inside.

After knowing that the girl in front of her, who was scared and living like a rabbit stuck in a desperate situation, was not a reporter, Amber's face eased up and her temperament became much gentler.

She pulled the arm of the man beside her, "Okay, she's not a reporter, don't do this to her, it scares her."

Jared, of course, knew the girl was not a journalist.

At first glance, it was obvious.

No journalist is that stupid.

However, the girl's clandestine behavior also really made him feel very unhappy.

But now that Amber has said it and told him to tighten up a bit, he naturally won't disobey.

Jared put away the full body of the cold air, as well as the pair of cold as the ice cellar gaze, not to take care of the girl, walked to the side of the fruit aisle, continue to pick Amber love to eat fruit.

Because he knew that next, Amber must have something to say to the girl.

He stood here, the girl patronizing fear of him to go, Amber wanted to know, probably can not ask out.

So, it's better for him to go a little farther.

After saying that this is a high-class market, there are security guards everywhere, and he is not worried about anything happening to Amber.

After Jared walked away, without his suffocatingly strong sense of oppression or his eyes that seemed to carry a knife, the girl finally breathed a huge sigh of relief and patted her chest.

It was horrible, just horrible.

This is the rumored living king of the business world, Jared, Mr. Farrell ah.

It's much scarier than what Dad said.

The girl was able to appear here, obviously also the children of rich families, that family, naturally, is also a business.

Even if you have not met Jared, you have certainly heard of Jared's reputation outside.

She would often listen to her father's stories about the big boys in the mall.

Especially Mr. Farrell's.

Dad always said how scary and scary Mr. Farrell was.

But she never just listened to it and didn't take it to heart, and didn't even believe what her dad said.

Think a person is scary again, but also can really make people afraid to even breathe?

It must be Dad's bragging and deliberate exaggeration.

However, now that she saw Mr. Farrell with her own eyes, she realized that what her father said was true and that Mr. Farrell was really scary.

Obviously just now when picking fruit for Miss Reed, the whole person is still gentle, however, when facing her, the whole person has changed, really become the father described that look, terrible.

Especially the way Mr. Farrell looked at her, cold, no temperature and no feelings.

That simply does not even look like a human can have a look.

The moment she met such a pair of eyes, she seemed to feel that she was not in the real world, but in hell.

In short, it was so horrible that she never wanted to experience it a second time.

The more the girl thought about it, the more terrified she became, and her body shivered directly.

Amber saw the girl is still a little stunned look, thought, open their bags, from inside took out a candy handed over, the voice gentle said: "Sorry, just scared you, right, really sorry, we heard the sound of taking pictures, thought it was the reporter, so the attitude is inevitably a little not very good, here to apologize to you. "

This candy, given by a secretary getting married during the day, is a snowflake pastry made by the secretary herself.

But she doesn't like snack candy like snowflake pastry, and Jared doesn't like sweet, so this candy she keeps in her bag.

Just remembered, and just in time to coax this girl who was frightened by them.

The girl looked at the exquisitely wrapped candy handed to her by Amber, the whole person was a little frozen, dumb, and with her still somewhat childish baby face, looking extra cute.

Amber was so cute by the girl that if it wasn't impolite, she would have wanted to go up and rub the girl's fleshy cheeks.

It must feel good in your hand, right?

"For For me?" The daughter pointed to the candy Amber handed her and then pointed to her nose, seemingly in disbelief.

Amber smiled and nodded, "Yeah, it's for you, take it."

The words fell, she tenderly took the girl's hand and placed the candy in her hand.

The girl looked at the candy in her hand, and looked at Amber, her round face was instantly tinged with red, she seemed shy, her voice became much smaller, "Thank you Miss Reed"

"You're welcome." Amber smiled and shook her head, "Just don't blame us for scaring you just now."

"No, no, no, no, it won't." The girl held the candy and her hands swung in a row, "I don't blame you guys, I know I was wrong in the first place, I shouldn't have taken pictures of you guys, I'm sorry."

With that, the girl put her hands on her thighs and bowed in the direction of Amber and Jared to apologize.

Amber's brow became even gentler when she saw this.

Even Jared, who was hesitating to buy a few boxes of Cheerios not far away, saw the scene and was less disgusted with the girl's attitude.

"Okay, get up." Amber's hands rushed to help the girl up.

The girl's face remained red and flushed.

Amber tidied up her bangs that had just fallen out when she bowed, and asked in a warm voice, "So how about this, you filmed us, and we scared you, and now we've apologized to each other, so let's just forget about this matter, and no one will take it personally?"

"Okay." The girl didn't even think about it and nodded her head quickly in agreement.

The head nodded so fast that Amber was afraid she would pass out later.

Shaking her head good-naturedly, Amber inquired, "Now can you tell us why you were just snapping pictures of us?"

The girl scratched her head, some embarrassed back: "I did not mean to, I just saw you and Mr. Farrell appeared in front of me, I was too excited, so a moment did not hold back, so I wanted to take a picture, no other intention, really no."

Fearing that Amber would not believe, the girl looked extra anxious and serious when she explained.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1107 So it's fans

Amber did not see any malice in the girl's eyes, only saw her daughter in the end uneasy and nervous, could not help but laugh, "I believe you, but I still want to know, what is your reason for secretly filming us, please answer me truthfully, can you?"

"Can can." The girl nodded once again quickly, then her body squirmed twice and her face became even more embarrassed, "Actually I'm a fan of yours."

As she spoke, the girl raised her eyes and gave Amber a shy glance, then hurriedly lowered her head again, her entire face flushed, her neck and ears red.

Amber was faintly frozen.

I never thought that she would one day meet her and Jared's Couple Fans in person.

Jared, who was picking out fruit in the back, also heard the girl's words as she identified herself and couldn't help but stop what she was doing and turn her head to look over.

He is also aware that he and Amber have Couple Fans, and is even happy about it.

After all, having Couple Fans means that his and Amber's relationship is viewed favorably and approved by very many people.

So for Couple Fans to spend their days thinking badly about him and Amber, he is not offended, but rather very tolerant.

Who made them very supportive of him and Amber?

Thinking of this, Jared looked at the girl again, has been completely free of dissatisfaction, but how to see how to look good.

Amber didn't know what the man was thinking behind her, she had slowed down by now and looked at the girl with a sudden smile, "I probably get it, you're a Couple Fans of Jared and I, that's why you were too excited to see me and Jared together and couldn't resist taking pictures, right?"

If that was the case, then she could understand.

When she was an adolescent, she also followed the stars and liked to take pictures with her cell phone when she met her favorite stars.

The situation is exactly the same as the girl.

So for the girl's behavior just now, she had nothing to take into account and was completely relieved.

Opposite, the girl saw Amber understood what she meant, her expression excitedly nodded again and again, "That's it, I became your Couple Fans shortly after Amber you and Mr. Farrell got back together, usually often clocked in your Fans Club, this time Amber you had an accident, I also helped online This time Amber you had an accident, I also helped you to call out a lot of bad people on the Internet, you see."

The more the girl said, the more excited she was, just now she didn't dare to stand too close to Amber, but now she found that Amber was actually very gentle and very approachable, so her guts naturally became bigger, and she came to Amber with her phone, face to face with Amber, and handed her phone to Amber.

The girl's enthusiasm, looking at Amber first stunned, then began to cry and laugh.

This little fans, it's really fun.

Amber ruffled her hair and lowered her eyes to the phone handed to her by the girl and found that the girl was really right, she really helped her curse a lot of accounts.

The list of posted comments on that person's platform is full of words to help her, and words to fight back against those people.

Seeing this scene, Amber's heart warmed.

This little fan, is really her true love fan ah.

"Amber, how about it, I'm not lying, I'm really a fan of you and Mr. Farrell," the girl looked at Amber with big round eyes expectantly.

Amber didn't hold back and reached out and gently touched the girl's hair, "Well, you weren't lying, thank you, my sweet little fan."

The girl opened her mouth wide and took a deep breath, and the whole person froze once again.

Ahhhhh, she was touched by her idol's hair.

This is not a dream, right?

The girl froze and raised her hand, touching the spot Amber had just touched.

There, a little warmth remained.

The girl was then completely sure that she was not dreaming and that her favorite idol, actually touched herself.

Ahhhhhh, she's so happy.

The girl held her heart in her hands, showed a silly smile and looked at Amber with fascination.

Also, Amber is so gentle.

She had always thought that women like Amber, who managed a company, must be the kind of strong women who were cold, high up and not easy to approach.

I didn't expect that Amber would be so gentle and apologize to her gently and give her candy to comfort her after she knew she wasn't a reporter.

Such a gentle idol, she really did not powder wrong.

Also, Amber calls her a cute little fan.

Looking at the girl staring at herself and giggling, the corners of Amber's mouth twitched and she cried and laughed a little more.

Why is this little girl so funny?

"Little sister, come back to your senses." Amber smiled and waved her hand in front of the girl, shouting her back to her senses.

The girl's eyes drifted off for a moment, then snapped back to meet Amber's smiling eyes.

Amber's eyes were very clear, and the girl was able to clearly see her demented look in Amber's eyes, and suddenly her face was red again, embarrassed, and hurriedly and shyly lowered her head and took her phone back.

But just retrieved half, a large hand out of thin air, the girl's phone away.

The girl thought she had been robbed, and couldn't care less about embarrassment and embarrassment, and quickly raised her head to shout, only to see that the person who took her phone was Jared, and immediately shouted the words stuck in her throat and couldn't get out.

How, how could it be Mr. Farrell?

What did Mr. Farrell do with her phone?

The girl blinked, expressing confusion and at the same time panic in her heart.

Although she had nothing to hide in her phone, she was still a little nervous and scared when she saw Mr. Farrell take her phone.

This feeling is exactly the same as when you play with your cell phone at school and get caught by the class teacher checking in.

For a while, the girl bit her lower lip, frozen in place, nervous, are about to turn into substantial.

Amber was also frozen by the scene just now, then turned around and looked at the man standing behind himself, who was checking the girl's phone, "What for? What are you doing with someone's phone?"

"Check it out." Jared thumbed the screen back.

Amber pursed her lips, "What's so nice about it, girls' phones generally have their own privacy, you look at girls' phones, it's not polite, give it back to people."

The girl nodded quickly.

That's right, give it back to me.

Jared held the phone in one hand and put one hand on top of Amber's head, gently stroking her hair like Amber did earlier when she touched the girl's hair, and softly said with soft lips, "Don't worry, I'm not the kind of man without principles, I won't look at anything else in her phone, I'll only look at the words she cursed for you."

"That's more like it." Amber was relieved.

She would not suspect the man of deliberately lying to her.

After all, what is there to cheat about this kind of thing?

The girl across the street didn't think someone of Jared's stature would be interested in the contents of her phone as an ordinary girl, and was relieved for a while.

Anyway, as long as Mr. Farrell is uncomfortable with the rest of her phone and only reads the comments where she helps Amber curse, then she has nothing to be nervous about.

The girl exhaled lightly, her body was no longer so stiff, her whole body relaxed, then looked at Jared's hand placed on the top of Amber's head gently stroking, the corners of her mouth grinned, revealing a smile.

Chapter 1108 Leave a picture

Ahhhhhhh, her favorite Couple actually showed love in front of her!

And Mr. Farrell is so gentle with Amber, not at all like the coldness when he was with her just now.

This is probably what the Internet says, indifferent to all beings, only tender to you alone.

It is true that Mr. Farrell is the most handsome man and the one who can make girls feel safe.

Like the kind of gentle and soft man, but not too much for girls to like, this kind of man, the easiest when the central air conditioning.

The girl cupped her face and looked at Amber and Jared with fascination and giggles.

With such an obvious look, it was hard for Amber and Jared to ignore it.

The two men looked at each other and both saw helplessness and amusement in each other's eyes.

Jared then turned off his phone and handed it to the girl, "Sorry, I just took your phone and I'm giving it back to you."

The girl froze and took the phone, timidly saying back, "It's okay."

"You're scaring her." Amber slapped the man's arm in amusement.

The man frowned, "I didn't scare her."

He did nothing to this girl, not even a cold look.

She wronged him.

Jared pursed his lips and looked at Amber with some resignation.

The girl also hurriedly waved her hand, "Amber you misunderstood, Mr. Farrell did not scare me, it is my own fear of Mr. Farrell, so I do not blame Mr. Farrell."

"Afraid of me?" Jared's frown tightened, "I didn't do anything to you, what are you afraid of me for?"

The girl scowled, lowered her head, and did not answer.

Amber instead gave a laugh and explained instead, "What else do I need you for? You're scary enough just standing here."

"Where?" Jared wasn't pleased that the woman judged herself that way.

Amber looked at him with a smirk, "Where not? Look at your cold face, and your sharp eyes, when people take a look, they think you are teaching them a lesson."

That's it.

The girl mentally nodded her head in agreement.

Jared lowered his eyes and fell into self-doubt.

Could it be that he was really too harsh and intimidating?

"I'll change it later." Jared murmured as he flicked his thin lips.

Amber was just about to say no.

The girl then preempted: "No, no, Mr. Farrell, you do not need to change, that is, your words indifferent to outsiders, to Miss Reed a gentle character, is the best, others are afraid of you, Miss Reed is not afraid of the line, right Amber?"

The girl's eyes looked at Amber expectantly, and her face was written with a quick compliment to me.

Amber gives a funny thumbs up.

The girl's eyes narrowed with laughter when she saw the response she got.

Next to her, Jared also spoke up and complimented the girl, "Good point, and you did a good job of fighting back online."

The girl did not have the luxury of getting a compliment from Jared, nor did she dare to think about it.

But now when I heard Jared's compliment, in addition to disbelief, there was a sense of excitement and excitement.

Ahhhhh, Mr. Farrell complimented her too.

Looking at the girl's excited look, Amber smiled and shook her head, "So happy?"

"Mmmmmmm very happy." The girl's face was overflowing with smiles, "I just want to eat snacks so I came out to buy, usually do not go out, I am a typical house girl, I did not think I was so lucky, as soon as I came out I met Amber and Mr. Farrell came together to shop in the supermarket, and also saw Amber and Mr. Farrell so good feelings, so loving. This kind of Couple Fans benefit of seeing Couple show their love in person, I guess only I can enjoy it, and I also received compliments from Amber and Mr. Farrell, so of course I am happy, I can't stop being happy."

said, the girl couldn't help but jump with excitement as she held the phone in both hands.

Then something occurred to her and the girl stopped and eyed Amber and Jared, "Amber, do you and Mr. Farrell live around here too?"

"Right." Amber nodded.

The girl's eyes were extraordinarily bright, "Really live around here, huh?"

"Really." Amber hummed.

"But, with you and Mr. Farrell, shouldn't you be in a more luxurious place?" The girl pointed to Amber, and then to Jared.

This place is also called a place where only rich people can live though.

But they, the Kelsington Bay homeowners, know that Kelsington Bay, a place where the so-called rich live in the eyes of the common man, is nothing more than a slum for the truly rich.

Really rich people, are buying mountains to build their own villas or estates, will not live in this kind of crowded neighborhood.

Therefore, the girl is surprised that Amber and Jared live here.

"This is just a temporary place for us to stay." Jared took Amber's hand and spoke in a soft voice, "We'll move out later."

Amber took the man's arm and agreed, "Yes, this is my property, not his, he's just coming over to live with me now, and has been for a while."

With that, she patted the man's arm.

The man was noncommittal.

The girl nodded in understanding, "So that's it, then in that case, wouldn't I have missed many opportunities to potentially meet you guys by chance?"

Said the girl's round face frowned with sudden disappointment.

Amber looked amused, "Now that you know we'll be staying here temporarily, there'll be a chance to meet up later."

"Yeah." Hearing Amber's soothing words, the girl felt instantly justified, and her mood suddenly improved again.

Amber covered her lips and smiled.

This little girl, really lively.

Looking at her watch, seeing that it was getting late, Amber let go of the man's arm and said to the girl, "Well little sister, we have to go buy something else, so let's stop talking for now, let's talk later when we have a chance, it's my honor to meet a little fan like you, I'm very happy."

With those words, Amber held out her hand.

The girl was flattered to hold Amber's hand, "Yes yes Amber, it's also an honor to meet you and Mr. Farrell, it's my luckiest day, you must be happy oh."

The girl looked at Jared and said, "Mr. Farrell, you must treat Amber well, don't let Amber down, especially the Jones family who made trouble on the Internet today, you must teach her a good lesson, she made Amber suffer, you must not let her go. "

Jared's thin lips curled, "I will."

"Then it's a deal, oh." My daughter reluctantly took her hand back.

Jared lifted his chin and gave a hmm, sort of agreeing to this deal with the girl.

The girl's fingers stirred, and her toes drew circles on the ground, and her expression became squirming, "And that"

"Just say what you want to say, don't be afraid." Amber spoke gently.

The girl looked at the encouragement in her eyes, her heart settled, and after squeezing her palms, she finally said what she wanted to say, "The picture just now, can I keep it? I also want to post it on the Internet, other Couple Fans will be very envious of me when they see it, Amber, Mr. Farrell, is it okay?"

She looked at the two carefully, her eyes written with expectation, like a small animal, cute as can be.

Amber instantly couldn't bear to turn her down.

But she was not good enough to make her own decision, and turned her head to look at the man beside her.

The man's gaze was gentle as he nodded to her, "You can do whatever you want, you don't have to ask me."

"If you say so, then I really won't ask you, huh?" Amber laughed.

Jared nodded, "Hmm."

"That's fine." Amber turned her head back and landed back on the girl across from her, "You can stay if you want to, and you can post it online if you want, but I have one request."

Chapter 1109 Norah's Fear

Amber's fingers were up, long and white and fiercely beautiful.

Jared saw this, his eyes darkened, reached out and took her hand in his, squeezing it gently, teasingly.

Amber sensed the man's intentions and glared at the man without good grace.

Bad men, take advantage of her at every opportunity, there is no end to it.

The interaction between the two, naturally, was also seen by the girl, the heart is another burst of excitement.

Ahhhhhh, it's starting again, it's starting again.

Mr. Farrell and Amber are showing their love again.

She is really too happy today!

The girl felt like she was about to faint with happiness, the whole person was dizzy and her voice was fluttering when she answered, "Amber you say, what request, I'm sure I'll agree to it all, really!"

Fearing that Amber wouldn't believe her, she held up three fingers and made an oath.

Amber lost her smile and shook her head, "No need to be so serious, my request is simple, is that when you send photos, if you bring text, must be factual, can not exaggerate or distort the facts, understand?"

"Mm-hmm." The girl nodded quickly, nodding her head like a chicken pecking rice, "Understood, don't worry Amber, I will never mess around, messing around that are journalists who have lost their conscience, I am a good person and will never do that."

"That's right, I don't have any more requests, so we'll leave now, bye." Amber was satisfied with the girl's answer, and her smile became more and more gentle.

The girl waved, "Bye Amber, bye Mr. Farrell."

Jared didn't respond, while Amber waved at the girl as well, then retook the man's arm and turned with him toward the vegetable section.

The girl stood still and watched them and could hear their conversation.

Amber was asking Jared why he bought so much fruit.

And Jared replied that they were all bought for her and that eating more of these fruits would be good for her health.

The girl listened and listened, a smile appeared on her face again, two hands also crossed together, crooked head to the chin below, mouth excitedly murmured: "Mr. Farrell is really too much love Amber, two people so loving ah, no, so good thing, can not only I know, also have to let others know, hehehe. "

A lewd laugh escaped the girl's lips, then she took out her cell phone and posted all of the encounter she had just had with Amber and Jared, along with a photo of the two picking out fruit.

She was originally a leader in Couple Fans, the number of fans, although not many, also has five figures.

But these five-figure fans can be real fans.

So as soon as the girl posted her chance encounter with Amber and Jared online, these fans saw it and immediately retweeted it.

It didn't take long for the topic of Amber and Jared going to the supermarket to hit the Twitter Trend, and everyone saw it.

For a while, everyone was exclaiming that the two were really in love.

When Norah saw this Twitter Trend, she was so angry that she smashed her phone against the wall.

The phone smashed into the wall and then flew forward because of the rebound force, flew a cut and fell to the ground, shattered into quarters and was completely broken and unusable.

But the fire in Norah's heart, but still not completely ventilated, sitting on the sofa, grabbing the pillow like crazy and yelling.

After yelling for a while, his hair and clothes became a mess, and the whole man sat bent over, staring at the phone on the ground with bloodshot eyes, his face full of fierceness.

Fake, it's all fake!

This Twitter Trend is not real!

Jared wouldn't like that Amber woman, never!

They got married because Amber, the woman who threatened Jared, and this time back together, it must be Amber who threatened Jared again with some handle.

So, there is absolutely no way they could have feelings. The eyes and smile of Jared when he looks at Amber in the photo are also fake, all fake.

The person who posted this dynamic must also be Amber's people. Amber deliberately found someone to take a picture of her and Jared because of what happened during the day and had it posted online, just to confuse those netizens and make those netizens think that they are in a good relationship.

Yes, that must be right!

Norah gritted her teeth and kept brainwashing herself in her heart, unwilling to believe the truth of what she saw, much less that Jared really had feelings for Amber.

She grew up loving Jared, and when she grew up and understood what love was, she realized that she was not to Jared, not to her sister to her brother, or her niece to her uncle's feelings of childhood admiration, but the love between a man and a woman.

After realizing that she was in love with Jared, she was hell-bent on marrying Jared and being Jared's wife.

It's just that Jared didn't have that in mind for her, and although she was lost, she didn't immediately force Jared to fall in love with her, because Jared didn't have a woman he liked anyway, and she had all the time in the world to make Jared fall in love with himself.

However, not waiting for Jared to fall in love with himself, Jared suddenly told her one day that he had a girl he liked, the girl, his pen pal, they corresponded for years, and it can even be said that he was 'watching' the girl grow up.

At that moment, she felt like the sky was falling. She never knew that Jared actually had a pen pal and was in love with that pen pal, which was very unacceptable to her.

She and Jared have known each other since childhood, longer than the so-called pen pal. What makes it possible to get Jared's heart is the pen pal who comes later.

So she vowed at that time that she would find that pen pal and get rid of that pen pal from Jared's side.

But before she could find the pen pal, Jared had actually brought it to her, and it was actually Makenna, the daughter of the Gardner family.

She then looked shocked, could not believe that Jared's pen pal is actually this woman, this woman is not something good, than she are also ruthless, even her boyfriend of three years can be murdered, so snake hearted a woman, what can get Jared heart.

So she approached Jared and told Jared: that Makenna woman is not easy, but Jared actually told her not to talk nonsense with ruthless anger and drove her away from the Fu Gong House and was ridiculed by the other women in the circle.

No way, this shame she will not blame on Jared's head, it can only be blamed on Makenna's head, since Makenna appeared, Jared's attitude towards her is obviously not right up, so do not blame Makenna blame who?

She must reveal the skin of that woman Makenna, let Jared know, that woman Makenna, what kind of person she really is, let Jared know that Makenna is not worthy of him at all, only she, Norah, is the best for her.

But she never thought that Makenna, that woman, was even more perverted and scary than she thought, and she almost died in that woman's hands.

And the woman caught her in the act, so that she never dared to do anything rash again, and even threatened her not to appear in front of Jared.

There is no way, because of the fear of this woman Makenna, as well as Makenna hand handle, she can only grit her teeth and agree, and then on the external excuse to study abroad, came to the foreign country, in order to avoid Makenna that woman.

Chapter 1110 Recollections of the Past

She was really afraid of that woman Makenna.

She herself was not a good person, but to be able to be ruthless to kill people such a thing, she also can not do out of a million.

But Makenna that woman did it, but no pressure at all, even the boyfriend of three years, can be ruthless to get rid of the woman, you can imagine how terrible.

Besides, the one time she approached Makenna, Makenna literally almost got her killed.

She thought that if she and Jared didn't have a layer of relationship in place and Makenna got her killed, Grandpa would have had Jared investigate her death and maybe that time Makenna really killed her.

In short, after that time, she was completely afraid of that woman Makenna, and could only hold on to her love for Jared alone and fled abroad in the dust, who made her unable to fight Makenna?

But what she didn't expect was that the heavens opened up, and soon after she came abroad, she heard the news that Makenna had been hit by a car and become a vegetable, and at that time, she simply laughed out loud with joy for ten minutes, and went straight to the bar at night to celebrate.

Makenna became a vegetable, it means that she does not have to fear Makenna in the future, and she does not have to stay abroad all the time to return, she can go back at any time and continue to find Jared and make Jared fall in love with himself.

Just before she returned home, she heard again that a woman named Amber, using the favor of saving Makenna from a car accident, blackmailed Jared into marrying herself, and Jared actually agreed to do so.

When she learned this, she was so angry that she bought a ticket to go back to her country.

Just at the moment she arrived at the airport, her grandfather called her and said that Elias, the medical genius, had gone abroad for further training in brain as well as psychiatry in order to awaken Makenna.

The medical genius Elias is famous all over the world. Although he is young, he has a 100% success rate whenever he takes over a surgery, and no surgery has ever failed.

And grandpa told her that Elias had specially had Makenna examined before he left the country, and after doing so, Elias estimated the probability of waking Makenna up as high as 70% when he returned from his advanced training.

In other words, Makenna is destined to wake up, and during Makenna's slumber, Jared has moved people to places where no one can find them, just to protect Makenna.

At that moment, she was jealous and angry.

Jared actually loves Makenna so much, Makenna has become a vegetable, are still special to protect people from others.

There is also Elias, a medical genius, will actually go into other subjects in order to wake up Makenna.

Makenna is simply like the world's own daughter.

Knowing that Makenna would wake up, although she was reluctant, she could only dismiss the idea of continuing to return to her country, tore up her ticket and left the airport.

Although there is no way to go back home to drive away Amber who is married to Jared, but she is not in a hurry, anyway Makenna are going to wake up, that Amber is definitely finished.

As expected, six years later, Makenna really woke up, and once awake, Jared divorced the woman named Amber for Makenna.

She was both happy and headache-stricken to learn this news.

Happy that the woman who threatened Jared with marriage was finally driven away, the headache is that Amber is gone, Makenna she will be more difficult to deal with, after all, that woman is really scary.

So terrible that she couldn't even resist the thought of giving up on Jared, because she really wasn't sure she could fight such a terrible woman.

However, she didn't expect Makenna and Amber to fight when she was torn between giving up.

Grandpa has been helping her keep an eye on the two women, and learned that it was Makenna who couldn't accept that Amber married Jared during the time she became a vegetable, so she repeatedly struck out at that Amber to death.

When she knew, she was so happy, she couldn't wait for the two women to fight.

Although she also does not think that Amber can fight Makenna, but Amber can threaten Jared, but also can threaten successfully, it proves that Amber is not a simple role, and Makenna fight, even if the final failure, can certainly bite off Makenna a piece of flesh.

At that time, she will take action against Makenna, and maybe she will succeed.

So with this idea of sitting on the mountain and watching the tiger fight, as well as the snipe and the clam fighting for the fisherman's profit, she dismissed the idea of making a move and kept a secret eye on the two women.

It turns out that Amber is indeed not an easy character, and actually managed to hold out in Makenna's hands and even fight back successfully, which gave her a little confidence in Amber fighting across Makenna.

As expected, the two women fought, it was really intense, the moves are aimed at each other's lives, although it was Makenna to Amber to death, Amber defense or counterattack, but to survive in the hands of Makenna, Amber does have a few skills, and even in the end, but also really defeated Makenna, so that Jared successfully disgusted Makenna, cancelled the engagement, and finally even managed to find evidence that Makenna was not the Gardner family's daughter, and drove Makenna out of the Gardner family.

In this way, Makenna completely failed, not only lost Jared, but also lost the Gardner family the family line, became a loner, and finally sentenced to prison, and later she heard that Makenna in prison crazy, was transferred to a mental hospital, jumped to his death, is really a great pleasure.

However, she felt a vague chill in her heart while she was happy, a chill for Amber.

Even Makenna so terrible woman, that Amber can completely beat down, and even forced each other to jump to their deaths.

You can imagine how scary that Amber should be?

Such a woman, back then, was able to threaten Jared with divorce, and now that Makenna is gone, she may also be able to threaten Jared with getting back together.

As it turns out, her suspicions were right, and not long after Makenna's death, she heard from her grandfather that Jared was pursuing Amber and wanted to get back together with her.

This is absolutely impossible!

Jared loves Makenna, although not in the end, but also can not love that Amber.

Otherwise six years of marriage, long ago fell in love, how can be so short after the divorce to fall in love?

So Jared will pursue Amber this thing inside, there must be some unknown reason.

Maybe it was Amber who used something to threaten Jared again, so that Jared had to agree to get back together.

There may even be Amber in order to revenge Jared six years of indifference, but also let Jared take the initiative to Amber's pursuit, is really shameless to the extreme.

God knows how much she wants to go back to her country and help Jared get rid of this woman named Yung so that Jared will no longer be under the coercion of this woman.

But this woman brought her more pressure than Makenna did, and made her afraid to go back to the country to take on this woman easily.

Therefore, she can only hold back for the time being and continue to stay abroad to wait and see. Grandpa and Dad are also supportive and told her not to be in a hurry.

It's just that as she spends more time abroad, she gets more and more irritated, especially when she's jealous every time she sees those people online saying what Jared and Amber have done again, showing off their love and sending out candy.

And with the more you see, the more jealousy in her heart is getting heavier and heavier, and finally can no longer suppress the strike.

This is her first strike, and a tentative one.

Mostly, she had never been up against Amber and didn't know how much harder Amber was to deal with than Makenna.