

LLPD Chapter 1201

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1201 Quite like to call him like this

She smiled at the man and nodded heavily, "I believe you, but your words make me think that if you don't become the chairman of the Farrell Group and become a teacher, you will definitely be the most popular teacher among the students, knowing that the students like teacher, is a teacher like you who does not find mistakes in the students, but in yourself."

The man stroked her head and laughed lightly, "But I don't like to be other people's teacher, I only like to be yours alone, and I only want to teach you alone, as for other people, they don't deserve it!"

This comment amused Amber and she couldn't help but slap the man on the chest, "You're really double standard."

"You don't like my double standard like that?" The man raised a lower eyebrow, then gazed at her with a deep gaze.

Amber was looking at his face hot, hummed, "lazy to care about you, well, the time is late, these are finished, let's go back first, I am a little hungry."

She rubbed her stomach.

How could the man not know that she was deliberately changing the subject and did not want to answer his question?

The man could not help but shake his head helplessly and lost his smile.

Still so thin-skinned ah.

"Okay, go back first, and there's something else I need to tell you." The man got up and moved his neck a little and said.

Amber was also moving her shoulders and legs at this moment, and when she heard the man's words, she immediately turned her head to look at him, "What is it?"

"All the various materials I asked Ben to prepare for your next tutoring are ready and are now inside my car, and starting tonight, I will officially become your home teacher."

"So fast?" Amber was slightly surprised, "You said before that the information should be collected from foreign schools, so that they can teach me in a targeted way, and the exams are easier to cope with, I thought that it would take at least a few days to bring the information from abroad, but I didn't expect it to arrive in just one day."

The man nodded his head, "an associate professor of that school, is my college classmate, I let him collect the direct airlift over, so the time aspect naturally does not take long."

"So that's it." Amber nodded in a daze, then gazed at the man, her small face full of seriousness, "Since we're here, then from tonight onwards, Mr. Farrell, please give us more guidance."

She smiled and extended her hand toward the man.

"Mr. Farrell" The man whispered it out of his mouth.

His voice is low and sexy, read extra lovingly, so that people are tingling all over, the whole through an astringent feeling.

Amber's cheeks, which were already a little hot, couldn't help but get even hotter and even start to glow red at this moment.

She glared at the man with a pout, "Jared, why are you pronouncing Mr. Farrell like that? It's as if the profession of teacher is all immodest."

The man's lips hooked up a touch of playfulness, "I didn't say this was improper, you said it yourself, but you did remind me that the title of teacher, indeed, in a certain respect, not very proper."

As for exactly which side, we all understand.

Amber blushed really red and stomped her foot, "You're really If I'd known you'd start doing that again, I wouldn't have called you teacher."

This man is not worthy!

"Don't." The man pulled Amber's arm, "Since next, I'm going to teach you how to deal with the exam, then of course you have to call me teacher, I like that, not only does it allow me to be the teacher who teaches you what you know, but also the teacher who teaches you new positions."

New position?

Amber is now not only blushing, but the roots of her ears are red through.

What new position can it be?

Of course that kind of thing ah!

This man can really make people do not know what to say.

Amber's heart regrets this moment, should have known a Mr. Farrell, will let the man associate to these things above, she will not call him so.

What a headache.

And those who initially called the heroine of those videos a teacher are also good enough.

If it weren't for those people, how would this man be in this mess today?

Even the title teacher is really just a simple teacher and nothing more.

Which is like now, make the teacher this name, are so immodest.

"That's enough of you Jared, keep that up and I'll ignore you." Amber didn't have the good sense to step on the man's foot, on the man's leather shoes, leaving a cute footprint, while waiting for the eyes to warn the man to stop talking nonsense.

Otherwise, she would have to come together with him.

She swung her little fist with a very fierce look on her face.

I don't know, she fell in the eyes of men like this, but there is not the slightest intimidation, there is only cute.

The milk is fierce, probably so.

The man nodded with a smile, "Okay, I won't say anymore, but from today onwards, whenever I teach you, you can call me teacher, I quite like it when you call me that."

He was a gloriously great purveyor of knowledge when it came to teaching her the points she needed to cope with the exam.

Of course, in bed then, she called him teacher, the taste naturally becomes another flavor.

In addition, there is a kind of teacher-student love forbidden romance feeling, think about it, should also be quite exciting. Exciting.

Jared's eyes shimmered and the curvature of his thin lips grew thicker.

Maybe, tonight, we can try this feeling.

The man looked at Amber and thought.

Amber met his eyes, his heart thumped, and a bad feeling rose up.

What's with this guy's eyes?

How does it feel, as if to eat her.

Amber pursed her red lips, and her good-looking almond eyes narrowed slightly, becoming somewhat wary.

This guy, for sure, didn't have anything good in mind.

Why else would you look at her like that?

"Jared, that's enough, hurry up and take your eyes back, look at me like that, what do you want?" Amber shouted with her crossed arms.

The man's throat moved, holding back for a while before he didn't say those two words, "It's nothing, let's go, aren't you hungry?"

He reached out his hand and tried to take hers.

Amber was silent for a few seconds and finally did not refuse, reaching out her hand and letting the man pull her.

In any case, the man's eyes are so not very polite.

But in her heart, she still has some small snickers of joy.

After all, you are attractive to men in order to make them look at you like this.

Why else would a man show such a look?

So, seeing as the man was charmed by himself, she still did not reject him, or let him break his heart how?

Holding hands, the two walked out of Goldstone Co. and got into their car under the eyes of the employees as usual.

In the car, Jared leans over to buckle Amber's seat belt.

Amber obediently leaned back in her seat back and allowed the man to fasten her seat belt.

Anyway, men like, let him do it.

If he refused him, he would have looked at her with a lost and resentful look, and she felt guilty, wondering if she was really wrong.

So, simply let him do it.

Anyway, this feeling of others serving themselves and enjoying themselves is quite good, in that case, why not let it?

After fastening his seat belt, the man also sat back in his own driver's seat, fastened his own seat belt and drove towards Goldstone Co.

On the road, Amber suddenly thought of something, turned her head to look at the man driving seriously and asked, "Jared, you went to see Connor this afternoon, how did it go?"

"The deal was made, he gave me the relics, I agreed to sign the letter of understanding, and when I came to you, Ben had already brought someone to deliver the letter of understanding." Jared asked as he turned the wheel.

Chapter 1202 - The Relic Arrives

"That's fine." Hearing the man say that the deal was done, Amber then nodded reassuringly.

At that moment, Jared suddenly narrowed his eyes, "Our previous guess was wrong."

"Hmm?" Amber was filled with confusion, "Which guess are you talking about?"

"The relic's." Jared pursed his lips, "Initially we thought the relics that Connor was talking about were things like photos and videos, but after I went to Connor this afternoon, it was revealed from what he said that the relics weren't these that we guessed, but something else."

"Something else?" Amber sat up straight in surprise, "So what exactly is it?"

Jared shook his head, "I don't know, Connor didn't reveal it, but was able to confirm it wasn't the ones we guessed."

So that's why, he can let Ben go and get the relic back.

Otherwise, he'll go by himself.

As long as it's not what he and Little Leaf think, there's no fear of others knowing what the relics are.

"It's good that it's not." Amber leaned back in her chair again, "It's not those things, and we'll be able to completely stop worrying about the possibility of being exposed."

Jared hummed, "That said, it's still upsetting and somewhat deceiving."

But isn't it.

At first, both he and Amber thought it was something like a photo video, so they had to agree to Connor's terms and let Alice go.

But now that it turns out not to be, then their promise to let Alice go becomes an unfair trade.

So it's not wrong at all to say that it was tricked by Connor.

Amber also sighed, "It's quite upsetting, Connor took advantage of our psychology of defending your mother's reputation, that's why he dared to deliberately lead us towards those things, otherwise his lies would have been unraveled long ago."

"So I'll make a note of this and settle the score with him together later." Jared said with a gloomy handsome face and a morose voice.

Amber nodded, "It's time."

As he was talking, the cell phone in Jared's pocket rang.

He glanced at the woman in the passenger side, "You get it for me, I'm not available to drive."

"What if it's someone from your group calling to say something official?" Amber didn't immediately agree to answer the phone for him, but looked at the man and inquired.

The man lightly opened his thin lips back: "Even so, it does not matter, you are not an outsider, answer it, just turn on the amplification."

"That's okay." Amber hummed, reached into his suit pocket and fished out his cell phone.

Once she saw the caller ID, Amber put the phone in front of him again and gave him a look.

Also just a glance, put the phone away, after all, the man is driving, not so much time to look carefully, look at the line.

"It was Ben who called." Amber said.

Jared lifted his chin slightly, "I think it's the relic thing, pick it up."

Hearing him say that, Amber didn't dare to delay and hurriedly answered the phone, "Hello?"

On the other end of the line, Ben froze for a moment when he heard her voice, then quickly regained his composure and inquired, "Miss. Reed, is Mr. Farrell there?"

I guess Mr. Farrell is not with Miss. Reed at the moment.

Why else would Miss. Reed answer the phone?

However, this thought just rose, the next second Ben was hit in the face by Amber.

"Yeah, he's driving." Amber looked at the man back, then turned the PA on.

The corner of Ben's mouth twitched, "Okay."

He was thinking too much and thought Mr. Farrell was not here at the moment.

It is also true that these two people are inseparable as long as they get together, so how can Mr. Farrell not be around Miss. Reed.

Besides, who says that Miss Reed can only answer the phone for Mr. Farrell when she's not around?

Mr. Farrell in Miss. Reed side, Miss. Reed can also help Mr. Farrell answer the phone ah, in case Mr. Farrell lazy do not want to answer it?

Well It seems that in the future you can no longer use fixed thinking to think about some things, or you will also be hit in the face.

Especially in the face of these two people, you can not think with a fixed mind.

Ben rubbed his chin and thought.

Amber did not know what Ben was thinking, put the phone next to the gear lever and spoke, "Ben, your Mr. Farrell is right next to me, I have turned on the amplification, you can say whatever you want to him, don't worry he can't hear you."

Hearing Amber's reminder Ben gathered the thoughts in his mind and smiled gratefully, "Yes, thank you Miss. Reed."

"You're welcome." Amber returned a smile.

Although neither side can see it, the ceremony is still necessary.

"Mr. Farrell, the letter of understanding I have sent to Connor and the relics are now in my possession." On the other end of the phone, Ben sat in his car and looked down at an antique antique box that was sitting on the passenger side.

The box is not large, and is the size of a grown man's hand.

The box as a whole presents a kind of black, and black shiny, the outside of the box is also engraved with a variety of patterns, those patterns look to give a sense of mystery, so that people do not realize that the meaning of these patterns represent, certainly very uncomplicated.

It is also true that more than a hundred years ago, the Zachary family was also a large family.

At that time, the country was still in the last feudal dynasty, the Zachary family ancestors, also used to be the first-class officials, so at that time the Zachary family, naturally, is also extremely brilliant.

Until the establishment of the new country, in addition to the Zachary family back talent withered, so that the Zachary family fell down.

But the Zachary family, even if it fell, some of the rules and belongings left behind by the ancestors were destroyed during those years, but there were still many hidden until after the reform, and they were turned over again.

This box and the contents of the box is one of them.

The box is of huanghuali, the wood itself is very valuable, plus the precipitation of a hundred years, it is even more valuable.

A box is so valuable, then let alone what is contained in it.

It was also really touching that Madame could give such an expensive item to Connor.

Ben thought.

Jared's eyebrows were stretched when he heard that the relics had been brought back.

Amber is also slightly relieved.

God knows how nervous she and Jared were when they heard Ben say that the letter of understanding was sent over.

Just worry about not getting the relics and getting screwed by Connor again.

But the good thing is, this time Connor still keep his word.

"What's the relic?" Jared asked in a deep voice as he watched the red light ahead and pulled over, finally getting a chance to turn his head and look at his phone.

Amber was also glued to her phone, eager to know the answer.

Ben simply turned the phone video on.

Seeing this, Amber did not put the phone away, but picked it up and put it between herself and Jared, aspect watching.

Ben probed, took the box of huanghuali wood on the passenger side, then pointed it at the phone camera, "This is it."

"This box looks like it's worth a lot of money, is it an antique?" Amber asked with a wink.

The man nodded slightly, "is huanghuali, look at the box presents the color, the box at least a hundred years of history, not considered an antique, can only be considered recent cultural relics, but also really worth some money, probably millions of it."

Hiss

Amber sucked in a breath of cold air, "millions of dollars is also called worth a little money, do you have a different understanding of the word worth a little money than ordinary people?"

"Hmm?" The man looked up at her, his eyes clearly holding a puzzled look.

Obviously, didn't quite catch her meaning.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1203 The origin of the jade pendant

Amber funny forehead, "I was wrong, I just figured it out, I mean, probably because you are too rich, so for an amount like a few million, also only think it is a small amount, so you say the box is worth a little money, it is not surprising."

For men, a few million, which is similar to a few dollars.

But for her, a few million is a big amount.

The man withdrew his gaze and fell back to the phone screen, "You like the box?"

Amber hurriedly shook her head, "Not like, this kind of box, although it is really valuable to me, but at the same time, it gives me a feeling of fear."

"Scared?" The man raised his eyebrows, not understanding what there was to be afraid of with a box.

Amber explained, "This box has so many years, and look at the pattern on it, it's quite mysterious, which makes me think of something in some horror movies, some props in many horror movies, it's these old objects that look like they give people an eerie feeling, so I don't like it."

The man didn't expect her to be scared for this reason and was amused.

Now I know that she is quite afraid of these.

"I was going to say that I'll give it to you if you like it." The man laughed lowly, "Now it seems that it can't be given away."

Amber hurriedly shook her head and waved her hand, "No, you don't send, I'm afraid of nightmares, you keep it for yourself."

"If you don't like it, I won't send it." The man said with a slight nod.

Amber breathed a sigh of relief, "That's good, but what's inside the box?"

She asked curiously, looking at the box in the video.

Ben put the phone on the phone stand to fix it, then one hand to hold up the box, the other hand will open the box, the contents, naturally, also exposed to the camera.

It is an imperial green jade pendant with emerald green color and without a trace of impurities.

No wonder it is packed in such an expensive box, the original contents, than the box is several times more expensive it.

Amber saw the jade pendant and couldn't help but cover her lips and exclaim, "It's so beautiful."

This jade pendant, was carved into a plum blossom shape, the petals and stamens lifelike, if not the material is jade, the color is emerald green, looks as if it is a real plum blossom, beautiful to the extreme.

Even if Amber doesn't play with jade and doesn't know much about it, she knows that jade that is this green in color must be worth a lot of money.

More than that, the level of carving, even she, a layman, could see that it was definitely a top master level of carving.

Such top-notch carving, coupled with such a valuable and rare jade, the combination of the two, so that the value of this jade pendant, but also doubled several times.

If she did not guess, the value of this jade pendant, must be tens of millions.

Compared to Amber's amazement at the jade pendant, the man sitting in the driver's seat looked at the pendant, but his eyebrows were deeply wrinkled, and deep in his eyes, a trace of surprise emerged, "The relic is actually this."

When she heard the man's words, Amber looked at him curiously and asked, "You know about this jade pendant? But it's not right, this jade pendant was given to Connor by your mother when she was dating Connor, you weren't even around at that time, how would you know?"

His mother was not married to his father when she was dating Connor.

Naturally, there is no more him.

So this jade pendant, by definition, he should not know ah.

Also a woman, she didn't think his mother would tell what she had given to her first love, to her current husband as well as her son.

Yet the man nodded slowly under Amber's book, "I know."

"You really know?" Amber was amazed.

Ben was also quite surprised.

But I soon figured out that Mrs. Farrell probably told Mr. Farrell.

Well

From this point of view, men and women's thinking, in the end, is still different.

Amber didn't think Jared's mother could have told Jared.

Ben, however, felt that he would still tell.

That's the difference between men and women's thinking.

"THE Zachary family used to be kind of a big family, and an old one, older than even THE Farrell Family." Jared saw the red light pass and restarted the car, saying as he drove.

Amber expressed surprise, "Older than even the Farrell Family?"

"Hmm." Jared nodded.

Amber marveled, "I thought that the Zachary family was a new family in these decades, but I didn't expect it to be so old."

The Zachary family is also a family of the Capital, but it is already a third-rate family, and now it is only languishing in the ranks of the upper-class families, and it is believed that at any time it may be squeezed out of the kind.

After all, the Zachary family is not the same as Jared's mother's family, but a side branch of Jared's mother's family, so there is nothing to do with Jared, at best, just a little bit of blood.

Probably the current the Zachary family also know that Jared is not willing to take care of them, all even the Zachary family may fall at any time, but also did not come to Jared to help, this point, also count the current the Zachary family will work.

But she always thought that the Zachary family, the grandfather of Jared's mother, started the family, just like the Farrell Family.

After all, the Farrell Family was started by Old Mr. Farrell.

Little did we know that the Zachary family had a longer history than the Farrell Family.

"Because now the Zachary family, long ago is no longer the first family, so about the Zachary family a lot of the past, have been buried in the past, not known, so you do not know is normal." The man explained softly.

Amber nodded, "So this jade pendant, what is it all about again?"

The man turned the steering wheel, once again back: "the Zachary family ancestors, once when the court's first-class officials, but also a corrupt official, scraped a lot of people's money, the court broke up, the Zachary family ancestors are forced to occupy a lot of palace treasures, that time the Zachary The Zachary family, it can be said that the Zachary family is strong to the extreme, however, the extreme is bound to decline, after the Zachary family born offspring, a more mediocre than one, in addition to sitting on the mountain, and did not have the ability to earn back the squandered finances, so just two or three generations, the Zachary family from the top family, directly down to the middle class family, once The Zachary family has fallen from the top of the family, directly to the middle class family, once the ancestral scavenged wealth has also gone most of the half."

When she heard the man say this, Amber sighed with emotion, "Indeed, if the descendants do not compete, even the largest family fortune will not be able to withstand the squandering."

The man does not deny, "to that decade, the Zachary family became one of the objects of severe crackdown, the remaining belongings, but also almost looted, but in the end there are still some smart people, before being looted, but also secretly hid part of the belongings, which is behind the Zachary family to regain their fortune, this one The jade pendant, is one of the hidden part of the property, because this jade pendant is worth a lot of money, after the Zachary family family, that is, my grandfather, did not sell this jade pendant together, used to exchange for the Zachary family capital to make a fortune, but left, left my mother, as a representative of the Zachary family family people's identity symbol, my grandfather himself is a very ambitious person, he attempted to develop the Zachary family into that strong family a hundred years ago, so also picked up the rules of the past some family children have status symbol token, and the reason I know this, is also my grandfather told me."

"So that's it." Amber lifted her chin in a daze.

She said it, he knows the origin of this jade pendant, absolutely can not be his mother told.

On the other end of the video, Ben listened to Jared's words and came to his senses.

Well, that's good.

He guessed wrong again.

"I remember, your past name, not Jared is it?" At this time, Amber suddenly thought of something and looked at the man and asked.

Chapter 1204 Cold-blooded woman

"Zackary," the man nodded, "aka the acronym for my WHAT'S APP name, as I've told you before."

Amber ummed and ahed twice, "I remember, you said that you used to follow your mother's surname before you changed to your current name later."

"Before my father met my stepmother, the person he loved was always my mother, plus my grandfather had only one daughter, no other children, so at the beginning, my father's idea was to have two children with my mother, one following my mother's surname, to inherit the Zachary family in the future, not to let the Zachary family One would take my mother's surname to inherit the Zachary family, so that the Zachary family would not fall into the hands of a side branch, and one would take his own surname to inherit the Farrell Family, so when I was born, I took my mother's surname and was named Zackary.

"I understand that your mother's heart has always been Connor, and having a child to give an account to the Farrell Family was the limit of what your mother could do." Amber said with a sigh.

As a woman, she could understand what Jared's mother was thinking.

After all, to give birth to a man you don't love, the birth of a child is already the limit of psychological tolerance, let alone a second?

"Good." Jared nodded, approving her words, "In fact, when they first got married, the two had agreed that my mother gave birth to an heir to the Farrell Family, my father would set her free, but at that time, my father loved her so much that he couldn't help himself, and when he heard my mother say this, how could he accept it in his heart, but he couldn't let go of his anger at my mother But at that time, my father was also selfish, after all, my mother only said to the Farrell Family to give birth to the heir to leave, and did not say how many specific births, so my father exploited this loophole, said the first child does not follow the Farrell Family surname, but follow the Zachary family surname."

"Your father is trying to stall and deliberately delay your mother's departure from the Farrell Family." Amber rubbed her chin and spelled out Jared's father's petty thoughts.

The man nodded noncommittally, "You are right, my father did play this idea, as long as my mother's first child is not the Farrell Family's heir, then he has a reason, let my mother continue to have a second child, so that my mother to stay in the Farrell Family, stay by his side He thought very well, he thought that feelings are something that depends on getting along, even though my mother loved Connor in her heart, but after all, the two were separated by thousands of miles, one in Olkmore and the other in the Capital, plus the technology was not advanced at that time, it was not easy to see each other. So I think just think, wait until time, my mother's feelings for Connor will become lighter and lighter, the feelings for him will begin to rise, and in the end, my mother may fall in love with my father."

"Unfortunately, your father's idea still fell through, he thought too innocently and underestimated your mother's feelings for Connor." Amber looked at Jared with some heartache.

The man's expression is still flat, but not much emotion, "you are right, my father thought too simple, he only thought that over time, my mother will give up Connor love him, my mother is not stupid, naturally also see my father's intention, but did not break through, wait until the two went to the hospital in vitro successfully pregnant with me, in the success of my birth, my mother also My father was very happy at that time, to see my mother did not have the slightest resistance to let me follow her surname, and thought that my mother had begun to have him in her heart, willing to stay by his side and live with him, but in fact, my mother's heart how to think, but she did not know at all."

"I can probably guess one thing, your mother never intended for you to inherit THE Zachary family, never intended to have a second one, so she didn't care one bit about who you actually took your last name from, did she?" Amber looked at the cold side of the man's face.

The man did not look at her, focused on the road in front of a good, softly um, "Yes, that's what it means, my mother's heart is that no matter what my surname is, she only had me, in the end, I am still the Farrell Family's heir, or even directly inherit the Zachary family In any case, for the future of the Zachary family, she did not think about it at all, and did not care, in her heart, everything, is not as important as her love."

Speaking of which, a sneer emerged on the man's face.

Amber saw it and sighed inwardly.

Love brain ah.

His mother, the most love-brained woman she had ever met.

She has also been unable to let go of her feelings for Jared for the past six years and knows that she is more or less in love brain.

But it's not as bad as Jared's mother, right?

At least, she can get lost and can wrap up in time to minimize the damage.

Jared's mother, on the other hand, was completely in love with Connor's feelings, and eventually ended up in a suicide.

Pathetic, and hateful.

For Connor, Jared's mother, was a certified lover, a devoted licker.

But to Jared's father and Jared, she was not a good wife or a very good mother.

Even for Jared did have a mother's love, but to raise Jared such a small child as a stand-in for Connor as a consolation, can also show, how impure her mother.

"But back there, it's a good thing that your father doesn't love your mother anymore, otherwise it would have gone on forever and your father would have been the second your mother." Amber ruffled her hair and sighed softly.

But not, fortunately Jared's father finally came to his senses and fell in love with Shonna, otherwise he has been deeply involved in a woman who does not love him, and in the end, if he sees Jared's mother really leave, I am afraid that he will also make extreme suicide.

The man gripped the steering wheel, his voice sunk a lot, "father he started, indeed love my mother, love to the bone, from my birth, from my mother did not refute my surname with her, my father really thought that my mother had him in her heart, but as my mother's body recovered a little, but also unwilling to share a room with my father, still insist on living in two separate rooms, my father distant and polite after, my father The two of them gradually realized that even if they had children, my mother's heart has not been his, has not been open to him, that moment, my father changed, not only to my mother's feelings light, even the character has changed, from a sunny talkative man, into a man of few words gloomy, not how to drink and smoke, he also began to smoke and drink, often get themselves drunk as mud. "

Amber's red lips twitched, "Grandmother It must be very sad, right? A good son, turned out like this"

"Good, grandmother she is indeed very sad, carefully nurtured for decades son, once the character of a big change, as a mother, her heart is the most pain, at that time I am small, but already remember, long can see my father drunken scene, and my grandmother wipe tears." Jared tightened his brow and said.

"What about your mother?" Amber asked, looking at the man.

The man's thin lips pursed into a straight line, "She? She has little reaction, a man she does not love is just, no matter what becomes, she does not care, as long as it does not affect her life, does not prevent her from leaving, she does not care."

"Suddenly, it feels a little too cold-blooded." Amber sighed.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1205 How to Dispose

Anyway, Jared's father, always Jared's mother's husband, even if not love, but at least should look at each other for the sake of the relationship between husband and wife, right?

What's more, she is partly responsible for the fact that the other party still turned out that way because of herself.

But Jared's mother did nothing, it was a little too cold-hearted and cold-hearted.

"It's so cold-blooded, I wonder if I sometimes inherit it from her when I'm cold-blooded to others." Jared's thin lips pulled out a self-deprecating curve.

Amber put her hand on his arm and gave it a gentle squeeze, "Don't think like that, you are you and she is her, even though you are mother and son, you are always two individuals, don't let her get to you."

The man took time to turn his head to look at her, his eyes mild, "Okay, listen to you."

"Hmm." Amber withdrew her hand reassuringly.

Otherwise, it will affect men driving.

On the other end of the video, Ben hadn't spoken, just listened quietly as Amber and Jared spoke.

Hearing Jared talking about some details that he didn't even know in the past, his heart is also full of emotions.

When Mr. Farrell was a kid, it was pretty pathetic.

Caught between such parents, watching parents torment each other, did not turn bad is also the old lady spent a lot of effort ah.

"And then, how did your father fall in love with Shonna?" Amber inquired.

This is what she wants to know most at the moment.

Especially since Shonna is a rough and tumble woman, I don't know what Jared's father, who is such a wealthy man, sees in her.

In order to marry her, he was also willing to suffer the family law.

It's also hard to figure out.

Of course, it's not that she's belittling Shonna, who is the same woman, it's that Shonna is such that even women hate her, not to mention men.

That's why for a magnate like Jared's father to look at Shonna is what threw everyone for a loop and wanted to know the reason for it.

"About how my father fell in love with my stepmother, I don't know. I was taken to the old house by my grandmother at that time, and rarely went back to live with my parents in Fu Gong House." Jared said.

Amber nodded understandingly, "I guess at that time, grandmother had found out that your mother intended to raise you like Connor, so she picked you up, in addition to the atmosphere between your parents, let you a child caught in the middle, it is also easy to affect your physical and mental health."

The man slightly hooked his lips, "You guessed exactly right, my grandmother is because of all this took me to the old house, personally nurtured, but also intentionally blocked the contact between my parents and I. And during this period, my father and Shonna met and got together, the two did not hide the matter from my mother, the reason you know, my mother can not wait for my father to find a new love, so that He would let her go faster, and when I knew about it, it was already my father who was housebroken in order to marry Shonna."

"So that's what happened." Amber looked ahead with emotion, "So when you learned that your father was going to find you a stepmother, you didn't resist?"

The man gave a low laugh, "Why resist? Who my father wants to marry, that's his own business, I, as a son, won't bother to ask, let alone interfere."

"That's true, but you were just under ten years old at that time, weren't you afraid that your stepmother would beat you, torture you, and abuse you? After all, your existence is an obstacle that prevents her son from inheriting the Farrell Family." Amber said.

The man's smile deepened, "I do not deny that there are such stepmother in the circle, and there are not a few, but I do not worry, first of all, at that time the Farrell Family has always been the grandmother in charge, my father is only a titular president, before my father has been drunk, so my grandmother does not feel at ease to put the Farrell Family The second thing is that although I was small at that time, I was not a good bully, as long as Shonna really dared to lay hands on me, I had ways to clean her up, even my father could not stop it, but fortunately, Shonna is not that kind of person She gave me motherly love after my mother's death, and although much of that was due to her blaming her mother's suicide on herself, the real thing she did was true."

Amber hummed, "I also know that she is not an absolute bad person, so only a small lesson to her a few times, did not really do anything to her, otherwise with my now vengeful personality, even with you behind her back, she did to me those, I just fight with you to the death, I will not let her go."

The man raised his eyebrows and then smiled, "Sorry, my bad."

"Good to know." Amber grunted again at the man.

The man's smile intensified, "I know, always remember it, don't worry, I will double up on you and help her make up for you."

Amber pouted at him, but her heart was flooded with sweetness at his words.

"Well, that's a long story, let's talk about this jade pendant." Amber tapped her finger on the phone screen.

Ben obediently lifted the box a little higher so that Amber could be more ready to point at the jade pendant in the box.

"You just said, this jade pendant, is your grandfather developed to prove the Zachary family people, used to prove the identity of the token, and you used to be surnamed Zackary, in the eyes of all people, you are the Zachary family next heir, then this jade pendant, by definition, should be passed to you, right? "

The man nodded, "Yes, this is also the reason my grandfather told me the jade pendant, at that time, my grandfather did not know that my mother had already given the jade pendant as a token of love to Connor, and thought that the jade pendant in my mother's hands, at that time I was six years old, my grandfather came to Olkmore to visit my mother and me, see my mother did not pass the jade pendant to me, let my mother hurry to take the jade pendant out to me. The jade pendant, but my mother opened her mouth to say that the jade pendant was lost, angry grandfather almost fainted on the spot, I took the initiative to ask what jade pendant in order to calm grandfather, grandfather told me about the jade pendant, so just see this jade pendant, I just immediately recognized, but also know that my mother lied that year, the jade pendant was not lost, but in the hands of Connor. "

The man looked at the jade pendant and a hint of disgust came out of his eyes.

Hearing here and seeing here, Amber heart except emotion, do not know what to say.

The jade pendant, which is so important, was given out as a token of affection, and she was really convinced that Jared's mother was a love brain.

It's also a good thing that Connor himself isn't too bad to sell the jade pendant.

But where Connor is a poor boy, today will not see the jade pendant, maybe the jade pendant has long been in the hands of which collector, never see the light of day.

"Don't think too much about it, or how about thinking in a happier direction? At least now the jade pendant is still back in your hands." Amber looked at the man to soothe the man's emotions, "You should not feel disgusted by the jade pendant after staying with Connor for so long, after all, this jade pendant, not your mother left you, but your grandfather left you, think of your grandfather, you will not hate this jade pendant."

On the day of the video, Ben also nodded his head in agreement with Amber's words.

Jared looked at the jade pendant, then at the woman who looked at him, encouraging and comforting, and finally nodded gently, "I won't hate the pendant, but I won't keep it either."

This does not surprise Amber.

It is one thing not to hate, but the heart diaphragm is also there.

So it's not surprising that men have to say that.

"But what are you going to do with it?" Amber inquired, pointing to the jade pendant.

Ben also looked at Jared curiously, "Yeah Mr. Farrell."

Chapter 1206 Alfie's mouth is swollen

"Give it to your cousin." Jared pondered for a few seconds and finally made a decision.

"Cousin?" Amber first froze, then a somewhat English woman's face came to mind and asked with a sudden slap on her thigh, "The cousin you're talking about is the lady you danced with at a party a few months ago, right? That tall-looking woman with a somewhat westernized face."

Jared nodded, "It's her, her grandfather and my grandfather are blood brothers, so their side of the family, and my grandfather's relationship is quite good, and I was not less taken care of by her when I was a child, so I have a good relationship with her, but she does not live in the country all the time, because her mother is a foreigner, after the death of my grandfather, their side of the family basically left the country, in her After the death of her grandfather, they basically left the country and settled in her mother's country, and only when something happened in the country that they had to be present, they would come back."

"So that's how it is." Amber understood, "give this jade pendant to your cousin either, are the Zachary family people, this jade pendant is also considered back to the Zachary family people."

"I do." Jared nodded, then glanced at her raised phone screen again, "You find the time, give your cousin a word and send her the jade pendant, I'm sure little grandpa will be happy to know."

Little Grandpa, Grandpa Jared's brother.

He settled abroad decades ago and has never returned.

So with Jared relationship, is not close, just know each other's existence of the point.

"Okay Mr. Farrell," Ben agreed with a nod, then closed the box and put it back on the passenger side.

"Is there anything else?" Jared asked in a light voice as he freed a hand and rubbed his temples.

Ben was going to say no, but then thought of something, did not hold back the laugh, "there is another thing, is that our people said, early this morning, Mr. Jones went to the hospital to see the mouth went, I heard that the mouth swollen old high, at least a few days can not open too big, can not eat, only in the hospital has been infused with nutritional fluids to survive."

"Yeah, well, good job." Jared's thin lips hooked up slightly and a look of satisfaction flashed in his eyes.

Amber heard this and realized something, narrowed her eyes and stared at the man, "Jared, what you and Ben said, it can't be, you did something to Mr. Jones, right?"

"Hmm." The men had no intention of hiding and very readily admitted that that was what they had done to Alfie.

Amber took a breath, "It's true, just now Ben said that Mr. Jones' mouth was swollen greatly, you guys didn't have someone hit Mr. Jones' mouth, did you?"

"Miss. Reed is just smart, guessed it right away." At the end of the video, Ben gave Amber a thumbs up without mincing words.

The corner of Amber's mouth twitched, "Really hit the mouth?"

The man lifted his chin noncommittally, "He was rude to you and had a dirty mouth, so he should be taught a lesson about what to say and what not to say. "

Speaking of which, the man's expression became much grim and cold.

Ben also hurriedly nodded, "Yes Miss. Reed, you also know how unpleasant it was when he was kicked out of Goldstone Co. by you, so Mr. Farrell saw the video posted on the Internet by your employees, how could he tolerate it, and immediately asked me to instruct the people below to teach him a lesson. I thought a casual lesson would not be convenient for him, since he is guilty of oral karma, then beat his mouth, from the root of the lesson, in addition to let him feel the pain, more let him know why he was beaten, I believe he must feel humiliated in his heart."

After listening to Ben's explanation, Amber looked at Jared and her heart warmed.

"So, you guys taught him a lesson because he came to Goldstone Co. yesterday to bother me, Jared, thanks." Amber face raised a smile, heart touched.

The man once again freed his hand and stroked her hair, although he did not speak, but this action, has told her again, he will not let her suffer for nothing.

The aggravation she suffered, he will get it back for her.

"By the way Ben, do you have a picture? I want to see what kind of swelling his mouth has become."

After the man took his hand away, Amber rubbed her cheeks, rubbed the redness and touchedness on her face and hid it, and looked at Ben after she returned to her usual appearance and asked.

Ben shook his head, "Sorry Miss. Reed, I don't have it right now, but if you want to see it, I'll have someone pull it from the hospital surveillance and send it to you later."

"That's fine, I'll trouble you then." Amber smiled and said thank you.

Ben waved his hand, "Miss. Reed is very kind, it's just a small thing, it's nothing."

After that, he looked at Jared, who was driving, "Mr. Farrell, I have nothing more to report for now, but the police. I still need to go over to the police station to prove that the letter of understanding is indeed your authorization."

Jared gave a faint hmm, "Go ahead."

The video hung up and Amber put the phone down, "Did you have someone beat up Mr. Jones this time and did you deliberately have your people hide their identity? If not, then wouldn't the Jones Family know it was you who beat up their man?"

"There's no hiding it, the Jones Family people probably already know I did it." Jared drove back.

Amber sighs, "So that makes your relationship with the Jones Family, even more irreconcilable."

"I wasn't going to ease up with THE Jones Family, and secondly I'm using it this time to show them how firm I am in not trying to ease up." Jared said softly.

But no, he didn't want to pay attention to the Jones Family when he didn't have this one thing before.

Now they have beaten up the Jones Family, which means they don't want to ease the relationship with the Jones Family.

"But I think, even so, the Jones Family is still not willing to accept this reality, even if you beat their people, they still will not resent you for this, only me, after all, is a trip to my place, only to invite this beating, so they will still be very good to you, will think of easing relations with you, otherwise why you beat their people, they did not even call to question. The company's main business is to provide a service to its customers. It's not like them to be quiet." Amber looked at the man with a smirk.

The man's thin lips pulled out a mocking arc, "Let them think and do what they want, as long as I do not let go, they are all for nothing, as for how they think of you, you do not care, I will not let them hurt you."

"I believe you." Amber smiled.

Soon, the shallow water bay arrived.

The man parked the car, unbuckled his seat belt and got out, then walked around the front of the car to the passenger side, pulled open the door and reached out towards the car.

Amber saw this and smiled as she put her hand in the man's.

The man took her hand and gently rubbed it before helping her out of the car, a gentleman.

After coming out, Jared didn't immediately let go of Amber's hand, but suddenly lowered his head and gave her a gentle kiss on the back of her hand.

This scene, just fell in the eyes of other nearby owners of parking.

These owners burst out in cheers.

Amber saw these people snickering, the whole person embarrassed and embarrassed, and quickly urged the man to let go of himself with his eyes.

The men, however, did not feel at all embarrassed to be seen by them.

Not even a kiss, let alone just a kiss on her hand.

He still held her hand tightly and gave her a light, clear smile.

"I've heard that Mr. Farrell has been living here recently, I didn't believe it, but now that I've met Mr. Farrell with my own eyes I know the rumors are true. One of the nearest homeowners got out of the car and greeted Jared with a smile.

Chapter 1207 Leave it to those who are prepared

Don't look at the owner when talking to Jared a calm look, but the heart can not mention how nervous.

Their neighborhood though in the eyes of ordinary people is also a concentration of rich people, living here, basically are worth millions, but also hundreds of millions of people.

But in fact, these people, they are not much rich at all, in the eyes of the real rich and powerful, just ordinary people.

So they also dream of befriending these magnates and taking the opportunity to move up the ladder to one day become a newly minted magnate as well.

However, their status is here, simply can not enter the eyes of those big giants, those big giants, also simply do not care to befriend them, more disdain to see them.

So much so that they want to make friends with the big boys, can not find the door.

Not even the bottom of the barrel, let alone the Farrell Family, the top of the barrel, Jared the superstar.

So now that he saw Jared here, the owner didn't want to miss this opportunity to make friends with the big guy, and after giving himself enough courage in the car, he finally opened the door and got out, taking the initiative to talk to Jared.

He now looks calm on the surface, the heart has been panicked a number of, and even some regret why to come down to talk.

What if Mr. Farrell ignores him?

With so many people watching, wouldn't it be a shame?

Of course, the embarrassment is nothing, but I am afraid that Mr. Farrell will feel that his appearance has disturbed them, and what if his heart becomes dissatisfied with him?

Wouldn't that little company of his

The more you think about it, the more scared you are, the more the man can't help but swallow his saliva, the smile on his face is gradually stiffening up, and the corners of his forehead are even starting to sweat.

He was really still too impulsive.

The man screamed in his heart.

Especially after seeing his words, Jared really ignored himself and did not even turn around to look at his scene, the man's heart more panic and unease.

He could even feel the others were vaguely starting to look at him funny.

For a while, the man was embarrassed and wanted to find a crack in the ground, standing in place to go also not, not go also not.

It's a good thing Amber saw the man's embarrassment and gently patted the back of Jared's hand, "Jared, someone's talking to you."

Hearing Amber say this, the man's eyes instantly lit up and he looked at Amber gratefully, and bowed to Amber.

After all, Amber reminded Jared that in addition to wanting Jared to notice him, she was also giving him relief from this awkward situation.

However, Jared still did not pay attention to the man, just holding Amber's hand, looking at Amber, warmly said: "Insignificant people just, do not pay attention to, come on, let's go home."

While talking, he gently fixed Amber's hair.

Amber smiled shyly at the man and prepared to leave with Jared.

Instead, the man looked at her and Jared and froze, seemingly thinking about something.

After two seconds, the man came back to his senses and suddenly smiled, his face no longer the slightest embarrassment and nervous panic, but became confident.

He squeezed his fist, confidently looked at the two opened his mouth and said: "Mr. Farrell and Miss. Reed feelings really good, I said Mr. Farrell how to come back to live in such a place, it is for Miss. Reed ah, also, Miss. Reed so beautiful, character connotation is also good, no wonder Mr. Farrell so love Miss. Miss. Reed is indeed a very good, very worthy of love woman, Mr. Farrell and Miss. Reed together, will certainly be happy forever."

At those words, Jared immediately stopped in his tracks.

Amber followed suit and stopped, looking sideways at the man beside her.

The man's head was slightly bowed, and it was impossible to see the expression on his face or the thoughts in his heart.

And the owner, who was speaking behind, was now staring at Jared's back, his heart beating faster.

Mr. Farrell, this time, should be able to take care of him and give him a chance to get acquainted, right?

As long as you Mr. Farrell to get in touch with, he will fly to the sky ah.

Hopefully, God willing, his guess just now was not wrong.

The man's heart apprehensive thoughts.

Then the next second, he saw Jared turn around, not towards him, but his eyes had fallen on him, "What's your name?"

The man's eyes opened wide in disbelief and froze.

Jared saw this and frowned in displeasure, "I asked you, what's your name?"

Amber wrapped her arms around Jared and looked at the man as well, "Come on, if you miss this opportunity, you won't have it."

Hearing these words, the man hurried back to his senses, excited a face of red, the heart of ecstasy, quickly excited back: "Mr. Farrell, I, my name is Remy Burke, I'm sorry, I'm a little excited, this is my card."

As he said that, he hurriedly pulled out a business card from his shirt pocket.

Perhaps too excited, he pulled out his business card several times before pulling it out and handing it over to Jared with both hands.

Jared took it with one hand, glanced down at it, saw the company description on it, and there was a glint in his eyes, then looked up at the man and asked, "You're in this area of networking?"

"Yes." The man did not dare to delay and nodded back: "I created my own company when I was in college, and after that I have been developing a kind of network system, but because this system is far beyond all network systems now for several years, so many venture capital companies, as well as capital bigwigs, do not believe that we a small company can successfully develop it, and therefore have not been able to pull in funds, so that Now so many years, I still have not developed this system, but also only a third of the development."

The man laughed bitterly.

"Is it true that the system your company is developing now far surpasses all current systems by several years? Can you give me an affirmative answer?" Jared narrowed his eyes and stared at the man.

The man knew that this was Jared's test for himself and his only chance. After taking a deep breath, he returned with a serious expression, "Yes, I can say with certainty that as long as the development is successful, it will definitely far surpass all network systems, and this I can guarantee with my own personality."

"In that case, are you sure, then, that you can develop it?"

"Yes, as long as I am given enough financial support, I can definitely develop it, because I already had a specific outline a long time ago, and was also subjected to the calculations of many professors, and it was unanimously determined to be feasible." The man nodded his head and said.

Jared gave a slight hmm, "Well then, I'll give you a chance, tomorrow take your outline and come to the Farrell Group with the progress of your current research and development, if I'm sure what you say is true, I can support you with unlimited funds."

The man was ecstatic, "Thank you Mr. Farrell."

He hurriedly bowed towards Jared, bowed several times before slightly suppressing some of his inner excitement and said with a smile on his face, "Don't worry Mr. Farrell, I definitely won't let you down."

"I hope so." The man nodded slightly, then looked at Amber, his expression gentled all at once, "Let's go."

"Hmm." Amber smiled and nodded, turning around with Jared and heading in the direction of the elevator.

Behind him, the man watched the two leave all the way, and when they entered the elevator, he even bowed towards them until the elevator door closed, then he straightened his body and clenched his fist excitedly, "YES!"

As expected, opportunities are reserved for those who are prepared.

If you show the courage to fight for it, there is a 50/50 chance of failure and success.

If you don't fight for it, the probability of success is zero and the probability of failure is 100 percent.

So why not try to fight for it?

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1208 - Each has a plan

Now it turns out that he was right to muster the courage to say he fought for it, and he succeeded.

I was able to meet Mr. Farrell and make a connection with him.

As long as his research results are finally approved by Mr. Farrell, his future is already visible and bright.

The more you think about it, the more excited the man's heartbeat are not only accelerated a lot.

At first, he was a little worried and afraid that he would not only not succeed in getting to know Mr. Farrell, but also be disliked by Mr. Farrell.

After all, at that time, Mr. Farrell was spending time with Miss. Reed, and his sudden speech would mean disturbing them both.

In fact, it is true that Mr. Farrell was already displeased with him at that time, and did not even bother him.

It was Miss. Reed who helped him and said something that made Mr. Farrell not to bother with him and prepare to leave with Miss. Reed.

It was at that time that he saw Mr. Farrell treat Miss. Reed with extra tenderness and look at Miss. Reed with extra affection.

He then realized that maybe talking to Mr. Farrell directly would not work and that the real way to go was Miss. Reed's side.

Maybe more praise Miss. Reed, boast of their relationship, maybe Mr. Farrell a happy, may be willing to take care of him?

Then he did what he said he would do, and after some compliments to Miss. Reed, he succeeded, and Mr. Farrell took him on and was willing to give him a chance.

So ah, people sometimes, not only to have the courage, but also to have the eyesight.

As long as the eyesight is good enough, the right medicine, there is no fear of not succeeding.

At this moment, the man's heart is very grateful to his parents for their own account, so that he grew up with a good pair of eyesight, otherwise he may not have succeeded.

At the same time also let him understand, Mr. Farrell how much love Miss. Reed, love to others only a few compliments Miss. Reed, Mr. Farrell will be happy willing to give people the opportunity to move up.

Miss. Reed is such a blessing to him.

The man laughed heatedly.

The other owners around saw him like this, with sourness, envy and jealousy in their hearts.

There are plenty of people who want to climb on Mr. Farrell's bandwagon, and they want to.

But they simply did not have the courage, and knew that even if they did, Mr. Farrell would not care about them.

This is not, this person at the very beginning of the bullying up, Mr. Farrell to take care of him?

At that time, they were still laughing at this man's insolence, and actually tried to climb up to such a big man as Mr. Farrell.

So they couldn't be happier when they saw that Mr. Farrell wasn't even taking care of this guy.

People are like this, knowing that everyone can not climb the big man, but for the kind of people who know the results, but also still willing to muster the courage to try to climb, the heart is also jealous, but also dissatisfied.

Because all along, they felt that their starting point was the same, and then suddenly one day, they suddenly realized that not all of them were going to be the same.

At least, there is a part of them that has courage among them that they do not have.

They can accept that others are not as well off as they are, and they can also accept that they are as well off as they are, but they absolutely cannot accept that they are the ones who suddenly have one over them and are better off than they are.

This man is so, climbing up to Mr. Farrell, it means that in the future the class between him and them is about to pull apart, he will step into a higher level, while they are still in the same place.

This man, without a doubt, is a traitor between them.

Initially, they did not know that this man would succeed in climbing Mr. Farrell, and they thought that when Mr. Farrell left, they would make fun of this man and ridicule him for his lack of self-esteem.

But who would have thought that this would be the outcome?

This man has successfully climbed up to Mr. Farrell, they can not laugh at him, in case this man really climbed to the height they can only look up to, and then come to find them trouble what to do?

So instead of being able to laugh at it, they had to stiffen their heads and say goodbye to him.

This certainly makes people suffocate, but they can't help it.

So the man spent the next few minutes listening to crop after crop of congratulations.

These congratulations are purely envious, happy for him, but more, or full of reluctance, do not go sour congratulations.

In the face of these jealous Dao Xi, the man does not care to smile.

Jealousy is jealousy.

Anyway, if you are not jealous, you are a mediocre person.

These people are jealous of him, which means he is good!

On the other side, in the elevator.

Amber took Jared's arm and suddenly let out a laugh.

Jared turned his head to look at her and said warmly, "What are you laughing at?"

"I'm laughing at you." Amber looked up at the man and smiled back.

Jared raised an eyebrow, "Laughing at me for what? That I have something on my face?"

"Of course it's not that." Amber shook her head, "I was laughing at your attitude just now, I could see that you originally did not want to take care of that person, but after that person praised me, you immediately changed your mind, willing to give him a chance to pick you up, so fickle, not like your style ah, that's why I found it funny."

The man played with her soft hand, a low laugh, "I do not want to, but he is a man, very discerning, know directly go my way useless, so immediately changed his mind to go your way, you know, the most important person in my heart is you, someone praised you, and bless our relationship, I am certainly happy, a happy, naturally willing to give this person a chance. After all, this person speaks, I really love to listen."

Amber Jiao gave him a glance and laughed in her heart, "A few compliments from others made you so happy that you don't even care about your own principles, aren't you afraid that others will say you are a faint ruler who is so enchanted by the demon concubine that he can't distinguish his direction?"

"Do you think I would be afraid?" The man's eyes were deep as he gazed at her.

Amber could clearly see the deep emotion in the man's eyes and blushed as she shook her head, "You're not the kind of person who would be afraid of things."

"That does not work, so what others think, we do not have to bother, as for that person just now, the reason why I am willing to give him a chance, not only because he speaks well, more, or other reasons." The man's expression was slightly more serious at this point.

Amber blinked, "What's the reason?"

"The company this person started, is a network company, the same as the Jones Family, and the Jones Family's network is like any other network on the market, there is nothing special about it, but the reason it stands first in the industry is because the Farrell Family is behind it. " Jared said.

When Amber heard this, she suddenly understood something, "You don't want to support this Mr. Burke and replace the Jones Family, do you?"

Jared lifted his chin noncommittally, "the Jones Family's network itself is average, and since that's the case, with a better network system in place, why wouldn't I choose a better support? After all, I am a businessman, not a philanthropist, over the years, to support the Jones Family, I the Farrell Group did not earn any benefits, but rather stick in a lot, in my relationship with the Jones Family before the break, I do not care about this stick in the money, but now I and the Jones Family break The Farrell Group has not made any profit, but instead has paid in a lot, before I broke with the Jones Family, I did not care about the money paid in, but now I have broken with the Jones Family, so my money, naturally, can not flow out in vain, not even a sound, instead of this, why do not I support another network company to replace the Jones Family?

"That's true." Amber laughed.

But the Jones Family would be crying if they knew that.

"And just that person to develop the network system, I am really interested, this time to invest in him, occupy part of the shares, and so on later that person up, I can earn, more, I am a businessman, the interests first, since I met can give me money people, he intends to find investors, I intend him to earn for me before, so I naturally will not let go. " The man slightly hooked his lips, a glint of calculation in his eyes.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1209 Impertinent Men

Amber laughed, "You're really a businessman with an idea of profit, compared to you, I'm not qualified at all."

The man rubbed her hair, "Now you have just stepped into this step, wait for time, you become a shopping mall old man, will also be like this, but this is not a bad thing, and do not feel bad, businessman well, should do what businessmen should do, not to mention, I calculate just now that person, just now that person is not calculating me? And is using you to calculate me."

"I know, but it seems to me that you kinda liked what that guy just did to you in the reckoning." Amber looked up, smirking at the man.

The man hooked his lips, "is quite like, after all, he is complimenting you, so such a calculation, I am happy to jump in."

"Hmph, poor mouth." Amber couldn't hide the sweet smile on her face.

Soon, the elevator arrived.

The two walked out of the elevator back to the apartment.

After changing her shoes, Amber hung her bag to the side, looked at the man who was still bending over to change his shoes and said, "Go ahead and take a shower, I'll go make you some soup."

Hearing the word "soup", Jared's heart stumbled, but then thought that this soup is not the same soup, after taking a deep breath to suppress the disgusting feeling in his heart, nodded gently, "Okay, then I'll go first, put the water for you later."

"Hmm." Amber responded, pulling her apron over and walking into the kitchen.

The man stood still and watched her go in before turning around and walking in the other direction.

In the kitchen, Amber opened the refrigerator and took out the beef bones and some dried mushrooms that she had asked her secretary to bring back to the fridge yesterday, and then started to wash her hands and make soup.

Mrs. Lu is very attentive, perhaps it was considered early on that she did not have the tools to cut the big bones here, so the big bones that were sent to her were cut early on.

In this way, this makes it very convenient for her to make soup.

Amber put the cleaned bones into the pot, the lid, the fire turned on to medium heat, and then the dried mushrooms into the hot water, clapped his hands, the first stage of the soup-making process, is considered complete.

When the mushrooms are almost soaked, stew with the bones and simmer for two or three hours, the soup will be completely ready.

Now Amber just put the bones in, you can smell a hint of light aroma, if the boiling is done later, the taste of the soup, not to mention how fragrant it is.

Amber came over, took a deep sniff, smiled in satisfaction, then removed the apron from her waist and prepared to go out and let the soup boil slowly on its own.

As a result, just as soon as you turn around, you hit a wall of hard flesh.

The wall was wet and hot, and smelled very nice with a bright mint aroma.

Amber lifted her head and met the man's handsome face and those ink-like eyes, and immediately said without good grace, "Jared, you're walking without a sound, suddenly appearing behind me and scaring me!"

It turns out that the wall of flesh just now, is the man's chest ah.

The man listened to Amber's reproach, some innocent pursed his thin lips, "I walk with a sound, you are too focused on yourself did not hear, and I did not dare to call you, afraid you were surprised to burn."

The tone of voice is quite a bit aggrieved.

Amber saw the situation, the back still want to be mean to him words can not be said, also embarrassed to say.

After all, he did, so that her heart was instantly softened, and then hard words, all at once, could not be said.

This man, really took her to death, knowing that she would eat which set, he showed which look, eat her to death.

Hey

Amber was helpless and a bit amused at the same time.

At this point, the man suddenly put his hand on her forehead, "Did it hurt just now?"

Amber shook her head, "No, though, right, your chest is a little harder, but it's also made of meat, which can really hurt anywhere? But did you get any pain from my bump?"

She looked up at the man, her eyes full of concern.

The man shook his head slightly with a smile, "No."

"That's fine, but" Amber squinted at the man's open chest, the corners of her mouth twitched and said, "Jared, can you put the robe on properly? I bought this robe for you, it's a proper robe, it doesn't show your chest, but you're fine, the belt is loosely tied, showing such a big piece of chest, what do you want? Although it's not too cold in the apartment with the heating on, but it's winter after all, aren't you afraid of catching a cold like this?"

The man looked down at his chest, a dark light flashed in his eyes, thin lips slightly hooked back: "will not catch cold, as for what I want to do so dressed, you can not see?"

"What do I see, huh?" Amber looked up into the man's eyes just in time to catch the dark searing heat in them.

At that moment, her heart skipped a beat.

What does this man want and what does this look mean?

Amber subconsciously stepped back a part, with an urge to escape.

The man realized her behavior, his big hand reached out, directly wrapped his arm around her waist and took her into his arms, his voice was husky and low, "I'm wearing this for you to see, to give you benefits ah."

I knew it!

After hearing the man's words, these four words came to Amber's mind.

She knew that's what the man just meant in his eyes.

Really, men are really flirting all the time, seducing her and wanting to do that kind of thing with her.

Is it possible that as long as a man is in private time, all that is in his head is that?

Amber looked at the man steadily and expressed deep suspicion in her heart.

She leaned back slightly on her upper body and braced her hands on either side of the man's shoulders, trying to distance herself from him.

There is no way, the man confined her waist, and she can not push the man, can only use this way to pull away from the man.

"Who wants these perks from you, Jared get a grip on yourself." Amber faintly looked away from the man.

The man saw the way her ears were red and laughed lowly.

The laugh is low and sexy, like a cello, very nice and pleasant to the ear.

It makes one's body crispy to hear it.

"How am I immodest? I've always been decent." The man gazed at her, "I'm decent."

Amber rolled her eyes, "You are serious what ah, which have serious you like you, deliberately dressed like this to Come"

"Come what?" The man asked with a ghostly glint in his eyes.

Amber how good it is to say that men are tempting themselves.

In case you say it later, the man came to a sentence that you have not been tempted by me, then how should you answer?

If the answer is no, will the man get even crazier and try to do something else to tempt her?

If the answer is yes, then shouldn't the man get an inch and take the next step?

In short, she couldn't answer any way.

Amber closed her eyes with some headache, "Nothing much, Jared you hurry up and let go of me, I'm going to take a shower."

Some oil stains were stuck on my clothes when I was just making soup.

She must go and change her clothes and take a shower as soon as possible, otherwise it will become more and more unbearable as time goes on.

Always feel dirty and uncomfortable on your clothes.

Yet men would not be Jared if they were so obedient.

Jared still tightly wrapped his arms around Amber's to not let go, lowered his head with his forehead against hers and asked in a low voice, "You still haven't answered me, what's coming?"

Amber nudged the man, "What's there to know about that? In saying that, I've forgotten what I was just going to say, so don't ask me again, it's fruitless to ask me again."

Anyway, she just won't tell him.

The man saw what she was thinking and sighed with some regret in his heart.

How I wish, she could be more straightforward, how good it is to say it directly.

The man gave a low laugh helplessly, "Okay, then I won't ask this, you can let go of you if you want, but you have to answer me first, don't you like it when I'm like this?"

Chapter 1210 Heart-to-heart

"Don't like it." Without the slightest hesitation, Amber directly destroyed these three words.

But that's not really what she had in mind.

Don't like it?

How can you not like it!

Men like the beauty of women, but in fact, women are not like the beauty of men?

Men prefer women's chest waist, women like men's pectoral muscles abdominal muscles.

She is also just a lot of people, an ordinary woman, naturally can not escape this law.

So, she likes the man's pecs and abs just as much.

Especially since Jared's pecs and abs are so perfect, she likes it even more.

Every time she does that kind of thing, her hand habitually touches his pecs and abs.

Seriously, it feels super nice in the hand.

But like to like, but not in front of men to admit that they like.

Otherwise, the man's tail should be proudly sticking up.

Hearing Amber answer her question so quickly, the smile on the man's face froze for a moment.

Don't like it?

How is it possible!

She obviously likes to touch his chest every time she touches his abs, so it is clear that she is very satisfied with his abs pectoral muscles.

For this reason, he only every time after the shower, careful to open the robe some, in order to deliberately seduce her, is not it?

As a result, she now tells him that she doesn't like it.

This is definitely not true, definitely she is lying!

Jared pursed his thin lips and stared at the woman, his voice getting lower and lower, "Really not?"

"Really." Amber nodded her head busily.

Jared's thin lips pursed even tighter.

Heh, and tough talk.

Don't let it be because he didn't see it, the weakness in her eyes.

But it doesn't matter, he has ways to make her like it.

But not now, but later in the room after dinner, in bed.

He would let her say the word like herself.

Thinking, the man's eyes shrewdly flashed, and released Amber, "Well, since you don't like it, forget it, it seems that my exercise is not good enough, wait until I practice again."

Tonight, he'll practice well.

The man thought to himself and lowered his eyelids, hiding the look in his eyes from the woman.

Amber really didn't notice anything different about the man, and after she heard what he just said, her whole body froze in disbelief.

What is the situation?

Do men know what they are talking about?

He actually said he didn't like it, so forget it!

This How is this possible!

A man would actually say something like that?

Amber looked at Jared with incredulity written in her eyes and a surprised expression.

You know a man is not a man who is easily defeated.

In the past, men like a flower peacock in front of her to exude their charm, asking themselves whether they like it or not, if their answer is not to the man's liking.

The man will definitely not relent, must let her change her mind, know that he heard a satisfactory answer before satisfaction.

I thought it would be the same this time, she was mentally prepared to see how the man would force himself to change his mind.

The result is that men actually do not follow the set!

Say what you don't like and forget it!

Is this still him?

Amber stared at Jared for a long time, not looking back at him, as if looking at a stranger.

Seeing this, the man flicked her forehead, "Well, what are you fuming about? Aren't you going to take a bath, go on, the water is ready for you."

"You How come you don't push me anymore?" Amber asked dully as her red lips opened.

The man raised his eyebrows, "Forcing you to what?"

Amber subconsciously said what she had just thought.

After hearing this, the man came closer, "Oh? So you're expecting me to do that? If you do, I can satisfy you."

After saying that, he was about to lower his head and kiss her.

Amber's eyes snapped wide and she pushed him straight away, blushing as she ran towards the kitchen door.

When she ran to the kitchen door, she then stopped and turned to look at him, "Who is looking forward to it, don't talk nonsense, I'm not looking forward to it, I just don't think it's like you, I always think you're not this kind of person who gives up easily, so I think it's strange."

The man's eyes flickered slightly.

I didn't expect that she would be so alert!

Seeing that the man didn't say anything, Amber narrowed her good-looking eyes, "Jared, are you, like, playing some kind of bullshit?"

The man looked solemn and immediately shook his head, "No."

"No really?" Amber squinted at him, clearly not quite convinced.

But the man nodded with a serious face, "No really, you think too much, well, you go take a shower, the water will get cold later."

He waved his hand, urging the woman to hurry up and stop asking questions.

Otherwise a moment to expose what, tonight to lose is not their own?

So hurry up and get rid of the woman.

Amber suspiciously looked at the man, see the man's expression is not any strange place, heart can not help but some doubt, is really their own thinking too much?

She said, "All right, I'll go first, but watch the soup in the pot, don't let it spill out later."

"Okay, go ahead and don't worry." The man nodded.

He can cook, and many dishes are actually better than what she can cook, so Amber is comfortable leaving these things to him.

So when I heard the man tell himself to go at ease, I didn't say anything more, turned around and went outside, back to the bedroom to take a shower.

After she left, Jared uncovered the soup pot.

Once the lid is uncovered, an aroma, with a faint fishy smell comes directly to your face.

Jared took a step back and waited for the white smoke to clear before returning to the pot, picking up a ladle and stirring it around, then scooping up a bone and looking at it closely.

After reading it, he let out a low laugh helplessly.

"Stupid woman, did you really think you could fool me?" Jared whispered.

If it was before he learned to cook, he might have been fooled by her into believing that it was indeed a pork big bone.

After all, he can't tell the difference between a pork bone and a beef bone.

But now he has learned a lot of dishes, including many that require beef or beef stock, so naturally he can immediately recognize that the bones in this pot are definitely not pork bones, but beef bones.

What's more, there's just that fishy smell.

The fishy smell of pork bones is not as big as beef bones.

In saying that, even if he does not look now, a moment later she gave him a bowl, brought to him, even if the soup inside she deliberately removed the bones, the taste of the soup, or will reveal, what kind of a bowl of soup it really is.

So what is it if not a silly woman?

The man put the ladle down, put the lid back on the pot, and then washed his hands and exited the kitchen.

He probably knew why Amber had made a point of hiding that it was a big beef bone.

It must be because of the bowl of soup we had at the old house this morning.

The bowl of soup had cast a certain psychological shadow on him, and the soup was also made from the contents of the cow.

She was worried that when he learned that the soup was made from the cow's body again, he would recall the fear dominated by that soup in the morning, so she deliberately lied to him that it was pork bones.

This silly woman, ah, actually think of him so vulnerable.

Although the bowl of soup in the morning, it is true that he has a certain psychological shadow, but he is not so much a shadow of other things on the cow from now on, too.

So Amber's fears were superfluous.

But she can consider so much for him, but also her good intentions, he certainly will not fail her.

Since she said it was a pig bone, he assumed it was really a pig bone.

As long as she is at ease.

The man laughed lightly, sat down in front of the sofa, and then took out his phone.

As soon as the phone was taken out, the screen suddenly lit up with a message from Ben.
