

LLPD Chapter 1251

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1251 Someone smashed the door

It's just that, whether he knows it's a wedding shoe or not, and whether it's intentional or not, since he won't say.

She also pretended not to know.

"Well, how about standing up and seeing if your feet are comfortable?" Jared finished putting Amber's shoes on, stood up from the floor, and held out his hand toward her.

Amber obediently put her hand on the hand and was led by him to stand up.

When she stood up, the comfort on her feet was completely different from that brought by the previous pair of high heels, which made her smile happily, "It's very comfortable."

The previous pair of high heels, just put on before walking around, just so standing, in fact, not very comfortable.

After walking for a while, it became more difficult.

But the pair of high heels stood up, so that she did not have any discomfort, and even have a kind of own wearing not high heels, but the sake of the flat shoes.

"Take a few steps and see." Jared was still a little uneasy.

Amber let go of his hand and walked around the lounge, finally returning to him and nodding to him, "It's a nice walk too, thanks."

Jared now completely put down his heart, "I specifically let Ben go to the insoles to consult some buy, it seems that the insole people really did not lie."

It turns out that it was Ben who asked the shoe store to buy the shoes, not he himself asked Ben to buy this kind of ah.

It seems she was overthinking it.

It is also true that he is a man, how can he understand women's high heels.

Amber smiled, "I'm going to look in the mirror to see if these shoes will be incongruous with the dress I'm wearing."

The height of the heels, after all, does have some connection to the dress.

The hated height can lengthen a woman's legs substantially, and also grow a woman's temperament and aura.

Especially the woman on the dress, but also more bright and more can bring out the popularity of a popular field, then with the high heels of hate, is the most appropriate.

If a gas field full of dresses, with a pair of general height heels, even if the pair of high heels is very beautiful, it is not appropriate, not only can not play out a person's aura completely, but will also reduce, making people look uncomfortable.

Even a little more serious, will expose the body disadvantage.

That's why a pair of proper shoes is so important.

This red dress on her is the more imposing kind, perfect for hating the sky.

That's why she is now worried about the average height wedding shoes under her feet, and the dress does not match, then people will laugh, saying that she tang Jared's girlfriend, can not even find a good dress matchmaker.

At that time, it would not only be a disgrace to himself, but also to Jared.

Seeing Amber's back as she hurriedly ran to the bathroom, Jared smiled helplessly.

In fact, he didn't think there was anything wrong with her at all and was about to tell her so.

I didn't expect that she ran so fast.

Jared shook his head helplessly and followed him to the bathroom

In front of the floor-to-ceiling mirror in the bathroom, Amber looked at herself in the mirror, trying to cause a little mismatch.

But finally looked around down and found that the shoes under her feet, with the dress on her body, seemed to be nothing out of place, and any problems she was worried about did not exist.

As for why there is no sense of inconsistency?

Amber took a closer look and finally realized it was because of her long legs.

Because the legs are long, so even if the shoes are of average height, they can automatically lack that little sense of dissonance.

"Well, does it fit?" At this point, the man walked in, hugged the woman from behind, and asked in her ear.

Amber smiled and nodded, "Good, I thought it was a little weird to match, but I didn't expect to see that I had overthought it, and it was quite appropriate, mainly because I have long legs, which made up for that little bit of inappropriateness, and also made me realize for the first time that I had always been a long-legged."

Jared looked down at her exposed white, smooth legs and his eyes darkened, "Really? Let me see."

With that, he was about to reach down and touch it.

Amber slapped his hand away, "Go, talk about the wind is rain ah you, no touching."

Once the fire is touched, isn't it time for the next step?

The man looked at the back of his hand, which was slapped red, with some amusement.

It's really not polite at all.

Just as the two were warming up in the bathroom, the door to the lounge outside was once again knocked on.

But this time the knock is very rough, say it is knocking, rather than smashing the door is more appropriate.

That thumping sound, as if to collect debts, listening to the people on edge.

Amber is very are able to feel the wall are trembling, directly over, even the restroom walls are trembling.

Who the hell is at the door that is so rude?

Don't say Amber frowned, a little unhappy.

The man behind her, his face is even more ugly, the breath around him has plummeted, icy cold.

He let go of Amber and turned toward the bathroom door.

Amber knew he was going to check out who was actually banging on the door, and hurriedly followed along.

The two arrived at the lounge door and Jared grabbed the doorknob and turned it right around.

The door opened.

Yet there was no one outside the door!

Amber frowned and guessed, "Did you know that you knocked on the wrong door and ran away? For example, drunk before knocking on the wrong door, later realized that knocking on the wrong door, and rushed away?"

It's not impossible.

When you come to a party, you have to drink.

And if you drink more or have a poor drinking capacity, you will easily get drunk.

When you get drunk and want to find a place to rest, you are likely to go wrong.

Jared thinks otherwise, his eyes narrowed dangerously, "whether there is a wrong door or not, it will not be so rough to smash the door, not to mention, this occasion, as long as someone is drunk, there will be a waiter personally assisted to bring to the lounge, so there is absolutely no such thing as a wrong door to happen, much less such a smashing action."

"You mean that the person who just smashed the door was not drunk and went wrong, but someone smashed our door on purpose?" Amber's mouth opened wide in surprise.

Jared doesn't deny that he does mean it.

Amber swallowed, "How is that possible, this is lounge number one, everyone knows that it's for you, who would be so bold as to come and break down your door?"

"Yeah, I'd like to know who is so bold." Jared's face was very ugly, and his voice was even cold as ice.

Amber looked at him, "How about checking the surveillance?"

"There's no rush, just wait a little longer."

When he finished, Jared slammed the door back shut and then stared expressionlessly at the door to the room in front of him.

Amber knew that he was trying to see if the person who had just smashed the door would show up a second time.

So without saying anything, he stood beside him and waited with him.

After waiting for about four or five minutes, just after Amber thought the person outside the door might not show up again, she suddenly heard a movement outside the door.

It's the sound of footsteps.

Although very small, there is a kind of deliberately padded away to reduce the sound of the meaning, but still came some sound.

The sound Amber immediately heard, is the sound of high heels heels collapsing to the ground.

In other words, it's a woman out there!

Jared heard it too, but chose to press on.

After all, the person outside the door has not done anything at this moment, even if the door is opened, there is little point.

Catch the thief or catch the dirty.

Soon, the footsteps stopped.

But both Amber, and Jared, knew that the person outside the door was just a door panel away from them.

That is to say, the person outside the door, may have to smash the door.

As expected, this thought had just risen, and in the next second, the door panel was slammed by someone outside.

The person outside the door used a very strong force, smashing the door panel clanging not to mention that the door panel and the wall are trembling, as if the next second, the door panel are going to fall straight down from the door frame.

I don't know what deep hatred the person outside the door has with them to smash their door so hard.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1252 - Kicked straight away

Jared's face was hard to read, and the low pressure around him put the air on the verge of freezing.

Amber knew that he was really angry.

She also did not advise him not to get angry.

After all, the people out there are abominable in the extreme.

Not to mention that he was angry, even she was upset.

Such a smashing door, who else would not have a good face.

"You back off a little." Jared lowered his voice and spoke to Amber.

Amber knew that he was going to open the door and was ready to catch the person outside in flagrante delicto, and was afraid that in the moment of opening the door, he would be mistakenly injured by the person outside, so he asked her to step back.

She nodded her head and agreed with a hm, "You be careful."

After she barked out a warning, she took a few steps back to the side.

Jared lifted his chin, indicating that he would be careful before pulling the door of the room open straight away.

The people outside also did not expect Jared to be behind the door waiting for them to deliver. A might as well, the moment the door of the room was opened by Jared, the two women fell in together with the opening of the door of the room.

Jared saw the two women fall in, unhurried to the side of a side, on the direct avoidance of the two women almost fell on him the situation.

Then the two women fell straight forward, ending up one on top of the other on the cold floor.

The woman at the top was okay, there was another woman underneath her as her meat cushion, so she wasn't hurt, just stunned.

And the bottom of the woman is miserable, face down on the ground is just, teeth also knocked on the ground, directly to the mouth of porcelain teeth are loaded out, full of blood, pain, crying and screaming.

The cries annoyed Jared and his eyes were cold as he stared at the two clown-like women and scolded them in a deep voice, "Shut up!"

The man's tone carried an endless majesty as well as killing intent towards the two women.

The two women instantly felt like they were in a horrible hell, shivering, not daring to cry or scream.

Because at that moment, they felt as if there was a knife on their necks, so that they did not dare to move.

It is as if the moment you move, you will be killed at any time.

Amber also didn't expect that it would be two women.

She thought that there was only one.

She took two steps forward and resumed her position next to Jared.

Jared saw her coming, his icy aura tightened considerably, and took her hand, "Not scared, are you?"

He asked gently.

Amber shook her head, "Small scene, nothing."

She has even experienced things like being kidnapped and torn apart, so this little scene is nothing.

Jared nodded, relieved to see that he wasn't intimidated.

Subsequently, he once again dropped his gaze to the ground that the two women lying on the ground together do not dare to move, the eyes of the fishy rain as if to bury them, even if the two women can not see him at this moment, but also can feel the horrible breath from his body, a time of fear of shivering.

"Who sent you here?" Jared questioned as he slammed the door shut, his voice without a hint of emotion.

The two women's bodies trembled even more, stammering words can not speak clearly.

Jared was extremely impatient, "Get up and say, who the hell sent you over here to break down the door?"

The two women dared not disobey him and hurriedly got up from the ground.

The one that got up first, and did not forget to pull up the one that gave itself as a meat cushion.

After pulling up, they also helped each other pick up porcelain teeth.

But the porcelain teeth fell out of the woman's mouth is full of blood, the blood has not even stopped at this moment, still flowing, so she simply dare not open her mouth.

Amber also did not want to see her mouth full of blood, disgustedly averted her eyes and looked at another woman who lowered her head, shivering and did not dare to look up at them, "You come and say, in the end, who told you to come and smash the door? Better tell the truth, or you know what the consequences are!"

Amber's tone is light, but the warning and threat in her tone is really solid.

But anyone who is a little more timid will also be frightened.

After all, no matter what, she has also been the chairman of the board for a few months, there is more or less the authority of the top.

But only if someone is afraid of her.

But clearly, the two women in front of her are not in the ranks of the afraid of her.

They are convinced by Norah's words and insistently believe that Amber and Jared are back together, not because of feelings, but because Amber has something on Jared.

So for such a despicable and shameless person like Amber, they are naturally nothing to be afraid of and do not put in their eyes.

In their opinion, even if they use a bad attitude towards Amber, it is okay, Mr. Farrell is subject to this woman, they target Amber, maybe Mr. Farrell is happy yet.

Once they are happy, maybe Mr. Farrell won't mind if they don't have the decency to bang on the door.

The more you think about it, the more you think about it, the woman who is somewhat slightly fat and uninjured is suddenly branched out, looking at Amber's eyes, like looking at garbage, "We say not to tell the truth, what does it have to do with you a see woman, what do you count, also worthy to ask us, you ah"

The woman's words were not finished, she suddenly felt a sharp pain in the abdomen, followed by a cry, the whole body flew out, flying at least two meters away, and finally fell heavily to the ground, covering her stomach in pain and rolling on the ground.

This turn of events stunned Amber and another woman who had lost her teeth and was a little thinner.

Amber was okay and quickly slowed down.

But the thin woman is standing there, shocked mouth grows big, looking at still rolling on the ground, the pain of the face pale, sweating fat woman, the body kept shaking, eyes full of panic.

Mr. Farrell I can't believe I stepped out and hit someone.

Yes, the reason the fat woman just flew out was because of a kick by Jared.

To be honest, even Amber didn't expect that the man would suddenly strike.

But the reason for the man's hand, her heart is as clear as a mirror, and happy.

Jared stopped Amber's shoulders, slightly raised his chin, condescending to look at the two fat and thin women in general, the voice of killing intent, pressed the two women are about to kick the air to.

"My baby, I can't even spare a single heavy word to her, and you guys actually dare to scold her, even in front of me, since you guys want to get killed so badly, then I'll make it happen."

That's when the two women realized that Jared had suddenly turned on them, actually because they had a problem with Amber's attitude.

Mr. Farrell also claims that the woman Amber is his baby.

How is this possible!

The two women looked at Amber in disbelief.

The skinny woman who was kicked to the ground by Jared couldn't care less about the cramps in her stomach at this moment, and looked at Amber and muttered incredulously, "How could this happen, this can't be, how is this possible?"

Miss Jones is not saying that Mr. Farrell is with Amber, not because he has feelings for her, but because he is threatened by Amber.

So what's the situation now?

Amber is Mr. Farrell's own baby, how can you call this a lack of affection?

If there are no feelings, then the way they just treated Amber, Mr. Farrell will not be angry, much less hit them, but should be very supportive of them, after all, Amber threatened him, they target Amber, also considered to help him revenge.

But Mr. Farrell not only did not feel that they did so to help him, but also felt that they hurt his baby.

What does this mean? It means that what Miss Jones said was wrong, and that Mr. Farrell and Amber are back together, not because there are no feelings.

On the contrary, they are affectionate!

Chapter 1253 Regret

Realizing this, the fat woman's entire brain boomed and felt like it was going to explode.

It's really this perception that is so unexpected that it also makes her finally generate a sense of fear about where things are going next.

Originally she thought very well, think Mr. Farrell are threatened by Amber this woman, she listened to Miss Jones, to destroy Amber's plot to save Mr. Farrell, even if they are not polite smashed Mr. Farrell's door, Mr. Farrell will not be angry with them, and even thank them.

After all, they saved him from Amber's clutches.

But now, realizing that Mr. Farrell has feelings for Amber, and Amber back together, not simply threatened by Amber, perhaps also have some of their own voluntary ideas, that they smashed the door, Mr. Farrell will really still thank them?

I'm afraid not.

After all, she had just cursed Amber and was severely beaten up by Mr. Farrell.

So how will Mr. Farrell deal with them when they break down the door?

The fat woman does not dare to think about it anymore, the more she thinks about it, the more scared she is, and the more regretful she is.

Regret why I was talking too much and cursing.

Already smashed the door, destroyed Amber shameless behavior can already, there is no need to regenerate right and wrong perfectly.

So much so that now take a beating not to say, after that do not know what to do

Fat women can think of these, thin women can also think of the same.

After all, it's a hill of bees, dumb to go together, and naturally smart to go together.

In short, the two people are really scared at this moment, want to find a savior, do not know who to look for.

Jared ignored the two women for the moment and looked a little worried and asked, "Didn't scare you just now, did it?"

Amber laughed and shook her head, "You mean, the thing where you do it?"

Jared was noncommittal, "I don't hit women, but these two women touched my bottom line, so I had to do it, but I was afraid of scaring you and making you think I was a violent man."

That would be bad.

Once she feels that he is a violent, will be a man to women hands, then the heart, will also begin to resist thinking, he will not also be to him in the future.

From there, he becomes somewhat wary and alert, or even distant.

That's what he's most worried about right now.

However Amber shook her head back, "No, I know you wouldn't be that way and I know why you hit them, you did it for me because they scolded me and I couldn't be happier because you were defending me, so how could I be afraid of you?"

Many men, when their girlfriends are aggrieved, not only do not help together against the people who bullied her, but also persuade their girlfriends to make small things small things to settle things.

It is that kind of man that should be despised.

And Jared, like this, should be praised.

Girlfriend was bullied, he did not choose to be silent, but did not hesitate to step in and teach the bully his girlfriend.

Even if the tactics are a little more ruthless, it will not make people feel wrong.

After all, he can protect his girlfriend and defend his girlfriend in critical times, such a man, is the real man.

It is the good man who is worthy of a woman's peace of mind.

Seeing that Amber did not feel that what she did was wrong or that she was too violent, Jared finally put his mind at ease.

He then gently stroked her head before taking out his cell phone and starting to call.

Amber saw that he was calling Ben and knew it was to deal with the two women and did not bother, turning her head to look at the two women.

The thin one, which is still covering the mouth that is dripping blood outward, is standing there with a pale and frightened face, not daring to move.

The fat one, the one who was kicked out by Jared, was still covering her stomach and lying on the ground in a sweat, trying to get up several times, but as soon as she moved her stomach came a sharp cramping pain, making her blush and lie back on the ground again.

This shows that Jared's kick, completely without any intention of mercy, is really a hard hit.

Otherwise, the woman's subcutaneous fat is so thick, it is not so painful that you can't get up for half a day.

The fat woman noticed Amber was looking at herself, her pupils shrank, her body instantly tensed, her mouth opened and she spoke with a trembling voice, "Miss Miss Reed"

Amber saw that she was so afraid of herself, her red lips couldn't help but hook up, "I can't afford you a Miss Reed, didn't you say I was a bitchy woman? What, now you don't call me a bitch?"

The fat woman knew that Amber was deliberately mocking herself, and her face turned even paler.

Especially after Amber said this, Jared looked over the pair of eyes without the slightest human feelings, but also made her scared to faint.

But on the contrary, her physical quality is still very good, is how can not faint past, can only stiffen the obese face based on a very forced smile, the voice of fearful back: "Miss Reed said Jokingly, how dare I say so you, I just Just a moment of quick talk, but please Miss Reed forgive me, do not see eye to eye with me, I I can compensate you for everything."

Maybe Mr. Farrell will let her go if she doesn't hold on to what just happened?

"A quick tongue?" The mockery on Amber's face is even greater, and the smile does not reach the bottom of her eyes, "In this world, there is no such thing as a moment of quick talk, the so-called moment of quick talk is only because that is what is in your heart, that is what you think in your heart, that is what you think of me, that is why you are quick to say it."

The fat woman was about to cry, her head shook like a rattle, "No, no, Miss Reed is really not me like that, I just Just"

However just what, but half a day can not say, anxious sweating.

Amber chortled, "Just what? You can't say it, can you? You can't say it because you haven't found a good reason to explain why you're fast-talking, and you can't find one. I said you're fast-talking because you're speaking from your heart, and you know very well that it's your heart, and that's why you can't find a reason to exonerate yourself, am I right?"

The fat woman looked at Amber with frightened eyes, her mouth mumbled twice, completely speechless, and only found Amber scary.

Because Amber hit the nail on the head with every word.

She did mean what she said, and just because she knew she meant what she said, she knew full well that whatever reason she found to explain it, it would seem false.

How can she expect others to believe it when she herself feels it's fake?

Looking at the fat woman as if she had lost her soul on the ground, the thin woman's eyes also flashed a trace of sympathy, while the heart is also a little grateful.

I am glad that my mouth is injured and I am glad that I lost my teeth and cannot speak.

Otherwise, she would have cursed Amber along with her and ended up with a miserable end of being kicked to the ground and having her cover removed by Amber.

"Okay, no more nonsense, we've just called security and they'll be here soon, so until they come, you might as well be honest about why you're smashing the door." Amber looped her arms.

Jared put away his phone, still half-embracing her, although not talking, but he stood there, so that people can not think of resistance.

The two fat and thin women looked at each other and knew that it was not possible not to say anything.

They just treated Amber badly and this is what happened to them.

If they don't give an honest account, they may disappear into Olkmore after tonight.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1254 Knowing that you've been tricked

Realizing this, the two women shivered in unison, not daring to delay, the fat woman hurried back: "I said I said, Mr. Farrell, Miss Reed, we also did not mean to come to smash the door, it was someone who wanted us to stop you from being intimate in the lounge"

"What?" Amber froze, and it took several seconds to react to the meaning of the fat woman's words.

This person was saying that she and Jared were doing that kind of thing in the break room.

And then they couldn't stand to see it before they came to stop it!

Amber gasped and laughed.

Jared's face was even more gloomy and scary, "Whatever we're doing in there, what does it have to do with you guys that you need to meddle? Is it your tutor's job to keep your eyes on other people's business and then go and cause havoc?"

The killing intent in his tone became more and more obvious.

The two women's bodies trembled even more, fluttering their heads as if to shake them off.

"No, we didn't mean to keep an eye on you guys, it's It's Miss Jones la!" The fat woman's eyes were closed and her heart was crossed, and she finally betrayed Norah.

Although she was friends with Norah, she was now in danger of losing her own life, so what did she care about Norah?

The thin woman in the fat woman confessed Norah the moment some surprise outside, quickly also reacted to their current situation, can only confess Norah out.

Let Norah hold the front for them, or they won't have a good time next.

Anyway, they did this kind of thing, it is Norah authorized, they were caught, Norah as the one behind, naturally should be more rushed in front of them, for them to share the biggest crime.

"Miss Jones?" a name flashed through Amber's mind, "You mean, Norah?"

Jared's eyes narrowed dangerously.

Once again, the two women nodded their heads like chickens pecking rice, "Yes, that's her."

"It's really her." Amber was literally laughing out loud in exasperation at this moment.

Then, she looked at the man beside her with a smirk, "It seems that your attitude towards the Jones family in the past two days has not made her realize that you are coming true to the Jones family, so now you still dare to come and provoke us?"

Jared's thin lips pursed out a bit cold, "I also did not expect that she is so brainless, but it's good, since she wants her the Jones family so much to drive themselves to their own destruction, then I make her whole!"

Across the street, two women, one standing and one lying down, heard the conversation between the two and once again looked at each other.

This time, both saw the shock and trepidation in each other's eyes.

Boy, they seem to have been fooled by Miss Jones again!

Miss Jones said Mr. Farrell and Amber back together not because of feelings, but because Amber has Mr. Farrell's hand, so Mr. Farrell had to get back together with Amber.

But what they see now, goes not at all so.

So, this is the first time they found Miss Jones cheating.

And now, a second one was found.

That is, Miss Jones said that Mr. Farrell is a little indifferent to them the Jones family these days, but also want to give them the Jones family a little lesson in the meaning, to teach them the Jones family took the liberty of tripping on Amber, without Mr. Farrell's consent So Mr. Farrell felt that he had been humiliated by the Jones family and wanted to teach the Jones family a lesson, but did not really mean to deal with the Jones family. After a while, they will make up with the Jones family.

So they were convinced, and their parents didn't ask them to stay away from Miss Jones, but let them continue to be friends with Miss Jones.

In order to wait for Mr. Farrell to accept the Jones family again, the Jones family can look at their two families to the Jones family's unfailing love for them on the part of Mr. Farrell to say a good word to help them.

So they continue to surround Norah and have little doubt about all that Norah has to say.

But now, they realize that they have been cheated again.

Mr. Farrell did not just want to teach the Jones family a small lesson, but really intended to break with the Jones family.

Mr. Farrell and Norah, and no childhood friendships.

But if there is a little bit of childhood friendship, how can Mr. Farrell mention Miss Jones without a trace of emotion in his eyes, no different from them?

At this moment, the two people completely panicked, and completely realized that they were played by Norah, by Norah as a gun.

Norah deliberately told them this, in order to draw them in and confuse them, so that they can become a knife in her hand, to intervene for her against Amber.

And she, herself, hides behind the scenes and sits back to reap the benefits.

If Mr. Farrell's relationship with the Jones family, and with her, is really what she says it is, then what they do for her can really help her achieve her goals.

Even if they finally realized that they were cheated, but they should have done all that has been done, that Norah behind the scenes, still two hands clean, can return in full.

I have to say, Norah is so heavy hearted!

Thinking about it, the two women hate Norah so much in their hearts that their eyes are bloodshot and their emotions are overwhelming.

Amber and Jared, who had been watching their reactions, saw their faces at this point and guessed what was going on.

Amber said sympathetically and contemptuously, "It seems that you are being used."

These words, no doubt like a knife, fiercely inserted in the heart of the two women.

Let the two women's hatred for Norah, and more and more intense.

Yeah, they're being used.

They admit that they are just little people who want to take advantage of Norah.

Norah can use them, but only if everything Norah says is true and not intentionally deceptive.

But apparently, they were just deliberately deceived by Norah, and really foolishly came to the charge for Norah, ending up in an imminent miserable end.

But it's okay, they're done, and they're bringing Norah everything down.

Why are they covered in filth, while Norah is still standing on the shore in a tidy state?

They will never allow such a thing to happen.

Thinking about this, the two women looked at each other, both saw the determination in each other's eyes.

Finally, the fat woman endured the severe pain in her abdomen and gritted her teeth to get up from the ground.

The thin woman held her, she was able to stand, face painful to look at Amber and Jared, voice weakly spoke, "Mr. Farrell, Miss Reed, this thing, we know wrong, we will tell everything."

That's exactly what Jared and Amber wanted to see.

If it were not for the fact that this is someone else's banquet, making a big deal out of it would be rude to the host couple of the banquet and would also ruin their banquet, he would not even waste time following the two women here, but would simply have Ben bring the people down and interrogate them in detail.

When the time comes, there is still fear that these two women will not say anything?

Not to say, then he will take their alibi family.

"Go ahead, then." Jared took Amber's hand and went to sit down at the heels of the sofa in the lounge, elegantly folding his legs and looking askance at the two women like a monarch.

The two women took a deep breath and finally the fat woman opened her mouth to explain, "We are Norah's college classmates, very good relationship, but six years ago Norah left the country, so our relationship was broken, but this time, Norah suddenly returned to the country, took the initiative to contact us, said to restore our friendship, just as our family thought of Norah's family and Mr. Farrell your relationship, so let us hurry to resume relations with Norah, we were actually reluctant at first. Farrell your relationship, so let us hurry to resume relations with Norah, we are actually reluctant at first, after all, after so many years apart, the relationship has long faded, but the family's orders have to listen, so we can only do as we are told."

Chapter 1255 - Stupid Women

The thin woman nodded sharply from the sidelines, indicating that what she said was true.

The fat woman saw Amber and Jared did not interrupt her, but let her continue the expression, fixed the fear and anxiety, and continued: "probably because of our good relationship in the past, so we met with Norah not twice, plus Norah and we recalled a lot of interesting things in college, so we were so she Take down, with her restored friendship, and then we asked how she suddenly left the country six years ago, not even to say hello to us, Norah suddenly cried and told us that she was forced to leave the country"

Speaking of which, the fat woman glanced timidly at Amber.

Amber raised her eyebrows, "What do you mean, is Norah saying that I forced her to leave the country?"

The fat woman nodded, "Yes, that's what she said."

Amber seems to have heard a big joke, hugging the man's arm and shaking it, "Jared, did you hear that? She actually said she was forced to leave the country by me, this is not funny, six years ago, I do not even know her, how to force her?"

What's more, she couldn't do the kind of thing that would force someone to go far away from home.

The two women were both surprised and somewhat surprised to hear Amber say that she didn't even know Norah six years ago.

After all, Norah has lied to them so much that it seems unsurprising that in one more this.

"And I didn't think there was a reason for her to leave the country, but there was a reason for you?" A trace of coldness flashed in Jared's eyes.

Amber knew he was taunting, breathlessly spread his hands, "Yes, people sitting at home, the pot from the sky, I also want to know, I do not even know her, and in the end how to force her to leave the country, it is difficult to have another me?"

With that, she laughed.

Jared squeezed her hand.

Amber suddenly asked, "By the way, Norah six years ago, why exactly did she leave the country?"

"It says it's study abroad, but who knows if it's true or not. Six years of study abroad, and I haven't seen her get a doctorate." Jared said coldly.

You can see how fake this so-called study abroad really is.

Amber stroked her chin, "So Norah most likely left the country six years ago, not to study abroad, but for another reason, and even this reason, and let her go for six years without returning, I am suddenly a little interested."

"Since you want to know, just ask her directly afterwards, what's important now, is another thing." Jared stroked her brain, then looked again at the two women across the table, and his appearance became icy cold again.

The two women looked at Jared, who had gone from being a gentle man to Amber, to a cold-faced king of hell when facing them.

Now, they are absolutely sure that Norah is talking shit.

What Mr. Farrell has no feelings for Miss Reed.

Mr. Farrell has deep feelings for Miss Reed.

Can't you see that Mr. Farrell is only gentle with Miss Reed?

If this is called having no feelings, then what does it mean to have feelings?

That fucking bitch!

In their hearts, the two women hated Norah to death, hating and cursing her.

Then they heard Jared's cold voice, "Why did Norah tell you that she left the country six years ago and was forced out by my lover?"

The fat woman swallowed and hurried back, "Because Norah wants to elicit our sympathy and pity for her, and our hatred and disgust for Miss Reed."

"Oh?" Amber got interested, "Tell me about it."

The fat woman did not dare delay and hurried back: "Norah adores Mr. Farrell you, but Mr. Farrell you Miss Reed, Norah can not accept this fact, bent on making you break up."

This is something that Amber and Jared do not dispute.

"Go on." Jared pursed his lips.

The fat woman shrank her neck, "probably because two days ago online things, Norah struck once, and now has become the whole network of jokes, so Norah intends to lurk themselves, not personally, so deliberately with the two of us to re-befriend, and then deliberately deceive us, that Mr. Farrell and Miss Reed together, and not Mr. Farrell and Miss Reed together, not because of feelings, but Mr. Farrell you have a handle by Miss Reed to hold, Miss Reed as a threat to you, you agreed to get back together with Miss Reed, even six years ago she left the country, but also by Miss Reed forced to leave the country, because she said six years ago Miss Reed can not see her and Mr. Farrell you get close, so She said Miss Reed couldn't see her and Mr. Farrell getting close, so she forced her out of the country behind your back."

"Hahahaha" This time, Amber is really cracking up, not to mention how loudly she laughed, the tears in the corners of her eyes came out.

Even Jared, who didn't expect Norah to say these things to these two women, found it ridiculous to the extreme.

Only he never gives away all his emotions, unless only Amber is there, even if he encounters something that makes his emotions change again, he will be very calm.

"Jared, did you hear that? They actually said that you got back together with me because I had something on you that threatened you, so you had to agree to get back together with me. hahahaha, oh my god, that's the funniest joke I've heard this year hahaha"

Amber's laughing body is all curled up and falling to the east.

Jared hastily wrapped his arms around her, doting and helpless, "Be careful, don't fall or hit anything, and don't laugh, doesn't your stomach hurt?"

Seeing that she kept covering her stomach, Jared guessed that she must be laughing her stomach off at this moment.

Yet even then, Amber didn't stop.

Because, it's just too funny.

"It hurts, but I can't stop." Amber lifted a small, smiling, red face and looked at her with teary, pitiful eyes.

The man sighed helplessly, wrapped his arms around the back of her head and gave her a kiss on her red lips.

Amber was caught off guard by the man's kiss, the whole person froze, and the laughter stopped all of a sudden.

Jared saw this and let go of her with satisfaction, "Now don't stop."

Amber gave the man a pout and pushed him away.

The man laughed lightly.

Amber let out a deep breath and rubbed her cheeks that were just a little sore from laughing, before looking at the two awkward women, "So, Norah said that and you guys believe it? You really think I took advantage of him and threatened him to stay with me?"

The two women nodded in disgrace.

They did believe it.

Even, nothing doubts the letter anymore.

"Stupid." Amber snorted, "No wonder you're being used by Norah, don't you all have any brains? What kind of person is Jared that I can get a hold of him? Not to mention that I do not have the ability, and even if I did, I have his leverage, you think he will be obedient to my words? No, but he will just break my neck and kill me as a threat, completely, do you understand?"

Both women nodded once again.

Now, they get it, they really get it.

Without Norah's deception and compulsion, some things that they did not see clearly in the past, some things that they did not think about, they now see and think about.

This includes the possibility that a big brother like Jared can be easily caught and easily held, or not.

Just because they figured it out, they realized that what Amber said was true, how could someone like Jared be threatened?

So how stupid were they in the past to trust Norah without hesitation.

Miss Reed was right when she said they were stupid.

Jared ignored the two women and instead looked at Amber with gentle, deep eyes, "If it were for anyone else, I would indeed break his neck, but if it were you, I would really be obedient."

Chapter 1256 No Consideration of Consequences

The man's heart is both sweet and funny as she listens to this rustic confession of love.

But on the face, but deliberately pretended not to be nice, glared at the man.

No way, who let the dog man not to say early and late, but at this time to say it.

It was only then that she intimidated the two women in a majestic manner.

The dog man said such a thing at this time, is not to break her stage?

But forget it, for the sake of what he said, and indeed made her heart rejoice again, she will not bother with him.

Amber patted her somewhat hot cheeks and closed her eyes for a while before readjusting herself and regaining her calm appearance, and dropped her gaze back on the two women.

"Norah told you all this, and you didn't doubt it, you believed her straight away, and then felt sorry for her, so you thought, as friends, you should do something for her, so you saw me and Jared go into the lounge at the party and ran over and smashed our door, phasing Norah to help protect Jared's innocence? " Amber looped her arms again, slender white legs, also folded up, looks, but a few queen of the frame.

The two women shook and nodded their heads.

Amber pursed her lips, "Is this what I'm talking about or not, give the word."

The fat woman responded, "Yes yes yes, Miss Reed guessed a big part right, but a part wrong, Norah told us this, we do sympathize with her and"

The fat woman closed her eyes fiercely, seems to be open to the general, courage to continue: "also hate Miss Reed you, think Miss Reed you are a bad woman, six years ago to drive Norah away not only, but also use such means to threaten Mr. Farrell, so we think you are very disgraceful, but also did not want to come to destroy you, until this afternoon at about five o'clock, Norah suddenly contacted us, know that we will also follow the father and mother to attend the party, let us keep an eye on Miss Reed and Mr. Farrell. Norah didn't ask us to do anything until about five o'clock this afternoon, when Norah suddenly contacted us, knowing that we would also follow our fathers to the banquet, and asked us to keep an eye on Miss Reed and Mr. Farrell at the banquet and report to her at any time, until we saw Miss Reed and Mr. Farrell coming to the lounge and told Norah about it. After we saw Miss Reed and Mr. Farrell you came to the lounge and told Norah about it, Norah told us to think of any way to stop you guys and not let you guys do that"

The latter words, she said the more fictional.

Jared's face was expressionless, "You guys are heartfelt."

Fortunately, he and Little Leaf really didn't do anything either.

Otherwise, those few smashing sounds of the door, will not be directly to let him

Thinking of that possibility, Jared's surrounding aura of fury instantly diffused, and then look at these two women, really like looking at dead people.

Naturally the two women came close to screaming in terror again.

But in the end, it was a death wish to hold back.

"Oh? So the act she's asking you guys to stop is to come over and bash down the door?" The corners of Amber's mouth curved up indifferently.

The two women shook their heads in a hurry.

"No, she did not say to us, let us use what method to stop, only let us think for ourselves, must stop the success on the line, we thought for a long time, before we came up with smashing the door this way, think after smashing the door, you can hurry to run away, do not have to be caught, even if caught, we can also be excused to say drunk, took the wrong"

The two women buried their heads low.

They do think well.

What they didn't expect was that Jared and Amber would not follow the path they had envisioned.

Not only did they open the door directly and let them throw themselves in the net, they didn't even give them an excuse to go the wrong way, they directly took on them, completely breaking all her plans.

"Drunk on the wrong side?" Jared lightly opened thin lips, his voice did not have any ups and downs repeated the words a few words.

The two women swallowed nervously, feeling the ghastly aura coming from him, and were afraid to cry.

Amber poured herself a glass of water, took a sip, moistened her throat, and only then said: "You guys think well, but have not thought, after being caught, you can really use this excuse to get out of the whole body? Not to mention that you knocked on the door of the No. 1 lounge, which everyone knows, is the banquet master specially prepared for Jared, absolutely impossible for anyone to knock wrong, even if drunk, there will be staff to lead to other lounges, much less the opportunity for you to knock wrong, so your lies are false at first hearing, no one will believe, naturally, it is impossible for you to get out of the whole body, even if you knocked Even if you knock on the door of other lounges instead of the first lounge, with the way you knock on the door, you will not be able to walk away."

"We We" The two women couldn't say anything since they knew they were in the wrong.

Amber put down her glass of water, "So haven't you really thought at all about what you will face if you act and anger us?"

"They wouldn't have done it if they'd thought about it." Jared reached out and touched the periphery of the water glass Amber had just set down.

The brow furrowed when he found that the water was cold, not hot.

Then, took out his phone again and sent out a message.

Amber noticed the man's movements, but didn't look closely, just assumed the man himself was thirsty and wanted to drink her water.

Many times they share a cup anyway, so Amber is used to men drinking what she has drunk.

Anyway, as long as he doesn't mind it himself.

As for the back, the man took out the phone action, she did not see, attention again in the two women.

"It seems that you guys really haven't thought about it." Amber gave a meaningful and mocking smile.

I thought these two women were stupid enough.

But now it turns out that it is much more stupid than she thought ah.

The two women naturally took Amber's disdain to heart and blushed.

"We have not not thought, we thought, we thought we came to smash Mr. Farrell lounge door, Mr. Farrell will be angry, but Norah told us, let us not be afraid, said Mr. Farrell by Miss Reed you threatened, we came to smash the door to destroy your good, not only will not be Mr. Farrell. Farrell remembered on, but will be Mr. Farrell thanks, when our family will also follow the glory, we think it makes sense, so

"Got it, so just foolishly believed it and then just went straight on without caring about anything, so now what? Now do you guys think he'll appreciate you?" Amber asked the two women with a smirk as she patted the man on the shoulder.

The two women's hearts were full of self-deprecation.

Gratitude?

They were lucky they didn't kill them on the spot.

See the two women do not speak, Amber also do not bother to pay attention to, look to Jared, "this Norah, really have a plan, ah, let others for her charge, she herself hides behind the two hands clean, but unfortunately, deep heart, but everywhere is broken, brain smart, but not sophisticated enough, is not destined to succeed."

Jared lifted his chin, noncommittal.

Just then, there was a knock on the door and Ben's voice came from the door, "Mr. Farrell."

"Come in." Jared opened his mouth lightly in response.

The door to the lounge opened and Ben walked in carrying a bag with four men in hotel security uniforms.

"Mr. Farrell, are they the ones?" Ben asked, pointing to the two women.

He already knew what was going on, Mr. Farrell had called him earlier and told him that two women had forced their way into the lounge and asked him to bring someone over.

Although Mr. Farrell did not specifically say why the two women forced to break in, but he as the right special assistant, naturally we must investigate the matter clearly, so went to see the surveillance, also copied down, and then rushed to bring people over.

Chapter 1257 Bringing People Down

He is really not sure if these two women are brainless or bold.

How dare you break down Mr. Farrell's door.

This spreads out, it is estimated to make a name for itself.

After all, not many people in the country have dared to do so, these two women have set a precedent and may be idolized by many people at once.

Of course, this idol is pejorative.

Jared looked in the direction Ben pointed, looked at the two women with frightened faces, close together, shivering incessantly, and lifted his chin slightly, "Take them down, ask them which family they belong to, then after the party, invite their parents here, I'd like to see how they actually educate their children and teach them to be such stupidity."

"Understood." Ben nodded in response, then waved his hand at the four guards.

The four security guards immediately walked towards the two women with understanding.

The two women knew they were coming to get them and were scared to death for a while.

Because they are clear that once they are down, although they will not suffer any torture, but the fear in their hearts, but also will crush them.

Jared said to interview their parents.

In other words, this matter is not over, even if they have explained everything clearly, Mr. Farrell also has no intention to let them go.

Mr. Farrell would not punish them directly, but chose to start with their parents and let them punish them.

And this, indeed, makes them feel the most fearful and terrible.

If Mr. Farrell directly punished them here, this matter, even if it is over, even after their parents learned, although they will also be angry with their behavior, but also will not be too much, just a formal lesson for them to go through the scene will be fine.

But Mr. Farrell directly interviewed their parents and asked them to punish them, and the problem became serious.

Their parents will feel that they have disgraced them, that they have almost caused the family to be in trouble, so once the interview with Mr. Farrell is over, they will be punished by their parents in the most severe way.

Perhaps the parents, in order to completely appease Mr. Farrell's anger, simply announced that they would be thrown out of the house, so that they would lose their family status completely.

After all, they have nothing to do with the family, Mr. Farrell is not good excuse to punish them, and the family behind them to do ah.

It's the scariest thing to say about chance encounters.

They must not let their parents meet with Mr. Farrell, or all hell will break loose!

The more they thought about it, the more scared they were, and the two women cried and pleaded with Jared and Amber.

"Mr. Farrell, Miss Reed, we know we're wrong, we really know we're wrong, we're stupid, we're clueless, we shouldn't have done it, you can punish us all you want, but please, please don't let our parents come, please ooooooooooooooooooooo"

The two women burst out with tremendous force at this moment, breaking the four security guards directly away and falling to their knees with a thud, slapping themselves in the face while crying and kneeling towards Jared and Amber's side.

That look, not to mention how pathetic.

Amber looked at their own face snapped, are playing red, know that they did not spare, to be honest, the heart is still a little pitiful.

After all, people, have compassion, will be soft-hearted, these are normal people, but also human beings are born with the emotions.

If there is no such, then it is rather more dangerous, then does not become a sociopathic personality?

Of course, even though Amber felt pity for the way they beat themselves up and cried so bitterly, and her heart softened, she never opened her mouth to forgive them.

She is soft-hearted and sympathetic to them, but does not mean that her soft-heartedness and sympathy will be given to everyone that will come to abuse.

Unless it is a truly pitiful person or a misunderstanding, even if she is soft-hearted, she will not open her mouth to forgive them and spare them.

Everyone is more or less an adult and should be responsible for anything they do.

Since these two people are wrong, they should bear all the consequences for what they did wrong.

That said, she is also doing them a favor by teaching them what it means to be responsible.

Jared had been watching Amber to see what Amber would do with the two women.

He knew that she was kind and easy to be soft-hearted and easily moved by someone or something.

So, he also wanted to see if these two women, who were so hard on themselves, would make her go soft.

If she is soft-hearted and does not want to pursue the matter and chooses to bypass the two women, even if he is somewhat reluctant, he will comply with her wishes.

That's why, when the two women broke free from the shackles of the security guards and Ben was about to let the guards come forward to arrest them again, he gave Ben a covert instruction to stay put.

Otherwise, the two women simply could not come to them and would have been taken down by the security guards.

The good thing is that Amber did not let Jared down in the end, although he saw sympathy from her face, saw the softness of heart pity, but even so, she never had the intention to open the matter to stop.

In the end, she just don't look away and said to Ben, "Ben, take the person away, my ears are being buzzed."

Hearing her ears noisy, Jared's thin lips hooked and directly covered her two lovely ears.

Amber turned her head to look at him, her round eyes written with confusion.

Jared said with doting eyes, "Didn't you say noisy? This way you don't make noise."

Amber laughed, "That's a good idea. "

Jared then covered Amber's ears and turned his attention to Ben, ordering impatiently, "What are you still standing there for, didn't you hear me? Take the man down."

"Yes." Ben immediately responded and redirected the security guards to come forward to arrest the man.

The two women saw that they were so punishing themselves, and hit their faces, and kneeling, and crying, which did not impress Amber and Jared, for a time, the heart welled up with a thick despair.

Until they saw four security guards coming towards them, the desperation rose to a critical point, and the cries for mercy became louder.

The entire lounge was filled with the sound of ghostly cries.

Jared covered Amber's ears tighter, and a handsome face was sorrowful, "Cover their mouths and drag them down."

"Yes." Ben answered again and turned his head to his security guard and ordered.

The four security guards naturally did not hesitate a bit, directly covering the mouth will be dragged out forcefully.

People were finally gone and the lounge became quiet all of a sudden.

Only then did Jared let go of Amber's ear, "It's okay."

Amber rubbed her temples, "Finally, it's clear. By the way, you should have been very uncomfortable with the noise they made just now, right?"

Her ears were covered by him and the shrill cries of the two women could make her ears buzz, not to mention the man who didn't do anything to soundproof them.

The man slowly and methodically organized the cuffs, light voice back, "okay, heard more, also get used to it."

"Heard more?" Amber froze slightly.

Ben explained at this time, "Miss Reed, it's like this, the Farrell Group is so big, there are always some stinky rats in it, so every time we catch one, they will also be like this cry for mercy, and over time, the voice is no longer loud, for Mr. Farrell, it is nothing. "

The corners of Amber's mouth twitched, "So that's how it is, and it really hurts you a little."

She looked sympathetically at the man beside her.

It was hard for her to feel just that once.

Men are used to experiencing, see this situation do not know how much to experience, can not let people heartache?

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1258 I don't feel sorry for you

The man who heard Amber's words folded his hands onto his equally folded knees, moving like a medieval aristocrat, with all the elegance and nobility, looking very pleasing to the eye.

"Since I'm heartbroken, go back to your"

"Don't you even think about it." Amber probably guessed what the dog man was going to say next and gave Ben a quick glance, her little face slightly flushed as she quickly interrupted him.

Jared saw this vain and shy look in her eyes, a smile flashed in his eyes, "I just want you to go back and rub my temples to help me relieve all the noise I used to cache in my head, nothing more, you even want to interrupt me?"

He sounded pretentiously aggrieved.

Amber froze, "Rubbing Rub your temples?"

"Or what?" The man leaned closer to her, "Hardly, what do you think I want you to do?"

"Of course I thought you were going to"

At this point, Amber suddenly reacted and hastily covered her mouth, swallowing back the words that followed.

But both eyes, however, are wide open, not good enough to glare at the man.

The dog man was setting her up, causing her to almost say it.

It would be okay if they were the only two here.

But it happens that there is a Ben here, if she speaks out, Ben heard it, the scene must be more embarrassing ah.

Fortunately, fortunately, fortunately, she reacted in time, otherwise she would really hate to find a crack in the ground.

The dog man is also, knowing what she is likely to say, and still set up a conversation in front of an outsider.

This cheek, the average person can not really compare.

Amber grunted, "Well, let's not talk about that, just go back and rub it for you, I'm going to go to the bathroom."

After saying that, she stood up and ran like a fleeing girl towards the bathroom.

She needs a separate space at this moment to properly relieve her inner embarrassment before she can do so.

Jared also knew that Amber's bathroom break was an excuse, and did not break her down, and after a low laugh, looked at Ben.

Ben stood there, his whole face expressionless, a look of unhappiness.

No way, from his point of view, just Mr. Farrell and Miss Reed get along, is spreading dog food.

Who is the dog food for?

It's not even for him, the single dog!

So, is he happy?

If he had known, he would have gone out with him just now.

He sighed bitterly in his heart, but Ben quickly resumed his serious appearance as a special assistant, pushed his glasses and asked, "Mr. Farrell, those two women just now, what is the situation?"

He just saw the two women on the surveillance and the psychopaths came to bang on the door of Mr. Farrell's lounge.

But did not know the reason for smashing the door, much less what happened when Mr. Farrell opened the door and got the two women in.

So, now he can only open his mouth and take the initiative to ask.

Jared picked up the water Amber had just drunk and took another sip before he spoke in a cold voice, "Those two women are Norah's spies, helping Norah monitor Little Leaf and I's every move at the party at all times. The two women thought that Little Leaf and I were coming to be intimate and immediately reported to Norah, who then let them come and ruin the 'intimacy' between Little Leaf and me."

Hearing this, Ben understood.

The two women smashing the door is to break the Mr. Farrell and Miss Reed 'intimate' move.

To say that these two women really do not want to die.

Not to mention Mr. Farrell and Miss Reed did not do anything, even if they did, it is also reasonable, after all, they are the rightful lovers.

Norah and these two women, what right do they have to sabotage?

And also in such a rough way, they are not afraid that Mr. Farrell and Miss Reed are really doing something, and then Mr. Farrell is so screwed by them, from then on, no lift?

To really will be like this, these two women a family life is not enough to pay for.

"This the Jones family people, they're really thieves." Ben said with disgust.

Jared narrowed his eyes, "I gave them too much face, I originally thought, not so hasty to announce my relationship with the Jones family broke, after all, the old Mr. Jones is at least my teacher, teacher and student a, I do not want to do too much, I give them a period of time, let them find their own way to stabilize the stock market before I announce, but it turns out that I think about them, but they do not put me in the eye, in that case, I do not need to be merciful to them, after the party, directly announced. But it turns out that I think about them, but they do not put me in the eye, since this, then I do not need to be merciful to them, after the banquet, directly announced it."

"Yes." Ben nodded.

"Also, send someone to keep an eye on the door and notify me as soon as the Jones family shows up."
Jared pursed his lips.

Ben was slightly surprised, "The Jones family showed up? But I've seen the list of parties today, and the Jones family is not invited."

"Just because they weren't invited doesn't mean they won't show up, and don't forget, invitations can be forwarded." Jared glanced at him, "Besides, Norah's eyes are saying that Little Leaf and I are getting close in the lounge, you think, she won't want to find a way to come over?"

Ben then reacted and slapped his forehead, "I forgot about that one."

"Go ahead." Jared waved his hand.

Ben responded and turned toward the door.

After two steps, suddenly thought of something and stopped and turned around again, "By the way Mr. Farrell, if the Jones family people do come, should we let them in?"

"What do you think?" Jared frowned, "Since the party host didn't invite them, then of course they can't show up, lest the party host look displeased."

Ben pushed his glasses and smiled, "Got it, I'm on my way."

After he left, Jared was the only one left in the lounge.

Jared spun the glass of water with one hand, as if it was not a glass of white water, but a glass of red wine, lazy and good-looking movements.

Amber came out of the bathroom and walked towards the man, "Ben's gone?"

"Gone." Jared nodded, then looked at her and snickered, "Shed out."

"And you say that." Amber grabbed the reassurance on the couch and slammed it at the man.

The strength is not great, the man grabbed the assurance as soon as he could, tossed it aside, and then pulled her wrist towards himself.

Amber let out an ah, her body lost its weight and she fell towards the arms of the man on the couch.

The man was smiling from start to finish, and after she fell down, he wrapped his arms directly around her waist and caught her, letting her sit down on his lap.

Amber was finally relieved, but still a little stunned, so naturally she had to find a man to vent.

She slapped the man's chest without good grace, "Jared, you scared the hell out of me, I thought I had fallen."

The man grabbed her hand, put it to his lips and kissed it, his voice was low and pleasant: "It won't fall, there is me, I will catch you."

Amber gave him a blank look and drew her hand back.

Jared was about to say something when his phone rang.

He frowned, obviously a little unhappy that the phone was ringing at this time.

But he didn't hesitate either, freeing a hand from Amber's waist and taking the phone out of his suit pocket.

Once he looked at the caller ID, he raised the end of his eyebrow and hung up the phone.

Then patted Amber's little bottom and stood her up.

"What's wrong?" Amber asked, still a little confused, as she stood up.

Jared straightened his suit before returning, "Your target has appeared."

At that, Amber's eyes instantly lit up, "It's appeared? That's great, then let's hurry back to the party."

She can't wait to make friends with the wife of the party host.

With that in mind, she took off her legs and headed out the door.

"Wait a minute." Jared, however, at that moment again, took her hand again.

Chapter 1259 Joke over

Amber couldn't walk anymore and just had to stop, "What's wrong?"

She looked back at him, her eyes puzzled.

The man also stood up, then from the side table, lifted a small bag and gave it to her.

"What's this?" Amber took the bag with a face full of confusion.

She had seen this bag before, the one Ben was carrying in his hand when he brought people in.

She was curious at the time, what was Ben doing carrying a small bag when he was here.

Only now do we realize that the bag is actually for her.

I just don't know what's inside.

"Juice." Jared said back as he saw her catch the bag and let go of his hand.

Amber blinked in surprise, "Juice?"

"A mix of grape and pomegranate juice." Jared says.

Amber's mouth opened, then opened the paper bag, which really put a was purple-red purple-red juice.

Once touched, it was actually still hot.

Amber laughed, "Juice I understand, but what are you giving me? I don't want juice right now."

Jared hands in the trouser pocket back, "I've been forgetting to tell you one thing, this lady's mother's family is a family of winemaking, so she grew up to be very good at drinking, she is also a documented sommelier, no matter what wine she drink, and very good, a thousand glasses of wine is not too much, so you want to make friends with her, inevitably will accompany her to drink a lot of wine, you Think you can drink her?"

Amber choked.

Hearing him speak so powerfully, of course she can't drink ah.

A thousand glasses can not be drunk hey!

What is that concept?

That's literally what it means to drink a thousand glasses of wine and not get drunk.

Although very complimentary, but can not fail to show that the other party is very good at drinking, if she does not have the same amount of alcohol, simply can not drink each other.

"Also, if you want to talk business from this lady, you must also drink first, and only after you have drunk almost enough and she feels satisfied, you will have a chance to talk business, otherwise she will not give you a chance to talk at all and will send you away." Jared reminded again.

Amber's mouth twitched, "I can't believe there's this, you never told me about it."

She couldn't help but hold her forehead.

Not to say that the man did not tell her that this lady is a wine taster and has the hobby of drinking people almost before giving them the business, and she herself did not inquire about it.

She only inquired about what brand of gowns the lady liked.

That's why, at that time, it went to customize the same brand of dress, want to use the dress as a door knocker to get in line with this lady.

But now the man said that this lady also likes to drink, so she suddenly felt that even if she had a dress, she could only get to know that lady at most, and if she didn't drink, she wouldn't even have a chance to say the purpose.

"I hadn't thought about it before." Jared shrugged his shoulders, "I don't like to attend these parties, and I've only met this lady two or three times, so I don't know her well at all, I've just heard a few things about her."

If he had thought about it earlier, he would naturally have told her from the beginning.

It simply won't wait until this time.

"So." Amber nodded, believing the man's words, then looked down at the juice in the bag, "So what made you want to get up now?"

"You just drank water, I saw that this water is cold, worried that you drank a stomachache, so let Ben come, by the way, bring some hot drinks over, that is, at that moment, I suddenly remembered this thing, so let Ben change the drink to this juice." Jared explained.

Amber now fully understood, "So, you asked Ben to specially buy a mixture of grape seed and pomegranate seed juice, just because this color is the same as red wine, and you want me to use this to impersonate red wine to befriend each other?"

Jared was noncommittal, "You don't have that kind of drink, but you can't help it, so I had to resort to this."

Seeing the man think so thoughtfully for himself, Amber's heart could not be described as ironic, her eyebrows were full of tenderness, "Jared, thank you."

The man rubbed her hair.

Amber looked at this glass of juice, her heart ironed out at the same time, and some worry, "Can I really muddle through? You also said, she is a sommelier, her sense of smell should be very good, this does not have the smell of wine, in case she smells out and knows that I am using this to fool her, she will not be happy in her heart."

"Don't worry, what you can think of, I naturally thought of, so I had Ben prepare a batch of wine glasses with the smell of red wine beforehand, and then you can just pour this into the glass." Jared pointed to the juice in her hand.

Amber's mouth twitched, "there is actually this trick, really thanks to you can think out, this is called sneaky."

She couldn't stop laughing.

Jared lifted his chin slightly, "Whatever it is, the way it works will work, you can't really be made to drink, and your drinking capacity is just one or two drinks."

Amber sighed helplessly, "You're right, it looks like we'll have to take a chance on that too, but how do I know which of your wine glasses have been tampered with?"

"You will know, Ben arranged a waiter, later when you go to that lady, he will take the initiative to appear in front of you, you hand this juice to him just, he will pour one by one into those glasses, and then in the dark at all times to keep an eye on you, until your juice is finished, he will immediately appear to re-gift you a new glass. " The man hooked his lips and smiled.

Amber took a breath, "You really have everything arranged properly, ah, I really can not worry at all."

"Of course, as the man behind you tonight, it's only natural that I should have everything in place so that you have no worries and can concentrate on your own business." The man bent his own arm.

"Now you can go, my lady."

Amber, seeing him as such a gentleman, also got playful and took his arm, lifting her neck slightly like a proud swan, "Sure, let's go Little Jared."

Little Jared, which made the man's feet tap.

Even if he doesn't watch TV anymore, he knows that Little Jared is the name of a eunuch.

This woman, actually called him like a eunuch.

He treats her as a queen, but she is good, actually treats him as a eunuch.

Looking at the man's slightly distorted handsome face, Amber's heart burst into laughter.

But she held back the surface did not laugh out, but deliberately pretended not to notice anything, and asked suspiciously, "What's wrong Little Jared?"

Jared's thin lips twitched.

And called him Little Jared.

It seems that she really took him for a eunuch.

Even though he knew she was calling him that on purpose out of a joke.

But in his heart, he was also more or less unhappy.

Since he called him Little Jared and treated him as a little eunuch, he will let her see if he is a little eunuch or not when he gets back.

He wants her to know that there is a limit to playfulness, not everything can be joked about.

Especially, the joke that demeans that aspect of men.

So, since she has done wrong, she should obediently accept his punishment.

A dark light passed through Jared's eyes and a leathery expression appeared on his face, "Yes my lady, we're on our way."

He took her hand and walked toward the door.

Amber saw the man's smile some Yin look, heart thumped, immediately rose a sense of foreboding.

The dog man, seems to be angry, is her joke too much?

At this moment, Amber also began to reflect on the joke she had just made.

Then it means that it is not really appropriate.

It's no wonder the man's smile made her feel hairy.

It is estimated that the dog man at this moment in the heart, has begun to calculate how to retaliate back to it.

Otherwise why smile at her so eerily, let people strange scared.

Chapter 1260 - Breaking into the wife group

So, Amber's heart began to regret a little.

Regret should not be joking around, especially this kind of joke that some hurt the dignity of men.

"What's on your mind?" Just when Amber was regretting in her heart, Jared beside her suddenly spoke up and asked.

Amber barely managed to squeeze out a smile, "It's nothing, it's just"

"Hmm?"

"It's just now"

Before Amber could finish her sentence, Jared suddenly saw something and pointed to a couple of middle-aged women not far ahead, "There's the person you're looking for."

Amber looked in the direction he pointed, and saw a spot in the middle of the banquet hall where several middle-aged women with dresses and a look of pampering were standing together talking and laughing.

And standing in the middle, out of the center of a noble lady, is the one that Amber is going to befriend this time.

Seeing her, Amber was instantly surprised, "It's really true, so I'll go over there first?"

"Do you need me to keep you company?" The man asked as he stopped and looked at her.

Amber shook her head, "No, you were supposed to accompany me today, so it's better for me to go by myself, after all, it's me who has to ask the other party, not you, so I want to try it myself, in saying that there are all wives over there, why do you go as a big man? Not appropriate."

Jared stroked her brain, "Well then, I won't accompany you there, I'll go say hello to one of my grandfather's elders when he was alive, and I'll meet you over there later."

He pointed to the rest area where they went at the beginning.

Amber nodded, "Okay, you go ahead, then I'll go ahead."

"Hmm." Jared nodded, "Go ahead, I'll watch you go over and I'll leave when you do."

"Good." Amber smiled at him, then turned around, took a deep breath, patted her chest, and gathered her courage to walk over there.

After two steps, a waiter called out to Amber, "Miss Reed, do you have something in your hand that you need to take care of for me?"

Amber froze, then realized what was going on and looked back at Jared for confirmation.

Jared gave a faint nod.

Amber was sure that this waiter was the one he had Ben arrange to help her cheat, and was immediately relieved, handing him the bag in her hand, "Of course I need it, please."

"Miss Reed you're welcome." The waiter saw Amber smiling politely at herself and was flattered to bow, then her eyes fell on Amber's hand and added, "I see Miss Reed doesn't have any wine in her hand, I'll bring it to Miss Reed in a moment, what kind of wine does Miss Reed want?"

"Wine." Amber gently pointed in the direction of the wives' group over there, "Just send it there later, I'll wait for you there."

"Okay." The waitress nodded in response and turned to leave, carrying her bag.

Amber exhaled slightly when she saw him go.

With a final glance at the man who was still standing at attention, he reared his feet and walked ahead.

Jared kept watching her, watching her get up the courage to say hello to the wives, watching her take the 'wine' that the waiter had just brought and clink glasses with the wives, watching her successfully penetrate the wives and talk to the wives, Jared was relieved to walk away.

Unknowingly, she has really grown a lot.

If she had just taken over Goldstone Co., she would never have had the courage to go up to this group of wives and make friends with them.

Which is like now, after a little pumping, you can go straight up.

Such growth is something he is happy to see, and he is happy about it.

So Jared was relieved to leave Amber with the wives, and went to greet his grandfather's best friends when he was alive.

After the greeting, Jared stopped paying attention to anyone, declined the invitations of various people who wanted to make friends with him, and went to the rest area alone, waiting for Amber to return from making friends with the wives' group.

Probably Jared's refusal to befriend is very firm but obvious, all the time, the other people at the party, also resigned to not come forward.

Otherwise it is to annoy him, which is not worth it.

Then, Jared sat in this area, completely became a vacuum, no one dared to approach, dare to disturb, unless he took the initiative to call people over, denying that no one will come forward.

The older generation, who are not involved with the Farrell Group and do not need to cooperate, naturally will not put aside this generation to take the initiative to go up and greet Jared.

The previous generation, although they can put down their generation, but just now Jared's attitude has been very obvious, do not want anyone to disturb, so they naturally will not come forward.

As for the younger generation, they are these gentry, afraid of Jared is not enough, and how dare to go forward.

So, Jared's side cleared up.

It just so happens that, again, this is what Jared would like to see most.

The host of the party only instructed all the waiters to keep an eye on Jared and to come forward immediately when Jared needed them, not daring to neglect him at all.

Of course, the party host was not offended and had no problem with Jared not coming to say hello to him, the party host.

He knew very well that Jared came to the party, not at all he, the host of the party, face, but to accompany his girlfriend.

With his girlfriend not around, then he naturally has few people at the party that he needs to take the initiative to greet, even if he is the host of the party.

After all, Jared's status is there.

So the banquet host is not angry, and no opinion, but for the banquet host, Jared can come, is very give him face, so that his banquet, suddenly became a glamorous up.

Jared didn't want to say hello to anyone, so he didn't. Anyway, Jared's girlfriend said hello to his wife again, and Mr. Farrell didn't stop it.

It is clear that Mr. Farrell is also very high regard them well.

The host of the party smiles.

Of course, all this Jared does not know, nor does he want to know.

He sat in the corner, sipping his drink while taking out his phone and browsing for something.

Take a closer look, it's a message from Ben.

It says that he has checked the background of the two women, the two women are Olkmore, the Lehman family and the Jefferson family's daughter.

The Lehman family and the Jefferson family, both of which are small Olkmore families, are in the food business and the clothing business, respectively, and have only made their fortunes in the last decade.

Not considered a gentry, at most, is also a mob, and even not particularly rich mob.

This time, the two families were not invited to the banquet, but they spent a lot of effort to get the invitations to mix in, in order to make friends with the real gentry, so that the family further, and strive to be among the ranks of the gentry as soon as possible.

But now, the ambitions of these two are completely hopeless.

Offend him, and still want to be among the gentry?

A fool's errand!

Jared's thin lips were pursed and his eyes were cold to the bone.

But the two families mixed in this matter, but suddenly he thought of the White family that Mrs. Lu said.

The White family, who is in the seafood business, also got an invitation and wanted to mix in and recommend their daughter to him in an attempt to climb into a relationship with him.

So, now the White family is mixed in?

Jared fumbled with his phone for a moment, then made a call to Ben.

Ben's phone answered quickly, "Mr. Farrell."

"Check, besides these two and the Jones family, are there any other families outside the invited list that show up, especially the ones with the surname Wang, find out and say hello to the party host side and get them under control." Jared's voice was emotionless as he ordered.

He intends, to clean up these families together.