

LLPD Chapter 1301

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1301 Public

For such a ludicrous reason, Norah was able to do this, and this act, this act, is simply outrageous.

It is true that the Kampwerth family is not a good thing, and deserves to end up with a revenge.

But the Kampwerth family and Norah can not have any hatred grudge, but Norah can be because of such a reason, will design the Kampwerth family car accident, to the Kampwerth family to death.

You can imagine how dangerous a person like Norah is.

He was even sober Norah these two times on Amber are light, otherwise Amber now

Jared squeezed his phone deathly tight and didn't think any further about it.

He now has only one idea, that is to send Norah inside, otherwise let this woman outside, may also let Little Leaf through how much danger.

After all, this kind of person, he can prevent a moment, but can not put a lifetime, unless he directly get this woman dead.

Otherwise this woman, as long as a little opportunity, will come out evil.

Jared snapped the document in his hand closed, his face full of gloom, "From what we found on top of this document, Norah is instead the mastermind of that driver's revenge against the Kampwerth family."

"Yes, because whether it is sabotaging the brakes, or planning the crash, from beginning to end is Norah planning, the driver said the mastermind, but now it seems, rather than a puppet, after all, the driver did not have the ability to retaliate to the Kampwerth family, it is Norah to provide him with the idea, to provide the convenience, so even if Norah did not directly drive to hit people, but the sentence in the criminal case, she is also the mastermind, and even worse than the driver, the driver to hit the Kampwerth family, because with the Kampwerth family has a grudge, but Norah did not, completely because of a selfish desire, so she is the mastermind undoubtedly." Ben nodded his head back.

Jared narrowed his eyes, "Do the police know about it?"

Ben shook his head, "do not know yet, because the phone card was picked up by our people, so the police side does not know that there is this matter, I guess the phone card should also be Norah let the driver in the shot before the disposal, is afraid that the phone card was found by the police, thus exposing her, but she never thought that the driver did not deal with the phone card in a rigorous way, the way the phone card. Directly thrown in a place not far from the scene of the crash, rather than directly damaged, which allowed our people to pick up."

He thought that it should be that God couldn't even look past the evil deeds of Norah, the woman, so he let their people pick up the calling card.

But it's also really sad to say.

Norah has such a cute face, but inside, it is full of malice.

"Give this and the calling card to the police." Jared handed the papers to Ben.

Ben took it, "Mr. Farrell, this is given to the police, then what awaits Norah, could be a life sentence, or even the death penalty, you"

"You think I care?" Jared raised his eyes and looked at him lightly, "I don't even care about the old Mr. Jones anymore, what would I care about her?"

Ben pushed his glasses and smiled, "I'm sorry Mr. Farrell, I'm the one who talked too much, I know what to do, I'll have someone send it to the police side."

Jared hummed, "Send it over and make this public on the internet as well."

"Publicly on the internet?" Ben was slightly surprised.

Jared was noncommittal, with an icy look in his eyes, "You've seen what's been going on online, right?"

"Yes."

"If I just went public with the things Norah did last night, and the idiots on the internet still thought I was being mean to the Jones family, would they still have anything to say if I put this out there?"

Ben drifted off, "So that's it. Okay, I'll notify the PR department to issue a statement."

Jared lifted his chin, "How are those other two doing now?"

Ben thought for a while back: "the two illegal and disciplinary evidence, the people underneath have all collected, they are not careful, so it is easy to find out the evidence of their illegal and disciplinary, I guess, the people below have been handed over to the disciplinary department, I believe that soon we will be able to hear the news that the two companies are being thoroughly investigated, as for the two women, they are still in the hospital lying, and they have been driven out of the home, the two also released a statement on the Internet, but today's news is more, so the two statements did not set off any splash."

Jared nodded slightly, indicating that he knew, "Don't worry about these two families and those two women, just keep an eye on the Jones family side."

It's a shame to say that he had hoped that these two women would fight Norah.

As a result, I didn't expect that Norah also secretly did this thing.

Norah's fate was already sealed.

By the time these two women are released from the hospital, it is estimated that Norah has been sent to prison.

So these two parties are not destined to fight.

But there are no absolutes in everything.

What if Norah did something else they didn't know about, but the two women knew about the bad things, maybe the two women would report it, and then Norah's crime would be compounded?

"Go ahead." Jared's thin lips curled in a cool arc as he waved his hand at Ben.

Ben took the file and went out.

Soon after, the Farrell Group's public relations department released the immediate reasons why Jared cut ties with the Jones family, which were five-fold.

First, Norah deliberately created a scandal for Amber, causing his displeasure, the Jones family not only did not repent or apologize, but also arrogant, door-to-door cursing.

Secondly, at the party last night, Norah incited two of her followers to come to the door to provoke him and Amber to break down the door of the lounge.

Third, Norah attempted to plot against Amber's physical safety.

Fourth, Norah committed a heinous crime by intentionally killing and planning the Kampwerth family car accident that resulted in the death of the Kampwerth family driver, the brain death of the Kampwerth family chairman, and the disability of the Kampwerth family's daughter's legs.

Fifth, evidence is being collected and will not be published for the time being.

Below these reasons, corresponding evidence is attached, especially the third and fourth points.

On the third point, the Farrell Group has attached surveillance video of Norah attempting to push Amber in the hallway outside the party restroom last night.

Norah thought there was no surveillance, but in fact, last night's banquet attendees are all rich, the banquet host couple afraid of these people in trouble, they can not afford to take responsibility, so at their own expense to let the hotel side in various places have installed monitoring, especially some others thought there would be no monitoring places are also installed on.

Although the bathroom is not installed, but the bathroom outside the corridor of the overhead ventilation duct inside, installed, Norah last night all the actions of Amber, all were recorded by the surveillance.

The malice on Norah's face as she extended her hand towards Amber was so clearly recorded that it made people cringe to look at it.

It is obvious that the face is angelic and lovely, but after being tainted with malice, it actually becomes so ugly and terrible.

The Internet users in front of the computer or cell phone looked at Norah's face and couldn't help but shiver.

And the fourth point, the Farrell Group attached evidence, although not surveillance video, but a scan, but the contents of this scan, but more than the third point of the surveillance look more alarming.

Just because of this scan, is Norah with another stranger text message content, these text message content, detailed records of how Norah is planning a car accident, how to let people sabotage others brakes, if the perpetrator were waiting towards the person to strike, etc., a line, look creepy, hair-raising.

For a while, the whole internet exploded.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1302 the Jones family is finished

They are ordinary people, although they know that the water in the luxury circle is very deep, the people in the luxury family are not a clean good people.

But it's the first time they've seen someone like Norah orchestrate a car crash killing in such an open and honest manner.

"God, just to stop people from attending the party, they gave someone to plan a car accident that killed someone, is this the Jones family millennial the devil?"

"It's horrible, it's really horrible, I know these rich people are not clean in their hands, but the most I can think of them is to dig a hole for people above, now it seems, or I'm too simple, never thought, they can actually easily take people's lives, is the law in the eyes of these rich people a child's play?"

"Strongly request the top to thoroughly investigate these rich people, I am sure that this Norah is definitely not the first, and certainly not the last, maybe these rich people, more vicious than her are there."

"That's right, support, strongly demand a thorough investigation."

This comment was supported by all the netizens.

They have mentioned those departments concerned, hoping to get a response from these departments to thoroughly investigate these families.

No one doubts that what the Farrell Group has released is false.

After all, the Farrell Group's status is there, and it's unlikely that they would joke about such things.

What's more, the Jones family is also Jared's mentor family, and Norah is also Jared's mentor's granddaughter.

If Norah hadn't really done these things, they believe that Jared would never have done so even if Norah had targeted Amber several times.

All in all, those who previously felt that Jared was hard on the Jones family have now all fallen over themselves to support Jared.

They are easy to be led, is a little stupid, is very fond of sympathy for the weak, who cried poor, it is easy to believe who.

But it doesn't mean they're going to support a murderer.

A person can be forgiven for making a mistake, but killing someone is absolutely not okay.

"No wonder Mr. Farrell is so determined to break off relations with the Jones family, so there are these reasons, I said it, Mr. Farrell how can be as other people say is a confused irrational faint king, just because of a small matter to break off relations with the benefactor."

"Upstairs, that's not what you seemed to be saying before."

"That is, I felt from the beginning to the end that there must be something else in this, did not suspect Mr. Farrell, now it seems that really my foresight was right, haha, before those who scolded me for brainlessly believing in Mr. Farrell and supporting Mr. Farrell's cubs come out to die."

Death?

How is it possible!

Suffering death is impossible to suffer death, but they can delete comments diving ah.

Some of the netizens who jumped out and accused Jared of being a wolf, a white-eyed wolf, and a six-parent unrecognizable after Jared publicly stated that he broke off relations with his benefactor's family, one by one, blushed, deleted their statements, and even changed their original screen names those.

I'm afraid I'll be pulled out and ridiculed by those who haven't said anything about Jared's network.

Anyway, now they feel embarrassed in their hearts and hate Norah at the same time.

This woman is so vicious, did these things, how good to cry on the Internet that they did not do anything, just accidentally did a small thing wrong?

So this group of netizens, began to pour into the Norah before crying the video below, began to attack, all kinds of vicious words curse words all sent out.

The webmaster saw the comments and, although he frowned and found them hard to hear, he selfishly did not stop them.

Simply because Norah's behavior was so vicious and completely beyond anyone's imagination.

That's killing people.

Even if the Kampwerth family is not a good thing, the Kampwerth family does not have an axe to grind with Norah.

But Norah was able to take on the Kampwerth family, who had no grudge, for a ridiculous reason.

Thinking about it differently, is that in case they accidentally mess with her one day, are they going to be solved by her as well?

It is for this reason that the netizens are so hostile towards Norah.

Of course, the vast majority of the internet is attacking Norah and the Jones family at the moment, but there are a small number of people who are continuing to wait and see.

And what they ate was the fifth item of the statement released by the Farrell Group.

"You guys say, what does this article mean ah? What do you mean there's not enough evidence, so we're not releasing it? Is it possible that this Norah, or the Jones family did something else?"

"It should be, otherwise there would not be two words of evidence, just do not know how to do things compared to the fourth point?"

"I think it's definitely heavier than the fourth point."

"What does the upstairs say, explain?"

"Yeah, explain explain explain."

The netizen who has been mentioned incessantly is now also a little proud, slowly typing back: "You see, the Farrell Group released about that Norah's crime, are in accordance with a heavier than one, especially the third and fourth point, the third point Norah ready to harm Miss Reed behind Miss Reed, but we all know that this is flat, after pushing down, not necessarily dead, but the fourth point Norah directly destroy others brakes, which is obviously will die, so the fourth point of the crime than the third point heavy, then the same reason, the fifth point is certainly heavier than the fourth point."

"It makes sense, if that's true, then what has been done with this undisclosed fifth point?"

"That would be something to ask the Farrell Group."

So in a trend of curiosity, netizens streamed rumors under Jared's platform, hoping Jared would tell them.

Jared naturally can not tell them, they are not dead again, and go mention those departments concerned, hoping that the relevant departments to investigate, find out sooner, to give them an account of the netizens.

Eat melon not only the ordinary masses, the luxury circle of people are also secretly eating melon, when see these netizens mention these relevant departments, to thoroughly investigate them these luxury, one is heart-breaking.

They know exactly what they've done, and even if it's not as heartless as Norah, it's definitely not clean.

So one by one, these people scolded the nosy netizens at the same time, but also hurried to clear their tails, the tax evasion, began to covertly make up, did not give the employees compensation in place, but also secretly make up, some of the use of defective materials to produce products, but also replaced with good materials.

In short, they are really afraid that these departments in order to quell the clamor of these netizens to investigate them, in case really investigated, waiting for them is the same fate as the Kampwerth family.

So just in case, what should be mended, what should be compensated, what should be replaced.

Needless to say, it paid off for Jared to get these things out in the open.

His reputation was cleaned up not to mention the stench of the mall along with it.

It's a good thing for Amber and Jared, too.

Especially Amber, she also did not expect that the Kampwerth family car accident behind, there is actually Norah's shadow.

No, not the shadow.

Norah is the mastermind.

Jared made the matter public, Norah spent the rest of her life in jail without running.

Sending a poisonous snake in so that it doesn't have to worry about jumping out and biting anyone at any time in the future is a good thing for Amber, isn't it?

And that's not good for the Jones family, not for Norah.

Instead, it's bad.

The sky is the limit for bad things!

At this time, the Jones family was still in the hospital with the old Mr. Jones, who was unaware of what was going on online.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1303 - The Ending is Doomed

The sudden collapse of the old Mr. Jones was like a bomb that exploded in the hearts of all the Jones family, causing them to become frightened and uneasy.

They all know that the backbone of the Jones family is not any one of them, but the old man.

The senior's status as a professor allows the senior to have many contacts in the academic world.

These old men in academia are also one with a network of connections across various industries.

So as long as the Jones family has something to do and needs to find someone to help, as long as the old man steps in and contacts his close friends in academia, most of them will be able to solve it.

And the most important point is that the old man is also Jared's benefactor.

There are some things that the old man's close friends in academia can't accomplish, and finding Jared definitely can.

It can be said that the Jones family has been able to stand up precisely because of the old man.

Once the old man died suddenly, those old men in academia, will not take care of them the Jones family.

Even Jared, will slowly break off contact with them the Jones family.

Although Jared has now broken off contact with them the Jones family, but at least the old man survived, there is a possibility to regain the relationship back.

But if the old man dies, then there is no hope for anything.

So they did not want anything to happen to the old man, so when they learned that the old man had collapsed from the excitement after Jared issued a statement severing the relationship, they were almost scared out of their minds and then rushed to the hospital to accompany him, leaving their work in hand.

As a result, I didn't expect the hospital to give the diagnosis that the old man had symptoms of a moderate stroke and would wake up with a significant decline in his health.

For example, before the old man walked without a cane, but in the future he will have to pose with a cane to be able to walk, and in severe cases, even to travel in a wheelchair.

For example, if the old man used to speak as well as move very well, he may also become slurred in his speech or stutter less, and his movements may become slow, and he may even be unable to hold things steadily.

In short, this time down, the old man will no longer be hard and will become a sickly old man who needs constant care.

And it was quite a blow to the Jones family.

Even if the old man did not die so they breathed a sigh of relief, but the old man's body is also considered a complete collapse, and there is no telling how long he will live.

Once this result came out, the Jones family was all sad and made the atmosphere of the whole ward was low.

Mrs. Jones even cried a few times.

Mr. Jones didn't cry, but he was a devastated man, while Norah stood by the window sill, expressionless, not knowing what to think.

As for the rest of the Jones family, they have also gotten the news that those who are abroad are ready to return home, and those who are out of town, are ready to come back to Olkmore.

After all, the old Mr. Jones is like this, they can not come back to meet it?

What if we don't see each other again?

"Oooooooh, honey, how do you think things turned out like this?" Mrs. Jones sat next to Mr. Jones, still whimpering and sobbing, "How do you think Dad this suddenly collapsed?"

Mr. Jones was annoyed by her crying, "Come on, stop crying, who am I going to ask if you ask me? I still want to know how Dad went to a party with Norah, and how he pissed off Jared again, and made Jared issue a direct statement breaking off relations with us the Jones family."

The couple said, looking together at Norah, who was standing by the window.

Apparently, their conversation was meant for her to hear.

The couple asked Norah this question no less.

The old Mr. Jones hadn't woken up by now, so they could only ask Norah.

After all, the two people who went to the party were Norah and the old Mr. Jones.

However, Norah never opened her mouth to tell them what happened at the party, no matter how much they asked.

They had no choice but to put on such a show.

But Norah's heart was as hard and cold as the scales, and no matter how sad Mrs. Jones cried, she never spoke.

Even ask more and get impatient.

"Come on, what are you crying about, what are you asking about, now the priority is to figure out how to solve this matter, and when grandpa wakes up, it would be better to see that we have solved the matter instead of crying here." Norah glanced at her parents with a face full of impatience.

Spare Mr. Jones Mrs. Jones has been accustomed to the daughter to them not to the old Mr. Jones good, hit which Norah such a look, but also the couple's heart broke.

Mr. Jones scolded, "Norah, we are your parents, what kind of attitude is that? Do you talk to your parents like that?"

Norah laughed contemptuously, "I wouldn't want to be your daughter at all if I could, two useless pieces of shit."

"You"

Mr. Jones Mrs. Jones was furious.

At this moment, the door of the ward was pushed open by the nurse, who came in with an unhappy face, "Are you finished? Don't you see the words "Quiet on the wall"? Your patients don't need to rest, other patients still need it."

As the nurse's words fell, the ward instantly fell silent, and everyone looked at her with incredulous eyes.

Obviously it was unbelievable how this nurse dared to use this attitude and afterwards only able to talk to them in tone.

Soon, Norah reacted with a glare and a twisted face, "What the hell are you, you dare to talk to us like that, you don't want to do it anymore, do you?"

Yes, the Jones family is down and out.

But it's not down yet.

It's easy to want to screw a little nurse, too.

However, the nurse did not have the slightest fear of Norah's words, instead she laughed disdainfully, "If you had said that before today, Miss. Jones, I might still be afraid, but now I am not afraid, after all, you are a murderer, soon to be in jail, what else can you do with me?"

A murderer, said Norah's face changed greatly, pupils are contracted, "You What do you mean? What murderer?"

Did this person know about last night's incident?

No, it can't be!

This matter, she did so covertly, even Jared did not know, how would she know.

So it's a fake, it must be a fake.

Norah in the heart so comforted himself, but I do not know why, the more comforted, the more the heart is not quiet, the more panic bad.

Mr. Jones and Mrs. Jones although just also broken heart by Norah, but ultimately still love this daughter, naturally can not hear others say so their daughter, immediately stood up with an ugly face, pointing at the nurse is a scolding, "what you talk nonsense, what murderer, do you believe we sue you for libel? "

"Exactly." Mr. Jones nodded.

The nurse skimmed her lips in contempt, "Slander? I did not slander your daughter, your daughter is a murderer, vicious to the extreme, and now the Internet is all over, your daughter for a ridiculous reason, the Kampwerth family car accident, you are not here to argue with me about this, but also to think about what to bring to see your daughter in prison in the future."

After saying that, the nurse sneered at Norah and pushed the small medicine cart away.

And the ward, Mr. JonesMrs. Jones which is full of blank mind.

What did the nurse just say?

Saying their daughter plotted last night's car crash of the Kampwerth family that is now all over the internet?

How is this possible!

How could their daughter be so vicious and how could she be capable of that!

It must be a rumor that people on the Internet are making up.

Yes, it must be!

The two thought this way and looked towards Norah in unison.

However, when they saw Norah's pale, flustered face, the couple's hearts hit rock bottom.

Chapter 1304 Door-to-door arrest

They are her parents and naturally know her well.

They were clear that since childhood, whenever something she had done was revealed, she was this pale and flustered.

In other words, what the nurse just said is true, their daughter, really killed someone!

Realizing this, Mrs. Jones only felt the roar in her ears constantly, a breath up, blacked out and passed out.

Mr. Jones was shocked to see Mrs. Jones fainting, and rushed to pick her up and put her on the sofa.

This is a VIP high class ward with all the couches and rest rooms.

After Mr. Jones put the person on the sofa, then he looked at Norah with a pair of eyes full of incredulity, "Norah, what that nurse just said, is it true? Did you really killed someone?"

Mr. Jones' voice was hoarse, and it took him a long time to finish a complete sentence.

Although he is not a good person, but he never wanted to kill anyone.

Killing people is something that he absolutely cannot do and does not dare to do.

But never thought that his daughter would dare.

Norah saw Mr. Jones' look of complete approval of her murderous eyes, and a surge of anger shot through her heart, and she roared with a fierce face, "What do you mean, you believe that nurse's words and really think I killed someone?"

Mr. Jones mouth noises twice, "I do not believe it either, but your performance makes me"

"I didn't!" As if greatly irritated, Norah's voice interrupted him sharply and at a surprisingly high volume, "I didn't kill anyone, I didn't!"

She just tampered with the Kampwerth family's car and informed the fisherman who had a grudge against the Kampwerth family.

Other than that, she didn't do anything.

It's not like she ran over the Kampwerth family, so what makes her say she killed someone.

She didn't kill anyone, she just didn't.

Looking at Norah like a crazy hissing look, Mr. Jones mouth open, can not say anything.

He was now completely convinced that his daughter had really killed someone.

Otherwise, her emotions and reactions would not be so great.

Mr. Jones only felt cold, pointing at Norah fingers are trembling, look at her eyes, more like looking at strangers, "Norah, killing such a thing, how can you do it ah!"

He asked with a pained voice.

He is a bad person, but the worst thing he can do is just to frame people and cause them to be taken away by the discipline inspection.

In addition, the most is to take advantage of some small, rely on the relationship with Jared to steal others cooperation and business only, and did not harm others name.

But his daughter is

Seeing Mr. Jones' pained look, Norah knew that no matter what she said, he would not believe that she had not killed anyone. And then what? Report me? You want to report me, go ahead."

She looked fearless and unafraid.

Anyway, in her opinion, she just had someone destroy the Kampwerth family's car, leaked the Kampwerth family's trip with the fisherman, and helped the fisherman with an idea for revenge.

These are not her own hands, how can we say that she also killed people.

She is innocent, she didn't kill anyone if she didn't do it herself.

She even thought that even if Mr. Jones reported herself and she was caught, she would surely be fine.

Mr. Jones was stunned by Norah's words.

Report your daughter?

No, he never thought about it.

Even if Norah didn't treat him as a father, even if Norah killed someone, she was always his daughter.

He never wanted to report. The police let people come to arrest his daughter.

So, naturally, he does not go back to report.

He said these things, just shocked, shocked at how his daughter actually dared.

For a while, Mr. Jones could not say anything, and the whole person fell into silence.

Because he didn't know what to say.

Norah does not care what he thinks, see him not say anything, stop those ridiculous questioning, heart rather happy to see it.

She then took out her phone, ready to see what the nurse had said was going on with the news that she had killed people all over the internet.

How exactly was the fact that she engineered the car accident for the Jones family exposed?

Didn't that fisherman already promise her to get rid of all the evidence of contact with her before hitting someone?

Why is it still exposed online?

Norah bit her lip as she rummaged through her phone and soon learned the reason, it was Jared.

It's Jared!

Norah's eyes were bloodshot and her hands were trembling as she held the phone, looking at its contents with disbelief.

It was actually Jared who exposed it on the internet.

But how did he know?

Norah thought for a while in his mind, could not think of an answer, and then his eyes were fixed on the phone, his breathing became rapid.

What exactly does Jared mean by this?

How could he do that!

Does he know how much trouble it will cause her if he exposes this on the internet? How much damage it would do to her reputation?

Norah's scarlet eyes overflowed with tears, and it wasn't just her hands that were trembling anymore, her body was trembling all over.

She couldn't accept Jared doing this to her.

Jared treating her like this is cold-blooded and heartless, with no thought, whatsoever, of what it will bring her.

"Jared You're really mean." Norah bit her lower lip to death, her voice full of hate and sadness.

She felt that by doing so, Jared was betraying her and her feelings for him.

She loves him so much and treats him so well, but he

Yet at this time, Norah was completely oblivious to what she was doing to Jared again.

When she cried online, deliberately distorted the facts and hid other things she had done to make the netizens misunderstand Jared and call him a wolf and a dog, she didn't think about what she would bring to Jared by doing so.

In short, Norah is a whatever she does is right, are right, but others in the same way so to her, is not okay, is sorry for her, is to let her down.

Anyway, it is an extreme existence that only she can negative others, not others negative her.

For a moment, Norah was heartbroken, and at the same time a great hatred for Jared rose in her heart.

She even vowed that since Jared was hurting her and failing her every time, she shouldn't be loving him either.

She also wants to get back at him and make him taste her pain.

And these stupid netizens who jumped around on the Internet and cursed her, she also had to clean up one by one all of them.

Just imagine is beautiful, the reality is cruel.

The moment Norah's thought of revenge had risen, there was a knock on the door of the hospital room.

Mr. Jones did not think much about it, took a deep breath and went to open the door, but after the door opened, saw two people standing outside the door dressed in police. When the door opened, saw two people in police uniforms standing outside the door, the face suddenly changed greatly.

If normally, when he saw the officers, instead of panicking, he would have impatiently asked them what they were doing here.

But now, knowing that his daughter had killed someone, he looked at the officers again with nothing but trepidation, and nervousness and fear.

"You What's the matter with you?" Mr. Jones asked with his hands tightly gripping the door handle of the room, looking apprehensive.

In fact, he knew very well in his heart the purpose of these two people coming here.

But if he could, he would rather follow the two men around and get rid of them.

Then your own daughter will be safe.

Naturally, the two officers took in all of Mr. Jones' reactions when they saw them.

After the two men looked at each other, one of the officers took out his ID and waved it in front of Mr. Jones and said in a cold voice: "Hello Mr. Jones, one of our cases involves your daughter, so I would like to see your daughter, is your daughter there?"

Chapter 1305 Take Norah away

Sure enough, it's here for Norah.

Mr. Jones brain exploded, hurriedly shouted back: "No, my daughter is not here, you go, hurry up, to find my daughter to look elsewhere, this is my father's ward, only me and my father, there is no other people, you hurry up to go."

He said he was about to close the door.

But the two officers were not so easy to deal with, and Mr. Jones' door would not close when his foot was placed against the doorway.

The police officer who spoke just now looked at Mr. Jones with a smile on his face, "Mr. Jones, we went to your house before we came, and your maid told us that all three of you were in the hospital with the old Mr. Jones, and we just asked the nurse at the reception desk of this ward, and the reception desk said that they did not see Miss. . Jones came and left, that is to say, Miss. Jones is still here, so Mr. Jones, also please cooperate with us, let Miss. Jones come out, otherwise you are obstructing official business, according to the rules, we can also take you away."

Take him away too?

The old Mr. Jones' face stiffened.

Taking this opportunity, the two officers pushed Mr. Jones directly aside and walked into the ward.

Mr. Jones knocked his shoulder into the wall, then reacted, his face changed dramatically, also hurriedly turned around to follow the ward, "What do you mean? Is this how you are as police officers? Do you know what you call this behavior, this is called trespassing, you"

The two officers didn't care what Mr. Jones said.

The officer who spoke earlier, nodded with another officer.

The officer then turned right around, opened his arms, and stopped Mr. Jones from coming up to stop them.

Mr. Jones, of course, was not willing to be stopped like that and struggled several times.

But the body, which has long been emptied of alcohol and pleasure, is no match for the police officers who exercise every day, and is soon escorted out of the ward by the officers.

They decided that they would also take Mr. Jones to the police station for questioning.

This person has repeatedly stopped them from coming to Norah, and is obviously aware of what Norah has done.

In that case, there is a suspicion of harboring Norah, so it is best to bring it back together.

Mr. Jones was led out and the ward was instantly silent.

Remaining in the ward this officer first glanced at the ward, the ward in addition to the old man lying on the hospital bed and Mrs. Jones lying on the sofa, there is no Norah's figure.

This made the officer's brow furrow and become a little annoyed.

Is it true that Norah is not here?

But no matter what the news shows, Norah did come here and did not leave ah.

Even the reaction of Mr. Jones just now is no doubt not indicating that Norah is here.

So now Norah is hiding somewhere in the ward?

Just as the officer was thinking about looking for it, the bathroom door opened and Norah came out of it with a grim face and shaking her wet hands.

Seeing her, the officer's eyes lit up and the corners of his mouth curled into a smile.

It seems there is no need to look for it, people come out on their own.

Norah also noticed the absence of Mr. Jones in the ward and the presence of an additional stranger.

At first, Norah wanted to ask who the other party was, but the next second, seeing the other party's police. The next second, seeing the other person's police ... uniform, the face brushed white.

Even if she still does not think her actions are killing people, but the heart is still inexplicably weak and scared when she sees the police officers behind her.

"You"

Norah gritted her teeth and was about to go ahead and shoo the person away, thinking that maybe the other person was just on the wrong side of the road, and after she shooed the person away, she should be fine.

However, when she just finished a word, the other side took out their own evidence and looked at her with a cold face, "Hello Miss. Jones, last night the Kampwerth family car accident case we found that you are a suspect, so please come with us."

Norah's pupils crinkled and she subconsciously stepped back, "What are you talking about? What does the Kampwerth family car accident have to do with me? I'm not going with you, please go back, or I'm going to call you to file a complaint, don't think you're a police officer is great, hurry up and go, or don't blame me for being rude."

The officer wasn't surprised by Norah's reaction; after all, he'd seen a lot of them.

This is the reaction of almost every suspect who sees them as police officers.

So the officer smiled, "Miss. Jones, the car accident and you have no relationship, not you say, nor I say, but the evidence says, now according to the evidence we have proved that you can not get away with this matter, so please come with us, otherwise it is resisting arrest, the consequences are very serious. "

However, as if Norah had not heard the word resisting arrest, she shouted emotionally, "Get out, you get out, I have not done anything, you have no right to let me pass, hurry up and get out!"

She pointed to the door.

The officer's face sank and he had no more patience, he directly removed the handcuffs from his waist, "Miss. Jones, we have invited you twice, and both times you refused to cooperate, in that case, then don't blame me for being rude, I am here this time with an arrest warrant issued from above, so I have the right to handcuff you, sorry. "

After saying that, the officer moved quickly out, grabbed Norah at once, backhanded her against the wall, and then handcuffed both of her hands.

Norah could not move, especially at the moment she felt the cold handcuffs baking master her, she was completely panicked, completely afraid, kept struggling and screaming, "Let go of me, you let go of me, I did not kill anyone, I did not kill anyone, you have no right to torture me, let go of me ah ah ah ah!"

Her scream was extraordinarily piercing, and the officer's face was painful to hear, and he hastened to free a hand to cover his ears.

Needless to say, Norah's scream was so terrifying that even Mrs. Jones, who had passed out, was awakened and opened her eyes to see Norah being grabbed by a man and hastily grabbed her bag to call the police officer, "Let go of my daughter, what are you, dare to play a rascal here?"

The officer felt the wind behind him and hurriedly let go of Norah and ducked to the side.

Mrs. Jones hit the air and almost fell down.

Good in front of the wall, in time to hold the wall to stabilize the body.

The officer warned Mrs. Jones with an expressionless face, "I am a police officer, Mrs. Jones, do you know that what you just did was an assault. police officer? I could have just placed you under arrest."

Police officers?

Mrs. Jones first stared.

So it's not a rogue. Rascal ah.

Mrs. Jones then saw the handcuffs on Norah's hands and her face changed, "You You are here to arrest Norah?"

The officer straightened his police uniform. Miss Jones is suspected in the car accident case, so we have to take her back to investigate."

After saying that, he was going to grab Norah.

Mrs. Jones rushed to stand in front of Norah, "What are you talking about? My daughter has done nothing like this.

Norah stood behind Mrs. Jones, also teary-eyed and pitiful, no longer the arrogance she had previously shown Mrs. Jones and Mr. Jones.

"Mom, help me, I didn't kill anyone, I didn't kill them, you can't let them take me away."

Mrs. Jones turned back to her and patted her shoulder, her eyes firm, "Don't worry Norah, Mom will protect you and won't let them take you away."

"Hmm." Norah was touched by the thought.

Mrs. Jones then turned her head back to the officers across the room with the same firm look in her eyes, "I will never allow you to take my daughter."

Mrs. Jones, who has been a coward all her life, is now hardened for once for her daughter.

Unfortunately, there is no use for it.

Chapter 1306 Pleasantly Plain

The police want to take away the people, how can it be because they are blocked, they will not take away.

In that case, wouldn't that be a way to hold their police majesty down and stomp on it?

The officer's face was not good, and he looked at Mrs. Jones with a serious expression, "Mrs. Jones, I advise you to get out of the way, your obstruction is obstructing official business, on the rules, we can also take you away together, so Mrs. Jones if you do not want to go with us to the police station to accept the investigation, then please get out of the way, or go with us Go well."

At these words, Mrs. Jones opened her arms and lowered them a bit.

But soon thought of something else, the arm raised again, and the expression returned to firmness, "I do not know what obstruction is, I only know that you want to take away my daughter, and as a mother, I will never allow you to do so."

The officer rubbed his temples, "It seems that it does not make sense, in that case, let's go over together."

After that, the officer stopped reasoning and continued to give Mrs. Jones face, stepped forward and pushed Mrs. Jones out of the way and re-arrested Norah.

Norah yelled and screamed, "Mom, help me, help my mom."

Hearing her daughter's heartbreaking cries for help, Mrs. Jones felt her heart ache so much she couldn't breathe.

After she stabilized herself, she pounced once again, "Let go of my daughter, you bandits, let go of my daughter or I'll fight you."

Mrs. Jones was so unbelievable that the officer became angry and spoke directly to the officer outside and called him in.

The police officer outside naturally heard the movement inside the ward, but he had to watch Mr. Jones, so he did not come in.

Now being called in, he also simply took off his own handcuffs, cuffed Mr. Jones, and took Mr. Jones into the ward with him.

Once inside, the officer holding Norah said, "This Mrs. Jones is obstructing business, let's take them over together."

The police officer who came in nodded, "It's okay, it looks like the couple are aware that their daughter is suspected of murder, and also have a strong attitude to prevent us from taking people away, have been suspected of harboring, according to the rules, they can indeed be taken away together for investigation."

The conversation between the two officers naturally fell on the ears of the Jones family.

Norah first, the Jones family couple, immediately could not accept it, rushed to the two officers yelled: "What are you talking nonsense? Our daughter did not kill, we did not cover up, you are slander, we must report the complaint against you, let you take off this body skin."

Although the couple yelled fiercely, but the two officers were not moved in the least.

They have heard many threats like this.

Every time a suspect is arrested, the suspect and the suspect's family, always have to say something like this to defend against it, in an attempt to get them to back off and give up the arrest.

But which one was successful?

The two officers ignored the family of three, took out their cell phones directly and notified the hospital downstairs police. The driver waiting in the car.

The driver was notified and immediately rushed over.

With that, the three men, forcibly removed from the old Mr. Jones' hospital room by three police officers.

Along the way, the family of three did not want to be taken away, and struggling and abusive, the words are hard to make people's jaws drop, can not believe that such hard words, actually from the mouth of the self-proclaimed rich family.

It is not said that these rich people are all receiving, are elite education?

The opening of the mouth are all kinds of polite words salutation, will not speak dirty words?

But now it seems, where is this will not, this will be more can, some words and phrases, even ordinary people can not say, but in the Jones family mouth, but can come out.

This shows that the Jones family's education is really a criticism.

The Jones family, surrounded by all the patients in the hospital, as well as the doctors and nurses, were taken to the police. They left in a police car.

During this period, naturally, many people also took out their cell phones to take pictures and videos.

The Jones family was taken away by the police. The news of the Jones family being taken away by the police car also immediately hit the Internet hot list.

The netizens were delighted to see this, all posting applause and fireworks and other emojis on the internet to celebrate the Jones family being taken away.

The Jones family was taken away by police. The Farrell Group's statement that Norah did kill the man was undoubtedly confirmed by the car that took them away.

And now that the murderer is taken away, they are naturally happy and joyful.

And these, Amber also saw, red lips slightly hooked up, let go of the mouse to raise his hands, stretched a lazy back.

Norah was taken away this time, it is estimated that in the future will not be able to get out.

Now it's a relief for her.

She doesn't have to be annoyed by one more love interest, and she doesn't have to worry that this love interest will later appear in front of her and Jared on a regular basis, showering Jared with affection and committing nausea by counting on her in a big way.

In short, a demon like Norah deserves to be in jail.

As I was thinking about it, the phone rang.

Amber temporarily put her thoughts to rest and glanced down at the phone on her desk, it was Miss Dawson's mother calling.

Like Kiara said, Miss Dawson's phone was not working, so in order to find out if Miss Dawson had gone abroad for further study or not, she had to contact Miss Dawson's mother.

But when I just called Miss Dawson's mother, the phone did go through, only there was no answer.

I didn't expect the other side to call now.

"Hello Auntie Dawson," Amber picked up her phone with a polite smile on her face, "Allow me to introduce myself, my name is Amber and I was Miss Dawson's previous boss."

"Oh, it's Sheila's boss, ah, I know I know." On the other end of the phone, the woman with a somewhat old voice was puzzled for a moment, then smiled in surprise, "Hello Miss Reed, Sheila told me about you and said you take good care of her, thank you so much."

Amber touched her cheek in embarrassment, "Auntie is too polite, to really say care, Miss Dawson take care of me is more like it, I just took over the company almost nothing, if not Miss Dawson from the side to assist me, I guess two eyes a scratch blind."

"Oh, NO, it's a mutual help." The lady smiled amiably and then asked, "By the way Miss Reed, you called me, what is the matter?"

"That's right, didn't Miss Dawson quit her job with me to go abroad for further studies? Auntie you know about this too, right?"

"I know." Speaking of this, the woman's heart is slow to be relieved, "In fact, Sheila has always wanted to go to further education to improve themselves, but in the past because of some reasons delayed the decision, I as a mother also advised her, she always refused to agree, worried about the inside and want to go, so in the pull of these two feelings, she has never really happy, I as a mother to see in the eyes Now well, she finally made up her mind to go abroad for further study, to fulfill a wish, I as a mother can also finally breathe a sigh of relief."

When she said that, the woman laughed happily.

Amber was silent.

After a while, he asked, "Auntie, do you know the name of the company where Miss Dawson is studying? The thing is, our side missed the statistics at that time, and we can't contact Miss Dawson now, so we specially called to ask you."

The woman did not doubt her words and smilingly gave the name of the company.

Amber pursed her red lips, "Okay, I got it, thanks auntie."

"You're welcome." The woman smiled back, before asking, "Is there anything else Miss Reed would like to know?"

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1307 Go to the factory department

Amber bit her lip and hesitated for a few seconds, "There really is, Auntie, are you sure Miss Dawson, really went abroad for further study?"

The smile on the woman's face on the other end of the phone froze at those words, "Miss Reed, what do you mean by that?"

Amber reluctantly smiled, "This is the case, this morning, my company a secretary went out, saw a look like Miss Dawson, plus Miss Dawson phone has not been able to call, so my secretary was thinking that she saw that is not Miss Dawson, Miss Dawson did not go abroad to study, Miss Dawson at all. Dawson simply did not go abroad for further study, auntie you also know that I and Miss Dawson relationship is still quite good, naturally to find out the specific whereabouts of Miss Dawson, or reassure not?"

"So that's how it is." The woman nodded in relief, her face reared a smile, "Miss Reed don't worry, Sheila she ah is abroad, your current secretary saw, should be with Sheila look alike, nowadays, look alike people are quite a lot, and Sheila is abroad, but also took a photo of themselves and the company together. "

"So, ah, okay auntie, I know, since Miss Dawson is still abroad, then I am relieved, I will not bother auntie, auntie goodbye."

"Bye, come over sometime Miss Reed," the woman invited warmly.

Amber politely responded.

After the call hung up, she put down the phone, crossed her fingers on the table, and the whole person fell into deep thought.

She wondered if Miss Dawson was abroad or not.

She called Miss Dawson's mother without initially asking Miss Dawson if she was abroad, just to test the waters.

To find out whether Miss Dawson's mother knew that Miss Dawson was not studying in a foreign company.

After all, Miss Dawson's mother is just an ordinary person, can not act, under the test will certainly reveal the cracks, even if you can act, acting skills are no better, she can also hear some of the problems to.

But just now she specially tried down and found that Miss Dawson's mother was behaving very naturally and normally, and did not have any faint-hearted panic performance.

In other words, Miss Dawson's mother did not lie, it was Miss Dawson who lied.

Miss Dawson also lied to her mother, telling her mother that she had gone abroad for further study, when in fact, she had not gone abroad at all.

So what exactly is Miss Dawson trying to do?

Why lie to everyone?

Is something wrong, in some kind of danger?

Amber's heart was full of worry.

She then separated her hands, picked up her phone again and contacted the detective agency she had approached in the past with the intention of having them look into Miss Dawson's situation.

Amber's heart fell a little when the office took the order.

Anyway, since Miss Dawson can still walk outside, it should mean that Miss Dawson is still safe for the time being.

Just find her and figure out what happened to her, and maybe that will help her completely.

Amber rubbed her temples.

At that moment, there was a popular knock on the office door.

Amber's thoughts were interrupted and she looked up, it was Kiara who walked in with a pile of documents, "Chairman, these are the employee New Year welfare plans sent up by the following departments, you take a look at them and finally choose which plan."

Hearing her say that, Amber smiled, "Yeah, it's almost New Year's Eve."

"It's still half a month away." Kiara put the file in front of Amber.

Amber reached out and pulled the file over, "Half a month a turn of events, okay, I will expedite the look, notify you before the end of the afternoon, then you let the procurement department side arrangements, try to buy the welfare materials as early as possible and send them before the holidays."

"Okay." Kiara nodded, "By the way Chairman, there is another thing, the machines over at the factory have all been installed and preliminary tests have been conducted, the machines are running well, the factory manager asked when you will have the ribbon cutting for the opening of the factory?"

The so-called opening of the factory ribbon-cutting, in fact, the same as the opening of a new store.

Pick a good day, set up flowers and firecrackers, and conduct an opening ceremony.

If you are more sophisticated, or more belief in God, you can also come to a case table.

In short, everything depends on your choice.

"I haven't booked a time yet, how about this, I'll go to the factory after work this afternoon to take a look, and after confirming that it's correct, I'll give a date for the ribbon cutting tomorrow." Amber thought for a moment back.

Kiara smiled and responded, "Okay, I'll talk to the plant manager later."

"Well." Amber nodded, then thought of something and added, "By the way, about Miss Dawson, I have contacted a detective agency and asked them to investigate Miss Dawson's whereabouts, I will let you know if there is any news."

"Yes." Kiara smiled even more.

She and Miss Dawson are also friends, and naturally she is concerned about Miss Dawson and wants to know what is happening to Miss Dawson.

That's why it's so nice to hear Amber's words.

"Then, Chairman, I'll go and work on something else first."

"Go ahead." Amber nodded.

After Kiara left, she picked up the top book and flipped it open to read.

These are various suggestions for employee benefits for the New Year and are not official business.

So it looks very fast, just choose the most suitable one within these suggestions.

So for these documents, Amber processed them in less than two hours, then chose the ones she felt were good suggestions and integrated them, added some of her own ideas, and had them sent to the purchasing department.

Time flies and it's already afternoon.

Amber stood up, organized her office, and prepared to send a message to Jared, asking him not to pick her up from work later, she was going to check out the factory side and drive herself back to Kelsington Bay later.

As a result, the message was just typed in, and before it was sent out, a man's light cough came from the office door.

Amber subconsciously looked up to see Jared leaning against the door frame, thin lips slightly hooked, is smiling at her.

Amber smiled back, "What brings you here?"

"Picking you up from work." The man walked in.

Amber put her phone down, "I was just about to send you a message not to come."

The man frowned, "Why?"

"The factory side is completely built, I am ready to go over to see, before several times said to go, but several times did not, this time said anything to go to see, so you had to go back first by yourself." Amber said with an apologetic face.

Jared wrapped his arm around her waist and took her into his arms, "I'm here, how can I go back alone, I'll go with you."

"Really?" Amber stood slightly on tiptoe and wrapped her arms around his neck.

The man nodded his head, "Or what? I can't lie to you? Let's go."

After saying that, he let go of her waist and instead took her hand and walked towards the door, "We'll go early and come back early, just to see, we won't stay long right?"

Amber shook her head, "Sure, just look and go."

"That'll do." The two men went out together.

Along the way, he was naturally saluted by the employees again.

At first, Amber was a little embarrassed to face all kinds of stares from the staff, but now she is used to it and can be cheeky enough to face it openly.

But as soon as Amber exited the elevator, she ran into Bernardo again.

Bernardo was standing outside the elevator, presumably to get into the elevator to go upstairs as well.

Seeing Amber and Jared come out of it, first surprised, then thought of something, a trace of excitement appeared in his eyes, but soon disappeared again, so fast that people thought it was an illusion.

"Mr. Farrell, you're here to pick up your niece from work again?" Bernardo glanced faintly at Amber and turned to Jared with a flattering smile.

Amber rolled her eyes.

This man is so hypocritical.

Chapter 1308 The Truth About Martin Schafer's Death

The mouth kissed and asked her niece, but looked at her with disgust, not hypocrisy is what?

She said, really disgusted with her, just call her full name is not better?

That way she could even look up to him.

"Let's go, ignore him." Amber said to Jared as she put her arm around him.

Jared, who had no intention of paying attention to Bernardo, nodded slightly at her words and walked away past Bernardo.

Looking at the backs of the two, Bernardo narrowed his eyes and then laughed out loud with excitement and excitement.

The assistant behind him, seeing Bernardo smiling like this, asked in disbelief, "Mr. Delgado, what good things have happened to you?"

Bernardo spun his watch and returned with some meaning, "It's a good thing, a very, very good thing, and after tonight, my dream is going to come true."

"Huh?" The assistant still looked puzzled.

Bernardo didn't mean to elaborate and walked straight into the elevator.

On the other side, the car.

Amber closed the passenger door and put her head down to fasten her seat belt.

Jared was likewise fastening his seatbelt and waited until she was done before turning the car keys and starting the car, "Sitting down?"

"Okay." Amber nodded.

Jared released the brakes and the car began to move forward.

Amber asked the car window to come down a little bit and suddenly smiled and spoke, "There's a lot happening today."

Jared knew she was referring to the online news and lifted his chin, "It's quite a few."

"How did you know that the mastermind of the Kampwerth family car accident was Norah?" Amber asked, turning her head curiously to look at the man.

The man wrinkled his eyebrows, "I did not know at first, thought to help that driver's forces, but also one of the Kampwerth family's enemies, so also do not intend to get involved, let Ben withdrew the manpower back, just when the withdrawal back, my people saw the driver in advance of the handling of the phone card, found that the person who contacted him is Norah. "

Amber was surprised, "This development, it's really dramatic, I guess it's also because God couldn't look at Norah's behavior anymore, so he let your people find the calling card, in order to expose Norah's evil deeds."

"You're right." The man smiled and echoed her words.

Amber then pursed her red lips again, "Speaking of which, this Norah's heart is really vicious, last night I thought she was already behaving viciously by attempting to plot against me behind my back, but I never thought that she would still be able to plot a car accident so calmly and naturally to harm someone's life."

This woman is comparable to Makenna.

Two people, both are the kind of crazy woman who is generally crazy and can do anything.

"So she's destined to spend the rest of her life in prison, and most likely even on death row." Jared said in a light voice as he turned the wheel.

Amber sighed, "Although the Kampwerth family is not a good person, but after all, there is no grudge with Norah, Norah because they want to stop the Kampwerth family Miss appear in front of you, you can design the Kampwerth family car accident, to say the least, the Kampwerth family met Norah is also unlucky ."

"There's only evil to be done, and now that the Kampwerth family and Norah are getting their comeuppance, we don't have to bother." Jared turned his head and gave her a look.

Amber also happened to be looking at him, "Norah is not coming out, the Jones family because of you, bankruptcy is also a nail in the coffin, I believe it will not take long to hear the Jones family bankruptcy news, the rest of the Jones family, how do you plan to deal with? Especially the old Mr. Jones?"

"the old Mr. Jones had a stroke and is still in a coma in the hospital, still do not know that Norah was taken, the Jones family did not participate in Norah's evil deeds, so they will soon be released, they have hands and feet, the company is bankrupt, and not starve to death, not to mention the Jones family there are others, although all abroad or out of town, but this time the old Mr. Jones Sick, but also let them in an expedited rush to Olkmore, they will take care of these three people, of course, can only take care of the old Mr. Jones plot to kill Professor Booth before the evidence collection." Jared narrowed his eyes and said with an icy expression.

Amber smiled, "That's true, like how's the evidence gathering now?"

Mention this, Jared frowned up, "or so, after so many years, the old Mr. Jones has long since removed all traces of a clean, found only a phoenix, can not constitute decisive evidence, so I have asked Mikel to Olkmore."

Hearing the name, Amber's pupils shrank, "The same Mikel who helped Makenna and hypnotized you?"

The man she met once and still leaves a deep impact on her.

The expressionless man with long white hair and a face as beautiful as can be.

This man not only helped Makenna, but was also Elias' brother.

"It's him." Jared nodded.

Amber was a little confused, "You're not planning to have him hypnotize the old Mr. Jones to get the old Mr. Jones to come forward with the truth, are you?"

Jared does not deny, "In fact, hypnosis is not allowed, because it is easy to destroy the human mental field, so the police, in addition to some of the most vicious people, usually do not take the use of hypnosis to solve the case, like the old Mr. Jones, can not reach the means of hypnosis to make him account for the case, but now I can not care so much, the old Mr. Jones at his age, plus this stroke, I do not know how long he will live, I have to hurry before he is still alive and physically able to act properly to make him explain everything, but now I can not care so much, the old Mr. Jones at his age, plus this stroke, I do not know how long he will live, only then the law will be able to make him explain. The old Mr. Jones this age, plus this stroke, I do not know how long he can still live, I must hurry in he is still alive, and the body can still act normally before he confesses everything, only then, the law will give him a conviction, otherwise when he died, or when he really paralyzed, even if I find evidence, the law will not take him what, then I do not count to my professor revenge. "

"So that's it." Amber nodded her head in a daze, understanding the man's approach.

Very period, naturally, we also need to use some extraordinary means well.

"But there are many hypnotists, Elias will be ah, why do we have to find Mikel, he has helped Makenna before, do you mind?" Amber looked at the man and asked.

Jared lowered his eyes, "Elias is a half-wit in this area, there is no need to look for him, as for Mikel, I do have mixed feelings about Mikel, he and Makenna together to hypnotize me this thing, also does make me very angry, according to normal, he is also the object of my revenge, but who let me now the heart, his brother's. Just by that, I can't take revenge on him, I owe his brother a life."

Now Amber has nothing to say.

Indeed, he owes Martin his life.

Although he didn't do Martin's death, Martin did die because of him, because Martin had a heart that matched his.

So Martin is dead.

Jared wasn't wrong when he said he owed Martin a life.

"Before we did not suspect that Martin's car accident was designed by Makenna? Makenna took a fancy to you and learned by chance that Martin's heart matched yours, so she designed Martin's car accident and gave Martin's heart to you. You have been investigating whether this matter is true, how is the investigation going now?" Amber inquired curiously.

The man's thin lips pursed a straight line, surrounded by a cold air, "It took a few months, has been all investigated clearly, the year's witnesses were also found, the facts are the same as we guessed, Martin's car accident, indeed Makenna design."

Amber took a breath of cold air, "Although I knew the result, but really heard the results confirmed the moment, the heart still can not help but shock, Martin and her dating for three years ah, how she could do it."

She doesn't get it.

Even if Makenna had no feelings for Martin at that time and had fallen in love with Jared, but at least the two had been together.

Since they are together, it proves that they used to have feelings as well.

Is Makenna the devil to do this to someone she once gave her feelings to?

Chapter 1309 The Most Innocent Person

No, Makenna is not even worse than the devil.

The devil is in love with a person, are likely to pay for it yet.

Makenna, on the other hand, is anything but.

"What exactly is the situation, tell me." Amber pulled the man's arm, urging him to hurry up and tell her the details of the investigation.

Jared didn't let her down either, flicking his thin lips and saying, "Makenna started out with Martin because Martin's face was good enough and Martin could make her look good."

"That's true, Mikel looks like that, although I have not seen that Martin, but according to Mikel's looks, but also can guess that Martin's looks and Mikel should not be far from, such a boyfriend to take out, indeed very dignified." Amber nodded and said, "And I suddenly remembered one thing, when I was in college, but I heard someone asking Makenna about the boyfriend who looks like a god, I guess it is Mikel."

The man hummed, "It's him, the two have been dating for three years, Martin has feelings for Makenna, but Makenna is not sure about Martin, it should not be, otherwise how could it be so cruel."

"Point taken."

"The first time I met with Makenna was at a charity party, and by that time my heart condition was so bad that I couldn't stand at all and was only able to sit in a wheelchair, and Makenna came to talk to me then."

"What was said to you?" Amber looked at him with sly eyes.

The man naturally perceived the woman's taste for food, the heart is very happy.

Eating the taste means caring.

"She didn't say anything else, just asked some questions, some questions to confirm my pen name."
Jared returned.

Amber froze, and then face ugly, "I and Makenna a college dormitory, with your letter exchange, but also by Makenna mocked it, said what age, but also with people in pen pals, at that time she obviously despise me and you write letters, but later not, but also very concerned about whether I have written to you, have not received your letter it I didn't understand at first, but later I figured out that she had peeked at our letters, and then somehow knew that the person I was writing to was you, so it was in this party that you said you were going to test you, to confirm whether the person I was writing to was you or not."

"I think so, but at first, I didn't think much of it, I just casually talked to her and dismissed her, and then the second time I met her, it was when my heart was completely dead and I was in the hospital receiving death, a week before my heart replacement surgery, and she came to the hospital and told me that she was Maple Leaf, and said something about what we had said in our letters. I believed it."

Speaking of which, Jared turned to Amber with more than a guilty look in his eyes, "I'm sorry for not recognizing it wasn't you at first, by the time I sensed something was wrong, it was too late and I was hypnotized."

It is true that he did not suspect that Makenna was not Maple Leaf until he underwent the surgery.

Because he is sick like that, every day awake time is very little, which has the energy which has time to notice that something is wrong.

It was not until after the surgery and his body recovered a little that he had the time and energy to talk to Makenna, and only then did he detect some suspicions from the conversation.

Just before he could unravel these doubts, Makenna had Mikel hypnotize him, convincing him that Makenna was Maple Leaf.

Amber shook her head, "It's okay, I did resent you when I didn't know the truth, but now that I know, I can understand, you are also a victim, so you don't have to feel sorry for me."

She gave him a reassuring smile and told him not to think too much about it.

The man is still driving, after seeing her this smile, the heart did settle down a lot, turned his head back to continue driving, "Makenna came to my ward a week before I agreed to meet with you, told me that she is Maple Leaf, perhaps because I think I can see you before I die, is already God's mercy, so I subconsciously ignored I thought my body would be able to hold out for a while, but I didn't know that I would collapse before the time we agreed to meet, otherwise Makenna wouldn't have had the chance to impersonate you. "

"It's been a lot, but we finally got to know each other didn't we?" Amber smiled, "Well, enough about that, you always feel guilty whenever you talk about it, let's get back to Martin, how did Makenna know that Martin's heart matched yours?"

"Makenna came to the hospital to see me, then began to stay in the hospital to take care of me, my treatment plan, the condition of the disease, etc., she has seen, and my blood type and Martin is the same, Makenna this person vain, at that time as the Gardner family millennium, the Gardner family has money, but she is more important to the Farrell Family, completely do not take the Gardner family's money seriously, now that I think about it, I guess it should be Makenna knew from the beginning, she is not the Gardner family's biological daughter, so the future can inherit the Gardner family is also an unknown."

"She's trying to find a way back for herself." Amber snapped.

Jared nodded, "I think so, at that time the Farrell Family and the Farrell Group is not as large as today, but also Olkmore leading, Makenna wants to ensure a lifetime of glory and wealth, plus her greedy nature, so after learning that the person you communicate with is me, they came up with a way to replace you to be with me, otherwise she had no chance to get close to me, in order to become Mrs. Fu, she could only find a way to keep my life, it just so happened that Martin's blood type and I also have, she then played the idea of trying, cheating things to the hospital for a medical examination."

"And then the results showed that Martin's heart, just so happens to be a match for you." Amber sighed.

In the end, Martin suffered an untimely death, indirectly killed by Jared.

Jared was seen by Makenna, who also happened to have a heart condition and needed a heart.

And Martin, who was Makenna's boyfriend at the time, had a heart that happened to match Jared's, so Martin was killed by Makenna.

"Martin became my scapegoat, the person who should have died at that time was me and not him, he was the one who treated me and passed away, so I owed Martin a life, Martin died, my debt to him could not be repaid, so I could only make up for my debt to Martin on Mikel, so what Mikel did to me, I will not retaliate, this time Let Mikel come, besides wanting Mikel's help, I also want to tell him the results of Martin's investigation and give him an explanation."

"It's ironic to say that Martin should not know until his death that his car accident was an elaborate design by his own girlfriend, and thought his car accident was an accident, right? Unbeknownst to him, his car accident was planned from the time he received his medical checkup, and was he still touched by the fact that his girlfriend cared about him during the checkup?" Amber's face showed a touch of emotion, heartfelt pain for that boy.

Inside these things, only this boy, the most innocent, the most innocent.

"Mikel told me that Martin wasn't dead when he was taken to the hospital, that he had learned that Makenna didn't love him anymore, but had thoughts about me, and also knew that I needed the heart and that it just happened to be a match for him, and asked Makenna to give it to me, and that at that time Makenna lied and deceived him, and Makenna told him that I loved her too, that's why Martin gave me his heart so willingly, because he thought I could give Makenna happiness." Makenna thin lips slightly pursed, the tone of voice a little heavy said.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1310 The factory is on fire

Amber gave a breath of cold air, "What do you mean? You don't mean to say that Martin most likely knows that his car accident was not an accident, but Makenna"

Jared pursed his lips, that's what he meant.

"After all, it's too much of a coincidence for anyone with a bit of brains to think that something is wrong, it's just that Martin is too kind and loves Makenna too much to willingly accept the outcome." Jared gripped the steering wheel tightly.

Amber's mouth opened for a long time before she found her voice, "What a fool, it's also ridiculous and sad that Makenna could get such a person."

"Mikel doesn't know that Martin most likely knows the crash wasn't an accident, and he's helping Makenna because Makenna lied to him, but none of that matters and doesn't stop Mikel from getting his revenge." The man looked at the plant in front of him and found a spot to put the car upright.

Amber unbuckled her seat belt, "But we haven't found Makenna yet, so how can we talk about revenge."

"It will be found." The man reassured her, "Now that I have collected the evidence of Makenna's murder of Martin, and I have found the human and material evidence of that year, when Makenna appears, it will be her retribution, well, get off, here we are."

"Hmm." Amber squeezed the corners of her mouth and opened the car door to get down.

After two or three months, this place has been a new look, the original open space, has been built a few thousand square meters of large plants, look extra spectacular.

Because it has not yet officially opened, the plant side only during the day someone to guard, now it is already time to close, the people who guard the plant naturally also went back from work.

In addition, Amber only came to see, not patrol, so there is no need for someone to accompany to help explain anything, so when Amber came, also refused Kiara's suggestion to let the guards of the plant late off work, accompanied by her to check.

"It's not bad." Amber closed the car door and looked up at the magnificent plant in front of her with a satisfied look of admiration.

Jared came over and smiled a little, "The state construction crew built it, so naturally it's nice."

"My plant is all built, so I guess the museum side next door is done too?" Amber glanced in the direction of the museum.

But the distance is a bit far and you can't see it at all.

But that didn't stop the man from telling her, "Don't you know yet? The museum was completed and opened a long time ago, about a month ago, and has already held an external exhibition."

"Yeah." Amber was slightly surprised, "I didn't really know that, I hadn't heard about it."

"I have not heard it may not matter, after all, is not very important, go, go in and see, see the early back, a while should be hungry." The man took her hand and walked towards the factory gate.

"Got a key?"

"Nonsense, you can come here without a key."

The man laughed low, "It's my fault."

The two arrived at the front door and Amber took out the key to the electric gate hmmm.

Soon, the plant doors slowly opened to both sides.

Amber couldn't help but exclaim, "Still quite high-tech well look."

"It's just a normal electric gate." The man took a look and didn't feel surprised, he'd seen a lot.

Amber gave the man a blank look and thought the man was in Versailles.

He's seen a lot, but she's not.

Forget about it, lazy to say, what if the man pops up again in a while Versailles words, speechless or themselves.

Amber let go of Jared's hand and wandered between the large rectangular machines and some of the assembly line tracks, looking at these brand new machines, Amber's heart surged with a sense of satisfaction she had never felt before.

These, but all of them are her own efforts to get ah.

In the past, she could not believe that she had this ability.

"How's that, my plant isn't too bad, is it?" Amber took two steps forward, then turned around and opened her arms, smiling brightly at the man.

The man was so happy to see her, his eyebrows were full of gentle doting, "Not bad."

"Although my factory is not as large as any of the Farrell Group's, I believe that one day it will slowly grow."

"I believe that too." Jared walked over and took her in his arms.

Amber also gathered her arms and put the man's waist around her, leaning reassuringly into his arms and enjoying his warm embrace.

But after hugging for a while, Amber suddenly smelled a gasoline smell and her good-looking eyebrows knitted up.

"What's going on? Why does it smell like gasoline?" She hurriedly got out of the man's arms and probed left and right, looking for where the smell was actually coming from.

Jared smelled it too, and his eyes narrowed.

Amber came up to the nearest large machine and her tiny nose arched, "Strange, it's not like this thing is leaking oil either."

The man was laughing at her laugh all of a sudden broke the defense, "This on is motor oil, not gasoline."

"....." Amber was embarrassed for a moment, and soon the little face was right again, "Since it's motor oil, how can there be a smell of gasoline here?"

"The smell is coming from over there." Jared suddenly pointed in a direction, the very direction of the barn door.

"Go over there and check it out." Amber said, and headed that way.

Jared was going to follow suit, but then sensed something and headed in the opposite direction.

Amber still does not know that the man did not follow, while walking: "Really be you said, the smell is getting heavier What is that?"

Amber's feet, looking at the flashing red light outside the ventilation window at the top of the warehouse door, the whole face changed dramatically.

That's fire!

Someone set the fire!

Amber's pupils suddenly contracted and her face went white.

How can someone set a fire?

Yes, it is setting fires.

She didn't think the fire was an accidental walk-off, after all, they didn't see a fire anywhere when they came in.

And the strong smell of gasoline can only mean that the fire was set by someone.

Someone wanted to burn down her plant or try to kill her and Jared.

Who is it?

The faces of many people flashed through Amber's mind, but none of them were sure who it was.

And most importantly, now is not the time to think about this, now the most important thing is to find a way to hurry out of here.

Although the fire is still outside the plant has not yet burned in, but burned in is a matter of time, they must hurry to get out, or stay long enough not to be burned to death by fire, but also to be choked to death.

"Jared" Amber turned around ready to call out to the man, only to see that there was no one behind her.

Jared is not available.

Where did it go?

Amber first panicked, then got anxious and shouted while taking out the remote key of the gate from her bag and pressed it against the gate, trying to open it.

However, I don't know how, the remote key no matter how to press, the door is not moving, not the slightest intention to open.

This time, Amber was completely panicked and hurriedly lowered her head to check the key in her hand, "What's wrong? Is it broken?"

However, the flashing green light on the key was telling her that the key was not broken and that the problem was with the gate, the lock of which had been broken.

When they came in, the door opened normally and closed normally, however, now that the fire is burning, the key will not open the door, which can only mean that the man set the fire and destroyed the door at the same time.

This time, Amber is anxious to cry, the door can not open, which means they can not get out ah.

But there is hope, the door to go out is not just this one, there is a back door with the side door, there are even windows, and there are many windows, she did not believe it, all the doors and windows are locked.

But before that, it's time to find Jared, and I wonder where he went!

"Jared?" Amber shouted again with an anxious look on her face as she clenched her palms.
