

LLPD Chapter 1321

Chapter 1321 - Found the heart

She was desperate to know what Jared's current situation was.

For example, why did you vomit blood at that time and why are you now in the ICU and what exactly is wrong with you?

She definitely didn't think Jared would vomit blood just from simply absorbing the chemicals inside the fumes.

There must be another reason!

Looking at Amber's eyes, which were full of questions, Ben's mouth opened, not knowing how to answer her.

After all, Mr. Farrell could have said that he couldn't tell her the truth.

"Ben!" Seeing Ben's silence, Amber got anxious.

That's when Elias came over and pushed Ben aside, "Okay, it's better if I say it, this guy has his boss's orders, he won't tell you easily, so I'll tell you what you want to know."

"Dr. Lansdale!" said Ben, anxiously.

Elias looked at him lightly, "You think Jared's current situation can still be concealed? If Amber had not been with Jared, Jared would have been able to conceal the situation, and Amber would not have been suspicious if he had said he had gone abroad on business and would not be back for a short time, but you forget that Amber was with Jared when he fell, and she saw him fall with her own eyes. Even if you find another reason, she won't go for proof? She will definitely stay in the hospital for the next period of time to take care of Jared, wouldn't she see the various tests we did on Jared and suspect something?"

"....." Ben's mouth dropped open and no words came out.

Yes, how can it be hidden.

Amber's heart contracted tighter as she heard the two men talking and her hands clutched the collar of the hospital gown she was wearing, "What the hell is going on, tell me, Elias, tell me, what the hell are you talking about?"

Elias saw an emotional Amber, walked over and gently pressed a spot on the back of her neck.

There is an acupoint there that, when pressed, will gradually relax one's emotions and spirit, thus becoming calm and not having anything happen because of elevated emotions all at once.

"Jared has a heart condition." Elias said.

Amber bit her lip, "I know, it's natural, the Zachary family ancestors also have, so he this is considered genetic, you suddenly say this why? Could it be that Jared suddenly vomiting blood in the fire has something to do with his heart condition?"

Elias gave a sound, "Jared had a heart replacement surgery seven years ago, so he can live until now, originally, if there is no accident, the heart replaced seven years ago, enough to live a healthy life, but a few months ago his heart suffered a serious injury, resulting in a broken heart, must be replaced within two years a healthy and intact heart, otherwise What awaits him is still death."

"What?" Amber's brain boomed, her entire face went white and her voice trembled, "You said Jared's heart is now"

"Nice." Elias nodded.

"How is this possible!" Amber's body trembled along with her, stating that she could not accept this fact at all.

This fact was too harsh for her.

"That's the truth." Elias returned: "Originally, in his current condition, as long as he was not subjected to various stimuli from the outside world, he was still able to last two years until a new heart was found, but the fire last night, so that he inhaled a lot of smoke, as well as smoke inside a variety of bad chemicals, resulting in his heart was strongly stimulated, can no longer withstand the load, so that he vomited blood. It is also fortunate that Ben went in time to rescue you, and also let Jared seek medical attention in time, otherwise he would have been a corpse by now."

Amber's body shook and finally couldn't sit still and collapsed directly onto the hospital bed.

This startled those present.

"Miss Reed," Ben said, rushing forward to help.

Kiara is also.

But eventually both were shooed away by Elias, "You're not doctors, so go up there and get out of the way."

He impatiently shooed away the two, went up to check Amber's condition, and finally breathed a sigh of relief, "Nothing serious, it's just that this vainly learned of this matter, was a strong shock and shock, resulting in a rise in blood pressure, slow down a bit on it's fine."

After saying that, the ward fell into silence all of a sudden.

A few minutes later, Amber's mouth opened and her voice was hoarse and pathos, "God is so unfair"

She said.

Jared was given a dysfunctional heart since he was born, and it was so hard to give him a healthy heart, so why take it back now!

God is not fair.

Amber had tears in her eyes.

Even though Kiara had previously told her that her current condition was not suitable for tears and would only cause damage to her eyes.

But she couldn't care less about that.

She was so sad that she could not control not to shed tears.

Elias understood the meaning of Amber's words, lightly answered, "There is nothing unfair, although Jared has never had a healthy heart, but do not forget that he was born in the Farrell Family, since childhood stood at the top of the pyramid, he enjoyed the ninety-nine percent of the world's people did not enjoy the glory, wealth, power position So an unhealthy heart for him, is not what unfair to say, if he was not born in the Farrell Family, he would have died, but he was born in the Farrell Family, from childhood to receive a variety of physical conditioning, so he can live so big, while ordinary people with heart disease but not, so ah, he is more than ninety-nine percent of the world's people to be lucky. "

Having said that, people are selfish.

The others aren't Amber's who, so she doesn't care.

All she cares about is Jared.

For her, Jared is like this, it's God's injustice.

Seeing what Amber is thinking, Elias pushed his glasses, "You also do not keep drilling the bull, Jared has money, so he has long spent a lot of manpower and resources to find him a new heart, and a new heart, also found a few months ago."

"What do you mean?" Hearing that the heart had been found, Amber was greatly surprised, "Is this true? Is it true that the heart was found?"

"Yes Miss Reed, we searched the world for a suitable heart the first time after Mr. Farrell's heart went out and it didn't take long to find it."

Although there are very few hearts that can be matched with Mr. Farrell.

But don't forget, in this world, the most, the most is not lacking in people ah.

There is always that small percentage of people whose hearts can be worthy.

With enough money, you can always find it.

Hearing Ben's words, Amber smiled, "Great, great."

But then she suddenly realized something, her eyebrows furrowed, "No, since the heart was found long ago, why not just operate? You have to put it off until now?"

She said she didn't understand.

Ben explained this, "Here's the thing, the heart that was found, it wasn't a mere organ, but the owner of the heart hadn't died yet."

Amber's body was instantly cold, "Not dead yet? Then What about Jared? Then won't he be able to wait?"

Jared is all in ICU now and she can understand what Elias is saying.

Although Elias did not directly say how long Jared still has time, but the already broken heart after the second damage can be how serious, do not know the medical layman know, certainly not last long.

Why else would you be in ICU?

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1322 - Really can't pay back

Ben understood Amber's meaning, she was thinking that the owner of the heart was still alive now and did not know how long he would live yet.

And Mr. Farrell is now dying, so she feels sure that Mr. Farrell will not last until the owner of the heart dies.

"Miss Reed don't worry, the master of the heart was already sick at the beginning, has been hospitalized, and the treatment is impossible to cure, only a few months of life, now a few months have passed, yesterday I called and asked over there, said that the master of the heart is only these two days, when the master of the heart died, there will immediately ship the heart back home, Mr. Farrell can Mr. Farrell can immediately perform the surgery." Ben said.

Elias looked over at him, his glasses reflecting back.

Ben also looked at him, "So please Dr. Lansdale to prepare the operating room early, these days also take a good rest and rest, when Mr. Farrell's surgery, but also trouble you."

Elias laughed, "Got it, see you took my advice last night then."

Ben lowered his head and didn't say anything else.

Amber doesn't know the eyebrow-raising lawsuit between these two, nor does she know what Elias meant in that statement.

All she knew was that Jared was saved.

That's great news.

"That's good." Amber smiled as she clenched her hand, "Is the surgery in a few days?"

"It's only if Jared is physically fit for the surgery, and the specifics will require a physical exam." Elias pushed his glasses back.

Amber hastily nodded her head, "It can definitely be reached, he often works out, except for the heart, the physical fitness is very good."

"That shouldn't be a problem." Elias returned.

After knowing that Jared, though in a terrible condition, had found a heart and would soon be operated on as well, Amber's heart finally grieved a lot better.

But the mood was still low.

Even if Jared is saved, but now Jared himself is still lying in the ICU, he is not intact in front of her one day, she can not really put her heart down one day.

What's more, this time Jared will be like this, is also caused by her, by her connected.

"I'm sorry Ben," Amber suddenly apologized.

Ben looked at her, "Miss Reed, why are you apologizing?"

He was a little confused.

Amber took a breath, then slowly said: "Because your boss almost died this time, was killed by me, Kiara has told me, the person who set the fire is Bernardo, he has a grudge against me, dissatisfied with my acceptance of Goldstone Co. stole his rights, so the heart has always hated me, hate for a long time is easy to make these crazy behavior So it's not unusual for him to kill me, but Jared has no grudge against him, so Jared was dragged into this by me, and if I hadn't taken Jared over to the plant, Jared wouldn't have been like this."

Ben looked at her steadily for a while, and finally sighed, "Miss Reed, don't be like this, it's not your fault, Mr. Farrell is not dragged by you, Mr. Farrell will go to the plant, is his own will, not you forced him to go, after all, we all know, Mr. Farrell how much he loves you, how much After all, we all know how much Mr. Farrell loves you, how much he cares about you, he is not likely to let you go alone, so you do not blame yourself, I believe Mr. Farrell here, also will not blame you."

Mr. Farrell is not to blame, he is a subordinate, how to blame it.

"I know, but I can't live with myself." Amber smiled bitterly.

Ben was silent for a while before he said, "If Miss Reed is overwhelmed, then you should hurry up and get well, next Mr. Farrell must have a recovery period of half a year, this time, all need you to take care of it, you use this to make up for Mr. Farrell it."

In this case, Miss Reed should feel better in her heart.

"I know, I will without you telling me to." Amber nodded.

Jared had been victimized by her, so of course she couldn't just leave it alone.

"By the way, I haven't asked, what happened to Jared's first broken heart? And why are you hiding it from me? Elias just said it happened a few months ago, what the hell is going on?" Amber looked in Ben's direction.

Although she couldn't see, she knew that he was over there.

Ben's mouth twitched, "This"

"Just say it, anyway, Jared has already told her about his heart, there is no need to hide the rest, you hide it now, when she finds out later, it will only be more unacceptable." Elias reminded indifferently.

Amber's fists clenched.

What does it mean?

From what they said, it seems to be related to her again?

"Miss Reed, you remember that time you and Mr. Farrell fell off the cliff." Ben finally talked himself out of it and decided to tell Amber.

As for whether Mr. Farrell will blame him when he wakes up, he doesn't care anymore.

Anyway, he felt from the beginning that he should tell Miss Reed about this, and he should let Miss Reed know what Mr. Farrell had done for her.

Keeping Miss Reed in the dark is not only unfair to Miss Reed, but also to Mr. Farrell himself.

He doesn't know if the two can grow old together, but of course it's best to grow old together, so Miss Reed will only care more about Mr. Farrell in the future after knowing this.

If not, at least Miss Reed won't feel like Mr. Farrell hasn't been there for her.

"I remember." Amber nodded.

This kind of thrilling thing, she can never forget in her life.

But Ben is bringing this up now, is

Amber's body tensed up, "Could it be that he was the one whose heart was caused by the last cliff fall thing?"

"Yes." Ben confirmed her suspicions, "The last time we fell off the cliff, it caused Mr. Farrell to break his heart, but at that time Mr. Farrell asked all of us not to say anything, especially to you and the old lady, that's why we kept it from you."

"So that's it, so that's it" Amber smiled to herself, "I always felt as if he had some secret that he had been hiding from me, it turned out to be this, how could he hide it from me? The first thing you need to do is to get a good idea of what you're doing. I'm the one who put him in this situation. It's me, from beginning to end, whether it's that time or this time, it's all me!"

She pounded her aching heart and blamed herself with unbearable guilt.

Ben saw her like this, and quickly advised: "Miss Reed you do not, Mr. Farrell is because you know you, know you will blame yourself, so you hide, although Mr. Farrell was to save you to jump, but whether that time, or this time, are Mr. Farrell voluntary, you did not ask him to do so, so Miss Reed you even if the fault is only half, not all. You did not ask him to do so, so Miss Reed even if you have a fault, but only half, not all, of course, Mr. Farrell concealed from you, in addition to is not like you put all the blame on their own fault, unlike your guilt and self-blame, there is the most important one reason."

"What is it?" Amber's voice was hoarse more just waking up was the same again.

The only difference is that the emotions inside are much more complex, with all sorts of sadness, grief, self-blame, etc. intertwined.

"At that time, you and Mr. Farrell has not been compounded, if you know Mr. Farrell in order to save you into this, with your character, it is likely that in order to return the favor with him compound, Mr.

Farrell does not want that, he wants is that you willingly compound with him, not to atone for his sins in order to make amends with him together. " Ben said.

When that came out, not to mention Amber, even Kiara covered her mouth in surprise, "Mr. Farrell he really makes people feel good about it."

Amber's red lips twitched slightly.

Yes, the real Jared, has always been a good man, a good man who would think about others.

But the real him, unfortunately, was hidden by Makenna for six years.

And she, too, was confronted with the six years of false Jared.

"What I owe him, I really can't pay it back in this life" Amber sat on the hospital bed, her figure hunched over, and muttered this softly from her mouth.

Jared has given so much to her, more than she can really count.

And really can't pay back!

Chapter 1323 - False alarm

"Miss Reed," Ben called out to her at that moment.

Amber looked up and 'looked over'.

Ben said, "If you really think you can't pay back in this life, how about you stay with Mr. Farrell for the rest of your life and spend the next few decades of your life paying him back?"

Amber knew that he was saying that to give himself a leg up, so that he wouldn't be so stressed out.

She took a breath and settled down, "Even without you saying it, I will."

Earlier she said that if in the future she and Jared had no more feelings for each other or if Jared betrayed her, she would leave him.

But now that he's done it for her, she just can't hold on to this idea of hers.

Of course, if one day, Jared really betrayed her, she will not leave, she will just also take back her feelings, no longer love him, just good to be his Mrs. Fu, not his wife.

After all, she wants to repay him for all he has done for her.

Hearing Amber's words, Ben smiled and nodded, "That'll do, so don't feel too bad about not being able to pay it back, Miss, you've paid it back with your whole life, it's enough, and I believe Mr. Farrell will accept it too."

Hey, he really worked hard for Mr. Farrell's happiness.

"Okay, let's not talk about this, you should know all that already know, anyway, that guy can not die, after a year and a half is a good man again, now let's talk about your eyes." Elias then opened his mouth and cut off the words of the two.

Amber touched the gauze on her eyes and inexplicably had a bad feeling in her heart, "What's wrong with my eyes?"

"This Dr. Lansdale, you"

Kiara panicked.

She just lied and told the chairman that her eyes were nothing.

Now this doctor is about to open his mouth and mention the chairman's eyes.

Then won't the chairman know that his eyes are more serious than he thought?

What if the chairman receives this blow by then?

Apparently, Kiara was underestimating Amber's mental capacity.

Elias' words, coupled with her reaction, allowed Amber to determine that something must be wrong with her eyes, not as Kiara had said earlier.

She was a little lost in her heart, but more than that, she was open.

She was able to openly accept any condition of her eyes, even if she was blind.

So Amber smiled in the direction of where Kiara was, "Don't worry, Jared's heart problem, I've persevered, and if I have a bigger problem with my eyes, how can it still be bigger than a heart? So Dr. Lansdale, you name it, I'm fine."

The eyes are just a general important organ, people without eyes, and not unable to live.

But not without the heart.

So more than her heart, she was really able to accept her eyes openly in all kinds of situations.

Hearing Amber say that, Kiara was relieved to stop stopping Elias and bowed apologetically to Elias, "Sorry doctor, I was too impulsive just now, now you go on."

Elias gave her a cold look and didn't pay any attention to her.

She should be glad that she is Amber's person, otherwise with the rudeness she just showed him, he would have plenty of ways to clean her up.

I don't know why, Kiara suddenly felt a chill from the soles of her feet straight up, running to the top of her head, cold she couldn't help but shiver.

"Your eyes are smoked by the smoke is very serious, the retina appeared not light damage, after removing the gauze, the situation is a little lighter, may be blurred vision, need to wear professional customized eye correction, to be able to see things clearly, even if you can see, the clarity is not as high as normal vision."

Amber nodded calmly, "I know, as long as you wear glasses you can see it, then it's okay, it's not blind."

"Although it is not blind, but the probability of blindness over time is high." Elias said.

The smile on Amber's lips paused for a moment.

Ben and Kiara also looked grave.

But soon, the smile on Amber's lips returned, "It's okay, compared to Jared's condition, being blind is no big deal."

"It can be surgically recovered." At this point, Elias suddenly spoke up.

"....." The corners of Amber's mouth twitched, "You can surgically restore your eyesight even if you're blind?"

Elias nodded noncommittally, "Of course you need a new cornea to do that."

"So, it's not permanent blindness, and it's not untreatable permanent blindness, right?" Amber skinned up and smiled.

Elias snapped his fingers, "That's what it means."

"Heh!" She laughed under her breath.

If so, then why doesn't this guy finish at once and have to speak with a big tongue? Scared the hell out of people.

Not to mention Amber, Ben and Kiara want to hit Elias.

This guy, when did he get such a bad taste in his mouth?

Isn't he an emotional deficit patient?

It doesn't look like it now.

"Dr. Lansdale," Ben suddenly spoke.

Elias looked toward him.

Ben hesitated for a few seconds and still said what he wanted to say, "I find that you are becoming more and more like a normal person now."

The implication is that the emotions that ordinary people possess, he also began to gradually possess.

Elias is not a fool, on the contrary, he is very smart, even if the words Ben said very cryptic, he also heard the meaning of it.

Elias was stunned.

He Is it getting to be like a regular person?

Elias lowered his eyes, "I have things to do, I'll leave first, feel free to call me if anything happens."

He had to go back to the office and he had to think back on whether he was really becoming more and more like a normal person.

Elias leaves in a hurry, and Ben and Amber both know why.

Kiara does not know, but originally do not know, do not know and do not care, and do not ask.

"Miss Reed don't worry, in fact about your eye problem, the nurse told me yesterday, I've asked someone to keep an eye out for corneas at the organ bank, unlike human internal organs which are hard to find, there will be good news soon."

Amber hummed, "I know, please."

"It's nothing, Mr. Farrell will let me do the same when he wakes up, so I might as well do it early, maybe I'll get an extra bonus when Mr. Farrell wakes up." Ben pushed his glasses and said with a smile.

He said that last sentence on purpose, in order to want the atmosphere will be relaxed.

Don't look so depressing.

Amber also knew and did not live up to the meaning of his heart laughed and did not say anything.

It was not until the caregiver came in with the meal that the sound of talking resumed in the ward.

"Miss Reed, then you dine while I head back to the Farrell Group, where I'm still needed, and I'll come back to see you and Mr. Farrell later." Ben lifted his wrist to look at his watch and saw that it was getting late.

Amber nodded, "Okay, you go ahead, Jared's side, I'll"

"Miss Reed wants to see Mr. Farrell, wait for two days, you can't see now, Mr. Farrell can't go in, wait until the heart arrives in two days, Mr. Farrell has surgery, you can wait for him outside the operating room, until Mr. Farrell surgery is over, you can let people visit close, you stay with Mr. Farrell. Farrell." Ben said.

Amber nodded and agreed, "Okay, you're right, I'm just blind now, not to mention taking care of him, I can't even take care of myself, being able to go in and visit is just adding to the mess, in case it brings him worse, it's not good."

"It's good that Miss Reed thinks so, so I'll leave you to it." Ben bowed slightly towards her and turned to leave.

Chapter 1324 Making a statement

The brunch that the nurses bought for Amber was a very light kind, so light that there was no taste other than a faint saltiness.

There's no way, in her current situation, she can only eat these and nothing else.

Amber did not have any complaints, she knew very well that all she had to do now was to obediently follow the medical advice and take good care of her body.

The only way to get to Jared's side and take care of him sooner is to recover sooner.

She needs him!

Yes, it was she who needed Jared, not now Jared who needs her.

Jared is in these situations now, and she brought them to him.

She could never forgive herself if she didn't see him get better with her own eyes.

So she needs him.

"Oops, I forgot to ask Ben how Bernardo got caught." Halfway through her meal, Amber snapped her thighs and suddenly remembered the matter.

But now Ben is gone.

Kiara saw Amber like this, some funny, "chairman first take it easy, Ben will come over later, when you ask him, and Bernardo was caught not long ago, the police are still interrogating how he actually committed the crime, what is the motive, then let Ben tell you together, also save you ask twice. "

"You're right." Amber nodded, thinking it made sense, then left it alone and continued eating.

Bernardo is caught anyway, can't run, she can know Bernardo's situation at any time.

As it turns out, she guessed right.

She had just finished eating when someone from the police side came, a police captain from last night.

Because I heard Ben say she was awake, so I came over specifically to make a statement.

After all, Amber is the victim, and naturally the police side needs to question her about something.

"Hello Miss Reed." The captain sat down at Amber's hospital bedside and began to greet her.

Amber nodded slightly in his direction, "Greetings."

"How is Miss Reed's health now?" The captain first cared about Amber's physical condition.

Amber smiled and said back, "Other than the lungs still being a little uncomfortable, there's nothing serious, except that my eyes can't look at people yet."

"Miss Reed recuperate well." The captain said.

Amber hummed, "I will, you're here this time, for Bernardo?"

"Yes." The captain opened the notebook he carried with him and also had his pen open, ready to take notes, "Miss Reed, I was wondering, is there any animosity between you and Bernardo?"

Amber shook her head and nodded again, "There is no deep hatred, but there is a grudge, which he unilaterally held against me."

"Oh?"

"Bernardo is from my father's generation, Goldstone Co. was established by my father, of course, at the beginning of the establishment, there are also partners with my father, among them is Bernardo, Bernardo can be said to be the old man of Goldstone Co. However, when Goldstone Co. was founded, he did not invest in the capital, and he was not good at management, nor did he understand the technology, so my father gave him some shares, but not much, because he did not have the credit but also the hard work. My father never did anything to him because he was a partner who came together."

"And then what?" The captain asked again.

"Bernardo always wanted to get more shares of Goldstone Co. and the management right of Goldstone Co. but when my father was alive, he never succeeded. Although he was not very capable, he kept Goldstone Co. alive for more than six years, for which I was grateful to him.

Speaking of which, Amber took a deep breath, "So much so that now I regret that if I had gotten rid of him earlier and gotten him out of Olkmore, maybe Jared and I wouldn't have gone through what we did last night."

The captain coughed.

Is it really okay for you to say to my face that you're kicking people out of Olkmore?

Despite this, not enough captain finally did not open his mouth to say anything, after all, the person in front of him just last night experienced that kind of thing, to say these words, venting a little anger is not much.

But after that, Amber herself reacted that something was wrong and smiled embarrassedly, "Sorry, something was out of place."

"It's nothing, Miss Reed just pay attention next time."

"Good." Amber agreed, and continued: "In these six years, Goldstone Co. is Bernardo's monopoly, although a large number of shareholders, but Goldstone Co. this way, they are not interested in participating in Goldstone Co. management, so in these six years, Bernardo not to mention how to live in style It is probably because of this that he is more and more concerned about the power and the management of Goldstone Co. and he is holding on to it very tightly.

By absolute holding, it means that a person holds more than fifty percent of the shares.

"But although Bernardo did not acquire the shares that were sold by my father back then, my grandfather and one of my brothers, as well as Cole, the president of Lyon Corporation, were secretly helping me to acquire them until six months ago, when I relied on these absolute shares to get into Goldstone Co."

The captain nodded his head.

This they knew, and they had investigated before they came.

"After I came to Goldstone Co., Bernardo happened to go on a business trip and was not in China, otherwise I would not have returned to Goldstone Co. so smoothly. I was even thinking that Bernardo was struggling to hold on to Goldstone Co. for the past few years, and it wasn't good for me to be the chairman of the board directly on his head when I came back, because after all, he was the eldest and had contributed to Goldstone Co.'s survival, so I chose to be a vice president and give him face, and when he came back, I would talk to him about being the chairman."

"Bernardo doesn't agree?" The captain asked.

Amber shook her head, "Yes, he came back and showed me great malice, and even asked me to hand over the management, I naturally refused, but at that time many people in Goldstone Co. were Bernardo's people, I could not fight with them hard, so I only handed over half of the management, and at the same time no longer discuss with Bernardo. Bernardo is therefore completely dissatisfied with me, and the grudge between us is also completely stimulated, especially after several times we two game, he lost, so he hates me more, so I guess he can no longer tolerate me, decided to attack me."

The captain spoke these notes and then closed his notebook, "I see."

"Jared doesn't have a grudge against him, he got dragged into it because of me." Amber looked in the captain's direction to emphasize, "Of course, if I had to say, Jared helped me when I was fighting with Bernardo for power, and I think Bernardo should have a grudge against Jared."

That's exactly what Bernardo said.

The captain stood up, "Okay Miss Reed, thanks for your cooperation, I'll leave you to rest, I'll go back to the police station over there to give an account of these statements."

"Wait." Amber spoke up and called out to him.

Chapter 1325 Hayden is back

The captain paused, "Is there anything else for Miss Reed?"

"I want to know where Bernardo is now." Amber asked.

Since the captain is here, it is good to ask the captain directly.

The captain did not mean not to say, after all, Amber, as the victim, is entitled to know the current situation of the suspect.

"He's in our holding cell for now, and we just took a preliminary statement on him." The captain returned.

Amber asked again, "So did you guys ask Bernardo how exactly he planned yesterday's fire?"

"This is natural." The captain sat down again, "According to Bernardo's own account, he has always wanted the management of Goldstone Co. but every time he failed, the failure made him become agitated, and he himself could not accept such a thing, so after tangling again and again, he absolutely sold out to Miss Reed you, the reason for this shot, and Miss Reed You just said those are able to be right."

"This way." Amber nodded.

The captain continued, "Bernardo decided to make a move on Miss Reed about a month ago, he personally thought that as long as you died, he could regain the management of Goldstone Co. and even after some manipulation, he was able to inherit the shares in your hands without any problems."

Amber is going to throw up.

Want the management right is not enough, but also want her shares, so what is the big face?

Seriously, the captain also found it funny and unbelievable to hear Bernardo's remark at that time.

Amber is not related to Bernardo, no matter how he operates to get the shares in Amber's hands, it will make the outside world suspicious.

After all, wouldn't a person inheriting shares from an enemy make people think more?

"According to Bernardo's own account, he has set up a lot of schemes to make you die unexpectedly over the past month, but since you are almost always at three o'clock every day, so these antipathy of his basically did not come in handy until yesterday, he learned from one of your factory director's subordinates that you were going to check the factory at night, so he thought he had an opportunity, he spent a lot of money in advance He spent a sum of money, bribed a dozen gangsters, let them prepare dozens of barrels of gasoline, first rushed to the plant side, ambush over there, wait for you and Mr. Farrell arrived, then come out and pour gasoline to ignite. "

"So that's it." Amber clenched her hand.

"As for Mr. Farrell, Bernardo said he met you when you and Mr. Farrell left Goldstone Co. yesterday afternoon, and he knew that Mr. Farrell would also go with you. So he decided to kill you all together."

"What a heartless maniac." Amber gritted her teeth, her small face full of anger, "Did he think that even if he killed us, he could get away? He's got a lot of holes in this move, otherwise he wouldn't have been caught by you guys so quickly."

"Miss Reed said that the plan, Bernardo decided on the fly, without careful planning, so there are clues everywhere, plus he probably thought you were dead, so some complacency, actually drove his own private car to the scene of the fire, leaving tire marks, we are based on the tire marks to find him, and then pull out the carrot to bring out the mud, will he I, as well as the dozen or so punks he paid off, including the subordinate of your factory manager all arrested."

Amber was relieved and happy to hear that all the people involved had been caught, "That's great, thank you."

"It's what we're supposed to do." The captain said.

Amber smiled at him, "Can I ask, in Bernardo's case, roughly how long can he be sentenced?"

"Intentional arson, intentional homicide at home, although attempted murder, not up to the point of death, but these two are extremely bad criminal cases, the initial decision is more than ten years, may also be life, specifically, but also the court side of the verdict." The captain deliberated a little back.

Amber nodded, "Okay, I got it."

"Does Miss Reed have anything else to ask?"

"No more."

"That's fine, then I'll take my leave, after a few days, maybe our police will send someone over to understand some other situations, and please Miss Reed to tell us the truth then."

"I will."

"Chairman, I'll send it off." Kiara asked for permission.

Amber waved her hand, "Go ahead."

Kiara sends the captain out, and Amber sits on the hospital bed, thinking about what the captain just said.

That was Bernardo's final sentencing.

The fact that it is not a death sentence is clear in her mind and she can accept it.

After all, it is true that she and Jared are not dead, and even if Bernardo killed on purpose, it is true that as long as the party killed is not dead, the party who killed, does not constitute the death penalty.

But life in prison is a possibility.

But the captain said that it is not necessarily, it is likely to be more than ten years with a term.

If that was the case, she absolutely could not accept it.

Jared was really close to dying somewhere, so she would never be satisfied if Bernardo wasn't indefinite.

As I was thinking about it, my phone suddenly rang.

Amber temporarily collected her thoughts and reached out her hands in the direction of the sound.

The phone was on the bed, and Amber reached it without a hitch.

But she couldn't see, so she didn't know who was calling and could only use her muscle memory to answer the phone to ask over the line, "Hello, who is it?"

There was silence on the phone for a few seconds before a familiar voice came through, "It's me, Amber, we just got in touch yesterday and you forgot about me?"

It turned out to be Hayden.

Amber laughed, "Sorry, I didn't look at the caller ID."

She and Jared were not going to tell everyone about the accident.

Lest there be any extra problems.

Hayden also did not suspect Amber of lying, after all, sometimes busy, indeed not to check the caller ID.

"It's okay, it's not a big deal." At the other end of the phone, Hayden, who had just returned from a rural visit, was also just getting off the bus at this moment.

The housekeeper and Jayden, who came out to greet him, were stunned to see his image at the moment, one old and one young.

What is the situation?

Young master, young uncle why darkened like this?

Black like a carbon, is it just returned from Africa?

"By the way Amber, I'm back in Olkmore." Hayden smiled into the phone, showing a row of white teeth.

White teeth, with his dark, carbon-like black skin, looks white teeth glow.

But neither the housekeeper, nor Jayden, dared to look straight at it.

It's too stuttering.

The previous young master, the young uncle how handsome more white handsome a young man ah.

Why does it look so now obscene?

"I know, you messaged me yesterday that you'd be back, congratulations." Amber congratulated Hayden.

Hayden walks in the door, "Got a minute? How about coming out for dinner? Think of it as a pick me up."

Better not bring that asshole Jared.

Amber sighed, "I'm sorry Hayden, I'm not in Olkmore so I won't be able to come out and give you a reception until some time later."

"Not in Olkmore?" froze Hayden, then asked, "Where have you been?"

"He said it would be good for me to manage Goldstone Co. so I agreed. Amber lowered her head, and a trace of weakness and apology appeared on her face.

After all, lying and cheating is not a good thing.

Hayden lost the corner of his mouth, "so, then, okay, then when you How about I buy dinner when you come back?"

"Sure, I won't say no when the time comes." Amber smiled and nodded her head.

When the time comes, bring him some more gifts, as a reparation for cheating him this time.

Chapter 1326 All can be concealed

When he heard Amber promise to come out for dinner later, the loss in Hayden's heart was finally lifted.

Then, he thought of something else and asked, "By the way, when I came back today, I saw on the Internet that the president of your company was arrested, what happened?"

He hasn't had a chance to ask the police yet, and he hasn't seen the statement from Goldstone Co. in the back.

So what is known so far is limited to the morning Bernardo was caught.

"The thing is, Bernardo has been dissatisfied with my control of Goldstone Co. and so in a fit of anger, he burned down the factory that had just been built." Amber returned concisely.

Hayden asked, "Crazy, setting fires just for that, sick in the head, by the way, no one was hurt at your factory, right?"

Amber's gaze flashed, "No, because it hadn't opened yet, so there was no one at the factory at that time."

"That's good, do you need my help to add emphasis to that Bernardo's sentence?" Hayden inquired.

He took the career path, this time the rural study back, and will move up a level, so fully able to greet with the court side.

To be honest, when Amber heard this, her heart was still somewhat moved, after all, she wanted Bernardo to put the bottom of the jail.

But later, she calmed down and refused, "No, let it be."

After all, she didn't want to owe Hayden any more favors.

Hayden heard her say that, although her mouth agreed to do so, but in his heart he still decided to say hello to the court when the time comes.

It's just a matter of a few words.

"That's okay." Hayden shrugged his shoulders back.

Amber yawned, "Okay Hayden, I'll stop talking to you for a while ah, just arrived abroad, still jet lagged, this time I'm a little tired, we'll talk next time."

Hayden didn't think much of it and nodded in response to her words, "Okay, then I won't bother you, get some rest, and I'll pick you up at the airport when you return."

"Hmm." Amber squeezed the corners of her mouth.

Hanging up the phone, she put it on the edge of her pillow and then pulled the covers back, ready to take a nap.

Her body has not yet fully recovered, woke up so long ago, plus the previous emotional turmoil too much, this moment has long been exhausted.

So what I just said wasn't really just an excuse to end the call with Hayden alone.

She really wants to get some sleep too.

This sleep, by the time you wake up again, it is already night.

Of course, Amber can't see it, that's what the caregiver told her.

The nurse also told her that Ben came to see her at 6:00 p.m., but she wasn't awake at that time, so Ben quickly left again and went to Jared's side, saying he would come over when she woke up.

Amber nodded slightly as she ate the meal bought by her caregiver, indicating that she was aware of it.

The caregiver then went and invited Ben over.

Ben came quickly and the first thing he said when he came in was that he was concerned about Amber's health first.

When Amber replied that she was much better than during the day, then she opened her mouth to talk about the business, "Miss Reed, during the day the police side should have told you about Bernardo's current situation, as well as Bernardo's crime process at that time and the motive of the crime, right?"

Amber nodded, "Having said that, I already know all the specifics."

"Then I won't say much more." Ben pushed his glasses, "But I can tell Miss Reed you what's going on with the plant right now."

"You said." Amber 'looked' at him.

She is certainly curious to know how the plant has become now.

The factory was finally built after she had spent all her energy and effort, running to so many places at home and abroad, and waiting for so long.

It is not too much to say that it is her heart and soul.

Now the plant has suffered this fire, it is estimated to have been destroyed.

Amber was in a somewhat depressed mood.

Ben sensed it and rushed to reassure, "Miss Reed don't worry, the plant is saved."

"Bailed out?" Amber was stunned at first, then greatly surprised, "Really?"

"Yes." Ben nodded, "because when the plant was built, the use of the upper and lower inside and outside almost all metal structure, so the fire, did not burn into the plant at all, only the outside wiring and water lines burned off, as well as the outside of the metal wall structure burned black, need to spend a lot of money to do a comprehensive cleanup, and may even replace the exterior walls, of course, the specific, but also Waiting for a professional architect to go and look at it to know."

"So you're saying that only the plumbing and electrical circuits, as well as the exterior walls were severely damaged, and nothing inside the plant, including those machines, were damaged in any way, right?" Amber clenched her palms in excitement.

Ben nodded back, "Yes."

"That's great." Amber was overjoyed, "I originally thought that everything was all destroyed, but I didn't expect the peaks and valleys to turn around, only the plumbing, electrical circuits and exterior walls were damaged."

What is the most important thing inside the factory?

It's all about the big equipment and machines.

And the utility lines and facades are nothing compared to these machines.

Plumbing and electrical routes, find professional plumbers and electricians to re-connection is good, exterior walls can also find a professional construction team to replace the good, for her, is not a big deal at all, only to spend an extra amount of money.

But if the machine is damaged, it will not only cost a sum of money, but also have to go abroad to re-order, and if there are already many orders on the orderer's side, there will be a queue.

It can be as short as a few months or as long as a year or two.

In short, the machine is damaged and it costs more than just money, or there is time.

She is now really glad that she chose to make the move of building the plant into an all-metal structure, otherwise the situation could not be so good now.

"Miss Reed, do you need me to help arrange for a plumber and construction crew to resume work on the plant?" Ben asked for instructions.

Amber shook her head, "No Ben, this matter, I'll let Kiara to arrange it, it's not something troublesome, so you don't have to do it, Jared now, the whole the Farrell Group things are on you, you are already very tired, so I won't bother you with these small things."

"Okay." Ben nodded.

Amber pursed her red lips and asked again, "Is Jared doing better now?"

In fact, she knew that she had asked a nonsense question, how could Jared's condition be better when only ten hours or so had passed.

But, that's what she wanted to ask.

Want to get a heartfelt comfort.

Ben knew exactly what she was thinking, so he went along with her, "Mr. Farrell is doing better, and his EKG is stabilizing, not fluctuating as much as it did this morning."

"Well, that's good." Amber nodded, "This matter, you didn't tell your grandmother, right?"

"Didn't tell the old lady." Ben shook his head.

"It's good that we didn't tell, Grandma's health is getting worse and worse, if we told her, she would have been greatly irritated." Amber sighed.

She didn't want to wait until Jared got better and then hear the sad news that the old lady had died.

That's cruel.

"Don't worry Miss Reed, Mr. Farrell and your accident, I conceal the matter very tightly, the old lady now energy can not, has been in the old mansion deep in seclusion, also will not ask the public about Mr. Farrell and you, so can be concealed."

As for Shonna.

That woman doesn't even have to care.

As a stepmother, it is not possible to ask questions about your stepson all the time, it will fall into criticism.

It's not like Shonna doesn't understand this, so she can hide it too.

"It's good to keep it under wraps, but when exactly is the heart coming?" Amber asked, biting her lip.

That's her main concern right now.

She wanted Jared to complete his surgery and recover as soon as possible.

Chapter 1327 Eyes Can't See

"Don't worry Miss Reed, the heart is still abroad, our people are expediting the formalities, probably the day after tomorrow, we will expedite the shipping to the country at the first time the formalities are done." Ben said with a glint of ghostly light in his eyes.

Amber did not see, only heard that the heart will be sent to the country the day after tomorrow, she heart this relief.

"Then Miss Reed, I'll leave you to your rest, I'll go out first."

"Okay, you get busy." Amber hmmed.

Ben turned around and exited the ward.

Once outside, he was stunned to see Elias leaning against the wall outside the hospital room, "Dr. Lansdale."

"Talk?" Elias looked at him, smirking.

Ben nodded his head in agreement.

The two men came to a quiet place and then stood opposite each other.

"You finally chose to end the carrier's life." Elias's lips curled up in a slight arc if anything.

Ben pushed down his eyes, "Yes, Mr. Farrell's current situation can not last much longer, and the carrier still has a few months to live, I can not wait, so I followed your advice and chose to end the carrier's life early and get the carrier's heart, after all, in my case, the carrier's life is simply no match for Mr. Farrell's."

"I did give this advice, but just off the top of my head, I didn't think you'd actually do it, would Jared agree? After all, it's not ethical to do that." Elias looped his arms.

Ben's throat moved, "I will hide this matter from Mr. Farrell, Mr. Farrell may look cold and heartless, but in fact he is a very kind person, he is not the kind of selfish to let themselves live, choose to deprive others of life, so I will not tell Mr. Farrell, if Mr. Farrell one day know, if Mr. Farrell willing to suffer any punishment. Farrell one day know, I am willing to suffer any punishment."

"You're still a good subordinate."

"I'm an orphan." Ben looked up at Elias, "I grew up receiving support from the Farrell Family, and after graduating from college, I was promoted to special assistant by Mr. Farrell. Mr. Farrell also gave me shares, so both the Farrell Family and Mr. Farrell have been kind to me, and I have long regarded Mr. Farrell as my own family, so I would do anything for Mr. Farrell, let alone just ending the life of a person who deserved to die early."

Even if he will be condemned by his conscience for this, he does not care.

Elias shrugged his shoulders, "The carrier volunteered?"

"Yes, I did not hide it from the carrier, although I wanted the carrier's life, but I was not so black-hearted as to kill him directly, but I had someone negotiate with him to get him to voluntarily accept euthanasia, and the carrier agreed to accept euthanasia as long as we gave his wife and children a large sum of money to ensure that his wife and children would not have to worry about money in the future, and he agreed to accept euthanasia, and I was grateful to him, so I also admitted to give his wife and children an extra suite. " Ben said in a light voice.

Elias lifted his chin, "OK, since the other side has agreed, I'll arrange for an operating room to be vacated now."

"Thanks a lot Dr. Lansdale," Ben bowed towards him.

Elias had his hands in the pockets of his white coat, "You should thank Amber, I wouldn't have been so aggressive in preparing him for surgery if it wasn't for the fact that Jared was her man."

After saying that, Elias walked away.

Ben turned around and kept bowing to him to send him off.

Time flies, two days have passed, and the foreign side, as promised, the carrier underwent euthanasia surgery after completely bidding farewell to his wife and children.

Waiting for the first time when the carrier stopped breathing, foreign hospitals have taken out the carrier's heart to do active measures, and then expedited to the country.

Ben received this call right after he walked out the door of the Farrell Group and rushed to the airport.

He had to wait at the airport and escort this heart safely to the first hospital the whole time, otherwise he could not rest assured.

After all, Mr. Farrell's life is at stake, and it's a big deal.

Of course, on the way to the hospital, he didn't forget to contact Amber.

Amber was removing the gauze from her eyes at this moment and did not delay answering the phone. When she heard Ben on the phone saying that her heart was about to reach the country, the whole person was so excited that she could not speak.

Elias, who was removing her gauze, couldn't help but ask when he saw her holding up her phone and not moving, "What's wrong?"

Amber grabbed his white coat and said excitedly, "The heart The heart has been sent back home, and it will be at the hospital in a few hours, so Jared can have the surgery."

Elias froze for a moment, then came a smile, "No wonder you're suddenly so happy."

"Can we not be happy, Jared is finally saved." Amber hung up the phone and returned, "Ben is now on his way to the airport where he will be waiting to escort the heart over intact, Dr. Lansdale"

"Got it, I'll have someone do a physical on Jared now, and if he passes the physical, I'll operate on him tonight." Elias knew what she was going to say and cut her off straight away.

Amber nodded repeatedly, "Please Dr. Lansdale."

"It's nothing." Elias used scissors to cut the last knot in the gauze.

Amber was overwhelmed with joy and her mouth was full of questions about the surgery.

For example, the length of the surgery, and whether there is any possibility of experiencing any wait during the surgery.

She was also afraid, afraid that the surgery would not be successful or something.

However, Elias told her that as long as Jared's physical condition met the criteria for the surgery and the heart could be perfectly matched, the success rate of the surgery was very high and basically would not fail.

Amber stopped shredding at this point.

I can't help it, she accompanied Jared for the first time to experience this, don't know anything, and worried and nervous, it is inevitable to ask more questions.

"Okay, forget about Jared for now, try opening your eyes and see if you can see anything." Elias spoke up to interrupt the complex mess inside Amber.

Amber cooperated by opening her eyes.

When it first opened, it was still a little uncomfortable, and soon closed again, and waited a few seconds before this reopened its eyes.

After opening her eyes, the first thing she saw was a white light, and when the white light slowly dissipated, she could gradually see something.

Only she saw these, are very fuzzy and blurred, as if they were put on a layer of mosaic, simply can not see the true face of these things, only able to guess what they are, based on the outline of these things.

"How's that? How's the vision?" Elias came to a stop at the end of the hospital bed and waved a hand at her, "Can you see me? Or can you see what I'm doing?"

Amber stared at him and blinked, trying hard to make herself see.

But after looking for a while, she ended up shaking her head in disappointment, "I can't see, I can only see you all in white, but I can't see your face or what you're doing, I can only see you moving."

Elias walked back, "so close can not see, the situation is a little more serious than I thought, all right, I know the details, I first give you a detailed examination of your eyes, and then let the following people to give you glasses, then you can see clearly."

"Okay, please." Amber smiled gratefully, "But, can you expedite the dispensing ah, I"

"You want to see Jared, don't you."

Amber nodded, "Yeah, I haven't seen him for the past two days and miss him, and now that the gauze is off my eyes, I can't wait to see him, and most importantly, there's a chance he'll have surgery tonight and I want to be with him all the time."

If you can't see things, how can you stay with him?

"Okay, since you want to, I'll talk to the bottom." Elias agreed with little objection, then had the caregiver help her into the wheelchair and push her to the eye exam.

Chapter 1328 can be operated

Amber got her glasses in the third hour after the checkup.

Don't say, Elias this person's aesthetics is really good.

When she was filling out her eyeglass prescription information, Elias asked her if she had any requirements for glasses.

Amber was anxious to get the glasses sooner, so she said directly that there were no requirements, so feel free to fill out what he wanted.

She was afraid that she would ask for more, and that the glasses would not be finished in a short time, so that's why she said that.

It's not that she's really that indifferent.

So, she has full authority to give it all to Elias, do not care if the final match out of the glasses is ugly, for her now, ugly does not matter, the most important thing is that it allows her to see things love is good, the big deal is to get a good-looking one again in the back.

It turned out that Elias had a very good aesthetic and the glasses she was given looked great.

He got the thing under the frame glasses, the bottom is very thin gold rimmed eye sockets, the top is no eye sockets, two lenses and large and round, plus two sex, sense of anti-slip chain, so Amber wear glasses, look sensible and imperial.

Amber was stunned by herself in the mirror.

She hadn't thought that she would one day, actually still so suitable for the imperial style.

"How's that? Good to see." Elias spoke toward her as he leaned against the door frame of her hospital room.

Amber fiddled with the chains on either side of her cheeks twice, "Not bad, but why did you add two chains?"

"One is to look good, you gave me full authority to fit the glasses, I can't let you down, right?" Elias walked in, "The second is that it's your first time wearing glasses, you must not be used to them, plus you have a small face, you may not be able to wear them steadily, so I added two chains to increase the weight of the glasses, so they won't slip off."

"So that's it." Amber nodded, then touched the bridge of her nose, "Don't say, the first time I wore it was really uncomfortable, I always felt a strange feeling in this position."

"It's good to get used to it." Elias held out his hand toward her.

Amber would take off her glasses and hand them to him, and her vision changed back to a worldwide mosaic.

Elias took the glasses and after carefully checking that there were no defects, he pulled out the glasses cloth and wiped them, "It's really hard to get used to, I can give you a permission to insert the corneal transplantation."

There is actually no shortage of corneas; after all, one donor can restore the sight of three or four people with the donation of a cornea.

But why are there still many people who cannot wait for a match?

The reason is that there are so many blind people in the world that corneas, even if they are not in short supply, are not fully available to all blind people.

So in this case, there is usually a queue.

Those in the front of the line may be able to operate soon, those in the back of the line will have to wait, and some have been waiting for years.

Amber naturally had to wait in line as well.

But she can rely on the power of those around her and just cut in line for early surgery.

But she was reluctant to do so, she was not completely blind, there was plenty of time to wait.

It would not be fair to the other blind patients if she cut in line because of this.

So yeah, she can take her time and wait.

"Sometimes it's okay to be selfish." Elias handed Amber the polished glasses.

Amber took it, put it back on, and the view changed from a blurry mosaic back to normal all at once.

She smiled, "If it came to a desperate situation and I had to, maybe I would choose to be selfish, but I didn't go that far, I'm even more fortunate than the vast majority of blind patients, so I'm not going to grab the chance to regain my sight as soon as possible with them, that's pretty unethical."

"As you wish, then." Elias shrugged his shoulders, not forcing the issue, then asked, "How's it looking? Is it clear enough?"

"It's clear." Amber nodded, "Clearer than my eyes could see before the accident."

"That's good."

As he was speaking, a nurse appeared outside, "Dr. Lansdale, Mr. Farrell's heart has arrived."

As soon as this statement was made, Amber immediately stood up from the couch in excitement.

Due to standing too fast, the anti-skid chains on both sides of her cheeks flew from side to side and hit her directly in the face, which hurt a little.

But she didn't care about that, she just knew that Jared's heart had arrived.

"Dr. Lansdale," Amber said, looking sharply at Elias.

Elias knew what she was going to say and instructed the nurse, "Send it for safekeeping first, and make arrangements when the medical test results come back there."

"Okay." The nurse walked away.

Amber asked again, "When will the medical test results come out?"

"It should be soon." Elias returned uncertainly.

Jared's medical examination he did not follow the whole process, so did not know when it came out, can only give a general answer.

Amber bit her lower lip, "Can I go over there and wait?"

"Now that you can see, you can naturally walk around." Elias doesn't stop.

Amber smiled gratefully and hurriedly ran out of his office.

Just wear glasses, Amber is not used to the whole process, when running, the left and right side of the chain is really left and right flip, hit the cheeks and neck pain.

Finally, she had no choice but to pinch the two chains, which was much better.

Soon, coming to the identification room where the results of the medical examination were released, Amber saw Ben was also there and called out.

Ben turned around, saw the glasses on Amber's face, and asked, "Miss Reed, can you see?"

"Can." Amber nodded.

Ben was happy, "That's good, Miss Reed is here waiting for the results of Mr. Farrell's medical exam as well?"

"Yeah, I was wondering if Jared could operate tonight." Amber took her place beside him.

Ben took a breath, "Me too, so as soon as the heart was delivered, I came here."

"I, too, heard the heart had arrived and rushed over." Amber said.

They are both the people who care about Jared the most and are certainly concerned about Jared's ability to have early surgery.

After that, Amber and Ben stopped talking and quietly waited for the results to come out.

After waiting for about half an hour or so, the results finally came out.

The results showed that Jared was well enough for surgery.

Behind the sight of this line, Amber burst into tears of joy.

Ben, too, was excited, clutching the report sheet, and his eyes were red.

They then went outside Elias' office and wanted to tell Elias about the results so that Elias could be ready for the surgery tonight.

It turned out that the last person to open the door was not Elias, but one of Elias' nurses, "Please rest assured, the director has just learned the results, he has now gone to the lounge to rest and will operate on time in the evening."

There are still a few hours left in the evening, and there is no telling how long this surgery will last.

So to make sure he has energy at night, Elias has to go to rest.

Amber and Ben came here to tell Jared the results of his tests, but also to get him to rest.

The two were also relieved to hear the nurse now say that Elias had gone to rest.

Walking out of Elias' office, Amber glanced at Ben, "Ben, you should go rest too, I see you have big bloodshot eyes, I guess you haven't rested well these days."

Ben touched his eyelids, "These days is not much rest, Mr. Farrell accident, I have to run both ends of the hospital group, indeed little sleep."

"Then go rest and get some sleep."

"No, I have to stay with Mr. Farrell for surgery."

"Jared the surgery is going to take place at night, there are still a few hours left, you are not even rested, how can you have the energy to accompany at night." Amber said disapprovingly, "So you'd better go rest."

Ben thought so, so he didn't refuse her offer again and nodded his head yes, "What about you Miss Reed?"

He asked.

Chapter 1329 Locked Up

"I'll go check on Jared and then go back to rest later." Amber rubbed her ears.

She was just not used to wearing glasses, causing her ear bones to be raw now.

"I haven't even been to see him yet." She added.

Ben was slightly surprised, "Miss Reed hasn't seen Mr. Farrell yet?"

Amber shook her head, "The gauze was removed in the morning and I couldn't see anything, so I didn't go, thinking I'd wait for the glasses to arrive and then go, but it turned out that the glasses had just arrived and I heard about the heart arriving, so I came over first to wait for Jared's medical report to come in."

After all, at the time, she was most interested in knowing if Jared would be able to operate as soon as possible.

Ben nodded his head, indicating that he understood, "Okay then, Miss Reed you go ahead, I'll go outside to the nearest hotel and get a room to rest and come over later."

"Okay, you go ahead." Amber waved her hand.

Ben left, and she didn't stay here much longer, but went over to the ICU.

Jared, as well as still not out from inside, these two days, listening to the nursing staff said, he also did not wake up, has been in a coma.

Amber arrived outside Jared's ICU room and looked through the glass at the man lying inside.

The man was dressed in a hospital gown, but the gown was wide open, revealing his entire chest.

Normally seen on a strong chest, this time it was plastered with electric tablets, not only that, but even on his temples, which were also plastered with electric tablets, all to ensure that his consciousness was still there, to ensure that his consciousness would not dissipate into a vegetable.

So every once in a while, these electrical pieces would discharge and stimulate his conscious mind.

Amber didn't know if it would hurt for Jared to go through all of this, but she knew that it would not feel good.

Amber hands on the glass, forehead also pressed against the glass, tears silently flowing down, just so quietly looking at the man inside.

It took until an hour later for the caregiver to come and take her back.

"Chairman." Back in the ward, Kiara had been waiting for a while.

Amber took off her glasses and wiped her eyes with a tissue before putting them back on and smiling slightly at Kiara, "There you are."

"Well, to report to you on the past two days." Kiara nodded, then shot a look into Amber's eyes, "The chairman saw that?"

"Saw it, but you have to wear glasses to do it, otherwise it's a mosaic."

The three words mosaic amused Kiara.

Amber is also helpless, but in her opinion, what she sees without her glasses is really a mosaic ah.

"In any case, it's good that the chairman is seeing it now." Kiara congratulated from the bottom of her heart.

Amber sat down at the hospital bedside and asked Kiara to sit as well.

"Start tomorrow, bring over some important, papers that need to be handled by me, I can see them now and can handle them without piling them up."

"Okay." Kiara responded and then went over the past two days of Goldstone Co.

Amber is also pleased to hear that Goldstone Co. is doing well.

When she woke up, she handed over the management of the company to Kiara.

Although Kiara was a novice, she managed it quite well, and at least the company didn't get into trouble.

"Bernardo's group, though, is a little less than peaceful." Kiara looked at Amber.

Amber's eyebrows furrowed in anger, "Oh? They made a scene?"

"That's not true." Kiara shook her head, "Bernardo is their master, the master is not here, they are a group of small shrimp and small monsters, at most will jump twice, do not dare to really make trouble, they are ready to rescue Bernardo, these two days always run to me, want me to contact you, but I did not take them."

Amber sneered, "How dare you try to save Bernardo? The first is that Bernardo deliberately killed someone, just Bernardo malicious arson so big, also can not be saved, unless they all have Jared's background, otherwise is delusional, and want to come to me, probably hope that I intercede for Bernardo, then Bernardo out of the chance, right?"

"Yes, they said it themselves, Bernardo is the chairman of the board your uncle, and to Goldstone Co. is also a credit, you should come forward to say something."

"Heh, that's a lot to think about, you're right to leave them alone."

"But then, this group of people will certainly not rest, and I guess they have to find a way to jump up and down."

"Don't worry, like you just said without Bernardo, they are a scattered mess, I have ways to clean them up, but for a short time, I will not step in."

Kiara frowned, "So let them keep bouncing around the company?"

"Let Cole go over there. Cole is also the director of Goldstone Co. and he has the right to step in and manage in the absence or absence of both me and the president and vice president." Amber said.

Kiara thought it made sense, "Then I'll contact Mr. Lyon later and have Mr. Lyon go to Goldstone Co. and clean up these people, but speaking of Mr. Lyon, Chairman, Mr. Lyon actually contacted me in the past two days to ask about your situation."

Amber lifted her chin, "I guessed it, he called me, but I didn't even answer, I grew up with him, I didn't dare to lie to him, he must have been able to hear it right away, so I didn't dare to answer his phone, he couldn't contact me, he must have contacted you guys, what did he say? Asking about the bombing of Bernardo two days ago?"

"Yes asked this, Mr. Lyon is also our director, something so big happened, he could not not not ask, also personally went to the plant side to see, and even said to see Bernardo it."

"What? See Bernardo?" said Amber, anxious, "And has he seen him yet?"

If Cole had gone to see Bernardo, wouldn't she already know about what happened with Jared.

Kiara shook her head, "Don't worry Chairman, Mr. Lyon hasn't been seen, the police side is now temporarily refusing to let anyone see Bernardo, I heard it was Ben's idea."

Amber sighed with relief, "That's good, so what did Cole say when he contacted you?"

"And did not say anything, mainly just want to know where you went, why can not contact, after all, Bernardo this matter, in the eyes of the outside world is still foggy, do not know much, Mr. Lyon probably want to know more detailed it." Kiara said.

Amber sighed, "When Jared's surgery is over, I'll contact him personally and tell him everything."

Anyway, as long as Jared had a successful surgery, she wasn't worried about anything else.

Now that Jared is still out of surgery and they have so many outside haters, she easily doesn't dare to say a little more.

It's not that I don't believe in Cole, it's that I don't believe in the world.

"Mr. Farrell's surgery?" Kiara's eyes lit up, "Mr. Farrell is ready for surgery?"

"Yeah, the heart is in the hospital, and the surgery is tonight." Amber laughed at the mention of it.

Happy.

Kiara saw her smile and was sincerely happy for her, "That's really great."

"Yeah, this is the happiest moment I've had in days." Amber touched up to her heart.

While this was going on, the phone rang.

She picked up her phone and glanced at it, saw that it was the detective she had called the other day and answered it in a hurry, "Hello."

The other end of the phone also did not know what to say, Amber's face changed greatly, "What? Okay I got it, thanks, I'll call you the final payment later."

Kiara saw Amber's ugly face and quickly asked with concern, "Chairman, what's wrong?"

Amber did not answer immediately, but pursed her red lips do not know what to think for a while, which then gripped the phone and said, "I did not let the detective office side to check the Miss Dawson thing?"

"Find out?" Kiara asked busily.

Amber nodded and hummed, "Got it, Miss Dawson did not leave the country, she was locked up."

"Locked up?" Kiara rose aloud in surprise.

Chapter 1330 Surgery Begins

Amber is non-committal.

Kiara swallowed incredulously, "How could she be locked up? Who locked her up? But I saw Miss Dawson walking outside just a few days ago, so she was locked up just before I met her?"

"No, it was Miss Dawson who was put up when she offered to resign." Amber pursed her lips.

Kiara was shocked, "Locked up when you resigned?"

"Hmm."

"No wonder, no wonder Miss Dawson had to quit her job, no wonder Miss Dawson had to lie to us that she was out of the country for further studies because she was locked up so she couldn't tell others the truth for fear that they would be dragged into her trouble, right?" Kiara guessed, "Did she offend some bad people? That's why she was locked up by the love bad guys?"

Amber shook her head, "Neither, she didn't offend any bad people, and the ones who shut her down, weren't bad people."

"Who is that?"

"It's Cole," Amber pursed her lips.

Kiara froze, "Wait, Chairman, if I heard you correctly, you said, Mr. Lyon?"

"It's him."

"Why?" Kiara stared in disbelief, "Why would Mr. Lyon lock her up?"

Amber sighed, "Properly nowadays, I'm not hiding anything from you, Miss Dawson is pregnant as you know, but you don't know whose child she is carrying, and now I'm telling you, the child in her belly is Cole's."

"Hiss" Kiara sucked in a breath of cold air, "It's actually Mr. Lyon's! How could that be?"

"Miss Dawson has always liked Cole, but Cole has little feeling for her, the two because after an accident, Miss Dawson pregnant with a child, during this period, Miss Dawson has been very worried, afraid of her pregnancy by Cole know, so she several times with me to take leave, are to do maternity, and then abort the child, she thought, as long as the child She thought that as long as the baby was aborted, she and Cole would never be involved again, but to her surprise, the day Miss Dawson aborted the baby, Cole knew she was pregnant, chased her to the hospital, took her away from the hospital, and locked her up in a villa."

These are what the detective found out.

Kiara's mind buzzed, "I think I know how Mr. Lyon knew Miss Dawson was pregnant"

"You know?"

Kiara bit her lower lip, her face full of guilt, "Well, I know, because that day I saw Miss Dawson throw is in the trash report of miscarriage, and then I talked with the office sisters about this matter, but I did not expect Mr. Lyon suddenly came in, asked Miss Dawson to go to the hospital and then rushed to leave, at that time we did not know Miss Dawson pregnant baby is Mr. Lyon, thought Miss Dawson is being bullied. At that time we did not know that Miss Dawson's baby was Mr. Lyon's, thought Miss Dawson was being bullied, and thought Mr. Lyon was so anxious to leave because he was worried about Miss Dawson, a friend, but did not expect"

Everything is connected.

Cole learned of Miss Dawson's pregnancy at that time, then went to stop it, took Miss Dawson away and locked her up, made Miss Dawson lie to them about going abroad for further studies, and then resigned without incident.

"Chairman, why do you think Mr. Lyon locked Miss Dawson up, and what was his purpose for doing so?" Kiara asked looking at Amber.

Amber shook her head, "I don't know, the detective just found out what happened to Miss Dawson, the day you saw Miss Dawson, was the day Miss Dawson came out to let off steam, also Cole agreed that she could come out once a week to let off steam, the rest of the time, must stay at the villa, so you were able to see her But what exactly Cole is going to do, I really don't know,"

She even wondered if Cole had taken Miss Dawson away from the hospital and prevented Miss Dawson from aborting the baby, could it be that he wanted Miss Dawson to give birth to the baby?

It's not impossible, why not let Cole stop Miss Dawson?

If Cole is really not going to keep the baby, just let Miss Dawson abort it at that time.

But what exactly is the reason for this has to start with Cole.

"Chairman"

"I know what you're going to say, don't worry, I'll get Cole to talk openly and honestly later, but not now, and you know that Jared and I are in no position to show our faces right now." Amber said.

Kiara nodded, "I know, the fact that Miss Dawson can come out and let off steam means that Mr. Lyon has given her a certain degree of freedom even though he is keeping her locked up, she will not have security problems with Mr. Lyon, as long as you, Chairman, have time to ask."

That's what she's all about.

Amber took off her glasses and rubbed her ear bones and the bridge of her nose, "I will."

After that Kiara didn't stay much and left.

Amber also laid down and started to rest.

In the evening was Jared's surgery, and she also had to get some sleep and refresh herself so that she would have better energy to wait outside the operating room at night.

This sleep is five hours.

Eventually Amber was called up by her caregiver and told that it was almost time.

Amber rushed, not even wearing her coat, to the ICU side, while the nursing staff chased after her with her coat.

"Miss Reed, there you are." Ben had long since gotten up and arrived.

Amber stopped panting, "Here it comes."

Then, she looked up inside the glass.

Several nurses and doctors, were removing the electrotherapy equipment from Jared's body.

Amber clenched her hand and looked at it, "Ben, you said the surgery would work, right?"

"Will do." Ben also looked inside the ward and answered without hesitation.

One more person thinks that there will be no problem, Amber's heart's security, also a more sufficient point.

She nodded and didn't say anything else.

That's when the caregivers came after them.

Amber also obeyed and put her clothes on.

Otherwise, don't come out of Jared's successful surgery later, she gave the flu again.

Soon, Jared was put on a trundle and pushed out.

Amber and Ben subconsciously had to go over, but were blocked by a few caregivers who wouldn't let them get close.

Because they are not accessible without a sterile suit on them.

Amber was lost but didn't object and followed the cart farther outside the operating room.

Elias had changed into a green scrubs and was wiping his eyes at the entrance to the operating room.

Amber went over and bowed to him, "I'll trouble you with the surgery tonight."

Ben did the same, bowing to him.

Elias put on his glasses, "Don't worry, it will be fine, okay, I'll go in first, if you guys can wait, just wait outside, I guess this operation, no more than ten hours can not be finished."

"I'll have to wait." Amber replied without hesitation.

Not to mention a dozen hours, three days and three nights she had to wait.

She must wait for the news of Jared's successful surgery, otherwise she can never rest assured.

"Me too." Ben chimed in.

Amber looked to him, "the Farrell Group side, you"

"It's okay, just work more shifts back there." Ben smiled at her.

He works a lot of overtime anyway.

In saying that, what could be more important than the safety of Mr. Farrell.

With that, Amber and Ben sat down one by one in front of a cold, cool chair and waited quietly for the surgery to be over.

The waiting process is undoubtedly long and torturous.

But for the sake of the people inside, even in the torment, she will have to hold out.

From darkness to dawn, and from dawn to darkness again.

In the blink of an eye, twenty-four hours have passed.

Amber and Ben barely left the surgery half a step outside, except to go to the bathroom.

At the same time, they also wait more and more anxious and annoyed, but also more and more worried and nervous.

Because before the surgery, Elias said that the surgery would take almost ten hours, but now twenty-four hours have passed and the surgery is not over, does this mean that the surgery did not go so well?

Is there even a possibility of failure?

So how can this not make them more worried?
