

LLPD Chapter 1351

Chapter 1351 - It'S New Year'S Eve

Amber froze and looked at the man, thinking the man didn't mean it, so she didn't get angry and put her hands on the man again.

Who knows just cover, the man gave a lift off.

This time, Amber which can not know, this man is deliberate.

She crossed her arms in anger and stared at Jared, "Jared, what are you doing? I gave you a blanket and you lifted it, are you deliberately trying to screw me?"

"No. " Jared shook his head.

Amber sneered, "No? Why did you lift the covers twice if you didn't?"

"I was trying to get you to come up and sleep." He patted the spot next to him looking at her.

Amber choked for a moment, "Is that right?"

Jared nodded, "Of course."

"I thought that you were suddenly going crazy and trying to trick me on purpose." Amber said with amusement and good humor.

After all, it's not like men haven't done that sort of thing in the meantime.

Jared rubbed the tip of his nose, "No, come on up."

He patted the spot beside him again, with an expectant invitation.

Amber shook her head and refused, "No, I'd better go back to sleep in the lounge inside, so I won't sleep with you, in case I accidentally touch your wounds during sleep, it's not good."

So for everyone's sake, it's better to sleep separately.

However the man was determined to sleep with her this time and did not want to part with her.

It had been a long, long, long time since he had slept with her, hadn't held her in his arms.

He missed her, wanted to kiss her, hug her, and wanted to go further with her.

Although the final act is out of the question, it is still possible to kiss her and hug her, right?

At least, let him relieve his hunger ah.

Looking at the longing in the man's eyes were about to overflow, Amber's heart was suddenly soft and could not bear to refuse.

She was all afraid that if she refused, the men would cry out.

"Are you really not afraid that I'll accidentally touch your wound at night?" Amber asked him.

The man's eyes lit up, knowing that there is a play, hurriedly shook his head, "not afraid, and you sleep very honestly, usually do not move around."

Amber saw that he said so, can only nod and agree with him, "then okay, tonight I sleep with you, but in case I really accidentally touch you at night, you must wake me up, must not hold back know? Otherwise, I will never sleep with you again."

She pointed at him, her expression couldn't be more serious and earnest.

The man knew she was coming to the real thing and quickly agreed, "Okay, I definitely won't put up with it, don't worry."

"That's good, go to sleep, I'll go wash up and come back later." Amber re-covered him with the covers.

This time Jared was good and stopped lifting the covers.

Amber assuredly headed for the washroom, washed her face and hair, brushed her teeth and showered, then took the dirty clothes she and Jared had changed out of to wash off.

After doing this, it was already two hours later.

During this time Jared has been waiting impatiently, from time to time stretching his neck to look at the washroom, waiting for her to hurry to wash up and come back with him.

But after waiting for half a day, no one was seen, and it was hard to see people coming out, but it turned out that they went back to the washroom, and came out and went back.

Repeatedly several times, he started from the beginning of the expectation to the final change to disappointment, the mood is like riding a roller coaster, up and down.

Until this time, he finally saw her running to him, he knew this time he would not be disappointed again, this time his face showed a happy look again, "Back, what took you so long?"

Amber sat down at the bedside, then took out her care package and started rubbing and touching on her face for bedtime care, "It would have taken a woman a long time to wash up, but you, why are you still awake? Am I disturbing you?"

"No, it's that I didn't want to sleep." Jared kept looking at her, his gaze refusing to move halfway, "I wanted to wait for you to come back before I went to sleep, but I didn't expect to wait so long."

Amber smiled funny, "Are you an idiot, can't wait to sleep on your own ah, why do you have to wait."

"I wanted to wait, to hold you in my arms myself, otherwise I couldn't sleep." Jared said.

Amber heart and funny and sweet, and then skin care is not serious skin care, casually wipe two times to put things away, and then on the bed to lie next to the man.

Just, see the man waited so long also refused to sleep on the part of the man, tonight will not skin care, early with him.

Jared's eyes lit up when he saw Amber coming up, then hurriedly extended an arm and swept her up into his arms.

Amber also cooperated with him, and he swept her up and moved to his side, not allowing him to exert much effort, lest he tear the wound.

Soon Jared had her in his arms, hugging her tightly, even burying his head in the nape of her neck, sniffing her scent, and shouting Little Leaf in his mouth.

Amber knew what the man wanted and gently patted his shoulder, "Don't think about it, the most you can do is a hug like this, you can't do anything, so be a good boy and go to sleep, you won't think about anything when you're asleep, go to sleep."

She couldn't stop laughing.

I can't help it, it's really funny to look at the man who is so pathetic but can't do anything about it.

She didn't want to laugh either, but she couldn't help it.

Jared heard Amber's laughter and looked up at her, his handsome face expressionless, but his eyes written with aggression.

Amber stroked his head, "Okay, don't think too much, go to sleep, and when you're well, how about I make it up to you?"

Jared's face lit up with joy, then dimmed, "But that will be a long time from now."

"Longer can not help ah, you must also wait ah, do not worry, time passes quickly, this is not the turn of the New Year, there are two days is New Year's Eve, think about how to spend this year's New Year?" She asked.

Jared shook his head, then buried his head in the nape of her neck again, biting and kissing her on the neck.

Can not eat meat, eat some minced meat or ah.

"No." He muffled back.

Amber looked at the ceiling and let the man get weird in her neck, "No also have to think ah, I guess grandmother will call us back to the old house to accompany her old man for dinner, and this is the New Year, we can not refuse, your think about your current situation how to say to grandmother."

"Tell it like it is." Jared responded after a few seconds of contemplation.

Amber was slightly surprised, "Tell your grandmother directly?"

"Hmm."

"But ..."

"Don't worry, grandmother is not that fragile." Jared laughed lightly, "If I had told my grandmother at the time, she might not have been able to accept it, but now that I'm okay, she's naturally much more accepting and will be fine, and it's good to tell her, at least she'll know that I'll never have to worry about this aspect of my heart again."

Amber thought it made sense and nodded slightly, "That's right, so tell grandmother."

Just as well, she can apologize properly to her grandmother and tell her that she almost caused her grandson to lose his life.

"Then after three days, we will ask for leave from the hospital side and leave the hospital for a day temporarily, the hospital should agree, right?" Amber said with some uncertainty.

Jared nodded, "Yes, my condition is actually no longer a problem, but the surgical wound has not yet healed, plus the heart has not yet fully grown fixed, so can not be discharged, but a short time out for a few hours is no problem."

"That's good." Amber was relieved.

Then, she suddenly felt her stomach flip, a little uncomfortable, and then she hurriedly turned around and climbed up, lying on the edge of the hospital bed and gave a dry heave.

Jared got anxious and had to get up to check.

Amber knew for sure that he would, and after vomiting, she hurriedly turned around again and stopped him, "Don't you move, I'm fine..."

Chapter 1352 You Are Most Likely Pregnant

The corners of her eyes were interspersed with a tear, and her eyes were red, thus it was evident that some of that just now, indeed, made her whole hard to bear.

Jared looked distressed, "What's wrong? Why are you suddenly dry heaving?"

Amber lay back on the bed, shook his head, "I do not know ah, just suddenly feel uncomfortable in the stomach, uncomfortable very want to vomit, but can not vomit, vomit so a little, this time it is okay, could it be eaten what, eat bad stomach?"

"Since we don't know, let's call a doctor to come take a look." With that, Jared reached out and pressed the call bell at the head of the bed.

Amber wanted to stop him too late, but could only watch him press down.

Just look and see.

If you do not see, it is estimated that men will always be worried and uneasy.

Not only can he see it, but she herself can also feel a little more at ease.

In case she gets some infectious disease, she can also be treated earlier and not infect him not.

"Have some water." Jared handed her a glass of water from the bedside.

Amber sat up, "Thanks."

It's funny, it's obvious she's taking care of him, but now it's the other way around.

Amber gulped down a few sips of water and breathed a long sigh of relief.

"How do you feel now?" The man took the glass of water and put it back, but still asked again with some unease.

Amber gave him a smile, "It's okay, my stomach doesn't feel bad anymore, and I don't want to throw up."

At the sound of this, Jared was able to put down his heart a little, but still not completely.

As long as the doctor didn't come and give specific results, he couldn't put it down completely.

"I'll come down first, in case the doctor comes over later and sees me still crammed into the same bed with you a patient, it's more or less not good." Amber said, lifted the covers and got out of bed.

Jared wanted to say that it was okay, but he knew that she was always concerned about what others saw and thought, so he had to stop.

Amber went down, put on her coat and just sat in a chair waiting for the doctor to come.

After waiting for about a few minutes, the doctor came in a breeze, and there was Elias, an old acquaintance.

Amber was also a little surprised to see her, "You didn't go back from work?"

"I'm on the night shift today, I'm off tomorrow." Elias pushed his glasses back, then turned his gaze to Jared, his eyes clearly taking on a hint of disgust, "What's wrong with you again?"

This is said as if Jared has a lot going on in his day.

Jared's handsome face instantly darkened, if not for the thought of having this guy see Amber later, he would have let this guy go.

How dare you put a face on him.

"It's not me, it's Little Leaf," Jared said in a hushed voice as he lifted his chin toward Amber.

As soon as he heard it was Amber again, Elias' attitude immediately changed again, and without hesitation he turned towards Amber, his tone obviously softened a lot as he asked, "What's wrong?"

It was a scene that made Jared grit his teeth as he watched.

Would he have tolerated this guy so much if he didn't know that Elias couldn't possibly fall in love with Little Leaf?

Amber shook her head, "I'm not a big deal, don't let his attitude make you too nervous."

She looked toward the man with amusement, then added: "I just suddenly had some discomfort in my stomach and vomited, then he called the doctor, and now nothing is wrong again."

"Tough vomit?" Elias raised an eyebrow, "What did you eat this afternoon?"

Amber thought about it and reported the meal she had eaten this afternoon.

"The meal is fine, it should be intestinal, go get a checkup." Elias looked at her.

Amber blinked, "There's no need to go to all that trouble, is there?"

"The diet is fine, I can't deduce what's causing this for you, so I'll just have to do a detailed stomach exam to see exactly what." Elias said with his hands in his pockets.

"Go ahead and do it, and I'll feel good about it." Jared also advised.

The man said so, what else could Amber do but nod her head and agree, "Okay then."

"Let's go." Elias headed out of the ward.

As for Jared, he doesn't even look at him.

Jared didn't want to talk to him either, so he didn't look at Elias and looked straight at Amber, who was walking towards him.

"I'll go over there then, sleep on your own, don't wait for me, I'll be back soon." Amber said to the man as she stood by the hospital bed.

The man nodded slightly, "Go ahead."

"Okay, I'm going." Amber waved at him and followed Elias.

Elias took her to the gastroscopy room with the intention of giving her a gastroscopy to see if there was something inside her gut.

To be honest, Amber didn't want to have a gastroscopy, after all, the test was uncomfortable.

But in order to reassure men, you can only go hard.

But before the doctor who was doing the gastroscopy could set her up, the nurse who was taking her blood pressure over there came over and then whispered a few words into the doctor's ear.

A trace of surprise flashed in the doctor's eyes, and he hurriedly put down the equipment in his hand and followed the nurse away.

Amber lay on the equipment and watched the distant doctors and nurses with great unease.

What is the situation?

She doesn't have a terminal illness, does she?

But it's not right, she hasn't started the test yet, she just took the blood pressure first.

Is it possible that these days, terminal illnesses can still be detected by blood pressure?

Amber refused to believe how, but in her heart, she was very worried and nervous.

Soon, however, the doctor and nurse returned, followed by Elias.

Elias looked at Amber's blood pressure sheet, looked at her again, and finally asked the nurse to help her off the device.

"What's wrong with me?" Amber asked hurriedly once she came down.

Elias sighed, "Come on, this isn't the place for you, I'll take you to where you should be for your checkup."

"Huh?"

Amber is still a little frazzled.

Elias, however, had already walked out.

Helpless, Amber could only follow quickly.

Soon, Elias took Amber to the place where she was supposedly supposed to be, the maternity ward.

Amber's eyes widened, "What do you mean? What did you bring me here for?"

"There's a good chance you're pregnant, so of course you'll have to come here to get a test to make sure." Elias looked back at her and returned the look.

Amber's mouth also grew instantly, and her mind went blank for a moment.

But soon, she reacted, swallowed, and said in disbelief, "You said ... I'm pregnant?"

"It's just very possible." Elias did not give a specific answer, "but the possibility is very high, let's go, go in and do an examination to know exactly if it is."

Elias went in first.

Amber stood still, dumbfounded, touching up her stomach, her heart beating abnormally fast.

She ... Possibly pregnant?

Amber's mouth moved, wanted to say something, but could not say anything, and can not say what mood at this moment, can not describe.

However, she did not resist the pregnancy, because she accepted the father of her child from her heart, and naturally she would accept her pregnancy more openly.

So, she should be happy about being pregnant, right?

But now, she can't be happy yet, after all, it's still uncertain, in case she doesn't get pregnant, then wouldn't it be a waste of joy?

Amber looked up at the OB/GYN sign and finally took a deep breath, squeezed her palms and walked in.

No matter, no matter whether it is pregnant or not, let's go for a test first, we have to find out what to do.

This check was over an hour.

Amber has been sitting on a soft chair in the lounge waiting impatiently, hands and legs shivering nervously.

No way, she was so eager to know the result that she couldn't calm down at all ah.

Suddenly, the door to the lounge opened.

Chapter 1353

Amber subconsciously stood up and looked at Elias who came in with a kraft paper bag, she breathed for a moment not daring to breathe on her own, her hands clasped together nervously.

"Results ... came out?" Her mouth opened for a while before she asked in a somewhat floating voice, showing the unrest she felt inside at the moment.

Elias looked at her and nodded, "It's out, check it out."

He handed over the paper bag.

Amber trembled and reached out her hand to take it, but hesitated to open it.

She was a little scared, both of seeing the results of the pregnancy and of not seeing it.

This conflicted heart tore at her and put her in a difficult mood.

Elias saw her hesitate with the file bag and raised an eyebrow, "Why don't you open it?"

"I wouldn't dare."

She looked up, her eyes red, and her voice choked back a sob.

Elias saw this with some amusement, then took the file bag back out of her hands, "Since you don't dare, let me read it for you."

"You are not a doctor, then you must have read the results, you can just tell me, there is a need to see again?" Amber rubbed her cheek.

Elias was noncommittal, "That's true, but it's not like you didn't read it, I'll read it for you, go through the process, well, you sit down first."

Amber nodded, her body stiffening as she sat down.

Elias did not sit, standing across from her slowly and methodically opened the file folder and drew out the results of the examination inside.

Amber had been watching the expression on his face, but it was so calm that she couldn't tell anything by the expression on his face for a while.

This makes her heart more or less disappointed.

Elias took out the test results, directly brushed to the last page, glanced at it, but did not immediately tell Amber the results, but suddenly looked at her and asked, "Before I tell you the specific results, I want to know first, your opinion on the matter of pregnancy."

"Views?" Amber froze.

Elias hummed, "Yes, perception, pregnancy is not a trivial matter, and I need to know first if you are ready to get pregnant yourself or even decide to have a baby for Jared."

"I haven't actually thought about this, didn't you also say, I better not get pregnant in the last two years, and may not even get pregnant, so I didn't even think that I would get pregnant in these two years this kind of thing." Amber rubbed her temples and returned truthfully.

Elias nodded, "Okay then, for a change, so would you like to have a baby for Jared? "

Amber smiled, "What do you think? Since I accepted him, the child, naturally, I am also willing, after all, now is different from before, before the child was conceived, that is because I did not know that the father of the child is Jared, even if I knew, I could not choose to keep it, because at that time, I divorced him, my heart also deeply resisted him, I do not want to have a child for him, so at that time, I decided to give up that child,. Still, even if Jere hadn't poisoned it in the first place, I wouldn't have kept that child, because at that time, I had no idea that I would get back together with Jared."

So she never regretted that she gave up her first child, but she did have a deep debt to her first child in her heart.

For this reason, she hid from everyone, bought a tablet for her first child there at the temple, and donated a sum of incense money every month, in order to pray for that child.

Although she does not believe in this now, she is willing to do it.

This is what she owes to that child.

"So, if you get pregnant this time, you won't choose to abort it, but to have it, right?" Elias pushed up his glasses.

Amber looked at him, "Of course, I have already aborted a child, will not abort a second, that is too cruel, but also make myself feel cold-blooded and terrible, the most important thing is that my own body I know well, the first child is gone, all let me body damage, if this child and then do not want, then I this life, maybe will not have children, so In any case, if I get pregnant this time, I will definitely give birth."

"Then why did you just look like that, as if you were looking forward to being pregnant and as if you weren't." Elias was a little puzzled.

Amber picked up a glass of water and sip it, "because I'm worried, didn't you say, I'm not easy to get pregnant in two years, so if I get pregnant at this time, the child will not have problems? The most important thing is that I have been in the hospital almost all this time, before being rescued from the fire for two days after I also ate a variety of drugs, if really pregnant, then the child can still be? It's because I think about all this that I'm both looking forward to getting pregnant and not wanting to get pregnant myself, it's just too contradictory."

She was annoyed inside.

Elias let out a low laugh, "That's not something to worry about so much, don't worry, the baby in your belly is fine and not affected by the drugs."

"Really?" Amber was first happy, then meaning something, her eyes widened in shock, "What did you say? The baby in my belly? I ... I'm really pregnant?"

Elias hummed again, "Yes, you are indeed pregnant."

Amber's mind is really blank at this moment, only you are pregnant four big words, constantly running around inside, reminding her that she is having a baby, to become a mother.

Looking at Amber the whole person froze there, half a day no response look, Elias reached out in front of her eyes and waved, "Well, wake up, is not pregnant, how the whole person soul is lost?"

"I ... I was so surprised." Amber's eyes wavered, snapped back to attention, then touched her belly, her face said no expression, smile there, complicated too, "I'm actually, really pregnant?"

She couldn't believe it.

"Dr. Lansdale," at this point, Amber suddenly thought of something and grabbed Elias's arm, "I thought you said it was best if I didn't get pregnant for two years, or even that there was a chance I wouldn't get pregnant, so what's this about me now?"

Elias looked at her so excited, patted her arm, indicating her to calm down first, and then only then returned: "I did say so, because the last time your uterus was damaged, it takes almost two years to recover, so I suggested you better not get pregnant for two years, and within these two years, there is a possibility that you will not get pregnant, that is also because the uterus is damaged, the embryo is not easy to The reason is that the embryo is not easy to get pregnant, so there is a good chance that you will not be able to get pregnant, but I have always said two words, possible, that is, there are exceptions to everything and there is a miracle, and you are now that exception, that miracle."

Understood, so this is a probability issue for her.

One hundred percent possible, and ninety-nine percent unlikely, she just happened to be lucky enough to stumble upon the one percent with a small probability of almost nothing.

All in all, her luck is no one, I should have known why not to buy a lottery ticket, maybe win the jackpot.

"Then this child of mine ..." Amber pointed to her stomach, "Can I get pregnant in my current body? Will it ..."

Knowing what she was going to say, Elias falsely pressed his hand, "No, your uterus has not yet fully recovered, but it has mostly recovered, and the recovery is so good that it can barely support you to keep this child, but to successfully give birth to this child, you will pay a lot next."

Chapter 1354 Good Luck

"What do I have to give?" Amber rushed to her feet, "You name it, I'll do anything if I can."

"Don't be so serious." Elias looped his arms and laughed: "By giving, I mean that you will have to give a lot of time and freedom to raise the baby in the next days, you can't work long hours, especially in the first three months, you'd better rest in bed, and then eat and rest according to the doctor's advice, as long as the first three months get through, the later ones won't have to do so, women When pregnant, the first three months are the most dangerous, the highest probability of miscarriage, and you have to be a cut above them."

"Just need more bed rest and listen to the doctor's advice to eat more, right?" Amber clenched her hand, "If that's the case, I can do that."

"As long as you can do it, don't worry, since you want to have this baby, I will naturally help you keep it, after that I will discuss your next plan for raising the baby with the OB/GYN side, and I will make sure that you will succeed in having him." Elias made a promise.

Amber's heart warmed, "Thank you."

"Nothing."

"But, I want to know, is my baby really okay? Didn't I take so many pills before that it really didn't affect the baby?" Amber asked, clutching the corner of her coat, still very uneasy.

Elias lifted his chin, "Do you know why, when you were brought over here, you didn't find out you were pregnant, but only now?"

Amber shakes her head.

This, she really does not know.

"It's simple." Elias shrugged his shoulders, "Because at that point, you wouldn't have been pregnant."

"Not pregnant?" Amber was surprised, "That means the baby I have in my belly right now is only half a month old at most?"

"Yes." Elias did not deny, "When you were sent here, the child in your belly, probably just turned into a fertilized egg, has not yet bedded down, so naturally you were not pregnant at that time, you should have bedded down the embryo after you stopped using the medicine, if that is the case, then naturally this child will not have any problems, so you can rest assured, of course, if you are still like this Of course, if you are still not at ease, wait for the next maternity checkup every so often, you will also know whether the child is healthy or not."

The most important thing is that you have to be able to get a good idea of what you are getting into.

"You are indeed very lucky, well, it's late, you should go back and rest first, I will go and discuss with Director Zhang about your next plan to raise the baby, I will look for you tomorrow, I think you should also want to tell Jared about your pregnancy soon, right?" Elias looked at her with a smirk.

Amber was poked by him, some embarrassed smile, "Yes, after all, such a big thing, I always had to hide it from him, not to mention, also let him happy, may help him recover."

Make Jared happy?

Elias raised an eyebrow.

He believes that this was not a happy event for Jared, but a scare.

What was in the guy's mind, he, a part-time psychiatrist, knew exactly what was going on.

That guy, sex life will be postponed again.

Elias pressed his lips against his mouth to block out the smile.

That said, he has been laughing a bit too much lately, hasn't he?

Amber said goodbye to Elias and left the maternity ward, heading for Jared's room.

All the way, she was in a good mood, all the worries of pregnancy that she was worried about before were gone, so now all that was left was to be happy, so happy she was humming a song.

If not for her sanity, she even wanted to jump twice to express the mood of the moment.

At that moment, in the ward, Jared heard the sound of singing from outside, and his closed eyes opened suddenly, turning his head to look at the door.

The next second, the door opened, Amber walked in, just closed the door and turned around, and met the man's wide open, bright spirit of black eyes.

She was startled, then patted her chest, "Jared, what are you doing, you scared me."

Jared pursed his lips, "I'm not doing anything, I'm just watching you, but you, you didn't notice it yourself, but came to blame me."

He was a little aggravated.

Amber's mouth dropped open, speechless.

After all, this matter, it is indeed her righteousness.

"Forget it." Amber waved her hand and walked over towards the hospital bed, "Why are you still awake? I told you to sleep without waiting for me, but you disobeyed me again."

"I didn't disobey, I just couldn't sleep and was worried about you." Jared picked up the remote control, lifted the hospital bed straight up and sat up to return.

Amber sighed, "Well, it's my fault for worrying you."

She walked over and took the man's hand, "But don't worry about it now, I'm fine."

"Well?" Jared lifted her face with his other hand, his eyes full of concern, "What did Elias say?"

Amber laughed.

Jared saw that she only smiled and did not say anything, and for a while he could not figure out what she really meant, so he got anxious, "Tell me, what is wrong?"

Amber patted the back of his hand, "Take it easy, it's a good thing."

"What's good."

Amber put his hand on her stomach, "I'm pregnant."

The air was instantly quiet, and only each other's shallow breathing could be heard.

Amber saw Jared wood there, the whole person like lost soul, face full of blank look.

What is the situation?

Why is he reacting like this?

In her expectation, when she told him that she was pregnant, he should be happy and excited, and then hold her in his arms, not the way he is now, unable to say whether he is happy or unhappy, like a wooden man anyway.

What is wrong with it?

Amber blinked, indicating some confusion, and gently nudged the man, "Jared? Jared?"

Jared responded, "I'm in, sorry, got lost in thought, what did you just say?"

The knot in his throat moved and his voice was a little hoarse.

Amber repeated what she had just said, "I said, I'm pregnant."

This is it!

She's pregnant!

Jared's pupils flinched and he stiffened his neck to look at her stomach, "Really pregnant?"

"Or what?" Amber gave him a blank look, "I can lie to you about such things? On the contrary, you, when you hear that I am pregnant, this reaction is very strange, not excited at all, why, do you not want me to be pregnant."

She narrowed her eyes and looked at him suspiciously.

The man hurriedly shook his head, "No."

"Then why aren't you happy at all?" Amber expressed her incomprehension.

The man gently embraced her into his arms, "I am not unhappy, I just suddenly heard too shocked, some reaction, you do not think too much."

In the heart, however, the man thinks otherwise.

Happy?

How is he happy.

The promised to wait for him to be discharged from the hospital, the body recovered some, she will be good company for him.

And what happens, she gets pregnant, so does that leave him without benefits?

The more Jared thinks about it, the harder he feels, the more aggrieved he is, but the surface does not dare to show it at all, and can only show a very happy look.

But seriously, he was really very shocked at the fact that she was pregnant.

How did this suddenly become pregnant?

"Did Elias say if it's appropriate for you to be pregnant in your current body?" Jared suddenly pushed Amber out of the way, grabbed her by the shoulders, sized her up for a moment, and asked hurriedly, "Would this baby, for example, put any burden on your body?"

Chapter 1355 Decided To Remarry

He likewise did not forget that she was not fit to be pregnant for two years.

So when he heard she was pregnant, he was even more worried about her health, besides being unhappy that his subsequent benefits were gone.

That's why, he didn't act like he was happy that she was pregnant.

Was he really unhappy that she was pregnant?

No, of course not.

On the contrary, he was happy, after all, it was their child, the fruit of their love.

But he won't be happy if the crystallization comes when it shouldn't and will bring harm to its mother.

"Don't worry, I've asked Elias about all the things you're worried about." Amber looked at the tension in the man's eyes, her heart warmed slightly, then smiled and spoke Elias's words at the time.

Jared was relieved to hear that the baby was officially conceived on the third day after they were rescued from the fire, that it would not be unhealthy, and that Elias would help her to nurture her body so that she could have the baby safely.

"That's good."

That's a relief to him.

"I didn't expect it to be only half a month old." Jared touched Amber's stomach, and his handsome face could not hide his surprise.

Obviously, he didn't expect the child to be so young.

Amber also looked down at her stomach, "Yeah, I didn't think I'd be pregnant either, and I found out in half a month, but it's true that technology nowadays can find out in ten days to half a month."

"It's pretty good at picking its time and knowing to pick after those two days, if it chose to come in your belly within those two days, maybe ..."

The child would have been impossible to keep again.

In those two days, she was washing her lungs and taking all kinds of medicine, if there is a child in her stomach, then the child must not stay.

That's why Jared said the kid would pick his time and come in after those two days.

Amber laughed too, "Yeah, he probably knew it wasn't a good idea for his mom to let him come in those two days, so he was good and waited two days before coming in."

"Not bad for my kid, very smart." Jared lifted his chin slightly, a look of pride on his face.

Amber looked at him funny, "It's not like it's yours alone, it's my child too, why don't you say the child is inheriting my IQ?"

"Yes yes yes, it's inherited from you, and no matter who inherits it, it's our child." Jared took her hand, put it to his lips and kissed it.

Amber leaned into his arms, "How about we tell Lady Georgia about it over the holidays to make Lady Georgia happy too?"

"Good." Jared nodded his head in agreement, "But before that, we have one more important thing to do."

"What is it?"

"Marriage." Jared looked at her, "I know you never agreed to marry me before because you haven't gotten your revenge yet, and I respect your wishes, thinking that we'll get married after you get your revenge, but it's different now, we have a child, so how about we should get married first and give the child a name?"

He had anticipation written in his eyes.

Amber's red lips twitched, her heart somewhat moved.

Indeed, if she hadn't conceived a child, she might still have held out until after her revenge before talking about marriage.

But now the plan has failed to catch up with the change and she is pregnant at this time.

So even if not for herself, for the sake of the child, she should change her mind, or at least, not let the child be born bearing the name of an illegitimate child.

Even after also to get married, but in the eyes of the world, that is also an illegitimate child turned just, after all, how toxic the world's mouth, which is simply do not have to think much about things.

"We can get a license first, the wedding wait until after, after all, the wedding preparation, also takes a long time, can wait until you finish revenge, we are held, then it's not too late, what do you think?" Jared held Amber's hand tightly.

Amber looked at him for a while and finally nodded slowly in agreement, "Okay."

"You agreed!"

"Hmm." Amber nodded once more.

Jared was thrilled, "Great, you agreed, you agreed."

Looking at the man so excited, Amber is also worried that his heart can not stand it later, and quickly called a halt, "Okay, okay, you first take it easy, not just agreed to marry you, need to be so happy? I just found out I was pregnant, but I don't see you like this."

"Of course I'm happy that you've agreed to marry me again, such a great joy, and besides, it's a double joy, isn't it?" Jared held both of her hands tightly in his, fondly refusing to let go.

Amber shook her head in amusement.

"Let's get our license tomorrow, okay?" Jared asked expectantly.

Amber was slightly surprised, "Tomorrow? Isn't that a little too soon? Besides, you can't even leave the hospital, so you can't take tomorrow off, right? If you do, you won't be able to take time off for the holidays."

"No leave, I'll have Ben call someone over to get us a pass." Jared shook his head and said very generously.

The corner of Amber's mouth twitched, "Well, no shame in that."

It is true that she is still a little too limited in her thinking and actually did not think that she could invite someone here to give them a marriage license.

This time, another long insight.

"So, you're okay with that, right?" Jared finally confirmed to Amber.

Amber laughed, "Do I have an opinion you take?"

"As long as it's reasonable, why not?"

"That's fine, it's too fast to get a license tomorrow, I want to hold off for a couple of days, okay?"

"That won't work!" Jared instantly sank his face into a veto.

The reason why he set the time in tomorrow, is afraid that she will backtrack, so I thought to find a point to finish the certificate or early peace of mind.

But she was thinking of talking about it in a few days, so how could that work?

He wants to remarry her, have been thinking for a long time, and now she finally let go of the promise, then he still hesitate what, of course, the sooner the better ah.

Not a minute can be delayed.

Looking at the man's face determined not to back down, Amber helplessly rolled her eyes, "That's not on the line, so what else can I have to say, my only opinion is this, and you don't agree, then there is none."

"You can mention anything else, just don't mention this, like, what you want to wear tomorrow, what makeup you want to wear, and I'll have someone arrange it." Jared wrapped her in his arms and thought about everything that would come with getting his license tomorrow.

Amber listened and listened, the more she listened, the more wrong, "We just get a license, you say this as if we are going to step into the wedding scene."

Jared froze, reacting to the fact that he had said a little more than he should have, but he didn't care, just as a foundation for the wedding afterwards.

He said this.

Amber cried and laughed, then did as the man wished and suggested what she wanted to wear tomorrow.

Jared took note of them one by one and immediately sent a message to Ben, asking him to contact the styling team and the Civil Affairs Bureau, asking them to send someone over tomorrow to apply for a marriage license for him and Amber.

Of course, the most important thing is for Ben not to forget to buy a pair of rings.

Ben this moment are going to sleep, just lying down on the bed saw these messages, immediately the whole person sat up from the bed, a face of disbelief to get the phone to follow, and then re-read one word by word.

After reading it, he took a breath and said, "Oh my God, it's not a blink, Mr. Farrell is getting a license with Miss Reed!"

Boy, this is really a heavy news ah, directly smashed his sleep away.

Didn't Miss Reed always refuse to remarry Mr. Farrell?

Why did you change your mind this time?

What exactly did Mr. Farrell do to finally impress Miss Reed?

Chapter 1356 Beautiful Long Dress

Ben thought for a long time, did not come up with a so, simply do not think more, and hurriedly replied to Jared message, said he knew, tomorrow will be ordered down to let people arrange as soon as possible.

After doing so, he found himself unable to sleep.

How else can you fall asleep?

After all, Mr. Farrell is getting married!

Mr. Farrell has finally impressed Miss Reed and is going to remarry Miss Reed, such a great thing, where can people still sleep!

So for the rest of the day, Ben lay alone in bed and kept brewing sleep, trying to get back to sleep.

However the news Jared brought was so shocking that no matter how he brewed it was in vain, both eyes just stayed open until dawn.

He also simply did not sleep and went to implement what Jared had asked him to do with two dark circles under his eyes.

He first drove over to the Civil Affairs Bureau.

It's not working there yet, but it doesn't delay him from finding the people inside.

Jared's identity is there, Ben explained his intention, and was not rejected, but on the contrary, they are very quick to promise to go to the hospital later to Jared and Amber to apply for a marriage license.

After getting the go-ahead, Ben set off again for his next destination, a jewelry store, to buy a wedding ring for Jared and Amber.

Originally, Mr. Farrell has already hidden Miss Reed in the secret preparation of the wedding dress and wedding ring.

But the wedding dress is still being made, as are the wedding rings, so none of them are lined up for use right now.

The wedding ring that you buy now is only for temporary use, and when Mr. Farrell's specially designed wedding ring is ready, the wedding ring you buy now will not be useful.

After all, the wedding ring that Mr. Farrell had specially designed can be very expensive.

The main diamond is a large pigeon egg pink diamond, unique in the world, and the designer is one of the world's premier jewelry designers.

When the work comes out, it will surely shock the world.

But that's all for later.

The most important thing now is to hurry up and buy the rings for Mr. Farrell and Miss Reed, waiting for them.

Ben is not one to choose a ring, after all, he doesn't even have a girlfriend.

So, his choice of method is very simple and brutal, directly let the store to bring the town's treasure over.

Although the town's treasure is not as valuable as the wedding ring Mr. Farrell had designed, it is a rare piece of jewelry in the world and is worth tens of millions of dollars.

Ben paid straight away, put the ring away and went to another clothing store to buy clothes for the two.

When this series was done, he then finally drove his car and rushed to the hospital.

He arrived just as the Civil Service was arriving, and several people happened to be walking together toward Jared's hospital room.

When they arrived, Amber and Jared hadn't even woken up yet and were still cuddled up together, sleeping soundly.

As for the reason, it's all Jared's fault.

Last night thought a lot about marriage, and finally rose directly to the birth of a child, what the child's name above.

Amber listened several times and wanted to interrupt him and tell him to stop, after all, these things are still early, there is little need to talk about them now.

But looking at the man's excited look, she really couldn't bear to interrupt him, so she let him talk and listened patiently.

Then accidentally forgot the time, until the second half of the night two people fell asleep, a sleep until now ...

Therefore, when Amber was woken up by Ben and the others, her whole face was red and embarrassed.

As for Jared, this guy has always been quite thick-skinned and did not feel any embarrassment, but looked forward to it.

Because he was finally about to enter into marriage with the love of his life.

"Since we're here, let's get started." Jared leaned back and sat on the head of the bed, and although the face was calmly instructed, the anticipation and impatience in his eyes were actually about to overflow.

Amber rolled her eyes, "Wait a minute, what's the hurry, wash up and eat breakfast first."

This guy, in order to get a license, do not even intend to wash the face?

Jared heard Amber's words, then reacted, oh, have not washed oh.

Over there, several people from the Civil Affairs Bureau were a bit amused.

In fact, they've seen a lot of them like Jared.

To get married, some are in tension, some are out of anticipation, some are out of impatience, so they will be more or less make some jokes.

But this is not a bad thing, the wedding is a good thing, in the day to make some jokes, in fact, is also to add some hilarity to the license well.

"Mr. FarrellMiss Reed you don't have to rush, you can come when you're done first, we can always wait for you." The staff member in charge said.

As much as Jared wants to get it done now, he's more concerned about Amber's belly than getting a license.

She's hungry, so let's finish breakfast first.

"Ben, take them to the lounge and prepare tea and snacks, we'll be over there in a few minutes." Jared looked to Ben and instructed.

Ben answered, left two bags and walked away with a group of people.

Amber then helped Jared out of the hospital bed and went to wash up with him.

She washed up as usual and came as she should.

And men are different, washing up fast, as in a war.

Obviously he has never been a very delicate man, but this time, in order to get his license faster, he didn't even want to be delicate, and after washing up, water splashed everywhere.

It was funny to watch Amber.

Afterwards, eating breakfast is also, usually drink milk slowly and elegantly, the movement can not.

But this time, breakfast was fixed in three.

She was not satisfied after eating by herself, and kept urging her to hurry up and eat, making Amber funny and a little angry at the same time.

This guy, in order to get a license, are almost demonic, right?

Shaking her head helplessly, Amber speeds up the pace of her meal.

After breakfast, Jared handed her the clothes Ben had bought.

"See if you like it, and if you don't, have Ben go buy it again now." Jared said.

Amber opened the bag and took the dress out and looked at it, it was a long sleeveless dress in a crescent color.

Amber's eyes instantly lit up, "It's beautiful."

There is no woman who does not like long dresses, especially or such beautiful long dresses.

However, because long skirts are very demanding on the body, there are many women who like long skirts, but very few who can really wear them out.

She is quite confident about her figure, but she has never bought a long dress to wear before.

Just because there is no such opportunity, because before the Farrell Family, she was in the apron every day, where there is the opportunity to wear.

Now it is busy with work every day, and long dresses have even less opportunity to wear.

"Like it?" Looking into Amber's sparkling eyes, Jared already knew the answer, but opened his mouth to ask anyway.

Amber nodded repeatedly, "Love it, it's so pretty, I never thought that Ben would buy a long dress."

At this time, Ben came over, he came to help Jared change, just in time to hear this, smiled and pushed his glasses, "I initially did not know what to buy appropriate, asked the clerk, the clerk recommended, and was worried that Miss Reed you would not like it."

"Love it." Amber nodded hastily, "How could you not like such a beautiful long dress."

"Miss Reed like it is good, then Miss Reed first go to change clothes, just stylist has arrived, they for will Miss Reed you make up to do hair, I will take Mr. Farrell to change clothes to do hair first." Ben walked behind Jared, grabbed the armrest of the wheelchair and said.

Amber hummed, "Okay, you guys go ahead, I'm going too, I'll see you in a bit."

She smiled at the man and headed for the room where she usually rested.

Chapter 1357 Becoming A Couple

The stylist Ben had arranged was already waiting in her room, setting out makeup and make-up tools.

Hearing the sound of the door opening from behind him, the stylist turned around and bowed, "Miss Reed."

"Hello." Amber gave her a small smile as a greeting.

The stylist pulled out the chair in front of the dresser, "Miss Reed please sit down, I'll do your makeup and hair first, and when the makeup and hair are ready, we'll change clothes."

"Okay." Amber also knew the steps before and after, and readily put down the long skirt in her hand, walked over and sat down.

The stylist examined her face and complimented, "Miss Reed has such good skin, not even pores, it looks like only a light layer of foundation will be enough later."

Who doesn't like to be complimented, and Amber certainly does, smiling a little embarrassed, "I'm twenty-eight and my skin is fine."

"Of course, twenty-eight is not old, Miss Reed is still young." The stylist patted her on the back and said she was going to start giving her a pre-makeup skincare routine.

Amber suddenly thought of something and grabbed her hand, "Wait a minute."

"What's wrong Miss Reed?" the stylist looked at Amber with some confusion.

Amber also did not hesitate and immediately asked, "Here's the thing, I'm pregnant, so your skin care products and cosmetics, can pregnant women use them?"

Hearing this, the stylist smiled, "Don't worry Miss Reed, in fact, like us, also often meet some pregnant female customers, so we choose from the beginning of the skin care products and cosmetics, are pregnant women and ordinary people common, in order not to start any trouble, so this Miss Reed don't worry. "

At that, Amber finally sighed in relief and released her hand, "That's good, then, sorry, I was too nervous just now."

"It's nothing, as a mother-to-be, to protect the child in the belly, it's all very normal, have not thanked Miss Reed and Mr. Farrell happy to have a child." The stylist was very upbeat about it.

Amber smiled, "Thanks, go ahead."

"Okay."

Amber closed her eyes and completely gave everything to the stylist.

The stylist was very skilled and soon had her makeup and hair done.

The hair is a classic coiffure style, in order to match the long dress, looking very delicate and nice.

Amber liked it at a glance, looked around and there was nothing to complain about.

The stylist was greatly relieved to see how much she liked it.

It looks like she doesn't need to change it.

"Miss Reed, it's time to change." At that moment, the stylist brought the long dress to her.

Amber was not embarrassed, all women, so she took off her clothes directly in front of the stylist and changed into a long dress.

The stylist was also on hand to assist, helping her with zippers, buckles and whatnot.

"Wow, Miss Reed is so beautiful." The stylist stood across from Amber, amazed.

Amber changed into her high heels and smiled embarrassedly, "Which is so exaggerated?"

"This is not an exaggeration, this is the truth, Miss Reed, you are really the most beautiful bride I have ever seen, you look so good in a long dress now, won't you look even more beautiful in a wedding dress at the wedding?" The stylist said longingly.

Amber touched her somewhat hot face, "The wedding is still early, it will have to wait until later, but thank you for the compliment."

"Miss Reed doesn't have to be so polite, I'm just being honest." The stylist waved her hand.

Suddenly, there was a knock on the door of the room and Jared's questioning voice came from outside, "Amber, are you done?"

"Okay." Amber called back and walked over to see the door open.

In that moment, both were amazed by each other.

Jared looked at Amber, who was wearing a long dress as beautiful as a snow lotus, and his eyes did not move away for a long time, and he looked straight.

And Amber looked at the man wearing a retro suit, less cool and domineering than usual, and more bookish, and lit up the same.

"So handsome."

"It's beautiful!"

The two men spoke in unison.

The two then explained a frost.

Finally, the two reacted and smiled at each other again.

Do they count this as, the most tacit understanding ever?

"Come on, Mrs. Farrell," Jared said, sitting in his wheelchair and extending his hand toward Amber.

Amber smiled and hummed, passing her hand over and placing it in his palm.

Jared was afraid she would take her hand back, and immediately tightened it the moment she put it up.

Amber cried and laughed.

Really, she has promised him, since the promise, naturally neither will backtrack.

He is good, the whole thing as if she will be the next second to backtrack.

"Let's go, Mr. Fu."

The phrase Mr. Fu instantly made Jared's heart flutter.

The two held hands and headed to the lounge to get their marriage license.

On the way, Jared still felt a little guilty, "I'm sorry that I'm still in a wheelchair on a day like today and I can't walk there with you myself."

Amber patted him on the shoulder, "What's the point? You also have no choice but to wait for you to get better, later we held a wedding, you can personally take me away?"

"Yes, I'll do it." Jared promised her as he held her hand tightly.

When the break arrived, Amber and Jared appeared together in the eyes of the crowd, who gave them unstinting praise.

After all, the two are really too stunning and matchy-matchy just from their appearance.

The compliments he and Amber received from the crowd put Jared in a happy mood, and the curve of his thin lips did not subside for half a day.

You can see that he is very satisfied with the crowd so complimentary of their match.

After some courtesy, finally began to receive the card session.

Hand in the ID card account book, then fill out a variety of information, and finally take pictures, get a certificate, oath, a clean sweep.

When he got the red marriage license he had been waiting for, Jared had a big smile on his face for the first time.

He then took Amber in his arms and said with great emotion, "It's so good that you're married to me again."

Amber also gently hugged the man back, "Will you be good to me that time?"

"Will, I will." The man nodded without hesitation, "If I can't do it, let me days ..."

Before he could finish his sentence, his lips were covered by Amber, "Don't say that, it's a good day, why are you saying these things?"

Jared looked at her, "Even though I know these vows are fake and can't be taken seriously and won't be honored, it's from my heart and I don't have to be nice anymore if I'm not nice to you."

"I believe you." Amber closed her eyes.

Two silent embraces.

The surrounding staff and Ben, all quietly watching them, did not mean to disturb the newly minted couple.

It wasn't until the two were almost done hugging and separated that the crowd began to applaud.

"Congratulations, Mr. Farrell, Miss Reed, on becoming husband and wife."

"Thanks." Amber thanked the two men.

Jared was a little more direct, asking Ben to give out gifts to the crowd.

The gifts were all prepared by Ben early in the morning, and each of them was very generous inside.

The staff members were surprised and delighted to see such a good thing.

But they are official people, and they simply do not dare to accept such a gift.

Finally, Jared told them that he had spoken to their leaders, and they dared to accept it with confidence.

After receiving it, the heart is happy, after all, a gift of small 10, 000, their two months' salary it.

As expected of Mr. Farrell, rich people are generous.

And in addition to gifts, there are sweets and some small gifts it.

It was worth the trip.

Chapter 1358 Married

A group of staff members went away joyfully with gifts and sweets.

Only Jared and Amber and Ben were left in the lounge.

Jared also handed a gift to Ben, "This is for you."

Ben's eyes lit up, "Mr. Farrell, I have one too, huh?"

Amber smiled back and said, "They all have them, you are your boss's special assistant, how could you not have them, and you carry much more weight than them on this one."

Although looking at the gift box is relatively small, without those staff members in the hands of a drum.

But in fact, it was filled with checks and designer watches.

Ben happily accepted the gift, "Thank you Mr. Farrell, and thank you Miss Reed."

"You don't have to thank me, there are still things you need to do next, the Farrell Group and Goldstone Co. over there, you also prepare some more welfare and candy to send to them." Jared lightly opened his thin lips and instructed.

After all, he and Amber got married, and as the boss, he naturally had to give out a handful of sweets and benefits to his employees, as a rule.

Not only for everyone to bless them, but also so that their marriage can be smoother.

"Okay Mr. Farrell, I'll make the arrangements." Ben nodded in response and finally thought of something and asked, "So about your remarriage to Miss Reed, do we need to post it online for public consumption?"

Jared looked to Amber with unmistakable anticipation in his eyes.

He did want it to be public, he wanted everyone to know that they were married.

Amber couldn't bear to let him down, plus this kind of thing should have been big and open, no need to hide, so why not say yes.

"Come as you wish." Amber said to the man with a smile.

The man was happy and looked at Ben, "Make it public, and get a raffle to make the net happy too."

"Yes." Ben nodded again, but instead of immediately going to do as he was told, he looked at the two men, wanting to say something.

Jared frowned in displeasure, "What else do you want?"

Ben gave a heated smile, "Mr. Farrell, here's the thing, last night when I found out that you and Miss Reed were getting remarried, I was surprised and stayed up all night, so I was curious as to how you suddenly decided to get remarried at this time."

The original wanted to know why.

Amber laughed and rubbed her belly.

Jared took her in his arms, chin slightly raised, with a very smug look, "Because we're having a baby."

"There's a baby?" Ben stared at first, then understood something and looked at Amber in disbelief.

Amber smiled and gave him a hmmm, proving the truth of what Jared said.

Ben's mouth grew big, and it took him a while to react, and then he also smiled excitedly, "So that's it, this is a really great room, Mr. Farrell, Miss Reed, congratulations."

"Thanks." Amber happily accepted his congratulations.

Jared, however, waved his hand in disgust, "OK, OK, hurry up and go about your business, but also this matter, do not publish it for the time being."

Let's not mention that there is still Connor unresolved, let's say he has other business enemies.

It would be bad if these people knew she was pregnant and started from her to achieve the purpose of striking her.

Ben also knows the priority of the matter, nodded with a serious expression, "Don't worry Mr. Farrell, I know all, then I'll go first."

"Hmm." Jared responded noncommittally.

Ben nodded to Amber again and turned to leave.

Just two steps away, Jared thought of something and mentioned, "Don't call Miss Reed anymore, call her ma'am."

The title "Madam" still makes Amber somewhat embarrassed and feel a little ashamed.

But she didn't speak up to stop anything, she knew that sooner or later she would have to go through this step, and the embarrassment she felt now would have to be overcome.

Ben turned around and slapped his forehead, "Yes, yes, Mr. Farrell reminded me, it's time to change my mind."

Saying that, he looked at Amber in shame, "Sorry ah madam, just did not react in time, also please do not call blame."

Amber's cheeks flushed slightly as she shook her head, "No."

"Okay, now that you know, just be careful in the future, go ahead." Jared waved his hand.

Ben withdrew his gaze and finally left.

After he left, Jared suddenly jerked the marriage license out of Amber's hand.

Amber looked back at him in disbelief, "What are you doing?"

"I'll keep this one." Jared carefully overlapped the two marriage licenses together and put them in the inner pocket of his suit, with a look of fear that others might grab them, which made Amber laugh.

"Was that necessary?" She shook her head helplessly.

Jared, however, told her with a serious look on his face, "Of course there is, it's just proof that we're married and must be put away properly."

"Then why did you take it away when I could have put it away myself?" Amber looked at him funny.

Jared held down the pocket where he put the marriage certificate, "It's not the same, only I can keep it safe for myself, but you're right, it's not safe to keep it on your body, I'll have Ben buy a safe."

He looked like he was seriously considering it, obviously thinking about whether to do it or not.

Amber rushed to stop him, "Okay, okay, the marriage certificate, but also specifically bought a safe to put away, thanks to you to think out, but since you want to keep it for yourself, it will be given to you, butler male."

She laughed as she picked up the man's face and rubbed it.

The man nodded his head very seriously, "I will put it away."

Seeing him pay so much attention to his marriage license and his, she was actually touched in her heart.

"Next ..."

Before Amber could finish her sentence, there was a sound of footsteps outside the lounge and Elias' voice full of confusion, "What are you guys up to? As soon as I came to the hospital I heard the nurse say that you had called a large group of people in the ward, what? Having a party?"

Amber was amused by his comment about starting a party.

Jared didn't bother with Elias, after all, it was his and Little Leaf's big day.

He will be merciful, not with these small people in general.

At that moment, Elias came in and was about to ask what they were doing in the lounge this early in the morning instead of lying in the hospital bed, when he saw them all dressed up.

"What's the deal?" Elias looked at the two men suspiciously.

"You two are dressed like this, you really plan to hold a party in the ward? "

Amber shook her head, "No, we just ..."

"It's just a marriage." Jared cut her off, then held out the marriage license and waved it twice in Elias' face.

The red marriage certificate is so obvious that it's hard to ignore.

Elias froze, "You guys ..."

"Yes, we're married." Jared said, holding out the marriage license again and shaking it, the smugness on his handsome face, so purely undisguised.

Amber cried and shook her head in disbelief.

This guy, is not planning to come to a person, then take out the marriage certificate to shake a circle?

It seems not impossible oh.

Elias raised an eyebrow, "So you two dressed like this and called in so many people to get you a marriage license?"

Jared was noncommittal, "That's right."

"Heh, you two are really good at this, getting married to the hospital." Elias rolled his eyes.

Jared put the marriage license down, then took out his phone and clicked two pictures.

Amber asked, "What for?"

"His arrival reminded me of one thing." Jared pointed to Elias, "And that is that when something as big as our wedding is happening, of course we have to send it to our friends and family in person, we can't just leave everyone out, lest they get upset about it what? Let's send the first one to Cole, and Hayden will do."

With that, Jared turned over Cole's contact information.

Chapter 1359 - Thoughts From All Sides

Amber secretly rolled her eyes.

Dog man behavior she does not know yet?

The name is to tell their friends and relatives the good news that they got married, but in reality, ah, is deliberately to show them off.

This guy, what a childish bunch.

Amber shook her head helplessly and let him go.

Just, for the sake of today is a good day, he wants to play let him play it.

Anyway, Cole will not be angry, after all, now Cole love people, not her.

I just don't know what happened between Cole and Sheila, again.

"You're just going to let him make it?" Elias asked Amber as he glanced at Jared, who was excitedly sending messages.

Amber laughed, "It's okay, it won't cause any trouble, so let him be."

Elias shrugged his shoulders and said nothing more, just congratulations, "Congratulations."

"Thanks." Amber returned a smile, then took a gift out of her bag and handed it to him, "Here, this is for you."

"What is this?"

Elias took it suspiciously and flipped it back and forth, "A gift?"

"Right." Amber hummed, "Jared and I are getting married, how about a gift or candy for friends and family to get everyone in the mood, here's yours."

Elias raised his eyebrows and looked at the gift in his hand, only to find it very rare, "This is the first time I've received a gift."

Since childhood, everyone treats him as a monster and does not care to be close to him.

He knows that on domestic holidays, they like to give out gifts.

He, however, never received a gift or sent him a gift, and he, himself, never cared about that.

Now Amber sends him a gift, it is really his first time to experience such a thing, feeling not only strange, but also a kind of indescribable mood, not annoying, but some hot.

The heart is feverish.

Elias subconsciously gripped the gift in his hand, as if holding not a small gift, but a rare treasure.

Amber saw such Elias, the heart also more or less heartbroken him.

"As you like it."

Elias took the gift away, "I love it, thanks."

"It's nothing, just remember to attend my wedding with Jared when the time comes." Amber said with a smile, deliberately livening up the atmosphere.

Elias nod, "you guys invite me, I will definitely go, well, today is your big day, then I will not disturb, you have your own two people world, of course, his body is still not well now, hug two, other is not allowed."

And he didn't forget to mention it.

Amber's face flushed, obviously embarrassed, smiled sarcastically and responded, "Don't worry, of course we'll pay attention."

"That's good, let's go." Elias waved his hand and turned to go out.

Over here, Jared was still messaging Cole and Hayden when he suddenly let out a smug laugh, "That Cole guy is freaking out and cursing me out."

He handed the phone to Amber to show her, and between the screens it read: Jared you son of a bitch, tell me, how did you lie to Amber?

The corner of Amber's mouth twitched, "What did you tell Cole that Cole reacted so badly?"

Jared's eyes flashed a trace of unnatural, quickly disappeared, bashful and self-effacing back: "did not say anything ah, is normal to say, is the guy himself can not accept, hey, Hayden also returned the message."

With that, he clicked on Hayden's reply.

Amber lay on the man's shoulder and also probe over to check.

Hayden's reply was similar to Cole's, the first one posted, was Jared's name, with several exclamation points after his name, showing Hayden's shock, anger, and disbelief at the moment.

And after the exclamation point, there are a few fierce emoticons, but otherwise, nothing.

But it also shows that Hayden is in a very bad mood.

They were in a bad mood, and Jared said he was in a great mood.

He was very happy to defeat his love interest.

Then Jared, who never likes to talk to people, kept replying to Cole and Hayden's messages at this moment.

Even if they scolded him and said he was not human, he was happy.

Because in Jared's mind, they called him out on it, and that was a sign that they were on an incompetent rampage, which they were.

Neither Cole nor Hayden had news that just today, they could see Jared and Amber getting married.

At that moment, they just felt a blast in their heads, a blank, it took a while to slow down.

For Cole, seeing Amber marry Jared for the second time can't be hard on his heart.

Amber is the girl he has loved since childhood, loved and guarded for more than ten years ah.

However, he was never able to get close to her heart and make a real pair of lovers with her.

Even now he knows very well in his heart that they are impossible, he is determined to bless them and choose to let go.

But when he really saw them get married again, his heart was still as ebullient as a knife.

After all, that is the girl he grew up loving, there is no way to be so open and so quick to completely let her go.

Otherwise, then he wouldn't really love her.

Cole hugged his phone, squatted down and cried.

A big man, crying with a snotty nose and a tear, so that people are also heartbroken to see.

Sheila did not know what happened, just saw him suddenly look at the phone, looking at it like this, heart also more or less guessed, must be related to the chairman.

Only the chairman of the board could touch his heart so much.

Sheila suppressed the sourness and sadness in her heart, covered her stomach and walked over, gently soothing, "Mr. Lyon, are you all right?"

She reached out her hand to touch his shoulder.

But Cole suddenly stood up and looked at her with red eyes, as if looking at an enemy, "Don't touch me!"

Sheila was so scared that her face turned pale and she froze in place, not daring to move, and could only stare at him blankly, not knowing what to say.

Cole, all unaware that she was frightened by herself, perhaps knew, but didn't care, then got up with his phone and left the room.

Looking at the room where she was left alone again, and the aggression she had just suffered, Sheila couldn't help but cry with sadness in her heart.

On the other hand, Hayden is in a similarly unpleasant mood.

From the time he saw the message from Jared to the time he returned it, he just sat on the couch in a daze, like a puppet that had lost its soul, and didn't respond for half a day.

Jayden and the housekeeper came together to see such a Hayden, the heart is also a little worried.

"Young master, how about, you go comfort your little uncle?" The butler looked down at Jayden in his arms and proposed in a whisper, "The girl your young uncle likes got married today and is in a bad mood, just when he needs someone to comfort him, you ..."

"I'm not going." Jayden haughtily lifted his head and refused.

The butler was stunned, "Why?"

"He's useless on his own, and he needs me to coax him? I'm not going to do that." Jayden grunted, "it is, like people aunt, go after ah, he is good, claiming to like people, but never made actual action, just like this, who believe that he really like themselves, foolish to be with him."

Jayden said, looking at Hayden's eyes full of contempt, "Although I am a small child, but I know that someone likes me, want to be with me, then certainly have to pay action to pursue me, but if the other party just verbally say like me, but nothing for me to do, not even confession, is I I also do not with him, such a man is I can not rely on, so I said that the little uncle so he deserved, coaxing also useless."

Chapter 1360 Logan Returns Home

The butler looked at Jayden with a shocked face, "Young master, these, who taught you these?"

A child who is only a few years old actually talks about adult feelings with a head start.

This really has to be a shock.

Jayden blinked, "Who needs to teach you that? Just watch TV and you'll see?"

The butler was speechless.

Jayden added: "Okay Grandpa Butler, let's go, ignore little uncle, he just deserves it, if he had been bolder and gone straight after his aunt, maybe he would have had a chance, but by doing nothing, he is doomed to fail, and now being here in gloom and doom will only make people laugh."

"What the young master said." The housekeeper picked Jayden up, "The young master is indeed too timid, if he were bolder, he wouldn't be sitting here grieving now, it's good to leave him alone to calm down."

After saying that, the old man and the young woman ignored Hayden and left quietly.

Of course, none of this is known to Amber or Jared.

When Jared saw that Cole and Hayden were ignoring him, he was content to put the phone away.

And this time, the news of their marriage, has quickly spread on the Internet, the Internet is a shock and outcry.

After all, the two people did not leak any wind at all, suddenly all of a sudden announced the marriage, which really had to be shocking.

Netizens have speculated whether something happened to them and how they suddenly got married.

But regardless of the speculation, once the Farrell Group released the retweet sweepstakes, all the netizens went to the sweepstakes.

Simply because the Farrell Group gives the netizens benefits that are just too abundant.

There are houses and cars, and cell phones and computers and bags of cash and so on.

Some netizens counted that the Farrell Group at least took out 100 million to send to the netizens as a wedding benefit for their boss and boss's wife.

So how can netizens not be excited to rush to forward, in case the draw is won?

Especially the first place is a high-class apartment ah, in case you win the lottery, then you do not have to worry about the house.

Even if you can't draw a house to draw the second place Mercedes-Benz car is also ah.

All in all, netizens have been retweeting the article and leaving messages on the Farrell Group's website or on Jared and Amber's own social media platforms.

Maybe they talk a good game and get selected, then won't they get rich?

The internet is buzzing, and the employees of the Farrell Group and Goldstone Co. are equally happy.

Because they all received gifts and candy too.

One gift, almost $500. Only Mr. Farrell is so generous as to give so many gifts to thousands of employees.

In other bosses, there are a few candy has topped the sky.

Farrell Mansion, the old Mrs. Farrell also learned from Mrs. Murphy that Amber and Jared had reissued their marriage license, and was so happy that she didn't even take a nap and rushed to call the two of them to ask what was going on and how they suddenly got married.

After all, she had heard Jared say that Amber wasn't going to get married now, at least until she got her revenge.

But now there is no revenge and the two are married, which makes the old Mrs. Farrell have to wonder more if Jared has done something to bully Amber.

When she heard Jared being called by the old Mrs. Farrell, Amber was amused and distressed, then took the phone and briefly explained to the old Mrs. Farrell that she had suddenly changed her mind and had not been coerced by Jared, the old Mrs. Farrell then believed and let Jared go.

After that the old Mrs. Farrell asked the two to come back to the Farrell Mansion for dinner tonight, although not planning to hold a wedding now, but how to say is also married, the family to eat together to celebrate a meal is good.

But Amber declined, lying that she and Jared were going to spend the night together.

Although, the two of them in the hospital ward, and indeed considered to live the world of two people, but the old Mrs. Farrell they do not know that they live this kind of two people, but also thought that the two live and candlelight dinner for two people, suddenly smiling and agreed.

But Amber also promised that she and Jared would go back to Farrell Mansion to have dinner with her on Christmas Day the day after tomorrow, and to tell her the good news.

This made the old Mrs. Farrell very happy.

Although she didn't know what the good news was, hearing that her grandson and grandson-in-law would come back to be with her and get together for dinner was enough to make her happy alone.

Amber then spoke to the old Mrs. Farrell for a while before hanging up the phone.

But not long after she hung up, her own cell phone rang, and when she took it out, it was Logan calling.

This is a bit of a surprise to Amber.

That said, Logan since going abroad to participate in the U-17 Youth Basketball World Cup tournament, almost half a year, are not in the back after the usual tight schedule, but also rarely have the opportunity to contact the outside world.

I didn't expect that this time, the guy actually called her.

"You take it." Amber handed the phone to Jared.

Jared shook his head, "The kid is calling you, answer it yourself."

He said so, what else could Amber say, and answered the phone directly, "Hello?"

"Sister-in-law." Logan's gruff, cockney voice came over the phone, startling Amber.

This guy, the voice changer hasn't passed yet?

The voice, it's really hard to hear.

Jared also heard, disgusted face to the side, indicating that they do not want to admit that the other party is their brother.

"Sister-in-law? Why are you ignoring me?" At the other end of the phone, the youthful and handsome older boy was late in hearing Amber's response and couldn't help but feel a little aggravated.

Amber rubbed his temples, "Sorry, I was just shocked by your voice, I thought it was which duck was quacking, now I just reacted, it was actually you ah."

"Sister-in-law~" Logan became even more aggrieved, his mouth deflated, "I'm not a duck, I just haven't finished changing my voice, so it's a little less good, but it doesn't sound like a duck, right?"

Amber laughed, "Sorry to tease, what's your problem?"

"I'm done with the competition and I'm going back home tonight." Logan smiled and said: "I just got my phone and saw the news that you and my brother had remarried, so I rushed to call here to ask you if it was true or not."

"It's a statement from your brother's company, do you think it's true or not?" Amber gave him a blank look.

Logan smiled again, "That's great, thank you for being my sister-in-law again, now big brother should be overjoyed, right?"

Amber raised her eyebrows, "Your big brother is with me right now, you want to know if your big brother is happy to die, you ask him yourself."

With that, he was about to give the phone to Jared.

As if a scared cat, Logan hurriedly stopped, "Sister-in-law no, I don't want to talk to my big brother, he's sure to ask me about my homework again, I don't want to listen to him nagging."

"I'm sorry, I've heard that." Jared's cool voice rang out.

Logan: "!"

Kam, how come he still heard it?

Logan instantly bitter a face, "Brother I was wrong."

"What's wrong?" Jared narrowed his eyes.

Logan hurriedly smiled with him, "Hey, I shouldn't have loathed homework and shouldn't have said you were nagging."

"Humph." Jared grimaced, "When you come back, I will certainly question you properly about your homework, I need to know, whether you delayed your homework during the game or not, if I know that you regressed in your homework, you should not participate in the NBA league test after the year."

"Don't, brother." Logan immediately anxious, voice are plucked up, seemingly more difficult to hear a few, "brother, I can homework is good, really, you believe me."

"In the end, whether it's good or not, it's useless to talk on the phone now, to actually see the prevailing, okay, let's not talk about it, your sister-in-law has to rest, which has so much time to talk to you on the phone, you hurry back to the country, I'll let Ben pick you up at the airport at night, that's all."

After saying that, Jared simply cut off the phone.