

LLPD Chapter 1421

Chapter 1421 - The Truth Behind The Year

The police officer's family is also not simple, also in politics, and the home base or the Capital.

With that police officer stepping in to protect Hugo, how could he have fought.

Even though Amber was arrested at the time, she wasn't locked up for long before she was released.

He is not willing to ah, Hugo killed his daughter, that is a human life ah, or a human life has not yet had time to open their eyes to see the world.

Why should Hugo be released after only a few days in jail when he killed his daughter?

So he hated, he swore, in this life he and Hugo will not die, either he dies or I die, but also to avenge his daughter, and finally he did, but never thought, his daughter is still alive, and was raised by Hugo!

"That's right, if you don't know, you really should hate, that year, Hugo found that police officer before implementing the plan, told him his plan, at that time that police officer did not agree, finally under Hugo's bitter begging, still agreed, only because that police officer once owed Hugo a favor, after the plan unfolded smoothly, Hugo held The toy lured you to the river, and then threw the toy into the river to make you think that the child had died, to achieve revenge on you at the same time, but also can completely turn Amber into his own daughter, after that police officer then arrested Hugo, Hugo locked up for a few days, and then risked his dismissal, Hugo released."

"So that's how it is, so that's how it is!" Mrs. Gardner murmured one after another.

Trenton didn't say a word, his head down, wondering what he was thinking.

Jared added: "With Amber's company, Hugo's wife soon returned to normal, and Hugo also slowly accepted Amber, treating Amber as his own daughter, the name Amber, is also Hugo specially looked up a lot of dictionary interpretation for her to take, represents the beauty, beauty, happiness, Hugo He hopes that Amber will grow up to be a beautiful and happy woman in her future life, which shows how much he expects from Amber."

"But so what?" Trenton gritted his teeth, "Am I supposed to thank him for that? I didn't let him steal my daughter, I don't need to let him raise my daughter, I love my daughter, my daughter will only be happier with me than she was living with the Reed Family, and I will only give my daughter more love than Hugo ever gave."

Mrs. Gardner also looked at Jared with hatred, "Yes, our daughter doesn't need him to raise her, he stole our daughter and separated our family of three for more than twenty years, we only hate him more than we appreciate him."

Jared is not angry, the corners of his mouth hooked up a mocking arc, "Are you sure you should not thank Hugo? First of all, you should not forget that it was you who first dealt with Hugo, forced Hugo's employees to die, forced Goldstone Co. almost bankruptcy, Hugo stole Amber, just to revenge on you, he was right, even in the end He didn't do anything to Amber, instead he raised her as his own daughter, and let her grow into this wonderful look, but have you ever thought, if you don't deal with Hugo at the beginning, Hugo will steal Amber? If he hadn't stolen Amber, Amber would indeed have grown up around you, but with your spoiling, do you really think that Amber is not Makenna now?"

This statement, completely put Mr. and Mrs. Gardner two questions.

Yeah, if Makayla really grew up around them, with the way the couple spoiled their child, the child would indeed be raised that way by them.

Makenna is an example of this.

They love Makenna, and that's because they treat her as a stand-in for their daughter and as a comfort for their soul, and that's why they dote on her so much.

In fact, they are not unaware that it is not good to raise Makenna like that, nor are they unaware that they are not good people themselves.

But so what, Makenna was not their biological daughter, they raised her, it was just for the comfort of the soul, even if Makenna became that bad, it did not matter to them.

But the mere thought of Amber potentially being raised that way by them was too much for them to take.

This shows that they still have three views in their hearts, know what it means to be bad and good, but also know what is good and what is bad.

The couple has come to this point in their lives and can no longer change.

But they also still want their children to be happy and kind.

So, they really can't imagine how it would be if Makayla really grew up around and became like Makenna.

Looking at Mr. and Mrs. Gardner's reaction, Jared gave a mocking chortle, "Looks like you guys still know that Amber would be bad if she turned out like Makenna, so shouldn't you be thankful for Hugo?"

Trenton clenched his fist in death and wanted to say that he could never thank Hugo in his life, but the words came to his lips, but he could not say it.

At that moment, Mrs. Gardner suddenly walked toward Jared.

"Windy," Trenton saw this and called out to her, "What are you doing?"

Mrs. Gardner looked back at him with tears in her eyes, "Trenton, I miss my daughter, you know, Judy although posing as Makayla back to us, but in fact, my heart has never accepted her, my heart, there has always been no mother-daughter love for her, I did not know how it was, I thought it was me as I didn't know what was going on, but I thought I was too cold-blooded to be a mother, obviously I was expecting to give birth to a child, but after only twenty years apart, how could I not have any feelings for my daughter? Do you know? My heart was beating so fast and I was so happy because I knew the real daughter now."

Trenton's lips twitched and no words came out.

As a husband, he does know how his wife has been feeling these past few months.

In fact, apart from his wife, why is he not like this?

Although he is not as serious as his wife, but many times, he is also not close to Makayla, always feel that there is not right.

He just couldn't figure out what was wrong until now, when he realized that there was a lack of blood between them.

Without blood, what is missing is ultimately.

"Jared ..." Mrs. Gardner came to Jared, her eyes looking at him urgently, "You tell me, Makayla she ..."

"Her name is Amber," Jared corrected her.

Mrs. Gardner's expression was suddenly a little sad.

You know, the name Makayla was decided when she was pregnant.

And today, she is not able to shout like that.

But Mrs. Gardner also knew that they owed Makayla a lot, and really had no right to call her that.

"Okay, Amber, so Amber she ... How is she now?" Mrs. Gardner asked, her hands clasped together tightly.

Trenton is also eyeing Jared intently, clearly wanting to know the answer.

Even if they are ashamed to face this daughter, but they really love her ah.

Hearing that their daughter almost died twice, they are parents, how not excited, how not nervous?

What's more, the one who did this to their daughter is the one they raised.

They have raised two adopted daughters in a row, both of whom have hurt their biological daughters.

Even they, the parents, are the same.

They really aren't qualified and really aren't there to be her parents!

"She's okay for now, for now, and the baby's been saved." Jared looked at Mrs. Gardner and faded back.

Chapter 1422 The Real Choice

Mrs. Gardner was relieved to hear that the baby was okay, but then quickly realized something and asked, "You're saying it's okay for now, so does that mean that Amber isn't really out of danger yet?"

Trenton's expression tightened as well.

Jared raised his chin indifferently, "Yes, her health is very bad, should not be pregnant now, but unexpectedly, so coincidentally, she is pregnant, so she had to be hospitalized now to nurse the baby, originally she only need to stay in the hospital for three or four months, when the fetus is completely stable, then can be discharged from the hospital to recuperate at home, but because Judy so a little, let her body is greatly damaged, after ten months, she can only be in bed until the birth of the child. The next ten months, she can only lie in bed until the birth of the child, and it is possible that this is our last child."

That is to say, after this, Amber can never have another baby.

Mrs. Gardner staggered two steps with a big shock, "How did this happen ..."

Trenton also had a hard time.

But more than that, they were happy, happy that Amber was okay and that their little grandson was okay.

"And Amber, did she, did she inherit my kidney failure?" At this point, Trenton thought of the most important point, staring closely at Jared also asked.

His kidney failure is precisely due to genetic inheritance.

That's why he suffers from oligospermia, and in this life, it's impossible to even have children, or because of luck, he has Amber, a daughter.

Now, his greatest fear is that Amber will also inherit his kidney failure.

Mrs. Gardner was also nervous when she heard this, "Yeah Jared, tell us quickly, did Amber she ..."

"No." Jared shook his head, "I was concerned when your kidney failure flared up that Amber might pass it on, so Elias and I gave her a thorough checkup and also differed on the Lehman Family's genetic history and found that kidney failure in your Lehman Family is only passed on to males, and is still passed on to straight males,. And neither the daughter nor any child born to the daughter will have it."

That is to say, grandfather to father, father to son, and son to his own son.

While grandfather born aunt will not inherit on, aunt born son or daughter will not.

Hearing this, both Mr. and Mrs. Gardner were overjoyed, "Great, great."

"Trenton, Amber doesn't have a genetic heritage." Mrs. Gardner looked at Trenton excitedly.

Trenton nodded, "Yeah, the old sky is open."

All along, he felt that God was not open-minded, why did he have to let him get such a disease.

But now, hearing that his daughter does not have the disease, he is suddenly relieved.

It's funny to say that when he didn't know Amber was his daughter before, he didn't care if Judy would inherit.

But now that he knows Amber is his daughter, he is suddenly worried about whether Amber will inherit on.

It can be seen in his heart, he is the same as Windy, but also in the rejection of Judy, so although good to Judy, but a lot of real concern but not, until now the real daughter appeared, his so-called fatherly love is completely played out.

What we didn't think of in the past, we have thought of now.

"Judy went to Amber to try to get Amber to abort the baby and donate a kidney to you to save your lives." Jared added.

Mrs. Gardner suddenly blushed, "How dare she!"

Even though she knew that Judy was doing it to save her husband.

But so what?

Judy dared to put attention on her daughter, and she was just as unforgivable.

That's the daughter she's been longing for for more than 20 years.

Equally angry was Trenton.

He looked at Jared, "So now, the person is in your custody, right?"

"That's right, she tried to harm my wife's life, I naturally can't let her go." Jared expressionless, "My wife's health was already bad, if she aborted the child and lost a kidney, she definitely did not have a life to survive, so such a person, I will deal with it properly, today came over, in addition to telling you this, I just want to know your attitude."

"What do you mean?" Trenton narrowed his eyes.

Jared calmly locked eyes with him, "I want to know exactly how you will react when you find out that Amber is your daughter, whether you will continue to hate her, or whether you will put aside your hatred to make up for her."

"Of course I'm making up for it." Before Trenton could reply, Mrs. Gardner had already spoken excitedly, "I was so looking forward to her arrival, so easy for her to come, but as a mother, I have not raised her, I have not participated in her growth, and even let my two adopted daughters repeatedly harm her, and myself and my husband repeatedly harmed her and bad-mouthed her, I am sorry for her, I This mother owes her, so of course I want to make it up to her, as a mother, and how can I hate my own child."

Trenton did likewise, closing his eyes in pain, "I see where you're coming from, as a child growing up caught in the hatred of both the Lehman Family and the Reed Family, and what kind of a meltdown he will face once he learns his true identity."

Because this is the kind of thing that you can do just by substituting yourself.

Amber was stolen from them as a child by Hugo and grew up around him.

Hugo treats her like a treasure and raises her to be a child with three good values and good morals, and she also grows up not knowing who she is and thinking she is the daughter of the Reed Family.

Even if you know that you are not the Reed Family's biological daughter, but Hugo's adopted child, her heart to Hugo's dependence and gratitude, will only be greater, because she will feel that she is a child abandoned by her biological parents, so Hugo brought back to raise, this nurturing kindness, it is enough to make Amber to the Reed Family more dead, then naturally to Hugo and the Reed Family will be more hatred. The natural enemies of Hugo and the Reed Family will also be more hateful.

And just when Amber is bent on avenging the Reed Family, she suddenly discovers that her enemies are her own biological parents, and at that time, she is faced with a collapse of the world and a mental breakdown.

If Amber had inherited this gene of his without conscience, maybe Amber would not be too devastated, and might even just give up on revenge, and come back to meet them.

But on the contrary, Amber did not inherit his evil side, instead she is very good.

So she can't let go of her hatred for the Lehman Family and can't help but avenge the Reed Family, because she knows gratitude.

But at the same time, the Lehman Family is her real family, and she can't really lay a hand on them, or she'd have the lives of her biological parents on her hands.

That way she will remain in pain for the rest of her life and will never be happy.

So, in order to not face this at all, she will most likely choose to run away.

Finally how to escape, to be able to completely do not have to face, that is naturally death.

Trenton became very emotional and breathed heavily at the thought of his daughter most likely doing so.

Jared saw this, then continued to speak, "it seems that you know what Amber may face after, yes, this is what I came here to tell you, if you really love her, really want to let her live well in the future, I think you should know how to do, Lehman Family and Reed Family two hate, is The Lehman Family and the Reed Family, the hatred between the two families, is unilaterally provoked by you, even if Hugo revenge behind you, there is no actual revenge success, he raised Amber, Amber will be taught very well, you should thank him, but you finally forced him to kill himself, and even the two daughters you raised, also almost several times to kill her, you owe Amber too much, if you want to make up for her, now there is only one chance. I hope you can make a real choice."

After saying that, Jared didn't stay any longer and turned to leave.

Chapter 1423 Trenton'S Decision

Mrs. Gardner also wanted to keep him and ask about Amber.

After knowing that Amber is her daughter, she so wants to know Amber, wants to know Amber's past, wants to know all of Amber's experiences from childhood to adulthood.

And even more, I want to immediately appear at Amber's side, hold Amber in my arms, and tell Amber how much I miss her these twenty years.

She really wants to hug her daughter so badly.

But Mrs. Gardner also knew that both Amber and Jared hated them.

They also had no business leaving Jared behind and asking Jared everything about Amber.

"Sob sob sob ..." Mrs. Gardner sobbed uncontrollably.

Trenton also leaned back against the bed, only to find it ridiculous and ironic.

"Maybe God couldn't stand me either, so he set up a retribution for me some twenty years ago."
Trenton coughed a few times and said in a hoarse voice.

Mrs. Gardner looked up at him, "Trenton ..."

"Everything is my fault." Trenton blamed himself hammering his chest, "If I was not jealous of Hugo, I do not tolerate, today all this, would not have happened, is my fault, if back then, I was not so jealous of Hugo, I would not have stolen Hugo company secrets, Hugo company employees would not have jumped to their deaths, Hugo would not have stolen our daughter, it is Because I was so bad, so God couldn't look down and let Hugo successfully steal Makayla, let Makayla become Hugo's daughter, and then today, more than twenty years later, let us know the truth, in order to let me completely break down."

"Trenton," Mrs. Gardner said as she hugged him.

The couple cried in despair.

The doctors and nurses outside the door saw the situation and were not sure whether they should come in or not.

"Windy, we owe it to Amber to get her to where she is today." Trenton added.

Mrs. Gardner closed her eyes and nodded brokenly, "I know, I know, we're sorry."

"So ... I wanted to do something for her at the end." Trenton narrowed his eyes and looked at her.

Mrs. Gardner hastened to ask, "What do you want to do?"

Trenton let out a long breath, "Jared's purpose for coming today was clear enough, he wanted me to die by my own choice."

Mrs. Gardner blushed, "No, no way!"

She hugged Trenton tightly, "I forbid you to do that."

Trenton gently patted her back, "Windy, in fact, you know very well in your heart what Jared means, and also understand that I am really hopeless, the only hope is Amber's kidney, but she is our daughter, are you really willing to let her use her kidney to save me?"

"I ..." Mrs. Gardner couldn't speak anymore, and the hand that was holding Trenton, loosened a little.

Trenton smiled, "not only you, I do not want to, she is my only child, is the continuation of my life, I love her so much, how can I let her do this, not to mention, she has our grandson in her belly, with these, we can not let her do this, otherwise we are selfish parents, not to mention, we already owe her, how can we have the face to let her save me? How can we have the face to let her save me?"

"But ... I don't want you to be gone, either." Mrs. Gardner was filled with despair.

Trenton is very open-minded, "In fact, I'm tired, I've been jealous of others all my life, are calculating others, but in the end, but got nothing, only got this broken body, I am now like this, is also suffered retribution, is also for what they did in the past, pay the price, in fact, I now also want to open up, Jared is right, I should thank Hugo, he helped us to raise our daughter very well, and then the daughter will really be the second Makenna. Jared is right, I should thank Hugo, he helped us to teach our daughter well, if she really grew up under our knees, she would really be the second Makenna, then the daughter will also have a good end? I don't think so."

Mrs. Gardner can't argue with that.

Makenna ended up like that, not to mention their daughter.

In saying that, if Amber did grow up at their knees, would Jared still be in love with her?

And when the time comes, will Jared still help protect her after what she's done?

Surely not!

Then their daughter, who will be facing a jail sentence.

"Windy, Amber is in a lot of pain, on the one hand, she is suffering from the hatred of the Reed Family, on the other hand, she has to bear the pressure from us, her biological parents, she cannot avenge the Reed Family, she will feel indebted to the Reed Family, but if she takes revenge, it means she has to deal with us, her biological parents, with her own hands. But if revenge means she has to deal with our biological parents herself, she will suffer even more in her heart, both of which will put him in the middle and make her breathless, the best way for today is my death."

Trenton gently stroked the back of Mrs. Gardner's hand, "And even if we really want Amber's kidney, it may not be successful, did not the doctor say, my body, simply can not hold me off the operating table, even if I can, I am not willing to ask my daughter's life for my life, I am not destined to live, if my death, can make Amber completely put down the hatred of our couple, in fact, I think it is worth it, we love our daughter so much, really willing to see our daughter has been hating us?"

Mrs. Gardner shakes her head.

Of course not!

No mother, can accept that her daughter hates herself.

"That's right, so this is the only thing we can do for Amber, if Amber can't let go of the hatred, it's not a good thing for her, she will always be drowning in the pain of Reed Family and Lehman Family, we have done so many things to hurt her, it's time to do something for her, don't forget When she came into your belly, we made a vow to keep our daughter healthy and happy for the rest of her life, but in fact, we didn't do it, we brought her nothing but hatred, nothing but pain, we are not a qualified parent, and now it's time for us to fulfill that promise." Trenton said.

Mrs. Gardner couldn't stop sobbing.

Trenton gave her a hug, "And, maybe after doing that, Amber will be willing to accept us and identify with us? Although I may be gone by that time, you must live to see her have the baby, see our grandson grow up well, and then tell her and the grandson that their father and grandfather were not a good man, but really loved them."

Mrs. Gardner cried sadly.

Trenton then patted her on the shoulder, "Okay, stop crying and bring my phone over here."

"What for?" Mrs. Gardner asked, choking back a sob.

"Call the lawyer." Trenton said, "I'm going to change the will. I originally thought Judy was our daughter, so I've already made a will and given her everything, except the one I left for you."

Because of the deficit, he divided his estate into three parts, one of which he gave to Mrs. Gardner for the rest of his life as retirement money.

The other two, on the other hand, were given to Judy.

Thinking that he had not given her fatherly and motherly love for the first twenty years of his couple's life, and that she had suffered a lot, he left most of his inheritance to Judy, hoping only that she would not worry about money in the future.

After all, they owed her, and the only way to make up for it was with money.

But now that they know that Judy is not their daughter, but Amber, that natural legacy has to be reworked as well.

In this regard, Mrs. Gardner had no opinion, but when she heard that she would not leave any for Judy, she was still a bit soft-hearted, "Trenton, leave some for Judy, no matter what, she also accompanied us for so long, and also made us feel the joy of heaven, give her two million, as compensation, not to mention, this time she was to save you, only to be caught by Jared."

Chapter 1424 Hayden Arrives

Trenton thought about it and finally agreed to Mrs. Gardner's words, leaving Judy with two million, and the rest, except for the one for Mrs. Gardner, was changed to Amber's name, including the Trident Group.

Although he also knows that the top is still continuing to investigate the Trident Group's mining incident, once the investigation is clear, the Trident Group will face the biggest hit, can two-thirds of the industry can not be saved.

But there is still a third left, and that third, if integrated into Goldstone Co. will also bring Goldstone Co. a huge help, and maybe Goldstone Co. will be able to go back to the market.

This is the only thing he, as a father, can give his daughter.

After revising the will to the lawyer on the other end of the line, Trenton hung up and then called Jared again.

Jared was on his way back to the hospital at this moment, when he saw his cell phone ringing, it was Trenton's call, and there was not the slightest surprise on his face, he put it directly to his ear and connected, "It seems that Mr. Gu has figured it out."

"Yes, I figured it out and I'll pave the best path for my daughter, but before I do that, I want to meet her." Trenton said.

Mrs. Gardner also clasped her hands nervously.

After all, it's their daughter, who doesn't want to see her.

Even Jared didn't see anything wrong with Trenton's request and pondered for a moment before returning, "I came to see you today without Amber's knowledge, so if you want to see her, I still need to talk to her, but whether she sees you or not, that's her decision."

"Okay, you just have to bring the word." Trenton nodded.

Jared hummed and hung up the phone straight away.

Ben, who was driving, asked, "Master Farrell, did Trenton really figure it out? Really feel like doing that?"

Jared rubbed his temples, "He will, his feelings for Amber are not faked."

"I really did not expect him to accept Miss Reed as his daughter so quickly, I thought there was still hatred and misunderstanding between the two people, even if Trenton is her daughter, it is impossible to accept Miss Reed so quickly, I did not expect that I still underestimated him." Ben drove the car and said.

Jared lightly open thin lips faintly said: "very simple, because his life, originally a child will not have, is a miracle to let him have Little Leaf this daughter, so he will look at this daughter as his own eyes that pampered, even if this daughter and he has a grudge, he does not care, he only knows, that is his daughter on the line. "

If it were him, he would probably do the same.

After all, as a father, love their children is nature, although the child has a grudge against themselves, but this is their parents caused by themselves.

And you can't blame the kid.

"Miss Reed, in fact, is still happy." Ben sighed, "The two pairs of parents she met, both treated her well, it was just a matter of fate."

Jared was non-committal.

Indeed, the creation of the world.

"Master Farrell, do you think that Mrs. Farrell would agree to see Trenton and the others?" Ben asked again.

Jared looked out the window, "I don't know, it's up to her to decide, and I support her in whatever decision she makes."

After that, the car was quiet and no one spoke.

Jared leaned back in his seat, closed his eyes slightly and took a nap.

Ben saw him like this in the rearview mirror and turned the car noise reduction on so that he could rest better.

Soon, the hospital arrived.

Jared didn't need Ben to wake him up, he opened his eyes himself, apparently, he wasn't asleep at all.

After Jared got out of the car, he walked straight into the hospital and headed for the hospital room.

When he reached the door of the hospital room, he heard Amber's voice and a man's voice coming from inside.

Listen carefully, who is that man if not Hayden?

Jared's handsome face darkened as he pushed the door in, "What are you doing here?"

Hayden was sitting on the edge of the hospital bed with an apple in her hand, halfway through, when she heard Jared's questioning, she immediately turned her head to look at it and waved at him joyfully, "Yo, come back."

This looks as if he is the owner of this ward.

Jared's handsome face got better, "I asked you, what brings you here?"

He asked again.

Hayden took a few bites off the rest of the apple and threw the core in the trash before saying, "Of course I'm here to visit Amber, what else would I be doing?"

Amber covered her lips with a smile.

Jared walked over and sat on the edge of the bed, declaring his sovereignty and taking Amber into his arms, "I mean, how did you know we were here? If I remember correctly, this thing about us being in the hospital, it wasn't publicized or told to anyone, right?"

"You guys didn't announce it out, so I can't just call and ask myself." Hayden smiled at Amber, "Before I came back from my expedition, I called Amber and said we should have dinner together, but she said she was out of the country with you, so the meal had to be postponed. I came over."

Jared looked over at Amber, "Why didn't you tell me he was here?"

"It's not like it's someone else, it's your friend, so I didn't tell you." Amber smiled at him.

Jared grunted, then said to Hayden with a disgusted look on his face, "Okay, now that you've seen it, you can go."

The corner of Hayden's mouth twitched, "Come on, I've been here less than ten minutes and you're kicking me out, are you like that?"

"It's been long enough to delay our break, come on, hurry up." Jared said, getting up straight away, dragging Hayden up from the chair and pushing him towards the outside of the ward.

Hayden had no choice but to go out, but did not forget to turn back to Amber and said, "Well, I'll leave this time, and I'll see you next time."

"Okay, bye." Amber waved goodbye to him.

When Jared saw this, his face became even darker, and in the end he pushed Hayden directly out the door.

Hayden almost hit the opposite wall and turned back around before giving him the middle finger, "Jared, you don't talk about martial arts."

"You came over here to see my wife in private and you made sense?" Jared said coldly.

Hayden bristled, "It's not like I'm going to do anything."

"That's just as well, I didn't do anything to you either, I just threw you out." Jared stood in the doorway, a tall figure, as if he were a god of doors.

Hayden rolled her eyes, "Yeah, yeah, yeah, I can't talk to you."

He straightened his clothes, then his expression got serious, "Jared, I'm here, besides visiting Amber, I'm looking for you for something, is Judy here with you?"

Jared narrowed his eyes, "Why are you asking this? What does this matter have to do with you?"

"Of course there is." Hayden looked at him, "Don't forget, although Judy was planned by Amber and I together, but I found the person, now she suddenly disappeared, the police side also did not move, so I guess, can make the police hold back, except for us, the official, only you, what do you really want?"

He asked this, not that he was worried about any Judy.

He was just afraid that Jared would mess up and get into trouble.

Jared's thin lips pursed into a straight line, "Since you asked, then I'm not going to hide it from you, Judy almost made a big mistake and caused Amber to die twice, so do you think that I shouldn't have her arrested?"

Chapter 1425 Hayden'S Problem

Hayden paled, "What? She almost got Amber killed twice? What the hell is going on here?"

All he could feel was his mind going haywire.

Jared also did not sell, and directly said all the things in the original.

Hayden took an incredulous step back after hearing this, "Amber ... I can't believe it's the daughter of Trenton?"

"Exactly." Jared looked at him, "In fact, you should have thought of it long ago, no. From the time that necklace was in Amber's hand, you should have thought that there might be something wrong with her identity, if Hugo really killed Makayla back then, why did he leave the necklace behind? Is it still left as a souvenir?"

That said, Hayden had nothing to say.

Yeah, the daughter necklace being in Amber's hands would have been very suspicious.

But they, however, none of them to think deeply about the problems behind this.

"How did things get to be like this?" Hayden only felt more confusion in her head, "No wonder you said that Judy almost killed Amber in one body, how could she not be irritated when she found out who she was."

This kind of thing, if anyone can not stand ah, let alone or is pregnant, the health of the increasingly bad Amber body.

Not dying on the spot would have been a blessing from God.

"This thing, Trenton and the couple know about it?" After a long time, Hayden then regained his voice and looked at Jared and asked.

Jared leaned against the cold wall, "Got it, just learned it today, I went and told them myself."

"Why?" Hayden expressed confusion, "Isn't it enough for Amber to know about this, why do you want Trenton and the others to know?"

"Because I wanted to see how Trenton would treat Amber and if he would make his own choices for Amber."

"What do you mean?"

Jared looked at him indifferently, "Little Leaf knows her identity is so broken, carrying the hatred of the two families, and carrying the complex emotions of her biological parents, so she does not know whether she should avenge the Reed Family or not, if not, she is sorry for the kindness of the Reed Family's upbringing, if revenge, it Even if she doesn't, she will be depressed for the rest of her life and will not be free. I didn't want to see my wife end up in such a painful situation, so I told all this to Trenton."

"And then what?"

"And then." Jared pursed his lips, "I want to see Trenton after learning that Little Leaf is his real daughter, will still have a fatherly love for this daughter, if he will, he knows what kind of pain Amber will face now, in order to prevent Amber from facing such pain, he will certainly have the opportunity to do something for Amber The most important thing he should do is to give up to continue to save, as long as he chooses to die, then Amber's hatred for the Lehman Family will be completely dissipated, there will be no more thoughts of revenge, there is no need to feel the pain of hatred for the Lehman Family and Reed Family. "

Hayden finally understood his realization and nodded, "According to you, then indeed Trenton should be made aware that Trenton's death in exchange for everyone's peace would be a very cost-effective solution indeed, but would Trenton be willing?"

That's Hayden's biggest worry.

You know, Amber grew up in the Reed Family no matter what.

If Trenton is filled with hatred for himself because Amber was raised by an enemy, and thus has no father-daughter love for Amber, then Jared's calculations will not work.

So now, what he is most worried about, is whether Trenton agreed to this matter or not.

"He agreed." Jared's answer made Hayden's anxious mood, all of a sudden, become excited.

"What do you mean, Trenton agreed to it?"

"That's right." Jared nodded, "I got a call from Trenton when I left his place and he agreed, but before that, he wanted to meet Amber."

"He actually agreed." Hayden clasped her hands together, happy and a little surprised at the same time, "I didn't expect that Trenton he didn't mind that Amber was raised by an enemy or that Amber had hatred for them in her heart, and agreed so readily."

"That's probably the only good thing about Trenton." Jared pursed his lips and said lightly: "I have to say, we underestimated Trenton, always thought that this calculating, narrow-minded, and jealous not to allow people, all over the body is full of flaws, can not find a merit, but did not expect, he is so valued affection."

This was expected and unexpected by all of them.

"But that's good, it's only good for Amber if he accepts her, but this is something that Amber knows about?" Hayden asked.

Jared shook his head, "Haven't told her yet, but I'm going to talk to her later."

"In any case, it is better to tell her, after all, is the biological parents, although between a lot of things across, maybe she will not choose to identify with Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, but in the end is the person who brought her into the world, it is likely that this time do not see, later will not see."

"I know, I'll say it, but in the end I support her in whatever she will choose." Jared said lightly.

Hayden nodded, "Indeed."

"All right, you know what you need to know, you already know it, there's nothing else, so go back." Jared started to kick people out.

The corner of Hayden's mouth twitched, "Wait a minute, you can let me go check on Judy."

"Watching her do what?" Jared narrowed his eyes.

"She's at least someone I found, and anyway, I, a former employer, should go see her, and I have some questions I want to ask her." Hayden returned.

"What's the problem?"

"Of course I want to ask her if she regrets the choice she made at the time. Don't worry, she almost got Amber killed, how could I have let her go."

Jared looked at him steadily for a moment, waved his hand and got his bodyguard to take him.

Jared then closed the door and returned to the room.

Amber saw him coming back and put down the phone in her hand, "Sent the man away?"

"Hmm." Jared walked over and sat down on the edge of the bed, taking her into his arms smoothly, "Why are you looking at your phone again?"

"I'm bored, I can't just not look at it all the time, sometimes I want to know what's going on in the outside world." Amber smiled at him.

Jared rubbed her face and had no intention of taking her phone away.

Although not approve of her playing with the phone, worried about radiation or something.

But like she said, it's not really possible to keep her from playing, that would be too extreme again.

"Honey, I want to talk to you about something."

Jared held her against the bed.

Amber also obediently rested her head on his chest, "Say, what is it."

"Instead of going to the group today, I went to Stillwater General Hospital," Jared said.

A hint of confusion appeared on Amber's face, "Stillwater General Hospital? What are you doing there?"

Could there be someone being treated at Stillwater General Hospital who goes there to see patients?

Seeing the puzzlement on her face, Jared pursed his thin lips, "Trenton is at Stillwater General Hospital."

Amber's pupils suddenly shrank, not expecting to suddenly hear the name Trenton.

Jared felt the woman stiffen in his arms for a moment and sighed, "Honey, take it easy, calm down first, okay?"

Chapter 1426 He Wants To See You

Amber was silent in his arms for a while before she relaxed her stiff body, "I'm not excited, it's just a little complicated to hear that name all of a sudden."

If it was before, when she heard this name, she would only be filled with hate.

But now, after knowing that he is her real father, she hears this name, in addition to there is still hatred, more is complicated, is not sure how to face.

Even, there is escapism.

But where Trenton did not have so much affection for Makayla, her daughter, she would not have done so.

But it's Trenton ...

"I know." Jared gently patted Amber's back.

Amber pulled the man's shirt tighter, "Why are you going to see him?"

Intuition told her that he went to see Trenton, it must be because of her.

Sure enough, Jared's following answer confirmed her suspicions.

He gently stroked her, "I did it for you, so after giving it some thought, I decided to see Trenton."

"You told him who I was, who I was?" Amber looked at the man.

Other than that, she couldn't imagine what his reason was for going to see Trenton. It couldn't be because Trenton was her father and he was visiting his father-in-law, could it?

Are you kidding me? Not to mention her mixed feelings about Trenton, not even willing to meet Trenton.

How could he, a man who had no blood ties to Trenton and instead agreed to hate Trenton, go to see Trenton.

Let's just say that he went to see Trenton and only possibly told Trenton all about it.

Fittingly, Jared nodded slowly as Amber watched, "Yes, I told him."

"Why?" Amber clenched her hand.

Jared did not conceal, directly spoke back: "Because this matter, can no longer be hidden, so it is better to simply pick all clear."

"And then what?" Amber stared intently at the man, "What was their reaction?"

She suddenly wondered how Mr. and Mrs. Gardner would feel when they learned that she was their daughter.

Should we continue to hate her as we did before, or ...

"They're happy." Jared replied.

Amber's pupils quivered, "What? Happy?"

She was in some disbelief.

Jared nodded, "Yes, they are very happy, to be honest, at that time, when I saw it, I also felt a little surprised, even if they love their daughters, but if they hear that their daughters, in fact, are the enemies they have always hated, or raised by the enemies, the mood should be more or less complicated, but Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, indeed accepted it without feeling complicated for too long, and they were very happy and excited, especially Mrs. Gardner, and asked me a lot of things about you at that time."

"Yeah? ..." Amber's mouth opened, her voice was a little dry, and there was an unspoken feeling in her heart.

Happy?

Perhaps there is. There is no one who does not like to hear that his or her biological parents are affectionate towards him or her.

But at the same time, Amber's stress level has increased.

Simply because the more Mr. and Mrs. Gardner became attached to her, the more she didn't know what to do.

"You told her?" Amber asked, lowering her eyes.

Jared shook his head, "No, there was a lot about you that I didn't tell her, I just told her that you were fine now and that the baby was saved and she was happy and relieved."

"Yeah." Amber bit her lip, feeling even harder inside.

"Why did you tell them who I am?"

That's the answer she wants most right now.

Jared stroked her hair, "Because I wanted to know exactly how they would feel about you and whether they would make sacrifices for you when they learned that you were their daughter."

"What do you mean?" Amber looked at the man.

The man also did not hide her, and directly said what he meant, "I want to know, Trenton will not choose to give up treatment for you, if he really loves you as a daughter, he knows the pain you face as a daughter, will naturally choose to give up treatment to end his life early, so that you do not fall into the Lehman Family The Lehman Family and Reed Family feud, can not extricate themselves from the pain of life."

"What, you actually fight with this purpose? You ..."

Jared forehead against her head, "wife, you also do not think I am cruel, Trenton harmed your father, harmed Goldstone Co. employees, but also harmed so many people in the mine, he is a heinous sin, even if he is not sick, he will be a death sentence later, and he now has a disease, this disease would have been incurable, I did not let him commit suicide, but I did not let him commit suicide, but let him give up treatment, waiting for the disease to take him away, is already will be humane, you should also understand, right? And this way of dying is the most decent way to give him."

Amber couldn't speak.

Because she knew that what the men said was true.

With all the crimes Trenton has committed, the death penalty is definitely a no-brainer.

Instead, they gave Trenton the option to give up treatment on his own and wait for the disease to take him away, meaning that they had no intention of calling the police or sending Trenton to jail.

Instead, Trenton was left to wait for his own death.

It was indeed the most dignified way for Trenton, a man who had committed a heinous crime.

But ...

Jared seemed to see what Amber was thinking, put her hand to his mouth and kissed it, "If he really loves you, he knows that we are doing this for his own good and to do his last filial duty, and he should he is doing this to make amends for all the harm he has done to you as his daughter in the past."

Amber closes her eyes as tears flow down her face.

Even though she hated Trenton in her heart, she had mixed feelings when she knew that Trenton loved her so much as a daughter.

"Not to mention, Trenton wasn't going to live much longer." Jared added.

Amber choked up, "I know, I know ..."

"He agreed."

"What?" Amber looked up at him sharply, "You said he ..."

"Yes." Jared nodded, "Knowing where I was coming from when I went to him, he didn't have to think long before he agreed, he was willing to give up his life for the sake of it, and he wanted to make it up to you."

"He ... He really agreed?"

Jared hummed, "Really, but he said that he wanted to meet you, don't you? Willing to meet him?"

Amber bit her lip, "I don't know."

If Trenton is still a simple enemy, Trenton wants to see her, she may agree, anyway, this enemy will not live long, she will be the past to see the miserable end of the enemy.

But now that she learns that Trenton is her real father, or a real father who loves her, she suddenly doesn't have the guts or the courage to meet him.

Because she didn't know what to meet him as, the daughter of the Reed Family, or the daughter of the Lehman Family?

After meeting Trenton, how should I face him, like I did in the past, or should I go with the same attitude as I did with my father?

She couldn't even do that, she thought, could she?

Amber buried her face in the man's arms, trying to hide herself like an ostrich.

Jared saw the situation, not the slightest surprise, "do not know it does not matter, think about it, you want to see, do not want to see, I support you."

"What about you?" Amber's voice was muffled from his arms, "Do you want me to see him? Should I see him again?"

She is now eager to hear the thoughts and opinions of others.

Because she didn't want to face it alone, it would be too depressing.

Jared looked at the top of Amber's head, "Do you want to hear the truth?"

Chapter 1427: Missing My Daughter

Amber bit her lip, "If I didn't want to hear the truth, why would I ask you specifically?"

Jared gave a laugh, "That's a good point, well, I'll tell you what I think then."

"Hmm." Amber nodded.

Jared looked at the ceiling, "Honey, I'd actually like you to meet him."

Amber's pupils contracted slightly, how did not expect that the man's true words were actually such.

"Why?" She looked at him incomprehensibly, "You know the feud and hatred between Trenton and I, and the complicated relationship I have with him now, why would you think that I should go see him?"

"Because he's your real father." Jared withdrew his gaze from the ceiling and landed back on her face, "Because, he is a father who really loves you, if he didn't love you and minded that you were raised by an enemy, of course you could choose not to go and meet him, but he is not like that, on the contrary, he doesn't mind at all, he just knows that you are his daughter and he is happy, just for that reason, you should also Go and meet him, I believe that in your own heart, in addition to hatred for him, but also for these reasons, very complicated for him, right?"

This completely hit Amber's heart, her lips opened and she didn't answer.

Jared gently stroked her head, "So go and meet, he doesn't have many days left, of course I'm not supporting you to identify with him, I just want you to have no regrets later and not let yourself regret."

"Why do you think I'll regret it?" Amber clenched her hand.

"Because I know you, you always soft-hearted, Trenton is still alive, you can not let go of the Reed Family and the Gardner Family two hatred, but once he died, the Reed Family and the Gardner Family two hatred will naturally Once he dies, the Reed Family and the Gardner Family hatred will naturally fade away, the pressure on you is gone, and at that time, you may think of Trenton, think of this very loving, but never raised you, and even hurt your father, and you will know that he did not raise you, he hurt you, all because of the twenty years of grudge, because you were stolen, but you know that if you had not been stolen, you would be held by him In the heart of the hand, as precious as spoiled grown up, his love for you, absolutely no less than Hugo, and even more, you will think of this, and thus generate regret, generate regret not to see him at last."

Amber closed her eyes and the tears flowed even harder.

Jared patted her back, "Don't cry, I'm telling you this, not to pressure you, just hope you can figure it out, don't leave regrets for the future, you can disown Trenton, but you should meet him, so that even in the future, when you think of him again, you won't feel regret."

"I ... I'll think about it." Amber said with a choked voice.

Although she knew the man had a point, there were too many things separating her from Mr. and Mrs. Gardner for her to immediately agree to meet Trenton just by listening to his words.

She had to calm herself down and listen to her heart and hear what was going on inside.

Jared knew this too and reached over to turn the light off, "Okay, it's okay, there's still time, take your time to think about it no rush, go to sleep."

"Hmm." Amber nodded her head.

The next day, Trenton woke up early in the morning for a rare occasion.

Mrs. Gardner was still a little surprised to see him awake so early and in such good spirits, "Honey, why are you awake so early?"

You know, Trenton since the aggravation of the disease, twenty-four hours a day, he is awake, at most, only three or four hours, but also basically concentrated in the afternoon.

It's still very rare to see someone wake up on their own early in the morning like this.

"Couldn't sleep." Trenton flashed a weak, pale smile at Mrs. Gardner, "I'm waiting for the call."

With that, he looked to the phone sitting on the side.

Mrs. Gardner followed suit and instantly understood whose call he was waiting for and tensed up, "Trenton, do you think, Amber, she'll agree to see us?"

Trenton's lips twitched, "I don't know, that kid's not like us."

He gently shook his head, "We have done a lot of things to hurt that child and raised two adopted daughters, also did to her, so her hatred for us will only be much more than we had before we knew her identity, even if she now knows that we are her real parents, she will not be like us, immediately put down all the hatred and openly accept us, so she does not. She will definitely see us, she resents us in her heart."

Mrs. Gardner covered her face in pain, "It's all our fault, it's all our fault, we didn't protect her, we didn't keep an eye on her, that's why she was carried away by Hugo, and it's also our fault as parents for not recognizing her early on, otherwise none of this would have happened now, Trenton, you say, why couldn't we recognize our own daughter? Obviously she looks so much like her mother-in-law, why didn't we suspect it in the beginning?"

"Because of Hugo," Trenton sighed, "who would have thought that Hugo, who hated us so much, would not have killed our daughter and raised her well."

If it were him, he would never have raised the daughter of his enemy like Amber did.

So he took it for granted that Hugo was the same, before he never thought Amber was his daughter, even if Amber looked like her mother, he thought it was a coincidence.

After all, it's not like there aren't similar-looking ones in this world.

"Trenton, what do you think will happen if Amber really doesn't want to see us?" Mrs. Gardner was anxious and scared.

Trenton's lips mumbled twice, not knowing what to say.

Mrs. Gardner cried sadly, "But I want to see her, I want to see my daughter, Trenton, I was so happy when I found out that Amber was my daughter. I didn't sleep a wink, all thinking about identifying with Amber, telling her how much I miss her, how much I love her, how sorry I am, Trenton, I love my daughter, I want to see her, really want to see her, I want to give her all the motherly love that I haven't given her in the past 20 years ..."

Looking at his wife crying like this, Trenton's heart is also very uncomfortable.

If his wife thinks so, how can he not?

It's just that he's a man, emotionally and rationally, and a little more restrained than she would be.

But in fact, only he knows, last night a night, he also did not sleep well, he also think if Amber is willing to identify with them, he is a father, and how to make up for her.

Will she call him Daddy?

"Trenton." At this point, Mrs. Gardner put her hand down from her face and looked steadily at Trenton, "If Amber won't come to see us, then let's go see her, okay? We, as parents, owe her a lot, so we should take the initiative to do a lot of things, huh? I want to see her, I want to give her so many gifts, I want to tell her that for the past twenty years, I have been preparing clothes and gifts for her, I ..."

She was halfway through her sentence when Trenton's cell phone, which was sitting on the bed, suddenly rang.

Mrs. Gardner hurriedly looked at the phone, "Is that Amber calling?"

"It's Jared," Trenton said back, gathering his inner tension.

Mrs. Gardner's eyes were obviously a little disappointed, but a glimmer of hope soon rose again, "It's Jared, well, they are a couple, his phone is Amber's phone, maybe he's calling to tell us that Amber agreed to see us, Trenton, you pick up. "

Chapter 1428: An Excited Mrs. Gardner

Mrs. Gardner hurriedly pressed on.

Trenton himself was very eager to answer the phone quickly, so at Mrs. Gardner's urging, even if his hands were trembling and could not hold the phone, he did not want to put his hands down, but chose to reach over with both hands together, took the phone and put it to his ear to answer, "Hello?"

"It's me." Jared spoke.

Trenton's eyes dimmed a bit at the sound of his voice.

This is especially true of Mrs. Gardner.

But Trenton was still sensible in the end and quickly regained his composure, "I know, Mr. Farrell is calling now, is it about what I told Mr. Farrell yesterday?"

On the other end of the phone, Jared glanced at Amber, who had her head down and couldn't see her expression, and lifted his chin lightly, "That's right, I'm calling to tell you that my wife has agreed to meet with you."

Hearing this, Mrs. Gardner immediately covered her mouth and cried with joy, "Amber said yes, Amber said yes, Trenton did you hear that, Amber said yes, we ... We can see her now oooh oooh ..."

Trenton did not speak, but the dim yellow eyes, at the moment, also turned much redder, and there was a faint watery glow in the eyes, "I hear you, I hear you."

It was hard to hide the joy and excitement in his trembling voice.

Amber on the other end of the phone also heard the reaction of the couple, could not help but bite their lips tightly, the heart more and more a kind of indescribable taste, sour, up, but also ... The sweetness.

Even Jared could not help but feel that all this is really God's trick.

If only Trenton wasn't so bad, if only Hugo hadn't stolen the baby.

Amber is definitely no less beloved in the Gardner Family than in the Reed Family.

It's just that it's already happened, and there's no use thinking about it.

"Mr. Farrell, when is Amber coming to see us?" Jared followed Mrs. Gardner's lead in addressing Amber as such.

It is just the first time to address, probably not too familiar, so it can not help but some jams and uncomfortable.

Jared looked at Amber.

Amber's eyes fell on the phone and finally slowly uttered two words, "Tomorrow."

Trenton and Mrs. Gardner heard it.

Mrs. Gardner is even more excited to take the phone, "Well, well, tomorrow, tomorrow, Amber ah you ..."

She was about to ask Amber how she was doing and how her health was, but before she could finish her sentence, she found that there was no sound on the other end of the line.

She hurried to get the phone to take a look at the heel, only to find that the phone answer has been hung up.

Mrs. Gardner put down the phone with a lost voice, "Hang up ..."

"It's okay." Trenton took her hand, comforted: "The child is not used to us, the heart still can not let go of those things, so do not talk to us is normal, she also do not know what to say, hang up to avoid embarrassing everyone, wait for tomorrow to see, maybe many will have the opportunity to say."

After being persuaded by Trenton, Mrs. Gardner nodded, thinking the same, "It's good that many things are more sincere in person than over the phone, but I'm happy that Amber finally agreed to see us, I thought she wouldn't say yes."

"Yeah, I'm content for that kid to figure it out." Trenton nodded.

Mrs. Gardner put down the phone, "No, I have to go buy some food, make something delicious for Amber, I've never cooked for her before, I don't know what she likes to eat, but I saw her buying mugwort cake before, she likes to eat something so bitter, so her taste is similar to mine, I'll make more according to my taste. Trenton, I'm going to buy the groceries first, I'm going to buy them myself, you just stay here and rest well, call the caregiver or call me if you have anything, I'll go first ah."

After saying that, she picked up her bag and hurried out the door, going with extra pleasure.

Trenton saw this and couldn't help but laugh a little.

He knew how much his wife loved their daughter, because of the couple's health, they thought they would never have a child in this life, because they had been in vitro fertilization for so many years, but did not succeed once, and were going to give up, who knew that one day, the hospital called to tell them that in vitro fertilization was successful, embryo transfer can be carried out, no one knows at that moment, the couple how excited, how happy.

After that, his wife managed to conceive a child, and every day she was careful to protect the child, singing for the child and doing fetal education for the child.

The two couples, also incredibly looking forward to the birth of a child, for this reason early to go to the jewelry store to order a gift for the child, the pair of mother-daughter necklace, the necklace contains his father for his daughter into the world, the most beautiful and profound blessings.

But who knows, just a month after the daughter was around, Hugo was taken away, since then, his wife was greatly stimulated, almost crazy, and his mental condition is not good, if not also need to support the Gardner Family, support the Trident Group, perhaps he will also go crazy, after all, it is his only child ah.

In order to appease his wife, he had no choice but to go to the orphanage to choose an abandoned baby about the same size as the child to adopt, with that abandoned baby, his wife's mental state is indeed much better, but he knew that his wife to Makenna the adopted daughter although love is love, but the love is very restrained.

The wife never said that she wanted to cook for Makenna, and never cooked for Makenna, and never bought clothes for Makenna herself, because the wife distinguished clearly the difference between her biological daughter and her adopted daughter, and she was only willing to give all her motherly love to her biological daughter.

He is also the same, he knows that he is not a good person, raised his adopted daughter is also not a good person, but never advised his adopted daughter not to follow his own example, not to become bad, just because she is not his own daughter.

If she were his own daughter, he would never see his own daughter become like himself, because he could still shelter his daughter when he was alive.

But if he dies and his daughter has that kind of personality, who can protect her instead of him?

So he hated Hugo at the same time, his heart had to admit that Hugo taught his daughter very well, taught into the way he wanted, ask yourself, if his daughter is beside himself, he can really teach his daughter as good as his ideal?

Perhaps, not necessarily.

Now that the real daughter has finally been found, all of the wife's motherly love has burst forth. When she was pregnant with her daughter, she said that she would cook for her daughter, braid her hair and buy her clothes.

But after the daughter was stolen, the wife of these promises once made sealed, never done to Makenna and Judy, and now the wife finally brought up that year's promises again, because, her real daughter back ah.

He also finally saw his wife's face when he was first pregnant with his daughter, so happy and joyful. How nice.

Trenton closed his eyes, and a happy smile appeared on his face.

But after a moment, he put away his smile, took his phone and made another call out, "It's me."

"Mr. Gardner," came the assistant's voice on the other end of the line.

Trenton rubbed his temples, "Go to my cottage and bring the safe in my study."

"A safe deposit box?" The assistant was a little puzzled.

Trenton hmmm, "Don't ask much else, just bring the safe."

"Yes." The assistant nodded and hung up the phone.

Trenton put his phone down and sighed.

It's time to bring it all to an end.

Chapter 1429 - A Man'S Words Are Good When He Is About To Die

In his life, he did not do bad things in the first twenty years, but also did not do good things.

In the latter two decades, he was overwhelmed by jealousy and lost his mind, and was even more unable to bear the finger-pointing of others, saying that he could only inherit the family business, while his best friend from childhood was able to start his own business with nothing, and they grew up together, but he could not compare to Hugo in any way, and he was never as good as Hugo.

These words, once or twice does not matter, heard more, he really can not accept, he does not want to admit that he is not as good as Hugo, more do not want to admit that he, everywhere than Hugo.

Obviously when they were young, the two of them were always better than Hugo in their school work, so why are these people saying that he is not as good as Hugo?

He was resigned to the jealousy and eye-rolling that had been inside him for so long that it completely changed him.

Especially after learning by chance that Hugo's employees had improved a technology that, if used extensively, would put Goldstone Co. ahead of the Trident Group.

This is undoubtedly a huge blow to him and undoubtedly makes him feel a sense of crisis completely.

Because he knew that if he let Goldstone Co. surpass the Trident Group, then the people who said he was no match for Hugo would be even more certain that he was no match for Hugo.

So, he made up his mind not to let Hugo use this technology.

Then he arranged for someone to go over there and tried to bribe the employee to jump ship with his skills to the Trident Group, but who knew that the employee was so sincere that he refused to say anything.

As long as Goldstone Co. did not have the technology, Goldstone Co. would not be able to surpass the Trident Group, and those outside would be less likely to say that he was no match for Hugo.

Everything had been planned smoothly, but he did not expect that the employee's mental capacity was so fragile that he actually jumped to his death.

At that moment, he was also stunned and panicked.

Because he never wanted to kill people, he just wanted to steal the technology, did not want to harm people, but the death of that employee, and indeed caused.

The death of a Goldstone Co. employee caused the stock price of Goldstone Co. to plummet, Goldstone Co. was in jeopardy, and Hugo stole his daughter to get back at him.

At first he was thinking that if Hugo returned his daughter, he would be willing to compensate the employee's family for as much money as he wanted.

But before he could get his point across, Hugo actually threw his daughter into the river, which was his only daughter.

From that moment, he completely blackened, thinking that all this fault is caused by him first so what, Hugo can use other methods to retaliate against him, why to touch his daughter, so he vowed that in his life, he will never let Hugo feel better.

So these twenty years, he no longer tripped Hugo all the time, against Hugo, revenge buy Hugo's wife Sharon mother and daughter to Hugo poisoning is also, he wants Hugo pain.

In addition to dealing with Hugo, he was also dealing with Goldstone Co. In the end, Hugo could not stand his twenty-year-long revenge, plus the poison, his mind broke the defense and jumped to his death.

At that moment, he really felt a lot of pleasure ah, because to give his daughter revenge.

But after that day, he was not happy again, even he himself did not know, why not happy, there is always a feeling of blockage in the heart.

Until now, he didn't know why this was the case.

He grew up with Hugo and was best friends, and there could not be any friendship between the two sides.

But all this because he does not allow people, narrow-minded, so he and Hugo drifted apart, and in the end became enemies of life and death.

But really when Hugo was killed by their own, he simply did not want to be so happy, and even a lot of times back to the midnight dream, will dream of Hugo.

He knows that he actually has guilt for Hugo.

But he can't admit it, if he admits it, that means what he did together at first is wrong, he can't accept such a result, and he won't admit that he was wrong.

Therefore, he can only continue to deal with the daughter left behind by Hugo, and only after the Reeds are eliminated and never seen again, he will not be affected by Hugo, and will not dream of Hugo.

He was so convinced that he was doing the right thing that he continued to deal with Amber even after Hugo's death.

The reason why Amber was targeted by Shonna for six years is naturally his doing.

It was his constant having people chew in Shonna's ears that made Shonna hate Amber more and more and that's why he was sparing Amber.

But who knows that all this has become the biggest joke of all.

Amber became his daughter.

Hugo didn't really take revenge on him twenty years ago, didn't kill his daughter, and raised his daughter well and into his ideal.

Does this mean that Hugo has actually always had him as a friend in his heart?

So in the beginning, besides for Lina, it was also because the daughter was his friend's that he couldn't let go?

Maybe so, that guy from childhood, is very soft-hearted, but also easy to blind sympathy for others.

This kind of thing, Hugo is not unable to do.

And what about him?

Compared to Hugo guy messy sympathy, he can really be a cold-hearted and cold-hearted person.

Hugo didn't kill his daughter and raised his daughter, while he actually killed Hugo and spurned his own daughter.

His hands are stained with blood, from his past best friends and from his own daughter.

Maybe it's the fact that people are dying, and the goodness that he used to throw away is starting to come back.

Now his heart is filled with all kinds of guilt, all kinds of self-blame, all kinds of remorse.

He wondered if he had been a little kinder, a little more magnanimous, if his friendship with Hugo would not have ended, if his daughter, under the care of their two fathers, could have grown up to be the happiest girl in the world?

After all, they said in high school, no matter who had a child in the future, to be the godfather of each other's children ah.

Hugo did it, and he did nothing.

The outside world is right, he is indeed no match for Hugo, both in terms of character and ability.

Now that his daughter is back, he should really bring it all to a close, for her sake.

Thinking about this, Trenton picked up his phone again and made a call out, "Hello, police? This is Trenton, I want to turn myself in ..."

This phone call took a long time to talk, Trenton and the police do not know what consensus was reached, the police side did not immediately arrange for someone to come and take him away.

After all, according to the normal flow, even if he is now a lingering patient, as long as the crime surrendered, the police will come to the door.

This time, however, the police agreed to let him stay in the hospital and prepare to come back after a while.

And this matter, the police side did not hide from Jared, after the end of the call with Trenton, immediately contacted Jared, told Jared.

When Jared found out, he was both a little surprised and felt as if it made sense.

Trenton does love Amber and could choose to give up his life for Amber, his daughter.

Naturally, it's not that surprising to turn yourself in for all the bad things you've done in the past.

"That's a good thing, too." Jared murmured with downcast eyes.

At least it can show that Trenton, the man, in the last moments, conscience actually awakened.

It can also be considered to give Hugo an explanation.

Chapter 1430 Only The Last Enemy Remains

"Jared, what were you muttering about?" Amber was carrying a fruit plate and was eating fruit when she heard the man muttering there and couldn't help but ask curiously.

The man put down his phone and turned around, smiling tenderly at her, "Nothing, just talking about business."

Trenton turned himself in on the matter, and he still won't tell her about it.

This is something that would be best told to her by Trenton himself.

He told her that no Trenton told her to come with sincerity.

Hearing the man say it was business, Amber nodded and asked no more questions.

At that moment, Ben knocked on the door and got up, holding another pile of papers that needed to be signed by Jared himself.

Jared pointed to the small desk over there and told Ben to put it over there.

That's where his office is located here.

Ben obediently went over and put the papers away before reapproaching and nodding his greeting to Jared, "Mr. Farrell."

"What is it?" Jared was looking at Amber's birth report from earlier and asked indifferently.

Amber, on the other hand, was still eating from the plate of slightly sour strawberries, and while eating, she looked at Ben.

Ben returned, "This morning, Norah's second trial ended."

Hearing this, Jared's hand flipped through the report.

Amber also put down the fork in her hand, "Yes, counting the time, it is indeed today's trial, but this time how come the court side did not notify us?"

"I was the one who asked that side to go unannounced some time ago, so as not to disturb your rest." Jared put the report aside and replied, "But this is something that even I forgot behind myself."

Amber laughed, "You've been around me these days, surely a lot of other things don't come to mind."

After saying that, he looked at Ben again, "This time, it's the final hearing, right?"

"Yes ma'am." Ben nodded, "This time it was a final trial, sticking to the original verdict from the first trial, Norah was still on death row, Norah argued against it and had to appeal again, but it was denied."

"The evidence is overwhelming, give her a chance to appeal, is already the law speaks humanely, how can continue to give her a third chance, when the legal resources wasted for fun?" Jared expressionless faintly said, the tone of voice is full of dislike for Norah.

Ben pushed his glasses, "Mr. Farrell said yes, so this time, it has been completely nailed down, the court side should have issued a notice, after all, this matter many netizens are very concerned about the results, the court side at the end of the trial, certainly to the general public an explanation."

"Then let me see." Amber said, and fished his phone out of Jared's pocket.

Her phone was out of battery and Jared refused to charge it for her, just in case she was bored playing games.

In fact, Jared is not completely not allowed to play with her phone, it is too bored, play with the phone, it is easy to have no restraint.

That's the reason Jared won't charge her.

But this time, Jared watched her take his phone over and didn't stop.

Anyway, she just reads the news, and when she's done, he takes the phone back.

Amber leaned over Jared with interest, opened his phone and searched the Internet for news of this event.

Sure enough, as soon as she entered the webpage, Norah's case popped up automatically without even searching.

Looking at the comments below, Amber smiled and did not feel that the netizens were going too far.

It's really what Norah did that was so bad.

It is impossible for a person not to be angry.

After all, several lives.

Although the Kampwerths are not a good thing, the Kampwerths and she are not injustice, she did so is completely indiscriminate killing.

This is only going to get worse in nature for the netizens.

Because indiscriminate killing means that Norah herself is a person of antisocial nature, in case she runs into the street one day, will she also stab in the street?

So for people like Norah, the death penalty is the best.

Amber offered to give the phone back to the man, then looked at Ben and asked again, "When is the execution?"

"In a month." Ben said back.

"So soon."

"The death penalty is immediate." Ben said, "If there weren't some death row prisoners ahead of her in line, she'd only be executed sooner than a month later."

Amber nodded, indicating that she knew, "Her parents must be devastated."

Mr. Rydell and Mrs. Rydell, I'm afraid, are the saddest of all.

Ben nodded, "This is the case, the trial, the couple also went to, Mrs. Rydell can not stand the stimulation, a stroke on the spot, and is still in the hospital, and Mr. Rydell mental state is not quite right, look as if some mental disorder look."

"This is the punishment they deserve." Jared lightly opened his thin lips and said in a light voice: "The couple did nothing, but the sin they committed by raising such evil spirits is only greater in a sense, and they should naturally pay the price now for the demons they raised."

"Mr. Farrell is right." Ben thought it made sense.

Amber touched her stomach, "We can teach our children well in the future."

"That's natural." Jared lifted his chin, "Our child, naturally, will be taught well, and I'm sure he won't let us down."

"Why are you so sure." Amber looked at him funny.

Jared rubbed her belly, "Because he's our baby."

Amber cried and laughed.

Ben watched the two show their love, teeth skimmed.

Mr. Farrell is too much, knowing that he has just lost his love, but he still shows love with his wife.

"By the way, what about the old Mr. Jones?" Amber suddenly thought of something and asked again.

Ben returned, "the old Mr. Jones is still in custody and it will be some time before his case begins."

"And this Norah thing, does he know about it?"

"I don't know, Mr. Farrell didn't let the police side tell him." Ben shook his head back.

"He is old, if we tell him now, he is afraid that he will be greatly stimulated to die on the spot, then, the police will not be able to retry his case, it is cheaper for him." Jared explained.

Amber thought so, and didn't ask any more questions.

In short, the Rydells' downfall is already doomed.

Norah and the old Mr. Jones are not destined to live.

As for Mr. Rydell and his wife, it depends on whether they have the courage to continue to live.

But this does not deserve to make people sympathetic, even if the family does look quite poor.

But ah, isn't it all self-inflicted?

But if they were kinder, they would not have ended up in this situation today!

In the future, the Liu family, you can no longer have to ask questions.

The next two people to really deal with are Connor and Makenna.

Once these two are settled, she thinks, she and Jared, will really be able to live in peace.

As for Trenton ...

Amber's eyelids droop in a complicated way.

Time flies.

The next day, Amber was woken up by Jared.

Jared looked at her and asked if she remembered what she was going to do today.

Amber didn't answer, but how was it not clear in her mind what she was going to do today.

She, ah, promised to meet Mr. and Mrs. Gardner.

For this reason last night, she once again insomnia, after the man fell asleep, she has not been asleep, so open eyes looking at the dark ceiling, look at the unknown how long, before falling asleep in the past.

However, even when she fell asleep, she was having all kinds of various complicated dreams.
