

LLPD Chapter 1431

Chapter 1431 - Meeting At Last

And dreamed something and woke up and couldn't remember.

Only she probably knew that she dreamed about Mr. and Mrs. Gardner and that the dream was also a bit sad and she woke up with moist eyes.

This naturally cannot be hidden from the man's eyes, but he did not ask her anything, but silently took a towel filled with ice and handed it to her, so that she could put it on her eyes.

Amber felt warmth in her heart at this and took the towel and put it over her eyes.

After icing for a while, the redness on the eyes subsided a bit and Mrs. Murphy served breakfast, so Jared took Amber over for breakfast.

During the meal, the men kept an eye on Amber's mood.

Seeing her daze after two bites, she couldn't help but sigh, "Relax, we're just going to meet Trenton and the others, we won't do anything, and if you don't want to meet them, I'll tell them now that we're not going over."

"No, it's still time to go over there." Amber shook her head, "You're right, no matter what, they're my real parents, even if I have mixed feelings about them in my heart, I should go see them, and maybe it's the last time."

Jared squeezed her soft hand, "Don't worry, I'll always be there for you."

"Hmm." Amber squeezed the corners of her mouth and gave the man a reluctant smile.

After the meal, the two of them got in the car and left for Stillwater General Hospital.

And at Stillwater General Hospital, Trenton and Mrs. Gardner were eagerly awaiting their arrival.

Finally, an hour later, Mrs. Gardner heard a movement from outside the ward and immediately ran over to open the door with excitement, "Shue ..."

She was just about to open her mouth to shout Amber's name, and as a result, she did not see Amber, but only Jared. The excited joy on her face froze for a moment, and her voice was a bit lost, "How is it you, where is Amber? She ... She didn't come?"

Jared did not answer, but simply stepped to the side, and then the woman, who was tightly covered by him, was exposed.

Mrs. Gardner saw Amber, her lost eyes regained their brightness, and all at once she covered her lips, tears streaming down her face, "Amber ..."

Her daughter is here, her daughter is here!

Mrs. Gardner's heart was inexpressibly happy and joyful, and her tears flowed even harder.

Seeing such Mrs. Gardner, Amber's lips opened, and a sourness welled up in her heart.

She knew from Jared that Mr. and Mrs. Gardner had quickly accepted that she was their biological daughter and was sincerely happy about it.

She also knew that men would not lie to her and would not joke about such things.

But now when he really saw Mrs. Gardner's reaction, he realized that what the man said was kinda astringent, and the real situation was that Mrs. Gardner was more happy than the man said.

This made her emotions, too, more complicated.

"Amber," Mrs. Gardner said after a moment of excitement, suddenly opening her arms and trying to hug Amber.

This is her daughter, the one she has missed for over twenty years and wants to embrace.

It didn't take long for her to lose her daughter when she was first born.

Now, she just has to keep holding her daughter and never let go.

More than anything, she wanted to tell her daughter how much she had missed her over the past twenty years.

However, the moment she saw Mrs. Gardner hugging her, Amber seemed to be stimulated by something, her pupils shrank and she fiercely hid behind the man again.

Jared also shielded her in the process.

Mrs. Gardner stopped in time to see Jared in front of her, and then looked behind him at Amber, who had her head down and had refused her a hug, and her face went pale.

"Amber ..." Mrs. Gardner's voice trembled as she called out to Amber, her heart overwhelmed with sadness.

Her daughter, who refused her hugs.

daughter, has not accepted her as a mother.

Mrs. Gardner's reaction, as Amber watched, became more and more uncomfortable.

But she has not forgotten that she is still the daughter of the Reed Family and carries the hatred of the Reed Family, and in addition to that, she has not forgotten the harm that the Gardner Family couple did to her in the past.

All of this adds up and makes it impossible for her to accept them and to let go.

That's why she avoided it, even though in her heart she wanted to feel her mother's embrace at that moment, but reason made her sober and avoid it.

It's just that Mrs. Gardner's appearance still makes her feel more than a little guilty, too.

"I'm sorry ... I ... I'm not used to people touching me." Amber said in a whispered voice as she bit her lip.

Mrs. Gardner naturally heard the apology in her tone, and her mood was renewed, and she hastily wiped her tears and shook her head with a smile, "It's okay Amber, Mom ... No, I didn't know you weren't used to it, so it's me who should say I'm sorry."

Her daughter has not yet accepted her as her mother, and it is not good for her to use the name mom.

And the daughter expressed her apologies for refusing her hug just now, does it mean that, in her heart, the daughter is actually not that resistant to the fact that she is her mother?

In any case, knowing this already makes her happy.

Mrs. Gardner took a deep breath, re-stabilized her emotions, and gave Amber and Jared a happy smile, "Amber, Jared, come in first, your dad ... No, Trenton is still waiting for you inside."

When she finished, she stepped aside and gave the doorway away.

Jared took Amber's hand and nodded to her, "Excuse me."

After saying that, he took Amber inside.

Mrs. Gardner closed the door and walked at the end.

Amber and Jared entered the hospital room and Trenton's eyes immediately fell on them.

Of course, more precisely, it fell on Amber.

Seeing Amber, Trenton's eyes also reddened, and many words sprang up in his heart, but in the end, he found himself unable to say a single word, and could only say unnaturally, "You're here."

Jared nodded, "Here it is, I'm bringing my wife to meet you."

Jared said and gently patted the back of Amber's hand, "Don't worry, don't be nervous, and don't be afraid, lift your head up and look if you want to."

He encouraged the woman.

From the moment she got out of the car, she became very restrained and formal.

Of course, he knew why. After all, coming to see his own biological parents, who were also very complicated, it was not at all surprising that Amber would be like this.

Amber listened to the man's words, did have a little more courage, slowly raised his head, to Trenton that thin as dry bones face, as well as looking at her but extra bright, but also hidden excited eyes, the heart of the sour plug swell more.

"You ..." Amber's mouth dropped open to say something.

But in the next second, Trenton's voice came first before hers, "Why have you lost so much weight, the last time I saw you, you still had meat on your face, now why are you so thin."

Although his tone is flat, but the tone of concern and heartache, but not the slightest disguise.

This is the parent.

Amber instantly broke her defenses and couldn't hold back any longer, her eyes welled up with heat, "Aren't you the same, what qualifies you to talk about me?"

Trenton froze for a moment, then clasped his hands together and smiled, "Of course it's different, I'm sick."

Mrs. Gardner was also excited and rushed to answer, "Yes, your father ... He is sick to be like this, you are still young, how can you be so thin?"

She tries not to be correcting her name, saying it while watching Amber's reaction.

Amber couldn't have not reacted to that dad, and her first reaction was to say Trenton he wasn't her dad.

But when the words came to his lips, Trenton's concern just now suddenly came to his mind, the retort, and how can not say out.

Chapter 1432 Parental Love

Mrs. Gardner and Trenton were in tears of joy when they saw that Amber didn't object to the name Dad.

Does this mean that the child is really not that resistant to them?

"O Amber, how are you feeling now?" Mrs. Gardner was bold enough to approach Amber and ask with concern, "Are you uncomfortable anywhere? If there is, you must say it, pregnancy is a very painful thing, you are still young, you have not experienced this, so if there is anything that you do not understand, you must say it, so that we can help you better, you know?"

"Your mom is right, Amber ..."

Trenton is also chiming in.

But before the words were finished, Amber interrupted, "I know all this, I don't need you guys to remind me, I have a lot of people around me who care."

The expressions on Mrs. Gardner's and Trenton's faces turned lost at the same time.

Mrs. Gardner nodded even more sarcastically, "That's true, it's just that we're still worried about you, so Amber, won't you resist?"

Amber pursed her slightly pale lips and did not speak.

Jared stroked her head and didn't say anything. The ward shifted to silence all of a sudden, and the atmosphere was extraordinarily uncomfortable.

But soon, Mrs. Gardner took another breath and a smile appeared on her face again, "By the way, you guys are here so early, have you had breakfast? I made a lot of breakfast, let's have some together?"

With that, he was about to go to the kitchen to get it.

Trenton also nodded, "Yesterday your mother knew you would come, so she went to buy a lot of ingredients, in order to cook for you once, so you can try it."

"No need." Amber bit her lip and refused, "We've had breakfast, you don't need to bother with anything."

When she heard that she had eaten, Mrs. Gardner stopped in her tracks, but soon, she continued to smile and said, "It's okay to have eaten breakfast, you've been delayed on your way here, so I guess you're a little hungry, so eat some more, okay Amber?"

She looked at Amber expectantly, with even a hint of begging in her eyes.

She wants Amber to try her cooking.

Trenton saw his wife like this, sighed in his heart, and also said helpfully, "Amber, your mother never cooked in these twenty years, not that she wouldn't, but she didn't want to, because before she was pregnant with you, she wouldn't have, but after she got pregnant with you, she started learning to cook, because she said she wanted to cook for her daughter, for the rest of her life, but after you were taken away, your mother's whole being lost all her essence, and many of the skills she learned specifically for you were never used again."

Hearing this, Amber's pupils flickered and she looked at Mrs. Gardner.

Mrs. Gardner's eyes were red and she was also looking at her, "Amber ..."

Amber got a lump in her throat, "What about Makenna? Didn't you guys ever do that for Makenna?"

"No no." Mrs. Gardner hastily shook her head and replied, "Amber, I have definitely never cooked a meal for Makenna or brushed her hair once, because I know that she is not you, I know the difference, even though her presence has pulled me back from the brink of collapse, but I know that she is no better than the daughter I gave birth to, and those skills, which I learned specifically for you, and if I used them on Makenna, then I would be doing a disservice to my own daughter, so I never did that for her, I didn't even hold her much when she was little, Amber, it's true what mom said."

"What your mother said is indeed true, not only your mother, even I am, although I do dote on Makenna, but I also know that Makenna is not you, my doting on her is only for a fool person's doting, there is not much father-daughter love, maybe some people will say that I am too cold like this, but so what, she is always not my I'm not the only one who has ever been in love with you, but you are the one we love the most.

Mrs. Gardner choked up and nodded, "Amber, these twenty years, the family has been reserved for you room, every year your birthday, your father and I, have prepared a gift for you, even your father and I, every year, also bought you clothes, from the time you were born, until now, never broken, the family has a room, is specially put Your father and I prepared these for you, Judy also did not touch, even at that time your father and I really thought Judy is you, I did not buy you those clothes and birthday gifts to her, because I always had a voice in my heart to prevent me from doing so, told me that if I did that, later I will certainly regret for life."

As it turns out, she did the right thing and stuck to the voice in her heart, otherwise today, she would owe her daughter one more.

Amber could see that Mr. and Mrs. Gardner were telling the truth, not lying to her, and was shocked beyond words.

They ... have done so much for a daughter who could have been dead for over twenty years.

Not to mention Amber, even Jared was surprised.

No wonder he went to the Gardner Family several times while he was hypnotized, and each time the Gardner Family couple did not allow him and Makenna to go up to the fourth floor.

He was curious at the time and asked Makenna what the reason was.

Even Makenna herself said she didn't know what was on the fourth floor and why her parents wouldn't let her go up there, adding that since she was a child, her parents wouldn't let her go up there, and if they found out she went up there, they would teach her a hard lesson.

There was even a time when she was unconvinced and had to go up there to find out what was going on.

But the fourth floor stairs were specially welded a door, locked all year round, without a key simply can not enter the fourth floor.

Makenna did not know at that time, just went to the fourth floor, and then was caught by Mr. and Mrs. Gardner on the spot.

Makenna says she still remembers that day vividly. Her parents, who had always loved her, beat her severely that day, and Mrs. Gardner even looked at her with a complicated and hateful look.

Since then, Makenna has never been to the fourth floor and to this day has no idea what is on the fourth floor.

Now after listening to Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, he realized that the fourth floor was the room Mr. and Mrs. Gardner had prepared for Amber and the place where they stored all the gifts and clothes for Amber.

The couple, in terms of their love for Amber, are truly touching.

"Honey, try it." Jared also helped persuade Amber.

It is not that Mr. and Mrs. Gardner were moved.

He did it, still for Amber.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner for Amber, he did not believe that she did not feel, she is afraid that her heart is also touched.

It is for this reason that he urged her to accept.

He knew that if she refused now, later, when both Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, one of them, had passed away, she would begin to look back on all this when she had abated all her hatred.

At that time, she may regret and regret all this today.

He didn't want her to be like that when the time came, which is why he advised her.

But Jared's persuasion of Amber was something Mr. and Mrs. Gardner didn't expect.

Not sure why he would help them, but that didn't stop them from throwing a grateful smile at Jared.

Amber looked at Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, then at the encouragement in Jared's eyes, and finally bit her lip and mewed.

Although the sound was tiny, Trenton and Mrs. Gardner heard it.

Mrs. Gardner happily rushed off to the kitchen.

Trenton is also smiling.

Even after Mrs. Gardner left, Amber didn't look at him or talk to her, Trenton was happy.

"Amber, you and your grandmother, you look a lot alike." Trenton suddenly spoke.

Grandma?

Amber was slightly stunned.

Chapter 1433 - You'Re A Lot Like Your Grandmother

As far as she could remember, she had never seen her grandmother at the Reed Family, and she had never heard her dad talk about her.

When she was young, she was also curious about how her grandparents didn't, but her father never answered her, just touched her head and showed her eyes that she couldn't read at the time.

Later, when she grew up, she understood that the look in her father's eyes, was sad, was sad.

She was curious as to why her father would show such a sad face when it came to her grandparents, so she secretly looked into it and learned later that after the Reed Family went bankrupt for the first time, her grandparents were forced to die by a door-to-door debt collector.

No wonder dad doesn't want to bring it up every time, and is so sad every time he does.

She grew up without ever feeling the love from her grandparents' generation until she married into the Farrell Family, when she felt the love from her grandmother for the first time, which was so kind and warm.

Now Trenton suddenly mentioned her real grandmother, which also made her wonder what her real grandmother was like, was she as kind and old as Jared's grandmother?

Seeming to see what Amber had in mind, Trenton returned with a gentle expression, "Your grandmother she is actually a very majestic person."

Amber was slightly stunned.

Majestic?

I can't believe it's not the same kind and gentle person as Jared's grandmother.

Jared stroked Amber's hair, "That Mr. Gardner is right, The old Mrs. Gardner is indeed the most majestic old lady, grandmother although looks gentle and kind, but when facing big things, but also as majestic, this, you should know."

Amber nodded, "I know."

She had seen her grandmother's seriousness when it came to serious matters.

"And The old Mrs. Gardner, more majestic than the grandmother, I met her old man a few times, every time I saw her, her expression was unsmiling and looked quite a scary old lady."

"Mr. Farrell is right, but also not right." Trenton shook his head slightly, "Amber, although your grandmother looks like this on the surface, but in fact she is also a gentle and kind person inside, when your grandmother was young, she was a thousand-year-old lady of a big family, because of that era, suffered severe hardship, so she became unsmiling, but in fact, in private, she still reveals her soft side. And your grandmother is good at embroidery, her embroidery works, many are included in the national museum, but also a lot of as a national gift sent to build diplomatic relations, and your grandmother this person has a rule, that is never for the family you embroidery, but after you were born, she broke this rule."

Amber's mind instantly came up with something that came out of her mouth, "Swaddling ..."

"That's right." Trenton saw that she knew this and smiled more kindly, "Your grandmother broke her own rules in order to welcome your birth and embroidered a swaddling cloth for you, when you were taken away, you were wrapped in this swaddling cloth at that time, that was your grandmother stitch by stitch, spent ten months to embroider you personally, at that time she was already seventy years old, her eyes were no longer working and The first time I saw you, I was so happy when you arrived that I picked up the needle and thread again and embroidered the swaddling clothes in ten months with my eyes that I couldn't see clearly, in fact, according to the normal embroidery progress, I couldn't finish embroidering a swaddling clothes in ten months."

This is something that Amber does not dispute.

Although she does not know how to embroider, she knows how difficult it is.

A palm-sized purse would take two or three months to embroider if it was done with the most skilled embroidery hand, let alone a swaddling sheet that big.

"Then she ..."

Seems to know what Amber is going to ask, Trenton sighed, "Your grandmother in order to use that swaddling clothes after you were born, so she stayed up all night every other night, finally finished embroidering the swaddling clothes after you were born, but she also collapsed because of this, very sick, her body is not very good, and her eyes are almost completely blind."

Amber's pupils contracted, "How ... How ..."

At this moment, Amber's heart couldn't tell you how hard it was.

She had not met The old Mrs. Gardner, nor did she have any impression of the old Mrs. Gardner before that, when she heard Jared say that The old Mrs. Gardner was unsmiling and very majestic.

She also thought The old Mrs. Gardner was a very mean and heartless person, and Trenton would be so bad, is it because of The old Mrs. Gardner.

But now that she had heard what The old Mrs. Gardner had done for herself, she suddenly didn't dare to think so.

An old lady, risking serious illness and blindness to stay up late and embroider swaddling clothes for her soon-to-be-born granddaughter, just by that, you can tell that this old lady is definitely not what she thinks she is.

On the contrary, she really is what Trenton said, a mean looking old lady on the outside, but actually a soft and kind one on the inside.

That swaddling clothes, is that old lady, the biggest blessing and the best gift to her, the granddaughter.

Amber lowered her eyes and clenched her fists, her heart very sad, "And then what? She ... Is she well?"

Trenton shook his head, "No, after the collapse, her health is getting worse and worse, often bedridden, but it is normal, she suffered too much because of her identity when she was young, her body has long collapsed, can persist until the seventy-something years before completely collapsed, is already a miracle, in fact, your grandmother also knows very well that her body is dying, so that is why so desperately for you The reason is that she doesn't want her to run out one day and not even have a gift ready for her granddaughter."

Amber bit her lip, "I ... I don't even deserve her do I?"

"Don't say that." Jared gently patted her shoulder, "To The old Mrs. Gardner, you are her granddaughter, the continuation of her bloodline, and her most anticipated offspring, everything about you is worth it to her, otherwise she wouldn't have fought so hard, you are in her heart, the best there is."

"Mr. Farrell is right." Trenton also nodded, "Your grandmother she is incredibly looking forward to your birth, since your mother is pregnant with you, I often see your grandmother's face with a smile, you know before that, your grandmother has not smiled for almost a dozen years, and your grandmother also knows that her health is not good, maybe one day she will die, that's why she did it, and you should not feel sorry for your Grandma. "

Amber closed her eyes and a tear fell, for the old lady she had never met but loved so much.

"You just said ... I look a lot like her, is that true?" Amber's eyes were red as she looked at Trenton.

Trenton hummed, "Really, I don't have to lie to you, your side face looks exactly like your grandmother's, and by the way, I have the picture here."

With that, Trenton took his phone and tapped it a few times, "Here is a picture of your grandmother when she was alive, do you want to see it?"

Amber's mouth dropped open, not knowing whether to look or not.

Because she had never seen The old Mrs. Gardner before, she suddenly had no courage or guts to look at her picture first.

"Take a look." Jared looked at Amber, "The old Mrs. Gardner wasn't like them, she treated you with pure love and never hurt you, you should see it."

Amber was moved by the talk and walked towards Trenton.

Or, in fact, she herself inwardly also want to see, just too much middle grudge, so that she does not know what to do.

But this time there is someone to stand up for her, she naturally knows exactly how to choose.

Chapter 1434 - Newborn Photos

The first time I saw Amber walking towards me, Trenton was trembling with excitement, and the look in Amber's eyes was even hotter.

His daughter, at last, is close to him.

"Amber ..." Trenton's voice calling out to Amber was also gentler and kinder.

Amber avoided his excited eyes and took the phone he handed her, and the first thing that caught her eye was an expressionless old lady.

Although expressionless, but also not at all mean, on the contrary, she can clearly from her eyes, see the tenderness.

Is this her grandmother, her own grandmother?

The old lady in the photo, estimated to be in her seventies, is sitting on an old-fashioned echelon chair.

The old lady's sitting posture is very upright, her back is straight, her temperament is also extraordinary, at a glance is born in a famous family of a thousand ladies, even if old, but the temperament is not the least bit old.

And Amber vaguely, can still see the beauty of the old lady when she was young.

"It's beautiful." Jared had come up behind her at some point and was looking at this picture with her.

Amber didn't know why, but she was proud of herself, and wanted to say back that of course, it was her grandmother.

But she quickly reacted to the fact that although the old lady in the photo was her grandmother, she didn't have the slightest recollection of this grandmother, which made it impossible for her to say anything.

I can only reply in a light voice, "Well, it is quite beautiful."

"It does bear some resemblance to you, too." Jared looked at the photo and then at the side of Amber's face, "I probably know now what you'll look like when you're older."

Amber touched her face, "Didn't you say that I look like the old lady, so naturally I'll be the same as the old lady when I'm old."

"Yes, just as pretty." Jared laughed low.

Amber blushed at her teasing and gave him an unpleasant white look, then continued to stare at the photo, her thumb involuntarily rubbing the old lady's face on the photo.

The more you look at her, the more you feel a sense of affinity, which is probably the reason for the blood.

Trenton watched the two get along and was overjoyed.

He was thinking that Jared loved his daughter so much that he wouldn't have to worry about her being bullied by others when he died later.

Jared, should love his daughter and protect her for life.

"On this, in addition to your grandmother's picture, there is also your grandfather's, if you are interested, you can also look at it." Trenton suddenly said again.

Amber froze for a moment.

Surprisingly, there are also grandfather's.

She listened to Jared and Trenton talk about her grandmother, her heart had more or less a little impression of her grandmother, but for grandfather's, not at all yet.

Trenton looked out and spoke, "Your grandfather died early, when he died, I was only about ten years old, so many years have passed, if there were not still photos from the past that I have saved, perhaps I would have forgotten about your grandfather, so I have no way to tell you what kind of person your grandfather really was, after all, he was quite young when he died. I don't have much of an impression of him either, but the only thing I know is that your grandfather was also a very good person to his offspring."

"Yeah? ..." Amber responded with an inaudible emotion, but her finger involuntarily slid back and an old and somewhat blurry photo popped out.

The photo is of a man, a man wearing clothes from the 1950s and 1960s.

The man is not very old, and should be in his early twenties, is sitting on a high stool, smiling very brightly for the camera.

The whole person, who looks so similar to Trenton, should be Trenton's father, her grandfather.

Jared also saw the old Mr. Gardner's looks for the first time, and after looking at it, nodded slightly, "No wonder you look so good, it turns out to be good ancestral genes."

He complimented Amber.

Amber blushed, "Don't be poor."

"It's true." Jared lifted his chin, "My children, in the future, will only look better."

This is something Amber believes in very strongly.

She and Jared are both good-looking, so a baby that incorporates their genes will surely only be better.

Amber handed the phone back to Trenton and rubbed her stomach.

Trenton took the phone with a shudder, "No more watching?"

"I've already seen it, there's nothing more to see." Amber returned in a light voice.

Trenton sighed, "Actually, there are a lot of pictures in the back from when you were first born, don't you want to see them?"

"Just born ..." Amber bit her lip.

I didn't expect that there would be such a photo in his phone.

Before Amber could answer, Jared had spoken, "Let's see, speaking of which I haven't seen you as a newborn."

Trenton readily gave the phone to Jared.

It's quite poignant to say the least.

Jared was hypnotized by Makenna this thing, in fact, he is the back to know.

In the past, he never wanted to climb up to the Farrell Family, and after all, he couldn't.

Until one day, Makenna suddenly told him that she and Jared together, he whole person can not believe, after all, the Farrell Family and the Gardner Family is too big a gap, Makenna simply do not have access to Jared's qualifications, how in the end the two people together.

Makenna also did not lie to him, told him that she happened to learn that Jared was working with Amber as a pen pal, and Jared was likely to like Amber, so she impersonated Amber to meet with Jared, thought Jared could not recognize, did not expect Jared immediately recognized that she was not Maple Leaf, so she was not willing to case She found a very powerful hypnosis master, hypnotized Jared, so that Jared convinced that she is Maple Leaf, and then with Jared together.

In fact, at the beginning, he some disagreement, think this is not safe, sooner or later will turn over, when the Farrell Family will certainly usher in the ruthless revenge.

But later learned that the robbery is Amber's man, he agreed, at that time, he hated the Reeds to the bone, Makenna robbed Amber's man, it means Hugo lost to him once again, so he helped Makenna to clear up the trouble, to help Makenna sit on the identity of Maple Leaf.

I thought Makenna would go on with Jared, as long as Jared really became his son-in-law, the Gardner Family why worry about the development of unstable ah, simply soar are possible.

But who knows, in the end Jared broke free from hypnosis and recognized the real Maple Leaf and flew away before he became his son-in-law.

However, after going around and around, Jared became his son-in-law, and this time it was not an adopted son-in-law, but a real son-in-law.

Jared didn't know what was on Trenton's mind and took his phone and flipped straight back, and within a few pages, he saw a picture of a baby.

In the photo, a tiny red, red, cat-like baby was wrapped in a tiny white quilt, and then carefully held in the arms of a man in a green protective suit.

The man is definitely Trenton, the photo of Trenton is still very young, holding the baby's posture, although rusty, but carefully protect the baby's head and waist, can clearly let people feel his careful and careful.

And the man's face was beaming with an extremely big smile, so you can see how happy he was about holding the baby.

This should be a photo of the day Amber was born, or just carried out of the delivery room, after all, Trenton's protective clothing on the body can be seen.

And the bottom right corner of the photo is still a time record.

Jared raised an eyebrow and handed the phone over to Amber, "See, here's you, a very small one."

Chapter 1435 - The Taste Of Mother

Red, soft and very cute to look at.

Amber slightly inclined her head to look over, a glance at the photo, and skimmed her head in disgust, "Ugly."

It looked really ugly to her, red and wrinkled, like a monkey.

Trenton laughed, "This is you just being carried out of the delivery room, and after that you look good, and there's a picture of you at your full moon in the back."

That was also the only one, after which she was stolen by Hugo.

He would no longer be able to take pictures of his daughter.

Hearing that there were still pictures of the full moon, Jared hurriedly slid his thumb to scroll back and found the pictures that followed, all of which were similar to the first one.

But then the further down the page, Jared gradually saw something different.

That is, the baby in the photo is growing day by day, from the beginning red, to the back gradually fade red skin, the skin becomes snow white, the face also from the wrinkled, gradually open, become round and lovely.

In other words, this is a series of photos, one documenting Amber from birth to the time of her full moon, one for each day, thirty in total.

Sure enough, Jared counted silently in his heart, and slid backwards after counting to the thirtieth, and then he couldn't scratch the back, and it was gone.

In other words, this is indeed, as he guessed, the photo documenting Amber's full moon.

Amber, although outwardly disgusted with the photo, actually kept looking at it as the man slid it around.

After seeing the end and realizing that it was gone, she also understood that the photos were all records of her thirty days of birth.

Amber looks to Trenton.

It just so happened that Trenton was looking at her, too, and the gentle kindness in his eyes was so obvious.

Amber only felt as if her heart had been scalded and hastily averted her eyes.

Trenton sighed with loss.

"Can I make a copy of these photos?" Jared asked suddenly, looking at Trenton.

Trenton picked up the mood and agreed without hesitation, "Sure."

"Thanks." Jared said thank you and held out his phone.

Amber put her arms around him, "What are you doing? What's so great about copying this picture."

"It's cute." Jared laughed lightly, "And it's from when you were a kid, so of course I had to make a copy so I could always take it out later."

Having said that, he had already started copying.

Amber saw that she couldn't stop the man, so she let him go.

Soon, Jared had the photos copied.

Mrs. Gardner also arrived with a sumptuous dish, and after placing it on the table, wiped her hands and looked at Amber with restraint, "Amber, dinner is served."

Amber stood still and did not move.

Jared took her hand, "It's okay, go ahead."

After saying that, he led her over.

Mrs. Gardner saw the two coming, her nervousness relaxed for a moment and she smiled openly, "Amber, Jared, you guys sit down first, I'll help your dad over."

When she finished, Mrs. Gardner walked toward Trenton.

Within minutes, Mrs. Gardner was pushing Trenton to the table.

After the two sat down, Mrs. Gardner looked at Trenton and then across at her daughter and son-in-law and cried uncontrollably, "I'm so happy, this is the moment when I finally realized my dream."

Amber's eyes flickered and she could guess what her so-called dream was.

It's nothing more than a family reunion.

Sure enough, Mrs. Gardner took the tissue handed to her by Trenton and choked up, "Amber, right after you were born, your father and I started to fantasize about your life when you grew up, and we both said that when you grew up, you would be able to marry the best man in the world, because only that kind of man would be worthy of our daughter. "

When he heard the words "the best man in the world", Jared's chest was slightly unreachable.

Yes, he is the best man in the world.

Although Jared's movements were done covertly, Amber still saw them and cried a little.

This man, really cheeky.

Trenton and Mrs. Gardner didn't see it, but they saw Amber smiling, and although they didn't know why she was smiling, as long as she was happy, they were happy as parents.

Mrs. Gardner continued, "Then your father and I were thinking, when you get married, we must not live too far away, and finally buy two houses in the same place, so that in the future it is convenient for us to reunite, but also convenient for us to help you with the children, and now this wish has finally come true."

Although the baby is not yet born, their grandson is already here.

Still, there was a flash of disappointment in Trenton's eyes.

Because he, is destined to not see the birth of his grandson.

But it does not matter, at least before he died, just know that the grandson came.

"Well, let's eat first, the kids are hungry." Trenton reminded Mrs. Gardner.

Mrs. Gardner also responded and nodded her head, "Yes, yes, yes, let's eat first, let's eat first."

Mrs. Gardner greeted, while picking up a fork, and gave Amber a lot of dishes, "Amber, these are mom's best dishes, also learned specially for you, but now it has been more than twenty years since I made them, the skills are a little rusty, and may not taste as good, you try it. "

Amber looked at the bowl of food and opened her mouth to say something, but when she looked at Mrs. Gardner's eager eyes, she couldn't say anything.

Finally, she too picked up a fork and, under the slowly widening gaze of Trenton and Mrs. Gardner, took some of the dish into her mouth.

Mrs. Gardner's body was trembling with excitement.

My daughter ate it.

My daughter ate the meal she made with her own hands.

Not to mention Mrs. Gardner, Trenton was also very pleased.

Because Amber can do this, it can only mean one thing, that is, she is actually really not so resistant to them in her heart.

"Amber, how does it taste?" Mrs. Gardner asked nervously, gripping the fork in her hand.

Amber swallowed the food in her mouth and looked at her, hesitating to answer because she had an unspoken emotion in her heart.

So, this is the taste of mom, mom's cooking?

The taste of the food, in fact, is really just average, not very good, but not bad either.

But this moment in her mouth, she felt extra delicious, and a very warm feeling that made her want to cry.

This feeling, she also experienced for the first time, some panic, and some stay.

The world says the smell of mother, she has never known what it means to be a mother, until now, she may have experienced it.

"Amber, what's wrong? Is it not good?" Looking at Amber's moist eyes, Mrs. Gardner got anxious and stood up quickly, "If it's not good, don't eat it, spit it out quickly, be careful of hurting your stomach."

Trenton was also worried, "Yeah, spit it out."

Jared didn't say anything because he could tell that Amber was crying, not because of the bad taste, but because of the way the dishes made her feel.

He gently patted her back, silently soothing her emotions.

Amber looked at the man and squeezed a smile out of her face at the man to show she was fine, then looked back at Mrs. Gardner and shook her head at them, "No, it tastes fine."

At that, Mrs. Gardner was relieved, "That's good, I was scared to death."

She thought her cooking tasted awful and was worried that her daughter would eat something.

"Then Amber eat more, and whatever else you want to eat later, mommy will make it for you." Mrs. Gardner said, and excitedly gave Amber a lot of dishes.

Trenton also occasionally gives her a few clips.

Perhaps because she wanted to be experiencing what it's like to be a parent, Amber didn't refuse or stop, and symbolically ate some of the food they pinned before putting down her fork, "I'm done eating."

Chapter 1436 - Tell Your Thoughts

She couldn't keep eating, and that alone had started to make her mental defenses tremble.

If she continues to eat, she doesn't know what she will become and whether she will immediately drop all her grudges and hatred and admit them on the spot.

She knew that she had been longing for her mother's love for too long, and if Mrs. Gardner kept playing with her heart, she was afraid she wouldn't last long.

So today's meeting must end, it can't go on.

Amber put down her phone and stood up with a slightly shaky figure.

Jared followed suit and got up, cradling her gently in his arms.

From the beginning to the end, he did not move his fork and ate the table.

First of all, this table was specially prepared for Amber by Mrs. Gardner, who always knew that Amber was actually longing for motherhood.

So, he also did not want to get involved between Mrs. Gardner and her, and also wanted to let her feel a little motherly love and soothe the last regret in his heart.

The second thing is, he's not hungry!

"Mr. Gardner, Mrs. Gardner, my wife has finished eating and it's getting late, so we'll leave you to it." Jared looked at Trenton, then at Mrs. Gardner, and offered his farewell.

Amber's head was bowed from start to finish, no expression could be seen and no words were spoken.

Trenton, seeing a little more clearly than Mrs. Gardner and understanding that Amber is not in the right state, nodded in agreement, "Okay, be safe on the road, and if you can, give us a call or send a message when you get there to let us know you had a safe trip."

Jared did not respond, and it is not clear whether he said yes or no.

Mrs. Gardner didn't say anything, just looked at Amber with eyes full of reluctance.

My daughter has only been here for a short time, so why do she have to leave?

These dishes are not finished yet, and she has not hugged her daughter yet.

Mrs. Gardner did not know what came to mind, suddenly put the fork in his hand, three or two steps to Amber, in Amber and Jared momentarily unaware of the situation, actually reached out, a hand to hold Amber in his arms.

Amber struggled subconsciously.

But Mrs. Gardner's hold was so tight that she couldn't get free.

Jared would have liked to help her, but Trenton cast him a look at this moment, praying that he wouldn't do it and let Mrs. Gardner hug Amber for just a hug.

Jared looked at Mrs. Gardner, who was hugging Amber and crying, and then looked at Amber, who had struggled twice and then suddenly stopped, standing there in a daze, letting Mrs. Gardner hug her, and finally gave up the intention of separating the two.

He could see that Amber also wanted to feel her mother's embrace, and the struggle at first was more just uncomfortable.

"Amber, Mommy misses you so much, really misses you." At that moment, Mrs. Gardner spoke up, her voice full of choked sobs and misses.

Amber's body trembled, and her heart swelled and tightened.

Mrs. Gardner let go of her slightly, and cupped her face with both hands, looking at her with teary eyes, "Amber, mommy really loves you so much, you are the child that your father and I begged for years for medical help and in vitro for years before we managed to conceive, you are the person your father and I love the most, but I am sorry that mommy and daddy lost you, and did a lot of hurtful behavior, mom and dad really guilty, but mom and dad also do not beg you to forgive us, we just want to tell you how much we miss you, how much we love you."

Trenton didn't say anything, but the way he looked at Amber, he was so sincere.

It is also clear that what Mrs. Gardner said is exactly what he also wanted to express.

Amber bit her lips dead, her mouth opened, as if she wanted to say something, but she could not make a sound.

Mrs. Gardner touched her slim face, "Amber, are you still coming tomorrow? Mommy wants to show you the Gardner Family, see your room, see all the birthday presents Mommy and Daddy have made for you these past twenty years, and also to let your grandparents know that you've been there."

Amber closed her eyes and returned a few words in a hoarse voice, "Let's talk about it."

She didn't say yes, but she didn't say no either.

This answer has already made Trenton and Mrs. Gardner incredibly happy and excited.

The absence of rejection means that there is a possibility of a yes.

So there is no rush, take your time, there is still time.

"Good, good, mommy won't push you, mommy will wait for your answer." Mrs. Gardner cried tears of joy and nodded her head repeatedly.

Amber pulled Jared's opponent, "Let's go."

She was afraid that if she didn't go, she really couldn't help it.

Jared hummed, nodded again to Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, and walked away with Amber.

Mrs. Gardner reluctantly followed them and walked them to the car in the parking lot, where she stood and waved goodbye even after the car was gone.

Amber saw the scene in the rearview mirror, the mood could no longer be suppressed and cried.

Jared heard her crying so sadly and was heartbroken, then pulled over to a curb, unbuckled his seatbelt, leaned over and took her into his arms, "Don't cry, I know Trenton and the others have torn you up inside, but it's not your fault, they are your biological parents, their love for you is well deserved and you can accept it without any mental burden You don't have to feel sorry for the Reed Family just because you feel like you've received some of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner's love."

"I know, but ..."

Amber buried her head in the man's arms and sobbed uncontrollably.

The man was not tired of gently patting her back, "Do not worry, no matter what, you still have me, and our children, we will always be with you."

These words did calm Amber down a bit and closed her eyes in the man's arms.

She was already in poor health, plus pregnant women were also drowsy, and after a while of quiet, she fell asleep smelling the mint fragrance of the man's body.

Jared waited for a while, felt no movement in his arms, looked down and this time found her asleep, let out a low laugh, then flattened the passenger seat so she could get a good night's sleep.

After doing so, he took off his jacket and gently draped it over her, before starting the car and returning to Primary Medical Center.

Watching Jared return with Amber in his arms, Elias frowned, "What happened to her?"

"Tired of crying and falling asleep." Jared gently laid Amber back on the hospital bed.

Elias pushed his glasses in displeasure, "She's in this terrible health and you're actually making her cry?"

"Or what?" Jared tucked Amber in and straightened her body and glanced faintly at Elias, "Don't you forget who she's going to see today, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner are known for how much they love their only daughter, do you think Little Leaf won't be moved to tears by Mr. and Mrs. Gardner when she goes there? Gardner moved to tears?"

A trace of confusion appeared in Elias's eyes, "Sorry, I don't really understand what you said about parental affection, but all I know is that she can't cry a lot, it's not good for her body or the fetus."

"I know, and just today is a special case, I will pay some attention in the future." Jared sat down on the edge of the bed and looked into Amber's pale eyes, his eyebrows full of tenderness.

At that moment, his phone dinged and a message came in.

Jared took a look and it was a message from Trenton asking if they had arrived safely.

Jared didn't want to reply, but remembering how much Trenton loved Amber, he was patient and replied with a hmm.

Even though it was cold, Trenton was happy to see the response and typed with trembling hands: take good care of Amber.

Chapter 1437: Past Past Past

"I don't need you to remind me, I will." Jared typed back with one hand and put the phone away after this.

Elias all but witnessed, "Trenton is really pulling out the fatherly stops now, huh?"

"He loves Little Leaf and it's not surprising that he would remind me of that... You have something else?" Jared asked, looking at him blandly.

Elias pushed up his glasses, "It's time for your heart recheck, and I'm here to remind you."

Jared frowned slightly, then remembered that it was indeed the day of the appointment, lightly opened his thin lips and said lightly, "Let's go."

Without another word, Elias turned and headed for the door of the ward.

Jared looked to Mrs. Murphy, "Take good care of her, I'll be back in a minute."

"Don't worry Mr. Jared," Mrs. Murphy nodded with a smile, "I'll take care of Mrs. Jared."

Jared hummed and exited the ward as well.

Time flies and it's already evening.

Jared was sitting on the edge of his hospital bed reading a book when he heard movement coming from the bed.

He hurriedly put down the book he was holding to look over, just in time to see the sight of Amber's eyes opening.

"Awake." Jared asked in a soft voice.

Amber looked at him and smiled slightly, "Well, awake, how long was I asleep?"

She rubbed her temples and sat up with the man's help.

The man stuffed a soft pillow behind her back so she could lean on it without fear, then brought her another glass of water, "Five hours."

"Five hours?" Amber sipped her water and when she heard that, her whole body froze, "I slept for that long?"

She also remembered that she should have fallen asleep at 3:00 p. m. and slept for five hours, so wouldn't it be 8:00 p. m. now?

It's getting dark, right?

Amber, with her glass of water, hurriedly looked towards the window, and sure enough it was dark outside, with neon lights flashing, apparently in the dark.

Jared laughed lightly, "You are pregnant, it is normal to sleep so long, and you can sleep long enough for us to feel more at ease."

These are the words of the doctor and Mrs. Murphy.

During pregnancy, pregnant women are already less energetic and prone to drowsiness.

But many times, pregnant women are sleepy and not always able to sleep, sleep peacefully, that are not good for the body.

And the fact that Amber can sleep and still sleep peacefully means that her body is not that weak for the time being.

Amber handed the man his glass of water.

The man took it and put it aside, "You're hungry, I'll ask Mrs. Murphy to get you something to eat, what do you want to eat?"

"Amber shook her head, "I don't know, you tell Mrs. Murphy to watch and get it."

"Good." Jared stroked her hair and got up to walk toward the kitchen.

Amber took her phone and turned it on to see if anyone had contacted her while she was asleep.

There were a lot of messages from people close to her, especially from Mrs. Lyon and Cole, who were worried that she hadn't come out yet.

There was also concern from the secretarial assistants at the company.

It warms Amber's heart to see this.

When Jared came out, he saw her smiling and went over to her and asked, "What are you smiling about?"

Amber didn't hide it and handed him her phone to look at, "They're all worried about me, it's good to have them."

"It's good, but isn't it better for me?" Jared took her hand and put it to his heart.

Amber returned with amusement, "Yes, my husband is the best. By the way, I remember that you are not having a retest today, how was it?"

She looked at his chest and was worried about his condition.

The man hooked his lips slightly and said back, "Everything is fine, nothing serious, don't worry."

"That's good." Hearing this, Amber nodded reassuringly.

After that, Mrs. Murphy came with her dinner.

As usual, it was very light, but full of color and flavor.

Amber sniffed and felt nothing uncomfortable before picking up the utensils and starting to eat.

Mrs. Murphy and Jared stood by and watched her nervously, and only when they saw that she didn't throw up until she swallowed, did they both breathe a sigh of relief.

Amber saw this and was amused.

As for?

But seeing two people who care so much about her, she feels that she is already in this world, the happiest person.

But why, at this moment, did she think of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner again?

During the day, when they ate with Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, they also did the same thing, watching her nervously and with concern, and only after seeing that she swallowed without any uncomfortable reaction did they feel relieved.

They look the same as Jared and Mrs. Murphy do now.

Seeing Amber suddenly wander off, Jared probably knew what she was thinking, and drew a tissue and gently wiped the corner of her mouth, "Judy is still locked up by me, do you want to go see it?"

Judy has said everything that needs to be said, so now that Amber wants to see her, he won't worry about what else Judy might do to Amber.

Not to mention, Judy is still tied up.

Amber didn't expect the man to suddenly mention this, the fork in her hand paused and turned her head to look at the man.

"Why, would you ask me if I wanted to see Judy?"

She asked the man.

Jared looked at her and said back, "Because Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, Judy is caught between you and I'm sure you have a lot to ask her, which is why, I've been keeping her locked up and not disposing of her."

Amber pursed her red lips and fell silent.

Indeed, as the man said, after Judy came to her and told her who she was, her life suddenly changed all of a sudden.

But one has to admit that the man was right, she did have a lot to ask Judy.

"Tomorrow." For a long time, Amber finally uttered two words.

Jared understood what she meant, "Okay, I'll arrange for you to see her tomorrow."

"Hmm." Amber nodded and continued eating.

On the other hand, in the hotel.

Alice, that is, Makenna from the people below that Amber is actually Makayla, the current Makayla is a fake, the whole person is confused, incredulous to look at the person reporting, voice sharp, "you say is true, Amber is Trenton their daughter? "

The man nodded, "Yes Miss Stockert, it's true, I heard it with my own ears from outside Trenton's hospital room with them."

Makenna's body was trembling, apparently too shocked by this fact to calm down.

"Amber is the one who is Makayla, how can that be? How can Amber be Makayla?" said Makenna in disbelief and inability to accept it.

In her life, the person she hates most is Amber.

She and Amber went to college together and were college roommates.

Because of the feud between the Reed Family and the Gardner Family, she also hates Amber from the bottom of her heart. She is happy to learn that she is going to the same college as Amber, because she can bully Amber as much as she wants.

She also went through the back door and changed her major to the same as Amber's, lived in Amber's dorm room, became roommates with Amber, and then was ready to start bullying Amber, so that her dad would be happy and maybe reward her with more pocket money every month.

As it turns out, she was right to do so, and her dad did take pleasure in it and did give her more money, and she planned to bully Amber even more, the better to get her out of school.

However, what she didn't expect was that Amber, the woman, was actually not a soft bag, and after being bullied by her a few times, she also started to resist, and after that her idea of bullying Amber even more, was not achieved, and she was all beaten by Amber, which made her angry and helpless, and hated Amber even more.

Chapter 1438: Makenna Is A Stand-In

Because she did not expect that Amber is actually so bad to deal with, but it does not matter, Amber that woman is too soft-hearted, and also pretending to be kind, she can sooner or later drive Amber out.

But before she can plan everything, she overhears Amber exchanging letters with a man.

She came up with the idea then, so she peeked at the correspondence to see if she could start with it and put Amber down.

What she didn't expect was that Amber's correspondent was the next generation of the Farrell Family, Jared!

She never had a friendship with Jared, she would like to, but there is no opportunity, so even if she wanted to marry that man, she had no choice but to give up, after all, the family is too far away.

But she knew a lot of things about Jared, because Jared used to be from this university, and was their senior, and she had seen Jared's papers left at school, so she was able to recognize at once that it was Jared who was corresponding with Amber.

She never thought that Amber, whose family status was not as good as hers, could befriend Jared, and from those letters Jared wrote to Amber, she could see Jared's love for Amber.

Jared, a man as high and mighty as he is, actually fell in love with Amber, with the woman who was nothing compared to her.

How could she accept this?

She had always heard her father say that the Reed Family was their enemy, so she also grew up treating the Reeds as enemies, and when her father went against Hugo, she went against Amber.

She also always felt that Amber was no match for her everywhere, so she was always above her station in front of Amber, but now, not only did Amber meet Jared, who she was not even qualified to befriend, but she also got Jared's heart.

So if Amber marries into the Farrell Family, won't she always be stepped on by Amber?

This kind of thing, just thinking about it, made her feel intolerable.

She had to find a way to ruin it all.

So, she worked hard to look through those letters from Amber, and finally found the most important point from the minutiae of the letters, that is, Amber and Jared don't know each other's true identity.

She didn't know why they didn't know, why they didn't investigate each other, but so what, it was better not to know and gave her a chance.

So she deliberately impersonated Amber to meet with Jared and told Jared that she was Maple Leaf, and Jared believed it at first.

But it didn't take long for Jared to realize that there was something wrong with her, that she wasn't Maple Leaf, and to try to break her down to her face and find the real Maple Leaf.

How could she allow that if she let Jared find Amber, then Amber would still be over her head for the rest of her life, and she would be laughed at by the world for impersonating Amber.

It's a double whammy for her, so she has to stop this and definitely not let Jared get to Amber.

At that time, she remembered her boyfriend, who she was still dating, and heard him say that he had a brother who was a hypnotist, so she begged her boyfriend to get his brother's help and hypnotize Jared.

At that time, she did not dare to tell her boyfriend that she wanted to break up with him and be with Jared, not wanting him to know that she had never actually loved him, and that she was with him only because of his face, which was very dignified to take out and gave her a sense of vanity.

However, the boyfriend refused her offer to let him find his brother, saying that nothing would go to his brother, and that his brother was different from ordinary people, and said again that it was not good to hypnotize others.

She was furious, but couldn't help it.

At that time, Jared suddenly went to the hospital, she inquired only to learn that Jared actually had a heart attack, and has heart failure, at any time to die.

How does this work!

She had a good chance to marry into the Farrell Family, how could Jared die, and if he died, who would she marry?

But to save Jared is not that easy, must find a suitable heart, and she inquired at the doctor, Jared's blood type is very special, so the heart is extremely difficult to find, the Farrell Family so powerful, looking for twenty years have not found a heart, she a far from the Farrell Family the Gardner Family, how could she have that kind of skill.

I thought all this would really come to nothing, but unexpectedly, she saw her boyfriend's medical report, the blood type on it, actually with Jared's exactly the same.

At that moment, her whole body was excited, and if the blood types were the same, the possibility of a match was high.

So she secretly took a bit of her boyfriend's blood while he was asleep and took it to be matched, and it turned out that it actually did match.

She was overjoyed that she could finally marry into the Farrell Family, and as the benefactor of her life.

After that, she began to plan how she could get her boyfriend's heart. After planning for a long time, she decided to take a car accident and trick him out.

In the end the crash was successful and the boyfriend did get hit and seriously injured and sent to the hospital where the doctors told him that he couldn't be saved.

She offered to see her boyfriend one last time, crying for him to donate his heart, she was in love with another man, he agreed, and not only that, she convinced his brother to help Jared hypnotize him.

After that, Jared completely think, she is Maple Leaf, and then also logically in the end with her.

I thought everything would go perfectly, but who knows, she actually got into a car accident and became a vegetable while looking for Amber's fault.

And during the time she was a vegetable, Amber actually married Jared.

When she woke up, the news came as a bolt from the blue and she couldn't believe it was true.

Amber is married to Jared, so did Jared fall in love with Amber all over again, and did Amber and Jared learn from each other that the other was the real pen pal?

If she learns of it, will she still have a life?

The good thing is that all this worry did not last long before she learned that Amber and Jared did not know that the other was their pen pal, and that Jared's hypnotic effect still exists and has been extremely cold to Amber for the past six years, not even realizing that Amber is his true love, which is undoubtedly great news for her, she still has a chance.

Sure enough, she proposed to Jared that he divorce Amber, and Jared agreed, only before Jared could initiate the conversation with Amber, Amber actually filed for divorce herself.

It's a good thing that Amber has the sense to get out of the way and save her the effort.

It's just that Amber's existence remains her heartache, and the fact that Amber is alive means that sooner or later all that she has done will be unraveled, so she must have Amber dead.

Just unexpectedly, Jared, even if he could not recognize Amber, even if he did not know that he loved Amber, but every time he saw Amber in danger, he would go out to save Amber, but also for Amber, even the engagement with her was cancelled, and finally also directly lifted the hypnosis, so that she was sent to prison and mental hospital.

She wondered many times if the fate of these two people was really predestined by God, and really could not be torn apart no matter what?

As it turns out, the fate of these two people is indeed heavenly, indeed how can not be broken up, not only can not be broken up, but also compounded the marriage.

That's all, but what she finds even more ridiculous now is that Amber is actually her parents' biological daughter!

It's ridiculous, it's just ridiculous.

She's actually been Amber's stand-in for over twenty years!

Chapter 1439: Starting With Makenna

Proud as Makenna is, how could she accept such a thing?

In her heart, she has never been above the world and no woman can compare to her.

They are not even worthy to give her shoes.

And now, everything she had was taken away from her by Amber, her man, her family, her parents, all of these became Amber's, and even she, herself, became Amber's double.

She had never hated anyone so much, and she swore that her name wasn't Makenna until she had shredded Amber and Mr. and Mrs. Gardner into pieces.

Crackling.

Makayla smashed everything in the room that could be smashed to pieces.

Connor's hand passing through the door of the room, just in time to hear the sound, stopped, his face grim to the core.

Mr. Oller whispered, "Boss, she's just too arrogant to smash your stuff."

Yes, everything Alice has spent since she followed Connor, all from Connor.

When Makenna does this, it's not just trashing Connor's stuff.

Connor's old eyes narrowed dangerously, "Did you find out why she was angry?"

"Got it, something to do with Mr. and Mrs. Gardner." Mr. Oller nodded.

Connor's eyelids raised, "Oh? Something to do with Mr. and Mrs. Gardner?"

"Yes." Mr. Oller continued back, "Mr. and Mrs. Gardner found the real biological daughter, and that person is still Amber, and Makenna can't stand it, that's why."

"What? Mr. and Mrs. Gardner's real daughter is Amber?" this thing that made Connor all but flinch.

Mr. Oller pushed his glasses, "Yes, it's true, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner's daughter is indeed Amber, not that Judy, that Judy is Amber and Hayden joint to find the inside man, originally wanted Judy to impersonate Makayla to the Gardner Family, to help collect evidence of Trenton's crimes, I did not expect Judy that woman could not let go of that splash of wealth, it is delusional to become the real Makayla, after Judy found that Amber is the real Makayla, the joint Jared together sat Makayla this identity."

"Jared?" came Connor's interest, "That means that Jared helped that whatever Judy period hide Amber, right?"

"Yes." Mr. Oller nodded, "because Jared felt that if Amber knew about this, I'm afraid it would be unacceptable, because then agreed to help Judy conceal Amber's true identity, and that's how Mr. and Mrs. Gardner did not suspect Judy's identity. "

Connor let out a chortle, "Then he really loves that Amber woman."

"Yes, it's just a pity that we couldn't be too sure of this before, so much so that we missed the opportunity to use that Amber woman against Jared, and now that Amber woman is pregnant and recuperating in the hospital, which is guarded by Jared's people on all levels, we can't even get to Amber if we want to." Mr. Oller sighed with some regret.

Connor rubbed the tap on his cane, "So now does Amber know who she is?"

If they don't know, they can still start with that.

However Mr. Oller's next words made him a little regretful, "Got it, two days ago Trenton was aggravated again into the hospital, Judy wanted to save him, so she went to Amber, and then Amber's identity was told, although I don't know how Amber is now, but I think Amber's condition at that time should also Not too good."

Their men couldn't get into Amber's place, so they were only able to spy on Trenton and the others.

All of this, they speculated based on Trenton's side.

But the speculated result is certainly the reality of the situation is no two.

Who let Makenna, that woman, actually quite cared for Mr. and Mrs. Gardner.

Of course, this caring does not mean having feelings for Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, but hating Mr. and Mrs. Gardner to the bone.

Makenna, a narrow-minded woman, could not see her family members who had been good to her in the past being good to another daughter, so she planted a spy around Mr. and Mrs. Gardner early on to find out if Mr. and Mrs. Gardner treated Judy better than they had treated her in the past.

If not, that's fine, maybe that Makenna woman will let Mr. and Mrs. Gardner off the hook.

But if Mr. and Mrs. Gardner treated Judy better than she did, then she would have disposed of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner together.

Who let Mr. and Mrs. Gardner betray her?

In short, Makenna is now such a mentality.

What I didn't expect was that the people Makenna had sent to spy on Mr. and Mrs. Gardner would find out such a big secret.

Judy is not the biological daughter, Amber is.

It's no wonder Makenna is so angry, after all, Amber is the person that Makenna the woman hates the most.

Now the most hated person has become the biological daughter of his parents in the past, who can bear it.

"It's just that, since Amber knows her identity, it won't work to try to start with that, so let's start with this woman Makenna." Connor turned his head and looked at the door of the room in front of him, his eyes were full of sinister and poisonous.

Mr. Oller's eyes flashed with a shining light, "Boss, what do you mean?"

"This woman, eating my food, using my food, and smashing my things, she thinks she doesn't have to pay for anything?" Connor sneered, "How is it possible, under this heaven, there is no free lunch, she should also add to my brick and mortar, she is not very hate Amber and the Gardners, you let her sent to monitor the Gardners, often make up some of that family of three harmonious lies to stimulate her, as long as she is stimulated, will certainly Maybe at that time, we can take advantage of the chaos to find the right opportunity to Jared."

Connor narrowed his eyes and said sorrowfully.

Mr. Oller's eyes lit up, "You're right, boss, I'll go arrange it now."

"Well, go ahead." Connor waved his hand.

Mr. Oller turned to leave.

Connor looked at the door of the room in front of him for a while longer, which also walked away.

...

On this day, Amber had just woken up from her nap when Mrs. Murphy walked in with a somewhat complicated expression.

Amber looked at her and asked curiously, "What's wrong Mrs. Murphy?"

"Mrs. Jared, the who's who is here." Mrs. Murphy was a little unsure of what to call it.

Amber cocked her head in confusion, "Which one who?"

"It's ... It's Trenton's wife!" Mrs. Murphy thought about it and finally decided it was better to call it that.

After all, it is not appropriate to address your mother.

Mrs. Jared hasn't recognized them yet.

When she heard that Mrs. Gardner was here, Amber's face froze slightly, then lowered her eyes so that the look in them was not visible, "She ... What is she doing here?"

"She said she wanted to meet you and made you soup." Mrs. Murphy didn't hold back and told the truth, "Mrs. Jared, would you like to meet?"

Mr. Jared was away, working at the Farrell Group, and she called Mr. Jared, who said he could put people up if Mrs. Jared would see them.

But you have to keep an eye on it the whole time.

That's why she came over to ask Amber, otherwise, she would have just blown people away.

Hearing Mrs. Murphy ask herself this question, she was a little unsure of how to answer.

To say no, but she could not say, her mind is full of yesterday in Trenton side, the couple was good to her a scene.

But to say see, she is equally afraid to speak.

Because she knew that if she met this time, it would mean more tolerance and acceptance of them in her heart.

She didn't know what to do.

Look at Amber with her head down, caught in a tangle.

Mrs. Murphy sighed and suggested, "How about this Mrs. Jared, just don't see it for a while."

Chapter 1440 Mrs. Gardner'S Soup

"No?" Amber froze.

Mrs. Murphy nodded, "Yes, Mrs. Jared you went to see them before, they must be very good to you, so much so that your heart is more complicated to them, more do not know how to face them, in that case, then first each other calm and cool, do not meet first, just Mrs. Jared you can think about what to do afterwards. "

Amber bites her lip.

It took a while before she agreed to Mrs. Murphy's offer.

Because Mrs. Murphy was right, after meeting Mr. and Mrs. Gardner once, the hatred she had for them dissipated.

But this is clearly not possible.

If it completely dissipated, then she would really be sorry for the Reed Family, so she should really avoid meeting with them at this point in time.

"Mrs. Murphy, then I'll trouble you." Amber looked at Mrs. Murphy.

Mrs. Murphy nodded, "That's nothing, then Mrs. Jared you rest, I'll send her off."

"Good." Amber hmmed.

Mrs. Murphy went out.

On the first floor of the inpatient wing, Mrs. Gardner walked around the first floor lobby carrying a thermos bucket, in an anxious mood.

The company's main goal is to provide the best possible service to its customers.

Mrs. Gardner walks around and every now and then glances in the direction of the elevator.

After looking many times, she did not see the elevator doors open, which made her both disappointed and helpless inside.

I don't know if my daughter will see her either.

Mrs. Gardner sighed.

In the next second, the sound of the elevator doors opening came.

Mrs. Gardner looked up in a hurry and Mrs. Murphy came out.

Mrs. Gardner didn't know her, so she took one look at Mrs. Murphy and then withdrew her gaze with a look of loss in her eyes.

Not a daughter.

It seems that her daughter will not see her.

Mrs. Gardner mouth hooked up a bitter smile, and then saw an additional figure in front of him, the same old lady that he had just seen.

"Mrs. Gardner," Mrs. Murphy called out as she stood in front of Mrs. Gardner.

Mrs. Gardner looked at Mrs. Murphy in disbelief, "You are?"

"I'm taking care of Mrs. Jared." Mrs. Murphy returned.

Mrs. Gardner at first did not respond to this Mrs. Jared who is, but soon thought that Jared is the Farrell Family third generation of the boss, the Farrell Family maids are called Mrs. Jared.

And now that Amber is married to Jared again, it's self-explanatory who this old lady is talking about as Mrs. Jared.

Knowing that Mrs. Murphy was Amber's man, Mrs. Gardner was instantly excited, "Hello, did Amber send you here?"

Mrs. Gardner asked hastily, her eyes full of joy and anticipation.

Mrs. Murphy was also meeting Mrs. Gardner for the first time, although she knew from Jared and others that Mrs. Gardner loved her daughter, but had never met her.

Now that I have seen it with my own eyes, I know that what Jared and others said is true.

This woman, who really loves her daughter, has all the affection in her eyes for Mrs. Jared.

If not for the feud between the Reed Family and the Gardner Family, Mrs. Jared would have been happier with Mr. and Mrs. Gardner than with the Reed Family.

After all, Hugo still married his stepmother afterwards.

And I heard that the stepmother and the stepmother's daughter were not very nice to Mrs. Jared either.

That's why she lamented that God was playing tricks on her.

"It's me." Mrs. Murphy was a little nicer to Mrs. Gardner.

The two families' hatred and grudges aside, Mrs. Gardner's feelings for Amber, she has a good feeling about Mrs. Gardner, after all, Mrs. Gardner is sincere to Mrs. Jared.

"Hello hello." Mrs. Gardner hastily greeted, then asked expectantly, "Did did Amber ask you to take me up? Is she going to see me?"

Looking at Mrs. Gardner's excited and happy look, Mrs. Murphy sighed and then shook her head, "No, Mrs. Jared asked me to call you back, she doesn't want to see you for now."

"What?" Hearing that Amber had refused to meet, the happiness and joy on Mrs. Gardner's face froze, and her face went a few shades whiter.

Although she had prepared herself mentally and guessed before coming that her daughter might not see her, but again, there was a half chance that she would.

And, she'd like to think about the half odds of seeing it.

But who knows, the final choice is the part that is missing.

Forgive her for having a heart to prepare, this moment heart can not help but some disappointment sad.

"Amber, why won't you see me?" Mrs. Gardner asked busily.

It's clear that they had dinner together yesterday, mother and daughter.

Mrs. Murphy returned faintly: "Mrs. Jared does not want to see you is quite normal, after all, you have too much mixed between you, Mrs. Jared is not so easy to accept you, if she instead easily accepted you, then what has she become?"

This statement left Mrs. Gardner completely speechless.

Yes, the daughter was raised by Hugo.

She has always thought of herself as the daughter of the Reed Family, and if her daughter were to identify with them so easily instead, she would not be able to live with her conscience.

"I see." Mrs. Gardner bowed her head with a bitter smile.

Then she thought of something else and handed the thermos bucket to Mrs. Murphy, "Then this, can you bring it up for me? I know she has a bad pregnancy, I used to have a bad pregnancy when I was pregnant with her, this soup was specially configured by a health master back then, it is very good for pregnant women with a bad pregnancy, so I specially made some for her, I want her to try it."

Since she can't see her daughter, this soup, she also wants her daughter to drink.

This is a mother, she is concerned about her daughter to cook specially.

Mrs. Murphy looked down at the thermos bucket in front of her and then at Mrs. Gardner's begging eyes and finally softened and took the bucket, "Yes, I will bring it up for you, but I don't know if Mrs. Jared will drink it or not, and I won't force it."

"It's okay." Mrs. Murphy waved her hand repeatedly, "Just bring it up, it's okay if Amber doesn't drink it."

"That's fine." Mrs. Murphy nodded, "I'll go then, you go back too."

"Good." Mrs. Gardner reluctantly squeezed the corners of her mouth.

Mrs. Murphy, carrying the thermos, turned around and headed for the elevator.

Mrs. Gardner watched her until she saw the elevator, and then turned to leave.

Back in the hospital room, Amber is reading a book that Jared left for her to read when he was afraid she would get bored.

She was not too interested in these books, but she also knew that it was not good to play with the phone for a long time, so she simply picked them up and read them.

But looking at it, I found it was actually quite interesting.

So these days, she's read two books.

"Back Mrs. Murphy?" Amber heard the door open, closed the book in her hand, and looked toward Mrs. Murphy.

She flinched slightly when she saw the thermos bucket Mrs. Murphy was carrying, "That's ..."

Mrs. Murphy saw that she saw it, and was not prepared to hide it, and put it on the table openly, "Mrs. Gardner made this soup for Mrs. Jared, I saw her heart, so I accepted it with a soft heart. The soup is good for pregnant women who have a bad pregnancy, so she made it for you.

Amber's lips moved and she wanted to refuse, but her body was faster than her mouth and she nodded slightly.

When she reacted, it would have been a bit deliberate to say no, so she simply fell silent.

When Mrs. Murphy saw her promise to try it, she smiled and went to the kitchen to get a bowl.

After taking it out, Mrs. Murphy opened the thermos and a refreshing aroma was emitted.

Amber's stomach rumbled at the smell.

Her whole body froze, and even Mrs. Murphy looked at her in amazement.
