

LLPD Chapter 1441

Chapter 1441 Eye Surgery

Amber instantly blushed and lowered her head in embarrassment.

Oh my God, she actually smelled Mrs. Gardner's soup and her stomach rumbled.

Doesn't that mean she really wants Mrs. Gardner's soup?

Mrs. Murphy saw Amber's embarrassment and laughed twice, "Mrs. Jared, don't be shy, this soup smells so good that I want to drink it, not to mention you."

Amber looked up, "Then Mrs. Murphy will serve herself a bowl too."

"This or not, this soup is good for pregnant women, what am I doing drinking this for an old lady." Mrs. Murphy shook her head and refused.

Then he handed Amber the soup that was served.

Amber reached out and took it, looking at the bowl of yellow soup, her stomach rumbled even more, and her mouth began to secrete saliva.

Obviously, her body is feeling very satisfied with this soup.

"Mrs. Jared, how about a drink?" Mrs. Murphy saw Amber holding a bowl and didn't move, and urged, "I just used a spoon to fish out the ingredients underneath this soup, they are all tonic, and it's a warm tonic, and it won't cause any stimulation to the body, so you can drink it without worry."

Amber hummed, picked up a spoon and took a sip of the soup.

The rich, fresh aroma immediately made her eyes squint slightly.

Mrs. Murphy saw this and asked, "Mrs. Jared, how does it taste?"

Looking at her, it should taste good.

Amber opened her eyes, scooped up another spoonful of soup and nodded, "It's okay, it's not very hard to drink."

On the contrary, it was also very good, and tasted a little better than Mrs. Gardner's dish yesterday.

Obviously, Mrs. Gardner really put her heart into making this soup.

Hearing Amber's answer, Mrs. Murphy also knew she said that on purpose and shook her head in amusement.

But she was relieved to see Mrs. Jared drinking so happily and not having any uncomfortable reactions.

Contact Mrs. Gardner later and ask her how this soup is made and what ingredients are used so she can learn how to make it for Mrs. Jared to drink in the future.

As he thought about it, the door to the ward opened and Elias entered in his white coat, smelling the strong scent of the room and raising an eyebrow, "What are you drinking?"

Amber put down her spoon and looked over, "There you are."

"Dr. Lansdale, Mrs. Gardner just brought Mrs. Jared soup, and Mrs. Jared is drinking it now." Mrs. Murphy returned.

Elias frowned, "How dare you drink the soup she sent you, aren't you afraid something will happen?"

Both Mrs. Murphy and Amber froze at these words.

Mrs. Murphy mumbled, "I don't think so, Mrs. Gardner is so good to Mrs. Jared, she wouldn't hurt Mrs. Jared."

Amber also subconsciously held the bowl tightly in her hand.

Elias walked over, "Who says it won't, although she is indeed your real mother, there is a lot of things that span between you in the end, it's better to pay attention."

Mrs. Murphy thought about it, and for a while she felt regret for leaving this soup behind.

Yeah, what if something goes wrong?

So Mrs. Murphy hurriedly asked, "Mrs. Jared, are you uncomfortable anywhere right now?"

Amber shook her head, "No, on the contrary, I still feel warm and cozy in my stomach."

This is true.

Since she has been pregnant, she has been experiencing some slight downward feeling in her stomach, which is not painful but not comfortable either.

Now with this soup, this downward feeling is lessened and replaced by a warm and very comfortable feeling.

Hearing Amber's answer, Mrs. Murphy breathed a sigh of relief, "That's good, that's good, but this soup, Mrs. Jared, you'd better not drink it yet, let Dr. Lansdale take it to test it."

Elias lifted his chin, "Yes, but before that, let me look at your eyes, the corneas have arrived, and I'll see when you're ready for surgery."

"The cornea has arrived!" Hearing this, Mrs. Murphy was overjoyed, "Great, Mrs. Jared did you hear that, the cornea has arrived, you can have the surgery and you don't have to keep wearing glasses anymore."

Amber was also excited to look at Elias.

Yes, who wants to wear glasses when you can see with your own eyes?

It's heavy and inconvenient.

"How come it's my turn so soon?" Amber was happy and couldn't help but ask curiously, "As I recall, weren't there a dozen people ahead of me waiting for corneal transplants?"

"Some transferred, some dropped out of surgery, so it's your turn to be early, anyway, you don't have to worry, you're not cutting in line." Elias returned.

Amber also knew he would not lie to him again about such things, nodded and stopped asking questions, with a happy look on her face.

"Then Dr. Lansdale, I'll leave Mrs. Jared's eyes to you, so you can look at her first." Mrs. Murphy took the bowl Amber was holding so that Elias could easily look at her eyes.

Elias hummed, took a small flashlight out of his pocket, and walked over to check Amber's eyes.

After a quick examination, Elias opened his medical record folder again and asked questions as he wrote on it.

After hearing Amber's answer, he nodded, "Well, I probably know your situation, the eye is still in good condition and can be operated on, let's set the time for tomorrow at noon, it just so happens that I don't have any other surgeries at that time."

He snapped his medical folder shut and looked at her.

Amber hummed, indicating that she knew, "Okay, tomorrow then, but will it affect the baby in any way if I have the surgery now?"

After all, she is afraid to even get sick now, for fear that if she does, she will have to take medication that will have an effect on the baby.

I'm even more afraid of getting sick and having to remove the baby.

So she is worried that if she has the surgery now, it will affect the baby.

Mrs. Murphy also looked at Elias nervously when she heard Amber ask this question.

Elias pushed his glasses, "Do not worry, you are only doing eye surgery, not other surgery, and you do not need to take medicine after the surgery, just a local anesthetic in the surgery on the line, will not have any effect on the child in your stomach."

When they heard him say that, Amber and Mrs. Murphy were both relieved and relieved.

"That's great." Mrs. Murphy patted her chest.

After that, Elias left with the thermos bucket and went to the lab, and Mrs. Murphy followed along so that she would know the results at all times.

He was very fast in his lab tests and came out of the lab in no time.

Mrs. Murphy clasped her hands together and hastily asked, "Dr. Lansdale, how is it, is the soup all right?"

Elias handed the thermos back to her, "No problem, this is indeed a very nourishing soup for pregnant women and perfect for Amber to drink right now, I misunderstood her."

Hearing this, Mrs. Murphy was relieved and took the thermos and smiled, "Then Mrs. Gardner really doesn't seem to be hurting Mrs. Jared."

"Although this is the case, the vigilance should be there, even if the couple will not hurt Amber, but do not use it, Jared has other enemies, there is no guarantee that they will not start from Mr. and Mrs.

Gardner side, to achieve the purpose of hurting Amber and Jared, so after Mrs. Gardner sent in the I'll say hello to the rest of the lab, and they'll help you in the future when I'm not here." Elias said.

Mrs. Murphy nodded, thinking it made sense, "Dr. Lansdale is right, it really should be, I'll send over the labs later before I give them to Mrs. Jared, I'll go back then."

"Hmm." Elias responded.

Mrs. Murphy carried the thermos bucket to the inpatient building, and on the way, she dialed Mrs. Gardner's phone number.

She didn't have Mrs. Gardner's phone number, but when Mrs. Gardner handed her the thermos bucket, she slipped her a slip of paper with her phone number on it.

She originally wanted to throw it away, but then thought better of it, and now it comes in handy.

Chapter 1442 Laboratory Results

On the other end of the line, Mrs. Gardner, who had returned to Stillwater General Hospital, had been staring at her cell phone for I don't know how many times since she returned.

Trenton advised her to watch it later, and she only agreed verbally and perfunctorily, then continued to stare at her phone, obviously waiting for something.

As for what to wait for, Trenton doesn't have to guess, it must be waiting for his daughter's call or message.

Because the wife said when she came back, although she did not see her daughter, but met the person who took care of her daughter, and accepted the soup she made for her daughter.

So Mrs. Gardner has been waiting to hear, waiting for the call, to see if her daughter will drink the soup and if she will feel good about it.

However, it had been so long since she returned, but the phone hadn't rung once, which made Mrs. Gardner feel both nervous and a little lost inside.

Several times I wondered if the phone was broken and that's why there were no calls and no messages.

Of course, although thinking so, Mrs. Gardner actually still knows that the phone is not broken, the reason why there is no call, no message, it is because the other party originally did not call, did not send.

"Trenton, do you think Amber didn't have that soup and that's why she won't call?" Mrs. Gardner looked at Trenton with a somewhat pale face.

Trenton gently patted the back of her hand, "It's okay, Amber does not drink, you boil again is, I believe that one day Amber will drink, daughter has not accepted us yet, do not drink the soup is normal."

"I know, but I'm still a little sad inside." Mrs. Gardner sighed.

"It's okay, give your daughter some time to adjust slowly and think about it in a different direction, if we were Amber and had such a pair of parents who had bullied her, we would be the same way." Trenton was thinking straight, so he reassured Mrs. Gardner.

Mrs. Gardner nodded, "That's all I can do, then I'll go buy some more ingredients and continue making soup for Amber tomorrow."

"Go ahead." Trenton agreed.

In fact, these things can be done by the servants below.

But Mrs. Gardner wanted to pick the ingredients herself and make the soup for her daughter herself, which means, quite different from what the maids do.

So Mrs. Gardner wanted to do it herself, and he didn't stop her.

If he were not physically unable to do so now, he would be willing to accompany his wife and do something for his daughter as well.

Mrs. Gardner grabbed her bag and got ready to go out.

But just then, the phone suddenly rang.

She hurriedly stopped in her tracks, "Honey, do you think it could be Amber?"

She was so excited.

Trenton thought it should not be very likely, but seeing his wife so happy, he did not want to splash her cold water, so he nodded and agreed, "It should be, you take it out to see it."

"Hmm." Mrs. Gardner nodded heavily and hurriedly took her cell phone out of her bag, only to see the caller ID, and the joy on her face, froze for a moment.

Seeing this, Trenton knew that his suspicions were right, and the call, indeed, was not from his daughter.

Still, he asked, "Who's calling, is it Amber?"

Mrs. Gardner shook her head, "No, it's an unfamiliar local number."

"Better answer it, I remember you just said that before you left, you also gave your phone to the person who takes care of Amber, maybe it's her calling."

Hearing Trenton's reminder, the loss in Mrs. Gardner's eyes dissipated.

Yeah, it could be that guy.

Mrs. Gardner's heart regained hope, she hastily slid the screen and answered the phone, "Hello?"

"Mrs. Gardner, aren't we interrupting?" Mrs. Murphy asked as she depressed the elevator.

Hearing Mrs. Murphy's voice, the joy returned to Mrs. Gardner's face.

Trenton immediately knew that he had guessed correctly again.

Although the call was not from my daughter, it was from someone close to my daughter, so it was considered a call from my daughter.

"No no, you ... Your name is Mrs. Murphy, right?" Mrs. Gardner asked with some uncertainty.

When she left the hospital, she specifically asked the nurse for Mrs. Murphy's name.

She didn't know if the nurse was right.

Mrs. Murphy was not too surprised to hear that Mrs. Gardner knew her name, after all, it was not a secret what her name was, just ask around and find out.

"It's me." Mrs. Murphy nodded.

Seeing that she was right, Mrs. Gardner breathed a sigh of relief and hurriedly and eagerly asked, "Mrs. Murphy, did Amber tell you to call?"

"No." Mrs. Murphy shook her head, "I typed it myself."

"So... .." A glint of gloom flashed in Mrs. Gardner's eyes.

Mrs. Murphy heard it and smiled a little, "Mrs. Gardner don't be disappointed, although Mrs. Jared didn't tell me to call, Mrs. Jared didn't stop me from calling you either."

Put it that way, it seems right.

Mrs. Gardner's heart changed to happiness again at once.

This up and down up and down, but also really make people feel alarmed.

Mrs. Gardner thought with some amusement.

"Mrs. Murphy, you called, it's that soup ... Is there any problem?" Mrs. Gardner asked cautiously, not daring in the least to be rude to Mrs. Murphy.

After all, Mrs. Murphy is Amber's person, in case she offends Mrs. Murphy, won't she see her daughter even less in the future?

Now to please Mrs. Murphy, at least from Mrs. Murphy can still know some news of her daughter.

Mrs. Murphy naturally also heard Mrs. Gardner's careful ingratiation, and knew the reason why Mrs. Gardner ingratiated herself, and sighed in her heart.

Poor parents.

She would not comment on the character of Mrs. Gardner and Trenton.

But the couple's affection for Mrs. Jared was, indeed, pure.

"Yes." Mrs. Murphy nodded back, "Mrs. Jared drank the soup you made."

Mrs. Gardner was overjoyed to hear that Amber drank the soup, "Really? Amber really drank it?"

She thought that Amber, who hated them so much as parents, must not be able to drink.

I never thought that Amber would drink it.

"Yes, Mrs. Jared drank it and liked it quite a bit." Mrs. Murphy said with a little smile.

"Great, great." Mrs. Gardner walked around excitedly, "Amber didn't mind the soup I made, she drank it, Trenton you heard me, Amber drank it."

Trenton nodded with the same smile in his eyes, "I hear you."

He was very happy, as was Mrs. Gardner.

"By the way Mrs. Murphy, Amber had the soup and didn't feel any discomfort, did she?" Mrs. Gardner asked again.

Although that soup, is good for pregnant women with bad pregnancy phase, but there is no guarantee that Amber will not have bad reaction if she drinks it.

So, she is also always on her toes.

Mrs. Murphy shook her head, "Don't worry Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Jared drank it very well, there is no discomfort, on the contrary, she also said that it warmed her stomach, so I am calling here specifically to ask you how you made this soup, if possible, can you teach me, in the future I can also make it for Mrs. Jared to drink. Mrs. Jared."

"Of course!" Mrs. Gardner agreed flatly.

She also knew that her daughter would not drink her soup every time, so she might as well give the method to Mrs. Murphy.

After all, the method was provided by her, and her daughter drank it, and it was equivalent to drinking from her boil.

Hearing Mrs. Gardner's agreement here, Mrs. Murphy's heart was more satisfied with her, "Okay, Mrs. Gardner, go ahead, I'll write it down."

With that, Mrs. Murphy turned on the recording function of her phone.

Mrs. Gardner will make the soup method and ingredients one by one, said very carefully, every detail of the soup, all told, not a little hidden.

Mrs. Murphy took notes and then smiled and thanked, "I see, thanks to Mrs. Gardner."

Chapter 1443 - No Change In The Belly

Mrs. Gardner shook her head and waved her hand, "No, no, it's all for Amber, you should do it.

"Oh? Mrs. Gardner actually knows so much?" Mrs. Murphy was surprised.

Mrs. Gardner smiled shyly, "Trenton and I were not fit to have a child, but we wanted to have a child, so I sought medical advice and took a lot of tonic and medicinal food to regulate my body, and only then I was able to regulate my body to the extent that I could barely collect eggs for IVF. After Amber, my body declined again, and Trenton sought out many health experts in order to regulate me, which is why I am so prescription."

"So that's it." Mrs. Murphy nodded with understanding and was quite emotional in her heart.

I had no idea that Mr. and Mrs. Gardner had gone to such lengths to conceive Mrs. Jared.

Other things aside, they are indeed good parents.

"That's fine then Mrs. Gardner teach my old lady next time she comes over." Mrs. Murphy said.

Mrs. Gardner was overjoyed because she knew that this was still Mrs. Murphy's chance to give her another chance.

Give her a chance to go to the hospital, although it's not always possible to see Amber.

But if you go, you still have some chance of seeing your daughter.

"Thank you Mrs. Murphy, thank you Mrs. Murphy," said Mrs. Gardner, gripping the phone tightly and thanking her excitedly.

Mrs. Murphy shook her head, "It's nothing, but I still have to remind you that Mr. Jared and Mrs. Jared have a lot of enemies, in the future, if you come and send anything, you must be more careful, don't let people have the opportunity to do something, so as not to harm Mrs. Jared."

When Mrs. Murphy said this, Mrs. Gardner first froze for a moment, then reacted and quickly responded, "I know, I will pay attention to it, I will definitely not let anyone have the opportunity to lay hands on my daughter through me."

"That's good, that's fine, then I'll hang up first, in the future you come over, you can call me in advance." Mrs. Murphy finished speaking and cut off the communication.

Mrs. Gardner put the phone down and Trenton asked, "What did she just say to you, what would go down on Amber?"

Mrs. Gardner didn't hide anything from her daughter, so she told him what Mrs. Murphy had just told her.

Trenton listened to, thin bones like wood face, also surfaced a thick gloomy, "I remember, the Farrell Family has a family feud, is the Stockert Family of the Capital, some time ago, there is news out that Hendrik's death is the Stockert Family family head Connor of the Capital, I do not know whether it is true or not, but I feel that it is very likely to be true, Connor is still in the sea city did not leave, I also heard that Jared specially greeted with the various exits of the sea city, it seems to be the Connor trapped in the sea city, not to let Connor leave, so it can be seen that This matter is most likely to be true."

"So, then, there's a good chance that that Connor is out to get Jared, and thus out to get our daughter?" Mrs. Gardner's heart fluttered.

Trenton nodded, "Yes, Jared is powerful, and Connor is alone here, it is impossible to directly face Jared, so Connor will definitely find a way to strike from other sides, the only possibility is our daughter, our daughter is Jared's favorite person, if Connor starts from Our daughter's side to start, use our daughter to achieve the purpose of dealing with Jared, is not impossible."

"Then what should we do?" Mrs. Gardner was anxious, "Since Mrs. Murphy told me so, it is obvious that Jared knew that Connor might do so, why did he still stand still, just take action against that Connor ah, why should he keep letting such a danger exist?"

Trenton sighed, "you think too simple, first of all the old Mr. Farrell reason, Jared will not directly to Connor, this will let the old Mr. Farrell left the credit greatly discounted, the second is the Stockert Family although not as good as The Farrell Family, but also not too far, if Jared at this time directly to Connor, the Stockert Family without the leader, the various companies will be greatly affected, many employees will lose their jobs, a serious point, the family may be broken, this situation, the above is absolutely not allowed. "

He gestured upward.

Mrs. Gardner doesn't know anything about business, but she does know what the state will and won't agree with.

Couldn't help but sigh, "So it's like this, then wouldn't it be suffocating to keep letting that Connor go like this?"

"I'm sure Jared has his own way, don't rush yet, we just need to defend properly here and not hold Jared and our daughter back." Trenton looked at Mrs. Gardner to reassure her.

Mrs. Gardner nodded, "That's the only way, I will pay more attention in the future, I will not let those who have ulterior motives, through us to hurt our daughter."

Trenton hummed, "Point taken."

"I'm going to get a pen and paper and write down all the recipes I know are good for Amber's health, so the next time I go over there, they'll come in handy." When Mrs. Gardner said this, the whole person was happy again, and went to the study to make preparations.

Trenton saw her so happy, and a smile appeared in his eyes.

In the following days, Mrs. Gardner ran Primary Medical Center very hard.

Almost every morning at nine o'clock on the dot, came here.

At first, Mrs. Gardner couldn't go up to the inpatient floor, so Mrs. Murphy had to go down to see her every day.

At the back, Amber also felt sorry for Mrs. Murphy running up and down, and finally let Mrs. Gardner come up with a soft heart.

Here Mrs. Gardner is in the kitchen with Mrs. Murphy, making soup for Amber.

Today is also considered to be Amber's third full month of pregnancy.

She is now standing in front of the mirror, fishing up her blouse and observing her stomach.

To be honest, she looked at half a day, only to see a little change, that is, the navel there is slightly convex, but also not obvious, do not look carefully, simply can not see.

She just read on the internet that many pregnant women have very visible bellies in their third trimester of pregnancy.

And she was still flat, and if she hadn't had her pregnancy confirmed, she would have thought she wasn't pregnant.

As she was thinking, Mrs. Gardner's voice suddenly came from behind, full of anxiety, "Amber what are you doing?"

"Huh?" Amber turned back with a puzzled look on her face.

Mrs. Gardner hurried to her side and pulled her blouse down, "Why are you showing your belly? You're such a child."

Mrs. Gardner muttered as she helped her arrange her clothes.

Amber looked at Mrs. Gardner's face full of worry and concern despite her accusations, and felt something indescribable in her heart.

"That ... I'll do it myself." She gently pushed Mrs. Gardner away and straightened her own clothes.

Mrs. Gardner was pushed away, although lost, but still did not forget to tell her, "Amber, from now on, don't just leak out your stomach, what if you catch a cold? You are weak and pregnant, once you catch a cold you won't recover for a long time."

Amber listened quietly, not retorting or answering.

At that moment, Mrs. Murphy came out of the kitchen with the casserole and saw mother and daughter standing there and asked, "What's wrong?"

"It's okay Mrs. Murphy, Amber just fished her dress up and looked in the mirror, I was worried about her catching a cold, so I helped her cover it up." Mrs. Gardner walked over and helped Mrs. Murphy put down the anti-scalding pad.

Mrs. Murphy put the casserole down, looked at Amber who was lying back on the bed and asked in confusion, "Mrs. Jared, why did you just lift up your shirt?"

Amber smiled a little embarrassed, "I wanted to see if my belly had changed, the internet said that pregnant women's bellies change in three months, so I wanted to see my own, but looking at it, it seems nothing has changed."

Chapter 1444 - Gradual Acceptance

Mrs. Gardner and Mrs. Murphy looked at each other and then both laughed.

Amber cocked her head, not understanding what they were laughing at.

Mrs. Murphy then explained: "Mrs. Jared, no change is normal, each woman's physique is different, so the state of pregnancy is also different, some women two or three months belly changes, but some women four or five months belly is very small, until almost born, the belly looks only slightly larger, probably Mrs. Jared you are the latter. Jared you are the latter, right?"

Mrs. Gardner nodded, "Yes, when I was pregnant with you was also like this, five or six months, it looks similar to other people's three-month belly, full-term, but also with other people's five or six-month belly, not show pregnant."

This is something that her daughter actually inherited from her.

This made her heart kinda surprised and happy.

So that's it.

Amber listened to the two, then nodded in a daze, "I thought everyone was the same, so I saw nothing change in my stomach and was a little worried if the baby was abnormal."

"Don't worry." Mrs. Murphy walked over and gently touched her head, "This is a hospital and Mrs. Jared you are constantly being examined by the doctors and nurses, if there was anything wrong they would have told you long ago."

"That's true." Amber squeezed the corners of her mouth, "I'm the one who's thinking too much."

"Don't think or worry about it much later." Mrs. Murphy smiled.

Mrs. Gardner also nodded her head to support Mrs. Murphy's words.

Amber glanced at her and averted her eyes with some discomfort.

"So am I going to have a baby later and my belly won't be too big?" Amber touched her belly, "Then in that case, when the baby is born, will it be small?"

If it is very small, is the child's body weak?

Can that be raised?

Amber is a little worried.

Mrs. Murphy has never actually given birth, and although she knows how to take care of a pregnant woman, she has no idea about what to do during pregnancy.

So Mrs. Murphy also had to look to Mrs. Gardner for help.

Mrs. Gardner sat down and said: "Compared to ordinary babies, it is true that they are a little smaller, but as long as they are born at full term, the child's body will not have any problems, and to raise them, they will soon catch up with normal-sized children, Amber, don't worry, when you were born, you were red and small, your father and I thought it would not survive. But the doctor told me not to think too much about it, just take care of it as a normal sized baby, a small sized child, as long as the nutrition keeps up, grows up very fast, faster than a normal sized baby, and sure enough, a month later, you are no different from a normal sized baby."

She said it seriously, and the words believe her were written all over her eyes.

Amber knew she wouldn't lie to herself about something like this again and finally nodded slowly, "I know, thanks ..."

"No, no." Mrs. Gardner waved her hand happily, saying no thanks, and then said excitedly, "Amber, if there is anything you don't know in the future, you can ask me, and I will tell you everything."

Amber squeezed the corners of her mouth and didn't respond.

The light in Mrs. Gardner's eyes dimmed for a moment, but was quickly reassured by herself.

It's okay, it's okay, my daughter is not used to it.

Her daughter will accept her later.

"What are you talking about?" At that moment, the door to the hospital room was pushed open and Jared walked in from outside with a bag in his suit in his hand.

He was not surprised to see Mrs. Gardner and gave a slight nod of greeting to Mrs. Gardner.

And yes, Mrs. Gardner was here, how could he, as the man of the house, not know about it?

Mrs. Gardner was a little flattered to see Jared take the initiative to greet her, but more than anything, she was relieved.

She was allowed to come up yesterday by Amber, but she didn't stay here that long yesterday, so she didn't see Jared.

She thought that Jared didn't know that she had come over, so she just saw Jared come in and was worried that Jared would kick her out.

I didn't expect Jared to do that, but instead he said hello to her. Does this mean that Jared is actually very supportive of his visit to Amber.

Mrs. Gardner looked at Amber with tender motherly love in her eyes.

Amber saw it and shuddered, hurriedly lowering her head again to avoid her eyes.

She didn't dare to look more, afraid that if she saw it, she would drown in Mrs. Gardner's eyes and be unable to extricate herself.

She knows how fascinating motherhood can be.

"Mr. Jared you're back." The only person in the same mood was Mrs. Murphy, who happily brought a stool for Jared when she saw him return.

Jared did not sit, but came to sit by the hospital bed, put his arm around Amber's shoulders and brought her into his arms, then kissed her on the cheek.

Although long used to Jared kissing and hugging her every time she came back, that was in the absence of anyone else.

Now there's not only Mrs. Murphy here, but Mrs. Gardner as well.

Amber blushed and pushed the man away, shyly saying, "What are you doing, someone is watching."

"We're a couple, just watch." Jared was unimpressed.

Besides, he didn't do anything else.

Mrs. Murphy covered her lips and laughed heartily.

Mrs. Gardner also looked at the two with great relief.

It is so nice for my daughter to meet such a loving man.

"By the way, what were you guys talking about?" Jared asked again as he handed the bag to Mrs. Murphy.

In that bag, Amber had asked him to bring it when he left the house in the morning, saying she wanted something spicy.

He didn't allow it, but seeing Amber's eyes looking at him, he got soft and finally agreed.

Because Mrs. Murphy also said that pregnant women's tastes are always changing during pregnancy, and if they can't eat it, it will always be on their mind, so it's okay to let her eat a little bit, as long as she eats a little less, it won't be a problem.

This is not, after he left work, he also made a trip back to the old house and took a little hot sauce from the old house side.

After all, he is not comfortable with what is out there.

Mrs. Murphy took the bag and went back to the kitchen.

She made the dish, just short of the hot sauce, which she had to go put on at this moment.

So the last person to answer, was Mrs. Gardner.

Mrs. Gardner told the story of what Amber had just done, laughing as she did so.

Amber bowed her head rather embarrassed.

After all, now it seems that their own actions at the time to pick up the clothes to look in the mirror, is so a little childish funny.

As expected, Jared's thin lips also hooked up after hearing this.

His silly wife, ah, how so cute.

Mrs. Gardner stayed for about another half hour and left.

After all, Stillwater General Hospital is still waiting for her to return.

Trenton needs her, too.

Although it was tiring to go back and forth between the two hospitals every day, Mrs. Gardner did not feel it at all, but was filled with happiness.

Because coming here, she can see her daughter, and going back there, she can see her husband, what could be happier in life than this?

Shortly after Mrs. Gardner left, Amber and Jared also had dinner.

The dinner was hearty, with sour and spicy.

Amber's eyes were glowing as she watched, and her mouth kept producing saliva.

She then impatiently picked up her utensils and reached for the spicy steamed fish in front of her.

Jared frowned slightly, a little worried.

Mrs. Murphy saw it and said with a smile, "Mr. Jared don't be nervous, although it looks spicy, but at that time I put the hot sauce control, didn't put too much, just a spicy taste, actually not too spicy, let Mrs. Jared eat a little bit is fine, don't worry, I will watch her, won't let her eat too much, eat a little The only thing you need to do is to eat a little."

Jared listened, then nodded, slightly relieved, then picked up his own cutlery and began to eat.

After eating, both of them walked out of the ward door and prepared to meet Judy.

Chapter 1445 - Let Her Go To Mourning

Originally said to go in the morning, but in the morning Jared temporarily received a call from Ben, said that there is a very important project need him to look over, but also need to meet.

So Amber had to ask him to go to the Farrell Group, take care of his business, and then come back to spend time with her as well.

That's why this matter has been delayed until now.

"Right, all forgotten how many days Judy has been locked up?" Amber looked up at the man holding her carefully beside her and asked with a tearful smile.

He really, it's not like she's so big that she can't walk and is going to give birth.

He held her up so much that she thought it was as if she was really going to give birth.

Ask him not to hold it up so much, and he still won't agree.

She had no choice but to go with him.

"Four days now." Jared said back.

Amber nodded, "After today, just don't keep her locked up, it's not a good idea to keep her locked up."

"Good." Jared agreed.

Of course he is what his wife says is what ah.

Besides, he had planned to hand Judy over to Elias after he let her see her today.

That guy, but has long been thinking about it.

Elias cleaned up a man that would only be worse than his tactics.

But all this, Amber doesn't know, and Jared isn't going to tell her.

Soon, the two arrived outside the room where Judy was being held. The bouncer greeted the two and opened the door.

Judy is still trapped tightly thrown on the bed, and only when she goes to the bathroom to wash up and eat is she untied by the bodyguard and given a brief moment of freedom.

The rest of the time, they are basically tied up.

At first, Judy yelled and screamed, hoping that someone would hear the sound and save her.

But later she also learned that no matter how loud she shouted, no one would let her go, simply because this was all Jared's territory.

So for the past two days, she's been completely at peace, just lying around all day, staring at the ceiling.

She also doesn't think about how long Jared is going to keep her locked up, let alone what Jared is really going to do to her.

She's just worried about how Trenton is doing now.

Suddenly, the door opened.

Judy thought it was a bouncer who came in, and her eyes didn't even move.

Until you hear Jared's gentle voice ring out, "Be careful."

It took a moment for her eyes to come into focus and she hurriedly turned her head toward the door.

Looking at Jared, who carefully helped Amber in, Judy quickly and loudly begged for mercy, "Mr. Farrell, I was wrong Mr. Farrell, please let me go, I will never appear in front of Miss Reed again, I just want to go back now, want to go back to see Dad, Mr. Farrell, please. "

Jared seemed to hear nothing and continued to help Amber along.

The two finally stopped at the bedside.

Jared lowered his eyes slightly and looked at her coldly, "Let you go? So you're just going to let go of the damage you've done to my wife?"

Judy's pupils contracted, then looked at the woman beside him and pleaded once again, "Miss Reed, I was wrong, I really know I was wrong, I shouldn't have appeared in front of you, I shouldn't have told you this, please, for the sake that I did this, and also for the sake of saving someone, and that person is also your own father's sake, you spare me this time, I will never say the words that let I'm not going to say anything about you saving dad, I'm going to go back and take care of him, okay Miss Reed?

Her begging was extremely sincere, if not for the fact that she was now tied up.

She was even willing to get up on her knees and kowtow to them.

Amber didn't expect that Judy would care so much about Mr. and Mrs. Gardner.

She initially thought that Judy wanted to be her only because of the Gardner Family's wealth.

But now it seems that, in addition to being rich, Judy also truly considers Mr. and Mrs. Gardner as her parents.

The reason why they are sincere is also because Mr. and Mrs. Gardner are good to Judy.

And that, more than anything else, makes her feel complicated.

Just because, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner will be good to Judy, it is because, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, really think Judy is her.

So in essence, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner really love her.

"Miss Reed ..." Seeing Amber suddenly wandering off and not responding, Judy was so great that she cried a handful of snotty tears, "Miss Reed, please, dad is really bad right now, I have to go back, back to him to take care of him, otherwise, I don't know if I can see his last side, I know I impersonated you, you don't want to identify with mom and dad anyway, you Why not let me go back to them to honor my filial piety?"

These words caused Amber to be struck inwardly.

It is true that she does not want to identify with Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, but she is not in a position to keep Judy from honoring them either.

After all, they were good to Judy and Judy treated them like parents.

In a sense, they are actually mutual.

"I know, I'll let you go after that." Amber lowered her eyes and said in a light voice.

Jared frowned slightly but didn't say anything.

Judy was overjoyed, "Thank you Miss Reed, thank you Miss Reed."

"You don't have to thank me, I only let you go for their sake, if it wasn't for them, he was dying, I would never have let you go." Amber said with a cold little face.

After all, Judy almost caused her to lose the baby in her belly, so how could she not hate Judy?

But again, Trenton's side, too, really needs an extra care.

Mrs. Gardner will certainly come here every day next, Trenton alone over there, although there are doctors and nurses and nurses, but in the end there is no close people to take care of carefully.

Although she is still unable to identify with Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, she has not completely let go of her hatred for Mr. and Mrs. Gardner.

But she figured out that Trenton didn't have much time left anyway, so she let Trenton live out his last days.

When Trenton died, all the grudges turned into ashes, at that time, she will be able to completely put aside the grudges of the two families, no longer carrying a huge pressure, can live a very relaxed and happy life, right?

"Let's go husband." Amber turned around and took Jared's arm.

Jared raised an eyebrow, "Leaving so soon? No more talk about something else?"

Yung shook his head, "No need, let's go."

Originally she came here to ask some Judy some questions.

But now seeing Judy, seeing how much Judy cared for Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, there were some questions that she suddenly didn't want to ask.

This is good, she can not go to Mr. and Mrs. Gardner to identify, let Judy go back, instead of her to their filial good.

It was the only thing she could do.

Walking out of the ward door, Amber leaned into the man's arms and

The man wrapped his arm around her waist, his voice gentle as if water was dripping out, "What's wrong, tired?"

"Well, a little tired." Amber nodded with her eyes closed, her voice soft with some pampering in it, "Honey, I don't want to go."

Jared laughed low, clearly enjoying the woman's pampering.

He picked her up in his arms, "I'll carry you back."

"Is your arm okay?" Amber asked, slightly half-opening her eyes.

The man hugged her and walked with ease, "Don't worry, it's healed, even if it's not, it won't be a problem to hug you."

Hugging his wife, the woman he loves most, even if he does not want this arm, he is willing.

Amber smiled happily, "That's very nice of you, husband."

"I'll always be this good, always be good to you." Jared looked down and gave her a kiss on the forehead.

Some nurses passing by saw the two so in love and smiled their blessed aunts' smiles.

Some CP fans, but also secretly shoot the back photo of the two sent to the group or online, netizens call out so sweet and sweet.

Chapter 1446 - Logan'S Quirks

Jared naturally also found these peek-a-boo, but see they have no malice, but simply bless them, he also ignored, let them shoot.

When she returned to the hospital room, Amber was already asleep.

The phrase "pregnant women are sleepy" is not simply a statement.

In short, Amber is now in a situation where she has to sleep for more than ten hours in a twenty-four hour day.

But this is not a bad thing, pregnant women sleep more, it means that the child is developing well and the pregnant woman's body is also good.

"Keep an eye on Little Leaf while I go out." Jared said to Mrs. Murphy after covering Amber with the blanket.

Mrs. Murphy nodded, "Don't worry Mr. Jared, I'll keep an eye on Mrs. Jared, you go ahead."

Jared hummed and turned to exit the hospital room.

But just as he went out, he met Logan who came along with his bodyguard.

Logan also carried many, many gifts in his hand, and when he saw Jared, Logan instantly smiled like a second fool, showing a mouthful of white teeth, and hurriedly waved, "Big brother big brother."

Jared frowned in disgust, "What are you doing here?"

"Hey, I came to see my sister-in-law, and my future little niece." Logan said with a heated smile.

Jared raised an eyebrow, "How do you know it's a niece, what if it's a nephew?"

After all, it's a 50-50 probability.

No one knows the sex of the child until it is born, and he will not bother to ask.

For him, children are the same, they are the fruit of his love for Little Leaf.

"It's definitely a niece, I like nieces." Logan shook a few bags in his hand, "Look, big brother, these are the gifts I prepared for my sister-in-law and my little niece, all of which are liked by girls, so it's definitely the niece."

Jared let out a chortle.

Just because he bought something that a girl likes, then he is sure that his wife is pregnant with a daughter.

It is true that a stupid brother is a stupid brother, only grows older but not grows brain.

Logan still doesn't know that his big brother has already put himself in the stupid category in his mind and is still giggling, "Big brother, where's the sister-in-law?"

"It's inside." Jared didn't hold back and answered.

Logan was about to cross him to go inside, "I'm going to check on my sister-in-law."

"No go!" Jared stopped him outright.

Logan was a little confused, "Why?"

"Your sister-in-law is asleep, you'll wake her up if you go in." Jared said coldly and unfeelingly.

Logan was upset, "No, I will be quiet, I will never disturb my sister-in-law, I will wait inside for her to wake up, I have to give these things to her personally, big brother hurry up and let go of me, let me in."

"No, you can wait outside if you want to, wait for your sister-in-law to wake up before you can go in."

After saying that, Jared gave a look to the bodyguard behind Logan.

The bodyguard nodded knowingly, "Don't worry Mr. Farrell, I'll keep an eye on Mr. Logan and definitely won't let him in, let alone give him a chance to make a fuss."

"Hmm." Jared nodded in satisfaction and was about to lift his feet to leave.

Logan asked, "Where are you going, big brother?"

"Something's up." Jared faintly returned his sentence, and his figure had disappeared in the elevator room.

He was going to Elias to get Elias to take Judy there.

Although Little Leaf promised to let Judy go, he did not.

Judy almost caused him to lose his wife and children, this revenge, he could not not not revenge.

He will make Judy's life worse than death before releasing Judy to take care of Trenton.

But at that time, Trenton is still alive or not, that is not known.

So that night, Judy was sent out of the room where she was kept, and as to where she was sent, only Jared and Elias knew.

When Jared returned to the hospital room, Amber had woken up long ago and was talking to Logan, and I don't know what Logan said that made her laugh so hard she couldn't stop.

This made Jared look at Logan more or less favorably.

At least this brother is a bit stupid, but because he can make Amber happy, this brother can still be reluctant to keep.

But this brother also quite keep his promise, said to wait until Amber woke up, and really waited until Amber woke up.

It seems that in the future, he can have this kid come over more often to keep Amber company and cheer her up when he is not with her.

"What are you talking about, laughing so hard?" Jared asked tenderly as he pushed the door in and walked right up to Amber, taking her into his arms.

Logan saw this scene, acid shiver, "big brother and sister-in-law, you want this, bully me this single dog it."

Amber covered her lips and laughed softly.

Jared glanced at him in disgust, "Who told you to look?"

"You guys are right in front of me, can I not look?" Logan huffed.

Jared frowned, "You can keep your eyes closed."

"You ..." Logan was so angry that he couldn't say anything, then looked at Amber and complained directly, "Sister-in-law, look at your man, he actually bullied his brother, it's too much, sister-in-law you help me teach her a lesson."

"Honey, you wouldn't, would you?" Jared asked pathetically as he turned Amber's face around to meet hers.

Amber funny, "Well you two, stop it, you too, thirty-one people, but also with him a teenager is not yet adult children, you are also really out of breath."

"Exactly." Seeing Amber speak for herself, Logan instantly became proud, his tail was up in the air, and he dared to look at Jared with provocative contempt.

Jared narrowed his eyes and stared at him coldly, "No more pocket money this month."

"No!" Logan was instantly masculine, like a defeated rooster, and his whole body wilted.

Amber looked and covered her lips and laughed.

"You still haven't answered me what you guys were talking about." Jared asked again.

Amber smiled back, "Logan was just telling me about all the funny things that happened during their game, so I couldn't hold back my laughter."

"So." Jared nodded, then looked at Logan again, "Next, until your new round starts, you report here every day to keep your sister-in-law company and amuse her."

"What's in it for you?" Logan's eyes lit up instantly and he bargained.

Jared was going to say something about him, but then thought that was all he was good for and dismissed the idea, "Double the allowance."

"Good." Logan agreed in one breath, afraid that if he was a step slower, Jared would cancel.

I can come every day to accompany my sister-in-law to relieve boredom, you can get twice as much pocket money, this kind of good thing, fools do not do it.

"Don't worry big brother." Logan stood up and patted his chest, "When you are busy, I will definitely take care of my sister-in-law carefully, thoughtfully and happily."

He had a serious look of entrusted responsibility.

Mrs. Murphy and Amber were laughing as they watched.

Only Jared, more disgusted.

This guy, can't use idioms, can you not use them?

It seems that just supporting him to play the game went, forgetting to improve his cultural lessons.

Next, it's time to catch him up on his culture classes as well.

At this moment Logan only knows that he will have more pocket money in the future, but he doesn't know that he will also have more school work in the future.

If he had known, he would now be crying with regret as to why he had added so much drama to himself.

"By the way Jared, what were you doing earlier?" At this point, Amber suddenly looked at the man and asked.

Chapter 1447: All Preferences Have Changed

She woke up and didn't see him, thinking he had gone back to work at the Farrell Group.

But Mrs. Murphy told her that he hadn't gone to the office, so she wondered where he'd been for the past few hours.

Jared heard Amber's question, his eyes flickered for a moment before he returned, "Didn't you say you were going to release Judy, so I went to make arrangements to do so."

That's a half-truth.

He did leave Judy alone, but only handed her over to Elias.

How Elias would deal with the woman was none of his business.

Amber nodded, "So."

She responded with this and didn't ask any more questions after that.

For Judy the person, she is complex and would not want to pry anytime to disgust herself.

Jared is also really because he knows that she will not ask Judy again, so he will be obedient to the surface to promise her to release Judy, in fact, to transfer Judy.

"Big brother, sister-in-law, who is this Judy you're talking about?" At this point, Logan looked at the two and asked with a puzzled look on his face, "That's an ugly name, similar to that era."

He spoke with disgust.

Jared glanced at him, "It's not your place to ask questions, it's late, you should go back, I'll have someone take you back."

Logan looked out the window, the neon was high and it was indeed very late.

He stood up, "That's okay, then I'll go back today, lest my mother call me later, sister-in-law, I'll go first, I'll see you and my niece tomorrow."

The corners of Amber's mouth twitched, then she smiled and nodded, "Okay, you go back."

This kid, it seems, really wants her to have a daughter.

Since she woke up in the afternoon and saw her, she kept saying that she had a daughter in her belly.

Even if she tells him that it is a probability thing, whether it is a son or a daughter, who can say for sure, we will not know until it is born.

This guy, however, was adamant that it wasn't a son, it was a daughter.

But whether it's a son or a daughter, as long as it's her child, she loves it.

To end up really a daughter is also good, at least her little uncle, will certainly also love her very much.

"I'll have someone take you back." Jared also got up, ready to send Logan to the elevator, by the way, in arranging a bodyguard to send him will go.

After all, a half-grown teenager going back by himself, as an older brother, he is not at ease.

"Honey, wait for me to come back." Jared rubbed Amber's hair.

Amber hummed, "Go ahead, go early and come back early."

"Good." Jared withdrew his hand and responded gently.

However, the moment he turned around, his expression immediately changed from gentle to disgusted.

"Let's go."

Logan mouth corner twitching powerful, "big brother, you this change of face, also too fast point, just now also to sister-in-law and pleasant, to me so cold."

"Are you your sister-in-law?" Jared glanced at him, disgusted.

Logan grunted, "But I am your own brother, ah, you are so cold to your own brother so disgusted, too much."

"If you were a little smarter, I wouldn't be so cold and disgusted with you, who called you stupid? You're the dumbest one in our family." Jared's mouth was unforgiving.

Logan choked on his words and walked ahead in a huff.

Amber and Mrs. Murphy listened to the brothers' bickering and shook their heads in amusement.

"Mr. Jared just loves to tease Mr. Logan," Mrs. Murphy said.

Amber took a sip of milk, "I can understand, Logan is like a paint bucket, a little bit will blow up like that, the most people can not help but want to tease."

"Yes, Mr. Logan has been such a character since he was a child, and has never changed. When he is teased, he will jump to his feet, but he does not let people hate him, but makes people want to tease more and more. Mrs. Murphy sat aside and peeled fruit for her.

Amber nodded, "It's a good thing Logan didn't inherit as many bad habits as Shonna did, or it wouldn't be as fun as it is now, it would be annoying."

"That's the young master's good genes." Mrs. Murphy said smilingly, "Fortunately for Mr. Jared and Mr. Logan, neither of them resembles their mother, or else it would indeed be hard to say."

Mr. Jared's mother is the ultimate love brain.

And Mr. Logan's mother ...

Forget it, don't mention it.

In short, if the two young masters really look like them, it would be terrible and the Farrell Family should be finished.

Amber listened to Mrs. Murphy's words and brought the two brothers Jared and Logan into their mother for a moment, and the whole man couldn't help but shiver.

"You're right, if they're like their mother, it does say one thing, and it's still horrible."

"Yes, so the old Mrs. Farrell often lamented that it was fortunate that it was not inherited." Mrs. Murphy cuts the apple into small pieces.

Amber asked curiously, "Mrs. Murphy, do you know how Jared's father and Shonna met? And how they fell in love?"

This question, in fact, she has been wanting to ask for a long time.

But she held it all back and didn't ask it of Jared.

For one thing, Jared does not necessarily know all, come this is about his father's past, he told the words, the mood aspect may also be a little difficult.

So, she just never asked.

But now that she's talking about it, and it just so happens that she and Mrs. Murphy are the only ones here, she finally can't help but ask.

She wanted to know what magic Shonna, the woman, had that made Jared's father fall in love.

Is it really because the shit outside has never been eaten and all smells good?

Mrs. Murphy handed the cut apple to Amber, "This ah, the details I actually do not know very well, I only know a general, Mr. Jared's parents from the beginning is a mistake, Mr. Jared's mother does not love Mr. Hendrik, so after the marriage, they have not once had intercourse, even if pregnant with Mr. Jared, not because of natural conception, but because of in vitro fertilization, in fact, this practice, to Mr. Hendrik is an insult to Mr. Hendrik. Even if they got pregnant with Mr. Jared, it was not because of natural conception, but because of in vitro fertilization, which, in fact, was an insult to Mr. Hendrik and even made people think that Mr. Hendrik was sick, but Mr. Hendrik loved Mr. Jared's mother, so even though he might suffer from such gossip and jokes, he still agreed to be with Mr. Jared's mother. Mr. Jared's mother."

"And then what?" Amber took a bite of her apple and then asked.

Mrs. Murphy sighed, "Mr. Hendrik originally thought that as long as they got married, had children, and spent more time together, one day, Mr. Jared's mother would definitely fall in love with him, after all, it was he, not Connor, who was with Mr. Jared's mother, so after Mr. Hendrik got married Mr. Hendrik's mother, often put effort into making Mr. Jared's mother happy or something, this teasing is more than ten years, Mr. Hendrik also from the beginning of the enthusiasm, changed to flat. "

"Because Mr. Hendrik didn't think that Jared's mom loved Connor that much." Amber added.

Mrs. Murphy nodded, "Yes, no one expected, that woman so in love with Connor, Mr. Hendrik accompanied her for more than ten years, but did not move her a little bit, obviously these ten years, Connor never contacted her, never met with her, I do not know, she in the end how to persist in this relationship I don't know how in the end she held on to this relationship, but she just held on to it."

"Some people, the way they think about feelings, are different from us." Amber thought about it, and that was the only explanation.

Mrs. Murphy looked at her, "Yeah, in the words of you young people, you have different brain circuits."

The comment made Amber laugh, "Mrs. Murphy, I can't believe you're still keeping up with the trends."

"That is." Mrs. Murphy smiled smugly, then the smile faded, "people's passion, not a constant, Mr. Hendrik insisted for more than ten years, did not impress Mr. Jared's mother's heart, over time, the feelings for her also faded, but did not completely put down, until Mr. Jared's mother said, let Mr. Hendrik was looking for one outside so that she could get a divorce, which completely broke Mr. Hendrik's heart, and Mr. Hendrik also decided at that time to set her free and stop loving her with all his heart."

Chapter 1448: Going On A Business Trip

"So Mr. Hendrik just found Shonna out there?" blinked Amber.

Mrs. Murphy shook her head, "No, Mr. Hendrik although said no longer forced, but also did not promise to find another woman, that period of time, Mr. Hendrik the whole person seems to have changed, the mental state has become very wrong, often go out to buy drunk, like things and aesthetics, also with the previous completely opposite, such Mr. Hendrik, the old Mrs. Farrell is very worried, but also specially invited a psychiatrist to see him. Mr. Hendrik, the old Mrs. Farrell very worried, also specially invited a psychiatrist, want to give him a look, think he is so by Mr. Jared mother hit, but Mr. Hendrik all refused, said what is not willing to see a doctor."

"And didn't you watch it later?" Amber asked.

When people encounter some blows and turns, they will indeed change their character greatly.

Take herself, for example.

How contrary the previous six years were, she now feels terrible when she thinks about it.

That's her!

The good thing is that now she has changed and is not the same as before.

"No." Mrs. Murphy shook her head. Mrs. Murphy shook her head, "Mr. Hendrik seems to be gentle and nice, but in fact, stubborn, no one can do anything about him, the old Mrs. Farrell was very worried, thought that Mr. Hendrik will continue to be so decadent in the future, but unexpectedly, one day, he came back with Shonna, said The old Mrs. Farrell was stunned and couldn't believe that Mr. Hendrik had such poor eyesight and had fallen in love with such a woman."

Amber rubbed her chin, "Mrs. Murphy, you just said that Mr. Hendrik's whole personality has completely changed because of his mother-in-law's behavior, and all kinds of preferences and aesthetics are completely opposite, is it because of this that he fell for Shonna ah?"

After all, although she had never met her own mother-in-law, she knew that her own mother-in-law came from a wealthy family, had a gentle nature, was knowledgeable in speech and behavior, and was beautiful.

And Shonna ...

The opposite is true.

Doesn't this fit the reason why Mr. Hendrik's various preferences have changed?

Mrs. Murphy nodded, "Mrs. Jared you are right, Mr. Hendrik did look at Shonna because of this, otherwise with his normal aesthetics, how would he look at Shonna, at first, the old Mrs. Farrell was very worried about this, but Mr. Jared's mother was happy because Mr. Hendrik had found someone to love and she could get a divorce, so she stopped the old Mrs. Farrell from continuing to find a psychiatrist for Mr. Hendrik, not wanting Mr. Hendrik to change back to his old self, feeling that Mr. Hendrik had changed back to his old self and her hope of leaving was gone. "

Amber frowned, "Granny she's really ..."

She didn't know what to say.

After all, as a daughter-in-law, it's not good for her to talk about her elders.

Especially, or the elders who have passed away.

"Mr. Jared's mother was indeed very excessive, the old Mrs. Farrell also regretted, regretted why did not insist on that year, had to let Mr. Hendrik marry her into the door, but regret is also too late ah, more than ten years, the old Mrs. Farrell tried to force Mr. Hendrik to take to the psychiatrist, and finally Mr. Hendrik said to the old Mrs. Farrell, he knew that the woman he saw was not good enough, but at least, the two of them are now in love, and he will not live with Mr. Jared. Mr. Hendrik finally told the old Mrs. Farrell that he knew that the woman he liked was not good enough, but at least, the two of them were in love now, and he would not live the same painful life as Mr. Jared's mother, so it was good that his aesthetics and preferences had changed, and he hoped the old Mrs. Farrell would be satisfied. Cheng Cheng, the words, the old Mrs. Farrell said the old Mrs. Farrell moved."

"And the grandmother finally agreed to Mr. Hendrik and Shonna?"

Mrs. Murphy laughed, "Which is so easy, just give up to find a psychiatrist for Mr. Hendrik, but agreed to Shonna into the door, not so fast, finally Mr. Hendrik moved the family law, said as long as they bear the family law, the old Mrs. Farrell will have no reason to oppose So the old Mrs. Farrell used the family law to punish Mr. Hendrik before Shonna entered the house."

"So that's how it is." Amber nodded her head in a daze, "I said how Mr. Hendrik fell for Shonna, not that I despise Shonna, it's really because the chances of someone like Shonna being seen by a rich boy like Mr. Hendrik are too small, I didn't expect that the real situation is like this, it's Mr. Hendrik's preference Otherwise, Shonna wouldn't have gotten in."

"Yes." Mrs. Murphy took the empty plate she handed her, "That's right, it's not that we don't look up to Shonna's status, but Shonna's character is not good, not to mention people like us, not many ordinary people's families can look up to her, but this person is not good, but her nature is not bad, also know the guilt, she thinks it's her appearance that Mr. Jared's mother could not accept the suicide, and then also with Mr. Hendrik to break up, Mr. Hendrik retained her back, even if Mr. Hendrik explained to her, Mr. Jared's mother's death, she had nothing to do with her, she still did not believe it, her heart has always held this guilt, and then put this guilt into Mr. Jared. Jared."

"I know, Jared has told me that Shonna treats him like her own son, so Jared approves of her as a stepmother." Amber picked up the story.

Mrs. Murphy laughed again, "Actually, there's something else that Mr. Jared doesn't know either."

"Oh?" Amber curious, "that is Shonna back then for Mr. Jared, once wanted to abort Mr. Logan, because she was afraid that Mr. Jared think more, also afraid that after she gave birth to Mr. Logan, will become biased, for become a only for the benefit of their own son, see Mr. Jared disagreeable malicious stepmother, therefore She went behind our backs and secretly went to the hospital, and if we hadn't eventually found out, I'm afraid there would be no Mr. Logan now."

Amber was surprised, "I didn't think she, in fact, could make it this far."

"Yes, we all did not expect, the old Mrs. Farrell is also because of this matter, the heart is completely released to Shonna's mind, in fact, before that, the old Mrs. Farrell has always been not treated Shonna, do not approve of this daughter-in-law, is this matter, completely let the Although the old Mrs. Farrell still disliked Shonna verbally and superficially, but in her heart she knew that she was a good daughter-in-law." Mrs. Murphy said.

Amber took another sip of milk, "Thank you Mrs. Murphy for telling me this."

"Nothing, the Farrell Family has a lot of past stories, Mrs. Jared if you want to know, you can ask me, I will tell you all, just to relieve the boredom." Mrs. Murphy said with a smile.

Amber readily agreed.

After that, Mrs. Murphy went to the kitchen to prepare the ingredients for tomorrow.

Jared also returned from dropping off Logan.

Seeing Amber reading a book, he walked over with tender eyes, "Honey, I'm home."

"Welcome back." Amber took the initiative and moved to the side, giving up a bit of her seat for him to sit.

Jared sat down and smoothly took her into his arms, "I have a business trip tomorrow."

Hearing this, Amber immediately closed the book in her hand, "Business trip?"

"Hmm."

"Where to?" She asked curiously.

"Esnyae Country," Jared returned, "Something happened at the subsidiary there and I'm going to check it out, so I'm leaving tomorrow and will be back in five days at the latest."

"So, okay, you go ahead and have a safe trip." Amber looked at him.

Jared kissed her forehead, "I will, remember to miss me when I'm away for the next few days, and I will increase security here."

After all, her safety, in his absence, became his biggest concern.

"Okay, you make the arrangements, I'm comfortable with any arrangements you make." Amber said with a smile.

No wonder he offered to let Logan come to the hospital to talk with her for the rest of the day.

It turns out it's because he's going on a business trip and is worried she'll be bored alone.

I have to say, he is really thoughtful and has thought of everything for her.

It's a really good feeling to be put in the heart of someone all the time.

Chapter 1449 - Medical Experiments

"I'll call you every day on video when we get overseas." Jared added.

Amber smiled and agreed, "Okay, I'll be up that time waiting for your video, but if you're busy, you don't have to call."

"If it's busy, I'll send you a message ahead of time to let you know." Jared returned.

Amber gave a hmmm.

He then stood up, "Okay, I'm going to go wash up, it's time to rest."

"Go on." Amber waved her hand, gesturing for the man to hurry.

On the other side, in Elias' private lab.

Judy woke up and found herself in a room full of various instruments, she was still lying on a cold operating table, her hands and feet were still tied, the whole person was anxious and scared.

"Where is this?" She shouted, "Someone, anyone!"

"You are noisy!" At that moment, an icy voice came from the direction behind her head.

Judy, unable to turn her head, could not see who the voice was coming from, and could only ask, timidly, "You ... Who are you?"

The voice didn't speak anymore.

The whole room became quiet all of a sudden.

Judy could hear her own breathing, sharp and panting, seeping in the quiet precision of the room.

Judy could feel her heart jumping out of her throat, and her forehead was covered in a big, cold sweat.

"You ... Who the hell are you and what the hell do you want?" Judy was so terrified that her voice trembled and took on a hint of crying.

Finally, the man moved again, but still didn't speak, just the sound of footsteps.

Ta-da-da.

It was the sound of leather shoes walking on the floor.

The sound, like stepping on Judy's heart, made her tears of fear come to her eyes.

Finally, the whole man was exposed to Judy's eyes.

He wore a white coat, slender and tall, and his hair was also very delicate and broken, with a high nose, handsome features, and a gentle and appalling look with glasses without eye sockets.

Yes, mild and appalling.

This person's appearance and dress, it gives a gentle and very good kind of talk.

But his expressionless face, and the kind of chill that flows around him, makes people feel scared.

"It's ... It's you!" Judy stared at the man with wide eyes and incredulity, "Dr. Lansdale, what do you want?"

It turns out that the man turned out to be Elias.

Elias is holding a syringe with a clear liquid inside.

He was holding the syringe high in the air, looking at it in the light, and then flicking it behind the body of the syringe, before looking down at her, without a trace of emotion in his eyes, as if she was not a person in his eyes, but a pig and sheep about to be slaughtered.

This scared Judy to death, and her face was horribly white.

Although, she has not had much contact with this doctor.

But she had heard some rumors about this doctor from her mom and dad.

This Dr. Lansdale, is a monster.

Because he was born without feelings and later destined to be a sociopath, he was not loved by his parents, who were also doctors, and treated him as a monster after he was born.

And he does look like a monster, even if he is a doctor who treats people, but the way he looks at his patients, he doesn't want to look at them.

Instead, look at what's dead.

Just like now.

So, every time she comes to this hospital, she tries to avoid contact with this doctor, but she never thought that she would fall into his hands now.

"It's me." Elias looked at the terrified Judy, the corners of his mouth suddenly curled up in a smile, as if satisfied with her reaction to seeing himself.

Judy's scalp tingled, want to scream, but afraid to anger this crazy person, can only clench the palm of the hand to endure, "you ... What do you want? Why am I here?"

These are the two questions she wants to know the most right now.

Elias squeezed the syringe in his hand.

Several drops of liquid oozed out of the syringe at once.

Two of the drops fell on Judy's face, cold and icy, causing her to subconsciously scream out.

But with Elias glancing at her, she hurriedly kept her mouth shut again.

Elias narrowed his eyes, "Why are you here, of course Jared sent you here, I recently had a medical experiment and couldn't find a test subject, so it just so happened that you filled in."

Medical experiments!

Hearing those four words, Judy's eyes widened in horror, "You ... You want to dissect me?"

She had seen the movie, those ghosts in the past, that's how they did it.

She never expected that this monster, like those devils, would want to use her for medical experiments.

"You let me go, I don't want to be your test subject, you let me go!" Judy struggled violently in fear, and her whole face turned red.

However Elias just stood there, quietly looking at her, just like watching some joke, "It's useless, this is a special material made of straps, can withstand a ton of resistance, no matter how you struggle, it's impossible to break free."

"Why?" Judy wailed, "Amber clearly said to let me go and release me back to take care of Daddy, why don't they keep their word?"

She would rather they keep her locked up than have them send her here to be an experimental mouse.

Elias pushed his glasses, "Amber did say she was letting you go, but Jared didn't. You almost got Amber killed twice, and you think Jared really won't do anything but put you away for a few days?"

Judy's mouth opened and she wanted to retort, but couldn't say anything.

Elias added: "Don't worry, I won't dissect you and I won't let you break your arms and legs, I'll just let you be a test subject for a while, and I'll let you go afterwards, I'm not going to take your life yet."

Hearing this, Judy was relieved.

However, the next second, Elias's words, and let her collapse, "although not to your life, but the process will certainly not be very pleasant, I hope you can hold on, if you can hold on, you can go back hand and foot, if not, perhaps no life. "

"What?" Judy was horrified, "You dare to kill someone? Aren't you afraid of getting caught?"

The sarcasm in Elias' eyes was not disguised at all, "I thought you had been in the Gardner Family for so long pretending to be Amber, you should know that the power of power can do a lot of things, but now a chicken is a chicken, even if you come to the phoenix nest, you still can't become a phoenix, you are always a chicken, and your insight is always stuck at the level of a chicken. The level of the chicken."

"You ..." These words humiliated Judy to the point of blushing.

Elias said again: "You are originally a fake, want you to disappear, not to mention for Jared, even for me, are easy, and we both have ways to make you completely disappear in this world, can not find a trace, traces can not be found, you think who else will think I kill? Even if the top knows I killed you, but with my status in the medical world, the top won't do anything to me, after all, compared to me, you're just an insignificant little person, and no one will do anything to me for you, a little person, because they all want to live."

Judy is not a fool, naturally she can hear the meaning expressed in his words.

Because of this, she felt even more terrible.

"How ... so will this?"

Chapter 1450 - Two Men In One Scene

She hadn't really thought that resignation was actually so worthless to these people.

Elias was very satisfied with Judy's reaction, "So for the next experiment, you'd better behave and cooperate if you want to survive."

"I'll cooperate, I'll cooperate." Judy nodded her head repeatedly in fear.

No one is afraid to die.

Naturally, she is also afraid.

Now that she has fallen into the hands of this man, there is nothing she can do except meekly cooperate and insist.

So in order to stay alive, she had to do this.

"Good." Seeing Judy nod, Elias smiled in satisfaction before sticking the syringe into her arm.

Judy closed her eyes in pain and let the tears leave.

If she had known she would end up in such a situation one day, she would never have gone to Amber.

All this, of course, Amber does not know.

The next day she woke up and personally drove the man to the airport.

Originally Jared did not want her to send it, after all, it was quite tiring to travel back and forth.

But Amber insisted and also wanted to go out for a walk.

Jared couldn't resist her, so he agreed.

The two said goodbye for half an hour at the airport before Jared stepped onto his private jet.

Amber then stood on the observation deck and watched the plane shoot into the clouds and disappear before turning around and leaving the airport at Mrs. Murphy's urging.

This matter of Jared leaving the country was not hidden from the public, so many people knew he was gone.

Especially Cole and Hayden.

Immediately after learning that Jared had left, he came to the hospital to visit Amber.

No way, who let Jared when he was there, said nothing allowed them to come.

Now that he's gone, doesn't the opportunity present itself?

No, the two are now bumping into each other.

Amber looked at Hayden and then at Cole, amused.

And these two men, at the moment, also look at each other.

Cole asked with disgust, "What are you doing here?"

Hayden was equally disgusted with his floral peacock outfit and tsked, brushing her head away, "I'm here to visit Amber, what do you think I'm doing here?"

"You're not welcome here, so get out." Cole took Hayden's arm and was about to yank the man out.

But will Hayden be the one to be meekly dragged away?

He's obviously not.

So no matter how Cole yanked, Hayden was holding on to the door frame and wouldn't let go.

Two men who can not argue with each other, tired and like a two-headed man.

Amber and Mrs. Murphy were there to look funny.

"Mrs. Jared look, these two ..." Mrs. Murphy pointed at them, crowing.

Amber shook her head helplessly, "They are like this, although they usually do not have many opportunities to meet, but once they meet with two aggressive roosters like, have to make a mess before they stop, let them go."

She's seen it all.

"That's fine, then I'll go make some tea, they should be thirsty by the time they're tired of fighting." Mrs. Murphy smilingly headed for the kitchen.

Amber looked at the two childish men who continued to drive each other away while reading the book with amusement.

I don't know how long it took, but probably both of them knew it was impossible to get rid of each other, and simply accepted the fact that they let go of each other and walked into the ward after a cold hum.

"Amber, I came to see you, how have you been these past few days?" Cole asked as he placed the gift he brought next to him.

Hayden also brought a gift and dropped it off with her, also asking, "I see you don't look as white as before lately, your health should be better."

"Thank you for your concern." Amber smiled back, "Indeed, with Mrs. Murphy's care lately, my health is much better and not as hard as it was at the beginning."

"That's good." The two men nodded reassuringly.

Mrs. Murphy brought in a cup of tea and some fruit snacks.

Hayden grabbed a cup of tea and took a sip, "Great Mrs. Murphy, I'm just thirsty."

"Oh, drink it then, it's brewed especially for you."

Said Mrs. Murphy, looking to Amber, "Mrs. Jared, what did I say, am I right?"

Amber smiled and gave her a thumbs up.

Cole and Hayden both looked at them.

"Amber, what are you guys talking about, and what's right?"

They, how some do not understand it.

Mrs. Murphy didn't mean to hide anything, after all, there was nothing that couldn't be said, so Mrs. Murphy smiled and repeated what she had just said, "I mean, you two gentlemen will definitely be thirsty after the fight, isn't that right?"

"..." Cole and Hayden's mouths twitched at the same time, speechless.

Hayden then pointed at Cole, "It's not all this guy's fault, he had to kick me out, everyone is here to visit, not the man of the house, he is good, he had to put up a man of the house to kick me out, I argued with him, can not thirsty?"

Cole also defiantly disliked back: "Although I am not the male owner, but I am Amber's brother, you come here more people, it will only noise her rest, I kick you out what is wrong? Is it wrong?"

"You're Amber's brother, I'm still Jared's buddy, I also think you're being loud and making Amber unable to rest, and I'm trying to kick you out, am I wrong?" Hayden shot back.

The two men are going back and forth, seeing that they are arguing again, Amber amused forehead, "Okay, okay, don't leave, stay here with me to talk, don't argue ah."

More noise, I wonder how long it will take to stop again.

She was really scared of them both.

If she had known, she would not have tried to make it convenient and let them both come up together, she might as well have just separated them both and let them both come up at staggered times.

Otherwise it would not be so noisy that her brain is buzzing.

"Did you hear that, Amber told you to knock it off." Cole glared at Hayden in disgust.

Hayden naturally shot back the same, "I told you to shut up too, shut up now you."

The two men grunted and eventually stopped.

Afterwards, Cole brought his gift, "Amber look, I brought you a gift, my mother helped me suggest, said that during pregnancy, women are prone to back pain, especially the month is big, but also prone to edema, I this massage instrument is specifically to solve the back pain, and control edema."

He handed the gift over.

Amber has not spoken, Mrs. Murphy surprised to take over, "Oh Mr. Lyon, you thoughtful, I originally planned to wait until Mrs. Jared five months, and then to prepare these it, did not expect you have now prepared, that is just right, save us to buy again huh."

"Cole, thank you, and thank my aunt for me." Amber smiled at her gratefully.

Cole waved his hand, "What's the point, you are my sister, my mother's goddaughter, we are your mother's family, it's only right to do this for you, as long as you like it."

"I like it." Amber nodded.

Cole tried to say something else, only to have Hayden come over and squeeze him out with a hip, "OK, you're done with your gift presentation, now it's my turn."

Cole was not happy about it, but thinking that it was all for Amber, he could only suppress this dislike and let it go with a cold snort.

Amber shook her head in amusement.

"Amber, this is what I specially brought you, is my last visit to the countryside, the villagers brought me all kinds of mountain treasures and mountain products, and some tonic medicine, these even the number of mountain inside is not much, so the city can not buy, and I heard that these used to make soup, very good for the body, so I brought it to you."

Hayden handed the bag to Mrs. Murphy.

Mrs. Murphy opened it and looked at it with a surprised face, "Oh, these are really good mountain treasures, I have only seen these in my hometown thirty years ago, after my hometown became a town, the mountains are gone, so I have never seen these again, Mr. Cohen, thank you so much, these are really good for Mrs. Jared, I will make soup for her I will make soup for her." Mrs. Murphy said with a smile.
