

LLPD Chapter 1482

Chapter 1482 - The Final Showdown

"Sure." Jared's thin lips hooked up slightly.

With more people, there would be one more way to rescue them, and the chances of success would be higher, so he naturally wouldn't refuse.

"That's fine." Hayden snapped his fingers.

Cole organized clothes over, "bring Elias also, that guy is a doctor, in case Amber she ..."

He didn't say the rest, but the meaning was understood.

Jared thin lips pursed into a straight line, "do not need you to remind, I have asked someone to inform Elias, get in the car."

After that, he pulled open the door and got into the car first.

This time they intend to take the helicopter directly to go there, so they don't have to bother climbing the mountain.

But the helicopter was on top of the Farrell Group's building, and they had to try to get to the Farrell Group to get there.

The good thing is that the Farrell Group is not far from here, a ten-minute drive away.

There were five helicopters parked on the roof of the Farrell Group, three of which were for public use and the other two were Jared's private travel helicopters.

The crowd got into the helicopter and started off towards the mountain where Connor was.

The police and military have their own helicopters, they will not go with them, will depart from their own bases.

In the helicopter, Jared looked at the devolved land, deep inside.

He knew that this time, it was the first head-to-head encounter with Connor, and it would be the last.

After this time, the Farrell Family and the Stockert family's feud, will completely disappear.

Soon, the mountain arrived.

On top of the mountain, Connor and others also heard the sound of helicopter propellers in the sky and looked up.

Mr. Oller's face changed slightly, "Boss, it's Jared and the others coming over, along with the military and police!"

"I know." Surprisingly, Connor's expression was very calm, obviously expecting it.

"How." Mr. Oller was a bit overwhelmed, "How did they find this place so quickly?"

It had obviously taken them a long time to plan and set the route.

He knew that Jared would definitely find them, but never thought that it would be less than a day before they found them, which made him a little unacceptable.

"THE Farrell Family found it by checking satellite surveillance, why else do you think I didn't hide a little more discreetly?" Connor gave him a look.

Because he knew that no matter where he hid, he would be found once the satellite surveillance came out, so there was no need to hide too tightly.

After hearing Connor's words, Mr. Oller gritted his teeth, "Damn it! I'll go and bring that woman out."

Connor did not stop.

Mr. Oller went into the warehouse, Makenna stumbled out of it, full of panic, "Mr. Stockert, what's going on? Did Jared and the others come over?"

"You'll see if you look up in the sky." Connor looked up at the approaching helicopters.

Good guys, dozens of them, really look up to him Connor.

Makenna listened to Connor's words, really looked up to the sky, saw the dense helicopters, face as white as paper, "How, how can they come so fast?"

Connor did not pay attention to her.

At this time, a police helicopter in the sky suddenly began to shout, "Attention criminal Connor, you have been surrounded, please immediately surrender and release the hostages, repeat, immediately surrender and release the hostages!"

Hearing this warning, Makenna was scared to death.

She had experienced jail and a mental hospital, so naturally she was scared to death when faced with the current situation.

"Mr. Stockert, hurry up and do something about it?" Makenna was so anxious that she was about to cry.

Connor looked at her coldly, "What else is there to think of when you are surrounded?"

Makenna was devastated, "What do you mean? Meaning that we have no choice but to wait to be caught like this?"

"You can run, you can run." Connor snickered.

Makenna's body swayed, almost fainting, "That's not what you said before, you said you could trick Jared into coming over and get them together, didn't tell me to wait for these!"

She pointed to the sky.

"So what about your stupidity, take my word for it." Connor stood up and laughed.

"You ..." Makenna was furious.

At that moment, Mr. Oller brought Amber out.

Amber was still awake and was forcibly dragged out by Mr. Oller.

And the helicopter in the sky hovered in the air, and one by one, individuals began to land.

Soon, the two sides were facing each other.

Connor's side only 20 to 30 people, while the opposite side of Jared, but there are more than 100 people, the strength gap is obvious.

Connor's side was doomed to fail.

Jared saw Amber, who was being held by Mr. Oller.

Amber's head was slightly bowed, unconscious at first glance. Jared's brow was furrowed and a look of worry appeared on his face.

"What have you done with my wife?" He gritted his teeth slightly, his voice icy cold to the bone.

Mr. Oller smiled smugly at him, "Don't worry, we didn't do anything to your wife, she's fine, the baby in her belly is there, the most we did was just slap her a few times, but it wasn't me who did it, it was this one."

He exposed Makenna.

Makenna glared at him fiercely, then looked across at the handsome, extraordinary man with a mixture of love and hate in her eyes, "Jared, do you know who I am?"

"Makenna, you dare to hit my people?" Jared wasn't interested in playing the you-guess-what game with her, and spoke directly to her identity.

Trenton beside him heard it and was shocked, "Who? Who did you say she was?"

Trenton looked to Makenna, "You're Makenna?"

Makenna also did not expect, Jared just as long ago knew her identity, gritted her teeth, "Yes, I am Makenna, the daughter you abandoned Makenna, Dad, are you happy to see me?"

"How did you become like this?" Trenton was a little incredulous.

Makenna's face twisted, "I became like this, it's all your fault, why did you protect me, why didn't you just help me get Amber killed, I wouldn't have gone to jail, I wouldn't have been locked up in a mental hospital, and I wouldn't have changed my face, it's all your fault, it's you who made me like this!"

If Amber wasn't her daughter, Trenton didn't think he would have been angry when he heard Makenna say that.

But Amber was her daughter, and when Makenna said that, he couldn't accept it.

"Shut up you sinner, what do you mean we put you in harm's way, it's you who are vicious and evil, don't blame it on others, I haven't blamed you for my daughter yet." Trenton scolded.

Hearing the word my daughter, Makenna's mind collapsed, "Your daughter? Your daughter is me, you adopted me in the first place, you should have raised me alone, why do you still think about Makayla, it's not fair."

At this point, she suddenly laughed maniacally, "Don't you love Amber, your daughter? Do you think you'll break down if I get her killed in front of you, Jared, will you?"

"Don't you dare!" Trenton shouted a rebuke, his face blue.

Jared didn't say anything, but the murderous intent that flowed around him was nearly breathless.

Hayden and Cole also stared at Makenna with annoyance.

"See if I dare you!" Makenna finished, snatched Amber directly from Mr. Oller's hand, lifted Amber's face and slapped her twice.

Amber Shanshan woke up, saw Jared and others across the street, knew they were here to save her, and could not care less about the pain on her face, looked at them with red eyes, "Jared ..."

"Don't be afraid, I will save you!" Jared's brow softened slightly and soothed to Amber.

Trenton also hurriedly said, "Amber, Daddy will save you too."

"And us." Hayden and Cole also hurried to speak out.