

Longevity 1021

Chapter 1021 - Peach Blossom Bliss Named Bodhisattva, 9-Spirit Taisui Elixir of Creation

If other cultivators come to the Spiritual Mountain, babbling on about the weaknesses of demons and seeking Arhat Bodhisattvas as warriors to subdue them, no matter how much they look like a Buddha's son, they'll surely fail and be driven down the mountain.

Only he, Great Demon Tao, is an exception.

This fellow has long been recognized as one of their own.

Thus, Jin Tuo Monk is so polite and even makes jokes with him.

And now that Tao Qian is on Spiritual Mountain, why would he be polite? He laughed and said straightly:

"That Yellow Robed Primordial Lord has a bountiful star power within and is protected by Buddha treasures, yet is the easiest to deal with. I've heard there is a Secret Buddha deep in Spiritual Mountain named [One-horned Buddha Mother], whose profound Buddhist Law specializes in subduing Fallen Demon Jackals. Might the Buddha Mother agree to send one or two Dharma Protector Venerables to help me reclaim the Yellow Robed Primordial Lord at Ten Thousand Gods Mountain and also retrieve the Relic Bead Exquisite Inner Elixir back to Spiritual Mountain?"

"E Yue Immortal Monarch is slightly more troublesome; this rogue has mastered the Taiyin Secret Technique in Guanghan Palace and acquired Wa Empress's Secret Treasure, which ordinary cultivators in the Daoist Transformation Realm can hardly handle against. But I know on Spiritual Mountain there is a [Moon Pure Bodhisattva], commanding all shades and illuminating the universe, who is indeed the destroyer of E Yue. Could we call upon Bodhisattva's avatar to enlighten this scoundrel?"

"The most difficult to deal with is Baimu Demon Lord. It requires a powerful Arhat Bodhisattva to contend with him, then I can come forth and entirely enlighten his [Egg People Clan] descendants. While his spirit wavers, I can enlighten or expel them accordingly."

"I wonder if the elders and all Buddhas on Spiritual Mountain might assist me for the sake of the human clan in the three countries of Liao, Qi, and Wei."

Tao Qian finished speaking in one breath and then looked at Jin Tuo Monk.

Though he remains a demon avatar of Tao Qian, he has secretly strengthened himself with the [Future Buddha Heart]. In this vast Spiritual Mountain, apart from the existence of Buddha Venerable, no Arhat Bodhisattva or Buddha can penetrate his true nature.

As for appearance and acting skills, needless to say, this fellow's eyes are flashing with what is called "compassion for humanity."

Even Golden Cicada, this Saint Monk, would be far inferior to Tao Qian in terms of pure acting skills.

Of course, Jin Tuo Monk had no intention of refusing Tao Qian, for allowing this destined grand disciple of the Future Merit Buddha to use Spiritual Mountain's forces, expand influence, and increase Taoist power was already implicitly approved. Golden Cicada is destined to prove himself as a Buddha, entangled in vast Buddhist sect plans; who wouldn't give him face?

Thus, in the next moment, Tao Qian heard Jin Tuo Monk smiling and nodding, pointing at Tao Qian, and replying:

"You little one, really know how to choose."

"The Buddha Mother is indeed the destroyer of all Fallen Demon Jackals and human corpse evil spirits in this world. I know under her command is [Lotus Corpse Demon Heart Venerable], who cultivates the 'Buddha Mother's Protection Mantra,' can go forth and assist you against the Yellow Robed Primordial Lord."

"You know that Moon Pure Bodhisattva can suppress the Taiyin Secret Technique, but don't know that a treasure called [Jade Fire Clamps] has truly eccentric power, having been infused with Emperor Wa's Source Qi, it is suppressive to all sentient beings. Fortunately, Bodhisattva has recently realized something new, sending forth an illuminated Zen Body, whose nature sea is clarified and reflects the Zen Heart, hence immune to the power of Jade Fire Clamps, making it not difficult to take down E Yue Immortal Monarch."

"As for Baimu Demon Lord, I can ask [Dragon Slayer Arhat] to split a Dharma Body to accompany you, as Arhat is a disciple of Buddha Venerable, when you see him, you should call him Uncle Master."

"With these individuals assisting, and letting the Eight Heavenly Dragons accompany, with you serving as the insider, it should not be difficult to subdue the three demons on Ten Thousand Gods Mountain and their god demon descendants, heretical evils."

As soon as Jin Tuo Monk finished speaking, Tao Qian showed a splendid smile.

Nodding repeatedly, he expressed his joy: "Not difficult, not difficult, excellent, excellent."

While enjoying himself, unexpectedly Jin Tuo Monk changed his tone and laughed, saying: "Young one, don't be quick to rejoice. As it is commonly said, all cultivation matters carry a cost. Although you are the destined grand disciple of the Saint Monk, and you will achieve Bodhisattva Position in the future, currently you are still a Secret Demon Body, even with a Buddha Heart, unable to account for such large debts."

"Consider carefully what price you must pay to invite the Bodhisattvas and Arhats on the mountain to assist you in subduing demons?"

Tao Qian was proud, utterly unprepared to be confronted by the old monk, nor expected such a veteran at the foot of Spiritual Mountain to talk such worldly matters of trade, debt, or costs.

Luckily, Tao Qian knew well in advance that All Heavens Buddhism would not be easy to exploit; hearing these words brought some relief, thinking that the Buddhist sect's calculation on his title and belonging was just nominal, not fulfilling his 'drawing pie skill' on his own terms but making substantive demands instead.

After all, eventually, there will be a genuine "Tao Buddha Child" coming to ensure the foundation in Search God Realm, so Tao Demon Child had no concerns.

Without delay, he reached out to grab the old monk who wanted to leave, intentionally showing anxious expression, and immediately spoke:

"Elder, please wait, the reason I maintain this Secret Demon Body holds significance, and even the Saint Monk acknowledges it."

"However, my Buddha Heart is not false, my admiration for Buddhist Law is even more genuine, how about after this matter concludes, I change the title of [Peach Blossom God] to [Peach Blossom Pure Land Bodhisattva], spreading amongst millions of human clan members in this realm, to demonstrate my heart towards Buddha."

Upon stating the first condition, Jin Tuo Monk chuckled at his words but soon shook his head, implying it's still insufficient.

Tao Qian perceived the old monk as difficult to deceive; changing the god demon title indeed means little since everyone knows that any god demon with some Taoist power has eight to ten other names and titles, and not just Bodhisattva, claiming to be Immortal Monarch or Heavenly Emperor would not shock believers, while they recite heartily, merely referring to Peach Blossom God.

Chapter 1022 - Peach Blossom Bliss Bears the Title of Bodhisattva, 9-Spirit Creation Taisui Elixir_2

Helplessly, Tao Buddha's son had to feign and continue pondering, then sighed, bit his teeth, and said:

"Well then, this secret demon skin of mine will eventually have to be shed, it's not good to occupy both sides and delay the Dao path in vain."

"I will hereby make a Dao oath, from today onwards, day and night I will hold the Merit Buddha Bowl, listening to the monks and nuns inside chant all the Buddhist scriptures of the heavens. Day and night I will diligently study the 'Great Merit Treasure Scripture' bestowed by my master, to comprehend deep Buddhism, and when the time is right... I shall certainly shed the demon clothes, in the presence of the Great Abyss Gods, enter my Spiritual Mountain as a Buddha's son, spread Buddhism, and save all beings."

"Good, good, good, my Buddha is merciful, I imagine it won't be many years before another Peach Blossom Pure Land Bodhisattva appears on our Spiritual Mountain."

"You may go down the mountain, I will arrange everything, once the time is right, the monks and nuns inside the Buddha Bowl will send a message, the Arhat Bodhisattvas can instantly travel thousands of miles to help you conquer the group of demons at Ten Thousand Gods Mountain."

Hearing the Dao oath, Jin Tuo Monk was very pleased and repeatedly praised, taking on all matters without Tao Qian needing to say more, stating that he would issue orders when the time came.

No wonder the old monk was like this, after all, the Dao oath is no small matter, it ties the body and soul, and now the identity as their own person is thoroughly established, helping Tao Qian subdue demons is no different from the Spiritual Mountain itself subduing demons and expanding its influence.

The old monk laughed, Tao Qian also laughed, both claiming to have gained the upper hand.

...

Having agreed on the matter of borrowing soldiers, Tao Buddha's son quickly returned to Ten Thousand Gods Mountain, flawlessly replaced the Three Body Demon.

Before long, within the feast, the Yellow Robe, E Yue, and Baimu, the three deity demon masters, sequentially woke up, a group of divine skillful descendants of gods and demons and evil demons along with heretics also followed suit, and the "Plague God Fourth Master" portrayed by Tao Buddha's son pretended to awaken from drunkenness last, naturally receiving ridicule from all demons.

In the eyes of the demons, this fellow had shown extraordinary means, acquiring considerable gains, arousing jealousy. Now with a few slight flaws, it made him more tolerable.

Being mocked for lacking alcohol capacity, Tao Buddha's son feigned anger, staggered to his feet, his face flushing, veins bulging on his forehead, stammeringly argued with the three demons and all descendants of gods and demons:

"It doesn't count, this time... this time doesn't count."

"The three kings' Proving City on Ten Thousand Gods Mountain is extraordinary, only the fine wine is quite ordinary, really not to my taste, too much mixed Qi, that's the only reason I got drunk without realizing it. If it were my master's [Heavenly Plague Golden Toad Immortal Monarch]'s hidden fine wine, even a hundred, a thousand jars wouldn't get me drunk, even if I were drunk, it would be a delightful, ecstatic intoxication with many benefits, rather than this headache-splitting, unsettling state."

His argument immediately drew laughter from all demons at the feast.

The three kings of Ten Thousand Gods Mountain were all significant figures, the fine wine and food served to entertain all descendants of gods and demons, and Daoist inheritors were naturally extraordinary things. The Plague God Fourth Master had some roots, but how could he compare to the Three Gods and Demons, they simply assumed he was boasting.

This fellow's chosen path to ascend was not by fame through might, but by flattering and presenting treasures, naturally not earning much respect among the demons.

Some frivolous descendants of gods and demons, clan's evil demons, directly joked:

"Fourth Master, don't go boasting, we've heard of the many treasures of the Toad God lineage, but didn't know you're skilled in brewing wine? Don't end up giving each of us a jar of toad poison, getting us intoxicated thinking it's the effect of wine."

"Exactly, we've already had King Yellow Robe's [Kui Star Jade Liquid], King E Yue's [Taiyin Bay Leaf Wine], King Baimu's [Primordial Yang Divine Elixir] at this feast, these are among the best wines from the Great Abyss Origin Sea, though your master is also a figure of gods and demons, can he really brew better wine than these?"

"Speaking of fine wines and brews, I've heard there's a Goddess adept in this craft in the Spirit Treasure Sect, brewing Jade Liquid that allows mortals ascension upon drinking, but what's the taste like? Fourth Master you might invite your master to Spirit Treasure Sect's Penglai Sea to exchange some to drink, if you don't have enough resources, treasures to exchange, we can chip in."

"Pah, pah, pah, you lot have what eyesight to dare look down on this god."

"That Jade Liquid is indeed excellent, but my master's brew of [Golden Toad Qi Absorption Spirit Liquid] is even more extraordinary, however, such a fine wine is newly brewed by my master, not even a decade old, hence the lack of fame."

"Let you all know, to brew this spirit liquid, it's necessary to send out billions of Heavenly Plague Golden Toads to the depths of the Source Sea, each Golden Toad collecting different Source Qi into its belly, the Source Sea being perilous, few survive. Then, to seek strange wine worms in the vast red dust and capture Alcohol Demons from the Heavenly Demon Great Realm, catch wine ghosts from the Ghost Realm, and merge with the returning Golden Toads together for catalysis in the Toad Palace, which takes a thousand years to brew."

"After drinking this wine, regardless of what Magic Skill you cultivate, what Daoist Lineage you belong to, or what kind of bloodline runs within you, there are extraordinary benefits to gain, Source Qi soars, Dao Heng skyrockets, aside from the intoxicating, ecstatic side effect, there are no other costs."

"You all say, how does my master's wine compare to Jade Liquid?"

As soon as Tao Qian's brag was finished, the eyes of all including the Yellow Robe, E Yue, and Baimu three demons lit up, swallowing saliva, casting eager glances toward this Plague God Manager.

His intention was just this, secretly laughing.

Waiting until the three kings each requested fine wine, the fellow then smugly sneered:

"Humph, if it weren't for the three kings asking, this god would never let these short-sighted fellows sniff even a whiff of the Golden Toad Spirit Liquid's aroma."

"The kings might wait a few days, Golden Toad Spirit Liquid is rare even among the Toad God's lineage. Though my master dotes on this little god, asking for dozens of jars for a feast would take several days to accomplish, and it requires your assistance, offering more treasures, Great Books, spiritual materials, to bribe my master."

"It's uncertain whether King Baimu's desired Innate Yin Qi can also be obtained smoothly."

The last statement made Baimu Demon Lord excited again.

He proactively took over for Tao Buddha's son to start "extorting" the personal treasure bags of all descendants of gods and demons and Daoist inheritors on the mountain, including the other two kings, to gather the so-called wine funds. Within just a few hours, Great Demon Tao had once again become wealthy.

With such an abundant wine fund, Tao Qian certainly did not actually go to buy wine.

He merely retreated to his quiet room, then took out a hundred jars of quite ordinary Spirit Treasure Immortal Wine, continuing his old trade: adding ingredients to the Immortal Wine.

As for the ingredients, they looked quite strange.

They were a Meat Elixir, appearing as thumb-sized meat balls, powdery pink, with white strands like a ball made by mixing fresh meat slices with snow-white maggots, emitting an unbearably rich fragrance for all beings, as well as an unrestrainable eerie vitality.

The origin of this elixir was quite bizarre, outsiders surely would not recognize it, but if Little Age or Shan Jiu were present, they could immediately identify it.

This elixir was called [Nine Spirits Tai Sui Pill], the name appeared proper, but it was actually a joke work by Spirit Treasure Subduing Evil Tao Master, just like the Peach Nightmare Elixir previously used by Tao Buddha's son as an Enchanting Potion.

The pill contained nothing else but two types of spiritual materials: Taisui Blood and Flesh, Heavenly Chive Spirit Root.

Once combined, it naturally held a vast Life Source Qi within, if one could swallow a pill, the Dharma Body would immediately be greatly benefited, Dao Heng would rise.

Such wonderful benefits, how could it be without cost.

Though Taisui Meat and Heavenly Chive Root are first-class miraculous things in the Great Abyss, they are also poisonous.

Once activated, the one swallowing the pill would immediately become dazed, powerless, as if drunk, but it is actually all apertures in the body opening, Essence Blood leaking away, Dao Heng severely damaged, it is a hundred times more insidious than the Peach Nightmare Elixir.

Great Demon Tao leisurely fished out a handful of meat balls from the personal treasure bag, crushed them, and immediately scattered them into jars of Spirit Treasure Immortal Wine.

While adding ingredients, he didn't forget to mock his original self, Tao Master:

"Peach Nightmare Elixir, Chive Spirit Tai Sui Pill... oh, and the Creation Poison, all these wicked things were concocted before this demon's birth, openly a deceiving Spirit Treasure Daoist, secretly clearly a demon."

Chapter 1023 - The Demon Child Plots for the Primordial Yang, Dragon Slayer Arhat Falls at the Three Mountains

The Spirit Treasure Immortal Wine was already extraordinary, and when chunks of meatballs were kneaded into crumbs and fell in, it immediately transformed into jars of intensely bloody crimson broth. At once, tender white leek buds surged out, absorbing the oily red soup completely, and with a flash of vibrant green light teeming with vitality, all that remained in the jars was a pool of crystal-clear, space-fragrant wine liquid Spirit Nectar.

Even Tao Buddha's son himself couldn't help but swallow after a whiff, wishing to raise his head and drink it all to satisfy the wine bug in his stomach.

"The wine is good wine, not much worse than Jade Liquid. Unfortunately, the Qi Poison inside Little Age and Shan Jiu is deadly, and with my abilities, I can only handle three or two jars. This drinking capacity should be reserved for the banquet, not wasted now."

"But this way, it doesn't look real enough."

"Hmm, just summon some Golden Toads to decorate it."

After speaking, the Demon Child cast a spell with a smile, pinched a seal, and the void cracked open. One by one, Three-legged Golden Toads covered in lumps appeared, with treasure aura surging within them, croaked and leapt into the jars where the originally clear-as-water liquid immediately turned a golden hue, making it even more mesmerizing.

Seeing this, Tao Qian felt that a mere hundred jars might not be enough, so he began fetching more wine, adding ingredients, and decorating, just like a black-market boss making fake wine.

...

Three days later, at the Ten Thousand Gods Mountain, in Proving City, a group of God Demon Descendants and Daoist Inheritors were having a wild party.

Initially summoned by invitation from the Three Great Kings, these Evil Demons were quite cautious at first, fearing either that the Three Great Kings had ulterior motives or that All Heavens Buddhism would rage and send Bodhisattva Arhats to attack.

Yet, during this period, they found the Three Great Kings to be excellent, and no Buddha Soldiers arrived from the Spiritual Mountain, so they gradually let their guards down and indulged themselves.

That day was another grand feast, with many delights prepared, but what caught the attention and satisfaction of the group of demons the most was the grand scene at the high place: surprisingly, a wine pool, filled with golden wine liquid, its fragrance soaring to the sky, coalescing into golden clouds that drifted everywhere, sometimes pouring golden wine rain.

What the group of demons enjoyed was this Spirit Nectar Sweet Rain that resembled Immortal Brew, eagerly revealing their weird, ugly, and terrifying true forms, opening their mouths to catch it. Some impatient ones even wanted to soar up to swallow the clouds and mist, only to be mobbed by the group of demons.

And Yellow Robe, E Yue, and Baimu, the Three Great Kings, directly revealed part of their true forms, soaking in the pool, while various demonesses and witches displayed their fair bodies to accompany them.

By the wine pool, stood the "Plague God Fourth Master" with a face full of heartache.

This guy resentfully called out to the white maidens pouring wine into the pool: "Pour slower, all of you, pour slower. With this kind of wastefulness, even if I had ten thousand jars, it wouldn't be enough. I spent a large portion of my wealth to exchange for this from my Master, not a drop should be wasted."

"Worry not, younger brother, rest assured, which of the Daoist friends present is not a wine enthusiast? With a rare brew like [Golden Toad Qi Absorption Spirit Liquid] from the Great Abyss, not a drop will be wasted."

"Fourth brother wasn't just bragging earlier. The brewing skill of Golden Toad Immortal Monarch is admirable, even my Taiyin Bay Leaf Wine falls short."

"Hahahaha... Delicious, delicious."

The last words came from Baimu Demon Lord, the most uncultured fellow.

Tao Buddha's son appeared anxious on the surface, but inwardly nearly burst with laughter, wishing these evil demons would drink more of his concocted fake wine so when the time comes, they could all be toppled over, otherwise, it would be troublesome.

Having already probed the backgrounds of the Three Demons through his means, but to ensure nothing went amiss, Tao Buddha's son took advantage of the lively atmosphere, using his silver tongue to start enticing all the evil demons, including the Three Demons, to reveal some hidden Divine Skills or unknown secrets.

It didn't take much effort; after all, everyone at the feast now was a drunk demon, having consumed fake wine.

Tao Qian deliberately wore a miserable expression, speaking with the influence of the wine:

"To be able to feast and enjoy with the three elder brothers and various Daoists is Little God's fortune. I only hope such joyous events can last a few days and not be ruined by those bald thieves."

"It might be difficult, though. All Heavens Buddhism is so ruthless; Little God will eventually be Enlightened one day. Just thinking about it makes me sleepless at night."

Thus opening the topic, he instantly provoked the crowd of demons to counterattack.

Each claimed to have some powerful Divine Skills or extraordinary treasures, ensuring those bald donkeys from the Spiritual Mountain come and can't return, urging the Fourth Master not to boost the enemy's power and diminish one's own prestige and so on.

Tao Qian pricked his ears, listening to it all, seemingly encouraged, nodding repeatedly but inwardly scoffing, thinking that none coming to ally with the Three Demons would be anything special and likely couldn't last a round under the Spiritual Mountain Bodhisattva Arhats.

However, this atmosphere of mutual boasting did indeed yield unexpected gains.

The Three Demons each ended up revealing a secret that Tao Qian hadn't discovered earlier.

First, the Yellow Robed Primordial Lord shook his ugly old wolf head, half comforting Tao Qian, half boasting:

"Young brother, don't worry, there's no need to fear those bald donkeys from the Spiritual Mountain. All Heavens Buddhism's Bodhisattva Arhats I've seen plenty, even 'Buddha', strong as he is, I've seen him too. When I accidentally entered the [Suffering Realm], I received a protective treasure from that Buddha."

Next, E Yue Immortal Monarch raised his rabbit head full of mixed hair and rotten flesh, speaking proudly:

"Fourth brother, don't underestimate us. The bald thieves are nothing special. No matter how renowned All Heavens Buddhism is, could it be greater than the [Emperor Wa Palace]?"

Chapter 1024 - The Demon Child Plots for the Primordial Yang, Dragon Slayer Arhat Falls at the Three Mountains

"Your second brother and I have a deep connection with the Daoist lineage of Emperor Wa. I possess a treasure called the Jade Fire Clamps, unrivaled in power, gifted by an old friend from the Emperor Wa Palace."

With both the first and second brothers speaking, how could Baimu Demon Lord, the third king, not join in? He was the most unruly, and upon hearing Tao Qian's words, displayed a disdainful expression.

After a brief contemplation, he spoke directly:

"Fourth brother hails from the Search God Realm and hears little of the secrets, hence his panic."

"The All Heavens Buddhism has some reputation, yet my father is a Great Abyss Innate Demon God, holding the Primordial Yang Secret Qi. His status far exceeds even the contemporary Buddha Venerable. Even if that Golden Cicada Monk ascends the mountain himself, he must address me as Daoist Brother Baimu, with my protection, dear brother, there's truly no need for worry."

"If you're still uneasy, why not quickly bring forth that [Innate Yin Qi]? I can immediately communicate with our father god and have him recognize you as an adopted son. With this identity, in the Great Abyss Origin Sea, no one would dare touch a hair on your head."

Upon reaching this point, all the descendants of gods and demons at the banquet cast envious glances.

Regarding status, Baimu Demon Lord was indeed the most respected in the gathering.

This demon felt the atmosphere was just right, paused for a moment, and continued to tempt Tao Qian:

"Dear brother, your status is actually not bad. The lineage of the Toad God has considerable influence in the Great Abyss, yet after all, it's considered heresy and heterodoxy, and you're not a direct descendant of the Toad God, so the All Heavens Buddhism doesn't fear it at all."

"Though the great book you cultivate may help you attain Dao, its divine power techniques are somewhat lacking. If you become my father's adopted son, you may be granted the 'Taishang Yuan Yang Heavenly Demon Scripture.' It can be compared to the Three Great Lifebound Scriptures of the Daoist. You could then cultivate both the Primordial Yang and Heavenly Plague paths and enter my father's Primordial Yang Treasure Vault to seek suitable treasures, increasing your chances of becoming a Daoist Lord. I've even thought of a Dao name for you: how about [Yuan Yang Golden Plague Demon Lord]?"

These words immediately transformed all envious glances into jealousy.

The Daoist Transformation Realm, who would not want to enter? Who could resist such temptation?

"Great! That Dao name does sound imposing. Fourth Master, once you've attained the Dao, don't forget your brothers."

"Yuan Yang Demon Heart, Golden Plague Toad Body, is indeed a perfect match."

"Could this also be the 'Heavenly Plague Blessing'? Fourth Master's Gathering Fortune Technique is extraordinary, avoiding calamity by ascending the mountain and giving the opportunity to achieve the Dao Lord's karma."

"Don't keep making a fuss. This is Fourth Master's destined opportunity. If you too can obtain that Innate Yin Qi, perhaps King Baimu might recognize you as an adopted brother."

...

Hearing these words of envy, even Tao Qian had to admit that Baimu Demon Lord's temptation was indeed great.

The difference between transforming and not transforming in the Dao is like heaven and earth.

In the near-endless cultivators of the Great Abyss, few could refuse achieving the Dao Lord.

Of course, the effort Baimu Demon Lord offers is also because as long as he obtains the Innate Yin Qi, he could immediately achieve the Dao Lord. With his lineage, once transformed through Dao, his divine skills and mana will far surpass other Dao Lords.

If Tao Qian truly was a plague cultivator from heresy and heterodoxy, he would surely be kneeling and acknowledging a father by now, doing everything to obtain the Innate Yin Qi.

Alas, he was not.

However, Baimu Demon Lord's few words did remind Tao Buddha's son.

This fellow's eyes immediately lit up, gazing at Baimu with a burning intensity.

The latter assumed this "Golden Toad Plague God" was entirely moved, having no idea that this fellow's mind was thinking:

"Good demon, this is delivering a pillow right when I'm sleepy."

"This big juicy egg is essentially the most direct inheritance of Taishang Heavenly Demon, and the great book he practices is likely the Primordial Yang Life Scripture. His body is filled with Primordial Yang Demonic Qi. If I use the 'Qi Eating Skill' to completely devour him afterwards, wouldn't it be akin to consuming a greatly nourishing Taishang Demon Elixir, stepping a big leap toward Dao transformation?"

"Skipping the laborious cultivation, this is marvelous, utterly marvelous."

Secretly lurking with ulterior motives, outwardly they appeared as close brothers.

Tao Buddha's son spared no effort, drinking frantically.

Before long, the wine pool was nearly empty.

At the banquet, the group of demons, including Yellow Robe, E Yue, and Baimu, were all drunk.

Amid the rising snores, various colors of demon Qi heavenly pillars shot up, turning the void atop Ten Thousand Gods Mountain into a sea of demons. The disturbance was so great that it not only shocked some gods, demons, and Daoist lineages of surrounding nations, but also attracted the attention of some Outer Realm evil spirits and godly demons.

Tao Buddha's son pretended to show his "true form," appearing as a pus-covered, single-horned, three-legged golden toad.

Observing drunkenly, with a snicker in his heart, he thought:

"Shan Jiu and Little Age are indeed living spiritual creatures favored by heaven and earth, their flesh and blood like chive sprouts, remarkably effective."

"Pity, the toxicity is also terrifying, even I, Buddha's son, can barely withstand it."

"Time to close the net, this time I'll surely satiate."

With that thought, the fellow immediately staggered to his feet.

He picked up the last remaining jar of Golden Toad Qi Absorption Spirit Liquid and went searching the mountain for the demon generals tasked with guarding the array, mostly Yellow Robed Wolf Demons, Taiyin Rabbits, and the Egg People Clan, all cultivators at the Ultimate Happiness Realm, jointly guarding an array named [Ten Thousand Gods Mixed One Town Dao Array].

Though impressive in name, its power was modest, possibly able to stall the Buddha Army for a while, yet Tao Buddha's son did not want to waste time and planned to preemptively eliminate it.

While intoxicating the guards, he silently called upon the monks in the Buddha's bowl previously gifted by Golden Cicada Monk. These were actually "Spiritual Mountain Buddhist Slaves," capable of traversing the Buddha Land to deliver messages.

Before long, the reply of Jin Tuo Monk echoed in Tao Buddha's son's mind:

"In ten breaths I will arrive."

"By then, Dragon Slayer Arhat will use the divine skill [Sky Flipping Seal], leveling three mountains, cleansing the group of demons, and shelter himself, beware of accidental injury."

Chapter 1025 The Demon Child Plots for the Primordial Yang, Dragon Slayer Arhat Falls at the Three Mountains

Hearing this, seeing that the guards had all drunk themselves unconscious, Tao Buddha's son hurriedly returned to the banquet.

He silently lay back beside the Three Demons, pondering in his heart: "Let's see just how extraordinary and terrifying this so-called Arhat's Great Divine Power is."

After this thought fell, ten breaths passed in a flash.

Tao Buddha's son seemed aware of something, suddenly opened his eyes, and immediately heard a crackling thunderous sound, initially faint as if just a glass cup breaking, but in a blink, it resembled a sky thunder exploding, the Nine Heavens collapsing, such a great commotion naturally startled all the God Demon Descendants including the three kings.

Before All Demons could discern, a sudden exclamation came from the Demon guards outside the banquet:

"Quickly report to the Great King, enemy attack."

"It's those bald monks from the Spiritual Mountain, the array has been broken."

"Great King, save us..."

"How bold, those bald thieves really dare to come courting death?"

Just after bragging at the banquet, the Three Demons, upon hearing of the enemy attack, immediately led the group of demons out of the palace hall, and just as they stood firm in Proving City, a frightening scene unfolded before them.

The Ten Thousand Gods Mountain was originally formed by the fusion of three majestic peaks, steep and wondrous, far beyond the ordinary folk, coupled with the Dao Suppression Array that reaches down to the Nine Netherworld and connects up to the sky, warding off various natural disasters and relentless calamities, it should hold off even a Buddha Army for quite a while.

But now, All Demons only saw a golden Buddha's Palm flying from the horizon, with a Buddha Seal visibly in its palm, exploding with billions of Buddha Light, not only shattering the Big Array but also sweeping across, intending to sweep the fused Three Gods Mountain from the Nine Heavens above.

If the Three Demons were prepared, even facing such Divine Skills, they could counterattack.

But now, each one was sleepy-eyed, how could they act in time?

As the array shattered, the Arhat's Buddha's Palm was already upon them.

The Power had not yet manifested but had already turned the Ten Thousand Gods Mountain into Buddha Land.

First, Buddha Light shone like a blazing sun, then Earth Bursting Golden Lotus emerged, Heavenly Girl Scattering Flowers, filled with Buddha principles and Buddha Rhyme, Buddha sounds invaded, making all demons' heads ache unbearably, swaying unable to stand properly, helplessly watching the Buddha's Palm sweeping the Three Gods Mountains down to earth.

In a thunderous crash, as if heaven and earth were collapsing, All Demons wailed in anguish.

Compared with this tragic scene, the distant Buddha Army and Buddha Soldiers appeared exceedingly majestic, the intensity of Buddha Light made the multitude of demons seem like mere paper tigers, utterly insignificant.

This scene enraged the Three Demons the most.

"Shameless bald monks!"

"What despicable cowardly monks, not daring to openly challenge us, but resorting to ambush, spineless cowards."

"Brothers, don't waste words on them, let's devour this band of baldies first."

Baimu Demon Lord, being the most hot-tempered, hadn't even sobered up from the wine, already eagerly revealed his terrifying true form.

Withered hands frantically swiped, crushing the Void, charging towards the Buddha Army, and halfway through, the Dharma Body's surface suddenly lit up a hundred [Primordial Yang Evil Eyes], instantly unleashing a hundred strands of thick Evil Light filling half the sky, without leaving the slightest gap.

That Evil Light was his Bloodline Divine Power, inherited from the Primordial Yang Demon God.

Life touched by it perishes, Immortal Demons and Gods are slain, even Gods and Buddhas cannot escape.

Unfortunately, this time, they met their nemesis.

Suddenly, amidst the fallen mountains, a few laughs echoed, followed by a flash of Buddha Light, revealing a robust Arhat draped in tattered Kasaya, baring his chest and belly with a black-faced, bearded chin, grinning with teeth bared.

Beneath his feet, he tread upon an ancient white-haired dragon, its Dao Rhyme terrifying, its age unknown.

Watching him retracting his hand, it was evident that the Buddha's Palm capable of flipping heaven and earth was launched by him.

Seeing the Evil Light rushing forth, the Arhat calmly replied:

"Baimu Daoist, no need to boast, unless your father descends to earth, with such weak Dao Heng of yours, trying to swallow me, the Dragon Slayer, is exceedingly difficult."

Chapter 1026 - Lady Changchun and E Yue's Deadly Tribulation

On the Ten Thousand Gods Mountain, among the three kings, Baimu is the youngest, yet he is the most formidable in terms of Dao cultivation.

Combined with his bloodline and foundation, he can stand shoulder to shoulder with ordinary Daoist Transformation Realm experts; he should never be labeled with "weak Dao cultivation."

However, this statement comes from the Dragon Slayer Arhat, which changes things entirely.

This individual's status surpasses that of the Golden Cicada Monk; he has long entered the Daoist Transformation Realm and is likely close to realizing the Tribulation Immortal Realm.

Though only an avatar has come forth, it's sufficient to subdue Baimu.

Indeed, before his mocking words fell, the Buddha Ring behind the Dragon Slayer Arhat's head radiated Buddha Light, blocking all Evil Light one by one.

Not yet satisfied, the Arhat with a black face and black hair on his chest took out a Buddha's bowl from his chest, pointing it at Baimu Demon Lord. The extraordinary power of Buddha Light temporarily froze all of Baimu's eyes, and then forcibly pulled him up to the sky.

During transit, the Dragon Slayer Arhat leisurely said, "Knowing that Baimu Daoist's Dharma Body is terrifying, this place is not fit for our display; let's head to the Nine Heavens and have a good fight."

Baimu Demon Lord, though frozen and being pulled by the Arhat's powerful force, remained unperturbed.

Turning his head to gaze at the group of demons, his face twisted with anger, he spat out sharp Demon Sound:

"Brothers and comrades, do not hold back, do not fear."

"Fight alongside me, no matter what reprisal All Heavens Buddhism may bring afterward, I will take it head-on, even if I must invite my father, Primordial Yang Demon God, to descend and turn Little Ling Mountain into Taishang Demon Land."

...

These words carry significant power.

He's informing the God Demon descendants and Daoist inheritors that there is no need to worry about the Buddhist Sect's karma, all grievances will be taken by him.

If it were spoken by another demon, no one would believe it.

But for Baimu Demon Lord, he does have the credentials.

The Dragon Slayer Arhat's reaction can also be considered proof.

The Arhat exerted more power to drag Baimu, baring his teeth and lamented:

"Trouble comes from the mouth, Daoist's boasting may not come true, and instead, his life might be in danger, all his Dao cultivation could turn to dust."

"Achieving Dao is hard, particularly for oneself."

Before he could finish speaking, he wouldn't allow Baimu to argue further, dragging him to the Nine Heavens Gang Wind Layer to challenge.

However, the God Demon descendants, who received his promise, became excited.

The demons feared the Buddhist Sect, worried about subsequent troubles.

If someone wants to take the karma, they all desire to ramp and vent now, fighting and challenging, enjoying thoroughly.

Especially at this time, Yellow Robe and E Yue demons took the opportunity to provoke:

"Children, don't think about running away; the Ling Mountain monks have already come to fight and kill. They probably won't let you live; better fight them, there may be a slim chance of survival."

"That's right, Daoists, don't you want to taste Arhat blood and Bodhisattva meat? They are wonderful Dao treasures, miss this opportunity, and there'll be no second chance in this life."

"Listen to the three kings, kill."

"This is too much; brothers, fight those bald donkeys."

"This is a Dao struggle; no one can avoid it."

In a short time, Demon Sound resounded, and the three Divine Mountains crumbled and shattered, yet couldn't stop these God Demon descendants and Daoist inheritors' violent killing intent. Numerous formidable divine skills and strange means were unleashed, bombarding towards the Buddha Light world filling half of the sky.

Faced with such momentum, the Buddha Army's side remained unfazed.

Even two came forward proactively.

The first to reveal the Dharma Image was a strange monk resembling an evil ghost, evil demon. This monk was completely dark blue, extremely ugly, tightly holding the Demon Heart in one hand and the Human Corpse in the other, wearing a Five Skull Crown, dressed in Human Skin Clothing, with dozens of skull beads hanging around the neck.

Beneath him was the Nine Grade Black Lotus.

If only considering appearance, he was undoubtedly a demon among demons.

But as this strange monk came forth, he had soaring Buddha Light protection, and what he recited was also Spiritual Mountain True Method, Buddha Mother's Protection Mantra.

His bloodline seemed not ordinary Human Clan, opening his mouth with an unintelligible mysterious language, but the sound contained incantations, allowing listeners to understand its meaning, he was challenging Yellow Robe Primordial Lord:

"I am the Lotus Corpse Demon Heart Venerable, under Buddha Mother's name, come to subdue demons."

"You, named Yellow Robe, Kui Wood Wolf, ought to join my Buddha Mother sect as a dog."

These two sentences were not enough; this Venerable went further by retrieving a golden, charred silver necklace from his chest, indicating for Yellow Robe Primordial Lord to wear it himself and follow him back to Spiritual Mountain.

This scene happened, and the demons went into an uproar.

No one expected this suddenly appearing "strange monk" to pull such hatred.

Such humiliation, no one could withstand.

Indeed, Yellow Robe Primordial Lord didn't even refute a word; accompanied by a horrific wolf howl, the sky suddenly revealed a bright star like a great sun.

All over, Kui Star Power scattered down, and a true form displaying a giant Wolf Demon as immense as a Divine Mountain descended.

In the past, with Yellow Robe Primordial Lord's disposition, when dueling and fighting might cautiously probe several times, affirming before daring to exert half the effort, gaining more assurance would then put forth one-third more...

But for this occasion, Yellow Robe King was greatly provoked, disregarding all else entirely.

The sound of an old, resentful Demon echoed throughout the sky:

"How bold!"

"Bald thief, you deserve to die!"

Before the words fell, the "Kui Star," as massive as the sun on the horizon, had already crashed down with a thunderous roar.

In that region, the starlight instantly spread like a sea.

The star light from [Kui Star] had overwhelmed all other radiance, even enveloping the Baimu Demon Lord and Dragon Slayer Arhat who were battling above, as well as illuminating the three countries of Liao, Wei, and Qi.

The rest of the people and the territory, however, only suffered minor impact.

But the Venerable Lotus Corpse Demon Heart, bearing all the wrath, seemed as if countless great mountains were pressing down, unable to move.

The power of the stars is the strongest wondrous Qi for body tempering from the Great Abyss.

But with too much, it can destroy all Dharma Bodies and Dharma Images.

The Venerable Lotus Corpse Demon Heart, as a protector under [One-horned Buddha Mother], unrivaled in Dao, was unable to move a fraction at this moment.

He could only watch as the bat wings behind the Yellow Robed Primordial Lord flap, his evasion speed directly crushing the Buddhist Sect's Free Heart Light Escape, appearing before him in an instant, amidst the chaotic mane surging, a ferocious yellow wolf head lunges out, coming to swallow...

Seeing this situation, it is expected that someone from the Buddhist Sect would step in to stop it.

But the one who acted next was E Yue Immortal Monarch.

This fellow seemed to anticipate that an Arhat or a Bodhisattva Avatar might act, so he proactively revealed the Taiyin Rabbit that could rival a Divine Mountain as his outer self, leaping out, filling the sky with lustful Source Qi of Taiyin Moonlight, from which emerged a strange weapon.

This item appeared to be a pair of jade pliers.

It could grow large or shrink small, changing freely.

On it, "strange fire energy" danced, and any sentient beings who looked at it would have their spirits surge and be consumed by infinite lust.

Regardless if you are from the Human Clan or any other race, even birds and beasts, none are exempt.

Tao Qian, this fellow, had earlier fed the demons with poisoned wine, thinking his task was complete, not needing to fight with the group of demons, risking his life for nothing, thus watched the battling excitement from the rear.

Upon seeing this, he was naturally also caught.

After all, having cultivated Joyful Zen and Lustful Evil Technique, upon seeing [Jade Fire Clamps], this demon child's body immediately surged with pink flames, manifesting as tangible lust flames.

In his mind, a record burst forth:

[Currently being corroded by "Emperor Wa's Jade Fire Secret Qi"... This is a technique refined by E Yue Immortal Monarch in later cultivation, its foundation being a strand of Emperor Wa's Primordial Divine Qi, affecting all sentient beings upon sight.]

[Jade Fire Clamps is a treasure from Emperor Wa Palace, its owner responsible for tending fires in the palace, known as "Lady Changchun." Perhaps confined in the Immortal Palace for too long, the Immortal heart grows worldly; Lady Changchun once sneaked out of the palace, unexpectedly encountering E Yue Immortal Monarch, tricked by him, lost her purity, and since then, was lost in pleasure, from Immortal to Demon.]

[Although E Yue Immortal Monarch is a Taiyin Lustful Rabbit, with "Taiyin Scripture" as support, no matter his Dao nor Yin Yang methods, he was no match for Lady Changchun after she tasted desire, the two entangling for ten years, nearly turning E Yue into a dried corpse.]

[Having no other options, this old lustful rabbit used sweet words to coax Lady Changchun back to Emperor Wa Palace, promising to personally propose soon, which Lady Changchun joyfully agreed to.]

[E Yue Immortal Monarch has been absent for a century, Lady Changchun, trapped in the palace, unable to seek revenge.]

[Now exempted!]

...

After finishing reading these records, the lust flames on Tao Buddha's son's body were immediately extinguished by the Extraordinary Power within him.

This fellow had a look of regret on his face, continually calling out and teasing his original self, Tao Master, saying:

"If this demon son remembers correctly, you seem to have some karmic debts in Emperor Wa Palace too."

"That so-called [Lady Changchun], merely a fire-tending girl, could bring out such a Divine Artifact as Jade Fire Clamps. Aunt Bai Yin, with her high status in the palace, could likely borrow something even more marvelous, perhaps even directly summon you to come serve at the bedchamber. Would you comply or not?"

While Tao Buddha's son was recklessly taunting his original self.

Chaos had already erupted in the scene.

The power of the Divine Artifact from Emperor Wa Palace was released indiscriminately.

Beyond the demons being consumed by uncontrollable lust flames, even the Buddha army, and the Eight Heavenly Dragons were affected, their bodies also showing signs of lust fire, as if they might fall to demonhood at any moment.

Just at this moment, yet another main figure appeared.

"Amitabha Buddha!"

"No wonder it has such power. It turned out to be something once used by the supreme [Emperor Wa]."

"It's a pity that such an original Divine Qi was made into impure filth by you, a deviating Taiyin Rabbit. Truly shouldn't be."

Accompanied by a series of clear Buddhist chants.

Suddenly, a Female Bodhisattva in a white robe, her body like white jade, appeared in the scene.

This Bodhisattva, holding a long-stemmed lotus, with a half-moon on the lotus, capable of bathing all living beings in moonlight, sudden burst, illuminating all sentient beings present, indiscriminately, not only instantly dispelling the lust poison on the Eight Heavenly Dragons, but also removing the lust fire within the God Demon Descendants on Ten Thousand Gods Mountain.

Not content with just displaying this Great Divine Power, the Bodhisattva then looked towards E Yue Immortal Monarch, and then uttered a few words, causing his face to turn drastically pale, with his heart and guts shattered in fear.

"Not long ago, this humble Daoist happened to meet the Guanghan Palace Master, who knowing this humble Daoist possessed the power to command all underworld beings, asked me to convey a message, that if I encounter a Taiyin Divine Rabbit consumed by lust Qi in the Great Abyss, I need not concern about His face, nor need to subdue and return it to the Taiyin Star."

"Just kill it, to make the Taiyin Moonlight cleaner some."

"The Palace Master is a dear friend of mine, His divine oracle must be followed by this humble Daoist."

"You this rabbit, your death tribulation has come."

Chapter 1027 - The Baimu Demon Lord Unleashes Ferocity, the Demon Child Seeks to Drink Arhat Blood

On the Ten Thousand Gods Mountain, among the Three Demons, E Yue Immortal Monarch, who was born as the Taiyin Rabbit, was the most cunning and also the most timid.

Though his Dao was infinitely close to the Daoist Transformation Realm, and he held the [Jade Fire Clamps], an artifact of the Emperor Wa, upon seeing his nemesis, he was immediately scared out of his wits, without the slightest thought of resistance.

He called out in a sharp and thin voice:

"Moon Pure Old Nun!"

"Don't harm me, I will leave, I'll leave immediately."

Before he finished speaking, this old rabbit, both ugly and lecherous in his true form, turned around to hop away.

This hopping of his had its own story, being an Escape Technique, rare and hard to find in the Great Abyss, it had the power of Breaking Realm, enabling him to leap from this world to another, relying on this method to repeatedly escape troubles and pursuits.

However, all the Demons at this moment were too lazy to admire this Second Great King's escape skill divine power, all casting their gazes over with incredulity and disdain.

Earlier boasting of his own prowess, now when confronted with a real threat, he runs without even a fight?

Such a fool, can he also attain Dao?

The disdain of the demons was all received by E Yue Immortal Monarch, yet he felt no shame or anger, merely escaping while mocking in his heart:

"These fools do not know the wisdom of this Immortal Monarch, if it were other Bodhisattvas or Arhats, even a Saint Monk like Golden Cicada, I would dare to step forward and fight."

"But it happens to be this old nun Moon Pure, who restrains me the most, not even the Jade Fire Clamps would work, if I don't escape now, when?"

"Moreover, Spiritual Mountain has sent even the Dragon Slayer Arhat, how can there still be a way out among these barnyard fowls and curs, shrimp soldiers and crab generals? It's better to withdraw early and find a new territory or a great backer to rely on."

E Yue's vision is insightful, his thoughts quick, and his wisdom not low.

Before even the first round of fighting began, he had insight into survival.

If not for Tao Qian, the anomaly, he might actually escape.

Unfortunately, all the detailed secrets of the Ten Thousand Gods Mountain, including theirs, were leaked by Tao Qian to the Spiritual Mountain beforehand.

With prior knowledge, there will naturally be no mistakes.

Before E Yue could finish his thoughts, the "Zen Body" of Moon Pure Bodhisattva simply smiled, then retrieved a moonlight from the top of the Lotus, tossing it in the direction of E Yue Immortal Monarch's escape.

The next moment, the moonlight expanded infinitely, as if the Taiyin Star descended to the world, transforming into a moon ring to wrap around E Yue Immortal Monarch.

This Star Light was not cold and desolate, but filled with Buddhist charm and flowing Zen intent.

"You, the rabbit who left the Guanghan Palace, without the protection of the Palace Master, your Mana Source Qi and even Dao Path will be under my control."

"Therefore, this [Moon Purifying Wheel], you cannot escape."

As if to confirm the Bodhisattva's words, the Taiyin Moon Ring, which seemed both a treasure and a form of divine power, instantly appeared in front of E Yue Immortal Monarch, blocking his path, and ignoring the overwhelming Taiyin Yuan Qi, heading for his neck.

Seeing this situation, E Yue's heart gave him a premonition: once caught, his mana would immediately dissipate, his body weaken, and he would be captured and slain.

The already panicked old lecherous rabbit, seemingly seeing himself skinned and dismembered, frantically cried for help from his big brother and third brother, while using various divine power methods to resist the Moon Purifying Wheel, shouting:

"Old nun, you're too much!"

"You're only ahead of me in attaining Taiyin, as a senior, instead of paving the way for juniors, you oppress me using the 'principle of precedence in Taoist rank', truly not worthy of being called a Bodhisattva."

Alas, his curses were in vain, as Moon Pure Bodhisattva's Zen Body ignored him.

Yellow Robe and Baimu were busy fighting, unable to attend to him for a while.

Seeing his life in jeopardy, the old lecherous rabbit had no choice but to grit his large front teeth, eyes filled with resentment, ceasing random struggles, instead struggle to wield the Jade Fire Clamps to block the Moon Purifying Wheel, and humbly begged the treasure:

"Sister Changchun, your brother knows you can perceive everything here."

"You, a successor of the Emperor Wa Palace, must know the divine sublime dharma to restrain this old nun. For the sake of past acquaintances, please save your brother. If truly taken by this old nun to Spiritual Mountain, your brother might become a cold-hearted foolish rabbit in the future, better to die here now and have my Dao vanish."

This plea actually elicited a response.

The Jade Fire Clamps flickered once, and an ancient voice entered E Yue's ear.

After hearing, E Yue's face changed repeatedly, exclaiming in frustration:

"Sister, you are so greedy, asking me to return a virgin Yuan Yin is reasonable, brother did keep it unrefined in the testes, but why also ask for half of the flesh and blood containing original source of Taiyin Divine Qi?"

"Without half my flesh and blood, how can I pursue Dao?"

...

These words, once uttered, immediately captured the attention of others, including Tao Qian, who was slacking off.

Good heavens!

Negotiating face to face, with such explosive content.

E Yue Immortal Monarch indeed was an old lecherous rabbit, tricking the immortals of the Emperor Wa Palace wasn't enough, he even deliberately retained their virgin Yuan Yin, clearly with grand calculations.

Unfortunately, before he succeeded, now in turn being extorted by Lady Changchun, consuming half of the source, even if E Yue Immortal Monarch is blessed with good fortune in the future, there remains a path to Dao, but fearfully delayed by another millennium.

E Yue wished to refuse, but had no confidence.

Sure enough, unable to hold out for even three breaths, seeing the Moon Purifying Wheel nearly ensnare him, the old lecherous rabbit resignedly shouted: "Good sister, brother surrenders, quickly act and save my life."

As soon as the words fell, the "strange fire energy" within the Jade Fire Clamps erupted, causing E Yue Immortal Monarch to scream as if holding a branding iron, unable to let go, first seeing a mysterious life-bearing strange Yin Qi flowing out, followed by visible blood source Qi pouring into the clamps.

Chapter 1028 - The Baimu Demon Lord Unleashes Ferocity, the Demon Child Seeks to Drink Arhat Blood

In the blink of an eye, his massive Dharma body began to emaciate, flesh and blood exhausted, skin cracked, resembling an extinguished oil lamp.

Although his realm remained in Perfect Ultimate Happiness, he was already at the end level of this realm, and many Evil Demons present could now surpass him.

The "benefited" Jade Fire Clamps suddenly transformed, a flash of fire, and out emerged an immortal lady dressed in plain white robes, her hair like a crane, with the face of a child.

This immortal lady was remarkably beautiful, with a cold demeanor, yet her face bore peach blossoms and her eyes brimmed with spring water, seeming like a demure and seductive witch with a saintly appearance.

Among those present, whether Tao Qian or other God Demon Descendants, or the Arhat Bodhisattvas of Spiritual Mountain, their sharp sight and profound knowledge revealed her origins instantly, as the immortal lady made no effort to conceal it.

No need to say!

This immortal lady was indeed Lady Changchun, who consorted with E Yue Immortal Monarch in the Emperor Wa Palace.

The group of demons was perplexed by her appearance, wondering about her intentions.

She gazed at E Yue Immortal Monarch, who was half-drained, smiled charmingly, then said coldly:

"Our doomed relationship ends today."

"If you survive this fatal disaster, you must avoid me in the future, otherwise, I will surely take your life."

After speaking, the immortal lady merged with the Jade Fire Clamps and replaced E Yue Immortal Monarch, voluntarily ramming into the Moon Purifying Wheel.

A loud "bang" was heard, and the fine immortal lady's flesh exploded like a watermelon bursting.

However, the aftermath was not terrifying; rather, it was as if water and fire reconciled, resulting in a divine scene:

Lunar radiance poured down like sweet rain, the fiery atmosphere ceased with a hiss, the White Jade Fire Clamps reappeared, free from profane Qi and having undergone a mystical transformation, returning to purity with enhanced power.

Before E Yue Immortal Monarch could be pleased, the treasure radiated brilliantly, slipped into the void without a sound, and vanished somewhere unknown.

...

The change was indeed swift.

No one present could react, not even the Zen Body of Moon Pure Bodhisattva, who hadn't retrieved the treasure in time.

Yet soon, including E Yue Immortal Monarch, everyone guessed the reason:

"What a Lady Changchun."

"She must have sneaked out of the Emperor Wa Palace not just out of mundane desires, but more for enduring and overcoming tribulation, with E Yue Immortal Monarch as her calamity. She should have been coaxed into downfall and death... but now she's turned against him, using him as a stepping stone, sacrificing her essence, substituting the calamity, and achieving perfect cultivation."

"Now that the Jade Fire Clamps have been fully refined by her, reaching a higher level, it's possible that Lady Changchun is about to enter the Realm of Dao Transformation?"

Realizing this, the group of demons was astounded.

E Yue Immortal Monarch, who already paid a huge price, found his face twisted, spirit in turmoil, vomiting blood.

His ugly rabbit head shook incredulously, escaping into the Outer Realm in embarrassment, howling uncontrollably: "The wretched wench ruined me, if this hatred is not avenged, I will never attain the Dao."

If he had shouted like this before, everyone would have been shocked.

Now, hearing it again, there was no ripple of emotion.

The group of demons no longer regarded him as the "Second Great King," having lost half of his essence and his treasured possessions, he could no longer command any respect.

Still leisurely, Tao Buddha's son shook his head, unable to resist whispering in his own heart:

"Tsk tsk, worthy of the lineage of [Emperor Wa], truly formidable means."

"Lady Changchun was merely a fire-tending maid in the palace, now on the verge of Daoist realization, such formidable power, such a great backing, and you, my original self, are not tempted?"

"According to me, you should soon entrap Aunt Bai Yin and embrace this backing."

Penglai Sea, Ascending Immortal Star Acupoint, Tao Qian originally did not intend to heed the Demon Child's nonsense.

But during a gap in cultivation, feeling something, he couldn't help reminding him:

"Do not underestimate All Heavens Buddhism; though we cooperated to confuse Golden Cicada to endorse you, the Buddhas of Spiritual Mountain are not foolish. Even if you truly belong, they would not let you reap many benefits so easily."

"You desire the territory of the Three Countries, the numerous believers, and to devour [Baimu Demon Lord] for resources to boost your Dao, to get what you wish, you will not only need to personally fight for it but also pay some other price."

...

Sure enough, just as his original thoughts ended.

The battlefield changes intensified:

E Yue Immortal Monarch, who paid a great price, found an opportunity to escape, but due to the substantial depletion of mana, lacked sufficient power in his Escape Technique. Just as he was about to flee the Search God Realm, Moon Pure Bodhisattva used the Heart Light Escape Technique, appearing behind him in a flash, and the Moon Purifying Wheel once again flew out, ensnaring his rabbit foot, forcibly dragging him back.

That was not enough; Bodhisattva approached, wielding a long-handled Lotus, struck his rabbit head, causing E Yue Immortal Monarch's body to stiffen, immediately exploding apart, dying in utter destruction, not even leaving a Primordial Spirit or True Spirit behind.

This scene truly terrified many God Demon Descendants, Outer Realm Evil Spirits.

How could it be so?

Is this a Buddhist Bodhisattva or a Demon Realm God of Slaughter?

Shouldn't it be enlightenment into a Protecting Dharma Vajra?

Shouldn't he be kept as a mount?

The group of demons pondered, looking at each other, many felt their courage was about to break.

Previously, all assumed that opposing [All Heavens Buddhism], even if defeated in battle, one could preserve their life, at worst joining Spiritual Mountain as a monk, losing freedom, changing allegiance, but at least preserving life, right?

But now it seems, not entirely so.

Tao Buddha's son observed this with no surprise, muttering to himself:

"This old licentious rabbit is also pitiful, possessing not insignificant Divine Skills, yet meeting the destroyer, unable to unleash even ten percent of his power before being finished off, not to mention the poison of my [Golden Toad Qi Absorption Spirit Liquid] had no chance to act, wasting dozens of my good wine for nothing."

Chapter 1029 - The Baimu Demon Lord Unleashes Ferocity, the Demon Child Seeks to Drink Arhat Blood

"However, this [Moon Pure Bodhisattva] has quite a deep bond with that Taiyin Moon God, entrusted by her, even too lazy to take such a good protector mount, directly hammered it to death, using the Pure Moon Divine Origin Qi, perhaps they are intimate friends in the boudoir."

Being the Second Great King of the Ten Thousand Gods Mountain, the E Yue Immortal Monarch died so swiftly, immediately dealing a heavy blow to the morale of the group of demons.

And the second strike, followed closely.

This time, it was the [Yellow Robed Primordial Lord], originally the first to engage in a deadly battle with that Lotus Corpse Demon Heart Venerable, E Yue went to prevent others from helping, but little did he expect that the one intercepting would die first.

However, the end for the Yellow Robed Primordial Lord was also unfortunate, initially, he successfully swallowed the Lotus Corpse Venerable into his belly, and then laughed wildly:

"Hahaha, you fool bald."

"I, the Great King, know that you bald thieves of the Buddhist Sect have the viciousness of entering others' bellies to cast spells and subdue demons, but if you think my belly is the same as other evil demons, you are sorely mistaken. With the abundance of Kui Star Power within me, I can crush your Arhat Dharma Body into pieces and refine you..."

"Ah!"

The Yellow Robed Primordial Lord was just smiling with satisfaction when misfortune suddenly struck.

In the reflection of the overflowing Star Power, all demons clearly saw through his belly.

The venerable who sat within the [Nine Grade Black Lotus], smiling like a demon, then actually stuffed the Demon Heart in his hand into that human corpse, and with loud bangs, a bizarre God Demon was born, opening its mouth to suck in all the Kui Star Power in the sky.

Without the suppression of Star Power, the Lotus Corpse gained freedom, pointed with a finger, and the black lotus under it began to take root, and within three breaths, thousands of black lotus roots burst forth uncontestedly into the Yellow Robed Primordial Lord's flesh, organs, and even bone marrow.

An indescribable wail of agony spewed from the Yellow Robe's mouth.

The mournful howl was so severe that the sky trembled, and all demons suffered with it, those with weaker cultivation and Dao Heng, their seven orifices bled as they rolled all over the ground.

Even Tao Qian couldn't help but close his ear acupoints.

"Good Doggy, don't struggle."

"This lotus platform was granted by the Buddha Mother, gestated from an [Innate Lotus Seed], now it devours your flesh and Source Qi, in the future, when you enter under the Buddha Mother's sect as a dog, it will all transform back into Black Lotus Origin Qi for you, ensuring your mana advances further."

These two statements made even Tao Qian's teeth ache, clicking his tongue continuously.

What a Lotus Corpse Venerable, such venomous words.

His mouth saying to take someone as a dog, to be a family dog, and preventing them from struggling, who could tolerate this?

Indeed, upon hearing this, the Yellow Robe immediately went into a rage, his Mind completely overwhelmed.

Without caring for anything else, he roared: "Bald thief's wishful thinking, I, the Great King, would rather die and vanish than become a dog on the Spiritual Mountain."

Before he finished speaking, something akin to a "Complete Yellow Sun" emerged from within his body, upon closer inspection, it was clearly a Shariputra inner core, wrapped in formidable power, as it charged towards the Lotus Corpse Venerable.

Seeing this scene, the Lotus Corpse immediately displayed a triumphant countenance.

With a face full of joy, he looked at the Shariputra and laughed loudly:

"What a Shariputra, truly the supreme treasure of my Buddhist Sect, lost outside, today it shall be returned to the Spiritual Mountain."

"I invite the Buddha Mother to manifest!"

This sentence immediately startled the Yellow Robed Primordial Lord, awakening him from the boundless pain, instinctively trying to reclaim that once supreme treasure, the Linglong Inner Core Shariputra, he never casually showed to others.

Unfortunately, how could it still be in time?

Only to see the black lotus under the Lotus Corpse Venerable swivel abruptly, amid surging black light, the lotus platform closed and opened once more, and then from within emerged a Buddha Mother's avatar even more bizarre in appearance.

This avatar was not a thread worn, yet displayed full breasts, a slender waist, and a dome-shaped belly, each feature distinct, yet not a singular entity, rather an entirety, encompassing the whole of the Dharma Realm, its profoundness instantly compelling even Tao Qian and all other demons into a stupor, an immersion.

Whether one glanced or immersed fully, all gained something.

Tao Qian's mind burst forth with a record:

[Currently observing the Dharmic appearance projection of the Secret Buddha "One-horned Buddha Mother" of All Heavens Buddhism, receiving the Secret Buddha True Skill "Wisdom Buddha Mother's Mantra", this skill can protect the Buddha Heart, eliminate the poison barrier of sins, destroy Heavenly Demons and a myriad of Outer Realm Evil Spirits, exempt many disasters, the cost being the birth of a heart inclined towards the Buddha, necessitating entry under the Buddha Mother as a disciple.]

[If the Demon Child Body cultivates this True Skill, exemption cost is not applicable.]

[If the Buddha's Son Body cultivates, all costs can be exempted.]

Tao Qian, cultivating all Three Teachings while deceiving the Saint Monk Golden Cicada, once again showcased the benefits. Simply observing the Buddha Mother's Dharmic appearance would yield such advantages, evidently the Buddha Mother set no barriers, actively teaching.

But other demons were not as fortunate.

Especially the Yellow Robed Primordial Lord, he was exceptionally unlucky.

He watched as the One-horned Buddha Mother's avatar inside his belly effortlessly plucked that awe-inspiring Shariputra inner core from him.

Then the Buddha Mother smiled, addressing the Yellow Robe:

"You, being a young one, I do not wish to bully you, merely reclaiming this Buddhist Sect treasure."

"If you can fight and win against the Lotus Corpse, this Shariputra shall be returned to you."

"If you cannot win, then come to my sect as a Buddha Dog, listening to the wisdom of Buddhist Scriptures, one day attaining the Dao."

After saying these three sentences, the One-horned Buddha Mother, along with the Linglong Shariputra, vanished into a mere illusion.

This sight utterly devastated the Yellow Robed Primordial Lord.

The agony of being devoured by the Black Lotus parasite paled a thousand-to-one in comparison to the pain of losing his supreme treasure.

"Despicable wretch!"

Blood-tinged howls burst from the Yellow Robe's mouth.

As the perpetrator, Tao Buddha's son watched, inevitably stirred by pity, then shamelessly murmured:

"Truly a pitiable person, having painstakingly gained a supreme Buddhist treasure, only to have it easily taken away, even the Buddha Mother, the lofty Secret Buddha, has been shamelessly snatching from a younger one, I initially thought some method was left for the Lotus Corpse Venerable to reclaim it."

Chapter 1030 - The Baimu Demon Lord Unleashes His Savage Power, the Demon Child Seeks to Drink Arhat Blood (Part 4)

"But it's also the Yellow Robe's own stupidity, who would use a Buddha Treasure to attack a Buddhist Sect's Dharma Protector Venerable, haven't you heard of throwing meat buns at dogs, they never return?"

...

No one expected that the two famous masters of Ten Thousand Gods Mountain would be defeated upon the first encounter.

E Yue died, and the Yellow Robe's situation is not far from it.

All Demons were already not very committed, and now their morale is even lower, various thoughts of retreat are circulating:

"The bald thieves are indeed as the Four Masters said, truly fierce, we can't resist them."

"It's also E Yue's fault, Yellow Robe was blowing the magic conch earlier, got us all harmed, claiming not to fear Spiritual Mountain, yet got dealt with at the first encounter."

"Calamity, this is all calamity, E Yue, Yellow Robe, both great kings have extraordinary Divine Skills, almost reaching Daoist Transformation, yet those bald donkeys are cunning, sending destroyers against us, that Moon Pure Bodhisattva with its Zen Body can subdue most Life practicing Taiyin Method, if E Yue King was still the Rabbit God under the Guanghan Palace Master, with that master's protection, a battle could be fought, without protection, only death awaits."

"Why not retreat, the Buddhist Sect is powerful, being enemies with them is unwise."

"Wait, let's see how [King Baimu] does? His father is the Primordial Yang Demon God, one of Taishang Demon Ancestors, not afraid of all the Buddhas of Spiritual Mountain..."

Most Demons are terrified, wanting to retreat, only pinning their final hope on the Baimu Demon Lord.

This Demon Lord, did not disappoint All Demons.

In the next moment, a very unexpected battle situation occurred:

Boom!

A huge sound came from Nine Heavens, the powerful winds shattered, an ancient white-haired dragon was the first to be struck down by great power, its body was scarred and its flesh was torn, falling towards the earth.

Following closely, accompanied by a roar, the avatar of the Dragon Slayer Arhat fell to the ground like a falling star.

Before hitting the ground, the pale Evil Light from Nine Heavens poured down, covering the Dragon Slayer Arhat, then a massive [Huge Meat Egg], larger than the prior unbroken Ten Thousand Gods Mountain, seemed to leap out from another world, countless dried-up hands slapped the sky, supporting it as it bit towards the Dragon Slayer Arhat.

With a crunching sound, it indeed bit down.

Though not completely bitten, it caused the Arhat to lose half of its body, golden Buddha's Blood spilled out, Buddha's marrow surged out, then wrapped by a crimson tongue and swallowed clean, it then turned to bite the other half of the Dragon Slayer Arhat's body...

This scene was more terrifying and unbelievable than any previous sight.

Even Tao Qian was shocked.

Has the Dragon Slayer Arhat been defeated?

How is it possible?

Even though the Dragon Slayer Arhat before us is merely an avatar, not the true self, it still possesses combat power comparable to the Daoist Transformation Realm, how could it be defeated by a God Demon Descendant who has yet to prove the path, and even be swallowed half-way?

All Demons could hardly believe, but the facts are in front of them.

Seeing the remaining half of the Dragon Slayer Arhat about to be eaten, suddenly at this moment, the desperate wails of the Yellow Robed Primordial Lord came:

"Third brother, come save me at once."

"Delay one breath, and I'm doomed."

Perhaps there is genuine camaraderie, originally focused on pursuing the Dragon Slayer Arhat, the Baimu Demon Lord turned and discovered the Yellow Robe's predicament, Evil Light shifted, and knowing the cause and effect, exploded in anger.

That evidently from the Outer Realm, enveloping the Heaven's pale Evil Light originally only covered the Dragon Slayer Arhat, this moment expanded, attempting to envelop the Lotus Corpse Venerable, Moon Pure Bodhisattva, as well as Eight Heavenly Dragons — the entire battlefield.

Seizing this opportunity, the Dragon Slayer Arhat found a chance to catch his breath, urgently reminding,

"Everyone, quickly leave the area covered by Evil Light."

"That light is called [Innate Primordial Yang Creation Divine Light], it's the Source Light from the Primordial Yang Realm, even I didn't expect, Baimu Daoist is greatly favored by the Primordial Yang Demon God, looks nearly defeated in our duel, yet he actively opened the Convenient Gate, exposing himself to the Divine Light, endless Source Qi enhances supernatural power, comparable to Daoist Transformation."

With the Dragon Slayer's reminder, the Buddha Army couldn't spare time to kill, hurriedly retreated.

Lotus Corpse Venerable abandoned parasitizing the Yellow Robed Primordial Lord, Moon Pure Bodhisattva's Zen Body then cast magic to rescue the Dragon Slayer Arhat, Buddha Light avoided and retreated from Divine Light, retreating directly no less than three thousand miles away.

This scene emerged, Ten Thousand Gods Mountain's morale soared.

But one person was anxious, deeply anxious.

Tao Buddha's son!

He couldn't help but worry, if the situation were more fitting and he had an opportunity, he might follow the retreat.

The reason is simple, estimating the hour, the poisoned wine he gave to All Demons, its effect is about to manifest.

Without any doubt!

Once the poisoned wine takes effect, even if all Demons don't completely collapse, they will each feel weak, sleepy.

His poisoning scheme will surely be exposed.

If all were poisoned and fell down, it would be alright, but Tao Qian knows that other God Demon Descendants, including the Yellow Robed Primordial Lord, cannot withstand the poison of Source Qi within Shan Jiu and Little Age, except [Baimu Demon Lord] who is an exception, this fellow is a legitimate bloodline of an Innate God and Demon and is greatly favored.

Without poisoning Baimu, he'll have to face a furious Huge Meat Egg, and that would be him, the Great Demon Tao.

At this moment, his face remained calm, but his Spirit was pounding, as if he could see his ominous star frantically Flashing, heart almost shouting in anger:

"Sky-cursed Arhat, can even this boast be broken?"

"After all, as a direct disciple of Buddha Venerable, how could he not stand against the son of a mere Taishang Demon God?"

"It's a disaster, a disaster, better to escape in the chaos, with my skills, no need to worry about being eaten by that Huge Meat Egg, but defeating it seems impossible, the father is watching... who can win?"

...

Tao Buddha's son completely understood the reminder from his true self at this moment, surely vast good fortune is not so easily grasped.