Chapter 1071 - The Uxorilocal Son-in-law Reveals His Might, the Crown Prince Mistakenly Becomes Bait (Part 2)

"Issue the order to evacuate, Sect Master. I've heard that the Divine Ganoderma Sect was afflicted by Tarnished Compassion Poison, causing the entire sect to go mad overnight. They consumed all the elixirs in the Elixir Room in a frenzy, and then they all transformed into 'Medicine People,' each throwing themselves into the Pill Furnace until they were refined into a monster with a thousand heads, thousand hands, and thousand feet, covered in pustules and tumors, now wandering the wilderness, calling out 'Eat Pills to Ascend' and devouring any lifeforms they encounter."

"Even the Divine Ganoderma Sect, a well-known Side Door in the Great Abyss and skilled in Alchemy, ended up like this. If we don't flee now, I'm afraid we won't have another chance."

...

With the might of the Tarnished Compassion Poison, nine days and nights are enough for it to ravage.

Even the Xiu Family struggled, and the other Gods, Demons, and Daoist Lineages will fare no better.

The scenes of devastation are unending, life is laid to waste.

For a moment, retreat signals echoed throughout the realm.

Just as Tao Buddha's son couldn't hold back any longer, Spiritual Mountain finally stirred.

On this day, within the borders of Tang Country.

The "Little Ling Mountain" suddenly emitted ten thousand feet of Buddha Light, soaring skyward, and the fragrance of Buddha's charm permeated the vast Search God Realm.

As the entire realm's eyes were drawn, the mountain suddenly manifested the shadows of ten thousand Buddhas.

The central figure was none other than the contemporary Buddha Venerable.

An endless compassionate Buddha's chant resounded instantly:

"Amitabha Buddha!"

"The Lord of the Eastern Vaidurya World once made twelve great vows, wishing to relieve all living beings from suffering and to seek liberation. Feeling the sudden Evil Tribulation in the Search God Realm, he has specially dispatched 15,144 Medicine Glazed Luminous Tathagata Monks to the realm, with Vaidurya Medicine Pots, to subdue the Evil Poison and save all beings."

"This is an act of compassion and kindness, asking for no return, not entangling in cause and effect."

"We hope that the Heavenly Dao of this realm will widely open the Convenient Gate."

Before the Buddha's chant had finished, there was already a response.

The Heavenly Dao Origin of the Search God Realm, lacking much Spiritual Wisdom, relied purely on instinct, using every means to extort, coercing all Gods and Daoist Lineages to invest resources into the Search God Realm.

Now a free offering had come, how could it refuse?

This fool, fearing the Buddha Venerable might regret it, instantly opened a world passage for Him.

Opening the barrier wasn't enough; it also displayed phenomena like flowers falling from the sky and rainbow light pouring forth, effectively endorsing All Heavens Buddhism.

In the next moment, the contemporary Buddha Venerable lightly waved his sleeve, and mysterious Buddha charm descended from beyond the heavens, transforming into a pillar of Buddha Light that fell into Tang Country.

Inside the light pillar, monks seemingly forged entirely of Vaidurya, holding medicine pots, materialized and prepared to step out, officially entering the Search God Realm.

Such a majestic and flawless act immediately stirred the entire realm.

The forces backed by Innate Gods and Demons and Supreme Dao Veins still harbored doubts.

But a large number of medium and small forces welcomed the "Medicine Glazed Luminous Tathagata Monks" with unbridled enthusiasm.

Seeing these scenes, Tao Buddha's son couldn't help but lament for the fool:

"What a foolish Heavenly Dao Origin!"

"In those bald donkeys' Great Plan, there was no 'Heavenly Dao endorsement' part; those bald donkeys came to devour you whole, yet you clapped your hands and offered a welcoming spectacle... foolish to the point of heartache."

Tao Qian mocked the Search God Heavenly Dao sarcastically.

Turning around, he himself couldn't help but assist All Heavens Buddhism.

With the cooperation of Heavenly Dao, the initial resistance from a large number of medium and small forces was easily resolved.

Tao Qian's tasks were all difficult bones to gnaw on.

Fortunately, in the matter of sponging off, Tao Buddha's son was incredibly skilled.

After all, he was the "uxorilocal son-in-law" beloved by each family's Directly Inherited Immortal, Witch, and Goddess. With a small maneuver, although not holding much power of speech, opening a door for those Medicine Glazed Luminous Tathagata Monks was not difficult at all.

Merely a day passed, just 24 hours.

Nations like Chu Country, Song Country, Ming Country, Shu Country, and others which initially refused the entry of the Glazed Monks all opened paths.

Thousands of Medicine Monks found destinations.

For a moment, the entire Search God Realm seemed transformed into a Pure Land Buddha Realm.

Monks were seen bustling everywhere, with incense offerings and new temples and palaces being constructed... The voice and prestige of this Daoist Lineage of All Heavens Buddhism, in a single night, overshadowed all the other Daoist Lineages.

Even Zhou Country, governed by the Primordial Sect, granted entry to several Medicine Monks at the behest of the Green Lotus Fairy to subdue the rampant Evil Poison in various cities.

The Buddhas on Spiritual Mountain marveled, praising the spectacle endlessly:

"Truly worthy of being the disciple of a Saint Monk, extraordinary skill."

"There might be errors with the appearance, but the title is absolutely correct; after all, as the Buddha's son Peach Blossom is destined to certify the fruit position of the Ultimate Happiness Bodhisattva, it is only fitting for him to have such prestige."

"This is indeed the blessing of Daoist Golden Cicada; both master and disciple seek to prove themselves as Buddhas and Bodhisattvas, a delightful tale indeed."

"The power of an uxrilocal son-in-law is truly astounding."

The last sentence came from the clone of Dragon Slayer Arhat, who, though esteemed as a disciple of the Buddha Venerable, seemed upright, yet was in truth a rakish Arhat.

And his words, coincidentally heard clearly by Tao Buddha's son, who had just toiled for a whole day, leaving his waist sore, immediately caused a change in his expression.

Clenching his teeth, he cursed inwardly:

"Shameless bald donkey!"

"When in need, you call me Bodhisattva Peach Blossom, but once done, you refer to me as an uxoriocal son-in-law pretty boy. If I, this Demon Child, don't ruin your poison scheme on Spiritual Mountain, I'd be hard-pressed to vent my anger."

As luck would have it.

Just as Tao Buddha's son was muttering curses, a task suddenly came to his long-ignored clone disguise, Taixu True Master.

Sensing it, he immediately merged his mind to move over.

...

Zhou Country, Daluo Mountain.

Still within that Hidden Valley, there appeared a head topped with the sun and moon, clad in a lotus robe, a half-grown youth with three heads, nine eyes, and eight arms.

If not the renegade disciple of the Primordial Sect, the rebel offspring of the Li Family, then who else could be the Demon-suppressing Third Prince?

Clearly, at this moment, the Third Prince was in excellent spirits, having a rare moment of sitting properly, and while facing some casually arranged form of Divine Communication ritual said:

"Taixu Old Immortal, brother has come today to repay the favor."

"Years ago, with your aid, you gifted me a vial of Innate Fire Pills, barely enough to cope with that old thing Li Jing's Linglong Treasure Tower."

"I, your brother, have ambushed that old guy several times over the years, finally seizing an opportunity, overturning his tower and slicing off half his body with my Fire-tipped Spear, leaving him charred black, thoroughly venting an old grudge."

"Alas, Li Jing's backing is deep, especially with Randeng Daoist shielding him blindly, to kill him is likely impossible, to vent is already the utmost."

"Oh right, brother, I came today to warn you, Old Brother."

"Because you, Old Brother, are chivalrous and righteous, helping me, you are also implicated, being targeted by the Li Family and even the Primordial Sect."

"Not only did that guy Li Jing go crying to Randeng Daoist, seeking Magical Treasure and Divine Skills to sift you out... even my Master, Taiyi Rescue Suffering Immortal, wishes to use me as bait to draw you out, they fear you might be some Demons and Ghosts, with some shady schemes."

"Humph, they greatly underestimate your true nature, could anyone assisting me be an Evil Demon?"

"But what they say, no amount of effort can overpower great strength, regardless if it's Randeng Daoist or my respected Master, they are beings whom no ordinary Cultivator or God Demon could provoke."

"Though Old Brother, you seem to have quite a background and decent Divine Skills, you might not be their opponent, better to quickly leave the territory of Zhou Country."

"If truly captured, I'd have to risk my life saving you, and having already died once, should I die again, even revered Emperor Wa could save me no more."

...

The prattle upon hearing caused Taixu True Master, who came responding to the ritual, that is, Tao Buddha's son, to have an involuntary freeze in expression.

Clearly not anticipating that the typically hot-tempered Eight-Armed Demon Third Prince, would have a 'talkative' side.

Furthermore, he was quite self-familiar.

Clearly, he and Tao Qian, this disguise, hadn't even met, only reconnecting after several years, yet due to the fate of gifting elixirs, he started directly addressing as brothers.

Moreover, exceedingly respectful towards elders, placing Tao Qian in the position of 'Old Brother.'

Between the lines, highly loyal.

Knowing the Li Family, Taiyi Immortal Monarch, and Randeng Daoist are all seeking to trouble Tao Qian, he came voluntarily to tip him off.

At that moment, from where the Heavenly Dao was hidden, Taixu True Master, transformed from Tao Qian, stroked his beard lightly, gazing at the Third Prince below, sighed with a laugh:

"Truly a good little brother!"

"Though alas, with the heart's wisdom, still like a child, heedlessly falling for the ruse of his master and father."

"Coming to tip me off is real, yet quietly used as bait, is real too."

And with that thought.

Tao Qian also looked around the Third Prince's surrounding void, where several terrifying presences, concealed from the Third Prince, but completely visible to Tao Qian.

Chapter 1072 - Taixuan Turns into Taixu, Demon Child Tricks the Heavenly King

Daluo Mountain, within a hidden valley.

With a commanding presence that intimidates the eight directions, the Eight-Armed Demon-Suppressing Third Prince is simultaneously calling the never-before-met Tao Qian as 'old brother', while chattering annoyingly, telling him to quickly run away.

Unbeknownst to him, right beside him in the void, there are three figures silently observing.

Two of them are none other than the Third Prince's parents, the Demon Suppression Heavenly King Li Jing, and Lady Suzhi.

Being called an 'old thief' incessantly by his son, while his body still bears many charred marks, Li Jing's mouth twitches, gritting his teeth, he coldly snorts, "Wretch."

Tao Qian couldn't care less to look at him, his gaze directly falls upon the other old Daoist nearby.

This Daoist, with black beard and hair, bare chest, wearing Ma Yi, straw sandals, a wide nose and broad forehead, a smile at the corner of his mouth, two long black eyebrows hanging down, exuding an aura of freedom.

Judging by his "Qi Mechanism", though he is not a True Practitioner of the Daoist sect, he possesses Pure Spirit Immortal Qi, with Dao Rhyme circulating, infinitely profound, could he be a Loose Immortal who has attained Daoist Transformation?

Who could it be?

Taiyi Rescue Suffering Immortal is inevitably Daoist Transformation, but he is a second-generation ancestor of the Primordial Sect, one of the Twelve Golden Immortals, his demeanor should indeed be more grand and terrifying.

Just as these thoughts sprouted in Tao Qian's mind, the Divination Worm Silk conveyed a piece of secret information, though with difficulty:

"This Daoist is a Loose Immortal in the Earth Immortal Realm, West Kunlun."

"An ancient Qi Refiner who attained the Dao, with the Dao title of [Transcending Calamities Immortal], his cultivation field is Nine Cauldrons Iron Mountain, Eight Treasures Cloud Light Cave, he possesses vast divine skills, numerous friends, and has deep ties with Taishang Dao, Primordial Sect, and Spirit Treasure Sect."

"Demon Suppression Heavenly King Li Jing is his disciple."

"My goodness, are they really this concerned about me, a Taixu Master?"

"Not only did Li Jing and his wife come, but there's also a genuine Daoist Transformation Realm Immortal Monarch accompanying them."

"To be able to hide from the Third Prince's [Innate Wood Spirit] perceptive abilities, this must also be the Daoist Lord's divine skill."

"Thanks to the Divination Worm Silk's ability to borrow the power of the Heavenly Dao to conceal, otherwise I fear I would have been exposed too."

With these thoughts, Tao Qian hurriedly withdrew his prying gaze, to avoid inadvertently alerting the Daoist Lord.

However, the appearance of this [Lord of Transcending Calamities] actually made Tao Qian's mood better.

His interaction with the Third Prince, giving an Innate Fire Pill of such value, was not truly to vent anger for this brat.

The fundamental purpose was naturally to officially connect with the Primordial Sect through the Demon-Suppressing Li Family, gaining absolute trust, which would then facilitate him to sow discord between the Primordial Sect and All Heavens Buddhism.

Previously, he thought it would be quite troublesome to accomplish this.

Now with a Daoist Lord who has an excellent relationship with the Primordial Sect present, it's the perfect opportunity to put on a show.

"The Li Family probably wanted to lure out a big fish hiding its head and showing its tail, why not fulfill their wish, and I'll transform into a koi, taking the bait willingly."

"Now that the Spiritual Mountain is expanding greatly, on the surface the Primordial Sect says nothing, but in private, they must envy greatly, just without a good excuse to act, if at this moment, a local immortal of the Search God Realm unexpectedly appears, having discovered the nefarious plans of All Heavens Buddhism, and this immortal happens to be a fellow of the Primordial Sect, the scene...."

With his mind made up, Tao Qian didn't delay any longer.

He first had the Divination Worm disguise him well, then decisively responded to the Third Prince's ritual.

In the next moment, within Daluo Mountain, suddenly there appeared an extraordinary sacred presence.

Just then, countless celestial sounds echoed through the mountain, divine light pierced the skies.

Amidst the vast commotion, the void opened wide.

Instantly, within it appeared a cultivation field seemingly hidden in a Paradise of the Heavenly Dao's secret land.

This Daoist field, resembling an Immortal Realm, was filled with Dao Rhyme that felt extremely familiar to the Third Prince and the three silently observing individuals.

"Primordial Daoist Charm? And at least Daoist Lord level Daoist Charm."

"How is this possible?"

The three were all astonished.

Then they saw that Daoist field, a mystical immortal cliff, an ancient temple, suddenly from within strode out an elder with an immortal demeanor, ancient features, untouched by worldly dust.

This elder directly exited the temple, transitioning from void to substance as he approached Daluo Mountain.

As he walked, he chanted: "Upper Yuqing, celestial blessings, Primordial Refining God, my Dao flourishes...."

Hearing this Dao Formula song, the four already bewildered individuals in the valley felt even more tumultuous in their minds.

Especially the three hidden ones, whose exchanged glances revealed their current thoughts:

"Husband, though I have not heard this song before, judging by the Dao Rhyme and mystery, it should be a profound Daoist Scripture from the Primordial Sect."

"It must be so, indeed a secret Daoist Scripture of our [Primordial Sect], I've never even heard of this scripture, I fear only my Master Taiyi Rescue Suffering Immortal knows its origin."

"Hearing such tone, it should be the Daoist Scripture personally imparted by Yuanshi Tianzun, as earlier Lady Suzhi calculated using Emperor Wa Divine Skill, the expert advising the Third Prince harbors no ill will, and has extremely deep ties with the Primordial Sect, it seems the calculation was not wrong, this Daoist might indeed be a secluded practitioner from the Primordial Sect."

"Judging by the location of his Daoist field, and his age, this fellow Daoist should be a local cultivator of the Search God Realm, and achieved Dao long ago."

Obviously, the three were instantly awed by Tao Qian's disguise, not discerning any flaw.

However, they cannot be blamed, it was indeed Tao Buddha's cunning.

This rogue felt that a lone Taixu Master wasn't convincing enough.

So, this time he directly transferred the appearance and Dao Rhyme of the [Taixuan Feathered Immortal Monarch], downgrading from Tribulation Immortal to "Daoist Transformation Realm", covering himself entirely.

Transform Taixuan into Taixu.

What is to pass off the false as the true, this is exactly it.

Chapter 1073 - Taixuan Becomes Taixu, the Demon Child Tricks the Heavenly King (Part 2)

No matter whether it's the Emperor Wa's Divine Skill or whatever great talents the Twelve Golden Immortals of the Primordial Sect have, no matter how they predict and calculate, as long as they start from that Dao Rhyme, they will arrive at the same conclusion.

Perfect and flawless, without any flaw.

As the three of them were murmuring, Taixu Master, disguised as Tao Qian, had already left the Daoist Field and stood before the Eight-Armed Demon Third Prince.

The mischievous child muttered for a long time and now finally saw the True Master.

Immediately clapping his hands and standing up, he approached to grab Tao Qian's Daoist robe sleeve, then excitedly and curiously said:

"You are my elder brother, this realm's Hidden Immortal, Taixu Daoist?"

"Earlier, a land deity on Daluo Mountain called Grass Robe Old Man said that you, elder brother, have attained the Dao for thousands of years, and are cultivating the Dao Fruit inheritance left in the Great Abyss by the elderly Heavenly Venerate?"

"Now that I see it, it's indeed true, the Daoist Scripture song rhymes you recite, although I haven't heard them before, they must be the secret Daoist Scripture of the Primordial Sect."

"Eh!"

Speaking of this, the Third Prince seemed to have thought of something, and his face suddenly lit up.

He slammed his palm hard and shouted again:

"If that's the case, aren't you the direct disciple of Yuanshi Tianzun, elder brother?"

"According to seniority, you are of the same generation as my master, the Taiyi Rescue Suffering Immortal, and if Li Jing, that old thief, sees you, he's afraid he will have to call you senior, hahaha..."

Obviously, Li Jing losing face is the source of joy for the Third Prince.

He laughed to himself, instantly causing the three shadowed observers' expressions to change, Lady Suzhi smiled wryly, Li Jing's face turned dark again, and the Transcending Calamities Immortal laughed openly.

Tao Qian also laughed inwardly, but openly, he couldn't join in joking with this mischievous child.

With a solemn face, his brows furrowed, he then addressed the Demon-suppressing Third Prince:

"If before today, you child had come to inform and call me to leave this place, I would have followed obediently."

"Although I have obtained the 'Primordial Sage's Scripture of Dao Fruit' left in the Great Abyss by Yuanshi Tianzun, I wouldn't truly feel I am equal to the Twelve Golden Immortals, let alone use seniority to interfere with the karma and enmity between you and the Demon Suppression Heavenly King. The Fire Elixir given earlier was merely in accordance with our Search God Realm's rule, responding to requests."

"However, this time, I must thicken my skin to visit my fellow practitioners of the Primordial Sect."

"Not for myself, but for the countless living beings of this realm."

"If delayed any longer, I fear the entire Search God Realm will be swallowed whole by the evil poison great plan of [All Heavens Buddhism], and I might end up with my soul obliterated or be captured to Spiritual Mountain to become a clay Bodhisattva."

These words were plainly addressed to the Demon-suppressing Third Prince.

In reality, they were undoubtedly meant for the three hidden figures.

Sure enough, the three who initially came to fish for information and hold him accountable, especially Li Jing and the Transcending Calamities Immortal, had their expressions change drastically upon hearing this.

Both were insightful individuals with exquisite thoughts. Upon hearing terms like All Heavens Buddhism... Evil Poison Great Plan... swallowing Search God Realm... these key phrases, were enough for them to deduce the situation in an instant.

Compared to the shock of suddenly learning this secret, the next moment when Taixu Master openly revealed their whereabouts didn't matter much.

Tao Qian pulled the Third Prince to his side, then looked towards a void, performing a Dao salute, then spoke:

"If my Dharma Eye is not mistaken, Li Heavenly King and wife, along with a senior expert, are present here."

"I've clearly stated my origins and intentions, may I ask if you could reveal yourselves for a meeting?"

After speaking, the three indeed appeared.

Although they were cursed by the good son earlier, Li Jing at this moment didn't even glance at the Third Prince.

His burning gaze fell solely on Tao Qian.

While hiding, Li Jing and his master, the Transcending Calamities Immortal, both used Divine Skills and Secret Techniques to confirm Taixu Master's identity as the 'Primordial Remnant Cultivator'.

Not wasting time now, he directly asked:

"Daoist Taixu, I don't mind your assistance in the child's mischief against me, but could you clarify the matter about All Heavens Buddhism's evil poison great plan to swallow Search God Realm?"

"If verified true, our Primordial Sect is unwilling to stand by and watch, will definitely not let the Spiritual Mountain Buddhas act recklessly and fall into the Demon Path."

Tao Qian, or rather, Taixu Master.

A performance so carefully staged was awaiting this very line from Li Jing.

Upon hearing it, his face immediately displayed an authentic mix of anger, helplessness, and fear, a complex array of emotions.

Then, under the curious gaze of the three people, Tao Qian revealed:

"For your information, dear friends, though I, Tao Qian, style myself as [Feathered Immortal Monarch of Taixu], a person from the Search God Realm, have attained the Dao for thousands of years, I am not fond of slaughter or magic duels, and thus my fame is not prominent in this realm. Yet, with the Heavenly Dao's favor, I have refined many secrets, dispelled doubts through divine skills, and nothing in this realm escapes my Dharma Eye."

"This realm is on the verge of collapse, with the Great Abyss Demons and Dao veins coming to assist, indeed, I felt much joy."

"Earlier, when All Heavens Buddhism sent many Buddha's sons everywhere to spread scriptures, I secretly aided them."

"One would think with so many gods, demons, and Daoist lines invested, the collapse of the Search God Realm would be delayed, and life would be nurtured... Yet over the years, I found that not only has the realm not gained vitality, but it's filled with decay, calamities brewing, a scene of terminal illness."

"I was puzzled, so I used divine skills in secret investigations."

"A few days ago, I finally uncovered the shameless poisonous plot of All Heavens Buddhism. It turns out they used a terrifying evil poison called [Tarnished Compassion Buddha Dust] to thoroughly pollute the Search God Realm when they descended here. After years of brewing, the poison reached deep into the marrow, causing calamities to erupt in various lands and countries."

"This evil poison is pervasive and unassailable; the souls defiled by it will undoubtedly become chaotic and fallen, filth sprouting everywhere, even causing their true soul to mutate, leaving no chance for reincarnation."

"The only antidote to this poison is the [Medicine Glazed Luminous Tathagata Monk] now wandering inside the realm."

...

"Hiss."

As soon as Tao Qian finished speaking, even the face of the Demon-suppressing Third Prince showed a look of horror.

Li Jing and his three companions were even more shocked and furious.

For the past half month, the Tarnished Compassion Poison has been rampant in the Search God Realm, visible to all.

The Zhou Country, ruled by the Primordial Sect, has also not been spared.

Previously, the members of the Primordial Sect tried various means to detoxify, even the descending Twelve Golden Immortals took action, but to no avail.

The crowd was puzzled about what kind of evil poison could be so formidable?

Now, hearing these revelations, the case is solved, solutions have been found.

Li Jing, the Demon Suppression Heavenly King, entirely disregarded reprimanding his own unruly child, his face showing anger, almost revealing his thousand-zhang Dharma Body, he bit his teeth, and angrily said:

"Such treacherous All Heavens Buddhism, such deceitful Spiritual Mountain Buddhas."

"First they poison, then use Buddhist law to resolve it, devastating a realm to enrich themselves."

"No wonder over the past ten thousand years, All Heavens Buddhism has expanded rapidly, originally thinking it was due to the profoundness of Buddhist law, but little did I know it was through such poisonous schemes."

He was angry, and the Transcending Calamities Immortal, who was initially carefree, no longer had a nonchalant demeanor.

This powerful Loose Immortal from the Earth Immortal Realm had deep expertise and a wide network, not only having old ties with the Daoist sects but also friendships with some Bodhisattva Arhats of the Buddhist Sect.

Hearing this, he couldn't help but show disappointment, shaking his head and sighing:

"No wonder there is a true saying in the Great Abyss: Buddha and demon are one."

"At first, I thought it was implying the connection between the Spiritual Mountain temples and Demon Buddha Temple, but now it seems it's far more than that."

"I don't know if my few friends on Spiritual Mountain know of this matter?"

The Transcending Calamities Immortal was asking, but judging by his expression, he probably already had an answer in his heart.

Tao Buddha's son saw the expressions of the two and secretly praised his own convincing performance and the smooth progress, in his heart he couldn't help urging Li Jing, thinking, "Li Heavenly King, knowing the grave situation, do not delay any further, quickly take me to meet the Twelve Golden Immortals, as long as we get past them, the Primordial Sect will have to fight regardless of their reluctance, and the Worldwide Attack on Tang will succeed."

As if to fulfill Tao Qian's desire.

His thought hadn't even faded when the Demon Suppression Heavenly King Li Jing suddenly clasped his fists to salute and invitingly said:

"What Daoist Taixu said is of great importance, not something Li Jing alone can shoulder."

"I wonder if my Daoist friend would be willing to accompany Li Jing to the Jade Capital Golden Palace, where the Twelve Golden Immortals of the Primordial Sect are awaiting in the palace; once they verify this matter, they are sure to lend a hand, saving the realm's beings from this poisonous evil."

"Great compassion!"

Almost immediately, the Taixu True Master played by Tao Buddha's son replied.

Chapter 1074 - Heavenly Venerate's Aid, Golden Immortal Ensnared

Originally, there was a father-son karmic entanglement within Daluo Mountain, but once Tao Buddha's son, disguised as Taixu Master, began to speak, the situation was immediately elevated to the level of world survival.

At this moment, Li Jing also did not care to discipline his own troublesome child but rather, along with his master Transcending Calamities Immortal, pulled Tao Qian away from Daluo Pass and headed towards the capital city Haojing of the Zhou Dynasty.

That location is the base of the Primordial Sect within the Search God Realm, housing a Magic Veins ancestral court known as the "Fengtian Commanding Divine Dao, Overseeing Ten Thousand Immortals and Guarding the Eight Directions," the Jade Capital Golden Palace. Completely modeled after the Primordial Heavenly Venerate Daoist Field [Yuxu Palace], the Golden Palace is currently populated by avatars of the various immortals of the Primordial Sect, including projections of the twelve direct disciples of the Heavenly Venerate.

Li Jing, having been conferred the title "Demon Suppression Heavenly King" by the Primordial Sect, held a not-insignificant position within the sect.

He too knew that the Primordial Sect entered the Search God Realm for reasons similar to All Heavens Buddhism.

Now seeing that Spiritual Mountain has taken the lead, silently carrying out their poisonous scheme, and is about to form an unstoppable mighty momentum, he naturally felt anxious.

Tao Buddha's son, disguised as Taixu Master, also understood this, which is why he appeared at this crucial juncture.

However, this trip after all is to meet [the Twelve Golden Immortals].

It's important to know that those twelve are all direct disciples of the Heavenly Venerate, their status equivalent to the second-generation founders of the Spirit Treasure Sect, or powerful figures like "Master Ma Yi."

Without mentioning their cultivation, each is also a seasoned Old Fox.

One moment of carelessness, and exposure is inevitable.

Deceiving Li Jing is trivial; it's deceiving those twelve that is the real challenge.

Even though they are all avatars, it's enough to make Tao Qian feel a bit restless, unable to resist urging the true self:

"True self, are you capable, has the Sect Master gave you a definite sign."

"If unable to deceive those [Twelve Golden Immortals], this Mystical Pearl Avatar will likely be completely exposed at that Jade Capital Golden Palace, possibly even implicating me, the son of Tao Buddha. I have heard those twelve old fellows of the Primordial Sect are all exceptional ruthless characters, fiercer than Senior Sui Chaozi whom Teacher Duobao invited to assist in the past."

"While the risk is great, the reward is substantial. If we fail, the cost won't be small either, you must pay attention."

Inside the Ascending Immortal Star Acupoint, hearing the Demon Child Body's rambling, Tao Qian couldn't help but roll his eyes and say: "You rascal, you are panicking now that the matter is at hand, why didn't you tremble when bragging earlier."

Though complaining about the Demon Child, Tao Qian also understood the stakes involved.

He felt no panic in deceiving the Spiritual Mountain's Buddhas because the Golden Cicada Monk lent his name as a backing, and the level only reached this point, without actual confrontation with beings like the Buddha Venerable.

This time, however, is very different.

The Taixu Master to be impersonated is a "Primordial Remnant Cultivator" with no backing.

Plus, he must face the Twelve Golden Immortals directly who will surely verify his claims, not to mention the possibility of them consulting [the Primordial Heavenly Venerate], an exposure would be hard to manage.

Fortunately, he was not alone in participating in the deception.

After speaking, he immediately sent a thought saying:

"Rest assured!"

"The Sect Master has decided to aid us, personally persuading the Heavenly Venerate. Several days ago, the Heavenly Venerate set off to Yuxu Palace, inviting Yuanshi Tianzun, and went together to the Daoist Field of Lord Lao Zi of the Great Monad, claiming to conduct a Three Pure Ones mystical discussion and jointly discuss the Great Calamity and so forth."

"This discussion will inevitably last a hundred years."

"For the Twelve Golden Immortals to verify your identity as 'Primordial Remnant Cultivator,' they can only proceed based on the 'Primordial Heavenly Venerate discussing Daoist Fruit Mysterious Scripture.'"

"You indeed have cultivated this scripture, more genuine than gold."

"Seamless as heavenly clothes, no need to panic."

With the thought transmitted from the true self, Tao Buddha's son immediately relaxed.

After pondering for a moment and feeling there was no flaw in the plan, he couldn't help but teasingly say: "The true self is indeed the First Heavenly Pride of Daoist, the True Monarch of Suppressing Evil of Spirit Treasure Sect, truly favored in Penglai Sea, such thick blessings even extending to my Demon Child Body's avatar, even the Spirit Treasure Sect Master and Lingbao Tianzun are willing to step outside to deceive others on your behalf. Not even Teacher Duobao enjoyed such treatment, truly envious."

Upon hearing this, Tao Qian rebuked: "You rascal, too much nonsense, the Sect Master and Heavenly Venerate cannot bear to see All Living Beings of the Search God Realm destroyed by the hands of Spiritual Mountain's baldpates, thus borrowing our hands to save people and the world. You must conduct yourself carefully, don't make mistakes, nine truths and one lie, deceive those Twelve Golden Immortals, and the matter is half accomplished."

...

Amidst the quarreling and bantering between the true self and the Demon Child Body, the group was riding clouds and mists.

Within several hours, they left Daluo Pass and entered Haojing.

Because of the urgency of the matter, Li Jing and others didn't bother with the formalities of hospitality, skipped the cumbersome rituals, and without properly introducing the scenic beauty of Zhou Country to the honored guest "Taixu Master," they applied the Secret Technique upon entering the Capital City. Suddenly, heaven and earth shifted, colorful clouds rolled, fragrant mist opened, and a majestic and grand Jade Capital Golden Palace filled with Primordial Daoist Charm was revealed.

Accompanied by the resonating welcoming bell, Tao Buddha's son, disguised as Taixu Master, was promptly ushered into the hall.

This Golden Palace, after all, is modeled after Yuxu Palace, and even with Tao Qian's insights, he was still amazed by the many mysterious and divine wonders it contained.

Before he could fully survey it, his gaze was instantly attracted to the twelve divine figures radiating golden light nearby.

Although Tao Qian knew each was a projection, not their true form.

In this moment, seeing them still caused his heart to be greatly startled.

Every single one of the twelve emitted Daoist Charm and power far beyond his own.

The one at the center, draped in golden light, was stunning, a middle-aged Daoist of great presence, clad in a Sweeping Cloud Immortal Robe, surrounded by several strands of exotic treasure light, with astonishing Sword Intent swirling behind him, unknown pupil skill granting his eyes the ability to peer into the Nine Heavens above, see the Netherworld below, and all worldly changes and secrets seemed unable to escape his scrutiny.

Chapter 1075 - Aid from the Heavenly Venerate, Golden Immortal in the Trap (Part 2)

At the very first glance, Tao Qian guessed the identity of this Golden Immortal.

"The leader of the Twelve Golden Immortals, the ancient Immortal Monarch Guang Chengzi, also known as [Lord Xuanweiheguang]."

"A powerful figure who attained the Daoist Transformation Realm several thousand years ago, leaving behind Guang Chengzi's lineage in all heavens and realms; he even taught one of the 'Ancient Three Saint Emperors' in the Longevity Realm."

"An evil person, absolutely an evil person."

Although Tao Qian knew himself to be a junior and should not be overly presumptuous.

However, he came with a mission this time, and his identity was that of a Primordial Remnant Cultivator, thus there could be no sign of timidity.

Therefore, after observing Guang Chengzi, Tao Qian also straightforwardly glanced over the remaining eleven Golden Immortals, including Taiyi Rescue Suffering Immortal Monarch, Taihua Red Essence Immortal Monarch, Qingxu Dao De Master, Compassionate Travel Immortal Monarch, and others, missing none.

After examining them carefully, the body, Demon Child Body, and Buddha's Son Body all sighed.

The Buddha's Son Body, being the most sincere, simply praised: "Worthy of the Primordial's direct lineage, Twelve Golden Immortals, the reputation is well-deserved."

The body compared the Twelve Golden Immortals with his own elders: "All are high achievers in the Dao, but when sensed, only a few among the twelve have mana surpassing [Master Ma Yi], none exceed the Sect Master, and when Duobao my master rebuilds, he too should surpass them."

As for the Demon Child Body, he feigned: "If it's just an avatar or projection, I, the Demon Child, could unleash the Ten Thousand Demon Abyss Array and wield the Evil-slaying Sword to kill them all... but if their true bodies came, hmm, not a single one could I defeat."

Feigning aside, serious matters couldn't be delayed.

Tao Buddha's son generously looked at the Twelve Golden Immortals while remembering his manners, directly performing an ancient ritual of the Search God Realm, and then said: "I, Taixu, greet the Primordial fellow Daoists."

When performing this ritual, Tao Buddha's son did not withhold, directly revealing the mixed and integrated Daoist charm on his body.

One type, naturally, was the Qi charm of the Primordial Dao Fruit.

The other was an ancient charm of the Search God realm, acquired in secret from [Taixuan Feathered Immortal Monarch].

The combination of both made up his impeccable identity as a Primordial Remnant Cultivator.

Indeed, as the Daoist charm emerged, twelve streams of golden light vibrated simultaneously.

Led by "Guang Chengzi", after a moment's hesitation, they solemnly returned the greeting.

In that instant, the Twelve Golden Immortals completed a mental exchange, evidently in wonder and doubt, as within this crumbling Search God Realm, there truly existed a Primordial Remnant Cultivator of such profound Dao skills.

Originally, this wouldn't surprise the Twelve Golden Immortals; although the Primordial Sect didn't recruit disciples as freely as the Spirit Treasure Sect, it wasn't entirely impenetrable, nor did it guard its Daoist skills and divine powers completely, leading to many Great Book remnants falling into all heavens and realms over the years, available to those destined to find them for cultivation.

But the Taixu Daoist before them was quite different.

Observing the Primordial Daoist charm emanating from him, the Great Book he practiced must be the untransmitted secret of the Primordial Sect.

Having greeted, now within the Jade Capital Golden Palace.

The Twelve Golden Immortals wouldn't be reserved; Guang Chengzi bluntly asked:

"Daoist Taixu!"

"If I haven't mistaken, the Daoist skill you practice is the 'Primordial Venerable Sage's Scripture of Dao Fruit', this is a secret Great Book of our Primordial Sect, even some direct disciples haven't seen it, let alone practiced it, may I ask from whence you obtained this scripture, and could you tell us plainly?"

This was what Tao Buddha's son had been waiting for from the start.

Upon hearing it, he showed a face full of sincerity, courteously saluting again:

"For the Primordial fellow Daoists to know, I am originally a Qi Refining cultivator within this Search God Realm, by chance favored by the Heavenly Dao, I realized some truths myself and created a 'Taixuan Feather Transformation Scripture'. Yet, due to dull talent, I practiced for hundreds of years without achieving Dao, seeing myself on the brink of death, I helplessly prayed to the Supreme Saint Divine Demon in the dark for an opportunity to attain Dao for life extension."

"After praying, I inexplicably fell asleep, in a daze, my heart and soul seemed to reach a holy place, filled with infinite phenomena, with ten thousand gods feasting, and among them, a [Supreme Saint Divine] discussing profound philosophy. Knowing my chance had come, I dared to step forward and listened for a moment."

"Upon awakening, I gained half a scripture of the Daoist Scripture."

"Inexhaustibly profound, extraordinarily divine, after cultivating it, I achieved Dao overnight, not only possessing today's Taoist power and mana but also harmoniously united with the Heavenly Dao Origin, cultivating two or three extraordinary divine skills."

...

Tao Qian spoke, while the Twelve Golden Immortals simultaneously verified.

First, they checked if he was a native cultivator of the Search God Realm. This was the simplest task; the twelve Daoists counted on their fingers and immediately knew it to be true, dispelling half of the suspicion in their eyes.

It must be understood that what he grafted over was the Qi of the Taixuan Feathered Immortal Monarch, and nothing could be truer.

When Tao Qian mentioned the "Divine Feast," another half of their suspicion was dispelled.

And in these few moments, after Guang Chengzi connected with his True Self for verification, all doubts were entirely removed.

This Daoist, after pondering, conveyed through sound transmission to the other eleven:

"I initially intended to personally seek out our Master for inquiry, but just a few days ago, he along with our Spirit Treasure Uncle went to the Daoist Field of the Old Lord. Our Longevity senior brother was also taken by the Spirit Treasure Sect Master for alchemy and treasure refinement, so I could only ask White Crane Page, who mentioned there were indeed a few fortuitous ones who had the chance to listen to teachings at the Divine Feast."

"Although the Divine Feast is said to only invite Gods and Demons, there are also some fortuitous individuals who receive the favor of the host and are allowed to join the feast."

"I suppose this Daoist Taixu must be one of them."

When Guang Chengzi finished his transmission, the other eleven Immortal Monarchs silently nodded.

"Thus, it seems this Daoist Taixu indeed has exceptional fortune, having heard teachings from the Master during the Divine Feast, which even we brothers do not have the blessing for."

"He has only cultivated half of the 'Daoist Fruit Mysterious Scripture,' can he be considered one of our companions?"

"Having not entered the sect nor worshipped a Master, he naturally isn't considered."

"Though other Great Book Daoist Scriptures wouldn't count, how could the Daoist Fruit Mysterious Scripture be the same? Even if he isn't recognized as our Primordial disciple, giving him the identity of a Primordial Remnant Cultivator isn't unreasonable."

"Hmph, I acknowledge his deep blessing, but this person is also unknowing. Having cultivated our Primordial Secret Scripture and verified Daoist Transformation, why has he been hiding in the Search God Realm for so many years, never going to the Earth Immortal Realm to pay respects at the Mountain Gate? Does the Daoist Fruit Mysterious Scripture not contain the Primordial Spiritual Guide? Surely his heart harbors fear, not daring to come."

It was evident, although they recognized the identity of Taixu Daoist, there were still several among the Twelve Golden Immortals who found him displeasing.

The reason was rather simple; though they were Daoists, they couldn't escape jealousy.

To personally listen to the Heavenly Venerate teaching the Daoist Fruit Mysterious Scripture... such an opportunity, including Guang Chengzi, none of the Twelve Golden Immortals possessed. Why should it fall upon a "rustic village path"?

But at this moment, Taiyi Rescue Suffering Immortal Monarch spoke a fair word:

"Fellow brothers, do not underestimate this Daoist Taixu."

"Though he is modestly simple, he should actually be a highly insightful Talent Daoist. After all, despite the depletion of this realm's Daoist Lineage, he managed to create the Great Lifebook Scripture by himself, and even received the favor of this realm's Heavenly Dao, which is beyond ordinary beings."

"Don't look at this Daoist who seems unsuited for battle and fighting; perhaps it isn't that he cannot, but rather he does not wish to."

"Since he is exceptional and has already verified Daoist Transformation, accepting his identity adds a powerful ally to our sect, what harm is there?"

"The most critical issue is the All Heavens Buddhism's concealed and subtle plan, which none of us could perceive the slightest trace of, allowing the evil poison to brew for several years until it fully sprouted before seeming somewhat off, yet still unable to know what the Spiritual Mountain Buddhas were scheming behind the scenes."

"Daoist Taixu, alone, relies on vague traces to easily fathom the All Heavens Buddhism's plot. Seeing his manner, perhaps he has even prepared countermeasures, proving how cherished he is by this realm's Heavenly Dao."

"With his assistance, we should be able to thwart the Spiritual Mountain's conspiracy."

"This Search God Realm will also transform into another Daoist Field Bie Fu of our Primordial Sect within the Great Abyss Origin Sea."

"Though it is a Remnant Realm, unable to compare with Longevity, Mountains and Seas, Earth Immortal, etc., a great tribulation is approaching, acquiring such a benefit, how can we overlook it?"

These words from Taiyi Immortal Monarch came down.

Including Guang Chengzi, all Golden Immortals nodded in agreement.

This moment's change in momentum was immediately captured by Tao Qian, and he was greatly delighted, knowing he had successfully navigated the most critical hurdle.
