

Longevity 941

Chapter 941 - Sworn Brother Falls, the Filial Prince Preaches the Way

Last time, it was mentioned that under Zhang Xianzhong's command, the adopted son "filial prince Zhang Shao" silently betrayed the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva after consuming too many Peach Nightmare Elixirs and turned to Tao Buddha's son.

To please the new master, he immediately took out Xianzhong's Treasure Vault and offered it.

What was stored inside were the spoils from burning, killing, and looting in the southern region of Langya County by the one hundred thousand Bodhisattva groups, including many Divine Treasures. Apart from a large number of Wild Gods and Immoral Sacrifices, there were also some remnants from the Outer Realm demons, which were precisely what the Search God Heavenly Dao eagerly sought.

Tao Qian immediately ordered the setup of the Peach Blossom Refining Spirit Array.

This time, it burned for seven days and seven nights before everything was refined, reaching another deal with the idiot-like Heavenly Dao Origin.

When the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva Army was about to set off again, Tao Buddha's son, who was residing in the Jade Pillow Divine Statue, had his cultivation power restored to the Transcend Mortality Realm, and the permissions of his personal treasure bag were also further unlocked.

His speed of recovering cultivation was truly astounding.

At this rate, it might not be long before his cultivation is fully restored.

In fact, it was indeed so.

Because from Zhang Shao, Tao Qian found a safe and reproducible shortcut.

Having already taken one of "Zhang Xianzhong's" adopted sons, why not also take the other six and burn the entire Xianzhong's Treasure Vault? Wouldn't that be wonderful?

With this thought, Zhang Shao spontaneously received a Peach Blossom Oracle.

Thus, a few days later.

Zhang Shao led one hundred thousand Bodhisattva groups to march to Fuyang County, the central region of Langya County. Nearby on Boneyard Plain was another army of one hundred thousand Bodhisattva troops who only knew how to shout "kill kill kill" as part of the Seven Slaughter Curse.

Their leader, called Zhang Dingtian, was given the title "Yang King" by Zhang Xianzhong.

This guy's murderous nature was even fiercer than Zhang Shao's.

In just a few days, he had slaughtered at least a dozen counties and dozens of towns and villages.

Under his command, the Bodhisattva evil ghosts were all incredibly twisted, with things like Thousand People Slaughter and Ten Thousand Killings not being the least bit scarce.

He himself was even more grotesque.

Bare-chested, his torso was covered with countless twisted, swollen muscular arms, each holding a terrifying weapon.

His lower body was a bloated mass of flesh, seemingly formed from various blood, viscera, and Bai Gu... mashed and mixed into a misshapen lump of rotten flesh.

Below that were hundreds of thin appendages.

It resembled a massive, grotesque, fleshy spider.

Yet, the head of a young member of the Human Clan remained intact, embedded in the navel area of the ghostly body, serving as the brain.

That day, Zhang Dingtian was contemplating which county to attack next for a slaughter.

Suddenly, a big ghost came to report:

"Report to the Great King, your adopted brother, the filial prince Zhang Shao, has come to visit. Do you wish to see him?"

Zhang Dingtian, although ferocious in appearance, had softer features than Zhang Shao.

Upon hearing this, he grumbled, "Zhang Shao? That guy never had much ability, only knows how to flatter our foster father. Hmph, shameless, what does he want with me?"

Though his thoughts were like this, he still agreed to meet Zhang Shao.

Despite his disdain, they had the same father, so it wasn't appropriate not to meet.

Nominally, he had to address Zhang Shao as an elder brother.

What puzzled him was, usually when Zhang Xianzhong's adopted sons met each other, they were wary, often fighting for territory and prey. Rarely did one enter the army of another, like Zhang Shao did alone under Zhang Dingtian.

Yet, Zhang Shao did just that.

Surrounded by a hundred thousand twisted, fallen ghost creatures, Zhang Shao leisurely strolled in, calling out:

"Seventh brother, it's been a long time, have you missed your brother?"

"We brothers are our foster father's good sons, and should be close to each other."

"Tonight, let's sleep with our feet touching, and catch up."

An eerily strange situation occurred this way.

The two adopted sons of Seven Slaughter King Zhang Xianzhong, the filial prince Zhang Shao and the Yang King Zhang Dingtian, these two fiends, surprisingly acted like Human Clan brothers and friends from the Mortal World, sharing the same bed and chatting happily.

Initially, Zhang Dingtian was cautious and wary. Although he was the most foolish of the seven adopted sons, he still had the necessary wits.

Unfortunately, Zhang Shao was skilled in flattery, disarming others' vigilance, breaking down defenses, and building intimacy...

By late night, Zhang Dingtian had dropped his guard, constantly praising "Brother Shao's wisdom", "Brother Shao is right" with his youthful mouth.

It was at this moment, when Zhang Shao was handling everything smoothly, that a divine oracle rang in his mind:

"This place has been isolated by my spell!"

"Even if you slay Zhang Dingtian, the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva won't notice. Go ahead and act."

"One bottle of Nightmare Elixir is enough, don't overfeed."

Upon receiving these instructions, Zhang Shao's eyes brightened.

By then, he had already completely fallen. He realized that he turned to the Peach Blossom God because of the Poison Elixirs transforming into Immortal Peaches, not because he was truly conquered by the Peach Blossom Demon. The myths about "Innate Dao being followed by the Heavenly Dao, yet the Peach Blossom God and Demon were before it" were mostly false.

Alas, what was done was done, knowing it now was useless.

Zhang Shao didn't resent it, instead thinking: "My Master is willing to use treasured Spirit Pills to help me; this is Shao's blessing, Shao's opportunity, Shao must serve devoutly. In the future, my Master will surely help me achieve God Demon status."

Such devout thoughts made even Tao Qian a bit embarrassed.

He couldn't help but recall words from a past life, like 'masochist' and such.

...

"Yes, rest assured My Master, Zhang Dingtian is the most foolish, which is why Shao chose him. It wouldn't be possible to sleep in the same bed with the others."

Zhang Shao, while replying to the God Demon, casually insulted the giant ghost called Zhang Dingtian.

Then he turned over and looked mysteriously at Zhang Dingtian squatting on the ground:

"Brother Dingtian!"

"You brother recently acquired some good treasures."

"Since you call me brother, how could I not show you and share them with you?"

"Oh, what kind of treasure is it?"

Zhang Dingtian indeed fell for it, his fleshy limbs under his seat moved, and he came over with a rustling sound.

Zhang Shao looked at this so-called sworn younger brother, whose eyes were filled with a kind of clear stupidity or naive brutality.

"Don't be anxious, brother will get it out right away."

After speaking, Zhang Shao suddenly raised his head.

His mouth ripped open, grinning to the back of his ears.

Then he reached into his throat, and with bouts of retching sounds, Zhang Shao forcibly pulled out a string of "blood grapes" from deep in his throat, which was half a foot long, studded with oval fleshy balls.

If you look closer, every fruit and branch of this string of blood grapes is engraved with the "Seven Slaughter Scripture", filled with intense Seven Slaughter Origin Qi. Just a whiff of its foul exotic fragrance would cause one's killing intent to run rampant.

As soon as this appeared, Zhang Dingtian's breathing became rapid.

A storm almost erupted within the camp grounds.

Zhang Dingtian gazed at the object, each crimson fleshy ball on it enticed him to the extreme.

If not for retaining a bit of mind, he might have already tried to snatch it.

He excitedly spoke out, asking repeatedly:

"Good brother, what is this?"

"It seems like it was bestowed by the Bodhisattva?"

Upon hearing this, Zhang Shao immediately nodded with a smile.

"Don't be anxious, brother, listen to me."

"This is called the 'Seven Slaughter Blood Grapes', indeed bestowed by the Bodhisattva."

"You may know that some days ago, I happened upon a place called Cold County, where my troops of Bodhisattvas slaughtered the city, unexpectedly capturing an avatar of a powerful abnormal demon from the Outer Realm. That demon seemed to have a grudge with the Bodhisattva. After I sacrificed it, I immediately received this reward from the Bodhisattva."

"Consuming this treasure allows us to cultivate the 'Seven Slaughter Scripture' better and synchronize spiritually with the Bodhisattva."

"The Bodhisattva bestowed me two strands of this, I've already consumed one, but eating more would be ineffectual."

"This strand I planned to take back and offer to our foster father, but then I thought again, Dingtian, you are the youngest among us, and as your elder brother, I should take care of you first..."

Hearing this, Zhang Dingtian was full of excitement, his ugly ghost body trembling.

But doubt still flashed in his eyes.

Though he was unaware of the "cost of cultivation" principle, he knew there's no free lunch.

Just as he was about to ask, he suddenly heard Zhang Shao's tone change, saying:

"I have always known that among us brothers, only you, Dingtian, have no interest in that Crown Prince title."

"But with your support, my chances would greatly increase."

"Don't you agree?"

These few words were already quite an implication.

Especially as Zhang Shao spoke, he deliberately dangled the so-called 'Seven Slaughter Blood Grapes' closer.

Zhang Dingtian, though foolish, instantly understood.

The doubt in his heart disappeared immediately.

This good thing wasn't free; it required future support for Zhang Shao to become the Crown Prince.

This cost, Zhang Dingtian thought he could afford.

You could see his ghost body tremble, nodding repeatedly:

"What elder brother says is true!"

"Rest assured, in the future, whenever foster father decides to choose a Crown Prince, Dingtian will surely support you, elder brother..."

"Good, truly my good brother, eat it quickly."

Before he was even done speaking, Zhang Shao flicked his hand, and that string of blood grapes, which seemed like large intestines strung with cyst-like fleshy spheres, flew straight into Zhang Dingtian's mouth.

He didn't even have time to chew, to taste the flavor.

Each fleshy ball burst immediately in his mouth, turning into a hot flow that poured into his belly.

Poor naive and foolish killing embryo!

How could he have imagined his good brother was poisoning him?

The blood grapes were fake!

The Peach Nightmare Elixir was real!

After consuming an entire bottle of the Nightmare Elixir disguised as blood grapes, he had an immediate reaction, his ghost body staggered, his mind dizzy.

Deep within his heart soul, many bizarre changes began, as if countless strange little figures appeared, chanting a booklet called "Peach Blossom Immortal Scripture".

Feeling something was terribly wrong, he looked again at his sworn elder brother, Zhang Shao, before him.

Zhang Shao approached with a sly smile, mysteriously pulling out another item from his bosom.

This time, it was a divine statue inscribed with "Abnormal Demons".

With a voice full of enticement, Zhang Shao said:

"Brother Dingtian!"

"Do not panic, I will grant you a fortuitous blessing."

"Come, come, listen as I guide you through and dispel your doubts, letting you understand the one true God inside and outside the realm, the supreme Peach Blossom God as well."

"Those like the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva are not even worthy to tie my master's shoes."

...

Upon hearing these words, Zhang Dingtian's first instinct was to rage, to kill this blasphemer of gods and demons.

Yet, astonishingly quickly, his reaction occurred — as he thought of killing Zhang Shao, he found himself nodding in agreement, the thought of slaughter dissipating like smoke.

Involuntarily, he chanted along with Zhang Shao: "Peach Blossom God, my master indeed."

Chapter 942 - Seven Sons Shout "Father" in Unison, Xianzhong Seeks Heavenly Punishment

Zhang Xianzhong's seventh adopted son, Zhang Dingtian, had already sensed something amiss and attempted to resist.

However, the drug took effect even faster.

In an instant, he turned and defected just like the filial Zhang Shao.

If it weren't for Zhang Shao's quick intervention, this young man with a body like a bloodthirsty ghost spider would have knelt down and loudly called him father.

After defiling this boy, another Seven Slaughter Stele Artifact Embryo was soon obtained, as well as another share of Xianzhong's Treasure Vault.

This share was even a bit larger than Zhang Shao's.

But this time, outside of Nanyang County, only about six days were spent before setting off again.

After all, Tao Qian had recovered to the Transcend Mortality Realm, and the speed of refining the Divine Treasure accelerated.

When the array was set up, he formally stepped into the Perfect Transcend Mortality, and his personal treasure bag once again widened.

This opportunistic method was indeed convenient.

Successfully pulling it off twice in a row, Tao Buddha's son began to replicate it without hesitation.

As a result, within the next half month, Zhang Xianzhong began to continuously lose his adopted sons.

Starting with Zhang Shao and Zhang Dingtian, Prince Zhao Zhang Baoshu, Ghost King Zhang Guibai, Whale King Zhang Ying, Greedy King Zhang Nengxiu, Corpse King Zhang Chunyang... a total of seven adopted sons, all were lost.

They were all fed the Peach Nightmare Elixir and converted into what were known as Peach Blossom Children.

After defecting to the Peach Blossom God Sect, not only did they collectively offer up Xianzhong's Treasure Vault, but nearly appeared the spectacular scene of all seven sons calling him father.

All of this, including the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva, was kept in the dark from Zhang Xianzhong.

It was no wonder, really, as the Divination Worm possessed extraordinary power, and the broken Heavenly Dao of the Search God Realm was particularly suitable for the worm to spy on secrets and grow.

A month after entering the realm, the larvae had already molted several times.

It was estimated that when Tao Qian recovered his Perfect Ultimate Happiness cultivation power and retrieved his personal treasure bag, the larvae would officially enter the adult stage.

This day was soon approaching, having refined seven portions of Xianzhong's Treasure Vault, Tao Buddha's son had reached the Perfection of Cavernous Mystery.

With some more benefits, complete recovery was within reach.

Although the Heavenly Dao of the Search God Realm was like a "fool," in the past, it was unguarded, attracting numerous gods from All Heavens who mostly took advantage without offering anything in return, and rarely were there gods or demons willing to offer without demands, feeding It.

Now, a special case had emerged, and this Heavenly Dao also provided a spiritual response.

Urging Tao Buddha's son to continue refining and sacrificing spirits, and, in communications with the Divination Worm, even proactively offering guidance:

"That one called 'Seven Slaughter King Zhang Xianzhong' holds a larger treasure vault, aggregating relics of various gods and demons within Langya County. If you can offer it, all things lent will be returned, and certain conveniences in your subsequent actions may be afforded to you."

"My, the fool has learned to trade."

"Probably driven by desperation, even the originally selfless Heavenly Dao Origin thought of giving a backdoor to a Secret Demon Child like me."

"This deal deserves to be made."

Upon hearing the guidance from the Heavenly Dao, Tao Buddha's son smiled and said.

In truth, even without this spiritual response, he intended to go after Zhang Xianzhong.

No other reason, just path dependence.

All seven adopted sons were already bewitched, naturally missing was only a true adoptive father.

Once this "Seven Slaughter King" was captured, Langya County would logically fall into Tao Qian's hands, enough to become his first base station upon entering the realm.

...

On this day, having completely cleared the opposition within Langya County, uniting the entire county, Seven Slaughter King Zhang Xianzhong was determined to officially declare himself emperor, naming the country Dashun, or something like that.

The former Langya County City was renamed West Capital.

He planned that after the emperor's inauguration, his nearly one million Seven Slaughter Army would mobilize to sweep across the entire Liang Country and then devour several neighboring countries.

Such ambition was staggering.

However, what he followed was the insatiable Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva. If given the chance, not just a mere Liang Country, but the entire Ten Thousand Gods Continent, even the entire Search God Realm, if it could be devoured, it would surely be devoured, allowing him to smoothly ascend to the Realm of Tribulation Immortal and become the Seven Slaughter Buddha.

For the adoptive father's coronation ceremony, naturally, none of the seven adopted sons were absent, all being present.

In that hall, in front of all civil and military officials, the seven sons presented their grand gifts simultaneously:

"Adoptive father, this item is called 'Blood Pan Peach,' discovered by Shao from an alien species from the Outer Realm a few days ago. Only by watering it with the fresh blood of one hundred thousand people can a single fruit be produced. The sweet peach juice contained inside is actually the condensation of the killing intent of all living beings. Once consumed, adoptive father will surely close the gap with Bodhisattva, extraordinarily efficacious."

"Adoptive father, the peach presented by filial prince elder brother looks ordinary; just look at the treasure offered by Dingtian, this is called 'Killing Heart Bodhi,' an exotic treasure I obtained while clearing Putuo County. It is said to come from All Heavens Buddhism. Simply swallow it, and you can grasp the killing heart of Heavenly Dao, truly a good treasure specially prepared for adoptive father."

"Both brothers present food snacks, truly pathetic, adoptive father, take a look at mine, this volume of script is called 'Life and Death Exorcism Secret Talisman,' which was also a domain outer god item I acquired. Worn upon the body, it offers mysterious protection, able to eliminate all costs, committing no sins while enacting Heavenly Dao."

"Adoptive father, look at mine, previously after much effort I captured a ferocious beast from the Outer Realm, presented here especially, this beast is named 'Calamity Bird,' rumored to be an ancient strange beast, master of killing and war, having this beast as a pet would bring out the magnificence of adoptive father's Seven Slaughter King presence."

"What are these in comparison, all mere trivial toys, how could it be compared to the treasure I present, adoptive father take a look at this jade token, there's a big name to it, called 'Heavenly Dao Divine Token,' an ultimate exotic treasure for attaining enlightenment as god-demon, adoptive father only needs to inscribe name and grand wish, the divine token will provide guidance, having hopes of becoming a god."

"Adoptive father wants to prove himself among gods and demons; what's the use of that jade token? Better yet, offer this evil spirit that I present. Rumor has it that it is an offspring of an outer realm demon called the 'Daluo Ghost Slayer.' Adoptive father might devour it for a glimpse into the Great Dao of gods and demons."

"I know that adoptive father harbors great wishes, destined to resist the world's filth and realize the Great Dao of gods and demons. Just as it happened, during the expedition the other day, I accidentally captured a local god-demon, the 'Ruyi Book Immortal.' This god-demon possesses a method of manifesting the Dao; adoptive father can refine it and surely gain something."

...

For a moment, the grand hall was filled with voices of offering treasures.

The seven adoptive sons compared with each other; as always, none would let the others surpass them.

Yet this scene delighted Zhang Xianzhong sitting at the head, maintaining the façade of a human appearance. Just his face had some unusual changes.

His face was as red as ripe dates, covered with fleshy lumps, with a pair of crimson eyes hidden in narrow openings, half-closed and half-open. Occasionally flashing open, a chilling killing intent would appear briefly.

He received the most Source Qi infused by the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva, being both a spirit cultivator of gods and demons and the head of the Clan of Bodhisattvas.

He would entirely keep his eyes shut for the sake of all his subordinates.

If he opened them fully, revealing his true self, his heart's killing intention would become uncontrollable. The entire county would be wiped clean by him.

"Hahaha... Excellent, excellent."

"My children all possess great filial piety, which is worthy of my careful cultivation as a king."

"These gifts, the king likes very much. Present them to me; I'll taste the Pan Peach and Bodhi first. These exotic fruits from outer gods and demons will be the first I've eaten."

Zhang Xianzhong joyfully decreed, completely unaware of the ill intentions within the hearts of the seven adoptive sons.

In the past, this would have been impossible.

But now it's quite different. The large county has been enveloped by the 'Little Divination Worm,' which has grown over the days. Now, its body almost matches the county's size, with countless insect silk strands descending, frenetically spying on the hidden thoughts of all beings in the city, including Zhang Xianzhong while also casting spells to obscure and guide.

This causes Seven Slaughter King Zhang Xianzhong to be deceived, entirely unable to discern the truth:

Where are those treasures given by the seven sons anything good? They are clearly various demon-killing magic treasures scavenged from Tao Buddha's personal treasure bag, beginning with two bottles of Peach Nightmare Elixir, followed by a 'Secret Demon Extinguishing Buddha Talisman,' two transformed fierce beasts and evil spirits as 'Source Sea Demon Dog,' a 'Heavenly Dao Guilt Token,' and Tao Buddha himself.

Indeed, the so-called 'Ruyi Book Immortal' is actually Tao Buddha's true form.

This round of gifts can be deemed extremely vicious.

Tao Buddha aims for Zhang Xianzhong to first consume the Nightmare Elixir, then suffer a demon talisman attack, followed by a demon dog biting, and finally face the Heavenly Dao punishment of this world... culminating to his own intervention, completely subduing this Seven Slaughter King.

Zhang Xianzhong's Dao power is certainly stronger than that of the seven sons, and since he belongs to the direct lineage of the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva as a clan member, easily subduing him with the Peach Nightmare Elixir is difficult.

Tao Buddha briefly pondered and decided to first launch a surprise attack, then push ahead forcefully.

Poor Seven Slaughter King remained oblivious to all this.

At this moment, he was still lavishly praising the commendable filial piety of the seven children.

Seeing the seven treasures before him, he immediately picked up the 'Blood Pan Peach,' tucked it into his mouth, juice splattering, the killing intent sweet... then ate that Killing Heart Bodhi, feeling the killing intention stir upon entering his gut, enlightening many insights... This completely dissolved the little alertness he had.

In the next moment, a sudden change occurred.

The so-called Sin Erasing Talisman exploded as soon as it was worn, with dense demon light directly shaving off half of Zhang Xianzhong's body.

This ambush instantly brought Zhang Xianzhong to full consciousness, his eyes completely opening, with killing intent skyward, a millionfold overlapping chanting "kill, kill, kill." Amidst the eruption of crimson blood light, the hall collapsed, revealing a horrifying giant exhibiting its Dharma Body true form.

Its appearance was strikingly like a Bodhisattva.

With a hundred heads and arms, each wielding various worldly killing weapons, beneath its seat stood a Corpse Mountain, with countless corpses and wailing resentful souls.

"Heaven gives everything to man, yet man gives nothing to heaven, kill kill kill kill..."

The familiar demon curse resounds.

The upheaval came again, this time involving the fierce beast and evil spirit, flashing with demon light, transforming back into the Source Sea Demon Dogs.

These are masters that fear nothing, not even with the divine Dharma body bestowed or being genuine gods and demons; the Source Sea Demon Dog will still bite undeterred.

With roars left and right, they simultaneously bit Zhang Xianzhong's Killing Body Bodhisattva Dharma Body.

The unimaginable enormous power pulled, rendering him immobile.

In the next instant, the Guilt Token erupted with divine light; this item also has a background, created by some ancestors of the Secret Demon Sect specifically for trapping evil demons of the same path.

It can communicate with the Heavenly Dao, actively seek sin removal, and call for divine punishment.

Secret Demon Cultivators earned the "best in internal battles" reputation in the demon path, largely from these bizarre treasures.

In other worlds, even if this token were used, it would at most summon thunder and stop.

But not in Search God Realm!

The Heavenly Dao of this realm, having been exploited without reciprocation numerous times, harbors great grievances against the foreign gods and demons.

Due to the self-rescue rules set, it cannot easily transgress, forced to endure.

Now given the chance, how could it not retaliate?

Remember, it's you actively requesting penance, seeking divine punishment.

Chapter 943 - Inviting Yunrong to Meet Mingzhen, Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva Transforms into Fish Basket

The Seven Slaughter King Zhang Xianzhong manifested the Killing Body Bodhisattva Dharma Image, but was simultaneously held by two Source Sea Demon Dogs on either side.

The Heavenly Dao Guilt Token he wore immediately burst forth with divine light, containing mysterious powers, responding to the Heavenly Dao, declaring all his past sins, and actively soliciting heavenly punishment to cleanse his body and soul, as a sacrifice to all living beings.

In other realms, even if the Secret Demon Child could trick the enemy into wearing this token, it would still take some time to receive a response from the Heavenly Dao.

But here, it's vastly different; the Source Sea Demon Dogs responded to the Search God Realm with unprecedented speed: Approved.

And then, the next moment, the heavens changed color; Three Calamities and Six Afflictions, water, fire, gold, thunder, and other disasters descended from the sky, crashing down on Zhang Xianzhong's Dharma Body.

As the sole spokesperson of the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva in this realm, and the legitimate leader of the clan, he could no longer be considered part of the Human Clan.

Killing Body Bodhisattva!

This Dharma Image is a Divine Skill created when the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva realized the Daoist Transformation Realm, transforming the human body into a demon body, slaughtering all living beings with immense power, considered a form of undying.

Yet, this time, with all the heavenly punishments descending at once, his Dharma Body was instantly dismembered.

This change, rapid and abrupt.

Not to mention the completely stunned civil and military officials; even Zhang Xianzhong himself only realized the betrayal of all his sons after being blasted into thousands of pieces.

"All my children betrayed me... How is this possible?"

"There must be evil spirits at work, other Outer Realm Demons?"

Two thoughts flashed by quickly.

At the same time, before his head was blasted into pieces, Zhang Xianzhong swiftly recited the Seven Slaughter Scripture, accompanied by a killing chant, and with a hoarse voice, blood-soaked, shouted:

"My Lord's Mercy!"

"Xianzhong was assaulted by God Demons, bewitched seven sons to betray their father, Dharma Body dismembered... I beseech my Lord to descend, cleanse the impure world, and avenge Xianzhong."

"Kill, kill, kill!"

The moment the chant ended, Zhang Xianzhong's ruthlessness was revealed.

He yet had a chance to live, after all, his Dharma Image is undying, even if shattered, he could still revive from the blood.

Tao Qian, who transformed into the Ruyi Book Immortal, was precisely on guard against this move, always ready to deliver the final blow.

Unexpectedly, Zhang Xianzhong chose to forfeit this chance of life, directly causing his Dharma Body to completely collapse, setting up a simple ritual in an instant, and the sacrifice was himself.

Instantly the sacrifice was complete, killing intent soared to the sky, blood light pierced through the cloud of heavenly punishment, shooting straight towards the Outer Realm.

The Little Divination Worm can obscure heavenly mechanisms, preventing the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva from knowing what happened here.

However, it couldn't stop Zhang Xianzhong's sacrificial move.

Firstly, the worm was still immature, lacking strength.

Secondly, inside it is a collision of the Great Dao, unless the worm's master, Tao Qian, also breaks through to the Daoist Transformation Realm, could he possibly contend with the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva. Otherwise, it is absolutely unstoppable.

Thirdly, Tao Qian underestimated Zhang Xianzhong's "devotion"; two bottles of Nightmare Elixir couldn't taint him, showing how fervent this Seven Slaughter King was to the Bodhisattva.

Unable to prevent it, the calamity naturally cannot be avoided.

In the grand hall, the seven adopted sons who betrayed Zhang Xianzhong, all once powerful Bodhisattva Group, knowing the terror of the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva.

Upon witnessing this scene, they all momentarily panicked.

Yet, their obsession with the Peach Blossom God was deeply rooted by the Peach Nightmare Poison, far surpassing the devotion to the old gods.

Thus, they quickly revealed sinister smiles again, charging at Zhang Xianzhong's remnants in the hall, while cheering and shouting:

"Xianzhong child, utterly foolish."

"The Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva, just an empty title of a Fake God, nothing before our master, the Peach Blossom God, like Clay Chickens and Pottery Dogs, utterly vulnerable."

Amidst the shouts, all inside the hall either consumed the Peach Nightmare Elixir or were slaughtered.

Pity for these civil and military officials, who had not even enjoyed the thrill of founding ministers, were swiftly struck by disaster.

Meanwhile, Tao Qian received the prediction result from the Divination Worm:

"Due to the incomplete ritual setup, Zhang Xianzhong's sacrificial act will reach the Seven Slaughter Secret Realm twelve hours later."

"The Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva will surely rage, possibly sending an avatar to descend, with combat power approximately at the Perfect Realm of Ultimate Happiness."

With this spiritual response, Tao Demon Child's expression changed immediately.

An avatar of a Bodhisattva, regardless of the cultivation realm, the true threat that Tao Qian feared was the various Divine Power means possessed by the avatar.

Even if there were ten ordinary Ultimate Happiness Cultivators together, they probably wouldn't be enough to face a Bodhisattva avatar.

Tao Demon Child has a significant background but may not surpass the other's.

"This is bad, I underestimated Zhang Xianzhong's fanaticism towards the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva, causing quite a mess."

"If I can't deal with that Bodhisattva avatar, let alone the nearly effortless foundation in Langya County, I fear I will have no peace in the Search God Realm, chased to the ends of the earth by that Bodhisattva avatar."

"Alas, how should I respond?"

Just one mistake, and disaster immediately follows.

Though Tao Demon Child is unscrupulous, he is aware of the gap between him and the adversary.

That avatar of the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva, whether in mana, cultivation level, or divine power, surely surpasses the avatar of this Spirit Treasure Subduing Evil Lord.

However, being a tricky Secret Demon Child, after a moment's contemplation, he thought of a counter-strategy:

"Earlier, the plan was to seize Langya County, refine Zhang Xianzhong to restore cultivation, then perform the magic to enlighten the millions of Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva Group into the Peach Blossom Army as planned."

"Even without the Xianzhong's Treasure Vault, dealing with these remnants will suffice."

"Moreover, against such a formidable enemy, how can I alone withstand it?"

"The original body should also think of a way; if this Demon Child perishes here, won't your trial and Great Dao plan fall apart halfway?"

The heart and soul are fundamentally one, naturally knowing each other in an instant.

After threatening the "original body," Tao Buddha's son turned around and directly ordered the seven big ghosts who had just backstabbed their adoptive father, wanting to call him "daddy":

"Form the array immediately, using millions of [Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva Group] as material, to melt down those seven artifact embryos into one furnace."

"That Bodhisattva desires the Seven Slaughter Stele, I shall grant it to Him."

...

Tao Buddha's son began to act, receiving news one after another from two territories outside the Search God Realm.

First, naturally, was Tao Qian's original body within the Ascending Immortal Star Acupoint.

Tao Qian, who was practicing the [Red Son Divine Needle] miraculous skill passed down by Lingbao Tianzun, sensed something, receiving a message from the avatar within his soul.

That tone made him chuckle involuntarily, sneering:

"It is, after all, the Secret Demon Avatar; while it acts without concern, it lacks some rigor."

"If I were to take action, I must first investigate Zhang Xianzhong's details thoroughly, ensuring absolute certainty before making a move, how can one act so recklessly."

"As for that Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva... defecting from All Heavens Buddhism, pursued by so many Bodhisattvas and Buddhas yet remains undying, he is indeed a tough character. There are scarcely any records of him in various Secret Books, making it impossible to scheme against him."

"Such an ancient fierce figure practicing both Buddha and Demon cultivation, Aunt Ma Yi, with her long lifespan, should know his details."

Reflecting upon this, Tao Qian pondered for a moment.

He quickly wrote a cloud note, summoned Zhong Doudou, and instructed her to deliver it to the Ma Yi Immortal for consultation.

Soon enough, Zhong Doudou brought back Aunt Ma Yi's reply:

"The Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva hails from the [Great Heavenly Realm], and practices not the technique of acting on behalf of heaven nor the art of slaughtering all beings, but rather the method of Compassionate Travel Enlightenment. The Dao title is [Compassionate Travel Bodhisattva], whose mana is profound and cultivation unparalleled, ranking among the top even in the stronghold-filled All Heavens Buddhism."

"Later, he discovered his Dao path was blocked, with the Compassionate Travel Great Dao occupied by many God Demons, none being good to associate with."

"Thinking he was powerless to carve out a path, he simply turned to the Demon Path, transforming into Seven Slaughter, thus making a small stride forward, though still unable to prove Buddhahood but exceeding past battle power."

"If you wish to fight him and win, you must involve our sect's second-generation ancestor."

"If only dealing with one of his avatars, it's much simpler. I hear that you have some dealings with the Buddhist Great Sect [Guanyin Temple], and some troubled ties with the Human World's Empress Yuann Mingzhen; you might use one or two to invite another Buddhist powerhouse [Guanyin Master] to solve the problem..."

The content that followed was a secret anecdote.

It narrates the complex relationship between Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva and Guanyin Master — simply put, they are mutual opposites, mortal enemies of the Great Dao.

Knowing those secrets, Tao Qian contemplated for a moment and then said to Zhong Doudou:

"I still need to respond to the Dao Nightmare in the Star Acupoint, so I can't act."

"Go and tell the lady the ins and outs, have her visit Yuann Mingzhen Daoist, and then go to Guanyin Temple to see if she can invite [Guanyin Master]?"

This instruction poses no problem.

But Zhong Doudou, this Crystal Demon Girl, gradually grew up and learned some mischievousness, showing an astonished expression upon hearing this, clearly misunderstanding:

"Young Master sure is bold, letting the lady seek that Human World's Empress, aren't you afraid the lady would eat some jealousy and fight with Yuann Mingzhen?"

"The lady recently practiced a divine skill [Great Brahma Purple Light], tremendously powerful, even Aunt Ma Yi praised the lady's extraordinary talent, truly deserving of Doumu Lineage's direct inheritance. If the lady gets serious, that Devil Concubine might not withstand a few moves."

Upon hearing her words, Tao Qian's face darkened.

He impatiently gestured to shoo her away:

"Go, go, go!"

"I'm upright and not afraid of shadows, having pure relations with Yuann Mingzhen Daoist, what is there to worry about."

"Besides, haven't you known the lady's temperament? Truly seeing a beauty before her, she wouldn't even care about jealousy."

"Indeed, the lady is fierce, scaring the aunts from coming to the island."

Listening in approval, Zhong Doudou nodded her little head fervently while swaying out of the Star Acupoint, heading to her mistress, Lady Yunrong.

...

Meanwhile, as these schemes unfolded, within another Secret Realm of Source Sea.

Seven Slaughter Secret Realm, Killing Mountain.

A terrifying goddess sat cross-legged, surrounded not by any alien but only "corpses."

Or rather, the entire Killing Mountain was essentially countless corpses of various life forms piled up. No one could see this goddess's true face clearly; they could only see myriad heads and arms, with death light surging, her upper body donned in a pure white robe, sacred and merciful, while her lower body adorned with various corpse bones and countless life form heads.

Tens of thousands, hundreds of thousands... perhaps reaching millions?

All the heads were roaring, chanting the [Seven Slaughter Buddha Sutra].

Praying and hoping Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva can realize Buddhahood.

Until next moment, a blood light came from a distant world, instantly entering her mouth.

This goddess directly chewed Zhang Xianzhong's corpse and flesh, slowly swallowed them, and in the blink of an eye understood what happened in the Search God Realm.

With laughter preceding anger, apparently not expecting some unidentified God Demon, dare play such a game of borrowing chickens to lay eggs with Him, which explained why recently there wasn't a noticeable increase in the Search God Realm's clan [Bodhisattva Group].

So, they were intercepted.

With a cold snort following, a crimson red arm measuring a thousand feet, holding a Fish Basket, automatically detached from her God Demon body, and after crashing to the ground with a flash of demon light, transformed into a snow-white-skinned, beautiful village woman with a Fish Basket in hand, exuding an incomparably peaceful aura.

No one would feel wary of her.

If any Buddhist Practitioner were present, they would be greatly shocked: This village woman is clearly the Fish Basket Guanyin, one of the many avatars of the [Guanyin Master] from Guanyin Temple's Daoist Lineage source, why had it been learned by Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva?

Once Guanyin appeared, a divine decree was delivered from above:

"Go to the Search God Realm!"

"First kill that reckless Peach Blossom Demon God, then regain eight million believers."

...

Chapter 944 - The Jade Pillow of Myriad Desires Displays Its Power Again, Forcing Guanyin Into a Dream

Search God Realm, Liang Country, Langya County.

On this day, outside the county city, great fires scorched the sky, and people throughout the city came to watch.

Earlier, when the county was under the rule of the Seven Slaughter Kings, every man, woman, and child lived in fear, dreading every day. Now they returned to their old expressions, due to an unforeseen event. The former King of the Li family, along with the Crown Prince and Princess, descended upon the county city and summoned the powerful God Demon [Peach Blossom God] with the respect due to a Goddess. In a moment, they subdued the Seven Slaughter Kings and his seven adopted sons and a million-strong demon army.

And now, it is Enlightenment Day.

One could see on the plain outside the city, a giant stele inscribed with the "Killing Curse" standing like a torch, with a vast array below it bursting with Divine Light. Inside, endless flames surged, scorching and melting the giant stele. Whenever the flames began to wane, one Seven Slaughter Soldier after another would be thrown into the array, using their body and soul to ignite new flames.

These Evil Ghost Bodhisattvas, who once filled the fields with killing, have now become mere fuel.

Even the "seven adopted sons" who betrayed Zhang Xianzhong couldn't escape. Although they had the thought to resist, they had already succumbed to Peach Nightmare Poison, their Dharma Bodies and Heart Souls entirely controlled by Tao Buddha's son, such that all their struggles were in vain.

This grand spectacle was to appear and be maintained for a full 24 hours, which exhausted all the current strength of Tao Buddha's son.

The Divination Little Worm, having grown into a "colossal entity," coiled in the sky. Insect Silk blocked out the sun, completely severing the bloodline connection between these God Demon Clans called [Bodhisattva Group] and the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva, preventing that Lord Bodhisattva from remotely commanding the Bodhisattva Group to rebel or even to descend upon the body.

The array melting the Seven Slaughter Stele below also has a story, named [All Heavens Secret Demon Burning Body Demon Flame Array]. It was originally intended to perish together with enemies. Once deployed, it lured enemies in, then used the body as the trigger to unleash endless Demon Flame. If the power was insufficient, they could entice Outer Realm Demons as additional fuel.

Tao Buddha's son altered it a bit, using it directly as a furnace to melt the Seven Slaughter Stele, an exceedingly remarkable effect.

Outside Langya County, it's as if a "Flame Mountain" had descended, its fierce flames heard even in other counties of Liang Country.

Once the fuel is exhausted and the fire extinguished, the giant stele imbued with the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva Divinity will be sacrificed to the Search God Realm Heavenly Dao, and the Ultimate Happiness Perfect cultivation of Tao Great Demon Tao, along with his personal treasure bag, can be recovered.

Even so, at this moment, Tao Buddha's son still furrowed his brow slightly, quite a bit uneasy.

Recalling the shared information from the main body, he couldn't help but grumble:

"My main body is utterly useless; sending Yunrong to contact Yuan Mingzhen on a favor?"

"Rivals in love meet, and the eyes turn red with rage."

"If those two women clash out of sheer jealousy, wouldn't it ruin everything?"

"If it were me, I would write a letter directly, expressing old feelings to that Devil Concubine Yuan Mingzhen. Moved, she would return to Guanyin Temple. With her great background, she would request Guanyin Master to take action, effortlessly resolving any difficulties with no loose ends."

"He even talks about Daoist Peach Blossom; his skill level still needs improvement."

...

In Tao Buddha's son's chatter, 24 hours swiftly passed.

After a full day's burning and scorching, the towering [Seven Slaughter Stele] finally became completely carbonized, turned into a piece of pitch-black charcoal covered with fire patterns, crumbling into a flurry of powder at this moment, amidst the thrilled gaze of the city's inhabitants, dissipating into the sky.

The essence of the Seven Slaughter Divinity contained within it also went entirely to the Heavenly Dao of this realm.

Seeing this, Tao Buddha's son no longer posed as the Ruyi Book Immortal but reverted to his handsome demon form and shouted to the invisible Heavenly Dao in the sky: "My dear child, this meal should be fulfilling enough; hurry and return to your father all my precious belongings."

The Demon was crude; if such an offense was committed in the Longevity Realm, he would inevitably suffer Heavenly Punishment.

Yet in the Search God Realm, the Heavenly Dao Origin indeed relished it.

During these days of numerous trades, in days to come, the incorruptible Heavenly Dao Origin might be corrupted by the Demon's "sugar-coated bullets."

Of course, this transaction, in particular, was quite fair.

It must be understood that the Seven Slaughter Stele contained the Divine Origin Qi personally infused by the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva entering the world, along with a large amount of clan bloodline. It was, so to speak, an advance investment by the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva, not a small sum, and it initially shouldn't have been obtained by the Search God Realm Heavenly Dao.

Tao Qian employed tactics, and the Heavenly Dao naturally reciprocated.

In the next moment, Langya County suddenly manifested numerous extraordinary phenomena, with streaks of Divine Light intermixed, descending directly into Tao Qian's body.

Cultivation fully restored!

Treasure bag reclaimed!

This scoundrel needed no lesson in villainy; he was cunning to the core. Leveraging the Heavenly Dao Origin, he directly used the Divination Worm to brainwash all the commoners of Langya County.

Various illusions related to Peach Blossoms erupted, delighting every man, woman, and child with full devotion, all chanting the revered name of the Peach Blossom God.

When it came to "playing god and ghost," Tao Qian reckoned himself not inferior to anyone.

Originally, he didn't have these pretentious notions. But this time, with such a smooth scheme against the Seven Slaughter Army, Tao Qian realized how convenient it was to operate in the Search God Realm with a facade of God Demon skin, so he simply went with the local customs.

"As Tao Qian, I can't use the title [Spirit Treasure Subduing Evil Lord] of the main body, nor derive the slightest advantage from it. Fabricating and promoting the fame of the Peach Blossom God is surely more delightful."

"My Peach Blossom God Sect doesn't need much else, just needs more Goddesses and Saintesses..."

"Hmm? Bad! The debt collectors have arrived."

Chapter 945 - The Jade Pillow of Myriad Desires Displays Its Power Again, Forcing Guanyin Into a Dream (Part 2)

Tao Buddha's son was just smugly thinking when suddenly the Divination Little Worm sent a premonition.

He raised his eyes to see an unstoppable blood light coming from beyond the sky.

Even though there was still a world's barrier between them, at this moment Tao Buddha's son felt painful all over, his heart and soul trembled, and the intent to destroy everything had already turned into a never-ending murderous spell, word by word drilling into Tao Qian's mind.

Even if Tao Buddha's son had retrieved his cultivation treasures, and despite not yet having engaged in a fight, Tao Qian knew he might not be the opponent.

"Good son, it's hard to eat with a short mouth, quickly stop this Bodhisattva."

"If I'm beaten to death by this Bodhisattva, you won't have a second full meal."

Tao Buddha's son shouted while hurriedly instructed, then fled to the county town beside him.

Attempting to redirect trouble eastward, he also had the Divination Worm quietly use insect silk to entangle the Bodhisattva avatar about to enter the world, hoping to glean some advantage.

Unfortunately, all these tricks were in vain.

The Search God Heavenly Dao had not yet been corrupted, only recognizing transactions, not knowing what friendships were, and completely ignored his calling.

As soon as he fled to the border, a blood light landed in front, just blocking his path.

The Divination Worm Silk had some effect, such as transferring some basic information to Tao Qian when he formally saw the avatar of the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva:

"The entrant is one of the Outer Realm Demon [Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva] avatars, and also Fish Basket Guanyin."

"Although this avatar only has the divine power of Perfect Ultimate Happiness, it was personally refined by the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva in their early years of enlightenment."

"Perfect mana, ferocious Dao heart, countless divine powers."

"To him, all living beings are just fish and meat on the chopping board."

...

"All living beings as fish and meat? Such exaggerated boasting?"

Blocked halfway, Tao Buddha's son seriously observed, facing him was a village woman with snow-white skin and charming features, carrying a fish basket.

Without wearing a Bodhisattva magic robe, she was just dressed in a small jacket close to her body, barefoot, with bare arms... Just looking at these external appearances, nothing ferocious could be discerned.

As he looked at Guanyin, Guanyin also looked at him.

With just a glance, she saw through the first layer of Tao Great Buddha's son's details completely, and couldn't help but laugh with anger:

"I thought it was some God Demon with no discernment, daring to slay my million Bodhisattva Group."

"Turns out you're just a little demon child from the Secret Demon Sect, indeed your old expertise, in battles and magical fights you're all weaklings, in stealing chickens and dogs just like that iron-waisted snake, yet you shouldn't have, most of all, stolen from me."

"In consideration of the faces of some elders in your family, I give you a chance to explain, if compensation can satisfy me, I might spare your life."

With these words from Fish Basket Guanyin, Tao Qian also couldn't help but smile.

Listening to this, obviously this God Demon, the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva, often dealt with the Secret Demon Sect.

Otherwise, the evaluation wouldn't be so precise.

But since she was still willing to save face, it was clear that this Bodhisattva had also suffered losses at the hands of some sect masters in the Secret Demon Sect.

Tao Qian felt there was no escape and planned on leveraging personal connections, so he chuckled, cupped his hands, and said:

"Bodhisattva, clarity, clarity indeed."

"Earlier, this young one did not know those creatures resembling evil ghosts were the Bodhisattva's clan members, only assumed they were some ghosts, hence used some means... As they say, one is not guilty of ignorance, and the Bodhisattva, being one who saves all living beings, should forgive this young one..."

Halfway through his words, Fish Basket Guanyin merely used her beautiful eyes to look at Tao Qian.

What Tao Buddha's son received was certainly not affectionate glances, but the pure killing intent capable of devastating the world.

Decisively, he continued:

"Of course, since a mistake was made, proper compensation to the Bodhisattva is necessary."

"The Bodhisattva also knows that our Secret Demon Sect is currently selecting a Sect Master, and this young one, though modest, is most likely to ascend to that position."

"To be honest, behind this young one stand Masters Xu Yu Zi, Yin Yang Demon Lord, Six Evil Demon Lords... and others. My trip to the Search God Realm is merely procedural, waiting for the right time for the masters to perform spells across the sky, allowing me to obtain the most spiritual materials, directly taking that position."

"Since fate brings me and the Bodhisattva together in such a way, I naturally ought to share a portion with the Bodhisattva..."

"Oh, really? How do you plan to give me a piece of the pie?"

As Tao Qian spoke, he unconsciously walked toward Fish Basket Guanyin.

The latter replied while a strange smile appeared on her snow-white, delicate face.

Tao Qian seemed completely unaware, deliberately leaned his head forward, and whispered mysteriously:

"It's simple, Bodhisattva!"

"Please, lend me your ear..."

"All good, all good. I'll first take your head, then you can babble on."

Before the words were finished, Fish Basket Guanyin actually fetched a fish-slicing knife from the exquisitely woven basket, and without waving it, Tao Qian was instantly decapitated. The blood gushing from his neck shot his perfectly good head straight into the basket.

Even so, Tao Qian's head could still speak, first screeching loudly: "Bodhisattva, you are ruthless, do you really think I'm a fish in your basket?"

Then, shaking his head, he shouted:

"Bodhisattva is so beautiful, if only I could enjoy a moment with you under the spring breeze, a fish-water festivity, I would be happy to accompany you."

"This fish-slicing business is too vulgar, no can do, no can do."

"As they say, it's rude not to reciprocate. If the Bodhisattva cuts me with a knife, then you must take one pillow from me."

Upon hearing these words,

Fish Basket Guanyin's eyebrows furrowed, realizing something was amiss.

The next moment, a flashing demon light appeared, and the decapitated little demon in front of her turned into a Substitute Demon.

How could this be?

Fish Basket Guanyin was greatly shocked. She knew that most of the little demons from the Secret Demon Sect were adept in the Summoning Demon Technique, and there were many Heavenly Demons among the All Heavens Demons who excelled at transformation. However, she thought that none of their transformations could fool her.

Precisely because of this, she did not strike immediately, but instead planned to toy with the little demon like a cat with a mouse, while also checking if he truly had a powerful backer.

Who could have guessed that she would slip this time?

Furthermore, even more unbelievable changes awaited Fish Basket Guanyin.

Just as the word "pillow" fell, the sound of wind immediately appeared behind her.

This time, there was also no warning whatsoever.

With all her cultivation power and divine power, how could she fail twice in a row?

Before she could think of the reason, her head was already thoroughly hit.

At the last moment, she opened her Dharma Eye behind her head.

There she saw the grinning face of Great Demon Tao, holding a strange Jade Pillow, smashing it against the back of her head.

Immediately, an indescribable fatigue assaulted her, intending to plunge her into a dream at the blink of an eye.

What's more, the dream was an ephemeral dream.

She was an ancient Bodhisattva from All Heavens Buddhism, with knowledge far exceeding that of Tao Qian.

Even if Great Demon Tao hadn't said anything, she instantly recognized the Jade Pillow Magical Treasure.

"Ten Thousand Desires Yin Yang Pillow!"

"You thief, seeking death!"

Clearly, Fish Basket Guanyin was now beside herself with rage.

She originally intended to toy with the little demon like a cat with a mouse, never expecting to be sneak attacked.

She no longer bothered to think about how this thief had twice fooled her.

Now, Fish Basket Guanyin had only one thought, oh no, it should be two thoughts.

First, she must never be led into an ephemeral dream by the Yin Yang Pillow.

Second, she must kill this despicable little demon in front of her.

...

To be fair, if Tao Qian had attempted this sneak attack twelve hours earlier, Fish Basket Guanyin could indeed have struggled free.

Unfortunately, the current Great Demon Tao had fully restored his cultivation, simply at the Perfect Ultimate Happiness level in Dao Heng, directly able to wield most of the power of the [Ten Thousand Desires Yin Yang Pillow].

Most critically, this guy's heart was too sinister.

"Bang!"

"Bodhisattva has come a long way, tired and weary, so why not take a nap, no need to be polite with me."

The crisp sound suggested that Tao Qian had struck again.

Like a beautiful peasant woman, the Bodhisattva's body softened, her beautiful eyes rolled, and she collapsed directly to the ground, instantly groaning, evidently caught by the Ten Thousand Desires Yin Yang Pillow's trick.

Poor Fish Basket Guanyin. As an avatar personally cultivated by the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva, her cultivation power was terrifying, her divine talents invincible.

She should have easily subdued this little demon Tao Qian, if not for carelessness and falling into this dirty trick, misjudging the situation.

In truth, Fish Basket Guanyin couldn't entirely be blamed; she merely thought Tao Qian was an ordinary little demon from the Secret Demon Sect, completely unaware of his deeper layers.

If Fish Basket Guanyin knew this villain also carried a "Little Divination Worm," she would never have given him a chance to speak nonsense, let alone get close enough to cast spells.

Chapter 946 - Redirecting Calamity, Corrupting the Heavenly Dao

Tao Qian used a jade pillow to knock Fish Basket Guanyin down in the wilderness, he still standing while Guanyin lay down.

The beautiful woman's jade body lay before him, panting softly, ebbing and flowing like the tides.

If it were some lascivious lecher, what should and shouldn't happen likely would have already occurred, especially with the shameless effects of the Ten Thousand Desires Yin Yang Pillow causing ephemeral dreams. Even the most chaste maiden, upon being ensnared, would immediately lose her purity if the owner of the pillow harbored ill intent.

Yet at this moment and place, there was not a trace of any romantic atmosphere.

While continuing to receive various secrets related to the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva from the Divination Worm, Tao Qian took out the Evil-slaying Sword, intending to go for the kill, while inwardly cursing:

"This woman is truly too fierce."

"She regards all living beings like fish and meat. If the Immortal Fish Daoist Li Wanshou had encountered her earlier, he might have been skinned and made into fish stew."

"If I were to forcefully enjoy pleasure with her, I would surely be chased to the ends of the earth, even my true body would be implicated."

"I might as well take advantage of the situation and kill now."

A demon child truly is a demon child.

Once decided, there was no hesitation; the Evil-slaying Sword had emerged from its treasure bag, its fine sword tooth brimming with killing intent.

But just at that moment, forewarning came from the Divination Worm.

Tao Qian glanced at it, his expression changing immediately, he exclaimed: "Not good, the Bodhisattva is about to reveal her true form. I'll take my leave first."

Even as he spoke, his figure swayed, and next he had already moved a hundred miles away, completely departing from Langya County's territory. One more breath, and he could escape thousands of miles away.

But for just this one breath, Fish Basket Guanyin would not allow it.

This avatar of the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva, upon falling into an ephemeral dream, had already been enraged, initially intending to cast a spell to escape. However, the Ten Thousand Desires Yin Yang Pillow is not to be underestimated, being the accompanying spiritual treasure of the God Demon Yin Yang Elder. Even if the true body of the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva were struck by it, it would not feel good, much less just an avatar.

Ordinary techniques could not break through it, so Fish Basket Guanyin had to reveal her true form.

Yet doing so would come at a cost. If entangled for too long, the divine energy would be completely locked onto by the Search God Realm's Heavenly Dao, and this avatar could no longer leave the Search God Realm.

She originally came to plunder resources and benefits, getting trapped within would mean a loss.

However, at this time, she could not be concerned with these things.

The authentic Fish Basket Guanyin refined by the Great Master appears sacred and pure in its true form as well.

However, this Fish Basket is a counterfeit by the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva, naturally quite different.

One could see the vast purple and black evil light erupting, as a female God Demon, a thousand feet tall, awakened from the ephemeral dream. This God Demon's body is indeed elegant, with little clothing to conceal it, but anyone who sees it would likely have no lustful thoughts.

This is because this God Demon, apart from having purple and black skin, is adorned with skulls, human skin, dried flesh, ashes... and other evil objects.

Seeing Tao Qian escape, Fish Basket Guanyin laughed in disdain:

"You despicable demon brat!"

"If I let you escape, my many years of cultivation would be in vain."

"Today, even if I risk a loss, I must skin you alive."

This Guanyin Demon was obviously furious beyond words, disregarding everything else, as she threw the Fish Basket, evil light surged like a sea, filling thousands of miles of territory in an instant.

Tao Qian had no time to react, his body was already within the Fish Basket.

At the same time, the Divination Worm conveyed the secrets it had observed: "This treasure is called the Ci'en Basket, a remarkable artifact, woven from the 'Child Bamboo' of the Six Roots Pure Bamboo, an innate treasure taken from the All Heavens Buddhist Sacred Land by the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva before her rebellion. Its power is unparalleled, able to expand or contract at will. When large, it can contain the waters of the Four Seas, even those cultivated with the Heart Light Escape Technique may not escape it."

In the blink of an eye, upon seeing this, Tao Qian raised his head, and could see Fish Basket Guanyin lowering her head to look at him.

Under her ribs, lumps of flesh swelled, bursting open to reveal pairs of purple-black arms. Each arm took out weapons like knives, hammers, chisels, and needles from the Fish Basket, it appeared she intended to fulfill her promise, to skin and draw the sinews of Tao Qian, this Secret Demon Child who dared to desecrate her.

"Truly a fierce woman."

"But Bodhisattva, no need to boast first, whether you can detain me still depends on your means."

With these words, Tao Qian chuckled as he flicked his sleeve.

Accompanying the flashing demon light, strange rustling sounds came continuously, and slender, eerie hunting dogs emerged.

In an instant, they gnawed through the walls inside the Fish Basket.

Tao Qian also slipped out like a sly fish through the gap, in the blink of an eye heading to his county.

This scene happened too fast, even Fish Basket Guanyin did not react in time.

But with her sharp eye, she recognized what those thin dogs were.

Precisely because of this, Guanyin was even more startled and said:

"Source Sea Demon Dog?"

"This demon brat, can he actually drive Source Sea Demon Dogs to serve him?"

"No, this is definitely not possible, there's some trickery involved?"

It must be said, Fish Basket Guanyin's insight was stronger than some Secret Demon Childs.

Earlier in the Secret Demon Main Path, many demon children saw Tao Qian use demon dogs to fight enemies and truly believed he had completely tamed the demon dogs.

Though seeing something amiss, Fish Basket Guanyin still couldn't detain Tao Qian.

This lad was indeed slippery.

And at this juncture, this Guanyin faced a choice:

Firstly, to give up retrieving the field, and immediately leave the Search God Realm to cut losses while there was still time.

Secondly, to continue the pursuit, at the cost of the avatar's true form being revealed, the divine energy completely exposed. With ten more breaths, she would be marked by the Search God Realm's Heavenly Dao, detained within the realm, and unable to escape, truly a case of losing the woman and forfeiting the soldiers, an enormous loss for Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva.

The All Heavens Gods and Demons enter the Search God Realm to plunder, not for charity.

Fish Basket Guanyin didn't expect that even personally chasing wouldn't yield results, delaying the "Enlightenment of Eight Million People" task as well.

According to reason, Mind should return, and He should leave.

Yet, at this very moment, a cheeky voice came from afar:

"Tsk tsk, though Bodhisattva is fierce, in dreams She is gentle as a maiden."

"Such a beautiful image should be replicated by the Image Retention Stone a few thousand times, once I leave this realm, they should sell for a good price."

...

At this instant, Fish Basket Guanyin, who was about to escape the Search God Realm, halted.

The substantial killing intent poured down like a crimson heavenly waterfall.

Good heavens!

Tao Buddha's son effortlessly became the first cultivator in the Great Abyss Origin Sea to threaten the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva with images of an Ephemeral Dream.

Even for Secret Demon Child, this method is truly wild.

Naturally, Fish Basket Guanyin stayed.

She said nothing, not even willing to retract Her "true form," Her mind echoed with a divine edict from the main body:

Kill him!

At all costs, grind this little demon to dust.

Poor Great Master Tao had not really faced the [Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva] yet, but their avatars had already become mortal enemies.

If someday the relationship between the main body and the avatar is exposed, this evil bodhisattva, who dares to steal even the Buddha's Tooth, might be the first to rush towards the Longevity Realm, blocking Penglai Sea, demanding Tao Qian to take responsibility.

This scene had not yet occurred, but the Fish Basket Guanyin, revealing her female divine-demon form, had already begun madly hunting Tao Buddha's son within the Liang Country territory of the Search God Realm.

Ten breaths!

In just ten breaths, Fish Basket Guanyin had cast countless divine power skills, pulling out numerous divine weapons from that fish basket, Source Sea Treasures.

However, still unable to achieve success.

Tao Buddha's son had also regained cultivation, with Perfect Ultimate Happiness adding to the secret demon means cultivated by Great Master Tao over three years, not to mention the Source Sea Demon Dog and other external tricks, he hadn't even used [Evil-slaying Sword], easily managing this ten breaths of time.

When the hour arrived, a special celestial phenomenon appeared.

Tao Qian turned back to look, witnessing that purple-black-skinned female divine-demon chasing him, seemingly suddenly suppressed, originally high above, the seemingly intangible divinity abruptly pulled down, becoming highly solidified, fully integrated with the Search God Realm.

Seeing this, Tao Buddha's son seemed afraid Fish Basket Guanyin wouldn't hate him enough, pointing at the giantess-like Guanyin, laughing heartily in mockery:

"Good Bodhisattva!"

"The junior did not know the charm of oneself is so great, causing the Bodhisattva to remember so fondly."

"Willing to sacrifice an avatar, yet eager to spend a beautiful night with the junior."

As Tao Buddha's son continued to provoke the hatred of Fish Basket Guanyin, he also used the Divination Worm to directly demand benefits from the Search God Realm Heavenly Dao, attempting to pull it down again.

All sorts of demon thoughts poured towards the honest Heavenly Dao Origin.

"My good elder, never made such profitable deals, I presume."

"Though [Fish Basket Guanyin] has yet to be fully captured, She is thoroughly locked inside the realm, already considered wasted in the pot, sooner or later ready to consume."

"Quickly offer me benefits in return, sign contracts, fools like this are an endless supply."

All this effort Tao Buddha's son spent, arduously trying to corrupt the Search God Realm Heavenly Dao, naturally aims for a great gain.

The Search God Realm must die!

This fact is known to everyone.

The many gods and demons entering the realm, alongside numerous Daoist lineage seeds like "Secret Demon Child," are here to seize the inheritance.

Some with open schemes, others with conspiracies, each having their own methods.

But what Tao Qian pursues is the filthiest.

He intends to fully gain the trust of the Search God Realm Heavenly Dao!

Once successful, on the day of the world collapse, the Heavenly Dao will surely hand over all "inheritance" to him, the sole guardian.

The other Daoist lineages and gods will end up empty-handed.

To take, one must first give.

This is why Tao Buddha's son chose to play the sole "honest man" before the Search God Realm Heavenly Dao, instead of being a notorious little demon.

Alas, corrupting an honest and upright Heavenly Dao, how could it be easy?

Dirty demon thoughts surged, but no response was received.

Seeing this, Tao Qian did not feel discouraged.

First glanced again at the approaching [Fish Basket Guanyin], chuckling, then suddenly turned to look at the Liang Country territory, where two other major forces were battling fiercely.

Red Rope Army!

Heavenly Talisman Army!

Those polluted clans, now uncaringly regarded by Tao Buddha's son.

What truly attracted him were the two powerful gods and demons standing behind them.

"Emperor Heavenly Talisman, along with a Red Rope God, if able to lure each of their divine avatars to enter the realm... Even if still unable to corrupt the Search God Realm Heavenly Dao, it can leverage power against power, divert disasters, seize some good things, refine some divine skills, gain some treasures."

"Originally, such a dance on the knife edge act of courting death is unsuitable for I, but with Divination Worm assistance this time, not walking some shortcuts is truly wasteful."

Chapter 947: Attaining the Top-Grade Marvelous Body, Reunion with Xie Lingji

After the chaos in Liang Country, more than a dozen groups of rebels emerged, all coveting the throne of the King.

Behind them, each had a foreign deity entering the world to plunder resources, selecting suitable agents before stepping into the bloody conflict.

It wasn't long before the general outcome was determined.

Aside from the Red Rope and Heavenly Talisman armies, the other rebels were crushed.

If nothing unexpected happens, Liang Country's new ruler should emerge between Emperor Heavenly Talisman Jia Qiuchi and Red Rope Emperor Zhao Liujia.

Yet, as the two major forces stood off against each other, friction arose unexpectedly.

A grand chase unfolded across the various counties of Liang Country.

The pursued was a lesser-known god demon called "Peach Blossom God."

However, the gods chasing from behind were of notable origin, being the embodiment of the Fish Basket Guanyin and Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva.

The two god demons behind Jia Qiuchi and Zhao Liujia were well aware of Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva's renown.

Though neither feared Him, they were unwilling to make a strong enemy like Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva in the Source Sea, unless necessary.

Thus, both parties held the same intention: not to interfere in this chase.

They thought it a smart plan, but Great Demon Tao refused to comply.

Nobody knew what tactics he used, but he seemed to always know in advance the gathering places of Red Rope and Heavenly Talisman armies, leading the terrifying Fish Basket Guanyin to wipe out their troops, clans, and leaders.

Yet he himself always escaped like a slippery loach.

After a few times, Jia Qiuchi and Zhao Liujia became fed up, deciding to jointly set traps to help Fish Basket Guanyin catch the Peach Blossom Demon, joining forces to eliminate him to avoid this scoundrel's harassment.

This plan was certainly vicious and clever.

However, it was useless.

Great Demon Tao held the "Divination Worm" in his hands, ensuring no conspiracy or plot could touch him.

Instead, he frequently manipulated these schemes to counter Fish Basket Guanyin, eventually not even needing Tao Qian to exert much effort in dealing with the pursuit, but simply luring, slaughtering, then luring again, and further slaughtering... Such repetition tormented the armies of Red Rope and Heavenly Talisman deity clans endlessly.

Though Liang Country was vast, with many citizens, they continued to be polluted and mutated into clans.

Yet, all methods came with a price, and could not be harvested indefinitely. Even wild leeks needed time to regrow after being cut.

The two deity clans' armies were diminished daily by the Peach Blossom Demon; at this rate, the massive plan of resource plunder by the Red Rope God and Emperor Heavenly Talisman was bound to collapse. It's nobody's wish to do a losing business that costs more resources to replenish.

Jia Qiuchi and Zhao Liujia, as native agents, couldn't accept the pain of being slowly carved by a blunt knife, so they set up rituals day and night, with one dancing the Red Rope's doomed fate dance, and the other creating images of Emperor Heavenly Talisman, pleading their masters for more investment, even requesting their masters to personally send avatars to assist.

The persuasion and promises made it difficult for the two god demons to refute.

"Great investments yield great returns. With the help of the master's avatar, the harvest wouldn't be limited to just Liang Country's resources; there are larger nations like Tang, Song, Zhou, and Yuan on Shen Zhou Holy Land, not to mention other continents within the Search God Realm. We might as well scrape the land bare."

"The resources of one realm would help our god advance further. This opportunity cannot be missed."

...

The unanimous thoughts of the two native leaders naturally weren't conjured out of thin air.

This was precisely one of the subtle uses of the Divination Worm, quietly implanting these thoughts into their Heart Soul, unnoticeable even to them as leaders of god demon clans.

Once again, Great Demon Tao felt that same joy experienced by Duobao Daoist.

Of course, this was a technique of open conspiracy, akin to the sunk cost in a previous life.

Just like Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva firmly leaving Fish Basket Guanyin's embodiment within the Search God Realm, unwilling to abandon past investments, fearing a total loss, thus willingly restocking, hoping for a full return—never imagining this was all Great Demon Tao's method of harvesting wild leeks.

On a certain day, the two deities Red Rope and Heavenly Talisman could no longer endure the incessant nagging of their clan chiefs.

Responding to the pleas of Jia Qiuchi and Zhao Liujia, they increased their investments significantly, imparting vast amounts of Divine Origin Qi, and even swiftly sending down avatars.

Just as Great Demon Tao, posing as Peach Blossom Demon, was repeating his trick, once again leading Fish Basket Guanyin before the two armies' formations.

Suddenly at that moment, divine light erupted from both sides, two terrifying figures appeared, blocking the sky, simultaneously shouting to Fish Basket Guanyin:

"Bodhisattva, don't be angry; let me take this rogue for you."

"Bodhisattva, hold on; I'll help you capture this wild God, and then we can feast together."

...

From these two sentences, one can see that the position of the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva in the Source Sea is evidently not low.

When the avatars of the Two Demons descended here, they immediately prepared to capture the so-called Peach Blossom Demon, aiming to prevent the indiscriminate slaughter by Fish Basket Guanyin.

First, note the God Demon on the left; at first glance, one would see a Dharma Body towering a thousand feet high, dressed in a bright red wedding gown, and holding a book, appearing as a handsome lord. But in the blink of an eye, this lord's Dharma Body shattered explosively, transforming directly into a flurry of white flesh.

The flesh, glistening white, included both genders, male and female, of innumerable counts, cascading down like waterfalls and torrents, seemingly filling and saturating the vast sky.

These bodies numbered not less than a million, yet appeared wholly unified, all bound by endless crimson sinful ropes, with a red mist of malice permeating. They squirmed frantically like hundreds of thousands of 'meat worms'.

Alarming, even Tao Qian, whose cultivation had fully recovered, involuntarily succumbed upon seeing this avatar.

First, his internal Source Qi was disturbed, followed by thoughts of lust arising in his Heart Soul. When he looked down, he saw strands of red rope appear out of thin air, tightly binding his Dharma Body. Had he not awakened in time to shatter these impurities, who knows what kind of state he would have been bound into?

In his mind, the Divination Worm timely transmitted the secrets:

"Lord Red Rope!"

"This was an early avatar refined by the Outer Realm God Demon, Red Rope God, who strings crimson threads over miles, sowing seeds of sinful fates in the Heart Soul. This avatar travels across various realms in Source Sea under the guise of 'Marriage Exorcism Great Saint,' tying red threads and arranging marriages for the world's life, secretly planting evil poison, creating countless pairs of resentful couples, and spreading 'Red Rope Scripture', 'Marriage Demon Book', 'Red Line Secret Talisman', and other demonic texts... All such matters are called Red Rope Dao."

"Because of the similar Dao Paths, Red Rope God and another demon 'Yue Lao' are sworn enemies. Although the latter's Dao skill is deeper, the former acts more recklessly."

"The most glorious achievement of the Red Rope God was forcefully arranging the marriage for the Innate God Demon, Chaos Demon Ancestor, leading a female God Demon, Fu Zhu Immortal, to marry the Demon Ancestor... Both were calculated by Red Rope God, leaving them unable to renege and afterward had to grant benefits to Red Rope God to eliminate the causal sinful bonds."

"Although this lord is merely a God Demon avatar, he has already refined various Daoist Skills and Divine Powers. Any emotional beings who fight him will inherently be at a disadvantage, unable to resist the red thread he strings and the marriage he gifts."

"Those already married have it ten times harder."

"Hmm?"

Upon seeing the secrets, Great Demon Tao expressed surprise.

He was somewhat incredulous. How could the Red Rope Lord, an unrefined demon cultivating the path of lustful depravity, make emotional beings inherently inferior upon confrontation, and how could the married suffer ten times worse? How could there be such reasoning in this world? Tao Qian refused to believe it.

While thinking thus, the Red Rope Lord, occupying half of the sky, had already performed exceedingly strange Divine Skill Exotic Techniques on Tao Qian.

Within the endless red mist full of rolling meat worms, first came the sound of derisive laughter:

"Peach Blossom God? Could it be that you cultivate the path of sinful peach blossom fate?"

"Such a title sounds like a subordinate God in this God Lord's retinue."

"Let this lord see what kind of marriage fate I grant you, which you cannot refuse?"

"Oh? You have quite a discerning eye, actually yearning for such a 'Spiritual Resonance Bestowed by Heaven' Daoist Fairy? Truly a frog wishing to eat swan meat... I can't find her for the time being, but I can offer you a top-grade red rope refined corpse, an exquisitely magical body for some thrills, ensuring you cannot refuse, come over obediently."

Before these words fell.

The hanging red rope waterfall suddenly parted, and a white corpse rolled down from the endless heap of meat worm mountains, flashing with Divine Light, transforming into a figure that shocked Tao Qian immensely.

With Spiritual Resonance Bestowed by Heaven, cold and unparalleled, it was indeed the former First Heavenly Pride of the Spirit Treasure Sect, Yunhua's disciple, Xie Lingji.

Ordinarily, such illusionary tactics would be an unrefined minor demonic technique, incapable of deceiving any with profound Dao skills.

However, at this time, the performer was Red Rope Lord, capable of passing real as false.

In a trance, Tao Qian felt as if he returned to the Fire Cave Mansion of Ascending Immortal Island, seeing Senior Sister Lingji within the warm jade.

Senior Sister was raising her hand, beckoning him over.

Great Demon Tao suddenly realized, his body involuntarily moving towards that place.

He wished to refuse, yet his body did not obey.

In a blink, he learned the reason from Divination Worm, immediately cursing in his heart:

"Such a shameless Evil Technique, twisting all forms of emotional desire into marriage guidance... No wonder it's said that emotional beings inherently lose when fighting it, as long as there's any yearning or unexpressed emotion, the red rope will take advantage."

"But I'm not the one longing for Xie Lingji; truly an unwarranted disaster, the sinful ties from my main body infecting me across the realms of Source Sea. How could it still implicate me?"

"Main body, please wake up a bit, Aunt Yunhua herself is seeking the life force of Xie Lingji, this Red Rope God is clearly a repulsive scum, borrowing his hand would require a different method. If Great Demon Tao was caught by this vile creature, you may lose both spouse and soldiers..."

Once Great Demon Tao finished cursing, his distant main body dispelled the suddenly arisen thoughts.

It wasn't that the main body truly longed for Xie Lingji, had thoughts of extramarital sinful ties, thus fell into the trap, but merely seeing a hint of possibility, a whim arose for using the situation to seek someone, almost falling into a pit with the avatar.

Chapter 948 - Ten Thousand Demon Body, One Sword Extinguishes Evil

Tao Qian had just freed himself from the Red Rope's curse and was unable to respond to the filth that surged towards him; danger also approached from the right.

It goes without saying, it must be that so-called treacherous minister Jia Qiuchi summoning the avatar of the [Emperor Heavenly Talisman].

With just a glance, he couldn't help but be startled.

If judged based on previous impressions, Great Demon Tao would think the Heavenly Talisman Emperor from the Outer Realm Demons was merely a common Acquired God Demon off the beaten track, exaggerating his strength.

His Taoist power was still decent, but it should not compare to the Red Rope God or the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva.

Yet now upon closer inspection, he realized he had underestimated.

The right sky had been covered by an extremely expansive, gigantic "auspicious cloud."

Above this cloud sat a presence akin to the Divine Emperor, centered among the God Demons, adorned in imperial robe and crown, majestic and exceptional, dignified to the utmost, with red hair and red beard seeming to dance with Heavenly fire, two extra arms growing from each shoulder, stretching upward, with innate Secret Talismans residing in each palm, respectively "Yin Talisman" and "Yang Talisman," harboring infinite divine power.

To the emperor's left and right stood each a Divine General more gigantic and terrifying than Great Strength Demons; a glance exchanged with these two generals would result in catastrophe.

Tao Qian not only scrutinized those two generals but also carefully examined the Heavenly Talisman Emperor himself, trying to discern which Evil Demon dared impersonate the Heavenly Emperor?

Thus, naturally, he fell into the trap.

In that instant, it was as if he was thrown into a chaotic vortex, with disorder in Yin and Yang, emerging strange in his heart soul, his Dharma body trembling, akin to a plague-stricken Chicken or a poisoned Cow or Horse.

As he cast magic to break free, the Divination Worm revealed the secrets it peeked at in his mind, uncovering the root and origins of the Heavenly Talisman Emperor:

"Golden Rong Heavenly Talisman Great Saint!"

"This is the avatar refined by the Outer Realm Acquired God Demon [Heavenly Talisman Emperor], known as Little Heavenly Emperor, who mastered most Divine Skills from the Source Sea Secret Scroll 'Heavenly Talisman Scripture,' further granted permission by the original, allowing Him to travel across various realms of All Heavens with 'Heavenly Talisman Dharma Form,' gathering billions of believers."

"The two sides of him each have a Divine General named 'Plague Gathering General' and 'Poison Capturing General,' all are God Demon Clans under the command of Heavenly Talisman Emperor."

"All beings related to plague and poison in the world are under the jurisdiction of the emperor."

"Compared to the original, Heavenly Talisman Great Saint acts more recklessly, often crossing boundaries; in recent thousands of years, the karmic consequences of His provocations have begun to backfire on the original, causing Heavenly Talisman Emperor to develop the thought of refining all avatars to avoid a death calamity, thus the actions of all Great Saint avatars have only become more brutal, hoping to plunder more resources and advantages to change fate."

"A God Demon skilled in poisoning and spreading plague?"

"How unfortunate, if I had known to face such filthy beings, I should have shamelessly begged from the main body for [True Fire of Suppressing Evil] upon my birth, and burned off such vile creatures clean with a single spray at the outset."

As Great Demon Tao was complaining, the Heavenly Talisman Great Saint had already led the Plague Gathering and Poison Capturing Generals, along with endless clouds of plague and poison, roaring toward him.

On the left was a sky full of meat worms, the Red Rope squirming.

On the right was great saint's devil fog, with plague and poison surging.

The rear was worse, as Fish Basket Guanyin threw out the repaired fish basket again, birthing numerous [Bodhisattva Evil Ghosts] within to respond to the Source Sea Demon Dog Tao Qian might unleash at any moment.

He seemed to have nowhere to escape, trapped in a deathly predicament.

But trapped within, Tao Qian showed no panic, looking left and right, then back, suddenly retrieving the Ten Thousand Demon Gourd from his personal treasure bag while wildly taunting:

"A shameless pimp dare lay claim to be a God Monarch?"

"A treacherous scholar with plague and poison truly has the face to proclaim himself a Great Saint?"

"If you want to capture this god, let's see if you have the skill."

"Only you can use divine power to transform to this size? I too can become large."

It's obvious Great Demon Tao was also thick-skinned, having taken out the Ten Thousand Demon Gourd, anyone with a bit of knowledge could recognize him as a demon child from the Secret Demon Sect, yet he stubbornly insisted on playing the role of [Peach Blossom Demon].

On the surface, he maintained the act, but didn't intend to hide the divine abilities.

He directly hurled out the Ten Thousand Demon Gourd, as its mouth opened, a million Outer Realm Heavenly Demons surged out, rushing towards him.

This time, the method he employed was a new skill named "Great All Heavens Demon Gathering Divine Body."

This skill involved using the main body as the primary structure, summoning myriad demons for assistance, forcibly assembling out a God Demon dharma body, similar to the Daoist Great Divine Power "Fatian Xiangdi," though not very nimble in usage, but with greater power.

If another Secret Demon Child employed this method, it would surely be a grand spectacle, worthy of praise.

Yet, it was Tao Qian, whose demon minions were spoiled by him, differing significantly from the original demon minions.

Thus, the next moment, the battlefield echoed with many noisy voices:

"Master don't panic, we little ones are here."

"Our Heart Demons will relieve master's worries; why not form the head together."

"We Star Zha Demons will be master's two feet, no place in the world cannot be reached."

"We Great Strength Demons will be master's blood and flesh, any filthy being angering master shall suffer the hammer punishment."

"We Eye Demons..."

"We Illusion Demons..."

"We Joyful Demons, adept at joy and Yin Yang matters, if fused with master's dharma body, that shall be the thing indeed."

Except for the last mentioned crowd of Joyful Demons being absolutely improper, the other demon minions obeyed Tao Qian's command, each taking their position, in the blink of an eye merged into Tao Qian's dharma body, shaking divine power, transforming into a God Demon dharma body towering over two thousand zhang high, descending onto the battlefield.

When he transformed, even the most terrifying being present, Fish Basket Guanyin, had arrived.

Without a word, she struck with lethal intent.

Suddenly, the world changed colors, and the domain of Fish Basket was formed. The omnipresent Divine Origin Qi surged in, accompanied by a sound like countless whispers of "kill, kill, kill," forcibly pinning Tao Qian in place.

The next moment, at least ten thousand pitch-black iron chisels descended from the sky, aiming to use the earth as a chopping block to forcefully nail Tao Qian in place, waiting for the Guanyin, possessing a hundred heads and a thousand arms, each carrying various lethal artifacts, to approach and dismember him.

Even though in dire straits, Tao Qian remained unruffled, merely unable to check the form of his transformed dharma body.

He reached into his personal treasure bag and retrieved the [Evil-slaying Sword], then laughed heartily:

"The Bodhisattva's skill in fish slaying has indeed reached the Transformation Realm."

"But alas, I am no fish in the Bodhisattva's basket, even if you exhaust all your tactics, you cannot kill me."

"Why not swap a different fish to kill?"

Before his words fell, the strange evil sword in Tao Qian's hand had already slashed out.

The horrifying sword ring expanded for miles, not only instantly severing all the red ropes unleashed by [Lord Red Rope], separating all the ubiquitous plagues and poisons, but also temporarily halting the Seven Slaughter Treasure known as the "Heavenly Intent Killing Needle."

Taking advantage of this gap, Tao Buddha's son sneered and summoned another magical treasure, [All Heavens Demon Net].

This treasure was a formidable demon treasure refined by a Secret Demon Elder over a hundred years of painstaking effort, although not considered very formidable for a long-practiced Acquired God Demon like the Emperor Heavenly Talisman, who could easily fetch out more than ten pieces from his personal Treasure Vault.

Unfortunately, this was not the original Emperor Heavenly Talisman, just an isolated avatar.

An avatar, a large amount of Divine Origin Qi, a clan of minions... these investments were already substantial, and if more treasures were to be deployed, even the wealthy Emperor Heavenly Talisman would not bear to part with them.

Thus, at this moment, it was Tao Great Demon who took the advantage.

Once the words "swap a fish" were spoken, All Heavens Demon Net had already spread out, successfully enveloping the Heavenly Talisman Great Saint along with his subordinates, the two generals of plague and poison, dragging them forcefully over.

The positions of the two were forcefully swapped.

The laughter of the Demon Child timely echoed:

"Hahaha... I must trouble this Heavenly Talisman Great Saint fellow Daoist to shield me from the Bodhisattva's divine might."

"Becoming a god through the ways of plague and poison, hmm? Although it seems you have obtained the position of a righteous god, this avatar of yours has long been contaminated and belongs to the category of corrupted beings."

"Since so, I shall bestow you the [Evil Extinguishing] sword strike, a simple gesture, no need to thank me."

Hearing these words, the Heavenly Talisman Great Saint immediately felt something was amiss.

Sure enough, without waiting for him to struggle, a bizarre demonic sword with only a few broken teeth left slashed towards him, its sword intent pouring forth even before touching his dharma body, causing him to tremble all over, his heart and soul uneasy.

The two generals of plague and poison who stayed by his side the whole time shivered and knelt straight down.

Evil Extinguishing!

As these two words resounded.

The clear and fierce sword light completely engulfed the Heavenly Talisman Great Saint.

This sword intent targeted corrupt beings.

So within a blink, the numerous plagues and evil spirits within him, collected and sacrificed by Jia Qiuchi from the Search God Realm, like the type of evil demon clans Tao Qian first dealt with upon entering the realm on Earth Evil Ridge, such as the [Blood Locust Demon General] who sided with Jia Qiuchi and ultimately belonged to the Heavenly Talisman Great Saint, were cleansed by the sword light with horrifying swiftness.

At least half couldn't withstand the sword light cleansing, perishing outright amid wails.

The Heavenly Talisman Great Saint himself was unharmed, but half of the resources he used to spread plague and poison were suddenly lost, leaving him somewhat panicked and difficult to cope with.

And Tao Great Demon, seeing that with one sword strike he almost turned the Heavenly Talisman Great Saint into an empty shell, even though he benefited from a sneak attack, couldn't hide his joy and pride.

While retracting the All Heavens Demon Net, retreating towards Lord Red Rope, he laughed heartily again, baiting:

"Good Bodhisattva!"

"This damned Heavenly Talisman Great Saint took a sword from me and lost half his life, he is now essentially a rather fresh dead fish, perfect for you to feast upon."

"You've already poured so much Origin Qi into the Search God Realm, even sacrificed an avatar, now there's a chance to make up for it, don't miss it..."

...

What is driving a tiger to swallow a wolf, this is it.

Even though Fish Basket Guanyin knew this was a stalling tactic of the demon imp, she still willingly took the bait.

After all, Tao Qian was right, with compensation, who would want to give it up?

The "Heavenly Intent Killing Needles" which were stopped indeed did not continue pursuing Tao Qian, but instead, like a torrential downpour, all rained down on the God Demon Body of the Heavenly Talisman Great Saint.

Seeing this scene, the Heavenly Talisman Great Saint no longer feared Fish Basket Guanyin, turning to angrily roar out:

"Such impudence, Guanyin!"

"I act upon the decree of the Great Emperor across all heavens, if you dare kill me, someday my lord [Emperor of Golden Jade Statue] will personally go to the Seven Slaughter Secret Realm, unleashing billions of plagues, subjecting you, evil Demon, to the punishment of rotting bodies and shattered souls for eternity without salvation."

Chapter 949 - The Bodhisattva Slays Fish, the Demon Child Reaps the Reward

The myriad needles fell and pierced through the Heavenly Talisman Great Saint's acupoints all over his body, pinning him to the ground like a dead fish on a chopping board.

Upon hearing his threats and curses, Fish Basket Guanyin's expression didn't change as she stepped forward, lightly laughing:

"The name of Emperor Heavenly Talisman, I have indeed heard of it."

"If the true form were here, or if your avatar came with all treasures, I might have been a bit wary."

"Alas, you are alone, and have been hit by an [Evil Extinguishing] from the Secret Demon Child. To me, you are already a great fish to be replenished."

"Don't struggle; I will send you relief."

As she finished speaking, the Female Bodhisattva with purple-black skin and a hundred arms holding divine weapons had already reached the chopping board.

With a flourish of her arms, divine weapons and demons like the "Killing Blade," "Sin-cutting Sword," "Soul Cutting Blade," "Bone-cutting Point," and others aimed at the nailed Dharma Body of the Heavenly Talisman Great Saint.

Despite everything, he was still a God Demon avatar. Even after being repeatedly ambushed, he still had the strength to struggle. As he cursed Fish Basket Guanyin as a harlot, he continuously spewed from within him the plague-ridden life forms and aliens, attempting to delay her actions and save his own life.

The avatar was also eager to preserve life.

The plague-ridden creatures he spewed were not to be underestimated.

Even the body of a God Demon, if caught off guard, would have to suffer some pain.

However, Fish Basket Guanyin was an exception to this.

Back then, this Great Divine Power from All Heavens Buddhism crafted such an avatar with the original intention of mercifully saving all lives.

Although the Seven Slaughter Bodhisattva learned it all, it was just a poor imitation. A Bodhisattva avatar meant to save all lives was refined by him into one specialized in slaughtering them, which was reversing the path of the True Buddha, leading the Dao Path to a dead end.

This ruthless Bodhisattva saw the filth spewed from the fish and not only did not avoid it, but instead grew even more excited, shouting:

"Good, good, good!"

"Spew more. According to the old rules, when creatures as filthy and evil as you are captured by me, they would be collected into the fish basket and raised for ten years in the Seven Slaughter Water with clean soul sand, only to be slaughtered, skinned, and deboned when clean, making them suitable for consumption."

"Now that you voluntarily spew filth, it saves many efforts."

Having said this, Fish Basket Guanyin did not actively touch those plague-ridden evil creatures.

Instead, she summoned from the Fish Basket treasures the Seven Slaughter Water filled with killing intent, constantly cleansing those filth and the bloody gore seeping from the Heavenly Talisman Great Saint's body.

During this process, the Heavenly Talisman Great Saint let out unprecedented howls of agony.

To make a God Demon avatar suffer so much, there surely were reasons behind it.

The seemingly clean Seven Slaughter Water was, in fact, infused with Seven Slaughter Divinity. Any life that came into contact with it would feel as if they were punished by a thousand cuts. If their body or soul had any injuries, the pain would be multiplied hundreds or thousands of times, so it was no wonder the Heavenly Talisman Great Saint could not endure it.

...

As for indigenous Clan leaders like Jia Qiuchi and Zhao Liujia who had gained benefits from God Demons, known as [God Demon Spirit Cultivation], they had powerful Divine Power methods.

Unfortunately, their power was completely unable to intervene in this level of battle. Jia Qiuchi, this follower, hearing his master's avatar constantly wailing, wished to help, leading a million Heavenly Talisman Army personally to charge forward, intending to rescue his master, or at least destroy several hundred Heavenly Intent Killing Needles, in hopes his master could escape.

Alas, it didn't matter whether they were mortals or Clans, all who approached the battlefield faced certain death.

A mere splash of [Seven Slaughter Water] came over, like a mountain flood or tsunami, instantly drowning tens of thousands.

In the water, those tens of thousands of Heavenly Talisman Soldiers were directly tortured to death, painfully.

Before long, the million-strong army suffered heavy casualties and couldn't even touch a corner of Fish Basket Guanyin's sleeve.

She completely ignored those mortals, considering them a mere morsel, but with a big fish to deal with now, the small fries could be spared.

Especially as, elsewhere, the big genuine fish she was eyeing, the Secret Demon Child, did not manage to escape amid the chaos but was being restrained by the [Lord Red Rope], their battle deadlocked, giving Fish Basket Guanyin time.

"Good, while that Demon Child is tangled up, first slaughter the avatar of Emperor Heavenly Talisman, and after devouring it, replenish my somewhat depleted Dharma Body."

"Then grab those two big fish all at once and slaughter them. I imagine the Demon Child tastes good, and as for that avatar of the Red Rope God... he's quite tricky, perhaps granting him a chance to escape, and if ultimately he doesn't get away and I end up killing him, I suppose the God won't place the blame on me."

It must be said, Fish Basket Guanyin had quite the intriguing thought.

Unfortunately, Great Demon Tao did not concur.

Though the battlefield was chaotic, it was actually entirely under his control.

Lord Red Rope, as the avatar of the Outer Realm God Demon [Red Rope God], even without bringing a single Magical Treasure, was tricky to deal with simply relying on various Divine Power and Exotic Skills learned from the main form. However, he was unable to stop Great Demon Tao at full power; the reason he didn't leave was because he was openly calling forth the Ten Thousand Demon Body to feign ignorance, all to lull these two.

Waiting for an opportune moment to attack.

The opportunity came swiftly.

The Heavenly Talisman Great Saint, severely damaged by Tao Qian's sneak attack, also lost the initiative being pinned by Fish Basket Guanyin, after successive struggles and exhausting the Bodhisattva's numerous methods, was ultimately completely put to death.

There on the ground lay a God Demon-like corpse, already opened and gutted, cut into several sections, with blood flowing beneath him like a river, the filth beyond the chopping board reveling... anyone who saw this scene would likely acclaim: such a splendid "Bodhisattva Slaughter and Karma Cutting Map," it should only be seen in the eighteenth layer of Purgatory.

Everything was meticulously dealt with, Fish Basket Guanyin's arms reached out again, promptly swallowing the segmented "Heavenly Talisman Great Saint" into her mouth.

Chapter 950 - The Bodhisattva Slaughters Fish, the Demon Child Benefits (2)

Just as Fish Basket Guanyin was impatient to taste the delicacy, the fierce shout of Great Demon Tao suddenly came:

"Children!"

"Now is the time, make your move."

Before these words exited, the Ten Thousand Demon Body, towering two thousand zhang high, suddenly exploded.

Upon the battlefield full of blood and filth, countless peach blossom petals flew out, dragging Purgatory into the Immortal Realm... Tsk tsk, even at this moment, the Great Demon Tao is still unwilling to abandon the guise of [Peach Blossom Demon], insisting on creating such a spectacle to feign ignorance, which shows how rigid his mouth is.

Amidst the sea of flowers, countless demons surged forth, burying and binding [Lord Red Rope].

The way of binding was rather special: the demons each chose a big white meat worm, using both hands and feet, thoroughly embracing them.

The demons, having succeeded, were about to boast, but soon saw the red rope swell with divine light raging, and the demons began to shout in panic:

"This is not good, Master, save us quickly, this God Demon's appetite is immense, He intends to refine us for His use."

"Master, this villain's tactics are truly bizarre, He is trying to pair me with that Decree Demon, that little thing is terribly slow, how can it match me, Star Zha Child?"

"Master, come quickly, this scoundrel wants to cast a spell to feminize us, then hand us over to those crude Power Demons, though we are Heart Demons, we have never harbored lust!"

"Master, this scoundrel is truly shameless, he wants to cast a spell to pair us Substitute Demons, separating yin and yang, this clearly disrupts our Dao Heart, it's deadly."

"Master doesn't need to come, this Lord is so generous, he even gave us Joyful Demons, one demon one master, it's wonderful, master's body is truly fragrant..."

...

The previous sentences were alright, but hearing the last one, Tao Qian's face darkened, and his actions became faster.

All Heavens Demon Net emerged once again, binding the temporarily immobilized [Lord Red Rope], and then flung towards Fish Basket Guanyin.

In the instant of throwing over, he sneakily gave Lord Red Rope another sword slash.

"Disorder yin and yang, breed sinful bonds."

"Lord's path is an alien species, deserving of my [Slaying Strange]."

Lord Red Rope was casting a spell to refine all demons, temporarily immobilized, he didn't care much.

Because His God Demon body is quite special, truly it is the endless red rope, rather than the white flesh and blood.

Even if Tao Qian sliced him into billions of pieces, He wouldn't suffer any actual harm.

Because of this, Lord Red Rope was quite indifferent.

How could He know, all details had been fully seen by the "Divination Worm," this segment was no different.

He further did not expect, the Great Demon Tao first learned the "Secret Demon Sacrifice Body Sword," then obtained the Evil-slaying Sword, in a certain sense, already gaining the mantle of the invincible second generation master of the Secret Demon Sect [Sacrificial Sword Demon].

Having seen through his roots, he must taste this world's most restraining Sword Intent against himself.

Therefore, just as Lord Red Rope was about to retort, an intimidating sword ring as red as brilliant sunlight suddenly unfolded, those exceedingly tough red ropes, capable of being chopped by countless Immortal Soldier Divine Artifacts, faced a catastrophe, and were ravaged to the extreme limit by the Sword Intent that could slaughter all strange species in the world.

Accompanied by a "bang bang bang" strange sound, at least half of the red ropes were broken.

He not only was forced to abandon refining millions of demons, but also suffered severe injury, being thrown by Great Demon Tao onto the blood-stained chopping board of Fish Basket Guanyin.

The two God Demon incarnations faced each other immediately.

One was wounded, lying quite flat.

One had finished handling the fish, ready to taste.

Meanwhile, Great Demon Tao's schadenfreude voice came again:

"No need to be polite, Bodhisattva, this is the second gift from the junior."

"You and I once had an encounter in a dream, how can I not offer some benefits, even a mortal marriage requires some bride price."

"This Lord suffered from my sword, the injury is no lighter than the Heavenly Talisman Great Saint, why not eat him as well."

"Bodhisattva, don't worry, the junior is watching you eat, absolutely will not run away again."

Having said these, Tao Qian to show sincerity indeed did not escape, first retrieved the millions of demons back into the Ten Thousand Demon Gourd, even together with the Evil-slaying Sword.

Smiling and watching, seemingly wanting to see Fish Basket Bodhisattva slaughter and eat Lord Red Rope as a Big Fish firsthand.

This twist, truly unexpected.

Fish Basket and Red Rope, both stunned.

Immediately, each reacted differently.

Lord Red Rope was the most panicked, immediately trying to cast a spell to escape the extremely dangerous chopping board area, fleeing and shouting:

"Bodhisattva, don't be swayed by this Secret Demon Child, you and I bear no grievances, quite the opposite, I came to assist you in capturing this scoundrel, how can you harm me."

"This little demon surely has more tricks, presumably wanting to use Bodhisattva's hand to eliminate me, and then deal with you alone, don't be deceived."

"Moreover, Bodhisattva also knows my Lord is the [Red Rope God], harming one of His incarnations may only lead to enmity."

Hearing these two sentences, Tao Qian on the side didn't plan to refute, just laughed looking.

As expected, Fish Basket Guanyin hesitated only for a split second, then promptly acted maliciously.

Only seeing that a bunch of "Heavenly Intent Killing Needles" shot out like a storm, instantly fixing Lord Red Rope in place.

Guanyin smiled, loudly said again:

"No need to panic, this Secret Demon Child has long been a fish in my basket, can't escape."

"As for you, I see no [Lord Red Rope], no God Monarch incarnation, only see a red carp accidentally jumping into my Fish Basket."

"The good Red Fish is slightly injured, how about...eat it."

With these words, Fish Basket Guanyin raised the arm holding many terrifying Divine Weapons once again.

Judging by the stance, He clearly intended to kill the second fish.

Thus, the fresh fish meat transformed from the corpse of the Heavenly Talisman Great Saint could not be eaten temporarily.

The Bodhisattva was cautious, despite not eating still didn't place randomly, while suppressing Lord Red Rope, vigilantly watching Great Demon Tao to prevent mischief, then carefully storing those massive pieces of "fish meat" into His treasured Fish Basket Secret Realm.

His handling here had no flaw.

But, this reaction and change had already been predicted by the Divination Worm, Tao Qian just followed suit.

Thus, right when Fish Basket Guanyin was distracted storing fish meat, an incident suddenly arose:

With a deliberate and abrupt whistle from Tao Qian, ripples stirred the Void behind Fish Basket Guanyin.

A creepy and unsettling hissing sound echoed, thin dogs materialized from virtual to real, rushing out, boldly biting through the Void, intruding into the Fish Basket Secret Realm, snatching all the fish meat from Bodhisattva's hands.

Though Fish Basket Guanyin possessed extraordinary strength, this change was abrupt, and the Source Sea Demon Dog's Divine Skills were remarkably tricky and hard to defend against, upon a momentary distraction, the dogs indeed succeeded.

Seeing this scene, Tao Qian, who previously promised to stay and watch the fish be killed, immediately broke his word.

As he turned to flee, he further provoked Fish Basket Guanyin:

"Thank you, Bodhisattva, for the gift, the junior is grateful, now bidding farewell."

"If Bodhisattva wishes to see me again, call my name in the dream to continue the previous encounter."