

Lord of War 151

Chapter 151: Sir Connery

The east wind that Sean was waiting for came on the third day.

According to the normal procedure and rules, this kind of registration will take at least ten and a half months or more, and sometimes it will take a month or two before the House of Representatives will fully implement it. Moreover, according to the rules, the Jazz does not. Eligibility to set up a family crest on its own, even if the owner agrees to set up another family crest, it must be registered, integrated, explained and described by the heraldic of the principality, and it will take at least a month or more. This tossing back and forth, at least three or four months, when Sean officially has the appointment papers and becomes a knight, at least half a year has passed.

This time, all the problems can be completed within three days, all thanks to the name of Asuna's marquis of strength.

Of course, the first formal urgent letter sent by Asuna to the House also played a big role-no one would dare to ignore the urgent letter from a powerful marquis, even the Grand Duke of the Principality of Ryan. in this way.

So for three days, when a carriage marked with thundering swords and shields stopped at the door of the hotel where Sean lived, not only the residents of the inner city were surprised, but Cecilia and Sean were also extremely surprised. Because these two guys are not ordinary people, they are both people who are very familiar with the rules of nobility and noble games, and it is because they are too familiar, that they are shocked that all this can be done in three days.

It's not that they can't understand it, but that they haven't had a clear understanding of the title of "Strong Aristocrat".

So, in the surprised eyes of countless residents in the inner city, Elizabeth personally invited Sean to get in the car, and then drove to the city lord mansion. This time the carriage did not stop at the door, but from the back door went directly into the stables in the backyard of the City Lord's Mansion, and then led by Elizabeth to another living room.

This living room is decorated much better than the previous one.

There is no desk in the room, but three rows of soft sofas. There is a short table with two fruit plates on it, which are full of fruits. There is a water table near the wall at the entrance with several sets of tea cups on it. It seems obvious that this is not an ordinary living room.

"This room, you are the fifth person to come in." When Sean was invited to enter, Elizabeth said softly, "This is a relatively private living room."

Sean was taken aback for a moment, then smiled and nodded. He knew very well what Elizabeth meant by this sentence, which meant that he had entered the inner circle of Asuna. In Sean's impression, Asuna currently has no knights who swear allegiance to her, let alone pioneer knights. Although her three magicians all have jazz titles, they also have a large area. The knight led them, but in fact this was just a verbal statement. The three magicians had always lived in the Tonys fortress and had not visited their domain in name.

But Sean is a little curious, because according to his ritual of swearing allegiance, the other three should all come to watch, but there is still only one Elizabeth. As for the Lightning Halberd Vivian and Lightning Light Simi, Neither of them appeared.

"Vivian and Simi are not led by Tonis." Seeing the doubt on Sean's face, Asuna explained with a smile.

For every knight or jazz award, other knights and knights must attend the onlooker ceremony. This is a kind of respect for the new knights and jazz. Only when they look down on each other or because of some personal hostility, other talents Will refuse to attend the ceremony. Asuna didn't want to see any gap between the first pioneering knight under her command and her two closest friends, so she said something in particular.

This also proves from another aspect that Asuna is indeed very important to Sean.

It's just that whether you really appreciate Sean or is it because of the phrase "drinking horse Fengshen Lake", only Asuna herself knows.

The so-called honoring ceremony is actually very boring.

It is nothing more than kneeling down to the master, and then saying some words of praise and loyalty, then the master saying some words of righteousness and awe-inspiring words, and then tapping the shoulders and head of the master with a sword, and then After seeing the honorees grateful and crying, and adding some nonsense, this honoring ceremony that made both parties happy can be over.

Of course, there must be a festive banquet afterwards.

It's just that Asuna has no interest in these red tape and other things.

After she invited Sean to sit down, she directly took out two documents and threw them to Sean, and said, "The first one is to formally establish your pioneering knighthood. From this moment on, you can start a war in my name. In name, all the territories you have developed belong to me, but in fact the jurisdiction is on you. I believe you should be very clear about this?"

Shaun nodded. This rule is similar to the game situation, so he can still understand it.

"I don't care which direction you are going to open up, but you are strictly forbidden to declare war against the nobles in the Principality of Ryan by any name or means." Speaking of this, Asuna's attitude is very clear, and her expression is a bit serious, "Of course, this This is a bit redundant for you, because your territory is in the Wildlands. If you want to enter the Principality of Ryan, you must pass through my Tonis fortress, so you are not sure that you will not have the opportunity to trouble the nobles of the principality. "

Shaun chuckled slightly. He found that Asuna was quite humorous when she was a lord.

"But one thing, you have to pay attention." Asuna frowned slightly, "The matter of drinking horse Fengshen Lake is between you and me. I don't want others to know. Of course, how you plan to layout it is you. I will not interfere with you, but you must not bring people to reach the territory of the Kingdom of Bion, because the principality and the Kingdom of Darbion are currently in the honeymoon period of peace, and you must not be the first to break this rule. do you understand?"

"I understand the truth." Xiao En nodded, "I will definitely not cause you any public opinion trouble."

"And I will not interfere with all matters concerning your territory, do you understand what I mean?"

"Including my territory was invaded?" Sean asked.

"Yes, including this." Asuna nodded without any embarrassment. "This is a bet between you and me. If you can't solve this problem well, then I It's hard to believe what you said. And if you die unfortunately, then I will take back your territory, title, and status according to the rules. As for your followers and troops, I will not be blind. Incorporated. So, if you really want to achieve the so-called asylum on your family crest, then you should do everything yourself."

Having said that, Asuna paused a bit, seeming to be thinking about something, and then added: "I don't know why you came to take refuge in me, but you are now my pioneer knight, as your nominal captain. , Then I have a certain degree of command power over you, do you admit this?"

"I admit it." After thinking about it, Sean nodded and admitted.

In fact, there is a big tree to enjoy the shade, and Sean knows it very well. Before his wings were fully plumped, with the help of Asuna, the youngest and most feared marquis of the Ryan Principality, his actions were indeed much more convenient. Therefore, to some extent permitted, Xiao Eun didn't mind following Asuna's command and dispatch-even the pioneer knights or jazz under the lord, according to the rules of the nobles, they also have the right to refuse unreasonable demands.

"The second one is your knight title." Asuna pointed to the second document. "The document records your range of jazz collar, only the area of Black Swan Castle. As for the territory you requested. Although it was mine in name, I did not accept the delivery document of the Kingdom of Darbion, so it was actually not included in the territory of the Principality of Ryan, so other people in the Principality of Ryan did not know the specific situation. This is a small Hands and feet."

Hearing this, Xiao En opened the second document, which recorded the area of the registered territory. It was true that there was only a piece of land around Black Swan Castle, and nothing else. Shaun thought for a while, and immediately understood what Asuna meant. She wanted to use this hidden territory to become a part of her knighthood, and she also gave herself the first reasonable excuse to send troops and conquer.

Sure enough, Sean quickly heard Asuna's second sentence: "That territory is already in the ranks of the wild land in the territory record of the Principality of Ryan, so you can arrange the specific operation by yourself... ...Of course, if the appointment letter I gave you can make the townspeople obey your arrangements, then it's a good thing, but I'm not optimistic about it."

Shaun agrees with Asuna on this point.

In fact, he was already prepared for a war when he took over the jurisdiction of these three small towns. However, as long as the opponent's mercenary regiment is not large, and it is not a Tier 4 army, Sean is fearless—or, William simply ignores the opponent's existence, and if he can't fight, wait for Alfred. After bringing other people over, with William said that the force is almost equivalent to a Viscount, it is not difficult to flatten these mercenary regiments.

Alfred, he set off as early as yesterday.

Carefully collected these two documents, which is proof that Sean has developed the titles of knight and jazz. Although he will no longer need these two documents until he becomes famous in the future, in the current situation, these two documents are very important, because Sean knows a way, no matter which world he is in, his legal status is the most important one. The most important and critical issue.

From today on, he is no longer a terrestrial surnamed Sean, but a citizen of the Principality of Lane named Sean Connery, and he is also the first pioneering knight under Asuna, Marquis of Tonis.

Seeing that Sean received the two documents, and finally said a word of allegiance to Asuna according to the rules, Elizabeth smiled and said to this man who was judged by Asuna as self-confident but not arrogant, and said, "Congratulations. , Sir Connery. From now on we will be our own."

"Yes, Sir Batian." Sean smiled back.

Chapter 152: .conflict

Shawn's troops did not stay in Tonys fortress for a long time. After Shaun officially became "Sir Connery", he left the Tonys fortress with his troops on the same day.

When passing through the outer city, what Xiao En saw was not the strict and disciplined royal guards, but a group of old soldiers.

Under the same scorching sun, as the thundering front of the Asuna Guards, they are still responsible for the defense, patrol, and daily maintenance of the entire inner city. They look no different from ordinary soldiers, if it weren't for the brightly colored suits. With the red robe and the thundering sword and shield badge on the back, no one would think that this guard standing guard was the famous thundering front under the command of the Marquis of Tonis.

And this royal guard not only did not stand guard in the outer city, but also did not even have security surveillance on the city wall. In order to escape the heat, almost all of it hid in the defense 152. Conflict fortification building, a large outer city square, even a trained No one. If it weren't for all kinds of talk and laughter from various places, people who passed by here would even think that this outer city was a barren land.

The team left the city gate of the inner city and slowly passed the square of the outer city.

The northern barbarians are not good at riding, and Sean did not intend to raise them into cavalry, so he did not purchase horses for them. But for the lazy Cecilia and William, Sean still prepared two carriages, and he himself rode a horse he bought from Asuna. It seemed that William and Cecilia were more involved. Like a nobleman, Sean is just a knight.

The leader in front is the big Anno.

Dozens of northern barbarians followed behind him, guarding the two carriages, and about sixty to seventy archers followed behind the vehicle. As far as the soldiers are concerned, their treatment is pretty good, and Sean has promised them that as long as they have made military exploits, everyone can regain their freedom, and even be treated like the northern barbarians—Originally, they didn't believe these words very much. The fate of the soldiers was nothing more than cannon fodder, otherwise their companions would not run away in the conflict led by Danawi.

But after the performance, Sean really conquered them. Even if they knew that this was a way of buying people's hearts, they were still willing to stay and work hard to kill the enemy in order to obtain freedom and better treatment. People born in the trading capital, unless they live there for a long time, who will marry a wife and have children? Unfortunately, his wife and children have not become other people's playthings?

Sean's promise to the veterans and the northern barbarians, they all know about them.

Even if they die, offspring can be kept safe, so their hard work and struggle will naturally have value.

For this force that suddenly appeared in the outer city and was obviously about to leave the fortress, some royal guards were finally willing to look up. However, most of them showed disapproval, and only a few officers at the general level showed a thoughtful appearance. Because they have never seen any mercenary group that will show such a solemn and strict atmosphere, for these bandits who lick their blood, shouldn't it be sloppy?

Shaun's team did not fly any flags, and it is normal for outsiders to regard it as a mercenary group.

As the first line of defense of Tonys Fortress and a buffer zone for street battles, the scale of the outer city is extremely large, otherwise it would not be possible for 70,000 troops from the royal family to be stationed here. However, in this area, Asuna's defensive focus is not to block the enemy's attack, but to consume as much as possible the active force of the siege party. Therefore, there are more fortifications arranged, which allows the 70,000 royal guards to be stationed in This seems a bit crowded.

But this is also because these royal guards are all veteran soldiers, and many of them are even aristocratic disciples who came to gilded, so this is a bit crowded—they are driving that want to move the entire house over, which is really unbearable. . Perhaps, Asuna was too lazy to bother about it because of this, and threw them directly into the outer city, out of sight.

But this also shows from one aspect, the vastness of the outer city.

From the gate of the inner city to the gate of the outer city, Xiao En and others walked for three hours before finally seeing the 20-meter-high wall built on the mountain wall. The black gate. This city gate is called the "Iron Wall of Tonis". Although the height is the same as that of the other gates in the fortress, the thickness is different. Sean's visual observation is at least three meters thick.

The opening and closing of this city gate requires the power provided by six steam-powered engines to turn the rotating gears, and even requires the assistance of hundreds of people. Each time it takes more than half an hour to fully open and close the city gates. closure. So when the royal guards came here, they made a request to Asuna, asking that the gates should never be closed during non-war time, and for this reason they were willing to increase the defense and patrol of the gates.

Asuna did not object to this.

So when Sean came here at the moment, he saw two huge black gates that were completely open. There are no hideous portraits or anything engraved on it. The entire city gate looks very smooth. Of course, this is also because the fortress has not experienced any wars since it was built. It has been a year now, but the facts are The maintenance work on the gates of the upper city has been done extremely well, and it is still as new as ever.

Perhaps, this is also one of the main reasons why Asuna does not go too harsh on this royal guard.

There are quite a few garrisons at the city gate, there are dozens of people, but these people are not wearing any armor, instead they are wearing a thin short-sleeved coat, and the weapons in their hands are also various, if it is not for Sean Having heard about the general situation of the outer city from Asuna, he would still think that these people are just soldiers from some mercenary regiments, not from the royal regiments.

At this moment, these people look more like aristocratic disciples who are out on an outing. They are laughing and playing, and they have no seriousness as a soldier. After seeing Sean leading the team, the play of these people gradually stopped. Everyone's eyes moved to Sean and the others, and they started to look up and down. When Sean's team was about to leave the city, among them Two soldiers finally came forward and stopped the whole team.

"What's the matter?" Sean frowned.

"Don't you know that registration is required to enter and exit the Fortress of Tonys?" A soldier exclaimed arrogantly, "Everyone fills in their names."

Of course, Sean understands the rules of the Tonys Fortress, but he really didn't know that there would be such a cumbersome side. Remember that when he entered the fortress, that is, each person paid a head fee of a copper coin—this is not a lot. It's just a symbolic meaning, more it means the order control of Tonis Fortress. However, such detailed registration is required here, which is a bit puzzling.

Why don't you need to enter the city, but only need it when you leave the city?

But it was these northern barbarians that really made Shaun feel big. They don't know a single word, and the names are more of just a pronunciation. The name Anno was still given by Sean, so if you want these northern barbarians to fill in their names, it is definitely a difficult technical task.

"The people in the carriage should also come down to fill in the report, and we have to check the carriage and let the people inside come out quickly." The soldier began to yell again, and walked towards the carriage.

"If you want to solve it quickly, it's not impossible." Another soldier watched his companion go away, and he smiled. "The head fee of ten copper coins per person will not miss you much time. You can also immediately. Leave."

Now, Sean understands.

This group is really a group of soldiers, and it seems that they want to use this to blackmail a sum. And looking at the way the two of them sang the double reed, I'm afraid that this kind of thing has not been done less, and I don't know how many caravans have been blackmailed by them in this way. Too much time is wasted here. All things of a team are registered. How much time is wasted, especially those doing fresh business.

There are only ten copper coins per person, which is not expensive for Sean, and everyone in the whole team together is just one gold coin and seven silver coins.

Just as Sean was about to pay, Cecilia's anger came from behind him.

Sean turned his head and saw that the soldier walking to the carriage had fallen to the ground at this moment. A dozen Northland barbarians around were looking at him angrily. If William hadn't stopped them, these Northland barbarians would definitely charged up and gave him a severe lesson. All the barbarians in the Northland and the soldiers who had fallen to the ground had surrounded them, with great momentum, and in an instant turned the soldier who fell to the ground pale with fright.

And seeing this scene before him, Sean's face was immediately difficult to look.

"what happened?"

"Well, you group of mercenaries, dare to be so presumptuous!" Seeing Sean coming over, the soldier jumped up immediately, a little bit visceral, "What do you think this is? I suspect you are spies from the enemy country now. I put down my weapon!"

Dozens of people stationed around the door have also been surrounded by weapons, their faces are no longer the same as before, and everyone has a stern face and a serious face. I have to say that if these soldiers are serious, they will have the majestic aura of the royal guards. If they are willing to wear armor, perhaps they will be more vigorous.

However, facing the scream of the soldier, Xiao En and others did not pay attention to it, and William explained to Xiao En in a low voice.

It turned out that this soldier went to open the door of the carriage, and then after seeing Cecilia, he became enamored with a little bit of language and wanted to get in the carriage. In this way, where the surrounding northern barbarians were willing, William simply said and threw it down, so the soldier was thrown to the ground by several northern barbarians. These northern barbarians were not addicted to throwing them away. , Seems to want to punch a few kicks, William naturally stopped at this point.

After listening to the explanation, Xiao En's face looked very ugly. He turned his head and stared coldly at the soldier and the group of soldiers behind him, and said in a deep voice, "Is this the quality and military discipline of your Royal Guard?"

"What is our quality and military discipline, it is not your turn to comment." A man wearing a flower neckline, surrounded by dozens of other people who seemed to be soldiers of the Royal Guard, walked slowly. With an extremely contemptuous expression on his face, he glanced at Sean and the Northland savages and archers, "I'll give you another chance to keep this woman, and then get out of the city quickly, otherwise, don't blame my subordinates for being ruthless."

Shaun laughed furiously.

Chapter 153: .Shut up if it doesn't matter

Shaun glanced at each other.

This nobleman is not like that kind of greasy noble child, he has a sturdy aura on his body, obviously belongs to the kind of people who have really seen blood. And looking at his appearance in front of him, presumably his identity is also not simple, so it is not difficult to understand why this noble child is so arrogant.

As Asuna said, this is an attitude that changes from self-confidence to conceit.

It seems that seeing Sean still dared to look at himself, this noble child showed an impatient look on his face: "Why? I'm not convinced? Believe it or not that I will prevent you from getting out of this city gate?"

"Can't get out of this city gate?" Sean sneered, "Do you have this ability?"

"You can try." The noble boy raised his head contemptuously, squinted at Sean, and then glanced at Cecilia.

His eyes are dark, and his lips are tight, giving people a cold and merciless feeling.

From the look in his eyes, Sean could see that he didn't feel much about Cecilia, unlike some other people who had an eager look. But the more this true noble child is, the more angry Sean's heart is, because the other party just feels that he and others have bullied his subordinates, and dare to confront him, which will damage his majesty and face, so He is here to stand up right now.

As for how to plan later, he doesn't care at all. Anyway, women will end up with just a few.

This kind of person is truly cold-blooded and ruthless.

Shaun glanced at the royal guards that had begun to gather around, but it was subtle that these people seemed to be divided into groups of different circles, and the leaders seemed to be young men dressed like nobles. It was obvious. These are also the children of the nobles who came to gilded. However, these people don't seem to be too harmonious. There should be some kind of competition between them, otherwise they would not stand in different circles, and they didn't even come to participate in the disputes here.

This time, Xiao En's eyes didn't swept away like before, so he soon discovered that there were some more powerful people standing beside these noble children. These people seem to be the bodyguards of these noble children. They have not fully demonstrated their aura, but they feel that they are already a bit wary. Among the strongest of these people, Sean estimates that they should be and Asuna is almost the same.

This is the gap between the aristocracy with a long heritage and the emerging aristocracy.

Asuna's strength lies in military and command capabilities, but she herself is about to step into the next golden powerhouse, but in comparison, there are not many people under her command who can be called the powerhouse, only Elizabeth and Vivi. Ann and Simi are just three people. However, those family giants with a relatively long history in the Principality of Ryan are able to easily send strong men with upper silver power to serve as bodyguards for their descendants. This is the key to highlighting a family's heritage.

And the wealthy families of those empires and kingdoms can even send the sanctuary powerhouses to be bodyguards.

It's just that, in this world, if personal force reaches the extreme, although it is indeed terrifying, it is not absolutely invincible. They may be able to block a hundred, or even slaughter more than tens of thousands, but there is also a limit of magnitude. For those mobs, slaughtering hundreds of thousands or even tens of thousands is naturally not a problem, but if you encounter a high-level army With the cooperation of the military formation, these strong men did not dare to take action easily, because if they were not sure, they would hate on the spot.

This is also the reason why there is an army in this world. Otherwise, it is enough to cultivate one's own strength to the extreme. How can there be an army? It is even necessary to divide such an obvious military power gap? Of course, it does not mean that the strong are useless. Otherwise, the empires and kingdoms will not have the title of the so-called town-state powerhouse. However, the strength of each country is different, so the strength of the town-state powerhouse is of course. It is also different.

If all the guards of so many nobles were to take action, of course, Sean would have no choice but to walk around. But if only the guards of the nobleman in front of him took the shots, Sean was confident that he could let all these guards fall here. Of course, he would definitely have to pay a certain price.

It's just the situation at the moment, even if he is said to be arrogant, Sean will never back down.

Don't these people want to watch the show? Then Lao Tzu will perform a good show for you! —Sean sneered, turned his head to look at William, and said, "You will command?"

"Does this still need to be commanded?" William gave Sean a disdainful look, then returned to the carriage.

Sean gave a chuckle, his eyes softened to Cecilia: "You also get in the car."

Cecilia shook her head, and said, "This happened because of me. What's the point of hiding in the carriage? Also, it's not that I can't fight."

"It's because your fighting power is so terrible that you need to enter the car." Xiao En said with a wry smile, "It's better if these people don't kill or not.... But there is one person who must die."

Speaking of the last sentence, Sean turned his head and looked at the soldier who had just tried to attack Cecilia, his eyes were cold, and the murderous intent on his body was clearly and unmistakably revealed. Perhaps it was because they felt Sean's killing intent. All the northern barbarians and archers looked at the royal guards around them. They had already taken on extremely obvious hostility and killing intent. As a result, the momentum of Sean's team was very strong. More fierce.

Affected by this momentum, many of the Royal Guard soldiers who had just come to gilded around immediately felt a palpitation. In the eyes of those powerful and powerful, they saw that Sean's team had faintly exuded a * air, which condensed into clouds above the team. This murderous momentum is enough to prove this. It is by no means an ordinary mercenary group.

Many guards have walked out of hiding, guarding the masters they need to protect, afraid of any accidents.

And this ruthless noble young master, when he saw his two guards were standing next to him, his eyes finally flashed with surprise. At this moment, he finally understood that he seemed to underestimate the mercenary group in front of him, but it was in the Tonys Fortress right now, and he didn't believe what this group dared to do. Of course, it was more about his side. The two guards felt confident.

These are two lower silvers!

If it weren't for the attitude of the Marquis of Tonis, and that he just came here for gilding and he didn't really want to go to the battlefield, how could the family send him two lower silvers? As for those who dared to send high-ranking silver masters to be guards, they were all clueless nobles. It was not obvious that they slapped Asuna in the face, so at this point, this arrogant noble child was still a little proud.

But soon, the smug look in his eyes disappeared immediately, replaced by a stiff face.

In front of him, the head of the ruined mercenary regiment, who did not know the heights of the sky, actually had a sword!

He didn't even have time to see the sword light and the trajectory of the sword. He only felt that a flower suddenly appeared in front of him, and there seemed to be a silver light, followed by a spray of blood.

The soldier of the Royal Guard who had been glanced at by Sean just now had completely become a headless corpse and fell to the ground. The head that was cut flying by Sean with a sword, after a few laps in midair, finally fell to the ground, and slowly rolled to the feet of the noble young master, blood flowed out of the head, pulling out a blood path, and The headless corpse fell on the ground, and there was a lot of blood gushing out, slowly gathering into a pool of blood.

Around , several young soldiers who stood relatively close were so pale and frightening that they were soaked by the splash of blood.

"Enter. If you really need you, even if you don't get out of the car, I will pull you off." Sean persuaded Cecilia. After hearing Sean's assurance, the latter was somewhat reluctant. Get on the carriage.

Immediately, Xiao En shouted at Anno again: "Anno, open the way! Whoever dares to stop, will interrupt his hands and feet!"

The big man Anno grinned and roared: "Okay!"

Anno didn't see any actions, but just shot the spear, and the northern barbarians, who had gradually become accustomed to the so-called command and command, immediately spread into a new formation: all the archers surrounded the carriage, and the northern barbarians mentioned it. Gun-holding shields surround these archers to protect them. In the expressions of everyone's astonishment, the formation of this bold mercenary group in front of them was not a defensive formation, but a charge formation!

This mercenary group, don't you really know what the meaning of their royal guards is? Is it really going to fight?

They are as many as 70,000!

How can this mercenary group have such courage!

The aristocratic child who had recovered a little bit lowered his head and glanced at the head at his feet. He was also a person who had really killed someone and had seen blood, and of course he would not be scared by this head. It's just that at this moment he feels that his face has been lost. If he can't leave this mercenary group behind, then his efforts during this period of time will be completely wasted. The reputation will not be good to hear.

Thinking of this, the nobleman finally pulled out the long sword beside him and shouted angrily: "Kill the soldiers of the Royal Guard, do you think you can still go?"

"I want to go, can you still keep it?" Sean stopped and turned slowly.

"Okay! Very good!" This time, it was the turn of the noble boy to laugh with anger, "Do you know who I am?"

"Not a single hair grows even, not even a title is just an idiot who only knows to rely on family power." Sean sneered unceremoniously.

"you!"

"Your Excellency, your words are a bit too much." A man wearing a light sword said in a deep voice. He was one of the two guards of the arrogant young master.

"Who are you?" Sean raised his eyebrows.

"It doesn't matter who I am..."

Unexpectedly, before the words were finished, Sean interrupted unceremoniously: "Shut up if it doesn't matter!"

The man's eyes showed a dull look, his left hand holding the saber stepped up a bit, obviously moving really angry. A dignified lower sanctuary, in the Principality of Ryan, he can be regarded as a somewhat powerful person, but at this moment, he is so insulted by a lower bronze man. It would be a strange thing if he didn't get angry.

However, since Sean dared to humiliate this low-level silver master, of course he was confident and confident enough to deal with him. Even if the two lower-ranked silver shots together, Sean doesn't care, because he can hold one of them. As for the other, Anno and others will solve the problem. As long as William shots, the third-level army of steel wings will be used. It's not a difficult task to solve a lower-level silver, let alone the magician Cecilia.

Since the noble circles of the other Royal Guards do not plan to take action, and all the high-ranking generals hide in the theater, then Sean doesn't mind making this matter a big deal.

Because he is not the rootless flower that needs to wander everywhere.

Chapter 154: .suppress!

"Atamar, Fiss, take him down for me!" The arrogant aristocratic teenager finally couldn't restrain his anger, and shouted, "It doesn't matter if you kill!"

Hearing these words, the man holding the light sword finally let out an angry shout and drew his sword.

Sean didn't know which of the two low-ranking silver masters was Atama and which was Faith. When True Eye was looking at a person's attributes, the other party had to report it by himself. So, of course, Sean is not particularly clear about the actual situation of the opponent's data, but as long as the opponent can show some professional ability characteristics, Sean can infer the opponent's approximate attribute value.

From the appearance of this man's attire, the opponent should also be the type of walking speed.

Among Tier 5 professions, there are not many swordsman professions that focus on speed. Even if they focus on the growth limit of agility, judging from the ability of this swordsman, it will not exceed fifty at most. This must be owned by the opponent. It is possible to obtain such a high attribute value with great opportunities and at the pinnacle of silver. It is important to know that for the first-time silver masters, the personal attributes that focus on development will only have at most two barriers that break through the 40-point limit, and most people even only have one.

So at this moment, Xiao En didn't even think about it, so he put all the seven proficiency points into the skill [Light Body Technique], and raised this skill to the highest level.

【Lightweight technique: Temporarily eliminate the effect of gravity on the body, Agility +20, lasts for 5 minutes. Magic second-order ordinary, level 33. 】

Spending seven proficiency points in exchange for a temporary increase in agility of 20 points is naturally greater than the benefit of investing proficiency points into personal attributes. After the assignment was completed, Sean also chanted the spell for the first time. After a few short magic syllables were spit out from Sean's mouth, Sean immediately felt a more comfortable feeling in his body. Movement, this is a lighter and more sensitive sensation than before, and even the reflex nerves and dynamic capture ability are much clearer.

Feeling a sharp and cold breath coming from the left side, Xiao En drew his sword without hesitation.

Compared to a minute ago, his speed has undergone a larger and more obvious change-this can only be seen by the silver-level masters present. For most people, it is still just a pile of silver. Suddenly, they didn't see exactly how Sean drew his sword.

A splash of sparks.

A flash of shock flashed in the eyes of the young light sword swordsman. His sword came out with anger, extremely fast, and it was completely capable of reaching a super level performance for him, but he did not expect that he would be blocked! You know, he is the first to shoot, and it is the sword that the opponent only releases after the sword has come to the opponent, but the latter is faster than the first. Isn't the strength of the young man in front of him? Seeing such weakness on the surface?

Xiao En did not know how many changes in the heart of this young light sword swordsman at this moment, he only knew that the agility value of the opponent through this sword had been tested by him.

is only about forty-two o'clock.

This value is three points worse than Sean's agility value after casting the light body technique!

Sean's [Spell Seal Swordsman] career rose to level 6 after the unexpected forest conflict led by Danawi, and his agility reached 25 points, and the light body skill increased his agility by 20 points. , So the total is exactly forty-five o'clock! This value is not much different from that of the lower-level silver players who focus on speed development, but Xiao En obviously slows out of the sword, but can easily block the opponent's attack, which is enough to prove that the opponent's agility is not as good as Xiao. Engao.

Generally, it is necessary to see the specific gap changes, and the difference between the attributes of the two parties must be at least three points.

However, even if he could block the opponent's blow, Sean did not have any arrogance, because he knew that his agility value was similar to that of the opponent, but his other attributes could never be higher than the opponent. After all, the advantage of the rank gap lies here, this is an insurmountable boundary. Moreover, once you step into the silver stage, whether it is [Physics], [Spellcasting], or [Divine Art] occupations, you will have special combat skills.

This kind of technique is not a skill, but a physical force that only emerges after a qualitative change.

Sean's long sword is slightly different. He doesn't dare to wrestle with the opponent because the gap is very obvious. So after blocking the sword, Sean immediately launched a counterattack without thinking about it. He must force the opponent into a defensive position. , Otherwise he would not be able to play the strategic purpose of holding down the other party.

At this time, another low-level silver master also attacked Xiao En, without any idea of a fair fight.

It's just that people like Anno could let this other low-level silver master attack Sean so easily?

More than a dozen northern barbarians shook hands with their long spears, staring at the lower silver who was trying to sneak attack, and then when they saw the other side preparing to go around behind Sean, they all threw their long spears out at this moment. The excellent grade spear made of pure metal made a whistling sound in the air, and the sound of dozens of spears made a sensation like Elizabeth's thunder sanctions.

The face of the lower-level silver master who seemed to be a boxer by profession changed drastically, and he didn't dare to stand up against these roaring spears and attack, so he had to immediately retreat and evade. However, his toes just touched the ground to stabilize the retreating figure, and the second wave of spears that were thrown out had already whizzed out, and the thunderous vibrations that tore the air made this subordinate silver immediately turn around and retreat a dozen times in a row. Step, actually retreated directly outside the city gate.

As a result, his situation becomes more troublesome.

William, who had been out of the carriage, had a chuckle at the corner of his mouth, and his eyes were scarily bright. It was obvious that the lazy man was excited again.

There is no doubt that the throwing of these two-wavelength guns is the result of William's calculation, and the purpose is to completely force the opponent out of the city gate. In this way, William can naturally let go of his hands and feet to deal with the opponent: "All archers aim, volley! Let go!"

Only heard a bowstring trembling slightly, hundreds of arrows actually shot out on the spot!

Although it is not like a dark cloud covering the sky, and the sound is even more terrifying than the throwing of a spear, its lethality is much smaller than that of a spear throwing. At least, this low-level silver master is ready to rush into the arrow rain. Obviously, he also finds how bad it is for him to be forced outside the city. If he is inside the city, the opponent should at least worry about the other royal guards and never dare. So messy.

But, having already pushed this low-ranking silver player out of the door, will William still let him into the city?

Under the mobilization of a series of orders, the remaining fifty Northland Barbarians were directly divided into two teams under the leadership of Anno. Twenty-five people in each team were stacked in three rows. The shields raised their guns, and then they blocked this abruptly. The charge of the subordinate silver. Only when one team was required to block, the other team immediately rushed in, in an attempt to trap this low-level silver master completely, while nearly thirty other northern barbarians held up their spears, as long as they were completely trapped. If you live, then these thirty spears will be thrown out without hesitation.

In this way, this expert guard did not dare to take risks at all. Once he found that he was unable to break through, he would immediately retreat, and would not give the opponent a chance to fight together. But as soon as he retreated, he naturally couldn't rush back into the city, but outside the city he had to face a volley of seven or eighty archers. Every time a dense swarm of arrows flew to him, he was able to block it. Staying once or twice, but it is impossible to block every time. A few arrows have been shot on the body before long, and the speed of the body has begun to drop.

Looking back at the embarrassment of this low-ranking silver master, another swordsman who fought alone with Sean, was more calm than ever.

He has thoroughly discovered that the young man in front of him who seems to have only the low-level bronze strength is not as good as his own, but he does not know what secret method he used, so he is faster than himself in the front line, but only That's it. But what really made him afraid to shoot with all his strength was because of the demonized weapon in Sean's hand. This weapon made him extremely jealous. If it weren't for Sean's holding of this weapon, he would have made it a long time ago. He shook his opponent with all his strength and took it directly.

But now, he has no way to do this, because at the beginning, because of the wrong estimation of the opponent's strength, the heavy sword in his hand has been cracked. If he continues to fight like this, his sword will be It's going to be scrapped. Once he loses this weapon in his hand, it will be more difficult for him to defeat his opponent. As a master with extremely rich combat experience, he will never make such a mistake.

But he wants to fight steadily, but it doesn't mean that the master standing behind him is willing.

The noble boy saw his two guards, one was beaten and fled like a dog, and he was wounded by a few arrows, the other was completely suppressed by a Zenas man about his age. He was angry to the extreme at this moment. If he could, he also wanted to rush to help the top leader, but when he saw that his subordinates were playing inextricably with the opponent, he knew that he would never be the opponent's opponent, so of course he would not be here. Time to rush up to be embarrassed.

So he had to roar: "Atamar, what are you doing! Quickly kill him! Faith can't hold on anymore!"

Hearing the shouts of the noble boy behind him, the light sword swordsman named Atama was slightly shocked, and he glanced at Faith's situation from the corner of his eyes, finally shocked in his heart. At this moment, Faith's situation is already a bit precarious. If he continues to delay, I am afraid Faith will die with the cooperation of the opponent's army. And when the opponent killed Faith, and then turned his head to cooperate with the young man in front of him, then he was also inevitable.

Now Atama finally knows why the Chanas in front of him is not anxious at all. It turns out that his purpose is only to hold him back!

Wanting to understand this, Atama no longer hesitates and fights steadily. The sword power in his hand suddenly changes, and the whole person immediately becomes fierce, and the aura of a silver rank power also erupts completely at this moment.

However, this aristocratic teenager is not a really good face. After seeing Atama finally getting serious, he whispered to the next subordinate: "Go and invite the leader!"

Chapter 155: .What about killing?

Atama's gaze condensed, and his aura as a silver-ranked person finally broke out. The strong aura and coercion even made Xiao En's sword-out movement a momentary lag. It was just this moment of sluggishness, Atama's figure shook, and she broke out of Sean's attack range, and was no longer suppressed by Sean's stormy attacking rhythm, and the battle situation once again returned to the previous situation. .

Shaun sighed a little regretfully, if he could delay it later, maybe he could really win. It's just a pity, I didn't expect that the aristocratic teenager on the other side was really not a idiot, and he knew what to say and reminded him that he didn't wait until the end and didn't know why he lost.

Although Sean can compete with this master named Atama, he knows that if the opponent does not make a big mistake, he is absolutely unable to kill the opponent, and even if the opponent wants to go, he will Can't stay. After all, the strength of the two sides differed by a full two levels, which was enough to produce a determination of the coercive effect. Fortunately, the other party did not master coercive skills, otherwise, he would not be slow and stagnant just now.

At this time, Sean missed Alfred a little. If he were there, the situation would be completely different now.

Real masters fight against the strong, and there will never be too much nonsense. Those masters who like to talk nonsense have long been killed by people in the Jedi counterattack.

So, after Atama got out of Sean's attack range, he just did two moves.

The first action is to re-adjust his breathing rhythm. His current breathing rhythm is completely changed hastily by Sean's pressing and beating, so it is naturally impossible to let this breathing rhythm control his fighting rhythm. ; And the second action is that he stretched out his hand to remove the scabbard, outer robe and some other useless decorations, and then he raised the sword again and looked at it.

The first movement changed, Sean didn't care and would not pay attention to it, but the second movement made Sean's brows frowned.

In the entire Marvel Continent, or in the entire "Miracle", there is only one professional system that cares so much about the effects of these cumbersome accessories, outer robes, scabbards, and so on. They insist that the real fast sword is the ultimate fighting rhythm, and any slight weight will affect the performance and power of sword skills.

So in the game, there was a type of player who always streaked around with only a sword, and didn't even put anything in the storage space, because this would also affect their speed. And there is no doubt that this type of player is actually quite difficult. Their fighting style is very direct and straightforward. To put it simply, it is a word of "fast". Besides that, they don't even have a little defense power, as long as Touched lightly by someone, then it will end in a second kill.

And the Tier 5 profession of this system is the Storm Swordsman.

Suddenly!

Atama completely disappeared in front of Sean!

It's not that his speed is too fast, too fast to capture, but that he really disappeared! If it is said that just throwing away these things can double the speed, Sean has already started to play streaking, so the only explanation is that the opponent has used some special ability exclusive to the Storm Swordsman!

Shaun didn't hesitate at all. He almost caught the moment when Atama disappeared completely with his naked eyes.

Bottom left!

Upper right!

Upper left!

Bottom right!

Four red lights burst out in the air accompanied by the splash of four sparks.

After blocked these four swords one after another, Xiao En stepped under his feet, and the whole person immediately jumped back. However, he still felt a piercing chill on his left cheek. Without the slightest hesitation, when Sean felt the chill, he immediately turned his head to the side.

"Puff!"

A faint sound exploded, and three inches below Sean's left ear, a small hole was blown out of the long hair flying around.

This scene is like a waterfall pouring down. It is as terrible as a water hole blasted into the middle with extremely violent and terrifying force. A few strands of black thread fluttered up in the air, scattered all over the sky as soon as the breeze was blown, and disappeared from the sight of everyone in an instant. After all, the hair was too thin and too short.

This time, Xiao En's face finally no longer was as relaxed as before, because he knew that the Storm Swordsman named Atama had already begun to show off his real power.

And that sudden blow that pierced through his hair is a special fighting technique that can only be used by those with the strength above the Silver level!

grudge!

【Physics】 Professionals, after the fifth level officially enters the silver level, there will be a special ability of "fight", which is also a sign of judging whether a person has officially entered the silver stage-at least on the miracle continent , That's it. There is no attribute difference between fighting qi, and only according to different occupations and different directions of concentration, will you gradually cultivate fighting qi with various attributes.

The most basic manifestation of fighting spirit is that it can be mixed into various combat skills and moves, strengthen combat capabilities, increase attack range, and so on.

In the game, Sean had fought against many people from the professional system of Storm Swordsman, so he was very clear about the standard combat skills of this profession-the player's use of these combat skills was actually learned from the npc at the beginning Yes, it's just that pvp has been played a lot later, and the various start-up battles will change accordingly.

So Sean knew very well that the gust of wind flashed instantly, coupled with the flash sword four combos, and finally added a grudge or flash thorn sword, this is the standard battle rhythm of the wind swordsman. Regardless of whether it is a grudge attack or a flashing sword, this attack technique is that the closer the distance is, the more powerful it is. Therefore, Sean will immediately choose to withdraw and stand back after blocking the flashing sword's four combos. The attack of vindictive energy will penetrate directly through his throat.

Atama also seemed to be a little surprised that Sean was able to evade this series of fierce killers. He was slightly surprised in his heart. He couldn't help but have a little doubt about his judgment: Is this guy really pretending to be a pig and eat a tiger? ? But soon, Atama's gaze fell on Sean's right hand. He had already noticed that Sean's right hand seemed to be trembling slightly. Although the movement was extremely light, and Sean was also trying to suppress it, but this was not true. Can escape his observation.

So, Atama knew that Sean was already at the end of the crossbow, and the corners of his mouth raised slightly.

The next second, the whole person once again completely disappeared in front of Sean!

The gust of wind flashes instantly!

Flash sword four combos!

All the attacking moves are exactly the same as the last time, but the strength and speed are slightly faster. This is the limit that Atama can play. He has already judged from the light trembling of Sean's right hand that his opponent can no longer withstand his own attack. This strength gap is correct. Otherwise, what is the purpose of working so hard to break through the realm?

Without the slightest accident, these two attack methods were once again blocked by Sean's sword swing. Then Atama saw Sean retreat quickly again, but this time, he didn't intend to press the little vindictive energy left in his body to attack. Instead, he chased up with a lunge, and the light sword in his hand turned into a lightning bolt. Biting out the poisonous snake and stabbing it towards Xiao En's heart, since his master said that it doesn't matter even if he kills the opponent, then of course he won't be polite!

However, just when he had just used the flash stabbing sword, Atama saw Sean's original solemn face, and suddenly exhaled slightly with ease, the corners of his mouth raised slightly, and his heart was shocked for no reason. .

"Finally caught you." Xiao En let out a sigh of relief, "Silver scale curse!"

The curse print pattern on the left hand suddenly bloomed with weird red glow, and suddenly countless silver scales appeared on the whole left hand, and then quickly covered the whole left arm of Xiao En.

On the silver scales, there is a faint dark red light flowing, but it does not look weird. On the contrary, under the shining of the sun, it exudes a gleaming brilliance, with a unique sense of beauty.

Immediately afterwards, Xiao En waved his hand and pointed the sword that pierced his heart with his palm.

Only hearing the sound of "Qiang", the light sword in Atama's hand, after hitting Sean's left hand covered with scales, broke every inch! However, within a second, the light sword in Atama's hand was completely left with only one hilt, and the whole momentum on his body became decadent at this moment, and then he felt a chill in his neck, Sean The long sword in his hand is already on his neck.

"What are you doing!" Suddenly, a roar sounded, and a majestic middle-aged man led a group of real royal guards in armor and stepped forward, "You! Hurry up and put down the sword to me! You group of mercenaries, Do you want to rebel?"

"Rebellion?" Sean turned his head and said in a deep voice, "Is this man a soldier in the Principality?"

"He is a knight of the Ceballox family!" The nobleman who was arguing with Sean ran over immediately after seeing the majestic middle-aged man, and at the same time did not forget to answer Sean's words, "I They are the fourth-in-line heirs of the Ceballox family, they are the guards responsible for protecting me!"

"That means that he is not a soldier of the Principality?" Xiao En nodded slightly, wiped his right hand, and a blood arrow spurted out.

Atama's eyes were staring, and he only felt breathless for a while. He pressed his throat tightly with his hands, but he couldn't stop the blood from pouring out from between his hands. The others around him were even more unbelievable. No one had expected that Sean would dare to kill someone in front of this middle-aged man! Even the aristocratic boy was shocked, and he didn't expect such a result at all.

Immediately after the next second, another scream came from the city gate, and then everyone saw the spears of thirty Northland barbarians thrown out all at once, and the screams suddenly disappeared.

The face of the middle-aged man was so gloomy that it was dripping with water: "You dare to kill people in front of me!"

"Kill and kill, how about it?" Sean looked calm, "Do you still want to punish me? In what name?"

Chapter 156: .Do you fight backstage?

"Intentionally murdering a knight in the principality, this crime alone is enough to make you punish you!" The middle-aged man screamed, "Take it for me!"

"and many more!"

Xiao En let out a cold cry, and after the steel wing troops behind him killed Faith, they immediately surrounded him and completely protected Shaun, and the archer drew away the longbow in his hand once again, and immediately threw it in after an order. In a new round of battle.

I don't know what the reason was. After Sean yelled this, the middle-aged man suddenly raised his hand, stopped the charge of the troops behind him, and avoided a battle that might break out again. Only this time, more and more soldiers of the Royal Guard had gathered around them. These soldiers were already neatly dressed, and the murderous air that gradually gathered began to suppress many people around them.

This is a real royal guard!

Sean looked at the middle-aged man in front of him, and asked, "Who are you again?"

"The Seventh Legion in Tonys Fortress, Commander of the Legion!" The middle-aged man did not say his name. Perhaps he thought that it was unnecessary for a small person like Sean to say so in detail. A mercenary group would dare to be so presumptuous. , Do you really think there is no one in the Principality of Lane?

"Legion commander?" Xiao En looked at the middle-aged man in front of him. He didn't give his name, so he couldn't use True Eye. It was just that Xiao En knew that the strength of the opponent was definitely more than silver, because he didn't feel it at all. Out of the momentum fluctuations on the opponent's body, "You indulge in your troops to blackmail past business trips without authorization, and even rob women. If you don't know this crime, how do you plan to punish it?"

"Do you have any evidence?" the legion commander asked in a deep voice.

"Am I not the evidence?" Sean asked back.

"You and my subordinates have conflicts with each other, so your words cannot be accepted!" The legion commander's voice was very calm. This is a set and high-sounding statement. Although he knows that there are some strong words, it actually serves as a piece. As far as the fig leaf is concerned, it is actually very useful. "But I will let someone investigate what you have said, but now, you still surrender obediently.... If you are willing to surrender, then I will only arrest you, the mastermind and related ones. The troublemakers, and everyone else I can let them go."

For many mercenary groups or mercenary groups, as long as they are not well-known, they will not unite with each other, so once they have a way to survive, they will naturally not stay and wait for death. This is already an army room. A commonly used trick. Usually, after such a situation occurs, the mercenary group and the mercenary group will even have infighting. In most cases, someone will start to flee, and this chain reaction will cause a large-scale rout, and no one can stop it.

It's just a pity that the words of the legion commander didn't make any difference.

The northern barbarians directly regarded his words as farting, and Sean gave them food, even if they were killed in battle for Sean, they would not frown. And those archers, in fact, had a bit of hesitation and entanglement in their hearts. Many people even looked at each other, but after seeing the determination of the northern barbarians and the disdain on the faces of many of their companions, they too He strengthened his inner thoughts: the big deal is just to die in battle, what are you afraid of?

The leader they followed is about to become a lord's person!

Seeing that the language offensive failed to dissolve the mercenary group in front of him, the commander of the 7th Legion frowned, and he had obviously realized the difficulty of this group. Of course, he is not a blind idiot like the aristocratic boy next to him. He has seen a sense of confidence and composure on Sean's face, so this means that this person is absolutely dependable, and the card is still Of course, he wouldn't make any shots before it came out.

If this is not the case, what is a mercenary group of more than 100 people with an order?

"Huh, what's the point of being so high-sounding?" Sean sneered. He was already a little disappointed with the legionnaire, but he had forgotten that, whether it was public or private, soldiers were extremely short-sighted, unless It's just to show the real evidence directly, otherwise it's useless to say anything, "Since you say that they are banned knights, then according to the rules among the nobles, it should be the family's trouble that came to me, when will it be my turn? You, the legion commander, have come to intervene? What's more, what evidence do you have to prove that they are banned knights?"

Legion commander's face looked even more gloomy: "I don't want to order the army to attack just to avoid causing more casualties here. If you are still obsessed with it, then I can only take tough measures!"

"Since the commander of the legion said that I was arrogant, what about you yourself? Isn't there no evidence?" Sean curled his lips in disdain.

"I am the fourth heir to the Ceballoques family!" The noble boy suddenly said, "They are the sealed knights of my family, and they are responsible for protecting my safety!"

"Then let's fight? In a noble way?" Sean raised his eyebrows, "Come here, come and let me slap you, and then start a life and death duel here, how about?"

Sean just killed a low-ranking silver with thunder. No matter how stupid this aristocratic boy is, it is impossible to take Sean's words, otherwise it is really defined as a duel event, then this problem will become thorny and troublesome. , Especially life and death duel!

Seeing the situation in front of him seemed chaotic, the legion commander's brows were already frowned, and he found that the other party was really a sharp-mouthed person. This kind of wrangling remarks obviously couldn't stand his heels, and he could only take coercive measures if he wanted to. Otherwise, I am afraid that things will get worse.

"Legislative commander, he actually killed a Principality soldier!" At this moment, the noble boy suddenly shouted, "Just behind them!"

"Yes, commander of the legion!"

"Legion, I saw it with my own eyes, Adef was killed by him!"

For a time, many royal guards around were arguing. However, these people are actually partisans bought by this aristocratic teenager. What they say at this moment is naturally directed towards him, and even some of them are extremely exaggerated. Even the circles of other aristocratic teenagers next to them are shameless. Lust, let alone the sarcasm on Sean's face at the moment.

Seeing the sarcasm on Xiao En's face, the commander of the army secretly scolded his mother. When the dispute broke out, he had already received the news, but he was not in a hurry to come out at the time. It seems that the mercenaries suffer at most. Can they resist? As a result, he didn't expect that the other party really resisted, and the fight was extremely fierce, and even directly used military tactics to deal with a lower-level silver, which shocked him.

A person who is not from a real army, how can he understand this kind of army tactics? So he immediately rushed over to observe, but he didn't expect that the other party could actually kill two low-ranking silver talents! Especially the Zenas, his right hand was completely scaly just now, he had never heard of this ability. So in fact, even if this legion commander didn't witness the whole process, he knew the cause and effect clearly. So at this moment these people's exaggerated descriptions are something that even he can't listen to. The Seventh Army's military discipline has been completely lost by these people. Empty.

But things have reached this point. The commander of the army was naturally too hard to get off the ground, so he let out a deep cry, "Be quiet!"

In an instant, everyone was quiet.

"Now, do you have anything else to say?" The legion commander looked at Sean with a cold face. He had made up his mind. No matter what Sean said, he would order the army to charge, directly defeat or kill him. This mercenary group.

"He attacked a jazz, so I would kill it out of the protection of my honor and dignity." From the eyes of this legion commander, Sean saw that the other party had made a certain determination, so he He also simply threw the first hole card, "On the contrary, the commander of the legion, your army is very problematic, and you have raised so many soldiers. This is discrediting the 7th legion."

"Insult a jazz?" The noble boy sneered, "What is so great about insulting a jazz? A jazz is not even a nobleman!"

"So what about you? You don't have a kid with the same hair." Sean glanced at the noble boy. "The jazz is really not a noble, but don't forget, you don't even count as a jazz, and you are ranked fourth. Heir in line, wait until you become the heir in line."

Satisfied by Sean, the nobleman's face flushed red, but he didn't know how to refute it. For a while, he felt like he wanted to vomit blood.

"You said you are a jazz? Which country's jazz?" The legion commander seems to have discovered where Sean's hole cards are. The jazz is naturally not a nobleman, but if it is an honored jazz of the empire, then the identity will definitely be somewhat different. of.

"Principality of Lane." Sean said softly.

Then the legion commander laughed.

If Sean is really the honored knight of a certain empire, his attitude will of course slow down a bit, but since it is the honored knight of the Principality of Lane, it doesn't matter to him. Because the Jazz is really not a noble, and he is not only the commander of the Seventh Army of the Principality of Lane, but also a noble, a real high-ranking noble! So it doesn't matter if Sean is really a fart in front of them.

"Don't you know who I am?" The smile on the legion commander's face disappeared, revealing a more majestic aura, "Just a jazz, you..."

"I am not only a jazz, but also a pioneering knight." Sean smiled at the legion commander, and interrupted the insulting words he might utter. Talk again, otherwise I can take your words as an insult to my conquest."

Explore the Cavaliers?

The legion commander's heart suddenly shrank. How long has he not heard the term pioneer knight? But not hearing it does not mean that he does not know the meaning of this identity. If it is only an insult to a knight or a knight, it is nothing, because his noble title is much higher than that of the other party. In this noble world, The privileges of the upper aristocrats will always be more than that of the lower aristocrats.

But the pioneer knight, this identity is a little different.

They are opening up territory for the captain, and insulting them is tantamount to insulting the captain. This is not as simple as the privileges of the upper nobles, but involves more aspects. So if you don't want these problems to worsen or be completely upset, then it's best to figure out who the other party's captain is and whether you have the ability to deal with it.

So, the legion commander naturally spoke: "Who is your captain?"

"Silver Sword Fairy, the thundering Valkyrie, Marquis of Tonis." Xiao En smiled slightly, then took out the two documents that Asuna had given him from his body, flicked it to unfold them completely, the thundering sword and shield house above Under the shining of the sun, the emblem was more shining than the silver scale on Sean's left hand just now, "Master Asuna G. Evans."

Asuna.g. Evans!

The Valkyrie of the Principality of Lane!

At this moment, the entire outer city fell into silence.

Execution of the pioneer knights under the Marquis of Tonys in the Fortress of Tonys?

As long as the brain is not broken, they will never do this.

It is obvious that the commander of the Seventh Legion of the Principality of Lane, his brain is not broken.

Chapter 157: .Nibelungen Magic Circle

The city lord's mansion of Tonis Fortress is still that private living room.

Elizabeth is like a lazy cat, curled up on the soft sofa, that looks extremely exciting. She did not wear that military uniform today, but a dress gown often worn by noble ladies. The waist was wrapped around her waist, which made her waist look more slender. Unfortunately, because of the length of the dress gown, Elizabeth Those slender legs can't be seen; of course, as a compensation for gains and losses, the waistband also makes Elizabeth's twin peaks even more amazing.

At this moment, Elizabeth stretched her waist, and the perfect curve on her body was immediately revealed, really like an s.

A button flew away from the placket of her chest with a "bang", and shot towards Asuna.

Seeing Asuna gently raised her hand, she caught the button. She looked up and saw that Elizabeth's * had been completely opened, revealing a lot of white snow, which was truly milk-like white, and it should be extremely tender when viewed visually.

"Spring has leaked." Asuna said lightly.

"Here is you and me. What are you afraid of." Elizabeth didn't care at all. "But you know today that the guard at the outer city gate is the group of noble soldiers. You don't want to wake up Sean, so you are not afraid. He suffers?"

"Losing?" Asuna looked up, "Which one did you mean to suffer? Sean or Brod?"

"Are you not worried that Sean will suffer?" Elizabeth's eyes sparkled. "That Broad is the heir of the Ceballos family."

"The fourth in line is the heir." Asuna said lightly, "There are two older brothers and one older sister above him. If nothing else, his greatest achievement is to be an earl. It's a different story."

"He still has a mother." Elizabeth reminded.

"The Rhodes family will not provide him with any help." Asuna shook her head. She knew better than anyone about the aristocratic circle of the Principality of Ryan. Whether a generation of heirs can keep the prefix of the Marquis of Strength is still unknown. If Broad shows sufficient strength, perhaps the Rodis family will not abandon him, and it is necessary to fight with the Cebrox family, but for now The situation seems to be... heh."

A chuckle, full of contempt and disdain.

It's just that in this Principality of Lane, the only person who can show such disdain to the Cebrox family and the Rodius family, who are also one of the marquis of strength, is this thunderous Valkyrie.

At this moment, the thunderous Valkyrie didn't even think about anything else, but stared closely at the map laid on the low table.

"What are you looking at?" Elizabeth also leaned her head curiously. She only glanced at her face with a look of surprise, "This is a magic circle? But why is this drawing so familiar?"

Asuna heard the words and stretched out her hand to pull out two completely transparent thin papers.

These two thin papers, if you look at them individually, you will only feel at a loss. Because the first picture depicts countless short or long red thin lines, it looks messy, and I don't know its meaning at all; while the second picture is a few red circles drawn in large sets and small ones, with light on them. There are many red dots, but when you look at them individually, you don't know the meaning at all.

Only when these two drawings are overlapped together can we see that it is an extremely complex magic array. The thin lines and circles are the structural loops of the entire magic circle, and the red dots are the nodes of the magic circle, that is, the center of the magic supply.

But under these two pieces of thin paper, is a floor plan of the building.

Seeing this building plan, Elizabeth immediately knew where the so-called sense of familiarity was, because it was clearly the building plan of the inner city of Tonis Fortress!

If you refer to the thin lines that represent the magic circuit, it is all the streets in the inner city; and where those large and small circles pass by, there are gray-black stone tablets unique to the inner city, and these stone tablets are engraved on them. They are all lists of people who have made major contributions to Tonis; as for the locations that represent the nodes of the magic circle, they are the surveillance towers in the inner city.

Originally, no one would think of these when seeing this architectural plan of the inner city, but now... "I didn't expect that the entire inner city was actually a huge magic circle." Elizabeth was extremely surprised, "This Magic Array... I have never seen it before."

"Immortal Nibelungen." Asuna said in a deep voice, "You don't know it's normal, because this is the product of the gods after dusk. It is said that its origin can be traced back to the dawn of dawn. Before you see this drawing, I always thought that only three people in this world knew its existence... I and the mysterious person who gave me this magic circle blueprint were the two of us who worked together to restore the true appearance of this magic circle, but found that it can only Activate the first function of this magic circle and force it to solidify."

"The magic circle left by the gods? Only the first function is forced curing?" Elizabeth exclaimed. She is a magician, and she knows what this means.

The so-called forced curing actually means absolutely hard. Although this statement is not accurate, it is reluctant to explain it this way. If you use this magic circle on water, the water will freeze, if you use it on ice, the ice will become as strong as metal, and if you use it on a mountain, it will completely solidify the entire mountain. Crises such as earthquakes, flash floods, mudslides, etc. will not arise.

And forced curing is only the first function of this magic circle, which means that the magic circle must have second, third or even more functions!

"The third person who knows about this magic circle is the dwarf master who built this fortress. He exchanged this magic circle with me with a copy of the ark and promised that I only need to pay one-third of the cost of fortification. But even those expenses, you know where they came from."

Elizabeth knows very well that even one-third of the cost is tens of millions of gold coins. Based on this calculation, this fortress, which is known as the number one in the world, is really the number one in the world—both in scale and cost. But soon, Elizabeth, who realized something, let out an exclamation: "Could it be that Sean..."

Asuna nodded, and said, "I didn't ask him the last question yesterday?"

Elizabeth nodded. She was there yesterday, so she knew that the last question Asuna asked Sean was "What do you think of this inner city?" She remembers Sean's answer at the time was "Although it is very good, there is still something lacking." Elizabeth didn't think much about it at the time, and when she heard Asuna's words, she knew that this was definitely not an ordinary conversation.

"He sent me this today." Asuna said, she took out another drawing.

This drawing is also two, extremely thin, and the content drawn on it is almost exactly the same as the drawing of the magic circle that Elizabeth saw before.

But when Asuna put this drawing on the floor plan of the building, the difference was immediately revealed—the nodes of the magic circle had eighty-eight adjustments, and the size of the innermost circle was changed, with ten Six streets need to be cancelled.

"If you make changes to this magic circle, Nibelungen can activate the second function." Asuna's eyes were a little blurred. "This second function is an absolute barrier. Once activated, anything from above the fortress Attacks are all ineffective, neither magic nor stone throwing can destroy the fortress, and even magic will be broken down into the most basic magic power to maintain the continuity of the barrier. This means that if someone wants to conquer this fortress, they can only rely on it. Propelled on the ground."

Elizabeth was stunned.

The magic circle of Nibelungen is so powerful, one is to defend against the attack from the sky, and the other is to defend against the attack from the underground. Unless the magic circle is closed, it is really insoluble.

However, Asuna seemed to feel that this was not enough, so she said again: "Sean said, this magic circle actually has a third function, called 'Susheng of the Immortal'. It's just the specific situation. He doesn't know how, so he can only give me this magic circle." At this point, Asuna smiled helplessly: "But now I find that if you want to target the second function of this magic circle, If you make building changes in the city, at least tens of millions of gold coins are needed....We don't have that much money. And if we get lucky in the future, we can get a blueprint that can activate the third function..."

Hearing this, Elizabeth could only confess to herself.

Tony's collar is quite large, but it needs to spend a lot of money, especially the rations, so the salary of the soldiers can not be too high. The Thunder's Front can even be classified as white labor. This army originally had nearly 30,000 people, but after so many years of fighting, the scale of the Thunder's Front has become smaller and smaller, and now only 10,000 are left. The scale.

But it's no wonder, who wants to join a team that can't pay.

At this moment, there was a sudden sound of footsteps inside and outside the living room, followed by a sudden knock on the door.

Asuna and Elizabeth both stopped talking, and Asuna said, "What's the matter?"

"My lord Marquis, the commander of the 7th Legion, please see me." There was a response outside the door, "It was because of Sir Connery."

Sir Connery.

Hearing this name, Asuna and Elizabeth already knew what was going on. Obviously, on the outer city side, Sean eventually clashed with the Broad as Elizabeth had expected, and it turned out that Broad suffered a big loss. Otherwise, it would definitely not. Alarmed to such a big man as the commander of the 7th Legion.

This legion commander, but a real marquis, although he is inferior to the marquis of strength, but this is only in terms of certain strengths. In terms of personal connections, even though Asuna is a marquis of strength, she is a new noble after all, so she is naturally inferior to the marquis of real power, but the current site belongs to Asuna, and the marquis has also heard of Asuna. Na sent the urgent letter to the House, so she will visit her house now.

"I'll go and see what the old fox wants to say." Asuna got up, "You should change your clothes. It is better to wear a mage's robe than to wear this kind of clothes.... As for the Connery family, you want Use more snacks to investigate and understand, and it is not easy to be able to give out drawings like the Nibelungen Magic Array at hand."

"I heard that this head is closer to the Cebrox family."

"If he is here to help Broaden to ask for an explanation, then I think he will regret coming here." Asuna sneered, and the killing aura of the long-standing army showed off in an instant, and then turned to open the door. After coming out, under the leadership of a thundering striker's guard, he left quickly.

Chapter 158: .Black Swan Castle

A team walked slowly from the Angroda Mountain Range to the Viscount Shaofu of the original Dabion Kingdom. The team was not fast, but they did not make a detour. Instead, they chose to cross the entire black reef grassland and enter. Viscount Shaofu leads the Black Swan Castle in the northwest corner.

This old castle is located in the southwest of the Angroda Mountain Range. It is built at an altitude of about 500 meters above sea level. The castle is built on the mountain and has six floors. The bottom two floors are only after the mountain is hollowed out. In order to make the foundation of the castle stronger, the hollowed out mountain body was covered with special materials called black asphalt and mountain * ash. The castle on the mountain is made of large blocks of black steel rock.

Because the castle is built on the mountain, the fourth floor of the castle is connected with a lake on the Angroda Mountains. The lake is about hundreds of square meters wide. It is said that since a long time ago, every autumn in this lake, a large number of black swans will rest here, so this old castle is also named Black Swan Castle. Only when the war between Asuna and the Kingdom of Darbion broke out, there was no black swan in this castle.

When Tonys Fortress was being built, Asuna lived in this castle. She actually came here to watch the black swan, but unfortunately she didn't see it, and Asuna only found out afterwards. The black swan hasn't looked after here for a long time. The Kingdom of Darbion claimed that these black swans were the servants of the gods, and Asuna's act of launching war angered the gods, so the black swans would not take care of this place.

Of course, Asuna would not pay attention to this kind of claim of the defeated. Only after being annoyed, did she respond with "Then, in the name of the gods, let us fight another war to see who is the victim." God's favor, and who will be abandoned by the gods". In the face of Asuna's arrogant declaration, the entire kingdom of Darbion fell into silence for an instant, and never mentioned the Black Swan Castle anymore.

And Asuna, never paid any attention to the Black Swan Castle again, as if the two sides had reached a tacit understanding.

It wasn't until Sean mentioned the castle again that Asuna remembered such a thing. Of course, Asuna would give this castle directly to Sean so readily. In fact, it was not because of the reason that he had not seen the black swan before. Otherwise, the black swan castle was on the miraculous continent. Asuna would certainly not send out the rare castle that can integrate fortifications and beauty.

The team, have been moving forward to this castle before stopping.

At that time, Black Swan Castle was one of the five most famous castles in the south of the entire continent. Now that it has been abandoned for many years, the walls of the castle are mottled and the cracks are deep and interlaced. You can even see many traces of collapse left by the siege. Green plants spread all over the outer walls of most of the castle, and weeds grow wild. These extremely vigorous plants even pierced their rhizomes into the walls, destroying many basic structures of the castle.

When Asuna lived here for a short time, she didn't even think about restoring the castle.

But about this point, Cecilia and William can understand, after all, the Black Swan Castle is not just an ornamental castle, its location also has a certain degree of strategic value-to the south is In the Barbaric Land, to the east is the Kingdom of Darbion, and to the north is the Fortress of Tonis. If this castle is not completely occupied, and with this castle as a stronghold, any army that passes by Shaofu will be attacked, and even completely cut off to retreat.

And if Asuna invests in the maintenance and use of the castle after the war, it will inevitably need to consume more funds. Later, in order to defend the castle, it will also need to send thousands of troops to station. This is all for Asuna. A big burden. Therefore, Asuna gave up this ancient castle and left it to be completely abandoned, which is an understandable thing-or that people who knew about it would only feel sorry, and no one would accuse Asuna of doing it wrong.

"Did you already know this would happen?" When William and Cecilia saw this dilapidated castle, William finally couldn't help but ask.

Sean made a big deal in the trading capital. If he does not pursue the quality of armaments and supplies, but only equips the troops with ordinary quality equipment, he can even arm a cavalry force with a size of 3,000. Although it is only a light cavalry unit, the value of such an army is definitely higher than that of a steel wing. If William chooses, he will definitely let the steel wing go to farming, and then reconfigure and train a light cavalry unit. .

But after seeing this black swan castle, William finally knew why Sean insisted on keeping this money unused.

The refurbishment of a castle and a series of subsequent maintenance are all expensive expenses, especially for castles like Black Swan Castle. If you want to renovate to the same scale as before, William thinks this Two million gold coins is not enough?

"The situation is much worse than I thought." Sean gave a wry smile.

For the Black Swan Castle, he had only heard others mention it in the game at the beginning, and the most impressive thing was that the renovation of the entire castle had invested a total of about two million Pan-Continent gold coins. It is precisely because of this that Sean has not dared to spend money lavishly after selling the book of the devil, but he did not expect that according to the current situation, the renovation cost of the Black Swan Castle is definitely more than that. A little money.

Of course, this refers to the money needed to completely renovate and complete the Black Swan Castle.

But in Sean's inner vision, he cannot put all his money here, because he still has more than 7,000 northern barbarians and more than 1,000 soldiers of the White Wing Mercenary Corps to be placed. Although Black Swan Castle can accommodate nearly 500 soldiers, it is impossible for him to put all the soldiers in this castle. Who knows if there will be any accidents, so this also means that he needs to build at least one more. Stronghold, or directly build a new town, and this also means greater expenses.

Two million gold coins, what should I do first?

This multiple choice question is really difficult.

Sean thought distressed: "Let's go in and take a look inside the castle."

After that, Sean walked towards the main entrance of the castle.

It is a three-layer isolation door that needs to be activated by a wheel: the outermost layer is the most common grid-shaped iron door in castle buildings, the middle is a steel plate hanging door, and the last is two thick steel plate wooden doors. But now the first two floors of the castle gate have been completely destroyed-more than two-thirds of the grid-shaped iron bar door on the first floor has disappeared, and it is obviously melted from the point of the fracture. , And the hanging door in the middle was also smashed out with a huge perforation that could accommodate three people walking side by side.

Only the last door is still intact, but only the one on the left, and the one on the right has collapsed to the ground.

In Asuna's army, there is only one person who can melt and destroy these steel plates and steels so easily.

Lei Yao's Light. Simi.

It is not difficult to imagine that the five hundred defenders of the Black Swan Castle were forced to abandon all the fortifications of the castle and directly engage in hand-to-hand combat with Asuna's wolf-like army. What a humiliation and panic. strong.

"It's really frantic." Sean walked through the gate of the castle and glanced at it with lingering fear. This was simply a useless display gate for magicians with special methods. He secretly made up his mind to the city of Black Swan Castle in the future. The door must be built with materials that can resist or invalidate magic, even if it is expensive.

Then, the whole team filed in from the city gate.

After passing through the gate of the castle, there is a vestibule about hundreds of square meters.

It can be seen that the original scenery of the vestibule should be considered beautiful. There are two lawns on the left and right sides of the vestibule, but now there are weeds, full of dead branches and fallen leaves. There are four sculptures on each of the two lawns. The sculptures are of different shapes, either holding bows or holding swords, and even knights with their front feet off the ground. However, apart from two or three of which are still intact, the others are Has long collapsed.

In the middle of the lawn is a black stone road leading directly to the Neiburg. In the middle of the stone road is a fountain about three meters high. The fountain is carved with four baby-height statues. They have wings on their backs, and they look like they are flying in mid-air and paying homage to something in the middle, but the thing they pay tribute to is gone, revealing a water pipe under the inner base. , And the fountain has dried up.

No matter how you look at it, this is a dilapidated fort.

Shaun pushed open the door of Neibo, and then the two doors collapsed in Shawn's hands, raising a cloud of dust like sand and fog.

The castle hall is also very luxuriously built, with a height of seven meters, and in the middle is a huge statue of five meters high. The statue stands with a sword, as if the wind is blowing, and the cloak behind it rises like hunting, it looks like Abnormally mighty. It's just a pity that the head of this statue was cut off with a sword, and the cut was very smooth, so Xiao En did not know who the statue was carved everywhere.

Behind the statue is a double-deck staircase-there are stairs on both the left and right sides to climb up the stairs, and then close together in the middle to form a prominent platform. Behind this platform is a twenty-three-step staircase, and then extend to the second floor in the opposite direction from the left and right sides. This kind of staircase is very common in the mansions of nobles.

There should have been many decorations on the first floor of the castle, but now all of these decorations have disappeared, and it is obvious that they have been raided. But even so, the luxury and scale of this castle is still enough to make people feel shocked, especially the northern barbarians and those white-winged mercenaries who have never seen a big face.

Shawn understands the psychological thoughts of these guys. When he first saw Utopia, he was so shocked. Therefore, he did not let these soldiers stay here, but let them move freely, as an expedition, to see if he could find anything usable in this castle-of course, he had no idea about it. What to look forward to, because Asuna lived in this castle for a while, and for her poor and white at that time, the valuables must have been emptied long ago.

However, these soldiers didn't care about it, they just enjoyed this kind of adventure-like psychology like an expedition.

Soon, all the soldiers ran away, leaving only William, Anno and Cecilia.

Xiao En didn't say anything, and went straight to the wall under the platform at the double-deck stairs. Then he stretched his hand to the candlestick hanging on the left side of the wall. He only heard the clicking sound of the mechanism activation, followed by a roar, which seemed to be Because the agency has not been activated for a long time, it is somewhat rusty.

Then in the eyes of everyone's astonishment, the statue in the middle began to slowly rise.

As the statue rises, countless dust rises and falls like a gray waterfall. After the statue had been raised a full two meters in height, it finally stopped, and behind the foundation on which the statue was raised, a dark hole was exposed, and a staircase stepping down appeared here.

Chapter 159: .The Sacrifice Table

"This is..." Cecilia was shocked.

William and Anno were so shocked that they were speechless at this moment, and the two of them looked at the suddenly rising statue with dumbfounded faces. Then they discovered that when they saw the statue just now, the sword held by the statue did not have a sword tip. They thought it was a certain design concept of the designer, and then discovered at this moment that the sword held by the statue had a sword tip. Yes, it's just that the tip of the sword goes deep into the ground.

Due to the impact of the shock, all the people who had already run to explore the castle ran out again, and then everyone saw the elevated statue with a surprised look, and many people returned to the first floor. Here, I started to observe the statue nearby. For all this, Sean didn't stop him. He knew the curiosity of these guys, just thinking about their expressions when they saw the magnificence and magnificence of Utopia?

"It seems that we are lucky." A smile appeared on Sean's face. Judging from the situation when the statue was raised, he could tell that Asuna had not discovered this secret passage.

This passage leads to the two-story underground space built in the mountain by the Black Swan Castle.

Because of the black asphalt and mountain ash, the two layers of space are moisture-proof, waterproof and insect-proof, and the designer who built the Black Swan Castle in the first place had a strategic reserve consideration. The two layers of underground space also have very Perfect ventilation system. Therefore, the space of the basement level, the fortress owners of the ancient Black Swan Castle are used to store various strategic materials, of course, some consumables needed during the war are indispensable.

But what Sean really valued was actually the second floor of the underground space of the Black Swan Castle.

Anno had returned to the carriage outside the castle, took a few torches, and lit them. Then, under the sign of Sean, he held a heavy shield in his left hand and a torch in his right, and then walked down the stairs. Behind him was another northern barbarian, but his right hand was carrying two handles. Long spears, one of which belonged to Anno, and Sean was in third place, followed by Cecilia, William, and then several northern barbarians.

Although he knew that the underground space was not dangerous, Xiao En did not say anything to prevent Anno and others from being cautious. Of course, Xiao En would not refuse this kind of attitude change. Because it does mean that this northern barbarian army that has followed him for several battles is undergoing a certain qualitative change, and this change will also affect more northern barbarians in the future. For this, Sean is still very happy to comment.

This ladder is a spiral ladder, and on the wall next to the ladder, there is a candlestick every some distance, but because there is no candle on the candlestick, there is no way to light it.

The ladder is not deep, only ninety-nine steps.

So it didn't take much time, everyone had already arrived at the first floor of this underground space.

Shaun took the torch from Anno's hand, and then walked a few steps forward, extending the torch into a groove on the left.

In an instant, a blaze burst out from the groove, and then in a sweeping posture like a prairie fire, it quickly burned out along the direction of the groove. Then everyone could clearly see that a fire snake was wandering across the entire underground floor, but in just a few seconds, the originally dark and gloomy underground floor became completely bright as day. At this time, everyone discovered that the entire basement floor had been surrounded by these grooves, and after the grooves were filled with kerosene, so as long as the torch was inserted in, the entire underground floor space could be lit up. It's not like a ladder with only candlesticks but no candles.

At this moment, the entire basement level was clearly revealed in front of everyone, and there were no secrets to hide.

It's just that everyone is disappointed that in the huge space on the first floor, they didn't see anything priceless. Although there is still enough food to support a year, it is only considered based on the scale of the Black Swan Castle. If it is converted into the size of the entire army that Sean needs to support at present, it is probably only enough. Only one and a half months of rations.

In addition to food, the first floor also stores arrows stacked in bundles. William observed it visually. There were about one million sticks, which was worth a thousand gold when converted into gold coins. It was not even as good as the pile of grain, but because the quantity was a bit more than grain, it looked a little more spectacular. In addition, there is nothing left on the entire first floor, let alone unknown precious metals, even some standard weapons that can be replaced.

"I don't know if this pile of gadgets can be worth five thousand gold coins." William curled his lips. "You can hide such gadgets in such a large space, don't you feel poor?"

"At the beginning, the viscount was not known for his military and financial resources." Xiao En said with a smile, "but it's a pity, I originally thought there was something else of value hidden in it.... But there is better than that. No good, do you think there are other things on the castle? Asuna has almost emptied the entire castle, not even the fake oil paintings. If you let her know about this underground space, maybe even these kerosene They were all ransacked by her."

When they heard Shaun's words, everyone laughed in good faith, but they didn't know if Asuna, who was far away in Tonys Fortress, would sneeze because of it.

There is nothing to shop around on the whole floor, because there are no compartments, so everything stored is clear at a glance.

The team did not stop here. Under the leadership of Xiao En, they quickly walked to the stairs leading to the second floor of the basement.

This staircase is at the end of the first floor, but this time it is not a spiral staircase, but a very common zigzag staircase, with only two floors, each with thirteen steps.

Anno, the big guy, ran down excitedly and started looking for grooves. This guy who was still childish and innocent obviously wanted to try the feeling of lighting a fire snake with his own hands. But on the second floor, holding a torch around the door, but still didn't see the groove, so this guy turned his head to look at Sean with a grievance and pity, like an abandoned puppy. Generally, people are a little bit dumbfounded.

In response, Sean shrugged helplessly, and smiled: "There are no grooves on this layer, so if you want to fire, there's no way."

The space on the second floor of the basement is not large. It can even be said that it is about the size of the most common aristocratic living room-hundreds of square meters. After nearly twenty people poured in, the room actually seemed a bit crowded, but there were many candles on the wall candlesticks. After everyone lit them one by one, the whole room became bright again.

Presented in front of everyone is a very ordinary-looking stone round table with nothing on it.

But when Sean looked at this round table, there was a hint of excitement on his face. Only Cecilia who had been following Sean was able to notice this. In fact, since Sean opened this tunnel to the underground, Cecilia has been observing, because no one knows Sean better than her, so Cecilia was pretty sure from the beginning that this black There must be something in Swan Castle that Sean desperately needs.

It's just that she didn't expect it to be such a simple and simple round table.

But when Cecilia stepped forward, she suddenly felt an extremely abundant magical power continuously emerging from the round table. It's just that there seems to be an enchantment or magic circle around the round table, which prevents the abundant magic power from gushing out on the round table. Only when it is close to a certain extent can you feel that it is almost like a heart. Generally pulsating magical power fluctuations.

Then Cecilia immediately lowered her head and looked down, and found that within three meters of the round table, many dark secret lines were drawn. If you don't pay attention to observation, you can't see these secret lines at all.

"Found it?" Sean smiled and rubbed Cecilia's head. "If I want to sell this round table, it won't be a problem to switch to Dangdang."

Sean said so indifferent content, but once again deeply shocked both Cecilia and William.

Just a round table has such a high value, what kind of round table is it?

However, Sean didn't seem to have the intention of selling the Guanzi. He quickly explained: "This round table, you can find descriptions about it in many ancient books. Although it is only a few records, it does exist in reality. A product of ancient history."

"Round table...ancient history..." As a magician, Cecilia had to be knowledgeable, so after a few hints by Sean, she already had a vague concept, a few seconds later. There was an extremely shocked look, "Could it be... the platform of piety that can communicate with the gods in the legend?"

William is not as knowledgeable as Cecilia, but he never knows some basic knowledge. Therefore, when I heard "Tower of Piety", the shocked expression on his face turned into a look of surprise.

"Almost." Sean nodded.

"What does it mean to be similar?" Cecilia subtly captured another meaning in Sean's words.

"The true platform of devotion has long been destroyed by the twilight of the gods, so this one is actually a fake." Shaun pointed to this stone round table and said, "strictly speaking, this thing should be called the platform of sacrifice. , The magic circle you see underground is not only used to seal the magic of the stone table from dissipating, it also has an amplifying effect. So as long as there are enough sacrifices, you can offer it on this round table. Sacrifice, it's just that this round table is actually something that the demons tossed out, so the only way to communicate is the abyss. So if the sacrifice is enough, it's not impossible to summon a demon lord to come out and play."

"This....."

"Remember the Demon I sold? It's a portable product for this thing. But the Demon Book can't summon the Demon Lord, but this stone table has a way. It's just a demon creature summoned as a sacrifice. It is an equality contract, not an absolute master-servant contract like the Book of Devil.... But the biggest advantage of this thing is that any weird thing can be a sacrifice, as long as the sacrifice is placed on it. , The color of the stone table turns red to indicate that the sacrifice is accepted, and the darker the color, the heavier the sacrifice."

For no reason, Sean suddenly remembered the hapless player who accidentally discovered this stone table. Because I was too excited, I took a photo and uploaded it to the forum to share it with others. It turned out that in just one day, the Black Swan Castle changed ownership thirteen times. In the end, the Black Swan Castle was destroyed and destroyed. Gradually no players are interested.

But Sean is not the kind of person who likes to show off. He always remembers the truth that the president of the president told him: to be a man, you must always learn to make a fortune in a muffled voice.

Chapter 160: .Lord system on confirmed the real existence of the stone table, and Sean has no interest in these two underground spaces.

He didn't know if the Viscount of Darbion Kingdom had any descendants, or if anyone else in his family knew the function of this sacrificial platform. But Sean knew that in the war with Cecilia, there were no demons in the Viscount's army, so there are only two explanations. The first is that he didn't know the function of the Sacrificial Platform. The second point is that this viscount, who is completely comparable to Asuna in terms of poverty, has no suitable sacrifices.

After leaving this underground space, Sean set the position of the candlestick—this candlestick requires a certain level of strength and agility to open, and it is not something that can be opened by just pulling it hard.

Looking at the statue sinking again, the entire lobby on the first floor was restored to its original state in an instant.

The people who were originally interested in the underground space lost interest after hearing that there was nothing below. Although I was a bit regretful for not being able to go down to see the appearance of the "fire dragon blooming", everyone did not show any other emotions because of it. With regard to the platform of sacrifice, Sean has ordered all the northern barbarians to keep secret. , Whether it is as the unit leader or whatever, Shaun's words, these northern barbarians must of course abide by it, not to mention the presence of Anno, the prestigious former unit leader.

After , everyone began to truly explore the Black Swan Castle.

Only William did not.

The lazy guy simply returned to the carriage and lay down to sleep. In his words, it would be time to visit in the future, and there is no need to rush it for a while, anyway, the entire castle is in ruins, and it can only be a hindrance to my own eyes if I visit it now.

And Cecilia, still immersed in the power and fear of the Sacrificial Platform. So Sean left a few people in charge of protecting Cecilia, and he walked towards the fourth floor of the castle-actually the sixth floor.

Here, it can actually be regarded as the open-air platform of the entire Black Swan Castle.

Sean knew that there were actually two magic ballistas that were fixed on it, but they were later dismantled and sold by Asuna. On the platform, because it has not been taken care of for a long time, it is also covered with fallen leaves and weeds, but it may be because of the lake that runs behind the Angroda Mountains, so the platform does not look shabby. On the contrary, There is a taste full of nature.

At this time, it happened to be autumn. The leaves of the forest by the lake had begun to turn yellow, and the grass was covered with a thick layer of fallen leaves. When Sean came up, I could see a few rabbits running on it, but they were not as afraid of people as I imagined. After a distance of more than ten meters from Sean, these rabbits stood upright, looking curious. Looking at Sean, Sean just made a face, and these cowards immediately ran away, and then stopped to observe Sean again.

After a while, maybe it was discovered that Sean was not harmful, so these rabbits ran back, and there were even a few boldly less than three meters away from Sean. Seeing this scene, Sean felt a moment of relaxation. The various disputes, battles and calculations in the past year made him feel very tired. After being completely relaxed at this moment, the whole person has a sense of spiritual sublimation. .

shook his head, Xiao En dispelled the sleepiness from the breeze, and then looked up at the lake in front of him.

The water surface of this lake is shimmering, and the water quality is clear to the bottom. There are many swimming fish in the lake. It is obvious that this lake is a lake of living water. In the woods of the mountains, this lake breeds countless creatures, and because the surrounding mountains are steep, Black Swan Castle is actually not afraid of being attacked by crossing the mountains—of course, there must be some who can do this. Experts with sufficient strength, but the regular garrison of Black Swan Castle has always been 500 people. If only two or three people come, it is really meaningless, and if there are too many people, I want to avoid leaks. It's also a bit difficult.

Furthermore, Black Swan Castle did not have masters here before.

It's just a pity that Sean couldn't see the legendary black swans on this lake, which he felt quite regretful.

So turned around, and Sean walked to the other side of the castle platform.

Standing here, the scenery within a radius of one kilometer is almost in sight, whether it is the foot of the Black Swan Castle, the black reef grassland further away, or the three small towns on the right side of the castle, almost Everything can be seen from here. I have to say that the location of the Black Swan Castle's original buildings was actually very good. The castle's fortifications are very complete, the scenery is very beautiful, and it can even play a role in observation and monitoring.

It's really uncommon to be able to integrate so many castles into one on the whole wonderland.

However, as soon as Xiao En looked over, a strange electronic sound suddenly rang in his mind.

【Check that you have met the qualifications of the lord, the lord system is officially opened.
】

Then, a series of dense data suddenly appeared in Sean's mind. So much data and intelligence, regardless of whether Sean can accept it or not, all are densely stuffed into Sean's mind. Only for a moment, Sean feels that his head is about to explode to a general, strong and clear extreme. The pain almost made Sean faint.

It's just that this kind of pain comes quickly and goes quickly.

It took less than a minute before and after , and this intense pain had disappeared. Had it not been for the protruding temples, the tingling pains at the Tianling acupoint, and the clothes that were almost completely soaked, Xiao En couldn't believe that he had just experienced a terrible disaster. However, he really couldn't tell whether this disaster was good or bad for him.

After a few minutes of rest, when the intense pain disappeared completely, Xiao En slowly sat down against the retaining wall on the platform, and then opened his personal attribute panel. At the top of the personal attribute panel, in addition to displaying [Status] and [Skills], there are two more options, one of which is the new option [Army] that was opened after [True Eye] was promoted to Tier 2. Now, on the right side of this option, there is a brand new option [Lord].

Sean lightly clicked on [Lord] with consciousness, and then a whole row of detailed data about the lord was displayed densely.

【Lord: Sean Connery】

【Title: Jazz】

[Territory: None]

【Have funds: 2773685】

[Base Camp: Black Swan Castle]

【The number of castles owned: 1】

【The number of fortresses owned: 0】

【Number of points owned: 0】

【Number of cities owned: 0】

【Number of towns owned: 0】

【Number of villages owned: 0】

【Number of military camps owned: 0】

[Territory Prosperity Index: Terrible]

【Territory People's Sentiment Index:——】

【Lord's reputation evaluation: no fame】

This series of data completely reflects the capital and ability that Sean currently possesses as a lord. And when Sean focuses on these data, he will get a clearer display of the new data.

For example, when Sean focused on the item [number of castles owned], the name "Black Swan Castle" appeared immediately, and then if he focused on "Black Swan Castle", what about A series of relevant data of this castle will be immediately displayed, including a lot of things such as the construction of the castle, the number of prisoners, the luxury of the castle, etc., but these tedious data Sean does not bother to look at it. He just focused on the degree of defense of the castle, the number shown above was 7%, not 0% as Sean thought.

Although the number is 7%, the defense strength is actually negligible. Because the gate of the castle has been destroyed, it is useless even if the defense of the outer wall of the castle is 100%. As long as the enemy advances, Sean will have to fight the enemy inside the castle, so in fact, if he really wants to renovate If you are a black swan castle, the most important thing is to build the castle first.

In this way, Sean can see a lot of building menus in the castle.

But most of these menus are gray, which means that these buildings can be built, but they lack materials or other things.

This is where Sean is somewhat helpless.

In the final analysis, because the world is real, it is impossible to say that after clicking on the option, it is impossible to say that after he clicks on the option, he will immediately succeed in magical construction. This still requires repair and maintenance.

For example, the most basic city gate, above is a list of two things that Shaun can currently build. There are no special requirements for these two contents, just a hundred gold coins are enough. As long as Sean agrees, he can immediately obtain a construction drawing about the city gate, and then he can only find a construction worker to come. Repair according to this drawing, but of course it will take time.

In addition, there are a lot of other building menus, and among them, there are many buildings that need to be built before they can be built.

But these are not what Sean cares about most. What really made him care about was the series of duck eggs, which simply dazzled his eyes. Although he already knew that the three towns he wanted might not be so easy to start, but he really saw this so-called Sean still felt a little depressed when recording the situation in his "Lord System", because this "Lord System" was a true record of the current situation, so he would never deceive Sean.

Of course, although a little disappointed, Sean was not frustrated because of this. After all, when he came to Black Swan Castle, he had already negotiated a series of next actions with William, and now this "lord system" is also It's just that I can finally make up my mind to do something. At least in any case, the three small towns Sean must be recovered, because these three small towns represent Sean's first source of funds.

Sitting and eating mountains and sky is also not Sean's character.