

Lord of War 22

Chapter 22: .Blood Pattern Hexagon Ring

was originally a dark outpost with no light, but at this moment, there was moonlight shining from the sky, as if to bring a touch of warmth to this dark place.

In this huge camp, there are two bright yellow lights shining, one big and one small.

The big one is naturally the flame still burning in the reservoir; while the small one is the unextinguished flame on the mutant corpse monster.

Xiao En looked at the corpse of this mutant corpse, his face was ugly, because the corpse was almost turned into charcoal.

In this way, it is naturally impossible for him to get the things that fell from the boss.

"Dark Outpost" this dungeon, if you want to harvest it completely, you can only rely on head-to-head methods to force it to get the benefits of the entire dungeon. Sean used a tricky method to kill the corpses. It is naturally impossible to get any of the drops in the storage tank, but he didn't care much about these ordinary things. The real goal is actually here. On the mutant corpse demon.

But now, the flames on the mutant corpse won't go out, how can he touch the corpse?

Let others help extinguish the flames?

What should say? Are you afraid of causing forest fire or does this mutant corpse demon have props on him?

Shaun's head became two big in an instant.

Since experiencing the copy of "Wandering Darkness", Sean has already understood the monster drop situation in this world: it is exactly the same as "Miracle". In other words, the equipped items will only drop from humanoid and humanoid monsters. Other monsters such as monsters and beasts will only drop items such as fur, bones, and crystal cores, while other materials can only be dropped. Obtained by means of collection.

But even if it is equipment, it is not dropped randomly. A humanoid monster holding a sword can never drop a spear, nor can a person wearing a leather armor drop an armor, and the things it drops through different attack methods are also slightly different, such as attacking the throat of the wind-stripe black wolf. It will lose the crystal core and so on. Even humanoid monsters may be too badly damaged because of their equipment. Even if they are acquired, they will be useless.

Among them, jewelry items are the hardest to drop.

But Xiao En knew that this mutant corpse happened to be a monster that would drop jewelry-like equipment, and it was also the only way for players to obtain jewelry from monsters in the early stage.

But looking at the human-shaped torch in front of him, Sean was completely in tears: "How can this fire have been burning for so long?"

"The magic power here is so sufficient, and it is close to the tide of magic power. You also threw the combustion aid. The fire has not burned for two or three days, I am afraid it will not be extinguished." Cecilia stood by Sean's side. , Commented, "The flames over there will probably burn longer, and will not go out for at least a month."

glanced at the reservoir, Xiao En seemed to have ten thousand grass and mud horses running wildly in his heart: What I want is the jewelry from the mutant corpse!

Seeing that the situation has reached this point, no matter how depressed it is, it is useless, so he can only clean up his mood and walk towards Du Luen and Harley. At this moment, everyone was surrounding the guard who was hit by the mutant corpse just now and flew out. Old Peter is trying his best to rescue him, and the others are also nervous.

"How is he?" Sean walked over and asked Du Luen.

"My life is saved, but..." Du Luen frowned, and then sighed. "The bones in his left arm were broken, his right arm was also fractured, and the internal organs were severely shaken. These injuries are now impossible to deal with, old man. Peter can only save his life, but he hasn't been treated now, I'm afraid people will be abolished."

Du Luen said a lot of things, but Sean couldn't understand it very well, so he simply checked it with real eyes and looked at the data of this guard and the data of the other two guards. His face was dark and he understood thoroughly. The cruelty of this world.

This guard is more than simply abolished. The two stats of strength and agility directly fell to one point, which is worse than Cecilia. The endurance value has also dropped to ten from twenty-four, which happens to be the statistic of a normal adult. However, the will attribute has been slightly improved, but in this world where the power is respected, what is the use of simply having a high will attribute?

Seeing Shaun's face a little sad, Du Luen, Harley and others thought that Shaun was blaming himself for this. Du Luen patted Sean on the shoulder and said: "This is unavoidable in the life of a mercenary. , You don't need to blame yourself, you have to know that your current achievements are already very impressive, even those famous mercenary groups can't do better than you, maybe the casualties will be even worse."

Shaun nodded, and didn't go further on this topic. In a month in this world, he also saw things like this more than once, but every time he saw it, he was still a little embarrassed. After all, he had never seen such a cruel fact before he came to this world, even if it was In the game, npc is just a piece of data. If you don't use it, just delete it.

Seeing that Old Peter was still doing first aid for the guard, Sean stepped back and looked around. The darkness that enveloped the entire dark outpost had disappeared. It was just the chaotic nature of the black earth, but it didn't. Has changed. I'm afraid that in a few years, a new batch of monsters will still be born here, and at that time I am afraid that this place is not undead creatures such as corpses, but blackened by other monsters from the Starfall Forest. The real dark creatures produced.

"Don't be upset, you don't want it either." Cecilia tugged at Sean's sleeve and sighed, "I'll tell you a good thing."

Sean looked at Cecilia's smile, stretched out his hand and rubbed Cecilia's head, and had a decision in his heart: Maybe this world is cruel, but he has no retreat, even if he doesn't think about it for himself. , Must also be considered for Cecilia, and may even be considered for more and more people in the future.

"What a good thing." With a decision, Sean will naturally no longer be confused. He is a man of firm mind.

Hearing Sean's question, Cecilia took out a ring in a treasure-like manner and dangled it in front of Sean.

This is a ring made of black stone mixed with exotic metals. The whole ring is hexagonal. On it, a circle of runes is drawn with an unknown red liquid. These runes are as small as tadpoles. It is connected end to end, not just handwriting. In addition, the entire ring has no other decorations. If it weren't for these red runes, the ring would have been a bit simple and atmospheric.

At the moment when he saw this ring, Sean's eyes straightened, and his face was inexplicably surprised: "This ring...Where did you come from?"

"The mutant corpse fell from Du Luen and Old Peter when they were assassinated." Cecilia saw Sean's face, and she understood in her heart, "You really know this thing. The origin... It seems that there is nothing in this world that you don't know."

"I don't know anything from ancient times." Xiao En smiled, "Can I see this ring?"

"Of course." Cecilia threw the ring to Sean, not caring what it was.

When the ring fell into Xiao En's hands, he felt a strange wave of power, and he couldn't help sighing: It really was a blood-stripe hexagonal ring.

【Bloodmark Hexagon Ring, Powerful Demonization (Bronze), Intelligence +12, Will +15, All Undead Magic Level +1, Undead Creature Control +1. Equipment requirements: Intelligence 20, Will 20. Curse (weak): Make a Will check every night. If the Will check is greater than 20, the appraisal is passed, and the check fails and becomes a corpse demon on the spot. 】

[Item description: This is a mysterious ring of unknown origin. You can feel the breath of blood and dead souls entwined on it. If worn by an unsteady person, it will soon be attacked by the above breath and become a corpse. Demon. 】

Mutated corpse demon, there are four kinds of jewelry that will drop, three rings and one necklace, and the best one is this blood-stripe hexagon ring. But the better the best thing, the lower the explosion rate. Sean had only heard a total of eleven in the seven years in the game. This shows how precious this ring is, but this one Even if the ring is of the sixth rank, it can be regarded as the main prop.

But Sean, just can't be happy at all.

What he wants is not this ring.

"This is a bloodline hexagon ring." Shaun threw the ring back to Cecilia. "This is a magical equipment. Although the loss of magic power is quite serious, it is still a very good thing anyway. If this thing is for a Necromancer, it would be the most perfect thing, but you are also a wizard, it is quite suitable to use, at least it can hone your will, maybe it will make you smarter."

Hearing Sean's words, Cecilia chuckled and said, "How can anyone become smart if they wear a piece of jewelry."

Shaun pouted and didn't explain. He couldn't explain to Cecilia what personal attributes were. Even if it can be explained, I'm afraid she won't understand it. It's better to let her get in touch with and feel it, but there are some things that need to be explained clearly to Cecilia.

"This ring is not an ordinary thing. If you wear it, the dark atmosphere on it will continue to erode your will, so if you feel any discomfort, you must take the ring off."

Cecilia had never seen Sean show such a serious side, and couldn't help but feel a little awe-inspiring: "I see."

When Sean saw that Cecilia had taken her words to heart, he nodded, and then smiled: "There are other things in this camp. Let's go look for them. Anyway, I don't have anything to do when I'm idle.... Wait. After they have handled it over there, we can leave here."

While saying this, Sean looked at the road leading to the exit, and couldn't help muttering to himself: "I don't know if that thing is there now..."
