

Lord of War 29

Chapter 29: .The all-knowing stick

In the hotel room, Sean stood at the window, watching Ron and his guard leave.

The cost of dinner was paid by Ron of course, and Ron, who was originally only pale, was already in a certain state of despair after the guard returned. Obviously, he has been confirmed from the guard, not to mention that the news that Sean said before is true or false, it is just that he is involved in the relationship with the Viscount of Tindes, which is not something he can blame. .

Especially, this viscount will become the master of Tindes in the future if nothing happens.

A marquis.

Although Sean is not very optimistic about Du Luen as a idiot, his strength is real. The viscount's name is accumulated through his military exploits, unlike his uncle, Earl Mario, who relied on some opportunistic means. The title of coming. Among other things, a hereditary viscount is much more noble than Mario's lifelong earl.

Seeing that Ron and the guard had disappeared at the end of the street, Sean finally looked back.

"You already knew the situation of the Black Cat Chamber of Commerce, right?" Cecilia remained silent, but it didn't mean that she hadn't seen the development of things.

A smart person may not necessarily be a magician, but a person who can be a magician is definitely a smart person.

"Almost." Sean shrugged and said an ambiguous answer, "The Black Cat Chamber of Commerce has too much appetite, and they shouldn't have introduced cubic spinel. This has touched the interests of many people." Speaking of this, At one point, Sean himself was stunned for a moment, and then smiled helplessly: "But this is not easy to talk about. The House of Dragon Language has long been deliberately opening the magic material market in the north, but it has been kept by the Black Cat Chamber of Commerce. It's just a tough stance to block the door. If you don't find this channel, sooner or later, the Dragon Language House will open the market in this way."

"In fact, the last thing the Black Cat Chamber of Commerce should not be is to find other people to contact the purchase channel of the spinel." Cecilia thought about it for a moment, and then said, "Money can't be made, they should start from Start with the Dragon Language House, so that it will not touch too many people's nerves. And in this way, they are tied to the same boat as the Dragon Language House, and it is impossible for the Dragon Language House to sit and watch their goods. That's it."

"You can see it thoroughly." Sean smiled, showing a look of approval, "Much better than Ron."

"Listening to you, I think you even know who the robbed prisoner is." Cecilia looked curious and stared at Sean like this, "Sometimes I'm really curious about you. What kind of person... If you know so much knowledge is already incredible, now that these news and inside information are so clear, this really makes me very puzzled."

Sean smiled and patted Cecilia on the head, and whispered, "Because I am an all-knowing stick."

"According to our magician's theory, omniscience is omnipotent." Cecilia pursed her mouth, and patted Sean's dog paws. Do you mean you are a god?"

"I am omniscient, but it does not mean omnipotence." Sean looked disdainful, as if he didn't put God in his eyes at all. "Even if I was omniscient and omnipotent, I wouldn't be a god.... When a  is too tired, it's better to be a  stick. I want to Just take. Even if someone asks me to take what I don't want, I won't take it."

Cecilia looked thoughtful.

Looking at the maturity that Cecilia showed at a young age, Sean suddenly reached out and messed up her hair, and squeezed her cheek hard, causing Cecilia's face to be angry.

"Don't always put on this kind of face, it's not suitable for you." Xiao En laughed, "As a little girl, you have to show the vigor and sunshine that a little girl has. Don't always pretend to be an adult."

"Humph." With a soft snort, Cecilia didn't put on the appearance of a little adult anymore. It's you who fooled me. Say, sly Mr. Sean, what do you want from him?"

"It was discovered by you." Sean laughed more happily.

"certainly!"

"So it seems that Ron should have already understood it." Shaun's gaze was cast out of the window again.

"What is it that makes you care so much?" Cecilia's curiosity is now truly inspired.

"Ron's hand has a ruby with powerful magical power." Sean's voice was calm, but there was a little more temptation inexplicably, "He asked everyone in the Black Cat Chamber of Commerce to check this ruby. But no one knew the origin of this gem, so Ron only regarded this ruby as a collection."

"A ruby with powerful magic power?" Cecilia Dai frowned slightly, then raised her head in surprise, "Could it be..."

"You really belong to the Maggie Empire."

Shaun turned his head, chuckled, his eyes were a little clearer.

...

At this moment when Sean seemed to see through Cecilia's identity, Ron and his guard were also walking towards their residence.

Under the charming moonlight, the shadows of Ron and the guards were stretched long, and the night wind blew away, blowing away a bit of heat in exchange for a bit of coolness.

But Ron, under the blowing of the night wind, shuddered, only feeling cold all over.

"Mr. Fox, do you think that Mr. Sean said these words, can you believe it?"

Ron still has no blood on his face at this moment. The young man's spirit and his own arrogance and self-confidence are all gone, just like a child who is undecided, trying to find a little comfort. He has already told the guard around him what Shaun said before. It's not that he can't think of the corresponding precautions, but the most important thing now is to retrieve the lost square crystals first. Shi, but he didn't have a clue about this.

In fact, on the day the spinel was robbed, he had already sent someone to search for it, but the clue that he finally found was led to Arthur City, and then the clue was completely broken. He has been found here in Arthur City for three days, but he has found nothing. Until today, he met Xiao En and made him think that things had turned for the better, so he couldn't wait to rush over at night.

And Sean, naturally, is not clear about the details. Reality is not a game after all. There is no data here that limits the situation-what should happen will still happen, but once it happens, things will immediately follow. , But it's not like in the game because no one has received the task, so the task has been blocked, and will not change in the slightest.

"Master Ron, I don't understand these things." The middle-aged man called Fox shook his head. "My duty is just to protect you.... But that man's words, I think I should believe it, and I have already After questioning, Viscount Du Luen has indeed returned to Tindesberg, and he returned in an unknown way. No one knows how he came back."

After hearing Fox's words, Ron's brows wrinkled tighter, but there was no hint of joy on his face: "Compared to the cooperation between Polar Silver and Medusa, I would rather Polar Silver be with the Dragon Language House. Cooperation."

If Polar Silver is only trying to seize market share, then the Black Cat Chamber of Commerce can still retain at least half of the market share. Even if Polar Silver cooperates with Dragon Language House, at least the Black Cat Chamber of Commerce is confident that it will occupy at least 30% of the market share. market share. But once Polar Silver cooperates with Medusa, the Black Cat Chamber of Commerce may not even have 10% of the market share, because Medusa is also a chamber of commerce mainly dealing in magic materials and magic items, and it is also the northern continent. The scale here is second only to the Black Cat Chamber of Commerce.

"Master Ron, I don't understand these doorways and situations." Fox said in a deep voice, "But if that man really told you that, then he must know a lot of things you don't know, instead of our being here. Random guessing and distress, why don't it be better to visit him tomorrow?"

"Heh." Ron smiled bitterly. "Of course I know it would be better. I even know why he said these things, because obviously I have what he needs. But what I am really worried about now is me. I don't know what he wants."

"This..." Fox frowned, "Could it be that weird ruby?"

Ron's eyes suddenly brightened, but then quickly dimmed: "If this is the case, then it proves that the value of the ruby is much more valuable than we suspected.... It's a pity that I don't even know that one. What is the origin of the gems, even the chief deacon in the Chamber of Commerce does not know."

Speaking of this, Ron and Fox stopped talking, and the atmosphere suddenly became silent.

After a while, when Ron and Fox walked back to their current temporary residence in Arthur City, Ron exhaled as if suddenly made up his mind, and said: "Tomorrow you will contact Anrolla's. People, let them send me the ruby as quickly as possible....I hope it's still too late."

...

On the other side, Cecilia and Sean's fight seems to have ended, and they are lying on the bed at the moment.

"Sean, do you really know who the people who robbed the group of spinel from the Black Cat Chamber of Commerce?"

"Of course." Sean curled his lips, "I said, I'm an all-knowing magic stick, how could I not know."

"The strength of the Black Cat Chamber of Commerce should be good, who is it?"

"Polar Silver and Medusa's teamwork." Sean said lightly, "Of course, the House of Dragon Whispers also participated, because the information about the spinel was revealed to Medusa by the House of Dragon Whispers, but There is actually a very key figure in it. Without him, it would be impossible for Medusa and Polar Silver to reach a joint agreement, and Medusa's strength would naturally not be able to defeat the Black Cat."