

Lord of War 68

Chapter 68: .Hard armor curing

Cave Demon, is the natural partner of Crypt Demon.

Everyone knows that the amber blood in their bodies can provide a kind of solidification effect for cave tunnels, which is enough to prevent caves from collapsing. Even the mining tunnels of some large mines will find ways to get these amber liquids for smearing. Moreover, people also know that the digestive juice of cave monsters is also a natural smelting process. They condense and excrete all kinds of metals by swallowing them, which is a perfect smelting, which is much purer than human craftsmanship. .

The weapons of the Crypt Demon are forged in this way. Therefore, the weapons of the Crypt Demon are generally excellent. Occasionally, the synthesis of rare precious metals can even reach the high-quality level, but the magic weapon is still the same. To be obtained through other means.

Of course, the benefits of cave worms are more than that. They are also a very powerful boost when necessary. Although no crystal nucleus is generated in the body, it is not a monster, but with the offensive of the Crypt Demon, they can also exert a fighting power similar to that of a Tier 3 strength person.

These are common sense that humans in the surface world know.

But few people know that when facing both the Crypt Demon and the Cave Demon, you must never kill the Cave Demon first!

The player is a very wonderful creature. Because they will not really die, they can always make countless attempts. Any problem will be solved in their hands. The question is whether they want to solve it, let alone there are several factions among the players. Classification, such as the exquisite party, the setting party, the theoretical party, the practical party, and the most special strategy party.

Sean is a staunch supporter of the Raiders Party. He will absorb and digest the results of the setting party, the theoretical party and the practical party, and then sum up his own strategy and combat awareness, and directly solve various problems in the game in a better, faster and more ruthless way.

The battle theory of Crypt Demon and Cave Demon is the perfect strategy that Sean first proposed in "Miracle".

Therefore, he has a deep memory.

Below , on the fourth-level platform of the cave, the death of the cave monster did not emit any * smell, but a faint smell.

This is also the peculiarity of cave monsters.

Six Crypt Demons roared angrily, but nearly 30 members of the Blood Weeping Mercenary Group responded with a grin and didn't care. Although the Crypt Demon is indeed much stronger than normal humans, they also lost more than 20 people in the previous battle, but they also wiped out nearly ten Crypt Demon and one cave demon. No matter how you look at this deal. It's all worth it, and now the number is five times the number of Crypt Demon, how can the people of the Blood Weeping Mercenary Group be afraid.

However, in a scene that they did not expect at all, the four crypt fiends at the front did not rush to fight to death. Instead, they cut open the outer skin of the cave fiend with a backhand, and a large amount of amber liquid came from the wound. It sprayed out like a blowout, showering on the six crypt demon. In an instant, the six crypt demon men were dyed into an amber color, and even the weapons in their hands seemed to ignite an amber flame.

The magician from the Medusa Chamber of Commerce seemed to have expected such a move a long time ago. He stepped back a few steps and opened a distance to avoid being overwhelmed by the amber liquid. The Blood Weeping Mercenary Corps standing close to the cave worms did not anticipate this change at all. Three of them were directly drenched with amber liquid from head to tail and turned into a piece of amber.

And luckily, it did not turn into amber, and most of it was sprayed on its body, which is basically equivalent to losing combat effectiveness.

Only, there are only 22 of the nearly 30 members of the Blood Weeping Mercenary Corps who still have the fighting ability.

"This...what's going on?" Alfred asked with some horror. This was the first time he showed shock.

"The hard armor is solidified." Xiao En replied softly. He noticed that when the blood of the cave worm spurted out, the magician simply retreated out of the range, thinking that he definitely knew what was going to happen right now. Demon insects and Crypt Demon are natural partners. When encountering this combination, you must not kill the cave demon first, because the blood of the cave demon will make the body of the Crypt Demon a strengthened increase, which greatly improves Their defensive ability. And the blood of the cave monster will only completely solidify into a hard lump after half an hour of death."

"If this is the case, isn't it also a way for the Crypt Demon to kill the Cave Demon first?"

"They are natural partners. Even if they die in battle, the Crypt Demon will not kill the cave insects by themselves." Sean shook his head and denied Cecilia's statement. "That's why I said, those servants The soldiers are going to be unlucky... Especially, there is also a magician from the Medusa Chamber of Commerce."

As if to confirm Sean's words, facing the noisy curses of the mercenaries of the Blood Weeping Mercenary Group, the four crypt demon roared more violently, and then directed at more than twenty. The mercenaries rushed up, and the two crypt demon who were good at defense also retreated to the magician's side at this moment to protect him. In this safe and protected environment, the magician naturally began to chant the spell with peace of mind, preparing for combat support.

Looking at the four Crypt Demon rushing towards him, the strength of these people is only the lower bronze, and the crowded Blood Weeping Mercenary Group will naturally not be afraid. Moreover, the confrontation in another cave just now gave them a sufficient understanding of these crypt demon-the skin on the crypt demon is indeed a natural armor, which is difficult to deal with, but it is only That's it.

One of the Blood Weeping Mercenary Group suddenly waved the heavy sword that needs to be held in both hands, and the mercenaries beside him screamed and rushed towards the four crypts that had struck him like a torrent. Devil.

The two parties soon had the first close contact.

A man holding a huge heavy axe suddenly grabbed the battle axe in his hand and slashed it towards a crypt demon. In the previous confrontation, he used this terrible strength and weapon advantage to abolish the right hand of a crypt demon. At this time, the reapplication of the old skills is naturally more smooth and fluent than the first time. When I thought of the horrified look on the other person's face that was similar to a human, my heart felt relieved for no reason.

Humans have never admitted that the Crypt Demon is a part of them!

Faced with this extremely violent aesthetic axe, the crypt demon he used as a prey suddenly raised a left hand—he didn't even stretch out his arm to block, but used his palm to pick up the opponent's axe blade. . In the mocking look of the Blood Weeping Mercenary Corps, the left hand of the Crypt Demon finally touched the blade of this heavy axe.

As if knocking in the rock, with a muffled sound, some fragments similar to stone chips burst out of the crypt demon's hands. However, the heavy recoil force shook the hands of this mercenary of the Blood Weeping Mercenary Corps. The look on his face changed from the initial mockery to incredible, and then it turned into a look of horror, because He had already caught sight of a cold light emerging.

The cold light flashed, but it was the sword that the crypt demon who blocked the heavy axe with his hand.

With the head flying high, the face of the mercenary of the Blood Weeping Mercenary Group still wore an incredible horror; blood, like the cave monster before, sprayed from the neck of the headless corpse. This crypt demon was dyed into a blood man.

The corpse of the mercenary also fell softly.

simple! simply! neat!

The fighting methods of the Crypt Demon have always been so direct and simple, because this is caused by the environment of the dungeon world, how simple and effective it is.

Scarlet blood was glowing on the amber skin, dripping slowly, the crypt demon was still expressionless, the beheading of the sword just now was naturally not a commendable thing for him. As if doing the most common thing, the crypt demon shook his left hand that blocked the heavy axe, holding the sword, and then killed the nearest humans.

Not only this crypt demon, the mercenaries who besieged the other three crypt demon were also directly killed by the opponent with fierce and brutal means. Facing the attack of the mercenaries, the Crypt Demon didn't care about killing the weapons against them at all, but they did not dare to ignore them like the Crypt Demon, even if they were killed by their backhand attacks. With the life-changing style of play, the mercenaries were completely unable to leave any physical damage on these crypt demon.

The confrontation was almost an instant, and the Blood Weeping Mercenary Group had completely fallen into the wind, and the Crypt Demon killed the seven with thunderous means in one encounter. They did not expect that the battle would become so ridiculous. No matter how fierce and fierce their attacks were, the Crypt Demon would be completely immune to physical damage. This was completely different from the situation in their previous confrontation. !

"How... how is it possible!" Alfred is obviously not the first time to fight a crypt demon, but it is definitely the first time he has seen such a battle with a crypt demon.

"Nothing is impossible." Sean shook his head. "They are looking for hardship. The effect of hard armor curing can last at least half an hour. If there is no such magician, those mercenaries may be okay as long as they put on the defensive. Persevere until the effect disappears, but if there is that magician, they will have no chance....Unless they return to the tunnel, I doubt that these crypt demons will let them go."

At this time, the magician of the Medusa Chamber of Commerce hiding behind the safety, finally finished singing the spell, and turned to stare at a mercenary of the Blood Weeping Mercenary Group.

I saw that the eyes of this mercenary quickly became dull, and the empty and confused eyes knew that this person was delirious. He stood in the field stupidly, and the four crypt demon also deliberately Avoided the mercenary, and ignored him. After a few seconds passed, the mercenary suddenly raised the weapon in his hand, then slammed it into the body of a nearby companion, and pierced his chest, but he seemed to be puzzled by his hatred, and he turned his grip a few more times. The hilt, the long sword stirred in this companion's body, causing him to let out a miserable howl.

Spiritual invasion!

Medusa Chamber of Commerce's most common magic, and also the most frightening magic, because they don't know how to prevent it.

But for Sean and Cecilia, there is no such problem. When they were hiding in the dark, they all showed a knowing smile when they saw this magic, because they were least afraid of this magic. Of course, there is no way to resist this magic with Sean's current will, but he doesn't need to face it by himself. Others have nothing to do with those crypt devils, but it doesn't mean that Sean also has nothing to do with them.

Alfred is not a decoration. His willpower is 32 points, which is strong enough to resist this magic.

"Prepare, when they are almost fighting, we will go down to disrupt the game." Sean gave an excited smile, "Those crypt devil will be handed to me to deal with, you can just haunt the magician, remember to be sure Can't let him start a spiritual invasion of me!"

Alfred nodded clearly, and his face also showed excitement. The previous battle with the wolf mercenary group did not make him full at all.

Cecilia heard that Sean had finished the assignment, and it seemed that there was nothing wrong with her, so she couldn't help but anxiously said, "What about me?"

"Look whoever is not pleasing to the eye, throw him a arrow of flame." Sean said without looking back, "but you can't get down on the platform. There are so many people on the other side. Alfred and I can't take out our hands to protect him. you."

"But at such a distance, I can't attack those people at all!"

"Then you can watch the show."
