

Lord of War 76

Chapter 76: .Bavarian arm armor production drawings

After a short break, Cecilia and Alfred had some food, and the three set out again.

In the cave, in addition to the corridor where Xiao En and others arrived, there are three other passages, one of which is the corridor where the Blood Weeping Mercenary Group and others retreat. For this road, Sean and others will of course not go, because it is obvious that this does not lead to a deeper underground, otherwise the crypt demon would have rushed out like crazy, it is impossible to be there. Fight with them in the cave.

The remaining two, there is also a vent, specifically for the cave. This corridor is quite easy to judge, because he simply drove a path, not like other corridors, there are obvious signs of opening and enlargement at the entrance of the cave, and this corridor can also accommodate it at all. The crawling of the crypt ice spiders, after all, they are not good at digging.

This passage is different from the other passages, because this passage does not suddenly widen near the cave, but maintains a width that can accommodate four people in parallel from beginning to end, and the height is still two meters.

After experiencing the situation in the cave, Xiao En now understands that the height of the tunnels in this crypt is all two meters, not because of the racial habits of the crypt demon, but because of the crypt spider. As an evolutionary variant of the Crypt Ice Spider, the Crypt Cold Spider is much smaller than the Crypt Ice Spider, with a height of about 1.5 meters, strong jumping ability, and eight legs as sharp as a sword blade. Kind of Warcraft that is very difficult to deal with.

The tunnel in front of me was dug so wide, obviously to allow the crypt spiders to have a free passage in and out. It's just a pity that the Medusa Chamber of Commerce definitely didn't expect that their plan would be destroyed so thoroughly, and even the spider eggs that they worked so hard to get would become other people's wedding clothes. If I knew that this would happen, I wonder if there is still such a thankless thing in the mood to toss?

Of course, there is no possibility of a new one.

At this time, Xiao En was wondering about the silence in the tunnel.

In his memory, there are indeed not many crypt demon in this crypt channel, only about twenty, and they are all Tier 3 professions, that is, the strength of the first-level bronze, even the strength of the peak. no. He remembered that the player who discovered this crypt channel at the beginning, that is, a Tier 3 occupation of about 7th level, was already able to almost sweep the action in this crypt, so he naturally wouldn't worry.

It's just the three cave monsters that really make him feel tricky.

Logically speaking, he had solved six crypt fiends before and witnessed the death of one cave fiend. Counting the number of crypt fiends that the Blood Weeping Mercenary Group might encounter, Sean estimated that it would be necessary. There are also nearly ten crypt monsters and two cave monsters. But in this tunnel, they have been walking for so long, and it takes a few hours to say nothing. They even made some deliberate noises, not to mention the cave monsters, not even a crypt demon. , This is really quiet a little weird.

Of course, Shaun didn't know that these twenty-odd crypt monsters had already taken three cave worms to move around in the crypt channel, blocking many human beings.

Of course, this kind of casualties are naturally between the two sides. Compared with the crowded human beings, the number of crypt demon is obviously too scarce. If it were not for other creatures and beasts in the crypt, plus the crypt channel If it's too complicated, these Crypt Demon would already have no idea how many times they have been defeated. But even so, it was really difficult for them to withstand the successive encounters, so the catalytic cultivation cave that was finally forced to the Crypt Ice Spider by the Blood Weeping Mercenary Group appeared.

In the crypt channel at this time, there are no longer any crypt monsters and cave monsters. The six Crypt Demons that Sean killed were the last remaining six Crypt Demons in this crypt channel.

Even though Sean didn't know this, he certainly wouldn't mind such safety in the tunnel. The only worry is that the remaining mercenaries of the Blood Weeping Mercenary Corps will return to the cave to fish in the muddy waters. While thinking about this, Sean's forward speed can not help but speed up a bit, after all, he has not encountered it on the road. When it comes to danger, of course there is Alfred, and they will naturally not take it lightly.

Take a short break on the way, and after another compressed instant dry food, the team seems to be rushing non-stop.

Calculated from the timeline, Cecilia felt that it should be noon the next day, and the three finally reached the end of the tunnel.

At the end of , the terrain no longer continued downward, but began to climb upward. Alfred stepped forward to check, and then found that the geology of the land here is soft and it is very easy to dig, but the road seems to be only half dug, and there is no real way to the ground, and there are no caves in the surrounding soil. The unique slime reinforcement of the demon worm is obviously very easy to collapse in this situation.

On the right side of this terrain, there is a cave that has been dug.

This cave has a large area and is completely different from ordinary caves and caves. It does not retain any original appearance. The entire cave even made a sliding stone gate. There is a mechanism behind the stone gate. Once it gets stuck, the stone gate cannot be broken with brute force; besides, the four walls in the cave are also It was so smooth that Sean felt like a mirror to the touch.

In this cave, there are even many rooms separated, and in each room there is a stone bed polished along the stone wall. In addition to the stone bed, there are some other scattered objects, which are basically some food that can be preserved. You can only see a set of blacksmith tools in one of the rooms. The only pity is that there is no furnace. I want to come to these crypt demon. The weapons are made long ago, but they only come here occasionally to maintain them.

"These crypt devils really regard this as a base!" After a round of inspections, Alfred finally exclaimed, "Is this really an outpost for the dungeon to attack the surface world?"

There have never been many wars between the dungeon and the ground world. At the beginning, there were even official events in the game that arranged for the dungeon's biological organization to attack. Every time, the players were dying, and there was even one. The classic story of the entire kingdom being destroyed by the dungeon forces. Therefore, in this world, the dungeons and the terrestrial nations are incompatible with the war, of course Sean will not be surprised.

"Almost." Sean said casually.

He doesn't care if this is an outpost, but he knows that the expulsion of these crypt demons must be inseparable from the Medusa Chamber of Commerce. He even thinks a little bit further. The Kingdom of Portoroa and the Kingdom of Selian later broke out in war, and he was sure It is the handwriting of the Medusa Chamber of Commerce, because this chamber of commerce is simply an existence that makes war money everywhere, even if they can't make money, they really like the chaos and destruction of this kind of war.

Alfred knew that Sean was looking for the legendary antiquities to make the blueprint. Although he was very curious about where Sean got this information, he still felt that he understood something when he thought of his aristocratic temperament. So he didn't ask any more questions, but also began to search in this cave, because he also knew the importance of the production drawing.

"Sean!" Cecilia suddenly let out a cheer.

When Sean heard the sound, he rushed to the room where Cecilia was located, which was a completely different room from the other rooms. Here, the smooth stone walls around are whitewashed with things, which look not so monotonous and cold, and the room is twice as large as other rooms. In addition to the bed, there is also a stone table similar to a desk. It should be a stone cave for bookshelves, but there are no books on it.

From the layout style, this is more like a human room.

However, at this moment, Sean's eyes were only on that desk.

On this, there is a leather drawing that is spread out to occupy half the size of a desk. This drawing is very old, with a lot of wear and hair on the corners, but the content recorded on it is not missing because of this. Whether it is the line drawing or the notes inside, all are clearly visible, and it is not due to time. Elapsed or historical issues, and this drawing appears to be incomplete.

Sean stretched out his hand and touched it, a little awe-inspiring in his heart: Dragon Skin.

But when I think of the power of the Bavarian arm armor, it is only natural that the blueprint that records the method of making this equipment is preserved with dragon skin. Seeing this legendary drawing in front of him at this time, Xiao En's heart was not so excited, even his face was calm as before, because he already knew the situation of this drawing. I've seen it once on the game forum.

As for a production drawing that does not make the "Bavarian Armguards" perfectly, of course, Sean also has enough reasons to remain calm.

【Bavarian Armor Outer Armor Making Drawings, Antiquities (Legend), you can make "Bavarian Armor Outer Armor", learning condition: Antiquities knowledge (Legend). 】

[Item description: This drawing records the relevant production process of the Bavarian arm armor, but you can tell at a glance that there is no production method of the core circuit. 】

"With this blueprint, can you make Bavarian arm armor?" Alfred also rushed over at this time, with a flash of enthusiasm in his eyes.

Any [physical] occupation, it is impossible not to be impressed by the Bavarian arm armor, because this is a very powerful piece of equipment. Its attributes are very practical. In the game, some players even wanted to exchange a piece of mythical equipment for a complete Bavarian arm armor.

Of course, it is complete!

"Only the outer armor can be made." Sean said in a deep voice, "If you want to make a truly complete Bavarian arm armor, you also need a production drawing of the core circuit. But even for the outer armor, I can still make it with my current ability. Won't come out."

With Sean's current ability, he probably needs to invest another twelve proficiency points to directly upgrade his knowledge of forging from magic knowledge (bronze) to knowledge of antiquities (legendary) before he can start making this outer armor. Of course, even if you can make it by hand, the materials needed to make the outer armor are not easy to collect, and many of them cannot be purchased through normal channels.

In addition, there is also a problem with the production drawings of the core circuit.

But Sean doesn't care about these things. He believes that as long as he has enough time, he can definitely make this legendary equipment. At least getting this drawing at the moment is equivalent to having a good beginning, and the rest is just moving forward step by step.

Hearing Sean's words, although Alfred was a little disappointed, he also knew that good things could not be easily obtained. After all, the Bavarian arm armor was a product of the twilight era, and it was a powerful equipment used by the people to deal with the gods.

But when his gaze fell on the other side of the desk, he asked curiously: "What is this again?"

"A failed product modeled after the Bavarian arm armor." Shaun glanced at the two hard armor gloves on the right side of the desk and said disdainfully.
