

LORD OF WAR

Chapter 8: .Windweave Black Wolf

On the Marvel Continent, beasts and beasts have a very clear dividing line, no matter how fierce beasts are, they are only first-order creatures, but even weaker beasts, they are also second-order existences. The gap between beasts and beasts is unspeakable. The most basic manifestation is that any kind of beasts have a more powerful body and combat power than beasts, and they all have the ability to control magic.

It can be said that any monster can be regarded as a magic warrior.

The wind-stripe black wolf is a kind of wolf-like monster that can only be seen in the forest of the stars.

It's just that this kind of beast is different from ordinary beasts. In this world, most of the beasts act as a single unit, even other wolf-type beasts. Warcraft does not need to rely on group actions to capture food. However, the wind-stripe black wolf is different. This kind of beast still retains the habit of living in groups. The group fighting ability and the unique physique and abilities of the beast make this kind of beast an extremely terrifying enemy in the Forest of Starfall.

Du Luen and others didn't know what the wind-stripe black wolf was, but everyone understood what Shaun said that they prepared them for battle.

Almost at the moment when Sean's words fell, the four guards had already opened their positions facing the wind-stripe black wolf, the curved blade was out of the sheath, his figure squatted slightly, and the center of gravity sank; and the archer clearly understood. Because of his lack of melee combat ability, he naturally retreated in the first place and stood with Cecilia. On the other hand, Du Luen and Old Peter looked very calm and did not show any consternation. Or with a look of panic, the former just pulled out the long sword in his hand, not even the buckler behind him, while Old Peter took off the longbow, quiver and long sword from his body, and only held it in his hand. With a spear, the more people come out.

I have to say that the response quality of Tier 3 professionals is quite obvious, because Cecilia almost reacted after everyone had put on a defensive combat position, and the short magical syllables started softly.

However, no matter how quickly everyone reacted, they also adopted a more conservative policy because they had never seen the wind-stripe black wolf. This greatly missed the best time to attack.

Almost at the same time when everyone opened their battles, a wolf cry had already sounded, and when everyone's battle was unfolded, the green stripes on the wind-patterned black wolf had all lit up, and the next moment it rushed towards everyone. come over.

In the eyes of this black wolf with wind patterns, he did not put everyone in his eyes at all.

Looking at this monster being so arrogant, Du Luen snorted and took a step forward. An awe-inspiring aura instantly poured out of him, and the long sword in his hand glowed with a glimmer of not dazzling light. This is obviously Du Luen's knight skill. Sean already knew what this skill was after just a glance. But at this time, his face was not so good, because he saw Du Luen's figure on one side and raised his wrist. The sword slashed towards the waist of the wind patterned black wolf.

The dim light of the long sword lit up, and a turbulence burst out from the waist of the wind-stripe black wolf. After hearing a wolf howl, the wind-stripe black wolf was beaten out by Du Luen with a sword, and then turned over in mid-air. It landed steadily on the ground, and there was no image of blood splashing as imagined, and everyone was stunned.

Anyone with a little bit of experience knows that the weakness of this wolf lies in the waist, and even the monsters have basically followed the defects and weaknesses of the beast. However, in this world, not everything is absolute. There is a small part of Warcraft that never plays cards according to reason. Many ordinary people think that it is a weakness, but for them, it is not a problem at all, and based on the IQ of Warcraft, They can even use this as a trap to deceive the enemy.

The wind-printed black wolf in front of everyone clearly belongs to this small group of monsters.

"Pharynx!" Sean thought for a moment, and then explained in a way that everyone can understand as much as possible: "This is the wind-stripe black wolf. When they attack, the magic patterns on their bodies will light up. Greatly increase their speed, and the whole body will be protected by airflow. Unless your strength is strong enough to break the airflow attached to them, their weakness is only in the throat, which is the only one that is not covered by magic lines. place."

The wind-stripe black wolf is one of the most common and dangerous monsters in the Starfall Forest. Generally speaking, this kind of beast will only appear in the belly area of the Starfall Forest. According to Sean's past game experience, it should be the first one. It would only appear in four days, but it took less than half a day to enter the Forest of Starfall. In the past experience of the game, only occupations with a strength of more than forty points can directly defeat the airflow protection of the windweave black wolf. Otherwise, in addition to the critical attack at the throat, the windweave black wolf can even be said to be physically immune. World of Warcraft, because all attacks on it are unbreakable.

At present, in the entire team, there are no occupations with more than 40 points of strength. Therefore, if you want to deal with the wind-stripe black wolf, the best way is to directly attack the vital points.

After listening to Sean's explanation, Old Peter flicked his spear and rushed towards the wind-stripe black wolf single-handedly. The wind-stripe black wolf was originally a little afraid of Du Luen and others, but after Du Luen's sword did not cause any damage to him, the wind-stripe black wolf immediately stopped putting everyone in his eyes. Seeing that only Old Peter rushed towards him, the wind patterned black wolf rushed towards Old Peter even if he was fierce.

Seeing the speed of the wind-stripe black wolf, Old Peter's eyes dazzled, and he immediately stopped advancing with a horse step and stabilized his bottom plate. He knew that it was impossible to solve this beast with one blow. So he shook the long spear tightly, pointed the spear to the ground, and put out a set of combat starting style. Seeing that the black wolf with wind patterns was a few meters away from him, it was a pounce. Old Peter immediately changed his gesture, and his spear slammed into the wind, and slapped the black wolf with wind patterns fiercely on the neck.

is still a strong air current burst out suddenly.

This air current completely removed the impact of Old Peter's sweep, and in the end it was just a spear swept across the neck of the wind-stripe black wolf, just like driving a small cat and puppy, a little attack. Both power and threat were useless, and it was even inferior to Du Luen's previous slash.

Of course, this is not to say that Old Peter is inferior to Du Luen, after all, Du Luen's previous shots obviously activated skills, but Old Peter did not have this attack.

The result of this is that the wind-stripe black wolf was only shot off the side, failing to completely prevent its culling. Fortunately, although Old Peter's attack seemed non-threatening, his own reactions and actions were not slow at all. While realizing that his attack had failed, he was walking around with his hands. The movement of the spear circled to the left, avoiding the wind-stripe black wolf's culling from the front.

Only this point, it can be seen that Old Peter's actual combat experience is not half rich, and everyone really feels the difficulty of this monster.

Obviously it is only a second-tier and forty-level monster, but it can actually force Old Peter, a third-tier person, to be a little helpless. This is the danger of the Forest of Starfall and what Xiao En was worried about before: If so A little carelessness, I'm afraid it will really cause heavy casualties.

seemed to realize that it was not easy for Old Peter to deal with this wind-stripe black wolf alone, so Du Luen had to go up and support it with his sword.

"Stop!" As soon as Sean saw Du Luen move, Dang even yelled at him, "Your mission is not to go there."

"What do you mean?" Du Luen was taken aback for a moment, his face was a bit chilly, and his awe-inspiring aura immediately exploded.

But in the face of Durun's compelling aura, Sean didn't react at all, and said in a deep voice, "Now I'm the commander. All you need is to obey my command. If I don't let you attack, you will stand for me. Stand by here."

It seemed that he hadn't expected that Sean could be so calm and composed under his own momentum, and Du Luen was a little lost for a while.

It's just that at this moment, Sean didn't have time to listen to Du Luen's thoughts. He turned to look at Old Peter and said loudly, "Old Peter, can you persist?"

"Persevere?" Old Peter didn't look back. Obviously the soldier's stubborn temper had been thoroughly aroused, "It's just a beast, I'll kill it for you in a while!"

Hearing the words of Old Peter, Sean stopped paying attention: "You guys, defend yourself!"

Seeing that Sean had taken Du Luen's command for granted, and even began to issue combat orders. The four guards looked at each other, obviously not knowing whether they should obey his orders. And Harley and the shooter on the side were also dumbfounded at this time. They didn't expect that Sean would be so strong that they would directly take away Du Luen's command, and the tone of command at this time obviously didn't care about other people's views and thoughts.

Only Cecilia, obviously already very clear about Sean's character, at this moment, she just prepared her magic quietly, and didn't interrupt to say anything.

"Are you all fools? Don't you even know how to defend in a horizontal formation?" Sean didn't care about the others. Seeing that these people hadn't reacted yet, he immediately started spraying as if he was the leader of the game in the first place. , "Do you still need me to teach the defense of the horizontal formation? All three meters ahead, in a row, everyone side by side, then lift the shield, the center of gravity sinks, the blade touches the ground! Doesn't even this basic thing? How are you guards!"

Looking at Sean without even looking at himself, Du Luen was indeed very angry, his face was flushed, but he had to contain the anger in his heart, and then nodded at Harley. After seeing Du Luen nod his head, Harley understood, and immediately asked the four guards to obey Sean's orders, and once confirmed, the four guards did indeed show extraordinary qualities.

"Druen, you don't need to take action at all in the next battle. The only thing you need to do is to stand here and protect Mr. Halle, Cecilia and our only shooter." Seeing the four guards finally obeyed their own. After the order, Sean finally gave Du Luen a sideways look, "Also, you'd better take off the shield behind you. This thing is not for you to carry a good-looking thing. If you don't need it, why should you bring this thing in."

Being so ironic by Sean, Du Luen clenched his fists tightly, but still Yiyan took down the buckler behind him and assumed a defensive posture.

At this moment, except for Old Peter and the four guards, everyone else stared at Xiao En intently, watching what he was going to do. There was clearly only one wind-stripe black wolf, but they didn't gather everyone's efforts to solve it, but instead The inexplicable horizontal defense presented here is indeed incomprehensible. You know, none of the people present are people who have not experienced battle. They know how to fight when facing a lone wolf, and even when facing wolves, it is impossible to put up a sideline defense, but should It's the round defense.

Of course, what stays in everyone's mind is still the most basic concept: Warcraft will not act in groups.

Only soon, this basic concept was completely overthrown.

A wolf howl sounded in the forest, and then two wind-stripe black wolves sprang out again in the place where the wind-stripe black wolf appeared just now.

And when he saw the appearance of the two wind-stripe black wolves, Xiao En, who had been straining his face, smiled. ;
