

Lord of War Vol 2-121

Chapter 121: .Dangerous thoughts

Zhufeng tribe is destroyed!

This news is that Sean just learned from William.

On the night before Sean dispatched his team to Carlos, Clover led his troops into the Wind Chaser tribe, and completely took the whole tribe away. Anyone who dared to resist, whether it was a slave hunter, a slave hunter, or a caravan and caravan guard, a free man, etc., Clover would kill him.

In just one night, nearly five hundred wooden stakes were erected near the Zhufeng tribe. Each stake was nailed to a corpse. The entire Zhufeng tribe was also burned. The fire continued to burn for three days without being extinguished. Love only paid the price of seven deaths, four serious injuries, and less than 30 minor injuries. Afterwards, Clover did not conceal his traces, but continued deep into the wilderness under the guidance of the guide, and along the way encountered two other armed forces in the Great Rift Valley that came to support the interception.

So the next big battle naturally broke out.

These two armed forces are from the Ice City tribe and the fearless tribe in the Great Rift Valley. These two tribes are not comparable to tribes such as the Wind-Zhufeng tribe. In terms of scale, they can be counted as the twelve trade points in the Great Rift Valley. Among the top five tribes, both in the number of troops and armaments are far better than the Zhanfeng tribe.

However, the five hundred armed soldiers of the two tribes united into a decline 15 minutes after the encounter with Clover's Cecilia Guards, and fell into a defeat at the 23rd minute. On the verge, the whole army was defeated after thirty minutes.

But the next move of Clover was completely shocking, because what he gave was not a chase order, but a massacre order!

Clover's Cecilia's Guards bit the two defeated soldiers tightly, and spent nearly an hour before and after, and finally killed all the defeated soldiers, no one escaped. And the result of this battle also made many secret onlookers and those who tried to find cheap slaves feel unbelievable. Because of the aftermath of the battlefield cleaning and statistics, Clover's troops actually killed less than ten people, but the seriously injured were. Increasing to ten people, it was only worth a single digit break, and on the contrary, there were as many as hundreds of people with minor injuries.

But you know, this is the price of 500 people killed by the enemy!

For a time, everyone knew that this well-trained army was definitely not easy to prepare.

Especially when they saw that Clover's army had severely wounded and hundreds of slightly wounded, it did not stop and camp, but continued to advance to the depths of the wild land. Everyone Those who were begging for food in the wilderness immediately realized that something was wrong. At this time, those with a sharper sense of smell immediately thought of the battle between Billy, the trade chief of the Wind-Zhufeng tribe, and the young man about a month ago. The more bold and careful people can already infer the battle. Come to a conclusion.

After that, Clover, who continued to go south, encountered a troop sent by a trade point in the Great Rift Valley.

This time it can only be regarded as really unlucky for this troop, because the order they received was to come here and wait for the armed forces of several other tribes to join together and then target Clover's forces, but they didn't expect Clover. The army was slightly off the scheduled route, so it ran into the armed forces head-on. So after a sudden encounter broke out, Klov and his troops had suffered more than 30 minor injuries and one severely wounded, and once again wiped out the armed forces.

In just three days, one trade point in the Great Rift Valley was completely destroyed, the armed forces of the three trade points were wiped out, and the total death toll exceeded 1,300.

Now, no one really dares to provoke this killing army anymore.

Butcher Clover's reputation began to take the Great Rift Valley in the Wildlands as its core source, and began to spread across the head and tail snake course.

Faced with such provocation by Clough, it is not only the business associations in the Great Rift Valley that feel the loss of face, but all the business associations in the entire head and tail snake route, and even the top ten business associations are dissatisfied. .

For a time, the voice of sending troops to crusade immediately chanted throughout the course of the head and tail snake.

But at this time, there was another sighting of an army in the Great Rift Valley.

All cavalry troops, the number is about five hundred people, there is no logistic force and obedience. As soon as this troop appeared, it was said that it immediately marched towards the Ice City Tribe without any hesitation. Its speed is far beyond everyone's imagination. It is expected to arrive at the Ice City Tribe within two days. The armed forces had been slaughtered in the previous battle with the Butcher Clover, and even the idiot knew that it would be a looting next.

In an instant, not only the eight remaining trade points in the Great Rift Valley, but also the other five areas on the first and tail snake route were afraid to send troops to attack without authorization. Who knows what will happen next. Especially after the ice city tribe spent huge sums of money on temporary employment to piece together a nearly 1,000-man slave capture team to intercept this cavalry unit, but the cavalry unit was completely killed and collapsed after a few rounds of charges. No slavery team dared to participate in this dispute again.

Everyone knows right now that this is definitely the new pioneering knight in the Principality of Lane. Sir Sean Connery is looking for revenge, and his goal is very clear. It's just the Zhuangfeng tribe. This is from the Zhuangfeng tribe. After the fire was cleaned up, it was obvious that the troop left without hesitation at all. The subsequent battle was completely an overreaction of the Great Rift Valley Business Association, so these slave trappers are convinced that as long as they don't intervene in this matter that has clearly risen to international disputes, then they will definitely not lose any. of.

It was also proved afterwards that this cavalry unit completely ransacked the Ice City tribe and then immediately turned towards the Fearless Tribe. This can be seen.

As for the trade chiefs of these two tribes, one was completely beheaded while leading the coalition forces and the butchers, and the trade chief of the fearless tribe was dragged to death by this cavalry unit-of course I was fortunate to have seen it with my own eyes. People in this battle are very clear that if there is no female knight leader of this cavalry unit, I am afraid that it will be this cavalry unit that will be killed by the fearless tribe in turn.

The death of the two lower gold powerhouses was the straw that finally crushed the first and tail snake route business association alliance.

has been able to kill the army of the next golden powerhouse, this is by no means an ordinary army!

Especially those who are well-informed, have even received the news that Lord Sean's first fierce commander, Alfred has begun to gather forces in the Gap Rift, no one wants to chase after him. The thoughts of these two units are gone—at least on the surface, they dare not. After all, in the information materials of the big figures in these business associations, this Sir Sean Connery is a famous mad dog. Faced with this kind of appearance that everyone dares to bite and has no scruples, they are really afraid. Sean drove the army into the wilderness without hesitation, and directly leveled the entire Rift Valley.

This, from the perspective that Sean dared to swallow the two territories of the Darbion Kingdom without returning it, and even the Darbion Kingdom had to compromise, he really has this ability.

Therefore, in such a situation, the Pan-Continent Business Association Alliance also had to send an envoy to Panda to lead the talks in the Void City.

According to William, Neal will probably be very busy in the next period of time, because the current initiative is in the hands of Sean. As far as Neal's character is concerned, if he doesn't blackmail a sum, then He is not Neil anymore. So in a short time, Neil must have no time to talk to Sean, and now that Clover and his Cecilia Guards have gone deep into the wilderness, I am afraid they should be able to meet in a month. At that time, I believed that the matter of the heavy rock tribe and the big red fire tribe should also be settled.

But I don't know why, when Sean ended the magic communication, he felt an extremely strong anxiety in his heart.

There is no reason for this anxiety, because no matter how you look at the current situation, it is very beneficial to him, and he should be happy. But at the moment after the end of the magic communication, Sean suddenly felt aroused all over his body. The whole person was like falling into an ice cave, making him feel abnormally cold. This is a very strange feeling, but Sean is It is certain that there is a danger that is fast approaching him.

Walking in his tent, Sean finally made a decision.

He turned around and opened the curtain and walked out, his face was serious and indifferent, and many barbarians who saw him along the way didn't dare to come forward and greet him. And the bear people who were originally responsible for helping the barbarians of the Heavy Rock Tribe to carry waste rocks and some garbage, seemed to be affected by Shaun's emotions, and they stopped silently. In a violent gloom.

As a magician, Cecilia naturally felt the most keen. After her brows frowned, she did not stop teaching, but was still explaining knowledge about tactics, strategy, and so on. At this moment, there are more than twenty students in front of her. The youngest is even an eight or nine-year-old child, and the oldest is the old man whom Sean, Cecilia and others have seen before. Old barbarian, later they learned that this old man is actually the chief guard in the current tribe.

When Sean came to the chief's earthen house, he did not knock on the door but pushed the door straight in. After seeing the High Priest of Chongyan and Ataba, Sean's first sentence was: "Immediately let the people of the tribe clean up. Then everyone left here."

"What's the matter?" Ataba Zhongyan asked, still a little surprised in his eyes.

"I have a hunch that something terrible may happen, but I don't know what the specific situation is." Xiao En shook his head and said, "The situation in the heavy rock tribe cannot cope with such a danger, and I also dispatched all the subordinates. So now it's best to pack up your things and leave here.... It's not two days before Andre and his army have left. You'd better rush over to meet, and then take the Great Scarlet Fire Tribe."

"Something very dangerous?" The heavy rock high priest asked, "Is it possible to let the tribe perish?"

"I can't say whether the tribe will be destroyed, but it is very likely that this incident is indeed directed at me." Xiao En said, "I don't know why, my heart is feeling this way at the moment, and the back of my hand is recently There is also a slight heat. I believe that even if I leave the heavy rock tribe, you will definitely be harmed because of me, so the best way at the moment is to assist Carlos in taking down the Great Scarlet Fire Tribe, and then in the Great Scarlet Fire The tribe stayed for a while, and waited until the army under my command arrived."

Ataba and the High Priest of Chongyan looked at each other, then the latter nodded their heads, apparently believing Sean's judgment: "Okay, I understand, I will arrange it immediately."

Chapter 122: .The King of the Night

The situation in the wild land is a bit out of control.

Whether it is Sean's side, the business association alliance's side, or the deep-going Great Rift Valley Deputy District Chief Billy. Of course, the biggest loss should be the Great Rift Valley, because three trade points were completely looted and one trade point was completely destroyed, and the most intimidating thing was that the cavalry unit was still as big as the wandering souls. The Rift Valley is wandering everywhere, and no one has a way to determine their specific itinerary.

Or even if there is a way, no one will want to determine the specific location of this force.

Because in order to keep her whereabouts secret, any team that encounters Rina, whether it is a slave hunting team, a freeman, or a caravan, is all attacked and looted. However, in this near-distressed situation, no one in the other eight trade points in the Great Rift Valley dared to send troops to intercept Rina's cavalry, and even ignored many distress signals. They were really worried. Gives Sean an excuse for the army to be dispatched.

In a short time, countless slave hunting teams left the Great Rift Valley one after another; and those caravans also dared not take the Great Rift Valley.

At such an urgent moment, the regional leader of the Great Rift Valley is nowhere to be seen, which makes many people have to guess the specific situation. But no matter how you say it, the Great Rift Valley has completely lost its old dominance and dominance at this moment. Even to be more serious, the head and tail snake route has completely lost its significance at this moment.

The rumbling sound rang, and the dust was flying all over the sky.

Even if it is one kilometer away, you can still feel the movement of the ground shaking at this moment.

What a terrible power at this time.

Amidst the flying sand and dust, there are countless tall black shadows swaying inside. Because of the occlusion of the sand and dust, the line of sight is not very real. It seems that the dark shadows in the sand and dust seem to be centaur.

Call.

A gust of strong wind suddenly came on the face, blowing away a lot of dust and mist.

At this time, everything seemed a little more real.

This unit is not a centaur, but a group of human cavalry.

Suddenly, the leading cavalry suddenly pulled on the reins, and the horse neighed and stood up. However, the owner sitting on the horse was not overturned because of the violent movements of the horse. Instead, his body was slightly tilted, and the person with the horse stood and adjusted his posture. The hooded cloak on his body was hunting under the strong wind. , But the hood was not blown over because of this, and the spear in his right hand did not tremble at all in the process.

As the leading cavalry man stood up, the cavalry behind him also rang a series of horses neighs, but the horses that were involved in the standing up because of the excessive force of the cavalry on the horses did not stand up. not much.

The horse lands on the front hoof.

The cavalry on horseback could see that his head swayed from side to side, as if he was scanning everything around him.

A few seconds later, a voice sounded: "All people rest on the spot for 30 minutes, and they are not allowed to dismount."

Listen to the voice, this leading cavalry is actually a woman!

But it is very subtle that all the cavalry did not hesitate about the woman's order. Soon there was a rustling noise behind her: some people began to drink water, some began to eat dry food, and Some people moved their buttocks a little to make themselves a little more comfortable, but more people took advantage of this resting space and took out a water bag and poured it on the horse's neck to cool the horse.

"My lord." A cavalry lightly pulled on the reins, and the horse slowly moved forward and approached the female cavalry. "Why don't we go deep into the wild land together, but go in circles here?... Now these The trade points dare not fight us anymore, but at the trade point where the troops are fully equipped and there are golden powerhouses, we can't attack it. What are we doing now?"

"Harassment." The cavalry who started talking is naturally sharpshooter Rina. "Of course, you have to understand it as training or anything else. Anyway, our action is to follow the instructions of Lord William."

When he heard the name "William", the face of the cavalry who asked the question immediately became awe-inspiring. It was a kind of respect from the heart.

He was fortunate to follow William as a veteran of military activities in Date, so he was deeply impressed with William's lightning-like thunder tactics, and that battle was the most magical battle he had ever fought. The battle between the two sides is not like a war at all, but like a performance rehearsed according to the script. Although there were indeed some people who died in the battle, it was the enemy who died the most, and they just followed William's instructions and arrangements. Easily get rid of all the enemy's tactical arrangements.

This is really the most miraculous battle he feels. As long as he obeys William's arrangements and commands, there will never be any reason to lose.

So after hearing Rina said it was William's arrangement, the cavalry immediately understood.

As for what he understood, he didn't even know it himself. He only knew that since it was Mr. William's arrangement anyway, he was right to obey.

Only Rina, her eyes flickering constantly, seemed to vaguely understand and understand William's arrangement.

But in any case, Rina is very satisfied with the current situation, although her 500 cavalry soldiers are now less than 400 people due to successive battles, but every one of them exudes a terrible wave. The * breath of, this kind of breath is just like what Rena had seen before in Clover's army. But she knew very well that at the moment her cavalry unit could not be compared with Cloff's almost death-like army, but she believed that it would not be long before her own unit could become like the so-called "Sisi Like Leah's Guards, it has an aura that makes people panic just at first sight.

Of course, Rina is more satisfied with herself.

She always feels that she seems to be about to break through the current limit, because the recent successive battles have made her more and more sensitive, and her sense and judgment of breath are also quite accurate. Often, she does not even need to send scouts. You can know if there is an ambush ahead.

Rena knew that she would officially enter the golden realm soon.

If she really stepped into the golden realm before returning, then she would be the second strong person in the golden realm under Sean after Xuefanio.

Think of a way to find some prey to hone it.

Rina thought so, her eyes sharpened unknowingly: I really want to go deep into the wilderness to take a look.

.....

The Void City under Pandan's domain is one of the two cities within Shaun's domain.

The other one is located in the territory of Date, where it was once the nest of the Michelin family, and it was also the territory owned by Rudd Michelin's parents for a lifetime. But now, this territory has not only changed hands, even Rudd Michelin, the former Viscount of Darbion, has turned his back on his country and turned to Sean. The Kingdom of Darbion was naturally furious, but after sending more than a dozen assassins in succession to attack and assassinate, the Kingdom of Darbion could only acquiesce to this fact.

It's just that the Michelin family is now notorious in the Kingdom of Darbion. Many of the properties that were established in the kingdom of Darbion to subsidize the expenses of the territory have now all been sealed up. But all this is meaningless to Rudd Mitchlin today.

He is now the lord of Void City, and even the acting lord of Pandaren.

In the entire administrative system under Sean, except for Neal, he has the greatest authority next.

For the original decision to surrender Sean, Rudd still feels a bit complicated now, but if he regrets it, maybe he doesn't. He knew very well that if he did not surrender, then he and his family would really have nothing. After returning to the kingdom, as a defeated general, and his personal connections were not particularly good, it would be difficult for him to continue. In the end, there are only two ways to get rewards for a territory. Either become the interior officer of another lord, or you can only find a way to get into the camp in the king's capital.

But now, the territory operated by his father's generation is still there, it's just a change of ownership, and Sean also promised him that as long as he becomes an official nobleman, he will be given the title immediately, and what he should be given when the time comes. The same is true. He wants to get back the Date collar. It doesn't matter if he wants other territories under Sean. It is precisely because of this proposal that Rudd chose to surrender. And what makes Rudd most happy is that all the parasites of the Michelin family will be completely eliminated in this storm-except for the list he handed to Neil, the other Michelin family members will be Exile, if you simply don't leave, then what awaits them is  suppression.

Rudd slowly took off his glasses and pinched his tired eyebrows. He moved his gaze away from the classics on the table and glanced at a window not very far from his side.

Moonlight, spilled through the window, reflecting a silver light on the ground.

The breeze is blowing, blowing the scarf of the window, which looks a little beautiful.

I don't know why, Rude suddenly remembered the beautiful shadow in his dream, and sighed slightly in his heart, perhaps the distance between him and her is gradually getting farther away. This is the reason why Rudd's mood is very subtle and complicated. He likes that girl, or he fell in love with this girl the moment he saw her, but destiny made him a big joke. There was already an identity gap between himself and her, but when he finally made up his mind to become a powerful person desperately, he encountered what was happening right now.

In front of love and family, Rudd finally succumbed to reality.

He may be able to see her again when he returns to the Kingdom of Darbion, but she is destined to never have her, and even the entire Michelin family will completely decline; but if he chooses Sean, he still has a chance to make a comeback, although The distance from her will become farther and farther, but maybe there is still a chance to have her.

In the case of multiple concerns, Rudd couldn't help but dare not accept the olive branch that Shaun threw over.

After a daze, Rude suddenly recovered, and smiled somewhat self-deprecatingly: "I'm afraid, she can't wait until I become famous."

At this moment, a cold wind suddenly swept.

Rudd shuddered suddenly, and the whole person seemed to fall into an ice cave. The strong sense of fear even made it difficult for him to breathe, and his face quickly turned red. It felt like someone strangled Rudd's throat, trying to suffocate him to death.

"Ahem."

A soft cough sounded.

The suffocation of fear in the room that was so heavy that Rudd could not breathe was instantly broken.

Rudd made a series of coughing sounds. He was originally sitting on the chair as if he had been fished out of the water at the moment, and his whole body was soaked. And his face was as pale as a serious illness, his chest and abdomen rose and fell very violently, and the sound of his mouth breathing was clearly audible in this quiet room, accompanied by violent coughing from time to time, except for Rudd's coughing. But it was completely different from the light cough at the beginning.

A figure walked out of the shadow in the room.

In an instant, all the candles that had been lit in the room went out.

Rudd's face became paler, and there was a deep horror in his eyes.

A cold light lit up.

reflected in Rudd's eyes, it was an unprecedented blue light.

This blue light with a cold suffocation and a sense of death, became bigger and bigger in Rud's eye pupils, and it seemed that it would completely penetrate Rud's eyebrows in the next moment.

But at this moment, the blue light in mid-air suddenly deflected.

The blue brilliance made a magnificent mark, and strands of cold air radiated from the air, and these cold air soon intertwined a blue net in mid-air. But if you look closely, you can find that the blue net is actually made up of countless sword shadows. That huge sword aura soars into the sky, tearing the ground and roof near the blue net into countless criss-cross grooves. mark.

Sand and rocks fall swiftly.

A black light and shadow burst through the air, hitting the blue net, and an abundant breath burst out, but it was magical as if it had no destructive power. All the things swept by this airflow except those caused by the strong wind Aside from the impact and appear a little messy, there is no damage.

On the ground and the roof, there are still only the ditch marks left by the sword qi, and there is nothing left.

However, when the blue net and the black shadow collided with each other, all the sword energy emitted by the blue net was shaken and completely disappeared. And in the dark environment, there was a muffled sound, the sound was very close to Rudd, it sounded obviously the wound of the killer who wanted to assassinate Rudd, not the one who showed the shadow impact. Human injuries.

"Boom".

There was a roar of heavy objects falling on the ground, and the terrible thing was that with this sound, the house that hadn't shaken at all in the environment of sword energy, but it caused a strong shaking, like an earthquake. Like that. Countless sands and stones fell one after another, and a few cracks appeared on the ground and the roof, and the ground was covered with a layer of gray sand.

The horror in Rud's eyes almost reached the limit of his mental strength.

This five-story castle mansion built with special materials seems to collapse at any time under the fall of this accent.

How can this be!

Rudd looked to the left, where because of the fall of dust, the man who tried to assassinate him finally showed his figure.

It was a middle-aged man in a white dress. His appearance was very handsome, and he had mature charm and temperament that ordinary men did not have. From these aspects, this assassin must be the kind of person with a real status and identity. , Rude guessed that the other party might still be a powerful nobleman. Because even at this moment, this middle-aged man was grayed out by the gray sand, but his elegant temperament was never destroyed at all, and his temperament was even more special because of being a strong man.

If Billy, the deputy district chief of the Great Rift Valley, is here, he can recognize at a glance that the middle-aged man in front of him is the district chief of their Great Rift Valley!

The district chief did not go to see Rud. In his eyes, Rud was actually no different from a dead person. This time, killing Rud was just a matter of course. Originally, his goal was to check the realm of Sean, the lord, and if possible, kill William and Alfred, all of Sean's most powerful men, but he did not wait for him to finish these things. , He received a secret contact from the Pan-Continent Business Association Alliance to inform him of the current situation in the Great Rift Valley.

At that time, the district chief distorted his face because of anger on the spot.

Especially when he heard that the Pan-Continental Business Association Alliance sent an envoy to negotiate with Sean, he felt a great humiliation. However, at this time, the Pan-Continent Business Association Alliance also issued an order requiring him to assassinate Neal, who will represent Sean in the negotiation this time, because according to the Pan-Continent Business Association Alliance's investigation, as long as Neil is dead. If this is the case, then Sean does not have any qualified excellent internal affairs officer, and the negotiation work will give them an absolute advantage for the Pan-Continent Business Association.

But what he didn't expect was that Neil was leading Date at the moment. He rushed towards Void City after receiving the news, so the regional chief, who didn't know the situation, naturally still couldn't manage after three days of wandering. Find the target. And just when he was about to contact the Pan-Continent Business Association for the latest information, he received a message from his loyal family, asking him to obliterate Rudd, a betrayer of the Kingdom of Darbion.

Because of this, the regional chief will appear here.

It's just that what he didn't expect was that there was such a powerful guard next to Rudd, the betrayer of the Darbion Kingdom, which was a bit beyond his expectation.

At this moment, the gaze of this mature and charming Great Rift Valley region chief was falling on the object that made a heavy noise after landing.

But when he saw this thing clearly, his pupils suddenly shrank.

Because it is actually a coffin!

Almost at this moment, a cold breath has spread all over his body, the feeling is like being stared at by a deadly natural enemy. In an instant, this powerful regional chief felt a sense of death with cold hands and feet, and his heart was broken.

This time, he finally realized how strong and terrifying the fear he had created for Rudd just now!

Chapter 123: . Intervene without knowing the truth

In the darkness, a figure gradually appeared.

Valky's pupils shrank suddenly.

Along with the dark shadows gradually appearing, Valkyrie could clearly see a black flame burning frantically on this person. In the black flames, Valky could only barely recognize the appearance of the opponent's human form, but at this time even an idiot would know that the person in front of him would definitely not be a human.

And the black flame in front of him even reminded him of a taboo term.

Abyss Demon Flame.

The abyss and * belong to the category of pagans in this world. And any existence that has a relationship with the heretics will be the enemy of the whole world. A strange color flashed in Valky's eyes: he knew it didn't matter whether he could kill Rudd or Neil, because he Found intelligence that has greater value than killing these two men.

As long as he reveals the fact that the Sir Sean Connery has a pagan from the Abyss, the lord will have to face endless interrogation and investigation, and maybe even face The armies of the churches and empires on this continent. Under such circumstances, let alone the matter of intervening in the wilderness, I am afraid that even the current territory will not be preserved, and perhaps even the Marquis of Asuna, as his asylum, will be seriously implicated.

The black flames began to weaken gradually.

But unlike the general flame extinguishing situation, the black flame surrounding the figure is gradually extinguished from the bottom of the foot.

The first thing that was reflected in Valky's eyes were the feet of this figure.

It was a pair of black leather boots with pointed corners. The material of the leather boots was unknown, but it gave people a shiny and shiny feeling. And what appeared next was the black trousers on the boots, followed by black trousers. The material of these trousers looks very similar to the unique silk of the Chenas Empire. It looks unusually smooth and slightly wrinkled. There are no pleats either. It seems that the owner of the dress is a very particular person, and the trousers are ironed very straight.

It can also be seen from this point that the figure in front of him has a slender leg.

On the trousers is an equally dark belt, but the buckle of the belt can still tell that it is an unknown metal object. Going up a little bit, you can see a pair of overlapping hands, which is exactly on the back of the hand, but this hand is wearing white gloves, and the specific skin color is completely invisible. Afterwards, the black jacket gradually appeared, but it was finally found at the collar of the jacket that there was actually a white shirt inside, and a small black vest between the shirt and the jacket.

There is no decoration at the collar.

At this point, the figure except for the head has been completely revealed in Valky's eyes.

When Rudd saw the black flames burning, his heart was also a little surprised, but now after seeing the figure in front of him except for the head, the color of fear in his eyes finally disappeared: "Mr. Beth ."

Rudd's words seemed to possess some kind of special magic power.

Almost at the moment this sentence fell, the flames still burning on Beth's head were finally completely extinguished-the black flames suddenly made a soft "bang", and the flames seemed to explode completely. The typical face of the Emilia Empire appeared in front of Valkyrie, and his sharp facial features looked unusually handsome, but his eyes were tightly closed at this time.

The black flame was completely on the top of Beth's head, and then a long black hair fell from the air, reaching his waist.

The next second, Beth's eyes finally opened slowly.

A cold and dead breath burst out suddenly.

The eruption of this breath was so rapid that Valkyrie had no time to react, and the whole person instantly entered a blank, blank, sluggish stage. I don't know how long it took before Valkyrie finally came back to his senses. There was a look of horror in his eyes. He was completely suppressed by the opponent's aura, and he fell into something similar. The degree of fainting!

"If you don't even know how you died, it would be boring." Beth slowly said, his voice is unique to the elves, crisp and sweet, but maybe it is because of the age. The string is low and hoarse, "I noticed it the moment you entered the territory from the rift valley. I thought you were just passing by, so I didn't care about you. I didn't expect you to be here for trouble. ."

Valky was silent, but his mind was no longer on the battle. All he was thinking about at the moment was how to escape from here. As the regional leader of the Great Rift Valley of the Wildlands, Valkyrie's strength has already reached the level of the lower sanctuary. Although he is the weakest among the six areas, he is only so far from the middle sanctuary. It's just a little bit, but just now, after being completely suppressed by Beth's momentum, Valkyrie knew that there was a huge difference between his strength and the opponent's strength.

At the very least, the pagan in front of him is definitely at the level of the upper sanctuary.

Facing a high-ranking sanctuary, Valky knows that he is definitely not an opponent, so the only thing he can do is to escape here, and then publicize the fact that Sean's infidels are under his command. Then he doesn't even need to do anything. There will be countless powerhouses coming over to ask Sean's troubles.

"Do you think you can still go?" Beth seemed to have thoroughly seen through Valkyrie's thoughts, and said softly, "If you don't come here, I may not be able to make a move, but since you are the one who made the trap, then you too Don't even want to leave here.... Or, after you know so many secrets, do you think I can let you go?"

"Do you think I came here alone?" Valkyrie sneered.

"It doesn't matter how many people come." Beth said lightly, his tone and attitude completely dismissive, "As long as I want, none of you will be able to leave here alive.... Of course, it's currently within the scope of my perception. Yes, you are the only one, so whether you are bluffing or doing something, it makes no difference to me."

Valkyrie's face became very ugly, but at this time he still didn't give up: "Heh, do you think I'm the only one who's talking about this? The Pan-Continental Business Association Alliance has always done nothing. Since I can arrange for me to come here to perform the assassination mission, there must be other arrangements.... Even if you can stop me, can you still rush to the elf named Neil to protect him immediately?"

"I don't need to be responsible for his safety." Beth shook his head, but the words made Valkyrie feel desperate, "Just as you do it, don't you think I am alone?"

"How is this possible!" Valky exclaimed, "Sean Connery is only a superior bronze figure in intelligence, and there is no Connery family in the Chenas Empire. How could he have So many powerhouses?... And, there are so many powerhouses, so why should he take risks personally? Even if he can't build a kingdom, then he can become the Grand Duke of the Principality of Ryan!"

"What kind of thing gave you the illusion that I am a servant of Sean?" Beth sneered, his face very unhappy, "Put away your ignorant IQ, I really doubt that you are like Paramecium IQ is how to step into the door of the sanctuary."

"You!" Valky, who was so humiliated by Beth, let out an angry shout, but in the end he still didn't dare to take the lead.

The breath of his whole body has been completely locked by the bass, unless there is an opportunity to break the lock of this breath, otherwise as long as he does anything, he has no doubt that he will be forcibly hit by the bass in the first time kill.

"Hehe, what if you can kill me?" Valkyrie took a few deep breaths, finally calmed down his anger, his face showed a smile but a smile, "Even if I die, I have a soul ring. The soul will not be annihilated immediately!"

"Your IQ is the same as Paramecium." Beth also smiled at this time, but his smile gave Valkyrie a colder illusion, as if even his soul was frozen at this moment." In front of an undead king, your soul still wants to be free?... Do you think that I am standing here and talking so much nonsense to you just because I am throwing a rat?"

Almost the moment Beth finished saying this, a faint blue light was emitted in the entire room, and everything in the entire room was quickly covered with a layer of frost at a speed visible to the naked eye! But this frost did not make anyone feel any coldness, it looked like a decorative object, but with the strong blue light, this layer of frost made people feel like a layer of conjunctiva, it seemed detached. Outside of all space and time in this world!

The soul-catching realm!

Valky's face finally became extremely frightened, he almost turned around and fled without thinking about it. At this time, how could he take into account the aura of being locked in. If he flees now, he may be seriously injured and dying because he is locked in his breath and cannot escape the opponent's attack, but at least there is still hope of alive, but if he does not escape, then he will really die without a burial place. Even the soul will be captured by the other party.

But!

Valky almost just started to move, before he completely turned around, Bass also moved.

Clearly empty hands, but at the moment the figure moved, a black long sword completely appeared on Beth's right hand. I don't see any superb swordsmanship in Beth, it seems that he is just taking a step, but the whole person has appeared behind Valkyrie, and the long sword in his hand runs through the heart of Valkyrie—Beth The sword that was pierced was not aimed at Valkyrie's heart at all. It was just that at this time, Valkyrie turned forcibly so that the sword of Beth penetrated the heart. It looked like Valkyrie was deliberately dying.

"Your soul, I accept it." This is the last word that Valkyrie's consciousness has gradually fallen into darkness.

A carriage is galloping on the way to the Void City of Pandaren.

The carriage does not look very luxurious, it can even be said to be very simple, but from the side of the carriage, there are more than 300 people wearing heavy armor, holding heavy guns, and even the horses under the hips have heavy armor. Looking at the cavalry, you can know the identity of the person sitting in this carriage is by no means simple.

The more than 300 cavalry in heavy cavalry attire exudes an extremely fierce and murderous atmosphere, and they are obviously  troops on the battlefield. Judging from the momentum that radiated from this cavalry, I am afraid that no one can believe that this army was just a recruit that no one would be optimistic about two months ago.

This heavy cavalry unit is the second named unit under Sean's command.

Jet black wings.

At present, the jet black wings only have a full scale of three hundred people-this is the number remaining after a thousand people fighting in the past two months of battle, but the training of the heavy cavalry itself is very difficult, so although William also knew that the heavy cavalry would not be able to form a deterrent if it did not have a scale of more than a thousand people. However, holding on to the principle of Ningquewulan, William still did not immediately organize the formation of this force.

Similarly, this force was not replaced by William with a flagpole.

After the war has ended and Anno has led the Steel Wing to help suppress the Date collar, the Jet Black Wing is currently assigned by William as Neal's personal guard. In this way, William was actually caught in a dilemma: whether to train the jet-black wings into a pure heavy cavalry force or to train into a guard force capable of both cavalry and foot combat.

Just without waiting for William to come up with a plan, Pandaling is now in crisis again.

In the carriage, Neil looked at the two girls sitting opposite him with a puzzled face.

The one sitting next to him has long silver hair, while the one on the right has long black hair. In terms of appearance, the two people look similar. Although Neil feels that the two are still somewhat different in nature, he doesn't know why. He just can't tell the difference between the two and can only blame it. Yu and Yu are twins with completely different temperaments.

Of course, twins with silver hair and black hair can only be explained as the two used hair dye.

In terms of the elves' aesthetics, even if Neil is so picky, he has to admit that the two girls in front of them are rare beauties, whether they are silver-haired Absi or black-haired Dexter. In particular, the combination of the awe-inspiring holiness of Abis and the charming and enchanting aura exuding from Dex's body is enough to become the absolute focus of anyone's sight.

However, Neal is totally in no mood to appreciate these now.

"You mean, I'm in danger?"

"Yes." Abliss nodded, "Andrew said, that someone from the alliance will definitely not let you return to the Void City, so it will definitely solve you on this last section of the road, so let Me and Dexter will protect you."

"Oh, poor Dirks, I am most afraid of fighting." Dirks looked a little trembling, and she held Abliss by one arm.

"Hmph, the weak will be afraid." Ablis opened his mouth to teach Dexter, then turned to look at Neil, and said: "But now you can rest assured, there is absolutely nothing with me and Dexter. The problem is... Well, you have a very strong relationship with us, so unlike Sean, there are many laws and restrictions. Protecting you will not rebound from the laws of this world."

"But the cavalry outside is different." Deckers added again, "So their life and death has nothing to do with us....Unless someone takes a shot at you, we can take a shot, otherwise we I can only watch from the sidelines."

"Yes." Abliss nodded, "That's what Andrew explained, so we can only comply with it."

"Master Neal, don't care about us!"

Ablis and Dex had no intention of covering up at all. Their voices were very penetrating, even in the thunder of the three hundred heavy cavalry at the moment, their voices were still the same. Can make all heavy cavalry hear clearly. At this moment, the leader of this heavy cavalry unit is the leader of the cavalry unit that Rudd originally had second only to Katz and Northen.

Unlike Katz and Northen who refused to loyal to Sean, the cavalry leader did not refuse William's surrender. Of course, what really made him willing to be loyal to Sean was William's generous salary and the promotion of status. Although the previous turbulent war involving the entire territory, his troops were reduced extremely seriously, but at least now. The number of remaining troops can already be truly elite.

Of course, this kind of elite is only the personal feeling of the cavalry commander. In fact, if Sean observes with real eyes, it is still just a three-pole army. It's just that the heavy cavalry units of the three-pole regular army level are still stronger than the general three-pole troops in terms of combat effectiveness. The only thing that can be compared is the steel wings of Commander Anno.

"As long as you can reach the Void City safely, my lord, our sacrifice will not be wasted!"

"Yes, Sir Neil!"

"As long as Lord Neal is there, the richness of the territory will only happen sooner or later. This is what we want to see most."

For a time, all the cavalry with pitch black wings joined together, and the respect for Neil was obviously no less than that of William. But this is also inevitable. After all, they have been following Neil during the recent period. Therefore, they knew Neil's decision for the first time.

Even if they didn't understand a lot of things, Neil would also There is no concealment, and such a person can easily arouse the respect of these soldiers.

"For Sir Neil!" I didn't know who it was, and suddenly shouted.

"For Sir Neil!" Everyone began to agree.

Listening to the shouts of all the heavy cavalry, feeling their extreme morale that is so strong at the moment, Neil's eye sockets are also a little moist, he looks at Ablis, but before he speaks, Ablis has already shook his head first. : "Impossible. The law cannot be violated."

"Then why can I make an exception?"

"Secret." Abliss said, "But this kind of concealment..."

"It's concealing the sky and crossing the sea." Dexter whispered.

"I know!" Ablis turned her head and yelled, Dex murmured "Poor Dex" again. "That's what it meant anyway. Andrew said that this happened once or twice. It's also not advisable to have too many times.... So I still hope that you will discuss with that guy who looks like a woman to improve your subordinates as much as possible.... Andrew said, don't be too strong."

"It's expensive and not too expensive." Dexter whispered again.

"I know!"

Chapter 124: .Black Draco

In the middle of nowhere, two figures, one tall and one short, were struggling forward.

In the depths of the savage land, oasis with large tracts of aquatic plants is not everywhere. This is actually very similar to the situation in the trading capital. It's just that all trade is money, so they can lay flat roads for fast and direct trade at various oasis points. However, lack of funds and relatively backward development in primitive wild land, they can only take a laissez-faire attitude towards such areas. There are many desertified wastelands in the wild land.

However, most of these wastelands appear between two oasis lands controlled by different tribes. To put it simply, these wastelands are equivalent to the borders between the kingdoms of the outside world.

At this moment, the two people walking on the wasteland are naturally Sean and Cecilia.

After Shaun warned the Chongyan tribe and told them to set out to find Andre immediately, Shaun broke up with them temporarily. I don't know why, since that time when he suddenly and inexplicably felt vigilant in his heart, Sean has discovered that this feeling has become stronger and stronger recently, and unexpectedly, Sean seems to be able to understand this order. He felt irritable.

That is the danger is getting closer and closer to yourself.

Originally, Sean disagreed with Cecilia's words to go with him, but no matter how Sean persuaded, Cecilia wouldn't listen. So in desperate circumstances, Sean could only take Sean Cecilia with him. Peer. So in the next few days, Sean and Cecilia quickly left the oasis controlled by the heavy rock tribe's suzerain tribe, and stepped back into the wasteland full of yellow sand.

But even so, Sean still did not feel the reduction of dangerous thoughts, which is enough to prove that the crisis still exists.

As for the situation of Andre and others, Sean is not worried at all.

As long as he continues according to the plan, Carlos will definitely become the chief of the Great Scarlet Fire Tribe. After Ataba and his Heavy Rock Tribe are settled, Sean's plan will almost be officially implemented. As for the two Lizardmen brothers of Krumah, of course, they can only stay in the Great Scarlet Fire Tribe temporarily. As long as these two commanders who are also not inferior in strength are there, Carlos' chief status will never be provoked. Similarly, even if someone is dissatisfied, there is also the support of the heavy rock tribe and the support of Andre.

The unit that Sean left for them is not just a joke in terms of combat effectiveness.

The only thing to worry about is the priests in the Great Scarlet Fire Tribe. These enemies are the real troublesome existence.

But now, these are not what Sean needs to worry about.

With Andre, Carlos, and Krumah, it is not impossible to plan a perfect strategic plan, and Ataba, the former deputy commander of the Habind Serpent Mercenary Corps may command combat capabilities. Not as good as the other three, but there is absolutely no need to worry about tactical implementation, not to mention Cruz, so as long as the strategic plan is perfect enough, it will only be a matter of time before the Big Red Fire tribe is eaten.

And it is with these considerations, so Sean and Cecilia left the team without any burden.

"Sean, where are we going?" At this moment, walking on the wasteland, Cecilia finally asked.

They have been away for a few days, but they have been walking aimlessly, seeing that the water and food on their bodies are almost bottoming out, so Cecilia also had to ask. If they can't find food or drinking water in the next two days, they will start to be hungry, but it doesn't matter if they are only hungry, because they are afraid of lack of water in the harsh weather and high temperature climate of the wild land. the result of.

"I found a very interesting place in the map that the High Priest of Chongyan gave me." Xiao En smirked. "There are about two days left before our current itinerary, although we will be due to lack of food. It is possible that we will have to go hunting by ourselves, but there happens to be a water source in that place, which can solve our drinking water problem."

Obviously, Sean knew Cecilia's worries. At this moment, saying this would naturally calm Cecilia.

"A very interesting place?" Sure enough, Cecilia's attention was quickly drawn away, "What is that place?"

"That's an underground cave." Shaun said, "but there is no channel connected to the underground world, so don't worry about us encountering those monsters from the underground world.... Although the wild land has not been affected by the outside world. People like it, but in the face of creatures that are also in the underground world, the people here in the Wildlands are at least in the same camp as the outsiders."

When Cecilia first heard the "underground cave", her face changed involuntarily. Obviously, a series of things made Cecilia feel uneasy and fearful about this underground world. However, after hearing that Sean said that this underground cave had nothing to do with the underground world, her face became a little better, but Cecilia didn't ask why Sean knew this, perhaps in her mind. Here, Sean is truly equated with omniscience.

Of course, Cecilia doesn't ask, it doesn't mean that Sean won't say it.

For Cecilia, Sean has never concealed anything. He didn't mind telling her about basically anything: "That cave is rich in a plant called black dhara grass..."

"Black Draco?" Cecilia was taken aback.

"Well, this name is indeed a bit more unusual, but you probably know it if I change the name." Sean thought for a while, and then said, "Soul Tranquilizer."

Cecilia's eyes were wide open, her face in disbelief.

The soul tranquility potion is the most important potion for all spellcasters. It can quickly heal severe headaches caused by excessive consumption of magic power. It can also speed up the magical power recovered by the magician through meditation. Even the perfect soul tranquilization potion The magician enters a state of deep meditation-you know, the effect of deep meditation for one hour is equivalent to the effect of five hours of meditation under normal circumstances!

Moreover, the benefits of soul tranquilizer potions are far more than that. This potion has an unparalleled important role for soul energy magicians. Mental magic and soul magic belong to the branch of the soul energy system. Excessive mental consumption will also produce the side effects of excessive consumption of magic power. It is even worse. If the spirit magic fails, it is not a backlash. The same is true for soul magic that ordinary people can bear. If there is a soul tranquilizer at this time, then the side effects of these aspects can be cured quickly, and even the soul energy magician can be exempted from failing to cast magic. The side effects and increase the success rate and effect of such magic.

Natural magicians like Cecilia need this kind of potion unless the mana is consumed excessively, otherwise it is naturally unnecessary.

But this does not prevent this potion from having a resounding reputation in the circle of magicians.

However, just as the name of this kind of potion is huge, Cecilia is also very aware that there are not many alchemists who can refine this kind of potion, not to mention that only a few old antique alchemists have the formula, and the success rate is also A big problem. And Cecilia also heard that, with the scarcity of the main refining materials for the soul tranquilizer potion in recent years, and the replacement of the main material has not been found, this potion has almost reached the level of extinction.

"Black dhara grass is the main material of the soul tranquility potion." Xiao En said, "This kind of plant can only grow in dark, humid places with no light and no wind, and there is another requirement to be around such plants. The environment must be in a dry condition.... In other words, there are only two places that can satisfy the growth environment of this type of plant, one is the Wild Land here, and the other is the West Continent."

If there are such strict living environment requirements, then it is understandable that artificial cultivation cannot be carried out.

"Generally speaking, a standard dose of soul tranquilization potion needs about ten kilograms of black draco." Sean knew that Cecilia also knew the soul tranquilization potion, a special potion, and didn't know the specifics of this potion. Therefore, the formula was explained in more detail, "Under normal circumstances, the harvest of more than ten kilograms of black dhara grass in the same crypt is already a bumper harvest."

Under normal circumstances, the standard dosage of alchemy medicine is 100 ml, and only some special medicines will have a larger standard dosage. However, although there are standard doses of medicines, different medicines have different dosages. Although the standard dosage of some medicines is 100 ml, it can only take no more than a few ml or a dozen ml each time, so the price is natural It is also different.

Like a soul tranquilizer, at least one hundred milliliters is required for one dose to be effective.

"So are we going to pick this material to make soul tranquility potions?" Cecilia asked a little curiously. As for why Sean knew the soul tranquilization potions, Cecilia was much lazy to ask. In the black soil of the Starfall Forest, she had seen with her own eyes that without the aid of alchemy equipment, Xiao En made an alchemy potion similar to the Sober Demon Spring.

"No." Xiao En shook his head, "Black Draco is only the main material of the soul tranquility potion. To make the soul tranquilization potion requires a lot of materials.... My purpose is to harvest some black draco grass, and the quantity does not need to be too large. More, about seven or eight cattles will do. In addition to making soul tranquilizers, this plant can also be used to expand the size of the wolf's den, so that more young wolves can be born from the wolf's den."

Hearing Sean's words, Cecilia immediately knew what Sean was thinking.

Naturally, his purpose is to expand the size of the wolf den controlled by the Great Red Fire tribe, so that the number of sand wolves that can be used as goblin cavalry mounts will naturally increase accordingly, so that he wants to build a larger scale The goblin cavalry troops are not that difficult.

Goblin has no shortage of numbers. What prevents them from limiting their combat effectiveness is the scarcity of sand wolves that can become mounts!

Chapter 125: .Dark Crypt

The two-day period is not short, but not long.

For people like Sean and Cecilia, if they move forward attentively, they will not feel the passage of time at all. Only the gradual decrease of the food and drinking water they carry on their hands is improving the passage of time. fast. If their strength is strong enough, they can naturally do not need to eat for a long time, although this will make the body slightly weaker, but there will never be any life-threatening.

It's just that, for the two people who are currently inferior silver, let alone long-term non-eating, more than three days of non-eating is enough to make the body weak. Even Cecilia, if she only drinks water and does not have food to replenish her life, it may not be life-threatening, but the loss of combat power and loss of magical ability caused by lack of concentration are normal and common things. .

Of course, Sean and Cecilia are not in the military mode at present, but the system defaults to the team mode of the adventure group, so Sean's passive ability "Desperate Life" will of course continue to work. It's just that the effect of this special passive skill can only play a certain degree of slowing and defensive effect. If you don't eat for a long time, you will also die because of it.

But no matter how you say it, it is very necessary and important to replenish the loss of a large amount of water in the body.

So when two days later, both of them ran out of drinking water, Sean and Cecilia finally came to a sunken crypt.

The squally wind on the desert was still roaring, but standing at the entrance of the crypt, Sean and Cecilia did not feel the wind coming from inside, even the weak wind. Standing at the entrance of the crypt and staring inside, in Cecilia's eyes, the entrance of the crypt was like a giant beast's mouth that wanted to choose people and devoured people, and Cecilia felt a horror of horror.

"Don't use any lightening magic." Sean said softly.

Cecilia nodded.

So Xiao En didn't stay any longer, and jumped in from the entrance of the cave. In the next second, Sean seemed to have been swallowed by a monster, completely disappeared from Cecilia's line of sight, leaving only a rustling sound, which sounded like sand or something. There was a sound of things falling, but as the sound got farther and farther away, after only about three or four seconds, Cecilia, who was standing outside the entrance of the crypt, could no longer hear any sound.

"It's a landslide, be careful when you jump down." After a while, Cecilia heard Sean's voice from the crypt.

The voice of is a bit empty, even with a hint of echo. Obviously, the space in the crypt is very wide.

Cecilia did not hesitate, and quickly jumped, jumping from the entrance of the crypt. It's just that when she jumped down, her eyes were closed tightly. It is obvious that even if Cecilia has become a veteran on the battlefield now, she can keep her face unchanged even in the face of severed limbs and splashes of blood, but no matter what Said that Cecilia is only a sixteen-year-old girl now, still with the nature of a girl, and still has some natural fear of many things.

Just after falling from the crypt, Cecilia clearly felt a sense of weightlessness for a second, which proved that the * of the crypt was very large, at least far from what it sounds like on the surface. And when her feet touched the * and her body began to fall backwards, Cecilia screamed unavoidably, and then her buttocks fell heavily to the ground, and the whole person stuck to the slope.

The cloak on protects Cecilia's body well and prevents her from getting abrasions during the process of sliding down the slope.

Of course, Cecilia couldn't avoid the momentary pain when she fell heavily on her butt. However, this is also an unavoidable behavior. Sean also suffered a lot of pain, except that he is a warrior with thick skin, so of course he will not have the obvious strong pain like Cecilia. So that Sean didn't realize the difference between Cecilia and himself in physique, so he didn't remind Cecilia.

Slid down from the slope, Cecilia could clearly feel that the * of the fall became steeper and steeper, so the speed of the fall became faster and faster.

According to normal circumstances, there is a cloak to protect the body. During this slip, it should be slowed down due to the friction of the cloak, but the current situation is completely the opposite. But in such a high-speed sliding, Cecilia did not dare to touch the * behind her with her hands, fearing that she would scratch her hands accidentally, but with the speed of the sliding faster and the extension of time. , Cecilia's heart became more and more disturbed.

All the signs at the moment have shown that the * of this crypt is very steep and obviously very smooth. If there is no second way out, it is very difficult to return to the original road. But before Cecilia thought about these issues, she felt like she was suddenly caught by something, and then a steady force surged in, which directly lifted her up, and she was frightened again. Cecilia screamed.

"It's me!" Sean's voice rang, "Don't call it."

So, Cecilia, who had finally settled down, also calmed down.

But at this time, Sean and Cecilia frowned because they heard a strange cry.

This sound is a bit like a tiger roaring and lion roar, but it also has the sharp voice of a leopard. It is obviously a roar, but it is very strange that there are several sounds that overlap each other. But whether the sound is made by one creature or several creatures, it can only mean one thing: the other party is a very dangerous creature, because in the wild land, there will be no ordinary creatures, any kind of creature. Even if the creatures are young, they are all monsters.

Although Sean could not see Cecilia's expression clearly in this dark environment, he could still feel Cecilia's momentary tremor in his arms, and grasping tightly because of tension and fear. The movements of your own body.

Sean chuckled, put Cecilia down, reached out and patted her on the head gently, and smiled: "Don't worry, it's okay, I'm here."

"...Hmm." Cecilia's hand gripping Sean's clothes tightened, and it took a while before she responded softly.

Sean stretched out his hand and took Cecilia behind him. At the same time, he had a dead bone in his right hand, but he did not advance blindly, but began to sweep the dead bone on the ground to prevent any accidents from appearing. Sean knows very well that the depths of the wild land today are still undeveloped primitive places, so exploring these places is very likely to encounter some more powerful beasts, so even if Sean knows many of the beasts' response The law, but with his current strength, he also dared not to be big, so he could only move forward cautiously.

The reason why he did not allow Cecilia to use magic such as lighting to shine on the environment of the crypt is to avoid irritating the beasts hiding in the crypts and caves. Because they live in a dark environment for a long time, such monsters are very sensitive to light sources. Once a light source appears, they can easily irritate such monsters and cause unnecessary troubles.

Shaun didn't come to hunt the beasts in this crypt. He just wanted to pick some black dhara grass. It would be best if he could avoid fighting. So as long as the monsters do not come to his troubles, Sean will of course not anger these monsters-at least, if they cast magic such as lighting when they are attacked, then the monsters will be blinded by the momentary light. In such a state, Sean has a stronger combat advantage before they adapt to the light.

So in a sense, illumination is actually a life-saving talisman for Sean and Cecilia.

Of course, dark vision can actually be used, but for certain reasons, Sean prevented Cecilia from casting the spell. As a result, the two began to move forward in the dark environment.

The journey along the way is not very difficult, except that some things on the ground that should be stones are often swept away by the dead bones in Sean's hands, there is nothing else. Of course, it's not clear whether this thing is a pebble Sean, but in the absence of lighting, Sean feels that these things are pebble and Cecilia certainly wouldn't object to it, or that it might be other things. Gulu rolling things as stones are the best choice right now.

After walking for about ten minutes, there was a sudden shock from the dead bone in Sean's hand, which made Sean immediately realize that the distance in front of about half a meter should be a solid object such as a wall. However, in order to determine the situation, Sean still moved the dead bones up the obstacle, and soon a splatter of sparks spurted out. The appearance of the sparks appeared brighter and dazzling in this dark environment, making him frightened. Sean immediately stopped the movement in his hands.

Almost at the same moment, the roar that resembled a wolf, like a tiger, and like a leopard, rang again.

But this time, the voice is obviously weaker than before.

Xiao En's eyes lit up, and he could hear that the voice didn't seem to be far from his position.

"Left." Cecilia had already spoken.

"Let's go." Sean reached out and grabbed one of Cecilia's hands, and then began to walk to the left.

Not long after, Xiao En noticed that there was a corner opening suddenly, and at the end of the corner opening, a faint burst of fluorescence came out. The light is not bright, but it is enough to illuminate the surroundings in the immediate environment. In this fluorescent environment, Sean and Cecilia are enough to avoid the interference of the dark environment, at least they can see the surrounding situation clearly. NS.

Soon, the two saw the end.

This is also a corner, but after turning this corner, the situation in the crypt has changed significantly.

Chapter 126: .Don't have a hole in the sky

Presented in front of Sean and Cecilia is a huge underground cave!

The height of this cave is at least 30 meters high. Sean and Cecilia are standing in it, and it feels like they have come to another world.

In the karst cave, there are no stalactites and the like, but dense vegetation surrounds the dome of the karst cave.

This kind of vegetation is not the common green vegetation on the ground, but a darker light blue color. Of course, Sean is not sure whether this is the color of the vegetation itself. Because at this time in the entire cave, whether on the dome, on the ground, or in the surrounding space, there is a plant similar to lantern grass, which has a nearly transparent "outer". , And the inside of this cover is similar to the center of the stamen, but they all look the same, and Sean can't tell which is the stamen and which is the pistil.

And the top of the stamen is showing a shallow blue light. This blue light is not eye-catching. On the contrary, it looks very soft. However, this blue light looks a little bit against the cover that protects the stamen. It was bleak and gloomy. If there are only a few or a dozen of these plants, the light will naturally not be particularly strong, but the entire cave is now all of these plants, to say nothing, there are nearly hundreds of thousands of plants, which makes it appear that the entire cave has a Kind of deep blue light.

The gathering of so many "rushes" actually dilutes the gloomy atmosphere, and the entire cave seems a little dreamy and blurred.

gives Sean the most intuitive feeling, like walking into a coffee shop, the light is soft and dim, but it is full of a kind of comfort that makes people relax both physically and mentally.

But soon, Sean was surprised and suddenly woke up.

In such a weird environment right now, his spirit is tense, it is impossible to have such weird feelings, but the cave in front of him actually has the effect of affecting his perception, which makes him have to become more Be cautious and careful. Because the situation in front of him is very different from what he knows. At least when Sean saw the map of the High Priest of Heavy Rock, he did know that there was a black dhara grass in the cave. He also came in several times in the game.

At that time, people who specialized in gathering in the guild were still escorted in, and after the * under the ground came down, there were bones all over the ground, basically of all races.

Sean swept the floor with a sword, not simply exploring the way, but also sweeping away the bones on the ground-that terrible scene, which was once the most frightening scene in the game at the top of the list, so he would stop Sisi. Leah casts darkvision magic.

But the current situation is very different from the original game situation.

Because in the game before, there is no such huge cave where he and Cecilia are now!

Not to mention the distance between the dome of the cave and the ground is more than 30 meters. The area of the cave alone is probably more than several kilometers in diameter. Because Xiao En was standing at the entrance of this cave, he couldn't see the end at a glance. The maximum distance of his vision was hundreds of meters away, and there was a lake there.

A lake also glowing with faint blue light.

"This is..." The shocked look on Cecilia's face finally faded, turning her head and looking at Sean, her words were full of curiosity, "Where is it?"

"I... don't know too well." Xiao En smiled bitterly, "The plants here are very limited in what I can know."

Cecilia was a little surprised when she heard some helpless words from Sean. Because Sean's performance in front of her was almost omniscient and omnipotent, and many of the professional knowledge that even belonged to the magician, he also understood very clearly, even compared to the genuine magic that she has received excellent and comprehensive system education. The teacher is much clearer, but now she actually hears Sean say that she doesn't know him?

"There are still a lot of things in this world that I don't know." Seeing the surprised look in Cecilia's eyes, Sean naturally knew what he was thinking, so he also began to explain, "I know What I have heard is all the data that has been carefully sorted out in this world. I am just memorizing UBM, which is not a skill.... The ones who really have the great ability are those who are really strong who specialize in one field. , Even if they are as weak as Neil and William, they are no longer different from gods in their areas of expertise."

Cecilia is a little bit understanding.

But at this moment, another weird howling sounded.

This time, whether it was Cecilia or Sean, they could hear clearly and clearly, and it was no longer the empty space that seemed a bit echo-like as before.

"At the lake." Cecilia was the first to react.

This time, neither Sean nor Cecilia stayed, but immediately hurried towards the location of the lake.

There, the distance between Sean and Cecilia is only a few hundred meters away. If you move with full force, it will be less than a minute at most. It's just that even Sean feels incredible in this mysterious cave, so naturally there won't be the slightest slack, just rushing towards the lake under absolute safety, so the speed will naturally decrease accordingly. .

In the middle of the journey, Sean and Cecilia heard this weird roar twice in succession. Judging from the sound, it was obvious that the opponent would move, so Sean and Cecilia had to gradually reduce their speed and approach carefully, avoiding possible encounters that might happen suddenly. But no matter how cautious and slowing down, Sean and Cecilia are actively approaching the target, so the distance between them and the target is naturally shortening.

After about ten minutes, Sean and Cecilia finally came to an area full of bushes.

In this cave, it is a bit like the jungle world of the underground world. The peculiar vegetation all over the dome of the karst cave seems to be some kind of plant similar to vines, but the ground of the karst cave other than that does not have this kind of vegetation, the geology is rather soft, and it feels like stepping on it. It's like stepping on muddy land, and all kinds of vegetation are naturally growing on these land.

There are grasses that are almost as high as people-this kind of grass is not as innocent as the grass on the ground. The blades of the grass are jagged, and Sean was actually marked out without paying attention at first. Daokouzi, fortunately, these grasses are non-toxic, otherwise the consequences would be unimaginable. Of course, this grassy area is actually not large, so Sean and Cecilia didn't spend too much time crossing it.

In addition to the tall grass, there are also bushes of almost two meters long.

This is also a tree that has never appeared in the outside world. It is a bit like the coconut tree that Sean has seen on the earth, but the tree body is much thicker, and it takes at least five to six Sean to be able to hug it. The branches and leaves on the top of the tree are not lush, only a few pieces, but each piece is as big as a banana leaf, and the color is closer to the common green of ordinary leaves, but there is no fruit under the leaves, but the tree body is thick and abnormal. , But it looks abnormally smooth, and Sean can even feel a texture similar to metal to the touch.

In addition, these bushes also violate the growth laws of plants.

Trees are no better than flowers and grass, and their root systems are absolutely not low in absorption of nutrients. Therefore, trees are generally planted at intervals of two or three meters. Just like the planting of trees, there is a "three-three law", which roughly means three times three. Only one tree can be planted within the scope of the Jiugongge. But at the moment this area of bushes that seems to cover a lot of space, each bush is probably not even two meters apart, and they are densely packed together.

Although this greatly affects the forward speed of Sean and Cecilia, it also plays a very good role in obscuring the vision and hiding the figure.

"Roar!"

The roar, right in front of the bushes!

Shaun and Cecilia glanced at each other, and their eyes showed a little bit of amazement.

The distance was far away and I still didn't feel it. At this moment, when I was so close, I realized that the roar actually had a deterrent effect.

Shaun opened his personal status without hesitation, and he saw a line of abnormal status on it!

【Deterrence (Aura suppression): All attributes -15, all reflexes -15, abnormal state resistance -2.】

The effect of "Abnormal State Resistance-2" is not a joke. Those who have this state added are equivalent to a 20% reduction in the immunity save for all abnormal states, unless it is an abnormal state specifically marked with immunity. If this is the case, there was originally only a 50% chance of being in an abnormal state. After this state was added, it was equivalent to a 70% chance of being in an abnormal state.

More than that!

This state also comes with the feature of effect delay!

The most intuitive manifestation of in the game is the original three-second dizziness. If you are in this state, once the dizziness is determined to be successful, it will be extended to five seconds!

Five seconds! It's enough for Sean to pick up the knife and drop the knife for several rounds!

Although the world he is currently in is in reality, Sean does not want to know what it would be like to be in an abnormal state in this additional state.

However, the special effect of deterrence is not something we want to see.

In miracles, the special effect of deterrence is divided into two different states.

The first type is the coercion formed by the upper person on the lower person, usually in this state, a special description such as "domain suppression" appears in the abnormal state column. This method can only be mastered by the strong at or above the sanctuary, but because each sanctuary strong has different contacts and perceptions, of course there will be a variety of special instructions for domain suppression, generally At the level above the legend, this field will tend to perfection.

Of course, this also means that not every sanctuary powerhouse can display deterrence.

And "suppression of momentum", this can be regarded as a certain manifestation of "talent".

This usually only appears in those with special pedigree talents or powerful monsters.

For example, Longwei.

This is a kind of momentum suppression, but the display on the abnormal state is different from now, and Longwei is also a bit uneven. Like Yalong's dragon power, it is generally reduced by about 5%, while facing a real adult dragon, the decrease is at least 50%.

All attributes and reflexes have been reduced by 15%, which already means that the creatures that can issue such deterrence are definitely stronger than the average Yalong. As for any kind of dragon, unless it is a silly one like the wizard dragon, its strength is usually not lower than the gold level, but this is just an ordinary dragon, and generally has the ability of dragon power. Dragons are the stage between the upper level of gold and the sanctuary. In human terms, they are the powerhouses of the upper level of gold.

But even so, that Longwei's influence is only 5%.

So it's not difficult to understand the horror in the eyes of Sean and Cecilia. It can even be said that Sean knows better than Cecilia how terrifying the owner behind this deterrence is. I am afraid that this creature must be at least the level above the middle sanctuary. This is not what Sean is right now. Existence that can challenge.

Almost at this moment, Xiao En's heart had already begun to retreat.

"Roar!"

This time, the roar was stronger and more obvious, as if it were not far in front of Sean and Cecilia. It was just that with the sound of this sound, it was the owner of this sound that made Sean feel that the owner of the sound seemed to have extremely strong pain.

Cecilia raised her head to look at Sean, her eyes a little frightened and dazed. Her current strength is only the lower silver. Although she is not far from the upper silver, her magic power accumulation is still far from enough. This fact is that there is no way to use tricks and can only be used slowly, unless there is something big. Opportunities can be advanced in a short period of time, otherwise it will take at least one or two years before they can step into the upper silver.

Although for the magic world, it is a rare occurrence in a century to have a high-ranking silver magician under the age of eighteen, but Cecilia knows very well that this kind of talent and talent is simply not available to Sean. Any meaning. From the moment Sean became the lord, his enemies were basically golden-class powerhouses, and in the future, whether it was an action against the savage land or a war with the Kingdom of Darbion, the enemies involved were bound to be saints. A domain-level powerhouse, in the case of enemies at this level, Cecilia can't exert combat effectiveness at all.

This makes Cecilia very anxious, but she has nothing to do.

Even at this moment, she really realized the gap-just as a deterrent, she could hardly afford the courage to fight.

Sean glanced at Cecilia, and Sean could naturally feel the meaning in her eyes. He smiled slightly, stretched out his hand and patted Cecilia's head softly, and said softly: "You just have to stand. Behind me is enough, there is no need for you to stand in front of me.... Now, let's see what kind of big guy it is, I can feel its weakness and pain, maybe this It may be an opportunity."

Chapter 127: .Weird situation

Shaun led Cecilia cautiously out of the bushes.

They move very gently.

In other words, even if they want to be fast, they can't get anywhere fast, after all, their total reflexes and all attributes have dropped by 15%.

The debuff formed by the special ability of deterrence does not have a duration like ordinary debuff, but a kind of domain-like debuff effect. As long as the deterrence is formed, this effect will continue. This effect will disappear only after leaving this range-of course, for debuffs like "Aura Suppression", it will not disappear immediately, but will continue to continue for a period of time before disappearing.

Usually this duration is about one to five minutes, depending on the specific strength of the deterrence.

After walking in the bushes for about a minute or two, the vision suddenly became brighter!

The bushes within a radius of about a hundred square meters have been completely destroyed and collapsed. Almost none of the bushes can remain intact. The lucky one is to leave a small tip with huge leaves, but more It has become a piece of sawdust. This area is undoubtedly the bleakest area in the entire underground cavern jungle. After all, under such tremendous destructive power, plants similar to lantern grass are also not immune.

It's amazing, but even in such an environment, Sean and Cecilia can still clearly see the situation in front of them.

A huge four-legged creature covered in scars fell to one side.

This is a creature that Sean has never seen in the game, and even the information about Warcraft on the forum has never appeared. It looks a bit like a lion-like creature, but it does not have the lion's sideburns. It can even be said that there is almost no hair on its body, but it is covered by a layer of black scales. In addition, it also has horns on its head. It looks a bit like horns, but it is stronger and sharper than horns, and it does not grow like two sides, but grows toward the front. There is no doubt that This pair of horns can also be used as weapons when necessary. As for the tail of this giant beast, it looks obviously not a soft type, but a bit as hard as a tiger's tail. In addition to being covered with black scaly, it also has a triangular pointed horn at the end of the tail.

From any aspect, this creature is obviously an extremely terrifying monster. Only its down side body is nearly two meters high. This clearly shows how huge this creature is. Judging from Sean's sensitivity to data, this monster has the least body length and tail. It must be more than five meters, and the standing height will be about three meters, and it has strong explosive power and lethality.

But now, this terrifying monster is collapsing here, even though it continues to roar similar to deterrence, deterring all creatures that dare to approach, and proclaiming its home strength, but in Sean and Cecily In Ya's eyes, this monster was only a breath, and it could die at any time.

Because the bright red blood was almost gushing out of his body, especially a wound on his back. According to Sean's visual observation, it was 30 to 40 catties of flesh gone, almost all under the flesh could be seen. The skeleton is out. Except for this terrifying wound, although the other scars looked terrible, and the scales that covered the body had fallen off in a large amount, Cecilia's eyes were not as serious as they had imagined.

But this is not to say that it is still possible to save life, because there are many small flames that have not been extinguished on its body. These flames are all black. Although there is no temperature emitted, the more it is, the more it appears. fear. Not to mention Cecilia, even Sean can feel the terrible power emanating from these flames, perhaps these flames are the real culprit that caused the death of this monster.

For some reason, when Sean saw these flames, he suddenly felt a little familiar.

He walked slightly to the side for a few steps, trying to get around the huge monster to observe the surrounding environment, but just walked less than one meter away, he accidentally stepped on the sawdust block, and made a noise right now. The environment can be called shocking noises.

"Roar!"

Like a neurotic and frightened child, this beast made a series of violent noises in an instant, as if it wanted to struggle to stand up. But maybe the injury on the body was too serious. It was just after standing up, and then fell down immediately, shaking up a cloud of dust and the sawdust that splashed around due to the huge earthquake, under such terrible vibration. , These spattered sawdust are almost indistinguishable from arrows.

The sharp-eyed Sean immediately threw back and threw Cecilia to the ground.

The whistling sound of breaking through the air is like a landslide and tsunami.

Sean pressed Cecilia on his body, listening to the voice whizzing above his head, his scalp exploded, and an unprecedented sense of fear spread in his heart. The pounce just now made him feel a moment of stagnation, which is obviously completely different from the previous speed. He knows that if Cecilia is not close enough to him, if the distance is more than two meters, he will only I could watch Cecilia being dismembered by these sawdust fragments.

Only an instant, like a thousand years, the roaring sound of breaking through the air finally ceased.

Shaun swept the surrounding area with the corner of his eye, and saw that under the sharp arrow-like sawdust, the low trees behind Xiaoen actually fell dozens of them, and these low trees were actually in the wood chips. Cuan shot was also torn into countless fragments.

The corner of Sean's eyes was twitching.

This impact and destructive force...

Shawn's heart moved, he suddenly opened his personal attributes, and as expected, under the status bar, in addition to "deterrence", there was another anomalous attribute.

【Slow: Movement speed -35. 】

Obviously, the shock wave generated when this huge monster fell heavily to the ground just now also has a strong influence on it.

This time, no matter how courageous Sean was, he only felt bitter in his mouth. The current situation clearly exceeded his expectations. His movement speed was reduced by 35 percent. Coupled with a 15% reduction in his full reactivity, Sean's movement speed was abruptly weakened by a hundred. Fifty points, this can be used "difficulty" to describe the current degree.

Fortunately, sluggishness is not a side effect of deterrence, so this debuff has a duration. As long as the time is over, his movement speed can be restored. Only when Sean glanced at the duration of this effect, there was a burst of fatigue in his heart, because the duration of this effect was actually as long as three minutes, which was a bit scary.

The huge and terrifying monster was lying on the ground at this time. The move just now seemed to make it consume a lot of power. Now it seems that it has no strength to lift up, and can only stare at Sean and Cecilia. . However, the terrifying coercive momentum has not diminished in the slightest, which makes Xiao En dare not act rashly, fearing that if there is any misunderstanding, the consequences will be really unimaginable.

"Nothing?" Sean slowly got up from Cecilia and asked softly.

"It's okay." Cecilia glanced at the surroundings with lingering fear. She was obviously frightened, but she was really not injured. "What is this monster?"

"I don't know." Sean's real eyes showed a burst of brilliance, but he could not detect anything, which made him feel unusually confused.

Eye of Reality is Sean's greatest weapon. Although it is not a small flaw when used to deal with humans, it is not a problem if it is only used to check props, creatures, and monsters. Especially after gaining the ability of "surviving from desperate situation," Sean even possesses all creatures, all monsters, all materials, and all poisons. In other words, everything in this world, except for art objects and the like, There is nothing that Sean doesn't know.

But now, he actually doesn't know anything about this monster in front of him!

But soon Sean looked at the other side of this huge monster, but his pupils suddenly shrank!

Those are two monster corpses whose concrete shape is completely not under the monster in front of them. They are also two quadruped monsters in shape, but different from the huge monster in front of them, the heads of these two monsters are both It has a crocodile mouth and also has scales on its body.

Underground Horned Dragon!

"How is it possible!" Sean already exclaimed.

"What's the matter?" Cecilia looked over with some curiosity, her face also changed.

Although she could not recognize the two monsters, she was able to recognize the corpses lying beside those monsters.

That's the Dark Elf!

There is even a blood elf among them!

"Didn't you say that this underground cave and the underground world are not together?" Cecilia's voice was already a little alarmed.

Sean's pupils shrank slightly, and the situation now seemed to be beyond his expectations. When he came to this underground cave in the game, he didn't find the cave at all, and there were no races in the underground world. But now there is not only a monster that he can't recognize at all, but also an underground horned dragon that is listed as a seventh-level monster. This is equivalent to the strength of the gold in the human world, unless it is a strong person who has entered the sanctuary. Otherwise, even the powerhouses who are also high-ranking gold can use this kind of underground horned dragon.

But after all, Beasts are just Beasts. Although underground horned dragons can be tamed, the difficulty is definitely not small.

In other words, among the dozen or so black elves and blood elves, there must be two trainers. And from the clothes on that blood elf, Sean can even see that his status is noble. I am afraid that at least he should be an emperor's identity. After all, in the underground world, the identity of the blood elves is born. He was ranked higher by the black elves.

"Woo."

Just when the atmosphere was a little tense, an abrupt cry suddenly sounded.

This is like a stone thrown into the lake, quickly swaying a circle of ripples, and at the same time breaking the almost suffocating atmosphere at this moment. It's just that the break of this atmosphere is not what Sean wants, because he can see that the unknown monster suddenly becomes irritable at this time, and its vicious eyes are fixed on Sean and Cecilia the two!

Chapter 128: .Warcraft Cub

Although the huge monster in front of him was extremely angry, it was very strange and did not immediately launch an attack. It just stared coldly at Sean and Cecilia. It's not that this beast is completely exhausted or injured so badly that it can't move, but that this beast seems to be a rat-inhibitor, so it doesn't dare to attack immediately. Otherwise, if it just generated the shock wave just now, it would almost destroy Sean and Cecilia's ability to kill in seconds, wanting to kill Shaun and Cecilia is simply effortless.

"Woo."

There was another faint sound.

This time, both Sean and Cecilia heard very clearly, because the voice was at their feet.

Looking down, the two of them saw a puppy whose eyes had not been fully opened at Cecilia's feet. It seems that because it has not opened its eyes, it can't see everything around it clearly, so it just rubbed its head against Cecilia's trousers, and then made a few subtle voices similar to coquettish. , The voice is not very strong, it can almost be said that it was hummed with a nasal sound, so Sean and Cecilia did not hear it either.

Shaun glanced at the creature at Cecilia's feet, then looked up at the huge monster, he seemed to have a sense of awakening in his heart.

So when he lowered his head again, Sean had already begun to observe this monster that was obviously just born.

This is a silvery white monster, but it is strange that it is not covered with black scales like the giant monster whose father or mother is unknown, but it has black scales that look like it. Very soft fur. This fur is very fluffy, it looks a bit like cotton candy, so that most of its limbs are covered, and it looks like a short-legged kitten-this monster is obviously very typical Signs of the cat family, this can be seen from the fact that its parents look like a lion.

But the one that is truly dangerous is probably its tail.

Like his parents, although this little guy has not opened his eyes, his tail is already showing a hideous side-although it is not covered with black scales, it also has a layer of soft-looking fluff, but it is hidden Inside this layer of fluff are sharp needles like the tail of a scorpion. Shaun saw it with his own eyes when it was rubbing against Cecilia's trousers. Every time that flicked tail hits the ground, a sharp corner popped out of the fluff and then plunged into the ground.

does not know whether it is a defensive consciousness instinctively or the result of other subjective consciousness control.

If it is the former, then Sean will have to prevent it from hurting Cecilia unconsciously; and if it is the latter, its current situation should probably not cause any harm to Cecilia. .

glanced at the monster, Sean motioned to Cecilia to pick it up, of course, the action must be gentle.

At first, when Cecilia's figure moved slightly, the huge monster obviously had some resistance, and after letting out a roar, she had to move again. It's just that its injuries were too serious. Once the stiffness that had been maintained during the confrontation was broken, it fell heavily to the ground, and the wounds on its body were almost splattered with blood, especially on the back. That wound, more like a blowout, spewed out a column of blood as high as two meters.

Fortunately, this time there was no sawdust around this monster, so when it fell heavily, it only produced a strong air current impact, and did not shoot as terrifying as before.

But this time, Sean and Cecilia understood why such a monster cub came out of them.

Because under the impact of the airflow, the cub clinging to Cecilia's side was blown up like a balloon, and fell to the rear. Looking at the height of the beast being blown up, Xiao En wondered whether the cub of the beast would be directly thrown into a pool of flesh when it fell. But soon, Sean knew that his consideration was unnecessary, because when he saw this monster cub fell to the ground, the part of its fluffy hair that was in contact with the ground dented, and then When the hair swelled up again, the cub was directly bounced into flight.

Because of the swollen body hair, this monster cub looks like a pinball, constantly between landing and flying. It's just that every time the bomb flies, you can see the decrease in strength. This obviously should be related to the altitude, but when the monster cub finally landed and no longer was bombed, it was far away from Sean and Cecily. Ya has been nearly five meters away, this is the result of it being bounced back after hitting the tree many times, otherwise God knows where it will be bounced.

After landing again, the cub got up from the ground, and then shook its head. Although it tried to stand up, it seemed to be dizzy in the process of flying and landing. Now its balance ability is really not very good, almost immediately after standing up, it fell down again. After several failed attempts, this monster cub has exerted its best arrogant skills as a child.

It started to cry!

The original sound it made was a little deep, but the sound it made at the moment was a little sharp and rush, which was obviously a manifestation of anxiety.

But at this time, the huge monster is powerless. Even if it wants to pass, its physical condition does not allow it to make extra moves. The actions taken several times just now have already cost it a lot. Physical strength, with its current serious injury, can still be like this, this is simply a miracle. Therefore, after hearing the sound of his child, this huge monster only made a few low voices to respond and appease.

It's just how soft its voice is, but it falls in the ears of Sean and Cecilia, but it is no different from howling.

Shaun glanced at Cecilia, then nodded and signaled, so Cecilia began to walk towards the cub of Warcraft.

This time, perhaps it was realized that Sean and Cecilia did not have any hostility, and this huge monster did not display that kind of attack and hostility, but allowed Cecilia to gradually approach its child.

The little guy seemed to perceive someone approaching, and instinctively wanted to dodge, but after sniffing a few times and realizing that the smell was not very annoying, he actually stopped crying, but got up and started smoking Nose, approached towards Cecilia. This was a bit beyond Sean's expectation. He looked at this monster thoughtfully, and then at the two dead underground ceratops and dozens of corpses on the ground, before finally turning his gaze on On that monster.

The cubs of Warcraft who have not opened their eyes are in the "baby" stage in the game.

It's not easy for players to get pets. This is a very tedious and troublesome thing. Usually, a player can only sign a warcraft contract with one warcraft at the same time. However, if it is a high-level and advanced profession that is dedicated to the hunter, the beast trainer, you can enter into a warcraft contract with up to three beasts, but you can't sign a warcraft contract with a humanoid creature if you choose this profession.

There are several ways to obtain pets, but the most common one is to put the monsters into a severely injured and dying state, and then capture them and tame them.

The monster pets obtained in this way are already considered to have grown to a certain level, so their abilities and other aspects are basically fixed. Unless they can evolve, there is not much room for growth.

If you want to develop a truly powerful pet, you must start training from an early age.

The so-called juvenile period naturally refers to those monsters that already have a certain level of consciousness. In layman's terms, they open their eyes and are weaned. And all beasts below the juvenile period belong to the baby stage. It is a very tangled and troublesome process to bring them up to the juvenile period, and this does not mean the end, because it is really necessary to let a pet To be able to go into battle, at the very least, you have to enter the growth stage.

In addition to these two means of signing a Warcraft contract, there is naturally a third, that is, obtaining "pet eggs".

Like the Crypt Ice Spider Queen's egg that Sean now uses Andrew's hand to seal in the basement of the Black Swan Castle, it is a pet egg. The pet obtained in this way is a neutral mode between the first and second ways of obtaining a pet, because it does not need to go through the juvenile period and the growth period. Once it is hatched from the pet egg, after a period of time After the time of feeding, it will immediately enter the maturity stage, and you can directly enter the battle, but the abilities and achievements gained in this way are relatively small, and they are not as good as the pets that are really cultivated and trained since childhood.

Sean remembers clearly that his guild leader owns a vampire humanoid pet, which is truly nurtured from childhood to full body, and its combat power is terrifying, even the strong in the legendary realm have the power to fight.

As for a monster that is still in the baby stage, Sean knows that its characteristic is to follow instinct and act.

At present, this Beast is extremely dependent on Cecilia, and its dependence is even higher than that of his parents. Then there can only be one explanation: Cecilia definitely possesses this Beast. The factor of trust and closeness can be felt.

As for a magician, where can a monster feel close?

The answer is undoubtedly the special ability of the magician.

As a magician with extremely outstanding talents, Cecilia's elemental affinity, spiritual power, and magic power are obviously extremely powerful. And this monster cub has not opened its eyes yet, and will only choose the most comfortable environment based on instinct, so there is no doubt that it has felt extremely strong elemental power in Cecilia's body, and only for this reason, can it be able to Explain why this cub of Warcraft would like to stay with Cecilia so much.

Seeing Cecilia picking up the cub of Warcraft, the little guy immediately put his whole body on Cecilia's body very comfortably, and even kept arching his body to try to change to a more comfortable position. The nose twitched, and she kept rubbing her head against Cecilia. This was already very obvious. Even Cecilia had already discovered the reason why this monster cub got close to him.

If it's normal, Cecilia will be very happy.

But now, she really couldn't be happy at all, if there weren't any Warcraft parents who were staring at her in the vicinity.

So, Cecilia turned her head and looked at Sean asking for help.

Shaun glanced at the monster cub who hadn't opened his eyes, and then at the giant monster staring at him, Xiao En finally made a decision.

Chapter 129: .maternal love

"I know you can understand me." Xiao En looked at the huge monster in front of him, and said in a deep voice, "And I also believe that you have seen it, and we have no malice towards you or your children. "

This huge monster that resembles a lion and tiger just stared at Sean, and then heavily sprayed two white air from his nose.

It feels like the white gas emitted by a steam-powered car when it is started. It is not only large, but also has a burning tingling sensation.

But from this action, Sean could find that the monster in front of him seemed to show a trace of disdain. But he didn't know what exactly this monster was disdainful of, but at this time, Xiao En was helpless, and could only continue to bite the bullet.

"Your death is inevitable." When Sean said this, his eyes glanced at this monster. The meaning was already very obvious, but he also quietly approached Cecilia. , Because he was not sure whether this sentence would irritate the monster in front of him.

Fortunately, this monster is not angry at the words that represent a certain degree of insult in the human world.

"In this case, if your child continues to stay here, there will only be two endings, and these two endings are definitely not what you want to see." Xiao En quietly breathed a sigh of relief before continuing to speak.

Two ends, the first one is nothing more than starvation.

And the second one is a bit sad. Obviously, the dark elves and blood elves from the underground world will never let go of this monster, and judging from the fact that the other side actually dispatched two underground horned dragons, then it proves They have the belief that they are determined to win.

You know, underground horned dragons are not so easy to tame. They are very irritable by nature. The strength of underground horned dragons in adulthood is equivalent to that of the upper golden powerhouse, and the underground horned dragons in adulthood are also It is completely impossible to be tamed. Therefore, if you want to tame the underground horned dragon as your pet, you must start to tame it from its infancy or even the baby state that has not opened its eyes. Only in this way can there be a certain chance to tame the underground horned dragon as your pet.

But according to Sean's understanding, the subterranean horned dragon is a social creature, and even if it is a small group, there will be at least a dozen underground horned dragons, including three to five adult underground horned dragons, and others. There are several underground horned dragons in the growth stage and quasi-complete body. The quasi-complete underground horned dragon is actually the underground horned dragon that is close to adult, so these are the main forces in the battle. If you don't kill them, you can't capture their cubs, so this will be a very tragic battle.

In the underground world, if the strength and scale have not reached a certain level, no one would dare to trouble these underground horned dragons.

Think about it, a group of high-level golden peak powerhouses and high-level golden powerhouses launched a charge. Apart from the sanctuary powerhouses, who would dare to resist? Even the sanctuary powerhouse did not dare to resist head-on, and this was still the smallest underground horned dragon clan. If it met those larger scales, it would be no less than Dragon Nest Expedition.

As for those underground horned dragons in the growth period, there is also no way to tame them, they can only be enslaved.

In the essential sense, although it is still in the category of "pets", it is not the case for players, because this kind of creature cannot sign a warcraft contract and can only be consumed as cannon fodder. Of course, players in the game did not have this kind of welfare at the beginning, only those NPCs in the game can do this, so this is also a place that makes players very uncomfortable.

But no matter how you say it, two tamed and grown-up underground horned dragons died here, both fully expressing the seriousness of this matter at the moment.

In other words, those aliens from the underground world absolutely have the belief that they must not give up on their goals.

"Human, do you think my IQ is not as good as yours?"

A dull and majestic voice sounded directly in Sean's mind. However, although the voice was a little deep, it could still be distinguished that it was a female voice, or that the monster in front of him was a female monster.

Although Sean has heard more than once in the game that advanced monsters are intelligent and capable of conversation, the situation in the game is completely different from the reality. After all, there are not many players in the game. Will take it seriously. And even if Sean was so good in the game, he really seldom had any dealings with high-level monsters outside of the dungeon. This can be known from the fact that he has never owned a pet before.

So when he felt the sound of this beast directly in his mind, Sean's first reaction was stunned, and secondly, it was a bit unexplainable weird.

However, although this monster can communicate with Sean and feel his mentality changes, it does not know the reason for the strangeness of Sean's heart because it lacks contact with humans. It just regards it as a kind of communication that it can communicate with. Information, so I heard this monster continue to say: "Humans, high-level beasts have strong wisdom and spirit, so it is not difficult to communicate with you, you don't need to be surprised."

Sean is keenly aware of the term "superior beast", but what really cares about is actually "superior". The fact that Warcraft will not call itself a Warcraft is the same as humans never think of themselves as a low-level creature.

"Since you also have wisdom and can communicate, then you must be able to understand what I mean."

What Sean did not expect again was that this huge monster sneered: "You mean to let me hand over my child to you? In this case, what is the difference from those dirty guys from the underground? "

Sean was asked such a rhetorical question, but suddenly choked, feeling like he didn't know how to answer.

In essence, Sean's taking in this monster cub is certainly an act without any hostility, but in terms of principle behavior, what he does is indeed no different from those underground black elves and blood elves. , And also took this cub of Warcraft as his own. But in the same way, Sean didn't believe that the monster with high intelligence in front of him would not be able to see the difference between the two, but he still asked that, so this only meant one thing.

This monster will never allow Sean to take his child away easily.

After being silent for a while, Xiao En said, "The biggest difference between me and them is that I will not enslave your children, and I believe you can also tell that your children obviously like my companions. This is the difference between me and them. The biggest difference between the two. And I believe and firmly believe that my companions will treat your children kindly, no less than you personally take care of them. Can these not make you relieved?"

At this time, this huge monster was finally lazy-or turned its head hard, and glanced at Cecilia.

Cecilia doesn't know what this monster is communicating with Sean, but she can feel the mental fluctuations in the air. As a magician and talent is still so good, if you don't know what this means What do you mean, it really means that you have been a magician for so many years for nothing. Therefore, even under the terrifying coercion of this huge monster, Cecilia's small face was upturned, without the slightest flinching.

"Phoenix blood, no wonder my child would be willing to stay by her side." The giant monster twitched his nose a few more times, and then said after sniffing the air, "The magical power is very abundant, and the fire element has a very high affinity, even rich. To the extent that I like it a little bit."

High-level monsters have high intelligence and can communicate with humans, but the self-confidence generated because of their strength makes them not or disdain to lie. Therefore, if you can really make them like it, then you really like it, at least on this point even the most cunning Warcraft will not refute it.

But through this sentence, Sean has a deeper understanding of the monster in front of him, and even therefore has a deeper understanding of Cecilia's Phoenix bloodline. Obviously, the blood of the phoenix blood is not just used to strengthen its own related abilities, it must have a very profound influence on the outside world and even the world.

Thinking of this, Sean suddenly said, "Take out the Scarlet Flame."

Cecilia was taken aback for a moment, then took out a fiery red exquisite gem from her body.

As soon as this gem was taken out, it immediately emitted a crimson brilliance, which was particularly dazzling in this faint blue environment. But at this moment, no one will watch the brilliance of this precious gemstone, but stare at the marshmallow-like monster, because Cecilia almost took out this gem, this little one. After the guy's nose twitched a few times, he immediately became restless and began to struggle in Cecilia's arms.

Cecilia hesitated for a moment, and tried to get the gem in front of the little guy, but didn't want this guy to bite the Scarlet Flame with a thunderous speed, and then just listen to "click". With a sound, this gem with a hardness comparable to Mithril Mystic Crystal was bitten off by this beast cub by one third. Listening to the "click-click" in the little guy's mouth, Cecilia suddenly let out a scream, tears were already rolling in his eyes.

This gem, for today's Cecilia, actually does not have much effect. Originally, before her bloodline was awakened, Scarlet Flame could also play a role in increasing the power of fire magic, and it also made Cecilia's affinity for fire magic extremely high, and more importantly, it could accelerate her Meditation speed and magic recovery. It's just that after Cecilia's bloodline awakens, relying only on the power of the bloodline can get three times the effect that the Scarlet Flame can provide, so this precious gem doesn't even have the value of icing on the cake.

It's just that Cecilia has always been very rare this gem.

Because this can be regarded as the first time Sean took the initiative to fight for Cecilia, this ruby-like magician is more symbolic than practical for Cecilia.

But at this moment, she was actually bitten off by this monster cub by one-third, and it was eaten as food, how could Cecilia not be upset.

Almost at this moment of thoughts, this greedy little guy bit off more than half of it with a single mouth, and Cecilia had the idea of smashing this beast cub to death on the spot. That was a precious gift from Sean, how could this  beast be eaten as food!

But this gluttonous cub of Warcraft doesn't care about it. With a small mouth, Cecilia's last little bit was also eaten by it.

Now, Cecilia was so angry that she grabbed it with both hands, and then slammed the cub of the beast against the ground.

If it is a normal monster cub, it will definitely fall to death if it is hit like this.

But at the moment this monster cub obviously cannot be classified into the "normal" category. After being thrown to the ground by Cecilia, it bounced again at the same swift speed and jumped high. After Cecilia's head, he flew straight for two or three meters before falling back down again.

Cecilia was taken aback for a moment, then remembered that this  beast was not afraid of this way of falling, because it was thrown into the air not long ago. Instead of waiting for Cecilia to recover, it was the second time that the monster cub that had fallen down again rebounded this time and only bounced to Cecilia's chest, and then stretched out his claws and grabbed it indiscriminately. The cloak that hooked Cecilia's body in this way, hung directly on her body, and was satisfied and happily rubbed a few times, making a cry like joy.

"It seems that my child really likes your companion." This huge monster looked at the appearance of his child, and the mental fluctuations passed to Sean also appeared a bit strange, "I didn't expect you to have flames. Such things as nuclei, this kind of fire element crystals are very rare now."

Fire element crystallization, naturally refers to the magic gem of Crimson Flame.

In today's main material world, this kind of thing is indeed very rare, but it is not uncommon. Sean knows several ways to obtain these things. Of course, the cost of obtaining such things is usually not low. Obtaining this crimson flame through a transaction with the Black Cat Business Association is the easiest special magic item in the game. But if there is a chance to go to the elemental plane, it is not difficult to obtain these things, of course, the premise is to survive in the elemental plane.

But what Sean didn't expect was that the rations for this monster were actually these. If we continue to feed this way in the future to survive her infancy, this would be a huge burden for Sean now.

"Sean." At this moment, Cecilia looked over pitifully, her voice already weeping, "The crimson flame you gave me is gone."

Xiao En was taken aback for a moment, and then he comforted him: "It's okay, I'll find you a piece later. Didn't I say that I've done it before, and I will give you the four-color holy flame."

"Human, can you really find the Heart of the Elements?" The spirit of this monster came again.

The heart of the elements, this thing is called the four-color holy flame in the human world. It is a powerful magic gem that combines the four elemental powers of fire, water, earth, and wind. It can provide the holder with the four elemental powers. The bonus, even the power and effect of the compound magic can be greatly improved, far beyond what a single element crystal like Scarlet Flame can compare.

Of course, what's more precious is that the Heart of Elements is the material for many rare and advanced alchemy props.

The most famous is the legendary sage's stone.

So, the value of this thing is by no means comparable to Scarlet Flame.

At this moment, when Sean heard the words of this monster, he immediately realized that Elemental Heart was probably the necessary material for the evolution of this monster. Originally, Sean did not intend to really take this monster away. His bigger plan was to try to get away from the dispute between this monster and those guys in the underground world, and he spoke before because this monster cub was very dependent on it. Cecilia, and Cecilia did have a good impression—of course, this good impression disappeared after the cub ate the scarlet flame.

But no matter how you say it, Sean is now at a loss. If he doesn't take this monster cub away, then it's not his style.

So after sorting out these questions, Sean nodded: "I do have a way to get it."

"Human, if you promise to get an elemental heart for my child, then I will allow you to take my child away." This huge monster moved its body, "What is flowing inside my race is The blood of the ancient dragon is by no means comparable to these subdragon species with the blood of the dragon. As long as you treat my child kindly, then he will definitely help you."

Ancient dragon! ?

Sean's pupils shrank suddenly. This term is very particular.

Like all the subdragon species nowadays are the products of giant dragon hybrids, including lizardmen, kobolds, half-dragons and so on. But for the people of this world, it may not be clear, but for players like Sean, he does know very well that the nature of these dragons that produced many offspring is the descendants of ancient dragons, and only The blood of the ancient dragon can truly be regarded as the blood of the dragon in the blood of the people.

In other words, once the cub Cecilia holding in her arms grows up, it is truly a creature comparable to the ancient dragon!

But thinking of this, Xiao En's gaze turned to this monster again, and his eyes became more confused.

"Your doubts really make sense." The monster said again, "Because of the power of the bloodline and the legal restrictions of the world today, you can understand from the perspective of your human beings. Although I am an adult, I am in fact only in a mature stage. That's it. Only after the heart that has swallowed the elements and degenerated, can I be regarded as a truly complete body, and then I will be able to display the strength no less than that of a giant dragon."

Hearing this, Sean was relieved immediately.

Any Warcraft will inevitably go through four stages of growth, namely the juvenile period, the growth period, the mature period, and then the complete body. In general, most adult monsters are complete, which means that their growth has reached their limit. A powerful sub-dragon monster like the underground horned dragon will become complete once it reaches adulthood. The growth of all abilities is at the limit. Apart from evolution, there is no other means to continue to grow.

However, not all monsters can evolve.

At least the underground horned dragon will not work.

And the black rock terrestrial dragon that Sean encountered in Mordgarn before is a fully grown-up body, although it is only a sixth-level beast, it is naturally inferior to the seventh-level underground horned dragon. However, the Black Rock Earth Traveling Dragon itself belongs to the Earth

Traveling Dragon that has changed once, so it also possesses the special skill of Longwei. But what's even more commendable is that the Black Rock Terrestrial Dragon happens to belong to the type of sub-dragon that can evolve. Once it is successfully evolved, it will directly be a ninth-level monster, which has completely crossed the three-pole stage, and this is not the limit. It is a re-growth in another sense.

At the moment, this huge monster is at least an eighth-level monster, but it is still only a mature stage. If it can enter the complete body, what level is it?

Ten-level Warcraft! ?

That is a true legendary creature!

"Don't worry, I will definitely grab a piece of elemental heart for your child." Sean immediately responded.

A legendary creature, Sean would be a fool if he doesn't move. Even dragon creatures have extremely long growth periods, but generally they should be able to reach adulthood in the next century. After all, this monster in front of us only has the blood of ancient dragons, not the real ancient dragons, so adulthood cannot be compared. The dragon is still long, and in Cecilia's situation, it's not a problem to break into the sanctuary. It's also not a problem to live for one or two hundred years. There will be such a legendary creature with him in the future, I am afraid that no one will dare to provoke him. .

Of course, this is a long-term consideration.

In the short-term, as long as this monster cub enters the growth stage after the most difficult baby stage, it will also be able to exert a certain degree of combat effectiveness. In the future, on the battlefield, it is definitely not difficult to be responsible for protecting Cecilia. This is enough for Sean to make a capital investment.

"Human, I noticed that your wording is capture." This monster with the blood of the ancient dragon is obviously not stupid, just like Sean's high concentration can easily find some key words, this monster is also the same. Very accurate capture of Sean's words, "I'm afraid I can't help you in my current situation, but even though I have not yet entered the final stage, I also have the blood of the ancient dragon. Some characteristics of dragons."

Hearing this, Sean's gaze immediately shifted to the black scales all over the floor.

Each of these scales has the size of a square shield equivalent to the human world. Although Sean has not touched it yet, looking at the two shock waves caused by this monster just now, these scales have not moved or been blown at all. It can be seen that the density of the material is definitely not as light as imagined. And Sean also keenly noticed a problem. This huge monster said that it possessed some of the characteristics of a dragon. Does this mean that its blood is also comparable to that of the dragon's blood?

After saying this, this huge monster throws another blockbuster: "I don't have the habit of collecting treasures like dragons, so my lair doesn't have anything worth keeping. But. Those corpses over there, please don't be polite if you have anything to see."

At this moment, Sean's eyes almost became extremely enthusiastic.

At first glance, the blood elves have an extraordinary status, and the things they use are probably fine products, and since those black elves can follow, they are probably also wealthy. But what excites Sean most is the corpse of the underground horned dragon. You must know that even the corpses of the earth travel dragon and the flying dragon have many precious materials, so these strengths are more in the underground horns above the earth travel dragon and flying dragon. How precious is the dragon's corpse?

"Human, you still have half an hour to collect the loot and leave here."

"What about in half an hour?" Xiao En was taken aback.

"This is my grave." The huge monster suddenly exudes a sad atmosphere. "There is a passage through the underground world, excavated by those * underground races. If it's not your promise, then finally I My child will also be buried here with me, but now my child can avoid a death, I am very pleased, I only hope that you can fulfill your promise, treat my child kindly and seize an element for him heart of."

Hearing this, Xiao En felt a kind of sorrow when he understood why this underground cave did not have the cave in front of him in the game. He knew that this might be the result of deliberate guidance by the spirit fluctuations emitted by this monster. The purpose was naturally to resonate in Sean's heart, and then don't forget what happened here today and treat its children kindly.

However, Sean did not resist such behavior.

Because from the very beginning, he had the idea of cultivating this monster cub with the blood.

But now, no more time can be wasted, so Sean quickly walked towards the two underground horned dragons.

Dismembering and selecting useful materials from it is not a time-saving task. Half an hour is only enough for Sean to solve an underground horned dragon. I am afraid that there is no time to dismember and select the other end slowly. Take away the key parts. As for the corpses of the black elves and blood elves, Sean simply asked Cecilia to open them. Anyway, his hands were always black, so don't waste this precious opportunity to open the corpses.

As for the black scales scattered all over the ground, Sean also asked Cecilia to sort it out first, and then he would directly use the space ring to turn it away.

Similarly, based on the principle of not wasting, Sean dumped out some of the containers that store drinking water in the space, and then asked Cecilia to hold the blood of that huge monster. It was really something comparable to dragon blood. Woolen cloth. As for Sean's apparently hateful behavior, this monster did not refuse at all, and even expressed generously, letting Cecilia climb onto its body, from the huge and terrifying wound. Install it yourself.

It looks like it's like pouring water into a kettle in a stream.

There are very few Warcrafts, who can face their own life and death so calmly, and don't even mind others "profane" their own body.

However, Sean knows that only at this time he acts more valuable, then his children will live better.

Perhaps, this is the great maternal love.

Chapter 130: . Terrible increase in strength

Marshmallow nestled in Cecilia's arms, completely unaware of the fact that her mother had died.

As an eighth-level monster, its strength is beyond doubt, but it still died in the siege of a group of people. It's hard to say what kind of feeling it was. At least Sean didn't think this feeling would be good, and Cecilia was even more so, so she didn't care that the little guy Marshmallow ate the scarlet flame that Sean gave her.

Perhaps, it is a kind of loneliness of sympathy and sympathy.

Half an hour is the last life cycle of that monster, so it must use a powerful self-destructing magic to completely seal its body and the entire cave before its life is completely ended. For this decision, Sean did not stop-in fact, he also knew that even if he wanted to stop it is impossible, because in the history of the game, this matter is an established fact.

Want to change history?

It's not impossible, but the price to be paid is too great.

Moreover, if the cave is not destroyed, then once the dark elves and blood elves from the underground world chase out, let alone save the marshmallow, Sean may not even be able to escape himself and Cecilia. So no matter from which aspect he considered, Sean could not and would not stop the suicide of the eighth-level beast, even though he did covet the invaluable materials on the beast.

But Sean still did not start after all.

The benefits he has gotten are really many.

Not to mention that a pile of blood, mysterious scales and a pile of underground horned dragon blood, dragon tendons, dragon skin, dragon bones, heart, claws, acute horns, etc. can be regarded as priceless. There are only four silver-grade demonized equipment that Cecilia, the little red hand touched, and although there are only two bronze-grade demonized equipment, what is truly commendable is a gold-grade demonized accessory!

is not a magical ornament, but a magical ornament!

[Tills' lucky necklace, weak demonization (gold), agility 5, stamina 15, wisdom 18, will 20, all skills power 15, eternal effect "purification force field": immune to all abnormal states except death, Permanent effect "Lucky Technique": Your luck is significantly improved.]

[Item description: This is a necklace made by the legendary master Thiers Paine from the underground world before he became famous. It is simple and unpretentious, even ordinary, but only a very small number of people know that this legend It was after the master made this necklace that his inspiration emerged and he became a real master.]

Gold-grade weak demonization, the maximum value can increase the attribute by 60 points, and this necklace adds a total of 58 attributes, which is infinitely close to the limit value. Not to mention the immortal effect of "lucky technique", only 15% of the power of the skill and immunity to all abnormal conditions are enough to make this necklace the finale of any auction business association, not to mention the lucky technique. This abnormal ability.

The illusory state of luck is not clearly stated in the game, but according to the test results of the players, it is absolutely not the lowest value of the state. For example, touching a corpse is a highly difficult technical job. If a monster drops one to five materials at random, if a player with luck touches it, the minimum value of "one" will never be reached, at least two. Go up; of course, if it is a humanoid monster that can drop props, the probability of dropping garbage is 50%, good things are 40%, and the best products are 10%, if you have the luck technique The things that the players touch are generally 40% of this grade.

In addition, there are also many benefits. For example, if the player's crit rate is 3-8, and the crit damage fluctuation is 200-250, then the normal probability of triggering is around 5, and the crit damage is absolutely not Will be lower than 230.

This is the power of luck!

Even if it is a piece of rubbish, as long as it is accompanied by a lucky technique, the transaction price in the game will never be lower than one million game coins.

And such a necklace with outstanding attributes and strong side effects, it can be said that its value is no longer under the epic weapon of Sean. Of course, the most important point is the existence of the effect of "lucky technique", followed by the special effect of "all skills power 15", but if you want to go beyond the dead bones, then of course it is impossible-or even if Can surpass, and surpass is very limited.

After all, the two immortal effects on the dead bone are equally powerful.

【Permanent effect "Bloodline Limit": The attribute increase effect of this equipment will change as the host's strength increases. 】

[Permanent effect "The Enemy's Fury": Enemies from the plane of Purgatory will be your eternal enemy. Every time you kill an enemy whose strength is equivalent to Bronze rank, the attributes of this equipment will become permanent. 】

The fixed attribute increase of the death bone is 50 points, but because Shaun killed a gold-level demon through sacrifice, the attributes of the death bone in the form of a sword have become strength 26, endurance 11, and agility 16. It is equivalent to saying that the fixed attribute increase has become fifty... Later, when Sean successfully entered the lower silver realm, the attributes in the sword form became: Strength 31, Stamina 13, Dexterity 19, which means that the fixed attribute increase of this weapon has become 60..., in The increase in attributes far exceeds this [Tills' Lucky Necklace].

And as long as Sean is willing, the attributes of the dead bones can be increased infinitely-Sean is only one step away from the upper silver, as long as there is an opportunity, his strength can be improved again, so the attributes will naturally increase again. Get an increase at one time. And if you can find the coordinate points leading to the plane of purgatory and go in to slaughter some bronze-level demons, then it is equivalent to saying that the attributes of the death bones can be infinitely increased. This is the real power of the death bones and can even be evaluated as an epic. The reason for the equipment.

However, judging from the attributes of the current dead bone, it is indeed a little worse than the gold-level enchanted necklace.

Of course, the other main reason is that another effect attached to the dead bone, "Soul Immortal", did not work on Sean. According to the skill description on the death bone, the benefit of the immortal soul attribute is that it can be immune to all soul and mental damage, but in the successive battles after Sean obtained the death bone, the death bone did not appear as explained above. Bring any immunity to Sean, this is the reason why Sean is a little unhappy with the dead bones.

Although he could probably guess what was going on, it did make Sean a little unhappy. But at the moment he doesn't have the time and energy to deal with this matter, at least he has to wait until he returns to the territory before he can start preparing for this matter.

After getting this necklace, Sean also had new troubles.

Who do you want to wear this necklace for?

From the attribute point of view, this necklace is obviously suitable for legal professions to wear, because it has the best attributes of wisdom plus eighteen and will plus twenty, which can greatly enhance the magical power of legal professions, and even make When they read books, their perceptivity has been significantly improved, and at the same time they have a higher resistance to the magic of the soul energy system, especially the attribute of agility plus five, which also gives them the effect of speeding up the casting speed.

As for the attribute of stamina plus fifteen, it is more expensive, and it can be applied to any profession. Of course, for legal professions that are inherently weaker, the effect of increase is not obvious. It is the defense-oriented profession that can really achieve obvious results, and the two attributes of agility plus five and will plus twenty are also not wasted. As for wisdom plus eighteen, it is inevitable or more. Some less wasted.

Sean's original intention, of course, was for Cecilia.

Because of this, Cecilia's two attributes of wisdom and will can reach ninety-nine and one-hundred-eight points, respectively. This value has exceeded the limit of one hundred points, which is equivalent to truly possessing the strength of lower level gold. Rather than just being "comparable", there is a fundamental difference in it.

But unfortunately, no matter how Sean persuades, Cecilia is resolutely refusing to wear this necklace. In terms of the keen perception of a great magician, Cecilia always feels that this necklace has a serious affinity with her. No, there may be some accidents how to put it on. Although this statement seems to be somewhat vague to Sean, it is even more speechless than the passive ability of cheating like "lucky technique", but seeing Cecilia's will be so determined, Sean can't say anything after all. , So he can only put on this necklace by himself.

As a result, Sean's attributes have also received an extremely terrible and obvious increase.

【Personal attributes-strength: 323115 (45); endurance: 3328 (47); agility: 312415 (45); wisdom: 3123 (42); will: 3125 (46)】

Without using adrenal stimulation and light body surgery, the agility value of the equipment increase alone has reached as much as 70 points, the strength has 78 points, and the endurance has reached a high of 61 points. The level, intelligence, and will are even at around fifty-five o'clock. These attributes are not much weaker than those who have just entered the lower level of gold. The most important thing is that the necklace's immunity to all abnormal states except imminent death and the current will up to fifty-six points also allows Sean to ignore the mental damage performed by the lower magician below gold.

Magicians with outstanding talents like Cecilia are only a few in this world.

And if you count the 15% increase in skill power and the bonus of the luck technique, with the light body technique and adrenal stimulation turned on, Sean is now confident to fight Billy instead of just delaying it for a while. Let everyone escape.

It can be seen how terrible the amplification effect brought by this Thiers' lucky necklace is.

The only thing that makes Shaun feel pity is that of the other four silver-grade and two bronze-grade demonized equipment that Cecilia, the little red hand, touched out, there is only one weak bronze demon that can be suitable for him to use. The improvement of the ring is only five points, which is less than half of the limit value of ten points, and the attributes are still relatively scattered, endurance 2 and intelligence 3. However, with an attitude of better than nothing, Sean still wears this ring superior.

In this way, Sean's personal attributes become strength 78, endurance 63, agility 70, wisdom 57, and will 56.
