Chapter 141: . Sealed Demon Swordsman vs Hunted Demon Swordsman

"Swordsman of Sealing Demon?" Xiao En's eyes "showed" the "color" of doubt and "confusion".

He can feel that the opponent has almost the same aura fluctuations as him, and this fluctuation is suspected to belong to the curse seal swordsman. But the Curse Seal Swordsman is a Tier 3 occupation. And the aura that the opponent exudes is suspected to belong to the sixth-order profession, and has even half-footed into the category of the seventh-order profession, and this level is known as the quasi-golden realm powerhouse in this world.

Is it possible that the advanced profession of the Demon Sword Hunter is the Conferred Demon Swordsman?

But soon, Sean denied this idea.

Because although both sides have the source of power that belongs to the cursed swordsman as the basis, the path that extends from this as the origin is completely different branches. What's more, Sean also keenly felt that there was an extremely strong demon aura from the young woman of the other party. This aura caused almost all the alarms in his body to detect evil creatures automatically generated due to the professional job of the Demon Swordsman. To explode his brain. [

The path of hunting the demon swordsman, it is absolutely impossible for any evil aura to radiate.

These thoughts flashed in Xiao En's mind, and it was almost the "color" of doubt and "confusion" that appeared in his eyes, and he had already got the answers and judgments he wanted.

"Yes, Demon Swordsman." Yin's indifferent expression finally revealed a faint chuckle, like plum blossoms in full bloom in winter, filled with a strange fragrance, "With your demon hunter Another power path that is completely different from the path."

A sudden tingling sensation, accompanied by silver's words, fell and exploded on Xiao En's face.

At this moment, Xiao En noticed that the back of the opponent's left hand also emitted a faint blue "color" light.

"Curse imprinted with silver scales!" Xiao En's pupils shrank suddenly, and he immediately drank without hesitation, and at the same time marked the defensive position on his face.

"Remember. My name is silver."

Along with the silver words falling, Sean felt that from the long swords confronting each other, there was a powerful and terrible force attacking him. At this time, the strength of the opponent's strength was actually greatly increased!

But soon, Xiao En realized that it was not that the opponent's strength had improved, but that his own strength had actually been lost!

This kind of loss does not gradually weaken, but within a second, my arm muscles seem to be atrophied, and I can't even lift a little strength.

In the sudden change, the dead bones are under the pressure of the opponent. Instead, he swept across his neck fiercely, and at the same time, the opponent's long blade that broke through the deadly power also slashed toward his face.

There was a strange pleasure in Yin Yin's eyes, and she couldn't wait to see the moment when Xiao En's head was cut off. Even if Sean reacted quickly, he could stop the sword in his throat in time, but it was in Yin's judgment. The sword she added later can also easily harvest the opponent's life.

But when the long blade in Silver's hand slashed towards Sean's cheek, the hard feeling that came from the blade, as if it was slashed on steel, made her pupils suddenly shrink.

A spark, splashing out.

Through Yin's momentary loss of consciousness, Xiao En did not retreat but instead moved forward, and the dead bone in his hand suddenly slashed towards Yin's neck.

The offensive and defensive rhythms of the two sides changed within one second, and the sharp shots were all aimed at the most vulnerable parts of each other's bodies!

Yin gave a scream. At this moment, she immediately realized the sense of death threat she brought to Sean a few seconds ago.

But the choice she made was the same sharp and radical—like Sean, although Yin gave a scream, she also did not retreat. The blue "color" brilliance exuded from her left hand was even stronger, and its brilliance even far surpassed the brilliance of Xiao En's left hand.

Silver's right hand quickly swelled and enlarged, and the original delicate and white skin quickly turned into a red "color", with a texture of ashes like lava after burning. Some strange scales even appeared. However, in a blink of an eye, Yin's right hand has swelled to the size of a large bucket. Although the length hasn't changed much, it still gives people a hideous and terrifying feeling. [

The only constant is that on the back of this gray-red "color" scaled giant hand, there is still a peculiar and weird rune, and the blue "color" on it is as bright as ever.

The process of alienation was very fast. It was almost the moment that Yinhuishou protected the right arm on his neck, and the entire right hand had been alienated. The scales above are shining, there is no doubt that these scales definitely have extremely fascinating defensive capabilities, even if they are not as good as the dragon scales, they will definitely not be too far apart.

The next moment, the dead bone in Sean's hand was finally cut on this alienated right hand that was as strong as a devil's arm.

Immediately afterwards, Yin's pupils shrank suddenly. This time she was not screaming, but a screaming scream.

The scales on this demon's arm actually did not have any defensive ability. Under the seemingly non-sharp blade of the death bone, it was like butter encountering a reddish knife, all of which came into contact with the death bone sword. Feng's scales, skin, and flesh and blood all melted in an instant, and his wound area was even more terrifying than being cut by a long sword. And the orange "color" is like magma-like blood "liquid", it also gushes out at the same time when this huge scar appears.

But what is peculiar is that these "liquid" bodies, which are similar to blood "liquid", turned into blazing flames in an instant after leaving the demon's arm. Xiao En didn't expect this situation at first, and was splashed with some blood'liquid', and it suddenly turned into a flame that burned his body.

The two sides immediately retreated a few steps to each other.

"Damn it!"

Yin cursed, and her face became a little horrified. Her huge right hand was almost equal to her height. After being hit hard by this, she was only able to droop down, and the orange "liquid" body kept coming from her arm. It flows out from above, and then falls to the ground, turning into a blazing flame, but strangely it only keeps burning in a small area, and it is not transmitted by this, and the same does not cause any substantial "ness" to the silver. s damage.

But soon, there was a hint of happiness in her eyes: "Don't struggle, the ash flame is a flame fueled by flesh and blood. As long as it gets on your body, it's impossible..."

Wait for Yin's words to finish, Sean suddenly stretched out his left hand, tore off the clothes on his body and then thrown it away, and then fell along with his movements, and the blazing flames were actually thrown aside in this way.

At this moment, Sean appeared in the silver eyes, the whole upper body turned into a silver "color" metallic luster, but if you look closely, you can find that there is a unique and subtle texture under this luster. It was the movement of these textures and luster that extinguished the flames on Sean's body, because his skin had been completely isolated, and the flames of natural law, which had lost flesh and blood as fuel, burned again.

"It turns out that sealing demons is to seal demons into one's body, and use their power and abilities when needed." Sean stared at the silver, and the metallic luster of the silver "color" on his body began to sink into his body. , It gives people the feeling that water trails are gradually evaporating, "The demon of lava, the median demon, has a special ability that can generate a weak magnetic field, which can affect all hostile targets in a certain area. It has a power similar to limestone. With the same defensive ability, the blood "liquid" in the body is high-temperature magma."

"I didn't expect that your knowledge of demons would be so deep.... Your defensive spell is centered on silver scale demon, right? No wonder you can be immune to the burning of ashes, but with such a large defensive coverage area, Presumably you are leaning all your power and resources towards defensive capabilities, so your attack spell mark is definitely not good." Yin looked at Xiao

En with a cold face, but after she glanced at the wound on her right hand, she He turned his gaze to the dead bones in Sean's hand, but the words became more affirmative, "So this weapon in your right hand is the offensive method you really rely on for survival.... It can restrain the devil's self-healing ability. , So powerful, still pure white "color"... I didn't expect you to have a sacred weapon."

Faced with Yin's statement, Sean did not speak, neither denied nor admitted.

In fact, Sean did exactly as Silver had guessed. When he reached the top level of the Swordsman Swordsman, he chose the Silver Scale for the last chance to strengthen the spell seal for free. Sean's biggest flaw at present is still survivability, because with his rapid progress in this world, the enemies he encounters will hardly be of the same tier, and facing such an enemy, even if he strengthens the offensive spell, The method has the greatest advantage, so he will tend to be able to save his life defensive spell.

But the curse-printed silver scales did not disappoint him.

After was upgraded to level 3, the duration of the silver scale's defense effect did not increase, and the data did not change, but it could cover more body parts, and at the same time, Sean had the effect of autonomous activation and deactivation.

[Curse Imprint Silver Scales (Level 3): Defense effect, when activated, a large layer of demon skin can be covered on the body, which can effectively resist sharp weapon damage with a piercing value of 30 or less. It has a strike damage effect and is immune to all fire systems. Damage, duration 20 seconds, cooling time 1 hour. Note: You can now freely turn on or turn off this ability. After the duration is 20 seconds or you automatically give up activating the ability, it will enter the cooling time.]

At the beginning, Sean activated the ability to defend against attacks on his throat and cheeks. It took three seconds. Later, when facing the flames that burned on his body, he turned on this skill again. The coverage was The whole body took six seconds. It is equivalent to saying that Sean has only used this ability for nine seconds. As long as he does not cancel the activated silver scale curse mark, then he can still use it for another eleven seconds. Can waste time in vain.

is equivalent to saying that after the silver scale curse seal is upgraded to level three, what is produced is a qualitative change, which greatly strengthens Sean's survivability.

Chapter 142: .Advanced! (Look for a monthly pass!)

Sean tilts the resources to the defensive spell mark, so as a price to be paid, his attack spell mark is only one level so far.

However, although the Blood Charm ability can indeed play an unexpected role, it is often difficult to play a big role in the face of stronger enemies. On the contrary, it is not as effective as the silver attack curse seal.

In fact, after the fight just now, since Sean knew the defensive curse effect of silver, it was not difficult for him to guess the effect of the attack curse. It was nothing more than a demon that could strengthen his own power. However, Silver's defensive effects are all mid-level demon, and Sean feels that her attack effect must also be mid-level demon-she looks down on the lower demon, and she has no power to capture the upper demon.

This is a very practical set of offensive and defensive capabilities.

The attack effect is to strengthen and enhance one's own strength, while the defensive effect is to weaken the enemy's strength. In addition, the road of cursed swordsman will never lack speed, so it is not difficult to imagine if this career path grows to its limit. , Is definitely a very terrifying and powerful career. With silver's current strength, even the lower golden pinnacle may not be able to suppress her. With the authenticity of this world and the commonality of the game, there will definitely be countless players in the game fanatically pursued, but Sean is in the game But I have never heard of this profession!

This is an extremely critical clue!

Soon, Sean noticed the right hand of the demon in Silver.

The dead bone is a devil's weapon. With the discord between the devil and the devil, if wounded by this weapon, its power is indeed equivalent to being wounded by a sacred weapon.

The so-called sacred weapon has a different name, that is, the judgment of the heretics, which will only cause extremely terrible harm to the demons and demons. This is a special weapon from the major churches on the mainland. Its essence and magic weapon are the same concept. Only weapons above the magic level can be called sacred weapons. If it is a weapon of casting level, it is called at best. It's just an enchanting weapon.

Yin does not know the origin of the dead bones, so it is natural to think that this is a sacred weapon.

But from this point, Sean keenly noticed the flaws in Silver.

In other words, the defects of the Feng Devil Swordsman.

This profession has completely violated the power law of the curse seal swordsman. It does not seal the devil as the core of the curse seal, but directly seals the demon in its own body to form an existence similar to a power source, so that the sealer can continuously extract its power and abilities. This will naturally deplete the demon's vitality, that is, once the demon's power is squeezed out, then the sealer must search for the demon to seal it again. This is not like a demon hunter, once the demon is sealed. After that, it cannot be changed for life.

In other words, the Swordsman of Sealing Demon is equivalent to having the power to freely change the spell seal ability. Its greatest value manifestation is the diversification of combat methods. It may be the means of strengthening and weakening power this time, but the next goodbye may become the strengthening or weakening of agility or endurance, which is equivalent to letting the enemy Unable to accurately judge his own strength and fighting style.

However, to investigate its essence, it still belongs to the favorite practice of pagans: demonization. Although this demonization seems to be controllable and will not interfere with the sealer's sanity, who can guarantee that this will always be the case? Maybe if you use this ability for a long time, your personality will be assimilated by the devil, and even completely degenerate into a creature similar to a demon slave.

After understanding this, Sean also knew why Yin had obvious scruples when uttering the words "sacred weapon".

That is, her body has become demonized, so all the damage that can be used to deal with creatures such as demons and demons can also be used to deal with her. But on the other hand, Sean, who is also on the road to the advancement of the curse-marked swordsman, is not afraid of such weapons at all. Even if the effect of the silver scale is activated, the sacred weapons are nothing to him. Difference, there is no restraint effect at all.

Sean was thinking about these issues, so naturally he would not take action. He is a person who is accustomed to making decisions. The more he can figure out the other party's weakness, the better for him. Silver was due to her own injuries, so she didn't rush to shoot, and Sean had a sacred weapon-in fact, Silver still thinks that Sean is holding a sacred weapon, because she thinks there is only this kind of weapon. Only then will it cause the consequences of self-healing failure to her devil's right arm, otherwise, with the devil's terrifying self-healing ability, it is impossible for this wound to heal until now.

Not even the slightest sign of healing!

Therefore, after a brief and intense tentative confrontation, the two sides tacitly maintained a distance of five meters from each other and re-entered a state of confrontation. The auras of both sides are firmly locked to each other. In this case, no matter who changes slightly, then the other person can definitely react in an instant. Therefore, although the atmosphere between each other is full of dangers, they are all very confident. No hands on it.

"Your ability is absolutely flawed." Xiao En looked at Yin and suddenly said, "I can already feel the strong demon aura in your body that is as strong as a thundercloud. I don't believe other people will not be able to feel it. ."

"There is indeed a defect, but it is completely different from what you have guessed." At this time, Yin suddenly recovered the calm, indifferent, and cold taste of the former. "If I don't use the power of the curse, then I Naturally, the devilish breath in the body will not be revealed. In the face of ordinary people, do you think I need to use it? And if you face those who need me to use my power, can you not guess the result with your being so smart?"

Yin did not clearly state the consequences, but anyone who listened to Yin could guess the answer accurately.

"Indeed, there is probably only one outcome for the person who fights against you." Sean said softly.

"But I can give you the second result."

"Oh?" Sean raised his brow.

Yin glanced at Sean, and then said softly: "As long as you hand over the manuscript of the Exorcist Association, I will let you make a living."

Hearing Yin's words, Xiao En's face showed a faint smile. This smile was full of confidence, so that Yin felt very uncomfortable. Immediately afterwards, she heard Sean's brisk voice, even with a taste like that: "Your ability defect is as I guessed it, and you need a manuscript to make up for it. Let me guess, seal the devil. There is no difference in the source of power between the swordsman and the demon hunter, but they are essentially different. In this way, the demon swordsman looks more like a pagan fighting method, so it needs to be recorded in the demon hunter manuscript. Secret to make up for their own shortcomings, so as to repair this result that may lead to the alienation of oneself into a demon..."

Listening to Xiao En's words, Yin's face remained as calm as before, and there was not much fluctuation, but when Xiao En was about to finish speaking, her face showed a smile.

This smile is full of indescribable charm, but it is accompanied by an extremely strong sense of danger.

It is like a rose, although it is beautiful, it is thorny!

The whistling wind suddenly started from Sean's right side—the airflow came first, followed by thunder and blast, and then the wind started!

Sean has always locked his Qi machine on Yin's body. Using his current subordinate silver's strength to make such a move, he will naturally reduce the vigilance of his surroundings accordingly, so he actually made Billy lurch to a distance of 20 meters. not found. After all, Billy is a true low-level golden powerhouse, and he is also an advanced profession that uses boxers as a close-to-hand combat as his power forward route. Therefore, a distance of 20 meters is enough for him to decide to take a sneak attack. The enemy was killed by one blow.

So even if Sean realized the problem as soon as he noticed the slight movement of the airflow, and immediately responded accordingly, but he was hit in the chest with a punch from Billy who suddenly broke out, and the whole person immediately spurted blood. Of flying upside down.

While flying Sean with a punch, Billy didn't show any joy, but his face became extremely solemn. Because as an attacker, he really knew that at that moment, his fist did not really hit Sean's chest, but hit the sword body of the long sword that he hurriedly pulled his hand to protect the body, so it was very big. Part of the strength is actually withstood, only a small part of the strength penetrates into Xiao En's body through the sword and body.

But even so, for Sean, it is absolutely uncomfortable.

Flying upside down, he only felt a whirl of the sky, his eyes turned black, and there was a strong pain in his chest that was so dull that a slight movement came. But Sean is also very clear that he is the most dangerous moment at this time, because he almost completely loses all defensive abilities in this moment. As long as Billy catches up to give him a bit, I am afraid he will explain it. Here it is.

Therefore, without the slightest hesitation, at this moment, Sean immediately activated the two ace abilities that he relied on for survival: light body surgery and adrenal stimulation.

Then he stepped slightly, and the whole person immediately flew back at a speed that was not inferior to the golden strong.

I have to say that Sean's combat awareness and experience are absolutely top-notch, because Billy really wants to catch up and then make a punch to completely kill Sean. But in the face of Sean, who had activated these two ace abilities, Billy's speed was indeed helpless. The distance of less than four or five meters was pulled out of the gap of twenty or thirty meters in an instant. If you want to catch up again, you can only reactivate the powerful explosive ability that bursts suddenly.

But for Billy, this ability is not an ability that can be activated unconditionally, so he can only watch Sean change from 20 or 30 meters to 30 or 40 meters from him, without even having the idea of stopping. .

If at this time, Sean is only facing Billy alone, then there is no doubt that he definitely has a very high chance of winning.

But in fact, Sean's true opponent is silver!

Silver easily caught up with Sean at a speed like a stream of light, and at the same time a complacent smile came from the silver bell: "You guessed it, the abilities of the Sealing Demon Swordsman really need to be hunted. The manuscript makes up for it. Only the power of balance recorded in the manuscript of the hunter can allow me to restrain the violent demon power in my body. I am not afraid to tell you that the biggest secret recorded in the manuscript of the hunter is not the demon hunter. , Purification, but balance!"

After that, Yin Yijian cut towards Sean's neck!

However, the expected scene of the division of the corpses did not appear. Instead, the sparks still appeared, and the silver sword still had no effect!

"How is this possible!" Yin exclaimed.

However, Sean also used this sword to quickly twist his body in mid-air, and stabilized the dizziness of the injury in his body, quickly adjusted his body and jumped away from the silver again, pulling the distance away again. Ten meters away.

At this time, he was extremely grateful that he had upgraded the "curse imprint. Silver scale" ability to level three before, otherwise, I am afraid that the sword just now would really be buried here.

After landing, Sean's face became a little weird, but at the same time there was a little excitement and joy.

But this look did not come from Sean's rejoicing that he had strengthened the "curse imprint. Silver scale" to level three.

He sighed slightly: "I finally understand why so many fools are turned around in the face of a winning situation. Sure enough, too much nonsense when fighting an enemy is indeed a very unfavorable thing."

When Xiao En stood up from the ground again, the look on his face had become unusually quiet, and even his eyes towards Yin were sympathetic. This kind of vision naturally made Yin feel unusually annoyed. She instinctively wanted to rush forward again, but a strong sense of danger abruptly stopped her attack and looked at Sean. There was even a little surprise in his eyes.

"I have to thank you." Sean looked at Yin, and then suddenly said, "It was you who broke my doubts and let me finally understand the inspiration I had found before but I have never grasped."

"Oh?" Yin raised his eyebrows, but the dangerous feeling of anxiety in his heart became stronger and stronger.

At this moment, in Xiao En's mind, an indifferent electronic sound resounded impressively.

"You have discovered the secret of the demon hunter manuscript: Balance, you have initially grasped the real secret of the demon hunter manuscript, and the system has detected that you have qualified for the advanced profession 'demon hunter'. May I ask whether you are advanced?"

"Yes!"

Shaun chose yes without hesitation!

At this time, only fools will choose no.

In the next moment, a powerful sense of power suddenly emerged from Sean's beating heart, and then merged into Sean's limbs, and when this powerful force merged into Sean's body, it was even more important. He repaired all the injuries he had suffered from the battle, and at the same time restored his energy and physical strength.

To put it simply, Sean not only advanced to the upper silver at this moment, but also resurrected in a state of full blood!

Chapter 143: .Strong breakthrough!

【Demon Hunter (Level 6 Profession): You have carefully observed the record on the Demon Hunter manuscript, and the above content is indeed correct. You are still called the Demon Hunter. But you who are shrewd have also discovered that this is no longer a profession, but a symbol of identity and status. 】

[Inauguration Reward-Balance: Balance is the most important balance criterion in the world. You have discovered the secret of the Exorcist Association from the manuscript of the hunter, and you have initially mastered the mystery of balance (you can have two hunters at most Demon Mark); Advancement of Demon Hunter: In order to be worthy of your identity and status, but also in order to establish your image, you have to carry out more difficult training for this (strength +8, strength limit +12, Endurance +8, endurance limit +12, agility +8, agility limit +12, intelligence +8, intelligence limit +12, will +8, will limit +12)]

[Inauguration Punishment-The Dark Day of the Demon Hunter: Although long-term hunting and training have always allowed you to have excellent fighting ability and consciousness, but it also allows the dark energy in your body to constantly erode your soul and body , You can no longer purify the dark power in your body by losing your power. Unless you can take the "pilgrim's holy water" before the dark power is about to overflow, you will fall into a slave of darkness when the dark power is completely overflowed. Note: This penalty will cover the first-tier inaugural punishment "Demon Hunter's Pain"; every time you use the special ability of the Demon Hunter's Mark, the power of darkness will increase by 3%. Whenever you fight with evil creatures, the darkness in your body will be increased. The power will increase by 5%. Whenever you seal an evil creature to the Demon Hunter's Mark, the power of darkness will increase by 10%. Once it reaches 100%, you will become a servant of darkness; the "Holy Water of the Pilgrim" can be reduced by 50 each time. % Dark power. 】

A series of information quickly sounded in Sean's mind, and of course it was also displayed clearly and unmistakably on Sean's personal status bar as if it were to prove the accuracy of the matter.

Originally, his punishment for inauguration included malice (mercenary), spell trouble (warrior), lack of movement (academic), magic only skill (spell seal swordsman), dark list (sword hunter), and the demon hunter's Suffering (demon hunter). But now, the inaugural punishment of Demon Hunter's Suffering is officially replaced by the Demon Hunter's Dark Day, and behind this punishment, a percentage data energy bar is also carefully marked. At this moment, this The energy bar displayed a five percent mark impressively.

Obviously, the fight with silver has been defaulted to be a fight with evil creatures.

In addition, the inaugural rewards seem to be designed to show the big feature of "balance", so the increase in ability is all a unified eight-point attribute and a twelve-point limit attribute. Of course, this refers to the rewards that Sean can have after raising this Tier 6 career to Tier 10. With the current breakthrough situation, his attribute increase is a full attribute increase of 0.8, which is almost negligible. Excluding.

Yin felt the slight change in Xiao En's body, and it was obvious that she had stepped into the realm of upper silver, which made her pupils shrink slightly, which was obviously shocked. But soon, her face calmed down again, and she broke through the realm in battle and climbed to a higher realm. This is nothing unusual. Many people in this world will suddenly wake up in battle and then break through themselves. The limitations.

However, this kind of realm improvement, if it is in the hands of enemies of the same tier, then the increase in strength brought about by the sudden increase will tilt Tianping. But now, she herself is the upper silver pinnacle, not far from the lower gold, and Billy has been fighting in the lower gold level for several years. Even if it is not the lower gold pinnacle, she is a relatively midlevel combat power. How can she be afraid of someone who breaks through the strength of the upper silver and cannot even consolidate the realm?

So, this is the reason why Silver's face quickly calmed down.

As a person who has been fortunate enough to break through the limits of his own strength in battle, no one knows the results and fate of this breakthrough better than Silver.

"Do you think that silver is my opponent when you break through to the upper position?" Yin's voice was cold, but with a strong sarcasm, "I am afraid that your realm is not stable yet, and the realm just broke through. Are you sure you can master the improvement of the strength of "?" At this point, Yin's tone is no longer a mockery, but a bright and relaxed smile: "If it's the previous situation, I'm afraid I'll be able to deal with it. It will feel tricky, but now your power is completely disordered, are you still my opponent?"

"Why not?" Sean moved his hands and feet a little, and rubbed his chest at the same time. Even though the state of blood and blue caused by the breakthrough of the realm, the pain caused by Billy's blow just now still has some influence. Yes, "Next, is the moment to witness the miracle."

"Miracle?" Yin laughed even more cheerfully, "Do you really think that the leader of Pandaren calls you as the lord of miracles, do you really have the ability to show miracles? Haha, this is the best I have ever seen It's a laughing joke."

Even Billy laughed mockingly at this time.

Because no one can immediately stabilize the realm when the realm just breaks through, let alone completely grasp the various power enhancements brought about by the realm improvement. Especially when the realm is raised higher, the adjustment time brought by this increase in power is longer. For example, Billy spent nearly a month in order to stabilize the realm, and then in order to completely adapt himself to the new power. , And it took several months.

Even if the upper silver has not yet involved the rules, the disturbance of the body's aura generated when the realm breaks through is enough to make an upper silver master lose the power of vindictiveness in a short period of time. The biggest difference between the Silver and Bronze Realms lies in the mastery of vindictiveness, so this is why Silver feels that Sean is weaker than before. In fact, Billy also thinks so, because after losing vindictiveness, Sean also It's a little bit more resistant to fighting than those in the Bronze Realm.

But under the combined attack of a high-level silver pinnacle master and a low-level gold powerhouse, resistance to fight is a meaningless thing.

But soon, no matter whether it was Billy or Silver, the two of them could not laugh out loud, even their eyes were opened round, their faces were incredible and terrified.

Because of Sean, he has already begun to allocate the experience gained from previous battles to his profession!

"The inherent level of your profession'Devil Hunter (Tier 6)' has been increased, current level: lv.2, your various attributes will be increased by 0.8, the limit value will be increased by 1.2, and you have gained 2 proficiency points."

"The inherent level of your profession'Devil Hunter (Tier 6)' has been increased, current level: lv.3, your various attributes will be increased by 0.8, the limit value will be increased by 1.2, and you have gained 2 proficiency points."

"The inherent level of your profession'Devil Hunter (Tier 6)' has been increased. Current level: lv.max, your attributes will be increased by 0.8, and the limit value will be increased by 1.2, and you have gained 2 proficiency points. This class You have been promoted to the top, please look for opportunities to break through to the seventh rank. The experience points you gain through battles and missions will be retained. Please upgrade to the ranks as soon as possible."

Followed by a series of explanations flashed quickly in Sean's mind, but these were already content that Sean didn't need to care about.

In an instant, Sean instantly climbed from the upper silver to the upper silver peak, and the vigorous aura exuding from his body was no less than silver. Moreover, the most obvious immediate improvement of this kind of combat power is that Sean's various data have already got a significant surge.

[Personal attributes-strength: 40+31+15 (57); endurance: 41+30 (59); agility: 39+24+15 (57); wisdom: 39+26 (54); will: 39+25 (58)]

All attributes +8, all extreme attributes +12, although it looks like a panacea, but it also allows Sean's many shortcomings and shortcomings to be compensated, and there are no obvious weaknesses at the beginning. Moreover, this time the promotion of the professional level does not only mean that his strength has increased to the upper silver level, but through the previous confrontation and dialogue with the silver, Xiao En finally knows his career. Where is his next goal!

Sean is not afraid of the difficulties on the road ahead. What he fears most is that he doesn't know where he is going.

If it hadn't been the last time he killed a cluster of evil thoughts in the Gorge Rift Valley by chance, he might not have been able to break through to the silver realm. Today's breakthrough can also be regarded as an unexpected joy. At least this allowed Sean to completely shorten the distance between himself and Silver. In the face of a strength of up to 86 points, even if Silver's defensive effects can weaken his ten points of strength. , And offensive special effects can increase ten points of strength, but the peak strength of silver itself is only sixty-three!

In other words, even after her strength was weakened, Sean's strength was three points higher than her, which was enough to prevent Silver from relying on her strength to suppress herself.

"It's impossible!" Yin completely lost the calm and indifferent attitude he used to, and the whole person was already a little hysterical.

In fact, no matter who sees Sean's crazy growth that completely violates the laws of the world, it is impossible for anyone to remain calm. Because after the breakthrough of the realm, it usually takes several months to one or two years to adapt to the new power and the stable realm, and this is just the beginning, and the next step is to continuously hone its abilities. It is possible to climb to the peak of the realm and prepare for the impact to the next realm.

But what about Sean?

It was only a few seconds after breaking through the realm, and it had already climbed to the pinnacle of upper silver!

No one knows what a terrible thing this is better than Yin and Billy.

Others need years or even decades, but for Sean it is just a mere ten seconds!

"An illusion! This must be an illusion!" Yin screamed in horror, "You must have used some illusion!"

Facing the silver who had completely lost his temper at this moment, Sean sneered and immediately rushed up. At this moment, the effects of his light body technique and adrenal stimulation had not disappeared. Of course, Sean did not want to waste it. And he knew very well that Yin must have also mastered skills such as light body surgery and adrenal stimulation, otherwise she would not have been able to catch up with herself the moment she drew back.

Only at this moment, Sean's target of attack is not silver.

But Billy is more than fifty meters away from him!

Chapter 144: . Fight (see monthly pass)

Shaun's abacus is very precise.

Lightweight technique and adrenal stimulation are both time-effective skills. These two trump card abilities are what Shaun relies on to fight against gold-class powerhouses. Without these two abilities, Shaun's combat effectiveness will be cut by at least half. At that time, he might be able to beat Billy in a one-on-one situation, but he could never kill him. But the combination of Billy and Silver was able to kill Sean.

So in any case, Sean must kill Billy the first time, and at the worst, he will be severely injured and he will lose the ability to fight.

Only in this way, he and Yin will be on the same starting line.

The distance of fifty meters is fleeting.

An eight-point agility improvement, under the action of adrenal stimulation, is equivalent to a sixteen-point agility increase, which allows Sean to sprint at least 0.5 seconds in a distance of 50 meters. Converted into a more specific situation, that is if Silver wants to catch up with Sean, it will take an extra second, and this still refers to the result of Silver catching up at the moment of Sean's sprint.

But in reality, when Sean approached Billy's side, Yincai finally reacted like a dream. At this time, even if she wanted to catch up with the support, it would take at least two to three seconds. time.

But will Sean give silver this time?

After Sean approached Billy's side, he did not hesitate to make a series of extremely fast attacks, but at the same time, he also forced Billy to move back. Although this retreat is not fast, it can extend the time for silver to come to support.

Faced with Sean's stormy attack, Billy's heart sank.

Two or three months ago, Billy and Sean only fought once. Even though he lost the battle because of his contempt and carelessness, it was not enough for Billy. fear. If he is really serious, with his strength and background, it will be a breeze to defeat or even severely inflict Sean, not to mention that this time there is also a person with silver who has a higher actual combat power than him. Therefore, Billy's heart is actually very complacent.

This kind of complacency caused Billy to not even bring his powerful silver weapon, the "Ice and Fire Duo", but to send it to the alchemy blacksmith who made this weapon for repair.

Because in Billy's view, this battle does not require much effort at all.

It's just that he didn't expect that Xiao En's current strength will reach a level that makes him feel scared!

At the beginning, he did agree with Silver's opinion, thinking that Sean would exude the aura of the upper silver pinnacle is definitely caused by some kind of illusion, and the golden realm strength that he has honed in his actual practice will of course not be confused by this. , So that the mind was shaken. So when Sean rushed towards him, Billy waited for a while, and didn't take the initiative to take the initiative. As a result, he fell into a disadvantage at the moment he played against Sean.

It wasn't until this time that Billy finally discovered that Sean's breakthrough, stability, etc., were not illusions, but equally real!

Now, even Billy was shocked!

And soon, he must pay a heavy price for his arrogance.

Facing the sword that Sean pierced into his chest, Billy suddenly had an inevitable thought. In desperation, he was able to attack and force, and his right fist blasted directly at the point of Sean's long sword. go.

This punch Billy had already used the power of vindictiveness, and he saw a layer of vigor that was as thick as silver enveloping Billy's right fist. The whole right fist felt as if it had swelled a few points at this moment. There are so many, full of a kind of domineering that is almost inexhaustible. When this fist was thrown, the surrounding space even produced ripples, and it seemed that the entire space was also shaken, as if it would be broken under the bombardment of this fist.

Seeing Billy bang this punch at himself, Sean knew that Billy not only used the power of vindictiveness, but even used "skills."

The unique skill of Fist Fighter, Breaking Fist!

This skill must be supported by grudge. It can cause 2.5 times the lethality in an instant, and at the same time has the dual special effects of shocking back and weakening the opponent's defense. Sean is naturally no stranger to this skill, he even knows the enhanced version of this skill-Alfred's powerful punch.

But in the face of the bombardment of this punch, Sean didn't mean to dodge at all.

Devil Hunting Mark. Evil thoughts, activate!

A gleam of black light, instantly gushing from Xiao En's body, and then quickly spread to the dead bone sword. The silver-white long sword was dyed black in an instant, and the aura of resentment exuding from it was no lighter than the aura of evil creatures, but the only thing it lacked was the aura of pagans.

The powerful air pressure and impact formed by the air-breaking fist collided fiercely with the dead bones in Sean's hand, just like Billy and Sean fought against each other in the Zhuangfeng tribe. Only that time, one of Billy's gloves was destroyed as a result, and the result this time seemed to be the same-even if Billy had activated the power of vindictiveness and skills, the glove he was wearing now was It's just a high-quality grade. How can this forging-level weapon be comparable to the epic-level weapon in Sean's hands?

So, without any suspense, a crisp sound of "click" suddenly sounded.

Billy's metal glove was completely broken once again, and because of the material difference, this time it was even more broken than before.

Only a crack appeared in the  knuckle of the metal glove, and then it spread out in all directions with an unstoppable force, covering the entire metal glove. In the next second, extremely fine blood was sprayed out of the cracks in the metal glove, like a leaking hose spurting out of water, and then the whole metal glove was torn apart, Billy's whole person Backward a few steps with a grunt.

[Mark of Demon Hunting. Evil Mind: Every attack you make will result in a Will Judgment. When your opponent's Will check does not exceed 50, you will be judged as a stun state. The duration of the stun is based on the target's will level; if the opponent's Will check is the criterion More than 50 will be damaged by mental shock, the skill duration is 10 seconds, and the cooling time is 24 hours. When you pour your abilities into your fighting spirit, your fighting spirit will be transformed into a dark attribute, with range impact damage. All the targets that are impacted will fall into a dark state. This state can be protected or dispelled by the evil. Number of activations 1. The cooling time is 24 hours.]

Obviously, Billy's will attribute must be more than fifty points, which has to be said to be a very magical high attribute for a fighter. It's just that even if he is immune to the dizziness judgment caused by evil thoughts, he is still affected by the mental shock, so naturally he can't defend against Sean's corrosive and aggressive dark vindictiveness.

It's just the same, but Sean still feels uncomfortable facing Billy's punch.

2.5 times the damage judgment, Sean was able to withstand all of it without fail. If it weren't for his extremely high endurance at this time, maybe this punch could cause him to bleed from internal injuries. However, even if it resisted the subsequent damage of this punch, the unique shock retreat of the skill also made Xiao En inevitable, and the whole person could not help but regress a few steps.

In a moment, the distance between him and Billy was ten steps away!

Looking at Billy's face slightly pale, and his eyes showed pain. Of course, at this time, Sean was going to strike while the iron was hot to expand his battle advantage.

I just didn't expect that at this moment, Silver's support finally caught up.

A sharp and unusual cold light suddenly bloomed on Xiao En's side, as if a poisonous snake was finally showing its deadly fangs.

The position of this sword is very delicate, just at the moment when Sean is about to attack again!

If Sean insists on continuing to attack Billy, then the silver sword will penetrate Sean's heart without any suspense; but if Sean does not attack, then he will finally take advantage of the formation of evil thoughts. The mental impact effect of will also be completely lost.

In the face of the threat of death and the choice of expanding the results, no one will ignore the former's lethality.

So Sean gave up the attack without hesitation, turned around and swung his sword to open the silver stab.

When the two long swords collided with each other, another extremely strong shock wave burst out in all directions with the two swords as dots. The confrontation was more violent than the first encounter between Sean and Yin. The sight is even worse!

Only this time, after the two sides fought against each other, Sean didn't want to get entangled with Yin at all, and immediately pulled his body away with a leap.

At this time, the effects of Demon Hunting Mark. Evil thoughts are also within the time limit, so silver will inevitably suffer a judgment of will. However, it is a pity for Sean that Silver's will has also exceeded fifty points, so this time the effect of vertigo did not occur, but the result of the mental shock inevitably caused actual damage to Silver. She felt a strong pain in an instant.

But at this time, Billy attacked Sean again.

This time, Billy's charge came more violently than before, and his eyes were already red, like a furious bull. He doesn't seem to care about the injury on his body at all. He has raised his right fist while rushing forward-it is a fist that has been dyed red with blood, and it seems to have become a red under the filling of vindictive energy. The giant fist, and then suddenly blasted towards Xiao En.

Seeing Billy fighting so hard, Sean's pupils shrank suddenly!

He did not expect that Billy would have such a crazy and vicious side!

Chapter 145: .One sword to requiem

Obviously, based on Billy's extremely rich combat experience, it has been judged that whether it is him or silver, the two of them will only lose in the face of Sean alone. The Lizard Cavalry also escaped three-quarters. The tactics of besieging the Great Red Fire Tribe have completely failed. Therefore, they must kill Sean here to win the battle. Since one person faces Sean, An inevitable failure, so what about the two of them making a shot together?

Billy's ability to have today's achievements naturally has a great relationship with his willingness to fight and fight.

People like him, in the face of the threat of death, will naturally arouse the vicious side hidden in their mind.

And the mental shock just makes people feel a tingling of the head. In the terms of the game, that is, the hit rate decreases and the skill consumption doubles. However, in the real world, the hit rate is completely determined by one's own will and experience. For people like Billy and Silver in close combat, how can there be any claims of a drop in hit rate?

So as long as Billy can get the time to bite Sean tightly for such a moment, then he and Yin can forcefully kill Sean here!

At this moment, Sean immediately understood Billy's plan.

But Sean is also a very simple person.

Since Billy had this idea, it is of course impossible for Sean to start his abacus, and the effects of light body surgery and adrenal stimulation can only last for another minute at most. If he can't solve Billy within this minute If that is the case, then he really lost this battle. So thinking of this, a trace of hostility flashed in Xiao En's eyes, and when he waved his sword, a black sword aura rushed towards the silver.

This is another ability of Evil Mind, injecting the effect into the vindictive energy to produce a range attack, so that the enemy is plunged into a dark environment.

Yin could feel the dark aura of this sword aura, but at this time she was in exactly the same situation as Sean just now. She was already in an unavoidable environment, so she had to also completely arouse her strong fighting spirit to form protection. The layer used to forcibly pick up Sean's sword qi - it's not that she didn't want to use fighting qi to counterattack, but when the distance was so close, the same sword qi hedging effect was not as outstanding as her own.

It's just that Silver didn't expect that Sean's grudge was not ordinary!

So when this anger broke out, Silver inevitably fell into the dark vision environment, and was completely unable to judge the surrounding situation! The power of darkness completely obscured her perception, let alone seeing, even the unique way of using breath to judge opponents that is unique to masters and strong people is completely unusable. At this moment, Yin intuitively thought that Sean He would definitely bypass Billy and attack her, so he took a defensive position without hesitation.

And this is exactly what Shaun hopes to see most!

Looking at Billy, who was rushing towards him, less than one meter away from him, Sean opened his skill panel at an extremely fast speed, and at the same time quickly assigned his proficiency points to a skill.

At this moment, the breath between heaven and earth seems to be stagnant.

An extremely terrifying aura suddenly burst out of Xiao En's body. There was obviously no vision, but everyone seemed to see an astonishing breath on Xiao En's body soaring into the sky! The vast sky suddenly became gloomy at this moment, and the black funnel-shaped cloud even hovered above Sean's head like a huge vortex.

Immediately afterwards, an equally vast aura radiated from Xiao En, spreading out in all directions.

Everyone who is swept by this breath, no matter the enemy or the enemy, feels that their heart seems to have stopped beating in an instant, it is a kind of cold that shocks the soul!

Then, Billy saw a sword that Sean raised his hand.

This sword is very plain, and it seems to be flicked very casually, without any murderous aura coming out.

The swing of this sword is even one meter away from Billy. If you don't use the sword aura, it is impossible to hurt Billy. But no matter who it was, he didn't feel the slightest fluctuation of sword aura, and Billy watched the swing of the sword, but his eyes suddenly became unusually peaceful. It seemed that even his agitated and crazy soul had changed. I had to calm down, my eyes even showed a bit of obsession, as if I had seen the most beautiful and peaceful side of the world.

Yin also felt the cold breath of her hands and feet, and she even shivered from fear. When the darkness subsided, she fell in Yin's eyes. It was the moment when Shaun wielded the sword. There seemed to be something in the air. Numerous ripples emerged, and then spread and disappear circle after circle. And Billy, almost as if he was looking for death, slammed into Sean's sword. In the next second, Yin saw Billy's body suddenly split with an extremely hideous scar!

Internal organs and blood spewed out from this wound, and even the hardest bones of the human body were shattered in this wound!

And Billy, the whole person is flying backwards at a speed faster than his charge.

But the weird thing is that Billy doesn't have a trace of pain at the moment. What he has on his face is just a peaceful and peaceful look, as if he is still addicted to a certain dream. Only his eyes, the look of life was gradually dissipating, until finally completely disappeared from his pupils.

is like a manic soul, finally at peace.

This sword is undoubtedly the sword skill "Requiem" that Beth imparted to Sean in the first place!

When Bass was teaching this sword, Sean had already met the learning standards, but because of insufficient proficiency, this trick has not been activated. Later, even if he was promoted to the lower silver level, his proficiency point was only 20 points. Naturally, it was far from enough for the skills that required 30 proficiency points to activate. So until today, after Sean was promoted to the upper silver pinnacle, he finally had enough proficiency points for the activation of this skill.

Skills that require so many proficiency points are naturally extraordinary. At least Sean has never seen a skill that requires so many proficiency points to activate in the game. What's more, Thiers' necklace has the effect of increasing the power of skills by 15%, so the power of the Requiem from Sean will naturally be strengthened to a more terrifying level.

Just after the sword was displayed, the backlash that Sean had to endure was also not small.

The blood on his face faded at this moment and looked pale and colorless, and his whole person became extremely weak as if he was seriously ill. Even if he was just standing, his legs had already begun to tremble and looked shaky. This sign lasted for ten minutes, and Xiao En's face finally recovered a little  color, but this scene looked like a back light.

Fortunately, at this time, Yin still failed to recover from the shock, so he missed the best time to kill Sean.

After seeing Billy almost broken into two pieces by such a domineering sword, Yin only felt that his brain became blank with a thud, and the whole person felt cold hands and feet, and his lips trembled and didn't know what to do. What to say.

If she was very confident and sure about killing Sean before, then when Sean broke through the realm and climbed to the upper silver peak within ten seconds, silver's assurance was already less than 50%. At this moment, after seeing this sword of Sean, there was only fear left in her heart, let alone a 50% certainty, I am afraid that now she doesn't even have the courage to confront Sean head-on.

But when Yin looked at Sean again and saw his pale and bloodless face, there was hope in his heart: How could such a powerful sword come without a price!

And Xiao En, when he saw Yin's gaze, he naturally knew what he was thinking, and immediately sneered: "Although I am a little weak now, there is still no problem with using another sword. Do you want to try it? ?"

Yin suddenly hesitated when he heard what Shaun said, but he still snorted coldly: "Bluffing!"

Xiao En's face was unsmiling, just looking at Yin coldly, but he was constantly adjusting the almost chaotic aura in his body.

In fact, Sean did not bluff, but he did have the capital to use Requiem again.

【Requiem: Concentrate the fighting spirit on the sword and give the enemy a fatal blow! Each time you cast a skill, you need to consume at least 45% of your own fighting energy. The attack range is within one meter, and the incidental effect "Instant Hit": This attribute judgment has priority and cannot be evaded, and hits instantly; the incidental effect "Absolute Rip": Ignore For all defenses, the sum of power + agility is greater than the target endurance*2, the target will die on the spot; if it is less than the target endurance*2 and the difference is within 20, the target will be severely injured, causing it to fall into serious injury and lose all combat power; if it is less than the target endurance*2 *2 and the difference is greater than 20, it will cause trauma to the target with a bleeding effect; when this skill is applied to the undead creature, it will be forced to kill regardless of its nature. Swordsmanship eighth-order special sword. Note: Because of the particularity of this sword skill and your own low strength, after each skill you cast, you will enter a collapsed state: Strength -30, Agility -30, Stamina -40, Enforcement-50%, for 10 minutes . After the effect is over, you will temporarily enter a state of fatigue: Strength-15, Agility-15, Endurance-20, duration 180 minutes, this state can be quickly restored by other means. 】

With Sean's current strength, the sum of his strength and agility has exceeded 167 points, so unless Billy's stamina is higher than 84 points or more, then it is possible to be immune to the "spot death on the spot" attached to the skill. "Effect, this effect is almost equivalent to the death attribute!

But obviously, Billy's stamina is not so high, so under the attack of Requiem, he naturally died on the spot.

And if it was ten minutes ago, Sean might still be really not sure whether he could keep the silver, but after the ten-minute "prostration" at this moment is over, despite the temporary effect of "weakness", all attributes have declined. , But his vindictive strength is still 51%, in other words, it is indeed possible to perform another resurrection. It's just that this time Requiem's damage judgment will only be 137 points, but despite this, it is enough to kill Silver on the spot.

Because of the silver endurance value, there are only less than sixty points!

As long as Silver dares to attack, as long as it is within one meter of the attack determination range, Sean doesn't mind letting Silver try the power of this sword!

Chapter 146: . The last fight!

This surprise attack is ending in a very funny way.

Although it has an extremely gorgeous beginning, it even caused Xiao En and others and the entire Red Fire Tribe and the Heavy Rock Tribe to fall into a panic, but two consecutive wrong intelligence assessments have also brought troubles. The huge catastrophic result of obliteration.

More than 80 galloping lizard cavalry fled the battlefield. The front-line cavalry was blocked or even defeated. The archers were unable to disturb the enemy or disrupt the enemy. Even the investment of the reserve team did not have any effect. -Any enemy who jumped over the city wall and entered the Great Crimson Fire Tribe would end up silently as if sinking into the sea. Even though the kobolds have as many as ten wizards, one of them is even an archmage, but Cecilia and Dini alone are enough to deal with it.

In just one hour, successive defeats have made the morale of this unit extremely low. And when the scene that changed color appeared that day, Billy was killed by Sean with a sword on the spot, and the situation became that the Big Red Fire Tribe and the Heavy Rock Tribe took the initiative to attack and start chasing the deserters.

Yin made a perfect beginning, but didn't even guess the process, and ushered in a funny ending.

At this moment, Yin and Xiao En are more than ten meters away from each other. As the two parties who have lost light body surgery and adrenal stimulation, the two of them have been unable to perform that almost abnormal speed. Even though Silver can use the power of the devil to strengthen his ten-point strength and weaken Sean ten-point strength at the same time, Xiao En does not care at all. As long as the silver approaches within one meter, he will not hesitate. The launch of requiem.

As for Yin, she didn't dare to make much movement at this moment. She couldn't even be sure if Sean was bluffing. Of course she didn't know. When she reported her name just now, she had asked Sean to keep all her personal data. After finding it out, it is also impossible to know the side effects brought by the Requiem skill. If the side effects are not as big as she imagined, then the result of this hastily offensive, isn't it taking his own life?

But Yin also knew that if she procrastinated like this, then she might not even be able to escape in the end.

On the other side of the battlefield, that magical power fluctuates so strongly that it is almost not inferior to the magician of the golden realm. What's more, Yin has also keenly noticed that there is actually a priest in the opponent's team. If she had known that the opponent had a priest, then she would definitely not attack so hastily, but would use assassination or other means. The impression brought to her by the human priests was too deep, far beyond the comparison of the priests here in the barren land.

Time is passing by one minute and one second.

Yin kept his eyes on Sean from the beginning to the end, trying to distinguish his specific situation, although she knew that the longer the time was, the less chance she would win, but if she left like this, she would be true. Very unwilling!

If she missed this time, then even she herself would not know, the next time she had the opportunity to ambush Sean to * the manuscript of the Demon Hunter. And if the manuscript of the hunter cannot be captured, then her ultimate fate is ultimately inevitable, because once she is demonized, no matter whether she can still maintain her sanity, she will not be able to tolerate her on the Marvel Continent after all.

At this moment, Sean suddenly felt a peculiar pressure from the dead bones in his hand. A silver light flashed across the original silver-white blade, and the entire blade suddenly became heavier. It's as if something is expanding and growing. Such a peculiar and strong change quickly attracted Sean's attention, which made him have to pay a little attention to the dead bones.

Looking at it, Sean felt a moment of astonishment.

Dead bones are indeed growing!

Sean can clearly feel that a force is constantly flowing from his body into the dead bone, and then this power is quickly absorbed by the dead bone. Although on the surface, the death bones are only emitting a more shining silver brilliance under the sunlight, only Sean who holds the death bones can feel that now this sword is undergoing an extremely subtle change.

There were many tiny cracks on the body of the dead bone sword. The cracks were so small that they were hard to find with the naked eye. Moreover, there were many flaws on the edge of the blade, which seemed to be caused by bumps and bumps in previous battles. . If these phenomena are placed on another weapon, it is undoubtedly that the durability of this weapon is constantly being consumed. If these problems become visible to the naked eye, then this weapon basically has reached the "end of life". Unless it is re-engineered and rebuilt, it may cause harm to the user's life.

Usually, after using any weapon for a period of time, a series of repairs will be carried out on the weapon to increase or restore its durability.

Sean is a blacksmith, and of course he knows these things very well.

But the problem is that the dead bone is a special weapon with its own consciousness, so not to mention that Sean can't find the materials to repair, even if he finds it, he can't do it at all.

But now, under the infusion of Sean's power, many cracks on the Seismic Sword's body have begun to repair automatically, and the flaws on the edge have also regrown, becoming even sharper than before.

If this were only the case, Sean would certainly not pay too much attention.

What really surprised him was that the attributes of the dead bones were constantly improving during this repair process. After the repair is completed, the increased strength of the dead bones has also changed from 31 to 36, endurance has changed from 13 to 15, and agility has changed from 19 to 22, which is equivalent to the entire weapon once again strengthened by ten points.

At this moment, Xiao En understood immediately.

This is the inherent effect of the dead bone "blood limit" is at work!

When Sean broke through to the lower silver, the dead bone also strengthened once, but this time it was strengthened without Sean's knowledge, and this time it was when Sean was conscious! Although the extra attributes are not particularly large, the most important thing is that five points of strength and three points of agility have been added, which is equivalent to saying that when Sean casts Requiem, his attribute sum judgment will add another eight points!

For Sean, this is simply an incredibly pleasant surprise.

Yin didn't know how Sean felt, she only knew that Sean was a little distracted at this moment. So at this moment, Yin only hesitated for 0.1 second, and then the whole person rushed towards Xiao En, but there was no sound. The whole person did not look like a swordsman at all, but rather like A killer lurking in the darkness launched a deadly attack when the enemy was slightly distracted!

By the time Sean discovers Silver's attack, he has had to engage in close combat with her.

When the two long swords hit each other again, Yin's eyes burst out with a strange brilliance: She knew that she was right, and Sean was bluffing!

At this time, due to the impact of fatigue, even with the five-point strength of the dead bones, Sean's strength value is still only 76 points, which is two points lower than when he had not advanced before. Although the strength value of silver is only sixty-three points, but under the effect of the two curse seal special effects, Sean has to face the power of seventy-three points with sixty-six points, so suddenly Being dragged into a wrestling state by Silver is naturally extremely detrimental to Sean.

What's more, the attribute data reduced by fatigue is far more than strength, but also agility and endurance!

In such a rush and sudden battle situation, Sean, let alone requiem, even if he wants to distance himself, it has become a luxury.

Don't forget, there is an action process in the requiem. This process is a bit like accumulating energy-it is like singing for a magician. Although Requiem's "charge-up" process is very short, even less than a second, but that also requires Sean to pull a certain distance away. At this moment, being dragged into the wrestling state of close combat by the sudden attack by the silver, Sean was really at a loss as to what to do.

Therefore, the wrestling process only lasted less than two seconds, and Sean was repelled by a violent force from the silver, and the whole person suddenly became a little unstable. This is the aftereffect of the failure of the wrestling, even in reality. Also got the same effect as the game!

The next second, the silver long sword pierced Xiao En's heart like a poisonous snake.

Faced with such a fierce and terrifying critical attack, Xiao En's face did not change at all, but he stepped back violently to force his figure to stabilize. It's just that on his chest, a silver luster suddenly appeared, which was the defensive effect of the curse imprint and silver scales.

A sword stabbed down, but Xiao En suddenly felt a sharp pain from being hit by a heavy hammer, which was completely different from the previous situation of being hit by a silver long sword. At this moment, he finally understood how terrible the side effects brought by the drastic drop in strength and endurance, but at this time, he did not dare to relax, because if he did not do this, then he would instantly Killed by the silver sword!

Yin suddenly let out a frantic laughter after Yijian struck, and then the sword's strength changed, and it pierced towards Xiao En like a violent storm.

Faced with such a strong and fierce attack, Sean could only maximize the defensive effect of the curse imprint and silver scales, protecting the vital points of the head while constantly retreating, but he was constantly thinking about how to do it in seven seconds. Captured within an excellent timing to issue the last sword!

If Requiem cannot be displayed within seven seconds, then the person who died must be him!

Because of the curse imprint and silver scale effect, only the last seven seconds are left!

It's just that once silver has the upper hand, the offensive continues one after another, without stopping at all!

Time is passing by quickly.

Five seconds, four seconds, three seconds...

For Sean, every second lapsed is like a year long, seven seconds passed in a flash, but Sean never found any chance to fight back!

Is it really going to die here! ?

This thought flashed through Sean's mind, but unexpectedly, his heart was unusually calm.

At the end of the last second duration of the curse imprint. Silver scale, a reckless and loud horn suddenly sounded!

this is.....

The horn of attack!

The sound of this horn is so loud that it resounds through the entire wilderness! Immediately afterwards, a heavily armed black army appeared in a corner of the battlefield, rushing from all directions, and the loud horn sounded, which was no less inferior to this sound!

At this moment, Silver's offensive could not help but stop.

And Sean's eyes suddenly became unusually bright!

Chapter 147: .end

The war, soon ended.

Sean stood with a sword, with at least twenty wounds pierced by sharp blades on his body. These wounds are not big, but the scary thing is that they are very close to each other. This will have a very difficult effect on the recovery of the injury. What is more troublesome is that the negative effects brought by these wounds are actually continuous. bleed!

Until this moment, Sean did not realize the terrible silver.

In one second, she can actually stab more than 20 swords, which is enough to prove that her sword skills are very close to the master level. Worst of all, she also has an expert-level sword skill passive skill in her body-although the difference between the expert-level and the master-level may be only one level, the value of the two is completely different. In the game, a piece of information that can learn master-level skills, even if it is only a passive skill, can sell the value equivalent to a piece of mythical equipment; and expert-level skills? If the active skills are powerful enough, it is not difficult to sell the value equivalent to epic equipment. If they are passive skills, the value of the legendary equipment will break the sky.

How strong is the master's skills?

Tier 9 and Tier 10 skills belong to the master skill level. The eleventh rank is the grandmaster level, and the twelfth rank is the legendary rank. And Xiao En's aura can even alarm the requiem of the entire world, but it is only an expert level skill of the eighth rank.

Of course, the value that Sean knows refers to the value in the game.

In today's real world, the situation is slightly different.

Because Sean found a problem: Unless it is a legendary-level equipment with growth potential, it is better to use magic-level equipment if it is simply to pile attributes. But in this way, Sean also discovered another very subtle place: that is in this world, when the aborigines use magic-level equipment, they can only activate the special effects of their equipment, and there are few people in terms of attribute bonuses. Can be obtained, even if it is obtained, only part of the effect can be obtained.

Only after his guidance and explanation, it is possible to get all the bonuses.

Like the blood-stripe hexagon ring on Cecilia's hand, it was only after Sean's guidance and explanation that Cecilia had such a powerful effect on wearing it. Later, I lent it to Xuefanio and Dini, but neither of them can fully activate all the additional attributes on this ring—Snowfanio is slightly better, and the will can be fully activated at 15 o'clock, but wisdom can only Activate six points; Dini can only activate ten points of will and three points of wisdom.

On the contrary, the dark atmosphere attached to this ring was clearly felt by both of them.

So this is why people in this world desire legendary equipment so much, but in Sean's eyes, epic-level dead bones are not as important as the golden-grade Thiers' lucky necklace in the short term. reason.

The level of understanding of a piece of demonized equipment directly determines the important value that an aboriginal can play.

Shaun glanced at Silver one last time and sighed slightly.

In the fierce battle of life and death just now, even he dared not keep his hands, because after the obvious stagnation of Yin, a very strong killing intent and aura erupted, and it was obvious that she knew it. There is no retreat for myself, so I completely fight to the death. In such a situation, Xiao En dare not keep his hand, and a direct backhand is a requiem, killing Yin Gege on the spot.

It was also after this trick that Xiao En discovered that the effect of fatigue can actually be superimposed!

At this moment, Sean can taste how sad the result of fatigue x2, which is almost the same as prostration. And the most frightening thing is that the effect time has also doubled. In other words, after Sean has used Requiem twice, he now needs 360 minutes of rest time before he can return to normal levels. In addition, his energy was almost completely exhausted at the moment, and the severe pain from his brain even made him wish to pass out for a while.

It's a pity that he has not reached the limit, so Sean can only tolerate this kind of pain, but will not be unconscious.

The battle on the battlefield is also coming to an end.

This newly-emerged force completely showed its amazing side-they surrounded from all directions, and easily completely encircled and annihilated this force under the command of silver. They did not hide their hostility to the troops besieging the Great Scarlet Fire Tribe. Similarly, they did not mean to keep alive at all. Although the troops did not have cavalry, when the encirclement was formed, there was no enemy. Able to escape.

Vigorous, fierce, and powerful, this is the impression that this unit brought to Ataba and the brothers Carlos and Krumah.

Of course, the more intuitive impression is that the intent to kill is almost solidified.

Cecilia's Guards.

This is the only Tier 4 army in Shaun's territory!

Although there are only more than 400 people-now there are only more than 300 people left, but in Xiao En's eyes at this moment, the killing spirit of the whole army is more obvious. It is obvious that this can be regarded as an infinite approach. An elite army at the size of the trump card. Shaun knows very well, when this army can derive their war skills, when this army can become a true trump card army!

However, this does not mean that the combat effectiveness of this army will be weak.

The military advantage they possess is a very rare and powerful advantage. This means that if the scale is sufficient, the combat power they can exert under certain special circumstances is not weaker than that of an ace army.

The only pity is that the commander-in-chief of this army, Clover, is not someone who will take orders from Sean and William.

This can be seen from the fact that he directly led the people towards the Great Crimson Fire Clan, rather than rushing to rescue Shaun in the first place.

Clover followed Cecilia towards Sean's side, and the protective circle formed by his shield guards was only set up for Cecilia, but he didn't even bother at all. other people. Perhaps in Clover's opinion, if Sean could die here, then he would really have a wish, but it is a pity that Sean's life is very big, so he did not die.

Looking at Clover like this, Sean could only smile inwardly.

If he had a choice, he believed that William would never send Clover out. Because in the original situation on how to deal with Clover, Sean, William, and Neal all maintained the same view: if there is no need, they will never use this force that cannot be completely controlled. But now it is Clover and his Cecilia Guards who are going deep into the wilderness to rescue. Then this can only show the current situation, even William is already facing the level of indecision.

In fact, it is indeed the only unit that can fight deep into the wilderness.

After all, the effect brought by the advantage of a complete range of arms is destined for the Cecilia Guards regiment to be 100% combative no matter what the environment. Of course, what's more important is that, apart from Clover's Cecilia Guards, only the Iron Wings and Void City's garrison can use Sean's current troops. The garrison in the Void City is also an unusable unit, so apart from Clover, no one can use it.

As for Rena, Stalin and others, the pure cavalry unit of the former is simply not suitable for use in the wilderness, while the latter is a recruit unit. In other words, it is unknown whether these units have reached the level of a third-level regular army.

Soon, Cecilia and Dini rushed over, followed by Carlos, Krumah, Ataba and others.

Clover glanced at Sean, but he just yelled the Lord Lord casually, and didn't say anything. It's just an old fritters like him. At first glance, you know that although Sean is covered in blood and his injuries look quite serious, but there is no too fatal injury, that is, loss of strength, just need to cultivate for a period of time. —At least in Clover's opinion, with a priest with a knife like Dini, even if the sword wounds on her body are more troublesome, she really won't die.

"Sean, how are you doing!" Cecilia wanted to get closer, but was afraid of worsening Sean's injury, so she could only circle around in a hurry.

"It's okay." Xiao En shook his head lightly. He stood with his sword, but his whole person seemed to have a massive and stalwart aura.

"The injury is not serious, it's just weakness caused by excessive blood loss." Dini has urgently performed two healing techniques, which are also the healing magic techniques she has mastered, but at the moment she can only help Sean stop bleeding temporarily. After all, she is a priest with a knife, not a priest or priest. Healing is not originally her proficiency. "I have helped stop the bleeding, but if you want to heal the injury, you still need to let someone from the Great Scarlet Fire Tribe take over."

"I have told Asia to be ready." Carlos, a shrewd goblin, immediately jumped out and said respectfully. There must be some damage to his Great Scarlet Fire Tribe, although it is not serious, but In this battle, the goblin cavalry in the tribe was reduced by five more. Now seeing the strength of Clover's army, Carlos made up his mind to hug Sean's thick thighs. "Can we move adults now?"

Cecilia immediately turned her head to look at Tini. Her eyes were full of tears. She didn't show any weakness in the  battle just now, but now she looks like this. She saw Clover. He couldn't help but shook his head and sighed again. But Clover is not a fool. Of course he wouldn't say anything at this time. As a loyal minister, he puts himself in an upright position. He is responsible for Cecilia's safety. As for the others? Are you familiar with you?

"It should be fine, just be careful." Dini nodded.

Soon, several bear people walked up and made a simple stretcher, let Sean lie on it, and they were responsible for transporting it. The other northern barbarians and bears also surrounded Shaun as if they were facing a major enemy. They were afraid that unexpected accidents or surprises would happen suddenly at this time, even Rupiah and Yim. People also followed, and Dini directly applied an ice armor technique to Sean.

At this time, Clover and his Cecilia Guards had become a kind of decoration instead.

As the team began to move towards the Big Crimson Fire Tribe, when Xiao En's eyes fell unintentionally to the bear clan guarding around him, he suddenly let out a whisper.

Chapter 148: . Continental Barrier

After this battle, the Northland Barbarians died several people in the battle, but all the bear people were still alive, but they received varying degrees of injury.

At this moment, except for the four bear people who were responsible for carrying the stretcher without the impact shield on their backs, the other bear people were walking around with the impact shield in their hands. Everyone looked like they were waiting.

The reason why Sean made a surprised whisper is because he saw that the impact shields held by these bear people were all emitting a layer of golden luster!

Golden luster!

This is usually the luster that only the gold-grade enchanted equipment has, but from the selection of the material to the production to the final molding of these impact shields, Sean has seen it with his own eyes, and even checked the attributes with the real eye, although these Impact shield is any item that can be used after learning shield skills, but it is only a high-quality tower shield of forging level. If it was said that Sean had personally intervened in the transformation, it would be possible to get a bronze-grade demonized impact shield. If it was a gold-grade, he would not be able to do it with his current blacksmith skills.

What's more, those dwarves and goblins who make shock shields do not have alchemists!

Xiao En rubbed his eyes and found that he was not mistaken. These impact shields all exuded a golden luster.

If it is said that the transformation occurred in battle, it is impossible for all the bear people's impact shields to undergo transformation. And Shaun knows very well that it is not impossible to make a casting grade equipment become a magic grade equipment due to external influences, but it is also impossible, even if it is almost possible. There is a negligible very small probability that something happened, and it is impossible to cause all impact shields to change.

"Come here." Sean suddenly shouted to the bear man closest to him.

The Cecilia, Dini and others who followed were looking at Sean with some curiosity, and the bear man walked over after being confused.

For the bear people, they were indeed captured as slaves. But later Vivian rescued them, but did not treat them as slaves, so they willingly followed Vivian to act together until Vivian transferred them to Sean, and Sean might have promised to release them. After their slave status allowed them to enjoy the status of the leader, these bear talents were truly willing to be called into the army and became the first batch of probationers of the impact shield.

And this battle is also the first time that Impact Shield has exerted its power on the battlefield.

The effect is indeed amazing.

I am afraid that as long as the scale is large enough, even heavy cavalry at the level of the ground travel dragoon cannot break through the defensive array under the impact shield.

The bear man quickly walked to Xiao En's side, and he asked with some doubts: "Da, man, yes, what, order, do you?"

Although the common language of this bear man in mainland China is staggering, at least the meaning is relatively coherent and clear.

"Let me take a look at your shield." Sean said.

Although the bear man was puzzled, he quickly did it-he picked up the impact shield and placed it directly on Sean's body, and then Sean's face changed instantly, and it felt like someone had taken a piece of it. The boulder pressed directly on his chest, and with Sean's current situation, he couldn't breathe at all in an instant.

Amidst the chaos and chaos, with the silly and cute situation of the bear tribe, I finally understood that the impact shield is not a high-end thing that ordinary people can play. The impact shield is a triple shield structure, and there is a nail pile inside. Its template is developed on the basis of a pure iron heavy tower shield, so its weight is naturally much heavier than a pure iron heavy tower shield. Ten catties.

You should know that a heavy-duty pure iron tower shield has to weigh 60 or 70 kilograms, which is really hard for the average person to hold. Therefore, it is often distinguished between the defensive ability and sharpness of a heavy infantry. It depends on whether the tower shield they use is a pure iron heavy tower shield or a heavy tower shield-the thickness of the latter is thinner than the former, and the area of the shield is also smaller. For one lap, the weight should be at least 20 catties to more than 30 catties lighter.

Of course, there is another kind of tower shield with a net weight of no more than 40 kilograms. The main material is wood, but with a layer of steel plate in the middle, and iron is crossed on the shield surface. Although this type of shield is a tower shield, it is actually classified as a large shield, but its defensive capabilities are pretty good. It is currently the mainstream configuration of many heavy infantry on the mainland. The cost of training one heavy tower shield and heavy infantry can train three soldiers using this type of tower shield. In terms of cost, there is no doubt that using this large tower shield will save a lot, and even if the combat power is discounted, If the number of scales is sufficient, qualitative changes can also occur.

So it is not difficult to imagine what the result will be when a thing with a height of two meters and a weight of more than one hundred kilograms is placed on Sean's body.

Finally the tossing was over, Xiao En's face became pale again, this time it looked more like he was fished out of the water. But Sean couldn't say anything. After all, he didn't make it clear. After experiencing the weight of this shock shield firsthand, Sean's impression of the shock shield became more intuitive-if you use the magic guide The power source is used as the starting core of the pegs of the impact shield, so the weight should be reduced by about 30 to 40 kilograms. Of course, this has a lot to do with the ability to greatly purify refined iron in the future, strengthen the quality and reduce the weight at the same time.

In other words, at the current stage, no one can use the impact shield except for the brute force of the bear tribe and the tauren.

【Impact shield (steam power source), high quality, hardness 70, immunity to piercing damage, immunity to long-range damage, immunity to slashing damage, exemption from 50% blunt weapon damage, and 50% immunity from cavalry impact damage. Active skill "Peg Frame": After the skill is activated, it saves 85% of the cavalry impact damage, and gains the persistence effect: it cannot be knocked back or shaken back, the damage is reduced by 25%, and it cannot be moved. Equipment effect: Agility -20, double the physical consumption; equipment requirements: strength 50, endurance 60. 】

【Item description: This is the official product made by Lord Sean Connery based on the drawings left by Ronnis Holder. This shield has been formally tested on the battlefield. Facts have proved that it does have extremely good or even amazing defensive capabilities, but its weight also makes it possible for not many people in this world to use it normally. But once it appears on a large scale on the battlefield, it will definitely become a nightmare for all cavalry, even if you are riding an earth travel dragon. 】

Sean silently looked at the attributes on the impact shield. In terms of attributes, the effect was the same as that after the impact shield was made, and there was no difference. However, there has been a slight change in the item description. Sean remembers that the item description had only a very simple sentence, that is, the first sentence at the beginning, but now there is a "through formal battlefield test" in the back. "This kind of statement, and there is actually an explanation at the end that "Earth-travelling dragoons would treat it as a nightmare when it appeared on a large scale," which shocked Xiao En a bit.

The change in the description of the item was obviously only produced after this battle, but this did not change the attributes and effects of the impact shield, so why does the impact shield emit a golden luster?

Sean was a little puzzled, but instead of removing the real eye, he ordered the two bears to come over and carefully inspect their shock shields. The results were exactly the same as the data displayed by the shock shields checked on the first side.

"Strange." A look of doubt appeared on Sean's face.

However, he had already dried up his energy due to successive requisites, and now he had to think about these problems. As a result, he finally recovered a little bit of energy and avoided the headache. As a result, he got headaches because of the consumption of energy. Immediately, Cecilia became extremely panicked, and hurriedly drove away the bear people, and then strictly forbid Sean to think about problems, and specifically explained that she could help if there were any problems.

Faced with Cecilia's instructions, Sean gave a bitter smile, without saying anything.

He discovered that the shock shield has a weird phenomenon, completely because of his own special situation, and he has the real eye as a cheating tool. Aborigines like Cecilia, no matter how talented they are, it is impossible to find this. The secret hidden inside. It's like Sean only needs to use a person to report his name or learn about an army's situation, and he can immediately learn its specific attributes and data, but no matter how deep Cecilia's understanding and knowledge of the world is, he can not do this step.

and many more!

Sean's eyes suddenly flashed with surprise.

It is not only the bear tribe who experienced this battle, but the northern barbarians also participated in the war, but why didn't they change anything? Moreover, the bear tribe also played a destructive role on the battlefield, but why only the impact shield in their hands played a role in the change?

Soon, Sean realized a problem he had overlooked: the army!

Because when he led this team composed of bear tribe, northern barbarian and slave hunting team, the data displayed was not the army, but the adventure group, so Sean has been ignoring this point. But in fact, whether it is a northern barbarian or a bear tribe, Sean cultivated them as an army, so the essence of it must be an army.

Thinking of this, Xiao En immediately turned his attention to the bear tribe.

In an instant, his breathing became heavy immediately!

【You have discovered the role of the "impact shield" wearing the tower shield, all the troops officially equipped with the impulse shield will gain the military advantage "continental barrier"! 】

[Continental barrier: dress advantage, the army is immune to all slashing, piercing, and long-range strike damage, forming a domain suppression effect on the cavalry unit, immune to the light cavalry charge effect (the field suppression effect has been added), and 60% of the heavy cavalry charge effect is exempted (already added) (Additional domain suppression effect), save 30% of the special cavalry force charge effect (added domain suppression effect), movement speed is reduced by 50%, cannot be concealed, cannot move when the defensive array is deployed, resistance to magic is weakened by 400%, any  The blessing of magic and magic will be weakened by 50%. Dress code: 500 men, heavy infantry. Dressing special effects: the army level is promoted to one level, the absolute barrier: 35% chance of forcing the cavalry unit that has broken the defensive formation to be unable to penetrate the formation.]

[Note: The advantage of dress code is not an inherent advantage of the military. Any unit equipped with an impact shield can take advantage of this advantage after a certain period of training.]

[Explanation: The new tower shield you developed has proven its value to the world. Any heavy infantry unit equipped with an impact shield and formed into a scale will become a nightmare for all cavalry units on the battlefield. In front of this solid line of defense like a continental barrier, no physical attack means can be passed unless your enemy is willing to pay an extremely heavy price. Of course, in the face of great magical power, I don't recommend that you send such a slow-moving force without magical resistance to the front line. Even just a fireball technique is enough to make you feel bad for a while.]

Seeing the system prompts in his mind, Xiao En's eyes went straight.

Impact shield can also form a dressing advantage! ?

What is the advantage of dress?

That is, as long as the dress code is met, then this army will immediately have a war effect such as "mainland barrier" on the advantage of the army! And this dress advantage actually has special effects!

In other words, if Sean recruits 500 soldiers with shock shields into Clover's Cecilia Guards, then this unit will not only have two types of armies: "Complete Arms" and "Continental Barrier". Advantages, but also can be directly promoted to a fifth-level army!

This is the level of an ace army!

We must know that in the current war on the mainland, many types of attacks are nothing more than the slashing type of the sword and shield soldier, the piercing type of the pikeman, and the long-range attack, but the mainland barrier is directly immune to these three attack methods, which is equivalent to In a disguised form, this unit is completely immune to physical attacks!

Especially the "domain suppression effect on cavalry forces" that is most valued by Sean, this also fully demonstrates the terrifying nature of a troop that gains the advantage of continental barrier dressing! Although facing special cavalry units-the so-called special cavalry units refer to ground dragoons, goblin cavalry, wolf cavalry, squatting lizard cavalry, etc.-only 30% of the charge effect can be exempted, but if it succeeds, then it is fundamental Even the formation can't break through, let alone go through the formation.

And even if it is broken, the mainland barrier still has an "absolute barrier" judgment effect!

Once this effect takes effect, the cavalry unit that loses its impact will be trapped in a formation of heavy infantry, and its fate is absolutely predictable.

Of course, because of its weaknesses, the 50% reduction in movement speed and the inability to conceal the two attributes also make such a unit unable to be used in ambushes, so it can only be used in battles on the frontal battlefield. But the fact that magic resistance is weakened by 400% is actually a headache-usually heavy infantry and heavy cavalry will have the hidden side effect of weakening magic resistance, but it is said to be weakened by 400%, which is definitely a superimposed attribute, that is It is said that more than 400% are weakened, maybe 500% or even 600%.

What kind of concept is 500%?

This concept means that Miss Elizabeth, the chief magician of Asuna, can almost cause such a force to be hit hard by casting a large-scale thunder magic without using the power of the weather environment to use the blood. It's annihilation!

But there are disadvantages when it comes to advantages, and Sean is very open to this.

Furthermore, besides the Maggie Empire and the Kingdom of Portoroa on the mainland, which country can pull out an army of magicians on the frontal battlefield? And powerful magicians like Elizabeth and Cecilia are only a few after all. If it doesn't work, Sean can also train a troop of magicians. This troop does not need to master any offensive ability. As long as they can interfere and prevent the enemy's magicians from successfully performing magic, this is enough.

But the only trouble is that the current impact shield cannot be applied to people other than tauren and bear tribe. And even if all the tauren and bear tribes in Xiao En's current territory are counted, there are only more than one hundred people. It is really not easy to make up the number of five hundred people.

Thinking of this, immediately made Sean become a little bit worried about gains and losses.

This feeling of sitting on Baoshan and unable to use it is really a bit uncomfortable.

Chapter 149: .Angry Neil

Void City is now more and more prosperous. Although its geographical location is not ideal, as the first city of Lord Panda, Sean Connery has naturally put a lot of effort into it. This Neil even spent hundreds of thousands of gold coins to build roads and completely opened up the roads of Hongye Town and Steel Wing Training Camp (formerly Panda Town), and even continued to the Ida Ling.

Of course, with the exception of the Chiraff, any road to the Void City in Shaun's territory, whether directly or indirectly, is basically completed. For this reason, William even set up a special patrol unit to regularly clean up and rectify the potential hazards that may occur in these roads and surrounding areas. As a result, a large number of businessmen flowed into the void city not far away.

The only pity is that the Void City, or the entire Pandaling, has not yet received the Pan-Continent Alliance rating, so no Chamber of Commerce joining the Pan-Continent Alliance came here to invest. Invisibly, Pandaling's income is naturally much less. At present, the income of the entire territory is mainly dependent on taxes and some special products shipped from the large amount of grain planting and Hongye Town. If it were not for Viscount Rude, If Da Yiling manages well and is more profitable, I am afraid that with Sean's current force of more than 20,000 men, he would have already gone bankrupt.

The income issue has really become a top priority for the entire territory.

But in any case, this is after all the problem of the entire territory, not the problem of Void City.

Therefore, the Void City is rapidly prospering in a situation comparable to deformity.

But at this moment, in a room of the lord's mansion in the Void City, there was an extremely fierce quarrel, and the quarrel was getting worse and worse. If you don't know it, almost everyone will think that the fight is about to start. NS.

Just looking at the usual appearance of the soldiers stationed outside the door, you can know that the situation may not be that bad.

In fact, when this happened on the first day, these guards did look like an enemy, and they even smashed into the room and rushed in. However, as the number of days has increased, these guards are now completely calm, because this kind of quarrel takes place almost every day-the quarrel starts in the morning and stops until lunch time, and then again. The quarrel began late at night from the afternoon tea time, and the time has lasted for ten days.

In these ten days, the negotiation in the conference room has not gone smoothly.

The guards didn't understand these things. They only knew that those who came to negotiate were members of the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance, and that they arrived in the Void City more than half a month ago. Once they arrived, they launched an extremely fierce momentum. Commander William nodded. Seeing that the negotiation was about to end, Administrative Officer Neil finally returned, and all the guards and soldiers who saw Administrative Officer Neil on that day would never forget that scene.

The first rays of the morning sun shone down.

When the gate of the city slowly opened, oncoming was a carriage that was so  that it was disgusting. The carriage had been completely stained red with blood, and the purple-black color that solidified after a large amount of blood dried up made the carriage become disgusting. It's extremely hideous and terrifying.

The driver was a black armored guard with a broken arm, and there were seventeen black armored cavalry guards beside the carriage, but these soldiers were almost all wounded, and the driver with only one arm seemed to be these black armored guards. The wounded were the lightest here, because among the cavalry around the carriage, several had even fallen into a coma.

When he saw this scene before him, the guards of the city gate were immediately shocked.

Because judging from the costumes and markings of these black armored cavalry, it is undoubtedly the newly formed heavy cavalry unit only a few months ago when Commander William personally issued an order, with jet black wings. It's just that in the various wars that broke out in the previous territory, the casualty rate of this heavy cavalry unit was too high. More than 700 people were killed in the battle, and even the serial number was almost cancelled. Therefore, after the war ended, this heavy cavalry unit The troops are actually in a state of rest and reorganization.

Until two months ago, he was appointed by Commander William to reach the Iraqi leader to * Archon Neil back.

These guards counted time, and the Dark Wings should indeed have arrived in the void city within a few days, but they did not expect to see such a horrible scene in front of them. What level of attack did they encounter? Will it become like this? But as a mercenary group in the past, there was nothing unseen in the days when the knife was licking blood. Therefore, after a shock, the superior commander quickly issued the order to immediately go out of the city to protect the team and the carriage from entering the city. At the same time Also immediately notify Commander William.

A total of three hundred people with pitch-black wings, after this battle, I am afraid that the designation and establishment will be cancelled!

A unit whose organization and designation was cancelled less than half a year after its establishment is not a symbol of auspiciousness anyway.

So when Neil got off the wagon, his eyes were cold.

And the next situation is even more incomprehensible to many people, because when Neil took over the negotiation with the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance, he actually showed a completely different indifference and strength from the past. He refused to give in even a little bit of profit, and even added many favorable conditions to himself in many actual trade negotiations, especially in the import and export tariffs of the territory, and directly adopted the system of taxation by volume. , While also imposing a toll tax.

You should know that in the trade system that the Pan-Continental Chamber of Commerce has reached with any country, tariffs are based on vehicle ratios. That is to say, no matter how much goods a carriage is loaded, only one carriage is charged, and if it is just passing by without conducting any trade or commercial activities in the territory, then the territory or country will not even Charge any fees to the China Chamber of Commerce Alliance.

It is precisely because of this that since Neal's return, negotiations with the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce have immediately stalled.

"The request you said is too harsh, I can't agree to it." A middle-aged man with a mustache snarled in the conference room, "Currently, the territories and countries that have signed trade cooperation contracts with our chamber of commerce alliances are almost all over the continent. , And no one has adopted the practice of collecting taxes according to the quantity. Now I have agreed to your request, but you actually charge 10% of the market purchase price for every kilogram of goods!"

If the purchase price of one kilogram of goods is one gold coin, then the 10% charge is one silver coin. This amount may seem small, but you must know that a carriage carrying goods is absolutely impossible to carry only one kilogram of materials. Usually, it can carry at least five kilograms to one ton of materials, which is equivalent to paying five silver coins to one. Gold coins, but the problem is that the purchase price of many important materials and goods per kilogram can never be just one gold coin, or even ten gold coins or 100 gold coins. Then this tax is very terrible.

In other places, for trucks returning to the Mainland Chamber of Commerce Union, regardless of the size and the cargo they carry, the tariffs are usually one gold coin for small trucks, five gold coins for medium trucks, and ten gold coins for large trucks.

"You don't have to agree." Neal stared at each other coldly and sneered, "Anyway, there is really no good material to produce in our territory, and you don't need to do business with us."

"You!" The eyes of the man with the eight-character Hu instantly turned red.

"We have agreed to this request." At this moment, a middle-aged man who looked no younger than the Hu Zi Hu man said in a deep voice.

Neil turned his head and stared at the opponent coldly.

In the last ten days, this middle-aged man has been responsible for watching and taking notes. He has never intervened, and has always been very low-key, so that Neil has almost forgotten his existence in the last few days. Unexpectedly, he was the one who could really decide everything in this negotiation. This situation of losing a lot of judgment due to emotional interference has not appeared in Neal's life for a long time. Of course, he knew that he might have missed many important information and clues because of this, and it could even be said that if it weren't for him. He didn't care about the trade negotiations with the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance, so he would have completely lost in a series of negotiations.

But, as long as the thought that the dark-winged unit protecting him had 18 dead, and there were so many disabled and seriously injured, Neil couldn't calm down anyway.

After talking with Ablis that day, Neil came up with a strategy. Anyway, there are two people to protect, and they also showed absolutely powerful strength, so Neil let Dark Wing rush back to Void City first. Avoid attrition due to possible dangers and accidents. However, he never thought that the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance would be so frantic, and directly slaughtered the entire dark wings. If it weren't for the smell of blood and strong fluctuations in Dexter later, I am afraid that the dark wings would continue. It is impossible for the last eighteen people to stay.

As soon as he thought of this, Neil naturally couldn't give these Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce alliances any good expressions.

"We have agreed to this condition, so can I ask Archon Neil to give in appropriately?" The middle-aged man put down the quill in his hand and said politely, "Perhaps on some things, Some people in the Chamber of Commerce have acted excessively, but we did not have any malicious intentions."

"Businessmen all pursue profit. If there is not enough profit, it is absolutely impossible to use some extreme methods." Neil sneered, "Anyway, my requirements and conditions are already here. If you accept it, you don't have to sign a contract with us."

The middle-aged man took off his glasses and covered the flash of anger in his eyes by wiping the glasses: "Is this what Sir Connery meant?"

"Lord Lord has given me full authority to deal with it, so you don't need to worry, Lord Lord will support my decision." Neil replied coldly.

"I understand." The middle-aged man put on his glasses and his voice has become a little hard. "I don't know when Sir Connery will return. I also want to discuss some things with him face to face. The impact of this incident. Very big, I am afraid it is not something that Archon Neal can represent. After all, this is related to the interests and layout of the entire Chamber of Commerce alliance."

The middle-aged man especially emphasized the "interests and layout of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance", which is a response to the four words Neil said before "for profit".

"It may take a month or two for the Lord Lord to return." Neil said softly, "but I don't think there is any need to continue to negotiate about the wild land. Lord Lord is right about that piece of land. Land, I am very interested, and after all, someone broke the rules first."

"Oh?" The middle-aged man raised his eyebrows.

Neil did not speak, but just clapped his hands, and soon someone sent two boxes in.

Chapter 150: . Courtesy

These are two very beautiful and exquisite boxes.

The middle-aged man can tell at a glance that the material of the box is immortal wood, which is the most common wood in the elven world. It has very peculiar sturdiness and moisture-proof ability, and it has been widely used by some nobles in the human world. Pursue. As the saying goes, where there is buying and selling, there is killing. The price of immortal wood in the human world has always been high. And because of the strong properties of this wood, immortal wood is usually not used in large buildings and made into a dressing cabinet. It will take almost four to five years, so the immortal wood is usually small objects.

But because it is exquisite, the price is higher.

Merchants are profit-seeking, so these two exquisite boxes, regardless of the decorations on them, are just such exquisite workmanship, size and material, these two boxes can sell at least two thousand gold coins. If the volume is large, this is a very good business, but if there are only two boxes, then the value will undoubtedly be much smaller. After all, what he represents is the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance. How could it be worthwhile? .

It's just that if it is used as a gift box for some kind of gift, it is really a bit high-end and high-end.

"This is a gift from me to both of you."

When two beautiful boxes were placed on the long table in the meeting room, Neil said softly.

As an elf, even if Neil doesn't care about his image, once he is carefully groomed, the elegance of the elf in his blood will never be erased. So at this moment, hiding the indifference and arrogance on the face, coupled with the gentle tone and graceful behavior, Neil at this moment gave the two diplomatic envoys from the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce a completely different feeling.

It is the blood hidden under the grace, and it feels more indifference and arrogance to the two of them than he was just now.

The middle-aged man wearing glasses and the middle-aged man with a mustache looked at each other, and then stepped forward at the same time, putting two boxes on the left and the right.

When the box opened a gap, the white mist was like the sea water on the dam finally found a catharsis, rushing out eagerly. But perhaps because the weight is lighter than air, after these white mists gush out, they don't go high, but begin to sink along the edge of the box. Soon with the left hand holding the edge of the box to fix the box. Here comes an intimate encounter.

Icy cold.

This was the first feeling of a middle-aged man wearing glasses, and he realized it after a slight shock: There must be an ice magic circle engraved in the box.

He subconsciously turned his head to look at his companion, but saw that his companion also turned to look at him, and then his gaze slid towards the box in the other's hand, and he saw the same white mist pouring out of the box. Obviously, the boxes of the two of them should all contain the same things, but the middle-aged man can't figure out what kind of gift it is that needs to be kept warm by the magic power emanating from the ice magic circle.

However, his professional habits quickly began to take effect.

This box is worth about two thousand gold coins. The decoration on the box also seems to require about one thousand gold coins. The magic circle of ice is engraved inside, which is less than two or three thousand gold coins. If you count the magic circle, it needs to be consumed. The nucleus...

The middle-aged man's eyes already showed a hint of excitement. This box was also at least 6,000 gold coins. According to the unspoken rule of "giving gifts" among merchants, under normal circumstances, the value of gifts must be more than three times that of containers. And when he thought of this, the middle-aged man couldn't help but increase the range of his right hand. He couldn't wait to know the truth about the gift in the box.

Obviously, his companions think so too.

So the box was completely opened almost at the same time, and a large amount of white mist continued to gush out-obviously, the magic circle in these two boxes has been activated for a while, so there is a lot of mist inside, so that it is obscured. The sight of the two. But no matter how much mist, without any seal, it will quickly disperse, not to mention that the two middle-aged men are constantly fanning with their hands at this moment to accelerate the expulsion of the mist.

Soon, the secret hidden in the box was completely exposed under the eyes of the two of them.

At this moment, the middle-aged man's pupils suddenly shrank, and a look of horror appeared on his face. But his companion, the middle-aged man with a mustache, uttered a scream comparable to a soprano, and his voice was full of fear.

"Two people, are you satisfied with my gift?" Neil smiled slightly and said softly when he saw the reaction of the two.

"Are you declaring war on our chamber of commerce alliance!?" The middle-aged man wearing glasses had obviously reached the extreme of anger on his face, and his entire face was completely distorted.

It is placed in two boxes, and there are two human heads!

These two heads, unfortunately, the middle-aged men know each other.

This one in his own box is Valkyi, the regional leader of the Great Rift Valley, a true powerhouse with half of his feet in the middle sanctuary!

As for the head in the other box, he had discussed with him yesterday. It was he who advocated some deterrent measures to intimidate Neil. If necessary, Neil could even be assassinated. Make the negotiation smoother. But in any case, he did not expect that it was less than twenty-four hours, and the companions who had been drinking and chatting and discussing things together last night would have died like this!

This is a real mid-level sanctuary!

But the middle-aged man is not a fool. He can become a diplomat of the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce and is responsible for various diplomatic negotiations. How can he be a man of mere appearance? Even with just a quick glance, the middle-aged man has already seen that these two former companions have a very obvious feature: the fear on their faces is almost the same, which means the last scene they saw before they died. It is enough to make them feel frightened.

But, what kind of thing makes the sanctuary powerhouses who are as hard as iron feel terrified! ?

Just then, the knock on the door suddenly sounded again.

The two people from the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance were like frightened birds. They were both extremely frightened, and one was obviously frightened.

Then soon, the color of horror on their faces turned into horror and fear instead of relief.

In the hands of the person who entered because of pushing the door at this moment, he held a box that was exactly the same as the two boxes on the table that were definitely not less than 6,000 gold coins.

The box was gently put down by a young man wearing a black tuxedo.

"Mr. Beth, I think our friend may not have the courage to open the box. Could you please do it for you?" Neil said softly, but the smile on his face was thicker, and the feeling was more imposing. Force.

Beth glanced at Neil coldly, but opened the box gently.

The same white mist rushed out, but this time the white mist was not so dense, but the mist inside was cleared just as soon as it was opened, revealing the scene inside.

This time, although the middle-aged man wearing glasses and the middle-aged man with a horrified moustache still have a look of horror on their faces, they are not as scared as before, but no matter how they look at it, they are obviously frightened. To numbness.

What is in the box is another human head!

And this head, the two are also very familiar with each other.

This person is another lower sanctuary powerhouse who acted almost at the same time as Valky. It's just that Valkyrie is responsible for coming to Void City to lurch and do damage, and collect intelligence by the way, and this person is responsible for intercepting Neil on the road.

It was going very smoothly.

At least, in the eyes of the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance, it should be smooth. But when the two diplomats in charge of negotiations came to Void City and found that Valkyrie had not contacted them, they felt a little strange, but they both knew that Valkyrie was not really a member of the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce. He was an expatriate who belonged to a family that had a close interest relationship with the Chamber of Commerce, so he didn't care too much about it.

What they really care about is the lower sanctuary powerhouse in front of him who is responsible for intercepting and killing Neil.

They also investigated the heavy cavalry unit of Jet Black Wings in advance, and found that this unit was just a newly formed unit, and its combat effectiveness was not top-notch—they learned from the Kingdom of Darbion that there was a force in the Void City that was enough to threaten The elite troops of the lower golden powerhouse, so just to be on the safe side, they let this lower-level sanctuary powerhouse take action.

And the progress of things, although it does not seem to be smooth, but at least it should be said to be a success.

Because the dark-winged troops were almost completely wiped out, this was tantamount to weakening the military power of the lord Shaun, and it was also a good thing for the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance. Because in their opinion, more than half of the reason why Neil and others were able to escape was luck. According to the sanctuary powerhouse responsible for interception, Neil and the heavy cavalry were acting separately. The interception of this heavy cavalry force therefore missed the opportunity to intercept Neil.

Of course, Neil didn't know about this. If he knew, then I sighed that if you are lucky, it is not the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance, but Neil.

At first, everyone thought that Neil was frightened at least once and that he would give in in the subsequent negotiations.

Because there is a saying, "What you can't get on the battlefield, you can't get it on the negotiating table." But for the strong, the "battlefield" can be replaced with "force", which is why the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance is full of confidence.

It's just that no one thought that after returning, Neil would be so strong, so strong that he was not afraid of tearing his face with the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce. As a last resort, they could only urgently contact the sanctuary powerhouse who had not succeeded in intercepting Neil, so that he could rush to the Void City as soon as possible, and cooperate with them to launch the second set of execution plans-if they can rely on deterrence. It's better not to make breakthrough progress, after all, they don't want to offend Asuna.

Of course, if it doesn't work, then assassinations can only be carried out.

But they did not expect that these two sanctuary powerhouses would fall here one after another!

Looking at the same fearful head in the third box, the blood flowing from the neck and neck hasn't even dried up. It is obvious that he was just killed.

The middle-aged man felt cold in his hands and feet: "What do you mean!?"

"Recommendation." Neil chuckled. "On my way back, your Chamber of Commerce Alliance gave us such a great gift. In order to prevent the lord from being accused of poor etiquette, we of course prepared. Gave a gift in return."

The pupils of the middle-aged man shrank suddenly, said hello three times, and then stopped saying anything, but turned and left. What he is thinking now is how to leave the Void City safely, because from the words Neil just revealed, he clearly heard a subtext: Since you are not particular about it, then don't want me to be particular about it. Obviously, if he guessed correctly, then they would definitely be assassinated next, after all, they had already done this to Neil first.

Of course, if you leave here so soon, then you really fall into Neal's trap—the middle-aged man with glasses has begun to gradually calm down. Although Void City looks extremely dangerous now, it is actually a truly safe place, because if all of them die here, then Void City will be the most suspicious. After all, they have already invaded the wild land. Behavior in the Great Rift Valley.

Therefore, he must stay here in the Void City to the Chamber of Commerce Alliance to make a new response, and he will leave only when he sends people over. But now, he has more important things to report to the Chamber of Commerce Alliance. He has discovered that Void City is by no means a simple place. Two lower-level sanctuary powerhouses and a middle-level sanctuary powerhouse have fallen here. This is absolutely It is not a coincidence. The middle-aged man even wondered whether the entire Void City was built with a large-scale special magic circle layout, otherwise how could it be so lethal? Moreover, the three sanctuary powerhouses all fell in Void City, not outside Void City. This is by no means a coincidence!

In the conference room, after all these people from the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance had left, William walked in through the side door on the other side.

He glanced at the three square boxes, there was still a hint of blood in the air, and his brows could not help but frowned: "Guess what they will do next?"

"It must be the embassy who refused to leave." Neil said calmly, "Because only in this way will they be safe. After all, if they are killed in the city, we must be the first suspect. By then, the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce The Alliance has a real reason to go to war with us.... But fortunately, we have created an illusion of coincidence for them."

"That's why I told you not to kill that idiot." William said calmly, "Your strength, my concession, coupled with the big bait we put out, the other party will definitely be tempted to take the bait.... At least for now, they still don't know our real hole cards."

Beth glanced at the two of them and sneered: "You are much more courageous than Sean. At most, he just thinks about how to take advantage of me, and you just use me as a swordsman."

"If our territory is breached, your interests will also be compromised. We are all in the same boat now, and there is no such thing as an improper sword." Neil said calmly, "The blood of the three sanctuary powerhouses, It's not enough to sacrifice the sacrifice of three hundred heroes." At this point, Neal's eyes showed anger again, looked at Beth, and asked: "Then what's next..."

"Thanks to Sean for that paramesium." Beth said faintly, "He has learned to requiem.... I didn't expect that he would learn to requiem so soon."

"What do you mean?" William and Neal were a little at a loss.

"The second coffin has been opened."

Hearing what Beth said, the two people were shocked. The coffin that has always been inseparable from Beth has not appeared today!
