

Lord of War Vol 2-181

Chapter 181: .The unavoidable battle (part 1)

Under the  of Rena, Sean and others moved very fast.

This road was led by Rena personally led the cavalry troops to kill, so at this moment, she was just walking back. Rena knew all the resting places along the way. This naturally saves a lot of trouble, so even though it took two days of rest in the Wildlands before setting off, it took less than two days to drive all the way back, and it was almost at the trade point of the Wind-Zhufeng tribe.

The Wind Chasing Tribe is actually very large in terms of geographical advantages. If the development of the wild land is not too deformed, this place should actually be regarded as the most valuable trading point in the entire Rift Valley. For Sean and others, as long as they arrive here, it means that it only takes about half a day before they can rush back to the outermost part of the Xiadi Rift Valley, and then return to the Xiadi Rift Valley. It only takes another month to come back to Pandaling.

There, Alfred and his army must be ready to respond.

And now, there is only about half a day's journey from Zhufeng Tribe.

According to Rena, that place has been completely destroyed by Clover. After a fire burned, there were hundreds of pegs and nail corpses. It is said to have caused a small wave of monsters in the Great Rift Valley. Several nearby trading points have suffered losses to a certain extent, so the current chase The tribal trading point is actually a ruin, and it is completely impossible to rebuild it in a short time.

Because of this, in the eyes of Rina, this place is undoubtedly safe.

At this time, it is already noon.

is the hottest time in the entire wild land, Xiao En and others rest in a shady back sun place. The scale of the temporary camp is not large, mainly because the backside of the sun is actually not too big. Before it was crowded with just two hundred cavalry, but now it also adds Sean, Clough, and Cecilia. As well as nearly a hundred people such as the Cecilia Guards, naturally it will only become more crowded.

Even if there is such a back sun, it is only to avoid direct sunlight, and the continuous heat waves on the ground cannot completely offset it. In this way, it will become very dependent on water sources, but everyone knows that water resources are the most scarce in wild land. At this moment, in order to give priority to ensuring drinking water for the wounded soldiers such as Clover and Andre, the work of washing and cooling the horses could only be interrupted, so at this moment these horses appear a little weak.

In fact, as early as a day ago, Sean and others were already facing the embarrassment of running out of food and running out of drinking water.

If it were not for this imminent problem, Sean and others would certainly not just set off for a two-day rest and return immediately. No matter how urgent they are, they should at least wait until the injuries of Clover and Andre have stabilized. Going on the road like this is naturally extremely detrimental to the recovery of Andre and Klov's injuries. Maybe the injury would be good in one or two months, but it will be aggravated by the bumps along the way. It may take half a year or even a year to get better.

But compared to the slow recovery from the injury, starvation or thirst is naturally a worse problem.

So, the whole army immediately hit the road under such circumstances. Now, it's not far from the Zhufeng Tribe. If they are faster, they might be able to reach the Zhufeng Tribe at night. There may be no food there, but there are plenty of water resources. When the time comes, everyone can go first. Replenish drinking water, take a break again, and then think of ways to solve the food problem.

At the very least, it is necessary to find food that can supply the entire army for about half a month, and Xiao En and other talents rush into the Gorge Rift Valley.

"My lord." Rina came over with a water bottle and handed it to Sean, "Drink some water. You have not eaten or drank water for a day."

Shaun gave up, turned his head and looked at Cecilia, and then said: "It's okay, I can insist, and I will arrive at the Wind-Zhufeng tribe soon.... Give this to Cecilia, she has a weaker physique. , We need food and water more than we do."

"Yes." Rina nodded, then handed the water bottle to Cecilia, and at the same time took out a white handkerchief from her body.

The handkerchief is not big, because it is wrapped, this hand bag looks only the size of a palm. Compared with Rena's hand that turned dark brown due to blood and dust, this handkerchief looks extremely dazzling.

I saw Rina carefully opened the handkerchief, revealing what was stored inside.

It was a few pieces of air-dried bacon cut into long strips.

"Eat some." Rina said, "This is the essence of Yadilong's hind legs, at least it can satisfy your hunger."

Yadilong, which is a subspecies of Earthlong, has an essential difference between Earthlong and Earthwalking dragon. The former is a herbivorous monster specially used for the transportation of baggage. Although its value is equivalent to that of beasts and horses, its value is much higher than cows and horses, because the kola has a gravity of several tons, and it is generally not a large enough chamber of commerce, and there will be no earth dragons. The subspecies of the earth dragon is a subspecies of the earth dragon, but its size and other aspects are much smaller than that of the earth dragon, and the most important thing is that the earth dragon has a strong concept of territory and is extremely aggressive. An omnivorous beast.

The essence of the hind legs of Adilong is the most essential part of Adilong. It is rich in a variety of substances needed by the human body, and it can quickly restore physical strength. On the battlefield, dried meat made from the essence of Yadilong's hind leg meat is the best battlefield food, and it is also the second life for generals to survive on the fierce and cruel battlefield. Basically, the essence of the hind leg meat of a subterranean dragon can only be made into less than ten dried meat similar to ham sausage, and the maximum limit is to supply two soldiers.

"What about you?" Cecilia saw the five or six ham-like legs wrapped in a handkerchief, and immediately understood what it was.

Rina and others must have hunted down a subterranean dragon here in the wild land, and then they had such a few pieces of hind leg meat essence.

"Now Zhufeng Tribe has become a land of no owners. As long as you can get there, you don't have to worry about running out of food." Rina smiled and stuffed the dried meat into Cecilia's hands. "If our If the speed is fast enough, we can get there at night. Not only can the problems of drinking water and food be solved, and even take a comfortable bath." At this point, Rina finally showed a trace of femininity. Little sorrow: "I haven't taken a shower for several months. I feel that if I wash now, I can probably blacken a river."

"I think I should be the same." Cecilia glanced at her situation, her face almost wrinkled, "Since I have been with Sean, I feel like taking a bath is gradually getting away from me. I went. Before that, I never imagined what it would be like if I didn't take a shower one day."

"Haha." Rina laughed heartily, "I'm better than you. I was a mercenary before, and it is common not to take a bath for ten and a half months.... But like this time for so long, it is really true. first."

Perhaps after having been with Rina for so long, it was the first time to see Rina showing such a happy laugh. While all the light cavalry were a little surprised, they were inexplicably lightened. The gloomy dark clouds that had originally weighed on everyone's hearts dispersed so quietly at this moment, everyone suddenly raised hopes and desires for future life, and even began to sing the most common marching ballads on the mainland. .

Xiao En looked at these people in front of him, but the corners of his mouth were involuntarily raised slightly.

In his eyes, the morale of this army is gradually recovering, including the Cecilia Guards, which has been completely maimed. This kind of ability can indeed only be achieved by armed knights, and Sean has discovered that the influence of halo skills in this world is more obvious and powerful than in the game. He even began to suspect that those in the previous game were ascending. There are countless NPCs responding to heroic characters at one call, and I am afraid that everyone has their own hidden aura skills.

If we had to face them in this world, how terrible would they be?

Perhaps in terms of personal combat power, Sean is confident that he can crush some of them, but if on the battlefield of head-on confrontation...

Shaun thought for a while, and began to sweat.

The two-hour break is not long, but it is not short, but for Sean and others, except for Klov, Andre and some other wounded, it is enough for others. It's just because of the horses that Sean also clearly discovered that the light cavalry unit led by Rena had a relatively significant decline in combat effectiveness. After all, as a cavalry, the biggest reliance is naturally the horses, and the horses are weak. If it fails, then it is tantamount to weakening the combat effectiveness of the cavalry.

In fact, Rena is the same.

Rina's strength, she must rely on the mount to be able to fully display. If there is no mount, she can only display one-third of the combat effectiveness at most. And now Rina has even become an armed knight because of her transfer. I am afraid that her strength will be weakened in solo combat, and she can only bully and bully professions like assassins and archers. And it must be in a riding state.

"It seems that we must also tailor a set of equipment for Rina." While thinking about this, Sean also followed the large group on the road together.

The next journey seemed relatively plain, because there were no blinding beasts or creatures along the way, which made everyone who wanted to get some game food a little helpless. However, as the distance to the Zhufeng Tribe Trade Point gets closer, everyone's mood gradually becomes more relaxed.

Only soon, the relaxed emotions in everyone's hearts were replaced by a gloom.

Xiao En and others were less than 500 meters away from the Zhufeng tribe's trading point. Because it hadn't completely entered the night at this moment, they could even see the entire Zhufeng tribe burned into a scorched ruin by the fire.

However, there is a troop between Sean and the Zhufeng tribe.

There are more than two thousand troops.

And the person standing at the forefront of this troop is a wolf!

Chapter 182: .The unavoidable battle (part 2)

"Sir Connery, we meet again."

Wolf walked forward slowly, and soon left the army formation that had been perfectly arranged behind him. At a distance of about two hundred meters in front of Xiao En and the others, she had already stood still, with a smile on her face, without the previous embarrassment and depression.

At this time, the wolf has taken off the hooded cloak that had been draped on it before, revealing the true face under the cloak.

In all fairness, the wolf can definitely be regarded as a beauty.

At least among all the women that Sean has seen since he came to this world, the appearance and temperament of the wolf can definitely be regarded as the top five, probably second only to Cecilia, Elizabeth, Xuefanio and others, and even It is also above Simi, Rena, Dini, Asuna and others.

Wolf has long light blue hair and a standard face with melon seeds that fits the tastes of Orientals. Her facial features are not like Cecilia's like the master's elaborate craftsmanship, nor as perfect as Xuefanio and Elizabeth as they are drawn stroke by stroke according to the golden ratio, but With a kind of exquisiteness like a ceramic doll, especially her bright eyes, like another soul breathing, appear very pure.

And when the wolf is not as crazy as a shrew, she also exudes a kind of innocent and romantic temperament like a little girl. She is simply standing here, but there is a unique temperament that shouldn't be desecrated or violated between her gestures.

Especially rare is that the figure of the wolf is not inferior to Elizabeth at all.

Tall figure, plump double peaks, slender legs, coupled with her temperament and appearance, all give people an extremely strong sense of visual impact.

I don't know why. When watching the wolf who has a childlike and * body, Sean's first reaction in his mind was not surprise or shock, but a long-lost term suddenly appeared in his mind.

goddess.

This goddess does not refer to a goddess who really exists in this world like Eswinter.

It is the kind of goddess who was worshipped by countless * and otakus on the earth in the previous life, and the mantra was "why? Haha! Go take a bath."

Of course, Sean is more willing to use an alternative term to address him.

Green tea bitch.

The temperament that the wolf exudes from the whole body at this time, in Xiao En's eyes, is full of a strong green tea smell.

"I've been waiting for you for two full days." The wolf's smile is beautiful, but there is a hint of charm in the purity.

Sean sighed helplessly: "You go back and continue to be your green tea, and I will continue to be my lord when I go back. It's not good for us to keep the water in the river."

But because Shaun's voice was very soft, the wolf only saw Shaun's lips move a little, but he didn't know what Shaun said. However, she saw that the people around Sean showed some inexplicable expressions, and her heart was a little clear. I am afraid that Sean cursed herself a few words, and the unwilling color on his face made the wolf's heart flash. happy.

The more irritable and painful Shaun is, the happier she is.

As long as she thought of the battle a few days ago, she abandoned her men and fled in embarrassment, she felt a burst of anger and humiliation.

How long has it been and haven't tasted this kind of taste?

The wolf no longer remembers. The only thing she knew was that since she stepped into the golden realm, all she felt was respect no matter where she was. Even the master she served for would not show her any face. Of course, she knew that a large part of this was because of her own strength, and another part was because she was his forbidden.

Just like Yin and Ying, the three of them were subdued by the young master under certain special circumstances. And from the beginning, rather than surrender, to the final surrender, the humiliation suffered in it is no better than the humiliation he has endured in the past few days. Whenever I think of Sean, the wolf hates his teeth. Incarnate into a creature with the same name as her, and shred Sean fiercely.

Sean also stepped out. He prevented Cecilia, Rena and others from following, and walked to a place one hundred meters away from the wolf alone.

At this moment, the distance between the two armies of the two sides is 300 meters, but as the real supreme commander of the two armies, they are 100 meters apart.

But when Sean tried to shorten the distance of one hundred meters again, the wolf opened his mouth to stop it.

"Sir Connery, you should just stand in that position." The wolf chuckled, "At a distance of one hundred meters, we are more secure with each other."

"Are you afraid of me?" Xiao En raised his eyebrows. Although he ridiculed the wolf, he did not take another step, but he felt a little awe in his heart, because the wolf's growth did surpass his expectations." You are already a strong in the golden realm. I'm just a silver realm. Are you afraid of me? Is this too ridiculous to say that?... You are losing the face of the strong."

Today's wolf, although the strength has grown to the level of Burair before, belongs to the level where it can break through to the upper level gold with just one shot. But what really makes Sean feel a strong sense of crisis is not the strength of the wolf, but the growth of her fighting consciousness. If she changed the previous words, with the pride and arrogance of the wolf, she would never let Xiao En stop, even if Xiao En shortened the distance to ten meters, the wolf would not mind.

But now, at a distance of only one hundred meters, the wolf has already stopped.

That's because the wolf already knows that Sean's ultimate explosive ability is within 100 meters, and if the distance is controlled at more than 100 meters, then Sean is not threatening to anyone. As far as the speed and explosive power of the wolf are concerned, as long as Sean does anything, the wolf can quickly get away from Sean. In such a situation, if Sean wants to kill the wolf forcibly, then even if he can succeed. , Will eventually die under the siege of the opposing army.

A total of two thousand regular soldiers, this number is no joke!

Sean is not afraid of those powerful lower-level golden powerhouses, not to mention that the absolute strength of Requiem allows him to kill or even severely injure the powerhouses of non-main endurance type ranks. Even before Requiem is activated, Xiao En also has absolute confidence and confidence to deal with such enemies. What he fears most is those who are not only stronger than him, but also better in patience, and the fighting consciousness and combat experience are not inferior to him.

And the wolf in front of him, after experiencing the extremely embarrassing and tragic war a few days ago, perhaps her patience was not good enough, but the combat consciousness and combat experience were completely proportional to her strength. Especially after witnessing Sean's terrifying strength and almost killing Sean, she has extremely rich combat experience when facing Sean.

This is the true ability and quality of a golden powerhouse!

In this world, anyone who can grow to step into the golden realm is not a fool.

If Sean treats all enemies as fools, he will definitely be the one who will die in the end.

Facing Sean's provocation, the wolf took a deep look at Sean. Although there was still a smile on his face, his smile was undoubtedly full of chills: "I guessed at the time, your strength is seriously damaged now. , I will leave the wild land as quickly as possible, so I took all my subordinates, abandoning all my luggage and supplies, and rushed here as quickly as possible.... The last gateway of the Gorge Rift, the trade point of Chase Wind ... Fortunately, I did not miss your departure in the end."

"Then are you here to see me off?" Xiao En said with a surprised look, "Oh, this is so embarrassing, everyone is so familiar, you don't need to be so polite. Let two thousand people run around like this , How tired....Well, now that we have all met, and your business is also sent off, you should give way quickly and your master calls you to go home for dinner."

Hearing Shaun's shameless words, no matter how good the wolf's mental quality was, and how he didn't underestimate Shaun, she was still stunned at this moment.

"How tiring to fight and kill." Xiao En continued, "Listen to my words, hurry up and take your people away.... Don't you think that the blood flow is not enough these days? Don't even think about it. , How many golden powerhouses have you all fallen? I am afraid that your young master's heart is already bleeding? If even you have fallen here, then this is definitely not worth the loss, or I should give way quickly, I We promise that we will not bring our hatred in the Wildlands to the outside world."

Hearing Sean continue to chatter like a river, the wolf laughed in anger: "Do you think that with such a handful of people in your hands, you can really leave the wild land alive? Even if my master really calls me home for dinner , I also want to hold your head as a gift to my young master."

"You do have more people than us, but what about it?" Hearing the wolf's words, Sean knew that it was impossible for the wolf to kill her own heart, and she brought all the troops here now, and still Abandoning all the luggage and supplies, this is already a battle for the wolf and the troops under his command. Like Sean and the others, it is a war that can only be won and cannot be defeated. "With you infantry, if we If you want to break through, do you think you can stop it? Even if you can stop it, do you dare to stop it?"

"Hehe, as long as I completely station my troops here and block your way out of the Rift Valley, even if you can break through, where can you go?" The wolf's mouth raised slightly again, looking very proud." Just like you blocked the Pandan collar, so that all the slave hunters in the entire Kingdom of Darbion could not enter the barren land through the fiftieth rift, this army under me may not be able to pursue you who are determined to break through, but if It's blocking your way out of the Wildlands through the strait rift, but it's still very easy.... If you don't believe it, you can try it. And if you want to break through the siege, then it's equivalent to announcing You also gave up those infantry soldiers, I don't think you would do that."

Sean glanced at the unit behind the wolf.

This is a mixed army. The main defense is hundreds of sword and shield soldiers. There are also 400 or 500 archers. In addition, there are spearmen and swordsmen units. Combat forces with strength and defensive strength, if they are determined to block the entrance and exit of the wild land to Pandan, it is indeed possible to do it. But if Sean is really determined to break through into the rift valley, there is actually no way, as long as Rena is there, then they can easily break through.

is the result of the facts, just as the wolf said.

If Sean and others want to break through, then the entire Cecilia Guards regiment will be destroyed, and Clover and Andre may be abandoned because of this.

This is indeed something that Sean cannot give up.

Take a deep breath, and Sean's eyes gradually become cold.

Perhaps feeling the intent of Sean, Rena and others have led the cavalry unit into an impact formation. The soldiers of the Cecilia Guards, who were not seriously injured, also insisted on setting up a defensive formation. They knew that they and others had become a burden to this unit, so they were the only thing they could do at the moment. The thing is not to cause trouble to Rena and her cavalry unit.

This is indeed an unavoidable battle.

Only the final winner can leave this land. And the fate of the loser is naturally buried here.

This is a battle where two sides can only live on one side!

However, no matter how you look at it, Sean and others have no hope of victory.

Chapter 183: .Containment and counterattack

The war broke out without any suspense.

The smart wolf no longer attacked Sean or Rena alone, but retreated into the army in the first time.

The elite troops at level 4 can indeed easily annihilate a regular force at level 3 in terms of combat effectiveness, but this is in the case of equal strength and not far from the commander's level. Like the regular army that Xiao En and others are facing right now, with a strength of up to two thousand troops, unless Rina's strength is still full of five hundred people, then it may be possible to defeat the opponent, but now it is absolutely impossible.

Not to mention, Rina's current light cavalry unit's combat effectiveness has been weakened by more than half. After all, all the cavalry's drinking water before was used for sharing with the Cecilia Guards, causing the current situation of these horses to be somewhat weak. .

"Rina, use the command halo!" Sean immediately shouted when he saw that the opponent's army took action for the first time.

But it was Rina's somewhat dazed expression in response to Sean: "Command halo? What is that?"

Hearing Rina's words, Sean was taken aback for a moment, and then he woke up. Reality and games are two completely different worlds!

In the game, the skills used by players are confirmed through skill commands. Basically, they can be used immediately with a slight movement of their mind. For real master players, they can even display multiple skill combinations in an instant. However, this situation is absolutely impossible in reality, not to mention the various hard times due to powerful skills, even the connection and use of skills need to consider the body's endurance.

Before, Sean would also cause internal organ injuries due to the use of skills such as sprinting and stopping.

Of course, the more important thing is that aura skills do not exist in this world!

Sean can find through the real eye that Rina does have aura skills, but such skills do not exist in Rina's personal subjective consciousness. In other words, for Sean, the so-called aura skill is just a slogan to boost morale for Rina.

Thinking of this, Xiao En immediately shouted: "Just like the charge slogan you launched that night!"

Rena was taken aback for a moment, and then reacted. In her opinion, this kind of shouting can indeed make the blood in her body more boiling. Not only will her concentration become more concentrated, but her combat effectiveness will also be improved. The biggest advantage is that the cavalry under her command will become dying. Great for fighting.

Rena doesn't know what aura skills are, so she simply thinks that Sean wants her to shout slogans in order to motivate the morale of the entire army. In the current situation, it is indeed only in this way that the morale of the entire army can be improved, because they really have no retreat.

"For honor!" Rina raised her gun and shouted.

The war horse under the hip raised its forefoot like flying, people stood up, and the neigh of the war horse resounded through the clouds.

"For honor!" All the cavalry chanted correspondingly.

The blood in the body began to boil.

Xiao En's eyes began to become calm. Although there were nearly a hundred infantry in the team, in fact, there were less than 50 people who could really fight, and nearly half of them were wounded soldiers. Therefore, the tactics of fighting with the enemy are the most unrealistic. The only thing they can use is the defensive counterattack tactics-all infantry defends, letting Rina lead the cavalry troops to charge.

This tactic has very high requirements for physical strength and defense, so the fifteen-point endurance and defense power increased by the command aura is extremely important. In addition, the command halo can also increase movement speed and exempt 35% of the damage from ranged attacks. This allows Sean's infantry defensive formation to move while fighting without being completely surrounded by enemy forces. . Similarly, Sean also prepared for the worst, that is, even if they are forced to fall into positional warfare, they can rely on the recovered 30 impact shields to lay a solid line of defense, and the only long-range attack that needs to be worried is also affected. The ability attached to the aura is exempted from a certain degree of damage.

All tactics are just for sustained combat.

Under the coordinated command of Sean and Cecilia, all the infantry have begun to take action. And Rina has already taken the entire cavalry unit and started to move quickly to the left to prevent being surrounded by the opponent's troops that have already launched a charge. In this way, even if Rina's cavalry unit is strong, it will lose all value.

But when Sean saw that Rina's entire cavalry unit was not as fast as the previous night, he couldn't help but froze for a while, and then opened the personal attribute panel.

Just looking at it, he was stunned.

Because the aura skill that Rina displayed at this moment is not the command aura that Shaun wants, but the war aura that greatly enhances the combat capabilities of the troops!

If Sean, Rena and others are allowed to charge, then the effect of this halo is undoubtedly excellent. But the current situation is that Sean needs to rely on sustained combat capabilities to consume the enemy's combat power, so the aura of war is of no value to the entire infantry unit around Sean.

But now, Sean really can't say anything, he can only change the battle goal quickly.

The entire infantry began to retreat quickly under the command of Shaun, keeping a distance from the opponent.

Under normal circumstances, the wolf must order the entire army to pursue the pursuit, but now there are Rina and her two hundred light cavalry watching closely. Of course, the wolf does not dare to order the entire army to pursue it easily, otherwise Rina will be directly on the side. If the charge cuts the troops in half, it may cause chaos in the whole army.

Sure enough, when he saw Sean retreat, the wolf did not dare to let all the soldiers charge.

In the army, four hundred pikemen and two hundred swordsmen and shield soldiers were left to protect the five hundred archers-as we all know, the pike is extremely beneficial to the cavalry, but this advantage refers to a perfect spear forest defense. Instead of a pikemen, two hundred sword and shield soldiers were needed to cooperate with the four hundred pikemen to set up a spear forest defense formation. As long as Rina dared to charge toward the archer, she would be greeted by a steel line of defense that had been assassinated by a spear forest composed of four hundred spears. This defense system has been proven in countless wars and used to deal with light cavalry units. most suitable.

And this cavalry unit under Rina, although relying on aura skills can indeed exert the power of heavy cavalry, but in essence it is still light cavalry, this point will not change. So when seeing the wolf adopting this defensive system without hesitation, Rina's light cavalry unit immediately made a circular U-turn on one side of the battlefield, and no longer launched a charge against this archer unit.

But even if Rena succeeded in containing more than a thousand troops in one fell swoop, Xiao En and others still have to face as many as 900 people!

This is a war sword army!

The so-called war sword is a set of troops in the world of miracles with swordsmen as the main force. There are three types of swordsmen who use one-handed swords and bucklers, two-handed wide-bladed swords, and long swords. Of course, some adjustments will be made in individual situations or the commander has special preferences. However, it is obvious that the wolf does not have too special preferences, because this 900-man swordsman force is composed of the three most common swordsmen.

Swordsman is a third-tier advanced occupation for warriors, and depending on personal habits and development direction, different advanced occupations will naturally be extended as a result.

Swordsmen who use light shields such as bucklers and one-handed swords are called shield swordsmen. The biggest difference between them and swordsmen is that this kind of profession is not a defensive profession, although it has increased to a certain extent because of wearing the buckler. However, they sacrificed attack power and speed at the same time, but in the battlefield environment, this profession has the highest survival rate. In other words, this is a profession born specifically for war.

Of course, these "shield swordsmen" are not real shield swordsmen at the moment, but just imitate the costumes of shield swordsmen to configure them. The real shield swordsmen are a Tier 4 profession.

The swordsman holding a long sword is the most common attire in the entire swordsman system, and it is also a symbol of the true profession of "swordsman". Regardless of strength, agility, and endurance, this profession maintains extremely balanced growth data. Although it has been evaluated as the golden mean in the game, it also has the saying that "the golden mean is the king". After all, the balance of all aspects of data is also It means there is no obvious weakness.

The swordsman with two-handed broad-edged swords is a swordsman profession that clearly focuses on strength growth. Although this profession is essentially a third-tier swordsman, in fact they are strengthening for strength, but they also reduce it. Calculated values such as agility and endurance. The advanced feature of this profession is the Tier 4 "epee swordsman", which is the opposite profession of the "fast swordsman", but like the "shield swordsman" on the battlefield right now, these swords with wide-edged swords Scholars are also not a real Tier 4 occupation.

It should be a Tier 4 professional attire, but on the battlefield right now, it is configured on a Tier 3 professional. Perhaps this is a big threat to others, but for someone as veteran as Sean, he But it's no better to know the shortcomings of doing so.

Whether it is a shield swordsman or an epee swordsman, they will not be able to exert their greatest characteristics due to rank problems, but their shortcomings will be directly magnified.

Imagine that a combination that was originally a Tier 4 can be mastered appears in Tier 3 professions. This is definitely not an enhancement, but will completely wipe out the original advantages of the profession. It's like a person who is obviously lacking in strength but fortunately has the advantage in speed, but he has to use an epee that his own power can't completely master, then doesn't even the speed advantage disappear?

So at this moment, the shield swordsman is at the forefront, followed by the real swordsman, and the swordsman with the two-handed broad-bladed sword is at the end because of the weight problem.

But in Sean's eyes, the real most threatening person is the swordsman in the middle.

Of course, in terms of the size of Sean's current troop size, to apply the terminology in the game, that is, this war sword troop can even kill Sean alive. Not to mention, there are five hundred staring archers from three hundred meters away.

Arrow rain, fell suddenly!

But at this time, a shocking scene appeared on the battlefield!

Chapter 184: .William's third flagpole

A azure blue light shining on the battlefield.

The brilliance falls directly from the sky, the azure blue light is like a dazzling beam, and the stars are like fluttering snowflakes, falling bit by bit.

In this dim environment at night, this azure blue light is like a spotlight on the stage.

In everyone's stunned gaze, this azure blue star shining on all the Cecilia's guards and others began to condense and take shape, turning into pieces of azure blue armor covering everyone's Body. Everyone can feel the coolness radiating from this armor, but it is clearly a half-length armor armor, but it does not affect the movement of the person wearing it at all. It feels like Like a part of the body.

Group Ice Armor!

The characteristic magic of the goddess of ice and winter!

But what really shocked everyone on the battlefield was not the sudden appearance of this magical technique. After all, Tini had used it once that night, and she had an extremely full understanding of this magical wolf, which could block her almost full blow. The magic armor. What really surprised everyone on the battlefield was the scope and quantity of this magical technique. It took Xiao En's entire infantry force and hundreds of people to apply this magical technique. What a huge amount of magical power it takes! ?

Shaun turned his head and looked at Dini in surprise.

"It's not me." Dini immediately shook her head and denied, "With my supernatural power, let alone acting on hundreds of people at once, I can't use even a group of ice armor."

"Could it be..." Sean was a little startled.

On the battlefield, a roar suddenly sounded.

This sound was a little messy compared to the roar of the cavalry unit led by Rina that night, but at this moment it was precisely because of this mess that it seemed more exciting. This thunderous roar sounded like it was destroying the wolf's soul, and even made her a little sluggish for a while, and she could only stare blankly at the rising and shrinking side with her in the distance. Sand and dust from the distance.

Wolf knows very well that all the troops that can be used in the entire wild land are already with her. If it is reinforcements sent by hawks, she will definitely receive information in advance. But now the eagle didn't tell her, and the hostility emanating from this unit in the distance was clearly aimed at this side. At this moment, even an idiot knew that this cavalry unit was definitely not his own.

How could Sean still have reinforcements?

Wolf looked incredible, because she knew that Eagle's intelligence could never be wrong. In other words, it was this sudden cavalry unit that had been lurking since entering the wild land, and it had successfully avoided everyone's eyes, even the eagle had failed to spot such a unit.

How can this be! ?

"Offensive!" The wolf reacted suddenly and decisively ordered, "The whole army attacked!"

She has already made it clear that the scale of the new reinforcements is definitely not small, otherwise it would not be possible to rush to such an astonishing momentum. Because the current battlefield is a thousand meters away from the flying yellow sand, but you can still feel the shocking momentum. In the eyes of the wolf, this force may not be less than a thousand people. If you let another thousand people If the cavalry joins the battle, then all the advantages of the wolf at the moment will be wiped out, so she must rush to break through Sean's line of defense before this force can help.

When he heard the wolf order the whole army to attack, the first wave of arrows happened to fall in Sean's main formation.

Originally, when this wave of arrows rained and fell, even if the Cecilia's guards would not be completely destroyed, they would definitely suffer heavy losses. But because of the blessing of the ice armor and the resistance of several impact shields and other shields, the end result was that no one was killed.

War Aura exempts 25% of physical damage. Ice armor also exempts part of physical damage, and arrows happen to fall into the category of physical damage. In the face of these arrows that are not even armor-piercing arrows, and have been weakened at least more than half of the damage, even without a shield, as long as it is not directly hit the head and itself, it is impossible to cause any casualties.

All the swordsmen and pikemen no longer protected the archers, but began to rush towards the frontline battlefield.

Even the wolf and another low-level golden powerhouse had to join the battlefield.

Because they know very well that if they don't work hard at this time, when the opponent's reinforcements arrive, then they will be worthless even if they want to work hard. Therefore, it is necessary to break through the defense line of Sean and others before the opponent's reinforcements formally join the battlefield, and then use the advantage of numbers to consume Sean alive. As for fighting Sean head-on, the wolf has no confidence anymore.

I have to say that if the wolf's command is in general battlefield conditions, it is naturally the most correct command.

But in this battlefield right now, it is obviously inappropriate.

Perhaps because wolves are only good at raids and pursuits, so they are not good at charging on the frontal battlefield. A lot of them will only act according to the textbook method, and don't know how to play on the spot and adapt to changes. Therefore, she naturally ignored that even if the supporting army had not arrived at the moment, there were still extremely powerful Rina and her light cavalry units, not to mention the Cecilia's guards were given ice protection. A, the defensive ability has been extremely significantly improved, how can it be rushed right now.

Without the slightest hesitation, Rena immediately charged towards the middle section of the war swords force, that is, the swordsmen. The reason why Rina did not move before that was because she was worried about being attacked by two groups of swordsmen from the front and back of the sword army when she charged. But at this moment, since the wolf has ordered the whole army to attack, Rina of course also knows that it has reached a moment of life and death. They must attack even if they are flanked.

Similarly, when he saw the wolf's troops make a tactical change, Sean immediately ordered the opening of the battle line of defense without hesitation.

Thirty impact shields were directly activated. The moment the pegs hit the ground, it already meant the complete start of the battle of positions. The Cecilia Guards and other Northland Barbarians who were still able to fight immediately opened a circular line of defense around the arrangement of these thirty impact shields. Their goal was no longer to fight forever, but to stick to it. So even though this circular defensive array looks much denser, its defensive power has been greatly enhanced, and it is definitely not an easy task for the opponent's charge to break the array.

At this moment, the azure blue brilliance bloomed again.

This time, the unit that was illuminated by the spotlight was not the Cecilia Guards, but Rina and her cavalry unit!

Winter Wrath of the Crowd!

but!

After all the cavalry units were attached with Winter's Wrath, the brilliance of the divine art did not disappear as a result, but once again swayed and fell on everyone, and began to condense the shadow of the second divine art-again A group of ice armor! But only Shaun noticed that there was even a third divine magic shining on Rena's body, which was the effect of the ice halo.

The cavalry charge is extremely fast, so the splendor of this divine art will naturally move with the charge of the cavalry, so it will soon pull out a brilliant light belt like an aurora in this night.

The night is a bit beautiful.

But the scenery on the ground is cruel.

Under the leadership of Rina, with the bonus of Ice Armor, Winter's Wrath, War Aura, and Ice Aura, the combat effectiveness of the entire cavalry unit is probably even more terrifying than ordinary heavy cavalry. .

There is no suspense, the entire swordsman force in the middle of the sword force can't stop Rina's charge at all. Before the shield swordsmen in the front and the epee swordsmen in the rear even had time to rush to support, Rina had already completely penetrated the swordsmen's line with her cavalry unit. With the distance between these two troops and the swordsman troops, it is obviously impossible to not be able to support in time, but in fact, Rina broke out before they encircled and fought, so obviously there is only one answer: the role of the ice halo. Was played.

It was only a second or two slower, and the flanking attack that should have gone well became a joke.

And after this round of charge, Rena and her cavalry unit did not lose a single person, while the entire swordsman unit had fewer than fifty survivors. Even if the fifty people survived, it is estimated that there is no more The courage to fight.

The entire war sword force suddenly felt a little at a loss.

But Rina and her troops did not hesitate at all. After cutting through the line and rushing for tens of meters, the entire cavalry unit, led by Rina, completed an exquisite half-arc U-turn. What is commendable is that Under this circumstance, the formation of the troops was not in the slightest confusion, and even the speed of the charge was not reduced. But this time, the target of Rina's assault was no longer the sword unit, but the pikemen unit behind the back of the large unit.

At this moment, it happened that the second wave of arrow rain fell, and the archer had just raised his bow and shot the third wave of arrow rain.

But it turns out that the power of long-range strikes has no threat to Sean's army. No matter how dense the arrow rain is, no one died this time. Only a few people were injured. However, it can be clearly seen that the ice armor blessed on everyone has obviously become weak. If you come again In one wave, there will probably be casualties.

But what no one thought was that another magical brilliance fell on Xiao En and the others, and the already thin ice armor became clear again.

Another group of ice armor!

Wolf looked at this scene in disbelief. The divine power required to bless hundreds of people is absolutely not small. At least it needs a priest force of about ten people to complete it. But even so, the speed of divine art can not be so fast, and there are still several divine art in a series, even if it is about ten priests, it may not be able to bear it.

But on the battlefield right now, there is no priest army at all, let alone a priest group.

At the moment when the wolf looked incredulously watching the divine magic brilliance gradually dissipate, there was a figure in the air that was flying at an extremely fast speed, and it could even be said that it was quickly approaching the battlefield without hesitating to consume the power in the body. The original distance of several hundred meters was less than one hundred meters in an instant, but when the wolf noticed the figure, the opponent had fallen in front of Xiao En's entire army.

When the wolf's eyes fell on the opponent's body, her pupils suddenly shrank: Another golden powerhouse! Moreover, his breath is not inferior to his own subordinate gold powerhouse, but what really shocked the wolf was the outfit on the opponent's body: he was wearing a silver single coat, painted with blue rust like waves of water. Lines, the lining seems to be a white high collar, the outside is covered with a knee-length long-sleeved waist windbreaker, the whole body is silver blue, the cuffs are gray-white texture, and there are buttons under the sleeves. It seems that the width of the cuffs can be changed at will. The trousers are also silvery white, but the boots are black with gold patterns.

From the perspective of the format, it should be similar to the priest's robes, but this format is unprecedented in the style of wolves. But what surprised her even more was that there was a long sword tied to the belt of the priest's jacket: the hilt was a blue spiral with gold edging, and the scabbard was a silver-white long sword with diamond-shaped blue diamonds.

It should be a slightly innocent woman, but under this attire, she looks full of indifferent and heroic posture.

"Long time no see, Lord Lord." After the woman fell, she didn't seem to put the battlefield in her eyes at all, but turned around and greeted Sean on her own.

"I guessed it was you, Xuefanio." Sean smiled slightly, "It's a timely ice armor....Who is the support army that came?"

Schefani smiled slightly and explained: "Aldolf Hitler's mobile infantry regiment.... Sir William had guessed that the return journey might not be so smooth, so he actually arranged three troops into the wilderness. It's just that the third unit officially entered the wild land after I read the divine mark hidden in the Rift Valley of the Gorge, and then it lurked in the illusion that I planted. In the position of Lord William , This is an amazing soldier."

"The Cecilia Guards who went deep into the wilds to find us are the right soldiers. Rena who responds in the Great Rift Valley is the reinforcements, and finally there is a lurking surprise soldier.... This set of serial reinforcement tactics is indeed very good. In line with William's cautious style."

Xuefanio smiled and nodded. She was noncommittal about Sean's evaluation, and then began to look around the battlefield, and said in a deep voice, "The situation is more troublesome than Lord William had imagined.... Cecilia is close. The Guards and the First Cavalry Regiment have been completely maimed."

Xiao En smiled helplessly: "I didn't expect the other party to be so frantic."

"I think you are the one who is frantic." Xuefanio chuckled, "Then Lord, are you ready?"

The battle formation quickly gave up a passage, and Xiao En walked out of the battle formation slowly: "Of course."

In the next moment, the vitality of Ice Aura, Winter's Wrath, and Eswinter were all blessed on Sean's body, and Sean also activated the light body technique and adrenal stimulation at the same time.

"I wish my lord, Wuyun will be prosperous."

"Ah, it's time for a real end."

Along with the words of Shaun, above the archer troops behind the wolf, black dark clouds condensed and formed, and the red light began to shine.

Chapter 185: .The fall of the wolf (recommended ticket plus more)

The brilliance of divine art shines, and the light of magic erupts.

The knights are charging, the soldiers are fighting.

War is developing rapidly in an unexpected situation, and it already has a somewhat apocalyptic atmosphere.

Wolves' archers have basically been maimed.

The downfall of the rain of fire came more swiftly than the last time the wolf saw it-if it is running away, Cecilia's strategic value is really low, but if you put on a position to fight Circumstances, then Cecilia's combat power alone is by no means weaker than Rina's cavalry unit.

In the war between the Principality of Ryan and the Kingdom of Darbion, Elizabeth had the feat of destroying three thousand heavy cavalry with one move. Cecilia may not be as strong as Elizabeth, and the mastery and proficiency of magic are equally inadequate, and she is not even a magician born for the battlefield. But her biggest advantage is that her bloodline ability is stronger than Elizabeth, so if she is given enough time To control and arrange a magic, it may not be much weaker than Elizabeth.

So Cecilia, the most suitable battlefield environment, is positional warfare.

When the rain of fire covered a range of hundreds of meters around it under Cecilia's precise control, the wolf knew that the five hundred archers might be gone. And the facts are even more cruel than the wolf guessed, because every fireball dropped this time is the size of a basketball, not just the size of a fist like the last time, and even faster, and these After the fireball falls, whether it touches people or the ground, it will cause a round of explosions. The scattered flames are extremely viscous and burning, and soon the entire land has been swallowed by the sea of fire.

The number of archers who escaped is less than a hundred!

But at this time, the wolf has no time to think about the changes in tactics or other details, because she has no choice now.

Aldolf Hitler's mobile infantry regiment is a uniform infantry cavalry. Although there are no archers, it also has a five-hundred sword army, two hundred spearmen and three hundred shield guards. Although the light from William's powerful radiance concealed the light including Aldolf and others, everyone who had experienced the first battle of Chiraf knew very well that the core idea of Aldolf's tactics was high-mobility in-depth combat. , This kind of lightning-like tactics can often easily hit the opponent by surprise, so Aldorf is best at rushing to fight.

Basically everyone who has played against Aldolf knows that his rescue operations are extremely accurate and fast, and each time it can be the last straw to crush the enemy.

And this time, it is no exception.

The appearance of Aldolf and Xuefanio became the last straw to crush the wolf.

However, the situation on the battlefield is indeed as Xuefanio said. The First Cavalry Regiment and the Cecilia Guards were basically completely maimed, especially Clover was seriously injured, even if he could get recruits later. Supplements, but running-in with veterans and tactical coordination in all aspects also takes time. Perhaps Rena will be able to regroup soon, but Croft's force is destined to be unable to return to the battlefield in a short period of time.

Of course, these are things that need to be considered later.

Now, Aldorf's mobile infantry regiment is less than 500 meters away from the battlefield, and it is expected to formally join the battle in thirteen seconds.

Ahead, the war sword force has slammed into the Cecilia Guards' defense line like a torrent. However, in front of the line of defense constructed by ice armor and various large shields and heavy shields, this war sword force with only wide-edged swords left to fight fortified battles has already felt its own powerlessness. What's more, Xuefanio gave the entire army a halo of ice, which made the Epee Swordsman's offensive slower and weaker.

Behind, the First Cavalry Regiment led by Rena had already smashed into the Lancers.

Two hundred light cavalry faced the charge of four hundred pikemen, no matter how they looked at it, it seemed like an act of seeking death. But the actual result was that many people were stunned. Although it was not as easy as slaughtering the swordsman troops as before, the temporary line of defense composed of four hundred spearmen could not stop Rina's penetration. Although this time, the First Cavalry Regiment had left dozens of corpses, but the four hundred pikemen were also attenuated by more than half, and the formation was completely pierced, causing chaos.

Even if the First Cavalry Regiment can display or even surpass the combat effectiveness of heavy cavalry, its essence is still a light cavalry force after all. It's just that everyone knows that if Rina can launch another charge, I'm afraid this spearman can't resist it.

It's just that it is no longer the fighting of these soldiers that really decides the whole battle.

It is the duel between Sean and the wolf.

Although another low-level golden powerhouse wanted to come to support, he was stopped mercilessly by Xuefanio. Facing a priest with a sword with gold rank strength, if this powerful person with the same golden rank strength is a little distracted, then what is waiting for him is to meet the fate of death, so he almost died in a tentative match. After that, facing Xuefanio with an awe-inspiring aura of innocence, the strong man also had to pay 12 points of attention.

"I was too careless." The wolf stared at Sean with a gloomy look. She knew that Sean was already at a strong peak and that it was worthless to escape, so she had to face Sean if she could. If you run away, the wolf has already escaped as quickly as last time. "You can be called a miracle lord, you must have some strength and hole cards, and when I have seen you can kill the golden strong, I will You should be prepared to deal with you again after everything is done."

"I have a good commander." Sean said in a deep voice.

In fact, if it were not for the rescue tactics that William had already arranged, Sean might really die here today. In the face of a force of two thousand people, even if Sean, Rena and others can fight again, they will be exhausted at the moment. Wolf and others don't even need to fight against Sean and others, but only need to adopt blunt knife tactics. Xiao En and others couldn't resist it, but she failed in the end.

There is no other reason, just because there is an extra troop that has been lurking in the wilderness.

Sean can even see that this unit is just a regular army that has just left the recruit stage, and the leading Aldolf has not even stepped into the silver realm, but for the current battle situation, it is a real force. The straw that can crush people.

And all this is due to William's caution and prevention in arranging tactics.

The Cecilia Guards, which went deep into the wilderness, attracted everyone's attention to the Great Rift Valley, and let Rena lead the First Cavalry Regiment to make waves in the Great Rift Valley. Successfully attracted everyone's attention, and even made Alfred put on a strong posture that he could enter the wild land at any time to support operations. And everything on this surface was just to cover up the fact that Aldolf's mobile infantry regiment and Xuefanio had secretly entered the wilderness.

Then, when necessary, become a straw that can crush the enemy.

"William Yale." The wolf murmured the name several times, but his eyes showed a bit of unwillingness. "This is indeed a terrible person. Everyone only knew him in the previous Chiraf defense battle. The overall strategic situation is extremely strong, and I didn't expect it to be so terrible in terms of tactical layout.... But after today, he will definitely become the kill list of all the nobles in the Kingdom of Darbion."

"The Kingdom of Darbion has no chance." Sean said calmly, "As long as I go back alive, the master behind you will be my enemy and the reason I started the war. And because of the deaths of you and Yin, he will not be the same either. I will choose to compromise.... If I didn't seal the Gorge Rift, then maybe he and I were just a contradiction between the nobles of the two countries and would not involve a national-level battle. But I blocked the Gorge Rift. , So the owner of your family will definitely use this as an excuse to win over allies and reinforcements in the country. Then the nature of the war triggered by all this will change as a result."

Listening to Sean, Wolf's eyes gradually changed. If she hadn't realized the real seriousness of the problem at this time, then she would not be able to become a golden powerhouse.

"You are crazy!" The wolf exclaimed, even a little incoherent, "You...you war mad...you..."

"Do you have any last words?" Sean looked at the wolf's eyes, already looking at the dead.

In the eyes of the wolf, the intent to fight had been completely lost. All she was thinking at the moment was how to escape from here and tell the eagle the information she knew. So when Sean asked her if she still had a last word, the wolf's first reaction was to explode the whole body's grudge, and the whole person quickly moved away from Sean without looking back, and then quickly escaped away without looking back. .

But this movement of the wolf was already in Sean's expectation, so when he felt the wolf's grudge began to work, Sean rushed forward without hesitation.

Shaun did reduce his agility by three points because of his injuries, but under the influence of the war halo, Shaun's agility value increased by seven points instead of decreasing. After all the abilities were activated, Sean's action response was obviously far greater than that of the wolf, so that as soon as the wolf's fighting spirit broke out and quickly retreated, Sean had already shortened the distance to less than ten meters, and the wolf turned around. At that moment, Xiao En was even closer to a distance of five meters.

At this distance, the role of the ice halo can obviously be brought into play.

Although the wolf does not have this perception, the speed of the fighting energy and the burning speed in her body are still inevitably slowed down by a beat, and even the overall movement is slightly slow because of this. In such an emergency, the distance between the wolf and Sean was once again approached by him by one meter, but this distance is the maximum limit. It is obviously impossible to shorten the distance to one at the speed of the wolf and the speed of Sean. Within meters.

It's just that, Sean's methods are obviously more than that, because at this moment, Sean has already started the sprint without hesitation.

Four meters away, Sean passed by in an instant!

When Sean hit the wolf's back, the wolf's pupils had shrunk to the extreme, as if she had seen the most terrible scene, she even let out a scream, and her loyalty to the third master of Nugus was also instantaneous. Disintegrate: "Don't kill me! I will promise you what you want me to do!"

But Sean did not answer her.

In the next second, the sky and the earth will change color.

Chapter 186: .Gifts to Gerson Nugus

The wolf died in battle.

Xiao En's sword did not show any mercy at all. Even if the wolf begged Xiao En for mercy, the final result was still beheaded by Xiao En. But the end result was that Sean spit out a mouthful of blood on the spot, because the injuries that came with him, plus the sudden stop after sprinting and the intense burst of requiem, made Sean's body worse. .

Fortunately, with the wolf's death, the enemy's fighting will finally completely disintegrated.

The other golden powerhouse was completely unable to get around Xuefanio's entanglement, and several attempts to break through were blocked by Xuefanio. In the eyes of outsiders, Xuefanio is like a cat teasing a mouse. It can give him a fatal blow, but he keeps teasing his opponent. This is a very humiliating behavior. , But the golden powerhouse did not have the slightest way, instead, because of anger, he was almost directly cut by Xuefanio several times.

But in the course of this battle, people around can clearly feel that Xuefanio's sword skills are becoming more and more fierce and exquisite. Only Sean, Rena, and Cecilia know that it is not that Xuefanio is teasing each other, but because she is a priest with a sword who can directly listen to the sound of the gods, her divine power and realm. The improvement was so fast that she couldn't keep up with her combat skills, so at this moment she was using this rare opportunity to let her body quickly adapt to the power.

This kind of opportunity is not too many, and only like this strong man who has lost the will to fight can take on Xuefanio's opponent. Otherwise, no matter the opponent's strength is too low or too high, it doesn't make any sense to Xuefanio-the former is simply unable to let her master her own new power, while the latter is too dangerous for her.

When Rina led the cavalry unit to surround the battle, the strong man who was finally desperate finally died of the idea of fleeing, and began to decide to fight Xuefanio to death. But at this time, Xuefanio is already fully familiar with the power increase brought about by the new realm, and the final result is naturally conceivable. Fanio's combat experience and skills are still a bit weaker, because if she doesn't rely on the help of divine art in the end, she definitely can't defeat the golden powerhouse.

Defeat, not kill, this is Sean's idea.

As for the battle between the Cecilia Guards and the enemy's main battlefield, it was basically a foregone conclusion when Aldolf arrived with people.

But this time, these soldiers are very hard-spirited.

Except for some of the people who fled, none of the soldiers caught alive surrendered. This situation was a little bit beyond Sean's expectations. But what made everyone even more unexpected was that Sean had ruthlessly ordered the killing of all those who did not surrender, but until all the prisoners were killed, no one surrendered.

Including, the strong man who is inferior to gold.

Andros.

"Happy." The middle-aged man's face was calm. He just glanced at the fallen corpse behind him and said softly, "As a strong man stepping into the golden realm, I am qualified to enjoy the treatment of a jazz. "

Andrews' words are not wrong. Any strong person who steps into the golden realm may not be able to get the title of nobility in human society, but because of his own strength, he can still enjoy the treatment of jazz. Although the Jazz is not included in the nobility class, this is at least a clear message, that is, the most basic respect for the strong should be maintained.

Under normal conditions of war, unless it is a noble who died on the battlefield, the nobles who surrendered have the right to redeem their lives, including the jazz belonging to the quasi-aristocratic class. Of course, if it is a war situation such as blood feuds or world enemies, then of course there is no possibility of redemption, usually directly beheaded; and if it rises to the national level of war, the general noble prisoners are under centralized supervision, if in the end If the enemy country is completely destroyed, then these captives will basically become slaves, but if there is a possibility of peace talks between the two countries in the end, then these captives will become part of the bargaining chip in the negotiation.

However, in the current situation, the war unfolded in the wild land, where no one knows or knows who, the noble customs and treaties of the human world, of course, cannot be guaranteed here.

Anyway, the other party did not indicate their identity-even if Xiao En knew that these people were private soldiers from the nobles of the Kingdom of Darbion, even if the other party had identified their identity, Sean could still be treated as ignorant. After all, this is a savage land, a place where the weak and the fittest survive. As long as there is no other insider, it is not impossible to kill the nobles.

Of course, this matter actually doesn't make any sense to Sean.

Because of the failure of this army, the man who sent them to attack Sean will definitely know whose hands this army and these people died. Even if it is not, it can also be counted on Sean's head for the nobles.

So, Andrews is very smart.

He can't surrender, so he knows that he can't be alive, and of course he won't consider any redemption. What he asked for Sean's treatment was to hope that Sean would regard him as a strong man and give him the last dignity, instead of being treated like a captive without human rights.

Just when Andros said that, closing his eyes and waiting for death, he waited for a sentence that he himself felt unbelievable.

"Let him go." Sean waved his hand and said to Xuefanio at the same time, "Help him stop the bleeding."

Snowfanio was strange to Sean's actions, but he still obeyed Sean's instructions and waved his hand to cast a healing magic on Andrews. Although of course this kind of magical technique cannot be compared with that of the Goddess of Life, it is still possible to stop bleeding and prevent the deterioration of the injury.

Andrews opened his eyes and looked at Sean with some doubts.

"I only have one question, you can leave after answering." Sean looked at Andros, and said calmly, "Maybe, I will let you take a gift home."

"I don't guarantee that my answer will satisfy you." Andrews was silent for a moment, and his desire for life finally made him speak, but he also has the dignity and honor that belongs to the strong. The oath of the nobility.

"Who sent you." Sean said, "I know that behind you are the nobles of the Kingdom of Darbion. There may even be more than one, but the union of several nobles.... But these are not important, I I just want to know who is taking the lead? In other words, who is the real controller of the greatest interests in this area of the Great Rift Valley."

"What do you want to know?" Andros frowned slightly.

"A family name from the Kingdom of Darbion." Sean said with a smile, "Or, do you know these two men, wolf and silver?" After seeing Andros nodded stiffly, Sean continued: " I just want to know who the master of these two people's allegiance is, that's it."

Hearing what Sean said, Andros gave a wry smile, his expression was a little helpless and entangled, perhaps he was engaged in a fierce ideological struggle. However, Sean and others didn't care either. Except for Sean, Rena, Cecilia, Chefanio and others waiting by the side, the others were still busy with their own work-such as cleaning on the battlefield. Recycling everything that can be used, as well as distributing food, arranging camping and security issues.

All work is proceeding in an orderly manner.

Andros glanced at the situation at the moment. He finally knew where he and others had lost, so he sighed, his voice a little tired: "Gerson. Gerson Nugus, the third son of the current head of the Nugus family, He is also the second-in-line heir to the Nugus family..." At this point, Andros was silent for a moment, and after a glance at Sean, he continued to speak, "If you die, he will be the first-in-line heir. But this time, he suffered a great loss, and the entire family alliance with the Nugus family as the core suffered heavy losses. I am afraid that this time he will be cancelled the family inheritance rights."

"How many candidates for the head of the family are there in the Nugus family?" Sean's brows wrinkled invisibly.

"Five." Andrews said in a deep voice, "This information is not a secret, you can also collect it if you inquire about it.... In fact, in addition to the first in line, the other three and Gerson have nothing at all. Competitiveness. If Gerson's successor power is deprived, then it's probably Ziggysen Nugus who will eventually become the owner of the Patriarch."

"The first in line?"

"Yes." Andros nodded. "He is Gerson's uncle and the younger brother of the current Patriarch of the Nugus family. Originally, his advantage is not big compared with Gerson, but this time he took action against Your Excellency. Because it has something to do with the affairs of the southeast theater, the troops cannot be mobilized for a while, otherwise, these three thousand people will definitely not be the only one besieging you."

Xiao En knew that these three thousand people were actually private soldiers sent by several families in batches. There are probably less than a hundred private soldiers who really belonged to the Gerson Nugus, but there are two main combat powers, namely Silver and Wolf. Shaun didn't know that, in fact, there was another Sanctuary who ran into the void. Going to the city, Gerson could become the second in line, even directly threatening the first in line, that is, his uncle Ziegson Nugus, a large part of the reason is because of this sanctuary powerhouse.

However, if Ziegson's private soldiers are involved in the southeast theater of Darbion Kingdom, then the situation is a bit troublesome.

Because the last time Asuna and Darbion Kingdom went to war, none of the guys in the southeast theater of Darbion Kingdom were dispatched. As one of the two most powerful fifth-level armies of Darbion Kingdom, the third garrison The fighting strength is higher than that of the royal guards in the capital of King Darbion. In the history of the game, although the end of the first expansion piece ended with the fall of the Kingdom of Darbion, the fact that this third garrison continued until the third expansion piece had its ownership.

In the previous few game years, this ace army has been active in the Broken Dragon Valley Mountains in an independent capacity.

If Ziegson's private army is involved in this army, then Sean has to be careful. Because according to Sean's understanding, the Third Garrison has always welcomed troops like mercenary regiments, private nobles, and even mercenary regiments to join their fronts. Of course, after joining their fronts, they can quickly hone their troops. Combat power, but the two sides have to sign a long-term agreement.

At least before the end of the contract time limit, the troops temporarily joining the Third Guard Army cannot leave the Broken Dragon Valley Mountains.

In addition, Sean also very keenly noticed that Andros' description of Gerson Nugus was "the three sons of the current head of the Nugus family", which means that there is an eldest son above him. And the second son, maybe he might be the fourth or fifth child. There are also the eldest daughter and the second daughter before him, but he has become the second heir to the entire Nugus family, which means something. It's different.

After all, the Nugus family is a big family comparable to the Boulder family, and its current head is also one of the few dukes in the Darbion Kingdom.

But after Sean got the answer he wanted, he always talked. So he soon let Andros leave, and even trouble him to bring a gift to Gerson Nugus.

Just when Andrews looked at the gift that Sean asked him to pass on, he felt a chill hit his upper back.

Because, this gift is surprisingly the wolf's head that cannot close his eyes because of panic!

Chapter 187: .Welcome back

The Nugus family is also a powerful family.

As one of the few dukes of the Kingdom of Darbion, the territory of the Nugus family may not be as vast as the Boulder family, but the cohesion and strength of the family is not in the least under the Boulder family.

The Duke of Mount Berlay, Mr. Fans Nugus, has a strong network with the old Duke of Boulder, and his tentacles are in many areas. The Nugus family has always been linked to gold coins in the hearts of the people of the Kingdom of Darbion. of. As the Minister of Finance of the entire Kingdom of Darbion, in the eyes of outsiders, Mr. Vans Nugus may not be much weaker than the old Duke of Boulder, but in fact, whether it is Vans Nugus or the other three The Duke family did not dare to compare it with the Boulder family in terms of personal connections. This was undoubtedly a matter of self-humiliation.

Therefore, although the five major duke families maintain a certain harmonious and stable atmosphere on the surface, in fact the other four duke families have already united long ago and secretly proceeded with everything that might undermine the layout of the Boulder family. And I'm not tired of it. Only in the face of the Boulder family, which has tentacles in military, political, economic, and even diplomatic, religious and other fields, the other four duke families are only barely able to compete with each other.

Don't say anything else, it's just the Kingdom's Military Command.

More than three-quarters of the neutrals were cultivated by the Boulder family. The reformers were supported by the Boulder family alone. More than half of the stables were the dragon tongue of Hatch Boulder. Duke Lan's generals, and Hatch Boulder himself was the leader of the hawks at that time. The reason why the hawks as a whole can maintain a unified voice today is entirely under the influence of the Duke of Tequila. Now the Duke has retired from the Military Control Department, but as long as he doesn't die in a day, then he still controls almost the entire Military Control Department.

The voice he makes here is even more useful than the royal family of the Kingdom of Darbion.

It's just that the Third Guard has always been an independent organization, so the Duke of Boulder can't reach it. This also gives the Nugus family a hope. As long as they can have a force comparable to the agave cavalry and the agave black guard, their voices in the military command department will of course be stronger in the kingdom. For many people, this signal also indicates that the Nugus family tried to reach out to the Military Command.

Of course, the Boulder family has to find a way to deal with this, but the Nugus family has taken the route of the Third Garrison from the beginning, which makes the Boulder family somewhat helpless.

So, for such a big family, it is of course normal to have a strong sanctuary. In other words, if there is no sanctuary powerhouse, then that is truly a shocking thing.

It's just that no one really knows that the Nugus family has two sanctuary powerhouses-of course, there is really only one left now.

However, now this sacred domain expert who belongs to the Nugus family and uses the stinging sword, is quickly moving away from the rift valley at an extremely embarrassing speed. There were several hideous wounds on his body, and there was a light blue thunder light faintly shining on him. It was obvious that these wounds were gifts from Vivian to this sanctuary powerhouse. Had it not been for the physique and vindictiveness of the sanctuary powerhouse, and the ability to basically have access to the laws of the world, this sanctuary powerhouse would have died long ago.

You know, Vivian is not the kind of ordinary high-ranking golden peak powerhouse.

Although she does not possess the intrepid blood talent like Elizabeth, nor does she possess the exquisite military command ability like Simi, she is an actual combat-type powerhouse with no obvious shortcomings in every aspect. She has been involved in magic and martial arts. While she has certain magic resistance and spellcasting ability, she is also not afraid of any close combat, or that with the heavy halberd in her hand, many people even ignore that her job is actually A magician; and her excellent military command also gives her the ability to march and deploy battles, and can even expand the army's combat power and advantages with her own combat power infinitely, not only can it easily annihilate the same scale A large number of enemy troops, even if they face high-ranking powerhouses, can still stay the same.

A high-level golden powerhouse repelled a low-level sanctuary powerhouse, even with the assistance of an elite force, this is still a proud record.

But in fact, Vivian is not happy at all.

Her face is so gloomy that it can almost drip.

On the battlefield, there were scattered broken limbs and mutilated corpses everywhere, and there were even a lot of mud and minced meat that did not even have corpses. And the blood, at the exit of the Gorge Rift Valley, even converged into a stream, gurgling down towards the low place, and a steady stream of warm blood continued to flow, and there was no time for the blood to cool and condense.

Vivian's injuries are not serious, but they are not light at all.

After all, she is no weaker than a weak magician, because the martial arts training has strengthened and increased her physique to a certain extent, so even if there is a wound on her chest and abdomen, she almost has to dig out her internal organs. But Vivian still didn't die here, and she was still thinking about how to solve the scars left here in the future. As a powerful magician, Vivian may not be good at sub-academics such as alchemy and herbal medicine, but she still knows something, so this injury was quickly repaired by herself, but these methods After all, they are only temporarily stopping the deterioration, if you really want to cure the root cause, you still have to return to the human world to pray for help from priests who are good at healing magic.

And even Vivian was hit hard by this, so the extent of the battle damage of the Thundering Front she brought can be imagined.

Five thousand thunderous fronts, less than two thousand survivors. Even if there are less than two thousand people alive, most of them will not be able to go to the battlefield again, but it is still lucky to survive. If Vivian has real eyes like Shaun, he will definitely be able to find these lives. The Thunder's Front that came down has become a level five army. Although it will return to the fourth level after being combined with another five thousand thundering fronts, its essence is already a quasi-level five army. It only needs to experience one or two more battles. , That is a genuine trump card army.

The combat effectiveness of six thousand fifth-level troops is several times stronger than the combat effectiveness of ten thousand fourth-level troops.

It's a pity that Vivian doesn't have a real eye, so naturally she doesn't know the hidden value.

In her opinion, the entire thunder striker had been beaten to half, so seeing the result of such a battle damage, Vivian let out a sigh of foul breath: "I knew this was the case, I should have the whole thunder All the fronts are pulled over.... Family Nugus, you give me to my old lady and I wait."

Thunder's Front is after all Asuna's direct line of troops, and it is also the true elite unit that Asuna is famous for. It can even be said that without this thundering front, then there would be no

Asuna's current achievements. So, not to mention that Asuna would feel distressed after losing so many soldiers of Thunder's Front. Vivian knew that Elizabeth would not let her go after she returned.

But she did not expect that, let alone this era, even in the past hundreds of years, no one dared to say that with four thousand elite soldiers, they would dare to fight a sanctuary powerhouse, and even severely inflict the other side-relative. Compared with Vivienne's injury and the heavy losses of the Thunder's Front, the Nugus family is the one who should really cry, because they are the only sanctuary powerhouse left, not one or two years. I'm afraid that the rest and recovery of him will not be able to restore the combat effectiveness of the peak period.

It can be said that with his own strength and four thousand elites in exchange for the serious injury of a sanctuary powerhouse, Vivian is definitely the first person ever. In other words, if Thunder's Front is not a Tier 4 army but a Tier 5 army, then Vivienne may only need to pay the price of her own serious injury and 3,000 soldiers to kill a Sanctuary strong. Without the need for a level six army.

This approach has basically subverted the current battle pattern of the strong on the mainland-facing the strong in the sanctuary, only the strong in the sanctuary can take action, and the number of troops is only used for facilitating. In the past war pattern, it was almost impossible for the army to want to severely inflict a strong sanctuary. However, Vivian's behavior today is already able to kill the strong sanctuary. Signs of life.

It's just that Vivian doesn't seem to notice this yet.

Seeing the terrible loss of the Thunder Front, Vivian sighed: "Sean, you have to fight for it. Asuna has put all the bets on you. If you don't fight for it, then Asuna really lost her money."

When Vivian said this, Sean was surrounded by wolves, and Rina led the cavalry unit to support him.

Then Vivian ordered the cleaning of the battlefield. After four days of rest in the Gorge Rift, Vivian left five hundred thundering fronts and brought the wounded soldiers back to Pandan. For treatment, after all, all the priests and priests of the various churches on the mainland are rushing to Void City at this time. If you don't make good use of it at this time, it would be a waste of such a good opportunity. Strictly speaking, Vivian should also go back to receive treatment, but she rejected the proposal of her subordinates, turned around and took the remaining five hundred thundering fronts and set off into the wild land.

One day later, Vivian and Five Hundred Thunder's Front finally met Shaun, who had released Andros at the trade point of the original Wind-Zhufeng tribe.

When Sean saw the seriously injured Vivian suddenly appear in front of him, he was stunned.

And Vivian looked at the tragic situation of Sean's troops and the group of people almost all resembling clay figures, but she smiled: "It looks like your situation is also very bad.... But anyway, from this moment. You are safe now."

Thinking about it, Vivian hugged Shaun: "Welcome back."

After saying this, Vivian finally couldn't help but fainted in Sean's arms because of the injury problem and mental relaxation plus fatigue.

"Snow Fanio!"

Soon, the trade point of the Wind-Zhufeng tribe became a little chaotic and turbulent.

Chapter 188: .The future saint and the present demons

Void City, in the past few months, has become the focus of attention of all churches across the continent.

Basically, the senior priests of all the churches in the whole continent gathered here, and even legendary powerhouses were rumored to come here. With the arrival of the church priests, the temple knights responsible for protecting the priests came with as many as 100,000. huge. There were more than ten or twenty temporary military camps, densely set up around Void City, and it looked like it had expanded the scope of Void City by more than three times.

Under this situation, even the Millennium Covenant Empire would not dare to make trouble openly, let alone the nobles of the Kingdom of Darbion.

Of course, they still imagined maliciously, hoping that these priests from various temples would give full play to their arrogance and cause some trouble to Void City. But they didn't know that Neil was already prepared in this regard. He just used a very simple psychological method of comparison—the priests and priests serving the goddess of ice and snow and winter are so simple, are you embarrassed to ask More? The priests and knights of the other temples around you are all watching you.

So all the priests and knights of the temple stayed honestly, and no one dared to get into trouble. In order to gain a reputation for the temple, several bands of bandits and robbers that even William had a headache were killed by these temple knights. The regiment was fighting so badly, and the public security situation was even better than before.

These poor priests and bishops would never understand that the goddess Ice and Winter had already made an agreement with Sean. Of course, all the priests who served her would unconditionally cooperate with all of Sean's actions, so these temple bishops wanted to win the faith of the believers. The behavior became purely a knife in Neil's hand.

In Shaun's realm, apart from the goddesses of ice and winter, no other gods' temples and believers can exist.

It's just a pity that these bishops who think they are clever don't even know. In other words, their thoughts at the moment did not focus on this aspect. After all, the appearance of the devil represented an absolutely dangerous signal to them, especially now that the devil did not know where it went. And the most important problem is that the lord of Pandaren is also not in the domain now. It is said that he is in the wild land and cannot meet with their bishops.

It is precisely for this reason that after staying in Void City for a while, the bishops and priests of these churches also chose to leave. The value of capturing or killing a demon is much higher than that of staying here and wasting time, but in Neil's view, the biggest reason these guys want to leave should be that their hospitality is too shabby, otherwise it's like this. This kind of thing that needs to run around, they can completely hand it over to the temple knights and low-level priests to deal with, there is no need to even go out in person.

And looking at the direction of these people, it can also fully prove Neal's guess.

This torrent of faith that represents the secular world rushes toward the trading capital at the speed of a locust crossing the border.

At such a delicate and sensitive moment, how can the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance dare not entertain these locusts properly. Even if the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce

Alliance dared to challenge an empire, they could only pinch their noses to recognize the faith of the entire continent.

But even so, there were still several priests who were temporarily left in the Void City.

Their main purpose is to build a new temple here, trying to attract new believers. It's just that the progress has been very unsatisfactory all the time, because they soon discovered that whether it is the Void City or the surrounding towns, everyone believes in the goddesses of ice and winter, no matter how hard they try to preach, but the result is not. Anyone who believes in their gods shocked them while feeling a sense of powerlessness.

Absolute belief.

This is a description that is only recorded in words in the temples, and it is also the highest ideal level desired by the gods, but in fact, whether it is the gods or the bishops who believe in the gods, this is absolutely impossible!

The reason is simple.

Like healing magic, naturally the goddess of life has the most outstanding magic effect. Not to mention the dead, but flesh and bones are at least okay. And everything related to battle and war must be faith in Marz, the * of war. Of course, there are some gods that contain multiple priests, such as the goddess of ice and winter, the * of dawn, the goddess of victory, the * of twilight, and so on. Usually, these gods are more easily believed by people because of the wide-area nature of the priesthood. .

Basically, not to mention the territory of a kingdom. Generally, even in the territory of a lord, there will be temples of several gods. Even if the Saint-Joles Empire believes in the * of dawn as a religious power above the imperial power, it is not the * of dawn that has the final say. The people in the empire also believe in other gods.

is precisely because of this, so when the bishops of these temples came to Sean's territory, the first thing they saw was the single belief in this territory. This situation is almost like an undeveloped virgin land in their eyes, so of course they hope to have a good talk with Sean in order to gain the authority to build a temple in this land, but because Sean is not in the land. , And this kind of thing is so important that Neil can't call the shots—in fact, Neil knows that Sean and Eswinter are the goddess' agreement, but of course he can't say it, so he kicked the ball. Back to Sean.

But I waited here for a long time and didn't see Sean coming back. Of course the pampered bishops couldn't stand it, so they left one after another, leaving only a few people with good identities waiting for Sean's return. Of course, by the way, I was preaching the doctrine. Even if the temple is not built, it is a good thing to be able to attract more shallow believers. What these people didn't expect was that no matter how hard they tried, they couldn't even win over a shallow believer.

All the leaders of the entire territory believe in the goddesses of ice and winter!

This is simply a shocking thing.

Behind this appalling situation, all the priests also fell into silence and distress.

Hitley is one of these distressed priests.

She is very young, she looks only 21 or 22 years old on the outside, but in fact she looks younger than on the outside. It's just that Hitley, who is only 18 years old this year, is already the youngest and most promising chief priest in the Church of the Goddess of Life. It is possible to get this special honor. In the absence of the bishop, the chief priest is the commander of the priests, a bit like a general.

Of course, few people know that the chief priest is actually synonymous with the candidate saint.

Even Hitley didn't know.

And the young and promising Hitley became the chief priest in the past two years. Because of lack of sufficient experience and courage, this time the churches all over the continent will set their sights on the Void City, and the Pope of the Church of Life will let the cardinal in charge of this incident brought Hitley to the Void City, the purpose of course was to allow her to accumulate experience. After the cardinal set off for the trading capital, Hitley became the acting head of the goddess of life in Void City. There were as many as ten subordinate priests under her command, and there was also an 18-person group of priests. The Knights Templar team is responsible for their safety.

The scale of can be said to be the largest among all the churches still staying in Void City. From this it can be seen not only the wealth of the Goddess of Life Church, but also the importance this church attaches to Void City.

But for nearly a month, none of this has brought Hitley any advantage. She, like the leaders of other churches who stayed in Void City, bumped into walls everywhere.

However, things seem to have improved slightly recently.

Because more than a week ago, a scarred army entered the Void City. The damage to this army is too serious. Even after emergency treatment, many people still have a sigh of relief. In order to let the church prove its value and be kind-hearted, Hitley has more than one of them recently. For the past week, I have devoted my full attention to treating these wounded people, and finally they have not returned the lives of these people to the embrace of the goddess.

Today, Hitley finally finished the final inspection and made sure that these wounded soldiers would not be in danger of life, and then she took time to rest.

This sense of fulfillment made Hitley very satisfied.

But when he thought that the church's temple building still failed to pass, Hitley's face was full of distress.

"Beautiful lady, frowning will destroy your temperament."

At this moment, a slightly low voice suddenly sounded, which frightened Hitley.

When Hitley turned her head, she saw a man wearing leather pants and boots, but with his upper body naked, just wearing a knee-length windbreaker, standing not far from him. He has long purple-blue hair, golden eyes and a beautiful face that makes his heart beat faster. Although he looks a little bit strange with his costume, it is undeniable that this man does possess a kind of Very unique and extraordinary charm.

But I don't know why, when Hitley saw this man, her heart jumped suddenly. This was not because of shyness, but an instinctive shudder from the soul. As if encountering some natural enemy, the whole person has become numb and unable to move because of fear, and can only be mermaid. Fortunately, this illusion quickly disappeared. When Hitley stared at the other party, the other party was already sitting next to her.

"Do you have any troubles?" the handsome and evil man asked softly.

"You are..." Hitley asked subconsciously, and at the same time moved her body a bit, keeping a certain distance from the strange man.

"You can call me Enkos." The evil-looking young man said with a smile, "I just saw your frown and sigh, it makes me feel distressed.... Is there anything I can do for you? This beautiful..."

"My name is Hitley, and I am a priest who serves the goddess of life." Hitley's face flushed slightly, but she still replied.

"Beautiful Miss Hitley." Enkos smiled and nodded, "I have seen all of your treatment of the wounded these days. It is really admirable."

"This...this is what I should do." Hitley lowered her head shyly.

"So, what is your trouble?" Enkos asked with a smile, "Maybe I can help."

"I hope to be able to obtain the right to build the temple in the territory of Sir Sean Connery." Hitley said subconsciously, but soon she gave a bitterly helpless smile. She felt a bit like a fool. She even said this. Coase doesn't know what he is doing, so what's the use of telling her this? Soon, Hitley added: "But Sir Sean Connery doesn't seem to be in the territory at the moment, so..."

"If you are looking for the lord of this territory, then he has already returned." Enkos said with a smile, "Not long ago, Alfred the angry lion escorted back all the way back, the governor of the territory Neil and Commander William personally greeted him, even the residents of the city."

"Ah!" Hitley jumped up in exclamation when she heard Enkos's words. She felt that there was something wrong from the beginning. At this moment, she finally realized that it turned out that this place is quieter than before. "Then I'll leave first, Mr. Enkos."

"Wait." Enkos said, "Are you going to talk to him about the temple?"

"Yes." Hitley nodded, looking at Enkos in a puzzled manner.

"Shaun is injured..."

"Then I should visit the lord at this time." Hitley interrupted Enkos's words eagerly, "The goddess teaches us..."

"Oh." Enkos sighed helplessly, "You may not be able to see Sean now, or wait, if nothing else, the lord will definitely summon you today. After all, he is now receiving Only you can heal the injury....If I were you, I would now go back and pray to your goddess, restore my divine power to the most complete state, and bring a drop of life essence."

Hitley's face changed instantly when he heard Enkos say "Essence of Life": "Lord Lord actually suffered such a serious injury!"

"The injury he suffered is not serious, it's just that a piece of meat is missing." Enkos curled his lips, "Without the essence of life, it would be impossible to let the piece of meat he lost grow back." After a short pause, Enkos continued: "So you still have to be fully prepared before visiting this lord....Of course, after you do this, you don't need to mention the power to build the temple. I believe that Sean will do it again soon. I looked for you once and agreed with you to build a temple on his territory."

"Ah, thank you very much for your advice, Mr. Enkos." Hitley bowed to Enkos with excitement, but when she looked up again, Enkos was gone.

This strange phenomenon of course made Hitley a little surprised, but she did not care too much, but regarded Enkos as a mysterious powerhouse. She even thought that Enkos must have been sent by the Pope to assist her. tutor.

And just after Hitley left, Enkos's figure reappeared, but this time there was another young man in a black dress beside him.

Beth.

"You're playing with fire." Beth looked at Enkos calmly, his voice was low, but it was already a bit of blame, "That little guy has an agreement with Eswinter. And your intervention this time is likely to be There are some accidents, and Andrew will be unhappy."

"The lord will thank me." Enkos shrugged, "Eswinter's priesthood has nothing to do with healing at all. The agreement between mortals and gods is not so strong, I will go to Eswin. Tell had a good talk."

"She is the Saintess Candidate of the Church of Life, and I am afraid that the three words'candidate' will be removed soon."

"I know."

Hearing what Enkos said, Beth could only sigh helplessly after all: "Your old problems have not changed. You will be overwhelmed with compassion when you see the saint. Don't forget that you are a demon, this time for all the churches. People are here for you, and you dare to show up in front of a future saint.... Moreover, the price of awakening you this time is very heavy. At present, only you have a free body, and I need to stay. Here is an atonement for you."

"I understand." Enkos nodded, "I will leave tomorrow."

Chapter 189: .Asuna visiting

The return of Sean is indeed a sensational event for the entire Panda leader.

After appeared from the border of the Gorge Rift, Alfred immediately led the three thousand thunder lions to  Sean and others to the return. And when this troop returned to the vicinity of Void City, Neil, William and even the city defense forces led by Void City went out to greet them. Of course, such a big move could not be hidden from anyone, and only Hitley, who focused on saving The human chief priest did not find out.

However, this arrangement was naturally made by Neal deliberately.

In this way, although everyone will know that the territorial situation has suffered a bit of a heavy loss this time, even Sean was injured, but at least no one will disturb Sean at this time. In other words, even if you really want to disturb Sean at this time, it would be a very shabby thing if you don't have a handy gift, especially now that many churches are staring at the interview with Sean.

So, when Sean returned to Void City, although it was a sensation in the whole city, when Sean entered the Lord's Mansion, no one came to harass.

Cloff, Andre, and the Cecilia Guards and many other wounded soldiers were naturally sent to the temporary residence of the Goddess of Life Church in the first place. This is a camp on the outskirts of Void City. Originally, all the people including Hitley and others lived in Void City, but because of the thousands of wounded soldiers of Thunder's Front, of course, there was no way to live in the city, so You can only use the camp set by the Church of the Goddess of Life in the Void City.

Fortunately, with the help of William and the Void City Garrison, it is not particularly difficult to clean up and build this camp. So when these new wounded soldiers returned to the Void City, they were naturally sent to this camp in the first place. Although the Church of Chenxi was also good at healing magic, of course, in front of the Goddess of Life, the Church of Chenxi would not be so stupid to be here. In terms of competing with the Goddess of Life, although both of them are gods of higher divine power, their effects will of course be different depending on the area of focus.

At least, people in the entire continent know that the goddess of life is the number one in healing magic.

What William did not expect was that this time when he arranged for the wounded to be sent over by hand, the priests of the Goddess of Life seemed to have anticipated such a situation a long time ago, so they had arranged related matters from a very early time. All work is being carried out quickly and methodically, which saves a lot of trouble. At least, it's much better than when these people hadn't touched so many wounded people at the beginning, so it was a lot of chaos.

After finishing everything, when William returned to the Lord's Mansion, Neal just finished all the developments of the territory in the past six months or so.

Neil originally made detailed records of these things, and even the corresponding policies and transfers of Void City. Although Neil did not intervene in Rudd's policies, he still understands them, so he does not describe them. Not too difficult, of course, in terms of details, it is natural to be supplemented and reported by Rudd. In addition, there is nothing else to report about the government affairs of the territory, and the military affairs of all the territories that William is responsible for have been intermittently told with Sean before, so at this moment, I will pick some more important things recently. speak.

For example, the establishment of the Thunder Lion, the reconstruction of the jet black wings, etc., but the final topic returned to the Cecilia Guards and Rina's First Cavalry Regiment.

"The top priority at the moment is to ensure the supply of troops for the Cecilia Guards and the First Cavalry Regiment." Sean frowned, and then said, "As for the level of the army, William, you will wait until Clover is ready. Negotiate with him again to see if he has any thoughts.... And the current focus is to restore the strength of Rena's First Cavalry Regiment first. I think one thousand people should be almost the same?"

"Enough, Lord Lord." Rina nodded. Now her strength is the next golden powerhouse, which is stronger than all the people present. "If there are more people, I'm afraid I won't be able to command. This It is an extremely unfavorable behavior on the battlefield."

William glanced at Rena and could not help but nodded to himself.

Rina's statement is indeed correct. It's not that the more troops a commander can command, the better. It also depends on the commander's abilities and the number of middle-level officers in the troops under his command. If the number is too small, So many orders cannot be accurately issued, and even if there is only one second of negligence on the battlefield, then the result is likely to be annihilation.

Such a loss, not everyone has the courage to bear.

William could tell that Rina's action in the Wildlands was more advanced than before.

"How many people are left in the dark wings now?" Sean asked again.

"Ten people." William sighed and said helplessly, "Before Rudd spent a lot of money on these people. Although I haven't arranged a commander after collecting them, it does save me a lot. Trouble...Although Rudd is in Void City, it is not difficult to retrain a group of such heavy cavalry, but there is not enough time."

"Then let these people join Rina's command." Sean thought for a while, then said, "In this way, these people with rich combat experience can immediately become the middle-level commanders of the cavalry regiment, Rina's Command orders can also be more convenient and faster, and the size of the army can also be expanded.... The level of two thousand people should be no problem?"

The last sentence, Sean said to Rina.

"I think it's more than that. With a little training, at least a force of three thousand people can be formed." William glanced at Rena, and seemed to be evaluating the feasibility of this matter. Na answered, "But the biggest problem in our territory at the moment is the shortage of horses.... These horses are no better than ordinary horses. Our territory does not have its own racecourse, and the horses can only be obtained through procurement, but now we use our territory's horses. In the circumstances, I am afraid it will be difficult to purchase war horses."

"Don't worry about this. We still have an ally in the Kingdom of Fascism." Xiao En smiled, "If this matter is left to him, it is estimated that it can be easily resolved. ... And I have some. I want to talk to him about it. Since the last time he helped rescue Elsie, he hasn't had a chance to thank him.... Neil, you will write an invitation letter for me later and send it to him. "

"It's Florence Wiles?" Neil asked. After seeing Sean nodding, Neil continued, "The cost of the horse is not low. This is definitely a fortune for our current territorial situation. A huge burden...At least, it will increase the expenses by more than 50%, which will make the territory unable to make ends meet, and will enter a fiscal deficit within two months, and at most four months later, your lord will go bankrupt. "

"It would be meaningless to just form a thousand Qingqi." Xiao En's brows frowned, "Such troops have no value at all except for reconnaissance and support for some local battles on the battlefield."

"Even if it is three thousand light cavalry, it is of little value on the battlefield." William criticized unceremoniously.

"Who said it was three thousand light cavalry."

"If it is three thousand heavy cavalry, then Lord Lord, you will enter a fiscal deficit in one month, and go bankrupt in one and a half months to two months." This time the answer to Sean's whimsical Neal is Neil, "To be honest, Lord Lord , Your investment in military issues has accounted for two-thirds of the total expenditure of the entire territory. The construction of many facilities and related decree have been postponed indefinitely, not to mention that there are still several places in Void City that require large sums. Invest."

"How about fighting to support war?" Sean's daydream still didn't give up.

"Who shall we fight?" William asked rhetorically.

"The Kingdom of Darbion." Sean said unceremoniously, "I have thought about the excuses. I guess the Nugus family will not be able to stand it soon... I don't expect that the other party will come to provoke him in a month. At that time we can use this excuse to invade the Kingdom of Darbion."

"Even if you send an invitation letter to Your Excellency Florence now, he himself can come within two months, but if you include the transportation of the horses, I am afraid it will take more than half a year." Neil said in a deep voice, "This is not even on the road. There may be risks. If you count these, the delivery time of the horse will probably be longer.... Lord Lord, can you please think of something more practical."

"Could it be that Rina's strength can't be supplemented?...How did you find so many horses in the first place?"

"My lord, those... are not war horses in the true sense." Seeing Sean's madness, Rina hesitated for a moment, and resolved to use the cruel reality to make Sean sober, "Those are normal feet with better strength. The horses were just horses, which were smuggled from the Kingdom of Darbion by Mr. Neil. The horses you saw later were all snatched from the wild, but the number was only about a hundred horses. "

At this time, Xiao En suddenly remembered that originally Rina's mount was not white, but when she saw her later, it was white. At that time, Xiao En was still wondering. At this time, she finally understood after hearing Rina's explanation.

For a moment, the entire conference room fell into silence.

There were a lot of things to wait for Sean to deal with, and Sean originally thought that military issues are very simple issues, and they should be dealt with quickly, so that he can discuss the territory with Neal. The development profile and future plans of the city, and then think of a way to solve the problem of the large number of priests staying in the void city. When facing these fanatics, even Sean had to come up with a reasonable excuse. Otherwise, he would really offend all the faiths in the entire continent. This is not a burden that Sean can bear at the moment.

But the result was unexpected. The military aspects of the territory were not difficult. However, at the end of the discussion, there was no complete result. This made Sean feel very helpless. At this moment, he finally understood that it is not an easy task to build and develop a territory. It is ridiculous that he thought that a few million should be enough.

It's just that Sean didn't expect that when the general lords develop their territories, they start with internal affairs. The military layout only reaches the minimum defense level of the territory, and even the equipment is not that good. And Sean not only develops internal affairs and military affairs at the same time, but also always uses sophisticated or even high-quality equipment to go to the armed forces. This is naturally a great consumption of a territory. If it weren't for Neil and Rudd's previous management Yi Ling, Sean is already bankrupt.

Just when everyone was at a loss, the door of the meeting room was suddenly opened.

This made Sean and Neil, William, Rena, Cecilia, Alfred and others all startled, and then looked at the person who opened the door at this moment with doubts.

The opponent is wearing a hooded cloak, which makes people unable to see the appearance under the cloak.

But Xiao En and others are also aware that the people in the Lord's Mansion currently know that they are in a meeting. If there are not very urgent or extremely powerful people, it is impossible to push the door directly. After all, they are now responsible for the security of the Lord's Mansion. It is Alfred's new subordinate: the Lion of Thunder. This is a very powerful and powerful army.

"Who are you?" Sean frowned.

"It's me." The person under the cloak replied, his voice was female, and even Sean felt strangely familiar.

After hesitating for a while, Xiao En stood up suddenly, with a look of surprise: "Master Asuna! Why are you here?"

"I'm traveling in secret this time. Tony doesn't know the situation yet." Lifting the hood, Asuna said with a serious face, "Because the matter is urgent, no one except me can explain it clearly, so I To make a long story short, this time I brought you two bad news."

bad news! ?

Hearing this, not only Sean, but also the others in the conference room were obviously stunned.

Chapter 190: .Two bad news (on)

"Two...bad news?" Sean was a little dazed, but soon reacted, "What kind of bad news?"

"It can be said to be... catastrophic." Asuna sighed, her expression a little tired.

It takes nearly half a month to travel from Tonis Fortress to the Void City at the fastest, and Asuna also said that she was secretly out of the city without attracting attention, so this means that she even needs to hide it. Over the eyes and ears of the 7th Legion stationed in the fortress, it is inevitable that this kind of laborious action will be exhausted. However, she was only trying to bring two bad news to Sean. What kind of bad news needs Asuna to explain in person?

Even, even magic communication is not used.

Cecilia quickly poured a glass of water for Asuna. At this moment, the latter did not care about the image of the lady and the etiquette of the nobles, and immediately drank it after picking up the water glass. The whole person seemed a little relaxed.

"Your name is Cecilia?" Asuna asked with a smile looking at the little girl who poured water on herself.

"Yes." Cecilia nodded, and after hesitating for a while, finally said her last name, "Cecilia Lembel."

"Renbel?" Asuna was taken aback, "Are you from Grand Duke Renbel..."

Cecilia nodded.

"So that's the case." Asuna nodded as well, feeling a little clear in her heart, "No wonder your bloodline will fluctuate so strongly when it awakens. If it is the direct bloodline of Grand Duke Rumbel, then everything makes sense. ."

Cecilia is less than seventeen years old this year, but she does not look like a young girl who has not yet celebrated her coming-of-age ceremony.

Today's Cecilia has grown to a height of 1.72 meters without knowing it. Although her figure is not as stunning and  as Elizabeth, it is not necessarily inferior, especially her double Legs and waist are obviously more advantageous than Elizabeth. However, in terms of appearance, Cecilia is much more refined than Elizabeth, coupled with the intellectual temperament of the same magician, in Asuna's eyes, Cecilia is obviously more attractive than Elizabeth. .

And she is not yet an adult, if she is allowed to grow up for a few more years, what will it be like?

Asuna was slightly surprised, and she probably knew in her heart Sean's reaction when she heard the first bad news.

"Could it be that the first bad news is related to...Cecilia?" When Sean saw Asuna staring at Cecilia, he suddenly had a bad consciousness in his heart.

"Yes." Asuna nodded without denying, "The first bad news is related to Cecilia."

"Could it be because of... the blood awakening?" Sean keenly caught Asuna's reaction when she said those words before.

Asuna glanced at Sean wordlessly, then sighed and continued: "Because Cecilia's previous bloodline awakening caused too strong fluctuations, which usually means that someone with a very powerful bloodline talent People have already awakened, so it is normal for many people to pay attention.... But I don't know why, this time it is the Millennium Covenant Empire that has attracted great attention to this matter."

When I heard the "Millennium Covenant Empire", everyone present was taken aback, and it seemed very unbelievable. Obviously, everyone can't understand why the Millennium Covenant Empire is interested in Cecilia's blood awakening, but Sean and Cecilia, who have been to the magic laboratory, understand it instantly.

Bloodline experiment!

These people actually hit Cecilia's head!

Xiao En's heart was immediately occupied by anger at this moment, and the whole person also appeared to be obviously irritable. After he came to this world, he has always been dependent on Cecilia. If Sean has any relatives in this world, then this person must be Cecilia. If anyone wants Sean to surrender the Cecilia Celia's words, then he will definitely fight the opponent, and he will never die, even if the opponent is a Thousand-Year Covenant Empire.

But Sean regards Cecilia as his sister, but this is not necessarily true in the eyes of others.

Asuna glanced at Cecilia again, and she seemed to understand a little bit in her heart, but she hadn't planned to ask Sean what to do, but came to remind Sean to wake up. So after pondering for a while, Asuna continued to speak: "You already know the first bad news, but what I can tell you is that it will be from the Millennium Covenant Empire and the Principality of Lane in about one to two months. The emissaries of the royal family will arrive at Tonis Fortress. You probably know their purpose and methods."

"Is it to put pressure on you?" Seeing Asuna's clear eyes, Sean calmed down a bit. He knew that anger would not solve any problems.

"Their plan is indeed like this." Asuna did not deny, "I can even confess to you that the imperial family simply put pressure on me to block you, but if it involves the Millennium Covenant Empire, it will be a little difficult to handle. Now, especially... the Dragon Knight Legion, the Second Infantry Regiment and the Solid Color Legion of the Millennium Covenant Empire are stationed less than thirty miles outside the Fortress of St. Drones."

Sean's pupils shrank suddenly, and William was also shocked.

As a military strategist, William is of course very clear about the elite army organization of the empires on the entire continent, and Sean is a player after all. Even if his understanding of this aspect is not as sophisticated as William's, he may not be inferior. How many.

Compared with the Dragon Knight Legion and the Solid Color Legion, the Second Infantry Regiment of the Millennium Covenant Empire is of course much inferior, but this is also in comparison with the seventh and eighth level armies. You know, the Second Infantry Regiment of the Millennium Covenant Empire is a well-known trump card in the empire. This is a fifth-level unit. Although it has the highest casualty rate in the entire empire, it takes the first place in almost every battle. The Second Infantry Regiment will face the situation of canceling its establishment, but no matter how heavy the casualties of this unit are, it will replenish all its troops in the first place.

Because the Second Infantry Regiment of the Millennium Covenant Empire is a force that is good at siege operations!

The Dragon Knights Legion is a collective term. The specific organization is divided into the Earth Traveling Dragon Knights and the Flying Dragon Knights. This is the only tactical army that can carry out all-round strikes in the Millennium Covenant Empire. Its evaluation standard is an eighth-level army. But Sean knew that this was a quasi-ninth-level army. In addition, the solid color legion should not be underestimated. Although this is only a seventh-level army, the solid color legion is divided into two teams like the dragon knight legion, one pure black magician group, and one pure white magician group. One legion is responsible for the implementation of battlefield spell bombing, and the other is responsible for applying various defensive magic to the own army and destroying the enemy's magician legion's spell casting.

I am afraid that such a combined organization appeared less than thirty miles outside the Fortress of St. Drones. No wonder the Ryan Council was so nervous.

"In this regard, I don't have a very good way to help you out." Asuna said helplessly, "but I can delay for you up to two months, including the other party's arrival at Tonis Fortress. It takes about two months, so what can be bought for you is about five months.... During this time, you must find a way to make the war break out."

"War?" Shaun didn't understand, what does this have to do with war.

But William and Neil understood. Neil quickly said, "That's it! Indeed, the only way to break the game right now is to start a war..." When he saw Sean's somewhat dazed expression, the elf administrator He sighed helplessly, and then explained to Sean: "As long as we start a war, we have an excuse not to contact each other, because we are all on the first front, and they must stay at the last as the messenger. So. As a result, even if the Millennium Covenant Empire exerts pressure on the Principality of Lane, all pressure and risks will be transferred."

"That's it." Sean nodded clearly.

"But." Neal frowned slightly. "So even if everything succeeds, we can only delay one to two years.... I don't think the war with the Kingdom of Darbion will be delayed for that long, especially in the face of such a strong pressure, it is not even good to say that according to the past behavior of the Royal family of the Principality of Ryan and the actions of the Millennium Covenant Empire, it is very likely that they will come forward to prevent us from continuing the war with the Kingdom of Darbion. Under pressure, the end result is likely to be another armistice agreement."

Asuna's brows were also frowned upon hearing Neil's words. Because of the establishment of Tonysling, Asuna had already fought a war with the Kingdom of Darbion, and why the final result of that war would be like that, she couldn't be more clear.

Obviously, the situation Neal said is not an assumption, but a very likely fact. Especially with the acting style of the Millennium Covenant Empire, it prevented the growth of the Principality of Ryan while at the same time being able to force himself to put pressure on Sean and contact Cecilia. This was a tactic that would kill two birds with one stone. In the face of the Millennium Covenant Empire threatening to start war with the Principality of Line, the Royal Family of the Principality of Line will certainly not support their own war behavior.

Thinking of this, Asuna felt a little frustrated.

"This problem is not difficult to solve." William said suddenly at this moment, "We just need to find a way to get those messengers to the front line. ... At that time, we will have another scam and solve the messengers secretly. At that time, even if the Millennium Covenant Empire wants to forcefully intervene in announcing a truce, it will not be possible. Maybe, the three armies they plan to use to threaten the Principality of Lane will all be involved in the quagmire of this war."

Hearing William's words, Asuna suddenly felt a chill in her heart. She did not expect that the other party would dare to hit the Millennium Covenant Empire with all their ideas. However, after this chill, Asuna also felt the strong self-confidence and strategic advantage of the other party. At this moment, Asuna actually had a thought that she was inferior to him, so she quickly understood it. , This person is probably the highly regarded military genius in Simi's mouth, William Yale.

And even she has to admit that William's strategy is indeed the best solution. Although after that, the essential question about Cecilia will still be put on the table, but because of the delay of such a war, there is at least a way to drag it for two or three years. I can always think of new solutions.

"If you really want to develop to this point, then you need to solve the second bad news." Thinking of this, Asuna finally said again, "The first bad news may be delayed for half a year, but The second bad news is that your top priority is now.... If you don't solve it immediately, all your efforts will be in vain, and it may even become a luxury to start a war."

Hearing this, the expressions of Xiao En and others immediately became more solemn.

No matter how dangerous and troublesome things are, nothing is more worthy of attention than the dangers and troubles that need to be resolved.

"What kind of trouble is it?" Sean asked with some anxiety.