

Lord of War Vol 2-231

Chapter 231: . Sean's brutal experiments

Remember in one second 【】 , this site provides you with free reading of popular novels.

Among the mess and sawdust, a golden ball about the size of a baseball is lying quietly in the middle. ※Ww.xg.om※

Sean blinked with some confusion. When did he get this ball of light?

According to Sean's understanding of the system, all things obtained through the lottery system, except for experience points and proficiency points, cannot be obtained out of thin air. There must be a corresponding process. It's like getting the devil's hand in the first lottery. It was transported by the Demon Tower Chamber of Commerce. It did not appear out of thin air. Moreover, special drawings such as architectural drawings need to be drawn by Sean. Take effect.

But now, the pet that got the lottery appeared in Sean's hands out of thin air, which was a bit beyond Sean's expectation.

Just when Xiao En was a little dazed, the light ball lying quietly on the ground suddenly shook.

Xiao En frowned slightly. He didn't know how to deal with this unknown creature of unknown origin, unknown race, and unknown purpose. In my memory, the creatures and monsters that can be captured as pets in the game are actually not too few. Although most of them have no combat effectiveness or usefulness, Sean believes that he has seen a lot of pet types, so he To be sure, I have never seen such spherical pets.

No, let alone see, he has never even heard of such creatures.

"Isn't it the original product of Miracle Continent?"

This situation is not impossible.

Like elemental creatures, they do not belong to the creatures of the miracle continent, but belong to the existence of the elemental plane. At that time, if the player wanted to get an elemental creature as a pet. You have to find a way to go to the elemental plane, and only there can you get an elemental creature as a pet.

Xiao En's gaze still fell on the spherical creature on the ground, and when he saw it suddenly moved, he stretched out his foot and kicked it.

"Snoring!"

A faint strange sound suddenly came out from the light ball. Sean even saw the ball of light suddenly bounce, raising dust and dust all over the floor. However, it seems that because of the lack of strength, the bounce height of this ball of light is not very high, not more than Sean's ankle. But when the ball of light fell, Sean felt an extremely obvious shock, and there was even dust falling on his head.

"Huh?" Xiao En let out a soft whisper in surprise, then bent down and reached out to pick it up.

This time, the golden se ball finally showed more obvious signs of activity.

The moment started, Sean felt a unique pulse sign, which made Sean sure that this was indeed a life form. But when he held the ball of light in his hand, Sean felt a strange feeling, as if he was holding a heart. And it's a very powerful heart. Because of that strong heartbeat, Sean even had an illusion. It seems to resonate with my own heartbeat.

Soon, Sean realized that this was not an illusion. It's a real phenomenon.

The ball of light is imitating his heartbeat!

With every beat of the heartbeat, the light on the light ball is constantly shining.

The sparkle of light at the beginning is still relatively weak. There is a kind of flickering, like a lamp that is about to break. But soon, this kind of light began to stabilize, at least not as faint as it was at the beginning, and even faintly there were golden stars scattered, but the light was brighter, giving Sean the feeling It is the same as the ri light that is being turned on.

After about ten seconds, the light of the ball of light finally maintained a clear and conspicuous level.

If it was said that although the light ball had light before, but it gave people the feeling of lack of brilliance, then it is extremely dazzling now, even if it is only held by Sean, but if someone enters the room at this time If so, then at first glance, you will only notice the ball of light, not Sean.

"Guru!"

The unique voice that Sean heard before finally came out of the ball of light again.

Immediately afterwards, there was a sense of vibration in Sean's palm.

This is a kind of high-frequency vibration, but the source is from the light ball.

After a little closer observation, Xiao En found out that this vibration is not a physical vibration, but a spatial vibration—the light ball is affecting the area around Sean's palm in a way that Shaun can't understand. It's just that this impact is harmless. This can be seen from the fact that Sean's palm was not crushed by the vibration of the space, but the impact is inevitable. After all, this is already It is related to the stability of the surrounding space.

As a result, Xiao En suddenly understood why this ball of light was obviously soft in his hand, but his smash just now could destroy the entire desk, and even that jump can affect the entire castle. The reason for shaking.

But in order to verify this idea, the next moment Sean stretched out his hand and held the ball of light completely in his palm.

The sudden change seems to make this ball of light a little uncomfortable. The frequency of that kind of vibration has obviously become faster, which is obviously a struggle.

"Snoring, snoring!"

The sound of the light ball is also obviously a little rush.

"I don't know what you are talking about at all." Sean looked inexplicable.

"Snoring, snoring!"

This time, the speed of the sound of the light ball slowed down a bit, not as fast as before. But what really surprised Sean was that this time when the voice sounded, there was also a somewhat strange voice in Sean's mind. It was difficult for him to tell whether the speaker was a male or a female, but it was also not an electronically synthesized sound. If it must be distinguished, it's somewhat like a flat tone of speaking in a relatively open place.

But this voice clearly expressed a meaning: "Hurry up and let me go."

Sean showed a somewhat unbelievable expression, he did not expect that this ball of light actually had this ability. Before, he was still worried about not being able to communicate with this pet. In this way, no matter how powerful the ball of light was, it would be meaningless-of course, Sean had even wondered before. Does this thing have an IQ, but judging from the current situation, as long as this thing can communicate, then whether or not it has an IQ seems meaningless. Of course, if possible, Sean thinks it is better not to have an IQ.

"Grumbling Grumbling!"

The light ball made a series of rapid sounds, because the sound was so fast and so rapid that it sounded like a kind of noise at all. only. Because it is now possible to directly communicate with the light ball on the fluctuations of the Jing God, Sean can clearly understand what the light ball is arguing. Based on Sean's understanding of the text, the meaning of the word light ball is " You don't have an IQ."

"I have an IQ and it is not up to you to evaluate it." Xiao En curled his lips, "but I want to try it now."

"Grumbling!"

"What do I want to do? You will know soon."

As Sean said so, he suddenly raised his right hand holding the ball of light, and then fell to the ground fiercely.

I saw a golden light flashing suddenly, and then the entire Black Swan Castle shook suddenly, and gray sandstones fell from the top of the castle, and in a flash, the entire room was suddenly covered with a layer of gray dust. And Sean became extremely embarrassed because of this. Next second. Inside the castle sounded the exclamation of the maids and a panic of footsteps. Obviously because of this sudden shock, everyone in the castle became a little flustered.

The vibration stops after less than two seconds. This process is not long, but the vibration it brings is at least equivalent to a magnitude five or six earthquake. This surprised Sean a little. But what made him even more surprised was that at this moment, there was an obvious pothole in the place where the light ball was dropped in his room. The size of this pothole is like a baseball, just the area of a ball of light.

Obviously, when the ball of light was thrown by Sean in this way, the powerful force directly smashed the ground of the castle.

Heigangshi is a kind of stone with very high hardness. It is difficult for ordinary weapons to damage it. At most, it leaves some shallow marks. Only specially crafted high-quality weapons or magic weapons can damage this kind of stone. The stones are destroyed. And the ball of light can actually smash the black steel stone into a hole, which proves that the ball of light is also quite destructive.

And it's not just that. Generally, if something like a light ball is damaged, even if the damage point is penetrated, there will be cobweb-like crack marks around it. This is the common point of force area damage. But now this ground has only a pothole, and there are no cobweb-like cracks around it. This can also prove from another aspect that the light ball itself is not as simple as it seems on the surface.

But this way, it also fully proved Sean's conjecture: this light ball can affect the fluctuation of the surrounding space.

This kind of fluctuation will affect and interfere with the area touched by the light ball to a certain extent, just like the destruction of the desk just now and the pothole that was smashed out of the ground at this moment. And the reason why it did not cause more large-scale damage is that the impact of the photosphere on space is very limited, roughly equivalent to the size of its own volume, so that it can explain why there is no larger-scale damage on the ground.

As for the destruction of the desk, it is purely because of the transmission of power during the destruction, which is why the entire castle will shake.

It's just that Sean has one more question that he can't understand.

According to the spatial vibration frequency generated by the light ball just now, Sean's hand will be completely shredded when it comes into contact with the light ball, but in fact not only does not, but he can also directly hold the light ball itself, even he can I feel that the light ball itself is a very soft creature.

The ball of light soon flew back from the pothole and hovered in front of Sean.

"So you can still fly." Xiao En said as if he had discovered the New World, "That's fine, it saves me the trouble of picking you back."

"Guru! Guru, Guru, Guru! Guru, Guru, Guru!"

"If you can, do you really want to kill me?" Sean blinked, and he suddenly laughed with satisfaction, because the last problem he didn't know had been completely solved, "You mean, limited by some kind of There are rules that neither you nor I can explain and understand, so you can't do any harm to me?"

"Guru!" The ball of light flew around in the air, presumably to indicate that it is really angry now.

Sean looked at the ball of light, and suddenly smiled evilly. He thought for a while and stretched out his hand and said, "Come here."

I saw that the ball of light, which was still spinning quickly, suddenly stopped abruptly, and then began to fly towards the palm of Sean's palm, but it was obvious that the ball of light seemed to be trying its best to stop it. This happens because in the space around the photosphere, you can clearly see signs of extremely strong spatial fluctuations, which have even begun to produce distortions.

However, no matter how struggling the ball of light, it flew to Sean's hands honestly and stopped.

"Grumbling!"

The ball of light is still expressing what Sean wants to do. It's just that the voice that rang in Sean's mind this time has added a kind of human emotion. It seems a little scared and awe-inspiring. It seems a bit wronged and pitiful in conveying expression. It's a pity that this is a ball of light, not a normal creature, otherwise it might be able to sell cute things, so Sean might be merciful.

"Nothing, I just want to test how far you can fly with help, and how far away I can stay in contact with you."

While saying so, Sean had already opened the window in the room, then waved his hand and threw the ball of light out.

"Guru——"

The sound from the light ball this time, even if it does not need to be translated by Sean's brain, it can be clearly heard that it is a scream.

Chapter 232: .Guru is pitiful

The sudden earthquake in the Black Swan Castle, after the start inexplicable, also ended in an equally inexplicable situation.

However, few people have discovered that the entire castle has suddenly added a pothole. Of course, no one will take it seriously even if it is discovered. After all, the castle is very old. Although it has been renovated before, the castle can be restored. Many of the internal damages in the city cannot be repaired, because this kind of project is no longer a simple repair and maintenance, it can be regarded as renovation and reconstruction.

But the servants and guards in the castle were a little surprised by the circumstances brought about by this earthquake.

For example, in addition to the irreparable loss of the kitchen, another loss is the desk in the room of Sean, the owner of the Black Swan Castle. Many people are very curious, why only the desk in Sean's room was damaged, but the things in other places were intact?

In the end, everyone can only blame the poor quality of this desk.

Of course, some people still know the truth.

"So, the earthquake in the entire castle was caused by this guy?" Cecilia looked at the ball of light floating beside Sean in a little surprise, "How does it look like... a little depressed?"

It was nightfall, and the desk in Sean's room had just changed. It was temporarily brought from the old room, so this desk looked a little shabby. However, Sean doesn't seem to mind this depending on the situation. He is reading a letter sent urgently from Void City. The seal on the fire paint is Asuna's seal, which indicates that it is from Tonis Fortress. letter.

The letter was received by Cecilia, and it was precisely because of this that she came to Sean's room at this time, and naturally saw Gollum because of this.

"Yes?". Sean opened the letter. Hearing Cecilia's words, she raised her head with some doubts and glanced at Guru.

According to the "experiment" in the afternoon, Sean found that Guru is indeed a creature, and it is clearly a creature with high intelligence. After it has a resonance with the host, it can not only communicate with the host, but also completely communicate with the host. Carry out a comprehensive re-engraving of the template, which includes wisdom, common sense, emotions, and so on. So it's normal for Sean to feel Gollum's emotions clearly without looking, even what Gollum wants to express. In fact, Gulu was a little frustrated at this time, but what Sean couldn't understand was. Why can Cecilia feel it too? Is the magician's perception really sensitive to this level, or is this a certain bloodline ability unique to Cecilia?

In the Phoenix bloodline, there is indeed an ability to communicate with all monsters and creatures.

But when Sean raised his head and looked at Gollum, he finally understood why even Cecilia knew that Gollum's mood was wrong.

Although the Guru floating in the air at this time looks no different from what it was before. But the light emitted was much dimmer than normal, and the surrounding space was obviously a little shaky. It's like a normal person with the words "I'm very lost" written on the face. So unless it is blind. Otherwise, anyone who saw Gulu's appearance would not think this guy was very happy.

"What's your attitude?" Sean raised his eyebrows and took out the letter casually.

"Goo...Lu..." Gulu replied feebly, which was in sharp contrast to the fullness of Jing in the afternoon.

"Hey, the light is too dim, adjust the bright spot." Sean has opened the letter. Hearing the feeble voice of Gulu, he glanced at Gulu again.

But obviously, Gollum was very dissatisfied with his master, and it started shaking up and down in mid-air—of course. It is not a real shaking, but a high-frequency vibration to the space to achieve the purpose of shaking, at least it looks like this guy is shaking-and then gurgling shouts, these voices heard Cecilia's In the ears, there are naturally murmurs of completely unknown meaning, but it is obviously not a good thing to see Guru's attitude so intense.

"What is she talking about?" After all, Cecilia couldn't resist curiosity and asked.

"It says it's not a lighting appliance." Sean faced Cecilia, but looked much amiable, but when Sean turned his head to face Gulu again, his face looked very impatient, "I See if you haven't played enough in the afternoon? Why don't you fly a few more times to see?"

While saying so, Sean also raised his right hand.

Seeing Sean's movements, Gulu immediately stopped making those meaningless sounds and no longer shaking, but desperately exuding the light of golden se.

At this moment, the brilliance that erupted from Gollum was like a small sun. In Sean's room, I can even feel the rising high temperature. The room that was a little airtight due to the closing of the windows immediately gave Sean a feeling of being in a sea of fire, and he could feel it in his body. The water is madly lost.

"Are you trying to blind my eyes?". Sean snarled a little annoyed, "Let you turn the light up a bit, not to make you emit high temperatures, are you deliberately doing it right with me? I think you want to taste the taste of being buried in a cesspit."

"Guru! Guru!"

"Huh, if you don't want it, just be aware of it." Sean curled his lips. Even if he looked up, he couldn't see that it was like a grunt of the sun at this moment. The high temperature even scorched the tips of his hair. He felt It was as if he was about to melt.

Perhaps the threat of being buried in a cesspit was very effective. Gulu wailed his fate, and then readjusted the brightness of the light. This time, although the light he exudes is still very strong, it does not have that dazzling feeling, and there is no longer the feeling of being in a sea of fire, but the light is a little more holy. This This strange and familiar feeling made Sean feel a little puzzled.

Familiar, that is because Sean can be sure that he has definitely experienced it personally, but after coming into this world, he has never faced this feeling again, otherwise it is impossible for him to remember. And this is the reason for the unfamiliarity. Because he can't remember it, Sean thinks that this should have been felt in the game before, and the frequency should not be many, and there should be no impressive situations. Otherwise, it will not be unfamiliar.

This kind of illusion is only a momentary thing, and a low impression means that this kind of thing is not important. Since even the system directly rated Guru as an "unknown creature", Sean thought that he did not need to pursue the existence of Guru. Anyway, this guy does not seem to be of high value at the moment, so Sean refocused his attention on Ya This letter from Sina.

The content of the letter is not complicated. It just reminds Sean in a relatively obscure way that the messengers from the Millennium Covenant Empire and the royal family have arrived at Tonis Fortress in advance, and they will depart from Tony Fortress in about a month. Arrived in Void City after two and a half months. The letter also pointed out that the Millennium Covenant Empire had already been aware of the territorial ownership verification initiated by the Hastings of the Kingdom of Darbion against Pandaling. The reason why they arrived in Void City two months later was to stagger with the executive officer of the Peace Association. Of course, they did not want to meet with people from other churches. So from the point of view of the nature of the matter, this action of the Millennium Covenant Empire probably belonged to The secret operation, of course, does not rule out the other party's suspicion of taking advantage of the fire.

The content of the letter is not long. So Sean will finish it quickly.

"What did the Lord Marquis say?" Cecilia asked after seeing Sean put the letter down.

"The people of the Millennium Covenant Empire will probably arrive in the Void City in two months." For Cecilia. Sean has nothing to hide. And this matter had already been mentioned with Sean when Asuna visited secretly before, so at this time, Sean said very simply, "Their time was chosen well, it happened that we finished the settlement of the territory contract. The clerical thing."

Hearing this, Cecilia's brows frowned slightly: "They already know about it?"

"Never underestimate the intelligence-gathering capabilities of an empire." Sean said in a deep voice, "From the reminder of Asuna. It is obvious that the Millennium Covenant Empire is suspected of taking advantage of the fire. Probably it is to take advantage of our loss of territory. I pressured me to surrender you. At the price, I might get an official title and a relatively fertile territory. It is even possible to become a nobleman of the Millennium Covenant Empire."

Cecilia smiled: "It looks like I'm quite valuable."

"Yeah. The standard Bai Fumei." Sean also smiled, "The Millennium Covenant Empire is a good calculation, pinch the time to come to us, if it wasn't for Asuna's reminder to let me take the territory contract document If we get it, maybe we are really desperate at this time."

Cecilia thought for a while, and found that it was really the case.

The current situation of Pandaling is indeed chaotic.

Because of the previous military mobilizations, the Dai leader was in a semi-paralyzed state, while the Chiraff leader was close to the Isthmus Rift, so it was blocked from the beginning. All roads were blocked. These two territories were in a short period of time. The internal means completely loses the possibility of development, and in the near future, it will also be impossible to develop because of becoming the forefront of war.

In addition, there are two things that need to be dealt with now that the territories are urgently concerned.

The first thing is that Sean dominated the Great Rift Valley. This is one of the important business routes of the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance. With the current strength shown by Sean, it is absolutely impossible for them to let Sean dominate, although the demon event planned by Neal temporarily left the Chamber of Commerce Alliance out of time. There is no jing strength to toss with Sean, but the abyss demon of Enkos is obviously impossible to be caught, so the wrangling of the major churches and chambers of commerce will end sooner or later, and naturally they can free their hands to deal with Sean. So how to deal with the follow-up issues in the Great Rift Valley, this is what Sean must make a decision as soon as possible.

The second one is naturally the issue of competing with the Hastings family for the ownership of Panda. Because of the intervention of the madmen of the Peace Association, the troublesomeness of the matter is more troublesome than the first thing-at least if Sean really dominates the Great Rift Valley and does not return it, the Chamber of Commerce Alliance can only proceed. Some secret operations come to compete with Sean, and eventually some agreement will be reached, but the Peace Association is a famous lunatic in the whole continent. If it is proved that Pandaling is not owned by Sean, and Sean is still occupying it. If you don't leave, then the Peace Association will dare to come directly, and even Asuna will definitely not be able to keep Sean at that time.

According to the previous Asuna's information, the people of the Peace Association will arrive in the void city in about a month and a half. As soon as the assessment result comes out, Sean will only have half a month to pack his things and leave. And at this time. People from the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire arrived with a pinch of time, and the envoys of the royal family of the Principality of Lane put pressure on Sean. As long as he is a normal person who has tasted the sweetness of the lord and nobility, he will never return to be an ordinary and unknown person. , So Sean will definitely surrender Cecilia under pressure and interest. If the people of the Millennium Covenant Empire were even more ruthless, and then united with the people of the Chamber of Commerce to put pressure on them, and at the same time sent troops from the Millennium Covenant area to the Great Rift Valley, then Sean would really have lost his blood, and it could even be said. All the hard work in the past two years has been in vain.

Of course, all of this is based on the situation that Pandaling's ownership right does not belong to Sean.

It's just a pity. People in the Millennium Covenant Empire didn't know that Pandaling's contract documents had already fallen into Sean's hands, so this pressure method could not be effective at all. Moreover, in a strict sense, Sean is not a normal person at all. Even if Panda loses this territory, Sean will not be able to surrender Cecilia. After all, the reason why he would like Panda collar, Dayi collar and Chiraf collar. It was just for the excuse of starting a war with the Kingdom of Darbion.

However, everything at hand has been handled properly. The millennium covenant empire's pressure strategy cannot be successful from the beginning, so Sean did not take it seriously. His only concern is that if the Millennium Covenant Empire finds that Yin's tricks cannot succeed, it will use force to steal Cecilia, if this happens. Sean really couldn't stop it.

So, after thinking about it, Xiao En said, "Tomorrow you will return to Void City with me, and then you will stay at Void City. Unless I allow you, you are not allowed to leave Void City for half a step."

"Why?"

"Void City is protected by bass, only there you are safe." Shaun replied.

"Are you afraid that they will take me away by tough means?" Cecilia was also a little surprised.

"In addition to not underestimating the intelligence collection capabilities of an empire, you should also not underestimate their strength." Sean said calmly, "Believe me, if the bloodline experiment is really reopened in the Millennium Covenant Empire, they will arrest you. The thought of going back must be extremely strong, even at all costs for it.... What I am worried about now is whether Bass can stop those who have bad intentions, no... I am going to Hongye Town tomorrow to ask Andrew to ask ask."

As long as things involve Cecilia, Sean will always have a panic, not at all as calm and wise as before. Although this behavior is indeed a bit funny, every time Cecilia sees such Sean, she always feels very sweet, so she doesn't want to oppose anything, or that Cecilia actually enjoys Sean very much. This kind of tenderness and attention.

"Hey, idiot, the light is dimmed again, are you lazy." Sean suddenly raised his head and snorted to Guru.

Guru made a somewhat aggrieved sound, and under the pressure of Sean's Yin power, it had to readjust the level of light radiating from itself. But in fact, it is not lazy at all, it just feels a little tired.

"Don't treat Guru like this, I always think it's so pitiful." Cecilia glanced at Guru, and said sympathetically.

"Guru!" The Guru floating in mid-air made a cry in a timely manner, sounding like he was agreeing with Cecilia's words.

"What else can this idiot do besides lighting and heating?" Sean curled his lips, a little disapproving, because after an entire afternoon of trying, other than lighting and heating, Sean didn't find out at all. What other value does Guru have, even if it is used as a hidden weapon to throw, it is very limited, at least it is obviously ineffective at night, and it will definitely not be effective in the face of those powerhouses above the sanctuary.

"Grumbling..."

seemed to be arguing for herself, Guru once again issued a series of hurried sentences of unknown meaning. Whenever Gollum made such a rush statement, even if it had telepathy with Sean, but Sean still couldn't hear what Gollum was talking about. All he had to endure was the double bombardment of ears and brain. So in this case, Guru got Sean's slap in return.

"Speak to me!" I saw a golden light flashing, and the Gulu who was slapped flying by Sean was already embedded in the wall. This naturally caused another shock to the entire castle, but compared to In the afternoon, the vibration this time was obviously much weaker, and it seemed that Guru had already begun to control his strength.

"Sean!" Cecilia's tone had a scent of blame, but she quickly ran to the side of the wall and reached out to get Gollum out.

"Don't!" Seeing Cecilia's behavior, Sean screamed directly.

Gulu is born with a position, which will affect the space around Gulu, so that it can not only float in mid-air, but can even cause harm to anyone who comes into contact with the position of this space. The effect is equivalent to direct treatment. In the turbulence of the void. And as we all know, Void Turbulence is a kind of airflow that naturally comes with annihilation and belongs to xing. Anything that comes into contact with this airflow will be completely annihilated in an instant, and it is impossible to leave even a little residue.

The reason why Shaun can come into contact with Gollum is because there is a stronger rule between Gollum and Shaun protecting him.

But Cecilia does not have this kind of rule protection. If she tries to make contact with Gollum, then the whole right hand will be crushed and annihilated by the turbulence of the void in an instant.

However, the unexpected situation was staged at this moment.

Cecilia's right hand did not directly annihilate as expected, but grabbed Gollum through that level of space and watched Cecilia hold Gollum in her hand and rubbed her face gently. With the suddenly glowing look, Sean was also a little at a loss.

"It's so soft!" Cecilia's performance is almost like a child getting a new toy, with an unspeakable surprise on her face, "It's softer than cotton candy..."

"This..." Sean blinked.

"Guru Guru!" Guru made a sound similar to humming, which seemed to be a little triumphant.

But what the words meant, Sean could understand clearly: "You mean, as long as you agree, people other than me can come into contact with you?"

"Guru!"

"Huh." Sean snorted coldly, but he was obviously relieved.

Gulu lay lazily in Cecilia's palm, but he ignored Sean, but if Gulu could show his expression, then Sean could see that Gulu was also relieved at this time. Expressions. Others want to get in touch with Guru, but it's not as simple and easy as Guru said to Sean just now. At the moment Cecilia came into contact with Guru, Guru forcibly cut off the protection of her position, and then revised it. The adaptation of the position did not cause any harm to Cecilia.

As a creature with high IQ, and it is a re-enactment with Sean as a template, Gulu certainly knows the importance of this female ***** to Sean. If it hurts the magician named Cecilia, Gollum believes that he will never be thrown into a cesspool by then.

Chapter 233: .Guru and cotton candy [recommended ticket plus more]

The next day, Xiao En immediately left the Black Swan Castle and set off towards Hongye Town. Originally, Sean wanted to go with Cecilia, but considering that in the future, I am afraid that there will be a long period of time in Void City. Some things need to be cleaned up and taken away together, so he didn't go with Sean. Hongye Town, merged in Void City instead.

Anyway, in a short time, there should be no threat, so Sean is more at ease at this time.

On the third floor of the Black Swan Castle, Guru looked at the back of Sean riding away, feeling a little bit relaxed or disappointed in his heart.

Naturally, Guru is also very complicated about Sean's feelings.

As the host who awakened it, he was already its owner in the core sense, but Gulu found that he was not given the attention he deserved. This made Gulu a subtle negative illusion of the value of his own existence. In the core memory of its soul, the birth of each member of their clan will be extremely valued by the host, but in Sean, it has no feeling of being valued at all, which makes Guru feel a bit wronged and sad.

Just like now, Sean didn't take Gollum with him on the road alone, which made Gollum doubt his own existence value: "Is it true that I can only be a glowing lighting appliance?"

"Don't pay attention to that idiot." Suddenly, a somewhat immature voice sounded behind Gulu, which shocked Gulu, and the surrounding spatial fluctuations became a bit obvious and intense. "He is a fighting freak. The murderousness is so strong that it makes me sick."

"Who?"

Gollum turned around-in fact, even though Gollum looks like a ball of light, it is completely invisible, but there is indeed a distinction between the front and the back. Then, Gulu saw that a creature with white fluff like a puppy was struggling to penetrate a small hole by the door. From the point of view of its size, this puppy can drill half of this hole. The body is simply a miracle. Gulu just stared at it for a few minutes and couldn't see it get in. It had already begun to wonder if the puppy was stuck because it was too fat.

"What are you still looking at? Come and help me. Didn't you see that I am stuck?" Baise's puppy wailed, "I was able to get here easily before. Could it be that I ate it recently? There are too many things, have you gained weight again?... Come and help me, don't stay there and watch."

Gulu looked at the white puppy who was stuck in the small hole and couldn't get in and out with a bit of shame. After thinking about it, he flew towards the other side.

"Hey! Be careful!" Seeing Gollum flying towards him, the marshmallow suddenly struggled hard. Because he was too fat, his body was stuck. As a result, Gollum could only see its two front paws constantly waving. But actually at the other end of the wall, the two hind paws of the cotton candy are constantly waving, it looks a bit like a dog-climbing swimming posture, "The breath that emanates from you is just like that idiot. It's dangerous!"

Hearing the sound of Marshmallow, the speed of Gollum's progress was slightly delayed, but it quickly reacted. The danger Marshmallow said should refer to the influence of its spatial position. The inherent position of this race is indeed very dangerous in a sense, because the surrounding space is covered by the turbulence of the void, and anything that comes into contact with this turbulence will be completely annihilated in an instant. , Only some extremely powerful creatures can survive in the Void Turbulence.

Marshmallow doesn't know what Void Turbulence is, but it still instinctively feels the extremely dangerous aura on Gollum.

At the reminder of Marshmallow, Gulu slightly changed her position so that she would not repel marshmallows before approaching marshmallows. However, although this position will not affect the marshmallow, it does not mean that other surrounding material forms will have no effect. So Gulu almost does not need to spend any effort, just a little closer to the wall where the marshmallow is stuck. Soon, a bigger hole was created, so that Marshmallow no longer has to worry about his obesity.

If Sean and Cecilia are here, then they must be shocked by this phenomenon.

So this time, when Gulu came into contact with the material in this world, he did not cause a strong spatial vibration, which means that Gulu has been thoroughly proficient in the control of power. It took only two short days. From the very beginning, as long as Gulu had contact with the material world, it would cause the space to vibrate. Now, even if he uses his position to annihilate the existence of the material world, it will not produce energy overflow. The control and learning speed of this power, even the ancient dragon could not be so fast.

It's just that, for Guru, this behavior is also an instinct that comes from the core memory of the soul, so it doesn't feel that there is anything worth showing off or being proud of.

With the help of Gulu, Marshmallow could finally get into the room smoothly. It first sniffed the smell that permeated the room, and then frowned very humanly, showing a disgusting appearance: "It's really bad. Smell."

"This is my master's room!" Guru let out a protest.

"That guy doesn't care about you much, why do you care about him so much." Marshmallow said disdainfully, "You should just follow my master."

"Your master?" Murmur was a little confused.

"Didn't you guys meet each other last night?" Marshmallow said in a natural tone, "If it weren't for my master's affection for you, how could I come to you with the dangerous breath that emanates from you all the time? ."

Grumbling for a while, and then he realized who the white puppy was talking about: "You mean Miss Cecilia? She is indeed a good person. I was saved thanks to her last night."

"So, it's useless for you to follow that murderer." Marshmallow said with a sincere expression in the voice of someone who came over.

"But... he is my host after all." Gulu was a little entangled. Although Sean's behavior did give Gulu a self-denial illusion, according to the inheritance of the core memory of the soul, the existence of a family like it is resonating with the host. After the reaction, unless the host dies, they cannot replace the host, otherwise they will encounter very terrible rules and punishments, and may even fall due to this.

"I didn't let you change a host." Marshmallow looked like he hated iron but not steel, "It's just like the big guy in the basement."

"basement?"

"Oh, I almost forgot to tell you." The marshmallow smacked his lips. Seeing how it looked, it was obvious that he had eaten something before he came to find Gulu. "It is the second existence that has produced consciousness in this castle. , Lives in the underground of this castle. I met it before. It's really a big guy.... But its owner is still a child. Every time I see me, I always like to touch me. It's really uncomfortable. ."

"I think if you are willing to lose weight, maybe there will not be so many people wanting to touch you." Gulu glanced at the marshmallow-this is a real glance, because the marshmallow does feel a kind of Jing Shen wave swept across his body.

"What do you know, I am not obese, I am plump!" Marshmallow mumbled unhappy.

Gulu vibrates through the frequency of space, indicating that it is difficult to understand the meaning of these words by Marshmallow. From its point of view, the white puppy in front of her is covered with fluff. This fluff can not only reduce the impact of the impact on the body, but also can not play any defensive role, and although it is a four-legged creature, it does not. Sharp claws, this is also an expression of no offensive power. In addition, Gulu didn't feel any magical powers, elements, etc. on Marshmallow's body, and even the power of the ** is not. Very strong.

"Xiao Bai, how did you live to this day?" Gulu has a curiosity that is not inferior to normal people for things that he doesn't understand, so he asks simply.

"What Xiaobai, I have a name! My name is Marshmallow!" Marshmallow protested loudly.

Gulu looked at the marshmallows speechlessly, through the re-engraving of Sean's memory, so it is very clear what these three words mean: "Do you really know what marshmallows mean?"

"Isn't it just a name." Marshmallow yelled, "Your master gave this name. I also protested at the beginning, but my master also seems to think this name is very good. He always calls me that way, so I can only recognize it....No way, who will let my master always give me delicious food."

"Okay, this is really just a name." Gulu thought for a while, after all, he couldn't bear to tell Marshmallow that it was a piece of food in Sean's eyes. It felt that the blow was too big, I'm afraid the puppy in front of him. I can't accept it, "But I still think Xiao Bai is better."

"You are as troublesome as your master." Cotton candy curled his lips.

Gulu is a little confused. It is a re-enactment based on the host of Sean, so the thinking habits and other aspects are of course very similar to Sean. At least until its own personality is really born, its instinctive reaction will be more like Xiao. kindness. As for the existence of its clan, this kind of thing is also a common sense, but now Marshmallow says its behavior is incorrect, which makes Gulu once again doubt his own meaning and behavior.

But at this moment, even Gulu is not aware of it. The process of communicating with Marshmallow is actually accelerating the birth of its own personality. If its own personality is not born, then it will always be just a copy of Sean's thinking, rather than a real conscious creature.

"Speaking of which, I don't know your name yet." Marshmallow thought for a while and suddenly asked.

"Guru." Guru thought for a while, and found out that Sean didn't give it a name. He had always called it the same way as Guru before, and I don't know why this name makes Guru have a sense of intimacy, so Guru decided to keep it. The name.

"Okay, Gollum, I'm here to say hello to you today, because I just heard the murderer and my master say, remember to take you with you when you leave the Black Swan Castle, which means that in the future For a long time, we will live together." Marshmallow nodded with satisfaction, and then said completely as an elder, "As the first creature to be born in this castle, I But how about you and the elders of that guy in the basement, for...well, I don't know what your **** is?"

"Have you ever seen a light ball like me have different characteristics?"

"Such a coincidence?" Marshmallow thought for a while, and seemed to think that what Gulu said made sense, "I don't know what I am doing."

"..." Gulu didn't want to pay attention to the little white in front of him.

"But xing is not important at all. In short, you have to remember that I am your eldest brother. In our big family, you also have a sister who lives in the basement." Marshmallow continued, "But you have to It's very troublesome to enter that basement. I will take you to see your sister if I have the opportunity in the future.... Now, would you like to go to the kitchen with me to find something to eat? By the way, do you have a mouth? Eat?"

"....."

Guru suddenly felt that there was something wrong with his way of awakening, otherwise, how could he keep encountering such strange creatures? As for Rizi who will live with Xiaobai in the future, Gulu has already begun to consider how to avoid meeting with this guy, because it feels that this kind of idiot behavior must be contagious.

Chapter 234: .Diels in person

This is a bustling city.

Even at night, the chants of the vendors can still be heard on the street, and the laughter and singing from the tavern from time to time are even more deafening. Even if you look at the entire continent, there are few cities that are still so vibrant after night. After all, in this world, there are not many night lifestyles for entertainment and choices, so those so-called cities that never sleep except for the trading capital. No city really dares to claim to be.

Dils tightened his cloak, with emotion in his eyes.

This city is indeed one of the top five cities in terms of vitality among all the cities he has seen so far. The only thing that can beat this city is probably the royal capital of the Millennium Covenant Empire and those large-scale cities.

Looking back, Diels glanced at the city gate that was slowly closing. He entered the city 13 minutes before the gate was about to close. Following the trajectory of the city gates slowly closing, Diels looked up, and then he saw the nearly twenty-meter-high city wall, which is not particularly tall in terms of height, and the stone used in the city wall is also It's normal and there is nothing peculiar about it, but with Diels's current vision, it is not difficult to see that these walls have a lot of blank space and added space, which is a pattern that can be expanded.

"Ambition is really not small." Diels retracted his gaze and let out a sneer.

Regarding the construction of the Void City, Diels had previously obtained information from other sources, which was planned by the lord of Pandan, Sean Connery. This also means that the construction layout and related materials of the entire void city must have been provided by the lord, and after the city was completed, the original mayor was removed from his post, but by Sean Connery. Reappoint a person to serve.

But it is a pity that for the newly appointed City Lord Neal. There is no data record at all.

After all, no one knew who the lord Sean Connery was before this, and his identity as a pioneer knight was naturally far from enough for the empire's intelligence organization to pay attention, if it weren't for this time. Involving the No. 4 confidential document and paying close attention to this person who has awakened the Phoenix blood, it is impossible to put the attention of the intelligence department here, and he, as the commander of the intelligence department of the Millennium Covenant Empire, is even more impossible. Come in person.

But as things progressed, Diels discovered by accident that the situation in this territory was not as simple as he thought.

First of all, it is about the lord of this territory. Sean Connery.

According to the tracking of known intelligence, the origin and background of the lord are all mysteries. The only thing that can be judged and speculated is that the lord should be a Zenas. However, the family name of Connery also puzzled the intelligence agencies of the Millennium Covenant Empire, at least they were looking through all the family names of the Zainas Empire that were somewhat famous in the past century. The surname Connery was not found.

And if you want to track the family name or other information earlier, this project can be very vast. Even if it is to invest all the manpower of the entire intelligence department. There will be results in at least a few months. But is Sean Connery worthy of such a huge investment in the Millennium Covenant Empire? The answer is obviously no, so the investigation of Sean Connery's origins has been put on hold for the time being.

Under the circumstances that the lord itself is a mystery, Diels once thought that the people around Sean might not be able to obtain much information, but the facts surprised him again.

Because the intelligence department actually sent him information about William Yale, the commander in charge of all military affairs in Sean's territory.

In this information, Diels was surprised to find out. William Yale is actually a graduate of the private military academy in the royal capital of the Millennium Covenant Empire!

The Royal Capital Private Military Academy of the Millennium Covenant Empire is an extremely famous aristocratic college in the Millennium Covenant Empire. All students in this academy are the children of nobles, and it is impossible to admit any civilians into the hospital. The academy only teaches about military knowledge. Such as military strategy, tactical use, command skills, logistics, etc., any student who graduated from this academy is equivalent to directly holding a ticket to become an emperor's official.

In the military system of the Millennium Covenant Empire, more than 80% of the mid-level officers are provided by the Royal Private Military Academy.

According to William Yale's graduation information, his grades are really not good, but they are not particularly bad. Except for the sentence "has keen insight" in the comment, all grades are medium. Although he is a noble child, according to the information, he seems to be the child of the side branch. Therefore, a graduate with no background and talent like this wants to get a quick promotion opportunity in the military system of the Millennium Covenant Empire. This is almost impossible.

It's not hard to imagine what happened later: after two years in the army, he was punished as a victim of an officer's dismissal in a conflict between the border of the empire and foreigners. After that, the intelligence department carried out a tracking investigation for a period of time because of concerns that the young and energetic officer might do something harmful to the empire. It was not until William Yale left the millennium covenant empire that the intelligence department stopped tracking.

When Diels saw this information, his brows frowned.

Although the intelligence information is more detailed, the most critical information is missing.

According to the current intelligence collected from the Darbion Kingdom, it is clear that this William Yale is no longer the William Yale who just graduated from the Royal Capital Private Military Academy. Otherwise, judging from his graduation grades and related experience, it may be no problem to be a military commander in a territory, but to become the commander in command of all the military forces under Sean's command, it is completely beyond the scope of his ability.

After all, there is also a middle-aged man named Alfred Worst under Sean's command.

His most famous battle was just relying on thousands of northern barbarians to fight for thousands of miles along the southeast front of the Kingdom of Darbion, and finally successfully returned with two or three thousand northern barbarians. In terms of bravery alone, Diels felt that this man could even be compared with Oscar, but as to whether he could be compared with Oscar in terms of strategy and tactics, it was impossible to know because of the lack of effective intelligence analysis.

But even such a man. Actually, I have to obey William Yale, which is enough to prove that William Yale's ability absolutely surpasses others.

Diels can be sure that this change in William Yale will inevitably lie in the years since he left the millennium covenant empire to meet Sean, but this most critical information was completely lost because of the original neglect of William Yale. , Which made Diels some irritability inexplicably. At least, according to the information returned from the Darbion Kingdom, the private army of the nobles of the Darbion Kingdom who had blocked the entire Fissure Valley and infiltrated all secrets into the Chiraffs was originally planned by William Yale. With the arrangement, then the young military commander is qualified to let Diels set up an intelligence team specifically for him.

It's just that Diels always believes that with his keen intuition for many years of intelligence work. The secret battle that broke out in Chiraf hides too many keys. According to previous intelligence, he judged that William could never be the kind of person who would deliberately show his edge, otherwise there would not have been Alfred's feat of fighting for thousands of miles at the beginning, so in the battle of Chiraff, it must be hidden. Other very critical things.

Diels' gaze. I scanned the intelligence of the five people: Rena, Stalin, Aldolf, Nok, and Anno one by one.

But unfortunately, the intelligence information of these five people is also incomplete. Except knowing that Rina had been a knight apprentice. Moreover, except for a member of a mercenary group active in the Kingdom of Darbion, all other information is unknown. However, as for the current military affairs of the five people in their territories, the information is relatively clear, especially on the lists of Rina and Anno, which are distinguished by the key marks shown in red sejing.

These two people. One is currently the strongest existence in Shaun's territory-the lower golden powerhouse, and the other is currently one of the commanders of two troops with regular duli numbers in Shaun's territory. Although Diels didn't see where Anno's advantage was, he was on a par with Alfred and took over as the commander-in-chief of the Iron Wings. This is destined to never be underestimated.

In addition, intelligence materials also indicated that there are probably one or two powerful troops hidden in Panda's collar.

This has been confirmed by the Boulder family envoy of the Kingdom of Darbion. Although there is a lack of combat data, but judging from many aspects such as momentum, good equipment, morale, etc., the envoy that the Boulder family visited in Void City said that it is probably not inferior to the Tequila Black Guards, and the Dragon Tongue Even if the Lanhewei force is in the Millennium Covenant Empire, it can be regarded as comparable to the second-line Jing Rui troops.

This piece of information has aroused the focus of Diels's attention.

However, these pieces of information can only be regarded as trivialities for Diels, and the reason why he took it seriously was because he discovered that the intelligence collectors he had sent to collect information about the Phoenix bloodline had all been distracted. Secret execution. From this point of view, it proves that Pandaling's anti-intelligence work is carried out very carefully, and the anti-intelligence work experience in a territory can actually be compared with himself, a man born in an empire. This is not the same. An easy thing.

At least, even for the royal families of the Principality of Lane and the Kingdom of Darbion, Diels can send people to infiltrate, only to eat here in Void City.

It is also under such circumstances that Neal, the CEO and chief acting lord under Sean, formally entered Diels's eyes. Immediately afterwards, Diels discovered a phenomenon that shocked him even more. Anyone who tried to get close to Neil was secretly executed, and even a little feedback was too late. There was even a gold-level person in it. The strong.

Under such circumstances, Diels finally gave up the intelligence collection of the No. 4 Confidential Document, and instead rushed to the Void City in person. Because counting the time, Turman should have almost arrived in the void city, but until now, there is no information about the Phoenix bloodliner, which made Diels also had to take it personally.

Chapter 235: . Diels's play

The noise in the tavern did not affect Diels' thinking.

Born in a slum, he is very familiar with this environment, and it can even be said that he has long been used to it. For others, it is a very noisy environment, but for him it is a natural intelligence gathering point. Although there is a lot of meaningless content, there are also some more valuable gossips, and the only thing he needs to do is to organize the information he needs from these chaotic languages.

Of course, under normal circumstances, this approach is only suitable for relatively small-scale villages and towns. After all, there are usually only one or two such local pubs, and the intelligence will naturally be relatively concentrated. Usually, if you want to find the information you need in a city, you will definitely not choose to go to the tavern. After all, no matter how small a city is, there are at least several taverns, and the channels for collecting information will be affected. Decentralization, unless a lot of manpower is invested, this approach is purely a waste of time.

is just a waste of time for others, but not necessarily for Diels. Without such a skill or two, he would not have become the chief of the intelligence department of the Millennium Covenant Empire.

Sitting quietly at the wine counter, Diels didn't notice much, he just ordered himself a reasonably priced dinner and a glass of ale.

At this moment, he looked a bit like a down-and-out wanderer from a distance, trying to find a good opportunity here in Void City.

He doesn't eat fast, but it's a bit rush. It doesn't look any better than gorging. At least he's rude to eat. He will only drink a sip of ale when he chokes, and then hammer himself. He swallowed the food with difficulty in his chest. This meal. It only took him less than two minutes to finish the meal. With half a cup of ale left, Diels licked his lips with some meaning, and touched his pocket with his right hand, showing a bit of disappointment and frustration in his eyes.

However, his eyes quickly calmed down again, and it seemed that he was full of hope for life again. When the tavern owner walked up to him and began to clean up the plates, Diels took a sip of the ale glass, looking like he was drinking. Then he asked, "Boss, are you still hiring here?"

"Recruiting people?" The tavern owner was taken aback for a moment. He glanced at the young man with anticipation in his eyes.

This is a young man who is still full of vigor. The boss noticed that the young man threw the dusty shabby cloak at his feet when he brought him food just now. This little detail is not very noticeable. . But for the tavern owner who has to deal with countless adventurers and businessmen every day, it is a very clear message: this is a somewhat educated but very down-to-earth young man.

And such a young man, if he were not really desperate and hungry to the extreme, would certainly not gobble up his own dinner like just now, and of course would not have the courage to ask work after drinking a sip of ale. No matter how you look at it, this is a young man who has just set foot in society and is still very shy. Maybe something happened at home that made this young man have to come to Void City to try his luck.

Now including the people in nearby territories, it is very clear. The Void City of Pandaling is a new city. It has just been constructed here, and it is still in a blank reclamation period. If you can seize this opportunity to gain a foothold here in Void City. The future life probably does not need to be too sad. It is precisely because of this that many people come to Void City every day. These people are wanderers and leaders who live in other territories. There are even some bankrupt businessmen or down-and-out people.

Although because of the arrival of these people, Void City no longer needs to worry about population issues. However, the employment rate, which has become saturated in a short period of time, has also begun to breed some crime problems. Fortunately, with the return of Archon Neil, the security in Void City is now much better. At least after the deployment of multiple guards and the direct execution of some criminals, Void City is now beginning to restore the peace and peace of the past. .

The tavern owner is still quite optimistic about the somewhat educated young man in front of him. After all, if the Void City continues to prosper, it will certainly be of great benefit to him. It is a pity that he just recruited a person who seems to be more capable. This is already a full-load operation for his tavern, so even though he sympathizes with this young man, he still shook his head and refused: "Young man, You are a step late."

Sure enough, as soon as the tavernkeeper's words fell, Diels was very cooperative and revealed a little disappointed and lost ***** se.

In fact, Diels, as the chief of the intelligence department of the Millennium Covenant Empire, had already noticed a notice paper that had been torn off outside the tavern when he entered the tavern.

Judging from the traces of the paper remaining on the wall, Diels easily judged that the paper must have been a notice paper for recruiting employees before, and it was a gray mark after it was torn off. As well as the sticky marks on the back of the remaining paper, this paper should have been torn off within two days after being pasted. And there are no new traces of coverage on the paper, all of which indicate that the manpower needed in this tavern is full, so it is of course impossible for Diels to come here to ask questions.

But for this long-known result, Diels still showed disappointment, just for his next move: "Then... Then, can you provide me with a little information? I... I am really now. I really need a job."

While saying this, Diels took off his purse, revealing a determined gritted teeth, and poured out all the money in the purse.

Three silver coins and twenty-one copper coins.

The tavernkeeper glanced, his eyes already showing a bit of sympathy. With this little money, at most, this young man can only spend four or five days in Void City. If he can't find a job afterwards, he will probably really become a beggar. But what the tavernkeeper really sympathized with was not this. He was really sure that the young man in front of him was an inexperienced rookie.

"Hey, looking for a job?" A burly-looking man sitting next to him walked up carelessly, "I can introduce you to a job."

"Duer." The tavernkeeper frowned slightly, but he was glared at by the big man named Duer. He could only shut up angrily.

Diels was keenly aware of this action, and then his face showed a bit of panic, and hurriedly swept the money into the purse, with a smile on his face that was uglier than crying: "Thank you...Thank you for your kindness, I ..."

But Diels' right hand was quickly grabbed by Durr, and he snatched his money bag.

Diels' face changed drastically. He tried to grab his money bag, but was pushed to the stage by Duer. At this time, the two big men sitting with Duer also stood up. The three quickly surrounded Diels. Although the three of them did not do anything, the invisible deterrent was enough to make many timid people regress. The tavern was quiet for a while at this time, but after seeing that the troublemaker was Durr, the tavern was very The noise before it resumed soon.

As for the episode that happened on the stage. They have all forgotten.

"Duer, if you want to continue to drink here in the future, please stop." The tavern owner does have a good opinion of this young man, and if Duer is allowed to make trouble here, it will have some influence on his tavern. , So he immediately said, "If you don't leave again. I will go to the captain of the patrol."

Duer glanced at the tavern fiercely, then turned and left with a cold snort, but before leaving, he still gave Diels an elbow severely: "Stingy, you are lucky."

was so punched by Durr. Diels's face turned pale, but he only dared to be angry and didn't dare to speak. Looking at the money bag that Duer had taken away, he was so anxious that he burst into tears. But in the end. He could only watch Durr and his two companions leave proudly, and had no courage to catch up.

"Oh." For a long time. The tavern owner sighed slightly, "That guy is Goldie's subordinate, there is a famous villain around here. Although if you go to the guards, their behavior will be punished, but Goldie will definitely come to you. Trouble, unless you don't want to stay in Void City."

Dils pursed his lips, and didn't reply, his spirit was still a bit sluggish.

"In this way, if you go to the south of the city to find Rodo, you say that I introduced it. If you are lucky, you may be able to find a job." The tavern looked at Diels, and finally moved a heart of compassion, "Luo Most of them are well-known meat suppliers in the Void City. It is said that even the food in the Lord's Mansion is purchased from him. I heard before that he needs a bit of knowledge and education, probably to deal with people in the Lord's Mansion.... But whether you can win this job from Rhodo depends on you."

Hearing the tavernkeeper's words, Diels' eyes showed excitement and joy.

This time, he was not in disguise.

Intentionally, he just wanted to use the tavern owner to introduce a job as a condition to get himself into a legal identity, so of course he would have a great guarantee for his subsequent underground activities in the Void City. Because when he entered the tavern, he captured a key message during the short time he had just eaten: Void City is now mixed with dragons and fish. Although the increase in the patrol and guards has improved the security situation, in fact Void City is still in chaos and complexity. If something is out of the ordinary, it will naturally be noticed soon.

Judging from this point of intelligence, Diels probably knew why his men would have missed: In such a chaotic situation, coupled with the anti-intelligence work in Void City, they are also very cautious-only in this tavern, Diels discovered that two people might be engaged in anti-intelligence work. Judging from this, Diels has every reason to believe that the taverns located near the four city gates must have intelligence agencies belonging to Pandaling. Surveillance, if you are a little careless at this time, you will be spotted immediately, and if the current tension between Pandaling and the Kingdom of Darbion is replaced by Diels in charge of intelligence work, it is also There must be a mistake.

So it can only be said that Diels's subordinates are not learning skills but not jingling, but are completely regarded as a victim.

The spy investigation work has never been completed in a short time, so Diels urgently needs a new identity.

What he didn't expect was that his luck was indeed a little too much. He was able to get online from the tavernkeeper with the food supplier in the Lord's Mansion, which would save him a lot of espionage work. Because his purpose in coming to Void City was only to investigate who had the Phoenix bloodline. Judging from the known intelligence clues, Diels had actually locked down three people: Rina, Hina, and Cecilia.

Because of the lack of sufficient intelligence to establish data analysis, he could not be sure.

But if he can get close to the Lord's Mansion, then he believes that his work this time will definitely end soon.

While thinking about this, after thanking the tavern owner, Diels could not wait to leave the tavern. All his behaviors were very normal, and it did not arouse the two people in the tavern who were also engaged in intelligence investigation work. Notice.

On this point, I really have to say that Diels is an expert in this area, because the two sides are not at the same level at all.

Chapter 236: . Secret Talks in Hongye Town

It has been nearly half a month since Diels secretly sneaked into the Void City. At this time, it happened that Sean was heading to Red Leaf Town, and Cecilia had already started packing up her things and was going to the Void City.

Xina has regained consciousness, but obviously she has not yet fully adapted to the reaction of her body. It may take several days to one or two months to fully adapt to this change, but it is no longer a hindrance to Xina. Next, she only needs to gradually master and control her strength through continuous learning, and then become Xiao Another big help under En's command will come sooner or later.

Rina has rushed to the Black Swan Castle overnight.

There is currently nothing in the territory that needs Rena to be responsible. At least until the two matters concerning the certificate of the territory document and the visit of the Millennium Covenant Empire are resolved, the war between the Principality of Ryan and the Kingdom of Darbion will not break out, so In the next three or four months, I am afraid it will be the final peace period for Panda to lead. Rina's cavalry unit is now in the process of being reorganized just like the Cecilia Guards. This job was originally supposed to be performed by Clover and Rina, but for various reasons. At present, William personally took over, so Rina, who was free, rushed to the Black Swan Castle to teach Xina some martial arts first.

According to Sean and Alfred's consideration, in the next few months, Hina can learn as much as she can. After all, she cannot become the main combat force in a short time, so there is no compulsory learning. Require.

After all, Sean actually had other plans regarding the Crypt Cold Spider Queen, so whether Hina can become a female knight like Rena, Sean doesn't particularly mind. It's just that Alfred's daughter is full of hope for her daughter's future, and she also believes that her daughter will definitely surpass herself in the future. Judging from the current situation, Hina's potential is indeed higher than that of Alfred. —So in such a situation, Sean certainly wouldn't go to sweep Alfred's happiness. Naturally, Rina must train Hina strictly.

Judging from the situation of Rena's work at a glance, Hina's elder son may not be very good in the next few months.

After everything was arranged, Cecilia also set off for the Void City.

In addition to the thirty steel-winged Jing Rui soldiers along the way, there are also ten heavy cavalry guards from the pitch black wings and thirty Cecilia Guards soldiers temporarily transferred, plus Alfred Sitting in town personally, this luxurious lineup has the power to fight as long as it does not meet the upper gold-level powerhouse, even if it is the size of a hundred-man four-level army. It was also because of the peace of mind in his own territory that Sean did not accompany Cecilia this time. Instead, he went to Hongye Town to meet with Andrew. Of course, if he could borrow some more power from Andrew, then it would be better.

"no."

Andrew shook his head without hesitation, and Mianse also appeared very solemn. It was obvious that Andrew's refusal was not a joke.

"Why?" Sean couldn't understand.

"It's hard for me to explain the relationship with you. But the battle between you and the Kingdom of Darbion has completely exceeded the rules I can bear." Andrew frowned, and he really couldn't think of anything simpler. The way Sean explains the limitations of the world law, "I am different from you... You appear directly in this world, but I came to this world through other means. In essence, although you and I are both You do not belong to this world, but you belong to the existence permitted by the rules. And I belong to the existence that must be excluded."

Shaun still looked blank.

Looking at the appearance of Sean, Andrew grabbed his hair a little madly, but he still tried to bear the xingzi and continued: "If your eyes suddenly got a foreign object, what would you do? Do you think of a way to rub your eyes? How to get the foreign objects out?"

Sean nodded: "Is this the difference between me and you?"

"Not bad." Andrew said in a deep voice. "As far as this world is concerned, my companions and I are foreign objects. If discovered by the will of the world, we will encounter a series of troubles..." Seeing a somewhat disapproving look on Sean's face. Andrew had to remind him: "If I can call it trouble with my strength, that is the real trouble."

I heard Andrew say so. Sean's ***** finally looked a little serious.

He has not seen Andrew shot, but he has heard of Beth and Enkos shot, and both of them are Andrew's men, which also proves Andrew's strength from the side. And with Andrew's strength, it is said that it is troublesome, so from this we can see how difficult the matter is.

"If we are discovered by the will of the world, then we will be directly suppressed by the will of the world. The effect of this suppression is the rejection of the entire world." Andrew thought for a while and decided to reveal some secrets to Sean, "Once we are If the world rejects it, then we will not be able to get any power supplement from this world. At that time, our power will be one point less, and wherever we exist, it will cause many natural disasters. If you don't want this world to be If it is destroyed, then we must be killed...I mean, do you understand?"

This time, Sean was truly scared.

"But as long as there are rules, there will definitely be loopholes." Andrew was silent for a moment, and then continued, "Beth became the guardian of the Void City, which is one of the loopholes. The moment you learned to reanimate was attracted. This is also a loophole. As far as I send someone to protect Neil, it is another loophole.... But even loopholes are also subject to rules. We must be in It's safe to act within this rule. That's why Beth can only move around Void City, and we can only stay in this tavern, and the last time we protected Neil for you, we could only kill Neil. People's reasons."

Hearing this, Sean finally completely eliminated the matter of letting Andrew help to invade the Kingdom of Darbion.

But it's not difficult to understand when you think about it. With the strength of Andrew and others, if you really make a move, which country besides the seven empires can block this group of guys?

"But you can rest assured that as long as you are in Void City, no one can hurt Cecilia." You can see Sean's anxiety. Andrew still opened his mouth to give Sean a reassurance, "Of course, we can also give you some other help within the scope allowed by the rules.... You have now learned to requiem your soul, and if you go back to the Void City to find bass, he should be able to Teach you the second trick."

"But I can never let Cecilia stay in Void City for the rest of my life?" Sean was a little unhappy.

With Andrew's assurance, Sean believes that only bass is there, and no one can play Cecilia's idea in the void city. But once you leave the void city? If there is a war with the Kingdom of Darbion, Cecilia, as Sean's only magic power, will definitely go to the front line, if the Millennium Covenant Empire still sends people to attack at this time. Sean couldn't keep Cecilia at all.

And if there is no magic power, in the case of a national war, then Sean's army will really be reduced to cannon fodder.

"I have heard about the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire, but I can't help you much in this matter." Andrew thought for a while. Still speaking, "I heard that the opponent is oppressing with a gesture of preparing to attack the Principality of Ryan. At this point, I can ask Enkos to help you a little bit, at least so that the army will no longer become a threat. Other than that. Besides, the extra asylum I can provide you with is two years."

"Two years?" Sean didn't understand the meaning of this word.

"In the next two years, I will block all the sanctuary powerhouses who act against you or those around you, so in the next two years, Cecilia will be safe even if she leaves the Void City." Andrew nodded. . Continue to say, "After two years, you will have to solve the next situation by yourself anyway. I will not block any trouble for you at that time. And Beth will also leave the Void City, and you must find it for me. One thing...This is the condition for me in exchange for an additional two years of asylum. You can choose to accept, if you refuse, the current situation will not change, at least Beth will stay in the void city."

Hear the words. Sean's brows naturally frowned, and he began to think about the pros and cons.

Two years. Even if the peace period of the next three or four months is deducted, there will be a protection period of one and a half years. Based on his understanding of future historical development, this period should basically be able to solve the troubles with the Kingdom of Darbion, and even with his own participation, the war may end sooner. It's just that, two years later, Void City will lose one of its biggest protective charms. If someone wants to solve himself or William and others by assassination, then he can't bear the consequences at all.

But if he chooses this asylum, he will completely lose the power of magical checks and balances in the future war with the Kingdom of Darbion. Judging from his current situation with the Mage Guild, it is obviously impossible to get the support of the Mage Guild. After all, the Mage Guild has been offended so badly, even if the Mage Guild has always focused on interests, it will definitely not Choose to cooperate with him.

Andrew did not urge Sean. Looking at Sean's frowning brow, he knew that this guy was seriously thinking about the pros and cons of this matter. In all fairness, Andrew actually appreciates Sean very much. If it is not restricted by the laws of the world, he would be happy to help Sean solve these problems, but it is a pity that this world has never been perfect.

In the end, Sean still failed to make a choice in an instant. Andrew was not surprised by this result. He asked Sean to go back first, and then just send him a message when he decided.

And when Shaun left Andrew's tavern, Ablis and Nanali also came downstairs.

Looking at Andrew, who was in deep thought, Nana's brows frowned: "Why don't you tell him that you will fall asleep after an extra two years of sheltering him? And Beth's departure is to prevent him from getting infected. Too many auras of destiny entangled with us, thus completely becoming the enemy of the world?"

"Because I know that if I tell him all this, he will definitely reject my proposal." Andrew said calmly, "But if there is no such little girl, he lacks the magical power to check and balance with the enemy, basically There is no way to achieve excellent results in this battlefield. Although I don't know what he's thinking, I can feel his anxiety inside. Besides, if we want to go back, we must use his power, so no matter what No matter what, he must become strong as soon as possible."

"But if this is the case, we are likely to be targeted by the will of the world."

"Eswinter already knows that we exist, which means that we have already stepped into the trajectory of destiny. Then it is only a matter of time before the will of the world is discovered. Because of this, we must be before the will of the world can catch us. , Find the way home, otherwise, the dusk of the gods will be staged again."

Chapter 237: .Gerson's Plan

After leaving Hongye Town, Xiao En hurried towards Void City.

Nowadays, the situation in the territory has become more and more clear. There are few things that need to be decided by Sean himself. Whether it is agricultural development, government affairs, economic sources, etc., all can be regarded as on track. Of course, this situation is only for the two territories of Dayi and Panda. At present, the situation of Chiraf is still in dire straits, if it is not for the support of the two territories of Dayi and Panda. , Chiraf collar has long been a wasteland.

At present, both Neil and Rudd are all focusing their Jing power on Chiraf's collar.

This territory was originally given to Sean by the Baron Ronnies-now the Marquis Ronnies was given to Sean as a treaty for compensation for defeat.

But in fact, this territory is not really a precious territory. Judging from what is currently known, there are no mineral veins buried in the ground of the Chiraf territory, and the land is relatively barren dry land, plus temporary Relying on the Broken Dragon Valley Mountains, the mountains are bald and desolate, lacking creatures that can provide hunting and rocks that can be mined, it can be said that the Chiraff collar is a barren land.

Once, the biggest source of income in this territory was to provide supply points and rest points for the slave traps.

But since Sean implemented the strait rift blockade policy, the largest source of income in this territory has been completely cut off. In addition, as the main battlefield of the private conflict with the Kingdom of Darbion, the Chiraf collar was actually very severely damaged-a large amount of vegetation was removed during the war, and it was even more important for the arrangement of traps and the formation of a battle situation. Excavation was carried out by a large margin, so half of the Chiraf collar was filled with trenches and pits everywhere.

Today, the resident population of Chilafling in two villages and one small town is even less than 3,000 people. A large number of people in this territory have all flowed into Void City. Of course, this plan was also arranged by Neil. After all, Void City can accommodate 100,000 people living here. And of course such a big city will also need a lot of various facilities, so of course there will be many job opportunities.

Instead of letting these people cause possible riots due to Kiraf's barrenness, it is better to transfer them to the Void City.

But even so, Chirafling couldn't give up.

Because this territory is the most important key link in Sean's plan to start war with the Kingdom of Darbion.

In fact, even if the Chiraff collar is now barren, no matter how ruined and desolate, it has become the sweet pastry in the eyes of the Kingdom of Darbion, just because it is the best shortcut to the Gap Rift. In the past few months, the nobles of the Kingdom of Darbion have proved with iron facts. It would be impossible to break through the road to the Rift Valley by private forces alone, let alone retake the Chiraf leader.

At the beginning, those noble private armies who secretly infiltrated Chiraf led by private troops, but at first they just wanted to use force to teach Sean, the lord, a lesson, letting him know that as a pioneer knight, he is not qualified to compete with their Darbion kingdoms. The veteran aristocracy is on par. So they just wanted to conquer Sean by force at first. Forcing him to open the path of Chiraf to the fissure valley, after all, they did not occupy the name of Chiraf.

Because of this territory, it was originally one of the indemnities for Baron Ronnies and Sean after their defeat in the battle.

At that time, no one was aware of the importance of this territory, so even the royal family of the Kingdom of Darbion did not question this compensation, and many people even laughed at Ronnis, who might enter in the future. Newcomer to the military department. But now. No one could laugh, because they had already begun to condemn why Ronnis had to cede land and pay compensation.

If it hadn't been for the Chiraf leader to fall into Sean's hands, these nobles would not be as uncomfortable as they were in their throats.

As a kingdom that developed by relying on slavery, slavery in the barren land is the key to whether the kingdom of Darbion can continue to prosper. After all, this is a very important source of income. However, once the Chraf Nation was blocked, the Kingdom of Darbion was cut off from such a source of income-of course, if they wanted, they could actually enter the Ellison District from the Rios Forest in the Principality of Ekiri. .

just this way. The cost of the slave hunting team will be doubled, and this alone makes more than half of the nobles in the Kingdom of Darbion have to withdraw from the slave hunting business. And the rest of the other half of the nobles. Even if such a slave hunting team can be formed, it can only last for about half a year. If there is no harvest for more than half a year or the harvest is not enough to cover the cost of this slave hunting, then these nobles will also have to withdraw. The slavery business.

Under such conditions, there will be no more than 20 nobles who can still form slave hunting teams to hunt slaves in the barren land, including the five dukes, three princes, and the royal family.

But this is the case, unless you go deep into the hinterland within a thousand miles of the wild land, or you are lucky enough to catch the more popular goods, or just judging from the past slavery situation, these slavery teams entered from the Ellison District. The hunting of slaves in the wild land is basically a loss-making business.

And trading at a loss, what are these jingming nobles willing to do?

As a result, before not knowing it, the voice of Darbion's kingdom towards Chiraf's leader in war has become louder and louder.

Even, even the military units that usually restrain each other and displease each other, this time it is rare to keep silent together. This default attitude has made many nobles smell something unusual. They even think that the high-levels of the Darbion Kingdom have reached a unified accent. What is lacking at present is a suitable opportunity, or excuse, for this. Coming to the House of Lords in the capital of King Darbion, there is only one issue that is rioting every day.

When will he send troops to Chiraf?

On this day, the House of Lords is still in trouble, and the issue does not know when it will begin. It gradually evolved from "when will the troops be sent to Chiraf" to "a petition for declaration of war". At present, in addition to the five dukes, more than forty noble heads, including some marquis, have signed the petition. At the same time, there is also a series of long force distributions. The total force has been added up. As many as two hundred thousand people.

These are just private soldiers of these nobles.

The House of Lords of the Kingdom of Darbion has a layout similar to a ring field. According to the title, status, and status of the nobility, it can be roughly divided into four grades. They are listed from high to low on the seats of the ring field of the House of Lords, and in the middle of the ring field is a platform similar to a podium. Every nobleman who wants to express his opinions and opinions can stand on this position. Ziyu spoke.

At this moment, although the topic is still being discussed intensively, the young people who stand on the platform and give an impassioned speech no longer focus on playing in the battle, but have begun to extend to a series of logistical arrangements, even with justified reasons. , Carry out a series of strategic analysis at different levels.

A person wearing a black se windbreaker was suddenly walking around in the ring court of the House of Lords. For this aristocrat who was dressed in mystery and could not see his identity, many aristocrats who sat in the position showed expressions of disgust. But when the mysterious noble stepped onto the fourth column of the ring field. The faces of these nobles instantly changed from disgust to awe, because those who can sit in this position are either the agents of the five great dukes, or the agents of real power dukes or powerful marquis, and the worst level must also have Marquis of real power with fame and status.

In this aristocratic world where people with high class titles can crush low-ranking people. Absolutely no one wants to make trouble for themselves, so many nobles closed their eyes one after another, or pretended to be busy with other things, but no one dared to continue to look at this mysterious noble.

When the mysterious nobleman sat down, a middle-aged man in the blue and white se uniform of the king who had been sitting in the third column of the House of Lords also opened his eyes at the same time. He leaned back, and when the mysterious nobleman leaned forward, they could just start whispering. When the nobles who were sitting on the left and right sides of the middle-aged man in military uniform saw this move, the two men got up and left very wisely.

For a time, the surrounding area of these two people became a forbidden area that no one should enter.

Many people saw this mysterious nobleman talking to the middle-aged officer, some smart guys had already guessed the family of this mysterious nobleman.

Nugus.

Because of this middle-aged officer. The current leader of the real power faction in the military department, he himself is also a real power earl, Domingo Hastings.

A person who can talk to Domingo in this way, and even makes Domingo so respectful. There are only members of the Nugus family, and I am afraid that the status and status are not small. Otherwise, if it's just an agent. It is absolutely impossible for Domingo to show such a respectful god.

"How are things prepared?"

"Master Gessen, please rest assured, everything is ready." As a real soldier, Domingo Hastings has typical military attitudes in his actions, although this kind of rigid and serious behavior is not very demanding. The nobles like it, but no one will deny Domingo's ability. "The territorial contract has been prepared. Today, I will take the Griffin and drive back to the Tin Chiin collar. In a month, the Panda collar will become Your territory."

"I'm not interested in Pandan's territory, which is destined to fall into my hands." A yin flashed in Gerson Nugus' eyes, "I asked about that Sean Connery. Assassination plan!"

"This time, there is a golden assassin among the entourage. I will disguise him as my entourage. As long as the ownership of the territory is confirmed, they will have half a month to leave Pandaren. When the time comes, The manpower I arranged will start the assassination plan at that moment. If the assassination fails, I will also prepare a back hand. Recently, Void City has been widely opened to absorb the refugees. I have already let my next unit sneak in in batches, and it will be okay at that time. Organize an attack by bandits."

"Very good." Gerson nodded in satisfaction, "As long as you send Sean's head over to me, I will never fail to say anything about what I promised you.... But you have to remember that this Sean is only in the upper ranks. Silver, but according to the eagle's intelligence, he has the ability to kill the next golden powerhouse, and there are many powerhouses around him. You must plan more carefully and carefully. I don't want to see any mistakes."

"Please rest assured Master Gessen on this point. I do this kind of thing professionally."

Chapter 238: . Commonness of the Nugus Family

The royal capital of the Dabion Kingdom is located on the west side of the ridge of the Demon Dragon Ridge. The entire king is almost built around the mountain, and the royal palace is built on the mountain, with only technical content. In other words, the architectural art of the palace is not under the four major castles in the southern continent. □ Website: □ But this is a true symbol of the royal family after all. It is the capital of Darbion that belongs to the Kingdom of Darbion. It cannot be considered as a castle. Therefore, it cannot be considered purely based on the scale of the castle, so naturally it is not among the four major castles in the Southern Continent. .

The resident population of Dabion Buluo Cheng is about 300,000, which can only be regarded as a relatively small scale among the capitals of all countries on the mainland. But this is mainly related to the architectural style of the royal capital. Because it is built around the mountain, it is destined that the king of the Darbion Kingdom will not be able to expand, and even the addition will become a difficult task. It's just that, it makes the housing prices of Darby Ang Bulucheng extremely expensive, and the aristocratic class privilege status is also extremely high in this city.

The entire Dabian city was cut into six huge platforms with huge manpower. Except for the two largest platforms at the end of the mountain, which were used as the main buildings of the palace, the first platform and the mountain wall were the first ones. Outside the barracks that continuously became the garrison of the royal capital, the remaining three platforms were residential areas for residents, wealthy merchants, and nobles. And according to the different residential areas, the degree of luxury of its public facilities and the degree of rigorous guarding are also completely different.

In the city of Darbion, it's not that you can live in a noble house if you have money. But on the other hand, even if you are just a rundown baron, you can still own a house in the noble district. This is why so many people in the Kingdom of Darbion want to become nobles, and the number of nobles in the country is also the largest of all countries in the continent. The most reason.

At this time, outside the study of a luxurious mansion located in the fourth-level platform aristocratic district of Darbion, Gerson Nugus was knocking on the door of the room.

"Come in." Inside the study. There was a deep voice.

The tone of this voice revealed a kind of indifference, but Gessen was used to listening, so he didn't have any expressions. He opened the door and walked into the room after getting permission.

Sitting behind a desk is a middle-aged man who is about 50 years old.

He is not handsome, and it is not difficult to infer what he looked like when he was young from the outline of his face-even in his youth, this man is absolutely nothing to do with handsome. But he couldn't bear that he had a good family background, and he was still working hard. At least he didn't shame the Nugus family, so he successfully inherited the name of the Duke of Nugus, and of course he also married several charming wives and concubines.

This middle-aged man is the current head of the Nugus family and the Duke of Bonnes, one of the five dukes of the Kingdom of Darbion. Ashan Nugus.

"Father." In front of the Duke, Ge Sen also condensed his arrogance and yin coldness, and bowed his head slightly to show respect.

In the Nugus family, family affection is actually a lot of things.

Because of the desire for prosperity and victory, the Nugus family has always believed in the policy of the supremacy of strength. After being taken over by Ashan Nugus, the whole family also began to shift towards militarized discipline. After all, Yashan is a soldier. And without his efforts in the army at the time, it is absolutely impossible for the Nugus family's hands to begin reaching into the military department of the kingdom.

And I have to say that, under the strong and iron-blooded policy of Yashan, the Nugus family is now much stronger than the previous generations. This is why the Nugus family can now be compared with the Boulder family.

Asan Nugus, the Duke of Bonnes, looked at his youngest son—as Sean had guessed, although Kasem Nugus was the third son of Asan Nugus, he was actually He is ranked seventh in the family tree of his direct lineage, with two older brothers and four older sisters on it. But in the Nugus family. Even if you are a female sex, you can only be regarded as a victim of a political marriage unless you do nothing from the beginning. Otherwise, you have to contribute to the family to be able to continue to be named Nugus.

Although Sean had some guesses about the identity of Gerson, but because of lack of understanding of the Kingdom of Darbion and the Nugus family, he did not know that, now in the bloodline of the Nugus family, except for Gerson's In addition, there are only three people who are also recognized by the Nugus family-the eldest son, second daughter, and fourth daughter. As for the second son and eldest daughter, they have died in battle for the honor of the Nugus family, while the three daughters were separated from the family because they refused to obey the arrangements of the Nugus family. They have been missing for five years, but the only ones that are really interesting are the four. Female.

As the four daughters who have been married, they are actually twin sisters with the fifth child of Yashan Nugus. Only because the three daughters refused to obey the marriage arranged by the family, the four daughters were replaced by impostors as victims. Originally, the Nugus family hoped to strengthen the influence and status of the Nugus family in the aristocratic circle of the Darbion Kingdom through political marriage, but it is a pity that although this is a fourth daughter recognized by the Nugus family , But has always been against the Nugus family.

For this kind of revenge, Yashan Nugus, the father and patriarch of the Nugus family, responded with a disdainful attitude.

Until this time.

"Your failure in the Wildlands this time is not all your fault." Yashan glanced at his youngest son who satisfied him the most, and said in a deep voice, "An Qi has done too much this time....I A notice has been issued to the kingdom to officially cancel her Nugus family status."

Hearing what his father said, Gessen was stunned for a moment, and then he suddenly said: "Could it be that..."

"Andros is her person." Yashan said calmly, "This time your military plan in the Wildlands is very reckless, but the core idea is correct. If you can kill the lord in the Wildlands. , Then even the Marquis of Tonys is absolutely nothing to say.... But in fact, you are really only a small distance away from success."

"The role that my sister played in this case this time is..." Kasem was still a little unbelievable, "...is the enemy?"

"Not an enemy, but not an ally." Yashan shook his head, "Remember, she is no longer your sister."

Speaking of this, Yashan just pulled out a document from the desk. Then gestured to Ge Sen to read it.

A trace of hesitation flashed in Gesen's eyes, but he still stepped forward to pick up the document and read it through. As he looked through it, the **** se in his eyes gradually turned into shock, and then turned into an unspeakable anger se, apparently completely unable to believe the content recorded in this document.

"Originally, there were three thousand mercenaries in the army under your command. They were secretly transferred from the 3rd garrison by Ziegson. But because of Angie's informing the Boulder family, this army had no choice. Leave Broken Dragon Valley.... Don't resent your uncle for not helping you, he has done his best. This time, the incident has a great impact on him." Yashan said calmly, "Although your sister has been using her all these years Her influence interferes with my decision-making, but I don't blame her. If she can overthrow me, then I would be very happy to see this scene. After all, our family motto is like this.... But this time, she did It's too much. If she can't make your uncle free with her own ability, then she is still my daughter, but she shouldn't collude with the Boulder family."

Nugus and the Boulder family are foes for generations, and the entire Kingdom of Darbion knows this.

Any member of the Nugus family only needs to have contact with the Boulder family, even if it is a secret contact. Nugus will be punished by family law, and the serious ones will be executed secretly. This secret family law has been passed down from the generation of Asan's grandfather. After dozens of executions, no one from the Nugus family dared to contact the Boulder family. There is no way.

Ge Sen looked at the intelligence in his hand. An angry flame flashed in his eyes, and his left hand holding the document was tightly clenched, tearing the entire document out of wrinkles.

In fact, he never thought that his uncle, who was fighting for inheritance rights, would help him. Even the idea of the third garrison dared to move. He knew very well that if there was the support of the 3,000 troops of the Third Garrison. Then it is absolutely impossible for Sean to leave the wilderness alive, and he would not suffer such a heavy loss—for Gessen, the death of Silver and Wolf was the pain he really couldn't bear.

The more this is the case, the more it reflects the anger and resentment of Gerson towards An Qi.

Even people with closely related interests, such as fighting for inheritance rights, can support themselves, but why should their relatives and sisters who are related by blood drag themselves behind? The family instructions of the Nugus family are clearly written. If you want ziyou to take control of your own destiny, you must have an honor score worthy of the surname Nugus.

His second brother and eldest sister, didn't they all die in the battle because of this?

"This time, you did a good job in your secret meeting with Domingo." Looking at his son whose eyes were bleeding out of anger, Yashan became more and more admired, "Don't worry, although your methods are slightly extreme. , But this trick is really aimed at the lord of Pandaling.... If the Pandaling can be recovered successfully, then not only will the kingdom win back the face, but also the Boulder family will be slapped severely. The aristocracy of the kingdom will be grateful to you for this. This is human love."

In the beginning, Gessen was shocked when he heard his father knew about his secret meeting with Domingo, and he finally felt relieved when his father confirmed his grades. However, after hearing his father say this, Gessen realized that he had indeed overlooked a lot of problems. When he first came up with this strategy, it was only to retaliate against Sean, and he didn't think so long-term.

"How are things prepared?"

"Domingo has left the capital. This time, after negotiating with the lord of Pandaren, Domingo will also implement the assassination plan." Gerson said, "If the assassination plan fails, there will be follow-up plans, regardless of How the lord of Pandaren will never survive."

"If the assassination plan fails, the follow-up plan should not be implemented."

"Why?" Ge Sen was stunned for a moment, his face was puzzled, but his eyes were more unwilling.

"If you assassinated, then we can still find some excuses to shirk. After all, the territory has already been taken back. What is the matter for the lord? But if you continue to implement the follow-up plan, if you have a slight omission, you will be caught by the Tony. The Marquis of Si seized the handle. Are you going to go to war with that Marquis?"

Hearing that his father's tone had become severer, Ge Sen finally lowered his head and did not respond, but his eyes showed an extremely unwilling spirit.

Don't kill Sean, he really can't calm the anger in his heart.

Because of all these plans, Gerson did not consider it for the benefit of the Nugus family, let alone the entire Kingdom of Darbion. He only considered himself. In this regard, how similar he and his sister Angie Nugus are.

But unfortunately, Yashan Nugus did not realize this.

Chapter 239: .Third-Order True Eye

Since Hongyezhen had a close conversation with Andrew, Sean's mood had obviously become a little bit low, and even he himself couldn't explain why there was such a change in mood. But no matter what, he still has a lot of things to deal with right now, and all of these things are closely related to the future of his territory. For this reason, Sean had to fight Jingshen and continue to deal with these unfinished tasks.

"What's the situation with Chiraf collar?" Sitting in the meeting room of the Lord's Mansion, Sean squeezed his eyebrows, and then asked.

"If you mean military issues, then you should ask William." Neal's desk is full of various documents, which have completely buried him behind the desk unless Shaun stands. Get up, otherwise he wouldn't be able to see Neal's situation at the moment, but if judging from his voice, Sean would bet that Neil must have stayed up all night again.

However, for the long-lived Jing Ling, staying up late does not seem to have much effect on them. At least Sean has never heard of Jing Ling overworked.

"Where's William?" At this time, hearing Neal's words, Sean realized that he hadn't seen William in the meeting room today, which seemed a bit unusual.

In the past few days, Sean, William, Neal, and Rudd have all spent in the conference room. As the core leadership team in the entire territory, except for Sean, which can be regarded as redundant, the other three are the whole The core of territory development. Although all decisions about the entire territory are arranged by Neil, if there is no assistance from Rudd, many orders and instructions cannot be issued so quickly. It can be said that Rudd's important xing has begun to really highlight. .

As for William, the current development of the territory is not truly peaceful. The territories of the Dabion Kingdom adjacent to the Chiraff and Daye are all a little stupid, and these territories have implemented a border blockade policy—— This is a very disgusting policy. The border blockade prohibits the movement of people between the two territories, including businessmen, caravans, refugees, etc., which can slow down the economic development of other territories or even directly cut off. The economic rogue policy.

But for those who really like to use this policy, the strategic purpose is not simply to slow down or cut off economic development, but to create unrest. Cooperating with some incitement through border blockade can easily cause the deterioration of security in the blocked territory and even the occurrence of violent incidents such as riots and rebellions. At present, the situation of Dayi is relatively stable. At least with Anno and Steel Wings, it is completely impossible to cause riots and rebellion in Dayi, and according to Anno's feedback, Dayi Regular patrols in surrounding towns have not been interrupted, so naturally bandits and robbers composed of refugees will not have the opportunity to take advantage of it.

But the situation of the Chiraff collar is a bit special.

Now there are only two villages and a small town left in this territory, with a total population of less than 3,000 people, but in fact there is a bandit force composed of refugees with at least hundreds of people, and there are also small groups of troops secretly infiltrating from other territories. , These are a threat to the situation of Chirafling. Therefore, the current development policy and military mobilization for this territory have become important issues at the core of Sean's current development.

But when Sean asked William, the rustling writing in the meeting room disappeared instantly.

"What's the matter with you?" Neil finally stood up, revealing a face that looked thinner than before. "It's fine for you to be absent these two days, but what happened just ten minutes ago, you actually did not hear?"

"Ten minutes ago?" Sean was taken aback, remembering that someone seemed to be talking to himself ten minutes ago.

"Lord Lord." Rudd sighed helplessly, and then stood up from the long table in the conference room. "Lord William asked me to remind you that you have a meeting about military affairs in the post-ri territory this afternoon. He asks you to go to the small meeting room on the second floor after lunch."

After hearing Rudd's words, Sean finally remembered that when Rudd entered the conference room ten minutes ago, he said this to himself, but at that time he was thinking about whether those words Andrew said before had any special meaning, so Did not listen carefully. However, the afternoon meeting is indeed very important, but William is responsible and arranged for the specific situation. He can delay his attendance a bit later, but in the end he still has to make a final decision.

"Now they are in the meeting room?" Sean got up.

"Yes." Rudd nodded.

"Then I will take a look over there. As for the development of the government affairs of Chiraf, I will do as you say." Sean handed the two documents to Neal. It's best not to make too much noise within a month."

"I see." Neal took the two documents and nodded.

The first document is dressed in red se leather. It is instructed by Sean to Neal on the governance of the Chiraff collar. If necessary, he can use all the reserve forces including the current steel wings training camp in Panda Town. Right, including Alfred, Knock, Rena, Klov, Stalin, Aldolf, etc., must follow Neal's arrangements in an emergency. The second document is relatively normal compared to the first military transfer command. It says Neil can arbitrarily deploy the entire territory's power of attorney.

In fact, although Neil manages the entire territory's government affairs nowadays, the ownership of the territory always belongs to Sean, so it is natural to have Sean's signature and appointment. This is also the reason why Sean will sign the first document, because Neil and William are a one-of-a-kind arrangement, and although William's military strategy is taught by Neil, there are still some things that require rules after all. At least when William was still there, Neil could not mobilize the troops of the territory at will, he had to pass William's approval before he could mobilize the troops.

But in these days of discussions, Neal has decided to impose sanctions management on Chiraff, which includes a series of military operations. Originally Neil could naturally cooperate with William, but with the current instability of the Dai-collar, it is very likely that there will be some things that require instant judgment in the transfer of the Chiraff-collar. Of course, there is no way for Er and William to reach a reunification, so there is the red se document that Shaun has signed now.

After leaving this large conference room, Sean walked towards the small conference room downstairs.

This small conference room was built later, mainly to deal with some relatively private issues. Unlike the large conference room on the third floor, which is used for real diplomatic and business negotiations, at least the atmosphere is more relaxed. Some.

From the third floor, Sean quickly walked to the door of the small meeting room. At this time, he saw a dining car parked at the door, and a young man who seemed to be in his twenties was busy. He didn't seem to be too conspicuous, but I don't know why, when Sean just looked at this young man, he had a shuddering feeling, which made him feel a little baffled.

"Who are you?" Sean asked.

"Hello, sir." When the young man saw Sean, he was slightly surprised, but soon he bowed and saluted respectfully. "I am Mr. Rodo's worker. The kitchen in the Lord's Mansion is insufficient today, William Adults make extra meals temporarily, so I'm here to help."

"Rodo people."

Sean nodded slightly. He also had some impressions about this Rodo. After all, the food supply on the Black Swan Castle was also provided by this Rodo, so Shaun couldn't remember this person. But even so, Sean's brows still slightly wrinkled, because when he faced the young man, the shuddering feeling on Sean became more obvious, and he was sure that this yin's cold breath was from before his eyes. Emanating from people.

"What's your name?" Sean asked again.

"Stephen, my lord." The young man replied with a humble expression.

A golden se's light flashed in Sean's eyes. This is the effect of the real eye. Anyone who only speaks his name to Sean cannot escape the detection of the real eye. But this time, after the light of the real eye shone, Xiao En did not obtain a detailed data as before, which made Xiao En suddenly realize a bad idea in his heart.

At this moment, another electronic sound suddenly sounded in Sean's mind.

【True Eye (Blood Talent) has evolved to Tier 3, enabling hostile detection. 】

Almost after the sound of the prompt fell, a layer of orange-red se light suddenly appeared on the body of the young man in Xiao En's eyes.

Although it was the first time to see this situation, it seemed that Sean had already possessed the relevant knowledge, and at this moment he understood the meaning of this orange-red se light.

Distrust (hostility).

This result made Sean feel very confused.

What is "distrust (hostility)?

If you want to talk about hostility, Sean is easier to understand, but what does the previous distrust mean? If you really want to say it, it should also be that Sean doesn't trust the young man in front of him? After all, what the other party told him was a pseudonym, and only if it was a name that didn't exist, the True Eye would not be able to judge the other party's detailed data.

But at this moment, William in the small meeting room suddenly came out.

He glanced at Sean, his face was slightly surprised: "Why are you here?"

Sean turned his head to look at William, and smiled: "Anyway, there is nothing to do, just come over here to see the situation, you can also participate in the discussion by the way."

"That's it? That's fine." William nodded, "The meeting has just begun, and you just come here to save me the trouble of reporting to you later. ... Have you eaten? I asked Stephen to give you one. Here's a copy? Today's kitchen is not bad, and the kid Stephen is very neat, every time the food is delivered is fast and accurate, and the things are not cold. I'm thinking about how to ask for someone from Rodo. Come here."

Hearing William's words, Sean easily noticed the word "liso".

He knew very well that the Lord's Mansion did not have a kitchen. This was actually just a place for office and rest. In fact, at the very beginning, the Lord's Mansion did not plan to set up a rest bedroom, but later it happened that William was exhausted a lot. The reconstruction was carried out after the second event, but even so, the Lord's Mansion did not have a kitchen, so the meal time was always to order takeaways or simply go to nearby pubs and hotels.

However, for the sake of time and convenience, the Lord's Mansion also had a private kitchen and hired a cook. It's just that it's some distance from the lord's mansion, so even if the chef's cooking skills are really good, it is usually not particularly delicious when the food is delivered to the lord's mansion. It's just that Neil, William and others don't really mind this. One point, so everyone gets used to it after one come and two, and occasionally go to the kitchen to have a meal if they have free time.

But the young man in front of him who calls himself Steve can accurately deliver the food before it gets cold. This is by no means a "rapid" description. Especially the standard meal in the Lord's Mansion has thick soup, but Sean glanced at the situation in the small meeting room just now, and he found that no matter it was the thick soup or other dishes, there was no sign of spilling. This is by no means an ordinary person. Things that can be done.

"Indeed, I will be able to eat warm food every day in the future." Xiao En also nodded with emotion, and the smile on his face became more real.

This made Steve, who had been observing Sean secretly, slightly relieved.

From the moment when Sean appeared, Steve had a very subtle illusion. He always felt that Sean seemed to be aiming at himself, which made Stephen very wary. Because according to his self-recognition, he felt that he would never reveal any flaws. This has been fully proven through the past few days of practice. Even the two most brilliant people in this territory have absolutely none. See through his disguise.

Until this moment, Sean's face was filled with a soft smile, and Steven—the head of the intelligence department of the Millennium Covenant Empire, Diels was truly relieved. His current work is only halfway through, although his work cannot continue smoothly because of his inaccessibility to Rena and Hina, but the arrival of Cecilia also makes him feel a little hopeful.

He knows very well that espionage work like him can never be completed in a short time, so he is naturally prepared for long-term combat, otherwise he would not become a subordinate of Rodo, and would come to the Lord's Mansion to deliver meals every day. He just wanted to use this opportunity to see if he could get close to Cecilia. He actually didn't need much time. Even if only half a day, it was enough for him to complete the intelligence investigation work.

He had such a good opportunity today: at the moment in the small meeting room, he saw Cecilia.

But besides that, there were two other people in this small meeting room that shocked him a bit.

These two people are both dressed as priests, but one of them is obviously a priest with a knife—this profession Diels has heard about it, but it is the first time that I can see it today, and judging from the aura emanating from each other, Obviously he is already a powerhouse at the top of the golden pinnacle, and he is only one step away from entering the sanctuary. And Diels is very clear that the promotion of clergy is completely different from that of mages and combatants. As long as they are pious enough and possess enough divine grace, they can quickly complete the promotion, but the combat experience has always been three. The worst in this system.

Of course, this does not include priests with swords.

As a combat profession, the combat experience of priests with swords is actually not less, and in many cases it is even more tricky than some combatants. Judging from the aura of the mysterious priest with a knife, Diels believes that the opponent is definitely not a simple vase, but a priest with a knife who has actually seen blood and has been on the battlefield, but in this way, let Di Els couldn't understand.

Why is there such a strong man in Pandaren's territory?

Prior to this, he had never heard of a strong man in the Panda collar who had reached the upper level of gold, and the strongest one was Rina.

This kind of intelligence error made Diels feel a sense of crisis, because he found that both he and the Millennium Covenant Empire seemed to completely underestimate the Snow and Winter Churches propagating in Pandaren and Dayi. If this church has a golden power who is about to step into the lower sanctuary, then this means that the true **** behind this church is definitely not a **** with weak divine power.

But what really makes Diels unable to understand is why there are members of the church in this conference room at this moment?

If the priest with a knife of the Snow and Winter Church is alone, Diels can also speculate that the church is going to preach doctrine in Sean's territory, so it is necessary to negotiate with the lord about something that is beneficial to each other. matter. But when another church member was also in this conference room, the situation became a little more delicate, especially since this other church member was also the high priest of the Temple of Life.

Diels is not an idiot. Although he doesn't know who the high priest of this other life church is, the strong breath of life in the other party can never hide it from others.

This information was already in his mind the moment Diels delivered the food, and he was going to wait until Cecilia's affairs were dealt with before investigating.

Yes, although Diels was shocked by the accidental discovery in the conference room, he did not forget his own job: investigating the Phoenix bloodline.

So from beginning to end, Diels has been trying to find opportunities to contact Cecilia.

It's just that he didn't expect that Sean suddenly appeared at this moment. This is really a fact that made him feel unhappy. It's just that after Sean's performance, Diels's heart was stunned. He keenly discovered that after he said his name, there was a trace of distrust in Sean's eyes-that feeling was very subtle. , But Diels just knew that the other party didn't believe that he was really called Steve.

Diels could not believe that this would happen, because he was not the first day as an espionage agent. Although he has rarely acted personally after becoming the head of the intelligence department of the Millennium Covenant Empire, this does not mean that he will forget. This instinctive skill that brought him a reversal of fate. So Diels is very confident, or he has enough qualifications to be proud and conceited, absolutely no one can see through his disguise.

In fact, it is true. Neither the jingming Neil nor the cautious William found Diels' disguise, and even William deliberately included Diels in the roster of the Lord's Mansion, which means that if William really If you do this, then Diels will have the permission to enter and exit the Lord's Mansion-and Diels is indeed working in this direction these days.

If it weren't for Sean that would appear, and if he discovered Diels's anomaly and promoted the True Eye to the third level, maybe Diels would really give him a latent success. And once he takes root in the Lord's Mansion, he only needs to arrange his own manpower into the Void City, and then he can set up a spy team against everyone in the Void City and even the Lord's Mansion in a short time.

But now, things are naturally different.

After Sean discovered the hidden indirect hostility of Diels, he naturally paid attention to many details that were easily overlooked, so Sean can be very sure that this young man with a fake name of "Steve" is very The Lord's Mansion definitely has a plan. It's just that Sean is not sure what the self-proclaimed Steve is conspiring, is it an espionage sent by the Hastings family, or is trying to assassinate William and Neal's killer, or is it targeting Sisi? People from the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire from Leah?

The only thing Sean can be sure of is that this person has no intention of killing, otherwise Beth would have already killed him.

Just because there is no killing intent, it does not mean that there is no hostility. Sean feels it is necessary to talk to Beth, and then figure out what this "Steve" is making. After all, someone who can lurk to the Void City and talk to the lord The spy involved in the government is not something that everyone can do. You know, under the joint washing of Neil and William, many dark sides of Void City have been completely cleaned up, and after Rupi took over the spy work of the intelligence department, the counterintelligence operation of Void City has been very smooth. It was the last month that more than a dozen spies from the Kingdom of Darbion and the Millennium Covenant Empire were captured.

Of course, these people have been executed secretly. Anyway, neither the Darbion Kingdom nor the Millennium Covenant Empire will admit such things as spies.

"What are you looking at?" William noticed that Sean had been staring at Steve's back, and couldn't help but ask with some curiosity.

"That man is a spy." For William, Sean had nothing to hide, so he said, "Moreover, his strength is definitely not weak. The breath he inadvertently exuded just now made me feel terrified."

When he heard Sean's words, William was obviously taken aback: "How is this possible."

Sean was not surprised by William's reaction. After all, William was also in charge of espionage activities. If it weren't for the third-order real eye, he really couldn't find some details that would be completely overlooked. So, Sean told William about all these clues. With Sean's description, William's **** se has become more and more ugly, and his brows have been tightly locked together.

"About this matter, I will let Beth handle it." Shaun made a decision very simply, "Now, let's deal with another matter first."

"Alright." William nodded.

Chapter 240: .Pitfalls for the Church of Life

Putting the "Steven" aside for the time being, Sean turned and walked into the small meeting room.

In the conference room, there are already three people sitting at this time.

Cecilia, Xuefanio, and Hitley.

The three people obviously did not expect that Sean would appear here suddenly, so they were obviously surprised by the appearance of Sean.

"Lord Lord."

"Sean?"

Hitley did not have much dealings with Sean, that is, they met when he helped Sean deal with the injury. Later, about the life church preaching the doctrine and recruiting believers in Sean's territory, it was all done by Xi. Terry and Neal are in charge of negotiations. It's just obvious that Hitley, who has not been deeply involved in the world, is not good at these tasks. Therefore, only two negotiations were conducted. Hitley had been completely defeated. If it were not for the life church to send an emergency. Someone who is good at negotiation comes over, I'm afraid Hitley will even sell herself.

A future saint selling herself to Sean, this kind of thing looks like a very ironic joke no matter how you look at it.

However, for Xuefanio, this is not a big deal. Anyway, not only her, but also the goddess of ice and winter, Eswinter, who is nominally her ancestor and now her immediate boss, has sold herself and the entire church to Sean, so Xuefanio. On the contrary, Austria is very accustomed to this situation. When she was communicating with Hitley in private now, she even encouraged Hitley to sell her to Sean many times, and of course she beautified Sean to look like a god.

For Hitley, a small white flower who is not deeply involved in the world and has a pious belief, the lethality is indeed not light.

Therefore, after seeing the appearance of Sean suddenly, Hitley obviously didn't know what to do, but looked at Sean dumbly.

Shirfanio squinted at Hitley, but she started to laugh inwardly: "Old woman, I did a good job."

"It did a great job." Esther and Xuefanio have a direct blood relationship, so Esther can naturally feel what Xuefanio sees and hears. Although she was threatened by Enkos and had to let the followers of the Goddess of Life propagate the doctrine and recruit believers in Shaun's territory, it did not mean that she had to cooperate with the future saint belonging to the Church of Life, at least the saint Eiswenter would still be very happy to see anything dragged into the water.

Unlike Hitley and Xuefanio, Cecilia was really happy when she saw Sean's appearance.

Sean greeted Xuefanio first, and then sat down beside Cecilia before turning his head to greet Hitley. It's just that the latter's expression of Ai Ai really made Sean feel a bit at a loss. In Sean's memory, Hitley shouldn't be such a talented person. After all, the last time Hitley was healing him, he was decisive. The heroic posture really makes Sean a little unforgettable.

"Now that everyone is here, then we will start." It seems that feeling some subtle changes in the atmosphere in the conference room, William just glanced at Sean and Hitley, and then made a decision." Don't waste each other's time. After all, everyone's time is very precious."

Hearing William's words, everyone in the meeting room immediately calmed down, even if it was Xuefanio, who was thinking of pranks, he had to calm down immediately. Because the relationship between Ice and Snow and the Winter Church and Sean can be said to be a grasshopper tied to a rope, and whether it was the previous war with the Chiraff or the Daj, or the later actions in the Wildlands, Xuefanio and Sean are both born and died, and they are naturally somewhat different in their emotions. So before today, she had received William's reminder to know what the main content of today's meeting was.

In fact, only Hitley is the only one who knows nothing.

According to normal circumstances, today's meeting should not be Hitley, but a diplomat sent by the Church of Life to stay here temporarily in the void city. However, William and Neal did not notify the diplomat of today's meeting. Instead, they used "Hitley to be the main person in charge of the future garrison" as an excuse to let him come and participate in the meeting-whether it was a nobleman or a god. Or other people are all the same cunning.

Dealing with Hitley, this pure little white flower, is much easier than dealing with priests, priests, and diplomats of other life churches.

"I would like to ask Miss Hitley, if there is a war in the future, what kind of help can your life church give?" William spoke straightforwardly, without a hint of embarrassment at all.

Faced with William's direct opening remarks, Hitley was taken aback for a moment, but she quickly replied: "According to the agreement we negotiated with Archon Neil..."

"No, no, no." William shook his head and interrupted Hitley's speech very strongly, "That is the agreement between your Church of Life and Archon Neil on political affairs. What we are about to discuss now is about the future territory. Military issues... Government affairs and military affairs, these are two concepts, Miss Hitley, can you understand the meaning?"

Hitley was stunned for a moment, and she didn't understand the meaning of William's words.

Regarding the results of the negotiations between the former diplomatic officer from the Life Church and Neal, Hitley certainly also read it. After all, she was the head of the Life Church who stayed in Pandaling and even in Shaun's territory afterwards, not The person in charge of foreign affairs. According to that agreement, Life Church must pay Sean a symbolic tax every year. In addition, Life Church must also be obliged to treat Sean's soldiers after the war. Of course, this means Minor injuries, like Sean's last time, require the help of divine grace to be able to heal. The Church of Life has the right to refuse.

But if these are all government duties, what do military duties mean?

"At this point, in fact, our requirements are not high." William saw Hitley revealing some confused gods. He did not destroy Xiao Baihua's psychological shadow at all, and said simply, "I only hope you It is enough to be exactly the same as the promise given by the Snow and Winter Church. There will never be more stringent requirements than the Snow and Winter Church. After all, if we can't treat them equally, this will really damage our reputation."

When William said this with a smile on his face, Sean, who was still drinking tea, was directly frightened and sprayed out, and Sean, who was choked by the tea, let out a series of violent coughs. This action immediately scared Cecilia and Hitley next to him, but compared to Hitley, Cecilia, who was more intimate with Sean, immediately began to help Shaun smooth the back. gas.

After finally relieving Sean, he raised his head and looked at William, but he saw William's disgusting expression. Even Xuefanio next to him was like "What's the fuss? You are still a man. , No matter how courageous it is.

Sean swallowed a bit hard, he never thought that William was so bold and sent his ideas to the goddess of life with great power.

Others may not know, but William knows very well that the goddess of ice and winter sold the entire church and herself to Sean, which means that Eswintell must be in both military and government affairs. Unconditionally support and shelter Sean. And this is fully reflected in the clergy that is currently training for Sean by the Snow and Winter Church. According to previous reports by Rizi Xuefanio, this clergy is likely to be able to participate in the upcoming and Dabian. The war in the kingdom.

Although William only asked Hitley to make military affairs consistent with that of the Church of Frost and Winter, but not government affairs, once Hitley, the future saint of the Church of Life, nodded and agreed, it also meant that once in formal military operations, Life Church must also fight with Sean's army. Even if this is not possible, at least it must be done not to rescue and assist Sean's enemy forces during the war.

In other words, once Hitley nodded, all enemies who went to war with Sean would not be able to obtain assistance from the Church of Life, and could only be cured after the war.

Thinking of this, Sean glanced at Cecilia and Xuefanio. The two gods appeared to be very calm, and it was obvious that they had been angry with William a long time ago. Only Sean, who didn't know anything, was choked by tea when he heard William's bold speech.

This is a Yin plot against the goddess of life.

It seems that Sean's strong reaction caused Hitley's jingling, she was hesitant on her face, not knowing whether she should agree to it or not. But after thinking for a while, she turned her head to look at Xuefanio, and said softly, "Miss Xuefanio, can I ask about the Church of Ice and Winter and Sir Sean Connery. Are there any cooperation projects in military affairs?"

Hitley used formal diplomatic language, which means that her attitude on this matter is very serious, at least in the interest of the life church.

This attitude naturally caused William to give Sean a second glance.

It's just that, based on William's appearance, he did not make people feel uncomfortable or other expressions at a glance. On the contrary, he had a unique style. It's just that this made Sean even more helpless and frightened, so he simply stopped going to see William, but turned his head to look at Hitley.

"It's nothing." Xuefanio knew that if she didn't answer this question well or was vague, Hitley would definitely refuse. In this case, she couldn't drag Hitley into the water, so she was thinking. After a while, Xuefanio replied: "It's just to fight with Sean's army when necessary.... But most of the time, it's actually going out on adventures with Sean..."

Xuefanio keenly noticed that when she said "adventure experience with Sean", Hitley's eyes flashed, showing a stronger interest.

"...Like before, we went to the wild land together. Although it's dangerous, it's really interesting." Xuefanio smiled slightly and continued, "Of course, this is normal.... But if In wartime, I also need to be responsible for assisting Lord William in the battle. After all, if Sean's territory is taken by the enemy, we will also lose the right to believe in the territory, so for this, I think military assistance In fact, it is still bearable."

Sean glanced at Xuefanio. He didn't expect that even a clergyman like Xuefanio would lie—of course, it's not actually a lie. It just minimizes many troublesome problems and things. To speak. At least in terms of military assistance, Xuefanio only emphasized the assistance in combat, and did not explain the situation that once a war broke out, whether it was an external aggression or an internal defense of the Snow and Winter Church, it would be involved in the war.

This is a kind of literal trap.

Hitley's brows frowned slightly, apparently she hadn't made a decision yet.

So soon, Xuefanio and William turned their eyes to Sean. At this moment, Sean understood that he had to say something.

After thinking for a while, Sean coughed slightly to attract Hitley's attention, and then said: "Actually, I still hope you can stay here. Maybe there will be a lot of troubles to trouble you in the future, and I will also deal with you. You are familiar with a priest of the Church of Life, no matter what, I think we should be regarded as friends."

When Sean said this, Hitley hesitated a little, then nodded, and said, "Okay, I agree."

And almost as soon as Hitley's words fell, William directly took out a document and handed it to Hitley with a gentle smile: "I have drawn up the agreement. You swear by the name of the goddess of life. Just sign it."

Seeing William's neat behavior, Sean couldn't help but stunned again: Since when did this guy start Hitley's idea, even the contract has been drawn up, will this action be too fast? That's it.

As for William's actions, Hitley is of course a little skeptical, but the content of the contract is not too much, only two or three pages, and many of the content can be ignored and truly valuable. There is only one treaty, that is, what William said before is the same as that of the Bingxue and Winter Churches. Other than that, there are no literal traps and contradictions.

But Hitley didn't know that the content of this treaty was the real biggest trap in the entire contract.

After confirming that there were no omissions, Hitley did not hesitate to swear by the name of God, and then signed her own name.