

Lord of War Vol 2-301

Chapter 301: .What is the purpose of living?

In the castle of the Nugus family, the eagle walked cautiously in the courtyard.

In the entire Nugus family, everyone knows that the eagle is Kasem's impunity. This actually made the eagle feel very shameful at one time. But she could not resist this fate, because her life was saved by Gerson, and since she left the Thieves Guild and became a follower of Gerson, she gradually liked the feeling of standing at the top of power, if not like this. If so, how could she follow Gessen willingly?

It's just that she didn't expect that Gessen would fail completely this time, and it would still be the kind of failure that would never be the case.

The Nugus family has determined the identity of the heir, which means that even if Gerson wants to develop in the future, he must start from scratch. If it were before the failure of the Wildlands, Eagle still had a lot of confidence in Gerson's re-emergence, but now she really didn't have much confidence in Gerson.

Because she knows that the fall of silver and wolf does not mean that Gessen has lost two imprisonments.

Without wolves, Kasem would not be able to command even if he had an army, because he himself was not a general who was good at commanding an army. What's more, he has now exhausted all his army, and even if he wants to reorganize an army, he already has enough funds.

and losing silver, it also means that Gessen's subordinates will no longer have any high-end combat power to use. He even spelled out the hole card of the sanctuary powerhouse he had hidden.

Eagle knew that although she looked like a golden powerhouse, her combat effectiveness was actually very weak.

At present, the only card that Gessen still has intact is the intelligence team that she is in charge of. [

It is not very far from the courtyard to the small courtyard where Gessen is now, but the eagle feels that it will take a lifetime.

The reason for this reaction is very simple, because the eagle is actually considering leaving Kasem. Because she knew that Gessen had lost everything, she would never be able to stand up again, and if she stayed and continued to assist him, it would only be his * toy. Rather than continue to be humiliated here, it would be better to get out as soon as possible. It was good to leave, and Ying also believed that this intelligence group created by her could definitely give her peace of mind for the rest of her life.

Thinking of this, Eagle made a decision. After reporting the last task to Kasem today, she left the Nugus family. If Gessen wanted to * her during the report, she decided to be * by a dog, gritted her teeth and passed.

However, when the eagle turned the corner of the courtyard, she was stunned.

Eagle remembers that in this corridor, there will be guards from the Nugus family who will be responsible for guarding. Every time they walk through here, those guards look at her with contempt and disdain, even naked sex, especially After Gerson lost power. So Eagle actually doesn't like to pass by here, but the place where Gessen lives now can only be passed by this road, so she doesn't do anything else.

But at this moment, there is no guard in this corridor, only one looks ordinary, and it can even be said that a woman who is thrown into the crowd that no one will remember is standing a few meters in front of her.

Eagle knows this woman.

Hera Nugus.

And when he saw Hela, the eagle began to sweat.

That is fear.

Some people, no matter how ordinary they are, they will not hide their talents and talents because of this. And some people, no matter how handsome and beautiful, but if they are not supported by their talents and talents, they will be nothing more than a straw bag or a vase after all.

Hila Nugus, the third child of Duke Asannugus, is the most talented and gifted person in the next generation of the entire Nugus family. In the entire Nugus family, no one is not afraid of Hela, especially those who know what feats Hela has done, will feel very terrified when seeing her.

And the eagle happens to be the person who knows this.

"I remember you." Hela glanced at the eagle, and then said, "When I was lying in the wild, it was the game between you and the man named wolf."

Hearing this, the eagle's face turned pale in an instant, because it was indeed the game where she and the wolf teamed up. [

It was the only failure after Hela was selected as the successor candidate, and it was precisely because of this failure that she almost became all-in-one, and even almost died in the wild. It's just that she managed to break through in the end, and even retained a small part of the jng sharp power. If it were not for this jng sharp power, she would have been removed from the Nugus family's standings a few years ago. Well, how can there be an official heir today.

Looking at Hela with a calm face, the eagle immediately knelt down, and his voice was already trembling: "I'm sorry, my lord! I...I..."

"Each one is the master, understandable." Hela's voice is still very calm, "In fact, if it weren't for Angie's intervention, no matter how perfect your layout, it would be difficult to threaten me. But I also I should thank you. If I hadn't failed in that one, I would have learned a lot less and would make more detours."

Hawk did not dare to answer, but was trembling.

"Do you know why Gesen would become the person his father admired most?" Hela asked again.

Hawk still did not speak.

"Because he dared to design me, he almost made me die." Hela continued, "Father saw the majestic aura in him, so he decided to invest in him. In fact, with the help of a few of you His power has indeed grown very fast. No one in the family can compare with him except me, not even Uncle Ziegerson, let alone other brothers and sisters."

Hawk trembled more severely, and her teeth had even begun to fight up and down.

"Do you know why you failed so miserably in the Wildlands this time?" Hela asked again.

Only this time, she didn't seem to have any intention of letting Eagle answer, because after the question came out, she had already replied: "Because I learned the way you designed me in the first place, and I joined forces with An Qi once.... In fact, the biggest mistake of my father was to use An Qi as a substitute for marriage, otherwise the position of the next Patriarch would not be me, but An Qi."

These words belong to the secrets of the Nugus family. Anyone who listens to or knows these contents will definitely be executed secretly by the Duke of Ashan. And these words, Hela could say, but the eagle could not listen, and at this moment when she heard these words, the eagle was not only pale, but her hands and feet were cold. She even turned around immediately. The urge to escape, but she knew it was impossible. If she dared to turn around, she would definitely be killed on the spot.

"My lord, I don't know anything! I didn't hear anything! Please forgive me."

Hela, who didn't seem to hear the eagle's begging for mercy, still said to herself: "An Qi, as long as she can make the Nugus family suffer or fail, she will do everything. As long as he can destroy Nugus. Family, she would not hesitate at what price to pay.... Originally, her father still considered passing on the position of the heir to her, as compensation for the original marriage. After all, my father is not a fool, and he can certainly see it. An Qi's talents and talents were revealed. But after this time, his father fully understood that if the family was handed over to An Qi, she would be able to destroy the entire Nugus family in less than a month."

Speaking of this, Hela glanced at the eagle, and then suddenly let out a chuckle. .

The laughter is very ordinary, it seems that he is really laughing because of something funny, but when he hears this laughter, the eagle's heart almost stops beating. Because if she remembers correctly, according to the information she has collected, once Hela laughs, it means that she has completely fallen into a excited mood, and the result of this mood is often a crazy killing, or It is torture that life is better than death.

"I will not kill you." Hela said.

Hawk's heart sank to the bottom in an instant, and the buzzing in his head was completely blank.

Hella does not kill people, so it means to torture people. Eagle is the head of an intelligence team, and her intelligence team is more prominent than the intelligence agency of the Nugus family. Of course, he knows how Hela tortured people, saying that life is not as good as death.

"I won't torture you either." Hela said again.

The eagle froze for a moment, and then finally raised his head slightly. Although his face was pale, his eyes had an extremely strong survival.

"your name?"

"Eagle." Hawk replied.

"It's not your code name." Hela continued, "I mean you took the name of my untalented brother before."

"Higley Bernie." The mature woman named Eagle by Kasem replied respectfully.

"Sigley, you wanted to escape before, right?" Hela asked again.

Sigley swallowed, but did not answer.

"I ask you a question." Hela looked at Sigrid, God se was calm, but there was a trace of excitement and enthusiasm in her eyes, but Sigrid did not know what the source of this excitement and enthusiasm was.

"Yes."

"What are you living for?" Hela asked, "Think carefully before answering."

Sigley was stunned for a moment, and she didn't understand what Hela meant by asking this question, but she really started to think seriously. And Hela did not urge, so she allowed Sigrid to think about it seriously, but as time passed, the hidden excitement in Hela's eyes became more and more intense.

After a while, Sigrid finally said: "I live...for dignity."

"Then do you have dignity now?" Hela asked again.

Sigley was taken aback, and then she remembered Kasem's attitude towards her, the eyes of those around her, and many things in the past.

"The eyes of the 16 guards in this corridor have been dug out by me." After that, Hela no longer looked at Sigrid, but stepped forward. Her footsteps are calm and indifferent, just as calm and indifferent as her people, but from her body is exuding an extremely confident and powerful self-confidence and pride.

That is also a kind of dignity!

And Sigrid, just staring at Hela's back blankly.

It wasn't until Hela walked far away that another sentence of Hela finally sounded: "Are you going to be a coward for a lifetime and live without dignity, or follow my steps and raise your head to another era?"

Chapter 302: .The Boulder Family's Despair

War is not the theme of this world, but it is definitely one of the eternal theme.

Even if the Kingdom of Darbion did not pay attention to and pay attention to the south, the war between the two lords of Tinki and Panda has now ended for almost two months, and no matter how blocked the news is, it is impossible to continue. have no idea. What's more, if it is a trivial matter to say that the two territories of Tinky and Yederby fell into the hands of the lord of Pandaren, then it is not a trivial matter for the Hastings family to be completely removed from Dabion. NS.

This is simply hitting the faces of all the nobles in Dabion!

At this moment, in the Grand Chamber of Darbion's capital, a total of fifteen truly powerful upper-class nobles have gathered here, including the current king of Darbion, two princes, and five dukes.

"What do you think of this matter?"

The one who spoke was a middle-aged man sitting in the chief of the conference hall. He has short linen hair and no beard on his face, but his whole body exudes a heroic atmosphere. In addition, he is expressionless at the moment, and his voice is very low, and a surging breath of solemnity keeps coming from Emerging from him, it was obvious that the middle-aged man was truly angry.

This person is the current king of Darbion, Moro VII.

Darbion Kingdom has been passed down for more than seven generations, and Moro was not called by this name in the first place. It's just that the kings of the Kingdom of Darbion, named Moro, who have been truly inspiring to rule through the ages, and Moro yearned for that kind of domineering, so he changed his name to Moro, because it was the seventh to take this name. In order to distinguish him from his predecessors, he was called Moro VII.

But it has been eleven years since he succeeded to the throne, let alone expanding the territory of Darbion, and even almost lost the entire southern part of Darbion, and several frictions and conflicts with neighboring fascist kingdoms have been caused by The failure ended, which made Moro VII extremely upset. Now because of the problems with Panda's collar, coupled with the successive loss of several territories such as Dayi collar, Chilaf collar, Tinchin collar, and Yedby collar, even the Hastings family has been annihilated, which naturally made him even more extinct. anger.

At this moment, hearing Moro VII's words, the other fourteen people present had already realized some problems, but at this time, no one would speak first.

The people present are the patriarchs of powerful families. Whoever is not mixed with countless Yin plots and blood, no matter how young he is, he is bound to be a very clear-cut person. So at this time they are very clear that if the opponent is just a baron who cares, it must be a crusade. If the opponent is just a baron, it must have been out long ago, but the opponent can be wiped out with 20,000 troops in a month. Tin Chiyin's 30,000 troops and the Dabian 2nd Cavalry Regiment supported by the kingdom, the opponent must have strong military accomplishments.

Of course, the most important thing is that they all know that standing behind the baron is the demon of Tonys Fortress!

If this crusade is won, then of course everyone will be happy, but if the battle is defeated, the end can be imagined. Even if the demon is brought out, I am afraid that this will be the fuse of another war between the two countries.

And now, less than four years have passed since the last war between the two countries, the Kingdom of Darbion has not yet recovered its vitality.

If this were not the case, how could it be possible that an earl would be defeated by a baron's 20,000 troops?

In the war that swept the entire southern part of Darbion, Count Tinchin was one of the main forces in the war, but it is a pity that the war caused all his 50,000 troops to fight out. Later, these 30,000 horses were still in the army. It's only been added back in the past few years, and there must be a huge gap in combat power from before.

Except for Moro VII, among the other fourteen nobles, the three dukes of Nugus, Boulder, and Howard belonged to the southern aristocratic faction, as well as Prince Kazes Hodgedi and Romea and So The two Marquis of Raqqa and other six people, while the other eight are the Southeast Aristocratic Faction, the Northwest Aristocratic Faction and the Royalist. If it were not for the disagreement between Boulder and the other two dukes in the southern aristocratic faction, and the Marquis of Romea was also a supporter of the Boulder family, it can be said that the southern aristocratic faction is the most powerful in the entire upper aristocratic circle. .

But even so, after the war between the Principality of Ryan and the Kingdom of Darbion that year, there were only three dukes and Prince Cazes in the southern region who still retained relatively complete strength. Even the other nobles were Luo. The two marquis of Mia and Soraka are far from four years ago. And now this gap is beginning to affect the northeast of the kingdom. After all, when the war with the Principality of Lane was the first to go to the battlefield to support the lords in the northeast of the kingdom, this also laid the ground for their failure in the conflict with the fascist kingdom. Foreshadowing.

Under such circumstances, the southern and northeastern aristocratic circles definitely don't want to go to war with Asuna. They couldn't fight it in their heyday. Could it be possible to fight this kind of severely injured situation now?

They are not fools.

And no one answered, Moro VII's face became even more ugly.

"Humph!"

With a cold snort, he was hummed heavily from Moro VII's nasal cavity.

As if feeling the dissatisfaction of King Moro VII, Ashan Nugus suddenly said, "Your Majesty, I think this matter can only be washed away from our shame through war! The Lord of Bandar, Repeatedly provoking us, and even occupying so many of our territories, this is no longer a simple dispute between nobles, but a naked encroachment! If we do not immediately launch a counterattack at this time, then we It will be regarded as a bully by other countries, and then we will face the dilemma of being enemies on all sides!"

"I support the views of Master Asan." Jen Howard, who was sitting next to Yashan Nugus, said in a deep voice. There is no excuse to intervene, but this time the whole family of Domingo Hastings was uprooted. This brutal method is no longer a simple act of declaring war, but a disregard and humiliation of our Darbion Kingdom! Only war can wash away this shame!"

Hearing what Jen Howard said, the others present were also bright, especially Prince Kazes and Marquis Soraka.

As members of the southern aristocratic faction closest to the Ghazi Rift, they certainly know what the import and export of this wild land means. It has only been blocked by Sean for nearly a year, and they have completely run into deficits in their finances. If they continue, maybe they will start to sell things. After all, the higher the nobility, in order to show The difference in identities and privileges requires more overhead.

Before, they did not have an excuse to officially send troops to Panda, so they could only secretly send people to try to sneak into the Gorge Rift, but none of them failed. And now that there is revenge for Domingo Hastings and the regaining of the occupied Tinchin and Yedby, then this is an excuse to be upright and send troops to attack Pandaren, even if they were not tempted before, at this moment Has also been completely tempted.

After saying this, Jen Howard glanced at Ashan Nugus from the corner of his eye, and he nodded imperceptibly.

In fact, more than half a month ago, he had already secretly met with Ashan Nugus once, and that time he had his daughter Hela Nugus. In that meeting, through Hela's hint, he finally saw Sean Connery's next move and at the same time strengthened his determination to cooperate with Yashan Nugus. Today, the two of them spoke as the first move in accordance with Hela's instructions: first to arouse everyone's interest in war.

"There are many ways to wash the shame, and it doesn't necessarily have to be war." Duke Hatch Bould said in a deep voice, "And even with this as an excuse, if the other party agrees to return the Tinky and Yedby... "

"The words of the Duke of Tequila really reminded me." Before Hatch Bould finished speaking, Ashan Nugus spoke, "Your Majesty, I think our top priority now is to find a Hastings first. Family members, only in this way can we use "blood revenge" as an excuse. In this way, even if Lord Sean Connery returns the Tin Chin collar and the Yedby collar, we still have an excuse to continue the war. Go down!"

Hearing this, Boulder's brows wrinkled slightly, and he felt that something seemed to be completely out of his expectation this time. Because in his impression, even if the two old guys, Nugus and Howard, still retain a certain strength and hole cards like himself, after seeing the military talent of the Marquis of Tonys, they will never be able to maintain it. Such an optimistic offensive mentality, because it is likely to be a big defeat.

And once you provoke the Marquis, and your own war fails, then they will be greeted by a real invasion.

Everyone believes that the marquise is not a figure to give up.

Because of this, no one wants to provoke the marquise.

"That marquise is indeed a trouble..." The one who spoke was King Moro VII of Darbion, who obviously felt a little bit tricky for Asuna.

But Ashan Nugus knew very well that the thundering front of the legion that was the most important of the marquise now has only 7,000 people, and the combat power is definitely inferior to him. If this If the time is not to attack, then the best time to attack will inevitably be missed.

But at this moment, after hearing Moro VII's words, Yashan didn't even think about it, and immediately said, "We can claim that this is a blood revenge. It is impossible to get the support of the Duchy of Ryan, and I have referred to the case of the war four years ago. In the case of the marquise alone, its military strength could not pose a threat to us at all, not to mention that we still have the two princes of the tequila. A strong army, I believe that with the combination of these two strong army, even the marquise can never ask for any benefits."

Hearing what Yashan said, Hatch Boulder immediately understood that it turns out that these people are really calculating his army!

If his army were to go to war with Asuna's Thunder's Front, he knew that the result would be both defeats. As for winning Asuna, Hatch admitted that no one in his domain could do it.

"Your Majesty!" After understanding that the opponent was planning his own army and trying to weaken his own strength, Hatch could no longer sit still.

"Of course we will not let the army of the Duke of Tequila die in vain. We just ask the Duke to play a role as a restraint. Is this okay?"

Rack in the volcano grilled!

Haki's eyes were cold. He did not expect that Yashan Nugus, who had never been in his eyes before, suddenly became so yin and ruthless. It was not like a strategy he could come up with! At this moment, Hatch realized immediately that there was a very resourceful staff behind Ashan Nugus, otherwise it would never have been so well prepared.

Soon, Hatch knew who the man who was making suggestions for Yashan was.

Hella Nugus, daughter of Yashan Nugus!

He never expected that Yashan's daughter was so terrible! If it is in normal times, he still has a chance to excuse him, but on this occasion today, the other party made it clear that he would directly take advantage of the general trend, and just a few words would force him to a situation where there is no way out. And the thought that this woman would be the next heir to the Nugus family, Hatch Boulder's face became even more ugly.

Sure enough, before Hatch spoke again, Moro VII nodded: "This is indeed a very good idea, so let's do it! We must wash away this shame as soon as possible!"

Chapter 303: .The Flame Gun Smashing is complete!

Leaving the large chamber, Hatch Bould's face looked extremely ugly.

The Marquis of Romea just followed Hatch Boulder without saying anything.

The relationship between the family of the Marquis of Romea and the Boulder family, just like the Hastings and Nugus family, is an eternal and unchanging ally. However, the current Marquis of Romea, Bourne Baidi, is only in his thirties. He has been a Marquis of Romea for only a few years. It was the old Duke of Hatch that made him a Marquis of Romea. Otherwise, perhaps the Baidi family might break out of a civil unrest.

After all, the last Marquis of Romea died too suddenly, and even the heir was not determined.

Although Bourne knew that the reason why the old Duke Hatch made his move was purely to keep the Baidi family and the Boulder family firmly tied together, Bourne did not reject this point. After all, going back several generations ago, this The two families are family ties.

"Lord Duke." Byrne said in a deep voice, "After I go back, I will immediately send the Jing Rui troops of the Baidi family to reinforce it."

"No need." Hatch Bould sighed helplessly, his face looked a bit old, as if he was a dozen years old at this moment, "Your Baidi family suffered very badly in the last war, even if No matter how rich the background is, it can't stand such a toss. What's more, the Roman collar now has only one hundred thousand troops. If something goes wrong, you won't even have the strength to protect yourself."

Hearing this, Byrne was also a little silent.

As one of the six powerful aristocrats of the southern aristocratic faction, although the Baidi family is only a powerful marquis, its family heritage is no worse than the five dukes, or that can enter the other seven aristocrats in the upper aristocratic circle. Except for one who is only a powerful earl, the family background of the other six powerful marquis is not necessarily much worse than that of the five great dukes.

But since the war with the Principality of Ryan broke out a few years ago, almost all the forces of the Baidi family have been completely ruined in this war, and the same Marquis of Soraka is not much better. Incidentally, the two powerful marquis from the Northeast noble faction were implicated, but the loss was naturally much smaller than their Baidi family and Marquis Soraka.

Now that four or five years have passed, the Baidi family has re-organized a force of 100,000 people, which is pretty good. You must know that the Marquis of Soraka now only has formed an army of 80,000 people, and even the quality of the army is still somewhat different from the army of their Baidi family.

Of course, this quality only refers to the relative xing. If it is really to be discussed, then only 30,000 people can reach the level of the first-line troops of the Kingdom of Darbion, and the other 70,000 people can only be regarded as the level of the second-line army. At this moment, the Jing Rui mentioned by Byrne, of course, did not refer to the fourth-level army, but the 30,000 people equivalent to the level of the first-line troops of the Darbion Kingdom. This is the true core force of the entire Baidi family.

Hatch Boulder knew this too, so he rejected Bourne's proposal.

However, he also knows that only with the Tequila Black Guards and the Tequila Cavalry, it is impossible to be the opponent of the Marquis of Tonis, unless this time he pulls both the sanctuary strong and the golden strong in the family. superior. But in this way, the agave collar will inevitably fall into a situation of emptiness in combat power. If it is taken advantage of by someone with a heart, it will be a great loss to his Boulder family.

And the thought of this makes Hatch's face even more ugly.

The reason for his ugly face this time is not because of the face-to-face confrontation with Asuna, but because no one in the next generation of the Boulder family can afford his class!

You must know that even in the face of the cooperation of the other four dukes, Hatch has never been afraid, and sometimes even completely ignores them, letting them be the clowns.

But this time, when Hela, who was determined to be the next heir to the Nugus family, just made such a move, Duke Hatch felt an irreversible sense of despair. He knew that he was truly defeated in this confrontation. He also knows that this is just a jingle and deterrence from the opponent, otherwise the opponent can force him into such a situation where he has to send troops, and he is fully capable of designing a larger layout for him to directly face the Marquis of Tonis. conflict.

But just because he knew that this was a deterrent and jingle, he was sure that the tequila collar would definitely be affected in this time when the combat power was empty. The Duke of Hatch was also fully aware that when the woman named Hela officially came to the front desk of the Nugus family, then the former dominance of the Boulder family would no longer exist, because Bo No one in the Elder family will be the opponent of this woman.

Thinking of this, Hachi's eyes suddenly became very firm: You want to follow the general trend, I just don't do what you want!

"Master Marquis, I have a proposal here..."

Hearing such solemn words from Duke Hatch, Bourne's heart was suddenly startled. Because he knew that the old Duke Hatch had always taught himself as a half son, so he directly called him Bourne or Little Bourne in terms of address, but at this moment he actually called out the "Marquis Lord" who is very talented. , Byrne immediately realized the seriousness of the situation.

At this moment, in Panda's collar, dozens of territories away, Sean wouldn't know that the decision of the Kingdom of Darbion came out so soon.

Of course, it is impossible to know that history has deviated from what he expected at this moment.

also won't know that the enemy he created for himself, Gerson Nugus, has been secretly assassinated by his forbidden and now Sigley Bernie, who has now regained his official name.

A golden powerhouse from a thieves' guild who is good at hiding and sneaking but not good at frontal combat. What else could he be besides being an assassin-type profession? It's just a pity that Ge Sen never really paid attention to the woman she was called an eagle at the beginning, and she didn't even know the means by which she would assassinate.

If Sean knew that he was staring at him now by a woman named Hela Nugus, and this woman had just forced the old and powerful nobleman, the Boulder family of the Duke of Tequila, to a desperate place. , Then Sean would never be so careless.

At the moment when the entire Kingdom of Darbion was mobilized due to the decision of Moro VII and the entire southern aristocratic faction had begun to mobilize, Sean was devoting all his attention to the production of Flame Gun Shard.

After thirteen days of melting, the extremely cold ice rock finally turned into a pool of liquid.

This liquid is ru white, it looks very viscous, and the strange thing is that there is no high temperature emitted, and some are just bursts of cold. However, Sean knew that this thing was dangerous now. Although it seemed to have no temperature, its internal temperature was actually more than one thousand degrees. Anything touched it would melt.

Unlike the ru white se viscous liquid of the extremely cold ice stone, the fire core black rock turns into a high-temperature liquid with a blackish metallic luster on it, which looks more beautiful than the liquid of the extremely cold ice stone. many. Of course, this thing is also very dangerous, and its temperature is higher than that of the extremely cold ice stone.

Since these two ores have been smelted, the next step is to pour them into the gray and white stone for neutralization.

The sintered gray shadow white stone completely becomes a transparent liquid without se, and there is no temperature, it looks no different from clear water.

After opening the real eye, Sean poured the liquid from the melting of the extremely cold ice stone.

At this moment, a white mist appeared instantly. Because of the preparation, Xiao En was not hurt by the white mist. When these liquids were poured, the liquid that was originally transparent and without the gray shadow white stone melted immediately turned into a pure white, and began to exude a burst of severe cold; and this time, Xiao En did not hesitate anymore, directly. Pour the liquid from the smelt of the black rock in the heart of the fire into this pure white liquid.

If anyone knows that Sean has mixed the extremely cold ice stone and the black rock of the heart of the fire, they must scream away immediately.

Only at this moment, the imaginary big explosion did not appear, and even the mist that erupted did not appear. Everything seemed unbelievably calm. Only Sean knows that this is normal. If something goes wrong, then a black mist will pop out the moment he pours in, and then he really wants to run away immediately.

When these two extremely repellent liquids are mixed together, the original pure white se liquid immediately becomes a piece of black se, but there are many white se star points inside, and even on the bottom se of the black se There is also a faint metallic luster of light red se, which looks very beautiful like a starry sky.

The shards in the smashing emptiness of the Yan Gun originated from here.

And seeing this starry sky-like beauty appeared, Xiao En already knew that the liquids of these two magic ore had been completely mixed.

Without any hesitation, Sean immediately put the original tip of the gun into a mold again.

In the past month or so, in addition to preparing materials and various purifications, Sean has been constantly tempering the tip of the gun that had been made before, and knocking out all the impurities inside. Therefore, when the tip of the gun is placed in the mold, it is obviously more than two or three smaller than the mold. After that, Xiao En poured the star-like liquid directly into this mold-the ore liquid formed by the fusion of the extremely cold ice stone and the black rock of the fire core. The biggest advantage is that it does not require purification and other steps.

After all these liquids are poured into the mold, the tip of the gun is completely invisible.

The subsequent steps are no different from ordinary blacksmith forging. After the liquid in the mold cools, it performs secondary quenching and cauterization to form a fixed shape, and then Sean creates a plastic mouth and mounts it on the gun handle, because it was previously used Because of the magic vine grass, so this stick is very strong, there is no need to worry that the long spear will be separated due to the distance of the battle in the battle, and also because of the magic vine grass, this gun handle is made of metal than ordinary The handle of the gun is even harder.

At this time, after the tip of the gun and the handle of the gun are installed together, the Yan Gun Broken Hole can be regarded as a real embryonic form.

At this time, Xiao En opened the cover that was covered a month ago, took out the heart of the flame tree, and then smashed it forcefully, only to hear a "crack", and the blood sand that was poured into the heart of the tree before was completely The powder that turned into a small cluster of purple-red se fell on the plate that Sean had prepared. As soon as these powders encountered the air, a purple flame suddenly appeared, and the entire blacksmith's shop became extremely hot in an instant.

At this moment, Sean didn't dare to neglect, and immediately put the body of the spear on the flame to burn it.

Soon, the weird scene appeared.

The burning purple flames soon began to attach to the gun head, and as the flames burned, the purple flames on the plate became smaller and smaller. After about half an hour, there was no more flame and powder of purple se on the plate, but there was a layer of purple se streamer shining on the tip of the spear.

Seeing this, Xiao En finally exhaled. He knew that when he was here, Yan Lance Broken Kong was truly finished.

However, he still doesn't know what the specific genus is, because it will only be displayed after the weapon is polished and the front is opened.

But there is one thing he can be sure of, that is, Yan Lance Shattered Kong is definitely a gold-level magic weapon!

Thinking of this, Xiao En could no longer contain the excitement in his heart, and immediately waved the hammer, and it fell toward the gun head. Because he knows that this step is actually just a cutscene, as long as his hammer is dropped, the true genus of Yanqiang Broken Kong will immediately appear in his true eyes!

"锵!"

The hammer falls.

A bright light burst out from the spear in an instant!

Chapter 304: .Unexpected surprise [first more]

This is a dark red long gun. Although the gun body is not made of metal, the shiny metallic luster on the gun body also shows that its hardness is not worse than that of ordinary metal, which can effectively prevent the enemy from cutting. The gun body was broken and the weapon was scrapped.

Of course, the most gorgeous thing is the tip of this long gun.

The spear head is a rhombus with four blood grooves, which looks no different from the spear head of a normal long spear. However, there are obvious differences in its seize. First, the overall face of the gun head is dark red, with white star points on it, which looks like the star dome of the abyss, and even looks roughly. I thought this spear head was made from the Abyss Star Stone Mine. In addition, there is still a gleam of purple se light flowing at the tip of the gun, but the light is not very obvious, and it is difficult to find if you don't look closely.

This long spear is naturally the flame spear that Shaun created!

The Flame Gun Broken Kong was not made by Sean according to the weapon forging formula he mastered, but was completely made by him, like the Flame Lion's fangs. Because if this is not the case, he will not be able to create gold-level magic equipment. After all, he has invested all his proficiency points in skills before, and he has hardly invested in forging proficiency points, even if he has been there for a long time. He made a variety of equipment and practiced hands, but the progress of burning proficiency was still relatively slow. At present, he can only create silver-level magic weapons. This is why he did not dare to complete the flame lion fangs. .

It's just that since Sean realized that this world is a real world, and not his world that can't go beyond the limits of the program, no matter how high it is, Sean has completely understood that he doesn't need to follow everything. The game is set by the program.

With real eyes and rich forging experience in the game, Sean feels that he can create brand new equipment.

In fact, through the forging of Yan Lance Shattered Air this time, Sean knew that he had succeeded.

No one knows better than him what this kind of success means!

This means that the limitation that players could not build epic-level equipment in the game at the beginning is gone here! As long as he has good enough materials, Xiao En believes that he can even create more powerful equipment. Maybe if he masters the concept of magic soul in the future, even artifacts may be forged.

And the Flame Gun Broken Kong, because the materials used are basically materials that can be used to make gold-level demonized equipment, so Sean is convinced that this is definitely a gold-level demonized weapon. Of course, this is largely due to the fact that the long spear requires less mineral materials. If it is a weapon such as a long sword or battle axe, or even if it is an armor or shield, then he can't be so relaxed, because of this type of equipment. The amount of ore required is very large.

But even if Xiao En knew the basics of these materials, he was still surprised and delighted when he saw the genus of Yanqiang Broken Kong.

Surprised is astonishment.

Because according to his calculations, even if Yan Gun Broken Kong is not special-effect gold, at least it should be powerful gold, but the fact is that it is only the grade of medium-efficiency gold.

As for Xi, it was because Yan Qiang Broken Kong's genus was better than he had imagined.

This made Xiao En immediately understand that the materials he used to create the Flame Spear Fragmented Sky must have hidden effects that he had not discovered before.

is like the hidden effect of blood sand.

[The flame spear smashes the air, medium-effect demonization (gold), hardness 188, puncture 285, strength +30, agility +10, endurance +25, each attack has a 5% chance to trigger the special effect

"Purple Flame Burn": Inflict 750 additional fire damage to the enemy; with special effect "Extreme Ice Flame Burst": Each attack will attach an extremely cold air to the enemy. This effect will reduce the enemy's attack speed by 1% or 1% of movement Speed, the sixth attack after five times accumulates will trigger the flame explosion, inflicting 450 fire damage to the enemy; a certain chance to trigger the special effect "Smashing the Sky": This attack ignores all the enemy's defense capabilities and effects, and has priority judgment. 】

【Item description: This is a weapon forged by Sean Connery. Only he can explain everything perfectly. 】

Medium-efficiency golden equipment, the maximum bonus is seventy points belonging to xing, the flame spear smashing air has been added to a total of sixty-five points, and because of Sean's intentional control, the increase in strength is the largest. However, there is nothing to be proud of. In fact, the player forges in the middle of the game can basically control the attributes required for demonized equipment perfectly. There are even several forging masters every time they make equipment. Both can maximize the growth rate of attribute xing.

The real surprise is the special effect of "Broken Empty", which actually has the authority to judge xing!

The so-called authority judgment xing means that when two forces are in conflict, the power that has the right to judge xing can overwhelm the power that does not have the right to judge xing. There are many equipment and skills that can ignore defense, but the effect of having authority judgment is definitely not much. And defense equipment and skills, many have the first level of authority judgment, so the ability to ignore defense is in the player group. Not particularly popular.

However, Xing Kong's authority to judge xing is actually the second level, so the meaning of this is completely different!

Judgment of authority, from high to low, there are six levels: domain authority, domain priority, domain special, authority, priority, and special.

Compared with the special ability of "Broken Air", "Purple Flame Burn" and "Extreme Ice Flame Burst" are pediatrics, and these two genus Xing were born under the special control of Sean, which is very normal. thing. If there is something abnormal, then the damage of the two effects of "Purple Flame Burn" and "Extreme Ice Flame Burst" is lower than Sean expected.

In the game, all damage systems had a minimum standard of judgment.

The power of first-level magic is the damage value within one hundred points; second-level magic is one hundred to three hundred;  is three hundred to six hundred; fourth-level is six hundred to eight hundred.

In other words, if the damage of "Purple Flame Burn" is triggered, it is equivalent to the power of a fourth-level magic. And "Extreme Ice Flame Burst" even only has , and it is still a relatively general  magic power, which is completely incomparable with "Purple Flame Burn" in terms of damage. But the only advantage is that "Extreme Ice Flame Burst" is more stable than "Purple Flame Burn", and it will inevitably trigger once every six attacks.

Sean also knows that the damage of these two special effects is relatively low, completely because of his relatively small dosage. If the dosage is a little more, the damage can actually be increased. But there is nothing he can do. If you want to increase the damage of "Purple Flame Burning", the first prerequisite is that the spear head can withstand the magic power of Purple Flame Burning. It's scrapped; and there are only a few pieces of the extremely cold ice stone and the black rock of the heart of the fire on Sean, so thirty grams of blood sand is already the limit.

Furthermore, the flame tree heart is not a bad street thing, even if it is a forest of gray shadows, it will not be too much. And a piece of the flame tree heart can only activate 30 grams of blood sand, no matter how much it is, it will not be unable to activate, but the effect of activation will be reduced a lot, which is a waste.

Thinking of this, Sean also understands why the level of Yan Lun Xiaokong is only medium-efficiency gold, rather than strong and special effects.

The reason lies in the tip of the gun.

The material used in the gun body is very advanced, and even mixed with magic vine grass, so it must be the grade of powerful gold. Only the forging of the gun head is the result of a relatively hasty, so it affects the grade of the whole long gun.

But even if it does, there is a special effect such as "Broken Empty", it is fully worth the fare.

Sean believes that even if this spear is sold in the game, even if it is one or two million credits on the shelves, it will definitely be lost. Even in this world, at least it can be compared with a general grade of legendary equipment.

Of course, someone must know the true value of this long spear, otherwise, a medium-efficiency gold magic weapon would only cost 600, 700,000 yuan-if it weren't for the goldsmiths in this world. Less, demonized equipment is usually priceless, and it may not even need half a million.

After being busy for a whole month, Sean finally had a little relief at this moment. After sealing up the flame spear, he returned to the lord's mansion and asked William to have the spear and the set of angelic armor immediately given away. Go to Rina. For any master or strong person, they usually do not change their own hand-held equipment at will, because once they change it means they need to adapt to these equipment again, only in this way can they exert their strongest strength.

After dealing with these things, Xiao En asked, "How is the situation in the territory in the past month?"

"There is not much problem with the current territory. After Fred led the troops to Hierro, the Chamber of Commerce in Hierro raised the issue, but did not make much resistance and chose to leave. However, Hierro was originally employed by The mercenary group of the chamber of commerce that traded with Rob wants to join us. This mercenary group has 5,000 people, which is a big help to the current situation in our territory." William said, "I have decided to assign this army to Thain for command, what do you think?"

"What's the situation with Thain now?" Sean frowned slightly.

"Very honest, so honest that I can't figure out his thoughts." William shrugged.

"Then does this mean that he has no use value?" Sean asked, and at the same time he cut his throat.

"It's still a little valuable." William said, "To be fair, his foundation is very solid, and he is stronger than Fred and Rena in the commander's talents. It can be said that he is second only to mine in our territory. Officer... If it is a unit of equal strength and equipment, it would be very easy for him to defeat Fred. To be honest, I really can't bear to kill him."

"Can you control it?" Sean asked back.

"For now, there is no problem." William thought for a moment, and then said, "If we really want to kill, we will have to wait for us to end this war."

"what's your plan?"

"I plan to let him garrison the Dai leader and free Anno and Iron Wings. As long as there are Steel Wings and Fred's Thunder Lion, we will use the same tactics in Berbice, and the others in Darbion. After the nobles reacted, they completely occupied this territory in an instant." William said, "What we lack at present is just a legitimate reason for war."

Hearing the lack of reason to start the war, Sean was a little upset: "Huh, that Gessen Nugus really calmed down. He was so provoked and humiliated by me that he could still hold back without moving. I really don't know him. Is it a tortoise?"

For Shaun's complaint, William could only helplessly smile.

Chapter 305: .Secret conversation in prison [second more]

This is an underground prison located in the Lord's Mansion of Void City.

This secret prison is dedicated to imprisoning prisoners of great value. Of course, those who are imprisoned here don't even think about being able to leave here on their own strengths, even if they are legendary powerhouses. Because here is the magic circle set by Andrew himself, as well as the special shackles provided by Beth, these are all devices that can instantly turn a strong man into a mortal.

Furthermore, the stronger the strength, the greater the pain that needs to be endured.

Dils, is such a victim.

The shackles greatly restricted his space for movement, especially the two iron chains that pierced through his pipa bones, which made him move a little, which was an extremely intense pain. It stands to reason that this shouldn't happen with his physical strength, but when he felt that there was a powerful vitality extraction magic circle in this prison, he knew that he would never escape from here.

Not to mention, he now only has one meal a day, and it is still relatively liquid food, which can only allow him to barely maintain his vitality, and it is absolutely impossible to recover from his injury.

Therefore, Diels was a little envious of the person imprisoned in a cell next to him.

He knew that there were two people imprisoned next door, but the other person was much luckier than him. He was not chained through the pipa bone, probably just a shackle on his feet.

Diels himself had a background in intelligence analysis, so judging from this clue, he knew that the two imprisoned men were not good at fighting, at least they definitely did not reach their own strength, otherwise, according to what he called William and that person. The teenagers of Rupiah understand that they can never be so casual. At least through the bottom of each other in the past few months, he has been very clear about the Xingzi of the rupees.

This is a cautious and courageous young man.

Diels was a little surprised by this young man's natural ability. For this kind of intelligence work and yin strategy, the young man seemed to have an innate talent. As long as he touched a few times, he could get started immediately. This terrible talent is definitely the only thing that Diels has seen in his life, and during this period of idleness, he carefully recalled the information about the Sir Sean Connery, and then Diels was quickly surprised. The discovery, the potential of this lord is terrible.

Not to mention that William's current talent has shocked him. A genius magician with Phoenix blood and specializing in fire magic is enough to make many people envy.

In addition, there was also a Paladin knight Rina who gathered around him, a veteran mercenary with a strong overall strength, Alfred the angry lion, who was able to turn a nearly deserted territory into The administrative officer of the fertile land...

Each of these talents can at least become a powerful earl in their millennium covenant empire, but now they are all gathered under the jazz named Sean Connery. How can this not shock Diels? ?

And after understanding this, Diels immediately realized that he was not dead yet.

Whetstone!

Obviously, he has been used as a sharpening stone by William, specially used to sharpen the sharp edge of the rupiah.

Because no one knows better than Diels, how terrible an intelligence agency that can spread a rigorous and complete intelligence network and has assassination capabilities.

"It seems that the ambition of this lord is really big."

After Diels really understood his situation, he smiled somewhat self-deprecatingly. Even he is full of interest in Rupiah's future achievements. He is really curious about how far this cautious and full of courage can go?

Of course, he also knows what the biggest weakness of the rupee is currently.

Personal strength is too weak.

For a strong like Diels, this time he personally took a shot and was arrested as a result of a miss. With the strength of the rupee that is now only bronze, it would be impossible to deal with a strong one. However, weak strength is actually not without benefits. At least in this way, when spying on intelligence, the other party will not be too wary. Just like gold experts never put silver masters in their eyes, silver masters never look squarely. Bronze people.

"boom!"

A sudden impact suddenly sounded, awakening Diels, who had gradually become dizzy in consciousness.

"It seems that he is really old, and even his aspirations have been weakened to this point." Diels sighed helplessly. As a spy and intelligence officer, the most important thing to train is his personal will. Only in this way will he not be arrested. As a result, it caused one's own losses.

And after extremely professional training for xing, even if Diels is undergoing severe torture, it is impossible for him to let go. Even if the soul memory is directly extracted by the spirit energy mage, it is difficult to obtain what they want. s things.

But under such circumstances, he almost fell asleep just now, how tired was his mind!

The beating sound of the next door did not stop, instead it became louder and louder. Diels sighed helplessly: "Don't waste your effort. It's impossible for you to knock on this iron door."

"Who!" When I heard Diels' voice, an exclamation suddenly sounded from the cell next door.

Although I haven't met anyone, I can tell by listening to the voice that the other party is not too old, it should be around 30 years old. And the other party's situation is much better than him, at least he hasn't been severely tortured, otherwise his voice cannot be so powerful.

"Your cellmate," Diels said.

After saying this, he laughed a little helplessly, because he remembered that once in order to obtain information, he did pretend to be a prisoner to contact the target. Of course, after successfully obtaining information, the target person who has lost value can of course not be let go, but died in his hands, but Diels at least did not make him suffer too much.

At the moment when he said this, Diels hadn't really thought that You Chaoyi would really be imprisoned in a prison, and it was still such a magical and powerful prison.

Diels believed that if other empires were to know that there was such a prison, then Sir Sean Connery would never be able to live in peace. Because currently in the world, there is no real effective means to imprison the strong in the sanctuary-the imprisonment method for people below the sanctuary is to let them take a potion, which can block them. Dou Qi, and a person who loses Dou Qi has better physical fitness than ordinary people at best.

As for the way of imprisoning the strong in the sanctuary, it is to regularly take potions and injecting she liquid that can weaken the strength of the strong body, and then imprisoned in a debilitating magic circle.

But in this secret prison, Diels did not see these methods, which actually surprised him at one point.

This time after Diels said something, the other party was silent for a long time without a voice. After a long time, there was another voice: "Who are you? Why are you imprisoned here?"

"Because I'm a spy." Diels seemed to feel that there was no chance to leave here, and he didn't have much scruples in speaking, but he didn't know that he would say such things at this moment. That's because his defense has been completely disintegrated, "But the deeds were revealed, and I overestimated my strength, so I was caught.... What about you?"

"We..." The other party only said two words, and immediately exclaimed, "Do you know there are two people on our side?"

"Isn't it?" Diels reacted calmly, "Although I can't leave here now, and my strength is only 10% of what I used to be, I am also a high-level sanctuary. Your footsteps are so heavy, I How can you not tell how many of you are."

"Upper Sanctuary!?" Hearing this, the other party let out a louder exclamation, "How is it possible! There is actually a strong man under Sean's command who can capture the upper sanctuary alive?"

"Okay, don't make a fuss. If you know that this person is a legend, or even a super strong, then you are going to be scared to death?"

This time, the other party has no voice at all.

Dils is a little startled, should the other party really be scared to death? So he yelled a few more times, and it took a long time before there was another voice.

"Unexpectedly, we were actually fighting against such an enemy." The other party's voice was full of exhaustion, not as strong as before. "It is ridiculous that I thought Sean was just a lucky person, no wonder He acted so arrogantly and unscrupulously."

"How did you offend that lord?"

"We are trying to plan his territory." The other party's voice came over again, "but the other party seems to be more clear than us. They chose to sneak in secretly and steal the territory contract documents we got. Our Patriarch didn't know. About this matter, I didn't realize that I was fooled until I rushed over to negotiate with the executive officer of the Peace Association, so I immediately set off from the territory and rushed to prove it overnight, but I didn't expect that we were ambushed on the road, and all the guards of a convoy were wiped out. Even the eldest son of our Patriarch is dead."

"Very clear decision." Diels nodded slightly, because he knew that if it was him, he would probably use such a method, but he would not leave anything alive.

And when he thought of this, Diels was taken aback, and immediately reacted to one thing: "You don't know any martial arts?"

"Yes." The other party replied, "What's wrong?"

"Then what position did you hold in the family?"

"The interior officer of Ting Qiin, the city lord of Luo Mingen."

"Sure enough!" A flash of excitement flashed in Diels' eyes, "The lord is interested in your talents. You don't have to worry about dying here. The reason why no one is looking for you now is just to kill you. It's just that, I believe someone will come in contact with you soon."

For these things, Diels is very proficient, because he used to do this often, so at this moment, he has understood it after a little thought. Without waiting for the other party to speak, Diels has already said again: "I have one thing I want to ask you for help! I can guarantee that this matter will not do any harm to you, and it will even give you huge benefits, even if it becomes A lord is not impossible."

Hearing Diels's bewildering words, Soma Hastings did not immediately agree, but cautiously said: "Tell me first."

"If you want to survive, you must agree to the lord's request. At the beginning, he will definitely not let you hold high positions, and he will also arrange manpower to monitor you, but as long as you don't do anything to harm him. , Your future achievements will definitely be higher." Diels immediately began to analyze its prospects, "and what I want to ask of you is to send me a letter to the Millennium Covenant Empire when you really get the police. I am the intelligence officer of the Millennium Covenant Empire, Diels..."

Chapter 306: . No need to worry anymore [third more]

Soma Hastings was still a little confused when he was taken away from the prison.

Although he was not responsible for investigating the situation about Pandaling, in fact, Tinky's intelligence ability was not very good, but all the information about Sean Connery was collected by the Nugus family. Provided, how could this information be wrong for an enemy that Nugus hates extremely?

But until today, he didn't realize that this Sean Connery was so terrifying.

In his hand, there is also a hole card called "Legendary Strong".

With such a hole card, unless it is the old kingdom or empire, who is his opponent? But the more he thinks this way, the more disturbed Soma is, because he can't understand why a person with such a powerful advantage should become a pioneering knight under the Marquis of Tonis? Could it be that there is something he desperately desires in the land he has occupied?

Soma is really incomprehensible.

As for the words of the high-ranking sanctuary powerhouse who claimed to be Diels, Soma was even more shocked after hearing this.

He taught Soma a set of special methods for evading inspections by intelligence organizations. As long as this method is used well, it will be a transparent person in the eyes of all intelligence agencies, not to mention just sending a letter to the Millennium Covenant Empire. It is not impossible to induce an intelligence agency to make wrong judgments. Although these contents can not be explained clearly in a few words, no one has bothered them for more than two months. As long as Soma is not a fool, then of course he can get great benefits.

Knowledge is wealth, this sentence is really correct.

At this moment, when he was taken out of this secret prison, Soma had not really recovered.

It's just that at this moment, in order to prevent some accidents, Soma's head is covered with a black hood, and no one can see his expression at this moment.

As for Soma's confidant, Qazi, these elders have also learned a lot since then. But his mood was completely different from Soma, and even Soma had some inability to see what Qazi was thinking.

And when the two men were taken out of the secret prison, Ruby finally appeared in front of Diels again.

In the past few months, Rupiah has been very busy. Before the war, he was busy collecting, sorting, and analyzing all kinds of intelligence materials, ranging from secret operations against territories to military mobilizations in other territories, and so on. , All are involved. And his task is to screen out the important xings of these tasks, and then submit them to William, which of course greatly shortens William's working time.

In fact, in the case of rupees, military intelligence data cannot be passed by him. After all, he is not a qualified staff officer, at best, he is just an espionage officer. It's just that William intends to train and polish the rough jade of the rupee, so naturally no one will say anything. If something really goes wrong anyway, it will of course be borne by William.

Fortunately, because of the relatively small scale of this war, Rupiah did not miss any important information, and William's strategy is indeed worthy of his arrogance, so the war except for the difficulty of turning the tiger away from the mountain at the beginning, everything else They were all carried out in accordance with William's plan.

In the past two months after the war, the information that Rupi needs to collect has become more, just like today he sent William a new piece of information about the situation of Berbice. He has a little clue to this information, and the information of the information is also the situation half a month ago-today's information transmission is not very fast, unless it is extremely important information will be transmitted quickly by magical transmission. However, this method can only transmit a small piece of paper, so large-scale intelligence can only rely on human transmission.

This information was completely incomprehensible to Rupiah, so he immediately sent it to William in the first place.

So, he saw the lord, Sean Connery, who hadn't seen each other for a long time.

At this time, Sean suddenly thought of a person like Soma, and seemed to want to see him, so Rupi immediately came to the prison to lead someone. After sending both Soma and Katz out of the prison and being taken over by others to take to Sean, Ruby immediately returned to this underground prison because he had received secret instructions from William.

Diels watched Rupiah not leave immediately after delivering the meal this time. There was a hint of surprise in his eyes, but he quickly relieved: "Is the time up?"

Ruby looked at Diels. The torture of the past few months has made the once-motivated strong man a bit old and vicissitudes of life, but Ruby knew that this may not be very famous, but it is the dark world of the entire millennium covenant. The person who can never forget is only thirty-five years old this year. But now he is already covered in bruises, and he can't even be said to be skinny. Apart from his calm and bright eyes, he looks no different from a 60 or 70 year old man.

In the face of this strong man who is absolutely also extremely famous in the dark world, Rupiah still gave him the respect he deserves: "Yes. The secret order was only received today."

"I only have one request." Diels said softly. At this time, there was not much emotional change, and some were just a kind of relief-like tranquility.

"Please tell me." After hesitating, Rupi said, "As long as it does not conflict with the interests of the lord."

"Haha." Diels smiled softly, "Give me a neat pain, I know you can do it. In return, I will tell you my years of experience, including how to make you become in the eyes of other intelligence organizations. Transparent people, and how to make their intelligence network closer."

Diels knew that he had been alive for a long time, after all, if someone like him survived, it would definitely be a trouble for Sean. So when he asked Soma to help him pass the message to the Millennium Covenant Empire, what he passed out was the news of his own death, and that there was a legendary powerhouse under Sean's command, as well as the news of this secret prison.

And he also knows that even if these experiences belong to him, even if they are told to others, they need a lot of actual combat if they want to learn. Generally speaking, it takes at least a few years to cultivate such a talent. The more senior it takes, the more time it takes. Soma certainly does not have so much time. Therefore, he must use this last opportunity to create a talent for Soma. Huge loopholes—that is, misleading the Rupee's layout and monitoring of the entire intelligence network.

Only in this way, Soma can immediately send the message he wants to deliver to the Millennium Covenant Empire after gaining Sean's trust.

This is the true quality that a spy should possess.

When the last confrontation and trick in the underground prison were unfolding, Soma was finally brought to Sean, standing beside him was Soma's former adjutant, Katz.

"City Lord Soma, we meet again." For this Soma Hastings, Sean really welcomes him.

The talents in the territory have always been the more the better, not to mention the more and more territories under Sean's command, and the scope is getting bigger and bigger, so it will inevitably be more and more difficult to rely on Neil alone. For this reason, Sean certainly doesn't want to let go of such outstanding talents as Soma and Katz. For these two people, Sean's patience is definitely greater than dealing with Sean, because at this moment, Sean has nothing to do with these two people. See any hostility.

True Eye's detection will never lie to him.

Furthermore, for Soma Hastings and Katz, Sean is also very knowledgeable.

Facing Sean's enthusiasm, Soma's face was a little pale, because after learning that Sean still had a hole card of the legendary powerhouse, he could not continue to maintain the same superiority before, because he knew very well even if It is that there are no legendary powerhouses in the Kingdom of Darbion, only two high-ranking sanctuary powerhouses are called the town powerhouses, not to mention the Nugus family.

"Yes...Yes." Soma nodded slightly, and her momentum was totally different from when Shaun saw him in Luo Mingen before.

Seeing Soma's reaction, Sean was also a little confused, but he didn't say anything, but continued to speak: "I'll tell the truth, my territory needs talents like you and Mr. Cazi very much, so I'm very I sincerely invite you to join me.... Maybe I can't make any promises to you now, but I can assure you that you will never regret your choice today."

"Your Excellency Shaun, honorable Lord Panda." It was Kazi who spoke, but it was not Soma. This surprised Shaun again, "I can promise to join you and become your follower. But please let Lord Soma leave."

"Kazi!" Soma turned her head in shock, but soon he realized why Qazi had done this.

At the beginning of the underground prison, Soma learned what Kazi also learned, and this kind of behavior that will eventually betray Sean, there is no need for both of them to stay here to work, only one person is needed. Enough, because if this plan fails, then the result awaiting them is death. Of course, Soma thought very clearly at this moment. There was no need for the two of them to stay together. Anyway, they were just sending information. As long as one person can leave Pandaren, then it is not a detour to the Millennium Covenant Empire. problem.

"Why?" Shaun didn't know their deal with Diels in the underground prison, so he asked curiously.

"Because if Lord Soma stays to help your Excellency, then he will suffer revenge from the entire Hastings family." Kazi said, "The Hastings family is a family that has a strong vengeance. They... "

"Haha." Hearing Qazi's words, Sean laughed. This is the second time he has heard someone say that the Hastings family is a family with extremely strong revenge, but now this family is really not. Need to worry, "If this is the case, then there is no need to worry, because in this world, there are only two direct descendants of the Hastings family, and one of them is Soma Hastings."

"What?" Kazi and Soma were both surprised at the same time.

"During the time you were imprisoned, a war broke out between Tinchinner and I. Now Tinchinner has been occupied by another pioneering knight of Lord Tonys. The Hastings family is apart from you. , There is no direct descendant anymore." Sean laughed and said, and Soma and Kazi, who were in shock, forgot to ask Sean who is another direct descendant of the Hastings family, "So if you just worry about being If you retaliate, then you are completely different now.... And I really need you two, one is going to Hierro to succeed the city lord and manage Yadby for me. And the other, I am going to let him go to Bo Biss collar."

At this moment, Sean did not hide his ambition to occupy the Berbice collar at all!

Chapter 307: .Dabian's general trend [fourth more]

Xiao En did not spend too much time, and temporarily stabilized the two of Qazi and Soma.

For these two talents, Sean had no plans to let them go, so it was impossible for him to let either of them leave. Because only the joining of these two people can just fill the huge gap of the extremely vacant internal affairs talents in his territory-even if Neil is good at this point, it is impossible for him to have a thorough understanding of the situation in all territories, because of the government administration. It's no better than military overall planning. These are completely two concepts.

Now, in Sean's territory, the only internal affairs talents are Neil and Rudd.

At present, because the situation of Dayi is relatively stable, there is no need to invest too much in Jing, so this territory is currently managed by Rudd, after all, he was originally the lord of Dayi. However, after taking down the Yadby collar and chasing out Rob, who could only talk on paper, and the old Baron Yadby, because of the large-scale divestment and the evacuation of the Chamber of Commerce in Yadby, this territory is already on the verge of danger, if it weren't for Al Fred and Rina's strong forces have long appeared in this territory.

But if Sean wants to stabilize the situation of Neil's past, he does make a big fuss, because now Neal is responsible for planning the new economic policy system for the entire territory, which is the money-swallowing project that he and Rudd mashed up. Therefore, Sean immediately thought of Soma and Kazi who had been captured alive by him before. With Soma's real materials, it is completely without any difficulty to manage the Yadby collar well. Things, after all, he was the actual manager of the entire Tin Chi Yin leader.

You must know that the Tinchian collar is an earl collar, and the territory is extremely vast, almost equivalent to the sum of the Dai collar, the Chiraff collar, the Yedby collar and half of the Panda collar. Soma can manage such a vast area in an orderly manner. Isn't it a matter of a mere Baron Yedby? Moreover, the situation of Yadby's collar is also the richest in all of Sean's current territories, so he is very concerned about this territory.

Otherwise, how could someone like Soma, who can manage an entire earl, be thrown onto this little baron?

As for Cathy, Sean only spoke better. Of course, he would not really throw him to Berbice. Sean is going to let Qazi take over the government affairs of Dayi, and then send Rudd to Berbice. He believes that Baron Eerbice's governance of this territory over the years will definitely not be more popular than the old ones. Where did Baron Derby go? He just drove off the old Baron Yederby, and the entire Yederby leader was almost ashamed. Of course, Sean had to be fully prepared before he shot Berbice.

So he chose to comfort these two people for now.

If these two people are really unwilling to take refuge, of course, Sean can't let them leave. Even if they don't kill these two people, they will definitely be imprisoned forever. Because of talents like this, any lord gain is a kind of strength enhancement. After letting them go, who knows if he will be invited back by his enemies, Sean doesn't want to watch his potential enemies in the future grow stronger. .

So after arranging the two to go to rest, Sean came to see William, because William seemed to have something to tell him.

"What's the situation?" As soon as he entered the door of the meeting room, Sean spoke.

"There is something wrong with Berbice," William said in a deep voice.

"What's wrong?" Sean frowned slightly.

"Both the Berbice and the Yedby were both involved in the coalition against us more than a year ago, and the war cost them heavy losses." William said simply, "So this time we invaded Yedby. The leader is so fast and safe, and the original Berbice leader's situation should be the same."

Hearing this, Sean immediately realized the question: "Has the situation changed?"

"Yes." William nodded, his voice a little more serious, "The closest to Berbice is the territory controlled by the Darbion Logan family. This is a real marquis who is a supporter of the Howard family. .According to the news we received before, since the failure of the last coalition battle, the Burbish and Yedbyling have actually completely separated from the Boulder family system and have been put into the arms of the Nugus family and the Howard family respectively... .."

"Do you mean that the Burbs family is now dependent on the Howard family?" Sean reacted immediately, "and now the Burbs has more troops than we expected?"

"Yes." William nodded. "About more than a month ago, that is, about 20 days after the end of the war between us and Tingqiin, the Logan family suddenly garrisoned and reinforced the Berbice. Military activities. At the same time, the Nugus family and the Howard family also showed signs of large-scale military mobilization. This situation continued until a month ago. All the nobles belonging to the Howard family and the Nugus family were all in their Military operations in the territory..."

"Total strength." Sean asked immediately.

"Two hundred and fifty thousand." William said a number that made Sean instantly feel cold.

Others may not be clear, but Sean knows very well that the force of 250,000 is equivalent to one-tenth of the strength of the entire Kingdom of Darbion today, and even nearly half of the forces of the entire southern noble faction of Darbion. And if the Nugus family and the Howard family are in battle together, then this means that there are at least three fourth-level troops in the 250,000-strength unit, which is a real Jing Rui unit!

Don't say anything else, if all the 250,000 troops were to rush down, Sean would not be able to stop it at all. He would even have to abandon all the territories currently occupied and retreat to Tonis Fortress. It can even be said that only this retreat is a very dangerous * road, because he believes that these Dabian southern nobles are absolutely impossible to let him leave so easily.

"How could this happen?" Xiao En found that the situation seemed to be very different from the script he had predicted. "Are they going to directly start a national war?"

"It's very likely." William said, "I have sent this piece of information to the Lord of Florence. They must be prepared in advance. Otherwise, if they are raided, then use Tin Chi to learn about the current situation. It can't be stopped at all."

In fact, William didn't say a word, that is, the army of two hundred and fifty thousand is in the battle. In the face of such a huge military force, relying on them and Florence combined with a total of less than 40,000 troops, even if the strategy comes out, it will completely resist. .

This is the real one-strength reduction ten meeting, which is directly taking advantage of the situation.

"So what's the situation with Berbice now?" Sean hurriedly asked.

"The situation is not optimistic." William said again. "The Logan family made a second increase in troops from Berbice half a month ago. At present, the Berbice leader alone has gathered 80,000 troops, and another ten Seventy thousand troops have already shown a situation of encirclement. At present, Dayi, Tinki, Chiraf, Yadby, and Panda are all threatened. As long as the war breaks out, it can be all at the same time. The territory launched an offensive."

Having said that, William took out a map, and saw that all the territories bordering Sean's territory on the map had all been marked as red se, except for the two border territories near the border of the Mordg collar by Dayi collar. . But Sean knew that the reason why these two territories were not marked as red se was because the lords of the two territories were members of the Boulder family faction. If the Boulder family also decided to drip in muddy water, So once a war breaks out, then Sean really has nowhere to go.

"How could it suddenly become like this?" Sean looked surprised.

"I don't think we need to consider why the situation becomes like this anymore at this time. What we really need to consider is how to arrange a retreat." William said, "Being able to set up such a strategic overall situation, the opponent's ability is almost not in me. Next... No, it should be said to be more intelligent than me. Although it is impossible to know how the opponent's command and tactical change ability is without fighting, but this kind of momentum is definitely better than me."

Hearing William's words, Sean was taken aback and immediately asked: "This army will definitely have a presidential commander? Do you know the name of this commander?"

"This hasn't been found out yet, what's the matter?" Seeing Sean's expression, William realized the seriousness of the problem and asked subconsciously.

"I suddenly thought of someone." Xiao En said in a yin cold tone, "This is a woman, and what she is best at is this way of building momentum and borrowing momentum. Once the momentum is achieved, then she will immediately follow the trend. Under the coercion of the general situation, no tricks can be resisted at all. But if the momentum she has created has not yet formed, she can choose to hibernate. Her resistance to xing is beyond anyone's imagination. She can even spend more than ten years. Time to set up a game is to kill someone."

William was stunned for a moment, then stared at the map again for a long time without saying a word.

At present, on this military map, the red se area has occupied almost half, while the blue se area belonging to Sean only has a small corner on one side, but fortunately a large area on the left of the blue se area is all covered. White se. But everyone knows that if these white areas are also turned into red areas, then this is the most common pocket encirclement in the strategic layout.

But even so, but staring at this map, there is still a kind of palpitation and dull feeling of coercion.

Because both Sean and William know that on this military map, the enemy's general trend has been half formed. If the real trend is established, then it is the so-called general trend. Under such circumstances, there is no one at all. Can resist. Of course, there is actually no way to fight, that is, to deal with the same method, and Sean also believes that as long as William can hold 150,000 troops, he will definitely be able to contend against the opponent's 250,000 total. troops.

But now, they don't have this kind of time. Even if they mobilize the entire territory and start recruiting soldiers, it's not bad that they can make up 60,000 people. But an army that has not received any training is simply worthless on the battlefield.

"Now their momentum has not formally formed, at most it can only be considered half formed." William stared at the map for a long time, and then said in a deep voice, "So we still have a chance, as long as Asuna agrees to send troops to reinforce us, we It may not be impossible to swallow the Berbice collar."

What William said is true. At present, Berbice has only 80,000 troops. As long as Asuna is willing to lend him all of her 30,000 troops, then count the 20,000 currently under his command. There is no problem at all with 50,000 against 80,000. As long as they occupy Berbius, they can garrison in Berbish. With Berbish's strategic advantage, they can reinforce Chiraf to the southeast, and they can reinforce Tinkiin to the northeast. It is tantamount to occupying a strategic advantage.

Under such circumstances, if the opponent wants to fully invade, they must break the strategic advantage held by William, so they can only fight with William here before regaining Berbish collar. In this way, it is actually equivalent to restraining the main force of the opponent's army, and the general trend that the opponent has finally built will be disintegrated, but this is equivalent to the national war initiated by Sean, not Darby. Ang set off a national war.

After all, Sean occupied the Tinkiin and Yedby, and the Dai and Chilaf are now the territory of Darbion. Therefore, this time the Darbion Kingdom will take advantage of the situation to send troops to retake these territories. It will not be returned. Condemned by any **.

So once it was Sean who started a national war, it would be very detrimental to Sean on the mainland. If the Principality of Ryan can win a complete victory in the end, it's okay to say, if it is defeated, then it may be necessary to quell Sean's anger.

Since ancient times, nobles have done this.

So after hearing this tactic described by William, Sean was silent for a moment, and then asked: "Does the other party have a way to crack this opportunity you mentioned?"

"Yes!" It was also a moment of silence before William said, "But I don't think the other party will do this."

"Why?" Sean was puzzled.

"If the other party ignores us and takes the lead directly from the north of Tinkiin, and then after occupying half of the territory, they divide their troops to advance to Dayi and Yadby, then they are holding us, not us. The other party." William drew two arrows on this military map. Sean found that with William's stroke, one-third of the entire Tinkerman was gone, and this one-third of the position was gone. It happens to occupy the main road leading to Dayi and Yadby. "Under such circumstances, if we take back this main road, then the two divisions of the opposing armies are equivalent to completely deep behind the enemy. Soldiers, we will eat them sooner or later, unless the other party abandons these occupied areas and breaks through the northwest of the Da'i, then at least half of the troops can be retained."

"This tactic is too arrogant." Sean said in a deep voice.

"Yes, even if it was me, unless there is no other way I would do this, otherwise I would not make this kind of decision." William said in a deep voice, "because if it fails, then it is likely to be the whole army. It's almost impossible to make a comeback in the situation of annihilation....Of course, if it succeeds, then it is the real general trend, and the opponent can completely rampage in our territory."

"Guess how likely the other person is to make such a risky move?"

"Unless there are ten generals, it is absolutely impossible to make this strategic layout with a success rate of less than 30%." William replied without hesitation.

But this answer made Sean's heart burst.

If it is really that woman, then the other party is really likely to make this kind of strategic layout, because she is one of the ten generals, and the ranking is higher than William. But in Sean's impression, this woman is not from the Southern Continent. It was the end of the third expansion when she appeared on the scene, that is, in the battle against the demon invasion, she relied on a battle that lasted two times. Only in the year of creating a momentum, did all the human forces unite and drive the demons back to the abyss plane.

It can be said that the final victory of that battle was the result of her own power.

It is precisely because of this battle that she successfully ranked seventh among the ten generals.

But now, on this map, Sean has seen a very obvious layout of momentum building. Although the momentum has not been achieved yet, a rudimentary form is already there. Although that is a person who doesn't like adventure, but her tolerance and dormancy are also very terrifying, and she is even very good at using all available environments.

"Is this kind of tactics possible to increase the success rate?" Xiao En asked.

After pondering for a moment, William nodded again: "Yes."

While saying this, he also circled the white border territories to the left of Dayi. These territories belonged to the lords of the Boulder family faction, and two of them were even connected to Mordege. The collar borders.

Seeing this, Sean already understood.

But William's words are somewhat different from what Sean thought: "If the Boulder family also joins this strategic layout, then this strategy will no longer be a risky layout, and it can even be said to be a layout that we are fooled by. "

"What's the meaning?"

"As long as the Boulder family also participates in the war, as long as the opponent controls the Tinkyinling this strategic key, they can directly attack the Yadbyling and send the Dayiling to the Boulder family. In this way, they need The offensive pressure facing us will be much smaller. Even at this time, if the Boulder family were more ambitious, then we would not even be able to hold the Panda collar. In this case, we would become a lone army deep behind the enemy line. "William said in a deep voice, "And don't forget, because you have lent us all your troops, Asuna-sama now doesn't have enough troops to hold the Mordge collar, and it is even possible that the entire thunder will be ruined. The front...In other words, if the other party had planned this way from the beginning, the 80,000 troops currently led by Berbice is definitely a cannon fodder force that can be sacrificed at any time, or it is a bait to trick us into being hooked."

"The Boulder family, the Nugus family, and the Howard family are incompatible with each other and should not cooperate with them."

"If this commander is really capable of creating momentum, then it is entirely possible for her to turn this action into a national war. In the general environment of a national war, even if the Boulder family is not happy, it will definitely be. Driven into desperation, they can only choose to send troops, otherwise they will be accused of treason." William said in a deep voice, "This... is the terrible part of the general trend.... Anyone who can use the force to do so. Those who are wonderful are not simple people."

"Check! No matter how much you pay, you must check the name of the other commander!" Xiao En said in a deep voice, "Before we find out the name of this commander, let's make arrangements for retreat."

"I see."

Chapter 308: .Cecilia's changes [fifth more]

Because of the sudden change in the situation in the Kingdom of Darbion, Sean's mood became very bad for a while.

He couldn't figure out why there was such a powerful adviser in the Kingdom of Darbion suddenly? But when Asuna and the Kingdom of Darbion went to war, why didn't this counselor take action? If this counselor had taken action back then, let alone that Asuna had just had a foundation at that time, even now that she had a solid foundation, she would not be an opponent at all.

Sean couldn't help but think of a question: Could it be that he changed history again?

He already knows that the historical changes in this world can only be changed in a small range, and this range change also has time and area limitations. Simply put, it can only change the situation that does not cause the butterfly effect to change, and He is still taking advantage of these situations. But if it is the historical pattern that will cause the butterfly effect to change, then it is very likely that more powerful enemies will appear because of this. He knows that if it were not for Andrew and Beth, who were not for the world's will and destiny, he would I don't know if I have died hundreds of times, how can I still achieve the present.

In other words, if he wants to change history, he can, but it must be the general trend.

If you want to go against the sky, then I'm sorry, the world will be the first to oppose it.

In the history of Sean's impression, the second outbreak of the Ryan Dabion national war also started with a single spark, but it was because of Asuna. Although it is now that he is provoking everywhere, he has always been very restrained and has not been too derailed, so it is impossible to cause such a big change in the pattern.

The entire Dabian southern nobility faction all united to deal with a baron like him. Is this a fuss?

So, Sean can only draw one conclusion: If the problem is not with William, it is with Florence.

William is one of the ten generals, even at the bottom of the ranking, but this is a real ten generals, isn't it?

As for Florence, the rich and handsome man who is currently an ally with Sean, his followers are not weaker than him-of course, now Rina has a set of legendary armor and that flame spear. It's okay to play three in one, so the comprehensive data of the high-end combat power of the two sides should be similar. But if you want to compare the hole cards, then Sean is absolutely above Florence. After all, he has also developed here for nearly two years in Panda, so he doesn't have any background.

But these also show from another aspect that his comprehensive strength is definitely not weaker than any duke in the Kingdom of Darbion, and it can even be said to be stronger than Nugus and Howard. If it must be said that he is still inferior to the dukes of the Kingdom of Darbion, then his background is not enough-these two dukes can make up an army of two hundred and fifty thousand by fully exerting their influence. The current Sean can't do it at all.

Faced with this general trend that is about to take shape, Sean also feels helpless.

It's just that if he wants to give up now, then it is also impossible. Anyway, this war will start sooner or later, but now he will benefit less than he expected. If you want him to back down because of this, this is of course an impossible thing, but Shaun will not forget the point that he has not considered victory before he has defeated. Therefore, William will immediately begin to lay out the retreat route, as long as he keeps it. With the current strength, he is not afraid that he will not be able to make a comeback.

If it doesn't work, then don't retreat to the direction of Tonys Fortress, and go directly to the rift valley, where the territory is truly vast, and he will even be able to bring the Great Scarlet Fire Tribe and all the beasts to fight.

Of course, Sean doesn't want to expose this hole card of the Wildlands if it's not a matter of fact.

But there are some things, it's always right to prepare in advance.

So Sean is already ready to take advantage of the opportunity that the war has not yet started, and go to the Forest of Gray Shadows to collect some materials. At the very least, he must completely build Alfred's Flame Lion fangs. This is also a battle strength. no? If there is more time, then it is also a good choice to build an enchanted weapon for Anno and Clover, after all, there are only so few people under his command who can be used as high-end combat power.

As for the three like Knok, Stalin, and Aldorf, there is no need to build magic weapons for them for the time being.

But before heading to the Forest of Gray Shadows, Sean still has to see Cecilia.

I heard from William that Cecilia has not been out of the room in the past month and has never known what she is doing.

So Sean is still a little worried.

Soon, Sean came to Cecilia's door and knocked on the door.

"Come in." Cecilia's voice came from the room.

Hearing this voice is still full of vitality, Sean's originally hanging heart also relaxes a little. As long as Cecilia still maintains such vitality, then it proves that Cecilia is not in this "magic soul "In the blow, it was devastated. Although I don't know if Cecilia has overcome this difficulty, Sean believes that Cecilia's ability is absolutely no problem, and once she wants to understand it, all these things are so great for her meditation. Benefits can definitely accelerate her growth.

And if Cecilia can become a golden powerhouse in the short term, Sean's combat power can be greatly improved.

hit the door, the first thing Sean saw was Cecilia's back, she did not look back, but sat at the desk not knowing what she was busy with.

There are 20 or 30 books on this desk. These books are large and small, old and new, and more than half of them are open. And in the area around Cecilia, there are a lot of papers. It seems that these are waste papers, with many dense lines and formulas drawn on them. These contents are a little headache when Sean just glances at it casually. I really don't know how Cecilia has such perseverance to indulge in this strange world.

When Sean was on Earth, he was a pure liberal arts student, and he had an extreme instinct to reject science.

As for the game "Miracle", he heard that if he wanted to become a senior magician, he even had to learn some science content, so Sean simply gave up his career as a magician. This is what he is in the game. The academic career has never been upgraded. Of course, he knew that he was cheated after he formed the team, because players are not necessarily good at learning. If being a magician requires science knowledge, then no player will be able to do the job.

However, if a player is good at science, he can really gain some benefits in the profession of magician.

At this moment, Cecilia didn't know what she was calculating, but it was obvious that her calculation had failed, so she let out a grumble of annoyance, then crumpled the piece of paper in her hand into a ball, and turned towards it without looking at it. Throw it out on the right.

Following Cecilia's movements, Sean saw the mass of waste paper turn into a parabola, then hit the wall and fell to the ground.

Sean was a little speechless.

Because there is indeed a trash can at the root of this wall, but there is not even a pile of waste paper in this trash can. Instead, there are dozens of waste papers around the trash can.

Sean really admires Cecilia, how powerful this talent is to be able to throw these dozens of * of paper into the trash can.

Doesn't it mean that magicians are very good at jingling gods and casting spells? With Cecilia throwing dozens of paper * in none of them, can she really hit people with those non-tracking magic and range magic?

Sean is really skeptical.

"The food is on the table, I will eat it later." Cecilia took out another piece of paper, seeming to perceive that the person entering the door did not leave, so she spoke again.

"It's me." Sean said helplessly.

Hearing the sound, Cecilia turned her head, her face a little dazed.

Sean could see that Cecilia was really working very hard recently. Her face was no longer as rosy as before, and her hair was a little dull. It seemed that she was over-exerting her head. At this moment, she turned her head. There was no reaction in time. After staring at each other with big eyes and small eyes for a full one or two minutes, Cecilia suddenly let out a cry of exclamation, and then jumped up.

"Sean!" Cecilia was really excited. After jumping up, she rushed towards Sean and slammed her head into his arms, "When did you come?"

"Come here for a while." Sean smiled.

The current Cecilia is not much shorter than Sean in height. He hasn't felt much about getting along for a long time. At this moment, he saw that Cecilia had grown to the height of his neck. She hugged Cecilia's head against Sean's chin. But soon, Sean was embarrassed. Now Cecilia has grown up. Although it is not very plump, it is not as green as it was in the past. At least the body has grown out, so he was so hugged. , Sean immediately felt the jade rabbit on Cecilia's chest, and the weight seemed not small.

In an instant, Sean reacted a little bit more.

"Cough cough." With a light cough, Sean pulled Cecilia away quietly, and then stared at Cecilia's face seriously.

Looking at Sean like this, Cecilia didn't feel much. She felt as if she had returned to the small house in the Kingdom of Selian several years ago. This feeling made her feel very warm. And now, although they came to the Principality of Lane, Sean became a nobleman, they also had their own territory, and they also began to live a prosperous life, but Cecilia did not feel particularly happy, and now and Sean's chances of meeting are getting less and less, which makes her a little unhappy.

"You are a lot haggard." Sean didn't know what Cecilia was thinking. He rubbed Cecilia's hair lightly as he did many years ago.

"Hmm." Cecilia responded.

"What's wrong?" As if feeling Cecilia's depression, Sean said, "Is it uncomfortable? Or is there something wrong?"

Feeling the eagerness in Sean's words, Cecilia's heart became warmer, and she smiled and shook her head: "No, it's just been a long time since I saw Sean, but now I'm really happy to see Sean. Woolen cloth."

Hearing Cecilia's words, Sean felt a little bit in his heart.

On that rainy night in the Kingdom of Celian four years ago, Sean saved Cecilia, and Cecilia has been following Sean afterwards, like a follower. At that time, Sean decided that Cecilia would not be bullied anymore, so he began to work hard to pick up tasks everywhere to make money, and then finally rented a small house, after which life began to gradually become warmer.

Now, four years have passed, and Cecilia is already an adult, but Sean also feels that his exit situation is not as warm as he was in that small house. Of course he knows that all this is because after he became the lord, he has more followers and needs to be busy. In order to have the right to speak, he must start to work hard to become stronger. In this way, he and Serbia Celia's meeting really became even less.

Thinking of this, Sean took Cecilia to sit down, and then smiled: "I will be with you all day today. What do you want to do?"

Hearing Sean's words, Cecilia shook her head, and Jing's face showed an elegant smile: "I'm not a kid anymore. You wasted a day with me. It's better to finish the matter earlier and fight for it. Hurry up and end this war, so I can spend more time with me."

Looking at Cecilia, who showed a hint of slyness, Sean gave a bitter smile: "The war, I'm afraid it will not be over so soon."

"Why?" Cecilia was slightly startled when she heard what Shaun said, and immediately spoke.

For Cecilia, Sean has never concealed anything, so he quickly told the piece of information that William had just received today, as well as his and William's speculation. With Sean's narration, Cecilia's face gradually became hard to look at. It was obvious that she also knew that once the Kingdom of Darbion succeeded in building up the power, then Sean's two years of hard work would be completely in vain.

As a result, Cecilia's mood immediately became yin sinking.

Seeing the change in Cecilia's face, Sean chuckled lightly, and then comforted him: "Don't worry, everything will be fine.... It's okay for these territories to be occupied. Anyway, the territories are dead and will not escape. On the contrary, we can retreat into the wilds to the south, and to the Tonis fortress to the north. As long as we retain the strength that appears, we can regain the territory. The only ones who really need headaches are the nobles of the Kingdom of Darbion. Not us."

Hearing Sean's advice, Cecilia hummed softly. She also knew that it was useless to be anxious now, because they really did not have the strength to go to war with the 250,000 army.

"What have you been up to this month?" Sean saw that Cecilia was not in a high mood, so he changed the subject and asked.

Cecilia certainly knows what Shaun meant, but she also recounted the success of the last month with a little credit.

Shaun didn't even feel it at first, but at this moment, he was really surprised when he heard it.

Cecilia has actually been studying the great subject of "magic soul" this month. Although the current progress is completely zero, Cecilia has successfully grasped a direction. Although there is no conclusion yet, in this short month, Cecilia's magic gain during meditation is equivalent to that of the past few months. This makes Cecilia feel that this direction of her research is correct, so she has been calculating this direction during the recent period. Magic power change formula.

Listening to Cecilia's proud words, Sean was also sincerely happy, because now Cecilia is at a critical point, and he can suddenly enter the realm of the lower level of gold. And once it succeeds, then Sean will have three gold powerhouses under his command, and one of them is the gold powerhouse who has awakened blood, so that her combat power will not be weaker than any upper gold powerhouse, even the bloodline. You can enter the first stage state, thereby activating the second bloodline ability.

As soon as he thought of this, Sean felt that it was necessary for him to build a magic weapon for Cecilia!

Of course, the materials for making magic weapons can only come from the Forest of Gray Shadows.

As soon as Cecilia heard that Sean was about to go to the Forest of Gray Shadows, she immediately asked to go together. After thinking about it for a while, Cecilia agreed. Maybe Cecilia could break through in this action and enter the next position. The realm of gold.

Chapter 309: . Cecilia's Speculation

The realm of the void, which means the domain of the void, has the meaning of infinite vastness and chaotic time and space. It is the representative name of Xiao En's intelligence department.

Although this department was only established later, under William's personally built structure and later effective management of the rupees, although it was short established and lacking in background, it is no longer better than ordinary lord masters. Where is the intelligence network of China? Although in terms of intelligence collection capabilities alone, perhaps even the second and third-line nobles in the Principality of Ryan are not comparable, it is currently in a period of war, and Pandaling has become a frontline position, so the speed of intelligence collection still occupies a lot. Advantage.

But if you want to compare the comprehensive level of intelligence analysis and judgment accuracy, then the entire Principality of Lane can compare with Sean's intelligence ability no more than five, and two of them are still Evans. ——Asuna G. Evans and Roald G. Evans, the father and daughter.

At this time, when the Void Realm under the order of Shaun began to collect intelligence on the changes in the movements of the southern nobles of the Kingdom of Darbion, various transfers, appointments, planning arrangements and other arrangements from the Kingdom of Darbion The data all began to gather towards the void city. And as the information becomes more and more abundant, the content that can be analyzed naturally becomes more and more, but the more you understand, the more ugly William's face becomes.

It's just that at this time, Sean is no longer in the Void City, but has gone to the Forest of Gray Shadows with Cecilia more than half a month ago.

The area of Grey Shadow Forest is very vast, which can already be regarded as a forest. At least nearly half of its area is in the Yadby collar, while the Berbish collar occupies most of the other half, and less than one-sixth of the territory is in the Panda collar. In the earliest days, whether it was Pandan, Berbish, or Yedby, they staggered the forest in the division of territory, and did not include it in their own territory.

Only about a hundred years ago, for some reason, the lords of the three territories all fought a war around this forest. The war lasted for several years. In the end, no one of the three parties could completely occupy the forest. Therefore, it could only be divided according to the strength at the time. So the most powerful Baron Yadby divided half of the area, and the rest Half is divided by Berbice and Panda.

For a long time later, there were also border areas of three territories in the forest to distinguish the regions, and even sentries were set up. It wasn't until about forty years ago that a Warcraft chaos broke out in the Gray Shadow Forest, the borders and outposts divided by the three lords in the Gray Shadow Forest became useless, and the Gray Shadow Forest has since become a Warcraft Paradise, where there are many five-level monsters.

However, because of this, many rare materials in the Forest of Gray Shadows were preserved. After all, not everyone has the ability to collect these good things in the Forest of Gray Shadows. You must know that although Level 5 Warcraft is only equivalent to the strength of the upper silver, the fierceness and toughness of the warcraft also make it difficult for the upper silver masters to deal with, and the aborigines in this world are not players, they are not so defenseless. Various abilities bonuses.

And this is an extremely dangerous place for others, but it is not very dangerous for Sean.

Because this Forest of Gray Shadows had been in the game several times at the beginning, although there is no copy here, it is less attractive to those game madmen, but the Forest of Gray Shadows produces many good materials, so it can be regarded as a guild. A treasure that must be occupied. At the beginning, as one of the top ten overlords of the Southern Continent in the game, how could the Wings of the Void let go of such a treasure, so Shaun was not only not dangerous to the Gray Shadow Forest, but was too familiar with it.

In this place, he has participated in no one hundred or eighty team battles, and the terrain has long been remembered very well.

In other words, any player who wants to mix in the Forest of Gray Shadows, there is no daring not to remember these terrains.

This time, Sean's main goal is to find several materials to completely complete the flame lion fangs. By the way, try to find another flame wood that forms the heart of the tree, because among the materials left by the Hastings family, There are still about 70 grams of blood sand, if you can get another flame tree heart, then the flame lion fangs can also be accompanied by the "purple flame burning" effect.

In addition to completely building the Flame Lion's fangs, Sean also wanted to help Cecilia build a staff, even the materials he had already thought about. It's just that compared to the materials needed by the Fire Lion's fangs, it's really difficult to build this staff for Cecilia, because the main component of the staff is divided into two parts, one is the rod that serves as the carrier. Body, this selection is very important, almost determining 80% of the power of a staff.

Shaun's plan is to see if he can encounter the flame wood that has formed the core of the tree. If there is, use the flame wood near the part of the tree body to polish the stick body, then the effect is the best. Of course, if not, then you can only choose those flamewoods that have not formed the core of the tree. After all, this staff is just a transitional equipment for Cecilia. If you really want to measure for Cecilia If he is built, then he will choose Fire Phoenix Sycamore wood.

Compared with the material of the rod body, the other part of the staff is relatively simple. Although there is no elemental nucleus such as the Crimson Flame, it is better to use some good-quality rubies or simply a piece of flame wood core. It's OK to make do with it. And as long as this material is not wasted in the battle, it can be disassembled and re-embedded in the future to make a new staff.

Because of his familiarity with the Forest of Grey Shadows, when he entered the forest, Sean was not cautious, but strode into the forest indifferently.

Cecilia, who has lived with Sean for a long time, immediately knew that Sean was no stranger to this Grey Shadow Forest when she saw Sean's demeanor and actions, so she quickly followed Up. Although she didn't know why Sean seemed so at ease with the Grey Shadow Forest, she had heard of the danger of the Grey Shadow Forest, and the closer to the Grey Shadow Forest, the higher the risk factor. But when Sean revealed such a relaxed spirit, Cecilia still felt relieved.

She couldn't help but recall that when she was in the Forest of Starfall, that place was extremely dangerous in the eyes of countless people, and Sean was also relaxed and relaxed.

Thinking of this, Cecilia glanced sideways at Sean slightly, but found that Sean's appearance did not seem to have changed. He was still as young as when she met a few years ago, except that her eyes were a little bit more revealed by the passage of time. In addition to his wisdom and vicissitudes, it can be said that Sean has no obvious changes in appearance. At this moment, Cecilia even slightly doubted, could it be said that Sean is not a human being, but a Jing spirit?

Under such conjecture, Cecilia also found a lot of things that she had never thought about before.

Sean is obviously not very old, but he knows a lot of knowledge, and this knowledge is not just limited to a certain aspect, but is covered by almost all cultures on the entire continent. You should know that it is generally unlikely that pure fighters will know about magicians or priests. After all, if you want to know, you need to be distracted. Then the speed of advancement on the road of fighters will slow down. En understood, she knew that Sean was not a genius.

However, if Sean is a Jingling, then these things can be completely explained.

Only Jing Ling can have a long lifespan to learn other knowledge, and even understand the secrets that have never been spread on the mainland.

For example, about the angelic outfits of the Saint-Joles Empire.

Thinking of this, Cecilia glanced at Sean's ears secretly: not sharp.

"Well, maybe it's just a half-jing spirit?" Cecilia murmured to herself, because she knew that not all half-jing spirits have pointed ears, and many half-jing spirits are actually no different from humans, except that jing spirits can rely on it. In addition to the sense of breath, it is generally difficult for humans to distinguish those half-jing spirits that are not pointed ears.

Suddenly guessing like this, Cecilia didn't pay attention to her feet for a while, accidentally bumped her, and suddenly fell forward.

Although Sean is walking in front, he is very careful about the surrounding situation. His superficial ease is only because of his familiarity with the environment. But even though he is familiar with the surrounding environment, it does not mean that he will relax his vigilance. Although he is only on the edge of the Grey Shadow Forest and will not encounter advanced beasts, this place has some more dangerous than advanced beasts. The presence.

So when Cecilia fell, Sean immediately noticed it for the first time, and hurriedly turned around and reached out to help.

But when Sean's hand just caught Cecilia, his face suddenly changed. With a sudden force on the left hand that caught Cecilia, he pulled Cecilia directly into his arms. And his right hand also took out the dead bones from the space ring in an instant, and swung the sword behind him without looking.

"Ding! Ding!"

Two light metal collisions suddenly sounded, and then two feather arrows were blocked by Sean's sword.

The next moment, Sean had already guarded Cecilia behind him, turned around and looked at the place where Feather Arrow had just come.

But at this time, there is no one in the place where the arrow came from, and it can even be said that there is not even a trace of movement. If it weren't for the two feather arrows on the ground that were clearly conspicuous, even Cecilia couldn't believe that she was almost killed just a few seconds ago.

And Sean, his face at this moment looks even more yin extremely heavy.

He never thought that he was attacked just after entering the Forest of Gray Shadows, and these demon hunters were too courageous.

Chapter 310: .Black Crystal Demon Leopard

Where there are monsters, there will definitely be demon hunters and demon hunters.

Although the two types may sound similar in name, they are actually two completely different systems.

Demon Hunters, also known as Demon Hunters, are contracted hunters of the Demon Hunters Guild, and they are responsible for solving the commissions issued by the Demon Hunters Guild. Except for the materials specifically mentioned in the commissioned task to be handed in as a voucher to complete the commissioned task, other materials that can be dismembered by the hunted beasts are naturally owned by the demon hunter. Of course, the Demon Hunter Guild is not just about solving the problem of monsters. Sometimes creatures such as demons, demons, and undead are also their mission goals.

Before, Sean didn't know much about the Demon Hunters' Guild, but now he knows very well that this Demon Hunters' Guild is actually an organization separated from the Exorcists' Association back then. Now that so many years have passed, the Demon Hunter Guild naturally has a complete guild system, and any hunter who has signed a contract with the Demon Hunter Guild must unconditionally obey after receiving the demon hunter's order from the Demon Hunter Guild, otherwise it will Will be removed from the Demon Hunter Guild.

The stronger the strength, the higher the rating of the Demon Hunter in the Demon Hunter Guild, the less the number of times they need to unconditionally serve the Demon Hunter Guild each year.

Of course, the reason why the demon hunters are so willing to give has a lot to do with the perfect system of the demon hunters guild. Any demon hunter who died due to the commission of the demon hunter guild can get a good blood petting gold. This blood petting gold will be given to the beneficiary written when the demon hunter signed the contract. There has never been any Corruption occurs.

If the demon hunter represents the official, then the demon hunter is a thief.

All people who live by hunting monsters, selling monster materials, and who have not signed a contract with the Demon Hunter Guild, are called Demon Hunters.

The biggest difference between a demon hunter and a demon hunter. That is, the demon hunters do not care about any rules at all. They are people who are constantly hovering on the edge of death, so for them as long as they can successfully hunt the target, they will use whatever means. What Shaun impressed the most of these people was that if they had not been killed in the game and had experience points and item rewards, he would even think that these people were players.

It can even be said that because it is the result of system data, many yin insurance methods are even more adept than the players.

At this moment, looking at the two arrows on the ground, Xiao En realized. It was definitely not the demon hunter who attacked him just now, but the demon hunter. Only the Demon Hunter dared to take action against those who enter the Grey Shadow Forest so unscrupulously, because the Grey Shadow Forest is not a safe place at all, and those who enter here are naturally hugging the Demon Hunter. Same purpose. And the more competitors, the more disadvantages they are for the hunters, so one less is one.

certainly. This is not to say that the demon hunters really follow the rules. Sometimes in places where no one can see, the demon hunter is not an honest guy. But Sean is now definitely a demon hunter rather than a demon hunter. That's because since Alfred took over Hierro, the demon hunter guild has chosen to evacuate, just like the wizard's guild, brother's house and other guilds, so There will not be any commissions from the Demon Hunting Guild in Yadbby.

And Sean and Cecilia enter the position of the Grey Shadow Forest. It happened to be on the side of Yedby's collar, so in this direction, you would never encounter a demon hunter, even if you encounter a demon hunter who is evacuating the Gray Forest. The two who attacked him just now, after the attack failed. I immediately chose to escape to the depths of the forest, so the situation was very obvious.

"What's the accident in the Forest of Gray Shadows?" Sean frowned.

"What do you mean?" Cecilia was still a little frightened. If Sean hadn't shot it just now, she would have been very difficult to stop.

And if she can't stop her, using that arrow's angle to be tricky, even if she can avoid fatal injuries, she will definitely be hit hard. And when I thought that I was following Sean this time, I was almost beaten home to recuperate before showing my recent growth. Even Cecilia looked very angry at the moment.

"Those are demon hunters." Sean said in a deep voice, but his sight has already begun to sweep around. "You can understand demon hunters as a group of unruly demon hunters. To achieve their goals, they are usually Unscrupulous. But usually if there is no conflict of interest, even a demon hunter will not attack others at will, because this is likely to cause some unnecessary troubles, leading to unexpected factors."

Speaking of this, Sean has picked up the two arrows on the ground, and then glanced at the position where the arrow just came out.

For those two places, although Sean does not remember very clearly, some impressions are still there, and the most suitable position for the arrow in these two general directions is more than two hundred meters away from him now, if it is normal It is almost exhausted at this time. After all, it is difficult to use methods such as hanging and throwing in the forest, especially those two positions are not suitable.

But when Sean blocked the two arrows just now, he clearly felt the push of strength, and there were obviously traces of vindictiveness.

While vindictiveness, that is an attack technique that can only be performed by the masters of the silver realm.

In other words, the two players who just shot must be the masters of the lower silver-if it were the upper silver, Sean would not be able to block it so easily. And if he is a gold rank powerhouse, he is already injured and can only choose to leave, how can he stand here with ease.

The place that really puzzles Sean is here.

On the edge of the Grey Shadow Forest, it's hard to say whether there are monsters or not, even if they are only first or second level monsters. Of course, monsters like this do not have much value and useful materials, so naturally they cannot attract those powerful hunters. Demon. At least, no silver master would be interested in such a beast, unless it is a very special low-level beast, such as flying ferrets and red fire snakes that can be captured and nurtured, or dragon blood black lizards. The value of Warcraft.

Only in this way can it be possible to explain why these demon hunters do not even say a jingle at all, so they just shoot.

Even in the game, when Sean met the demon hunters, the names of these guys at first represented the neutral yellow se, only after the jing report was issued, the player completely ignored it. These demon hunters will attack.

"There must be something very valuable here." Soon, Sean had a clear judgment about his surroundings.

Before, because of his understanding of the terrain, he easily moved forward and ignored it. At this moment, after careful observation, he discovered that there were detection traps hidden around him. Just now, Cecilia's fall was not accidental, but because she was tripped by this kind of detection trap, so from this point, it can be seen that the other party is obviously prepared, at least they will not let people Feel free to continue deepening.

Thinking of this, Sean's face becomes even more ugly.

He came to Gray Shadow Forest only to find a few materials. He didn't intend to fight with these demon hunters. The situation in the territory is so critical now that he has so much time to waste. If the other party opens a jingle, it doesn't matter if he gives way and doesn't go further in this direction, but now he doesn't even say a jingle. As soon as the killer was about to be killed, Xiao En's face was very ugly.

He has decided. These guys had better not fall into his hands. Otherwise he will make them regret their previous shots.

"Go!" Shaun said to Cecilia immediately, "Those demon hunters just shot without even talking about the rules this time. They must have discovered something..."

When he said this, Xiao En was taken aback, because he had already remembered what would have caused these demon hunters with good strength to make unruly shots.

The third-level warcraft, the black crystal demon leopard!

Three-level warcraft. It is equivalent to the strength of high-ranking bronze, but because creatures such as monsters are usually more powerful, they tend to be one level higher than humans.

However, the biggest advantage of leopard warcraft is speed, and its power in attack is not particularly great. But because of its fast movement speed and fast attack speed, it is also a very difficult beast. Moreover, most Warcrafts are born to use magic, so many do not lack long-range attack methods. Therefore, they usually use a team combat mode to deal with Warcrafts. Some people resist damage, some are used as bait, and some are responsible for attack.

But Sombra is a little different.

Because this kind of beast eats a black stone with magical power for a long time, its body surface becomes very hard, like a black crystal, so it is called the black crystal demon leopard. However, this kind of beast does not have any attack magic. The only magic it can do is to greatly strengthen its own defensive ability-although it is not completely immune to physical damage, it can at least exempt a large part of physical damage, so once it is black The crystal demon leopard activates the ability to turn into black crystals, and people who are not vindictive can't cause any harm to it at all. Moreover, because of the transformation of Sombra, the attack power of Sombra will also be greatly improved. If the previous light armor and small shield can block the attack of Sombra, then activate Sombra After being transformed, unless it is defensive equipment of the level of heavy shield and heavy armor, it is simply broken by it.

Looking at the reality, it's whoever blocks and who kills.

On the other hand, once the black crystalization is activated, the speed of the black crystal demon leopard will drop, at least not as fast and mysterious as before.

But even so, if you encounter the Sombra Demon Leopard, there will still be countless people who will die. Of course, if you can swallow it, it would be better.

The reason why these people are attracted to the Sombra Demon Leopard is purely because the Sombra Demon Leopard is almost full of treasures!

Its skin can make leather armor with almost no defense under light armor; its blood can be used to make a variety of alchemy potions; its tendons can be used as bowstrings for silver-level enchanted bows and arrows; if the bones are sharpened Mixing a special kind of alchemy potion into powder and applying it to any equipment can strengthen the magic power of the equipment-in other words, it is the main material for upgrading magic equipment.

As for other materials such as claws, flesh and blood, and teeth, they are also very valuable.

Shaun doesn't care about the other materials of the Black Crystal Demon Leopard, but its bones and blood are what Shaun needs most.

You should know that the Sombra Demon Leopard can be regarded as a special product of the Gray Shadow Forest-except for the Gray Shadow Forest, it is impossible to see the Sombra Demon Leopard anywhere else. In the game, the refresh period of the Sombra Demon Leopard was refreshed every ten days in real time, that is, once every month in the game, even in the late game, the guild that broke out in order to * the Sombra Demon Leopard Wars happen frequently.

It doesn't matter if you haven't encountered it before, because even if you know that the Black Crystal Demon Leopard is spawned in the Forest of Gray Shadows, it will only spawn in a relatively outer area. With such a vast area of the Forest of Gray Shadows, how can it be so? Easy to encounter. So when Sean came to the Forest of Gray Shadows, he didn't even think about this kind of monster at first, but now that he knows that the Black Crystal Demon Leopard is "refreshing" near him, how could he let it go?

Not to mention, the demon hunters just murdered him!

In almost an instant, Sean had already made a decision: Rob!
